Tomorrow night is the effective date of the newly-adopted curfew ordinance to be imposed by the town officials on the youth of the community. Beginning then no youths under 18 years of age will be permitted to wander in the streets without written permission from their parents or guardians. This curfew was adopted and is being put into effect to disband roving bands of youths who are apparently immune from the law. There are some individuals who have been paroled several times by juvenile authorities but still are permitted to maraud at large. Several times they have been placed in the hands of authorities in Frederick who only turn them loose the very next day. Parole on parole is the story and a very disturbing one it is to both the police here and local citizens. This situation brings to light that a revision of our delinquency laws is badly needed or the replacement of certain personnel involved is paramount to the interest and welfare of the general public. The situation definitely needs looking into and let the chips fall where they may.

There are some who oppose the curfew and perhaps they have a perfect right to do so. Some maintain it is bad for business and creates a demoralizing effect on those good youths of excellent moral character. This might be true but under circumstances the good must suffer with the bad. I am sure that when the juvenile crime wave has abated and roving bands of troublesome youngsters have been dispersed authorities will be more lenient and will perhaps lift the curfew so that all good youths can have their liberty once again. I'm afraid though that in the meantime they'll have to bear along with the law.

The curfew undoubtedly will put a damper on Halloween activity here. With the streets clear of the youths it'll give police a better chance to apprehend the adults who are mainly responsible for the real damage done here during the Halloween observance. It has long been known that most damage occurring here has been traced to individuals over 21 years of age.

Watch those crosswalk lines folks. This warning is issued by the Town Council as a measure to protect the life and limbs of our pedestrians. The crosswalk lines I have reference to are those at the four corners of the Square. Quite a number of unwary out-of-town motorists overshoot the lines and even a few daring local drivers have the habit of doing this trick. Remember when you have to stop for the light make certain you are back of those crosswalk lines or you'll be sporting a brand new traffic ticket, regardless of who you are or think you may be. The Police Dept. has orders to see that motorists obey this traffic rule here and starting today you'll be watched. Stopping back of the line not only protects pedestrians but affords an opportunity to those parked on the Square to back out safely and proceed on their way.

K of C Banquet Saturday Night

Speckard, Associate District Lay Leader, gave a talk on the responsibilities of laymen in the church, pointing out that Mr. Grimes has been a fine example of an outstanding layman. Kaliss, committee chairman, announced that this year two deserving seniors from Connecticut have been granted an award of $100 dollars each to aid in deferring tuition costs. Seniors selected are: Philip J. Murphy, Middlebury, and Walter J. Robinson, Jr., Darien.

Quinn, Norwalk, chaplain, participated in the presentation of the award.

Mount Medal Awarded Bishop Walsh

The Most Rev. James E. Walsh, D.D., has been named as the recipient of the second DuBois Medal by the National Alumni Assn. of Mt. St. Mary's College. The medal, named for the founder of the college which is the oldest Catholic institution under the direction of diocesan priests, was inaugurated last year and is presented for distinguished public service.

Bishop Walsh, a dedicated Maryknoll missionary, is presently serving a 20-year sentence in a Chinese Communist prison. He served in the mission field of China from 1918 to 1936 when he returned home to become superior general of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society. In 1948 he returned to his people in China, undaunted by the approach of the Red armies. He was the only American Catholic priest not arrested in the Red purge of 1953—ostensibly so he could be paraded as an example of "religious freedom." One day in 1958 he disappeared and in March of 1960, after a one-day trial, he was sentenced to 20 years in prison for "masterminding" the alleged espionage activities of the Bishop of Shanghai.

Recently his story was vividly portrayed on nationwide television entitled "The Cross and the Dragon." Bishop Walsh is a member of the Mount Class of 1910 and his family long has been associated with the Mount. His grandfather, Hon. William Walsh, former member of Congress from the Sixth Maryland District, was a student from 1846-1850. His father, William E., was of the Class of 1879 and his brothers, William C., Rev. John F., and William E. Jr., all were Mount-taineers. The fourth generation is represented by his nephews, Francis L. and James E. Werner.

The presentation of the medal will take place at the 1962 Annual Alumni Homecoming Dinner, Saturday, Oct. 27. The medal will be placed in the Bishop Walsh Museum at the Maryknoll Seminary, Maryknoll, N. Y.

It is pointed out that members only are permitted on the club's grounds and the Dept. announced a refusal to rested and prosecuted.

College Entertains At Open House

Saint Joseph College entertained more than 200 visitors to its campus on Saturday, as prospective students and their families attended Open House. The program was designed to introduce the guests to the administration and faculty members of the college.

The afternoon program was highlighted by the presentation of a panel discussion provided by a panel consisting of the college Registrar, Sister Marie Therese Eberhart, junior student Claire Maurer, of Baltimore, and the father of two Saint Joseph College students, Mr. Leo M. McIntyre, of Allentown, Pa. Sister Marie Therese explored the subject, "To Apply or Not to Apply," and Miss Maurer talked to the assembly on "The SJC-ienne—Her Activities, Her Responsibilities." The topic of importance to visiting parents, "The Parent and His Pocket Book" was surveyed by Mr. McIntyre, whose daughters, Nancy and Mary Margaret, are members of the junior and sophomore classes, respectively.

Tours of the campus were conducted by student guides from 11:00 a.m. until 1:00 p.m., and in the afternoon from 2:15 until 3:00 p.m. At the close of the assembly, the tours, interviews, and visits to the Student Center continued.

Halloween Parade Set For Wednesday

Emmitsburg will celebrate Halloween Wednesday night when the annual parade sponsored by the Francis X. Elder Post of the American Legion marches off at 7 o'clock. It is expected that at least 500 children and adults will be in the line of march competing for the various prizes offered by the sponsoring Legion unit. Should inclement weather prevail the affair will be rescheduled for Thursday, Nov. 1. William L. Topper has been named chairman of the affair and Harold M. Hoke, honorary chairman.

Chairman Topper announced that six categories have been established. The event has been growing in size during the past years since its origination some thirteen years ago and this year's affair is expected to draw even more of the local kiddies and parents.

March-off time has been set for 7 p.m. Wednesday evening. The parade will form in front of the Doughboy monument in West End at 6 p.m. and will proceed down West Main Street, past the Square and continue down East Main Street to Federal Avenue where it will turn and continue to DePaul Street terminating at the rectory grounds of St. Joseph's Rectory. Following disbandment the participants will be served refreshments including cider and ginger bread. It is hoped that all participants will remain at the rectory grounds until the prize winners are announced.

Leading the line of march will be the color guard of the American Legion Post, followed by a number of other units including the Emmitsburg Municipal Band, the Fire Trucks, a number of vehicles and the customary marchers. The reviewing stand will be located on the Square. The general public is cordially invited to participate in the parade and to view the spectacle.

Prizes will be awarded to first, second and third places respectively, as follows: Funniest costume, $5, $2, $1; best looking costume, $5, $2, $1; most original costume, $5, $2, $1; funniest costume with pet, $5, $2, $1; best looking costume with decorated bicycle, tricycle, or wagon, $5, $2, $1. In addition, two mystery prizes of $5 each will be awarded.

Home Company Urges All-Out Vote

Your vote, your family's vote and your neighbors' vote will carry a lot of weight on November 6. Remember too, that even the margin of victory becomes an important factor in helping shape the winner's actions in office.

An overwhelming victory suggests a "mandate from the people," to carry out the party's platform. On the other hand, a close vote suggests a more conservative course of action. So even though you may have voted for a losing candidate, your vote can and does influence the winner. As we see it, the only person who has no voice in government is the person who doesn't vote.

In the past, many non-voters have explained their lack of interest by saying, "I don't know enough about the candidates in order to vote."

Recently, a number of Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company men and women in various departments throughout the State visited over 400 of the Democratic, Independent and Republican candidates for the major political offices in the coming election. Their object was to obtain the biography and photograph for each of the candidates involved.

Much of this work was done "after hours." We believe that this employee contribution in itself deserves your consideration.

Admiral Hogan Forms Company

Rear Admiral (Ret.) Batholomew Hogan and three other scientists and financiers are currently having constructed a commercial research laboratory - factory unlike any other in the world at St. Petersburg, Fla., it has been announced.

The products and services of the company are of a space-age variety and will be offered to industry, government, research labs and universities.

The factory will employ about 35 and will called Germfree Products. The professional staff will include a veterinarian, virologist, microbiologist and a biochemist. Germfree Products will be concerned with controlled environments such as in space ships or long distance submarines or in radiation laboratories. Much of its work will be done with experimental animals, viz., mice, rats and Japanese quail. They have no contact with microbes or known viruses, often for several generations, and are thus germ free. There is no odor connected with such animals, or their waste, and they do not decay after death so long as their bodies remain in isolation. All Admiral Hogan's associates are internationally-known medical scientists, as well as himself. He is married to the former Grace Gloninger of Emmitsburg.

Warning Given On Hog Cholera

Farmers and veterinarians today urged to keep a sharp lookout for signs of hog cholera, the nation's No. 1 swine killer.

Some reports of the disease have been received from Frederick, Montgomery, Wicomico, Calvert, Talbot, Prince George's, St. Mary's and Washington Counties, according to The Maryland State Veterinary Medical Association.

The incidence of the disease starts rising about now and the danger season will continue for several months. Officials of the veterinary association said this fact, coupled with the disease reports already received, makes it vital that hogs not yet vaccinated be immunized without delay.

Vaccination is one of the key points in the current drive to eradicate hog cholera. It has been estimated that only about 40 per cent of the swine population has been vaccinated, but authorities said the figure must be raised to 75 per cent to provide a solid wall of protection against disastrous outbreaks.

NO. 20133 EQUITY
In the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland
ALICE LONG NASH
Route 2, Thurmont, Maryland

vs.
DAVID A. NASH
Central Hotel, Littlestown, Penna.
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONI from the Defendant, David A. Nash.

The Bill recites that the Complainant, Alice Long Nash, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was Central Hotel, Littlestown, Pennsylvania; that the parties to this cause were married on the 24th day of December, 1933, at Woodsboro, Maryland, by Rev.
Fife, a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage one child was born, namely, Linda Long Nash, who is now an adult and who is self-supporting; and that the Complainant and the Defendant have voluntarily lived separate and apart, without any cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that such separation is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Alice Long Nash, be divorced A VINCULO MATRI-MONII from the Defendant, David A. Nash, and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

COURT ORDER

It is thereupon this 1st day of October, 1962, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks before the 3rd day of November, 1962, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 4th day of December, 1962, and show cause, if any he has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

RE-ELECT

C. CLIFTON
VIRTS

DELEGATES

I respectfully solicit your vote and influence

down last June by Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen. The decision ruled invalid the local Federal Milk Marketing Order, and exempted four dairies from making payments into the producers (farmers) settlement fund. The fund provides the monies needed to allow all farmers shipping to the Baltimore area to receive equal payments for their milk.

Since Judge Thomsen's decision, four other dairies have withheld payments from the fund. Sealtest claims that it will suffer serious loss if it continues making payments, while other dairies do not, into a fund authorized by a Federal Order which the court has declared invalid.

Henry E. Butler, Manager of Milk Supply for Sealtest in Baltimore, said that his company hopes a declaratory judgment, and any further action which might result from it, will resolve the status of the Federal Order. He said that Sealtest favors the continuance of the Federal Order, and of the fund, but that it seeks to learn whether it will apply equally to all dairies doing business in the area. The question is currently in doubt because of Judge Thomsen's decision and the subsequent withholding of fund payments by other dairies, Butler asserted.

Butler explained that Sealtest is taking action at this time because it fears that an appeal from Judge Thomsen's decision already filed by the Department of Agriculture may not be settled for several years. He said that Seal-test, the largest dealer in the Baltimore area, has continued to make payments into the fund, and that these average about $50,000 a month.

MEDITATION

Read John 10:22-30.
I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. (John 10:28.)
What a reassuring thought we have in the story of a mother concerned for her little boy. He was walking with his parents in the darkness along a rough road. The mother asked her son, "Have you got hold of Daddy's hand?" The boy replied, "No, Daddy has hold of mine."

We are prone to think that our safety and peace depend on our personal efforts. I once wrote a little poem on the Everlasting Arms. In it I stated that I was clinging to God. But before I issued it, I corrected the thought of my clinging, for I realized I had made a mistake. Those eternal arms insure our security.

There are many verses that speak of the helping, loving hand of the Lord. Jesus said, "My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me . . . And no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand. I and my Father are one." After the resurrection Jesus said, "Behold my hands." He commands His disciples to go and tell of the love revealed by His pierced hands.
Prayer
Our Lord, Thou art our defense and shield. Teach us today that in Thy hands of love, peace will be ours. In the name of Christ Jesus, our Lord and Master, we pray. Amen.

Thought For The Day
Christ's pierced hands are my surety.

Many Plan Fall Vacations

Many Americans today are planning their annual vacation trip in the fall rather than the summer. Many families with no small children in school prefer to wait until the heavy tourist season is past to take that long awaited trip abroad.

There are a few health hints if you are planning a trip abroad this fall or winter that may help avoid health troubles while away.

If you wear glasses, take along your lens prescriptions, so that a broken lens can be replaced.

If you have diabetes, check with your doctor to make certain of a source of supply of insulin abroad. Also wear a tag or carry a pocket card indicating that you are diabetic.

In most large European cities, tap water is perfectly safe for drinking. This is not the case in many areas of the world, however, and it will be wise to make certain the water supply is pure. If in doubt, order bottled water.

Born on farm near Urbana in 1908; married to Helen Virginia Thomas and father of three sons. I am a candidate for County Commissioner because I am seriously concerned about the economic welfare of this County. I am not interested in finding ways and means to raise more taxes but am interested in finding ways and means of making our tax dollar buy more of the necessities of the County. I am interested in having adequate classrooms and an adequate teaching staff for our children—not only an adequate teaching staff but the best teachers available. I am against anyone using County equipment, material or County-paid personnel for their personal benefit. This is one promise I will make—one that I know I can and will keep, and that is, when I become your County Commissioner, I will serve ALL of the people in Frederick County . . . with quality and integrity. This important office needs conscientious, qualified representation—your vote and support will be deeply appreciated.

the line, and even an occasional "alley-oop" completion to high-jumping R. C. Owens. With the complement of fine pass-catchers tout this season combined with unusual play, the teams had injected some color and induced fan appeal, attested to by the 80,000 plus crowd in Cleveland.

A Baltimore legislator endorsed a change in Maryland's Constitutional provision which allows juries to judge law as well as facts in criminal cases. Maurice Cardin, the legislator, explained that the judges are more qualified than the ordinary layman in the jury box to interpret the law. The facts should be judged by the jury, but not the law. This seems only in order; it is a logical consideration. But then many people are queased about having benefits "usurped" from them. To them, it is as plain as the difference between black and white. They feel that they are losing, but in this case at hand, they stand nothing but to gain.

Our Library . . .

A Trio Of Travel Books:
KON-TIKI: Thor Heyerdahl (Norway, 1948; English trans., 1950)
These Ruins are Inhabited: Muriel Beadle (1961)
Here Is Alaska: Evelyn Stefanson (1959)
Even if our library contained many more books classed under "Travel" than it does at present, the three about to be recommended to a wide age-range of readers would certainly be among the tops on our list; and each one, as a further fact of general interest, represents an entirely different type of travel book.

The first of these is mainly an absorbing and often highly exciting tale of adventure, as the subtitle puts it, "Across the Pacific by Raft." Its strange-sounding title "KON-TIKI" is derived from the name of the chief-and-god of a white race living in Peru before the Incas conquered and drove them out. Out to where? It was to support the theory of the author that it was to the South Sea Islands (Polynesia) over 4000 miles across the Pacific that the Expedition which this book describes was undertaken. For practically all the scientific and naval experts consulted said that such a trip was impossible by raft, the only means of water travel available to these ancient peoples of 1500 years ago, and Heyerdahl, in the interests of scientific fact, had to prove that it could be done by doing it in the same way! And so he did!

Details of the actual voyage make up the main part of the book, but preceding these is an absorbing background part telling how the idea of the expedition got its start in the author's mind, how it grew until he knew it had to be tried out, how he collected five other young men (4 Norwegians and a Swede) to accompany him, also money and material supplies from unexpected sources, and all the seemingly insurmountable difficulties surmounted, including the getting of the huge balsa wood logs such as had been used 1500 years ago, from an Ecuadorian jungle in the rainy season.

The report of the ocean journey itself (101 days) covers in an equally natural and vivid way both the carefully planned routine of activities, the constant watch, the keeping of the log, the handling of the long steering oar and two sails (a little but not much help, the raft's movements depending mainly on winds and currents), sending and receiving radio messages on the short-wave set, etc., and the many many unplanned and often completely unexpected items: watching over the edge of the raft (they were only a foot or so above the surface of the ocean) or between the balsa logs the incredible number and variety of fish, having a whale shark (largest shark and fish known in the world) swimming round and under the raft, finding a snake fish in a sleeping bag, saving the life of a crewman fallen overboard—always something to break any possible monotony, down to the final incident of the anticipated and prepared-for crash landing on the dangerous Raroia reef!

And finally a concluding section reporting all the completely different happenings that began with some idyllic days on a tiny uninhabited Polynesian island and concluded weeks later with setting out from Tahiti along with their "nine dear balsa logs" for America and the 20th century.

You must read this book if you have not done so.

These Ruins are Inhabited
Not a highly exciting and inspiring travel tale like "KON-TIKI" but a very enjoyable and informative one by the wife of an American professor of science, herself an established journalist, who has gone with her husband and schoolboy son to spend a year (1958-9) in Oxford, England, Dr. Beadle having accepted an appointment as a visiting professor at the University. In a way her book reporting this experience is an informal guidebook to Oxford, giving a frank and often humorous account of how an American family adjusted itself to a somewhat different way of life in a very different environment from that of Southern California, and describing a number of special town or university occasions very vividly, like the visit of Queen Mother Elizabeth, May Day celebration, Christmas Eve at Magdalen College.

But the Beadles also traveled to many other parts of England and on into Scotland; they went to Stockholm, Sweden, where Professor Beadle received a Nobel Award in science, had a fascinating tour thru much of Italy and an unusual experience in Strasbourg, on the edge of France; the keen and clever reporting on all this will interest those who have been or have not been to these same places.

And there is something else that has nothing directly to do with travel but it quite an important part of the book: Mrs. Beadle's serious study and appraisal of the English secondary and university educational systems in contrast with those of the United States. PTA members especially should find Ch. 25 and other scattered pages on the subject well worth reading.
P.S. What does the title mean? Readers may like to puzzle over that.

St. Joseph's High School News

PSAT Given
The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test, a shorter version of the Scholastic Aptitude Test and specifically designed for secondary schools to use in their own guidance programs, was given to the seniors and juniors of St. Joseph High School recently.

Because the PSTA measures the same verbal and mathematical abilities as the SAT, secondary schools use PSAT scores as colleges use SAT scores to estimate a student's ability to do work at a college level. Studies also show that PSAT scores are good predictors of SAT scores. Thus a school counselor can estimate from a student's PSAT scores how that student is likely to stand among freshmen entering one of those colleges.
The main purpose of PSAT is to provide secondary schools with a valid, reliable, and inexpensive instrument for use in guidance programs.

Basketball Season Outlined

Father James T. Delaney, coach of the St. Joseph basketball team stated recently that the team is better than last year but it has a long way to go.

The first game is scheduled for November 1. Starting players are John Little, Jack Topper, Jim Topper, Gene Lingg and Dennis Stahley. Other players include Ray McMann, Jerry Orosz, George Brown and Ned Remavege.

Father Delaney's assistants for the freshmen and sophomores are Francis Bingnear and Jay Fitzgerald from Mt. St. Mary's College.

Long Rites Held

Funeral services for John F. Long, who died Thursday as a result of a farm accident near Emmitsburg, were held Sunday in the Emmitsburg Methodist Church at 1:30 p.m. His pastor, Rev. Martin A. Case, officiated, and was assisted by Rev. Philip Bower. Pallbearers were John M. Long, Richard E. Long, William J. Long Jr., Ralph Long, Frank Long Jr., and Ronald Long. Interment was in the Emmitsburg Presbyterian Cemetery. During the services, Mrs. Robert Staubs and Mrs. Joyce Hardman sang "Rock of Ages," accompanied by Mrs. Earl Rice Jr. M. L. Creager and Son, funeral directors.

Livestock Show November 10

Judges will award more than 1,700 cash prizes totaling $52,000 at the sixteenth annual Eastern National Livestock Show to be held at the Maryland State Fair Grounds at Timonium November 10 through 15.

A similar number of ribbons, plaques and trophies will be awarded in the competition that will bring to Timonium some of the nation's finest breeding cattle, steers, market hogs and lambs, according toack I. Matthews, show manager.

Exhibitors from more than 20 states and Canada are expected to enter some 1,500 animals in the show, fourth largest livestock exhibition in the country and described by livestockmen as the "livestock show window of the East."

Mr. Matthews said nearly 300 of the prizes will be awarded to 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America exhibitors in the junior classes. The cash premiums range from a low of $2 to a high of $500.

Half of the premium has been contributed by the Maryland State Fair Board and the balance has been posted by the various cattle, hog and sheep breed associations.

Among these are the American Angus Association, American Hereford Association, American Short-horn Association, American Shorthorn Club, the Maryland Beef Cattle Improvement Association, American Berkshire Association, American Yorkshire Club, United Duroc Swine Registry, the Chester White Swine Record Association, and the Hampshire Swine Registry.

JOIN HONOR SOCIETY

Ten collegians at Mt. St. Mary's College were inducted into the Alpha Rho Chapter of Lambda Iota Tau, the international collegiate honor society for students of literature.

The initiates included five seniors and five juniors, each of whom submitted an original paper.

International Race November 12

LAUREL, Md.—England, whose Wilwyn won the first running of the Washington D. C. International, goes for its second triumph in the global classic on Monday, November 12, at Laurel Race Course with Pardao, one of Great Britain's top handicap horses, it was announced here this week.

Pardao, a four-year-old colt by Parda from Three Weeks, is owned by Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin, who accepted the invitation by John Schapiro, president of Laurel and founder of the weight-for-age mile and one-half turf classic.

Captain Cecil Boyd - Rochfort, who trains a division of the horses owned by Queen Elizabeth II, mentors Pardao and other horses for Mrs. Iselin. Boyd-Rochfort, one of the world's most honored trainers, also trains for Americans Mrs. John W. Hanes and Mrs. J. H. Whitney.

Pardao is the third foreign acceptance thus far in this season's International. Takamagahara will be the first representative of Japan, and Match III will be a challenger from France in the $125,000 invitational race.

The American Selection Board, which has received favorable indications from the owners of Carry Back, Kelso, Jaipur, T.V. Lark and Wise Ship, extends the formal invitations to the American representatives in the Veterans' Day classic.

Winner of the important Jockey Club Cup Stakes, Pardao also finished second in the Ormonde Stakes, fourth in the Coronation Cup and a close-up fifth in his most recent start in the Champion Stakes in which Great Britain's leading horses met at a mile and a quarter.

An injury this summer sidelined him from several major engagements. Unplaced in his first start since recovering from the injury, Pardao showed a return to form in the Champion. He had been expected to be a leader of his division until sustaining the injury.

Last season Pardao won the Gordon Stakes and Derby Trial Stakes and finished a rousing third in the English Derby.

Mrs. Iselin, who races a string of horses in America and England, lives on Long Island, N. Y.

Schapiro, who flew to Paris early this month for the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe, has returned to Laurel to prepare for the tenth renewal of the world-famous International. While in France, he invited Soltikoff, Monade, Val de Loir, Snob, Match III and Kistinie. The owner of Soltikoff declined the invitation and word is awaited from the other owners.

Before returning to Laurel, the 48-year-old pioneer of international racing stopped in England and successfully negotiated for the appearance of Pardao in the "Olympics of RACING."

Voters To Ballot On Referendum

Formation of committees in every county of Maryland to work for a favorable vote for Question 7 on Election Day was announced this week in Baltimore.

Eugene B. Moore and George W. Creighton, members of Citizens FOR Protecting Unemployment Benefit Funds, announced that chairmen for each county group will be named within a few days. The county leaders' job will be to point out the benefits of a vote for Question 7, through which, these proponents declare, loopholes in Maryland unemployment compensation law will be closed.

"Some people don't want to work and they'll do everything they can to get money for not working," Mr. Moore said. "We hope the local county organizations can bring home these facts to the people nearest them. The legislature has passed Senate Bill 19, and Governor Tawes has signed it so as to cut down abuses of the unemployment law. Now the citizens of Maryland must decide whether they should uphold the governor and our Maryland legislators in their vital decision, made for the benefit of all of us."

"Everybody in Maryland will gain by a favorable vote on Question 7. We hope the county organizations will be of great help to our state-wide group in our efforts in behalf of getting out votes for Question 7."

Mr. Moore added that many organizations throughout the state are passing resolutions in favor of Question 7. Suggested resolution copy can be obtained from Mr. Moore at Box 7615, Baltimore 7, Md.
