Joins Power Utility In Official Capacity

John H. Larson, formerly with Community Planning Associates of West Trenton, New Jersey, has joined the Area Development Department of The Potomac Edison System as Community Development and Planning Consultant.

Primarily, Larson will work with local civic leaders and agencies to help them develop a program of planned community growth and encourage projects and improvements that will make communities more attractive to industry and a better place to live and work. During his initial months with Potomac Edison, Larson is visiting all parts of The Potomac Edison service area, becoming acquainted with the communities, company personnel and community leaders. He is a native of Philadelphia and a graduate of Trinity College where he received his Bachelor of Arts Degree. He later attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology and was awarded a Masters Degree in City Planning. Potomac Edison is one of the few public utility companies with a professional planner on its staff providing a consulting service to its communities.

Soil Reserve Contracts Reviewed

Land on which a Conservation Reserve contract expired on December 31 does not need to be plowed this year to keep its rating as cropland, according to William L. Dudley, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee for Maryland. Under existing law, any cropland in the Conservation Reserve is classed as cropland for an additional period after the contract expires. The additional period is equal to the number of years that the land was under contract prior to expiration.

Mr. Dudley explained the cropland classification with the following illustration: A farmer had a piece of cropland under a 5-year Conservation Reserve contract that expired on Dec. 31, 1960 and the contracted land had been established to grass. He could leave the land in grass for another 5 years and for agricultural program purposes it would be classed as cropland during that period.

Farmers who have Conservation Reserve contracts that have expired should also check with the county ASC office, particularly if they have other land that is still in the Reserve. This check should be made to be sure about the acreage of crops permitted for harvest under contracts still in effect. Another important item to be checked is the status of any arm acreage allotments that may have been unused when the crop and was in the Reserve.

Farm Bureau Backs Governor's Ideas

Noah E. Kefauver Jr., president of Maryland Farm Bureau, has issued a statement commending Governor Tawes' State-of-the-State message, particularly as it relates to the question of taxes. "The Governor's views are very much in line with the recommendations of the Joint Tax Committee of Maryland State Grange and Maryland Farm Bureau," Mr. Kefauver said.

"We have long realized the importance of the Governor's statement that if additional aid is to be given to the sub-divisions, additional revenues must be raised to meet these additional costs," Kefauver continued.

"Our Tax Committee has recommended," he pointed out, "that the minimum taxable sales subject to the retail sales tax in Maryland be reduced below the present 50-cent level, and be more in proportion to the original minimum taxable sales when the two percent sales tax was first enacted."

"No one can fairly say," concluded Kefauver, "that the farmer has ever shown any unwillingness to bear his fair share of the tax burden. At present, $1 out of every $5 of the farmer's net income goes for real estate taxes, and he pays all other taxes as well."

Trailer Owners Cautioned About Carbon Monoxide

Owners of travel trailers are urged to guard against the dangers of carbon monoxide poisoning. The warning was issued by Dr. Perry F. Prather, Director, Maryland State Department of Health. Heating equipment in trailers should be carefully checked to determine if it has been correctly installed and is operating properly, and the occupant should make certain that there is adequate ventilation, he said.

There is extreme danger in using unventilated, manually controlled gas heaters in small tightly weather-stripped travel trailers such as those frequently used by campers and hunters, he said.

Dr. Prather said that there has been at least one death in Maryland this year caused by carbon monoxide poisoning in a trailer. He also pointed out that two years ago there were approximately sixteen people in the United States who had died from CO poisoning caused by a particular make and model of heating equipment. Many lives were saved when health, motor vehicle, police, and fish and wildlife authorities, acting in concert with industry, established a widespread warning network, tracked down and alerted unsuspecting travel trailer owners whose vehicles were equipped with the particular make and model of heating equipment that had been found faulty. This particular model of heating equipment was subsequently corrected.

Troop 72 To Hold Party

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 72 will hold a combination birthday and Christmas party on Monday, January 16 from 6:30 to 8:00 p. m. in the basement of the American Legion Home. Each girl will bring a gift of 50c value for exchange. Lunch, exchange of gifts and games will be held. The troop's birthday is January 15. All members are asked to be present for the celebration. The regular meeting was held on Tuesday, January 10. The meeting opened with the flag ceremony. Final plans were made for the party. Future meetings were discussed, such as the group visiting business places in town, working on merit badges, learning to march, sewing projects and leather craft. A short skit, entitled "Little Dutch Boy and Girl" was presented by Kathy and Josephine Rodgers.

Paul Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold, celebrated his third birthday last Thursday.

Counties Cooperate With Heart Research Program

This year for the first time the Professional Education Committees of the Heart Associations of Washington County and Frederick County have joined together to form plans for a Regional Physicians' Seminar in Cardiovascular Disease to be held in Hagerstown the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, January 25.

Details of the event, designed for the general practitioner were announced this week by Drs. James B. Thomas and Dalton M. Welty, co-chairmen of the planning committee for the scientific program. Dr. Thomas is chairman of the Professional Education Committee of the Frederick County Heart Association and Dr. Welty is chairman of the Professional Education Committee of the Heart Association of Washington County. Following will be a social period and dinner for the registrants, their wives, guests and the faculty.

"Commonwealth Breadbasket" Favors "Brandy Baskets" as Popular Dessert

Out on the plains of Saskatchewan, the wheat-growing Canadian Province that is the "Breadbasket of a Commonwealth," they like to eat.

And they eat well because Saskatchewan not only grows grain to feed its cattle and other livestock, but the northern part of the Province has some of the finest fishing and hunting country in North America, which provides game of all descriptions.

These western plains people are mighty choosy about their desserts, too, and probably no man or woman on the Prairies can match Billie Tokey, the pastry chef at the Bessborough Hotel in Saskatoon, in whipping up a "sweet" that tickles and pleases the palate.

Number 1 choice in desserts is his—

- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 teaspoon brandy
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon

Mix sugar, water, molasses and flavoring in a saucepan. Bring to a boil. Remove from stove, add the butter and stir until melted. Measure the sifted flour, baking powder and cinnamon, and sift together into a bowl. Add the molasses and butter mixtures and blend well. Drop by tablespoons on an ungreased cookie sheet 3" apart. Bake 13 to 15 minutes until they bubble and are lightly browned in preheated moderate oven (325°F.). Cool 2 minutes, loosen edges and remove from baking sheet. Mold immediately over a custard cup. Do not bake more than 6 on a sheet at a time. If they become brittle before molding, return to oven for a few minutes to soften. Fill with ice cream and fresh fruit. Yield—12-15.

Then, Pastry Chef Billie Tokey has his pet recipe for Banana Sour Cream Pie. This, he has shared with some of his chef pals on the Canadian National Railways' transcontinental train, the "Super Continental."

And so here is how the Bessborough's pastry chef and the kitchen boys on the "Super" make—

- 9-inch baked pie shell
  - 2 medium-size bananas
  - 1 cup (8-oz.) commercial sour cream
  - 1 cup homogenized milk
  - 1 package (3 1/2 oz.) vanilla instant pudding mix
- Slice bananas into cooled, baked pie shell. Combine sour cream and milk. Stir into instant pudding, mix until well-blended. Pour over bananas. Chill. Garnish with additional sliced bananas and serve with whipped cream or whipped topping. FNS

THE CALENDAR

FACT— "Beware the Ides of March!" warned the aged soothsayer as he saw Caesar approaching. The old man foresaw Caesar's slaying on the Ides—the 15th. In the Roman calendar—the basis for our own—the Ides was the day of the full moon.

FAD—Sadie Hawkins Day—when any gal can pursue the man of her choice, using anything from a shotgun to a slingshot—is a traditional American fun-day. Once this freedom for the femmes came only in leap years, on February 29th. Now it's an annual springtime occasion!

FACT—As January 1961 makes its entrance, millions of Americans will welcome the new year with Four Roses, favorite refreshment every day of the year.

FANCY—In 1752 all English speaking people lost eleven days from their lives. In that year, a new, more accurate calendar was adopted. As a result, George Washington's birthday, which actually occurred February 11th, 1732, is now celebrated on February 22nd.

Calendar-Paced Beauty Program

New Year's resolutions usually include I-will-be-prettier vows, but New Year's resolutions usually are quick casualties. Now, a bright idea coordinates beauty care with the calendar, and the Babs Lee beauty calendar, 1961, gives year-long momentum to good intentions.

The convenient, lie-flat book covers morning, afternoon, and evening dates for each day, a page to a week, and in facing pages it covers the how-to's of every beauty aspect. The easy-to-take dosage of instruction is spaced out with one complete idea per page.

All the classic categories of beauty care are explored by the author, former associate fashion editor of Town and Country and beauty editor of Harper's Bazaar and Vogue magazines. Nicholas Kounovsky, famed among models, suggests new exercises for every month, to give a final choice of four sets of daily dozens. And, besides the basics, there are pages on the subtleties of beauty—perfume types and tricks, relaxation, quick-change artistry via color manipulation, diverse diets, grooming above and beyond beauty per se.

Babs Lee even thinks of the down side, such as the blues, or a hospital stint—and thinks of gloom-chasing antidotes. She suggests fun gimmicks with make-up (How To Have Five Different Looks) and fun quizzes ("How Daring Are You?"), and self-indulgences like giving yourself a vacation and Christmas presents.

Sophisticated sketches in color are an extra incentive to follow the annual-basis beauty plan, and keep the Babs Lee beauty calendar, 1961, crammed with dates! You can get it for a dollar by writing to Babs Lee, Box 121, Highland Park, New Jersey.

Warning Issued Vandals Who Damaged Power Lines

Malicious vandals have again damaged electrical equipment in this area, causing power outages to over 200 families, it was reported this week by John W. Morgan, district manager for the Potomac Edison Company.

The most recent incident took place along the Thurmont-Emmitsburg transmission line. Here unthinking marksmen shot insulators for no apparent reason and affected the entire town of Emmitsburg, Mt. St. Mary's College, St. Joseph's, and nearby areas.

"Over 200 families were without vital electrical service as a consequence of this vandalism," Manager Morgan stated. "The shooting occurred during one of our recent cold waves and most of the homes affected were without heat until the damage could be repaired. We are sure that the persons responsible for the shootings do not realize the seriousness of their actions."

In addition to the problems encountered by local home-owners because of the equipment-shooting, many farmers in this area were unable to milk their cows, grind feed or refrigerate milk at proper temperatures when their power sources failed. Stores and businesses were also hard hit and the colleges would have been in serious trouble had not the students been on Christmas vacations.

Manager Morgan said that special patrols have been established to prevent recurrence of the vandalism if at all possible and to keep close check on vital electrical equipment which may have been damaged. Often, he said, insulators which have been hit by bullets will remain in service until a rain or snow storm. Then, moisture causes them to break down and electric service is knocked out.

Following damage of electrical facilities such as insulators, lines sometimes fall to the ground. This makes for a serious threat to lives and can cause fires which will sweep fields as well as residential areas.

Continuing vandalism of this type has compelled the Potomac Edison Company to offer a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those persons responsible for the intentional shooting and damaging of insulators and other electric company equipment.

"We must impress on those who are causing this trouble the severity of their actions," Morgan stated. "Hospitals are threatened, government installations are put in jeopardy and hundreds of persons are caused serious inconvenience. We urge those who are responsible to consider their actions and we further ask that anyone who knows of the vandalism to report to us just as soon as possible so that we can make sure that no more lives are threatened."

of children with emphasis on mental, psychological, physical and social growth. It will be televised over channel 9, WTOP-TV, Washington, and channel 2, WMAR-TV, Baltimore each Tuesday and Thursday morning from 6:30 to 7 a. m.

One of the nation's leading authorities in child growth and development will teach the course. He is Dr. James L. Hymes, Jr., professor of education and chairman of the university's childhood education department.

A specially prepared textbook, The Child Under Six, written by Dr. Hymes, will be used in the television course.

While the TV course, which will be offered for both credit and non-credit, is principally for parents and teachers of young children, its purpose is to lay the foundation for understanding older children and youth as well. Dr. Hymes has designed a sound but down-to-earth and practical course covering all aspects of the behavior of children.

A spot check by Dr. William F. Reindollar, Chief of the Division of Occupational Health of the State Health Department, indicates that a fair amount of the ware has been sold in this area. Those contacted by Dr. Reindollar have returned the dinnerware in stock and made efforts to recall ware that had been sold. However, there were no records of individual purchasers in some cases.

Donations to the 'New March of Dimes' Will Help Prevent Crippling Diseases

Millions of families throughout the United States this month have received March of Dimes "mailers."

If the millions on the receiving end of this gigantic mail operation coast-to-coast and in Hawaii and Alaska have not already done so, now is the time to return the familiar envelope with a donation to the county March of Dimes chapter, local leaders urged this week. The world's largest voluntary health organization is seeking to prevent crippling diseases, with its sights set at birth defects and arthritis and at continued work in polio.

These mailers, which reproduce the campaign theme, "Prevent Crippling Diseases—Please Say Yes to the New March of Dimes," were addressed in great part by selfless volunteers who, by combing through telephone and other directories, were able to "spot" just about every family in their county. Addresses of new homes, not included in telephone books, were obtained by these volunteers from real estate boards, tax lists, from other official records, and from chambers of commerce.

Hopefully, each of the 44 million families in the United States will have an opportunity to help prevent crippling diseases by contributing to the March of Dimes between now and Jan. 31.

The blue mailer contains an envelope with a pocket for a March of Dimes contribution by check or cash and with space for the donor's name and address. A brief message addressed to "Dear Neighbor" explains the expanded program of The National Foundation, and elsewhere on the mailer a few health figures are given—for example, that birth defects cripple one out of every 16 babies in the United States; that arthritis and rheumatism afflict 11 million Americans; and that polio can still strike down any one of more than 85 million unvaccinated persons in the country.

County chapter officials say

"Mailers, mailers everywhere!" says Linda Breesse, of Columbus, Ohio, 1961 March of Dimes National Poster Child, as she "models" one of the contribution envelopes. Mailers are to be returned this month to local chapters of The National Foundation to support expanded health program in birth defects and arthritis, and continued work in polio. Linda is recovering from birth defects of an open spine and excess fluid on the brain.

that they "hope our mailer message brings speedy replies in the form of cash, money orders and checks because March of Dimes contributions are desperately needed to finance National Foundation programs of aid to patients, of research and in the training of health workers."

Dinnerware Caused Illness

There is a possibility that certain foods reacting on the glaze of colored "Cerama Stone" dinnerware may cause sickness, according to a report received by Dr. Perry F. Prather, Director, Maryland State Department of Health.

Information received through the United States Public Health Service from the California Department of Public Health states that two cases of adult lead intoxication attributed to the routine use of this dinnerware have occurred in Cincinnati, Ohio. Tests performed by the California Health Department indicate that these dishes are a health hazard only when acid or alkaline foods are repeatedly eaten from them or when such foods are consumed after being stored in the dishes.

The report emphasized that only "Cerama Stone" ware produced by one firm in California is involved, and that White "Cerama Stone" and pottery from other California manufacturers have tested satisfactorily.

The firm has stopped the manufacture of the "Cerama Stone" ware and has made efforts to recall this product from its retail outlets and is reported to be prepared to substitute in return dinnerware claimed to be safe in several colors. Better stores and trading stamp outlets in many areas have stocked the pottery.

According to Dr. Huntington Williams, Commissioner of Health, Baltimore City, the Baltimore City Health Department made a field investigation at downtown sales outlets in Baltimore and found this material on sale at one store only. This sale was stopped, pending laboratory studies of material collected. The laboratory tests indicated presence of dangerous amounts of lead in this ware that he feels that gun safety, on the range, in the field or wherever guns are being handled cannot be stressed that guns always be checked before firing.

When mounting the gun, Bob says it should be brought to your cheek, not the cheek to your gun. Your hands should be as far apart as comfortable and practical with the left hand acting as the fulcrum. Keep both eyes open. With one eye closed you lose your binocular vision and ability to estimate range. Focus your eyes on the target, not the gun. Bob points his left foot where he expects his target to be, and keeps his weight evenly distributed. He swings his whole body with the gun, and continues swinging even after the shot has been fired. Bob also insists that the body feel most comfortable at the time of the shot.

Gun fit is important—here's a tip if you're in doubt. Close your eyes and keep throwing the gun up to a shooting position. If gun is naturally aimed when you open your eyes, you can be sure it fits. Bob says the difference between excellent shots and champions is the latter's ability to concentrate on each shot. A shooter should put everything else out of his mind except that shot.

A mistake a beginner often makes is getting the gun butt out on his shoulder muscle. A shooter must train himself to get the butt in proper position as he throws the gun up to his shoulder. Good form is a matter of practice. When

Teachers Again Seek Salary Increase

As the General Assembly convened in Annapolis, the Maryland State Teachers' Association released a booklet, "To Teach Or Not To Teach", which presents factual information on the teacher shortage in the State and compares the recommendations of the James Committee (Committee on Taxation and Fiscal Matters) with the programs sponsored jointly by the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers and the MSTA.

At public meetings throughout the State, 125,000 copies of this booklet will be distributed, and the contents will be explained and discussed by representatives of the PTA and the state teachers' organization.

The booklet contrasts the proposal of the James Committee to you have to shoot, there is no time to think.

Another important point that Bob emphasized was that the shooter's hands should be in position on his gun before it is brought up to the shoulder, not after. You don't shoot a shotgun as you would a rifle—the barrel should be seen only as a blur. In fact, shooters shouldn't consciously see the barrel at all. Concentrate on the target and good form will see you through whether you are shooting skeet or birds of the live variety.

increase the state minimum salary schedule for teachers to a range of $3,600-$5,700 with the MCPT-MSTA proposal of a range of $4,000-$6,000. Under the James plan, average increases in teachers' salaries would vary from $1,000 in Baltimore County to a maximum of $331.00 in Charles County. The MCPT-MSTA plan would provide averages ranging from $330.00 in Baltimore City to $653.00 in St. Mary's County.

The James Report calls for an expenditure of $6,850,000 in new state aid for teachers' salaries and school construction, while the MCPT-MSTA program would require $13,000,000 in additional state aid.

According to statistics contained in the booklet, Maryland will need 4,845 new teachers for the next school year, while less than 1,500 prospective teachers are expected to graduate from all Maryland colleges in June 1961. The teacher turnover rate for 1959-1960 is listed as 18.4 per cent.

The booklet also states that 50.9 per cent of the new teachers hired last year were not regularly certified and that 16.7 per cent of all Maryland public school teachers did not hold a college degree.

Milson C. Raver, Executive Secretary of MSTA, has termed the James Committee recommendations as being "sadly inadequate as a solution to the serious teacher shortage." Mr. Raver emphasized the fact that the present request for a minimum schedule of $4,000-$6,000 is the same program that MSTA has been sponsoring since 1958. He emphasized the fact that all major educational groups are behind the MCPT-MSTA program, including the Maryland Association of Boards of Education, the Maryland Association of School Superintendents, as well as Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., State Superintendent of Schools.

It's that time again. Yes, it's Federal Income Tax Time. So file now, file accurately.

Raceway Stake Near $100,000

Baltimore Raceway's Lord and Lady Baltimore Stake program is continuing at a $100,000 pace it was revealed this week with the announcement that 545 yearlings have been kept eligible for Maryland's premier harness event.

An eight division program for two-and-three-year-old colts and fillies, the Lord and Lady Baltimore is expected to gross $100,000 when it is raced at Baltimore late this spring.

Since the Maryland Racing Commission has not yet assigned harness racing dates, the exact dates of the Lord and Lady Baltimore have not been established.

Even so, Raceway officials said that a record number of yearlings were kept eligible with the Dec. 15 sustaining payment. And each yearling paid through the Dec. 15 date becomes eligible to race in both the two-year-old division of the Stake in 1961 and the three-year-old division in 1962.

Some 286 colts and geldings were kept eligible through the payment of the $15 sustaining fee and 259 fillies made the tab. The original list of nominees included a staggering 1,126 yearlings.

Billy Haughton, the personable New Yorker who trains the nation's largest and most successful public stable, kept 21 of his colts and 14 fillies eligible for the Baltimore Stake.

Del Miller, the master of Meadow Lands Farm in Meadow Lands, Pa., and harness racing's number one citizen, paid the bills on 21 of his young hopefuls.

Included in the list of eligibles for the Lord Baltimore, the colt portion of the stake, is Mon Mite, which was purchased at the Lexington (Ky.) yearling sales in September for $81,000, the highest price ever paid for a yearling trotter. Mon Mite is owned by the Lone Star Stable of Houston, Texas.

Manitoba Has Its "Golden Boy" To View; "Golden Loves" to Eat

Manitoba has its "Golden Boy" and also its "Golden Loves."

The first is a thrilling to view and the second is mighty good eating—Manitoba's own specialized dessert, "Golden Boy," it should be noted, is a thirteen and one-half foot youthful figure weighing five tons, rising above downtown Winnipeg on the top of the dome of the magnificent Legislative Buildings—symbol of the spirit of enterprise and eternal youth of this great Western Canadian Province, which is larger in area than the combined States of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa—250,000 square miles.

Stimulated by "Golden Boy" whom he sees every day, Jean Sourisseau, pastry chef at the gracious Fort Garry Hotel, has created his own dessert specialty:

Golden Loves
4 eggs 2 teaspoons
1/2 cup granulated sugar baking powder
2 cups sifted flour 1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat eggs; add sugar and continue beating until thick. Add twice-sifted dry ingredients to the egg mixture and mix to a smooth paste. Drop by spoonfuls into hot deep fat and fry until golden brown.

Sauce for Patties
1/2 cup granulated sugar 2 teaspoons
1 tablespoon butter or cornstarch custard powder
1 cup boiling water 2 tablespoons cold water

Combine sugar, butter and boiling water in top part of double boiler. Blend until butter melts and sugar is dissolved. Dissolve custard powder or cornstarch in cold water; add some of the hot mixture to this. Then add this mixture to the sauce and cook over hot water until thickened. Cool and serve over the patties.

Pastry Chef Sourisseau is also quite partial to vitamin-rich cranberries which he says can be used to create a host of delicious cakes, pies and even salads.

Here is Chef Sourisseau's favorite cranberry pie recipe. This recipe, developed by Mrs. Gordon Foster, wife of the Fort Garry's resident manager, who is an acknowledged connoisseur of good food, has won wide acclaim throughout western Canada.

Old-Fashioned Cranberry Pie
1 1/2 cups sugar 2 tablespoons
2 tablespoons butter or cornstarch margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon
1/2 cup water almond extract
3 cups fresh Pastry for 9-inch cranberries lattice-topped pie

Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Stir in water. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil; boil for 1/2 minute. Remove from heat; stir in cranberries, butter and almond extract. Allow to cool slightly before pouring into pie shell.

Line 9-inch pie plates with pastry dough; pour in cranberry mixture. Arrange strips of dough in lattice topping; seal and flute. Bake 25-30 minutes at 425° F. FNS

FAMOUS AMERICAN TAVERNS

Tuminello's Kitchen in Vicksburg, Miss.

"The Art of Dining Consists of Many Things"

Dominic ("Papa") Tuminello had a grocery store... and "Mama" cooked spaghetti and sold it from the kitchen in the rear. This was the beginning of the internationally famous "Tuminello's Kitchen" in Vicksburg, located on the site of the old Marine Hospital which made history during the War Between the States. The marker may be seen in the left foreground of the picture.

Although "Papa" Tuminello's little grocery has expanded into a fine bar with beers and ales and other beverages, and "Mama" Tuminello's spaghetti menu has been augmented by seafood, oysters on the half-shell, steaks and exotic desserts, it is still a "family" business all the way. Three generations of Tuminellos now work side by side in the enterprise.

Celebrities by the score have been attracted to the quaint columned two-story building down the steep slope of Speed Street. The lacy iron balusters which adorn the porch of the second story are in a romantic southern architectural tradition. Jackson, Mississippi's state capital, is only forty miles away, and since its beginning, Tuminello's has en-

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Gives "Best Buys" Today

BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 12—With the new Administration coming into office, the wise investor will play safe. If J.F.K. takes his father's advice, investors should have nothing to fear; but if he takes the advice of "wild-eyed" college professors we may have much to fear.

Importance Of Security Bonds of a company are always safer than the stocks of the same company; but stocks of some companies are safer than the bonds of other companies. Hence, readers cannot feel safe by just buying either stocks or bonds. Everything in the world is good and/or bad. No one rule will apply to all persons or to all classes of investments or real estate.

It is also wise to consider the relative prices of bonds before you buy them. The average price of good bonds has varied to yield between a high of 4 1/2% in 1960 and a low near 3% in 1946. This means that bonds were highest priced in 1956 and lowest in 1960. Hence, this is a good time to buy good bonds, although they are a little higher than a year ago. There are three different groups of bonds, arranged in the order of their safety, as follows:

- Different Kinds Of Bonds
1. U. S. Government Bonds. These are mostly held by banks. Although very safe, they do not yield very high interest; yet this interest is taxable for individuals. The short maturities yield the least; while the long maturities yield the most. If you want them as a reserve for "quick money," buy the short maturities; but if you want them for income, buy the long maturities.
2. Tax - exempt Municipal Bonds. There are two kinds: (1)

the fixed-interest municipals issued by cities, towns, counties, and states. I suggest that you avoid bonds of big cities. Buy the bonds of medium-sized cities in the interior of the United States. The capital cities of interior states should be the safest of all, and carry a fair yield. All these are non-taxable for federal tax purposes. You can also buy (2) non-taxable "revenue bonds," but the interest on these is not guaranteed. Most turnpike bonds are in this latter class. So long as the turnpikes are used sufficiently, the "tolls" pay the interest; but if the tolls are not sufficient, full interest is not paid. This explains why turnpike revenue bonds yield higher than straight municipals.

3. Corporate Mortgage Bonds and Debentures. Bonds of corporations are also of different kinds; but all are taxable as to interest. To readers of this column I recommend the mortgage bonds of public utility companies, such as the company to which you pay your light and power bill. The sale of electricity is constantly increasing and — though subject to rate regulation — these companies have a monopoly. They are also freest from union labor interference.

Most industrial bonds should be good provided they are not subordinated to bank loans or other indebtedness. Income bonds may be good speculations following a drastic reorganization. Debenture bonds are unsecured and hence often not suitable for small investors, unless accompanied with attractive conversion privileges. The El Paso Natural Gas 5 1/2% due in 1977 are a favorite of mine; yielding about 4 1/2%. I do not like railroad bonds or bonds of manufacturing companies subject to competition.

Diversification Of Investments And Patience For 62 years my family has been helping investors to conserve their savings and secure reasonable capital gains. For 40 years I have been writing this weekly column. The great lesson which I have learned is the importance of diversification. Hence, why not buy some short-term government bonds to turn quickly into cash in an emergency; plus some public utility mortgage bonds for good income; plus some tax-free municipals to save income taxes; plus a few convertible bonds as a speculation?

Most important of all, train yourself to develop patience, the ability to wait for the big market moves in bonds, stocks, and real estate. Patience, diversification, and compound interest are the big necessities for making a fortune.

Apple Festival Carded For Late April

WINCHESTER, Va.—The 34th annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival will be held in this apple capital on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 27-28-29.

Twelve department directors are preparing for the coming event, working with hundreds of men and women currently being assigned to scores of committees. The headquarters office has begun to burn the midnight oil as staff members set up meetings, answer telephones and busy themselves with voluminous correspondence relating to the parade. The Festival's famous Pageant, being resumed this year as a complete production, will be historical in nature. Episodes, costumes and dialogue will re-create for the audience periods in history from the time of the tragic and stirring events of 1861-65. Lighter moments of the pageant will feature colorful eras in the country's history and will include the pink, white and green ballet of the blossoms, long a highlight of the production.

The Department of the Queen and Her Court, responsible for the selection of Queen Shenandoah XXXIV, is now at work. Members of this department also plan for the 36 Apple Blossom princesses and two maids of honor who will represent colleges and state horticultural societies in the Virginia, the District of Columbia, Pennsylvania and Md.

Thursday, April 27, will feature the coronation of Queen Shenandoah, the first showing of the pageant and the unique Firemen's parade, with the largest aggregation of volunteer fire companies and equipment in the country. Harry E. Cain will direct this parade.

Friday, April 28, will be highlighted by the "Miss Shenandoah Apple Blossom" beauty and personality contest, a repeat performance of the pageant, and the Grand Feature parade, with 50 floats, 60 bands and a Grand Marshal of national prominence. The parade will be directed by Ralph A. Cain, representing the Winchester Lions Club which, for the 18th year, will provide the entire administrative personnel for this event. Saturday, April 29, will be "Antique Car Day," featuring the third annual "Apple Blossom Meet" of antique cars, sponsored by Shenandoah Region, Antique Automobile Club of America. Pie baking contests, concerts, exhibits, luncheons and dances for all ages are also on the Festival schedule. Upward of 200,000 visitors are expected in this area at Apple Blossom Time.

Have you started to prepare your 1960 Federal income tax return? If not, do it now, save last-minute pressure. File accurately, file now.

When you buy U. S. Savings Bonds where you work or where you bank, you are investing without risking your money. The Treasury guarantees you good interest; there's no chance of loss.

Thanks to the automatic extension series of E Savings Bonds for ten years after maturity, the bonds you buy now, if held for 17 years and 9 months, will bring you back in $1.93 for each dollar you put in.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Extortion is now legal. At least, it will be legal in these United States of America if all government agrees with a recent decision made by the full commission of the Federal Trade Commission in which the commissioners overruled the ruling of their own hearing examiner.

In short, the FTC found that there was nothing illegal in a big Texas chain of supermarkets accepting sums of money from the Yakima Fruit and Cold Storage Co., Yakima, Washington, for the chain's 1955 and 1958 "anniversary celebrations."

The FTC ruled that there was nothing illegal in putting the "bee" on this supplier for a donation, it did not promise the supplier any advertising in return for the money.

Now the FTC field examiner apparently decided this pressure from a big retailer for a "donation" from a supplier is really extortion.

But the Commissioners, in what is perhaps their abysmal ignorance of what goes on in the market place, took the stand it is perfectly all right for a retailer to seek cash payments from suppliers for what they term "donations" or "congratulatory goodwill gestures."

Apparently, the FTC did not inquire into why the supplier was willing to bounce cash to make a "congratulatory goodwill gesture" to a huge retail operation in Texas. Nor apparently did FTC inquire whether the supplier would also make a cash "congratulatory goodwill gesture" to an independent corner grocer.

Obviously, chain buyers seeking cash "congratulatory goodwill gestures" from suppliers would of course refrain from any such crudity as saying perhaps, "you know how important distribution of your products in our stores is to your operation." And any such buyer would faint with embarrassment before making such a request accompanied by some observation such as "you know, your competitor has been making us interesting offers on our shelf space we have your goods stocked on at present."

Thus FTC Chairman Earl Kintner will go down in history as one of the greatest thinkers ever to serve government. He was the one, it will be recalled, who gained a great deal of personal newspaper headline publicity by his fearless and undaunted attacks on radio disc jockeys who accepted $10 neckties at Christmas time from record companies for playing their version of "Boogie-Woogie Blues" on the air. This horrible practice was labeled "payola."

Yet the FTC now rules that there is nothing wrong in a buyer soliciting, and a seller paying cash for "congratulatory goodwill gestures."

Thus, FTC appears to have written a new definition of a moral conduct predicated on the size of things.

Accepting a $10 necktie is a crime; accepting bundles of cash is highly moral.

Weekly Stock Market Round-Up

SURVEY OF INDUSTRY—1961

The year 1961 will show a considerable variation of performance in different industries and selectivity is going to be extremely important for an investment program. If we have any serious downward correction in stock prices, popularity may well shift from the overpriced glamour stocks to the depressed blue chips. Many industries will depend on the outlook for the economy in 1961. Unless we have a sharper upturn in business than the writer expects, we can look for little improvement if any in aluminum, autos, copper, chemical, heavy machinery, paper and rubber industries. Due to indicated increased spending by the government agricultural and roadbuilding machinery, housing and manufacturers of military equipment should benefit.

Tobacco, merchandising, public utility and in some cases food stocks should be good defensive hedges against any general turn in the stock market while we feel that possibly the best performers in 1961 will be the oil stocks, many of which are now over-depressed markets.

In the case of drug and electronics stocks caution should be exercised. Drug companies will benefit from a stepped-up medical program and may be affected by further price investigations. Electronics companies earnings should improve but most of these stocks are selling at what appear to be unreasonably high price times earnings ratios. There are a great many stocks that might be considered by investors at this time among which are: Cincinnati Milacron, Johns-Manville, International Harvester, Amerasia, General Dynamics, American Metal Climax, Standard Oil of N. J., Columbia Gas, Homestake Mining, National Cash Register and Universal Match.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry University of Wisconsin

Calcium-Phosphorus Must Be Balanced

Livestock rations containing calcium greatly in excess of phosphorus have been found to reduce the digestibility or availability of protein, phosphorus, iodine, iron, manganese, and zinc. These rations have reduced rate and economy of gain in swine. When fed to dry cows such rations have been found more likely to result in milk fever.

Research indicates a desirable calcium-phosphorus ratio in a dairy ration is 1.0 to 1.5 parts calcium to 1.0 part phosphorus, or in actual amounts, about 0.37 percent calcium and 0.28 percent phosphorus. This is especially true with high producing cows. Proportionately lower amounts of each would suffice for low producers or for beef cattle. In dairy regions, the growing of legume forage is almost axiomatic and these forages are rich in calcium but contain only a moderate amount of phosphorus. Alfalfa, for instance, has 6 times as much calcium as phosphorus and most of the clovers and other legumes have comparable amounts of the two minerals. The excess of calcium is aggravated by adding ground limestone or calcium carbonate to the grain mixture for dairy cattle and the depressant effects of excessive calcium intake are noted.

With swine, increasing the amounts of calcium while holding the phosphorus at more or less constant levels, resulted in declining rate and economy of gain. Calcification of bones, as gauged by the ash content of ribs, was affected relatively little. High levels of calcium have been found to interfere with assimilation of other minerals, particularly phosphorus. A calcium-phosphorus ratio of 2 to 1 or higher impairs the utilization of the phosphorus of phytic acid. Too much calcium in the diet of chicks depresses assimilation of manganese, iodine, and zinc.

In experiments with dry cows, California workers used low-calcium rations, no legume forage and no supplemental calcium. The rations kept the para-thyroid glands active and responsive to sudden demands for calcium in the blood on freshening, resulting in decreased incidence of milk fever. It seems the high calcium rations frequently fed to dairy cows do not benefit them, but are a tribute to the cow's apparent ability to tolerate them. What harm is done from a depressing effect of excessive calcium on the absorption of other nutrients is not readily evident, but this undesirable effect has been proved.

Question: I read where Cornell University reported milking cows got enough salt from salt blocks. Does this mean that with access to salt blocks we do not need to mix any loose salt with the grain? Answer: The Cornell test was conducted with cows on pasture, therefore in the warm time of year and favorable for licking block salt. Considering the fact that salt blocks are used in various ways, at times in barn yards and during cold winter weather, it is advisable to mix one percent salt in the grain, with additional block or loose salt in suitable containers and accessible to the cows.

Aiding The Reds

In his challenging book, American Might and Soviet Myth, Jameson G. Campaigne, nationally-known editor of the Indianapolis Star, tells the story of the shocking failure of U. S. foreign policy in the little southeast Asian nation, Laos, which has been much in the news in recent months. By our own government's estimate the United States has put $350 million into Laos since the end of World War II. Mr. Campaigne declares that the character and the actions of U. S. foreign policy are aiding the Communists to conquer the world. He cites Laos as an example.

He got his facts on what happened in Laos from a study made on the scene by the Government Operations Committee of the U. S. Congress and from other authentic sources. The whole U. S. effort in Laos was directed toward protecting Laos from Communist penetration and ultimate control. Newspapers dispatches from Laos today show the Communists to be gaining in power.

Money Didn't Work
Here is a part of the story, from Mr. Campaigne, a distinguished journalist: From 1953 to 1958 huge sums of U. S. government money were poured into Laos, through its government channels. Our government actually paid the wages and salary for a 25,000-man Laotian Army. But grievous, obvious bumbling characterized the entire program. "In May, 1958," reports Mr. Campaigne, "special elections were to be held in Laos to fill 22 seats in the national assembly. In the fall of 1957 Ambassador Parsons decided to use the supposed power of the United States foreign aid to help the anti-Communists in Laos win the election."

"Over $400,000 in reported aid was spent by this program to defeat the Communists in the election . . . what actually happened? The Congressional Committee report: 'The election was a Communist victory . . . of the 21 contested seats, the Communists won 9 and their sympathizers 4 . . . The aid program has not prevented the spread of Communism in Laos. Another Defeat

"In fact, the Communist victory in last year's elections, based on slogans of government corruption and government indifference might lead one to conclude that the United States aid program has contributed to an atmosphere in which the ordinary people of Laos question the value of the friendship of the United States.' In plainer words, American foreign aid in Laos was responsible for wide Communist victories in Laos."

In addition, Mr. Campaigne continues, "Ambassador Parsons, unable to remove the Communists from the northern provinces by diplomatic pressure or military force, brought about a compromise solution which admitted Communists to the government and established the Communist Party, Neo Lao Hak Xat, as a legal, above-ground political party.' The Laos government last year was forced to accept dictatorial methods and expel the Communist cabinet members, but the Communist Party is still powerful in Laos."

Change Needed
Mr. Campaigne's book was published this past Spring. Since then there has been a revolt in Laos in which people have been brought to power by the government who are not friendly toward the United States. Diplomatic recognition has been given to the Soviet Union and the biggest State celebration in Laos history was observed upon the arrival of the new Soviet Ambassador.

The Laos government now calls itself "neutral" in the conflict between Communism and the West. But it is a neutrality obviously leaning toward Moscow. Qualified observers believe that the Communists now can take over the little country when they wish. The United States has expended 7 years of diplomatic blundering and $350 million of our hard-earned cash in a futile effort to fight Communism without making the Communist mad. Will the new President change this disastrous policy? This question is in your hands—as a citizen in a Republic in which the people rule.

Drivers Must Renew Permits

The Department of Motor Vehicles this week completed its first mailing of more than 6,000 renewed licenses to those state motorists eligible under the law providing for a permanent license renewal program. The law became effective January 1, 1961.

In making the announcement, John R. Jewell, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, stated that the law now requires all Maryland drivers to renew their operator's licenses every two years according to the motorist's birthmonth. "Licenses mailed today," he said, "went to those operators whose last initials fell under the 'A' through 'O' category and who were born in January of an "odd" year and who have had their present driver's permit for more than a year."

For the rest of this year applications for licenses will be mailed monthly to those born in that month in an "odd" year. In 1962, applications will be sent to those born in "even" years.

Every effort has been made to intergrate the new program easily into the present operational structure of the Department. A series of staff level conferences as well as weekly classes for all those working in the sections involved were held to facilitate handling of the administrative details of the program.

Applications for licenses to be renewed in February were mailed to eligible permit holders on Dec. 30, 1960.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible

And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offense toward God, and toward man.
—(Acts 24:16)

What a wonderfully different world this would be if all of us followed St. Paul's example. There would be little need for police forces, prisons, armies and wars if each human being possessed a sensitive, God-inspired conscience and bent his efforts toward keeping it "clean."

The Hiawatha Hotel in Hailey, Idaho

Took Three Years to Build, Still Going Strong

It took three years to build the storied Hiawatha Hotel in the little mining town of Hailey, Idaho, a few miles south of famed Sun Valley. But, unlike most of the other structures thrown up in the boom days of the 1880s, the hotel is still in business. Very much in business, for through the years it has maintained the reputation set for it on opening day by the local newspaper: "It is admitted to be the finest hotel between Denver and the west coast."

It is interesting to note that the three-story stone and brick building cost only $35,000 to erect. (That was in the days when dollars were dollars and hard to come by.) A comparatively large sum—$5,000—was put into the great bar, from which since many a wealthy mine owner, lonely prospector, rugged miner and visiting celebrity have lifted their beers and ales.

When the Hiawatha was opened Hailey was far different from the quiet residential community of today. It was a ripping, roaring, wide open mining town with 18 saloons and 12 gambling houses. "Faro, poker, roulette and other games of chance were plentiful. But other characteristics put the Hiawatha ahead of its time for that part of the west. Hailey was the first town in the Idaho Territory to offer electric lights and telephone services. The Hiawatha also has a national natatorium, maintained in connection with the resort as well as the heating system are fed by water piped from the Hailey Hot Springs some two miles out of town. Mining men, labor leaders, ranchers and politicians from the start made the hotel their headquarters and "took the waters."

Today, with winter sports claiming an increasing number of adherents, the Hiawatha has added a new type of patron—the sportsman. And its fine food and beverages are available in the popular "Sportsmen's Lounge."

Maligne Coffee Cake Needs Day-Old Bread

"Maligne Lake Coffee Cake" is just what the Doctor orders when one visits mile-high Maligne Lake in Jasper National Park, Alberta, right in the heart of the Canadian Rockies, says Mrs. Iris Betkowski, the English-born wife of the leading medical man in the vast Canadian Rockies' National Park which is larger in area than the State of Connecticut.

"Doctor George," as Iris' husband is popularly known, is not only a private practitioner but he attends to the medical needs of the guests of the swank resort, Jasper Park Lodge and the scores of Canadian National Railways employees in the Jasper region. He is known in the Mountain Country to be "mighty fond of plain but good desserts," Iris says.

So, Mrs. Betkowski, working with Major Fred Brewster, internationally-famed mountain guide and outfitter, whipped up a specialty which they dubbed "Maligne Lake Coffee Cake."

"Doctor George" goes for this in a big way and so does most everybody else—once they've tasted it. And this cake is "out of this world," says Ted Van Dyke, manager of Jasper Park Lodge and a connoisseur of gourmet food.

Van Dyke insists that to be properly enjoyed, a good cup of tea—and never mind the cream, and sugar—should be served with Maligne Lake Coffee Cake. Cut the crusts off top, sides, ends of day-old loaf bread. Cut loaf in half lengthwise and then cut each half into ten or twelve cubes (not cutting right through to bottom). Cream one-quarter pound butter and one-half cup brown sugar with one tablespoon cream; spread this mixture over top and sides of loaf, also put a little between each cube. Spread a little more on the top than sides. Sprinkle the top with finely chopped walnuts and cinnamon. Bake in loaf pans, hot oven (450° F.) 20 minutes.
