With the income tax hearings now going on in Washington one wonders how municipalities will fare tax wise during the next year. This is the time of the year when governmental boards on all levels begin considering what their budgetary needs for the next fiscal year will be. I see Frederick City has been forced to up its tax rate to $1.65, due mainly I hear, to some discrepancy in the tax assessment figures provided to the city board. Seems the board went by these figures and came up several thousand dollars short and consequently were forced to raise the tax rate for the coming year. With proposed cutting in the income tax structure we are wondering if the state, county and town will be able to hold the line, or perhaps afford a little relief in the form of reduction to spur the economy a bit.

Frederick County is fast becoming one of the most famous in the state for its deer population and hunters from all over the state are journeying here this week during the annual hunting season of one week. The first day alone 126 deer were slain and at this time the slaughter is continuing. Game experts claim it is a good and healthy procedure to have the herds thinned out each year. We aren't experts on wildlife but we are keen observers to the fact that cutting the rabbit droves consistently the past decade has proven the fact that the little cottontail is fast becoming extinct in our state. Don't take my word for it, ask any hunter.

Negotiations for the purchase of the local water company are still going on and a meeting is to be held in Baltimore in the near future. It is hoped that the agreement will be soon forthcoming one way or another. It is to the best interest of local residents and customers that a settlement be made and soon. Should the Town be the purchaser or the Water Co. retain its ownership improvements must be made, and the sooner the better, but at the present time improvements are out of question and things remain stalemated. Regardless of who is the future owner these much-needed improvements must be made so it is imperative that all haste be made in clarifying the situation to the best interest of the general public.

There will be a shooting match Sunday at the Civic Grounds and you are all invited. Even though you don't hunt or shoot a gun you are welcome to attend. It costs nothing and is interesting to witness. Should you be a hunter it will afford you an opportunity to practice up your shooting and at the same time you might win a prize. Try it Sunday, it's for a good cause.

Church To Present Musical Program

This Sunday, December 9, the second service of the Advent Season will be held at the Incarnation United Church of Christ at 7:30 p.m. This will be a Christmas Musical Program. Choirs of the other Protestant Churches of the community will participate with special numbers. All the choirs will combine to sing "Angels We Have Heard On High." The congregation will join in singing some of the familiar songs of Advent, and the second Advent candle will be lighted. The public is invited to attend this "Night of Music."

The following Sunday, for the third service of Advent, there will be filmstrips presented which have some bearing on the season. This will be a family night and the small children will find this an interesting program. Everyone is invited.

The Sunday School program will be presented on Christmas Eve at 7:30 p.m. with a play "A Tree of Remembering" and the recitations and songs of the children's department.

Commissioners Make Various Appointments

A new Board of County Commissioners was sworn into office for a four-year term Monday and immediately went into executive session where the board organized and named some "green-bag" appointments.

A Irvin Renn, the only commissioner remaining from the previous board, was chosen president of the board. Lawrence A. Dorsey was named vice president, and Russell Z. Horman, the first Republican elected commissioner in years, was named secretary.

The most important appointment was the naming of Randolph B. Rosencrantz, Frederick, as clerk to the board. This post had been held by Donald A. Woods, who also serves as accountant.

Also appointed were Samuel W. Barrick, attorney, and Mrs. Dolly Maria, secretary. Mr. Barrick replaces Goodloe E. Byron, who was elected to the House of Delegates. Mrs. Maria formerly served as secretary in the Chamber of Commerce office and joins Mrs. Mary Whitmore on the office staff.

Mr. Rosencrantz, who was requested to serve with the new board, resigned a teaching position to accept the appointment. He was business education teacher at the Linganore High School.

Mr. Barrick is well-known in political circles having been elected State's Attorney and Senator for Frederick County. He was a member of the losing Mahoney ticket in the last primary election. He sought the Attorney General post.

The county commissioners announced the appointment of a roads engineer who also will be in charge of maintenance work in the county. He is Southey Nottingham of Funkstown, who currently is employed by the State Roads Commission.

Bruce F. Ahalt, who has served as acting roads engineer since the death of Engineer O. Wilson Runkles in December, 1961, will remain with the county as assistant engineer.

The new Commissioners' board also announced the reappointment of a number of other county personnel. Robert H. Schell, whose term as Superintendent at Montevue does not expire until April, was reappointed.

Austin Powell, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, was named Weights and Measures Inspector; George J. Stup was reappointed Civil Defense Director; Mrs. Fannie Esterly was re-named Supervisor of the Chronic Disease Hospital; Irving Tobery was reappointed custodian; and Frank Stockman remains as Dog Catcher.

Mrs. Mary Whitmore will remain in the Commissioners' office and has not been replaced by Mrs. Dolly Maria. Mrs. Maria will handle the secretarial details. Mrs. Whitmore will remain as receptionist.

Other appointments include: Glenna Leatherman, Sandra Kay Carter, Wade F. Hursey, Dorothy Lantz, Verna Barber, Linda Thompson, Neola Shaft, Phyllis Martin and Catherine Fry, office staffs, and Frank Rothenhofer, county surveyor. The appointments were recommended by the Democratic Central Committee.

Lloyd Fogle has been appointed acting accountant replacing Donald A. Woods, who served as Clerk to the Commissioners and Accountant. Mr. Woods and George B. Stupp, maintenance engineer, were not reappointed by the new commissioners. Maintenance duties will be handled by Mr. Nottingham.

Mount Grad Killed In Plane Crash

A former student at Mount St. Mary's College, Patrick Neary, 21, of Queens, New York, was one of the 25 persons killed in the crash of an Eastern Airlines DC7B airliner Friday night at Idlewild Airport in New York.

Neary, an accountant, was the son of Mrs. Robert B. Neary of Washington, D. C., and the late Mr. Neary.

He graduated from college here last June. Surviving are, besides his mother, two brothers, Robert 25, and John, 20.

An income tax bill passed in the spring of 1948 set the individual exemption at $600 and permitted married couples to file joint returns.

STATE POLICE ISSUE WARNING ON SNOW ROUTES

In the event highways and streets become covered with snow and ice and the "snow emergency" plan is placed in effect, persons operating motor vehicles upon "emergency snow routes" without proper tires or chains subject themselves to arrest and the expense of having their vehicles towed from the roadway.

The law is as follows:

Article 89B

66A. The State Roads Commission, after securing the approval of the members of the governing body of the county effected, is hereby authorized to designate such state highways as it deems appropriate as "Emergency" declared as hereinafter prescribed, it shall be unlawful for any motor vehicle to travel or attempt to travel upon such highway unless it is equipped with chains or unless both rear wheels are equipped with snow tires. For the purpose of this act snow tires shall mean those tires which are normally designated by the manufacturer as snow tires and shall be in a good state of repair. It shall also be unlawful to park a vehicle on such a highway during the period of the emergency and the State Police are hereby authorized to have any such vehicle so parked towed from said highway.

The Superintendent of the State Police or his representative shall have the authority to call such emergency for the state highways so designated as a whole or for such state highways in the state as he deems necessary which emergency shall continue in force and effect until the Superintendent or his representative shall declare it is no longer necessary.

Any person, firm or corporation violating the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations made pursuant hereto shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction be fined a minimum of $10.00 or a maximum of $25.00.

Prepare now—avoid later trouble.

Liners Face Stiff Court Schedule

Emmitsburg High School's new coach, George Kuhn, faces a rebuilding job. Last year's team which advanced to the class C finals at College Park departed in June. But Kuhn, a graduate of Middletown High School and Frostburg State Teachers College in 1962, is counting on the junior varsity team which chalked up a 14-6 record, to take up the slack.

Two 10th graders, Gary Valentine and Sonny Bell are shooting for births on the starting team along with Harry Harner, Gene Eyer, Craig Stoops, Bob Zimmerman, Doug Valentine and Tom Humerick. The eight-man squad is shorter than last season's but Kuhn hopes improved ball-handling and the shooting of Eyer and Harner to even things out.

This season's schedule is as follows:

Christmas Party

The Francis X. Elder American Legion Post 121 Ladies' Auxiliary will hold its annual Christmas party on Wednesday, Dec. 12 starting at 7 p.m. in the Legion Home on N. Seton Ave. All members are invited and asked to bring along a gift of approximately $1 value.

WHITE—TOPPER

Miss Danielle Topper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Topper, Emmitsburg, and Mr. Mark P. White, son of Mr. Mark H. White of Omaha, Nebraska, were married in St. Joseph's Church, November 24 at 2 p.m. Miss Mary Elizabeth Barbe and Mr. J. Laurence Topper, brother of the bride, were the attendants.

Commissioners Relieve Two

Two county department heads were dismissed effective immediately with payment extending to December 31 in letters signed by the three new Frederick County Commissioners which they received on Monday.

Beginning with a phrase indicating how much they "devoted services to the county" have been "greatly appreciated", the two separate letters informed County Maintenance Supervisor George B. Stupp of Braddock Heights and former County Accountant Donald A. Woods, a native of Brunswick now living near Frederick, that their services were terminated as of December 3 with payment continuing until the end of the year.

Mr. Woods had been serving as clerk of the commissioners since former Clerk C. Burton Cannon Jr. was appointed a County Commissioner. The new commissioners appointed Randolph B. Rosencrantz, a school teacher residing on North Market Street, Frederick, as their clerk of the commissioners after taking office on Monday.

Mr. Stupp had been serving as county maintenance supervisor for the past five years and participated in the reconstruction of Winchester Hall, also directing the improvements at the Montevue Home property.

Both ran as candidates in the recent election campaigns, Mr. Woods opposing incumbent Democratic County Treasurer Mrs. Charlotte Yarrow in the Democratic primary while Mr. Stupp was the Democratic candidate for Clerk of the Court, opposing the incumbent Republican, Ellis C. Wachter, who has been Clerk of the Court for the past 25 years.

The Democratic State Central Committee recommended Mr. Stupp for re-appointment by what was reported to be a unanimous vote. He will not be replaced in this position, which has been abolished by the County Commissioners.

Mr. Woods was not recommended by the Central Committee for his present position, clerk of the commissioners, which went to Mr. Rosencrantz on the recommendation of the Central Committee. His old position of county accountant, which Mr. Woods held until becoming clerk of the commissioners, was reportedly left vacant in the Central Committee recommendations.

Myersville Engages Engineer Maxwell

Elmer Maxwell, the former City Engineer of Frederick, has been employed by the Myersville Town Board to survey the water situation in the Myersville area.

Maxwell's firm, Elmer Maxwell and Associates of Pikesville, has been asked to prepare a report on the water situation to present to the Town Board within three weeks.

Now a resident of Catonsville, Maxwell was the Frederick City Engineer for 16 years from 1927 to 1943. His firm has supplied water surveys for several other Frederick County towns in the past few years.

Noting that the Myersville reservoir is still down five inches below the overflow mark at this time of year, Burgess Grayson Doub of Myersville said in announcing the Maxwell firm's appointment by the town, "Something has to be done immediately."

Maxwell was supervising engineer on the Emmitsburg sewer project installed about four years ago.

Deer Season Closes Saturday

Heavy turnouts for deer hunting were reported throughout the state Saturday—the opening of a seven-day firearms season.

Cars were parked bumper to bumper along mountain roads in the popular Western Maryland hunting grounds.

In Frederick County, hunters had perfect weather as a total of 126 deer were brought to local checking stations by the end of the day. The record for a first-day total was made in 1956 when hunters bagged 156 deer; last year's first day total was 141 bucks.

Wardens reported at sundown Saturday they had made no arrests and had recorded no injuries to hunters.

More than 90 of the 126 bucks slain were shot in the northern end of the county, as was predicted. Eyer's Valley area was responsible for almost 50 per cent of the total kill.

A total of 262 deer were checked through four stations in Washington County Saturday. One of them was a 230-pounder.

Hunting hours are from sunrise until sunset. The season will remain open until sundown, Dec. 8.

Those Emmitsburgians reporting wills in Frederick County were: John Ridenour Jr., Roland Sanders, Thomas Seltzer, Dennis McLaughlin, Donald Draper, Melvin Wetzel, Allen Lawrence, Chic Cool, Daniel Cool, Francis L. Little, George L. Orndorff, David C. Wivell, Joseph Andrew, Earl Manahan, James Sanders, Richard Toms and Guy A. Ridenour Jr.

Xmas Lights Present Traffic Menace

Three big shopping weekends and more than two weeks of evening shopping before Christmas will be marked by crowded traffic conditions in communities throughout the State, Paul E. Burke, Executive Director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission said this week.

"The lights of Christmas trees, store displays and overhead decorations on streets should not distract us from spotting the red and green lights of traffic signals," he warned.

"Because parking will be at a premium, some drivers will risk temporary double-parking or utilize loading zones," he pointed out. "Pedestrians will be so numerous that drivers will be forced to slow down somewhat, but even then they must be alert for that walker who suddenly becomes a runner dashing across the street in mid-block or rushing ahead of the pack at a busy intersection."

"Get out of parked vehicles on the curb side," the safety spokesman concluded. "Shopping at Christmas-time is an exciting adventure, but it calls for extra care to stay alive."

Phelan's Mounts Drop Two; Beat Baltimore

Coach Jim Phelan's Mountaineers opened their current basketball season with a loss Saturday night in a thrilling game that was not decided until the last second. The Blue and White, NCAA champions, went down to defeat by a single point, 75-74, to a strong Hofstra team, one of the East's better clubs.

Both teams turned in fine shooting performances but the Dutchmen, taking advantage of the 1-1 foul situation throughout most of the second half, gained its advantage from the free throw lane. Hofstra converted 21 of 26 foul shots. The Mount outshot their opponents from the field 32-27 but were awarded only 12 free tosses and made good on 10.

Throughout the first 10 minutes of play the score was tied on eight occasions and then Lew Freifeld, a 5-3 backcourt ace who put on a dazzling performance, rammed through two long shots as Hofstra took a 25-20 lead. The teams traded points with Hofstra holding a 37-34 advantage at half time.

Hofstra gained its biggest lead in the early minutes of the second half when it went ahead 43-36 but the Mountaineers fought back on the scoring of John O'Reilly and Dave Maloney and finally knotted the count at 57-57 on a goal by O'Reilly with 10:45 left to play.

The lead saw-sawed until the final seconds of play. With eight seconds remaining Hofstra led 73-72. The Mount was awarded the ball out of bounds under its own basket, but on the throw-in Bill McCullough stole the pass and converted it into two points. Seconds later Dave Maloney netted a long shot for the final points.

Eddie Pfeiffer turned in his usual fine play-directing chores for the Mounties and landed 17 tallies. Maloney looped 21, O'Reilly 20 and Bill Neuss 12.

The Mountaineers collapsed in the final four minutes of play and dropped their second basketball decision in as many starts Monday evening to Providence 72-57 on the Friars' court before approximately 3,300 fans.

Providence, with a veteran team and again rated as one of the powers of the east, was given a terrific battle by the Mountaineers until the final minutes.

The first half was a nip and tuck affair with Providence holding a 27-26 edge at half time.

John O'Reilly was the big gun for the Mount with 17 points. Eddie Pfeiffer chipped in with 13 while Dave Maloney and John Carrell each had 10. Carrell, a freshman, appeared to have recovered from his first game jitters and should prove a big asset to the Mountaineers. Completing the scoring for the Mount were Ed Folk with five tallies and Bill Neuss with two.

The Mounties scored their first victory of the season Wednesday night as they downed Baltimore U. 81-58 in a Mason-Dixon game at Memorial Gym. Ed Folk led both teams in scoring with 17, followed by Pfeiffer with 15, O'Reilly 13, Carrell 12 and Maloney 10, as Coach Phelan used his entire squad. Baltimore's top scorer was Whorton with 16.

Two more conference games will be played this week, the Mounties playing at Roanoke Friday evening and at Hampden-Sydney Saturday night. Next Tuesday evening the Mounties will play host to Catholic U in Memorial Gym in another Mason-Dixon Conference game.

100 YEARS AGO

CONFEDERATES DEFEATED AT PRAIRIE GROVE, ARK.

By Lon K. Savage

Affairs were not going well for Confederate troops in the West 100 years ago this week, and no one worried about it more than did the President of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis. During that cold first week of December, Davis decided to leave Richmond and look at the affairs in the western theatre, himself. But before he got there, his army had suffered another setback in the West—this time in the state of Arkansas.

On December 7, the morning after Davis' decision to go to the West, a Confederate army attacked a Union army at a little place called Prairie Grove in northwestern Arkansas and was rebuffed. The Southern army was compelled to withdraw, demoralized.

Minor Battle

The battle was a minor engagement when placed in rank among the Civil War's other slaughters, but it was a hotly contested fight just the same.

It was brought on by Maj. Gen. T. C. Hindman, commander of Confederate troops in the area, a veteran of Shiloh and a competent organizer. Hindman, operating near Fayetteville, Ark., decided to make his attack after he had been ordered to take his troops to Little Rock; it would be a parting gesture to the Federals in the area.

At 3 a. m. on December 7, Hindman's troops, about 11,500 strong, moved northward against a divided Union army under command of Kansas born Gen. James G. Blunt.

Hindman's tactics to that point were good. He attacked only half of Blunt's army—about 6,000 men under Gen. F. J. Herron—and he was capable of defeating it. The two armies collided near Cane Hill; both sides brought up more troops; then Hindman made his mistake.

Instead of attacking with all his force after the initial collision, Hindman took a strong defensive position and waited for Herron to renew the battle.

It was the break the Union forces needed. Blunt, with the remainder of his army, hastened forward at the sound of the firing. With his full army assembled, he pitched into Hindman's forces and, outnumbering them in both men and materials, he won his victory.

Even at that, it wasn't much of a victory. There were 2,500 casualties in the battle, 1,200 of them Federals. But during the night, Hindman withdrew, and it was to prove his army's undoing. In the cold months ahead, desertions and disease took their toll until Hindman's army had withered away.

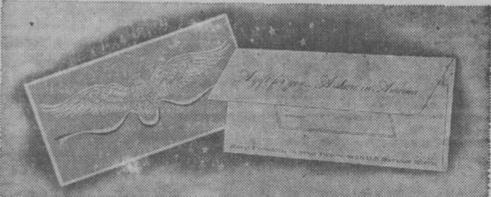

Even as the fighting went on, Davis was preparing to go west. One day after the battle, he wrote Gen. Robert E. Lee at Fredericksburg, Va., announcing his trip west, to "arouse all classes to united and desperate resistance."

Within four days, the president of the Confederacy was moving overland toward Chattanooga.

Next week: Fredericksburg.

FBI Chief Urges Safety At Christmas-time

With deliberate contempt, a cold chill of death in the form of traffic fatalities will again hover over our land at Christmastime. Instead of a season of reverence and joy, to many it will be an occasion of grief and sadness. Based on past statistics, we may expect a shocking toll of approximately 600 motor vehicle fatalities during the four-day holiday weekend.

According to the National Safety Council, 38,000 lives were claimed by traffic accidents during 1961. Some 1,400,000 persons were seriously injured, and motor vehicle accidents cost our Nation approximately $6,900,000,000. Traditionally, December was the leading month and Christmas led the major holiday periods with 523 immediate deaths and an estimated 177 later deaths as a result of injuries sustained.

Where will this perennial mass slaughter stop? How long will our people tolerate this senseless waste of human lives? Why is not something done to erase the dread of highway carnage which haunts every community during a national holiday? The answers, to a large degree, rest with the potential victims—the motoring public.

The privilege of driving a motor vehicle is no mean responsibility. An alarming percentage of motorists apparently feel they are immune from traffic laws. Many who are model citizens at other times become maniacal monsters behind the wheel. Not only do they violate the rules of the road, but also a goodly portion feel they should be allowed to do so with impunity. Such ridiculous reasoning is a prime example of the obstacles preventing a marked reduction in traffic deaths.

One of the great achievements of our age has been the advent of the motor vehicle. It is indeed ironic that a society which owes so much to this significant accomplishment is unable to cope with its devastating side effects. Long since recognized as a vital necessity in the complexities of our work-a-day world, the automobile in the hands of speeding or drunken drivers is also a mortal weapon.

Traffic authorities consider drunk driving and excessive speed the two greatest menaces on the road. Statistics bear them out. Some studies show 50 per cent or more of the fatal accidents involve drinking drivers or drinking pedestrians. In 1961, excessive speed was a contributing factor in 33 per cent of the fatal accidents.

Another perplexing aspect of this nationwide dilemma is the unrealistic approach by the average driver to basic safety measures. For example, a father who spares no expense in providing security and care for his loved ones will bundle them into a mechanically faulty automobile and race along the highways with no sense of guilt. Oftentimes, in an emergency, the car fails and tragedy results. Needless to say, the father has also failed. Last year, one out of every six vehicles given safety checks was in need of maintenance attention for safe driving.

As the fleeting days of 1962 wing by, American motorists should make one New Year's resolution early. Let each driver resolve that the joyous Holiday Season ahead will not be marred by deadly traffic accidents due to carelessness and negligence. Those who rebel, those who flout and violate traffic laws should be dealt with sternly.

Let the Christmas spirit of "peace and good will" prevail along our Nation's highways, and let all citizens strive to make Christmas, 1962, a "holiday" from traffic deaths.

Social Security News

Christmas is a time of giving and receiving, but don't make this year a complete "give away" in terms of your social security credit. Many people do earn their social security credits every year at this time doing temporary Christmas work, according to W. S. King, Social Security District Manager in Hagerstown. Every person working during this seasonal rush should get a social security card to show to his employer. Mr. King said that everyone who is paid at least $50 cash wages in a calendar quarter receives social security credit for that quarter. This is done by the employer withholding a portion of the wages paid, matching this with a like amount as the employer's contribution, and reporting these earnings. If you help Santa Claus this year—give your social security some care and thought and you will receive the credit you are entitled to.

Babson Discusses "Saving" The Democratic Party

BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 6—I write this column for two reasons: First, as a comment on the recent election. Second, for its use as a clipping when the history of the Democratic Party is written.

funds from the Appropriations Committee.

Owing to President Wilson's sickness, the popularity of the Republican Party, and the election of President Harding by a Republican landslide, the Democratic Party gradually disintegrated and got very few votes. Furthermore, this was when Vice President Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, who was a personal friend of mine, became President following the sudden death of President Harding.

Payment Of Rent

Before I left Washington, I called upon my old friends of both parties. I found that the Democratic Party had a little room in the Press Building for which they had not paid their rent for three months. A letter of eviction had just been received that morning demanding $120 cash! It happened that I was the only one of the crowd who could raise the cash to pay the "back rent." I gladly gave $120 to them.

Some time afterward I received an invitation from Al Smith, the coming Democratic candidate, to attend a dinner to help raise some funds. To my great surprise I was introduced by the Chairman as "the man who saved the Democratic Party". Naturally, I was much embarrassed. (To look back, this story seems incredible.) Al Smith was nominated in 1928. The Republicans, however, won and Herbert Hoover became President. The Stock market crash came in 1929 followed by the business panic in 1931 and 1932. Then the Democrats were again successful, electing Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932. He served three and a fraction terms, and was succeeded by Harry S. Truman. Mr. Truman concluded Mr. Roosevelt's fourth term and was later re-elected, followed by Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Republican Party Today

At the present time, certain elements of the Republican Party feel that the Democrats, who preach the New Frontier and the Welfare State, have come in to stay. The young Republicans feel that their party's old conservative principles are outdated. They are trying to imitate the Democrats as led by President Kennedy and his family.

This story of what happened to the Democrats under the Wilson Administration should be a lesson to both parties. Politics are very uncertain. Furthermore, much depends now upon the life of such men as our Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Adenauer of West Germany, deGaulle of France, and especially Khrushchev of Russia and Mao of China.

Price Of Democracy

Of course, Democracy and Freedom are the goal for which we all are seeking. But my column of November 15, 1962 shows the uncertainty of progress. It is a slow and tedious struggle. It is much more uncertain since we have become so dependent upon international conditions. The airplane for travel, the wireless for communications, and now the new space developments, are making even "going to the moon" a matter for businessmen and political leaders to consider.

When someone asks me whether a landing upon the moon could affect business in this country, I reply, "Not if we find nothing of value on the moon. But, if we find quantities of gold, or diamonds, or some new elements, it could result in a great new boom in this country like the 'gold rush' in 1848." When we realize that it once took two months for ships to go from New York "around the Horn" to San Francisco, while the astronauts claim it will take only three or four days to go to the moon, we should be slow to forecast the future. We are living in a different age. If such sudden overturns in the two great parties could occur when we were influenced only by conditions in the United States, what could happen today when we are a world power, and even seeking the moon? Hence, the moral of today's column is that the Democrats must not be too sure of their recent welfare and Cuban successes, and the Republicans must not be discouraged if conservatism is temporarily unpopular. Big changes sometimes come suddenly.

DIABETES, A PUZZLING DISEASE IN WHICH THE BODY IS UNABLE TO COMPLETE THE CONVERSION OF SUGAR AND STARCH INTO ENERGY WAS FIRST DESCRIBED BY A DOCTOR IN ANCIENT EGYPT MORE THAN 3,000 YEARS AGO.

THE FIRST GREAT BREAKTHROUGH IN CONTROL OF THE DISEASE CAME IN 1921 WHEN TWO CANADIAN DOCTORS DISCOVERED INSULIN. THE SECOND BIG BREAKTHROUGH CAME IN THE 1950'S WHEN THE ORAL ANTI-DIABETIC TABLET WAS INTRODUCED. THESE DEVELOPMENTS, ALONG WITH DIET CONTROL AND HYGIENE, PERMITTED DIABETICS TO LIVE A FAIRLY NORMAL LIFE.

NATIONAL DIABETES WEEK OCCURS DURING THIS MONTH. MILLIONS OF PERSONS IN THE U.S. HAVE DIABETES AND DON'T REALIZE IT. THE SYMPTOMS: EXCESSIVE THIRST, EXCESSIVE URINATION, EXCESSIVE HUNGER, SLOW HEALING INFECTIONS, LOSS OF WEIGHT, AND EASY TIRING. SEE YOUR PHYSICIAN FOR A FULL EXAMINATION.

A "How-To-Do-It" PAINT POINTERS

If you're looking for an easy route to both natural-wood beauty and long-lasting protection, try a Du Pont material called penetrating wood finish. Ideal for wood floors, pine paneling, kitchen cabinets, unpainted furniture — any bare wood, including old furniture with previous paints removed.

It's really a combination sealer and finish that ends up more in the wood than on it, applied by brush, mop, or rag. Two coats are recommended. Put on the first coat, wipe off surplus in 10 to 20 minutes, then allow three more hours for drying. Repeat this process, and you're through.

Dust is no problem with this type of work, and the result is a tough, transparent, low-luster finish that seems to become part of the wood itself. If a rich sheen is desired, paste wax turns the trick nicely.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

Better-Longer Life By-Product of Effort To Conquer Outer Space

By Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) Chairman, Committee on Aeronautical and Space Sciences

All Americans will benefit from President Kennedy's policy to "get moving" on the New Frontier of Space.

This decisive front in the cold war contest will greatly affect our world leadership and could even determine our very survival.
As the United States soars ahead, we will open the benefits to free men everywhere, instead of being at the mercy of some ruthless master of space.

Characteristic of his courage and vision, President Kennedy sounded the call to action with these words:

"Now it is time to take longer strides—time for a great new American enterprise—time for this nation to take a clearly leading role in space achievement which in many ways may hold the key to our future on earth."

Under this dynamic new leadership in Washington, the United States need make no apologies for its performance in space.

GIANT STEPS

In 1961, our first giant step into space reinforced our national prestige and confirmed the soundness of our manned space program. In 1962, the United States gave the free world a new hero in John Glenn, and John Glenn made every American swell with pride.
Global television and other communications by way of Tel-star again captured the imagination of people everywhere.

As our space program unfolds successfully, President Kennedy keeps pace with appropriate recommendations for the future.
In 1961, he pushed the button for the giant effort to send man to the moon in this decade.

In all my experience in public life, I have never seen any single program or development so fascinate the American public as the exploration of space. The exploits of the astronauts and X-15 pilots are common knowledge. Global TV, still on an experimental basis, gets newspaper headlines. People of all ages are attracted.

TOTAL EFFORT

But, the general significance goes far beyond the drama of the excitement of some spectacular performance. President Kennedy has given the cue and the Democratic Congress is moving forward for the greatest scientific revolution and the most far-reaching technological advances in the history of the world. This multi-billion dollar mobilization will absorb the energies and test the talents of educators and scholars, scientists and technicians, industrial workers and uncouneted others in private enterprise and government.

Regardless of what amazing new discoveries may result from the penetration of distant space, our life on earth already is being vastly improved and our prosperity greatly enhanced by this race in space.

LIVE LONGER

Everybody now has a chance to live longer, thanks to new knowledge from expanded work in the life sciences. In fact, I predict that Americans now in high school and college, on the average, will live 10 years longer than their parents.

Already, Americans are benefitting from improved weather forecasting made possible by a series of TIROS weather satellites orbiting the earth. These satellites provide information on cloud cover, storm locations, temperature and heat balance.

Telstar satellite now is giving us a sample of seeing and hearing around the world. The object of our legislative effort has been to bring about the establishment of a global communications satellite system for commercial and other uses, as quickly as possible. The best brains of private enterprise and government will be united to speed world-wide coverage of radio, telephone, television and all other data which can be converted to a radio wave signal.

walk, and as their natural inquisitiveness grows, they become susceptible to accidental poisonings.
Surprisingly boys between the ages of one and three are statistically more likely candidates for poisoning than are girls in the same age group. Since the most common cause of infant poisoning is the accidental swallowing of drugs, medicines and household chemicals, the basic rule for prevention is simply this. Place all potentially harmful substances in places that are completely inaccessible.

The substances that cause accidental poisoning are present in most every home. And wherever they are present, danger lurks.

Drugs and medicines account for about one-third of the accidents. About 18% of the accidents are caused by swallowing detergents, cleaners and car polishes. Insecticides, rodenticides, insectant repellents, bleaching solutions and disinfectants are some of the other substances involved.

Storing harmful substances in household containers that babies associate with food and drink is another contributory cause of poisoning among babies. The number of people who store poisonous substances such as kerosene and gasoline in soft drink bottles is appalling.

In more than 50% of the accidents, kerosene, benzene, turpentine, ammonia, bleaching agents, solvents, furniture polish and in-secticides were stored in such containers as drinking glasses, soda bottles, mayonaisse jars, coffee cans, milk bottles and fruit jars. In most cases, the containers were in open places such as on tables, shelves, floors, under sinks or on window sills.

If these substances had been kept in their original containers and placed in out-of-the-way areas, where babies and young children could not reach them, the occurrence of poisoning would have been eliminated.

Babson Forecast

The Emmitsburg Chronicle will publish "Babson's Business and Financial Forecast for 1963 on Friday, December 28. A careful checking of the Babson Predictions made in the Business and Financial Forecast for 1962 upholds the remarkable average of the past years by being 86% correct! It holds the best and highest record for annual forecasts on U. S. Future Business.

American business has no more inspiring personality than Roger W. Babson, internationally-known business commentator and investment adviser. An outstanding feature of his philosophy has been his life-long insistence on the importance of both religion and advertising in business.

Born and reared in an old-fashioned atmosphere of hard work and hustle on a farm in Gloucester, Mr. Babson went to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Upon graduating, he turned instinctively to financial and business activities in which his father was engaged.

His exertions, however, undermined his health; he contracted tuberculosis and he was sent West "as good as dead"! It was while he was convalescing from this dread malady that he worked out some of the possibilities and problems of business forecasting. His weekly releases are used by over 400 newspapers and his financial reports by 20,000 corporations and estates. His research work is carried on by a large staff of experts.

Mr. Babson founded Babson Institute for Men; and, in co-operation with the late Mrs. Babson,

Furniture Refinishing-

by BOB
WILKIN

Here are a few tips you may find helpful in your furniture refinishing ventures.

Did you know — that those pesky white spots which appear on furniture surfaces can be polished away? A steel-wool pad of the finest grade dampened with linseed oil, a furniture polish, or a good paste wax will do the job on dull finishes.

For medium surfaces which are neither dull nor glossy try rubbing with your household scouring powder dampened to a pastelike texture with water.

If the whitened surface is a high gloss, dampen your steel wool pad with the pre-wax cleaner you use on your automobile.

Did you know — that white shellac is hard to work with and therefore, for most jobs it should be mixed with orange shellac? When you've once opened a can of any shellac, pour the unused portion into a glass jar for storage. Shellac will darken when kept in a one-opened can.

Did you know — that by brushing over two or three coatings of shellac with a coat of clear varnish you can have a finish that has all the wearing quality and beauty of shellac plus the protection of varnish against alcohol stains, humidity and the like.

Did you know — that warped table leaves can be straightened? First, with a good semi-paste remover, strip the finish off the leaves. Dampen a small portion of your lawn. Lay the leaves on the ground, concave side up near the dampened area and pour hot water on them.

Then flip them over so that the wet, concave sides are face down on the dampened earth and the sun can get at the dry, convex (humped) sides. A good heavy rock placed atop the hump should speed things up a bit.
Depending upon the degree of the warp, the straightening process will take from a few hours to a few days.

Did you know — that tired old finish can be snapped up by a good scrubbing with soap and water followed with several applications of a mixture of equal parts of turpentine and linseed oil. After the final application has been allowed to soak for an hour or so, wipe the surface dry.
Then go to work with a good canuba wax.

formation. To receive this power he urges them to open their minds and hearts to Christ.

We of this century need to be transformed. The gospel of Jesus Christ is a gospel of power. It is a message of comfort and strength for all who put their trust in Christ. Believing, we trust ourselves to His keeping, and we are transformed by His grace.

God has a plan for each of us for the path of life along which He points the way. We need to study the Bible more, that we may know Christ better and be able to serve Him more faithfully.

The conviction of God's love in Christ can keep our feet from falling and our souls from death.

Prayer

Our Father God, confronting the tasks of this new day, we pray Thee to give us courage and wisdom. Help us to live and serve that Thou mayest be glorified.
In the name of our Savior, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

Thought For The Day
Our acceptance of redemption through Christ requires repentance, faith, and obedience.

'Miracle Baby' with Birth Defects Is Named March of Dimes Child

Jimmy Boggess' mother, Mrs. Shirley Boggess, reads a fairy tale to the 1963 National March of Dimes Boy, a victim of the birth defect known as open spine. She is a March of Dimes volunteer in her home town of Coy, Ark., because she wishes to encourage research "to learn why some children, like my Jimmy, aren't born perfect."

Five-year-old Jimmy Boggess of Coy, Ark., a "miracle baby" who has survived a constant battle against serious birth defects, has been named the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes Boy for 1963.

Jimmy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Boggess, was born with a birth defect known as spina bifida, or open spine. He underwent an operation when he was five days old to correct this condition. A few months later, it appeared that he also had hydrocephalus, or water on the brain. However, this condition has apparently arrested itself without need of surgery.

In spite of the fact that he also has defects in both the genito-urinary and digestive systems, Jimmy is a happy, inquisitive child who plays with his pets and his toys as eagerly as any other youngster his age.
He walks with the aid of steel braces and wooden crutches.
He looks forward to his nationwide tour scheduled for January, which marks the 25th anniversary of The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

His picture will be on millions of coin collectors, leaflets and school cards used in every county in the nation. He will also visit with a number of congressmen, senators, governors, mayors, screen stars, TV personalities and stage celebrities.

A winsome, intelligent lad, Jimmy was born in Panama City, Fla., Jan. 20, 1957. His parents, both natives of Arkansas, took him soon after to their home state to be nearer specialists and medical facilities there, so that their son could get the expert medical care he needed to survive.

"Jimmy is a symbol of the 250,000 children born each year in this country with significant birth defects. He is living proof that something can be done for seemingly hopelessly crippled children," said Basil O'Connor, president of The National Foundation-March of Dimes.
Jimmy's mother, Shirley Bog-ness, who was a model before her marriage, today is a March of Dimes volunteer. One of the satisfactions she finds in this work is the hope it affords that "research will find the reasons why some children are not born perfect, and then will find a way to prevent these tragedies.

The March of Dimes helped wipe out polio with the Salk and Sabin vaccines. I am certain that something can be done about birth defects.

"I am going to work as hard as I can to see that Jimmy continues to get the best possible medical care, and that funds are available for research so that someday other mothers won't suffer the terrible shock that I did.

"Children like Jimmy will benefit most from expansion of the March of Dimes-supported nationwide network of clinical study and treatment centers, which bring the most modern medical care to victims of birth defects, arthritis and polio. Today there are more than 50 of these centers. Our nation could easily use twice that number."

Use The Monroe Doctrine?
Let us not be misled to believe, because of our recent experience with Cuba and its Russian masters, that it was only on October 22, the day of President Kennedy's momentous address to the people, that our Caribbean neighbor, suddenly became a menace and a threat to peace and security. Let us not forget the presence of missile bases was already known generally. And while we are remembering, we might linger on the fact that long before the bearded Castro came down from the mountain to assume power in 1959, despite the fact that he had been enthusiastically interviewed by American reporters, his background in Communist subversion was known to many.

Moreover, his political course at that time was being predicted by men who were acquainted with the progress of communism in Latin America. If all along our national leaders had possessed political "savvy" anywhere nearly as effective as the aerial photography of the defense department it is possible that conditions bringing about the recent Cuban crisis could have been avoided.

nothing, as when we allowed and even assisted the Communists to take Cuba and when we only raised our official eyebrows at the Hungarian revolt. If there has been any U. S. advantage out of the Cuban experience it is that we have been engaged in a practical demonstration of the advantages of taking the initiative. Established in time, these approaches to foreign policy do not necessarily constitute "brinkmanship".

If Cuba is to be a Communist colony, with tacit permission and under the special guarantee of the U. S., the Monroe Doctrine is already halfway out the window. If Cuba is to be allowed to remain a base for Communist subversion of this hemisphere, then clearly a foreign power is imposing its "system" on this part of the world. For 130 years the Doctrine has protected the nations around us from subjection by European powers. Is Communism to be so favored that it can sneak in under the guise of revolution, then be taken over economically and militarily and politically right at our doorstep by a power that claims to be our mortal enemy?

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

NEARING THE "HOME STRETCH"

With the crack of the referee's pistol, the Yale mile began. At the first turn, an unknown runner was knocked down. He was badly skinned and cut. As he rose to his feet, everyone was surprised to see him begin to run again. With pain plainly showing in his eyes, he began to give the race everything he had. Slowly, he began passing runners. Each man was giving his best. Still painfully suffering, with only ten yards to go, he moved into first place. As he crossed the finish line, a mighty yell went up. The unexpected had happened—a "nobody" had won the Yale mile.

The unknown runner, whom no one had expected to win, won because he had determination and perseverance. His desire to win was foremost in his mind, and it gave him the additional strength he needed.

A person who really desires to be a Christian will stay in the race and run in spite of every discouragement and trial. Living a Christian life isn't easy, but it brings a deep peace and contentment that only Christ can give. He fills the emptiness and gives abundant life. Christ gives strength and courage as He guides us day by day.

Jude 3 says that we should "earnestly contend for the faith." We can never be successful trying to get by with a minimum of consecration. It takes everything we have. With our hearts centered on God in wholehearted consecration, we will be winners in this heavenly race.

We're very near the end of our race here on earth. In fact, we're in the "home stretch" of the last lap.

Jesus is coming soon! Will you be ready to meet Him? If you do not know Him as your personal Saviour, accept Him now. You, too, will know the happiness and joy of being a child of God. There is great satisfaction in knowing you are on the winning team and that you have a wonderful coach like Jesus Christ.

He is by your side now. Put your hand in His and let Him show you the way. By putting your faith and trust in God and pressing ever onward, the heavenly race will be won. Victory will be yours.

WHAT IS A HEART ATTACK?

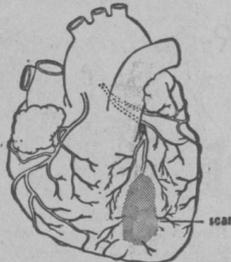

A Public Service of Your Heart Association

The heart, hardest-working muscle of the body, requires a large and constant supply of blood to do its work. This is supplied through the coronary arteries which completely encircle and penetrate the heart muscle, as shown in the drawing. A heart attack occurs when the blood flow through the coronaries is impeded — for example, by formation of a clot.

The clot blocking a main coronary branch has deprived the shadowed area of blood. At this early stage of a heart attack, the patient must remain quiet to speed healing.

Some weeks later, the body's repair system has reduced the extent of the injury. A scar has formed and the patient may begin to resume activities under the doctor's supervision.

CAMPUS COMMENT

A few weeks ago, amid shouts of "goodbye, don't forget to write" and quiet tears, a bus slowly rode down the "A", heading toward a new mode of living for sixteen of our senior education students. They were leaving the familiar college campus for a strange city, a new home and a new classroom position; student teacher. With fear and high hopes, the girls awaited their eight week stay in Baltimore.

The student teaching program permits education students to apply in a practical manner the many theories of education which they have learned. Under the guidance of a qualified teacher in the Baltimore City Public Junior and Senior High Schools, these girls will have the opportunity to gradually assume the duties of the teacher. The first weeks are usually spent in acquainting the student teacher with the school, the pupils and general classroom procedure; much of this is obtained through observation. The teacher then assigns more duties to the student teacher as she is ready for them. Correcting papers, handling drills, supervising study periods, forming lesson plans are some of the isolated duties performed. As familiarity and ease in the new situation increases, the student begins teaching, perhaps one class a day, with the nal aim being the complete class load of the regular teacher. This is usually not assumed until the nal week of student teaching. Thus the student is given a slow but realistic preview of what teaching expects of her and what she can expect of it, preparing her more fully for the grave responsibilities of her profession.

In addition to actual classroom activity, the girls are also part of the community life, since they attempt to secure lodging in the area of their respective schools. This acquaints them with the people whose children they are educating, as well as the various activities of the community itself. This is an important aspect of the teacher's life, for only by understanding and knowing her community can she strive to meet its educational demands.

The students also attend educational and professional meetings in the area, thus participating fully in their profession. Recently they attended the Teacher's Convention in Baltimore, acquainting themselves with new trends, methods, and instructional material, all of which make distinct changes in teaching.

Despite the professional air of the student teacher's experience, she is still a student. As such she is graded on her student teaching by both her St. Joseph College instructors who observe her periodically and the teacher under whom she is working. And upon returning to St. Joseph's in eight weeks, there will be many reports and projects to be done, all based on the student teaching experience. It is precisely this phase of education which will determine to a large degree the type of teacher she will make, for this is her professional laboratory, her internship, where patterns for future teaching practices are formed. As such, it is most important to every education student.

Next week we will discuss the educational training now being received by the Junior education students via the teaching assistantships now being fulfilled in local Emmitsburg schools.

Marine Second Lieutenant Michael F. Wasilifsky, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Wasilifsky of 1 Fileremo, Emmitsburg, is attending the Naval School of Pre-Flight at the Naval Air Station, Pensacola, Fla.

Local Farmer Elected

E. Earl Remsberg of Buckeystown, Jesse M. Burall of New Market and Raymond Keilholtz of R2, Emmitsburg, have been elected to fill the three vacancies on the board of supervisors of the Frederick Soil Conservation District.

Mr. Burall and Mr. Remsberg have been members of the board of supervisors for several terms and were re-elected to another three year term of office last week. They are both retired dairy farmers whose sons now operate their farms.

Mr. Keilholtz, an Emmitsburg livestock farmer, is a new member of the board of supervisors who has never held office in the Frederick Soil Conservation District before.

If you know a family with a child born with a defect, ask them to seek aid through their local chapter of The National Foundation-March of Dimes. Join the 25th Anniversary March of Dimes in January and fight crippling birth defects, arthritis and polio.
