The worst snow storm in 43 years descended upon Emmitsburg Sunday morning and snarled traffic and motorists for many hours during the days. In all about 12 inches of the white precipitation fell and to add to the misery and woes of the populace the temperatures dropped to the near zero mark for several days. Not content with the misery created by the storm, Old Man Winter added another blow when the winds increased to about 30-mile-an-hour velocity causing many of our secondary roads to be rendered impassable. This conditions existed for several days and it was not until late this week that all roads were made passable. Even up until Thursday some farmers still were stranded and isolated from civilization as their lanes were still drifted shut. The weather records indicate that Sunday's downfall of snow was the heaviest in December since 1917, a span of some 43 years. Naturally the heavy snowfall played havoc with motorists and a series of accidents occurred throughout the county. State police worked around the clock as did 100 men of the highways department. With all our modern ways and means of living Mother Nature still is capable of rendering us helpless almost at her will. Unless some unusually warm weather comes about there'll be a sizeable amount of snow around these parts for the Yuletide.

The latest fad it seems is the transfiguration of Washington quarters into Kennedy quarters. Quite a number of individuals are at a loss to explain or understand the "red" quarters which have come into circulation. Seems as though a number of practical jokers are painting the head of Washington on the quarter red, either with paint, fingernail polish or red cellophane tape. The idea is to make Washington look like a cardinal, one with a red hat. In addition to this there are being circulated numerous wisecracks about Kennedy and his religion. I suppose one should take these so-called witticisms lightly because there is absolutely no way to stop them so you might as well go along rather than become argumentative... there's never a dull moment.

Now that the town's decorated and a lot of us have completed our Christmas shopping I suppose there is nothing to do but wait for the big occasion. Soon there'll be parties and other social events to observe the occasion but let's not lose sight of the real significance... the occasion is Christ's birthday, a time for meditation and prayer. Lord knows the world needs prayer now more than it perhaps ever did before.

Something new has been injected into the Christmas spirit locally and it is indeed an improvement and asset. The local Jaycees have come with a Santy Shanty and it is now located on the Square. It is the plan of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to have present Santa for a number of days before Christmas to greet the kiddies while in town. Santa will distribute oranges and apples and perhaps a bit of candy, from the shanty.

Opps! Slipped again. Last week when I wrote a short paragraph about the new painting and refurbishing job on the Catholic Church I mentioned that the cross and clock had been given a coat of gold paint. My attention has been alerted to the fact that instead of gold paint the items were gold-leafed. There is quite a difference you know. Sorry, good padre.

GAME POSTPONED
The Mt. St. Mary's - Catholic University basketball game, scheduled for last Monday here, has been re-scheduled due to poor traveling conditions, for January 21, 1961.

County Taxes Will Not Be Raised

Frederick County will hold the line on any real estate tax increases next year it was decreed at a meeting of the Frederick County Commissioners last week. The edict declared "there will absolutely be no increase in the tax rate for 1961." The decision was unanimous among the three Commissioners despite the fact that they had been confronted with a proposed record breaking budget. The Commissioners and members of the accounting staff have been working into the late hours of the night in an effort to keep the county expenditures within the limits of money expected for the county operation for the coming year.

The Commissioners said they were scrutinizing every budget request down to each small detail in an effort to economize without neglecting necessities. The county officials said it would be unfair to impose another tax increase on property owners in light of the fact of an increase in the tax rate last year coupled with reassessment of properties. For several property owners this meant a double increase in a one year period increasing some tax bills as much as 50 per cent.

The tax rate for 1960 was set at $1.88 on each $100 assessment. It was the second major tax increase in as many years. In 1959 the tax rate was increased 16 cents from a $1.54 rate to $1.70. The Commissioners are hopeful that the increase in assessments during the past year, along with other sources of revenue, will enable them to maintain a progressive standard for this county.

One of the major budget items is school expenditures. In light of the fact that the tax rate will not be increased it can be reasonably assumed that some requests made in this portion of the budget will have to be eliminated. The School Board in its budget request asked for a $416,562 increase in current operating expenses over the $2,652,830 appropriation made in 1960.

These figures do not include the educational debt service payments—principal and interest—which it is estimated will cost an additional $204,492. Included in the major current expenditures for the educational system is a request for a raise for teachers which will cost the county approximately $112,000. Other budget requests this year which showed a sizeable increase over the 1960 allotment was the C. Burr Artz Library, which seeks an additional amount to give county-wide library service.

At least two departments of the county system are virtually assured of having their requests met. They are the Health Department, seeking $105,211, a $16,000 increase over 1960 and the Children's Aid Society, seeking $60,000, the same amount as was granted for 1960. Both of these departments were given tentative approval for their budget requests following budget hearings last week.

Local Man's Car Damaged In Sunday Accident
An accident occurred at 10:45 o'clock Sunday morning, two miles north of here on the Gettysburg Rd., when J. Henry Timmerman, 33, Gettysburg R2, was driving from Emmitsburg to Gettysburg, when he noticed cars ahead slipping on a hill and halted his car to permit the others to clear the hill before proceeding. While his car was stopped, another north-bound auto operated by Istvan S. Balogh, Staten Island, N. Y., ran into the rear of Timmerman's halted auto. Balogh posted a forfeit fine of $10 and $5 costs before Justice of the Peace John Whitman, Cumberland Twp., Pa., before whom he was charged by Pennsylvania State Police with driving too fast for conditions. Damage was estimated at $400 to Balogh's auto and $150 to Timmerman's.

Lions Club Christmas Party-Parade Sat.

An estimated 500 children will have the opportunity to meet and greet Santa Claus Saturday afternoon when the annual Lions Club Kiddies' Christmas Party takes place.

This will be the 31st year the local Lions have conducted this community project and indications are that it will perhaps be the largest of any of the previous parties. Lions met Thursday afternoon at Fitzgerald's Inn and packed nearly 400 pounds of select candy for distribution, by Santa, to the local children.

Activities will get under way at 10 o'clock Saturday morning when the first free movie will be projected in the MG Theater, W. Main Street. Should the attendance warrant a second showing it will take place at 11 o'clock at the same location.

Following the movie all kiddies will be treated to a free lunch in the Fire Hall. The menu will consist of hot dog sandwiches, hot chocolate, etc.

Following the luncheon a two-hour shopping period for parents will be observed and the next event on the program will be the big parade at 2 o'clock. The parade will form at the Doughboy in West End and proceed to the Square and the distribution of candy and oranges by Santa Claus which will conclude the day's program. The Emmitsburg Municipal Band under the direction of Walter A. Simpson, will furnish the music for the parade and give a short concert while the candy is being distributed.

In the line of march will be the usual police cars, fire apparatus, etc. Boy Scouts will assist the Lions with the distribution of the candy on the Square and State, Fire and local police will handle traffic during the hour the affair is being held. General chairman of the affair is John W. Strickhouser, assisted by Ralph F. Ireland, Ralph McDonnell, Clarence E. Hahn, Joseph W. Sullivan, John J. Hollinger, William G. Morgan and Arthur Elder.

The Lions are assisted in the promotion of the party by the local Homemakers Club, Boy Scouts, Town Council and the merchants and individuals who purchased advertising which makes the project financially possible. A full page advertisement of these sponsors appears elsewhere in this paper. Your patronage to the merchants is generally appreciated.

Mounties Split Two Games; Undefeated Record Smashed

Mt. St. Mary's was dropped from the ranks of the unbeaten when they bowed to undefeated Hofstra 85-75 in the first game of a doubleheader Friday night at Garden City, N. Y. In the second game Loyola of Baltimore was a 73-68 victim of Adelphi.

The loss was the first of the Mountaineers after three victories. Hofstra's victory was its third straight this season and 16th over a two-year span. The powerful Flying Dutchmen, one of the nation's best small college squads, have lost but one game in their last 27.

The Mountaineers, who were tabbed by Coach Jim Phelan earlier in the season as the best squad he has ever had, trailed 35-29 at half time. Jerry Savage and John O'Reilly carried the bulk of the Mount-fense with 18 and 17 points. Ed Pfeiffer and Dick Talley came through with 15 and 12.

A 69 per cent shooting average from the floor in the second half turned the trick for the Mountaineers as they overcame a first half deficit to whip Adelphi at Hempstead, Long Island, last Saturday evening 87-72.

The victory enabled the Mountaineers to gain an even break on their two-day invasion of New York State. The Mountaineers trailed 37-30 at half time but turned in a dazzling shooting performance in the second half to quickly erase the deficit and forge steadily into a comfortable lead.

Five Mount courtmen reached double figures with Dick Talley leading with 23 on 11 goals and a foul. John O'Reilly pumped in 23 and Jerry Savage netted 17.

Schola Christmas Program Presented

The Mount St. Mary's Seminary Schola Cantorum assisted by a brass ensemble presented its annual Carol program in the college chapel on Wednesday evening. In recent years the Schola has drawn an overflow crowd and this year's was no exception.

The program offered a brief sermon by Rt. Rev. Msgr. George D. Mulcahy, rector of the Seminary, and the reading of the Gospel from the Midnight Mass of Christmas by Clair Redding.

The concert featured "Motet and Royal Fanfare," Josquin des Pres; Britten's Procession from a Ceremony of Carols; Kodaly's Ave Maria; O Little Town of Bethlehem, Zink; Sinfonia con tromba, by Giuseppe Torelli, with Ralph Minnich, trumpet soloist; Softly the Stars were Shining, Torovsky; Il Est Ne, by Wagner; The Holy Day, by Sacco, with Benjamin Cueto tenor soloist; Sonata pian' e forte, Gabrieli, by brass ensemble and organ; Angels We Have Heard on High, arranged by Stone; Recession from A Ceremony of Carols, by Britten; and the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's The Messiah.

The program was under the direction of the Rev. David W. Shaum, assisted by Francis X. Callahan. Owen Mullen served as organist. Ralph Minnich directed the brass ensemble featuring James Carl, Joseph Chalker and Jack Spearing; on trumpets, Carrol Crum, Pamela Price and Carolyn Ruby; and violinist, Judy David.

Taneytown Man To Be Ordained

Frazer M. Gerard OCSO, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Arnold of Taneytown, will be ordained in the priesthood by his excellency, the Most Rev. Bernard Flanagan, bishop of Worcester, Mass., Saturday at St. Joseph's Abbey, in Spencer, Mass.

Frazer M. Gerard, who is Joseph A. Arnold, graduated from St. Joseph's Parochial School, Taneytown in 1948 and from St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, in 1952 and the School of St. Philip Neri, Haverhill, Mass., in 1953. He attended Mt. St. Mary's College in 1953-54 and entered the Trappist Order in Spencer, Mass., in June, 1954. He made his solemn profession Aug. 15, 1959, and received the orders of sub-deacon and deacon from Bishop Marino Maringo of Azul, Argentina, on Aug. 24, 1960. He is the second priest to be ordained from St. Joseph's, Taneytown, in 158 years.

Jaycees To Operate Santy Shanty

At the general membership meeting of the Greater Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce held Dec. 1, 1960, the main topic under discussion was the Christmas activities of the group. Richard Toms was appointed chairman.

Preliminary plans call for the construction of a Christmas nativity scene in front of the Reformed Church. Traditional Xmas music will be furnished in conjunction with the scene by Bill Boyd of the Recreation Center Snack Bar, next to the church.

Another phase of Christmas planning will furnish a house for Santa Claus. It is rumored that he will be in town on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings before Christmas and will be available for interviews by the children of the community. If it is not possible for a child to interview Santa personally the mail chute of the Santa Claus house will provide a direct line with his headquarters at the North Pole.

Fire Damages Keilholtz Home Near Town

Fire caused an estimated $5,000 damage Tuesday night to the farmhouse of an Emmitsburg District livestock dealer when firemen were hampered by snow-blocked roads, high winds and almost zero temperatures.

Ill fortune struck again; the third time in as many years; as the home of Merhl F. Keilholtz, on Annandale Road, approximately one mile west of Emmitsburg, was partially burned Tuesday at 5:15 p. m.

Firemen from the Vigilant Hose Co. and Thurmont Fire Co. answered the alarm and found the Keilholtz home completely smoke-filled.

Emmitsburg, which was first to respond to the alarm, had to travel seven miles out of its way because of the condition of the roads which were drifted shut.

Four of the eight rooms of the remodeled log house were totally destroyed by the blaze which is believed to have started in an open fireplace in the living room, firefighters reported.

The firemen, using a branch stream from a nearby creek, fought the blaze for approximately four hours and managed to save most of all the furniture in the building.

One Emmitsburg fireman suffered from smoke inhalation as smoke damage to the house and furnishings was heavy.

Total damage to the Keilholtz home was estimated at approximately $5,000.

Mr. Keilholtz and his daughter, who lived alone in the house were not injured, it was reported.

Just three years ago, a barn belonging to Mr. Keilholtz was burned completely to the ground and only last year Mr. Keilholtz lost his wife in an automobile accident, in addition to the deaths of his mother and father. Kind individuals served the firemen coffee and sandwiches while fighting the fire in frigid weather. The fire loss was partially covered by insurance.

Revenue From Seals Off This Year

As the number of new tuberculosis cases found in Maryland increases, returns in the Maryland Tuberculosis Association's Christmas Seal Campaign for TB control show a sudden decrease, it has been reported by the association.

A total of 1,442 cases have been detected in the state since January 1, said Lucien E. D. Gaudreau, president of the association. "This is 39 more than had been found at this time last year," he said. "Of this total, 761 cases have been found in Baltimore City while 681 cases have been found in the counties. Baltimore, Montgomery, Prince George's and Anne Arundel Counties have the highest new case totals after Baltimore City."

"Again," Mr. Gaudreau stated, "Baltimore is the first city in the nation in its TB case and death rates. At the moment, Maryland is the sixth highest state in its TB death rate and the eighth highest in its TB case rate."

A recent report issued by the association stated returns in the current Christmas Seal Campaign were encouraging. "But that isn't so now," Mr. Gaudreau commented. "No sooner had we said this than returns dropped sharply. State returns are approximately $20,000 less than those received at the corresponding period last year." Kent, Somerset, Wicomico and Worcester Counties, all on the Eastern Shore, are the only locations where the locally conducted campaigns show slight increases.

License Revoked

The State Dept. of Motor Vehicles this week announced the revocation of the driver's license of Sterling R. Sanders, Emmitsburg. At the same time the Dept. reported the suspension of the licenses of Horst Meixner, Graceham and James Wesley Smith of Thurmont. The license of Francis J. Medvid, Emmitsburg, has been reissued.

Queen Victoria's marriage to Prince Albert helped introduce the Christmas tree into England. Research experts with World Book Encyclopedia say Albert brought the custom with him from Germany and set up a tree in Windsor Castle in 1841.

KEN WAGAMAN DIES SUDDENLY

Kenneth R. Wagaman, 46, of near Emmitsburg, who had been Frederick County health sanitarian for the past 11 years, died very suddenly Wednesday afternoon at his home.

Mr. Wagaman had been ill for only a few days and his death was unexpected. He was born at Sabillasville, a son of Ruth Harbaugh Wagaman and the late Howard Wagaman and graduated from Thurmont High School and the University of Maryland.

He was a member of Saint John's Reformed United Church of Christ of Sabillasville.

Surviving besides his mother, are his wife, Carolyn B. Wagaman; two sons, William Thomas Wagaman and John Kenneth Wagaman, both at home and two brothers, C. Richard Wagaman, Sabillasville and Lester H. Wagaman of Elkton.

The body is at the M. L. Creager and Son Funeral Home in Thurmont where friends may call. Funeral services will be held from the funeral home Saturday at 2 p. m.

His pastor, Rev. Claude Corl, will officiate and burial will be in Blue Ridge Cemetery, Thurmont.

Carmel Lutheran Church, Hanover, will officiate. Burial will be in the Elias Church Cemetery, Emmitsburg. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening (Friday).

Election Board Clearing Books

Notices sent out concerning death of persons registered to vote are routine with the local Board of Election Supervisors and are required by law.

In explaining this procedure, Russell House, clerk to the Board, said that the notices serve as a check for the workers in the board offices.

The cards are sent from a list of deaths supplied each month by the Health Department. Mr. House explained there are a number of persons with the same or similar names living in the same general area. The cards are sent to secure a verification so that the right name will be eliminated from the election books.

The election board clerks will also start the first of the year, the tedious process of eliminating from the election books, names of persons who have not voted for the past five years. This is another procedure required by law and enables election boards to keep up-to-date voting lists and an organized procedure for eliminating "deadwood."

F. T. A. NEWS

The F. T. A. of Emmitsburg High School has been traveling recently. In October, Barbara Kelly went to an all-day meeting in Bel Air. The trip was very interesting but the ride was tiring. On November 19, two members, Nancy Glass and Lona Frock, represented Emmitsburg at the MAFTA (Maryland Association of F. T. A.) Convention at Morgan College, Baltimore. They left Frederick by bus at 8 a. m. and returned to Frederick at 5 p. m. It was a new experience for these three members.

ST. JOSEPH'S HIGH SCHOOL GLEE CLUB CONCERT SUNDAY

St. Joseph's High School Glee Club will hold its annual Christmas concert on Sunday evening, December 18, in the school auditorium. The Glee Club is under the direction of Father David W. Shaum of Mt. St. Mary's College.

The word Xmas as a form of Christmas originated in the early Christian Church, reports World Book Encyclopedia. In Greek, X is the first letter of Christ's name. It was often used as a holy symbol.

Snow Closes Schools; More Anticipated

Road crews had about cleared all blocked roads in the county late this week after the heavy snowfall which started Sunday morning about 8:45 a. m. had many secondary roads blocked for several days.

A rash of traffic accidents broke out throughout the county and police worked around the clock aiding stranded motorists and investigating accidents. In all, about 12 inches of snow mantled the countryside, aggravated by winds estimated to be about 25-30 miles an hour.

Winds had diminished to about half the rate generally figured for this area early Monday, but many of the open roads were little more than narrow lanes between piles of ice and snow. Only a little more than half of the county roads were passable Tuesday.

The State Roads Commission announced late in the week it had started to send its road-clearing crews home in relays for much needed rest, with all main routes in the area open and apparently cleared definitely as far as the present snow emergency is concerned, a spokesman pointed out.

The temperature around zero, however, added to the task, freezing a solid cover over drifts blown across roads. A number of county roads opened late Monday were blown shut again in the windy hours that followed.

Although the snowstorm has been comparable with that of last March in snowfall and temperature, the weatherman said the worst was yet to come as far as the temperature was concerned, and by midweek it dipped to 5 above zero.

Although most of the county maintained roads were open to traffic Monday night when the crews finally quit for the night around midnight, by morning the snow had drifted across most of the thoroughfares and they had to be plowed open again Tuesday.

Ray Hartman, maintenance engineer for the State Roads Commission, said Wednesday that all of their highways were open to traffic but only because the men had been working around the clock since the snow began early Sunday.

The first of 30-odd pieces of state equipment was summoned around 8:30 a. m. Sunday battled the snow and drifts day and night. Two of the snow weary crews were sent home Monday night for some rest but when the howling wind kept drifting the snow, they were called back on the job.

A storm-caused accident was reported by Trooper Powers of the State Police on U. S. 15 at the intersection of the Old Frederick Road, near Toll Gate Hill, south of here Sunday at 11 a. m. caused $550 in damages but no injuries.

In this accident, a 1951 Chevrolet driven south on U. S. 15 by Charles Andrew Sartwell, a 24-year-old Rocky Ridge mechanic working in Silver Spring, went into a skid on the slippery road, came across the highway and slid into a 1953 Oldsmobile stopped at the intersection.

State Police said the Oldsmobile, operated by Clarence X. Myers, a 65-year-old Thurmont laborer at Fort Ritchie, sustained $150 in damages while the Sartwell Chevrolet received $400 in damages. No one was injured in the crash.

No charges were preferred in this accident by Trooper Powers due to the slippery roads and heavy snow falling at the time. Trooper Powers estimated the snow in this area was four to five inches deep when these two accidents occurred.

Two servicemen driving south on Rt. 15, clipped off a utility pole in front of the Wilbur Umbel property on N. Seton Ave. when their car car went out of control. Police Chief W. E. Law investigated by the accident.

Meeting Rescheduled

The regular meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. which was cancelled Tuesday night due to the Keilholtz property fire, has been rescheduled for next Tuesday evening, Dec. 20, President John J. Hollinger announced this week. During the meeting the annual election of officers will take place.

Stores in the U. S. depend on Christmas shoppers for one fourth of all the sales they make during the entire year, reports World Book Encyclopedia.

Vacationing Students Cautioned On Safe Trip Home

Homeward-bound students urged to 'take care'—this memo issued today to homeward-bound college and university students from the executive director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission.

"Take it easy going home for the holidays. Make sure you arrive safely to enjoy your well-deserved vacation from the classrooms."

Paul E. Burke, the executive director added, "You are the future leaders in the professions, in business and in government. We do not want you to handicap your own future by risking serious injury in an avoidable automobile accident."

Pointing out that hurry and fatigue often are influencing factors in "rushing home" accidents, the executive director advised students not to start a real long trip after completing a full day of classes. Hour-after-hour of steady driving should be undertaken only when the driver is fully awake and properly rested, he stated.

"If fellow students going your way are riding with you and you have confidence in their ability to handle your car, you may wish to 'change drivers,' but don't risk turning over the wheel to inexperienced or reckless operators," he said.

"If you accept other students as passengers keep in mind they are depending on you to deliver them to their destinations without mishap," he added. "This places a tremendous responsibility upon you for they are entrusting their very lives into your hands. It involves both a moral and a legal responsibility."

Mr. Burke recommended that students do as all good drivers do: "Check your car before a journey so you will not be held up or hampered by faulty equipment or bad weather conditions along the way."

He urged that brakes, lights, battery, windshield wiper arms and blades, defroster, heater and tires be inspected. Tire chains always should be carried in trunk, ready to prevent being marooned or skidwrecked. If any major items are found to be faulty and time is too short to permit repair, it may be wiser to change to public transportation, as risk of stalling in bad weather or heavy traffic is unwise and may prove to be downright dangerous.

"While at home and on your return trip to the campus New Year's weekend, continue to exercise good sense in the handling of your vehicle," the executive director concluded.

Facts Reveal Most Colleges Have Vacancies

Vacancies for at least 42,000 freshmen in 285 accredited colleges will be available at the beginning of the second semester in January, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine. "Any qualified youngster who did not get in this autumn can find a college that will take him for the spring semester," according to the editors of the magazine.

An article in the current issue carries the results of an exclusive survey conducted for the third consecutive year among four-year accredited colleges.

The editors found that the long-expected tidal wave of students—youngsters born during the baby boom of the 40's—has begun to flood onto the campuses. "College after college reports the biggest freshmen class in the history. Many tell of rejecting hundreds of qualified students for lack of space," the article notes.

Despite the crush, however, the survey reveals that scores of accredited colleges had room for more students than applied for the autumn term. Responses from 437 schools across the country indicated that there was room for 28,800 more freshmen than actually registered in 237 accredited colleges at the beginning of the fall term. About 18 per cent of the openings were for students who could live on campus.

The article points out that colleges which have openings this year are good bets for students to enter school next fall. Students who apply for next autumn will find it hard to get into their first-choice colleges, the editors caution, but they are sure to find plenty of room in other colleges if they look carefully.

The editors found that the colleges participating in the survey took around 13,200 sophomore and 12,000 junior transfers this year, and many of the colleges indicated they are glad to receive transfers from junior colleges.

Typical expenses for a student who lives at school (not counting travel and personal costs) run between $1,100 and $1,750; for a day student they run between $500 and $700.

A complete report of the survey, which lists nearly 400 accredited four-year colleges, is available for 50 cents from Changing Times Reprint Service, 1729 H Street, N.W., Washington 6, D. C.

Social Security

Anyone who has been told in the past that he did not have enough work under social security to qualify for payments should get in touch with his social security office now to see if he is eligible under the change in the law. This suggestion is from W. S. King, manager of the social security district office in Hagerstown.

The amount of work required to get social security benefits has been reduced. Just how long you must work depends upon your date of birth (or if you die or become disabled, upon the date of your death or disability). Because of this recent change the survivors of workers who died after June 1954 and who were not eligible for benefits under the old law may now be eligible. In many cases the amount of work required under the old law has been reduced about a third. For example, a man who was 65 or a woman who was 62 in the first six months of 1960 needed 4 1/2 years of work or 18 quarters of coverage under the old law to be eligible for a monthly benefit. Under the new law 3 years or 12 quarters of coverage are required.

No social security payment can be made of there is less than a year and a half of work under social security. This provision in the Social Security Law was not changed by the 1960 Amendments. Another provision that was not changed is that no one ever needs to have more than ten years of work under social security in order to qualify for a benefit. A disability insurance benefit still cannot be paid to anyone with less than five years of covered work.

It is recommended that you contact your nearest social security office if you think this change in the law may be of benefit to you.

Pointers Given How To Make Homes More Comfortable

The Better Heating - Cooling Council of Maryland today passed on a few pointers on how to make your home, and your family and guests—more comfortable at holiday parties.

A few hours before your social gathering is planned, make sure the temperature of your home is 4 to 6 degrees cooler than usual in those rooms which are to be used. With a hydronic or hot water heating system, this may be done by closing the thermostat if the house is zoned.

In a dwelling heated by hot air, the temperature of the entire house often must be reduced. It is better to do this than have your guests become dull or listless from becoming overheated. It will also hold true when large family dinners or hot buffets are being served.

The kitchen makes a lot of heat and the crowd of guests themselves make a room warm, the Council points out. More company usually comes togged out in warm suits and clothes, the men especially, and they are often very uncomfortable at crowded parties in an overheated home.

A Cheery yule fire in the fireplace can be cozy, but will tend to make the remainder of the house too cool if the thermostat is in the same room as the fireplace, or within range of its heat. With hydronic heat, this room may be comfortably valved off, but in a hot air heated residence, the thermostat should be turned up 4 to 6 degrees to keep the remainder of the house comfortable, the Council says.

Baltimore Raceway Buys Bel Air Track

The purchase of controlling interest in Bel Air Race Track was announced this week by officials of Baltimore Trotting Races, Inc., operators of Baltimore Raceway. Raceway officials have expressed interest in entering the thoroughbred racing picture in Maryland and the recent purchase is expected to be a major step in that direction. Spokesman for Baltimore Raceway was Irving Blum, Vice President and Chairman of its Executive Committee. He did not reveal the purchase price but stated that, "Not less than two-thirds of the outstanding stock of the Harford County Fair Association has been acquired." "Our representatives negotiated the purchase with representatives of the Polan family who acquired controlling interest in Bel Air shortly after the death of G. Ray Bryson in February, 1919. Mr. Bryson had owned and operated the track since it was built in 1937," Blum said. Mr. Blum, long associated with Baltimore business interests and a founding Director of Baltimore Trotting Races, Inc., continued "We are anxious to sit down with the Racing Commission and discuss our plans for both Baltimore Raceway and Bel Air. The last session of the legislature instituted a large scale survey of the Maryland racing picture and we would want to integrate the thinking of both the Commission and the Raisin Committee with our own. Our approach has always been to strengthen Maryland racing and we shall work toward that objective. We think this purchase is one step in accomplishing this goal."

Baltimore Trotting Races' Executive Committee, composed of Blum, Emanuel Gorfine and Jerold Hoffberger, will formulate more definite plans later this month when Hoffberger returns from a business trip to Europe.

Baltimore Raceway presented a 24-night harness meeting in June of 1960 and is understood to be seeking approximately the same dates for the pending season. Bel Air operated an 11-day thoroughbred meeting from Sept. 13 to Sept. 24, having had to cancel its opening day program due to a hurricane.

Bel Air has not been assigned racing dates for 1961.

State Police Taking Civil Defense Training

A program to train all members of the Maryland State Police in Radiological Monitoring is underway according to a joint announcement made this week by Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the State Police, and Sherley Ewing, Director of the Maryland Civil Defense Agency.

Already having completed ten hours of training are all civilian barracks clerks of the police while all sergeants and 1st sergeants have received 12 hours of training. In January the new police recruit class will undergo such training and within a year all personnel will be experts in the monitoring.

Two troopers, First Sergeant Newton J. W. Lloyd and Corporal John S. Sawa, attended the Eastern Instructor Training Center of the Federal Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization in Brooklyn, New York and are now serving as the instructors for the State Police. Working with them on the project is Robert E. Creaghan, Training Officer of the Maryland Civil Defense Agency.

With all the State Police becoming trained, the States' capability of monitoring radiological fall out, in the event of enemy attack, will be greatly enhanced. In addition, the troopers will have training in what to do in case of a peacetime nuclear incident.

Radiological monitoring instruments will be stockpiled at all State Police Barracks and outposts so that prompt reading and reports can be obtained if the necessity arises. The program is the most extensive conducted by any State Police Agency in the nation.

Mr. Ewing pointed out that this training is part of an overall Civil Defense program for all field personnel of various State Agencies including Dept. of Forests & Parks, Games and Inland Fish Commission, Tidewater Fisheries Commission, State Roads Commission and State Department of Health.

Variety Of Foods Needed In Diet

The surest and safest way to take off extra pounds and keep them off is to plan low-calorie menus around foods you normally eat with plenty of variety to stimulate interest and insure a well-balanced diet, says Mrs. Judith Pheil, extension nutritionist at the University of Maryland. This type of dieting helps develop new food habits, which you can continue even after the weight goal is reached. It will prevent the lost pounds from returning.

A pound or two off a week is plenty. At this rate you can lose 10 to 20 pounds in 10 weeks. Before going on a diet of 1,200 calories a day or less it's best to consult a doctor to be sure you're in good health.

Special food preparations and meal combinations often recommended for quick results may sound glamorous, but they can also be very tiresome. Many people on a crash diet soon return to their old habits, and the unwanted pounds also return. Erratic gains and losses, often encouraged by this type of dieting, are highly unsatisfactory and can be harmful if important nutrients are missing in such diets.

Turning to a well-balanced reducing diet can mean improved health, vigor, and alertness for the person who has been overindulging in rich cakes, pastries, and other sweets, to the exclusion of more nutritious foods. A well-balanced diet—whether low-or-high-calorie—includes daily choices from four basic food groups; milk, cheese, ice cream; meat or meat alternates; fruits and vegetables; breads and cereals.

Moderate amounts of bread and potatoes, often considered as fattening, have an important place in any diet, even a slimming diet, says Mrs. Pheil. Dieters will also do well to pay special attention to fruits and vegetables, because this food group offers many appealing choices, high in food value, to help fill in the gaps left by high-calories desserts and snack foods. Switching to skimmed milk or buttermilk is also a good way of cutting calories.

Eighty per cent of tropical timbers are so moisture-laden that they can be floated to market only if attached to lighter logs.

The British call the day after Christmas "Boxing Day," but it has nothing to do with heavyweights. According to World Book Encyclopedia, this is the day when families give money to the milkman, postman and others. In earlier days, the custom was to give Christmas boxes of food and other gifts to tradesmen and servants.

Looking Ahead

...by Dr. George S. Benson DIRECTOR - NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM Searcy, Arkansas

Beware Of Kissing Reds A few weeks ago a new novel was called to our attention, entitled "When The Kissing Had to Stop." It isn't a novel about kissing, but it is a novel about seduction, the seduction of the British political leaders and the British people by Communist agents. The novel was written by Constantine Fitzgibbon, an American educated in Europe who fought with first the British Army and then the U. S. Army in World War II. It is an important fiction story, as you shall see.

Fitzgibbon's story takes place in England during the present and the next few years, and against a background of rising anti-Americanism, pacifism, and moral breakdown. In the story the English people are caught up in an upheaval that begins as a naive pacifist movement by gentle people but develops into a demand for the ouster of American bases in the British Isles, unilateral disarmament, and moves finally toward disaster for England.

In the story, the Soviets, taking advantage of the fear created by their agents in England, get their people into strategic positions. An Englishman des-tinued to become Prime Minister plays along with the Communists, but he is loyal to England all the time, expecting to use the Communists' political skill to achieve the Primeninistership and then turn on them when his power over England became absolute.

As he travels toward this wished - for power, using the strength of the hidden Communist apparatus within England, he and other political leaders bow to the demands of the Labor - Socialists, maneuvered by the Reds, for a disarmament deal with Russia. Russia announces that she is dismantling her missile bases in Poland and England matches this by ordering American bases dismantled, American forces evacuated, and the missile bases destroyed. Russia sends in an "inspection team." It is a military force in disguise. With the aid of its hidden agents it swings the governmental power to its dupe, the Englishman. Then it takes control of the nation and liquidates the Prime Minister - announcing his suicide.

Fiction And Fact

Is it just a fiction story? Or is it a book of prophetic significance? A few days after we had read it, the U. S. News and World Report, our nation's most reliable news weekly, carried this report: "The 'ban the bomb' idea is becoming a major political force in Britain. For a long while only pacifists and Communists urged it. Now Britain's AFL-CIO, the Trade Unions Congress, is on verge of adopting the idea of officially under the label, 'Unilateral nuclear disarmament.' Britain's big labor party is heading in exactly the same direction . . . (proposing) abolition of U. S. bomber bases in Britain armed with nuclear weapons." This dispatch was dated Aug. 15.

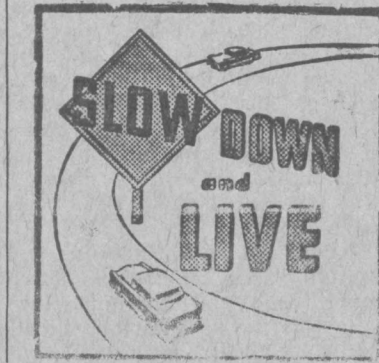

On Oct. 24, the same news magazine published the sequel: "A year of maneuver by the Communists has now saddled Britain's opposition Labor Party with a policy that could wreck Europe's defenses and drive American military forces back to the United States. . . By throwing their weight and organizational talents into an essentially emotional 'ban the bomb' movement, the Communists played a key part in committing the Labor Party to a neutralist line.

A Major Victory "The Communists have already achieved a major victory (in England)," said the news magazine. "Two of their main objectives—withdrawal of American forces from Europe and liquidation of NATO—have been incorporated into the official program of a responsible, non-Communist party that only 10 years ago governed Britain and last year polled more than 12 million votes."

Then another significant news item came to our attention, an interview in the Toronto Daily Star with Dr. Donald Soper, past president of the English Methodist Conference, now pastor of the West End Methodist Mission in London. He said: "You can't have disarmament in a laissez-faire economy (capitalism) but you can in a planned socialist state. We must search for world government and we must face the fact that Khrushchev will be the first president. . ." Dr. Soper is Lyman Beecher lecturer at Yale University, 1960.

These facts are disturbing. They aid us in seeing how far the Communist conspiracy has enveloped the thinking and guided the actions of nations around the world. Wake up, America!

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read II Corinthians 5:14-21. (II Corinthians 5:15. ASV.)
He died for all, that they that live should no longer live unto themselves, but unto him who for their sakes died and rose again.
We went to Japan when our younger daughter was two, and she had no recollection of Christmas. In our remote mountain village there were few evidences of a Christmas as celebrated in our homeland.

Her own birthday was still fresh in her memory. So we explained that the Christmas we were all talking about and preparing for was Jesus' birthday.
She watched with interest as the little pile of presents grew on the table. When Christmas morning dawned, and we began to hand around the presents, a puzzled look came on her face. "But it's Jesus's birthday," she finally burst out. "Aren't the presents for Him?"

These words spoke to our hearts. All that so many of us enjoy at this season is the result of Christ's coming. Yet often we are so concerned with material gifts for others and ourselves that we forget the purpose of Jesus' coming. Let us give Him first place in our lives and use our material possessions in ways which please Him.

Prayer
Dear Father, we thank Thee for Thy great love which gave Thy Son for all mankind. Fill our hearts with such love and gratitude that we give our lives in Thy service. In His name. Amen.
Thought For The Day
A life lived for Christ is proof that we have received new life through Christ.

taking over England under Oliver Cromwell, they were losing the battle of Christmas. Riots broke out in 1647 protesting the ban on the holiday. And an outraged group of 10,000 men passed a resolution declaring that if they couldn't celebrate Christmas, they would just as soon have the king back.
A few years later, the Puritans prudently beheaded King Charles I. But the English people invited his son Charles II to come back in 1660 and Christmas, as well as the monarchy, was restored to England.

Farmers Must Comply with Law

With the measurement of winter wheat acreage under way in Maryland, Chairman William L. Dudley of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee today reminded wheat growers who are found to have excess acreage at this time of the effect that this may have on their future wheat allotments.
"If you are out of compliance with your 1961 wheat allotment and remain out of compliance," Mr. Dudley said, "Your farm generally will be credited with the

Internal Revenue Has Job Openings

The Internal Revenue Service is actively pursuing recruitment efforts to meet current hiring goals in several different technical and professional positions in the fields of Accounting, Legal or Investigative. Appointments will be made at GS-5, which carries an annual salary of $4,345, or GS-7 which pays $5,355 per year, dependent on individual past experience or training. Acceptance of a position with Internal allotment only as your wheat history for 1961, which is used in determining future allotments.

"However, if you want to be credited with your base wheat acreage (farm wheat acreage allotment plus the acreage considered diverted from wheat) for 1961, there are two ways you can accomplish this. One is to dispose of your excess acreage before a deadline date in advance of harvest that will be announced later.

"The other, if your wheat acreage is more than 15 acres and the normal production of your acreage is 200 bushels or more, is to store your excess wheat or deliver it to the Secretary of Agriculture. You then get credit for the full base wheat acreage, although if you later use or market any of the stored excess wheat, your history for 1961 would be cut back to the allotment only.

Jailed For Observing Christmas In England

Christmas celebrations became so merry in Merrie Old England that they were abolished.

World Book Encyclopedia notes that the Puritans prohibited the boisterous observances in the 1640's. They threw out ministers who dared to hold services on Christmas Day and jailed anyone who didn't treat December 25 as a common work day.

But while the Puritans were

Canning Industry

Far Superior

To Russ System

The canning industry of the Tri-State region of Delaware, Maryland and New Jersey was cited today as an excellent example of how food technology in the United States surpasses that of the Soviet Union. The claims of superiority for the domestic industry were made by Milan D. Smith, President of the National Canners Association, who served recently on U.S. food industry research delegation on a tour of the U.S.S.R. Mr. Smith asserted that food canning is one field of technology in which the Russians have not even come close to the scientific development in the United States. He said that the U.S.S.R. is from 20 to 30 years behind the United States in food processing and distribution techniques. He characterized the Soviet food processing industry as utilizing a good deal of hand labor to accomplish tasks which in the United States have been mechanized for many years.

An important reason for Soviet lag in this field, Mr. Smith said, is the regimentation of production and distribution under their system. In the U.S.S.R., he pointed out, the individual processor is not free to determine what he will produce, nor the consumer to dictate what foods she wants supplied her.

Before an audience assembled at the 57th annual convention of the Tri-State Packers' Association, the speaker cited statistics that establish this region's excellence in relation to the Soviet. For example, he stressed the superior variety offered here saying that Tri-State packers have 225 different canned food items on the store shelves of this nation and that the U.S.A. canners across the nation account for 1,200 varieties of canned food. All of the Soviet produces a variety of only 200 to 300 canned items. "Thus, one U.S.A. region the Tri-States matches in variety the showing of the whole U.S.S.R.," he asserted.

Farm Bureau Aid Helped Amendments To Pass In State

The current issue of American Farm Bureau Federation's Official News Letter draws the nation's attention to the fact that the work of Maryland Farm Bureau and Maryland County Farm Bureaus resulted in voter approval in the recent election for constitutional amendments providing tax relief for agriculture.

"The Maryland amendments provide that land may be classified for assessment purposes and that farm land may be taxed according to its use and not as if sub-divided for development purposes," the AFBF article says.

"In Maryland, Farm Bureau members passed out 400,000 cards at polling places in support of the constitutional amendments," it continues, "and the farm tax amendments had over 40,000 votes more than other state constitution amendments on the same ballot."

Methodists Set Goal For Money Drive To Aid Children

A goal of $125,000 has been set for Methodists from Maryland, Delaware, and the District of Columbia as they give offerings December 18 to help children from broken homes throughout 1961.

This annual Christmas offering goes to the Methodist Board of Child Care, located at the Methodist Children's Village, 3300 Gaither Road, Baltimore. Last year the churches gave $117,800.

Headed by Dr. F. Reid Isaac, executive director, the Board of Child Care is a Methodist social welfare agency that carries on a four-fold program of group care, foster home care, adoption services, and counselling for unwed mothers.

During the past year, the Board moved its offices to the new Methodist Children's Village in Rockdale on the outskirts of Baltimore. From here the staff, which includes director, superintendent, cottage parents, caseworkers, psychiatrist, secretaries, physicians, food service personnel and ground keepers, carries on its programs.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Making A Will

BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 15—While Mrs. Babson and I were in Europe this fall, three of our intimate friends passed away. Two of these I knew had made no will, despite my urgings. One had promised he would do so "when he had time." He begrudged the expense and felt it really was not necessary. Let me discuss these three cases.

Case Number One
In this case, the man left a wife and three children, and several brothers and sisters who have children. The wife assumed she would get all of her husband's estate and then will it to their children. But she did not. Since her husband left no will, she was given only one third; the remaining two thirds was divided equally among the children. Nothing was available for the deceased's brothers or sisters or cousins. This is as it should be.

Cases Number Two and Three
The second man left no wife — but two children as well as brothers, sisters and cousins. All of his estate went to his children outright, in equal proportions, or to their heirs. None went to the brothers or sisters or other relatives. One child 23 years of age received the money outright; since the other was a minor, his share was entrusted to the guardian appointed by the Court.

The third man left a wife but no children; he did have brothers and sisters and cousins. His estate exceeded $100,000. The wife will be given the $25,000 which she would automatically receive from an estate valued at $25,000 or over. In this case she also will get a second $25,000. The remainder will go to the man's brothers and sisters or their heirs who are now springing up in all directions.

Wills Oldest Legal Documents
Originally when a man died all his property went to the oldest son. He was supposed to take care of his mother and to secure work for any other children. Then land owners sometimes died without leaving any children; anticipating this, the father left a written document outlining his wishes or "will" at his death. These wills were considered sacred by the Roman Courts, and their policy and purpose were adopted by the English Courts and carried to America.

I have recently been seeking copies of early records of the forty families who settled Cape Ann, (which now comprises Gloucester and Rockport, Mass.). The very earliest documents are the wills of these inhabitants around 1620-30. The first

Babson arrived in Salem from London after sixty days in a small sailing vessel. She was a widow named Isabel and she came to Cape Ann in 1637. She was very enterprising—and as there were no doctors—served as a midwife. Also, since there were no lawyers, she helped the fathers make wills. Although these were written on scraps of paper — perhaps on birch bark—they were held very sacred and history still records their contents.

Cost Of Making A Will
To enable your life's savings to go as you would like, you should have your local lawyer make up your will. It is simple, namely leaving all to your wife, he may not charge you more than twenty dollars. If it is more complicated, leaving property perhaps to your wife, in trust—allowing her the use of it and the income during her lifetime with provisions for equal division among your children or their heirs—then your lawyer will charge more. He will charge according to the amount of his time you take.

Laws concerning the distribution of estates where there is no will are subject to change. The cases cited above are based upon the laws in effect in Massachusetts as of Jan. 1, 1957. When the time comes for settling your estate, these laws
