Add the staff of life (bread) to your list of increasing cost of living items. The baking industry has set the ball rolling and it looks as though in the near future your favorite bread will advance a cent a loaf more, or else the number of ounces will be reduced again. Don't feel too badly about the matter though because we here enjoy a price differential of 5c a loaf cheaper than Baltimore or Washington.

Don't worry about the town being bypassed for a while yet folks. It could take another five years according to the latest indications. Under the new setup being studied by the present short-term State Legislature, the bypass is included in the next five-year plan by the State Roads Commission. This may be well and good and then again might hurt some and also wreck some home developments. Take for instance our own local Emmitt Gardens. Five years ago Emmittburg was slated for the bypass and orders were given to the effect that no more homes could be built in certain sections of the Gardens due to the State needing the ground for the new road. Remember that was five long years ago and not a single house has been built in the east section of the Gardens, due to the Roads Commission ruling. Now another five years, making a decade, is in the offing. All this time the development corporation has been held up with this idle ground, some of the choicest in the area, being rendered useless and non-revenueous. This is hardly fair. Either the State should pay for its right-of-way immediately or waive its right to the ground. It's an imposition to tie up anyone's ground for 10 years without owning it or paying for it.

Mr. Groundhog was never more correct in his life and last Saturday's snow attested to the little animal's prediction that winter wasn't over by a long shot. Ask those individuals who were snowed in last Sunday. The snow was accompanied by gusts of winds up to 40 miles per hour. Drifts naturally conformed quite a number to their homes the entire day. Shoveling, almost a lost art these days, came back into its own as residents struggled desperately to extricate themselves from the drifts. The volume of precipitation itself was not too heavy, from four to six inches, but the wind played havoc with the white precipitation. Several of the back county roads were passable on a one-way basis for two days and naturally the kiddies enjoyed Monday off, even though they were mostly confined to their homes. Fortunately though there was no interruption in the necessities, (utilities) water, heat, light and telephone.

Emmitsburg's peddlers' ordinance might have some teeth in it after all. It was demonstrated in Frederick this week when three mag salesmen were fined $25 each for canvassing the town selling magazines, without a permit. If the ordinance is legal in Frederick then there's no reason why other towns can't enforce such an ordinance . . . and collect.

To the folks who like to imbibe one occasionally it is apparent that it will cost you additional money for your favorite brand. Seems as though the State Employees Assn. in an effort to obtain a 10% pay increase, has introduced a bill in the State Legislature calling for an increased tax on beer and wine. Why whisky was not included in the demand is conjectural but should the bill be passed and ratified it will cost you more to enjoy your favorite relaxing beverage. In all fairness to all concerned, alcoholic beverages are just about the most heavily taxed product in the state, or for that matter, in the nation.

Suffers Contusions

Thomas Van Brakle, 20, Emmitsburg, was treated Sunday for contusions of the forehead, suffered in an auto accident near the Mason-Dixon Inn, north of here on Rt. 15.

County Churches Start Missions Sunday

Twenty-one Lutheran Churches have joined together to sponsor the Frederick Area Lutheran Evangelism Mission to be held Sunday, Feb. 21, through Thursday, Feb. 25. Visiting ministers will serve as missionaries and will fill the pulpits in the participating churches, beginning with the morning worship service on Sunday morning. On Sunday afternoon the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Frederick will serve as host to a Leadership Rally sponsored by the participating congregations. The rally will begin at 2:30 o'clock, with the Rev. Francis Reinberger, D.D., scheduled to deliver the address. The mission will continue in the various churches with evening services Sunday through Thursday.

Rev. E. Koontz Helwig, County Chairman of the Mission, will give a radio talk over station WFMD, Frederick, tomorrow, Saturday morning, Feb. 20, from 10:45 to 11:00 o'clock, in which he will give details concerning the mission and explain its purpose.

The Rev. O. D. Coble, S.T.D., pastor of the Bendersville Parish in Pennsylvania for the past 35 years, will be the guest missionary at Elias Evangelical Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg. Pastor Coble graduated from Gettysburg College with an A.M. degree and received his B.D. and S.T.M. from Gettysburg Seminary. In 1934 he received his S.T.D. degree from Temple University.

Rev. Coble served as a chaplain in the U. S. Army in both World Wars I and II. In World War II he served in the European theater of operations, participating in the "Battle of the Bulge," and receiving three battle stars. In 1958 he retired as a Lieutenant Colonel, U. S. Army Reserve.

The minister is married and has two sons and a daughter. Hunting, fishing and camping serve as his recreation and hobby.

The mission begins with the Sunday morning service at 10:30 a. m. and continues through next Thursday with services each evening beginning at 7:30 p. m.

Included in the program for the mission will be special music by the choir, accompanied by organ and instruments and directed by Mrs. Reginald Zepp. There also will be a Gospel hymn singing. Following the mission sermon and instruction there will be a question and answer period conducted by Missioner Coble. The public is cordially invited to attend all of these services.

Everett Chrimer Wins Knight Of Year Award

Approximately 150 members, guests and friends of Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, were present last Thursday evening at the VFW Annex for the Second Knight of the Year banquet. Toastmaster Lumen F. Norris introduced the guest speaker, Congressman John R. Foley, who showed films of his trip abroad. The Rev. James Twomey presented John E. Chrimer with the Knight of the Year Plaque. Grand Knight Curtis D. Topper presented certificates to all past grand knights. The oldest member and past grand knight present was Thomas J. Norris. Congressman Foley congratulated the council for its recent boost in membership. On January 1, 1958, there were 47 members. Today the council has a membership of 135. Following the banquet, which was catered by the Shetter House, Gettysburg, dancing was held from 9 to 12.

Drunken Driver Pays Fines

Pleading guilty to charges of drunken driving and reckless driving, Mrs. Audrey E. Ridenour, 28, formerly of Emmitsburg, was fined a total of $201.50 at a hearing last Saturday before Magistrate Richard J. McCullough, Emmitsburg.

The charges were entered against Mrs. Ridenour by Emmitsburg Police Chief W. E. Law following an accident in Emmitsburg last Friday night.

NEW JAYCEE GROUP CALLS MEETING

The recently organized Greater Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a general membership meeting this Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the VFW, President George McDonnell announced this week.

A personal invitation is extended by the group to anyone interested in joining the organization to be present Sunday. It is planned to have the charter signed and all those signing it will be declared charter members of the group Sunday. Eligible to join are those young men between the ages of 21 and 35 years.

During Sunday's meeting it is hoped to establish a regular monthly meeting date and to appoint the various standing committees to function during the present fiscal year.

At present the group has 35 charter members and the dues are $11.00 a year. For those desiring to do so the dues can be made payable semi-annually at $5.50 every six months. A state meeting of the Chamber will be held this Saturday at Towson, and a number of the local chapter is planning to attend. All members are invited to attend Saturday's meeting which will be an all-day affair commencing at 9:30 a. m. and lasting until approximately 4 p. m. The group will meet at Bucher's Restaurant Saturday morning at 8:00 a. m., preparatory to leaving for Towson. Transportation will be available for those desiring it.

Mother Seton PTA Meeting Held

The February meeting of the Mother Seton School PTA was held in the school cafeteria on Thursday, Feb. 11. The president, Carmel Kelly, presided. The meeting opened with a prayer by Sister Ann Marie, and the group pledged of allegiance to the flag.

After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report, the president reminded the group that only about 27% of the membership dues had been paid. The minutes from the last executive meeting were also read.

It was moved and seconded that another "Refresher" course be given the parents in arithmetic for grades 4 through 8. Mrs. Daniel Lind volunteered to inquire about the use of St. Anthony's lobby for the children waiting for the bus in bad weather.

A committee composed of Mrs. Gilbert Oddo, chairman, and Mrs. Donald Waters assisting, was named to inquire about the possibility of getting the Bookmobile to come to Emmitsburg.

The group decided to abolish the Mission Fair usually held in March. In its place, the children will be asked to give a penny a day for the forty days of Lent and the returns will be given to the Bishop's Relief Fund.

A letter was read from the 4th grade thanking the PTA for the SRA Reading Laboratory Kits. Guest speaker of the evening was Father John Smith, Spiritual Director of Mt. St. Mary's Seminary. Father Smith spoke on the "Purpose and Beauty of the Dialogue Mass," and showed a film on the Mass.

Refreshments were served following the business meeting.

VFW Film Will Be Televised

On Saturday, Feb. 27, 1960 at 8 a. m., the VFW film "Joe's Kid" will be shown on WJZ-TV, channel 13. This film is being shown through the courtesy of WJZ-TV as a public service.

This film portrays the national home of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, which is located in Eaton Rapids, Michigan. The Veterans of Foreign Wars is the only veterans organization that maintain a national home for dependents of the deceased members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Baseball Meeting Scheduled Sunday

President Al Waterfield, Blue Ridge Summit, has called a special meeting of the Penn-Mar Baseball League for this Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The meeting will be held in the VFW Annex, Emmitsburg and all clubs, their officers and representatives are urged to attend so plans for the coming season can be discussed.

County Law Books To Go On Sale

The Code of Laws for Frederick County is expected to be available for public distribution in May it was announced Friday by Goodloe E. Byron, attorney to the County Commissioners, who is now reading the publishers' proofs.

Byron pointed out that the county is interested in knowing in advance how many persons are interested in copies. He said he has received many inquiries concerning the publication of the code and that the county would like to have sufficient copies available at the first printing to meet these demands.

At the present time it is planned to have 150 of the codes printed. However since the book will be of value to all lawyers, incorporated towns, business houses, civic organizations, elected and appointed officials, it is not certain that the number will be enough.

National Guard To Observe "Muster Day"

Carrying on a tradition older than the nation, Highfield National Guardsmen will observe "Muster Day," an annual event, on Monday evening, Feb. 22.

Capt. Charles A. Warner, Commanding Officer of Company B, 729th Ordinance Battalion, Maryland Army National Guard, has announced that the highlight of the local observance of Muster Day will be an Open House. This will take place at the State Armory, one mile east of Port Ritchie, beginning at 7 p. m.

"This will give everybody in the area a good opportunity to take a look at the modern aspects of the National Guard," Capt. Warner points out. "The public will no doubt be interested in seeing just what the Guard means to the community."

According to Capt. Warner, "Muster Day was a custom in the colonial militia, direct forebearers of today's National Guard. Once each year the militia was mustered on the village green to actually count off the number of able-bodied men who would be available to bear arms in an emergency."

The National Guard revived this age-old custom in 1956. Feb. 22 was chosen in honor of George Washington. Our first President served as a Colonel in the Virginia Militia. The date is, by the same token, a tribute to all civilian-soldiers of the militia and the National Guard who have served their communities and country over a period of more than 300 years.

"Members of Co. B," Capt. Warner states, "are proud to join with more than 470,000 fellow Guardsmen in some 5,000 Army and Air Guard units in 2,500 communities and cities in the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico, in Muster Day observance."

Captain Warner urges all residents of the Emmitsburg, Highfield, Smithsburg, Thurmont and Waynesboro area to "come out to see the Guard on Feb. 22." Find out at first hand how your National Guard works. We promise you won't be disappointed.

PTA To Meet Wednesday

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg High School PTA will be held next Wednesday, Feb. 24 at 8:00 p. m. in the cafeteria. The program planned should be helpful to parents in understanding the problems of their teenage children.

Miss Jean Harnish, psychiatrist from the Frederick County Health Department, will lead the discussion period following the showing of the film, "Farewell to Childhood."

There will be visitation in the classrooms before the meeting. All are invited to attend.

Local Republican Group To Meet

A special meeting of the Emmitsburg Republican Central Committee has been called for Monday evening, February 27 at 7:30 o'clock, it has been announced. The meeting will take place in the Fire Hall and all members of the committee are urged to attend.

Applications Asked

Applications for examinations for the Postmastership of Woodboro and Libertytown will be accepted by the U. S. Civil Service Commission in Washington until March 8, an announcement by the commission indicated this week.

Salary for the Woodboro position is $5,385 a year while the Libertytown job pays $4,275 annually.

County Slips In Teacher Pay Scale

Frederick County is losing its status as one of the higher teacher pay counties in Maryland according to Dr. James Sensenbaugh, County Superintendent of Schools. He said this week:

"No matter what the State decides to do with the minimum teacher pay proposals under consideration, we in Frederick County will have to go a step further if we want to successfully compete with other counties for the best teachers."

Dr. Sensenbaugh noted that in 1957, only four counties (Baltimore City, Baltimore County, Montgomery and Prince Georges County) offered higher wages than did Frederick County for teachers. It is to be expected that these four counties be ahead of Frederick County, according to Dr. Sensenbaugh, because they either include or border on the Baltimore and Washington metropolitan areas where all wages tend to be higher than in other parts of the state.

"But now, however, eight counties are ahead of us on teacher pay scales and there is every indication that several others will pass us up next September," said Dr. Sensenbaugh. The counties presently listed as ahead of Frederick County on teacher pay scales are the four previously noted plus Harford, Anne Arundel, Howard, and Charles counties.

Dr. Sensenbaugh notes that the eight counties now ahead of Frederick county are all located to the east of this county, and the local educator feels that Frederick county faces the brunt of its competition for good teachers from the eastern, not the western, counties.

"Despite the fact that we offer higher salaries than the counties to the west of us (Washington, Allegany, and Garrett), we had a much higher percentage of employment withdrawals from our school system last year than did the western counties. Whereas Allegany had a drop-out of 6.7 per cent, Washington 8.3 per cent and Garrett 9.7 per cent, Frederick county had a teacher withdrawal of 14.6 per cent.

"This indicates to me that our teacher procurement problems cannot be linked to those of the western counties. They are situated in a position which is withdrawn by a sufficient number of miles from the large population centers of the area. We are linked to these large population centers by considerably fewer miles and super highways that accentuate our position."

"Frederick county currently has more emergency certified teachers than do the western counties. Allegany has 9.1 per cent, Washington, 17.0 per cent and Garrett, 27.6 per cent. In contrast, Frederick has 33.9 per cent. This is a bad situation because the quality of a county's educational system is quite often determined to a considerable extent by the percentage of teachers in the system that are fully approved by state standards."

"Maryland's three western counties are geographically situated so that they can offer lower wages than Frederick county and still attract and keep a higher percentage of teachers in their school systems. The eastern counties, which I believe form the nucleus of our competition, are passing us up on the wage scales at a rapid rate. Thus, we are left sitting in the middle."

Chamber Commerce Meeting Held

The regular monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday evening in the Fire Hall, President Ralph D. Lindsey presiding. One guest, John Baumgardner, was present.

During the meeting routine business was discussed and a number of suggestions were made as to how to induce industry to locate here. The group decided to renew its affiliation with the United States Chamber of Commerce and the annual dues were ordered paid.

License Revoked

The State Dept. of Motor Vehicles announced this week the revocation of the driver's license of Eugene D. Sprague of Rocky Ridge, Md.

On Dec. 22, 1955, the new Navy commissioned 18 officers, including John Paul Jones. The "Father of the Navy" became the senior of the first five lieutenants appointed.

WILL PROBATED

Relatives and a number of Roman Catholic organizations including St. Anthony's Shrine, Emmitsburg, have been named as beneficiaries of the estate of the late J. Ledle Gloninger, according to the will which has been probated by the Orphans Court. No valuation was placed on the estate.

Among the organizations receiving specific bequests are St. Anthony's, for use by the school, $1,000; Island Catholic Church Fund, Bradenton, Fla., $1,000; Catholic Church Extension Society of Chicago for masses, $5,000; Father Flanagan's Boys Home, Boystown, Neb., $2,000.

All personal property except securities was left to two sisters, Kathryn G. Klosky and Grace G. Hogan, and each was given $5,000, according to the will.

Other brothers and sisters who will share in the estate are Marie G. Rial, $3,000; Dorothy G. O'Donoghue, $3,000; and John R. Gloninger, $5,000.

Any remainder of the estate was bequeathed to the Catholic Orphanage Inc. of Nazareth, Wake County, N. C. for care of children and St. Joseph's Indian School, Chamberlain, S. D., for care of Indian children.

Mrs. Klosky was named executrix and the will was dated Nov. 1, 1951.

GIRL SCOUTS TO ORGANIZE

An organizational meeting of Senior Girl Scouts will be held this evening in the VFW Auxiliary meeting room, second floor, starting at 6:30 p. m.

Leaders of the group to be formed are Mrs. Yvonne Baker and Mrs. George Baker and all girls from the ninth to twelfth grade are invited to attend the meeting and to become members of the Scouts.

Heart Association Aids Researchist

A young research scientist working at the College Park campus of the University of Maryland has been awarded financial support by the Frederick County Heart Association.

Dr. Frank H. Wilcox will receive support to aid him in his research project concerning genetic factors in the development of the fatty substance cholesterol in the blood, which is suspected to be related to heart attacks.

As Dr. Wilcox explains his research, cholesterol is a necessary part of the body. But many people have more than they need. The doctor is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Animal Husbandry at the University of Maryland. He is attempting to learn something of the factors involved in the development of excessive cholesterol in chickens, and then to judge the relationship of this knowledge to heart disease in humans.

This study, to be supported by the local Heart Association chapter, is a unit in a coordinated research program conducted on local, state and national levels. The total of research now being carried out in Maryland by the American Heart Association, the Heart Association of Maryland and the Maryland Heart chapters, including the Frederick County unit, exceeds $130,000.

Mr. J. Alfred Cutsail of Frederick, president of the Frederick County Heart Association, said that the local Heart Association is quite enthusiastic about Dr. Wilcox's project. "We are delighted to extend financial aid to Dr. Wilcox," said Mr. Cutsail. "I think the people of Frederick County may be proud to play such an important role in heart research. Without the support which the Heart Fund makes possible, many promising young scientists such as Dr. Wilcox would be unable to carry out their ideas. Support of research is a primary responsibility of the Heart Association."

Brownies Meet

Brownie Scout Troop One met Friday evening in St. Euphemia's Hall. Mrs. Ralph Long, leader, was in charge with 16 girls present. Following a short business meeting the girls made valentines for their parents. Games were played and refreshments served.

In placing duck decoys, remember that the mallard, black and pintail don't need a long landing strip, they can lower into a set of decoys. Mountaineers Continue Win Streak

Mount St. Mary's College eagles tightened their hold on the top slot in the North Division of the Mason-Dixon Conference last week by emerging victorious in two contests played Friday and Saturday.

Jim Phelan's Blue and White aggregation had little difficulty in mastering the five from Hampden Sydney Friday night at Emmitsburg by a score of 87-66.

The teams were evenly matched early in the first half but the Mounts pulled away by 10 points with six minutes to go. At half-time Mount St. Mary's led 41-29.

Leading the scoring for the Mountaineers were Dave Samuels and Dick Talley with 21 points apiece. They also dominated the backboards. For Hampden-Sydney, Leon Hawker led the scoring with 20 points.

Saturday night's encounter with Catholic U at Washington was a blistering affair decided in favor of the Mounties by a single point, 68-67.

The Mountaineers, taking another big step toward the Northern Division title, led by as much as 16 points in the second half and were forced to fend off a late surge by the Cardinals.

As a result of the triumph Jim Phelan's outfit held onto its lead in the Northern Division with a 10-2 mark. Overall the Mountaineers are 15-5.

The Mount took an early lead Saturday night and shot 47 per cent from the field in building up a 40-30 half time advantage.

After gaining their 16 point bulge midway in the second half, they had to battle all the way when the Cardinals became "hot" with a 53 percentage in field goal tossing which gradually slashed the lead.

Dave Samuels tallied his only two field goals in the closing moments to enable the Mountaineers to squeeze through to victory.

Mount St. Mary's gained revenge for an earlier defeat and handed American University its first loss in the Mason-Dixon Conference Wednesday night by whipping the Eagles, 90-74, in Washington.

Playing without Dick Wells and Ed Clements, the home club went 7 1/2 minutes into the game and trailed 20-5 before Willie Jones scored American's first field goal.

Late in the second half the Mountaineers built their lead to 25 points, and while Jones cut the margin back with nine fast points, A.U. never could make it close against a team it had beaten 95-64 earlier in the season.

The result left American with a 7-1 record in the conference and 15-7 for the season. Mount St. Mary's is 11-2 in the league and 17-5 overall.

On Saturday the Mason-Dixon divisional playoffs will be staged. The top teams of each division will draw byes. Northern Division teams will stage their playoffs at Western Maryland while the Southern Division will stage its tournament at Roanoke.

The conference tournament is scheduled for February 25, 26 and 27 at Catholic University.

Lions To Witness Demonstration

All members of the Emmitsburg Lions Club are urged to attend the regular meeting to be held Monday evening at 6:15 o'clock at Fitzgerald's Mason-Dixon Inn. President Ralph D. Lindsey announces there will be no business transacted at this session and that just as soon as the evening meal is concluded the membership would motor to Highfield where a tour of the National Guard Armory there will be made at the invitation of Capt. Warner. Demonstrations of the latest military equipment also will be made during the evening.

Sunny Beaches Lure Tourist To Europe

The bikini is still the Queen of fashion on European beaches—even in winter! If you're fleeing the cold north winds and heavy snows of winter, the miles of beautiful beaches along the coasts of southern France, Greece, Italy, Portugal, Spain, Turkey and Yugoslavia beckon you. All through the winter, these holiday resorts offer sun, swimming, golf, tennis, sailing and fishing and spectacularly scenic beauty.

"Sunny Spain" Spain's tropical paradise, the Canary Islands in the Atlantic off the coasts of Gibraltar and Africa, offer an ideal year-round sun and swim climate and two duty-free international ports. The visitor to Grand Canary, one of the seven inhabited islands, will discover a continent in miniature. Within its shores are pure golden sandy beaches, gay shopping streets of the cosmopolitan capital, Las Palmas, the sub-tropical Angostura Valley, the high mountains of Aruca, lush valleys of banana plantation—and believe it or not, farms flourishing in the crater of a volcano.

"Exciting Portugal" Over in sunny Portugal on the southern coast fronting the Atlantic is the seaside resort of Praia da Rocha. Here amidst exquisitely beautiful rock formations, miles and miles of sandy beaches await the winter vacationer. The rugged coastline is a great favorite with fishermen while non-anglers have their choice of golf or tennis. For lovers of history, Praia da Rocha is less than an hour away from Sagres. It was here more than 500 years ago that Henry the Navigator established the famed Nautical School, still in existence today, which trained Columbus and other Spanish and Portuguese navigators for their great voyages of discovery.

The French Riviera in winter is a must for any traveler who wants to capture the excitement, glamour and gaiety of a truly international playground.

Pineapple Party Molded Salad

Year-Round Favorite For Buffet Menus
Combining golden crushed pineapple, cream cheese, celery, chives and chopped pecans, this molded salad is the perfect choice for a buffet menu featuring ham or turkey. It can also be the main attraction at a special-occasion luncheon. The mold is decorated with tiny "diamonds" of pimiento for a gay color.

The picture-pretty garnish of pineapple half slices and ripe olives would be attractive on any molded fruit salad.

Pineapple Party Salad

2 No. 2 cans crushed pineapple	1/2 cup diced canned pimiento, drained
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin	1 cup coarsely chopped pecans
3 tablespoons sugar	3/4 cup whipping cream, whipped
Dash of salt	Salad greens
2 tablespoons chopped chives	Pineapple rings and ripe olives, for garnish
2 cups finely chopped celery
4 (3-oz.) packages cream cheese
1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice

Drain syrup from pineapple and heat to boiling. Mix gelatin, sugar and salt thoroughly. Add boiling syrup and stir until gelatin is melted. Blend in pineapple, chives, and celery. Chill till thickened but not set. Soften cream cheese with lemon juice. Add a small portion at a time to the gelatin. Stir each time until mixture is smooth and well blended. Fold in pimiento, pecans and whipped cream. Pour into lightly oiled 2-quart mold. Chill firm. Unmold on serving plate. Decorate with tiny "diamonds" of pimiento, crisp greens, pretty pineapple rings and ripe olives. Makes 12 to 16 servings. Cut recipe in half for small mold or individual molds.

Announcement has also been made by the Board of Education that the seniors of Frederick County Schools may take the same examination above for the seven Teacher-Education Scholarships worth $500 each which are available to residents of Frederick County. Teacher-Education Scholarships are awarded on the basis of scores obtained in the competitive examinations. These Scholarships may be used by the seniors at any one of 13 private colleges in the State of Maryland providing the student indicates a desire to enter the teaching profession.

Betty Crocker Contest Winners

Named the Betty Crocker Homemakers of Tomorrow in high school in Emmitsburg are Sandra Marie Hartle, Emmitsburg High School, and Lois Ann Williams, St. Joseph's High School. Each received the highest score in a 50-minute written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating senior girls in her school. Examination papers will be entered in competition with other high school winners to name the state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow. Each girl will receive an award pin, manufactured by Josens and representing the slogan, "Home is where the heart is." The test is prepared and judged by Science Research Association of Chicago.

CENTRAL CHARGE SERVICE

Impartial Group To Determine Cost Of Hospitalization

The State Health Department announced today that the plan for an independent, non-profit firm to analyze and report on hospital care costs in Maryland has become a reality with the charting of a new corporation, the Hospital Cost Analysis Service, Inc.

The new organization, developed by the State Health Department, Blue Cross and the Hospital Council of Maryland, will conduct systematic, on-site examinations of financial and statistical records at hospitals throughout the State to determine actual patient-care costs. These cost figures will be used by the State as the basis for payment for care rendered to indigent and medically indigent patients, and by Blue Cross for determining payments to hospitals for the care of subscribers. Other purchasers of hospital care also may use the service.

The State Health Department and Blue Cross, at present, conduct separate studies of hospital costs. The new organization will provide one uniform system for cost finding throughout Maryland, with resultant economies to both the State and Blue Cross.

Control of the Corporation will be vested in a ten-man board of directors who will serve without pay. Four of the directors are to be appointed by the Governor from different geographical areas of the State, and one director designated by each of the following: The Maryland State Bar Association, the State Insurance Department, the State Department of Health, Blue Cross, the Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants and the Hospital Council. Other directors may be added from time to time.

According to Health Department officials, the new corporation is expected to develop greater uniformity of accounting and cost finding and reporting by hospitals as recommended by the American Hospital Association.

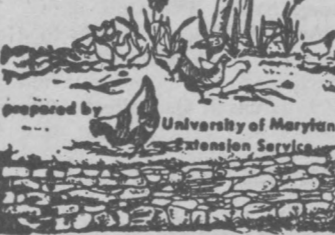

Establishment of the new organization follows a recent directive of Governor Tawes to the State Health Department that adequate procedures be adopted to assure the effective use of State funds for the care of indigent and medical indigent patients.

The cost of establishing and maintaining the new service will be shared by the State Department of Health, Blue Cross and the Hospital Council. The permanent staff requirements of the Service still are tentative, but officials believe it will include several accountants and other technical persons.

OVER THE GARDEN WALLS

A COLUMN FOR HOMEOWNERS

Hotbeds And Coldframes Give Gardeners A Jump

Lots of home gardeners get the jump on the season by starting plants in hotbeds or coldframes.

There's more to it than having the plants early. You can select the variety you want in this grow-it-yourself system. It's cheaper. Then, too, there's less likelihood of bringing in insects and diseases.

But most of all it's fun. Why Garden, Anyway?

Why is it that so many people garden? Some do it to save money. You can put lots of groceries on the table from a 15-cent packet of seed!

But there are just as many folks who'll think nothing of spending $150 or more for a garden power tool—they're not trying to save money. Besides, who eats roses?

Some garden because it's good exercise. And that it is. And yet others will buy any labor-saving tool they can get their hands on.

Some folks like to garden because they came from the country, or grew up on a farm. It takes them back.

Still others spent all their life

A self-employed person has an obligation to file a yearly tax return and pay the social security tax on his net earnings. He also has an obligation to himself and his family to build the protection that correct and regular reporting affords.

W. S. King, district manager of the Hagerstown social security office, makes this statement as a reminder to all people who work for themselves of the importance on city sidewalks. And they can't wait till they can get home to dig in the soil—even if it's merely a window box.

Or there are the new folks who just moved into the community. They see how nice the neighbors' lawns or gardens look. They figure they can get status in the community if they, too, make their homes as attractive.

But there are tumbledown shacks with their perky worried beds. These folks never worried about keeping up with the Joneses.

Oh, we could go on and on—money, exercise, nostalgia, status, on and on. But it all boils down to fun. That's our main reward. We'd prefer to garden because we like it!

Back To Hotbeds
If you're interested in trying a hotbed or coldframe this spring. They're not too expensive, nor hard to build. Your county agent will be glad to give you U. S. Department of Agriculture Farmers' Bulletin No. 1743, "Hotbeds and Coldframes."

This booklet will tell how to build a hotbed or coldframe, and how to grow your own plants. If you're interested in the latest wrinkle, heating your hotbed with electric heating table, ask your county agent for USDA Leaflet 445, "Electric Heating of Hotbeds."

of filing their 1959 tax returns on or before April 15, 1960.

Many people, he said, do not realize that failure to make a yearly report is a violation of the law and can result in penalties and interest charges on unpaid social security taxes. Many more do not understand that delay in filing can cause loss of valuable social security credit and so cut down their old-age, survivors, and disability insurance protection. His office, and every social security office in the country, he said, can cite examples where failure to report has resulted in the wiping out of social security insurance protection altogether.

As an example, he gives the case of a self-employed farmer. Farm operators, and certain other self-employed people first came under social security at the beginning of 1955. With the filing of their 1959 tax returns they will have five years of work credit under the law. To get disability protection under social security, five years of work out of the ten years before disability begins are necessary. A farmer who has filed a tax return every year beginning with 1955 now has that protection.

The farmer he had in mind recently became totally disabled. A friend advised him to apply for social security benefits as he is over 50 and, as his friend declared, "has been in work covered by social security 5 out of the last ten years." He applied, but he was in for a shock. The reason? He had neglected to file a return and pay the social security tax for 1955. The law says that your earnings must get on the record within three years, three months and 15 days after the taxable year in which they were earned. For the year 1955, that time was April 15, 1959. This man's earnings for 1955 can never be credited to his social security account. As he is too disabled for further substantial gainful work, another year of earnings can never be credited to his social security account. He remains one year short of the work requirement of the law. He and his dependent wife and minor children have lost the protection his compliance with the law would have given them.

If you are a self-employed person, Mr. King said, guard against

Tax Exemptions Explained

Exemptions waived to increase tax withholding during the year does not mean the loss of exemption benefits for tax filing purposes, District Director of Internal Revenue Irving Machiz said today.

Research into the reasons why some taxpayers are reluctant to "drop" exemptions for withholding purposes revealed a fear the exemption privilege itself would be denied them at tax filing time.

the possibility of this happening to you. Report your net earnings correctly and regularly year after year. For information about reporting, get in touch with the District Director of Internal Revenue; for information about old-age, survivors, and disability insurance—what it is, who it protects, and what it pays—come to the Hagerstown Social Security Office, King advises.

Machiz says the waiving of exemptions for tax withholding purposes is strictly a bookkeeping matter. The taxpayer can and should claim all the exemptions to which he is entitled when he makes out his tax return.

In sufficient tax withholding can result from a variety of reasons. A taxpayer experiencing this situation can arrange to have his entire tax liability covered by dropping one or more of the exemptions now claimed on the withholding statement filed with his employer.

This means a larger sum withheld from each pay check during the year, Machiz explained—about $120 for each exemption waived.

In a few cases in which even dropped exemptions for withholding purposes will not cover all the tax due at the end of the year, the taxpayer may enter into a written agreement with his employer to have additional amounts withheld, Machiz said.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Hedges Against Taxes

EMMITSBURG, Mass., Feb. 18—The wise investor is anxious to hedge against three main handicaps: (1) Inflation, (2) labor leaders, and (3) taxes. Let us consider, this week, hedging against taxes. These will surely be more serious each year.

Non-Taxable Bonds
All non-taxable bonds are cheaper than they have been for years. The "full faith" Municipals are rated best; but I think that most of the Turnpike Revenue Bonds are fairly good at their current prices. If you buy them now and later do not like them, you can probably sell them at a profit. You need not keep them until maturity.

When loaning money on mortgage it is wise to make a fairly low rate of interest, plus your approximate income tax. Then your mortgage interest will be net, certainly, in the case of rents you should insist that the tenant pay the taxes as part of the rent. This has many advantages and is fair to all parties. Of course, there is no way to hedge against "death taxes" except by giving money away before you die. I will discuss this later.

Duties On Imported Goods
Certain cities, such as Buffalo offer opportunities to buy foreign goods that are selling at very low prices in Germany, Japan, and other countries. You must stay 48 hours outside the U. S. A. and are limited to $200 in purchases at any one time; but you can make purchases as often as you wish. This is the only honest way to avoid import taxes.

Various other means can be found to save taxes on merchandise. This includes "sales taxes," which can be avoided most easily by persons living near the borders of certain states. There also are allowances which your tax return permits you to make on doctors' bills, medical costs, hospital charges, benevolent gifts to churches, etc.; also exemptions for certain children, and other deductions. You can secure a list of these from your local bank.

National Federation of Independent Business
If you are an average businessman as well as an investor, you should at once join the National Federation of Independent Business, Inc. Its headquarters are at Burlingame, California. This Association has secured some helpful tax and other legislation from Congress. The most helpful man is C. Wilson Harder, President.

When the federal agents check your income tax payment, they will be absolutely honest as to the mathematics. If you have paid too much they will tell you so, just as they would if you had paid too little. But they will not tell you how you could have saved tax money. It therefore will pay every taxpayer to employ some accountant in his locality to make out his tax return. This will save the taxpayer money—the charge will not exceed $25.00 and will perhaps be less. Don't be "penny wise and pound foolish."

What About Death Taxes?
These are very hard to avoid if you are married and avoid an estimate of over $120,000 (if single $60,000), but the federal tax can be reduced in various ways. If you are young or middle-aged, give a certain amount to your heirs every year. You can give $3,000 annually free of tax. You are also allowed to give annually from 20% to 30% of your net income to religious, educational and scientific bodies. Such gifts I make regularly; this is really a joy.

The large investor, however, who misses this "joy of giving" and is trying to be the "richest man in the cemetery" has another means of cutting death taxes. Certain U. S. Government Bonds can now be bought at a discount of about 15% or more which will be accepted at par in payment of death taxes. You can save 15% or more by purchasing them now and holding them against your future death taxes. Everyone can hedge against taxes to a certain extent; but it requires care, thought, pre-planning, and the help of a tax expert.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kestner

The poor guy who can't wield a handgun with devastating effect is definitely out of the social swim in these days of the big Western revival. If you're one of the unfortunate few, cheer up! Follow along here and you'll discover what it takes to make a pistol shooter and how you can get to be a hot handgunner in two easy lessons.

If you are going to make consistent hits, you must do two things. If you do these to perfection, you can do many other things wrong, and still be a good shot. But if you do everything else right and do either of these two things wrong, you'll be a dud, states Col. Jim Crossman, Contributing Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

The first thing you must do if you're going to be even mediocre is to line up the sights properly and keep them lined up until the shot goes.

The rear sight has a flat top with a rectangular notch cut in it. The depth of the notch doesn't matter too much, as long as it is deep enough, and depth probably should be half the width of the notch or more. You don't use the bottom of the notch for anything except to help you find the front sight. The top of the rear sight is critical, though, and it should be smooth and flat, at least near the notch. The sides of the notch must at right angles to the top, with sharp corners at the top, and the notch sides should be parallel. The height of the rear sight has to be adjusted to fit the height of the front, the range, ammunition and your method of shooting.

Let's take a last look through properly aligned sights. There's that big, high front sight, with the flat top just even with the flat top of the rear sight, and nicely centered in the rear notch, with a generous amount of light showing on each side of the blade. Be sure you've got this picture clearly in your mind. This is one of the two most important factors in pistol shooting, keeping the front and rear sights carefully lined up the same for every shot.

The second basic principle is trigger control. You must gradually apply increasing pressure to the trigger so that the hammer is released without any gun movement. Trigger control doesn't mean you can make the gun go off when you want it to. But it does mean that you can make the gun go off without any disturbance as a result of your pulling the trigger.

Since you are holding the pistol by only one hand, any slight movement of that hand will flip the muzzle far out of line and give you a wild shot. You have to make your trigger finger operate independently of the other four, and this isn't easy. When the sights look good, it's a natural reaction to promptly tighten the trigger finger. And it's easy to

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Psalm 103:2, 4.
Bless the Lord, O my soul, . . . who redeemeth thy life from destruction. (Psalm 103:2, 4.)

A young surgeon and I had been bobbing up and down among the ocean waves, as one after another they formed and spent themselves along the seashore.

"The sea's so strong and restless," I said.

"Yes," the surgeon replied, "and so old."

"Compared to the ocean," I added, "we seem so small and weak, and our lives so short."

"True," the surgeon said, "but in God's sight we are of more value than the ancient ocean."

"Can it be," I asked, "that our earthly lives are really important since they are so brief?"

"Put it this way," the surgeon answered: "the ocean points up the importance of life and the value of time because we have here so few years for living."

The experience of all Christians is that we can add to the value of our lives by dedicating them to God. We can redeem our time by putting heart and hand into work that shows our devotion to Christ and our love for our fellow men.

Prayer
Our Father, we thank Thee for the gift of life. Help us to dedtighten up your whole hand. The usual result of such a yank is that the muzzle jumps low and left. Remember — your trigger finger must operate independently—this is achieved by practice.

No matter how much you want to monkey around changing the details, don't forget that you must have good sight alignment and good trigger control if you want to make hits on paper targets—or polar bears.

cate ourselves to Thee. Guide us in the use of our time. Teach us to honor and glorify Thee by using unselfishly the talents Thou hast given us. In the name of Christ our Redeemer, Amen.
Thought For The Day
I will dedicate my life to God, who alone can save it from destruction.

Evangelism Week Proclaimed

February 21 through 28, 1960, has been designated as National Child Evangelism Week. Local Child Evangelism Fellowship groups from coast to coast are planning special events for this week.

Child Evangelism Fellowship of Maryland will have 7500 special bulletin covers (or inserts) in 37 churches of many denominations either Sunday, February 21 or February 28. A Fellowship banquet is being held at Frock's Sunnybrook Farms, Westminster, on Saturday, Feb. 27.

There are at present 104 children's Bible classes in Maryland (known as Good News Clubs).

Last year an endorsement was accorded Child Evangelism Fellowship from the floor of the House of Representatives during the 86th Congress and is entered on page 1109 in the Congressional Record for Tuesday, Jan. 27, 1959.

Mrs. Carroll of Catonsville, Maryland, uses her phone to chat with a friend about a change in time of the Card Club meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll are active in their church, the P.T.A. and the Boy Scouts. These activities, combined with raising two teenagers (Patricia 16 and Phil 13), make their phone an important part of running their home.

Like other busy wives and mothers, Mrs. Carroll has many activities to attend to each day. She knew her phone was a help to her—but she thought she'd like to know exactly what it saved in time, money and travel. To find out, she kept a telephone diary for all calls made or received for a two-week period.

Her diary showed that phone calls saved days of waiting for information . . . hours and miles of travel on everyday errands, and friendly visits. Not surprisingly, the money saved on travel was greater than the cost of her phone.

Maybe you'll never keep a telephone diary—but if you take a few minutes to think of the value of your phone to you, we believe you'll agree that your phone pays for itself in convenience—and in money saved as well.

New Electric Range Tends Dinner

Today's modern homemaker has broken her chains to the range. She no longer needs to stand pot-watching duty while dinner is cooking on a marvelous new automatic electric range that assures her optimum freedom and delectable cooking results unheard of by her forebears.

Electric ranges of the sixties allow the homemaker to shop, chauffeur the children, attend meetings or simply relax with a good book while the meal is tended to by the easy to operate automatic controls.

Whether the homemaker chooses a free-standing or a built-in model, she will find the same amount of cooking convenience. All electric ranges are designed with the homemaker's needs in mind. There are both ease of cleaning as well as ease of cooking features.

A new "set-it-and-forget-it" electric range will make you the proudest cook on the block. The juicy roasts you make with the locked-in flavor will make you the top culinary expert among your circle of friends.

For really pleasurable cooking results, get an automatic controlled electric range.

Passport For Our Enemies

The Reader's Digest for February exposes a frightening hole in our national defense structure to protect us against the international Communist conspiracy to conquer the world. The title of the article is "No Passports for Our Enemies." The title expresses a prayerful hope. Actually the article tells how decisions of the U. S. Supreme Court and the strange inaction of Congress now make it possible for our enemies to obtain passports and help advance the Communist plan to take over the world.

No loyal American citizen could read this article without feeling a deep uneasiness about the security of our nation. The situation described by the Reader's Digest began when the Supreme Court rendered a decision on June 16, 1958, one of a long series each of which strengthened the international Communist apparatus and endangered the freedom of every American. This decision held that the Secretary of State has no authority to deny passports to people because they are Communists. Until then, passport authorities could withhold passports from Communists. Damaging To U. S.

The Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, one of the watchdog agencies of our Congress, issued a formal report declaring:

"Plainly speaking, this country has, at the behest of the Supreme Court, authorized a small army of disloyal citizens to go abroad and travel about under the protection of the United States. Naked logic tells us that at least some of this number will be in a position to damage this nation in a substantial manner."

J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director said: "This ruling will facilitate the travel of spies, couriers and subversives. The next time a representative of the Party is summoned to the Soviet Union he will not even have to go to the trouble of using an alias." And yet, the Congress has not acted to correct this damaging situation although urged to do so by the security agencies of our Government. Communist Power Great

While in Washington recently several authoritative people expressed the belief that the Communists have maneuvered their secret colleagues into such positions of influence in America that they can, through power indirectly applied, block legislation detrimental to their cause, or bring about actions in various departments of our Government helpful to their aims. This sounds unbelievable. But after you have read "No Passports for Our Enemies" you certainly cannot understand why Congress has not acted in this situation, or why the Supreme Court ruled as it did.

Here's an excerpt from the Reader's Digest article: "Col. Rudolph Ivanovich Able, the highest Soviet intelligence officer ever apprehended in the United States, was convicted a little over two years ago. Mem-

OUR STATE UNIVERSITY

The value of milk and dairy products sold from Maryland farms during the fiscal year 57-58 amounted to about $74 million. This represented 28% of the total state farm income. Most of the income was from the sale of fluid milk entering the retail consumer trade.

Since June of 1935, when the Maryland Dairy Inspection Law was passed, inspection has been made of the weighing, sampling and testing of milk and cream. All sales of milk in Maryland are made on the basis of weight or volume and butterfat test.

Maryland farmers have joined the march of mechanization and now much of the milk produced on the farms passes from the mechanical milkers through glass pipe to stainless steel bulk storage tanks. From these farm storage tanks it is loaded into truck bers of the cells he organized, some probably still on the job, effectively smuggled defense and atomic secrets to Russia by messengers who returned with instructions and U. S. currency to finance further operations. Able and the couriers were able to stay in business because they used U. S. passports." Our Enemy At Work

Another excerpt: "Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, a Negro writer from Brooklyn with a long Communist-front record, and his wife obtained new passports (after the Supreme Court decision). Mrs. DuBois hurried to the All-African People's Conference in Ghana to read a speech that her husband wrote attacking the Western powers and praising Red China and the Soviet Union. Meanwhile DuBois was received in Moscow by Premier Khrushchev. The Sovietbols indicated his appreciation of DuBois' efforts by awarding him the $35,000 Lenin Peace Prize. Although our Government forbade American travel to Communist China, DuBois went from Moscow to Peiping—bearing an American passport. There he made hate-America speeches which were beamed to Asian and African people . . . he was regarded as a representative American citizen."

In a matter of a few days, Congress could block this damaging loophole in our security structure, opened by the Supreme Court. Congress could give the Passport authorities the power to deny passports to known Communist agents, to the enemies of our country. But for two years now, Congress has not acted. Citizens should demand to know "WHY?"

FOOD COSTS IN WORK TIME

The industrial worker in Italy labors almost 12 times as long as the American workman to earn a pound of coffee.

The French worker is on the job more than five times as long to provide a pound of beef sirloin for the dinner table.

Bread, the most universal of foods, costs American and Canadian workers approximately five and one-half minutes of working time for one pound of enriched white bread. A pound of white bread in Austria costs 20 minutes in working time; in Belgium, seven minutes; in Denmark, nine minutes; in France, 12 minutes; in West Germany, 13 minutes; in Italy, 16 minutes, in the United Kingdom, six minutes.

A nine country food-cost-in-work-time study conducted by the National Industrial Conference Board, a non-governmental research bureau, shows that industrial workers in the United States spent one hour's pay in 1958 to provide a meal for a family of four. The meal consisted of white bread, 7.2 oz.; beef sirloin, 1 lb., 5.2 oz.; potatoes, 1 lb., 5.2 oz.; cabbage, 1 lb., 12.3 oz.; butter, 1.4 oz.; milk, 1 quart, and apple, 1 lb., 5.2 oz. The individual servings con-

Country	Hours Worked	Per Cent of Meal Bought With One Hour's Pay	Per Cent of U. S. Price	Hourly Pay (In U.S. Cents)
United States	1 hr.	100	100	214.0
Canada	1 hr., 9 min.	87	92	171.0
Denmark	1 hr., 28 min.	68	52	76.7
West Germany	2 hrs., 11 min.	46	56	55.2
United Kingdom	2 hrs., 18 min.	44	72	66.7
Belgium	3 hrs., 20 min.	30	90	57.9

"Only if earnings in each country were equal would the United States worker have the weakest purchasing power. Instead he is able to overcome the price disadvantage because his earnings are very much higher than those of other workers," the report said.

SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Priceless Prescriptions

Just a few years ago, a vicious killer roved the country. It was a disease called bacterial endocarditis, a deadly infection of the heart lining. Doctors had no way to fight this dread enemy. Its victims were doomed. Many persons still fall prey to this disease. But today their chances for recovery are excellent. For doctors have a potent weapon available for immediate counter-attack against this foe. It is penicillin—one of the first of the modern wonder drugs.

In the early 1940's, penicillin was produced in limited amounts by costly laboratory procedures. It was very expensive for patients, even in terms of today's inflated dollar. But those who needed it would have been willing to pay any price if it had been available.

The American pharmaceutical industry, however, was working to bring down the cost. And fortunately for all of us, the highly competitive pharmaceutical companies did. By the early 1950's they developed laboratory techniques and mass-production methods that brought the cost of a tablet of penicillin down to less than the price of a candy bar.

An equally dramatic development took place in the treatment of diabetes. A generation ago a victim of this disease faced a two-to-one chance of an early death in a diabetic coma. How eagerly he would have paid any price for a drug like insulin.

Insulin, too, at first could be made only in comparatively small batches and at high cost. Today, the pharmaceutical laboratories have learned how to turn out advanced forms of insulin compounds in quantities sufficient to meet the needs of all who require the drug. And the price has been slashed to less than six per cent of what it was in the 1930's.

A diabetic now can often live out his normal expectancy by the protection of a daily insulin dosage which costs little more than half the price of a package of cigarettes. By using a considerable percentage of their earnings to expand research work, pharmaceutical companies not only make older drugs cheaper, they continue to develop new and better drugs. Here, again, the diabetes sufferer is a good case in point. Recently, many diabetics have been able to discard the hypodermic needle that must be used to administer insulin. Compounds have been developed that can be taken orally. New oral drugs, for example, free many diabetics from the hypodermic shots. A tablet can be taken by mouth and will control some types of diabetes for the entire 24-hour period. There is no way to measure the value of a life-saving medicine. For who would put a price-tag on life? But we can measure the cost of drugs that have added years of life for millions of Americans. And the figures are reassuring. A recent survey showed Americans spend an average of nearly $53 a year for alcoholic beverages, more than $36 for tobacco products and only about $18 for prescriptions. Contrasting our outlay on drinks against drugs, we seem to be getting a good bargain at the prescription counter.

tanks for transportation to the milk processing plants. To assure the farmer that he is receiving payment for the actual amount of milk produced and to assure the milk plant operators of value received, the Dairy Inspection Service checks the accuracy of scales, sampling devices and the weighing tanks in milk plants. Also the farm milk tanks are calibrated for accuracy.

Those persons conducting testing and sampling must meet certain qualifications. Regular examinations were held for weighers, samplers and testers—those qualifying were issued licenses. During the year 229 qualified as milk and cream testers and 241 milk and cream weighers and samplers qualified.

All glassware used in the testing of milk and milk products must be checked for accuracy. A total of 5392 glassware calibrations were checked for accuracy. 272 calibrations of farm milk tanks were made during the year. This brought the total of milk tanks in use to about 1800, all of which have been calibrated by the Dairy Inspection Service.

Farm Bureau Backs New School Milk Program

The American Farm Bureau Federation has supported Congressional enactment of legislation to expand the federal government's special school milk program. A Farm Bureau spokesman told a recent House and Senate Agriculture Sub-committee hearing that the milk program appears to have encouraged an increase in milk consumption among school children. The program, first offered in the school year 1954-55, "has been of assistance in bringing about a more desirable balance in milk production with consumption. It fact that other government supports has probably contributed to the port to dairymen in recent months has diminished," he said. He added that an increase in school enrollment—plus applications from new schools—justify a $4 million increase in federal appropriations for the current year and a $6 million increase—to $90 million per year in future years. "These increases," he said, "will permit the program to be continued without reduction in the unit rate of payment which has been established."

In the days when the horseless carriage was very new, a speed of 20 miles an hour would have been considered reckless. Indeed, any driver having the temerity to clatter down the road at such an unseemly pace would have been promptly slapped in jail.

And rightly so. For such a speed would have been dangerous on roads travelled mostly by harness horses whose top speed usually averaged around 12 miles an hour.

Times have changed. The harness horse has vanished from the highway and the descendants of the horseless carriage bear little resemblance to their ungainly ancestor. But the principle that made 20 miles an hour a reckless speed in that slower-paced age is still sound. It's the principle that speed must never be judged as a separate item. It must always be judged in relation to the conditions in which it operates.

Today we have some roads smooth as marble and automobiles capable of travelling at fantastic speeds. This has given us a fair sense of what constitutes safe speed. We seem to think that the existence of such conditions—even when they're not present—automatically sanctions a high speed.

It is entirely possible that a race driver could safely drive a high powered car at a speed of 120 miles an hour over a cleared track—assuming, of course, that driver and car were both in excellent condition.

But practically speaking, when does the average passenger car driver encounter such a combination of ideal conditions. The answer is NEVER. Mr. Average Motorist always finds himself in a set of circumstances that fall short of ideal. If his car has a high-powered engine, its potential may be entirely nullified by a rough or slippery road. Or, he may find himself on a splendid highway but be unable to travel fast because his car is not up to par mechanically. Or, it may happen that both car and road are in excellent condition, but traffic volume makes high speed obviously unsafe.

There are any number of conditions, and combinations of conditions, that must be taken into consideration in determining a safe speed. The intelligent driver knows this. He selects his speed with the same good sense he uses in making his other day-to-day decisions . . . on the basis of the immediate conditions in which he finds himself.

Speed will never kill the intelligent driver, because he always travels at a speed that is safe for the condition of road, weather, his vehicle and his own physical and mental state.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Nothing To Sneeze At
This is the month of the most and worst colds. Right this minute some 20,000,000 people are busy with nose-drops, cough medicine, antihistamines, and grandma's pet remedy. No harm done, but nothing you take can prevent or cure a cold. You can make yourself more comfortable in spite of your cold, and that's always worth doing.
It's usually best to stay home the first day of a cold. The rest will help you fight the infection. And since you do most of your jet-propelled sneezing the first day, other people will appreciate it if you stay home, because that's the principal way colds are spread.
Nose-drops can uncork a stuffed-up nose. Aspirin relieves cold-type aches and pains. Antihistamines won't do much for cold symptoms unless you have an allergy of some kind at the same time. However, since many antihistamines have a slight sedative effect, they can make you care less that you have a cold.
—Plenty of fluids are always good for you—make your system perk up. No special value for colds, though.
—Eat anything you feel like eating, but don't gorge yourself. Heavy meals take extra energy to digest and you need all your pep to fight the cold virus.

—Forget about "sweating it out." That only makes you feel weak.
—Try to avoid hopping back and forth from very cold to very hot temperatures. Makes your symptoms worse.

Leading Trainers At Shenandoah

CHARLES TOWN W. Va.—Ver-non Arthur, a perennial among the leading trainer statistics on the West Virginia racing circuit, heads the list of conditioners applying for stall space at Shenandoah Downs, the $4 million night thoroughbred plant here. The track opens its spring meeting April 16.
Arthur, who plans to campaign nearly 20 horses at Shenandoah, is one of the few trainers who can boast of having only one maiden in a string of that size. In addition to his tried winners, the Charles Town conditioner is schooling a pair of promising two-year-olds, Shook Up and Gold Filigree.

Stainless Steel Makes Fashion News

Stainless Steel is making fashion news in smart Spring fashions and in home furnishings. Gloria Wright, called Miss Stainless Steel, is appearing in department stores across the country to show customers bright new fashions for the home in this gleaming, modern metal.
Wearing a wardrobe of stainless steel gray, Miss Wright chooses one of the smart neutrals so popular this year. Her three-season coat of luxurious steel-gray fleece is tailored by Brittany; her afternoon dress is a flattering gray sheath by Suzy Perette.

Clean Play Area Important To Toddlers

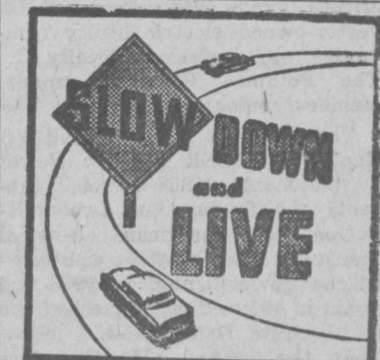

A youngster's imagination is a wonderful thing. There's a pirate's den under the table; a dark cave under the bed; a secret passageway behind the couch. These are areas to be explored on hands and knees, and sometimes flat on the tummy.
But the exploring age is hard on Mom, since it offers a severe challenge to her housekeeping. Toddlers would as soon suck a dirty thumb as a clean one, and every bit of lint or piece of thread goes right into a youngster's mouth. Rather than put a limit on this exciting world of make-believe, wise mothers make sure that the child-size world is as clean as possible. This requires extra emphasis on hidden areas under the furniture and along the baseboards.
A good vacuum cleaner is a life-saver during this period, for it sucks up every bit of dust, and reaches areas which are inconvenient to dust with a cloth. Cleaning experts from the Singer Vacuum Cleaner Division recommend a versatile canister model, such as the Golden Glide, since it may be used with attachments to solve all cleaning problems. For example, the revolving brush attachment is used on rugs and carpets; the wall-floor brush on hard floors, walls, baseboards and moldings; the dusting brush for the wooden parts of playpen and crib; and the crevice tool to reach behind the radiator and other "tight squeeze" spots. The long hose, with the extension wands, will reach clear under beds and couches, to clean all the areas that an imaginative child might explore.
Daily vacuuming will insure a spotlessly clean play area, and a young ranger will find his hideaway cleaned of dust as well as outlaws.

Previous winners Silverdan, Anthony Wayne, Parno Creek, Clinical Proof, Goober Gob, So Big, and Blazing star head up the Arthur barn.
Other conditioners who have applied for stalls at the night track include Joe Serio who will split his large stable between Shenandoah Downs and Bowie; R. L. (Skilly) Gheen, who handles the good runners of Francis L. Harding, Rockville, Md. businessman; Dan Chamblin, whose Greek Ares and Columille accounted for 14 wins between them in 1959; and Bernard B. Burdette, the Clarksburg, Md. trainer whose string includes Twilight Mist, winner of six races last year.

General Manager Bob Leavitt already has begun assembling his official family for the coming season and has announced the appointment of James (Pick) Picarilli as racing secretary. Picarilli will move to Charles Town from Gulfstream Park, Fla., where he is serving as steward.

ORDINANCE 176
An Ordinance entitled an Ordinance levying and providing for the collection of taxes for the calendar year beginning January 1, 1960, said ordinance repealing and re-enacting Ordinance No. 176 of the ordinances of the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Commissioners of Emmitsburg that Ordinance No. 176 of the Ordinances of the Burgess and Commissioners of Emmitsburg be and the same is hereby repealed and re-enacted to read as follows:

SECTION 1. Tax Rate. A tax of seventy cents on every one hundred dollars worth of assessable personal property and real estate is hereby levied for the year beginning January 1, 1960, the same to be collected according to the Acts of the General Assembly of Maryland and this Ordinance.

SECTION 2. Collection of tax. All taxes are due on January 1, 1960. A two per cent (2%) discount will be allowed a taxpayer before February 28th and a one per cent (1%) discount allowed who pays all of his taxes on or if paid in March. Interest shall be charged and collected on all taxes not paid by October first, 1960, interest being at the rate of one-half of one per cent (1/2%) for each month or fraction thereof during which taxes are unpaid after September, 1960. Taxes may be paid in two installments the first of which shall be at least fifty per cent (50%) of the total taxes dues.

SECTION 2. And be it further enacted that this Ordinance shall take effect on January 1, 1960 provided that typewritten copies of this Ordinance shall be displayed for ten (10) days beginning December 14, 1959 at the following places in Emmitsburg, Maryland: (1) The Town Office; (2) the Trial Magistrate's Office; (3) the Topper Insurance Agency Office and (4) the Office of the Emmitsburg Water Company in Frederick County.

Explorer Scouts Hold Meeting

The regular meeting of the Explorer Post 265, sponsored by the Vigilant Hose Co., was held in the Fire Hall Feb. 16. The meeting was called to order at 7 p. m.

The meeting was opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. The minutes of the last meeting were called for and since no notes were taken a discussion was held.

It was reported that the Explorers' Ball was held in Frederick last Saturday night and due to the snow storm, the eight Explorers and young ladies who were planning to attend, were unable to go. The Charter and membership cards were presented by Mr. Sterling White.

Under new business, a discussion on the participation by Explorers at fires was held. It was suggested that the Explorers could help by being present when the siren sounds and only when it is possible which means after school or work hours. They could render such help as roping off areas, making coffee and bringing it to the scene, assisting fire police, guarding property and other incidental duties or assistance as needed.

A suggestion of the possibility of holding a dance for all teenagers, sponsored by the Fire Company, was brought up by some of the members. Ronnie Stouter was appointed chairman of this and will report on it at the next meeting.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:45 p. m.

U. S. Leads World In Electricity Output

The United States not only continues to lead the Soviet Union in electric power supply, but will increase that lead substantially by 1965. This was indicated in a report on the Russian electric industry released Tuesday in New York by the Edison Electric Institute, trade association of investor-owned electric utility companies, and released locally by The Potomac Edison Company, member company of EEL.

The 96-page study, titled "A Report on USSR Electric Power Developments, 1958 - 1959," presents the findings of two delegations of American electrical industry representatives who toured the Soviet Union in 1958 and again in 1959 at the request of the U. S. State Department.

At the end of 1959 the Russians had 59 million kilowatts and the United States had 183 million kilowatts, the report states, giving the U. S. a lead of 124 million kilowatts at that time.

The Russian goal for 1965 in the Soviet seven-year plan is 110-112 million kilowatts. Total capacity for the United States is expected to be 245 million kilowatts in 1965. By that year the gap will have widened to about 134 million kilowatts, an increase of 10 million kilowatts over last year's lead.

In discussing the Soviet goals for 1965 it was pointed out that the present Soviet seven-year plan constitutes a revision of a five-year plan that proved over-optimistic. While original plans called for electric production of 230.2 billion kilowatt-hours in 1957, the actual output was only 209.7 billion kilowatts, the report states, cent under the Soviet goal.

A usually reliable indicator of a nation's total productive capacity and its people's well-being is kilowatt-hour use per capita. For the United States in 1959, this was about 4,481 kilowatt-hours, compared with an estimated 1,161 kilowatt-hours per capita for the Soviet Union. The Russian goal for 1965 is about 2,100 kilowatt-hours while the U. S. is forecasting about 6,000 kilowatt hours per capita for that year.

Postmasters Accepting Heart Fund Donations

You may send your Heart Fund contributions to the local Postmaster again this year.

The Post Office Department has issued instructions to postal officials in cities and towns throughout the country to lend their assistance to the American Heart Association in carrying out its 1960 campaign which is being conducted throughout February.

Contributions may be addressed "Heart" c/o Postmaster, Frederick, Md. They will be delivered to local Heart Fund headquarters and credited to the total of the town shown on the postmark.

This procedure makes it simple for residents, particularly those in rural areas to contribute to the Heart Fund drive. It also eases the burden of the Post Office Department in sorting the huge collection of mail customarily addressed to the Frederick County Heart Association at this period of the year.

Mr. Bruce E. Crum, General Fund Chairman, expressed the Heart Fund's thanks for the Post Office Department's assistance, adding that its co-operation has contributed significantly to the success of previous Frederick County Heart Association campaigns.

Contributions may also be delivered to Heart Fund headquarters, 118 West Church Street, in Frederick, and to volunteers who will make a door-to-door collection in residential areas on Heart Sunday, Feb. 28.

Building Permits Granted

Two building permits were granted this week in Frederick for the construction of property in the Emmitsburg District.

Permits were issued as follows:

A $500 post and frame cattle shelter was approved for a 153-acre farm on Bull Frog Road, to be constructed by Otis Shoemaker of Route 2, Taneytown.

A permit was approved for a $17,600 six-room brick veneer house with bath and basement in Emmit Gardens to be completed this year by Earl Sanders of Gettysburg for Luther Cregger of Emmitsburg.

Divorce Granted

Mariann Ripka of Emmitsburg has been granted an absolute divorce from Richard M. Ripka of Miami, Fla. The complainant was granted custody of two infant children. E. Austin James was attorney for the plaintiff.

Mentzer Services Held

Funeral services were held from St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, Friday morning for Miss Alma Gertrude Mentzer, 75, who died at her home, 339 East Main St., Tuesday. The Rev. James T. Twomey officiated and interment was in the new St. Joseph's Cemetery, Emmitsburg. The pallbearers were: Warren Gelwicks, John White, Henry Warthen, Daniel Topper, John Lingg and Alan Gelwicks.

Receiving Applications For Fairfield Postmaster

Applications for the examination to be given for postmaster at Fairfield, paying $4,990 a year, will be received up to March 8, it was announced this week by the Civil Service Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harner, Philadelphia, visited over the weekend with Mrs. Harner's father, Felix Adams, and her sister, Miss Louise Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitzer and family have returned to their home in Woodbury, N. J., after spending several days with Mrs. Pitzer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold.

Miss Yvonne Topper, Baltimore, spent the weekend at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Topper, De Paul St.

A peacetime mission of the U. S. Navy was to suppress slave traffic. On Dec. 21, 1859, the USS Constitution ("Old Ironsides"), under Capt. I. Nicholas, captured the slave brig Delicia.
