BY ABIGAIL

In this space age and the current cold war between the Western Powers and the Russians; one of the major problems confronting the nation is that of excessive taxation. It appears that almost every governmental body from small town councils up to the top, the U. S. Government, all have taken their cue from the leader, the Federal Government and today the obligation of paying these high taxes is almost unbearable and at a breaking point. We all know that once a tax has been imposed it most always continues perpetually. Upheavals in administrations do not provide the necessary remedial measures. Take recent elections for instance . . . No sooner had the smoke of battle subsided when a round of new taxes and increases in the old ones was manipulated and continues almost daily. Taxation has reached such a point where one works, a week, a month, and some a number of months to pay taxes before he can call what he earns his own. Instances have been revealed where congressmen have taken advantage of their high office and contingent privileges by what I'd term misuse of public funds, even though they are entitled to certain expenses, if they are actually needed. A number of these representatives have members of their families on the payroll, even though they live sometimes thousands of miles from Washington. One even had a son, away in college, drawing a salary of several thousand dollars under the guise of being his secretary. Another listed his front porch as a business office, many miles distant from the National Capital. You read of these malpractices in the newspapers but what you seldom if ever read of, is the disposition of such instances. Practically nothing ever comes of the waste of the taxpayer's money.

At the present time there is afoot a movement to wipe out the tax on telephones. This particular tax was levied during the war, 13 years ago, as a war-time measure. It is still in existence and unless YOU do something about it, will continue ad infinitum. It is estimated that last year each Marylander paid out $16 in excise taxes for the privilege of using his phone, even though he already had paid for the service. The telephone is the only utility among the household services of electricity, gas or water that carries a Federal excise tax. Don't you honestly think this tax should be abolished?

I would feel remiss in my duty if I failed to say a few words about our local fire company which is about to enter its diamond jubilee. It was back in 1885 that the Vigilant Hose Co. was first incorporated under the laws of the state. Actually the history of the fire company predates the aforementioned year but it was in 1885 that the company assumed the name it bears today. Early town records indicate that the company actually was formed on May 4, 1829. The first company was organized on a purely voluntary structure by the posting of a public notice as there were no papers here at that time. Annals show the organization apparently did not function to the satisfaction of the town for in 1840 the Town Council adopted an ordinance whereby every able bodied man must become a member of the fire company and for non-compliance with the ordinance a fine was levied. I often wonder if this ordinance was ever rescinded or if it still is on the town's ordinance books? Anyway our present-day fire company has been molded into an efficient and well-trained unit, one of which our community can well be proud of. Happy anniversary fire laddies.

FFA Cagers Are County Champs

The Emmitsburg High School FFA won the County FFA basketball championship by beating Middletown 64-40 in the finals. Hendricks of Middletown, was top scorer for the night with 25 points, while Valentine and Zentz paced Emmitsburg with 17 and 16 points respectively. The local FFA cagers beat Walkersville and Thurmont to reach the finals.

County May Assess Property Bi-Annually

Frederick County home builders would be prevented from obtaining a year's free taxes if a bill now in the State Legislature is passed. The bill proposes a bi-annual assessment in order to list the new homes being built every six months.

Frederick County Commissioners are understood to feel that the bill would result in considerable additional revenue, since it would tax, on a half-year basis, property which is substantially completed between the present date of finality—December 31 of each year—and June 30.

At the present time, property completed after Dec. 31 escapes taxation in the year immediately following—even though it may be finished early in January.

The bill, virtually reenacting most of the present tax law and making January 1 the day of finality, adds this section: "Provided, however, there shall be made a semi-annual assessment and levy for the purpose of county and municipal taxation on the first day of July in each and every year on all new buildings which are substantially completed and on all standing buildings upon which improvements, enlargements, alterations or additions are substantially completed between the first day of January and the thirtieth day of June, but the tax due as a result of said levy shall be only one-half of the tax levied and assessed against the said property for the entire year. The Board of County Commissioners of Frederick County is hereby authorized and empowered to provide by ordinance for discount on said semi-annual levy in an amount not to exceed five percent per annum. All taxes levied on the first day of July shall be due as soon as they are levied and if not paid on or before the thirty-first day of March of the year succeeding that in which they are levied shall bear interest from the first day of April until paid, at the rate of six percent per annum, and at any time after the first day of July next succeeding the date of levy, and not before, payment may be enforced by sale as provided by law."

Since the effective date of the law, if passed would be June 1, the County Commissioners conceivably could put the provisions into effect this year.

COUNCIL WOULD LIQUIDATE BOOZE PROBLEM

Under the terms of a bill which will likely be introduced in the near future at Annapolis, Thurmont will be a "dry" town on Sundays. The Thurmont Town Council unanimously decided, at a recent meeting to ask the Frederick County delegation in the State Legislature to introduce such a measure.

Beer sales are now permitted at taverns and restaurants throughout the county on Sundays from 1 p. m. on.

Town Attorney Thomas S. Glass, explaining the action of the Thurmont council said Washington County to the west, Adams and Franklin Counties, Pa., to the north and Carroll to the east are "dry" on Sundays.

"As a result, he said, the north end of Frederick County has a "tremendous influx" on Sundays of non-county residents seeking beers. It is frequently these non-residents, he said, who get "beered up" and cause a great deal of trouble." The situation has become a real "headache" in Thurmont, it was indicated.

There was no immediate indication whether the bill would be introduced. The deadline for introducing any legislation at this session of the General Assembly is March 17.

REYES-TROXELL

Miss Jean Carole Troxell, daughter of Harry B. Troxell and the late Ruth M. Troxell, 134 West Main St., Emmitsburg and Dr. V. R. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white lace gown over light blue taffeta with a white nose tip veil. She carried a white Bible topped with camellias and carnations.

Roger Hilario, Chester Hospital, Chester, Pa., was best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the in-laws' residence of St. Joseph Hospital, Lancaster.

State's Attorney Names Aide

Edward J. Lynch, a member of the Frederick County Bar, took office last week as deputy State's Attorney of Frederick County under the new law recently passed by the General Assembly and signed by Governor Tawes.

Mr. Lynch was appointed, as the law requires, by State's Attorney Edwin F. Nikirk and approved by Chief Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer. The act stipulates that the resident judge of the Circuit Court must approve such an appointment.

Mr. Lynch, 40, has been associated with John R. Fitzpatrick, Frederick attorney, since 1946.

He is a graduate of Columbus University of Washington in 1940 and has been practicing law since 1945. He has been a member of the Frederick County Bar for several years.

The position pays $3,600 a year.

If you want to live a long time, maintain the will to live—it's better than medicine.

Acquisition Privilege Given School Board

Members of the Board of County Commissioners said this week the Board of Education will be given authority to proceed with the acquisition of certain new school sites and the necessary planning for improvements, as was discussed at a meeting between the two boards last week.

The commissioners, after reviewing a letter from the school board making requests for some sites and giving some projected school construction and improvement figures, said, however, that they have decided to proceed with caution in regard to the proposed, extensive long-range school construction program outlined recently.

In connection with the site and planning proposals, the commissioners indicated certain funds would be made available.

School officials pointed out last week that site acquisition and planning for new schools often takes a year or more and a start should be made as soon as possible on these two important points.

The commissioners said they plan to visit quite a number of existing school properties, where improvements have been suggested, to look things over and draw their own conclusions.

All problems of immediate need will be given prior consideration, the commissioners said. They said they have no desire to hold up in any way the education of children.

They indicated consideration will be given to funds for modernization of some old buildings. Specifically mentioned was improvements to the locker room facilities at Frederick High School.

Fire Doused

Quick action of the Vigilant Hose Co. Saturday at 4:45 p. m. quelled a fire which could have been a disastrous one for the community of Emmitsburg. Children smoking or playing with matches apparently set fire in the bathroom on the second floor of the Mondorf apartment building.

Fire Chief Minor S. Hollinger reported that John S. Hollinger was done to the walls and baseboard of the room. The fire was smoldering in a trash box in the corner and caused a great deal of smoke.

Large Motel Being Built On Route 15

The largest tourist home operation in Frederick County is now being constructed in the old Charles Lewis orchard, one mile north of Thurmont on new U. S. Route 15.

Carroll E. Kinsey, owner of the Thurmont Construction Company and of Hoover's Blue Mountain Camp tourist home and restaurant, is constructing a $50,000 tourist court at the new location.

He will operate the new tourist home, to be known as Hoover's Tourist Court, in conjunction with his present motel, restaurant and service station, located two miles south of Thurmont on old U. S. 15.

The combined operations will be the largest in Western Maryland, Kinsey said this week. The new tourist home will be a one story brick building, 54 feet by 160 feet containing 20 cabins and a swimming pool. The present motel contains 24 units, a restaurant seating 75 persons and a service station.

Kinsey purchased two and one-half acres of the old Lewis orchard fronting on Route 15 from Calvin Wilhide last October for $6,500. He started construction on the motel this month and expects to complete the work and have it ready for occupancy by July 1.

The Frederick County Assessors Office approved the application to build the new motel on Monday. It has been pending since last October 24.

An application to install a restaurant and filling station at the new location was rejected by the Frederick County Planning and Zoning Commission but "an arrangement is being made to use an adjoining restaurant a few hundred yards away."

Emmitsburg will play host to the county fire departments during the convention and committees already are at work. A proposed change in the existing bylaws was discussed and voting on the subject will take place at the next regular meeting. The Emmitsburg Baseball Assn. was again granted permission to use Community Field which is owned by the Fire Company. ## Federal Aid Granted For County Roads

Federal aid to local roads totaling $125,000 has been approved, it was announced at the meeting of the Frederick County Commissioners with States Roads Commission representatives during the week.

The commissioners released a letter from the States Roads Commission listing a number of county roads which have been approved by the Federal Bureau of Public Works secondary roads project.

The letter was the result of a meeting between county authorities and State Roads officials at the new SRC headquarters in Baltimore last week.

The county now has a total of $362,542 in Federal aid credits as a "sinking fund" from which to proceed on various local secondary roads projects, the letter revealed. More funds may be planned and the State Roads Commission may be asked to take over other portions of county roads.

The letter points out that the roads program under the Federal aid program must be maintained after they are completed by Frederick County aid that the county must pay 50 per cent of their construction costs.

Included in the program for Federal Aid to secondary county roads are portions of Devilbiss Bridge Road, Howard Huffer Rd., Old Frederick Road and Molasses Road.

Other portions of some of these roads and other roads in the county have been included in previous Federal aid projects, the commissioners pointed out.

The road list approved was recommended by County Engineer O. Wilson Runkles for Federal aid and the recommendation was concurred in by Norman Pritchett, chief engineer of the SRC.

New Charles Town Track Nearly Complete

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (Special) — Shenandoah Downs, the $3 million night thoroughbred racing plant under construction here, is 85 per cent completed. General Manager Robert G. Leavitt said this week. Shenandoah Downs will introduce night running races in this area May 1, opening a 62-day spring meet. The track has been awarded 104 racing nights by the West Virginia Racing Commission for 1959. A fall meet will run from Sept. 14 through Oct. 31. Most of the racing plant is in place and awaiting only finishing touches, Leavitt said. Barns for 650 horses, a grandstand accommodating 15,000, totalisator board, lighting, and racing surface are just about ready. The clubhouse, which will feature dining for 1100 patrons, is nearing completion. The track, a 1/2-mile course, is being worked up daily in preparation for receiving the first horses. Two chutes are included on the racing strip.

Harold Roderick (left) of Walkersville, was named a county corn-growing champion at a banquet held recently in Glen Burnie, where other Maryland corn growing champions were honored. Roderick's yield of 133.46 bushels per acre topped Frederick County in the 1958 National Selected Five Acre DeKalb Corn Growing Contest. Allen Flanigan (middle) of Woodboro, was the runner-up champion with a yield of 128.3 bushels per acre. George Delauter (right) of Sabillasville, placed third in the contest with a yield of 115.26 bushels per acre. A yield of 112.55 bushels per acre put Donald Wachter of Keymar, fourth in the contest.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Inflation
BABSON PARK, Mass., Mar. 12 — Except for intermittent periods of deflation, we have had a slow but constant inflation for as long as statistics are available. In fact, the reason gold and silver coins have rough edges is so they cannot be clipped,—so a little of the gold or silver cannot be stolen as a hedge against inflation. The Inflation Craze

Just now almost everyone is excited about inflation. Of course, normal inflation will continue; but I anticipate nothing serious unless World War III breaks out. If you believe there will be no World War III during the next ten years, then forget inflation. If you do expect such a War, the best investment is good land which will earn its taxes, especially land bordering an ocean, a lake, or a river. Buying stocks now as a hedge against inflation is a waste of money.

There has been no period in American history when serious inflation accompanied unemployment and heavy imports. Increasing Federal and personal debt is only one cause of inflation. The main cause is a scarcity of goods with an increased demand for goods. With present foreign competition and its increasing supply of cheap labor causing more domestic unemployment, there can be no scarcity of goods.

Automation Is Increasing
Union labor could cause price inflation; but the use of automation by our manufacturers is fast keeping up with labor's demands. The use of photon by printers, of electronics by manufacturers, and of other labor-saving devices by businessmen will partly hold down prices. The chief companies supplying automation devices are Aeroquip Corp., Beckman Instruments, Bullard Co., Cincinnati Milling Machine, Cutler-Hammer, Inc., Ex-Cell-O Corporation, General Precision, I.B.M., Sperry Rand Corp., Kearney & Trecker Corp., and R.C.A.

We cannot now lick Russia in an economic war. In Russia all are paid and promoted according to their efficiency and output. Russia has the population and the discipline. To attempt to abolish labor unions in our country would not only mean death for any political party advocating it, but might require a "man-on-horseback" or a dictator like deGaulle of France. Hence, I advise readers not to depend on legislation against the labor unions, but to get our manufacturers to adopt automation and compel our bankers to finance the great costly changeovers.

Requirements of Automation
Automation may be defined as the automatic processing of raw or semi-processed materials into finished products. The typical manufacturing plant of today consists of related but unconnected machines that perform successive steps in the creation of a final product. Separate persons operate these machines and transfer the work from one machine to another. Under full automation, the plant would become a single giant machine, drawing in raw materials at one end and pouring out finished goods at the other,—all being directed by electronic controls.

The adoption of full automation would often require an almost complete scrapping of existing plant. The design of the factory, the machine tools, the control mechanisms and the materials-handling equipment would all have to be integrated. The plant layout would have to be scientifically engineered, and the flow of materials planned and timed to a delicate balance. Such a plant would largely depend upon mass production of a single product.

What Companies Need Automation Most
Following is a tabulation indicating the relative importance of wage costs in significant industries. Coal, copper, and gold mining, fishing, lumber — not listed—also have high costs. The table shows where the pressure to adopt automation will be greatest. Management and labor must become more professional and technical. The labor force will adopt broad rearrangement. This also applies to education. Wise young people should now train for the Automation Era,—planning, selling, and financing its adoption.

Finally, let me say: — Only labor and stock prices are now abnormally inflated. Labor will be held in check by automation. This leaves the stock market as the most inflated economic factor. Is it common sense to buy stocks as a hedge against inflation when stocks are the most inflated of all things? Surely this is "trying to pull yourself up by your bootstraps." Good stocks are now okay for income, but unless the U. S. is to suffer a World War,—the purchase of stocks, as an inflation hedge, at their present inflated prices seems illogical. There may be one exception,—namely, stocks of companies having large productive land with oil, mineral, or timber holdings.

pain or inflammation moving from one joint to another, poor appetite, tiredness, failure to gain weight, paleness, repeated nosebleeds or chorea (St. Vitus Dance). Remember, none of these symptoms belong to Rheumatic Fever alone. Nevertheless, they should warn you of trouble.

Never try to judge for yourself. Let your doctor be the judge at all times. Even the doctor sometimes has a hard time deciding. Diagnosis may take time, special tests may be needed, and a specialist trained in recognizing Rheumatic Fever may have to be called in.

Doctors have found that penicillin, given promptly when a strep infection breaks out, may prevent Rheumatic Fever from taking hold later on. Unfortunately, however, once the disease has begun, there is no specific cure for Rheumatic Fever or Rheumatic Heart Disease. Drugs such as aspirin can help make the patient more comfortable. In some cases, the hormone drugs, ACTH and cortisone, have proved useful. The key to Rheumatic Fever control is to prevent the initial strep infection from getting out of hand.

How Long Does Rheumatic Fever Last.
Rheumatic Fever is a long drawn out disease. An attack may last weeks, months or sometimes years. It may go away and then return again and again. Once a child has had Rheumatic Fever, there is procedure which can help protect him from further infection. He should be protected from further strep infections and should get regular check-ups from a doctor. Penicillin or sulfa drugs, given continuously under a doctor's direction, have shown excellent results in preventing Rheumatic Fever from striking again.

Much more is known today about Rheumatic Fever than in the past. Research has found a number of important answers to questions about this disease and other disorders of the heart and blood vessels. Dr. Paul Dudley White recently remarked in Baltimore that "We have made more progress in the fight against heart disease in the past ten years than had been made in all the centuries before." Medical research sponsored by the Heart Association and other public and private agencies has uncovered many facts. The riddle of Rheumatic Fever is far from solved, however. The underlying cause of this perplexing and serious illness has still to be found. Laboratories in many parts of the country are engaged in searching for the answers which will reduce or eliminate the threat of Rheumatic Fever.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

DO NOT CALL JESUS A LIAR

Judas Iscariot betrayed the Lord for thirty pieces of silver, after he had walked with him for three years and had received the words of life. By his act of betrayal, Judas demonstrated that he thought Jesus was a liar.

Likewise did Thomas, by his doubt, call Jesus a liar.

It may appear presumptuous to suggest that any human being today would dare call Jesus of Nazareth a liar, yet such is often-times the case—unintentionally so, but done nevertheless. Actions too often belie intentions.

The very moment any of us allow doubt to enter our minds, if only for an instant, we are, in effect and for all practical purposes, calling our Saviour a liar.

God forbid!

I will never forget an occasion when I read a prayer card indicating a child had been born without a hip socket. Immediately my faith stopped. I could not see that even Christ would form a new hip socket upon the child's body. Yet it was done, and it was God saying to me, "Oral Roberts, do not call Jesus, my Son, a liar."

When something happens out of the ordinary, beyond our human comprehension, there is only room for one of two conclusions—the conclusion of doubt or the conclusion of faith. Too often we are apt to say, "No, it cannot or will not be done."

How many of us have been barren and in need, or in some terrible circumstance, because we were not able to comprehend the truth that God is with us . . . that God will meet our needs . . . that God will answer our prayers!

You see, we human beings think that if it is not done right now, it is not going to be done.

There are a number of ways to call Jesus a liar. For example, people sometimes say that God is too busy to be concerned about their "little" needs. Not once during his time upon earth was Christ too busy for any human being. When we say Jesus is too busy for us, we, in effect, call him a liar.

Two-thirds of his ministry on earth was devoted to healing. When we say he will not heal us today, we call him a liar, for Christ is the same yesterday, today and forever, and God is not a man that he should lie or have respect of persons.

We call Christ a liar when we say that Christianity is too hard . . . too narrow . . . too gloomy. We call Jesus a liar when we say that God may be concerned about our spiritual welfare but that he is not concerned about our material welfare. We call him a liar when we say, "God will not hear MY prayers."

When Christ comes in, he changes things . . . puts a shine on your face. He makes God your Father, the Holy Spirit your Comforter, Christ your Saviour, the angels your guardians, the saints your brothers and sisters, and Heaven your home.

If you have, by your words and actions, called our precious Saviour a liar, turn to him now and make a new dedication of your life to him, for Christ is the way, the truth, and the life.

Do not call Jesus a liar.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Luke 8:4-15.
A word fifty spoken is like apples of gold in a setting of silver. (Proverbs 25:11.)
One winter morning I went out to sweep away the snow that lay unbroken on the steps and walk. It swept off clean, except for firm white imprints of a foot on each step and across the walk. I knew they were made by the early-rising teacher who lives in the other apartment. She had gone out at her usual time, and the continuing snowfall had covered but not destroyed her footprints.

So it may be with one's words spoken or deeds done to others — to some child, youth, or adult. You and I may forget our words and deeds, or they may seem to be covered up in the onflow of life. But they exert their influence. Whether we are aware of it or not, sometimes the influence of our words and deeds sinks deep into the hearts of others.

How careful we need to be that the words we speak reflect a Christian attitude, and that our deeds are done in the spirit of Christ. We then live to the glory of God, and He uses us to strengthen and bless others.

Prayer
Dear heavenly Father, we thank Thee that we may speak words which help to bring others to Thee. May we not be discouraged, even though we may never see the results of our efforts. Strengthen us to do our best and grant us faith to leave the results to Thee. In the Master's name. Amen.

which a local sales tax is levied. I imagine this probably would amount to about one-third of my income. Could I deduct an amount equal to a sales tax on one-third of my income?

A. No. You may deduct the local sales taxes that you actually paid, if you can determine how much this is. But the Internal Revenue Service insists that you be able to support your deduction. If you do not have detailed records, you should be able to furnish some kind of dependable evidence you actually spent what you claim.

Q. I discovered in 1958 that my house had suffered damage from termites. May I deduct the amount of this damage from my income?

No. The Internal Revenue Service says that a casualty, for tax purposes, must result from a sudden destructive force. Termite damage generally is not rated as a casualty, since it does not occur suddenly. It has to be a sudden and destructive force to qualify.

Q. A friend of mine was ill and had no income during 1958. I gave him a room in my house and paid for all his food during the year. May I claim a deduction for the food I bought?

A. No, but if you contributed more than half of his support during the year, you may claim him as a dependent if you meet all other dependency tests.

Q. I gave an old television set to the boy scouts and also contributed $50 rent for a meeting place for one of their troops in 1957. May I deduct these items as contributions?

A. Yes, but the allowable deduction for the television set is the fair market value at the date you gave it to the boy scouts, and not the original cost.

Q. During 1958, I was paying for an automobile that I had purchased in 1956. How could I go about deducting the interest included in these payments?

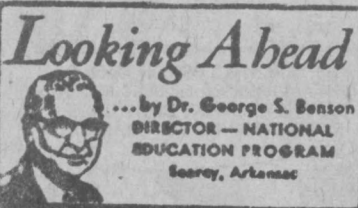

A. Where interest charges are not separately stated, the allowable deduction is six per cent of the average unpaid monthly balance on your indebtedness.

Q. My Summer home was damaged by a hurricane in 1958. May I deduct from my income the cost of repairing it?

A. No, but you may deduct the loss resulting from the damage, if you itemize your deductions. All such losses by fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty may be deducted in most cases.

You suffered a non-business casualty loss, and the amount that you may deduct is the difference between the value of the property immediately before the casualty and the value immediately thereafter.

This may not exceed the cost of the property, and it must be reduced by any insurance or other compensation received or recoverable.

What About Castro?
America's communications institutions—our newspapers, television, radio, motion picture theaters, magazines and book publishers, and other media—have a greater responsibility today than ever before in history. That's because world Communism has one of the most extensive and certainly the most cunning propaganda organizations the world has ever known, and its No. 1 target is the minds of the American people. Our communications arteries must be on guard to resist Communist infiltration and not be "used" or duped in any manner by the clever maneuvers of Red propagandists.

From time to time some of the most important of our communications institutions have been victimized by the Communists. When the Republic of China was fighting for its life against the Communist hordes armed and directed from Moscow, highly respected avenues of American communications carried propaganda undermining the Republic of China, turning Americans against Chiang Kai-shek, giving priceless aid to the Reds at a time when a small amount of aid to anti-Communist China would probably have saved it from enslavement.

Caution Needed
Americans need to take a long, clear-eyed look at Fidel Castro, the Cuban rebel leader who now rules supreme over a strategically placed island just south of the United States. We must not be stampeded into enshrining him as a great hero of genuine freedom forces unless he truly is. He may prove to be as advertised. But there are facts about him and his rebel forces which indicate he is not all that he has been built up to be by some important facilities of American communications.

About 18 months ago elaborate television interviews with Castro and his rebels were carried on major American TV networks — when his movement seemed to most Americans to be insignificant. Everything about these "documentaries" implied that Castro was a genuine freedom fighter battling a brutal dictator and deserving of American acclaim and assistance. Whatever their real purpose, these "documentaries" were bulldozers for Castro.

Communist Connections?
Immediately after Castro's victory—hastened, some sources say, by the ordering of an arms embargo against Batista's government by the United States State Department, just as was done against China—one of America's leading television personalities, whose show attracts perhaps 40 million viewers each Sunday night, interviewed Castro. On film the noted TV master of ceremonies, eyes glittering in adoration, called Castro "the George Washington of Cuba."

Other TV personalities, some famed as entertainers and others as "news analysts," rushed to Havana for interviews which subsequently were beamed to vast American audiences. Only in one or two has there been any mention whatsoever of Castro's possible Communist connections. Without exception these interviews have built up Castro into the mold of a savior of freedom. Even the reclusion over the subsequent firing squad executions of Castro's opponents has been quieted somewhat by continuing hero-making interviews.

Reports To Consider
Here are some reports which should be weighed in any appraisal of the Castro movement: "Fidel Castro (s) entire adult life has been spent in plotting and executing the Communist conquest of his native country"—from American Opinion. "Moscow—A Cuban (Sivero Aguirre, a leader in Cuba's Communist People's Party) told a Kremlin convention today that Communists had a big share in the Fidel Castro revolution"—from Associated Press. "Ernesto Guervara, who was second in command to Castro, (is an) Argentine Communist"—from American Opinion. "Fidel Castro's brother, Raul, named by the new Cuban leader as next in line to power, spent time studying revolutionary tactics in Soviet Russia and is known as an extreme Left Winger, if not a Communist"—U. S. News & World Report.

"Fidel Castro . . . was a member of the terroristic Communist-led mob which reduced a large part of the city of Bogota, Columbia, to ashes and left in its wake thousands of dead and wounded. The holocaust was a veritable carnival of murder . . . Castro was arrested for murder and is reported to have boasted, 'I did a good day's work today; I killed a priest'"—American Opinion. "In 1956 Castro went to Mexico . . . made contacts with Communist agents who were assigned to educate him and his fellow youths in the art of guerilla warfare"—American Opinion. "Rebel chief Fidel Castro is a pawn in the Kremlin's international intrigue. He is backed by Red agents who are plotting to bring Cuba under Communist domination"—Spruille Braden, former U. S. Ambassador to Cuba. " . . . Then we will encircle the United States and it will fall like an overripe fruit into our hands"—enscribed in Lenin Museum, Moscow.

A report of the Boy Scouts of America shows that 81 per cent of teenage boys fish, which puts fishing near the top of their favorite sports, with only swimming and baseball leading by a trifle.—Sports Aled

CHILD OR MONSTER?

HERE'S HOW... MAKE A LAUNDRY CENTER

A basement laundry center can be "dressed up" with convenient shelves and cabinets. First plan the project, using as governing dimensions the width of the washer and dryer. Allow 3 inches between the two to avoid vibration injuries. If piping comes through the floor, use 2 by 4-inch lumber for the wall unit base, rather than a 1 by 12-inch board. The long door in the wall unit is used to hide the lint vent pipe of the dryer. The pipe goes from the back of the dryer, up through the lower shelf and to the outdoors. Assemble the unit, using glue and 8-penny finishing nails. The unit may be set in place or fastened to the floor and ceiling. Finish to match the wall paneling, or enamel to match the washer and dryer.

WINCHESTER, Va.—Miss Sara

ty from Annapolis, largest city

Times, Alaska's largest newspaper which for 16 years, under Editor Atwood's pen, championed the cause of statehood for the great north country. To the Atwood family, the achievement of statehood for Alaska was a momentous event.

A graduate in 1957 of Anchorage High School, where she was

Work Commenced
On New PE
Power Line

Preliminary construction work on the third phase of the longest line construction project in the history of the Potomac Edison System will get underway this week.

Combined line construction crews of the four companies comprising the PE System began clearing right of way areas for the 26 miles of 132,000 volt transmission line from Millville, W. Va., to Frederick, Md. Actual construction of the line is expected to get underway shortly.
Transmission line construction specialists from the Potomac Edison Company in Maryland, Potomac Light and Power Company in West Virginia, South Penn Power in Pennsylvania, and Northern Virginia Power in Virginia will work on the project.

The line is a continuation of the 132,000 volt line from Albright generating station at Albright, W. Va., to the Millville power station at Millville, W. Va.
It will provide additional capacity into the fast growing eastern portion of the PE service area and will also provide possible power feed-back into the Hagerstown and Waynesboro area.

When this third phase is completed, the entire line will measure a distance of over 131 miles.
The first portion, from Albright to Junction Substation, a distance of over 44 miles, was built in 1956. The following year, the 60 mile stretch from Junction to Millville was constructed. The final 26 mile length is expected to be completed late this year.

The cost of the entire transmission line project will be nearly four and one-half million dollars.

FOLEY BILL INTRODUCED

Congressman John R. Foley of the 6th District of Maryland this week introduced a bill into the House of Representatives calling for a comprehensive study by the Secretary of the Army and the Secretary of the Interior of the development of the water and land resources of the Potomac River basin. In a somewhat revised version of his original bill to establish a Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park, the legislation introduced, firmly establishes the Park with the limitation that development or improvement for park purposes between the terminus of the George Washington Parkway above the Great Falls of the Potomac and a point in the vicinity of Brunswick, Md., be withheld until six months after the Secretary of the Army submits his report on the development of that area.

Congressman Foley pointed out that this revised version of the proposed legislation was prepared with assistance of the House Interior Committee Staff. He indicated that the new bill would permit that area of the Canal, reserved from park development for the time being, to be administered in the same manner as developed park areas.

The new bill would require the Secretary of the Army, incorporating the findings of the Secretary of the Interior, to submit his findings to the Congress no more than three years after the enactment of the legislation. "The bill," Foley said, "fully spells out the rights of the Corps of Engineers and the District of Columbia in the development of the C&O National Historical Park."

The bill represents the insertion of some additional language in the original legislation of H.R. 2331 introduced by Congressman Foley earlier this year. In addition to the revisions already referred to, the new bill clearly guarantees the judicious development of the park area for the purposes of wildlife propagation and conservation, public recreation, and related purposes. It permits the Secretary of the Interior to enter into cooperative agreements and lease lands to the State of Maryland for these purposes.

In addition to fully protecting the interests of the Corps of Engineers, the District of Columbia, the State of Maryland, and the people of the 6th District will profit from and enjoy the benefits of the proposed park. The revised bill more explicitly insures that future development in the area will not be hastily undertaken without taking into account the multiple development of the water resources involved for municipal and domestic water supply, navigation, flood control, drainage, hydroelectric power, and the like.

Congressman Foley expressed his appreciation to the Chairman and staff of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs for valuable advice in working out the legislation. He characterized the revised bill as "realistic" and expressed his belief that prompt hearings would be held on the C&O Canal park legislation now pending before the Committee.

Rechecking Tax Form May Save You Money

One of the most important duties of the Federal income taxpayer, according to Irving Machiz, District Director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, which comprises Maryland and District of Columbia, is checking and double-checking his return before mailing it in, to ensure accuracy of facts and figures.

The current filing period is half over, Mr. Machiz said, and taxpayers should have all their financial records from last year assembled, together with a copy of last year's return as a helpful guide, and prepare that tax return now, giving themselves and the Revenue Service a break.

"A relaxed and unhurried approach to this task is a big help to both neatness and accuracy," Mr. Machiz declared. "Further, if the taxpayer owes nothing, or just a few dollars, filing now will get behind him what usually becomes later a pressing and worrisome task. It'll help his spring budget planning, too."

"The high error factor in tax returns—in some areas as high as one in every four—is expensive to us as a tax collecting agency, and, in the ultimate analysis, to the taxpayer himself. We ask thorough and careful checking, with the taxpayer keeping in mind that both facts and figures have to add up. We don't like to send bills for additional tax, with interest and possibly penalties, anymore than the taxpayer likes to receive them."

"Check the following ten times before mailing your tax return, and avoid costly errors":

- 1—File Now.
- 2—Print name, address, city and state on form. If joint return, list both names.
- 3—List social security number and occupation.
- 4—List proper dependents.
- 5—List all places of employment of W-2 statements issued by employer. You should have a statement of wages and tax withheld from each employer.
- 6—Attach all W-2 statements before mailing return.
- 7—Read instructions for proper dependents and proper deductions.
- 8—Check arithmetic. Be positive you are right.
- 9—Sign the return. If joint, both names must be affixed.
- 10—If tax is due, make check payable to Internal Revenue Service. It must be paid in full with return. Address envelope, District Director of Internal Revenue, for your area.

Social Security Information

You don't have to retire completely to get social security benefits. Many working people do not want to retire as soon as they reach retirement age which is now 62 for women and 65 for men. Some of them continue to work full time as long as they can. Some taper off their earnings by doing part-time or seasonal work. Recognizing this, the Social Security Law provides that a worker who has reached retirement age, but is not yet 72 years old, can receive benefits for all 12 months of a calendar year if he does not earn more than $1200 in the year.

If a beneficiary who is under 72 years of age has yearly earnings of more than $1200, he must notify the Social Security Administration immediately. The number of monthly benefit checks that are due him for that year depends then on the amount of his total earnings and on how much work is done in each month.

Below are three points to remember in planning your retirement:

- Point No. 1. You can earn as much as $1200 for a full year and still receive your benefits for all 12 months of the year. If you don't earn more than $1200, it makes no difference how much you earn in any one month.
  - Point No. 2. If you make more than $1200 in a year, you may not get benefits for all 12 months. One month's check, or more, will not be payable to you—depending on the amount of earnings in excess of the $1200.
  - Point No. 3. The Law also provides that even if you do make more than $1200 in a year, you will still get a check for any month in which you neither earn wages of more than $100 nor render substantial services in self-employment. You will also get a benefit payment for any month in which you are 72 or over.
- The $100 a month figure above represents a slight liberalization in the Law, enacted last August. For information on this part of the Law, write the Hagerstown district office and request Pamphlet No. 1 on the new amendments.
- A home town booster is a man that helps make his home town better as well as bigger.

Blarney Origin Traced

Chances are the blarney will be as thick as the shamrocks when the Irish honor St. Patrick on March 17.

But the original "blarney" was an Irish chieftain who proved that you can still win even if you lose.

When the castle of Blarney was besieged by the English, the lord of the manor concluded an armistice with the English commander. According to the research department of The World Book Encyclopedia, he promised to surrender the old homestead to an English garrison in Cork on a certain date.

The Englishman waited politely for the terms of the armistice to be fulfilled . . . and waited . . . and waited.

The Lord of Blarney held him off with promises and flattery, until the commander became the laughingstock of the court of

"Rumble Stop" Being Tested

The State Roads Commission announced this week its experiment with a new traffic control device known as a "Rumbler Stop" has had a salutary effect of increasing obedience to STOP signs and lowering the accident rate at intersections along the Blue Star Memorial Highway—Md. Route 71 on the Eastern Shore.

The Rumbler Stops consist of an asphaltic material in which particles of rough stone or slag is imbedded. The stops are placed about 300 feet in advance of the STOP sign. When a vehicle traverses the area, the driver receives a slight jolt, followed by a very gentle rocking motion accompanied by an audible rumble. This alerts the driver of the impending stop to be encountered ahead.

The new device was placed during the summer of 1958 at seven intersections along the Blue Star Memorial Highway between U. S. Route 213 and the Delaware line. Driver behavior and accident studies were conducted before and after the Rumbler Stops were installed.

After the devices were installed the number of motorists failing to heed the STOP signs decreased 61 per cent.

England And the name "Blarney" ironically took its place in the "English" language, as a synonym for sweet talk.

During two comparable four-month periods before and after the placing of the Rumbler Stops the number of accidents at the intersections decreased from 9 to 6, fatalities decreased from 4 to 1, and injuries from 7 to 5. The Commission plans to study other high accident rate intersections in rural areas to determine what benefits may be derived by placing of the Rumbler Stops.
