ally with the weather the para-in and the first frost behind us already we are running about 10 degrees below normal for this time of year. There is a possibility that the delightful Indian summer which we usually enjoy this time of the year will be non-existent, so better be prepared folks to go right into winter, just in case. Nature With the fall season officially mount topic of conservation this time of the year, a good many individuals are predicting a hard winter. They maintain, as the basis of their predictions, that the lack of precipitation we have been and still are experiencing, could well turn into snow this winter. If so, brother, look out!

The town's streets are about ready for that repaving job Governor Taves promised last spring. Latest word is that the job will start Monday morning. Already some of the equipment has been moved into the area and it appears that the Governor is about ready to make good his promise. Mayor Bouey has been assured the project will be done next week. It is planned to lay a new layer of blacktop, one inch thick on all four of the main streets of the town. This will give the town a new and neater appearance. It is too bad residents didn't bother to fix broken curbing and otherwise bad sidewalks. A few did but the majority remained apathetic about the repaving, thus marring what otherwise would have been a real nice appearing street, one which would be an asset to the community. This is just one of a few of the many undesirable problems faced by a governing board of an old town. With no building code or line to go by people just about built how and where they wanted to with the result that houses are situated helter-skelter and there are hardly two sidewalks of the same dimensions creating an untidy and lackadaisical appearance. To this very day there is no building code, no curb line, no zoning law in Emmitsburg. In other words we have not made much progress in the past century.

Vandalism is still prevalent here and it appears it will be for some time unless cooperation from the citizenry is forthcoming. Last week several of the town's road markers and other traffic signs were destroyed. These signs cost several dollars apiece and come from your tax dollar. It is inconceivable that this sort of thing could happen on the main street, under a street light, and no one would be aware of it. However that is the story. It has happened on numerous occasions but no one has come forth and volunteered any information to the authorities who would be only too glad to put an end to such nefarious activity. In my opinion there is absolutely nothing unethical or unsavory about an informant giving information of this nature to the proper authorities and until such time as those individuals who see these things happen and remain silent decide to do a little talking in the right channels we'll just have to go on and on spending our tax money to replace signs and others damages caused by these vandals.

Oral Polio Program Starts Here Oct. 5

The Frederick County Medical Society has given its wholehearted approval for the county-wide oral polio clinics to be held beginning October 5 and 6, 1962, as a joint program of the Society and the Frederick County Health Department.

The crash program has been designated to permit as many of the county's 74,000 residents as possible to avail themselves of the free polio vaccine.

Type I of the Sabin oral vaccine will be given on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 5 and 6. Seventeen locations in Frederick County have been designated as clinic centers.

Dr. Forbes H. Burgess, County Health Officer, emphasized there is no charge and there are absolutely no after-effects from the dosages of the oral vaccine.

Voluntary contributions of 25 cents per dose, from those able to afford it, will be collected at the exit doors to help defray the cost of running the clinics. Volunteer helpers from the various communities have been contacted, but the Health Department will furnish bus lunches to these workers, the cost of which will be defrayed by the contributions.

Hours of the clinics on Friday, Oct. 5 are from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. Hours on Saturday, Oct. 6 are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Type II vaccine will be given at the same locations on November 16 and 17, 1962. Studies are still being made if and when Type III will be given.

All persons who reside in Frederick County and are being requested to participate. Parents or guardians of all those under 21 years of age must sign permission forms, except married minors or members of the Armed Services on active duty who may sign their own permission forms.

A turnout of 100 per cent of the residents of the county is anticipated.

The local clinic will be at the Emmitsburg High School and Drs. W. R. Cadle and George L. Morningstar will administer the vaccine.

Teaching At Loretto

Dr. Boleslav S. Povsic, former professor at Saint Joseph College, Emmitsburg, has been appointed assistant professor of classical languages at St. Francis College, Loretto, Pa. The announcement was made this week by Father Gabriel J. Loncosky, T.O.B., president of the college.

College Graduate In Peace Corps

A Saint Joseph College alumna, Miss Janice Jaeger of Blairtown, N. J., has been assigned to serve with the Peace Corps. The 1962 graduate in nursing will serve as a staff nurse in Malaya, a newly-independent nation in Southeast Asia.

Miss Jaeger, one of the first student nurses to apply to the Peace Corps when it was organized nearly two years ago, left this week from New York to visit the Seattle World's Fair for two days with her volunteer group of 30 members before traveling by jet to Kuala Lumpur, capital city of Malaya. She will undergo orientation at the modern University of Malaya in Kuala Lumpur before setting out for her assignment as a staff nurse at a hospital in a small Malayan community.

Since graduating from Saint Joseph College in June, Miss Jaeger has served a brief term with the medical service at the Bellevue Hospital in New York. On July 11, she joined a Peace Corps class of 67 applicants for an intensive nine-week training at Northern Illinois University at Dekalb, Ill. The class included 15 women, seven of whom were nurses.

Miss Jaeger has been studying the Chinese language for the past two years in preparation for the Peace Corps opportunity. The Malaysians, who received their independence from Great Britain in 1957, speak Chinese in some sections of the country, in addition to Indian, Malay and English.

The nurse-volunteer attended Leonia, N. J., High School prior to earning her Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from Saint Joseph College. As an undergraduate, she was president of the Student Nurses' Council of Maryland in 1961-62. She presided at the annual convention of the organization held at Carvel Hall, Annapolis, and developed a film on the Maryland nursing students' convention.

Student Grant For College

The National Science Foundation has awarded a grant of $2,750 to Saint Joseph College for support of its undergraduate research participation program.

Sister Denise Eby, Assistant Professor of Chemistry and Biology, announced that the award, the third such grant to the college, is effective for one year's research. Nine students will participate in the undergraduate program. Among the projects made possible by previous National Science grants are the study of methods of screening anti-cancer chemicals by diffusion techniques, and an investigation of chemical analysis of alloys by diffusion.

Brownie Fly-Up Ceremonies Monday

Monday, October 1, will be the annual Brownie Scout "Fly Up" with Court of Awards for the Intermediates and a capping ceremony for the incoming Senior Girl Scouts. This will be held in St. Euphemia's Hall at 7:30 p.m. and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Two Senior Scouts, Judy Sherman and Judy Hartman, both from Frederick, who attended the Senior "Round Up" in Button Bay, Vermont this summer, will be present to tell about their experiences and to show some of the pictures which they took while in the camp. This "Round Up" is a Senior Scout event which is held once every three years and in order to be chosen to represent her Council a girl must be trained in the outdoor skills and represent the true meaning of Scouting.

The Brownies will demonstrate some of the outdoor skills which they learned at Day Camp. Here is where the earliest training for the "Round Up" takes place and progresses into more difficult skills as the girl advances in Scouting. Some other Brownies will hold a fashion show, depicting the kind of clothing to wear and not to wear in outdoor activities.

This is a big night in the life of a Girl Scout. We hope the parents and the friends of the Scouts will attend and thus encourage them in the life they are trying to live as they make the Promise: On my honor I will try to do my duty to God and my country, to help other people at all times, to obey the Girl Scout laws."

Missionary Will Address Local Congregation

The people of the community are invited to hear the Rev. Dr. George R. Snyder, a missionary from Ghana, Africa, home on furlough, as he speaks in Incarnation United Church of Christ this Wednesday night, Oct. 3 at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Snyder will tell of his work and also show slides from the mission in Ghana.

The work in Ghana and the Republic of Togo was begun by the Bremen Mission in 1847. As a result of World War I, the mission was orphaned. In the mandated territory of British Togoland, now a part of Ghana, the Scottish Presbyterian Mission jumped into the breach and helped the church to organize. In French Togo, the Paris Missionary Society took over. Recently the latter turned over full responsibility to Eglise Evangelique du Togo.

In June 1945, the Evangelical and Reformed Church through its executive secretary of the Board of International Missions received a call for help from the Ewe (now Evangelical) Presbyterian and Scottish Presbyterian Churches. The Board accepted the challenge and appointed missionaries who arrived in Ghana in December 1946. Since then, the staff has increased to 38. Dr. Snyder and his wife are two of these.

After thirty-two years as missionaries to China, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. George R. Snyder in 1952 joined the missionary staff that works with the Evangelical Presbyterian Church in Ghana. Mr. Snyder became the principal of the Evangelical Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Peki Blengo. His wife taught twelve hours a week in the Seminary and assists with women's work. The Snyders are home in Ohio for a year on furlough.

This service is being sponsored jointly by the Youth Fellowship and the Women's Guild. The offering will be given to the Building Fund of the church, and the members are urged to bring in their "little churches" for the quarterly gathering of funds, as a part of the service.

Everyone is invited to attend this service and hear the message of a man who has lived in a part of the world that is daily in the news.

Mayor J. Allen Bouey announces that effective at midnight, Sunday, Sept. 30, there will be no parking permitted on the north side of East and West Main Streets until the blacktopping is completed.

Educator Says U. S. Must Act Soon On Cuba

Delivering the first lecture in a series for the faculty and students of Visitation Academy, Frederick, Rev. Dr. Joseph F. Thorne, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Carrollton Manor, and associate editor of "World Affairs", declared that "White House and State Department officials must seize the initiative with the next six months or else accept the status of second-rate factors in the life-and-death struggle now taking place on a global scale."

All citizens who believe in freedom and decency can recognize that the Castro brothers, Fidel and Raul, are the Soviet gauleiters of Cuba. U. S. policy toward them and their economic czar, 'Che' Quevara, should be shaped exactly as people would demand it be developed toward local traitors completely subservient to another Adolf Hitler. Castro's Cuba is a missile and rocket base for the ever-expanding Soviet empire. Hitler, Hermann Goering and Paul Joseph Goebbels never dared to move into the Caribbean except with Nazi submarines. Thanks to our own air bases on "The Pearl of the Antilles," the Hitlerite undersea raiders were sunk within sight of the Florida coast. Now it is time to consider any and all measures that can stop the flow of Soviet oil into the Soviet armed camp immediately off our shores.

"In another six months, Chairman Nikita Khrushchev, upon consolidation of his empire in Cuba, will be threatening to unleash the nuclear annihilation upon the White House and State Department unless we agree to internationalize the Panama Canal. The dilemma our policymakers face is clear: either to continue a program of withdrawal, retreat and eventual surrender of vital positions; or to advance upon the Cuban spearhead of Soviet aggression."

"To talk about the difference between 'defensive' and 'offensive' weapons in the current crisis is to forget that threats, backed by armed might, are an essential element in Soviet conquest. The same rockets that act as a shield can pinpoint targets in Florida, the Dominican Republic and Haiti. As long as Castro's Cuba remains a stationary aircraft carrier for Red Fascism, its panoply of arms and its units of the Red Army will add emphasis to Khrushchev's denunciations and demands for more victims."

"On the other hand, recognition of a Cuban government in exile and a courageous decision to halt Soviet tankers on the high seas will prove to all the world that Khrushchev's challenge has been understood and accepted. Sooner or later, the dangers inherent in a program of action, rather than rhetoric, must be faced. The same mentality in the State Department which failed to identify the Castro 'revolution' as a Marxist-Leninist movement is trying to defend our present paralysis of the will in an area where much more delay, hesitation, and pusillanimity can be fatal."

Will Clarify Sewer Bid Situation

Emmitsburg officials said this week they would seek legal advice on the validity of two of seven bids opened here last Thursday night for an interceptor sewer in the south end of the town.

J. Norman Flax, sewer superintendent, said contractors submitting the two lowest bids did not fill out the forms in duplicate part of a specification of the competitive bidding.

Mr. Flax said a decision on the validity of the bids is expected soon.

He said all seven bids ranged from $15,000 to $22,000.

Donkey Baseball Game Saturday

Weather permitting, the on-again-off-again Donkey Baseball game will be played on Community Field Saturday, Sept. 29, starting at 8 p.m.

Weather has caused postponement of the game several times and it is hoped the affair can be concluded this Saturday. Proceeds from the game will be used to defray the cost of operations of the local Babe Ruth Club here this year and any surplus proceeds remaining will be used to help form a "town" team which plans to operate here next year. Additional riders are being sought to man the donkeys for the contest and interested individuals are asked to phone H1 7-5594.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
VISION AND BEAUTY

The condition of your eyes has much to do with your appearance. Uncorrected vision affects the posture, and personality. It also adds unwanted lines to the face and can provide some embarrassment at parties, or club meetings.

When one is forced to squint to read or simply observe an object, strain occurs which leaves a wrinkled brow which could become a permanent part of the face.

Proper rest is an important part of preserving good vision. No one sees well when tired; strain is bound to occur. This applies to driving, reading, typing, working or any function where vision is necessary.

There are some women who will have poor vision no matter how much they rest or how well they care for their eyes. Most women in this category are aware of this condition but refuse to do anything about it because they are unwilling to wear glasses.

In view of the many attractive styles of frames today—plus the fact that contact lenses are almost invisible to the average person, the reluctance to wear some sort of correction is not readily understood.

These women should consult their eye doctors soon. It could be the means of preserving that beauty for years to come.

Sportsmen Building Pond Here

President Eugene Myers presided at the regular monthly meeting of the Indian Lookout Sportsman's Club held Tuesday in the Fire Hall. The president highly commended those members who participated in a work party held recently at the club's grounds west of town. The group prepared an area of about three-quarters of an acre for construction of a pond. The work is progressing daily and anyone interested in assisting is asked to be present at the grounds any suitable evening.

The Sportsmen agreed to sponsor a shooting match and the date of November 18th was selected. Proceeds from the affair will go towards financing construction of the pond. The next regular meeting of the club will be held on Oct. 23 in the Fire Hall.

License Revoked

The State Dept. of Motor Vehicles this week announced the revocation of the driver's license of George Michael Fisher, Rocky Ridge, and Clyde Norman Speak, Thurmont. At the same time the Dept. reported it has reissued a license to Robert Lee Troxell, Sabillasville, Md., and restored licenses to James Leroy Fuss, Thurmont and Ralph Elwood Whipp, Emmitsburg.

If your attention is captured by PRICE ads on new winter tires, We have them, for as little as $12.50, with the established SAFETY of full four-ply cord construction. (NOT TWO PLY RAGS) Not only that, but maintaining our policy of public welfare, We will prove to you that a cheepie is NO BARGAIN. If we or any one else should sell one or more of these so-called bargain tires to you you will be getting LESS for your money. Over a period of years, the retail price of almost everything except chewing gum has steadily gone up, including the big tire manufacturers' labor cost. Therefore is it possible that the retail price of tires can be reduced by one-half and the quality and safety not be impaired? Do we believe there is magic in the making of new tires? Do we believe in fairy tales? Ask to see the written guarantee on the tire you are considering and on the best tire the manufacturer makes. Why so much difference in time? 15 months to 36 months. Why a time limit at all? Do you drive the same amount of miles as your neighbor?

We can give you more for your dollar on a better grade of tire with an unlimited road hazard guarantee. Or bring your present smooth (four ply casings) to us and if they pass inspection we will apply a new tread and guarantee the complete tire against all road hazards with NO TIME OR MILEAGE LIMIT.

100 YEARS AGO

LINCOLN PROCLAMATION: SLAVES WILL BE FREED

By Lon K. Savage

The Civil War had a new cause 100 years ago this week. Almost every newspaper printed an editorial about it. It was on almost every tongue. It was a preliminary Emancipation Proclamation, issued by President Lincoln on September 22. It was a turning point of the war and of American history.

The bloody battle of Antietam had brought the proclamation forth, Lincoln had considered issuing it throughout the summer and, in July, had gone so far as to draft it and read it to his Cabinet. But the matter was shelved then because of Union reverses on the battlefield. The proclamation would appear, the Cabinet feared, as an appeal for Southern slaves to rise against their masters to help a defeated Union army. Wait for a Union victory, the Cabinet advised.

Now, the Union victory had come. Not much of a victory, to be sure, but the murderous September 17th at Sharpsburg had halted Gen. Robert E. Lee's invasion of Maryland and had driven him back into the Southland. That was enough. The proclamation was hauled out again and published.

'Forever Free'

Actually, the proclamation did very little. It announced that on January 1, 1863, another proclamation—the real Emancipation Proclamation—would be issued. At that time, all slaves in those states or parts of states at war against the Union "shall be then, thenceforward and forever free." It did not promise to liberate the slaves in the loyal states of Kentucky, Maryland, Delaware, Missouri and the then-forming state of West Virginia; it proclaimed slaves free, in fact, only in those areas where the United States lacked the power to free the slaves.

Nevertheless, the war was never the same after September 22.

The proclamation stigmatized the Confederacy as the defender of human slavery. It put France and England—then seriously considering the recognition of the Confederacy—on guard, since the recognition would mean that the stigma of slavery would wash off on them, too, and Lincoln hoped, also, that the proclamation would weaken the Confederacy's labor force, consolidate worldwide liberal opinion in his favor, please the Radicals of his own country, and strengthen his war powers.

But if it was greeted happily by some Liberals, it set off a storm of protest elsewhere. The Democratic Party, then campaigning for the fall elections, charged it made the war one for abolition rather than for Union. In Richmond, the capital of the Confederacy, Lincoln was likened to a "coward, assassin, savage, murderer of women and babies." "The West"

But proclamation or not, the war went on—especially in the West. The Federal troops of Gen. Don Carlos Buell poured into Louisville, Ky., that week, and Buell had won his race for Louisville against Confederate Gen. Braxton Bragg. It was not a complete success, however. Bragg, on his trip north, had attacked a Federal garrison at Munfordsville, Ky., and captured it September 17 with 4,000 prisoners. Buell, coming up from Tennessee, had overtaken Bragg then, and it appeared as if the two armies might fight. Bragg finally pulled aside, however, and Buell shot up to Louisville.

Two days after the Munfordsville surrender, Gen. Ulysses S. Grant attacked Confederate Gen. Sterling Price at Iuka in northern Mississippi. Only two of Grant's divisions managed to get into the fray, and they were repelled. That night, Price escaped from the surrounding Federal forces and moved south. The battle cost about 1,500 casualties among both armies.

Next week: Corinth.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

By William Kitay

Editor, All About Babies
Mumps And Whooping Cough
Every parent should have an intelligent idea about the communicable diseases of childhood.

Knowing how to recognize these diseases and what to expect from them, will permit you to comfort and protect your child and to protect others too. Whether the illness is mild or severe, you should seek the prompt advice of your family doctor. Common though, the communicable diseases are, they are not subjects for home remedies.

In our last column, we discussed two of the more common communicable diseases, measles and chickenpox. In this column, we'll give you the basic facts about two others, mumps and whooping cough.

Mumps

Moderately contagious. Caused by a virus present in the discharges from the mouth and nose. It's spread by direct and indirect contact. The incubation period, the period from the date of exposure to the first symptoms, is from 12 to 26 days. The disease begins with a slight fever, a general ill feeling and swelling or tenderness of the glands under the jaw. Tenderness in these glands will last for several days and the swelling may last for seven to 10 days. Pain may develop and it will be aggravated by swallowing, chewing or just opening the mouth.

The contagious period is one or two days before the first symptoms appear. Mumps is generally mild when it occurs in childhood. There is no specific treatment for it. A vaccine now being tested provides only temporary immunity of from three to 12 months.

Whooping Cough

Caused by a bacteria present in discharges from the mouth and nose. It is spread by direct and indirect contact. The incubation period is from seven to 10 days. The onset usually is very gradual, beginning with a mild cold accompanied by sneezing, nasal discharge, slight fever and a slightly irritating cough. Within two weeks, the cough becomes heavy, coming in repeated spasmodic outbursts which end in a whoop.

The contagious period is from one week after exposure to about three weeks after the onset of coughing. The coughing stage lasts from two to six weeks with the entire illness lasting from two to three months. Whooping cough is most common in children under five and can be serious in infants. There's a vaccine which when given during baby's first year will protect him from the disease and decrease its severity should he get it. Periodic booster shots are available.

pointing your own executor. Under some circumstances, your executor can give your beneficiaries securities or property at a fair value instead of cash.

Your own executor, also, can use discretionary powers that a court appointee would not possess. He can, for example, decide what property to sell, and follow out the directions in your will as to the disposition of certain articles of clothing, furniture, etc. to definite friends or relatives. He can do the things that you want done in the way that you would do them yourself, without litigation fears. Your estate may be saved thousands of dollars because your executor can be given time through your will to use his best judgment and consult with other people, and thus avoid liquidating your assets hurriedly or during a time of depression.

Wills Permit Special Provisions

Only through a will can you arrange to leave money in trust so that the bereaved can have the full income for life and then have the principal go to the children or other chosen people. You can, if you wish, distribute your property in unequal amounts among your heirs where the need of some may be greater than that of others. It should be clearly recognized, too, that it could take two years or more for a court-appointed executor to settle your affairs, and your heirs might have little or nothing to live on during this period. An executor can be authorized in your will to disburse a certain amount each month to your wife, for instance, pending final settlement. This can be increased if there is illness or unexpected trouble. Changes in your will can be made by you at any time by adding proper codicils which your lawyer will advise you on.

Most people have favorite churches and charities that they intend to remember, but these organizations will receive nothing unless there is a will. Every man and woman should leave something to his or her church, especially since religion is still the only hope for our unsettled and disturbed world. Practically everything of value that we have — democracy, schools, hospitals, personal freedom — we owe to the work of the church. So don't forget your church in your will.

Reputable Lawyer Important

I urge you not to try to make your own will to save a few dollars. Find a reputable lawyer, give him a complete list of the gifts you want to make, and designate whom you want for an executor. Any good lawyer (he should be a resident of your state) will be able to put your wishes into clear legal shape. He will tell you to have the will signed by three witnesses who watch you affix your signature; preferably witnesses should not include those mentioned in the document. He will explain any technicalities to you, particularly as to the laws in your state.

It is a good idea to have at least three carbon copies of your will so that your suggested executor can familiarize himself with your intentions. One can be put in your safe-deposit box for your own personal reference, and one can remain with your lawyer. The original should be left with your bank and a receipt therefor obtained. Even if you have not very much money at this time, you should make a will. It will turn out to be a fine investment for you.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Easy-Carry Mattress

Get two (or three if you're a long one) grain or feed bags and sew opened ends together. Roll into tight wad and stow in pack. At campsites unroll and stuff with grass, leaves, pine boughs, whatever is available. When you break camp, unstuff, reroll. Makes nice sleeping over a ground cloth to keep you warm and dry.

Rod Holder

Old time fly rodder's tip to hold rod in place when changing fly or bait is to jam it into boot or wader. Leaves both hands free. And while we're trout fishing, ferns may be more romantic, but plastic bags are a lot neater, to keep creel and fish fresh.

Catfish Chum

Oh, this does draw the big cats. Fill a woman's nylon stocking with a pound and a half of powdered blood... and a sash weight. Toss in your favorite catfish hole. Fish with chicken blood baits as the other blood slowly filters thru the mesh of the stocking. Draws 'em like a magnet.

Hickory Chips Barbecue

There are at least two good tips to make hickory chips slower burning, longer smoking (sounds like a cigarette commercial) and give off more of their flavorful smoke. First is to soak them good before you drop on coals. The other way is to put them on the grill (next to meat) instead of on fire.

Boot Lace Material

Rawhide is the time-honored boot lace material, but a new one works equally well. Here it is: lamp cord, plain old plastic lamp cord pulled part to make single strands. It lasts forever, won't break, is impervious to water, knots tight but unties easy.

Cool Guns

This one makes up in being timely what it lacks in being new. Don't forget if you put a cold gun away, the change to room temperature will cause moisture condensation. Left unattended this can cause nasty rust. The safe way: let gun warm up, then dry oil lightly and put away safely.

Fire Starter

Some day there will be no more tips on how to start a fire and the world will end. For the present, however, both go mercily on. This one encourages cooperation with a gas station buddy. Have him save changed oil filters.

After draining, have him stow in boxes new filters came out of. Now, next time you have a heavy firing job to do, put these babies into action. Burn like crazy with tremendous long-lasting heat.

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Wills

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 27—It is the personal duty of every adult man and woman to make a will. Most people realize this basically, and yet I am constantly surprised by the number of intelligent folk who "just don't get around to it."

Nobody like to think about death, and still one cannot look at the daily newspapers without realizing how many reach an untimely end through automobile smashups and other hazards of civilization. You may live to a very old ripe age, but you might die tomorrow. Let me tell you why I think it is all-important to protect your estate by a will, whatever your age.

Select Your Own Executor

A will gives you the opportunity of choosing in advance a friendly executor rather than having some judge appoint an acquaintance of his with whom you might not be satisfied. If you die intestate and the court has to disburse your estate, it can run up a lot of costs, including the necessity for a bond. Most of these costs can be avoided by making your will and ap-

You do not get what you want, because you do not pray for it. Or, if you do, your requests are not granted because you pray from wrong motives, to spend what you get on your pleasures. James 4:2-3. (Neb.)

We are all subject to temptations which surround us constantly. Yet no matter how many nor how grave the temptations may be, it has been proved that through prayer we can overcome them. When Jesus says it is necessary to pray at all times and not to faint, He shows us that our need is constant and urgent.

But in order that our prayers may be effective, it is necessary that we examine ourselves to see if we are meeting the necessary conditions for our petitions to reach the throne of grace. Some of these conditions are humility in God's presence, faith in Him, purity of motive, acceptance of His will.

When we pray to God as near right as we know how, He is answering us with His blessing at the very moment we are praying. Prayer

Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy loving care toward us. We praise Thy name for victory over sin through Jesus Christ Thy Son. Help us to remain in communion with Thee, always watching in prayer. In the name of Christ we ask these things. Amen.

Maryland Banks Big Farm Lenders

Maryland banks were serving farmers with more credit and other financial services than any group of lenders at the beginning of this year, according to A. LeRoy Nichols, president, Maryland Bankers Association, and president of the Nicodemus National Bank, Hagerstown. During 1961 the state's banks maintained their leadership in agricultural credit services.

Based on the 21st annual farm lending summary of the agricultural committee of the American

Bankers Association, Mr. Nichols reported that at the beginning of the year, Maryland banks were helping farmers with $57 million in loans, 7 per cent more than a year previous. This total included $25 million in production loans and $31 million in farm mortgages. At the same time, $8 million in farm loans were held by life insurance companies; $14 million by the Federal Land Banks; $15 million by Production Credit Associations; and $3 million in non-real estate loans plus $4 million in real estate loans by the Farmers Home Administration. About 58 per cent of the production credit extended by lending institutions to Maryland farmers came from banks. Mr. Nichols said that "bankers in Maryland, as well as throughout the country, are taking a realistic look at agriculture, appraising it from the standpoint of its total contribution to the economy. Through the years the agricultural industry, as a part of the total economy, has remained relatively stable, with the 'off-the-farm' portion becoming increasingly significant. Bankers, therefore, are broadening their services and are also developing and promoting programs that consider the interwoven relationships between farmers and related businesses. "Capital has become one of the main pillars in agriculture, with the total investment increasing nearly six-fold during the past 20 years. Today farm families nationally have approximately $195 billion invested in their operations, with an average per farm worker of nearly $30,000—greater than the amount used in manufacturing."

Mr. Nichols stressed the importance of farmers and bankers working closely together to improve farm income.

He reported that 92 per cent of insured banks throughout the country had agricultural loans outstanding at the first of the year, with 92 per cent of the banks in Maryland extending credit to farm people.

If you find the weather hot, cheer up; it's less than four months until Christmas.

Is there anybody in the audience who knows about Dog Days?

Two completely new hardtops and three new station wagons have been added to Ford's Fairlane series for 1963. This Fairlane 500 sports coupe with its Thunderbird styled roofline, features a full-length console separating luxury-styled bucket seats, and a color-keyed interior.

Engineering advancements and modern production techniques have eliminated the need for a 1,000-mile inspection, and increased major chassis lubrication intervals to 36,000 miles, with minor lubrication intervals of 6,000 miles. These are only two of the many service-saving items designed into all Ford Division cars except club wagons and buses for 1963.

Fairlane hardtops, station wagons, and sporty sedans will go on display in dealer showrooms on Friday, September 28.

Newspaper Hall Of Fame Dedicated

GATHLAND, Md.—High on a leafy ridge overlooking the once-bloody battlefields of Antietam, a group of newsmen gathered last week in these Western Maryland foothills to hear the cause of the free press rededicated and to witness the unveiling of plans for a panoramic building that will house The National Newspaper Hall of Fame.

When Maryland's Governor J. Millard Tawes drew back the drape revealing the artists' concept of the structure the assemblage saw a stylized reproduction of the world rising majestically from the modern cantilevered roof of a low circular building. This globe—floating some 35 feet above the tree-tops—was seemingly airborne with its open construction of mesh aluminum webbing. The map, in vari-colored plastic units was of translucent quality to allow inner illumination of those countries with a free press. Conversely, the map sections representing nations where the press is controlled are opaque.

E. Ralph Hostetter, president of the Maryland-Delaware Press Association, described the building at the base of the globe as containing murals depicting the evolution of the journalistic profession. Electronic tapes will be synchronized with a series of speakers so the visitor to the Hall will be accompanied around the building by narration and dramatization. Plaques inscribing the names of selected journalists will be placed in free form around the grounds of the park which contains an amphitheatre, the famed War Correspondent's Arch, a Civil War museum, and camping and picnic areas adjacent to the Appalachian Trail.

"The structural form of this Hall of Fame is intentionally bold and strikingly imaginative," Hostetter noted. "It will make a fitting place to honor America's great journalists and at the same time will create a symbolic setting in which to dramatize to the public the importance of a free press. The universality represented by the design is a reminder of the journalist's responsibility to all the peoples of the world. The globe was chosen because truth is universal and because man's desire for freedom knows no geographic limitation. Here in America the press stands guard over the rights of the individual. We hope this monumental globe with its dramatically darkened areas will cause Americans to reassess their own contribution toward the cause of freedom for all men."

A national commission will be appointed by Governor Tawes to set up operating procedure for the selection of the journalists to be honored in the Hall of Fame. The Maryland-Delaware Press Association will serve as liaison between the State and the commission.

Among the official representatives of various national press groups seated on the speakers' platform were R. K. T. Larson, Norfolk (Va.) Virginian-Pilot, representing Sigma Delta Chi; Cranston Williams, former executive director of The American Newspaper Publishers Association, representing that group; Mrs. Lee G.

Hadin, president of the National Chapter of Theta Sigma Phi; Mrs. Elsie White Haines, representing the American Newspaper Women's Club; Vice President Max Thomas, Kerrville (Tex.) Times, and Theodore Serrill, Executive Vice President, of The National Editorial Association; Newbold Noyes, Jr., executive editor of the Washington (D.C.) Star, representing the American Society of Newspaper Editors; and John P. Cosgrove of Broadcasting Publications representing The National Press Club.

Oliver Gramling, Assistant General Manager of The Associated Press, accepted the gift from the State of Maryland on behalf of the journalism profession.

Neil H. Swanson, historian, newsman and novelist, prefaced the unveiling of the new plans by rededicating the War Correspondent's Arch, located a few yards from the site of the planned structure. This Arch, erected in 1896 by George Alfred Townsend, reporter on the old New York Herald, stands in memory of America's early war correspondents.

In dedicating the Hall of Fame, Governor Tawes emphasized the need for public awareness of the vital role the free press takes in protecting the democratic form of government. He noted that Maryland was the logical state to so honor the profession. "In the first session of the Maryland legislature in 1777," he declared, "the General Assembly passed a resolution affirming that the press in the Free State should not be subject to interference or censorship because of political opinion. This was ten years before the Federal Government issued the same guarantee. Today on this Maryland mountaintop we are unveiling plans for a great and significant memorial that will stand far beyond our years as visible evidence of these priceless principles."

George Rash, Hagerstown (Md.) Herald-Mail, served as toastmaster for the occasion. Assisting Ray on the program committee were George B. Delaplaine, Jr., Frederick (Md.) News-Post; M. Jackson, Jr., Annapolis, (Md.) Evening Capital. Other speakers included Judge Edward S. Delaplaine and Franklin D. Schurz, Jr.

Caution Urged While Hunting

The fall hunting season is here again and millions of Americans of all ages and both sexes are taking to the woods and fields, gun in hand, bent on bringing back a loaded game bag.

Firearms, from a single-shot .22 calibre rifle to a heavy big game weapon to a fast-shooting automatic scattergun, are designed to kill birds and animals. They also can kill or wound humans.

Each fall several hundred hunters don't return alive and thousands of others return with a load of bird shot or a rifle bullet to be dug out. Behind almost every hunting accident is one cause: carelessness.

Before you pull the trigger, know what you're firing at, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association. The hunter who blazes away at everything that moves runs a big risk of bagging a fellow hunter.

Never cross over or through a fence or climb a tree with a loaded gun. It might fall and discharge. Unload first and reload after crossing. Don't shoot at a hard, flat surface. Ricocheting bullets can carry long distances with killing power.

Keep guns away from children. Never leave a weapon unattended without unloading it. Store guns and ammunition beyond the reach of youngsters, preferably under lock and key.

Always carry a gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle even if you stumble. Keep the safety catch on until ready to shoot. Always be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions. A barrel clogged with mud or snow may burst.

Guns and alcohol don't mix at all. If you like a nip around camp, wait until you're through hunting for the day and all weapons are unloaded and in cases.

Treat guns with respect at all times. They may be loaded, despite all precautions. Thus never point a weapon at something unless you plan to shoot it.

'63 CHEVROLET IMPALA SPORT SEDAN

NOW-GO JET-SMOOTH CHEVROLET for '63

If it didn't say Chevrolet on the flanks of the superb automobile you see here, you'd have a hard time proving it's a low-priced car. It offers luxurious styling, extremely comfortable, spacious and silent interiors... plus a lot of invisible ways to keep it looking and running like new when a lot of others have started to sag and sigh: new flush and dry rocker panels under the doors to guard against rusting... self-adjusting brakes... Delcotron generator for longer battery life. If you ever wondered why Chevrolet leads its field, a drive in this '63 should answer all your questions.

GO CHEVY II for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CHEVY II NOVA SPORT COUPE

GO CORVAIR for '63-IT'S EXCITING!

'63 CORVAIR MONZA CONVERTIBLE

Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines all the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that'd do justice to cars with twice its price and half its charm.

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a more fully aluminized muffler; interiors and outside trim are refined a bit, but the rest is pure Corvair with all the over-the-road goodness that implies. Oh yes, we changed the taillights so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

Young Farmers Hold Meeting

The September meeting of the Gettysburg Young Farmers' Assn. was held in the form of a tour to three members' farms Tuesday evening.

The tour started at the farm of Tom Redding and then moved to Leo Woerner's farm and then to the farm of Milton Hoffman. The group viewed the different styles of farming and machinery.

President Lynedale Brondson presided at the business meeting. The treasurer's report was given. Farm-City Day chairman Paul Waybright reported and thanked all concerned. It was decided to send the president and vice president as delegates to the Young Farmers State Convention to be held Nov. 28 at State College, Pa. The next meeting will be held October 30. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

The first commissioner of Internal Revenue, George S. Boutwell, was a former Governor of Massachusetts.

New Testament Series To Be Televised

The CBS outlet in Baltimore, WMAR-TV, will start a 13-week series of half-hour telecasts on the New Testament, Saturday, October 6 from 8:00 to 8:30 a. m., with Prof. Edward Bauman, noted religious educator and professor of religion and philosophy at American U., as instructor.

This is an accredited college course, carrying two credits per semester through American U. It also can be taken on a non-credit or certificate basis. The course is presented in cooperation with the Maryland Council of Churches, Rev. Donzel C. Wildey, executive director.

Non-sectarian in its approach, the series is a survey of the New Testament literature with emphasis on the historical background, literary problems and religious value of each book. It begins with the life and letters and Paul, includes a consideration of the Gospels and concludes with a study of the other writings of the New Testament.

Textbook is "An Introduction to the New Testament" by Edward Bauman. A study guide will be mailed to each registrant. Any version of the New Testament is used as a Bible.

The second semester, also 13 weeks long, begins Feb. 2 and ends May 4, '63. It begins with Jesus in the Synoptic Gospels and concludes with the Gospel of Thomas. Brochure and registration form may be obtained by writing or phoning Baltimore Bible Telecenter, 309 Cathedral St., Baltimore 1, Md. Deadline for registering in the fall term is Nov. 3.

Man About Baltimore

By H. George Hahn

Governor Tawes exploded a bomb shell among State Democratic politicians last week when he declared slot machines in Southern Maryland to be a state issue.

In one of the major political statements of his administration, Tawes called for the elimination of the gambling devices that have dominated political and economical life in four Southern Maryland counties. The slot machine issue had heretofore been the most untouchable in state politics.

Tawes acted only after a conference with David Hume, defeated Democratic gubernatorial candidate in the primary. Hume has long opposed the slot machine, making it a major issue in his campaign. And Hume gathered 119,000 votes, a considerable number for a new-comer. But is the issue worth the possible sabotage of the chances of local Democrats in Southern Maryland in return for an alliance with the Hume faction?

A relatively large chunk of revenue is had from the income of the slots in the four counties. Now Tawes has the 119,000 votes of Hume. But has he the votes of Democratic Southern Maryland, especially since Frank Small, Republican nominee for governor has remained mute on the issue?

Another bombshell was thrown, this time among Baltimore Colt season-ticket holders. A missing ticket manager of the football club has been charged with interstate transportation of stolen property. The clerk sold pre-paid tickets over the counter. The club announced that the tickets and cash lost may exceed $100,000 in value.

From the time the loss was announced until early Sunday morning, day of the opening game, the Colt ticket office and Memorial Stadium was flooded with shocked and unseated ticketholders. Colt president Carroll Rosenbloom sought to appease the throng by passing out coffee and sandwiches while confused officials attempted to iron out the mess, and be-labored park employees hastily constructed about two thousand temporary stands.

The missing ticket official was traced to Mexico. Jai alai anyone?

Scouts Plan Social Activities

Dr. Charles E. Broadup, chairman of the Francis Scott Key District, Boy Scouts of America, has announced that a number of important scout activities are planned for the fall program of events.

The Annual Recognition Dinner will be held on Monday, October 15, 6:30 p.m., at the West Frederick Junior High School. At this annual event various awards and recognitions are made to Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer Leaders for special accomplishments during the past year. A special feature of the evening will be the recognition of scouts who have made Eagle Scout since Scout Week, 1961, at which time the Rotary Club of Frederick entertained all Scouts who attained Eagle rank during the previous years. The ladies are cordially invited to enjoy this meeting with their husbands.

On October 19, 20 and 21, the annual Fall Camporee with the theme "Physical Fitness," will be held at Breezy Grove. A special camporee "patch" has been designed by Henry B. Wilson, Scoutmaster, Troop 1054, Frederick. The committee on arrangements is comprised of the following Scouters: F. Russell Young, chairman of camping; James O. McCann, chairman of health and safety; Grayson B. Haller Jr., activities committee; Roger W. Cann, District Scout Executive; Gerald F. Logan, Scoutmaster, Troop 274; Dr. Harold A. Newfeld, Scoutmaster, Troop 799; and Charles F. Trunk III, Asst. Scoutmaster, Troop 276.

The annual "Good Turn Day" will take place on Saturday, November 17, and is carried on throughout the Districts of the National Capital Area Council. More than 700 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Explorer Posts will distribute more than 90,000 Scout Drive Bags among friends and neighbors. The climax of this Scout Good Turn will come on Saturday morning, November 17, when the bags, containing usable clothing, shoes, household textiles and other usable items no longer needed, will be collected by the scouts. The bags will be taken to the nearest fire station, where trucks will pick them up and transport them to Goodwill Industries for processing. Once the articles are repaired, they will be resold in Goodwill stores. Income from sales pays wages for the handicapped and other costs. This Good Turn has been called "one of the most worthwhile service projects of the National Capital Area Council."

The annual winter swim meet of the District will be held on Saturday morning, December 22, at the Hood College pool, at a time when the students are on Christmas vacation.

The Francis Scott Key District is a member agency of the Community Chest of Frederick County. A number of scout leaders are serving in key capacities in the current United Appeal Campaign.

The September meeting of the Silver Fancy Garden Club was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. A. A. Koswick, R2, Gettysburg, with 13 members present. Mrs. Andrew Eyster, president of the club, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson, who recently returned from Alaska and the West Coast, gave an interesting talk and demonstration on dried materials which she brought home with her. Mrs. Simon Klosky gave a 5-minute talk on the planting of geraniums from cutting and potting old ones for the winter which was most interesting and informative. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Clingan, Taneytown.

TOBEY'S OF GETTYSBURG

A new addition to the Falcon line for 1963 is this four-door Futura sedan, which sports a deluxe interior and exterior. Shown to good advantage in this picture is the new Thunderbird-type roof that is standard on all Falcon sedans for 1963. The new roof, and all-around styling refinements, give the Ford compact a lower, speedier look. Exterior ornamentation below the roofline matches that of other Futura models (convertibles and two-door sedans) in all respects—bright-metal moldings, unique wheel covers, and distinctive Futura identification.

Kick-Punt Contest
Sponsored Locally

Emmitsburg area grade school boys from seven through 11 can pit their football skills against thousands of other boys throughout the nation in the second annual Punt, Pass & Kick competition which will culminate with a White House reception and an appearance at the National Football League Championship game for the top ten winners.

Sponsored nationally by the Ford Division of Ford Motor Company and the National Football League, the Punt, Pass & Kick Program—or PP & K—will be staged in Emmitsburg by Sperry's Garage, with the Greater Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce as local co-sponsor.

Emmitsburg youths will be tested for their ability to punt, pass and kick (using a kicking tee) footballs on the same day as thousands of other boys all over the country, with warm-up jackets, football helmets and autographed footballs to be given as first, second and third prizes for each age group or five top Emmitsburg winners in all. Scores throughout the state then will be compared to determine the five to Maryland winners, and these scores compared to determine the most skillful seven, eight, nine, ten, and eleven year old fledgling football stars in each of the areas covered by the telecasts of the 14 National Football League Teams.

Area winners and their fathers will receive all-expense paid trips to a National Football League game in their area, and will compete during half-time to determine the five top Eastern Division winners and five top Western Division winners. These ten boys will visit Washington and the White House, accompanied by their parents, and then will go to the site of the NFL Championship game, for half-time competition to determine the five National winners.

John S. Hollinger, Sales Manager of Sperry's Garage, pointed out that there is no body contact necessary in the competition, no charge for entering, and no special equipment needed. "Registration will be open throughout October," he said, "with Sperry's Garage as the registration headquarters."

"Last year, the first year of the PP & K program, more than 200,000 boys entered the competition," he said, "and President Kennedy said 'Programs of this type will enable our youth to build the energy and strength that is their American heritage.'"

Mr. Hollinger said entrants will be judged on the distance and accuracy of their punting, passing and kicking (using a kicking tee), with points awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly and subtracted for each foot the ball lands to the right or left of a center line. The competition in Emmitsburg will be held at Community Field on a date to be announced later.

Any ties in the local competition will be played off on the day of competition, and ties for top spot in the state and area standings will be played off at special contests. State winners will receive trophies, and area winners will receive complete junior-type football uniforms of the NFL team in their region, and the uniforms worn when the winners compete during NFL half-time ceremonies to determine the Divisional champions.

Snowball Dance

Snowball time is here again with December only two months away. The annual ball sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Frederick Memorial Hospital is traditionally the first large social event of the Christmas season in this county.

This year will mark the 11th of the Snowball and Mrs. Forrest White has been named general chairman with Mrs. Stephen D. Duk as general co-chairman.

Many of the committees already are hard at work to make the Snowball the best ever. As in years past, the decorations will be kept secret until the night of the ball. This year Alan Long Jr. will be the designer with the responsibility of changing the Hood College gym into a picture book setting.

In the last 10 years the auxiliary has donated over $100,000 to the hospital through the funds raised at the Snowball. This year's receipts will go toward payment of the $50,000 pledge to the building fund.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones of Emmitsburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Holly Marie, to Robert Philip Liller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Liller, of Taneytown.

No date has been set for the wedding.

According to W. S. King, Manager of the Hagerstown Social Security Office, many household workers in this area are losing out on insurance rights that could amount to many thousands of dollars according to the estimates of the Social Security Administration. Nine out of ten who work for a living are now protected under the retirement, survivor and disability provisions of the social security law. These workers include household workers such as maids, laundresses, baby sitters, etc., who perform household work in or about a private home. However, Government records indicate that many who work in jobs of these types are losing credits they need to qualify for these benefits because proper tax returns are not being filed.

If you work in household employment, be sure you do not lose your rights to future social security benefits. Cash wages of $50 or more paid to you in any three-month period ending March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 by one employer must be reported for social security purposes. If you are paid as little as $4 in every week of a calendar quarter by one employer, your wages would be covered under the law.

The social security tax of 6 1/2 per cent must be paid on these wages; 3 1/8 percent to be paid by the employee, and the other 3 1/8 percent to be paid by the employer. Wages must be reported by the employer to the Internal Revenue Service under the name and number as shown on the worker's social security card.

The reporting of these wages and the payment of the social security tax is not a matter of choice, but is a legal requirement. The employer is directly responsible for reporting the wages of the household employee and the payment of the social security tax. The employer who fails to meet this responsibility is liable for any delinquent taxes in addition to any penalty for failure to report on time.

Your local social security office is located at 59 North Cannon Avenue, Hagerstown, or your Internal Revenue office will furnish the necessary information for reporting a household worker for social security purposes. Leaflet OASI-21, "Social Security and Your Household Employee," which explains how to get the forms to make the required report, is also available at your local social security office.

SPORTS
AFIELD
By Ted Kestine

One way to better your shooting ability is to practice at clay birds on the trap or skeet field. This reminder comes from Pete Brown, Arms Editor, Sports Afield Magazine. It is great sport, excellent wing shooting practice and much fun. But these sports are a bit expensive for the average shooter. In areas such as Kansas City, there is enough trap-shooting interest to support a few fields run on a commercial basis, but this is the exception rather than the rule, and it is far from a nationwide business venture.

The spectacular rise of bowling as a popular sport stands as an inviting example to the few who visualize doing the same thing with the target-shooting sports. Only a very few have had the courage to put their money where their imagination is, and seriously try to set up a nation-wide commercial target-shooting program.

Arthur Cook of Waukegan, Illinois, is one example of these enterprising people. His Shoot-O-Rama program is for rifle and pistol competition, and is making good progress. That is real shooting promotion. Auto-Trap-Shoot, Inc., of Champaign, Illinois, is another live outfit that can do wonders for the shooting sports. The men behind that venture base their entire program on a standardized type of indoor trap range, miniature clay pigeons and long rifle shot cartridges.

There are a few Auto-Trap-Shoot ranges already in existence. There is a six-trap range in Tulsa, Oklahoma; a two-trap installation at Pacific Ocean Park, California; a three-trap range in Rochester, New York. A ten-trap range is being planned in California, a four-trap range in Denver, and others elsewhere.

Perhaps some people will be concerned about safety on the range but how can any sport be made any safer than on this type of range. No one need ever get ahead of the firing line; in fact, they would have some difficulty doing so. Guns are chained at the forearm, but loosely enough to prevent restriction of target shooting. This makes it impossible for the shooter to swing the gun so as to discharge it inadvertently behind the firing line.

A good shot on one of these ranges can average far better than the best bird shots, but it takes some practice. For those who go afield during the bird season, this kind of shooting should greatly improve their performance.

Farm Bureau Opposed
To Government
Regimentation

"A historic step to further regiment and control the American farmer was taken by the House of Representatives in approval of a compromise farm bill," stated Noah E. Kefauver, President, Maryland Farm Bureau, after the final vote on Thursday, Sept. 20.

Kefauver expressed concern over the fact that a small majority of the House, in a vote of 202 to 197, ignored the expressed wishes of farmers on the farm bill.

"We commend Congressmen Brewster and Mathias for their support of Maryland farmers by their opposition to this control measure," noted Kefauver.

This legislation, which now goes to the Senate for action, would modify and extend for a year the present wheat and feed grain programs, but would establish new ones with more flexible price supports in 1964.

"For 1964 the bill," according to Kefauver, "Calls for a complicated costly system of two prices for wheat, and the Agriculture Department would be given discretion to fix supports on corn and feed grains at 50% to 90% of parity."

"Both provisions are dangerous," said Kefauver. "The wheat plan would raise export and consumer costs, as well as, dump wheat on the domestic feed market to the detriment of all animal and feed grain producers. If support levels are left largely to the discretion of any Secretary of Agriculture, the results could be that farmers are 'whipped' into a particular program because they have no realistic alternative."

Farm Bureau, Mr. Keauver pointed out, favors termination of wheat allotments and marketing quotas. Farm Bureau also favors relating the support price for wheat to the support price of corn with adjustments for difference in weight, nutritive value, buyer preference, and supply and demand conditions; and with premiums for milling and baking quality.

Coach Deegan Has
Bright Prospects
For Season

Cross country predictions are hazardous at best since it is relatively easy to build a championship team in a year by picking up three top men who can head the parade across the finish line, garnering the necessary points to take a given meet.

Coach Jim Deegan expects this year's Mt. St. Mary's squad to be better than the flashy 1962 team which lost only to American U. in eight engagements. Deegan will have five top performers and perhaps seven to face a tough schedule which includes a triangular meet with Georgetown and American U.

With the entire squad returning, Deegan's hill-and-dalers are hopefully eyeing not only the dual meet schedule, but the Loyola Invitational meet and the conference championships, where last season they took third and second spots respectively. He hopes to improve on both marks this year.

Mary's, L. I.; John Clarke, a sophomore from St. Augustine's, L. I.; Mike Landis, a junior from Milburn High, N. J.; and Pete Sartori, James Madison High, Vienna, Va., shape up as the top speedsters at this point.

The Mountaineers open with tough Roanoke at home on September 29; face Towson, at home, Oct. 2; Georgetown and A. U. at home on the 13th; Washington, away on the 17th; Randolph-Macon and Gallaudet on the 27th and Loyola away, on November 6.

Indications are that Bridgewater and Old Dominion College, newest Mason-Dixon member, will provide the conference's toughest competition.

Girl Scout Troop 91 Meets

The weekly meeting of Troop 91 of the Girl Scouts, was held Sept. 20 at 4 p.m. at St. Euphemia's Hall. Officers were elected and are as follows: President, Julie Eckenrode; vice president, Betty Tokar; secretary, Gloria Orndorff; asst. secretary, Dale Elder; treasurer, Carolyn Wierman; asst. treasurer, Ann Marshall; historian, Judy Seidel; reporter, Joyce Shields; asst. reporter, Carolyn Frock. The Junior High School girls of Troop 91 gave a first aid demonstration to get the First Aid Badge. Mrs. Ralph Keilholz taught the girls in first aid. The Brownie fly-up will be held at 7:30 Monday, Oct. 1, at St. Euphemia's Hall. The public is invited. Two senior girls from Frederick who attended the Round Up this summer will tell about it and show pictures.

Tom Eichelberger

Addresses Lions Club

President D. L. Beegle presided at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening in the Lutheran Parish Hall, 20 members in attendance. Two guests were present at the meeting. They were Thomas M. Eichelberger and Paul Dudash.

Mr. Eichelberger, Register of Wills for Frederick County, gave a short talk on the duties of his office and the services it provided for the citizens of this county. Dr. Beegle, chairman of the sight conservation committee, reported that the club had purchased a pair of eyeglasses for a Rocky Ridge youth and read a letter of appreciation.

Named Delegate

Mrs. Hazel Caldwell will represent the Elias Ev. Lutheran Church at the consoling convention of Maryland Lutheran Church Women to be held in Baltimore on Oct. 3 at the Second English Lutheran Church.

Shown above is the Falcon Squire station wagon for 1963, one of Ford's five models of compact wagons. The Falcon Squire, a four-door, six-passenger station wagon, is a deluxe model with all the basic advantages of Falcon economy and maneuverability. This view shows off some of the all-around styling refinements incorporated into the Falcon line of sedans and wagons for 1963. A new grille carries out the forward-thrusting, "blunted-spear" effect evident in the front-end profile. The simulated hood air-scoop is retained, and block "FORD" letters are placed on the leading edge of the hood.

Low-slung and spirited, Ford's all-new compact Falcon Futura convertible (below) leads off Detroit's 1963 parade of new car models. Designed with a sports car flair, the car offers luxury car interior appointments, an electrically operated power top and a complete range of performance options. Wire wheel covers, bucket seats and a floor mounted, 4-speed transmission are a few of the many options available.

These two models, along with Falcon's full line of 17 models, will be introduced in dealer showrooms Friday, September 28.
