Again tragedy has befallen our small community. Practically one entire family has been eliminated from our midst during the past week. We read weekly in the paper of such accidents but we feel that the victims are someone far removed from Emmitsburg and rarely give it a second thought. As in the past, tragedy has again struck locally which proves that we are as prone to accidents as anyone else. May this fateful event remind each of us of the continued need to guard against accidents of all kinds. To the families of the victims is extended the heartfelt sympathy of a community which deeply feels the sorrows which befall our neighbors and friends.

The first of the 1960 political conventions is now history. This convention was probably unique in this sort of thing since it was the first viewed by so many voters via television. The delegates were sent to Los Angeles by the voters of their respective state and their actions and votes during the convention were watched directly by millions of the delegates constituents. There was less opportunity to decide issues behind closed doors and was attested to by the telegrams received by the presiding officer. The people of the nation demanded an explanation when their particular delegates were not in their seats for the business sessions. The old Democratic names, Roosevelt, Stevenson, etc. were all in the fore throughout the convention but the spoils were carried off by a comparatively young man. The Kennedy camp has shown the nation that the campaign was effectively carried out and judging from the vote on the ballot which nominated John Kennedy it is apparent that he has touched on most geographical areas, problems, etc. which presently exist within our country. There will continue to be statistics of all types circulated as to just why and how the nominee won the required number of votes and these results will be interesting to note. It is the consensus of opinion of a great many of the reporters who covered the convention that religion is no longer of prime importance in selecting a candidate and I personally think that this is just as it should be. We are free to select what is good for each of us, our political affiliation, religion, etc., and I do not feel that we should judge or permit anyone to be judged merely on the basis of affiliation with the church, party, etc. of his choice. How we feel about the personal qualifications of any candidate is very much our business and it is the duty of each of us to make this feeling known in the election but it is not the wisest thing to do in my opinion to judge finally on the basis of some affiliation with which we do not happen to be a part. It will be very interesting to note the replies of next week's convention to the charges and attacks of last week's and if you were one of the few who did not watch television last week, I certainly urge you to do so and see for yourself what scrutinization a man must undergo before he can finally solicit our vote in a general election. These conventions make us aware of the problems of our times and more than ever demand that we give serious thought, regardless of political and religious affiliation, to the candidate of our choice. We should each consider, discuss, and finally vote for the man we think is best qualified to run our country for the next four years—and, oh yes, we might even be called upon to lend financial support to our candidate which will be the true test as to just how capable we feel he really is!

LICENSES REVOKED

The State Dept. of Motor Vehicles this week announced the revocation of the drivers' licenses of William J. Matthews, R2, Thurmont, and James L. Fuss, R1, Thurmont. At the same time the department announced the suspension for one month the license of Sterling Raymond Sanders, R2, Emmitsburg.

Three Members Of Haley Family Drown

The lives of three members of a young Emmitsburg family were snuffed out last Sunday afternoon by drowning. The fatal mishap occurred when Joseph Patrick Haley, 24, his wife Mary, 25, and their young son, Joseph P. Haley, Jr., 4, were thrown from a small 14-foot motor boat while on a fishing trip to Tighman's Island near Easton, Md.

The accident occurred when the small craft capsized with two children and five adults aboard. Rescued after being in the water for two hours, hanging to the capsized boat were the two sisters of the dead man, Rebecca and Susan Haley, Scovey Sell, Taneytown, a friend, and the six-year-old daughter of the victim, Josephine Haley.

The child's body was recovered about 9 p. m. Sunday and at 7 o'clock Monday morning, an hour after dragging operations had resumed, the mother's body was located.

Tuesday morning about 8:20 o'clock searchers in a boat bound for dragging operations in the area of the tragedy sighted the body of the father, floating about a quarter mile from the scene of the tragedy, and pulled it from the Chesapeake Bay waters.

Boats and skindivers continued the search for the father's body. The 14-foot outboard motor boat in which they had been fishing foundered north of Tighman Island in Harris Creek at the entrance of Dun Cove, according to Maryland State Police.

They were treated at Easton Memorial Hospital, where Josephine was admitted for observation. The other Haleys were taken to an uncle in Easton, police said.

Coast Guardsmen and Tidewater Fisheries Commission employees began searching and dragging soon after the accident at 7 p. m. Two hours later a pilot for the fisheries commission, Edward Whipp, spotted the child's body. Capt. Weldon Bridges of the commission recovered the body.

The search for the parents ended at 10:30 p. m. but was resumed at dawn Monday.

Police said Harris Creek where the boat went down is about 20 feet deep and currents there are strong.

Mr. Haley was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph "Cy" Haley, of Emmitsburg. The father is a building contractor and his son, the drowning victim, worked for him.

The victim was a member of the Vigilant Hose Co. and of the St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Emmitsburg. In addition to his parents and grandmother, Mrs. Mary M. Stouter, Emmitsburg, he is survived by the daughter, Josephine, who was rescued after the boat capsized; two brothers, John of Baltimore and Gerald, at home, and the two sisters, who also were in the boating party but were rescued.

Mrs. Haley is the former Mary Rentsel and was the daughter of Lee and Stella (Ginter) Rentsel, Fairfield R2.

She is survived by her parents, the daughter, Josephine; these brothers and sisters; Mrs. Elizabeth Pittinger, Taneytown, R2; Lawrence, Henry, Helen, Frances and Charles, all at home. These grandparents also survive: Mr. and Mrs. William Rentsel, Fairfield R1, and Charles Ginter, of McKnightstown.

The son, Joseph Patrick Haley, Jr., is survived by his sister, Josephine; by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Merle Haley of Emmitsburg; by his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rentsel; by his maternal great grandfather, Charles Ginter, McKnightstown and by his maternal great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rentsel of Fairfield R1.

The Sodality of St. Joseph's Church said the Rosary at the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, Wednesday evening.

Requiem Mass was celebrated at 10 o'clock Thursday morning with the Rev. Fr. Martin J. Sleasman officiating. Interment was in the new St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Pallbearers for Mrs. Haley and son were Leo Ginter, Guy Ginter, B. O. Miller, Roland Pittinger, Henry Rentsel and Lawrence Rentsel. For Mr. Haley, Guy R. McGlaughlin, Robert C. Gelwicks, Allen P. Stoner, Thomas White, James Kemp and Robert L. Kooztz, all members of the Vigilant Hose Co.

Local Girl Crowned "Miss Harney"

Miss Judy K. Valentine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Valentine, Emmitsburg, R2, was elected "Queen of the Harney Firemen" at the annual contest held last Thursday evening as part of the yearly festival of the Harney Fire Company. She will next compete in a Carroll County contest for county firemen's queen.

Miss Valentine was crowned by Miss Judith Elaine Kooztz, who was the queen during the last year.

Linda Gerald was the second place winner in the event with Janet McKinney receiving third prize.

Other contestants included Sandra Wise, Darline Shaffer, Ann Eckard, Joan Rinehart, Rebecca Reaver, Susan McGlaughlin, Rose Mary Switzer and Donno Sentz.

A $25 prize was given the first place winner. Other prizes were awarded the other contestants.

County Girl Scouts Conclude Encampment

Ninety-six girls between the ages of nine and sixteen recently returned from twelve wonderful days at Camp Misty Mount in Catoctin Mountain Park, near Thurmont. This form of Girl Scout program called Established Camp is the first one to be held by the Frederick County Council since its incorporation, and represents two years of preparatory effort on the part of many volunteers in Scouting and many friends to Scouting throughout the county.

The camp program, which was a continuation of the regular Girl Scout program in an out-of-door setting had as its objectives, to stimulate enjoyment and appreciation of the out-of-doors through progressively adventures experiences, to provide training in citizenship through the give and take of community living, in which each girl has a part in planning and carrying out of the camping program, and to contribute to the physical, mental, and spiritual well-being of each camper and to help develop in her such qualities as resourcefulness, initiative and self-reliance.

In groups of twenty-four, divided according to age and experience, the girls lived in units or groups of cabins or tents, and ate most of their meals in the central dining hall, where all campers had duties called "Kaperas." Each unit planned and carried out its own activities which included working on badges connected with out-of-door skills, nature, conservation, and some creative crafts, such as basketry and ceramics.

All campers participated in swimming instruction, various kinds of hikes, (many with the Ranger - Naturalist), cook-outs, evening camp fires, square dancing, morning and evening color ceremonies, an a "Scouts Own" inspirational service. Some of the older girls participated in a class in canoe instruction, and the Pioneer group hiked a day and spent the night on the Appalachian Trail.

Father John Hart from Thurmont conducted Mass each Sunday morning. Rev. William E. Chantlos, Emmitsburg, conducted Protestant services on the two Sunday afternoons.

The camp fee, which each girl paid, covered staff salaries, medical supplies, food, and program supplies. This fee was kept at a relatively low figure due to the fact that the operating expenses for the camp were provided by the Community Chest-Red Cross-United Appeal, of which the Girl Scout Council is a member agency. Miss Elizabeth O'Melveny, Emmitsburg, attended the camp. Mrs. Bruce A. Flowers and William Wagoner were local staff representatives.

Linda Gerald was the second place winner in the event with Janet McKinney receiving third prize.

Other contestants included Sandra Wise, Darline Shaffer, Ann Eckard, Joan Rinehart, Rebecca Reaver, Susan McGlaughlin, Rose Mary Switzer and Donno Sentz.

A $25 prize was given the first place winner. Other prizes were awarded the other contestants.

Rare Disease Responsible For Youth's Death

Six weeks of scientific investigation in the laboratories of the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, have blamed a rare condition of a lymph gland in the neck as the cause of death of Wesley Glenn Sanders, 17-year-old Fairfield High School graduate, who died suddenly while at work near Zora on June 7.

Sanders, who had been graduated from Fairfield High School in May and had been accepted for service in the U. S. Marine Corps in August, had gone to the Zora Hereford farm to work with a group of four other men. They were stacking baled hay in a barn and Sanders had been talking and joking with them when he fell to the ground and died.

An autopsy was ordered by Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, who this week received from Dr. H. C. Johnson, Warner Hospital pathologist, the final report showing Sanders died of "acute gastro-enteritis associated with status thymicolymphaticus."

Dr. Johnson reported the condition is a "very rare one" and the first encountered by the Warner Hospital laboratory.

"Thymicolymphaticus" was once thought to be a cause of sudden death, Dr. Johnson said, but now is believed to be related to other conditions. It involves the thymus gland and lymphoid tissue is involved along with the adrenal glands, the pathologist explained.

Medical dictionaries describe the thymus as a "two-lobed body in the neck and thorax of an infant." It appears to be a true lymph gland, the dictionary says, and wastes away normally about the second year and usually has disappeared by the 13th year of a child's life. The gland, the dictionary says, seems to have a function in connection with the formation of blood.

The acute gastro-enteritis referred to in the report was described, as inflammation of the gastro-intestinal tract or an upset stomach.

The funeral of young Sanders was held June 10 from the Wilson Funeral Home at Fairfield and he was buried in the Fairfield Union Cemetery.

Dr. Crist said he will sign the death certificate on the basis of Dr. Johnson's report and will mark the case "closed."

Little League

The Red Sox clinched first half honors in the Little League with a 19-2 win over the Giants Friday evening. Jerry Orndorff belted his sixth homer of the season during the contest.

No games were scheduled this week with the second half play to begin Monday evening at 6:15 p. m.

Anniversary Services Here For Saint Louise

Commemorative services honoring the Tercentenary of the death of Saint Louise de Marillac, Co-founder of the world-wide organization of the Daughters of Charity of Saint Vincent de Paul, will be held in Emmitsburg on Tuesday, July 26. The American Community of the Daughters of Charity will honor the anniversary of the death of the eminent woman of France who gave organized charity and social work to the world. The Most Rev. John A. O'Shea, C.M., D.D., of the St. Vincent de Paul Novitiate in Ridgefield, Conn., will be the Celebrant of the Pontifical Mass which will highlight the activities here. The Assistant Priest for the Mass will be the Very Rev. Sylvester A. Taggart, V.C.M., of St. Vincent's Seminary, in Philadelphia. A sermon in honor of Saint Louise will be delivered by the Very Rev. Joseph Tinnelly, C.M., of the Vincentian Father's Residence in Brooklyn, N. Y. The choir from the Vincentian Seminary in Northampton, Pa., will alternate with the Seminarian Sisters of the Daughters of Charity in singing the Mass.

Other officers for the Pontifical Mass include: Deacons of Honor, the Very Rev. Vincent Swords, of Niagara University, and the Very Rev. John Flynn, of St. John's University, in Jamaica, N. Y.; Deacon of the Mass, Rev. Joseph Dunne, C.M., of St. Joseph's College in Princeton, N. J.; Subdeacon will be Rev. James Fitzgerald, of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Bangor, Pa.; Master of Ceremonies, Rev. Joseph O'Donnell, from Mary Immaculate Seminary in Northampton, Pa.; and the Assistant Master of Ceremonies will be Rev. Mr. James Smith, of the Mary Immaculate Seminary, in Northampton, Pa. The officers of the Mass are all members of the order of the Congregation of the Mission, the Vincentian Fathers.

The Tercentenary tribute will be offered jointly by the Daughters of Charity and the Vincentian Fathers. Both religious orders were founded by Saint Vincent de Paul, who also died in 1660. Saint Louise de Marillac, co-founder and first superior of the Daughters of Charity, died on March 15, 1660. It was Louise de Marillac who, in 1633, was selected by St. Vincent de Paul to train young women to assist a group of generous laywomen, known as the Ladies of Charity. Their aim was to relieve the miseries of the sick and poor of the times. Louise, widow of the royal secretary Antoine Le Gras, devoted her advanced education and her devotion to the needy in preparing the peasant girls of France to conduct schools, nurse the sick in their own homes or in hospitals, visit the poor and provide for their needs. They also undertook the care of foundlings, the insane and the aged. These social services as pursued by the followers of Saint Louise and Saint Vincent de Paul in France more than 300 years ago form the basis for the activities of the more than 43,000 Daughters of Charity on missions in all parts of the world today.

In further recognition of her contributions to social service, Saint Louise de Marillac was recently proclaimed by Pope John XXIII as the Patroness of Social Works.

The American Sisters of Charity, founded in Emmitsburg in 1809 by Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, became associated with the French Sisters, the Daughters of Charity, in 1850. Saint Joseph College, in Emmitsburg, annually awards the Saint Louise de Marillac Medal for conspicuous service to one's neighbor.

Attends School

Mrs. George Wilhide attended the school of missions at Western Maryland College, Westminster, July 10-15. The school is sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Baltimore Conference of the Methodist Church. Four courses were offered of which Mrs. Wilhide chose "Into All the World Together," taught by Mrs. Barbara Lavery of Washington, D. C. Mrs. Joseph Condon and Mrs. Eugene Hardman attended the school on Wednesday, which was visitor's day.

Triple Funeral Services Held

Largely-attended funeral services with a Requiem Mass was celebrated in St. Joseph's Catholic Church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Haley and their four-year-old son, Joseph Jr., right, who were drowned when their 14-foot boat capsized near Tighman Island last Sunday. Pictured with her parents is Josephine Haley, aged six, who was rescued along with her aunts, Rebecca and Susan Haley and Scovey Sells of Taneytown.

Carnival Opens To Large Crowd; Will Continue Through Saturday

Attendance was described as fair at the opening of the annual carnival on Firemen's Field last night.

This is the fourth consecutive year the Indian Lookout Conservation Club of Emmitsburg has sponsored the carnival and indications are that despite the abbreviated period in which the affair is being held it will be a comparable success with those of former years. In previous years the event was held for an entire week but this year it was decided to shorten the time to three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

James Kemp, president, announced that all sorts of entertainment and rides were available for the kiddies and additional entertainment is available for the adults. Pony rides for the kiddies will be featured and bingo will be available for those adults desiring to play.

On Saturday night the Emmitsburg Municipal Band will supply the musical entertainment and there will be a number of those popular cakewalks which have been held in previous years.

On display during the affair will be a special wild life game exhibit which is furnished through the courtesy of the Maryland Games and Fish Commission.

Each night during the affair, numerous ground prizes will be given away and on Saturday night, five big prizes will be awarded. They are: First, Schultz & Larsen Model 60 rifle, 7x61 Sharpe & Hart caliber, 4x Bushnell scope; second, Remington Wingmaster 16-gauge pump; third, Remington Fieldmaster .22 rifle; fourth, Savage Model 24 O-U .22/410; fifth, Remington Sportmaster .22 rifle.

Presbyterian Church Planning 200th Anniversary Here Next Month

In conjunction with the 200th anniversary of the Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church a history of the local church has been compiled and is about to be published, in book form. The anniversary will be observed next month and a program has been mapped out for the event.

The history of the Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church goes back to the pre-Revolutionary War day. During the period of the French and Indian War, some of the folk of the village organized a congregation.

The minutes of the Presbytery of Donegal, show that the Rev. Robert McMorde was appointed to supply at "Monakasy" on the second sabbath of September 1760.

The date of the original formal church building is not known but the original name was Toms Creek Church, and the building was located one mile north of Emmitsburg along the Gettysburg road. The Presbyterian cemetery is still located there. The founder of the town of Emmitsburg is buried there.

In 1839 the entire church building was moved into Emmitsburg to occupy the property where the Presbyterian Church now stands.

In April 1867, the Session of Toms Creek applied to the Presbytery for a change of name and the name was changed to Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church.

In 1879, the entire church building was taken down and a new church was built in its place. This building was to last only until August 28, 1902 when it was struck by lightning and was burned to the ground.

The members of the church in the early part of this century, built a beautiful gothic-style edifice with lovely stained-glass windows and high vaulted ceilings. Except for some remodeling in 1950, this is the present day Presbyterian Church of Emmitsburg.

On Friday, August 26, 1960, there will be a Bicentennial Anniversary Service at the church with greetings by the pastor of the church, Rev. William M. Hendricks, a history of the church by Rev. John Ross Hays, a son of the Emmitsburg church, and comments by other guest ministers. This service will be followed by a social hour.

The Bicentennial Worship Service will be held Sunday, August 28. The sermon for this service will be given by Rev. George P. Kerr, D.D., Associate Secretary Department of Town and Country, of the Board of National Missions. The public is cordially invited to all the Bicentennial activities.

Efforts To Reroute Highway Thwarted

Efforts of Taneytown and Wayneboro to reroute Route 140 will "not be considered" until after 1963, according to a letter from the Pennsylvania State Highway Department to the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce.

Julian Estep, president of the Chamber, recently released details of a letter received from Pennsylvania Secretary of Highways Park H. Martin in reply to interrogations made by the Chamber of Commerce after it was announced that Taneytown and Wayneboro were seeking to have U. S. Route 140 run from Taneytown through Emmitsburg and Wayneboro to McConnellsburg.

Waynesboro, in approving the idea, quoted A. H. Carpenter, chairman of the roads improvement committee of the Taneytown Chamber, as holding a Taneytown - Wayneboro-McConnellsburg route would "provide a more direct route between the market centers of Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Cleveland."

mission of Maryland in regard to this matter and both agencies have agreed that it would not be advisable to consider such a change at this time, certainly not until after the Centennial of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Early in June, the Wayneboro Chamber of Commerce wrote to the State Secretary of Highways indicating approval of the project proposed by Taneytown that Rt. 140 be routed from Taneytown to Emmitsburg, Blue Ridge Summit, Wayneboro, connecting with Route 30 at McConnellsburg.

Waynesboro, in approving the idea, quoted A. H. Carpenter, chairman of the roads improvement committee of the Taneytown Chamber, as holding a Taneytown - Wayneboro-McConnellsburg route would "provide a more direct route between the market centers of Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Cleveland."

THIS 'N THAT

GEORGE W. WIREMAN

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles dealing with Civil Defense and the important part it plays in our everyday life. With world conditions as they are today there is a great need for the public to be educated to the facts regarding Civil Defense and the part we must play in making it effective and useful, if and when we are called upon to use its services in an emergency.

Civil Defense Today

Last week I outlined some of the things that have been done to build up our Civil Defense program to the point where we find it today. I also outlined the many agencies that have contributed to the success of the Civil Defense program, as outlined by J. Franklin Fox, Frederick County Regional Officer of the Maryland Civil Defense agency. If you recall, I mentioned last week that this week I would cover the subject of "stockpiling" as related to Civil Defense and the important part it plays in our present state of readiness. The facts below were compiled by Mr. Fox and from these we can obtain some worthwhile information as to just what has been done and how we stand today in our readiness program.

"Perhaps the most tangible evidence of our present state of readiness is provided by Federal stockpiles of critical and strategic materials to meet the requirements of possible emergency situations. We now have more than seven billion dollars represented by many materials that have been stockpiled. These include 73 kinds of materials, 216 dispersed locations hold great supplies of crude rubber, minerals and metals, all necessary for defense production. There are other strategic materials, machine tools and so on, in 43 scattered locations, and here can be found more than 219 million dollars worth of medical and engineering items which would be in greatest demand in the event of an emergency, such as we must anticipate."

"A source of stored food items that would be available for our immediate use in case of such an emergency is the great inventory of commodities acquired by the Federal Government under price support programs and which are stored largely in commercial stockpiles by the commodity credit corporation. More than 1600 200-bed hospitals stand ready to be put into operation in relatively safe locations in small towns such as town halls, schools, churches, armories and other structures that are suitable for hospital use."

"An additional sixty to seventy such emergency hospitals are presently being used by states on a loan basis for training. Twelve of these were loaned to states in region two. All are ready for use in an emergency if the need should be indicated for their distribution, there are some 42,500 masks tested against such lethal agents as nerve-gas. These are now held ready for any emergency in strategically located warehouses. We also have about 5 and one-half million doses of atropine, the counter-acting drug against the nerve-gas. Similarly dispersed for detection of agents of chemical warfare, we have some 5000 detection kits Federal and State locations."

"It should be noted that many manufacturers of medical supplies of all kinds maintain stockpiles of their products, right on their own premises, for possible emergency need for Civil Defense. Such products include vaccines and other medicines which are rotated in schedules to constantly assure their freshness and potency. In the engineering field, we have 45 stockpiles, dispersed throughout the nation. Thirteen of these are located in region two. These are especially devised to maintain pure water supplies and water distribution; since their establishment, the materials have on a number of occasions been used for emergency disaster relief. At this moment the State and local communities of the nation have well over $164,000,000 worth of engineering equipment, radiological defense items, medical and communications equipment, ready for operational use. This has been purchased with half the cost being borne by the Federal Government under the matching funds program."

"Federal surplus property has also provided States and local communities with motor vehicles, trailers, rescue and fire-fighting equipment as well as crash trucks, communications equipment, electrical generators and other items well worth more than $92,000,000. These items have tremendously increased the national status of readiness but have placed little financial burden upon communities where they are now standing by for emergency service."

"The national plan for Civil Defense and Defense Mobilization has given us solid ground upon which to establish the facilities of readiness for any emergency. All agencies of the Federal Government now understand their responsibilities and function very clearly. All of the states in Region 2 especially have completed their own operational survival plans. These plans as originally anticipated, will never be complete and final enough to cover the contingencies of a possible enemy attack, with weapons they are constantly varying in their effectiveness of manner of delivery. We are certain, however, that if an enemy attack should be launched against this nation, or, if some great natural calamity should occur, we do now have the guide lines for effective action, to prevent, minimize, repair and recover from injury and damage."

"I think," Mr. Fox related here, "that we can take much heart from the progress that has been made to date. But, instead of pausing to shake hands with ourselves, we must get on with the job."

At this point I might add to

Mr. Fox's remarks, that in Civil Defense there is no hand shaking. It's our interest in our safety and well-being that count and although we have come a long way in Civil Defense work, we still have a long way to go. And believe it or not, there are still some people who claim they are American citizens and love their country, but feel that Civil Defense is a bunch of foolishness. To these people, I might say that we can never learn enough about Civil Defense and its many aims which all point to the safety and well-being of every American citizen in the event of an enemy attack. Should such an attack occur tonight it is these people that would be the first to come running, crying "what should I do? Where should I go? What can I do to help?" But then it will be too late. They must learn about Civil Defense now and be ready to put the program in action the minute an attack has been made. After the bomb has been dropped, it's too late to go wondering about trying to learn what is the right thing to do and the right place to go. It is these people that will suffer greatly in the event of an attack, and not the people who have worked hard, in their spare time, learning about the readiness of the Civil Defense program and what to do. They will be putting their facts and energies to work. The rest will be standing by asking for aid when they should be an active part of Civil Defense.

Mr. Fox continues: "Our first objective, as defined in Section 2 of the national plan, is to 'deter either limited or general war.' The present state of readiness, as I have been outlining it here, mainly demonstrates our capability for handling the CONSEQUENCES of war. As such, it is a strong deterrent, but the greatest effectiveness of our efforts will be realized only when we have convinced the great majority of our citizens that their own safety and personal readiness, can be the deciding factor of an enemy's decision of whether or not he dares to attack this nation."

At this point I might mention the fact about our "Operation Alert," several of which have been held in this area and which have not been taken very seriously. In talking with Mr. Fox, I find that he agrees with me on the fact that to get the majority of our American citizens interested in Civil Defense, it will take another "Pearl Harbor." This we do not want to see happen, but I know, and so does all of those interested citizens who are connected with Civil Defense and those who help maintain its many agencies, that the Civil Defense program is as serious as maintaining a home and earning a living. Upon the entire structure of Civil Defense depends the safety, welfare, and survival of all the citizens of these United States in the event of an enemy attack.

Next week both Mr. Fox and the writer of this column will discuss the need for more interest in Civil Defense and how you as an individual can take an active part in its program. This, we must remember, in the event of an enemy attack, Civil Defense stands between us and our very survival. Without it, we are like an army going into battle without any weapons. We are defenseless.

Some are bent with toil, and some get crooked trying to avoid it.

Experience is what you get when you're looking for something else.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Equine Millionaires

Seventy-odd years ago the racing world was agog over the prowess of Miss Woodford, the first $100,000 winner in America, and Iroquois, American-bred Epsom Derby winner which had earned a like amount in England. Today we are similarly impressed by Woodford and Iroquois, each of which has earned over $1,000,000.

It remains to be seen whether in 50 years or so the golden records of this trio of millionaires will, like those of Miss Woodford and Iroquois, have turned to yellowing pages in the record book. It wasn't too long ago when a horse that earned $100,000 in his lifetime was newsworthy. Today, no less than a dozen have earned more than $100,000 just since the first of the year, Ballyhatche topping the list with $439,045.

These days it is possible for a horse to earn $100,000, or the greater part of it, in any of 39 races. Four horses will do so on July 30. Miss Woodford raced 48 times, winning 37, to earn $118,270 in her lifetime. On July 30 the Delaware Handicap, for fillies and mares, will be worth a gross of $150,000. Three other $100,000 races that day are: Aqueduct's Brooklyn Handicap, the Arlington Park Futurity and Monmouth Park's Sorority Stakes.

Children Attending Heart Camp

Under the sponsorship of the Frederick County Heart Association, three boys and three girls left Monday morning for Camp Pleasant, Dunfries, Va. (boys), and for Camp Goodwill, Prince William Forest, Triangle, Va. (girls). These camps are devoted entirely to boys and girls who have been victims of rheumatic fever, or cardiac patients who are well on the road to recovery.

The three boys are James Johnson, from Frederick, Leo T. Lewis from Thurmont, and George Weatherholt from near Frederick. The three girls are Aleta and Nancy Eichelberger from Frederick and Marion Harmon from near Johnsville.

Ranging in ages from 9 to 13, the youngsters at those camps enjoy activities very much the same as those experienced by others at a regular camp—only at a slower pace and somewhat curtailed time limit. Included are swimming, nature study, hikes, crafts, dramatics and games.

Housed in cabins, six children and a counselor to each cabin, the campers are at all times under the supervision of a doctor and a nurse. Their meals are prepared at the direction of a dietitian, a paid member of the camp trained staff.

Mrs. James Kline is chairman of Transportation for the Frederick County Heart Association. Mr. and Mrs. Kline drove the six Frederick County children to Washington Monday morning where they joined the other Maryland children and proceeded to the camps by bus. On Saturday, July 30, Mr. and Mrs. Kline will meet the campers in Washington and return them to Frederick where they will be met by their parents at noon, at Winchester Hall.

OUR STATE UNIVERSITY

An estimated 2,000 freshmen will attend sessions of the University of Maryland's pre-college program August 1 to September 2.

The program, initiated last year, is designated to bridge the gap between high school and college. It introduces the new student to university life, to the college division in which he is enrolling, and to a small group of his future classmates.

Members of the Freshman-class-to-be spend two days at the university. Five groups of about 25 students will enter each week-day throughout the month.

The pre-college briefing will cover such specifics as the mechanics of registration, financial aid, scholarship and employment opportunities, and library facilities.

Also covered will be the student's role as a university citizen, the facts of university life, and the objectives of his college division.

Student groups participating in the program are encouraged to form themselves into new student clubs. The clubs, a success last year, provide each student with a circle of friends for Fall Orientation Week.

The program is under the general charge of B. James Borreson, executive dean for student life. Ten upperclassmen are employed by the university to serve as counselors and guides to the freshmen during their pre-college visit.

Tax Reports Due August 1

Employers are reminded by Ellis R. Rogers, Acting District Director of Internal Revenue for the Baltimore District, that several types of tax returns are due on or before August 1, 1960, since the normal due date of July 31 falls on Sunday.

Returns are due for the three months ending June 30, 1960 from the following: Employers who file quarterly Federal tax return card form 941 for reporting withholding taxes on employees and Schedule 941-A for reporting Social Security taxes. These forms must be filed together to insure proper credit for the second quarter 1960.

Employers who have domestic servants such as cooks, janitors, maids, chauffeurs and other workers who perform services of a household nature, are subject to social security taxes (Form 942) if $50 was paid in wages in the second quarter of 1960.

Returns from persons liable for quarterly excise tax returns (Form 720) are also due on the above date. Excise taxes include taxes on facilities and services, manufacturing excise taxes and taxes on products and commodities. Where the withholding, social security and excise taxes exceed $100.00 a month, the depositary receipt system must be used.

Employers are requested to use the pre-addressed forms received in the mail. It helps to expedite the handling of the returns and insures proper credit to the account.

A speaker who does not strike oil in twenty minutes should stop boring.

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God that giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not, and it shall be given to him.—(James 1:5.)

What is the right thing to do? What shall I do or say about this? Even the wisest man will sometimes have his doubts. But Almighty God always will hear a devout, unselfish prayer for His guidance, and answer it.

A FAMILY CAMPING VACATION IS TOPS FOR FUN, LEISURE, AND ECONOMY. HERE ARE SOME TIPS TO MAKE CAMP COOKING EASY:
BUILD FIRE BETWEEN PARALLEL LOGS OR IN U-SHAPED STONE ENCLOSURE. KEEP THE FIRE SMALL. SUSPEND BUCKET FOR HOT WATER. TO GET KINDLING AFTER RAIN, SPLIT LOG, CUT DRY WOOD FROM INSIDE.
RUB SOAP ON OUTSIDE OF POTS AND PANS BEFORE USING. SOOT WILL WASH OFF EASIER.

ABUNDANT LIFE
by ORAL ROBERTS
THE TRUTH ABOUT GOD
The most important subject in the universe is God. It is absolutely essential to the happiness of people to know God. Yet there are millions to whom God is an unreal, vague, mystical being. They do not know nor understand Him.
Who is God? What is the truth about God?
First, His rank is supreme. His power, rule and reign transcend all earthly rulers and all human thrones and powers. He knows no boundaries, either by miles or men.
Second, God is the source of all life. He created all life and made man His masterpiece. He made him a giant—spiritually, mentally, physically.
Third, God is the source of all power. He is the only self-existing Being. He is the only Being not dependent upon anything or anybody. Yet upon Him all other beings are dependent.
Fourth, God's youth is eternal. The word that best expresses God and is most descriptive of His being is the word Jehovah—the God who has been; the God who is now; the God who shall always be.
God Himself said, "I change not." He is forever young.
God knew our finite minds could not comprehend the mystery of Himself as a self-existing spirit. So the Son of God came in the likeness of flesh, took on the form of a human being and began to express God to the human family. When you know Jesus, you will understand God.
What was Jesus like? He was perfect in strength. He was never sick. Disease never marred His flesh. Mentally, Jesus was perfect intelligence, perfect wisdom. His spirit was perfect love.
If you want to know more about God, listen to the voice and speech of Jesus. It was a perfect voice.
What is God like? His rank is supreme. He is the source of all life. He is the source of all power. His existence is eternal. His youth is eternal. His embodiment is in Jesus Christ of Nazareth.
How can we express God? We can express God best in one word: love. For God is love. It is for this reason that He gives good things to the world. That is why all things that are good come from God. It is love, constantly and never endingly shown, that makes us realize that God is a good God.

grave responsibility — to safeguard their channels of information against Communist subversion and influence. Equally important is the responsibility to adequately inform the people of the true nature of Communism and of the positive values inherent in our American system. Scarcely any of the communications services have fully carried out these responsibilities. There are some noteworthy examples, however, of outstanding service to the nation.

National Recognition

In the old red barn at Valley Forge where Gen. George Washington quartered his horses (and sometimes some of his men) in the winter of 1777, one of America's great daily newspapers, the San Diego Evening Tribune, last February 22 received the Freedoms Foundation Abraham Lincoln award for "distinctive service to its community and its country." The award winning service was a series of editorials on the American heritage. But this was merely one project in the Tribune's continuing contribution to building a better informed American citizenry.

In fact, the entire Cotley newspaper chain has been outstanding in bringing about a greater appreciation of the American way of life and alerting its communities to the true nature of the Communist conspiracy which seeks to destroy our nation and enslave the world. The Tribune's sister publication, the daily San Diego Union, has recently been publishing a series of editorials designated to strengthen our nation through citizen understanding.

A Publisher's Policy

James S. Copley, publisher and editorial director, is largely responsible for this wonderful policy of patriotic service in the Copley newspapers, published in the Midwest and on the Pacific coast. In the instance of the San Diego Union and Tribune, others to whom credit is due include William Shea, associate publisher; Richard F. Pourade, editor emeritus; the executive and managing editors, and Newell Jones and Jack Tucker, editorial writers. The two San Diego dailies go beyond the editorial pages and news columns in their citizenship service. They employ such men as Paul Terry, former Navy Commander, and others to work with business, industries, civic organizations, the schools and other groups in the furtherance of American citizenship education.

Recently the National Education Program's new filmstrip, "Communism on the Map," was shown to the executive staff and editors of the two newspapers. As a result it will be shown to the 1100 employees of the papers and will be recommended to the executive and editorial staffs of all the other Copley papers. Feature articles on this dramatic filmstrip, documenting the Communist encirclement of the United States, are being carried to the 2,000,000 people served by the two newspapers.

Attention: All Editors

This is a notable example of American journalism at its best—at a time when our nation needs the help of every agency of communication. Publisher James Copley says: "If we have made Americans aware of the assaults of the socialistic and communistic conspiracy upon our way of life, then we are worthy of the responsibility we hold as newspaper men and women." This is an attitude which I commend to the attention of all publishers, editors and writers.

A series of the Tribune's award-winning editorials have been published in a vivid full color brochure with illustrations from some of our nation's great art galleries. It is a stimulating and inspiring document. It is to be hoped that editorial writers throughout America will write for copies. If we can get the great American press, with all of its thought-shaping potential, fully committed to its responsibility in the war we're in, it can be a decisive factor in achieving victory—halting and pushing back the

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Romans 8:9-15.

If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above. (Colossians 3:1.)

On the slope of a high peak in the Swiss Alps is a lonely grave. A wooden cross stands above the snow, but the name of the mountaineer is not there. One reads there only a simple stirring inscription:

"He died climbing."
He died climbing! What a wonderful spirit in which to live life—climbing, living honorably and usefully, to the very end! That man was not content to be half way up—he wanted to be at the top! Then only could he be satisfied. What a wonderful testimony of spirit!

I believe it is significant that Jesus was crucified on a hill. His final journey on earth was an uphill one. He bore His cross. He climbed. He struggled. He reached the top. He triumphed.

Our burdens can never be so heavy as the one He carried. The hill can never be so steep as the one He climbed. So let us climb, cheerfully, trusting, onward and upward.

Prayer

Loving Father, bring us into a closer walk with Thee. May our faith become deeper, our witness stronger, and our hearts cleaner. Sustain us daily as we strive to walk the upward path. Set our affections on the things that count. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

Today I will attempt great things for God.

Timonium Track Gets 'Face Lifting'

Scrapers, bulldozers and harrows are tearing up 12 inches of the Timonium race track, preparatory to putting it in apple pie shape for the meeting opening on August 13, to run to September 10.

The resurfacing now under way is the first for the 79 year old track in about 10 years, according to John M. Heil, Timonium's General Manager. It is part of the plan of the Maryland State Fair and Agricultural Society for upgrading all of the Timonium facilities, not only for the racing season but for the Fair, which will open on August 29 and continue through the September 10 date.

The work now going on involves the removal of several inches of topsoil, and cutting away more inches of dirt and clay. The clay and dirt will be replaced and the topsoil restored. Timonium's first major "face-lifting" came a couple of years ago with the razing of the wooden grandstand and the construction of a totally new facility for racing fans.

"The operation now underway should provide us with one of the finest running tracks in the State," Mr. Heil reported. "We are working to have everything connected with the track in excellent condition when the horses start running on Wednesday, Aug. 13."

"Our new grandstand was especially designed for the comfort and convenience of Timonium patrons, with four betting islands, box and reserved seats, a cocktail lounge and the dining room, which holds 400 people comfortably."

"We believe the coming meet at Timonium will be one of the most successful ever."

Appliance Care Stressed

Electrical appliances can be kept at a peak level of efficiency if they are regularly cared for by following manufacturers' instructions.

Every small appliance manufacturer warns against immersing electrical units in water. An exception is manufacturers of "completely immersible" electric fry pans which have their thermostat controls located in detachable plugs. With the plug removed, the pan can be washed like any non-electrical utensil. Controls should be wiped clean with damp cloth.

Many small appliances are practically self-cleaning. Blender jars, for example, can be filled with soapy water, and the blender plugged in. As water agitates, jar washes itself. Similarly, electric skillets filled with water and soap flakes can be plugged in and the water allowed to simmer for ten to fifteen minutes. Always rinse utensil thoroughly.

Chrome finishes are popular for many table appliances. The finish can be kept bright by wiping with a damp cloth and drying with a soft lintless polishing cloth. If cooking grease strikes the chrome, it should be wiped off before the grease spot oozes to avoid carbon stain.

The electric meat grinder can be completely dismantled for thorough washing of components. In a mechanism of this type, cleanliness is important—clean parts fit together more snugly and they give better cutting action. As with other power equipment, electric units must never be immersed in water. They should be cleaned only by wiping with damp cloth.

The heating elements of a toaster are self-cleaning and should not be tampered with. (Toaster should never be shaken or banged; this tends to loosen the heating elements.) Crumb tray should be removed and cleaned after each use. When cool, metal parts can be wiped with damp cloth and polished.

The electric coffee maker should be thoroughly rinsed after each use with hot, clean water. Dry with soft cloth and leave cover off for airing. Care should be taken to avoid wetting the electric element in the base. Frequent cleaning of the pump

State Cheap Vacation Spot

"Maryland has good news for the vacationing family. In this State, the daily items of the vacationer's budget—food and room—are keeping a moderate, or even a low, price level." So says Howard Harrison, President of chamber and heating well is recommended in most manufacturers' instruction books. If the manufacturer recommends it, an occasional boil-up with a solution of baking soda and water will help keep coffee maker clean. Be sure to rinse thoroughly afterwards.

Maintenance on a regular basis is the most important single rule for long life for your appliances. Repairs should be attended to promptly and should be done only by a licensed electrician.

the Maryland Travel Council, citing figures compiled by the State Department of Economic Development bear him out.

Said Mr. Harrison, "Maryland is holding the line, costwise. We are well into the summer vacation season, when visitors are most numerous, and there has been no appreciable rise in travelers' basic items."

A good roast beef dinner, observed Mr. Harrison, is still about $2.25. The great Maryland specialty, crab cakes, can be had for $1.50. Maryland fried chicken—$1.75. A hot turkey sandwich, with mashed potatoes and gravy—less than a dollar. "Travelers won't find food cheaper anywhere," said Mr. Harrison.

He continued that the same rule holds in accommodations. "Excellent motels keep their rates about ten dollars a night for double rooms," he said. "Many places will supply extra cots for these rooms at a nominal figure."

"At the resorts, double rooms with breakfast and dinner for two, can be had for $18. Sportsmen's accommodations are holding to similar levels. Party boat fishing is five dollars a full day, everything supplied. And of course it goes without saying that Maryland fishing is the best in the world."

Mr. Harrison said he attributed the modest prices to the fact that Maryland has never catered primarily to the luxury class of vacationer. There are luxury spots, he noted, but mainly the Free State is for average people.

These are two sides to every question, and a politician usually takes both.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Wonder is growing in Washington as to whether or not Congress, due to take remedial action, has not permitted the U.S. State Department to grow into a Frankenstein monster.

The State Department was most instrumental in getting through in 1953 the so-called Status of Forces Treaty. This provides wherever American servicemen are stationed, C. W. Harder they are subject to local laws.

As a result, hundreds of American servicemen now languish in foreign jails, after convictions by foreign courts, and are existing on foreign diets, foreign standards of sanitation.

And these servicemen, denied any recourse due U.S. citizens under the Constitution, are for a large part drafted men who never sought foreign service.

Senator Richard Russell, and others in Congress, are waging a determined battle to get this infamous treaty repealed. Naturally, State Dept. is opposing such a move.

But there seems to be little, if any area, left in U.S. life into which the State Dept. does not interfere. Recently California was prepared to execute a convict named Chessman.

There is perhaps no question this Chessman was a bad actor.

And it is important to bear in mind that the United States Supreme Court on several occasions sions found no flaw in the state procedure, and also found no reason for the Federal government to intervene.

Yet, an official of the U. S. State Department took it upon himself to represent to the Governor of California that national foreign policy would suffer a blow unless the governor granted a reprieve.

Here is an example of the influence of the State Department being used to interfere in a state matter on behalf of a three-time loser. And it is this same State Dept. that still has not been able to get all American prisoners taken in Korea released.

Yet, when it comes to saving the skin of a notorious criminal under state jurisdiction, the State Dept. hesitates not to get embroiled.

The issue here is not whether Chessman should have been executed for crimes. This issue pales into insignificance when contrasted with the fact the U. S. State Dept. is now seeking to influence local state prison operations.

And it is this same State Dept. which has damaged so much independent manufacturing in this nation by forcing down, or indeed, practically destroying, the U.S. Protective Tariffs, and it is this same State Dept. that has thrown billions away in foreign giveaways.

Or as one observer put it, "It's getting more and more to look like the State Dept. really thinks it is THE STATE." Undoubtedly there will be a drive in Congress to clip its wings.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

The $1,250,000 Catch

What kind of man spends $1,250,000 for a race horse?

Well, for one thing, he's the kind of man who, with such Princeton Tigers as Constable, Kaufman, LeVan, Pauk and others charging down on him, would elect to field a punt instead of calling for a fair catch. Joseph L. Arnold did both. He gambled on the kick that day was working out and while starting as quarterback with Washington and Lee in 1964, and he heads the syndicate that recently bought Ballyache for a million and a quarter.

Since his purchase, the beaten Kentucky Derby favorite made amends by winning the Preakness and the Jersey Derby plus a prep for the Preakness which were worth $202,275 to his new owners.

Arnold, 46-year-old Lexington, Kentucky, attorney, never had any regrets about choosing to run with the Princeton kick. "Everything I was doing that day was working out and the thought never entered my head to play it safe." As it turned out, Princeton recovered his fumble, went on to a touchdown and won over the Generals by 13 to 12.

While Ballyache may not win back his purchase price on the track, (only three horses, Round Table, Nashua and Citation, have won over $1,000,000) he is certainly no fumble and, considering his potential as a stallion, there is perhaps no limit to his value.

BABSON*Writes . . .*

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Competition
BABSON PARK, Mass., July 21—I am not now forecasting World War III, but neither the United States nor Russia can continue to spend such vast amounts of money on missiles, rockets, submarines, etc. Either there must be a reduction in armament (Khrushchev is as anxious for this as we are), or World War III is inevitable. However, my message this week is on the subject of COM-PETITION, which will be the "ammunition" Russia will probably use to fight the cold war.

Foreign Competition

During my last trip to Germany, I was astounded at the competition which is developing there. Not only are wages very low, but the efficiency of the workers is very high. German industrialists are continuing to make new machines which can even replace their own workers. This applies to plastics, textiles, and many other products. It seems as though this competition from Europe will cause unemployment in our country sooner or later.

Added to the competition from Europe, we also have much from Japan. I could give illustrations which would seem to you unbelievable. These involve a great variety of articles ranging from table doilies, which sell for 2¢ apiece, to radios, cameras, and even television sets. It all seems fantastic, and detrimental to American manufacturers and wage-workers. The only concerns which can possibly profit from it are big concerns such as Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, and the chain stores which can buy and sell in tremendous quantities.

Competition With Ourselves

Before World War II, the leading manufacturers were content to make their own products; but they have now added products of others which, in many cases, have no relation to their basic products. This not only causes overproduction, but it reduces profits. I fear that the average United States businessman may be caught in a squeeze, with increased costs but with declining prices for his products.

Let me give a few illustrations of this domestic internal competition. General Tire now manufactures missiles! General Mills has wandered away from its basic food products to make precision instruments! Textron, basically a textile manufacturer, is buying into various new businesses with which it has had no experience. Expansion Versus Diversification diversification, there is justification for companies to expand in their own lines. (Pittsburgh) Consolidated Coal is becoming increasingly active in the field of organic chemicals; this is wise. American Viscose, a major producer of rayon and nylon yarns and cellophane paper, has now legitimately gone all-out into the plastic-chemical field.

While there is no legitimate reason for much of the above

It is wise for a company to seek new markets for its available raw materials. American Viscose has joined with Sun Oil Company to produce polypropylene, thus competing in the petrochemical field with Dow, Monsanto, and Union Carbide. These companies which are expanding within their own fields should be safer investments; but some of those which have neglected their own business to go into missiles and rockets may suffer large losses.

Labor Versus Management

During this cold war, it is too bad to see the competition between labor and management which results in serious strikes. A labor strike against management is an industrial battle and may well be compared to military warfare between two nations. This especially is true now, while the cold war with Russia is in progress. Some believe that a national dictator is necessary to make labor and management co-operate; but this seems unnecessary in a nation which professes Christianity and the teachings of Jesus.

It will be difficult enough to hold our own against competition from abroad and domestic competition between corporations, without the competition created by labor leaders. Both stockholders and members of the labor unions should realize that wage increases without corresponding increases in production or quality are dangerous. They could result in stockholders receiving smaller dividends; and wage workers could suffer unemployment, to a detriment of the nation as a whole.

'The People's Report' Now Being Aired

The Information Office of the State Comptroller's Office has announced that Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein has begun a series of radio broadcasts entitled "The People's Report" over Radio Station WCAO in Baltimore. These broadcasts will be aired on Sunday mornings at 7:15 a. m. and will continue for the indefinite future.

The programs are fifteen minutes in length and deal with subjects concerning Maryland State Government which should be of interest to all Maryland citizens.

Many an argument is sound—merely sound.

Unemployment Payouts Decline

June payments to Maryland residents under the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law dropped for the third consecutive month, but were higher than in June of last year, the Department of Employment Security reported this week.

The continued month-by-month downturn in Unemployment Insurance payments is due mainly to increased hiring in seasonal activities, primarily in construction, food processing and service employment.

The over-the-year increase in benefit payments is due chiefly to a series of layoffs in durable goods manufacturing, including transportation equipment, electrical equipment, primary metals, and stone, clay and glass.

Some $3,273,901 in benefits was paid to Maryland residents in June, down 5.1 per cent from the $3,449,094 of May, but up 12.4 per cent over the $2,912,380 of June, 1959.

Another 2,295 Maryland residents exhausted in June the full 26 weeks of benefits to which they were entitled, bringing the 12-month total to 28,459.

The cumulative rate of exhaustion, which is the ratio of the number of exhaustions to the number of persons receiving at least one check in the previous 12 months, was 25.9 per cent on June 30, as compared with 26.4 per cent on May 31.

In addition to the above program, which is conducted under the Maryland Unemployment Insurance Law, the Department of Employment Security administers for the Federal Government similar programs for veterans and Federal employees, the administrative and benefit costs of which are borne by the Federal Government.

Unemployed Federal workers in Maryland received $69,278 in June, down 0.2 per cent from the $69,404 in May and down 20.7 per cent from the $87,359 of June, 1959.

Ex-servicemen whose service began after January 31, 1955, or which began before that date and ended after October 27, 1958, received benefits of $90,532 in June, up 4.4 per cent over the $86,749 of May, but down 1.7 per cent from the $92,116 of June, 1959.

BEER TAVERN BURGLARIZED

Thieves broke into the Highway Inn, one mile east of Emmitsburg, Sunday night and stole a considerable amount of beer, cigarettes, cigars, candy and money, Maryland State Police reported this week.

This is the second time within a month that the establishment, operated by Delbert Piper, has been broken into and robbed.

Police received a call early Monday morning after the operator opened the establishment and found that it had been looted.

Troopers Earl Tracey and Tope Barnes were assigned to investigate the breaking and entering.

Tracey said that 12 cases of beer, numerous packs of cigarettes from a machine, cigars, candy, and an undetermined amount of cash had been stolen from the cigarette machine.

The thieves also broke into a juke box but apparently overlooked $27.50 which was left in the money box, police reported.

Police said that the thieves pushed a window fan through a window and crawled through the opening. After they had crawled inside, the fan was placed back into the window and they went about looting the place. They are believed to have left through the doorway.

Car Strikes Utility Pole

In an accident at 9:45 p. m. Sunday on U. S. 15 one mile north of Lewistown, police said a 1958 Chevrolet driven south by George P. Kramer, Fairfield, R2, went off the side of the road and crashed through a fence and splintered a utility pole. Damage was estimated at $400 and Kramer, who was uninjured, was charged with reckless driving.

Jaycees To Sponsor Chicken Barbecue

A chicken barbecue will be sponsored by the Greater Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce on Firemen's Field, Sunday, Aug. 7 starting at 2 p. m., it has been announced by the group.

An invitation has been extended to the general public to attend the affair and tickets will be on sale for $1.50. Patrick Boyle is general chairman of the barbecue.

Baking Contest, Food Sale Are Scheduled

An interesting baking contest will precede the food sale to be sponsored by the Emmitsburg Grange on Saturday, Aug. 6, beginning at 11 a. m. in the Fire Hall.

All entries in the contest are to be received between 9:30 and 10 a. m. the morning of the sale. Donations of food, by members of the Grange, are being asked in order to make the affair a success.

Floods accounted for 834 fatalities in the United States in the past decade.

If you can cast a plug into a tea cup at ten paces or snake out a fly line 160 feet — head for Detroit.

The national casting contest opens in Warren, near Detroit, August 16. The country's top anglers will be showing their form and competing for tackle handling honors in the annual competition held by the National Association of Angling and Casting Clubs. Records are waiting to be broken by the right combination of man and equipment.

The U.S. team to compete in the International casting tournament will be picked from among the winners. Last year's seven man squad set three world records, and won twelve international championships in Scarborough, England, competing against the best casters from sixteen nations. The 1960 International Competition will be held in Zurich, Switzerland Sept. 5 through 10.

Tournament events include skid distance and accuracy requiring the use of standard fishing tackle, and unrestricted events which also are a proving ground for tackle improvements.

Earlier local competitions leading to the national, and the national itself, have stimulated such innovations as shooting tapered fly line and fast taper spinning and bait rods proven in practice, and adopted as standard gear.

In 1948, a new bait casting reel called the Ambassador, was developed by the Swedish for long distance and accuracy casting. All but a few accuracy competitions have since been taken by it. It has also taken record fish.

Casting competition is not divorced from angling. On the contrary, good casters are better than average fishermen. International casting champion Johnny Dickman also holds the National Fresh Water Fishing Championship. Casting is an art with an object—more successful, more enjoyable fishing. When long casts are needed to reach into inaccessible pools—the top caster will have the fish. Good tackle and sure casting skill means more time to concentrate on fishing fun.

Early Application Reduces Social Security Payments

A fully insured person can apply for social security benefits at age 65, a woman at age 62.

When a woman elects to receive benefits before she is age 65, she receives a reduced payment. This applies to working women as well as wives of working husbands. The reduced payments continue as long as she lives, unless her husband dies first. In this case she receives the full widow's benefits.

A wife who has a child in her care receives the full unreduced benefit. A wife is entitled to benefits until the following occurs: the worker or the wife dies, or there is a divorce. In the event of the worker's death, the wife's benefits are changed to widow's benefits. The widow will receive also a lump-sum death payment, provided she was living in the same household of the worker. If she and her husband were not living together, the person (and this includes the widow) who paid the funeral expenses will be eligible for this payment. Application for the lump-sum must be made within two years of the worker's death. The lump-sum payment is 3 times the amount of the worker's monthly benefit, but not more than $255 and cannot exceed the funeral expenses.

OBITUARIES

MRS. C. M. WEISHAAR

Mrs. Clara Medora Viola Weishaar, 75, widow of William F. Weishaar, Keymar, died Sunday noon in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, where she had been a patient for the past month. She had been in declining health for the last two months.

Mrs. Weishaar was a daughter of the late Theodore and Mary (Fleagle) Starnier. Her husband died a year ago. She was a member of Baust's United Church of Christ.

Surviving are four children: William S. Detour; Edward L. Thurmont; Mrs. Monroe Rinehart, Keymar; and Mrs. J. Donald Harner, Emmitsburg. There are 15 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Fuss Funeral Home in Taneytown with her pastor, the Rev. Miles F. Reifsnider, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Ronald R. Brooks. Interment was in Baust's Church Cemetery.

Three-Car Collision
Injures Five

A three-car collision Sunday night about 10:20 o'clock on U. S.
15 about a mile north of Thurmont sent five persons to Frederick Memorial Hospital and caused $860 damage.

State Trooper Leo L. Shank said the multiple-car collision occurred when an unidentified driver passed a string of cars and forced the first car in line to suddenly apply brakes setting up a chain reaction with three cars banging together.

Mrs. Margaret E. Springer, Emmitsburg R2, was driving north on U. S. 15 in a 1958 Chevrolet. The second car, a 1960
Dodge, was driven by John W.
Gaskins, Harrisburg, and the third, a 1954 Oldsmobile, by Miss Gale E. Minnich, Carlisle. The Minnich car crashed into the Gaskins car which in turn bumped the Springer vehicle.

Mrs. Patricia Gaskins, Harrisburg, broke her left ankle and Miss Bertha Hysick, Carlisle;
John Gaskins, Harrisburg; Mis Minnich and Mrs. Miriam Min-nich, Carlisle, were all treated for head injuries, cuts and abrasions. All were released following treatment. They were taken to the hospital in the Thurmont American Legion ambulance.

Damage was as follows: The Minnich Oldsmobile, $500; the Gaskins Dodge, $850; the Springer Chevrolet, $10. There were no charges.

HEALTH COLUMN

Not A Moment To Waste!

There is perhaps nothing more frightening than to find a child strangling and choking on something that has got into his windpipe. This is a real emergency.
Death can come quickly.

There are some things you can do to prevent such tragic accidents.

... Don't give small children nuts, popcorn, or cake with nuts until they have learned to chew properly.

... Chop meat for small children very fine.

... Don't let a child run around while he is eating.

... Don't put food into a child's mouth while he is crying.

... Don't let a child talk when his mouth is full.

... Never hold pins or tacks in your own mouth. Children imitate.

If a child gets something into his windpipe anyway, make for the nearest doctor or hospital emergency room. On the way, let him try to cough the object up. But unless he coughs it right out, keep going, even though he may seem to be breathing more easily. An object anywhere in the air passages must be removed.
Don't hold a child up by the heels and slap his back. That may jam the object against the glottis, the flap which closes the windpipe, and cut off his breath completely. Go as fast as you can. . . minutes count. You can pay your traffic fines later. This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by your Tuberculosis Association.

Stambaugh—Myers

Miss Bernadine Elaine Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Myers of Thurmont, and Richard A. Stambaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert V. Stambaugh, Appolds Church road, Thurmont, were united in marriage with a double-ring ceremony performed by Rev. John J.
Hart at Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, Thurmont, June 24.
Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length blue dress with a small veil-like hat, and carried a bouquet of white carnations with white ribbons.

Maid of honor, Miss Connie Clarke, wore a pink dress and carried a bouquet of pink carnations with pink ribbons. Earl Radthe was best man and Lee Layman was the usher.

The mother of the bride wore a navy blue dress of silk with white accessories and the mother of the bridegroom wore a navy blue dress of crepe with white accessories.

A reception was held at the home of the bride and the couple left for a short trip to Niagara Falls. They are now residing on the Appolds Church road.

New Teachers
Assigned Here

The following teachers have been named to assignments at Emmitsburg High School by the Frederick County Board of Education, replacing vacancies on the faculty: Mrs. Jean L. Caruth, B.S., Lebanon Valley College, music; Peter J. Swank, B.S., Kutztown State Teachers College, Pa., core and mathematics; Donald; M.
Hodge, B.S., University of Idaho, physics and chemistry.

William B. Greco, Mt. St.
Mary's College, B.S., has been assigned to teach the fifth grade at Middletown Elementary. Resignations have been accepted from the local school from Richard H.

Harper, Mrs. Barbara W. Summers, and Joseph Elliott.

Firemen's Drive To Be Concluded Soon

Efforts to conclude the annual financial drive of the Vigilant Hose Company are being made, Chairman Frank S. Topper announced this week.

Results of the drive to date are gratifying the chairman reports, however there is substantially much more needed to assist with the purchase of a new engine in the near future to comply with the state underwriters' specifications which require that all equipment be kept modern within a ten-year period. The latest model truck or pumper of the Fire Company is now 10 year old.

The chairman reported that further solicitation was impossible and that all rural routes have been completed however, there were numerous individuals that promised pledges to the organization but for some reason or other have not fulfilled these pledges. It is hoped that final contributions will be made as soon as possible so the firemen can make plans for the purchase of a new engine.

ZACHARY PAUL WEBER

Zachary Paul Weber, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs.
Harry B. Weber, R2, Emmitsburg, died Thursday morning at 6:30 a. m. after being in critical condition at the University Hospital, Baltimore, since last Saturday afternoon.

The child sustained a fractured skull when he fell 14 feet from a barn loft onto a concrete floor at his home near Emmitsburg last Saturday. After receiving preliminary treatment at the Warner Hospital in Gettysburg, he was transferred to the University Hospital in the VFW ambulance Saturday afternoon. The child's condition was aggravated by a hemiplegic condition which caused severe bleeding of the brain area.

Surviving, in addition to his parents, Harry B. Weber and Betty Grimes Weber, are two brothers, Robert and Scott, both at home; maternal grandparents,
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grimes, R2, Emmitsburg; paternal grandmother, Irma Dubois, Pennsauken, Pa., and grandfather, Bernard Weber of Philadelphia. Funeral services in charge of C. O. Fuss & Son, Taneytown, are incomplete at this time.

Young Republicans
To Organize

Efforts to organize a Young Republicans group representing five election districts of Frederick County will be made next week when a meeting will be held in the Fire Hall at Thurmont, it has been announced.

The five groups to be included in the group will include Emmitsburg, Hauvers, Thurmont, Lewistown and Creagerstown. All interested young Republicans between the ages of 18 and 40 are asked to be present at the meeting which will be held Thursday evening, July 28 in the Thurmont Fire Hall starting at 8 o'clock.
During the meeting a slate of officers will be elected. Mrs. Ellis C. Wachter, Frederick, will act as chairman protem and will conduct the meeting and election of officers.

Property Sold

Miss Edythe M. Nunemaker, has sold her property at 528-530
W. Main St., to James Welty,
Emmitsburg R2, for $9,020.

It takes 500 to 600 years to build one inch of topsoil.

HEALTH and SCIENCE

Medical experts the world over endorse cycling—the ideal exercise for young and old. Well-known Dr. Harlan G. Metcalf says it's one of the few activities that strengthens the heart, digestive organs, lungs and body muscles at the same time. And cycling builds resistance to colds by making the "thermostat" or heat regulating system of the human body more efficient.

Concerned with the health of the nation... particularly the fitness of the nation's youth ... President Eisenhower has on several occasions advocated bicycle riding as a means of keeping young Americans fit. America's children, he asserts, should ride their bicycles more.

Famous screen star Alan Ladd—an avid cycling enthusiast—has been named Chairman of American Bicycle Month. Nationally observed in May, the month features a series of public services for America's 27,000,000 cyclists, including free bike inspections, safe riding rules, and Certified Rider emblems—available through bike stores everywhere.
