Don't be "taken in" by this deceptive March weather folks. March, as you are well aware, is one of the trickiest months of the year. How well we learned this lesson last year when we were snowed in for a number of days without lights, heat or communication. . . . an experience one is not likely to forget for quite some time. March in fact, may be termed the weather "witchdoctor" as it is capable of concocting or brewing almost anything and everything in the weather book.

Emmitsburg's new sewer system is about at the half-way stage at this time and barring inclement weather should be completed in about two months. Well under construction are the five drying beds, three receiving and agitating tanks, pumping station and several thousand feet of line. The project, when completed, will give the town one of the most modern plants in the state and will accommodate the entire community at present with the capability of handling any expansion of the town in quite a few years to come. The installing company, W. F. Wilson and Sons, has made remarkable progress on the project despite the frigid weather we have been experiencing this winter. The toughest part of the assignment is over and good time should be made from now until the completion of the job which will see every house in town tapped into the line.

Just an idle thought when the Town makes its annual cleanup this spring: How nice it would be to have the steel poles supporting the traffic light painted. Notice I didn't say repainted? Why, because since the day when they were installed seven years ago, there has been no paint applied.

They say it's true about a certain local driver. Seems as though he was unfamiliar with a certain city's one-way street system. When asked by a cop "where do you think you're going?" when he was traveling the wrong way on a one-way street, he replied: "I don't know, but I must be late. Everyone else seems to be coming back."

Notice the cancellation design on your letters these days, that is those going out of town? The cancellation consists of an advertisement pertaining to the sesquicentennial of our local St. Joseph College. During the year a number of church dignitaries and national luminaries will visit Emmitsburg and the college for special convocations scheduled by the institution in observance of its 150th anniversary. The first, and perhaps the most well-known figure, will be the First Lady of the Land, Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower who will be the guest of the college here next week and who will be the recipient of an honorary degree to be conferred on her by the college. Since the founding of our two local colleges 150 years ago they have proven to be an influential factor on the moral, educational and physical part of Emmitsburg and the town owes a considerable debt of gratitude and appreciation to the institutions which have aided in the recognition, prestige and economic growth of our fair community. Our heartfelt congratulations to St. Joseph College on its 150th birthday and may she have many more to come. And to Mrs. Eisenhower, who is no stranger here, we bid a very cordial welcome!

Mountaineers Conclude Mediocre Season

The Blue and White basketball team of Mt. St. Mary's College wound up one of its poorest seasons in a number of years last Saturday night when they were defeated in the finals of the Mason-Dixon Conference playoffs by American University, played on neutral Catholic University floor, in Washington.

Coach Jim Phelan's boys experienced an unpleasant evening at the hands of the enemy and went down to a resounding defeat, 91-70. Willie Jones, star of the victors, could not be contained and enjoyed a fat evening at the expense of the Mount, netting himself 33 points. An overflow crowd of 2,500 watched the game. American, winning for the third time this season over the Mountaineers, shot off to a 14-3 lead in the first five minutes of play and the Mount never got closer than four points, after that. At half time the Eagles held a comfortable 47-34 lead.

Bert Sheing of Mt. St. Mary's who performed with an injured knee was forced to leave the game shortly after the second half got underway and his absence sealed the outcome.

After American got off to its big early lead the Mount twice pulled to within four points at 32-28 and 34-30.

Coach Jim Phelan's boys encountered a miserable evening from hte field. In the first half they landed but 11 of 43 tries and in the second half only 12 of 35. American netted 37 of 75 tries.

Dave Samuels was top scorer for Mt. St. Mary's with 16 while Jerry Savage hit for 14. The defeat left Mt. St. Mary's with a 15-13 record against all comers. They had won nine of 10 before running into American U.

The win gave American its second straight Mason-Dixon Conference championship.

Bert Sheing and Jerry Savage were named to the All-Tourney all-star team and Sheing was also named to the All-Conference team.

New Industry Selects Thurmont

Stylmaster, Incorporated, a manufacturer of commercial store fixtures and formica work, specializing in the field of equipment for beauty salons, will start a new operation in Thurmont in the immediate future. It was announced this week by Stylmaster's President Kurt Michelman.

The new operation will be located in the former Thurmont Flooring and Lumbering Company building on Water street and will employ approximately 12 men at the beginning, Mr. Michelman stated. The plant will be in full production by early spring.

"Our decision to locate in Thurmont was greatly influenced by the available building, the adequate space for future expansion, the attractiveness of the area, and the fine spirit of friendliness and co-operation extended by the residents of this community," Mr. Michelman said.

"Thurmont will give Stylmaster a definite geographical advantage, being close to the Baltimore and Washington markets in addition to the Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, and New York markets," he said. "This location has all the elements for a successful operation of my plant; experienced woodworkers, available, raw materials, excellent highways, and above all, community acceptance," Michelman continued.

Mr. Michelman said that he was most appreciative of the splendid co-operation of the plant owners and Thomas Glass, Thurmont and Frederick attorney who were extremely helpful in the negotiations for the property. Mr. Michelman also appreciated the assistance of Guy Frushour, Thurmont Town Clerk; Mayor Ambrose, the Frederick employment office, and the area development department of the Potomac Edison System which brought him to Thurmont.

Mr. Paul A. Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders, Emmitsburg, has enrolled at the Northrop Aeronautics Institute, Inglewood, California. Mr. Sanders was formerly employed at Sanders Bros. Garage, Emmitsburg.

Nothing is more apt to be wrong than a history written several hundred years after an event.

St. Joseph College To Honor Mrs. Eisenhower

Saint Joseph College will officially open its Sesquicentennial year at an Academic Convocation on March 14 in De Paul Auditorium. Sister Hilda, President, announced that two women have been singled out for honors at this Convocation. Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, First Lady of the Land, will be the recipient of an honorary Doctor of Laws degree, and Miss Alice R. May, assistant director of Catholic Charities, in Baltimore, will be awarded the Saint Louise de Marillac Medal for dedicated personal service in the field of Social Science.

His Excellency, the Most Reverend John M. McNamara, D.D., Vicar-general of the archdiocese of Washington and moderator of the annual conferences of Mother Seton Daughters, will preside at the Convocation commemorating the 150th anniversary of the founding of Saint Joseph College by Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, in 1809. The Very Reverend Sylvester A. Taggart, C.M., provincial superior of the Eastern Province of Vincentian Fathers, will give the principal address.

Presidents of universities and colleges throughout the country have been invited to this convocation. They with the special guests will form the Academic procession on that day. A program of music will be provided by the Saint Joseph College Glee Club accompanied by the Ruffino Iula orchestra.

Mrs. Eisenhower will be honored by Saint Joseph College in recognition of her exemplary role as First Lady of the Land.

Miss May was named by His Excellency, the Most Reverend Francis P. Keough, Archbishop of Baltimore, as the recipient of the Saint Louise de Marillac Medal which is being awarded this year to a Catholic laywoman of the Baltimore Archdiocese. Each year this Medal will be awarded to a representative from a different diocese, named by the hierarchy of the Catholic Church in that area.

Dedicated personal service to her fellowmen, the determining factor in selecting the Medal winner, is noteworthy in the life of the 1959 candidate. Miss May has devoted her life to the service of her neighbor over and above the call of duty. Outstanding also in Catholic Action, she is at present national President of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae, an organization founded in 1914 by two alumnae of Saint Joseph College.

Fire Destroys Large Barn

Fire of undetermined origin completely razed a large barn on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fuss, Monday morning at about 9:15 a. m.

The owners were away from the property when the conflagration started, having gone to Taneytown to purchase feed for their dairy herd. Fire Chief John S. Hollinger, of the Vigilant Hose Company, estimated damage at $18,000, partly covered by insurance. Mrs. Fuss said that it is believed that one or two cattle may have perished in the fire.

In addition to the Vigilant Hose Co., present also was the Taneytown Fire Co. Firemen pumped water from nearby Tom's Creek but were unable to quell the blaze. They succeeded however, in saving nearby outbuildings.

The Fuss farm is located at Four Points, about three miles southeast of Emmitsburg.

Taneytown Man Faces Charges Of Assault, Shooting

A Taneytown R1 man, now a patient in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, as a result of a gunshot wound in his right leg, will face charges of assault with a deadly weapon and assault with intent to kill, Maryland State Police said this week. The charges arise from an alleged attack by Sterling Richard Stambaugh, 35, against his wife and one of her girl friends early Sunday morning in Taneytown.

Trooper William Winegrad, who investigated the incident, said that Stambaugh's wife, Mrs. Georgia Lou Stambaugh, and a friend, Miss Ardie Miller, were enroute home from Baltimore at 3:45 a. m. Sunday when they passed a service station in Taneytown, operated by Stambaugh. They reported to police they saw Stambaugh's car there as they passed.

Stambaugh is reported to have driven out and forced the car in which the women were riding off the road, then to have gone to the right of the car, firing two shots from a .25-caliber automatic pistol. The women reported to police that Stambaugh threatened both of them. Miss Miller, who was on the right side of the car, pleaded and struggled with Stambaugh and struck his arm as he fired with the result that the bullet from Stambaugh's gun struck his leg above the right knee. Despite the wound he pulled his wife from the car, Trooper Winegrad said, and struggled with her.

Trooper Winegrad said he questioned Stambaugh at the hospital and that Stambaugh told him he had been cleaning his gun when it went off. The trooper checked the scene of the reported attack and said he found considerable blood there. He said that State Attorney Donald Sponseller, Carroll County, told him of his intent to file the two assault charges.

Car Accident Snuffs Out Lives Of Five

Five people, including an Emmitsburg woman, were killed as the result of an automobile accident Wednesday night at about 11:45 o'clock when three cars became involved in a freak accident about three miles north of Emmitsburg on Rte. 15.

The dead woman is Mrs. Mildred V. Keilholtz, 46, wife of Merhle F. Keilholtz, Emmitsburg R. D. Mrs. Keilholtz died en route to the Warner Hospital in Gettysburg in the local VFW ambulance.

The Sowers' vehicle, traveling north, struck the Sheeley car forcing it into the south-bound lane in front of the approaching Keilholtz car. All three cars involved in the mishap were demolished.

Land Rezoning Approved

The application for expansion of a bulk fuel oil plant owned by Charles F. Stouter, Emmitsburg, which has been hanging fire since last November, has been approved by the Frederick County Planning and Zoning Board. The application was for the rezoning of about five acres of ground from domestic to industrial use.

Stouter was granted five acres of land at the southwest corner of the junction of Relocated U. S. 15 and Old Frederick Road in which to operate this bulk fuel and oil storage facilities.

The land is owned by Stouter and was endorsed for rezoning residential to business use by the Planning Commission in unanimous decision after no one appeared to oppose the rezoning.

The land is part of a larger area opposite Mt. St. Mary's College farmland. It is being considered as the new industrial zone for the Emmitsburg area. The former Emmitt Garden section reserved for industry was found to be restricted by old land deeds.

Stouter is to appear for a final hearing before the County Commissioners on March 9 at 10 a. m. No opposition is expected in view of the recommendation of the planning commission.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT RHEUMATIC FEVER

PUBLISHED AS A PUBLIC SERVICE BY THIS NEWSPAPER IN COOPERATION WITH

FREDERICK COUNTY HEART ASSOCIATION

Published as a public service by this newspaper in cooperation with the Frederick County Heart Association.

Today we are publishing the first of three articles on Rheumatic Fever, Rheumatic Heart Disease and Rheumatic Heart Disease have been called "Childhood's Greatest Enemy." Next to accidents, they kill or disable more school age children than any other cause. However, better methods of care and prevention today bring new hope for young hearts. Knowing the facts about these diseases can spare you needless worry about your child's health.

Rheumatic Fever is a disease that may affect any part of the body — particularly the heart, joints, blood vessels, skin or brain. Damage to the heart may be serious or even fatal, but the effects on other parts of the body are usually temporary.

Rheumatic Heart Disease is the inflammation and scarring of the heart muscle and heart valves as a result of Rheumatic Fever. This may interfere with the work of the vital "pump" that supplies the blood our bodies need. Rheumatic Fever, however, does not always damage the heart for life. Three out of four Rheumatic Fever patients get well completely or have so little heart damage they can work or play like anyone else.

What Causes Rheumatic Fever? The immediate cause of Rheumatic Fever is unknown. When it strikes, it usually follows nose and throat infections caused by a germ of the streptococcus family, such as a "strep" sore throat, tonsillitis or scarlet fever. Rheumatic Fever often starts about two to four weeks after the strep infection disappears, but not all strep infections are followed by Rheumatic Fever.

Rheumatic Fever is mostly a childhood disease. The first attack occurs between the ages of 5 and 15. Rheumatic Fever is responsible for most of the heart trouble in children. Some adults do get Rheumatic Fever. Altogether about one million Americans of all ages are affected by the disease.

Questions and Answers Parents have many questions about Rheumatic Fever and Rheumatic Heart Disease. For example, "Must the patient stay in bed?" The answer is that he must stay in bed as long as the doctor finds the disease is active. During this period, regular medical and nursing care are necessary. Many people ask, "Is it catching?" No, Rheumatic Fever itself cannot be passed from one person to another. However, the strep infection that comes before it is contagious.

Rheumatic Fever has a tendency to affect members of the same family. It is not known whether this susceptibility is due to natural inheritance or to the fact that all members of the family have the same environment. It is important to have the brothers and sisters of a Rheumatic Fever patient examined. It has been noted that Rheumatic Fever occurs in any surroundings, but poor and crowded homes and bad working conditions enhance the spread of strep infections that open the door to the disease.

Next Week The second article in this series of three will discuss how to recognize Rheumatic Fever, and what is known about the treatment and prevention of this deadly and crippling health enemy.

Health Column

Danger In The Chicken House

In a small town in Alabama a father and two children were suddenly stricken with a disease that appeared to be a typical pneumonia. The children recovered, but the father died. Post-mortem showed pulmonary histoplasmosis.

To a hospital in Illinois went a man who had typical signs and symptoms of tuberculosis. Tests showed histoplasmosis. What is this disease that can fool the experts? Histoplasmosis is caused by a fungus, histoplasma capsulatum. It might be called a disease of nature because its origin is in the soil itself. We have heard much in recent years of beneficial fungi, molds from which life-saving medicines, such as penicillin, have been developed. At the same time their unpleasant relatives that cause diseases have become better known.

Doctors believe that many people have been treated for TB in the past when they actually had histoplasmosis or one of the other fungus diseases. Unlike TB, histoplasmosis is not communicable. Most of the cases have cropped up in the Mississippi Valley states. But apparently it's possible to pick up the infection just by driving through the area. Infection has been traced to caves, silos, and chicken houses. In the Alabama case, the source was found in chicken manure that the father and his children had collected from an abandoned chicken house and spread on a flower bed.

Doctors believe that chicken manure should always be regarded as a possible danger source. Wetting down the chicken house before cleaning it will cut down the chances of inhaling spores that may be in the soil.

Too Fantastic To Believe

One of our columns published several weeks ago reported on the fantastic fact that known Communists for years have been working in positions that permit them to intercept top-secret messages going from the Pentagon, State Department and other vital agencies to our far-flung defense installations and to governments of friendly nations throughout the world. The column has created widespread interest. Many citizens who read the report have protested the situation to their Congressmen, and this is the most effective citizenship action that could be taken! Some readers of the column, however, have expressed to me the feeling that the report was "too fantastic to believe."

But the report is true! A subcommittee of the U. S. Senate Judiciary Committee and a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee, although hamstrung every step of the way by the Supreme Court, Communist-serving lawyers and the legion of dupes whom the Communists are constantly mobilizing to protest exposure of their apparatus, have dug up and exposed enough facts in the situation to bring shivers of fright to any citizen.

Shocking Situation

Our nation has reached an absurd and shocking state of vulnerability when defective laws or insignificant legal technicalities can expose the whole heart of our national defense and security structure to known agents of the international Communist conspiracy! That is precisely what is happening. The whole fantastic story is told—a large part of it out of the mouths of the Communists themselves—in these official documents: Investigation of Communist Penetration of Communications Facilities—Parts 1 and 2, published by the U. S. Government Printing Office for the Committee on Un-American Activities; Subversive Infiltration in the Telegraph Industry, published by the U. S. Government Printing Office for the Committee on the Judiciary, U. S. Senate; Defense Facilities Protection Act, Hearings before the Committee on the Judiciary, published by the Government Printing Office; and House Report No. 1360, Annual Report 1957, Committee on Un-American Activities, published by the Government Printing Office.

Cold Facts

These documents show, beyond any challenge, the following facts:

The American Communications Association, whose top officers have been identified as Communists in sworn testimony, has for years been the certified bargaining agent for companies operating domestic and overseas cables and radio facilities used by the Defense Department, the Department of State and other vital agencies. Many Communists are in its membership. These Communists (by their own admission in testimony) have access to top-secret messages to and from our vital defense establishments.

They can intercept messages; they can do the key work necessary to breaking our most secret codes; they can garble messages or change their meaning; they can substitute messages of their own. There are approximately 4500 members in ACA. They control most of the vital facilities—the North Atlantic Cable, the tie-lines and lease lines—in and out of the Pentagon and the State Department. They are certified by the National Labor Relations Board and under present laws their Communist members cannot be fired from these strategic positions permitting espionage and sabotage.

Challenge To Citizens

A former Communist official of ACA, Michael Mignon, testified: "The importance of obtaining control of the communications industry in times of stress or in revolutionary times, was a primary factor, and therefore the efforts of the Communist Party in subsidizing the union and offering whatever assistance they could in building the union... was so that if (the United States) should ever be at war with the Soviet Union, to be able to more effectively control the communications system of the country." And in times of war two or three of these Communist agents could wreck these vital communications facilities.

Defense Department officials have testified that they know Communists who are handling Pentagon messages and that messages have been intercepted. Secretary of the Army Brucker has testified that "We are disturbed... the situation is nothing short of deplorable." And yet in the last Congress,

Methods Being Taken To Control Rheumatic Fever

We are now ready for Public Education—to get parents to have their children's sore throats treated.

In this connection the Rheumatic Fever Control Month (March) was designated. This statewide program has been endorsed by the Md. State Health Department, Maryland State School Health Council, Maryland Council of Parent-Teachers Association and the Frederick County Medical Society.

The object is to make everyone aware of the relationship of streptococcal infections to rheumatic fever.

The two themes are:

1. If your child has a sore throat and fever, it may be a strep infection. Consult your physician as strep infections may result in rheumatic fever.

2. Medical science can now prevent when legislation was introduced to permit the military to disassociate Communist saboteurs from these vital defense communications facilities, it failed! Every American citizen who cares about his family's future security should ask his Senators and Congressman what part they played in this failure and what they are now doing to clean up this situation.

vent repeated attacks of rheumatic fever. If you have had rheumatic fever, be wise—consult your physician.

The Frederick County Heart Association is willing and anxious to provide a film and speaker for any school or civic organization that is interested in having such a program. Contact the office by calling MO. 3-3189 and arrangements will be made.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Topper and daughter, and Mrs. Stella Topper, Federal Ave., spent last weekend visiting Dr. and Mrs. Louis Gunn and family, Riverside, N. J. Mrs. Stella Topper remained to spend a few weeks at the Gunn residence.

Mrs. Donald Stoner, Mrs. Ralph Long, Mrs. Kenneth Vaughn and Miss Louise Miller, visited the

Read Matthew 8:23-34.

Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee. (Mark 5:19.)

Often during the course of everyday conversation, we find someone who has a problem to which we hold the answer. It may be a physical, domestic, social, medical, or some other problem troubling the one speaking to us. Since we have similar experience, we may feel able to offer help or advice. To keep quiet at such a time would be thoughtless and selfish. Usually we let the individual know how we ourselves have been helped.

When the problem of the person speaking to us is spiritual, however, we are prone to remain quiet, even though we have experienced the joy and peace of the Lord. The salvation Christ offers is for sin by such silence. If we do not encourage them to put their faith in Christ as their

The same blessings that have come to us through faith in our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, can become the possession of others too, but we Christians must tell them.

Father in heaven, keep us from the sin of silence. Grant that we may not withhold from others the knowledge of the gospel of Thy grace. Through faith in our Lord Jesus Christ and in His name we ask it. Amen.

for personal use. Then figure the percentage of total use that is to be allotted to each purpose. This will give you a basis for determining your deductions.

For the portion that was for business purposes, you may deduct the entire cost of the operation of the car. That deduction is to be taken from the income you enter in line 5, page 1. For the portion that was for personal use, you have certain deductions that may be taken on page 2, if you itemize your deductions. These include such things as state gasoline taxes, the cost of tags, etc., but if you paid $90 during the year in state gasoline taxes, and included $45 of it in your auto business expenses, you may deduct only $45 for state gasoline taxes on page 2.

Q. I paid $82 to a group hospitalization plan during 1958. May I deduct this sum as a medical expense on my tax return?

A. Yes. You may include it among the medical expenses on which you may figure a deduction, or whether you have one, assuming that you intend to itemize your deductions.

It is well to remember that in most cases medical expenses may be deducted only to the extent that they exceed three percent of your adjusted gross income—that is, the income entered in line 11, page 1, of your tax return. This rule holds unless you were 65 by the end of 1958. If so, you may deduct all of your medical expenses up to stated limits without regard to the three percent rule. If you or your wife were 65 during the year, you may deduct all medical expenses for both up to the fixed limits. These limits are: $2,500 multiplied by the number of your allowable exemptions, not including those for age or blindness. In no case more than $5,000, if you file a separate return. In no case more than $10,000 if you file a joint return, or a return as head of a household or as a surviving spouse unless you or your spouse are "disabled" as defined in the law, then your limit is $15,000.

No. 19069 Equity In The Circuit Court For Frederick County, In Equity RICHARD SCHAEFFER VS. MARY SCHAEFFER

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONI by the Plaintiff, Richard Schaeffer, from the Defendant, Mary Schaeffer.

The Bill states in substance that the parties were married on June 8, 1947 in Lawrence, Massachusetts, by a regularly Ordained Minister of the Gospel; that the Plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, Maryland, having resided therein for more than one year past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, her last known address being 324 Market Street, Lawrence, Massachusetts; that no children have been born as a result of said marriage; that the Defendant deserted the Plaintiff on or about December 31, 1954, and they have remained continuously and uninterruptedly separate and apart since said date, being more than eighteen (18) months last past; that the Plaintiff gave his wife no just cause to desert him and no cause to break her marriage vows in any way; and that said desertion was deliberate and final and there is no reasonable expectation of a reconciliation between the parties. The Bill prays that the Defendant be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONI, and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 5th day of February, 1959, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff give notice to the said non-resident Defendant of the objects and substance of this Bill by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 14th day of March, 1959, commanding her to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 14th day of April, 1959, and show cause, if any she has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

spent a considerable sum in 1958 for expensive new drugs. May we deduct their cost on our tax return?

A. Regardless of age, the cost of drugs may be included in medical expenses only to the extent that they exceed one per cent of your adjusted gross income. Suppose, for example, that your combined income was $5,000 for the year, and that you spent $200 for drugs, you may include $150 of this in your medical expenses, that is all over $50, which is one per cent of $5,000. Since you were 65 in 1958 you may deduct the entire $150 along with other medical expenses up to the legal limits. But if you had not reached 65 during the year, you would include the $150 with other medical expenses. From the total you would subtract three per cent of your adjusted gross income to determine the deductible amount.

Q. I spent considerable money in 1958 for transportation in taking my child to see a specialist. May I deduct this as a medical expense?

A. Yes. Essential transportation costs to obtain treatment for yourself or your child may be included in medical expenses.

Q. I paid $850 to a nursery school in 1958 for the care of my four-year-old daughter while I claim this as a deduction in a joint return with my husband?

A. No, the rule is that your deduction is limited to what you paid or $600, whichever is smaller. Moreover, since you are a working wife, your deduction is reduced by any amount that the combined income of yourself and your husband exceeds $4,500. For example, if your combined income was $4,800, you could deduct only $300. A married woman must file a joint return with her husband to be entitled to any deduction.

To Resume Milk Order Hearings

The hearing on the Federal Milk Marketing Order requested of the U. S. Department of Agriculture by the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, Inc. will be resumed on Monday, March 9. It was recessed on Friday, February 13, when the U. S. officials conducting it were faced with a previous commitment in Boston. When the hearing opened on Monday, February 2, it was hoped that it would be completed in two weeks.

During the recess and further complicating an already confused situation for milk producers and consumers alike, a bill to provide a Maryland Milk Control Commission was introduced into the Legislature at Annapolis. This bill, based almost entirely on the lengthy and complicated Pennsylvania state control measure, was dropped into the legislative hopper by Delegates Joseph H. McElwee, Democrat, of Washington County and William L. Hodges, Democrat, of Baltimore's Sixth District. Mr. McElwee is a Hagerstown milk dealer.

The bill as introduced would set up a three-man Commission, to be appointed by the Governor. This unit would have the power to set minimum prices to be paid by dealers to farmers and minimum and maximum prices to be paid by the consumer to the dairies.

It has been the subject of informal discussions between committees representing the MCOMP and the Maryland & Virginia Milk Producers Association since members of both organizations would be affected by its provisions. Since copies were not available at the last such meeting and since the sponsors introducing it failed to consult either farmer organization concerning its contents, the only result of the meeting was to await copies and give them intensive study before taking a definite stand.

One thing is certain, however, a State control bill could not regulate the price to be paid to out-of-state producers delivering milk to a plant for resale in Maryland. Nor would it sell milk for Maryland farmers.

A Federal Order would regulate the prices of all milk received at plants from which milk is disposed of in the 16 county Baltimore milk marketing area.

It is hoped that the Federal Order hearing can be completed in a week after its resumption. Practically all of the evidence relating to its need to stabilize prices paid by dealers to farmers, the geographical area and the other aspects has been put into the record by the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers Association.

MYTHS AND FANTASIES

The stock market, in the minds of many people, is surrounded by about as many myths and fantasies as a Celtic ruin. President G. Keith Funston of the New York Stock Exchange recently dealt with some of them. For instance, it is sometimes said that the market sets the pace for the rest of the economy—whereas the truth is that the market is primarily a composite of the opinions of investors everywhere. Or it is said that the market exists for a few experts, not the general public—whereas the truth is that millions of people in the middle-income groups have become shareowners in late years, and have shown an intelligent understanding of the possible risks and rewards involved. Or it is said that most stock buyers are speculators—whereas the truth, disclosed by careful surveys, shows that most shareowners today are investment-minded, and take a long-term view.

Summing up, Mr. Funston established two "absolutes" which, in his view, can be relied upon: "1. Investors in common stocks who stick to facts and forget fantasies will do better than those who put their trusts in myths. 2. The trend of prices will depend on national and international economic developments, earnings, managerial skills and the composite judgment and sentiment of investors everywhere—not on the whims of some nebulous, non-existent 'they'." In other words, the market doesn't manufacture trends or pressures—it reflects them.

DAYBREAKS

Oddities about people, places and things you'll see on the shows that comprise ABC-TV's new "Operation Daybreak" (Mondays thru Fridays)

Merv Griffin, emcee of the new ABC "Operation Daybreak" series, "Play Your Hunch," once auditioned for a job as pianist with radio station KFFC, San Francisco. But, by mistake, he was introduced to the station manager as a singer. Griffin didn't know he could sing, but either he gave with the voice—or no job. Not only did he sing, but he did it so well he landed with Freddy Martin's band a short time later.

On "The Peter Lind Hayes Show" on ABC-TV's daytime lineup, Peter's Texas jokes are generating giggles all along the line. His latest: (to studio audience visitors) "These people are here from Texas to buy some large hula hoops. They use 'em for money clips in Texas."

Liberace, the popular pianist, often plays "The 12th Street Rag" as a post-show request number for his TV studio audience. In this selection he surpasses even his own virtuosity. He actually plays 6000 notes in less than two minutes' time. That's 50 notes a second.

As a hobby, Gene Banks, "Day in Court" producer, collects paintings. Browsing around a junk shop in Glendale, Calif., he found a picture of a matador for $60. Because he likes bull fighting, Gene bought the painting. Shortly afterward, he discovered he had bought an original by Sir David Wilkie, the famous English court painter of the 19th century. Its value... $12,000.

Saturday Evening Post readers were treated to a swell story on Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy in the Dec. 27 issue. Pete Martin, the author, discovered many unknown facts in the lives of this famous pair, making his piece one of the most entertaining magazine articles of the year.

What do quiz emcees do during their spare time? Well, many of them go in for athletics. Merv Griffin, of "Play Your Hunch," is a tennis enthusiast. Johnny Gilbert, of "Music Bingo," goes in for hunting, fishing and golf. But, just to stay close to his music job, Johnny spends time perfecting his hi-fi equipment.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry University of Wisconsin

New Feeds Have To Make Their Own Way

It is said among theatrical folk that every actor has to sell himself to an indifferent and sometimes hostile public. This is equally the case with feeds that come into use for the first time, where it sometimes takes years to overcome a certain prejudice against them.

Dr. Bohstedt

We think of corn silage as one of our finest forages for all ruminants or herbivorous animals. But in the early years of its use during the past century, corn silage was blamed for many afflictions of livestock, whether abortion, tuberculosis, or, on account of its acid, rotted or eroded digestive tracts.

Gluten feed had a hard time selling itself in the early years of corn starch and corn sugar manufacture and was considered too high at six dollars a ton. Wheat bran was dumped in the river at the Twin Cities as being worthless, and Dean W. A. Henry, original author of Feeds and Feeding, was bitterly charged with being in connivance with "the interests" when he told Wisconsin farmers that, believe it or not, wheat bran was good cow feed.

Even our good friend soybean oil meal, for years after soybean introduction in the United States, caused a lifting of eyebrows here and there because it was suspected of causing various difficulties with cows and other livestock.

High-fiber feeds like oat hulls or corn cobs must surely be worthless if used in livestock rations, so it was thought, and only after much experimental work with oat mill feed at Wisconsin and with ground corn cobs at the Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and other experiment stations, was the idea reluctantly accepted that these cellulosic feeds had a value at least one-third, and under some circumstances fully one-half, of the feeding value of ground shelled corn. Recent developments in the formulation of protein-mineral-vitamin supplements have had a lot to do with the increased appreciation of such roughage feeds.

So, the field of feeds and feeding is rich in folklore and misconceptions. Feed is something very intimate. It is eaten every day, several times a day, and is therefore open to speculation as to favorable or unfavorable attributes in respect to any one of the many ingredients that go to make up livestock rations.

Question: You refer to the use of trace minerals or trace mineralized salt as low-cost insurance. But is it, when one has to pay half as much again or more for trace mineralized salt as for plain salt?

Answer: Most commercial dairy feeds carry one percent steamed bone meal or feeding phosphate as insurance against a phosphorus deficiency. We hardly ever raise a question against that practice. It is accepted as good insurance.

But using trace minerals may be equally essential. Granted that we may pay as much as $50 for a ton of trace mineralized salt, but only about $32 for a ton of plain salt. In either case we add one percent of either salt to a ton of dairy feed. But that one percent, or 20 pounds per ton of feed, costs about one dollar for the feeding phosphate but only 50 cents for trace mineralized salt, or 32 cents for plain salt. This leaves a difference of only 18 cents as protection against any one of several trace mineral deficiencies compared to one dollar against a phosphorus deficiency. Trace minerals do indeed represent low-cost insurance.

Nominating Group

Invites Organizations

To Participate

The fourth annual Frederick County Nominating Convention is scheduled for March 21, 1959,

1:30 p. m., at the Yellow Springs

Elementary School. This announcement was made by Mr. W. Burtin Mercer, president of the 1959

Convention. Mr. Mercer stated that the convention seeks to enable organizations from all parts of the county with an interest in educational matters to aid in finding and proposing good candidates to serve on the County

Board of Education. Invitations to participate in the Nominating Convention have gone out to 150 county organizations. Mr. Mercer asked that any organization desiring to participate but which has not received an invitation, contact him at once.

Mr. Mercer observed that the practice of holding an annual

Frederick County Nominating

convention was started four years ago under the joint sponsorship of the County Council of PTAs and the Citizens Council for Public Schools. From these open and democratically conducted conventions, a slate of three nominees is sent forward to the State

Central Committee for consideration and recommendation to the Governor for appointment. The convention idea was proposed as an alternative to a move then being widely and publicly debated to change the system from appointment of the School Board by the Governor, to one of election of the School Board by the county voters.

It was felt that the convention met the big problem which faces the Central Committee as publicly stated by Emmert Bowlue, chairman of the Republican

Hood College

Schedules

Spring Events

Hood College's spring public events concert, to be held on Mar.

17, will feature the brilliant young pianist Anton Kuerti.

The 1957 winner of the Edgar

M. Leventritt Foundation Award,

one of the highest honors offered in the music world, Kuerti has been widely acclaimed with rave reviews and lasting applause from critics and audiences.

Last season his appearance as soloist with the New York Philharmonic, in a performance of the Mendelssohn Concerto in G Minor which was broadcast from coast to coast, was praised by every New York critic. "No wonder the men of the orchestra burst out applauding as spontaneously as the audience," the New York Times reported.

Kuerti has incited equal praise and enthusiasm in appearances with the Cleveland, Buffalo, Detroit and Denver Symphonies, and with the Philadelphia Orchestra.

He has also performed in many other cities of the United States,

Canada and South America. In a concert in La Paz, he was called "the most gifted pianist who has ever visited Bolivia."

Central Committee at that time

—how to find good candidates who enjoy wide public support.

Furthermore, if successful in this objective, it was felt that the convention idea offered great promise of lifting the school board appointment above partisan politics while affording public participation without the expense of a public election. The cost of the convention is borne entirely by the participating organizations.

Mr. Mercer concluded, saying that, "The successes or failures of these conventions directly affect all citizens of this county—

the school children in their education and the parents in the cost of education which they must bear. The conventions seek to turn the attention of the senior citizens towards the important mission of maintaining a school board which will obtain for our school children the best education which lies within our means to provide them."

Supports Federal

Aid To Education

Congressman John R. Foley

(D. Md.) appeared this week before the House Committee on Education and Labor to speak in support of the Murray - Metcalf

bill for Federal aid for school construction and teachers' salaries.

A companion bill to this has been introduced by Mr. Foley. He stated that he was unhappy to note that the Committee was still studying this measure since he felt that there is an "urgent pressing need" for Federal assistance in this field. He pointed out that this need has been recognized since prior to 1955.

Mr. Foley stated that the citizens of the 6th District of Maryland "demand the best in educational facilities" and that they

"strongly support the measures set forth in the Murray-Metcalf

bill."

The Congressman introduced various articles to point up the fact that there is an immediate need for Government action on all levels if the youth of today are to be induced to teach the children of tomorrow. "It will take us another generation even with immediate action, to enlist the trained teachers that our school system needs." Therefore, he asked, "can we afford . . . to

Easter Seal Sale Benefits Counties

Tuned to the needs of crippled children and adults, the 1959 Easter Seal Campaign in Maryland and the nation opened this week and will continue through Easter Sunday, March 29. The Easter Seals will reach more than 500,000 homes in Maryland during the traditional 30 pre-Easter days this year.

Contributions in Carroll County will be used to maintain and expand services at the Western Maryland Easter Seal Treatment Center in Frederick. What kind of services does the Frederick Center offer crippled children and adults? There are three: occupational, physical and speech therapy.

Occupational therapy is a method of treatment designed to increase muscle strength, joint motion and improve coordination by carefully chosen activities. Treatment is geared to individual patient needs as indicated by a physician.

Physical therapy is the treatment of injury and disease by the use of physical agents such as heat, light and water.

Speech therapy is treatment to correct or improve abnormal speech from emotional and physical problems. Treatment varies according to the cause and age of the handicapped individual.

Both children and adults work closely with the therapist and since speech problems are the most urgent the individual requires two periods each week with the therapist. At the present time the Frederick Center could use another speech therapist. Because Carroll County does not have a speech therapist in its public schools the children handicapped with speech problems must go to the center for help. It is surprising to learn how many children do require professional treatment for speech handicaps.

As a non-profit organization, the Easter Seal Society assumes the responsibility of maintaining this community program. The treatment of patients unable to pay for professional help is made possible by funds obtained during the Easter Seal campaign.

If you know of some one who is handicapped and needs treatment, don't hesitate to tell them about the Easter Seal Center in Frederick. All that is required is that they be recommended by a physician. The Center is open Monday through Friday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The forward looking schools are now lining up their commencement orators.

Local Grange Will Confer Degrees

Seventeen members were present at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Grange held Wednesday night in the Public School, Master Bernard Welty presiding. It was announced that a number of the lady members of the group met recently at the home of Mrs. Carrie Hess, home economics chairman and it was decided to hold a box social for the April 1 meeting. The home economics chairman asks all members to have applications for dress at the next meeting.

The Youth Meeting will be held at Lewistown Grange Hall on March 19, Emmitsburg will fill the chaplain station and have a number on the program.

The local chapter has been invited to confer the third and fourth degree at Biglerville on the third Saturday in March. Emmitsburg Grange will entertain the Pomona Grange at the Lutheran parish hall the last Saturday in April, it was announced.

The group was asked to help the American Legion by attending a dance for the benefit of the Heart Fund and aid the organization in this endeavor. Tickets on the $50 drawing are available from Mrs. Madeleine Harner and the proceeds go to the Heart Fund.

Miss Naomi Harbaugh was admitted to membership at the meeting. A number of Grangers is helping with the removing of debris at the Maurice Fuss farm whose farm barn burned this week. The next meeting of the group will be held March 18.

Social Security Information

Are you in business for yourself? Did you net more than $400.00 in 1958? If your answer to both of these questions is 'yes,' W. S. King, manager of the Hagerstown District Office of the Social Security Administration, has an important reminder for you. You are required to file a report of your earnings on separate Schedule C (Farmers use Schedule F) with your 1958 Federal income tax return. The tax on 1958 net earnings is 3-3/8% of the first $4,200.00 and the return must be filed on or before April 15, 1959.

For a number of years now self-employed people have been covered by the Social Security Act (self-employed physicians are excepted). This means that they are eligible for the same benefits as wage earners.

The earnings to be reported for self-employment tax are the net earnings from your trade or business or profession. Do not include income from dividends, rentals from real estate, or income from other types of investments on your Schedule C.

Social security benefits are based upon the amount of earnings credited to your account. Prompt and accurate returns are therefore of great importance to you.

Additional information about reporting self-employment income may be secured from the local office of the Director of Internal Revenue.

State's Attorney's Office Renovated

Extensive remodeling is now being done in the office of State's Attorney Edwin F. Nirkirk at the courthouse in Frederick.

New sound absorbing panels and indirect lighting are being placed in the ceiling of the office given Nirkirk last month and partitions are being installed to provide separate offices for the State's Attorney, his secretary and an eventual assistant State's Attorney proposed in the Legislature.

Nirkirk is now operating out of his private office at 105 West Second Street and will remain there until the remodeling is completed next week.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON
Babson Discusses
Anti-Missiles

BABSON PARK, Mass., Mar. 5—In my column last week on Berlin and the stock market I concluded that the entire Russian - German situation depends upon whether either nation is prepared to defend itself against hydrogen or atom bombs. If Russia backs down on her Berlin ultimatum, it means that her Siberian experiments with anti-missile missiles have not been a success. Surely no nation, including the United States, has a defense against them.

Germany Hands Out No News Releases

Russia is encouraging our newspapers, radio broadcasters, and magazines to tell of her "wonderful" scientists and laboratories. You do not hear anything of what Germany is doing. Yet the so-called Russian scientists were stolen from Germany; in fact, I believe it was a German and not a Russian who built the famous 'Sputnik.'

Although they are saying nothing, the Germans are far ahead of either Russia or the U. S. in scientific achievement. Russia talks as if the U. S. were their great enemy; while she knows it is Germany and China she must fear. It is the present talk of protection from enemy missiles by all nations which causes the "cold war" to continue.

Eisenhower, deGaulle, and Macmillan Working Closely With Dr. Adenauer

The Democrats blame Eisenhower for everything, and talk about "the elephant sleeping in the White House." Our President may be a child at politics; but he knows Europe better than anyone in public office. He knows what Germany is doing, but he keeps it to himself as Dr. Adenauer wants him to do. The same also applies to the scientific developments of France under Charles deGaulle and of Great Britain under Harold Macmillan. President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan, and President deGaulle know that Germany is the protector of Western Europe. They are prepared to work closely with Dr. Adenauer. Great events are in the making—Germany has the world's best scientists, best laboratories and best fighting spirit. The Germans are not dishonest like the Russians; nor are they soft like us. They realize that in case of World War III Russia would first try to destroy West Germany. Hence, the West Germans are making plans to prevent this.

Germany has tremendous sins for which she must ultimately repent or repay. These primarily were the unforgivable persecutions of the Jews under orders from Hitler and his cohorts. Perhaps one way Germany could atone for these crimes would be by inventing a way to make the free world safe from Russian attacks or even threats.

Germany Will Be The Bulwark
News releases from Russia and the U. S. are mostly about ground-to-air missiles and space stunts. The real invention the United States, Great Britain, France, and especially Germany, are seeking is a ground-to-air defense missile, and Germany will secure it. When this is found, it could secure the peace for some years to come.

The primary work of defense against all missiles is being done by Germany. The world's best physicists, metallurgists, and engineers are working on this problem in Germany with the help of Great Britain, France, and the U. S. A. Russia is more interested in these experiments than in conquering space. Remember that no country releases its most important inventions to the public. Such work is highly "classified." I believe a safe defense against missiles will be found. This will make Germany all-powerful in her strategic position as the bulwark of the free nations. Russia is truly afraid—not of the U. S. A. or Great Britain or France—but of Germany. Russia is handicapped and greatly embarrassed by having West Berlin and Western Germany advance so in everything while East Berlin and East Germany are stagnant.

The only way Khrushchev now sees to stop this is by absorbing Berlin. Of course, the Germans will not agree to this, nor will Great Britain, France, or the U. S. A. Such a withdrawal would be suicidal for the West. If, however, Russia could find a sure defense against German missiles, she might be willing to withdraw from Berlin and let East and West Berlin combine, with free passage guaranteed to all parts of the world. The isolation of Berlin without a Western outlet is crazy and must be rectified. I believe this will take place as soon as all nations have anti-missile missiles.

Bernard Welty Heads Community Fund

The annual election of officers of the Community Fund of Emmitsburg was effected Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the group held in the Town Office, nine members in attendance. Following the reports of the secretary and treasurer, discussion was devoted to a number of cases presented the board. Several thank-you notes were read in appreciation of fruit baskets sent shut-ins recently.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Bernard M. Welty; vice president, Harry Swomley, Jr.; secretary, Eugene

Kraemer and treasurer, Helen Sanders. The new slate of officers request that all new members to the board be present at future meetings and suggests that if it is impossible to attend a meeting, to contact the alternate. Good attendance is imperative if the group is to function in a beneficial capacity, the officers stressed. Meetings are held the last Monday of each month.
