

Group Of Students Take Scholarship Tests Here

Participating in the seventh annual National Merit scholarship qualifying tests Tuesday afternoon at Emmitsburg High School were the following juniors: Joyce Meadows, Kathy Richards, Bill Zimmerman, Leroy Valentine and Kenneth Swomley.

The qualifying test is a three-hour examination of educational development. The test is the first step in the seventh annual competition for four-year Merit Scholarships provided by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and by sponsoring corporations, foundations, associations and individuals.

The three-hour test, administered by Mrs. Margaret Polley, guidance counselor, included English usage, mathematics usage, social studies reading, natural sciences reading and word usage. For comparison with scores of high school students across the country, students will receive test results along with interpretative materials by May 15 in time to plan their senior schedules. The scores are used to help students make decisions about college attendance and field of study.

The number of scholarships awarded in any year depends upon the extent of sponsor participation. In 1960, 831 scholarships were awarded. There are about 3,182 Merit Scholars attending 391 colleges in the current academic year.

Some 10,000 semifinalists, the highest scorers in each state, will be named early next fall. Each semifinalist will be asked to take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance will become finalists in the Merit Program. Winners of Merit Scholarships will be selected from the finalist group on the basis of school records and recommendations, test scores, and extracurricular activities, as well as leadership ability and accomplishments outside the classroom.

The scholarship stipends are based on financial need. The minimum award is $100 and the maximum is $1,500. The average stipend for freshman Merit Scholars in 1960 was $327.

An additional 25,000 students selected on a national basis, receive letters of commendation for their high performance on the qualifying test. These students are considered for special awards made through the Merit Corporation, and their names and test scores are also sent to their first and second choice colleges.

Besides the National Merit test administered to the juniors on Tuesday, the National Education Development tests were given to the ninth and tenth graders at the same time. These tests also lasted three hours and covered English, mathematics, social studies, natural sciences, and word usage. By participating in these tests students are expected to get an objective insight into their scholastic development. To learn how he compares with others at his grade level in the country, a student may plot his score on a student profile leaflet when the test scores arrive. Not only do the tests evaluate strengths and weaknesses, but they also help a student plan his high school and college courses and make career choices. In addition, teachers have the opportunity to spot talented students so that they may receive guidance and motivation early in their educational career.

The following sophomores participated in these National Educational Development tests: Lona Frock, Nancy Eyster, Nancy Glass, Susan McClain, Richard Cullison, John Flowers, and Susan Borst. Freshmen who also took the tests were: Thelma Herring, Connie Baker, Sue Martin, Harry Harner, Robert Zimmerman, Thomas Harbaugh, David Bentz, Robert Botteril, Donna Saylor, Samuel Valentine, Gene Eyer, Craig Stoops, Patricia Saylor, Frances Hardman and Patricia Hyde.

Installation of the University of Maryland's antenna model range, one of the few educational research ranges in the country licensed by the Federal Communications Commission, has been completed.

The range will enable university scientists to predict, from scale model mock-ups, the field pattern characteristics of antennas designed for aircraft carriers, airplanes, air fields, and other stationary and mobile installations.

According to Dr. Henry R. Reed, a professor of electrical engineering who will direct the studies, scale model measurements can be used to predict the operating performance of the full-scale system, and are far more economical than field tests. For antennas being developed for advanced or unusual applications, use of the model range can prevent lost time and costly full-scale alterations after the system is placed in operation.

Dr. Reed explained that radio signals are affected by the design of the antenna and the structural characteristics of the sending and receiving installations. Special calculations and designing are required for most new communication facilities.

"It is quite practical," he added, "to stimulate the pattern of electromagnetic wave transmission on a laboratory scale without introducing serious inaccuracies."

The FCC license, one of the few granted for an educational institution in this country, authorizes the university to transmit electromagnetic waves at a power of one watt over the lower frequency range and twenty milliwatts over the higher frequency range.

Must File To Receive Tax Refund

Refund payments of Federal income taxes withheld from wages are paid only upon the filing of a proper Federal income tax return. District Director Irving Machiz of the Internal Revenue Service today reminded Baltimore District taxpayers.

"While everyone whose income was $600 or more during 1960 must file a return ($1,200 for those 65 and over)," Mr. Machiz stressed, "we find frequent cases of people apparently believing that because their tax withheld was greater than their tax owed, they will automatically get a proper refund."

"Somewhat the same belief is held by students or other young people who worked during a portion of the year and whose salaries were withheld from their salaries or wages. To get a refund, they, too, must file a return, even if such income was under $600."

"For all filers," Mr. Machiz said, "the filing deadline this year is Monday, April 17, because April 15, falls on a Saturday, but we urge you not to wait until the last minute to file; especially those taxpayers entitled to a refund should file as soon as possible."

The recent amendments to the Social Security Act have enabled many people to receive social security benefits for the first time. Some of these people are children. According to W. S. King, District Manager of the Social Security Office in Hagerstown, many of these children were refused payments in the past but under the new law are eligible for social security payments.

One change affects children who were living with and being supported by a stepfather. These children could not receive benefits on the social security record of their natural or adopting father. Under the new law a child can receive benefits on his natural or adopting father's social security record even though he was living with and being supported by his stepfather.

It may be that you are the mother of children whose natural father died. You filed claim to receive social security benefits for your children. You were informed you could not receive benefits for them at the time of their father's death because they were living with and being supported by their stepfather. If this example is similar to your situation you should contact your nearest social security office immediately and make application to receive benefits for these children. The children must be either under age 18 or disabled prior to age 18 in order to qualify.

Forest Fire Season Here; Warnings Are Issued

With real Spring weather not too far off, hundreds of families will be conducting a general clean-up around their homes and one of the main targets will be burning leaves, brush and other debris left by the long Winter.

Herman D. Toms, Forest Supervisor for Frederick and eastern Washington Counties, reminds that the Spring forest fire season began March 1 and will continue until May 31.

Therefore, anyone burning debris outside of corporate limits of towns, must follow several burning regulations or face a penalty of fine or imprisonment.

Toms said that the three forest fire towers in this area will probably be opened within a week or ten days, depending upon the weather, to guard against the outbreak of big forest fires.

He said if the weather remains fair and windy, the towers at Foxville, Gambrell Park and Lamb's Knoll will probably be opened this week.

The heavy snow which blanketed the area this winter has almost melted, even in the mountains, and with warm weather urging people to take strolls thru woods and mountains, the fire danger will be at a maximum.

The burning regulations which must be followed are:

1. Have a fire line 10 feet wide, free of inflammable material around the area to be burned.
2. Have sufficient help, with tools, to keep fire from spreading.
3. Have at least one watchman at the fire until it is out.
4. Burning is permissible only after 4 p. m. and fire must be out by midnight (EST) from Mar. 1 to May 31.

The fall fire season extends from September 15 to December 15 and during that period last year there was a number of fires reported in this area as a result of carelessness.

Toms noted that these regulations apply when debris of any material is burned within 200 feet of woodland, or inflammable material that could carry fire to woodland. Uncontrolled burning is prohibited at all times.

According to the law, violators convicted of these rules can be fined from $10 to $500 or be imprisoned up to six months.

Instead of taking a chance with fires, Toms urges anyone with questions to call him at MOnument 2-4242. Questions will be answered and any assistance that is needed can be gained, he said.

Condition Still Critical

Msgr. John L. Sheridan, president of Mount St. Mary's College, who suffered a coronary occlusion some time ago, remains in a critical condition in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. He is not allowed visitors as yet.

MRS. HARRY W. WILEY

Mrs. Mary Genevieve Wiley, 73, wife of Harry W. Wiley, died at her home near Hagerstown Saturday morning at 1 a. m. following a short illness.

Born and reared at Emmitsburg, she was the daughter of the late Sanford and Sarah Ferguson Sease. She had lived in Hagerstown for the past 45 years and was a member of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church.

She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Mildred Spickler, at home. Also surviving are two grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, sister, Mrs. Addie Sprankle, Waynesboro, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the A. K. Coffman Funeral Home, Waynesboro. Burial was in Rest Haven Cemetery.

ABUNDANT LIFE
by ORAL ROBERTS
HOW TO ASK FOR A BLESSING

Two blind beggars were making the rounds in the city park. He was blind! His sign showed the people his need.

The other beggar could not see the beauties of God's wonderful world, true. But simply asking, "Please Help the Blind" was not sufficient to urge the people to help him. He did not know how to ask for a blessing!

If you want a blessing, you must first learn how to ask for it. If you are seeking a blessing from God, you must know how to seek God's help.

When you pray to God and ask for a blessing, ask for it in faith—believing that He will answer your prayer. And don't become impatient. God always answers prayer in His own due time. We cannot hope to know what may seem to detain God. We cannot hurry God.

When you ask a blessing from God, tell Him of your need, fully, openly and with faith. Don't hold anything back from God. Although God knows you and your need even before you ask it, it is you who must show God that you are willing to "level" with Him all the way.

When you ask of God in faith, believing that God wants to bless you, you will receive the desire of your heart.

Why? Wasn't the other beggar who got practically no money just as blind as the one whose tin cup was full? Didn't he need money as badly as the other? What made the difference in the results?

It was the way in which the beggars asked for their blessing. The successful beggar's sign opened the people's hearts and purses. His sign moved them to compassion because they realized that here was one who could not enjoy what they enjoyed—the beauty of a spring day. He was blind! His sign showed the people his need.

GREAT AMERICANS by WALDMAN
DANIEL WEBSTER
Daniel Webster was born in New Hampshire in 1782, the son of rugged, New England farming people. An avid student of law, he began—as a child—to study a copy of the Constitution printed on a cotton handkerchief.

It wasn't long after his graduation from Dartmouth, that Daniel's brilliant oratory and impressive figure won him great popularity. It's said of the severe Chief Justice John Marshall, "his eyes suffused with tears" while listening to Webster plead for a defendant.

Webster's intelligent grasp of the problems of the times made him a sought after advisor. He and the other great statesman of the day would often confer while relaxing with Old Crow—favorite bourbon of many American "greats"—now in its 125th year of fine whisky making.

He died in 1852, never having attained the post of president which he sought, but working for his country to the very end.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me. —(Psalms 23:4).
If you are facing something that seems more than you can bear, affirm that with faith in God you shall walk through it. There are experiences in life that are not easy to meet, but with faith in God we can "walk through" these experiences.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Suggests Best Way To Decrease Unemployment

BABSON PARK, Mass., Mar. 9—Each week some new proposition comes from the White House promising to reduce unemployment. These vary all the way from paying veterans' insurance money in advance of dates due to increasing the minimum wage. To my mind none of them are of any real value. The first suggestion would put more money into circulation immediately, but would reduce the amount available later. As to increasing the minimum wage, this will cause merchants and others to reduce the number of their employees so that the higher wage will cost them more in total. This will result in increasing unemployment without increasing total purchasing power.

Purchasing Power Vs. Unemployment
When discussing these two factors, it is much like asking which came first—the hen or the egg? Each is dependent on the other; but in most cases increased purchasing must come before increased employment, and I think President Kennedy believes this in his heart. Hence, the soundest, cheapest, and quickest method of increasing purchasing is to increase advertising.

Advertising appropriations are now "upside down." Merchants advertise most when they have plenty of money, which usually means when business is good and there is full employment. Then, when business slows up and unemployment develops, these merchants reduce their advertising. This is why I say that the present advertising policy is "cockeyed." It may help the temporary profits of the merchant, but it is not for the nation's best interests; it is especially applied to newspaper not economically sound. This advertising, although it also may include radio, TV, and mail order advertising. Furthermore, Congress would surely be increasing unemployment by increasing postal rates. Government Should Sometimes Subsidize Advertising

Think what would happen to employment if all advertising should suddenly be stopped? Such an action would create a national panic with over half the people unemployed. Certainly the government would be as justified in subsidizing merchants selling certain products as in subsidizing farmers living in certain states. These merchants are doing as much for the nation as are the farmers. In fact, the farmers are dependent upon the merchants to sell their farm products. No one of us goes to the farmer direct to buy wheat, corn, potatoes, tobacco, barley, or any product of the farm.

I would advise against permitting the government to change advertising rates; but suggest allowing certain temporary payments to newspapers and broadcasters for increasing the advertising space or time devoted to promoting the sale of products which require much labor—the percent of subsidy depending upon the amount of unemployment involved.

Russia And "Full Employment"
President Kennedy cannot, or at least will not, go to Russia to seek disarmament while there is a large amount of unemployment in the United States. To make any satisfactory deal with Russia to reduce the "cold war," the President needs to have full employment here at home. Yes, we should actually have a shortage of workers in order that those workers then discharged by plants now making missiles, rockets, and other weapons will be able quickly to get jobs in peace industries.

Some of President Kennedy's suggestions will help the unemployment situation in a small way, but his ideas will not come near providing "full employment." Only advertising—natural or subsidized—will accomplish this. Subsidizing advertising to reduce unemployment is something which I would like personally to help with. Secretary of Defense McNamara should immediately operate a new division to study this problem which I am today urging in this column.

CANCER AND YOU

Leukemia, once thought of as only a childhood cancer, has shifted its heaviest toll to older age groups.

Although leukemia each year takes the lives of more children than any other disease, it kills five times as many adults. If present rates continue, 13,000 persons will die of leukemia this year, and 2,000 of them will be children under 15 years of age.

The American Cancer Society pointed out these facts to place leukemia in its proper focus among all types of cancer, which claim the lives of a quarter of a million Americans each year.

Queried at headquarters of the ACS here, Dr. Frank H. J. Figge, President, Maryland Division of the American Cancer Society, explained that research to solve the riddle of cancer has a likely chance of solution in leukemia ahead of other types of cancer. He described leukemia as a cancer of the blood-forming tissues.

"We feel leukemia may be solved first among cancer diseases for two reasons," Dr. Figge said. "First, great headway is being made in finding chemicals which check the disease for a time. A dozen compounds have been used with varying degrees of success in treating patients with acute leukemia.

"Secondly, there are clues which suggest that leukemia may be caused, or at least triggered, by a form of virus. If this is so, the eventual prevention of the disease with a vaccine would become a possibility.

"Research which strengthens this theory includes the recent findings of Dr. Steven O. Schwartz, of Hektoen Institute in Chicago, who induced leukemia in mice with a filtered liquid from the brains of persons who had died of leukemia."

Dr. Schwartz, whose work is supported by the American Cancer Society, later went a step further and injected human volunteers with the same filtrate. Blood serum from these volunteers was then found to protect mice against leukemia. This discovery suggests that a vaccine may one day be developed to control leukemia in human beings. Incidentally, none of the men in the experiment developed leukemia due to what Dr. Schwartz believes a natural resistance.

Other scientists have observed under the electron microscope what they believe are virus particles obtained from the lymph of persons suffering from leukemia.

Science also is interested in the changing incidence of leukemia which, in the last few years, has remained about stationary in children but has mounted alarmingly among the older age groups, according to American Cancer Society statistics.

In women 60 to 65 year of age, the rate more than doubled from 1930 to 1958, jumping from 5.2 per 100,000 population to 13. For men of this age, for the same period, it more than tripled, rising from 6.6 to 20.6.

But, strangely, the incidence rate for children remained practically unchanged.

Pointing out that the American Cancer Society has currently allocated over $1,500,000 in a broad program of research related to leukemia, Dr. Figge appealed to all residents of the community to give generously to the Cancer Crusade to step up research in leukemia and the other forms of cancer.

Near Coudersport, Pa., in Potter County, are the sources of three watersheds, each flowing off in different directions. Head water for the Genessee River flows north to Lake Ontario. The Allegheny River flows east, then north, then south to Pittsburgh forming the Ohio which joins the Mississippi, eventually flowing into the Gulf of Mexico near New Orleans. The third watershed, the Susquehanna, flows southeast into Chesapeake Bay and the Atlantic Ocean.

On Feb. 22, 1909, President Theodore Roosevelt reviewed the Great White Fleet at Hampton Roads, Va., upon its return from a world cruise.

The first salute to the Stars and Stripes by a foreign power was rendered on Feb. 14, 1778, by the French Fleet when the USS Ranger commanded by John Paul Jones anchored at Brest, France. The Marines under Captain Matthew Parks rendered honors during the ceremony.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

How To Prevent Diaper Rash

By Kenneth S. Shepard, M.D. Pediatrician, St. Francis Hospital, Evanston, Ill.

Responsible for the production of diaper rash are moisture, heat, trauma and chemical irritation. Moisture is present because of urine and stool and excessive excretion of the sweat glands.

Heat is present because of the infant's normal body temperature plus, in many instances, the use of an impervious diaper covering such as rubber, plastic or treated silk.

Trauma (injury to the skin) is the result of rubbing of the wet diaper, which is frequently pinned rather tightly.

Chemical irritation is due in large part to ammonia produced by urea-splitting bacteria acting on the urine. In some instances, highly acid stools may be a factor.

In the prevention and the treatment of diaper rash, an effort is made to eliminate or minimize the above offending factors.

Moisture and heat are decreased by changing the diaper more frequently and by excluding the use of the water-repellent diaper covering.

Trauma is reduced by pinning the diaper less tightly and by leaving the diapered area exposed to air for varying periods of time.

Chemical irritation is decreased by washing the diapered area with soap and water with each diaper change. In the laundry, a bland soap should be used, and the diapers should be well rinsed or boiled. The use of a rinse such as borax is sometimes thought to be of value in neutralizing the ammonia produced by urea-splitting bacteria.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Medical Committee of the National Baby Care Council recommends that home laundering of diapers include three pre-rinses, four separate sudings, six hot water rinses to remove all soap, boiling for 30 minutes to sterilize the diapers, a vinegar-water rinse to reduce alkaline content and treatment with a special diaper antiseptic.

If a mother uses professional diaper service she is assured baby's diapers are processed scientifically using all the mandatory steps under strict laboratory control. The use of powders and ointments is of secondary importance. Silicone-containing ointments are of limited value in preventing diaper rash and are of no value in treatment. Erythematous (inflamed) rashes can be treated with cornstarch or a mild powder to absorb some moisture. Very dry diaper rashes should be treated with a mild lubricant such as petroleum jelly.

In weeping, noninfected rashes, powders and ointments should be avoided. Judicious use of soap and water to keep the area clean, exposing the area to air, and the use of mild, dry heat are of value.

Infected diaper rashes should be treated with non-sensitizing antibiotic ointments prescribed by a physician.

State-wide Trout Stocking Begun

In the week of March 3 to 10, the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission started the largest trout stocking program the State has ever had. One hundred forty-five thousand trout—brook, brown and rainbow are ready for release. This represents a 20-25 per cent increase over last year.

A detailed list of the waters affected is available in the 1961 Angler's Guide which is furnished at the time a fishing license is purchased.

Nine counties will enjoy the benefits of the new program—Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick, Baltimore, Montgomery, Carroll, Anne Arundel, and Cecil. The season for trout is closed only during the period March 15 to April 14 inc. Minimum size is 7 inches. The daily creel limit is 7, an increase of 2 over last year.

The fish have been reared by State and Federal agencies. The abundance of fish available for the program is the result of skilled management at the State hatcheries, as well as of a Federal grant.

Last year Maryland issued 100,550 fresh water fishing licenses.

On Feb. 27, '54, the first steam catapult ever installed on a Navy ship was tested aboard the aircraft carrier USS Hancock at the Fleet Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Wash.

The decline in deaths from tuberculosis may be responsible for a reported rise in lung cancer, two scientists reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Medical advances are enabling patients with TB to live to the "cancer age," they said.

Water Shortage

The daily demand for water in the U.S. is 320 billion gallons. That's about five billion more than the supply — and the gap is widening. Desalting sea water is a possible answer.

Mysterious Viruses

Do viruses cause cancer in humans? The U. S. Public Health Service is supporting $5.6 million worth of research to find out. PHS notes that viruses "cause many forms of cancer in animals."

Bon Appetite

The average foreign family spends 60% of its productive effort for food, a Cornell University professor reports. In this country, the typical family gets more and better food for less than 25% of its available income.

A "How-To-Do-It"

PAINT POINTERS

If you are installing a recreation room this season, building an addition, replacing old walls with new — remember a coat of sealer should go on the wall surface first.

This applies if you are going to use standard wall paint. Water emulsion paints, however, are self-sealing and require no special first coat. Wall surfaces — plaster or wallboard — are absorptive, and unevenly so. Unless a sealer coat is put on before applying an oil-base material, it will not dry out uniformly. Dull patches will result.

A vinyl sealer, such as Du Pont sealer-coater, dries very fast — in about 30 minutes. By the time you have painted your way around an average size room, the walls are ready to receive the top coat. This makes two-coats-a-day painting of a room an easy accomplishment.

Fish Fit For A King

Fish is easy to cook and can be prepared quickly. Fresh fish should not be stored longer than overnight, but should be used as soon as possible. If you use frozen fish, it is best to defrost it on a shelf in the refrigerator. Allow it to thaw enough so that the pieces can be separated easily. Fish is done the minute you can flake it easily with a fork or a toothpick. Be sure to avoid overcooking because this makes it dry and impairs the flavor. Flounder filets are inexpensive but the following new recipe gives you a dish fit for a king.

FILLETS WITH ORANGE

1 1/2 lbs. filets of flounder 3 dashes Tabasco
1 Tbsp. prepared mustard 1/2 cup orange juice
1 Tbsp. L&P Worcestershire sauce 1/2 cup fine bread crumbs

To the mustard, add Lea & Perrins Worcestershire and Tabasco, and stir well. Add orange juice and mix thoroughly. Add filets and let stand 5 minutes. Then roll filets in bread crumbs, coating them well. Sauté in oil until golden brown (about 3 minutes on each side). Serve with a garnish of fresh parsley and orange wedges.

Magic at Montego Bay

A tropical sunset seen across magnificent Montego Bay has a magic that makes it the most memorable of any Caribbean sight. Yet the peace and serenity of the scene is a striking contrast to the activity that characterizes the Bay area around the clock.

Called the "Aristocrat of the Caribbean," Montego Bay is situated on Jamaica's north coast. Chief attraction is Doctor's Cave, one of the world's most celebrated bathing beaches; hotels that feature excellent accommodations and the ultimate in service; and a heady international social whirl.

The sunset above is viewed from one of Jamaica's smallest and most fashionable resort hotels, Sunset Lodge. Intimate atmosphere and continental cuisine served in an elegant colonial dining room, or on a spa-ciotic terrace under the stars, combine to help make the Lodge one of the island's most popular resorts.

Sunset's private beach and sunbaths attract guests from all over the world during the height of the tourist season, December 15 through April 15. Rooms with private balconies are luxurious without losing the charm and simplicity of the tropical isle.

Special rates and vacation plans are available through local travel agents or the Lodge directly, from mid-April through mid-December. Jamaica's sunshine and sunsets are magic in any season!

The Science Companies In 1961

The stock market seems to be saying: "The worse the outlook, the greater the chance that the Government will do something about it." Money supply is, in term interest rates are to decline more funds should flow into short term securities or the stock market. We doubt that the recession will be much deeper and while recovery may not be as rapid as anticipated, selected common stocks should do well over the intermediate and longer term.

In our opinion, 1961 will be the best year ever for the science companies. An accepted standard index, and due to the relative youth of the industry one of the few available, is total electronics sales. In 1961 the total of electronics sales moved ahead about 6%. This is acceptable, especially in an unfavorable economic climate. This current year, the figure could well double to about 12%.

In his recent State of the Union speech, our President left little doubt but that defense spending will provide a good deal of impetus. On top of this, we believe that the general economy will take a turn for the better and not too long from now at that. To offset higher costs and their effect upon profit margins, industry must improve its controls and automate;

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Luke 15:11-24.

This my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. (Luke 15:24.)

The most famous of all parables, the Prodigal Son, should be named the Parable of Parenthood. Jesus revealed in it, as could be done only by a heart-warming story, the dimensions of God's fatherhood and the qualities of His fatherliness. He does not forget our sins with a shrug, saying, "Never mind; it's nothing." He does not erase the hurt, or cancel out the injury, or blot out the guilt. Instead, He forgives, without taking away an ounce of the enormity of the sin.

He removes the power of sin over us—loosens its hold upon us, releases us from the guilt complex—so that we can find our way back to fellowship with Him.

We do not deserve it, and we cannot hope to understand it; but like the blessedly good parent He is, our heavenly Father assures us that, seeking forgiveness and fellowship, we belong to His household of faith. There we can be at home with Him.

Prayer

Eternal Father, we thank Thee that in Thy wisdom Thou hast placed the solitary in families, and that Thy loving-kindness provides for our every need, comfort, and counsel. Guide us as we go thru the growing pains of becoming mature members of Thy family. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

In mercy and by grace, God forgives us our sin.

Many License Tag Applications Returned

John R. Jewell, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, reported this week that an average of twelve hundred tag applications a day are being returned to state motorists who submitted them to the D.M.V. by mail with essential information lacking.

Nearly fifty per cent of the applications returned were originally submitted without either the necessary insurance form or the fee for the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund.

Effective this year all owners of pleasure cars in Maryland are required to submit proof of insurance with their tag applications or remit an additional $26 fee. Persons failing to submit either when applying will not be allowed to purchase their 1961 automobile license plates.

"It is important that persons who have not yet received their insurance form get in touch with their insurance company immediately," the Commissioner said. "Failure to do so may result in their being unable to purchase tags before the April 1 deadline."

Motorists were also warned to complete all spaces on the tag applications before signing and to submit the correct amount of money for tags as shown thereon. If checks are mailed to the Department with applications they are to be made payable to the "Department of Motor Vehicles."

Mail from personnel at the Department are doing everything possible to insure prompt and efficient handling of all tag applications. Since February 23, more than 61,318 sets of tags have been mailed to motorists throughout the State.

Commissioner Jewell said that among other errors frequently noted were the failure to enclose any fee for tags and the inclusion of unsigned or improperly endorsed checks.

"If motorists would take the time to double check all these items before mailing," he concluded, "they could save themselves more than a week's delay in receiving their tags."

Married Only A Day And Look Who's Paying Now

Marriage involves give and take, as these young newlyweds on their honeymoon are already finding out. Right now "hubby" is pleased because it's the Mrs. who is paying for a change.

Pretty Mrs. Joseph Messina has been caught without her name tag at a resort for newlyweds and she must pay to a special fund set up for the purpose. However, it's all part of the fun of being just married and on a honeymoon, and it's for a good cause.

The Messina's fine, and others collected from young marrieds at Honeymoon Haven, Dingman's Ferry, Pa., are given to the Heart Association. "The system of fines for the Heart Fund came about," says James W. Moore, president of the year-round Pocono Mountain resort, "when we discovered that our guests get to know other couples easily when they wear name tags. So they all decided to wear them and now, whenever someone forgets, he or she must contribute to the fund."

Rose Bushes Need Care Now

For some sixty million Americans the approach of milder days means just one thing—that the anxiously awaited time for planting roses is near.

ular flower is easily understood. It stems not only from the beauty of the flowers and the great personal satisfaction derived, but also because raising roses is one of the surest ways to win compliments from friends and neighbors.

ed their ability to thrive in all sections of the country is half the battle. Year after year, roses identified with the famous AARS seal—the All-America Rose Selections—are most likely to meet these qualifications.

The 1961 All-America roses, for example, were tested for two years in trial gardens throughout the United States before they were selected as the best of the varieties to be introduced this year. Only first grade plants are on the market.

One of the 1961 winners is a Hybrid Tea named Duet. Blending two rich hues in a unique bicolor, it features the classic, perfectly formed flower borne on a single stem.

Dormant plants of the All-America Roses and other varieties are available now from the mail-order specialists or the local nurseries.

Pick a site where they will receive six or more hours of sun a day. Space them 18 to 24 inches apart.

To be certain your roses will flourish, dig a hole for each plant 18" across and 15" deep.

Plant roses as soon as possible after they are delivered. If you cannot, don't remove the wrappings but make certain they are kept

When planted, the bud union—or knuckle—above the root, should be at about ground level (in cold climates about 1" below the surface). Spread out the roots in the hole and fill-in around them gradually with the soil.

When the hole is filled to within about 2 inches of the top, pour in several pailfuls of water. After this has settled, add the rest of the soil and mound it up around the canes to a height of about six inches.

Finally, when planting dormant plants, prune back the canes to a length of about nine inches. Started in this way, if you're planting the newest AARS winners, Duet and Pink Parfait, you can expect a magnificent display of pink in your garden throughout this season.

Flower Show Dates Announced

The Eighth Annual Landon Azalea Gardens Tour, in Bethesda, has been scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, May 6 and 7, 1961.

The Gardens, located on the grounds of Landon School, in Bethesda, have become the mecca for a yearly pilgrimage of flower-lovers from metropolitan Washington and surrounding areas. In the collection are more than 1,000 blooming azaleas, representing over a thousand different varieties.

Specially prized in the Gardens are the very hard-to-grow tree peonies. These possess beautiful delicate blossoms, which sometimes grow up to a diameter of ten inches or more.

The Landon Gardens Tour is for the benefit of the Landon School Scholarship and Endowment Funds. The grounds will be open from 12 noon to 10 p. m. on each of the two days.

Visitors driving to the Gardens, who come over Wisconsin Avenue, should turn into Bradley Boulevard in Bethesda, thence left to Wilson Lane, and left to Landon School. Drivers over River Road go to Wilson Lane and turn right to the School. The Gardens Show committee announces there will be ample free parking on the grounds.

Admission tickets for the Landon Tour, at $1.00 each (children 12 years and under free) will be on sale at the Woodward and Lothrop Chevy Chase Store, starting Monday, April 17. Tickets purchased at the Landon School grounds on Tour days are $1.25 each

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

FEAR NOT, ONLY BELIEVE

A little girl awoke from a nightmare, screaming out her terror and fear. "Oh, help me, save me! Two big black bears are going to get me!" she cried.

Her parents rushed into her room to try to calm her, but no amount of comfort and reassurance could reach the little girl. She had become thoroughly terrified, and neither dad's strong arms around her nor Mother's soothing words could convince her that two ferocious bears were not about to get her.

"The bears are about to get me," sobbed his little sister. "Where are they?"

"Over in that corner." Pulling an imaginary revolver from his pajama pocket, the brother shouted, "Bang! bang! I got both of them!"

The little girl, her fears allayed, went back to sleep, feeling just fine!

This story sounds ridiculous. "It's silly," you might say. But the point is, whether its cause is real or imagined, fear can be a terrible thing. It is a brutal, blighting, crippling force that often leaves its victims marked for life.

Many people today live in constant fear. Some are afraid of storms with their thunder and lightning. Others are afraid of shadows and darkness. Still others are afraid of illness and of diseases such as cancer and leukemia. Thousands are afraid of failure. I am told that one half of all hospital beds are filled with people suffering from mental difficulties or from an organic disorder resulting from them. Their fears have dominated them and made them irrational.

But the Bible says, "God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind" (2 Timothy 1:7). That means that God does not want people to suffer the consequences of fear. In the place of one negative force—fear—he has given us three positive ones: power, love and a sound mind.

The next time you are afraid and the world seems to be closing in around you, remember that fear does not come from God. Believe that God has given you power to overcome fear, love to lift you and a sound mind to deal with your problems. And if you have trouble going to sleep at night, remember that God stays awake all night, watching over you, and that His words to you are, "Fear not, only believe."

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry University of Wisconsin

Salt for Farm Animals

Salt (sodium chloride) is recognized by animal nutritionists and physiologists as a mineral of great importance which regulates the water content of the body tissues, keeps the blood stream at the proper osmotic pressure, and plays an indispensable part in respiration and digestion.

Enough experiments have been conducted with all classes of farm animals to show that when salt is withheld, these animals react unfavorably. They show slower gains, lowered feed efficiency, and debilitated health.

A salt deficiency has repeatedly been incriminated as the cause of death. Many cases of depraved appetites, where cattle chew soil or wood or metal and where a mineral deficiency is suspected, amount to nothing more than a craving for salt.

As a constantly necessary ingredient of livestock rations, salt, whether fed mixed in feed or free choice, is the most logical carrier of trace minerals, certain anthelmintics, and other principles that are commonly referred to as "additives" in livestock rations.

The two expensive trace minerals, iodine and cobalt, have been proved definitely needed.

The often helpful and less expensive trace minerals, manganese, copper, iron and zinc, along with iodine and cobalt, usually go together to make trace mineralized salt.

Work with manganese added to swine and cattle rations has not been entirely conclusive, but it has in a number of cases been beneficial.

In the sandy area of Central Wisconsin, corn has responded to copper additions to the fertilizer. Might not animals in such areas also respond favorably to copper additions?

Zinc has been effective as a preventive and treatment of parakeratosis in swine when fed at the rate of from 50 to 100 p.p.m. of the ration. Even where no definite mineral deficiencies have been identified, many stockmen feel safer by fortifying rations with these trace minerals so that, if there are subclinical deficiencies in their particular area, the added trace minerals serve as low cost insurance.

Question: How can cows in milking parlors be made to eat their grain in the few minutes that it takes to get them ready for milking and to milk them?

Answer: A coarse textured or wet mixture is eaten more quickly than one that is finely ground and dry. Cows have been found to prefer grain that is ground medium fine or gritty to one that is mealy, or floury fine. Pelleted grain in some tests has been eaten 25 percent faster than ground grain.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There is being quite a war fought between those who would like to stamp out the economic cancer of the times, trading stamps, and the big stamp issuing companies which know they have a very good thing going for them.

In Los Angeles, there has long been any number of food stores that would like to abandon giving out stamps. C. W. Harder with purchases, and presumably also heard about this matter, with the result U. S. Justice Dept. has been looking askance at merchants talking to one another about this matter.

So far in Washington, Justice Dept. theory appears to be that giving trading stamps is one way of competing price-wise, thus any agreement to eliminate trading stamps is in restraint of trade.

This, of course, is a theory this is subject to review.

Retailers pay good cash for these stamps, and give them out to the customers usually at the rate of 2% on the purchases of the customer. He makes nothing on the stamps.

Neither does the consumer make anything on the stamps. The money the retailer paid out for stamps has to come from some place, so in a market where everybody is giving stamps, the price of merchandise dise is merely marked up to cover the cost of the stamps.

Thus, the housewife who redeems her stamps doesn't really get much. She is in effect, cashing in the money she has already deposited with the stamp-giving retailer in the form of higher prices she paid, to obtain merchandise on which the stamp company makes a profit. As a matter of fact, if she had the equivalent amount in cash, instead of in stamps which forces her to deal with one outfit, she could undoubtedly make much better deals on merchandise.

Of course, the stamp companies not only make money on the forced sale of merchandise through them, but they also reap as pure profit the many, many stamps that are lost, forgotten about, destroyed, or otherwise never redeemed.

Thus, while Justice Dept. is technically correct in frowning on grocers talking together to eliminate stamps it would also appear that trading stamps themselves are in restraint of trade.

Thus it would seem quite logical for Justice Dept. to either demand, or if it does not have the legal power to do so now, to ask Congress for the power, to demand that every retailer offering stamps also be required to give the cash in lieu of stamps.

Thus, the consumer could accumulate the cash, if she so desired, and when sufficient was accumulated, use it to buy merchandise of her choice at the place she chooses to buy it. As it stands now, when she gets stamps, she is actually getting back her own money, but forced to spend it in one specified place. This, of course, is really restraint of trade.

Great Men of English Letters

ROBERT BURNS

Robert Burns, the most famous of Scottish poets, was born January 25, 1759 to a poor Ayrshire tenant farmer. By 12, he was doing a man's work on the farm.

His early verses—which delighted the laity but angered the clergy—were satires on local ecclesiastical squabbles. When one edition of his poems brought 500 pounds he bought a farm where he lived with his wife, Jean Armour.

Burns was a frequent visitor to the White Horse Cellar Coach Inn in Edinburgh where he spent many an hour in front of the fire, enjoying some of the Inn's famed White Horse Scotch Whisky while musing over some of his legendary stories.

Robert Burns died in July, 1796 of a heart ailment. Scots all over the world still celebrate his birthday. His famous works include Tam o' Shanter, The Jolly Beggars, The Cotter's Saturday Night and Poems, chiefly in the Scottish Dialect.

Looking Ahead

...by Dr. George S. Benson DIRECTOR—NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM Searcy, Arkansas

Red Target: Philippines

MANILA, The Philippines:—The Communists have set a target date for take-over of the Philippines. They hope to take these strategic islands in the year 1961. They are confident they will. In a secret document obtained through sources I cannot disclose, the powerful Red conspiratorial apparatus in the Philippines has advised its agents and its fellow travelers that the "nationalistic" revolution should be ready for launching sometime this year.

"The year 1961," the document says, "will likely be the year when the clash will occur between the nationalists and the imperialist Americans, clergy and Filipino anti-Filipinos. The triumph of nationalism will be based on the development of its sound unity. And the triumph of nationalistic masses will be on the unity of strength of workers who are independent but of the same blood as the whole strength of the nationalists."

Controlling Nationalism

This clear statement of purpose in the secret document follows 80 pages of Communist propaganda and revolution instructions. The document is entitled, "A Call to Unity for Independence, Prosperity, and Peace." The "unity" it speaks of is the organization of all the "nationalist" elements, with farm workers and industrial workers predominating, into a revolutionary force led by Moscow trained Filipinos.

"It is the conviction of the revolutionaries," the Red leaders tell their workers in this secret document, "that sooner or later, a great number of the reformists (luke-warm nationalists) and chauvinists (the Philippines for Filipinos group) would realize that only by means of revolution, either peaceful or violent, can the suffering of the nation be alleviated and that they will be forced to accept the wisdom of the basic ideal (Communism) and concepts of the nationalistic revolutionaries (Communist leaders)."

"Hate America"

The straw man they are using to whip up support among the rank and file uninformed Filipinos is the United States—and this is the propaganda bugaboo wherever the Communists are at work throughout the world. With their widespread and effective propaganda apparatus they are drumming into the minds of the people a picture of a greedy, mercenary, capitalistic Uncle Sam exploiting the Filipino workers, farmers, middle class and professions. In propaganda and in their extensive and influential political activities, they are pushing the movement to nationalize the industries of the islands. About 80 per cent of these industries are largely American owned, and they have provided the economic growth that has gradually pulled the living standard up from sheer poverty and starvation.

Sheer Propaganda

"The truth is," says the secret blueprint for conquest, "imperialist America wants only to show to the Filipinos through her various programs, whether it is through her labor attaché on through the labor center created by the ICA and the various schooling accorded the many labor leaders, that there is no difference between American and Filipino capitalism. The Americas want to make the leaders and the workers believe that driving away American capital and only replacing it with Filipino capital (through the government) who might turn out to be monopolists would not do Filipino workers any good. This will only result in disunity among Filipino workers, and it will require Filipinos to fight imperialist sovereignty and the maintenance of imperialist domination and exploitation."

We in America know this to be false reasoning. But how many of the less educated Filipinos do, when this argument is boiled down to simple propaganda terms? Not many.

Here, in this propaganda, psychological and political area, the Communists are winning their Cold War for the conquest of the world. They are no smarter than Americans. But they are more dedicated. They have a blueprint. It is their "cause." They are working at it with all the zeal of the early Christian missionaries.

Possibility Gas Tax Will Remain

"The proposal to continue the temporary 1c federal gasoline tax after June 30th in view of the huge amounts of federal automotive excise taxes now going to the General Fund, is a failure to keep faith with Maryland motorists," it was stated by Mr. H. S. Eustis, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Maryland Petroleum Association.

"When Congress enacted this temporary federal gasoline tax," continued Mr. Eustis, "the bill specified that after June 30th a portion of the federal automotive excise taxes now going to the General Fund would be placed in the Highway Trust Fund, thus allowing the promised reduction in the federal gasoline tax. The full amount of the federal automotive excise taxes going to the General Fund is now in excess of $1,700,000,000."

"At the last Highway Transportation Congress in May of 1960, there was much discussion concerning the impact of the compact cars," said Mr. Eustis. "At that time it was stated that a real factor in the sudden increase of compact cars was the desire by motorists to secure more miles per gallon because of the increased costs of gasoline due to high taxes. We in the petroleum industry, who are the collectors of the gasoline tax, are fully aware of the impact of the compact cars on the use of gasoline."

"The old adage of killing the goose that lays the golden egg is fast becoming apparent," concluded Mr. Eustis.

Corporation Receipts Register Decline

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported today that gross income tax receipts from corporation and individual incomes taxes for the month of February, 1961, totaled $17,742,045.80 as compared to receipts of $18,134,472.08 for February a year ago. This is a decrease of $392,426.28.

Mr. Goldstein stated that net receipts for February, 1961 as compared to February, 1960, are actually $1,430,060.74 less because of a stepped-up process in making tax refunds.

As of the close of February, 1960 only 40,000 refunds had been made for at total pay-back to the taxpayers of $960,027.75, but at the close of February this year 90,000 refunds have been made for a total of $2,249,898.39.

As of this date last year, Mr. Goldstein said refunds were averaging slightly more than $24 each, but so far this year the average has been about $25.20.

Present general fund revenue, Mr. Goldstein continued, is approximately a million dollars more for the eight month's period of the State's current fiscal year as compared to the same period of last fiscal year, but this is not a true picture because nearly one and one-half million dollars more has been refunded as at this time last year. Taking this into consideration, general fund revenue is running approximately $2,500,000 ahead of last year.

THIS CHANGING WORLD by WALDMAN

Pharaohs and priests of ancient Egypt believed water had a mystic significance. They bathed only before praying or offering sacrifices to the Gods.

Queen Elizabeth I owned the most elaborate bath tub in England. Yet she bathed only once a month! She insisted, though, that her bed linens be changed daily.

A shower or bath now is almost a daily habit with Americans. And modern, deodorant soaps chemically combat bacteria on the skin to help us get cleaner and stay cleaner than ever before.

Mathias Reports On Congressional Activities Of Week

By Charles McC. Mathias Jr. (6th District—Maryland)

The wheels of Congressional action are in motion! The organizational problems of the 87th Congress having been resolved, the Members of the House of Representatives now have before them the task of considering the legislative measures, the job for which they were elected.

During this past week, along with the usual housekeeping bills to cover the payment of Congressional staff salaries and appropriations for the operation of committees, the House voted on and passed two pieces of legislation in which my constituency has expressed a great deal of interest—Unemployment Compensation Benefit Program and the appropriation for the House Un-American Activities Committee.

The first major bill to come before the Committee on the Judiciary of the House of Representatives, of which I am a member, is one to provide for additional Federal Judges. It is my opinion that passage of this bill is of great importance, both to the Nation and to the State of Maryland. I would, therefore, like to discuss the issues involved, giving my personal views on the responsibilities of the Judiciary Committee and the Congress in the passage of an adequate and fair bill.

The Republican Party Platform for 1960 had well stated the policy on Federal judgeships, as follows:

"Needed Federal judgeships appointed on the basis of the highest qualifications and without limitation to a single political party should be created to expedite the administration of justice in Federal Courts."

I am in complete agreement with this statement. As late as February of 1960, hearings were held before the House Committee on the Judiciary bringing out the fact that the Federal Courts are working under a heavy backlog of case in many jurisdictions. This condition has seriously impaired the efficiency of the judicial branch of our government.

An inadequate number of federal judgeships affects the people of the United States, causing delayed justice. Under the principles of our Constitution, justice delayed is justice denied. This condition strikes home when we realize that in some areas of our country a litigant attempting to enforce some right, claim or privilege is frustrated by delays of as long as four years before his case may be scheduled for trial.

Fortunately, the situation in Maryland is not as bad as in other parts of the Nation. Here the average time involved in a civil case in the Federal Courts is just a few days short of one year (11.4 months).

Maryland is very fortunate to have fine judges on its United States District Court bench—U. S. Judges Rogel Thompson and Dorsey Watkins and Retired Judges William C. Coleman and Calvin Chestnut. The Honorable Simon E. Sobeloff is the Chief Judge of the Fourth Judicial Circuit of the United States Court of Appeals.

But the finest and most capable men should not be required to work with unnecessary burdens and hardships. It is the responsibility of the Congress of the United States not only to provide additional judgeships but also to provide for the appointment of capable and competent men to these positions of trust. The public interest will be served best if the positions which are created and which become vacant are filled without primary regard to the party affiliations of those appointees.

President Eisenhower established the policy that the appointments resulting from any legislation under consideration during his Administration would be made on an approximate fifty-fifty basis, partywise, with the main consideration being the qualifications and the integrity of those appointed. Unfortunately, the bill reported last year by the House Judiciary Committee to provide for 35 new judges was not enacted into law. The fact that political considerations were overemphasized had much to do with the defeat of this bill.

In my judgment, the Congress should provide for 59 additional judgeships, which is the number recommended by the Judicial Conference composed of all the federal judges in the United States.

Both in the Judiciary Committee and on the floor of the House of Representatives, I will do all in my power to effect the passage of legislation to provide an adequate number of Federal judges. The President has stated that he would adopt the criteria established by the Eisenhower Administration in regard to Republican and Democratic representation on the Bench. As a Member of Congress, as a member of the Judiciary Committee, and as a citizen, I shall make every effort to see that this pledge is honored and that the appointments to fill these new positions will be made with merit as the primary consideration.

Seeks Aid For Dogs

MATURE VISION AND ITS CARE

Few people pass the age of 50 without experiencing some changes in vision. The most common of these is "presbyopia" — or the inability to focus on close work. This can be easily corrected by seeing your optometrist about bifocals.

The American Optometric Association has drawn up a few rules for the bifocal wearer who is unaccustomed to the new lenses: Wear them continually for the first week, try to move your paper or book rather than your head while reading, and see your doctor about any irregularities you notice.

Another vision change that takes place requires more light to see properly. Try increasing your 75 watt bulbs to 100, avoid night driving on poorly lit roads when possible; or reduce your usual speed. Make sure your windshield is always clean.

Helping the Easter Bunny

Combine a dozen hard cooked eggs, coloring and decorating materials, a little girl (or boy) and you'll be giving a first rate assist to the Easter Bunny...happy, creative hours to the child, too.

These days egg decorating kits come with nearly everything that makes egg decorating fun; glitter sparkle, color transfers, animal and circus cutouts, an egg dipper, plus tablets of nine beautiful colors. Full directions for their use are in the box. From household supplies come the custard cups so handy for the dipping and the cotton swabs to use as little brushes for painting faces, stripes or polka dots.

Naturally the Rit colors are U.S. Certified so there is no need to worry if some gets through a crack in the shell. Incidentally, hard cooked eggs are quite safe to keep to eat for three or four days at room temperature. Kept in the refrigerator, they will keep well for at least ten days to two weeks.

Girl Scouts Plan National Week Observance

Beginning Sunday, March 12, and continuing through Sunday, March 18, Emmitsburg Girl Scouts, together with thousands of other Girl Scouts throughout the nation, will be observing the Annual Girl Scout Week. Why this week? It was on March 12, in 1912, that Mrs. Juliette Gordon Low of Savannah, Georgia, organized the first troop of Girl Scouts in the United States of America. She had met Sir Robert Baden-Powell, the founder of the Boy Scout Movement in England, and had become acquainted with the Girl Guide Movement there. She felt it was a wonderful thing for the girls of her native country and through her initiative and enthusiasm, the organization was begun. This year we celebrate our 49th birthday. Girl Scout Week is observed the week in which March 12 falls.

Beginning Sunday, the Scouts, which include the Brownies, the Intermediate and the Senior Girl Scouts, will mark a week full of activity. The Catholic Girls of the troops will attend 8:30 a. m. Mass at St. Joseph's Church. The Protestant girls will attend the Worship Service at Incarnation United Church of Christ at 10:30 a. m.

Monday night, March 13, at St. Joseph's High School auditorium at 7:30 p. m., all five troops of Emmitsburg will hold a Girl Scout Night. All parents and friends of the young girls of the town are cordially invited to attend. Each troop will present a part of the program, which will include a fashion show of the uniforms worn by members of Troops in other countries. Each troop will be presented an American Flag by one of the civic organizations of town: American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, VFW Auxiliary, Knights of Columbus, and Junior Chamber of Commerce. A flag ceremony will close the evening's program.

During the week the girls will be wearing the official uniform of the Brownies or Girl Scouts, and will be holding special meetings of their own troops.

A window at Crouse's Drug Store will portray the theme of the National Girl Scouts during the years 1960-62, Honor The Past—Serve The Future.

The troops in Emmitsburg are all celebrating their first birthday during the next few weeks. Wouldn't some of the people of town like to join in the work of this organization? There is need for all volunteers. Come Monday night and see what these girls are doing.

Miss Joan Orndorff, Baltimore, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Orndorff, Motters.

SCHOOL MENU

The lunch menu at the Emmitsburg Public School for the week beginning March 13, has been announced as follows:

March 2 Results: Red Birds 3; Farmerettes 0; Ramblers 3; Grange 0; Alley Kats 2; Taneyettes 1. High Single game and set—L. Harner (Alley Kats), 117 and 319.

Emmitsburg High Activities Reported

The boys' basketball team played several games last week at South Hagerstown High School. Emmitsburg met Hancock on Saturday, March 4, and the game was broadcast over WFMD and was sponsored by Sperry's Garage, Charles Stouter Texaco Station, Bucher's Motel and Restaurant and Houck's Quality Shop.

On Wednesday, classes were dismissed at 2:45 p. m. so the students could see a news reel.

The Honor Roll for the term just past is as follows:

12th Grade: Barbara Kelly, Katherine Springer, Sharon Pittinger, Dorothy Moser and Linda Knox; 11th Grade: Kathy Richards, Joyce Meadows and Larry Hyde; 10th Grade: Lona Frock, Bessie Flory, Nancy Glass, Nancy Eyster, Susan McClain, Jean Andrew, Sue Borst and John Flowers; 9th Grade: Frances Hardman, Donna Saylor, Sue Martin, Connie Baker and Rosie Liller; 8th Grade: Jeffrey Valentine, Dennis Pittinger, Robert Ulrich, John Wagerman, Harriet Harner, Joan Wormley, Phyllis Chatlos, Bobby Houck and Elizabeth O'Melveny; 7th Grade: Sharon Baker, Carol Saylor, Bonnie Saylor, Elizabeth Wilhide, Marjory Richards, Susan Crouse, Virginia Bentz, Reda Plumer, Rudy Chatlos, Larry Gigeous, Larry Piper, Joseph Baldacchino and E. A Family Affair

Three generations of the Stephan family pose proudly at the 1st Annual Barberama held at Miami Beach's Hotel di Lido. Richard W. Stephan, his grandson Don Bennett, Jr. and son, Richard Stephan, carry on a family tradition that dates back to 1897. It was in that year that Stephan's products first became available to American men through their local barber shop.

President Stephan told the assembled barbers that the profession needed sharpening. He said, "It is up to the barber to create an improved image in the public eye. The barber takes the American male from his first pre-school haircut—through his "hot-rod" days—into his junior executive period and right on through the time he takes his grandson for his first haircut."

The Stephan Company was formed in 1897 by Karl H. Stephan and his sons and grandsons are still active in the operation of the business.

Hundred-dollar-a-day hotel suites, candy-striped cabanas, mink-swathed diners, sleek limousines and luxurious yachts... is this your idea of Florida? Perhaps it was true yesterday — but not any longer!

Wear A Hat To Warm Your Feet! Illustration of a man sitting on a log with a bear and a penguin. Text: 'The U. S. Army, working to develop a uniform which will provide sufficient warmth for soldiers stationed in the Arctic regions, has come up with a surprising bit of news. When cold feet are a problem, a hat will probably do more good than an extra pair of socks! The human body is actually a heat storing and circulating machine. Heat is carried in the blood stream to all parts of the body through arteries. The head, with its many important structures, has a sort of priority on the blood and heat in our systems. Decreased circulation in this area can be very dangerous. When the head isn't hatted and adequately insulated against the cold, it has to draw on the rest of the body's supply of heat. Then, the extremities, especially the poor feet, suffer.'
