The town is fast taking on a resemblance of neatness and cleanliness not experienced here in some time. The added emphasis was given this week when the Town Fathers completed the resurfacing of some of the streets and most of the heavily-traveled alleys. Streets have been recently cleaned and quite a number of properties have been painted or otherwise repaired, giving Emmitsburg the neat and clean little atmosphere of a quaint little village. There is much to be done yet to better the general appearance and that is to establish a curb line so that all sidewalks and houses are on an even line throughout the town. As it is now almost every property has a different curb line giving the streets a very irregular appearance. We are cognizant that it is nigh on impossible to change the curb line on most of the ancient houses here but we do feel that in the newer sections such action could be taken to guarantee a more regular line of building and curb erection. In addition, I have always been in favor of establishing a zoning ordinance within the corporation limits of town to protect those citizens who do take the plunge and build homes. At the present time there is no such ordinance and you could build a $50,000 home and next year a slaughterhouse could be erected beside your home. This is totally unfair and a deterrent to people to build nice homes. All it would take would be the simple adoption of a zoning ordinance or even a conformity with the existing county zoning law. This could and most probably would spare more individuals to build knowing that they were fully protected and that their property would not become devaluated by such action.

Other improvements that could be made and also add to the general beauty of the town would be the widening of the alleys, making two-way traffic possible. I feel there are any number of landowners who would be generous enough to donate a few feet of ground to the town so that this action might be made possible. In addition there are a number of old sheds, mostly dilapidated, that could be torn down and removed. These emboss a blemish on the general appearance of a compact and neat little village. Most of these buildings haven't been used for a number of years and serve no use whatsoever. Removal of these unsightly objects also would make more room available for widening the alleys. Another important matter in the general physical appearance of the town would be to have all houses numbered. This subject has been dwelled on considerably in the past but I guess I missed somehow in igniting the necessary spark to galvanize the public into action and to date exactly nothing has been done to remedy the situation.

For a number of years now the Town Council has been attempting to educate the general public not to burn its garbage in backyard incinerators, but to little avail. Only a third of the town subscribes to the garbage collection system, the other two-thirds either burn their trash in the back yards, dump it in their neighbor's trash can, motor out to the countryside and toss it out of their car, or sneak out late at night and deposit it in the trash containers on the Square. This sort of thing is bringing the Town Fathers nearer and nearer to the point where they will institute a collecting system of its own and each and everyone of us property-owners will be billed at the end of the year—with our tax bills. This naturally would be unfair to all property-owners because renters and apartment dwellers naturally would be exempt because they own no property. Let's correct this undesirable condition folks before a final decision is made, one which would be binding upon all of us.

Some businesses succeed in spite of the methods and manners in vogue.

TRESSLER-KEILHOLTZ

Miss Shirley A. Keilholtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll C. Keilholtz, Emmitsburg, and Lawrence W. Tressler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Tressler, of Thurmont, were married on Saturday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock at the Graceham Moravian Church.

Before an altar decorated with palms, white roses and lighted candles, the double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick L. Mergenstern. Master Robert E. Keilholtz, nephew of the bride, served as acolyte.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a long white gown of pure silk organza. It was fashioned with a portrait neckline embellished with imported chantilly lace embroidered with iridescent sequins and tiny seed pearls. The gown had short shirred sleeves and a crushed cummerbund. The bouffant skirt ended in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a crown of pearlized orange blossoms. She carried a white Bible topped with white rosebuds and baby's breath, accented with white streamers. Her jewelry was a white gold heart necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Connie J. Heck of Thurmont, served as maid of honor. Miss Marilyn E. Burdette, cousin of the bride of Chambersburg, Pa.; Mrs. Jean L. Zentz, sister of the groom, of Hyattsville and Mrs. Anna Kathryn Hooks, of Graceham, served as bridesmaids. The attendants were gowned alike in delphinium blue silk chiffon. They were fashioned with scoop neckline, short sleeves and bouffant skirts and featured crushed satin cummerbunds with satin bows and panels down the back. They wore matching satin headpieces with circular tulle veils and delphinium blue accessories. They carried colonial bouquets of white and blue pompons with baby's breath.

Little Misses Gwendolyn A. and Patricia J. Keilholtz, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls. They wore white silk organza over tulle dresses fashioned with round necklines, crushed delphinium blue satin cummerbunds with satin bows. Their headbands were blue and white pompon daisies. Each carried a basket of blue and white pompon daisies.

Little William L. Keilholtz, nephew of the bride, served as ringbearer.

Robert E. Testerman, of Thurmont, served as best man. R. Allen Miller, Robert E. Keilholtz, brother of the bride, both of Thurmont, and Chester T. Zentz Jr., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, Hyattsville, served as ushers.

Miss Clara Green served as organist and James L. Fisher was vocalist.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Keilholtz chose a fawn lace over moss green silk, a matching hat and moss green accessories. Mrs. Tressler, mother of the bridegroom, chose a mauve silk eyelet dress over silk and matching accessories. Each wore a corsage of white rosebuds.

The bride graduated from the Thurmont High School in 1957, from Hagerstown Business College in 1958, and was employed on the office staff of Moore Business Forms, Inc., Thurmont.

The bridegroom, also graduated from Thurmont High School in 1956, attended Columbia Preparatory School, United States Naval Academy and is now attending the University of Maryland.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church social rooms. Approximately 300 guests attended.

For a trip to the New England States, the bride chose a paisley print dress with beige accessories.

Bowling Teams To Organize

A meeting of the Monday and Tuesday night bowling leagues will be held Monday evening, August 29 at 8 p. m. at the Emmitsburg Recreation Center, it was announced this week by C. Richard Harner, manager.

All team captains and bowlers from last year's teams as well as any new teams or bowlers are urged to be present as plans for the coming season will be discussed.

Harner also said that the Ladies Wednesday night league will meet on Wednesday evening, Aug. 31 to re-organize for the coming season.

All alleys have just recently been refinished and sanctioned and will be open for open bowling in the near future, Harner stated.

Veterans' Shrimp Feed Successful

A large crowd estimated at 350 persons attended the shrimp feed benefit held last Saturday night at Kump's Dam Park, sponsored by the Emmitsburg Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 6658. Over 400 pounds of steamed shrimp were consumed as well as large quantities of other delicacies.

The affair was held in lieu of the annual Block Party for the benefit of the local ambulance and scholarship funds maintained by the local veterans' club. An early report indicated that the group would net approximately $500 from the affair.

Car Hits Tractor; Woman Injured

Damage was estimated at $650 in an accident which happened about midnight at the intersection of Motters Station Road and U. S. 15 at St. Anthony's, August 11.

One woman was taken to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, in the VFW ambulance for injuries received in the collision.

Miss Joyce Lundbeck, 24, Kensington, was treated for a cracked rib and an ankle injury. She was released from the hospital following treatment.

State Police said the accident happened as a farm tractor driven by Marshall Sharrer Jr., 17, Rocky Ridge, was crossing Rt. 15 from the Motters Station Rd. and was struck by the car traveling north being operated by Miss Lundbeck.

Police said Miss Lundbeck was apparently traveling at an excessive rate of speed and was charged with operating at a speed too great by Trooper James Powers who investigated the accident.

After the collision, the tractor remained in the roadway while the car went about 100 feet off the road into a wooded area.

Damage to the tractor was to the left rear wheel while the damage to the 1954 Chevrolet was to the front of the vehicle.

The tractor damage was estimated at $300 while the damage to the car was believed to be around $350.

Sharrer was not injured, police said.

Views Father's Body; Dies Hour Later

Within an hour after viewing his father's body at the M. L. Creager and Son Funeral Home in Thurmont, Clifford F. Sweeney, 36, of Blue Mountain, fell dead in his home last Friday night.

The cause of the younger Sweeney's death was not known immediately. Frederick County Medical Examiner, Dr. B. O. Thomas Sr., ordered an autopsy. Sweeney's 79-year-old father, William I. Sweeney, died last Wednesday night.

A double funeral was held Sunday at the same time that had previously been set for the elder Sweeney.

Clifford Sweeney was buried with full military honors. Father and son were buried in adjoining lots in the Levistown Chapel Cemetery.

Sweeney was employed at Fort Detrick. A World War II veteran, Sweeney participated in the Battle of the Bulge and was held prisoner in a German prison camp for a month.

He attended the Catoctin Episcopal church at Harriet Chapel.

Survivors include his wife, Regina V. Martin Sweeney, and his mother, Ella M. Carbaugh Sweeney. Other survivors include six children, Sandra, Randall, Jody, David, Colleen and Debra, all at home.

Eight brothers, Harold, Emmanuel, Paul, John, Elmer and Albert, all of Thurmont; Donald Sweeney, Emmitsburg, and James Sweeney, York, Pa., also survive. Two sisters, Mrs. Eliza Knott and Mrs. Mary E. Toms, both of Thurmont, are survivors.

Rev. Lloyd L. Wolf officiated at the services.

Baptized

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Little, E. Main St., received the sacrament of Baptism on Sunday, Aug. 14 at St. Anthony's Shrine, with the Rev. Fr. Vincent Tomalski, officiating. God parents for the child, who was given the name Timothy Michael, were Mr. and Mrs. James F. Wivell, Rocky Ridge, uncle and aunt of the baby.

Sister M. Lyola of Philadelphia, Mrs. Helen Lilly Rice, Newport, Pa., and Mrs. John R. Kerr, Hagerstown, were recent dinner guests of Mrs. George S. Eyster.

Church Starts Bicentennial Commemoration Today

For many months the members of the Emmitsburg Presbyterian Church have been preparing to recognize its bicentennial. It was just three years ago that the town of Emmitsburg celebrated its bicentennial, so the history of this community's Presbyterian Church has closely paralleled that of the town.

With the spread of communism, especially since the last war, and its anti-Christian doctrine, it is more than ever essential that we guard our Christian heritage. In a letter received from Rev. Leslie L. Lease of Walkersville in his acknowledgement of the church's invitation to attend its bicentennial services, he said, "Who can measure, or even estimate the amount of good that has flowed out from the small spring of genuine Christian love and sacrifice into the life of the world in the two centuries of the continuing life of that small community of Christ's loyal people."

All members of the church have contributed to the preparation of this memorable occasion. The chairman of the committee, Samuel C. Hays and his wife, Mayme E. Hays, assistant chairman, have given much time and thought to the planning of the commemoration. Mrs. Mary F. Rosensteel, director of music, has prepared a special musical program in connection with each of the services. Other members of the committee include Miss Ruth Gillelan in charge of the museum or antiques; Miss Margaret Franklin in charge of the program; Mrs. Edgar Rhodes in charge of the social; Miss Leanna Franklin in charge of decorations; Mrs. John Richards wrote a revised history of the church; Mrs. Elizabeth M. Nester, in charge of publicity; Mr. F. Webb, in charge of lighting and sound; Mr. C. Wilson Franklin, committeeman-at-large; and Mr. J. L. Nester, finances.

Everyone is most cordially invited to share in this celebration. There will be special features on August 26, 27 and 28. On Aug. 26 at 7:30 p. m., there will be a fellowship program. Former ministers of the church and neighboring ministers and friends will bring greetings. Rev. John Ross Hays, a son of the church, will give a resume of the church's history. A social hour with refreshments will follow. This will be a good time for old friends to get together.

On Saturday at 4 p. m., there will be a pilgrimage to the Emmitsburg Presbyterian Cemetery on the Gettysburg Road. It is hoped that many people of the community will join in this pilgrimage to see how nicely the cemetery is being kept. A financial report pertaining to the cemetery will be made by Mr. J. L. Nester, manager and treasurer of the cemetery. There will be a brief service at the grave of Samuel Emmit, founder of the town. The Emmit family was connected with the Presbyterian church.

On Sunday, August 28, at 10:30 a. m., the bicentennial worship service will be held. The Taneytown Presbyterian Church congregation will join with the Emmitsburg church for this service.

Rev. William M. Hendricks is pastor of both congregations. Very attractive memorial plates containing a picture of the church are available at $2.50 each and also a revised history of the church has been published and can be obtained from most of the church members for $1.

Local Public School Pupils Review Newest Lincoln Books

An anthology of Abraham Lincoln, to be released in time for the centennial of the Battle of Gettysburg in 1963, has been prepared by Jean D. Grambs, University of Maryland, under the direction of R. B. Marston, NEA, Washington, D. C.

The book, titled, Abraham Lincoln, Through the Eyes of High School Youth, is divided into seven categories as follows: (1) White House; (2) Lincoln and Love; (3) Lincoln, the wise humorist; (4) Lincoln, the plain man and great humanitarian; (5) The wisdom of a great leader; (6) The death of Lincoln; and (7) Lincoln's lesson for today.

Also included is a foreword by Rev. Paul C. Reinhart, S.J., chairman of schools and colleges committee of the Lincoln Sesquicentennial Commission.

Below are views by pupils of the Emmitsburg Public School and the categories they selected.

Lincoln—the Great Humanitarian
By Kathy Richards
I Remember

Abraham Lincoln, the man granted a sense of humor and a sharp mind in place of a handsome face. Ah, he was a pitiful sight, never getting worse, but never getting any better either.

As a boy he was tall and lanky like a young oak tree. Always able to outrun, and outfight the other boys, but always willing to help his mother and to read.

Abe Lincoln, a man not to be forgotten soon by the world. A man blessed with a good mind and no feeling of race prejudice. Fair with all and gentle in his ways.

The day Abraham Lincoln was assassinated was a dark day for the people of the world. A dark day indeed, for the world lost one of its best citizens. A fair, just man, loved by all—except.

The Wisdom of a Great Leader

Abraham Lincoln—An Outstanding Man

Abraham Lincoln died in a world he never made. The forces which shook and shaped it were in motion before and after he became President. He spent many years in office trying to control them. It may have been a matter of regret to him that, before his death, he had really not settled anything. But for many years he managed to preserve peace and hold slavery behind the frontiers.

That may have been the most any man in his time could have done.

There were really three worlds in the days of his growing up: the troubled rest of the world; the American world, self-sufficient in isolation; and the world of slavery.

That was when distance meant safety and survival lay in a loneliness. The two oceans gave America time to prepare for any attack and a way to avoid foreign alliances. It was an American dream that didn't last long. He didn't live long enough to find out if he was right. He had a good sense of history. In his last moments, the most he could do was hope for the best and believe what he had done was his best.

Only time could give the answer to questions which, since he was a thinking man, must have often been on his mind. But, I'm sure when he entered the gates of heaven, God must have said, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

The Wisdom of a Great Leader
By Becky Nail
Lincoln

Lincoln was a rugged boy who yearned to live and learn. The way to serve his fellowmen. A greater peace to earn.

He wanted life, he wanted peace. For everyone the same. That each might stand and each might take. A pride in his own name.

As Lincoln lived and as he learned. His goal was still the same. The glory of the common man—The light of freedom's flame.

I walked today where Lincoln walked.

By Mary O'Melveny
I walked today where Lincoln walked

in eighteen-sixty-three. I thought of how his noble life had meant so much to me, and how each deed which he performed had helped to keep me free.

I stood where he stood at Gettysburg that day in sixty-three, and heard him say that all men were created equally.

I understood his grave concern; his sad and burdened care for a land created of, and by, and for each person there.

I felt his pain; heard him weep while brother and neighbor fought against each other in a land that blood and tears had bought.

He had great faith in America—(this man whose paths I trod) conceived in liberty and love of freedom under God.

I walked today where Lincoln walked in eighteen-sixty-three. I thought of how his noble life had meant so much to me,

Sportsmen's Club Improving Grounds

Work on the roadway to the club's land is progressing nicely. It was reported at the regular meeting of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club held Tuesday night in the Fire Hall. President James Kemp presided over the meeting with 25 members present.

The work committee reported that a bulldozer had been working on the road and that considerable progress had been made to make the grounds, northwest of town more readily accessible.

The group plans a series of fall shooting matches and the following committee was appointed to handle the shoots: Slim Davis, chairman, Vernon Welsh, Jason Sanders, Joseph May and Paul A. Keepers. A report on the recent family picnic held at Rainbow Lake indicated the affair a grand social success. A $10 award was presented to Carroll Wills at the picnic. The next meeting will be held on September 27 and will take place at Firemen's Field.

Three Injured In S. Seton Ave. Traffic Mishap

Three persons were injured in an accident at 6:30 p. m. Sunday night on South Seton Ave., when a 1956 Ford coming north on U. S. 15 made a left turn in the path of a 1955 Chevrolet sedan going south on 15, causing $850 in damages.

Injured were the Chevrolet driver, Mildred Russell Drumheller, the 25-year-old director of Christian Education in Charleston, W. Va., who had facial bruises, a passenger in her car, Faye Marie Graham, 23, of Olivia, North Carolina, who had lacerations of the head, arms and legs and a passenger in the Ford car, Wayne Morris Wastler, 18, of Thurmont, who had lacerations of the head and right arm.

The injured were taken to the Warner Hospital by the VFW ambulance. The Ford driver, Richard Kenneth Smith, a 19-year-old R2, Thurmont, lumber company employe, was charged with failure to grant the right of way by Trooper James F. Powers, who investigated the accident with Emmitsburg Officer R. L. Kooztz and Fire Patrolman Paul A. Keepers.

In a second accident on U. S. 15 one mile north of here Sunday night at 5:45 p. m., the operator of a 1955 Chevrolet sedan which skidded on the wet road and hit a tree was injured and taken to the Warner Hospital in a private auto.

Howard Palmer Haines, 22, of Durham, North Carolina, was not charged by Trooper Powers in the accident which caused $800 worth of damages to his auto and left it a total wreck.

FLOWER SHOW DATE NEARING

At the meeting of the Silver Fancy Garden Club held August 18 at the home of Mrs. Thomas Frailey, Emmitsburg, Mrs. A. A. Koswick, president, urged all members to plan to make an arrangement to be entered in the District 5 Flower Show to be held in September at Westminster, Mrs. A. Eyster is to make an arrangement to represent the Club.

It was announced that Mrs. E. L. Annan has been elected to serve as treasurer for the coming year.

After the business meeting, Daffodil slides from the American Daffodil Society, Philadelphia, were shown by Mrs. Frank Butler, program chairman.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Margaret Wehler, Littlestown, Pa.

"Potato Man" Observes 85th

George W. Wilhide, familiarly known as the "potato man," quietly observed his 85th birthday on August 20 with one of his infrequent visits to Emmitsburg from his Eyles's Valley home.

For 34 years now Mr. Wilhide, also known for his auctioneering ability, has been making trips to town peddling some of the best potatoes to be located anywhere. He has enjoyed phenomenal luck with his harvest of spuds almost every year. He only planted 200 pounds of seed potatoes this year but in previous years Mr. Wilhide has planted as high as a ton and a quarter of seed, all by hand. Enjoying good health for his age, the birthday celebrant went busily about renewing acquaintances with his many friends here and as usual when he stopped at the Green Parrot, Mrs. Leona McNair had his annual birthday cake waiting for him.

Crack-Down On Garbage Burning Planned By Town

Emmitsburg's streets and alleys received a general face-lifting this week when most of them received a brand new coat of blacktop. In addition a number of them were widened considerably. Street Commissioner J. Norman Flax reported the cost of the project in the neighborhood of $6,000. When questioned this week about the status of Emmitt Gardens streets, regarding paving, Mr. Flax stated that it was the intent of the Burgess and Commissioners to grade and pave the roadway through the Gardens next year.

Quite a number of local property-owners took advantage of having a paving contractor in town for the week and a number of driveways, parking areas, etc., were paved during the contractor's stay here.

Mayor Clarence G. Frailey, intensely interested in the beauty of the town, as well as sanitary conditions, announced this week that a sizeable number of citizens still were burning garbage in their backyards, contrary to existing ordinances. For some time now the Town Council has been issuing warnings in this matter and now has determined to break up this practice by legal means if necessary. Council advises that absolutely no more warnings will be issued but instead warrants will be issued for the arrest and prosecution of the violators, in the future.

Council still is studying the possibility of inaugurating its own garbage collection system, adding the cost to the taxpayers' bills, on an annual basis.

The town is taking on an added appearance of neatness and tidiness with the alleys being resurfaced and weeds being cut, not to mention the sweeping of the town's streets. The Council is appreciative of those individuals who have had their driveways blacktopped, curbs repaired and otherwise improving their property.

Invitation is being extended the general public to attend an open house inspection of the new disposal plant and pumping station which will be held on Sunday, Sept. 11.

Valentine Reunion Well Attended

The twenty-second annual Valentine Reunion was held Sunday, August 21, 1960 at Mt. Tabor Park, Rocky Ridge.

Following basket lunches a short program was held in the tabernacle. President Raymond Keilholtz called the meeting to order and the scripture was read by Guy Krom. After which the group joined in the Lord's Prayer. A poem was recited by Linda Keilholtz; a flute solo was played by Diana Waybright and Mrs. Leroy Dinterman gave a humorous reading.

Prizes were then awarded to the following: Oldest, Mrs. Cotta Valentine, 82; youngest, Cindy Ann Hahn, 3 weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hahn; largest family, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Sharrer, 7; longest distance, Mr. Robert Waybright, Gettysburg.

The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

The officers elected for the coming year are: President, Raymond Keilholtz; vice president, Aaron Adams; secretary, Mrs. Richard Toms; treasurer, Kenneth Mumma; and historian, Mrs. Richard Valentine.

It was voted that the reunion be held at the same time and place next year, the third Sunday in August at Mt. Tabor Park. No cards will be sent notifying relatives of the reunion in 1961.

There were 92 relatives and 3 guests present. Following the adjournment of the program, many enjoyed refreshments.

on both the Republican and the Democratic ticket.

Nixon and Lodge is the Republican ticket and in some circles this is looked upon as being a very strong ticket. However, as I have mentioned before in this series of articles, it is up to the American citizens in November to make the choice.

Henry Cabot Lodge is a great American statesman and a true diplomat, and was born in Nahant, Massachusetts on July 2, 1902. He is the grandson of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts.

Lodge was educated at Harvard, and went to work for the Boston Transcript in 1924. About two years later he joined the Washington staff of the New York Tribune, staying on the paper until 1932 when he was elected to the Massachusetts legislature.

In 1936 he was elected to the United States Senate. Six years later he resigned to join the army, serving in Libya and Italy. In 1946 after coming out of the service, he was elected again to the Senate. He served on the Senate Foreign Relations and Rules and Administration committees and in 1950 he was appointed a representative to the fifth session of the United Nations General Assembly. It was during the 1952 presidential campaign that he served as Dwight D. Eisenhower's campaign manager. After the election he was designated to succeed Warren Austin as head of the United States mission to the United Nations, where he has remained ever since. In this respect he has done an outstanding job and is well educated to the affairs of international relations.

This is perhaps the story behind the Republican nomination of Henry Cabot Lodge for Vice President. This decision, on behalf of Richard Nixon, is due to the fact that the Republicans wish to make experience in international affairs and in matching wits with the Russians a dominant issue in the campaign that is now in progress and which will continue, according to Nixon, right up to Election Day.

Those of you who followed the highlights of the convention will remember that this decision came out of a midnight meeting in Chicago on July 27. At this meeting were some 35 top Republicans and they went through a list of possible running mates. The name of Henry Cabot Lodge was on that list.

There can be no doubt in the mind of this writer, that it was Lodge's experience as chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations that put him on the ticket. Anyone who follows international affairs will attest to the fact that Lodge has gained a nation-wide reputation as the man who can stand up to the Russians. He has been seen many times in this role by millions of television audiences.

Mr. Nixon has planned a campaign that will hit hard on foreign affairs and a lot of stress will be placed on the record of personal experience in combatting the Communists.

We have, in the past, heard a lot about the "cold war" and it is this writer's guess that after election the "cold war" threats will be even greater.

In speaking of Mr. Lodge, one must remember that he is no new campaigner. He won election to the U. S. Senate in 1936 in the face of a Roosevelt landslide, was re-elected easily in 1942 and in 1946, when . . . returning from war service . . . he went back to the Senate by unseating a Democrat.

Some people have questioned Lodge in that he was defeated by John F. Kennedy in 1952, but it was the general opinion that Mr. Lodge had neglected his own campaign to direct the Eisenhower drive for the presidential nomination. As campaign manager for Eisenhower, Lodge was very successful. But now the road is clear and he has promised, "With all my heart, I thank you for your trust, and I assure you of this, that it will impel me to expend every ounce of energy that I have in this campaign."

His opening remarks at the convention give us a good idea of what he stands for and I should like to quote from this address the following:

"We Americans live in a world so full of dangers that we must counsel together about the issues with the greatest seriousness and candor. The world is dangerous because small groups of men have acquired control of enormous resources and seek to put them wholeheartedly at the service of Communism . . . a conspiratorial cult which teaches them that they must take over the world. When it becomes obvious to them . . . as I believe that it has . . . that attempts to do so military force will bring about their own devastation, they then resort to threats, hate propaganda, and midnight treachery. Thus, we could in theory lose our country in two ways: either all at once, by all-out nuclear war, and gradually, by being isolated and nibbled to death."

"Of course, we are not going to lose our country. We are going to keep our country. More than that, we are going to advance, using the strengths and the talents which God gave us to build a world in which freedom will be secure; a world open to societies which practice tolerance and are truly devoted to the dignity of man."

"The fact that Americans are not now in combat anywhere in the world . . . largely because the U. N., with its strong American leadership, is able to take steps to avoid war;

"Then there is the fact that Chairman Khrushchev, in spite of his threats, recognizes and now publicly states that a nuclear war would be a disaster for the Russians 'incomparably more appalling' than World War II . . . which Stalin would never admit; "And the fact that, in eight years, the United Nations . . . with our faithful and energetic backing . . . has had a great growth in influence.

"This influence enabled it, with active American leadership, to play a decisive part in snuffing out the potential wars which menaced the world at Suez in 1956; in Lebanon in 1958; in Laos last September, 1959; and in the Congo within recent weeks, where that great American Ralph Bunche, has given such brilliant leadership."

Lodge is a man of strong will and is able to fight for the rights of free men everywhere, as his record at the United Nations has proved over the years.

Again, the choice lies with the American voters and again I urge every reader of this column to exercise his American right. Go to the polls in November and vote for the man of your choice. Don't let someone tell you how to vote. Stand on your own decision. Think for yourself, but above all, vote.

Next week concludes this series of articles on the candidates and features Richard M. Nixon, Republican candidate for the office of President of the United States.

Betty Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sheeley, near town, celebrated her second birthday on Tuesday. Ice cream, cake and pop were served to: Mr. and Mrs. Milburn Glass; Marlene and Darlene Glass; Mr. and Mrs. William Sheeley and children, Ronnie, Shirley and Betty Jean.

Babson Discusses Presidential Candidates
BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug. 25—From my knowledge of the major candidates for President

I ran for President in 1940 on the Prohibition Party ticket. Is Any Candidate Too Young? Mr. Kennedy is 43; Mr. Nixon is 47. The average age of Mr. Nixon and Mr. Kennedy is and Vice President, I believe all four are good men. I sincerely hope my opinion may be correct; but I may be wrong. I had many surprises when about 45 years, and the average of Mr. Lodge and Mr. Johnson is 55 years. The average age of the four men is 50 years. Looking back on my life, I was at my prime and did my most important work when I was at an age which compares with the above averages. I not only had good ideas, but I had the energy and ambition to carry them out. I think that every reader of this column who has reached over seventy years of age will agree with my own experience.

erwise, we could be headed toward some form of Communism. My grandchildren feel that Russia may gradually move further to the right with each generation while the United States may go further to the left with each generation, until the United Nations becomes a forceful organization to remove the economic causes of war.

Heart Association Awards Grant

Additional research by Dr. William Kouwenhoven of Johns Hopkins University is to be supported through one of nine research allocations announced today by Dr. Sidney Scherlis, president of the Heart Association of Maryland.

Earlier work by Dr. Kouwenhoven resulted in a technique announced in the July 9th edition of the American Medical Association Journal for the emergency treatment of heart failure. Authorities in the local Heart Association and Johns Hopkins hope that the new procedure will drastically reduce the need for emergency chest opening and heart massage. The new resuscitation technique devised by Dr. Kouwenhoven and his associates does not require opening the chest.

A portion of today's research allocation by the Heart Association of Maryland, totaling more than $40,000, will underwrite further studies in the treatment of cardiac arrest.

Other Maryland researchers whose work will be supported from local Heart funds this year are:

Care Advised In Selection Of Roofing

Choosing the roofing material for a house is an important decision for anyone, whether he's an architect, a builder, or a home owner getting ready to reroof, says architect Roy S. Johnson of Tarrytown, N.Y. The right choice of a roofing material, says Johnson, can mean an important cash savings, a contribution to the appearance of the house, and the security of knowing the roof will give good protection from all kinds of weather.

Johnson, one of the Eastern seaboard's leading designers of fine homes, says these are the things he looks for in a roofing material:

1. Ease of application. Some roofing materials require special training, tools, and experience to apply. An example of a material that is easy to apply is asphalt shingles. Any qualified roofer can apply them skillfully and dependably without costly, wasted labor.

2. Color. Johnson says that although he prefers white or other subdued light-reflecting colors of asphalt shingles, deep or blended colors on the roof can enhance the appearance of many homes.

3. Texture. A soft, textured appearance without any "harsh glare" is an architectural "must" with Johnson. "Hard, gleaming surfaces are for office buildings and greenhouses, not homes."

4. Durability. A good roof, says Johnson, should last for years without giving any trouble, and should never rot, corrode, or dent.

5. Low cost. In building a new home or remodeling an old one, the cash savings in choosing a dependable long-lasting roofing material low in applied cost may permit the installation of such things as more appliances in the kitchen or another bathroom.

Insulation Is Important For Summer-Comfort

Proper insulation is just as important to family comfort and welfare in summer as it is in winter. This is because quality insulation such as mineral wool stops heat from outside during the warmer months just as it keeps heat inside in the cold seasons.

Insulation First Step When Converting Attic

The first step in converting an attic to more living space should be insulating. This can be a "do-it-yourself" project for the whole family, since thick batts or blankets of mineral wool are available from building material dealers and are easy to install.

Maryland. Sister Mary Alma is studying energy needs of the heart.

Seven other doctors also were given support.

All of the awards announced by Dr. Scherlis were voted from local Heart Association funds. Earlier in the year, ten other Md. scientists received support through the national research program of the American Heart Association.

The total of financial support given by the Maryland Heart Association, its nine chapters in Maryland and the national unit is $118,475. Twenty individual projects are being maintained with this support in five different medical and educational institutions.

VFW Auxiliary Announces Contest

The opening of its 26th annual National High School Writing Contest was announced recently by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. The topic will be "Law and the Free Citizen."

Students in all public, private and parochial high schools are eligible to enter the contest. National prizes are: First, $1,000 cash; second $500; third $250; fourth $100, and 20 other cash awards for honorable mention. State and local contest winners receive additional Auxiliary awards which vary with the community.

The writing contest was begun by the VFW Auxiliary in 1935 to encourage young people to think and write on patriotic subjects. During the last school year more than 30,000 students from all 50 states entered the national contest. Leo Hoegh, director of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, served as chairman of the national judges.

Further information on the 1960-61 contest may be obtained from local Auxiliary units, or from the Contest Department, VFW Auxiliary, 406 West 34th Street, Kansas City 11, Mo.

citizens" being physically seized and escorted from the hearing room by San Francisco police. The atmosphere created by the filmed "report" was that of a Police State in which freedom of speech was being forcibly denied to citizens by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The Committee was shown in a very unattractive light. In fact, the film's commentator voiced the opinion that the incident might prove to be the "final straw" that would bring about the abolition of the Committee. Uninformed viewers of the telecast undoubtedly were inclined toward saying to themselves: "Well, it's high time that outfit was abolished—if that's what it's doing!"

Well-Known Communists The fact is that the instigators of the "student riots," the very "citizens" who were shown being removed from the hearing room by police, were Communists whose long records of leadership activities in the Communist Party were open to the TV reporters and photographers who produced the television network "report." The TV "report" was of priceless value to world Communism. Although no reflection on anybody's loyalty is intended, the "report" could hardly have aided the Communist cause more had Communist propagandists been employed in its editing and narrating.

The incident of the San Francisco "student riots" and the true facts concerning them are of such transcendent importance to the education of our citizens and the security of our nation that a series of columns will be devoted to all the ramifications. The facts constitute a dramatic lesson in Communist tactics at a time when they are using university students all over the world to gain their bit by bit advance toward encirclement of the United States. The facts show that "it can happen here!"

The Facts Here's what did happen: The House Un-American Activities Committee opened hearings in San Francisco on May 12 to ascertain facts concerning Communist penetration in schools and colleges in northern California. On that day some 30 witnesses were called, including many notorious Communists. Mobs composed mostly of youths formed outside the hearing room, creating great disorder. Inside the room the Communist witnesses were vocally and finally physically violent; some had to be escorted from the room by police.

On the second day, the mobs were larger and more violent. Agitated by the Communist agents, the youthful demonstrators broke all bounds and attacked the police. Fire hose were used, but twice the incited mobs rushed and grappled with the police. The Committee members' lives were in jeopardy. Harry Bridges, twice convicted as an alien Communist and twice set free by the U. S. Supreme Court, appeared with the demonstrators on the second day. On the third day, the angry mob had grown to 2,000 in number, mostly students. Squadrons of mounted police and motorcycle officers were necessary to get the Committee members and staff safely away from the threatening mob. The hearings were called off. From Mr. Hoover The facts we are presenting come from an official report made by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It was issued after careful and exhaustive investigation. "The Communist Party, U. S. A., is elated with the success it enjoyed" in breaking up the hearings at San Francisco, Mr. Hoover said in his special report. "The Party's elation is so great, in fact, that it bears witness to the truth of the observation that such a Communist coup has not occurred in the San Francisco area in 25 years. Immediately after the affair ended, the Party's national leader, Gus Hall, congratulated the West Coast comrades for the initiative and leadership they displayed at all stages of the demonstrations."

Farmers Must Abide By Law

Chairman William L. Dudley of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee today reminded farmers with land in the Conservation Reserve of their continuing responsibility to refrain from using this land for grazing or harvesting any crop from it during the contract period. "Even though we are not authorized to take new land into the Conservation Reserve," Mr. Dudley said, "there has been no change in the regulations concerncerning the land retired from production under existing contracts. The farmer is being paid an annual rental for compliance with his Conservation Reserve contract, and in most cases has already received his payment for a part of the cost of establishing a conservation practice on the land. In return, he is obligated to exercise his responsibility of withholding the land from production for the life of the contract."

There are 1,483 Conservation Reserve contracts in effect in Maryland, involving a total of 84,753 acres of cropland. Of these contracts 1,264 are "whole farm" contracts, covering all the cropland on the farm. Some of this land will be held out of production through the 1969 crop season. Nationally, there is a total of about 28.6 million acres in the Conservation Reserve in 43 of the 50 States. This acreage involves part or all of the cropland on about 205,000 farms which have a total farmland acreage of 96.1 million acres, or nearly 10 percent of the total U. S. acreage in farms.

The Conservation Reserve program provides for limiting the production on the participating farms. In addition, new land may not be brought into production on these farms. On all participating farms the acreage normally used for the production of crops must be reduced. On farms that have all cropland in the program all the acreage is withdrawn from crop production. Nationally 70 per cent of participating farms have placed all cropland in the Reserve.

kins Hospital will present a paper on "The Place of Radiation Therapy and Use of Isotopes in Thyroid Cancer."

The purpose of the conference will be to determine the following: (1) Are our beliefs regarding cancer based on firm facts or are they only cherished opinions? (2) What are the facts, especially in long term results? (3) What new data, research or clinical, require modification of our presently accepted concepts? and (4) if we do not possess data that allow us to formulate and answer, what research should be initiated to generate such data. All in all some 89 scientists will participate in the conference, many of them from such countries as England, Russia, Canada and Denmark.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

NOW TO RECAPTURE YOUR FAITH

Many people have written me this question: "Brother Roberts, why is there so much trouble and confusion in the world today?"

My answer is the same to all. In my opinion there is much confusion and trouble in our civilization today because millions of people have lost their faith. They have stopped believing in a higher power. They have ceased to have contact with God. They are not near the living presence of Jesus Christ of Nazareth.

I have discovered that there are two kinds of people who lose their faith. The first group is made up of people who have closed their minds to the proof of God's existence. They shut their eyes to the living evidence on every side—the stars, moon, sun. They do not see nature in its beauty and profusion. They refuse to realize the many providences of God which come to us every day of our lives.

The other group is made up of people who are honest in their doubts. They have not found the proofs their minds require for them to believe firmly in Christ, and in their honesty they are going about seeking some evidence, some tangible proof upon which they can hang their faith and believe in the existence of a true God.

Would it surprise you to know that Jesus is very kind and patient with honest doubters? He is concerned with men and women who have lost their faith because they cannot find a tangible proof.

Many people miss the blessing of the presence of God because they stay away from the place of worship. Worship is divine. Many, many people lose their faith because they do not go where Christ manifests His glory. They fail to associate themselves with people who know Christ and in whom Christ personally dwells.

I do not mean to say that the presence of God is found only in a church. I believe that we can feel the living presence of Jesus Christ anywhere, anytime, but often it is easier to draw near to God in His holy sanctuary. After all, it is His house and there we may expect to find faith and the presence of God.

Perhaps you have lost your faith through some tragedy or unpleasant experience but have still retained your basic honesty. You want only to find something upon which you can hang your faith. I promise you that God will come to you. This is the moment of revelation, when Jesus draws the curtain of mystery aside and lets you see the tangible proof of Christ's reality.

If you want to recapture your faith, simply look about you at the evidence. See Jesus—hear Him, feel Him, let the warm glowing feeling in your heart tell you now that there is a living God and He is good.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kestrip

Late summer means the unofficial opening of pre-season
hunting — varmint shooting.
Countless hunters, in an effort to check equipment, sharpen eyes and strengthen leg muscles, participate in this outdoor sport. But to a growing number, varmint shooting has become an end in itself.

Varmint shooting is ideal for the neophyte hunter. Competition is less keen and conditions less crowded. Varmints are usually unprotected, states John Scott in the August issue of Sports Afield Magazine, but it will be wise for the prospective hunter to check local and state laws concerning licenses and species before he sets out.
Shooting chucks is the ideal way to spend a summer afternoon. Hunters should be equipped with binocular and a high-powered, scope-sighted rifle. Lie or sit motionless where you have an unobstructed view of a recently cut field. Know where the bullet will land if you miss.

Just about the most difficult phase of varmint hunting is stalking woodchucks with a bow and arrow. A combination of skill and patience must be applied for success. Employing a bow rather than a gun will open up areas
otherwise restricted.

Many youngsters cut their hunting teeth on jackrabbits. It is a simple sport, yet it requires a good eye and a knowledge of your weapon. Best days to hunt are cloudy and cool. If the day is bright, early morning or late afternoon will be most productive. A good gun is low-trajectory, high-velocity rifle.

Night hunting for varmits,
foxes especially, is gaining popularity. A fox will respond to a call better after dark (usually the squeal of a rabbit in distress).
One advantage of night hunting is that the hunter does not have to conceal himself. A head-lamp is standard equipment. Do not shine it directly on fox until he is in close enough for a shot.

Calls are varminting's number one gadget, and they come in an infinite variety. Good calling is a skill and requires practice.

Many calls may be purchased with special instructive recordings. Calling varmits is exciting and one never knows just what animals may respond. Be set for anything.

Crows are smart and sensitive and must be outwitted. Usual equipment includes a crow call or recording, crow and owl decoys, a shotgun charged with No. 9s, camouflaged clothing and a blind.
Crows work but take practice.
Recordings, amplifiers are re-adably. The prime rule: Don't move.

There are several ways to hunt
coyotes, such as trailing them with hounds or calling them up after dark, but about the most exciting is running them with greyhounds. This sport requires open country. The hunters must follow in jeep or on horseback.
Greyhounds and the borzoi are much faster afoot than coyotes.
Unless the hunter is quick, the dog will kill the coyote first.

Bobcats offer a real challenge, for they are very difficult to track if there is no snow and they are rough on dogs. A hunter should be up early to seek the bobcat for, like other cats, he prowls at night and remains hidden during daylight hours.

Shooting gophers and other varmits with a handgun presents
the kind of challenge good hunters like. In many states this kind of hunting is not permitted and local laws should be checked. The stalk is sometimes difficult and always important, but new long-barrel weapons and more powerful ammunition such as .22

Magnum cartridge are helpful.

Starting varmint shooting will be a wise decision for most —
the beginning of a hobby that will give years of satisfaction.

Italian Horse Enters Laurel Race

Malhoa, leading thoroughbred in Italy, this week became entry No. 3 for the ninth running of the $100,000 invitational Washington D. C. International turf race at Laurel Race Course on November 11.

The other two official entrants are Bally Ache of the United States and Chamour of Ireland.
The five-year-old Malhoa, owned by the fabulous Razza Dorm-mello-Olgiate of Novara, near Milan, is the first Italian horse to compete in the classic mile and a half event since it was inaugurated in 1952.

The Dormello-Olgiate is owned jointly by Madame Donna Lydia Tesio and the Marchese Incisa della Rochetta. Madame Tesio is the widow of the late Federico Tesio, known throughout the sporting world as one of its leading breeders and owners of outstanding horses.

The acceptance on behalf of Malhoa was made by the Marchese della Rochetta who said he is not only pleased but greatly honored to receive an invitation for the horse.

The late Federico Tesio is known primarily for breeding and racing Nearco and Ribot, both of whom were undefeated during their racing careers. Ribot is now in stud in this country.

But there were many others who gained fame carrying the white, red cross sashes of Dor-mello-Olgiate such as Botticelli, Tissot, Niccolo Dell'Arca, Braque,
Tenerani and many, many others.
Like Ribot, Malhoa is a son of Tenerani. His dam is Macchietta, a daughter of Niccolo Dell'Arca.

In his last start on June 19 at Milan, Malhoa won the Gran Premio di Milano, the most coveted race in Italy, to keep going a family tradition. His sire, Ten-erani had won it in 1947 and his grand sire on his dam's side, Niccolo Dell'Arca, was the hero of the 1941 edition.

Malhoa's 1960 record stands at four victories and one fifth in five starts. He won his last four in a row.

Trained by Vittorio Ugo Pen-co, Malhoa assumed the top spot among Italian thoroughbreds by winning the Premio Emilio Turati on May 29 and the Milan classic on June 19.

Recently, a free handicap was published in Italy for the top 20 horses and Malhoa was given the post of honor with 143 pounds to 142 for Surdi and 137 to Rio Marin, the Derby winner.

Weekly Stock Market Round-Up

Prepared by the Investment Research Department of Hemphill, Noyes & Co., 15 Broad Street, New York 5, N. Y.
Members of the New York Stock Exchange

August 17, 1960

Until such time as some encouraging news and earnings are reported, it would seem to be reasonable not to expect any substantial reversal in the trend which has appeared, namely one of gradual erosion of stock prices.

In 1960, the six best acting major groups, in this order, have been: Office Equipments, Tobaccos, Public Utility Holding Companies, Telephone & Telegraphs, Public Utilities, Dept. Stores.

The six worst acting groups,
respectively, have been: Rubbers,
Airlines, Autos, Aluminums,
Chemicals, Coppers.

In our opinion, the market is displaying erosive weakness due to the many uncertain factors which are now making themselves increasingly apparent. Surely, the international situation has become even more unsettled than it was four months ago.

Certainly, the coming elections make it even more difficult to assess the actual economic condition of our country. One party would have us believe we are in one of the most healthy and expansionary economic periods; the other finds it expedient to paint as black a picture as feasible. Also the ratio of loans to deposits appears unhealth-ily high, over 70%, at present.

On balance, we are not particularly enthusiastic about the outlook for the stock market in general for the next several months.

We are lowering Department Stores and Food from buy to hold.
Our reasons for this are that in the case of Department Stores, earnings are not measuring up to previous expectations and consumer credit could be overly high.
The Food stocks have performed exceedingly well in the past four months and are currently at levels that seem to discount at least to some extent, their favorable long term outlook. We have added the tobacco stocks to the buy category on the basis of good yields and improving earnings. Both Electrical Equipment, Chemicals and Paper have been down-graded to hold due to shrinking profit margins. At current levels, high grade oil equities could be attractive for those seeking a good current income plus a better than average opportunity for longer range appreciation. In our opinion, the Oil stocks could be near their lows.

For this reason, we are putting the oils up to buy. Appliance sales are disappointing and consequently we have downgraded Appliances to sell. Electronics have been downgraded from buy to hold, but in some instances, the high quality, strong growth, electronics stocks may still be purchased by those prepared to take the longer range view. The Rail outlook is not generally favorable. We believe that rails should be downgraded from buy to hold. We are lowering the Textile industry to hold, primarily due to the clouded general economic outlook. The one addition to our buy recommendations is the aircraft manufacturers. Yields in this group are still attractive and many aircraft and/or defense companies seem to represent good growth values. We have downgraded Industrial Machinery from hold to sell as general economic conditions and decreasing profit margins do not appear favorable for this group. Railroad Equipment has likewise been downgraded from hold to sell.

One other group in the sell category is the shipbuilding industry. While we generally consider the shipbuilding industry to remain in the speculative sell category due to its uncertain prospects, we recommend the purchase of Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. Newport News outlook is vastly improved most especially in view of the recent successful Polaris submarine tests.
Its quality is tops in the industry and we regard the company similar to the good grade aircraft manufacturers.

"Swimmer's Ear" No Longer A Problem; Can Be Cleared Up In A Week Or Less

By Lloyd B. Sterling

It's hard to picture anyone quite as forlorn as the youngster—or adult, for that matter—who replies to a "Let's Go Swimming!"
invitation with:

"I can't. I've got an ear infection, and can't go in the water."
There is, happily, a new lease on life for people in that situation. An Annapolis, Md. physician, Dr. Irving L. Ochs, reports that ear infections known medically as external otitis, but more commonly called "swimmer's ear," can be cleared up in less than a week, usually in four days.

Dr. Ochs' welcome announcement, which comes after more than ten years of careful research, appears in the authoritative professional journal Medical Times.

A new preparation called V5Sol
Otic Solution, made available to the medical profession only recently, is the result of Dr. Ochs' long years of study. It has the ability to immediately kill virtually all the bacteria and fungi
that attack the outer ear canal, including those which thrive in the presence of antibiotics or sulfa drugs.

The four-to-seven-day treatment time for eradication of swimmer's ear is needed because organisms are often piled up in layers in an infected ear. The solution has to work its way through the layers to contact all the germs.

Back in 1950, Dr. Ochs recalls, he noted that a chemical called acetic acid was effective against all the various organisms that cause swimmer's ear. But the acid tended to irritate when used in sufficient strength to kill all the organisms. Also, it evaporated rapidly, making it necessary to apply drops to the affected ear
frequently — and the patient often forgot.

Years of monotonous research
in chemistry and biochemistry were needed to overcome these objections. V5Sol Otic Solution contains, in addition to acetic acid, a new chemical agent called propenediol diacetate, which is effective against bacteria and fungi without irritation. There are other active ingredients as well, in a special non-irritating formula. The chemicals are no longer diluted in water, but in a liquid that won't evaporate.

In his current report, Dr. Ochs tells of 142 cases of external otitis treated during the past year.
"All patients were restored to normal within one week and the majority within four days," he wrote. There was virtually no sign of irritation.

To those of us who remember entire summers in our youth when we were prevented from going swimming by ear infections, Dr.
Ochs' report is welcome news indeed.

Wonderful World by WALDMAN

"Sweet Pea" and "Delphinium" are two worldly skunks who have appeared on TV, been written up in newspapers and have traveled some 8000 miles—to show the world how sweet they smell after activated charcoal filters were put to work in their cages.

Seal 100 men in a huge steel tube for several days... and see how long they can stand the accumulation of carbon dioxide, cooking odors and other smells around them. This was the problem encountered in our atomic subs like the Nautilus until its designers turned to activated charcoal. They are now a part of the subs' air conditioning systems.

Now the same principle of air-purification is being used to help the housewife. The new Nautilus No-Duct Range Hood eliminates cooking fumes, odors, grease and smoke—and all without ducts or vents. Activated charcoal is put to work here in probably the first domestic application.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Acts 5:17-24.
Ye shall be witnesses unto me . . . unto the uttermost part of the earth. (Acts 1:8.)

The main business of the church and the first business of every Christian, is to witness for the Lord. I heard Dr. Ralph Sockman say in a sermon at the Oxford Conference in 1951, "Some laymen just sit back and pay the bills, and some just sit back."

It is easy for us to "just sit back." My daughter was only six, when, coming home from a morning service, she said, "Daddy, are all those men at church preachers or just watchers?" Every Christian should be a preacher for Christ, but too many of us are just watchers.

We witness by our words. We may become false witnesses by what we fail to say for Christ as much as by what we do say. We are to witness by our works. Doing this is more than lip service. The condemnation in the parable of the Great Judgment is for what people failed to do. We serve Christ by serving others. Above all, we witness by our worth. Earth may ask, "What have you?" Heaven may ask "What have you done?" God asks, "What are you?" What one is dominates what he has and determines what he does.

Prayer
Eternal God, Thou art the source of our power. Help us to hear Thy voice commissioning us to witness for Christ. Help us to be true witnesses in what we say, do, and are. For our Redeemer's sake. Amen.

Waterfowl Seasons Listed

Mr. Ernest A. Vaughn, Director of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, in cooperation with the Fish and Wildlife Service, and in conformity with both State and Federal laws, announced this week the seasons, limits, and shooting hours for taking migratory waterfowl for the 1960-61 season. Vaughn stated that a closed season on red-head and canvasback ducks was provided in the national framework of waterfowl regulations. According to the Fish and Wildlife Service, "the population of these two species of ducks is at a seriously low level," the Director pointed out, "despite hunting restrictions which have been in force on these birds for the past two years."

In addition to the closed season on canvasback and rehead ducks, the new regulation provides for:

November 19th to January 7, 1961, inclusive, for taking ducks and coots.

November 9th to January 7, 1961, inclusive, for taking geese and brant.

The daily and possession limit on duck is 3 and 6; coots 6 and 12; geese 2 and 4; brant 8 and 8. The daily bag and possession limits may not include more than 2 wood ducks, 1 hooded merganser and in addition 5 American and red-breasted mergansers with a possession limit of 10, singly or in the aggregate of both kinds.

Shooting hours will be from a half-hour before sunrise to sunset, E.S.T.; except on opening day for ducks and coots when shooting is permitted from 12 o'clock noon, E.S.T.

It is illegal to use live decoys, bait, sinkbox, rifles or handguns and recording devices at anytime. One day's bag limit only permitted in the field while hunting.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

"I HAD SIX MONTHS TO LIVE"

Fred O'Dell of Oakland, California, came to the Oral Roberts Crusade in Jacksonville, Florida, on April 5, 1955. He came to be prayed for in the name of Jesus of Nazareth. "I have only six months to live," Fred said, explaining that he had incurable lung cancer.

Today—five years later—Fred O'Dell is very much alive. He was healed instantly, following the prayer of faith.

"The night before I left Oakland for Jacksonville," Fred told me, "the doctors told me I had six months to live. When I was first stricken with cancer, I weighed 167 pounds. Within thirty days I lost 29 pounds. X rays showed my lung condition and medical science looked upon my condition as hopeless."

"The night I was prayed for through my body in a glorious way. I felt I was healed of the cancer. As a matter of fact, I was so sure of it that the next day I went before the crusade audience and testified that God had healed my body."

Fred is a living testimony of what God can do for those who have expectant faith. He went to the Jacksonville Crusade expecting God to heal him. He turned his faith loose and God healed him.

Today Mr. O'Dell weighs 172

pounds. He works untiringly every day without undue fatigue.

"Many people have asked me how to receive healing," Fred said. "I can tell them to do only one thing—just turn your faith loose and trust God. When I turned my faith loose, God healed my body."

"It wasn't anything that I did; it wasn't magic in Oral Roberts' hands. There was nothing that anyone could do. Medical science could do nothing with my case, God was my last resort; so I just turned loose and let go—God healed me."

If you have an incurable disease, remember that Fred O'Dell was as desperate as anyone could be. His back was against the wall; the doctors had given him up to die. But he had faith that God could do what no one else could. Fred O'Dell built strong faith and used it. Fred expected to be healed.

I believe that expectancy is an important step in receiving healing, because to expect is to believe and to believe is to release your faith. When you release your faith to God and trust in His infinite goodness, then the miracle of complete health and strength is worked within you. You will experience abundant life.

YOUNG IDEAS from Polly Ponds

Q: "I get a pretty good allowance but I'm always in debt. How can I learn to budget my money?"

A: Take stock of your last month's spending and make a list of the things you remember buying. How many were necessities—how many were completely useless? How much of your allowance was squandered on items you really didn't want and don't intend to use?

Try to control impulse buying—especially when you see how expensive it can be. Think for a moment, before you spend, and ask yourself if you really have to have something that has caught your eye. Most of the time, you'll be glad you resisted temptation.

Whenever you get a fifty-cent piece, put it in a penny bank or a jar and forget it. You'll be surprised how this can mount up—until you've saved enough money to spend on an important purchase.

Lincoln At Gettysburg

By Sue Martin

On that glorious and immortal day so long ago, when President Lincoln gave his immortal speech at Gettysburg, I was there, in spirit, if not in body.

I see him now in my mind's eye. He is dressed in his usual black clothes with his stovepipe hat upon his head. He holds himself proud and straight, but his face gives the impression of a man who is under great strain.

As he rises to the platform, the crowd quiets down and his face brightens a bit. He raises his hands for silence, and then his deep voice filled with emotion, booms out in the silence. Slowly he talks, putting his all into this, his most important and memorable address. With his last words the crowds clap with appreciation, telling him that they, the people, agree with all he believes in. And as I gaze upon his face, I see a glory shining in it, and know that he is one of the greatest men our country has ever known.

Lincoln and Love

By Sue Martin

An Answer to Nancy Hanks Yes, Nancy Hanks, we know of your son, The world remembers what he has done. His freeing of slaves has won him fame, And we all know his immortal name.

Though when you died Abe was quite small, He finally grew to be mighty tall. From a tiny log cabin in 1809, Abe went to a president's home, very fine.

He learned to read by light of the fire, and struggled to learn what lawyer's require. He went to big towns, that son of yours, And traveled the country on campaign tours.

Brave, courageous, and bold was he, A champion of peoples' liberty. He saved the slaves from pain and strife, And I'll remember him all my life.

Young Democrats Nominate Collier

Edwin Collier from Montgomery County has been endorsed for the State Presidency of the Young Democrats by the Presidents of four Young Democratic Clubs in Baltimore City. Included on Mr. Collier's ticket is Baltimore attorney Andrew Jackson Graham who will be the candidate for National Committee of the State Organization. Mr. Collier is presently serving in this capacity. The Presidents of the four District Clubs who endorsed the Collier-Graham ticket are Del. Joseph Curran, Jr., 3rd District; Mr. William Welsh, 4th District; Attorney Sheldon H. Braiterman, 5th District; and Mr. Graham, who is President of Baltimore City's 6th Legislative District Club.

This endorsement of Mr. Collier, a Silver Spring attorney, follows an earlier pledge of support from a coalition that includes all the counties in the 6th Congressional District of Maryland and Carroll County. Mr. Collier resides with his wife Ellen and three children at 1100 Carson Street, Silver Spring. He is a Past President of the Montgomery County Young Democratic Club and was last year's State Convention Chairman. The 1960 State Convention Chairman, Mr. Stuart Sweeney, Assistant State's Attorney for Montgomery County, announced that the Convention will be held September 16-17 at the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore.

Resigns Position With Power Utility

At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of The Potomac Edison Company held in Frederick last week, D. E. Stultz asked to be relieved of his duties as president of the utility organizations for reasons of health. In tendering his resignation Mr. Stultz expressed his regret that circumstances made his action necessary but felt that in fairness both to the company and to himself he had no alternative.

The resignation was accepted by the board with deep regret. Because of his long association with Potomac Edison and its subsidiaries and his wide knowledge of problems, policies and personnel Stultz will continue to serve as a member of the Board of Directors and will also make himself available to the company in a consulting capacity.

D. E. Stultz assumed the post of chief executive of the utility in June of 1957 when he was elected to succeed R. Paul Smith upon the latter's retirement. That promotion climaxed a life devoted to the service of The Potomac Edison Company, and during that time Stultz was involved in practically all phases of the company's operation.

Mr. Stultz came with one of Potomac Edison's predecessor organizations, the Hagerstown and Frederick Railway Company, 41 years ago in 1919 in his native Frederick. After working in various capacities in the electrical department of the railway organization, Mr. Stultz was transferred to Berkley Springs, West Virginia in 1922 as line foreman for that area.

His outstanding ability and initiative in that capacity brought recognition in 1924 when he was promoted to the district managership of the Northern Virginia Power Company in Winchester, Va.

Eight years later his performance again won him promotion. In December, 1932 Mr. Stultz was named general commercial manager of The Potomac Edison Company and moved to Hagerstown.

In 1937 Mr. Stultz was elected commercial vice president and served in that capacity until named executive vice-president in 1953. Four years later he succeeded to the president's responsibilities.

Wherever he has been located Mr. Stultz has taken a leading role in community activities. A former president of the Hagerstown and Washington County Community Chest, he also headed a successful campaign for that organization. He served as a member of the board of directors of that organization and was instrumental in the formation of its successor, the Washington County United Fund. He is also a member of that board of directors. Other community activities included the presidency of the Hagerstown Manufacturers Bureau and a directorship of the Hagerstown Chamber of Commerce.

Among his utility activities he has served as president of the Maryland Utilities Association and as a member of the executive committee of the Public Utilities Association of the Virginias.

He is a long-time member of the Kiwanis Club, belonging to the Hagerstown Club and having previously been a member in Winchester, Virginia where he served as president.

Among other boards of directors on which he is now serving are those of the American Cancer Society, the Home Federal Savings and Loan Association, the Hagerstown Goodwill Industries, Inc. and the Washington County Industrial Foundation.

DIAL PHONES FOR FAIRFIELD

John Caldwell, manager of the Gettysburg district of the United Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, this week announced that dial telephone service, including customer direct distance dialing will be installed in the Fairfield Exchange next summer.

As a result of the company's plans to install direct distance dialing service, the Fairfield subscribers will be able to dial most of their telephone calls without the assistance of an operator.

The Fairfield Exchange currently serves 581 telephones, an increase of 100 per cent during the past ten years.

Worker Injured

Louis F. Rosensteel, 50, an employee of the Gettysburg Shoe Factory, was painfully lacerated while at work Monday by flying glass.

The cuts were received when Mr. Rosensteel was attempting to close a large window in the plant during a thunder storm. The pole he was using slipped, slamming and breaking the glass. Flying glass lacerated his upper left arm and he received a puncture wound of the upper abdomen. He was treated at the Warner Hospital.

Main St., a well-known livestock dealer who died last Tuesday evening at the Annie Warner Hospital, were held Friday morning at the Wilson Funeral Home, W. Main St., with the Rev. Philip Bower officiating. Interment was in Mountainview Cemetery, with Masonic rites. Pallbearers were Aaron Adams, Vernon Keilholtz, James Hays, Sr., Andrew Eyster, Robert Fitez, and John Hollinger.

The group will take a trip to Hershey Park on Friday, August 26. They will meet at the church at 8 a. m. They will pack picnic lunches and each person may invite one guest.

A special cabinet meeting was held on Sunday evening at the parsonage to plan the programs for the next four months.
