The old adage that history repeats itself is very interesting in view of some recent articles I was reading in newspapers of fifty years ago. Many of the issues being discussed today were heated matters for debate at that time. Morals were regarded as being at a low ebb by many, politics was awarded the "booby prize" for the part it played in matters of the day, Oklahoma was admitted as the forty-sixth state of the union, prices were a subject of discussion, repeated warnings were issued regarding casualties encountered in railroad travel, investigations were underway regarding peculiar happenings within the National Banking System, bargain basement sales, yes, and even the weather was included in the discussion. Occurrences at the time were reporting to the medical conventions the great harm that the incandescent light would have on the human eye if its use would ever become acceptable to society and on the scientific horizon great interest was displayed in whether or not a wireless transmitter could be perfected. Gentlemen existed in those days and was spelled out by the president of Harvard University as "one gentle of speech, quiet of demeanor, a serene person who does not bluster, or bustle, or hurry, or vociferate, but who pays attention with the intent mind which is requisite to effectiveness, one who sees superiorities in a person rather than inferiorities, of generous spirit, and last but not least he is denied the privilege of being lazy". A keen interest was displayed by the local citizens of that day in athletic events locally and at the college, "Red Dragon" seltzer was available for ten cents and was the remedy of the day for train fatigue, indigestion, headache, etc., giveaway programs were sponsored and it noted in the Chronicle of that day that the Editor presented one of the local citizens with a set of hand-made leather harness for presenting the best paper to the editor illustrating the successful farmer of that day. To quote figures, mens' suits were selling at $9.00; solid silver watches with two year guarantee for $6; French model design tailored waists were available to the ladies for $3.50; turkeys were selling at the outlandish price of, 14c per lb. and the 1909 phonograph was available with the popular records of the month at a meager price.

At the present time we have admitted the fiftieth state, we still have investigations into suspicious happenings, a very keen interest exists in current prices and in many respects we basically agree with our forefathers of fifty years ago. We can readily see the folly in some of the happenings of that day and for many it may be even difficult to imagine how anyone could have doubted the success of the incandescent light. History has repeated itself on the local scene in many respects and I guess I can say from experience of both eras that our present day history locally may be even more "stardusted" than was that of fifty years ago. We will have records indicating that the President of the United States was our neighbor and visited the community on various occasions, the standard of living is supposedly at an all-time high, religion is presently practiced by more persons than in recent years, scientific, medical and other technological facilities exist to a much greater extent than fifty years ago. I believe that an elderly lady of my experience can safely say that we should be able to do many things today which our forefathers could not even dream of—in short we must make the best possible use of every potential which exists today for the betterment of mankind. Fifty years from now someone will look back over the records of our time and try to judge how well we have prospered with the tools available to us and unquestionably they should be able to say that we did very well just as we can make this statement of our forefathers. Just remember that success depends on each one of us—how well we fit into the measuring stick of time depends on each individual. One excellent place for each of us to begin to improve the his-

New Indulgences For Grotto Pilgrims

The office of the Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Baltimore has announced that the Holy Father, through the Office for Indulgences of the Sacred Apostolic Penitentiary, has extended and liberalized the indulgences which may be gained by the faithful who out of devotion visit the Grotto of the Blessed Virgin at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

The original indulgences were granted in May 1958 in recognition of the 150th anniversary of the college. Since that time more than 35,000 devout pilgrims have visited the Grotto, situated in the mountain above the college and dating back to the foundation of the college under Fr. John Dubois in 1808. Ninety-two organized pilgrimages with 11,602 pilgrims held scheduled devotion at the shrine.

Recognizing the spiritual influence which the shrine has inspired new indulgences have been granted for a period of seven years dating from Nov. 20, 1958 and are as follows:

A Plenary Indulgence on the following days and under the following conditions: by individual visitors, (a) on all feasts of Our Lady mentioned in the universal calendar of the Church; (b) on all Saturdays; (c) on all Sundays. By members of a group pilgrim age, on any day.

To gain this Plenary Indulgence, both individual visitors and members of group pilgrimages are requested: (1) to have gone or intend to go to Confession during the preceding last eight days or within the coming week; (2) to have received or intend to receive Holy Communion the same day or the previous day or within the coming week; (3) to recite at the Grotto one "Hail Mary" together with the invocation "O Mary, Virgin and Mother of God, pray to Jesus for me," and "Our Father," "Hail Mary" and "Glory Be" six times for the intentions of the Holy Father.

A Partial Indulgence of 500 days has been granted each time a visit is made to the Grotto, and the following prayers are recited with a contrite heart: "Hail Mary," together with the invocation "O Mary, Virgin and Mother of God, pray to Jesus for me;" one "Our Father," "Hail Mary," and "Glory Be," or some other prayer of one's choice for the intentions of the Holy Father.

Because of the great and wide-a visit is made to the Grotto and lived the oldest in the United States, the college authorities have made the mountain retreat more accessible and have enlarged the area around the Grotto and the chapel. An extensive parking area has been constructed and 500 benches and kneelers are being erected in amphitheater style on the side of the mountain facing the shrine.

May devotions will be held again this year every day during the week at the Grotto. The seminarians of the college will lead in the recitation of the Rosary while climbing the hill along with the collegians and visitors. Benediction will be given daily at 4:45 p. m.

According to tradition, the Grotto which overlooks the college campus marks the spot where Father John Dubois first decided to found Mt. St. Mary's College. Shortly afterwards Fr. Dubois and his first students erected the first shrine and beautified the area. The diary of Mother Seton, foundress of the Daughters of Charity at nearby St. Joseph College, makes frequent mention of her practice of visiting the Grotto frequently for prayer and meditation, a custom still followed by both the Sisters of St. Joseph's as well as the collegiennes.

Homemakers Hold Regular Meeting

Twelve members and two guests were present at the regular meeting of the Homemakers Club of Emmitsburg held on March 19 at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. C. A. Harner. The session was opened with the recitation of the Lord's Prayer led by the president, Mrs. Robert Fite, followed by the singing of "My Wild Irish Rose" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Mrs. Harner gave a demonstration on "A Well-Dressed Table for Every-Day Meals." Suggestions were then made by the members on odd pieces of tableware assembled by the hostess, the idea being to use lightweight chinaware with pieces of the same weight, bearing in mind color and arrangement.

A donation of $5 was authorized for the Crippled Children's Society of Frederick County and $2.50 to the Vigilant Hose Co. for use of the fire hall for a recent food sale. The next afternoon of games will be held on April 9 with Mrs. Morris Zentz and Mrs. Edward Meadows as hostesses. The next regular meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Beale on April 23. A lovely social hour was enjoyed following the meeting and the group was served Easter egg cookies, cake, coffee and tea. Ten members and seven guests attended the annual Homemakers meeting held at Hood College on March 25.

Mission Bazaar At Mt. St. Mary's April 16

The annual Mount St. Mary's Seminary Bazaar, sponsored by the Bishop Walsh Mission Unit of the Seminary will be held in Flynn Hall on the college campus on April 16 from 3 until 10 p. m. Draw prizes include a console, model Zenith stereophonic hifi with companion speaker and a portable TV.

The seminarians will provide the usual entertainment of all sorts of games and refreshments, cakes and baked goods will be on sale.

As in the past all money realized from the bazaar will be divided among worthwhile causes selected by the seminarians. In general a share of the money is earmarked for the St. Francis DeSales Society of the Seminary which handles instruction for the deaf children at the Maryland School for the Deaf. Some is used for expenses for the visits of the seminarians to the surrounding seminarians and the rest is sent to various missionaries in our own and foreign countries.

Funds have been used for education of mountain children in North Carolina, for purchase of construction materials so that Indian and Mexican laborers might build a church in Arizona, and to aid in the construction of a chapel for the Seraphic Sisters in India.

PRESIDENT TO SPEAK AT GETTYSBURG

An honorary Doctor of Laws degree will be conferred upon Fred A. Seaton, U. S. Secretary of the Interior, April 4 during a special liberal arts convocation at Gettysburg College.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower will be watching the ceremony. The President is scheduled to address the assemblage briefly a few minutes after his cabinet official receives the L.L.D. degree. Convocation theme is "Liberal Arts—the Master Key." It is designed to focus attention on the important contributions made by a liberal arts college.

John S. Rice, secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and chairman of the board of trustees of Gettysburg College, and Willard S. Paul, college president, will confer the accolade on Seaton.

The Secretary of the Interior, under whose supervision the National Park Service and Gettysburg battlefield are administered, will address a prior session of the convocation at 8:30 p. m. Friday, April 3. Topic of that gathering will be "The College and Its Environment."

Seaton, newspaper and broadcasting executive and former U. S. Senator from Nebraska, has held his present position since his appointment to the cabinet by President Eisenhower in 1956. He is a trustee of the University of Nebraska Foundation and of Hastings College.

Seaton is a past president of the Associated Press Newspapers of Nebraska, a past president and chairman of the board of directors of the Inland Press Association, and an active member of the Nebraska Press Association and the National Editorial Association.

Seaton's publishing and broadcasting interests are located in five midwestern and mountain states. These include newspapers, radio and television stations, and a semi-monthly farm magazine. His home is at Hastings, Nebraska.

PEN-MAR LEAGUE RELEASES SCHEDULE

The Pen-Mar Baseball League has released its 1959 schedule, opening Sunday afternoon, April 26, and calling for 60 games to be played in four rounds.

League members include Emmitsburg, Hanover, Littlestown, Taneytown, Fairfield, and Blue Ridge Summit.

While Cashtown and Union Bridge no longer are affiliated with the circuit, players on the rosters of these teams last year will be permitted to play for any team in the league with the distance rule waived, Alton Waterfield, president, said.

Waterfield added that the "no forfeit" bylaw has been changed and that a team failing to show within 30 minutes of game time will forfeit the game and pay umpire fees.

The former rule, while designed to prevent a team from winning the pennant or gaining a playoff position by default, was too difficult to administer, it was indicated.

William Gilbert will have charge of umpires handling the Pen-Mar games. The league's board of directors is made up of William Baker, Hanover; Marvin (Babe) Breighner, Littlestown; Harry Clingan, Taneytown; Don Weikert, Fairfield, Tom Saylor, Emmitsburg, and Glenn Brown, Blue Ridge Summit. Brown is a new member, the others being retained from last year.

The complete 1959 schedule can be found elsewhere in this week's Chronicle.

Garden Club Meeting Held

Mrs. John O'Donoghue of Emmitsburg was hostess to the Silver Fancy Garden Club at her home on Thursday, March 19.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Frank M. Butler, president. Announcement was made of the Spring Flower Show of District Five of Maryland which will be held in Hagerstown on April 28 and 29, and all members were urged to participate in both the Horticultural and Arrangement Classes.

Announcement was also made of the Annual Bridge Party which will be held in Emmitsburg on May 11 for members and their friends.

The program for the April meeting will be "Miniature Flower Arrangements" in charge of Mrs. A. A. Koswick.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served with Mrs. Claude White and Mrs. Walter Crapster as co-hostesses.

The U. S. Navy Department was established on March 27, 1794.

Egg Hunt Sunday

Hundreds of children are expected to converge on Community Field Sunday afternoon for the annual egg hunt sponsored by the Emmitsburg Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6658.

Commander Harold M. Hoke announced that activities will get under way at 2 p. m. sharp and extends a cordial invitation, on behalf of the post, to all children of the Emmitsburg District to be present at Sunday's event.

All committee members are asked to be present at the field by 1:00 p. m. on Sunday.

An added feature to the affair this year will be an Easter Parade preceding the egg hunt. A number of prizes will be awarded for the best dressed boys and girls from the ages of three to 10. Members of the Auxiliary will be the judges of the parade.

As usual the children participating in the egg hunt will be divided into several age brackets, with the youngest group being limited to the Playground area.

Since its origin about six years ago the egg hunt has grown in size and number attending so that at the present time the anticipated number to attend will be about 500, good weather prevailing.

Bernard Ott Jr., committee chairman, reports the post this year has added additional prizes to be awarded and there will be a quantity of candy on hand for the younger group as a consolation prize.

Tax Assessor's Bill Progresses In Legislature

A bill which would wipe from the statute books the present Frederick county law relating to the number and method of selection of assessors in this county reached the enactment stage in the General Assembly last week and went to the Governor for his signature.

The measure, introduced by Senator Samuel W. Barrick and passed by the Senate, moved through third reading in the House with the lone Republican member of the delegation, Charles McC. Mathias being recorded in the negative.

The bill would remove the local statutory requirement that no more than two assessors could be appointed in Frederick County and that they must be representatives of the two major political parties. The county would come under the State law and additional assessors could be named on recommendation of the State Tax Commission. There have been reports that the commission favors appointment of a third assessor but it is not certain if State funds are available to defray the cost.

A bill introduced by Senator Barrick providing that the same court which issues a contempt citation may hear testimony on the citation passed the Senate and went to the House.

Senator Barrick explained that the bill refers to only three categories—non-support, alimony and divorce citations and has nothing to do with criminal contempt. It would permit the same judge who issues a decree to enforce the order.

The House passed a bill by the Carroll County delegation to authorize the Carroll County Commissioners to provide secretarial services to their State delegation.

Another bill enacted and sent to the Governor would exempt farm vehicles and equipment from one per cent of the retail sales tax.

A measure that would authorize the State Roads Commission to fix speed limits near schools at the request of local governments received final Senate approval and moved to the House. Upon request of any sub-division, the commission could set speed limits within one-half mile of schools.

Baseball Practice Session Sunday

The initial baseball practice of the season will be held Sunday afternoon at Community Field immediately following the Easter Egg hunt, it was announced this week by officials of the Emmitsburg Baseball Association. Anyone interested in playing for the local Pen-Mar League entry is asked to be present at this session. Practice is scheduled for each Saturday and Sunday afternoon thereafter until the season begins on April 26.

On March 25, 1861, a Confederate Marine Corps was organized in Richmond, Va.

Warn Citizens Concerning Brush Burning

The rash of grass fires which occurred here the past week have kept members of the Vigilant Hose Co. breathless at times. To date Fire Chief John S. Hollinger reports 14 in a single week. Unless the trend subsides the Fire Company will have the busiest year in its history, that is since it began keeping records nine years ago.

The present rush commenced last Thursday and on Friday, within a matter of a few hours, five calls were answered, some within minutes of each other.

The ideal weather has been instrumental in keeping the rash spreading as citizens continue to clear their properties and burn the debris and burn out fence rows with the result that the wind causes the blaze to get out of control. This practice is illegal and could result in a fine being levied and should damage result to a neighbor's property, the offender could be held liable for damages.

Secretary J. E. Houck of the Vigilant Hose Co. has come up with some statistics covering the past eight years. The record so far this year shows 27 calls answered (in three months). Statistics show that in 1950 the 26th fire call wasn't answered until April 21, showing this year's record well ahead of that one; in 1951 only 17 fires were recorded during the entire year; 1952 the 26th call was responded to on September 10; 1953, August 2; 1954, July 13; 1955, July 17; 1956, only 23 fires all year; 1957, 33; 1958, 36; to date, 1959, 27.

Most difficult fight was the 20-acre conflagration at the farm along the Gettysburg Rd. owned by Joseph Gotti and occupied by Clifford Eyer. At that blaze the Emmitsburg firemen were aided by the Greenmount Fire Co.

The series of alarms began at 11:50 Friday morning when two acres of brush burned over the Ed. Stanton property on N. Seton Ave.

The firemen had not more than gotten the fire at the Stanton property under control than they were called at 12:20 o'clock Friday afternoon to the 20-acre fire on the Gotti property.

While they were ending the fire fight at the Gotti property they were called at 1:35 o'clock to the John Long farm on the Motter's Station Rd. where two acres burned over.

At 2:55 Friday afternoon they were called to the James McKenna property on the Annandale Rd. near Mt. St. Mary's College where five acres of brush burned and at 3:55 o'clock they were called to the Francis Kreitz property south of Emmitsburg on the Keysville Rd. where two acres burned over.

A two-room house owned by Martin Stouter, Emmitsburg R1, was destroyed by fire Monday morning at 12:15 o'clock.

Tenanted for the last week by James and John Wills, the house located 1½ miles west of Emmitsburg on the Crystal Fountain Rd., was partially consumed before the fire was discovered. The firemen could do nothing but prevent spread of the blaze to the wooded hillside. The clothing and other possessions of the Messrs. Wills were destroyed with the building, firemen said. They also said they could not immediately ascribe a cause for the fire, nor was an estimate of loss available.

The small structure was located next door to the six-room, frame, two-story home of Mrs. Geraldine Trent Cool, which was destroyed by fire December 20, making the 11 members of her family homeless.

Monday afternoon at 2:10 o'clock the local firemen were called to a two-acre brush fire on the property of Miss Louise Warthen, at St. Anthony's.

Wednesday night the Fire Co. was called at about 11 p. m. to quell an automobile fire near Tom's Creek Church.

While no existing law prohibits the burning of trash, authorities may have to ask for such legislation in the near future if this practice doesn't cease. At present burning can only take place, legally, after 4 p. m. and then only when a 10-ft. area has been cleared about the burning site, adequate personnel on hand to contain the blaze and proper equipment such as rakes, brooms, water, etc., on hand. Positively no burning near a wooded area is permitted, authorities say.

Most of us spend one-third of our lives in bed and asleep.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic Church with the Rev. Fr. James Twomey celebrating the requiem Mass. Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery. Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg had charge of arrangements.

Utility Man Promoted

A. J. Bowen was elected Vice President and Director of District Operations for The Potomac Edison Company at a special meeting of the electric company's Board of Directors, held in Frederick last week.

Mr. Bowen has been located in Hagerstown where he has served PE as Director of District Operations since April of 1958. As an officer of the company, he will continue to be responsible for personnel, customer services, policies, public relations, and other matters of a specifically local nature in all of the eleven districts which make up the PE System.

He was first employed by the electric utility as a meter reader in Winchester, Va. in 1929. Following a succession of transfers to other departments in that area, he was made local manager at Berryville, Va. in 1933.

Four years later he was transferred to Piedmont, W. Va., as local manager and in '40 he was promoted to the assistant district managership in Martinsburg, W. Va. In 1942 he returned to Winchester as assistant district manager and held that post until he made district manager in 1947.

While a resident of Winchester, Mr. Bowen was active in civic and community affairs. He served as secretary, treasurer, vice-president and president of the Rotary Club. He was a member of the Virginia Manufacturers Association, the State Chamber

County Tax Return Excellent

County taxes were paid during the first two months of this year at such a remarkable rate that the total exceeded the figures for the first six months of 1958.

The near-phenomenal "take" was more than $567,000 in excess of the same two months of last year.

County Treasurer James Falk said he cannot account for the amazing return—not even by the increase in tax rate and larger assessment basis. But he is pleased, nevertheless.

You can be sure that the sound of the tax dollar is sweet music to the ears of the members of the Board of County Commissioners, who must have the money to meet the many county obligations.

Total real and personal property collections for the first two months—and these included payments, on delinquent taxes for 1958 and prior years—amounted to $1,699,511.49. Only county taxes are included—no State taxes.

For the same period of last year, the figure was $1,131,559.21.

Taxes went up about 10 per cent this year, when the rate was boosted from $1.54 to $1.70. But 10 per cent would be around $113,000—only a fifth of the increase.

The taxable basis is estimated to have been boosted around $10,000,000. A million dollars in assessment, a county official said, is worth about $17,000 in tax money. That could mean another $170,000—if it all came in during the first two months. The most that the increases in taxes and assessable basis could bring—under the most favorable conditions—would hardly reach half of the actual increase in collections.

Total collections for the first six months of last year amounted to $1,687,909.41. The tax payments for the entire year were $2,402,925.50.

The county treasurer and his aides have also noticed something else—a considerable amount of the taxes are being paid in cash rather than checks, in fact, more payments are being made in bills of Commerce and the State Industrial Committee. In addition, he was a director and president of the Public Utilities Association of the Virginias, and was a director of the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival.

Mr. Bowen also served in various capacities for local church, hospital, Red Cross and Boy Scout work.

Since he moved to Hagerstown in 1958, Mr. Bowen has become a member of St. Paul's Methodist Church, the Chamber of Commerce and the Hagerstown Rotary Club. Mr. and Mrs. Bowen and his four sons now reside at 223 Potomac Heights in Hagerstown.

of large denomination than Mr. Falk can recall in other years.

It would appear that more and more persons each year are trying to take advantage of the two per cent discount allowed for county tax payments in the first two months.

Mr. Falk doesn't expect March payments to reach the figure for that month last year. He pointed out that because of a February blizzard, the County Commissioners extended the two per cent discount period to the middle of March, 1958, which increased collections. This year only the regular one per cent discount is allowed for payments throughout March.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Buying Stocks On Margin

BABSON PARK, Mass., Mar. 26, 1959—How high the Dow-Jones Industrial Average will go, no one knows. When anyone disputes me on this, I write back and ask him for his personal investment record for 1929, 1937, and 1942.

How much money has he personally made and kept? With one exception, I have never had a reply!

Chances Vs. Certainty

It is okay for any investment advisor to guess as to the 'odds' that are ahead; but to dogmatically say that the stock average will go through 650 or 700 during 1959 is a very foolish statement. Such a statement is even dangerous to give to an inexperienced investor. It shows lack of experience on the part of the advisor if he makes such a definite forecast. If he does so for pay, or for some ulterior motive, it is almost obtaining money under false pretenses.

An investment advisor can give the relative "value" of 400 stocks and recommend which one is probably the best "buy," based upon all visible and known barometers. But no "value" or other line of study can foresee the unforeseeable. Over fifty years of such study show that some unexpected event always has turned a bull market into a bear market, or vice versa. Also, remember that for every buyer there must be a seller of each stock traded each day. When the stock market is going up there are more buyers impatient to buy than there are sellers impatient to sell; but generally speaking, the "bulls" and "bears" are about equal in numbers—certainly so, on a day when the averages show no change.

What Caution Signifies
An investment advisor is justified in recommending at times that his subscribers use caution. This advice can be interpreted in many ways; but it surely means that the investor should get out of debt when his advisors urges "caution." This especially means that one should not carry stocks on margin if the majority of such advisors are urging "caution." Stocks held should be paid for, and should be kept in one's safe-deposit box.

One other fact to remember: Don't judge any Investment Advisory Service by its advertising only. It advertises in order to get "leads" for subscribers. It is hard to get such leads without some optimistic hope in the advertisement.

Getting Something For Nothing
The farmer is justified in hanging a carrot over his mule's head, — some feet from the mule's nose. But ultimately the farmer must give the mule the carrot. Therefore, although most investment advisors hold out hope in their ads, they will give you their honest opinion—which may be either bullish or bearish—when you subscribe to their Service. Hence, it might be wise when answering such an advertisement to tell the advertiser that you do not have money enough to subscribe to his service, but that you would appreciate a short letter from him telling you whether it is bullish or bearish or "on balance." Ask him to send you a bill for such an opinion, which should be definite.

The first lesson which every investor should learn is that he cannot "get something for nothing" from an investment advisor, or a broker, or anyone else. You ask a banker for an opinion on the stock market and, if you are a good depositor, he will invite you to sit at his desk and will try to give you some honest advice. If, however, you expect to get good free advice from him at a cocktail party, you will find you are mistaken.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Would You Believe It . . . ?
A glowing smile beams out from your television screen and a happy, happy voice cries "Would you believe it? I have a cold!" The answer we throw back at the screen this month is a loud "Yes."

Medicine has made spectacular advances in the past year, but the common cold is just as prevalent this March as last. The lady on TV may be able to keep up her spirits with liberal doses of her sponsor's product, but that's just about all she can do. Cold remedies, no matter how attractively advertised, give little more than temporary relief for the symptoms of a cold. But let's face it. A cold is at the very least an uncomfortable nuisance. If you've discovered some remedy or routine or even a witch's charm that helps you keep your spirits up, more power to you. Stick to it, as long as your doctor says it's harmless. And keep this thought in mind—if you are otherwise in good health, this cold, too, shall pass away.

On the other hand, you can't shrug off a cold and try to carry on as if it didn't exist. That can lead to real trouble. With the first symptoms of a cold—whether it's the sniffles, sneezes, cough, sore throat, aching muscles, running eyes and nose, go to bed if you possibly can. Drink plenty of liquid. Try to avoid spreading your germs around. Skip school or work or the PTA meeting. Your absence will be more welcome than your presence until you are well on the road to recovery.

If your cold persists or if you have a high fever, see your doctor. And keep hoping. The research scientists haven't given up. Maybe by next March, there will be a breakthrough.

This column is a Christmas Seal service of your tuberculosis association.

Small Businesses Granted Loans

Clarence P. Moore, Richmond Regional Director of SBA, has announced approval of the first two loans to local development companies under lending authority given in the Small Business Investment Act.

The development companies are the Wagener Holding Company of Wagener, S. C., and the Barstow Industrial Development Co. of Cartersville, Ga. Mr. Moore said the loan to the Wagener organization was for $96,000 and that to the Barstow Company was $65,000. Both loans are for 10-year periods at a 5½ per cent interest rate.

"These two loans, granted under Section 502 of the Small Business Investment Act, will be used by the development companies to assist small businesses," Mr. Moore said. "The loans will provide for construction of facilities for these small businesses which they might not otherwise have obtained."

The Wagener Company loan was made in participation with a local bank and will be used to pay construction costs in connection with improvements to a warehouse leased to a manufacturer of shirts, robes and related lines of cotton, wool and synthetic apparel.

The loan to the Barstow Company will be used for construction of buildings for a manufacturer of wool carpet yarns which has contracted its output to two rug mills. The yarn manufacturer has signed a 10-year lease on the property with option to purchase.

Under Section 502 of the Small Business Investment Act, the Small Business Administration is authorized to make loans of up to $250,000 to local development companies which plan to use the funds to assist specific small business concerns. The loans may be used by the development companies for plant construction, conversion or expansion, including the acquisition of land.

Farmers Must Comply Strictly With Soil Bank Rules

Is your farm under a Conservation Reserve contract in the Soil Bank this year? If so, be sure to comply with any acreage allotments on the farm and also to observe your permitted acreage of Soil Bank base crops.

That's the reminder going out this week from the Md. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office to all participants in the 1959 Soil Bank Program.

Generally speaking, the permitted acreage on a Soil Bank farm is the amount of land on which grains, oilseeds, and row crops may be produced. It consists of the historical acreage of such crops less the amount of land placed in the Conservation Reserve. A farmer who exceeds this permitted acreage or any acreage allotment on the farm may lose his annual rental payment and also be subject to a civil penalty.

Julius P. Parran, Chairman of the Maryland ASC State Committee, points out that when all eligible cropland on a farm is in the Soil Bank, the permitted acreage is zero. The home garden area on such a farm may be used to produce crops for home use.

for setting out forest trees or for non-agricultural purposes; but production of a Soil Bank base crop on such acreage is a contract violation.

Facts About Your Social Security

Dependent aged parents of a deceased son or daughter may now receive social security payments even though the deceased was survived by a widow, widower, or child. Mr. W. S. King, district manager of the Hagerstown social security office indicated that these additional benefits are possible as the result of recent social security amendments.

Dependent mothers and dependent fathers in this group should immediately get in touch with their social security office, Mr. King said today.

Before a dependent mother at age 62 or dependent father at age 65 can receive benefits they must file proof of dependency with their social security office. Generally this proof must be filed within two years after August 1958, when the law was amended, or within two years after the death of the son or daughter whichever is later.

Mr. King said that he or his office staff will be glad to discuss this or any provision of the law at the social security office located at 59 N. Cannon Avenue between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m., Monday through Friday. You may also telephone REgent 9-3232.

On March 14, 1929, aircraft from the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla., completed 113 mercy flights in a 24-hour period, flying food, clothing and medical supplies to towns in Southern Alabama and Western Florida suffering badly from floods.

DO YOU HAVE A TESTIMONY?
Do you have a testimony about God?
If you have ever trusted God for anything and received it, then you have a testimony. And if you have a testimony, it is important to give it to others, for a personal testimony is of great encouragement to others.
Mrs. Walter Pope of Pueblo, Colorado, has a testimony. Her son, Danny, was four years old before he attempted to speak. Often the child would come in from play looking very sad because other children made fun of his inability to talk.
Mrs. Pope took her son to a psychiatrist and a speech therapist, but to no avail. Then she took him to one of our Crusades in Wichita, Kansas. That was in 1953. Each evening Danny sat through the service, listening quietly; then one morning, even before his turn came to be prayed for, Danny spoke to his mother while she was preparing breakfast.
"Mother," he said distinctly, "when is breakfast going to be ready?"
What a testimony Mrs. Pope has had ever since the healing of her little son by the miraculous power of God! Today, six years later, Danny is in the best of health. He joins his parents in giving God the glory.
Oliver W. Carter of Portland, Oregon, has a testimony.
In 1953 he suffered from acute asthma. He continued to get worse. In 1957 a lung specialist diagnosed his case as tuberculosis and silicosis. In spite of an operation he continued to get worse.
Then he began to attend our Crusade in Salem, Oregon. With the help of his wife he stood in the prayer line and believed while he received the laying on of hands and prayer for his healing.
From that day on he improved. He regained his appetite and began to regain weight. Tests for tuberculosis were negative.
His doctor was surprised. "I have never seen a case like yours," he said. After several tests and X-rays, all of which proved he had recovered, Mr. Carter was released.
Today, because he believed, he has a testimony to the healing power of God.
Perhaps you, too, have wished you had a testimony which would help others along the way to a life faith in a living God. Every day we receive hundreds of letters from people all over the world testifying to God's willingness to answer prayer, testifying to God's goodness in many ways. Each of them rejoices that he has a testimony.
People who receive blessings from God are as pleased to have a testimony as they are pleased to have the blessings. It is wonderful to be blessed by the Lord, and it is even more wonderful to have a testimony to his goodness.
Do you have a testimony?

Town Loses Revenue By Improper Filing Of State Tax Return

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein stated this week that many taxpayers in filing their Maryland income tax returns for 1958 are not properly listing their residence in the spaces provided on the Maryland form 502. He stated that while these taxpayers show their post office addresses at the top of the return, they are not filling in the spaces provided below that show the county and incorporated city or town in which they reside. It is from the information shown in the latter spaces that distribution of the income tax is made. The postoffice address does not always denote the county or incorporated city or town wherein the taxpayer resides and for that reason, the proper information should be entered in the spaces provided on the form. Mr. Goldstein called attention to the following, which appears on the Maryland form:

A. A part of the tax paid by you in this return is distributed to the County, Incorporated City, Town or Village, wherein you reside. It is of utmost importance that you fill in correctly the spaces below so that this distribution can be properly made. (See specific instructions "Distribution of Tax")

Resident of (County), Residing within the Corporate limits of (Incorporated City, Town or Village). Comptroller Goldstein explained that all Maryland income tax returns are segregated according to the residence of the taxpayer as shown in the spaces set forth in the return, and that it is from this segregation that the counties and municipalities of Maryland receive their share of the income tax paid by their residents.

To illustrate the proper use of the residence space, the Comptroller offers the following examples: Assume that the taxpayer lives within the corporate limits of the City of Annapolis. In the first space (Resident of) the taxpayer should enter "Anne Arundel" as the county of residence, and in the second space (residing within the corporate limits of) "Annapolis" should be entered.

If this same taxpayer resided in an unincorporated or rural area of Anne Arundel County, he would simply enter "Anne Arundel" in the first space and leave the second space blank.

Assume that a taxpayer lives within the corporate limits of the City of Baltimore, such a taxpayer should leave the "County" space blank and enter "Baltimore City" in the second space.

Mr. Goldstein pointed out that Baltimore County and Howard County have no incorporated cities, towns or villages, and that residents of these two counties should complete only the "County" space and leave the second space blank.

The Comptroller pointed out that persons living on outlying streets of cities and towns, or on the borders of counties, should ascertain their proper subdivision if they are in doubt. He stated that it was of utmost importance that this feature of the return be properly handled, as the distribution affected the subdivision's share of the income tax and meant a great deal to the tax revenue at the local level, and may help to prevent tax increases.

Herman Mills Heads Milk Freedom Group

Herman L. Mills, Hagerstown, president of Marylanders for Milk Freedom, put his more than 50,000 member organization on record as opposed to the new "buttered up" milk bill introduced in the state senate last week by Senator John C. North (D. Talbot).

Mills called the senate bill a "carbon copy" of the "dead" house bill, with some changes here and there to try to make it more acceptable to consumers and farmers, who have so overwhelmingly opposed milk price fixing and socialistic controls.

"The advisory committees proposed in the senate bill are a sham", Mills said. "They would be appointed by and bossed by the proposed milk commission. They would serve for one-year terms and could be kicked out whenever they differed with the Commission. If they did try to function, the result could be the same chaotic conditions Boston has been experiencing for four months, where two state bodies are trying to regulate milk."

"This Senate Bill 565 guarantees a profit to the state's 40 or so dairies at the expense of Maryland families the same as House Bill 414 tried to do. It does this in the guise of basing the prices on the operations of "efficient" dairies, but the proposed Commission would have sole power to define "efficient." The New York lawyers that drafted this bill are plenty smart."

"There is no guarantee in Senate Bill 565 that savings inherent in larger container processing, re-usable containers and store pick-up by the consumer will continue to be reflected in low prices to Maryland families. Under this proposed law the Milk Commission could reduce the savings of about 25c per gallon the people who want to pick up their milk now enjoy to 2c or to nothing. Under the power to 'classify' milk in any reasonable manner' the Commission could even follow the high-handed course taken by the Alabama controllers and set a higher price on store pick-up milk."

"Under the power to set the prices families pay for milk, the proposed Commission could decide on the basis of 'consumer purchasing power' the people have more money to spend and raise milk prices for that silly reason, further fattening the profits of the 40 dairies at the expense of over 3-million consumers."

"This senate bill threatens to inject divided authority and responsibility into administration of sanitary controls by state and local health departments by placing some responsibilities for enforcement in the hands of the proposed Milk Commission. It could weaken the controls medicinal doctors and technicians have set up to regulate the high quality of Maryland milk, because milk commissioners would not be technically qualified to handle such work."

case will be distributed by American Cancer Society volunteers throughout the Crusade month.

Cancer Drive Gets Under Way First Of Month

"Guard Your Family" is the new rallying cry of the American Cancer Society Crusade which opens April 1, plans for which were announced this week by H. J. Lipscomb, State Campaign Chairman.

The family theme has been added to the phrase, "Fight cancer with a checkup and a check," which was used successfully last year in raising $625,977.60 in a joint fund-raising and educational drive.

Mr. Lipscomb said the new theme was based on the fact that two out of every three families in this community as well as every other town in the country will eventually experience cancer's heavy burden.

The slogan also effectively expresses the Society's determined effort to save more lives from cancer. Mr. Lipscomb said: As in previous years, the Society's April 1 "Cancer Crusade" seeks to raise funds to continue its three-pronged program of research, education and service to cancer patients. "While research offers the best hope for victory over cancer, the nation's No. 2 disease killer, he said, "the Crusade is not limited to raising funds. It is a top priority educational effort, on a national scale, to stimulate regular health check-ups among all adults for early detection of cancer. Cancer in its early stages can be cured." Free literature about the distribution of the income tax and meant a great deal to the tax revenue at the local level, and may help to prevent tax increases.

Three-Day School Evaluation Is Made

The Middletown High School recently underwent a three-day period of visitation by an evaluating committee representing the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. On February 24, 25, and 26, this visiting committee of experienced and well-prepared professional workers reviewed and examined the entire school and school program. The evaluation is designed to cover all phases of school organization and operation, including the school plant and facilities, the school's aims and objectives, the program of studies and activities, guidance services, library services, the school administration and each subject area.

Prior to the arrival of the visiting committee, the faculty went through an extensive period of self-evaluation in each of the areas mentioned above, using the same evaluation criteria that the oral report to the entire staff by visiting committee used. A major purpose of the evaluation by the evaluating committee is to check the evaluations made by the school staff relative to school philosophy and community needs.

The visitation closed with an oral report to the entire school staff by the chairman. This report contained a brief summary of the commendations and recommendations of the committee, giving emphasis to significant aspects of the evaluation.

Following the evaluation, the visiting chairman will submit a complete written report including a graphic summary of the evaluation.

The purpose of the evaluation is to determine how well the school being evaluated is meeting the standards of a good secondary school. The criteria used have been developed by the Cooperative Study of Secondary School Standards of the Middle States Association.

The work of the evaluating committee was preceded by a dinner held Monday evening, Feb. 23, at 6:30 o'clock in the Middletown High School cafeteria. The meal was prepared by the local cafeteria staff and served by the girls of the Home Economics Department.

Those attending the orientation dinner, in addition to the members of the local high school faculty and the fourteen persons comprising the evaluating committee, were the following:

Ross V. Smith, president of the Frederick County Board of Education; Mrs. William D. Powell, vice president, and Fred S. Keffauver, board member; Dr. James A. Robinson, Supervisor of Library Service; Richard Summers, Supervisor of Art; Herman A. Hauver, Coordinator of Pupil Services; Allen R. Gaddis, III, Administrative Assistant; and Tolbert F. for the 1958 crop of corn, the national average support rate is $1.36 for farmers who complied with their corn allotments and $1.06 for commercial area producers who did not comply with allotments.

Prices for the 1959 crop of soybeans will be supported at a national average of $1.85 per bushel, according to Julius P. Parran, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, County support rates, with premiums and discounts for classes and differences in quality, will be made available later.

To be eligible for support, soybeans must grade No. 4 or better and must contain not more than 14 percent moisture. Purchase agreements, as well as loans on farm-stored soybeans, will be available from harvest through January 31, 1960.

In determining the support price for soybeans, several factors were considered, including the supply of the commodity in relation to the demand, the ability of the Commodity Credit Corporation to dispose of stocks acquired under price support, and the support levels for other commodities. Overall production of oil-seeds in 1958 was large, with soybean production totaling a record 574.4 million bushels.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

There is a period of about two or three weeks during early spring when striped bass fishing is exceptionally good in the rivers that flow into the sea along the northeastern coast, reports Robert D. Hall, Salt-Water Fishing Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. Some of the strippers that are found in these rivers are bass that have entered the brackish waters during the fall to spend the winter, and there are others that seek the quiet waters to spawn in late April and May. These two months are considered the most favorable period to fish, according to experienced marsh and bay fishermen, is during an incoming tide. The washing-away action of the water, splashing against the sod banks, exposes hundreds of bi-valves. This abundance of food creates an attractive feeding ground for fish and it is quite common to find bass feeding right up to the edge of the banks.

The bass that have stayed in the rivers all winter are usually hungry by the time the warm spring sun has taken the chill off the water and they are really looking for food before they move out in the coastal waters for their migration northward. These fish are usually of medium size, ranging in weight from five to eight pounds.

However, there are exceptions, and some very large fish of 30 or 40 pounds are taken. Whether these large bass come in from deeper water to feed, or are part of the group of fish that have wintered in the deep holes of the rivers, it's hard to say. Many native fishermen, who have spent years fishing the bays and marshes, are of the opinion that there is a movement of fish into the rivers each spring. These large fish are usually females with ripe roe and it is reasonable to assume since these fish are anadromous, the females seek the brackish waters in which to spawn.

Strippers are one of the first fish the salt-water angler can go after in the spring and the earliest run of fish usually occurs when the water warms up to about 50 degrees.

Corn Crop Support Price Announced

The price of the 1959 corn crop will be supported at a minimum national average rate of $1.12 per bushel, Chairman Julius P. Parran of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has announced.

Under the new corn program which takes effect in 1959, corn produced anywhere in the United States that meets quality and storage requirements will be eligible for support at the same national average level, with adjustments for grade, quality, location, and other factors. There will be no acreage allotments and no designated commercial area for corn. This program was provided by law and approved by more than 70 per cent of the farmers voting in a referendum last November.

In accordance with new law, the 1959 price support figure represents 90 per cent of a preliminary determination of the average price per bushel received by farmers for corn during the past three years. It is a minimum support price announced in advance of planting time that may not be lowered but could be increased on the basis of final calculations at the beginning of the next marketing year. If the same state differential is applied this year as was used last year, the Maryland minimum price will be $1.27 per bushel.

Looking Ahead

Declaration For Freedom

Recently in Boston's big symphony hall, not far from the scene of many heroic events in American history, a group of farm leaders erected another monument worthy of the attention of citizens throughout the nation. The delegates attending constituted the leadership of Farm Bureau organizations in 49 states and Hawaii. Without a dissenting vote, they adopted a declaration of American citizenship for the nearly 8 million citizens now counted within the nationwide Farm Bureau family. It is a challenge to 170 million Americans! It declares:

"Nations may live or die, but nations which live by the great principles of Christianity can be expected to endure. The true measure of a nation is found not in its census, the size of its cities, the yield of its crops, nor the strength of its armies, but in the kind of people it has as citizens.

"Ours is the privilege of citizenship in the United States of America. It is a symbol of hope in the eyes of millions of people throughout the world who cannot claim it as their own. Yet we—in the relative ease, luxury, and abundance which is America—tend to take for granted that this privilege is our forevermore.

"While many citizens are apathetic and unconcerned, there are those throughout our country and the world who are diligently striving to deprive us of this most prized possession or to render it worthless. We need to appreciate more fully our heritage of freedom, count our blessings, and dedicate ourselves to active participation in preserving the principles upon which our republic was founded.

"The time is upon us when we must assume the responsibilities of citizens and earn anew the right of our heritage. We urge every citizen to pursue with vigor the basic responsibilities of citizenship—active participation in the party of his choice with emphasis on work within his precinct; continuous study of the issues, and voting in every election whether local, county, state, or national. Citizens should concern themselves with the selection of candidates and in evaluating them with special reference to their philosophy, competence, and character.

Citizenship Actions Needed
"We recommend the continuation of active citizenship programs for all—including programs of American civic education and the accurate teaching of history, market economics, and true citizenship in our schools, institutions, and local organizations, to the end that generations to follow may enjoy the priceless freedoms and opportunities of the American system.

"Young people have a special stake in the outcome of the current attempt by some people to change our economic system and our form of self-government. They need to learn the great truths underlying our American system and participate actively in programs designed to strengthen it. It is, therefore, important that teachers, clergymen, and all who help share the character of young people be adequately and properly trained. Farm Bureau has a special opportunity to join with others who hold beliefs similar to ours in formulating and carrying out programs designed to achieve these goals. Farm Bureau should assume leadership in obtaining this helpful cooperation."

Toward Free Market
Farm Bureau, which has more members than all other farm organizations combined, doesn't hesitate to make known its beliefs. In spite of what some Congressmen may declare, the farmers of this great organization are not seeking more governmental intervention and "security guarantees" but less. The voting delegates at Boston urged the use of every means to:

1. Eliminate excessive accumulation of surplus production.
 2. Reduce the use of public funds to increase farm production capacity.
 3. Restore the farmer's freedom to grow crops he chooses.
 4. Allow prices to respond to supply and demand.
 5. Reduce cost of farm programs to taxpayers.
- Farm Bureau people generally believe that government paternalism for any group hinders genuine progress for all and endangers everybody's freedom. They subscribe to the axiom that only a self-reliant people can be free, and recognize that there is no such thing as "something for nothing." Our whole population needs a good strong dose of this philosophy.

the full amount before social security insurance, union dues, income tax, savings bonds or any other amounts are taken out.

Q. I received a dividend on my life insurance policy which was used to reduce the premium I had to pay on the policy. Is this taxable?

A. The so-called dividend on un-matured policies are not taxable. They are merely reductions of the premiums which are not deductible.

Q. Can I claim an exemption for my mother who resides in Australia? I fully support her.

A. Exemptions can be claimed only for citizens or residents of the United States, or a resident of Canada, Mexico, the Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone. Therefore you cannot claim your mother as an exemption.

Q. I owe a balance of $50 tax on the return I prepaid. May I pay this tax in installments?

A. The balance of tax due must be paid in full at the time the return is filed (on or before April 15, 1959).

Q. I cashed some U. S. Savings Bonds in 1958 receiving $25 for each bond which had cost me $18.75. Is this amount that I received taxable?

A. Your cost of $18.75 per bond is not taxable. Any amount received in excess of what the bond cost is taxable as interest income.

In fiscal 1958 (July 1, 1957 to June 30, 1958) the United States supplied 18 per cent of the world's export trade volume in commodities like those produced in the United States. The output of 50 million acres (1 acre of 6 1/2 of cropland) moved abroad.

Exports of farm products in fiscal year 1958 were third highest in record, FAS said. The total of $4 billion compared with the $4.7 billion record in 1957 and $4.1 billion in 1952. Exports in 1958 were $400 million above the 1954-57 average.

In the fiscal year 1958, exports were equal to over half the cotton crop; two-fifths of the wheat and rice; one-third of the soybean, tobacco and tallow output; and one-sixth of the lard output and feed grain sales by farmers.

Helpful Hints With Your Income Tax

Q. Has there been any change this year concerning dependents whom I may claim?

A. Exemptions are still allowable for the types of relatives who qualified as dependents in past years. That would include mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, uncles, aunts, nephews and nieces related by blood; grandfathers, grandmothers, grandsons, granddaughters, step-brothers, step-sisters, step-mothers, step-fathers, mother-in-law, father-in-law, sister-in-law, brother-in-law, son-in-law, and daughter-in-law. Of course children qualify also.

In addition, exemption is allowable for an unrelated individual if: the individual had less than $600 gross income, received more than one-half of his or her support from you, did not file a joint return with his or her spouse, and resided in your home and was a member of your household. All of these elements must be present before a dependency deduction can be claimed for an unrelated individual. The exemption would not be allowed if the unrelated individual was not a member of your household for the full year. The law also allows a dependency deduction for a cousin, provided the cousin is a member of your household. The tests outlined before must be met, however, to determine whether the exemption is allowable. If a cousin was a member of your household and is subsequently confined to an institution because of mental or physical disability, the dependency deduction still could be claimed, if you met the support tests.

Q. I earned $50 interest on my savings account in 1958 but have not as yet had this amount credited in my bank book. Is this taxable on my 1958 return?

A. Since the interest was earned and available to you in 1958, it is taxable in that year even though you have not actually gone to the bank to collect it.

Q. Is the social security tax taken out of my salary deductible?

A. No. Salaries are taxable in

The New Age of American Farming

Part 2—The Consequences

With the amazing growth of farm productivity, resulting from progressive farming methods, have come some very serious problems.

Surpluses beyond our ability to dispose of them! Farm income fluctuating sharply! To overcome these problems, the U.S. government has spent $20 billion on farm programs. But the problems are still with us. This chart is based on the Twentieth Century Fund study,

Tobacco Hi Fi Highlights

Cigarette output and consumption rose to new highs in 1958. An astonishing 462 billion cigarettes were produced in U.S. factories, according to U.S. Department of Agriculture figures just released. Of this number, almost 8½ billion of America's favorite brands were shipped to all parts of the world.

As a good member of the community, the tobacco industry pays its taxes, too. Uncle Sam's coffers were enriched to the tune of $2,470,000,000 dollars—from taxes paid by the tobacco industry. A lot of money for rockets, missiles and national defense.

U.S. TREASURY

Most startling tobacco news of 1958 was the meteoric rise recorded by a recessed filter, high filtration Parliament cigarettes. A gain of 235% in sales was marked—the highest in the industry.
