Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Things are happening so rapidly around here that a gal can hardly keep pace of them. With all the new buildings going up at the colleges, many still under construction, people buying up all the available land, Blessed Elizabeth Seton's canonization in the offing and new factory additions planned and in addition talk about a new school for Emmitsburg and Thurmont. If that isn't enough for you to digest I'll throw in a few more. We are almost certain a large dam will be built near here and that a by-pass will be constructed next year and on top of that the recent purchase of the water system by the Town and the proposed relocation of Mother Seton School. Yes it is understood that the comparatively new school will be transported, lock, stock and barrel from its present location to a new one near the Little League Field. Exciting news, isn't it, and to figure that it all has happened in just such a short time. Then we have a new motel, service station, and two new clothing stores within the past year. Now then, here's more exciting news. By now you have read that natural gas is being piped to Town and will be ready for use in two or three months. In fact construction of the line is now under way. More buildings are planned at the two colleges and in addition a new church will be built where the Mother Seton School now stands. It's getting so that us old-timers hardly know our surroundings and environs anymore.

I just glanced over last year's edition of the Chronicle for this date and here is the news of that time: Lions Club Horse Show Sunday; Lutheran Church festival Saturday; United Church of Christ picnic Saturday; Gettysburg Sales Days Friday and Saturday; Father James Twomey transferred to Michigan; Dr. Richards to do research at U. of Md. during summer; Phil Topper and Therese Wyvell married; Romanus Florence, Mrs. Lester W. Eyer and John R. Eckenrode die; local Girl Scouts terminate summer camp; Farmers State Bank plans merger.

Received an unsigned letter through the mail this week. Usually I don't publish such correspondence but it appears this party has an axe to grind and it being a bad week for a topic to write on I'll devote it a little space.

Dear Abigail:

I know a leopard cannot change its spots but some people I know must like theirs. These leopards I know have been destroying others for years. When they start something they spread it all over like wild fire and then they say they meant no harm. I have heard that lies can't hurt you, but believe me, they do. I have no hate for these people—just pity. They are hurting themselves the most because everybody is beginning to know them and their works.

Signed: Plain Put Out

My personal advice is that someone better button up.

Thurmont Carnival Monday

The annual carnival of the Guardian Hose Company of Thurmont will start on Monday, July 29 and continue all that week, ending August 3.

The program consists of amusements including "rides", games, refreshments and other attractions on the carnival grounds, highlighted by the annual parade which will feature bands and many visiting firemen with their equipment on Thursday night.

The free entertainment will include band concerts and radio and television celebrities. Little Jimmie and the Rangers will appear on Monday night. Tuesday evening, "Happy Johnny" Zufall and his Family will be featured.

The William F. Myers and Sons Band will entertain on Wednesday night, and Thursday will feature a band concert by the Thurmont High School Band. The parade will also be on Thursday.

Friday night Andy Reynolds and his 101 Ranch Boys will entertain, and a concert by the Walkersville High School Band will be given on Saturday.

Lions Club Benefit Horse Show Sunday

The fifteenth annual Horse Show sponsored by the Emmitsburg Lions Club will be held Sunday, July 28 at the Civic Grounds, one mile east of town.

The welfare affair, the proceeds of which are used for community welfare projects by the club, will get under way promptly at 11 a. m. DST, President C. Arthur Elder announces.

Joseph M. (Cy) Haley, general chairman of the outdoor event, the largest of its kind held here, announced 25 classes have been included in this year's show and that well over 100 horses are expected to be entered in the various classes. Children will be admitted to the show free of charge.

On sale at the grounds will be appetizing food and beverages. Traffic will be handled by the State Police, Emmitsburg Police Dept. and special officers. Parking will be in charge of the local Scout Troop.

Chairman Haley announces the following show officials and committeemen: Assistant chairmen; Mrs. D. L. Beegle, Arthur Elder, Ralph F. Ireland and Dr. D. L. Beegle; judge, Earl Crall, Greencastle, Pa.; show secretary, Guy A. Baker Jr.; assistant secretary, William A. Kelz; announcer, Preston W. Howard, Hagerstown, Md.; ringmaster, Eugene Ryan, Hagerstown, veterinarian, Dr. William Carr, Emmitsburg, and blacksmith, John Calimer, Waynesboro, Pa.

Mrs. Treva Beegle, advertising chairman, reports that of the 25 classes, 20 have been sponsored by merchants and individuals.

The Horse Show is the only fund-raising venture sponsored by the Lions Club each year and it is from the proceeds of the show that eyeglasses for indigent children and adults are provided as well as many other charitable deeds and community work. The show is a day-long affair and the public is cordially invited to attend and/or participate. Music will be amplified between the showing of the many classes and a television set will be awarded to some lucky individual.

Informative Signs On New Rt. 15

Newest additions to the large green and white markers on the new Rt. 15 bypass to Gettysburg are signs at both the north and south ends of the bypass directing traffic to the "Gettysburg Battlefield."

At the south entrance, north of Emmitsburg, considered the crucial entrance by business, the large new marker carries the legend: Gettysburg Battlefield, Next Right. This precedes the Steinwehr Ave. exit and should carry much of the diverted northbound traffic back to old Rt. 15.

At the north end, the marker reads, Gettysburg Battlefield, Straight Ahead.

Ever since the opening of the bypass prior to the centennial celebration, business people located along old Rt. 15 have insisted that clearer sign directions were necessary because of the almost total diversion of traffic from the old road, now Rt. 34. They maintained that tourists seeking the battlefield and service area were unable to locate themselves by the road signs.

Supporting their stand were the Travel Council, the Adams County Commissioners, Assemblyman Harry D. Ridinger, and other interested.

Various proposals had been suggested, the main point of which was that tourists traveling the bypass north should have a clear indication that the Steinwehr Ave. exit led to the battlefield and service area.

The new signs were placed last Thursday. Charles Lightner, superintendent for maintenance for the Adams County division of the State Highway Department, said that the signs had been sent from Harrisburg and that if and when other markers are sent they will be promptly placed.

DAVID A. NAILL

David Albert Naill, 74, died suddenly last Wednesday afternoon at 2:10 o'clock at his home, New Oxford R1.

He had suffered a heart attack five years ago and had been under the care of a physician since that time. However he had been in good health Wednesday until he was stricken and death occurred.

Citizens Of Tomorrow

This week's Citizens of Tomorrow show the children of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Weatherly, R1, Emmitsburg. Left to right are Bruce, 10 mos., and David, 4 years.

Early to bed and early to rise is a sure sign that you are fed up with television.

Miss Barrett Becomes Bride Of Wm. Sterbinsky

St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, Baltimore, was the scene of the pretty wedding of Miss Dolores Lucille Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Barrett, Baltimore, on May 25 to William F.

Sterbinsky, son of Mrs. Alice Sterbinsky and the late Prof. William S. Sterbinsky, Emmitsburg.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. John Igenfritz. The bride is a graduate of the Catholic High School, Baltimore, and the bridegroom was graduated from Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

The bride wore a floor length gown of pouldeoise with a fitted bodice, scooped neckline and short sleeves which was banded with alencon lace. The draped skirt trimmed also in lace appliques was deep pleated in the back to form a chapel train. The three-tiered veil fell from a pillbox of pouldeoise robes. She carried a cascade of white rose buds, carnations and lily of the valley. Her jewelry consisted of a cultured pearl necklace which was a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Frances Barrett, maid of honor, was attired in a Nile green silk tafeta street length dress with a bell skirt, scoop neck and cap sleeves and a matching pillbox of satin roses from which flowed a veil. She wore matching shoes, white gloves and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

The attendants were Mrs. Lois Leicht, Miss Shirley Cassano and Miss Patricia Sorochak of Baltimore. They were attired in identical yellow dresses as the maid of honor with matching shoes, white gloves and carried an old fashioned bouquet.

Mr. L. Robert McNally, friend of the groom served as best man. The ushers were Charles C. Ireland, Donald V. Joy, and Robert Ruger of Baltimore.

The bride's mother wore a blue chiffon dress trimmed at the top in lace. She wore matching blue accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a blue rayon and acetate crepe dress with a nylon lace bodice and jacket to match. She wore white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following the reception at Gallagher's Hall, the couple left by Pan American for a week's honeymoon at the Caribe Hilton Hotel in San Juan, Puerto Rico. The bride was attired in a pink and white dress with a white jacket and matching pink hat. She wore white accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple is now residing at 5410 Relcrest Rd., Baltimore, Md.

The bride is a secretary at the Baltimore City Health Department Bureau of Vital Records. The groom is employed as a System Service Representative for Honeywell Electronic Data Processing Division in Baltimore.

DEED RECORDED

The Brookside Dairy Farm, Inc. granted and conveyed to the Loudoun Manufacturing Company its two and eight-tenths acre property on the Creamery Road in Emmitsburg in a deed recorded in the Clerk of the Court's Office on Friday.

The property, which was sold for about $2,000 according to state revenue stamps, was part of the property which was granted to the Brookside Dairy Farm, Inc. in 1956 by Jessie S. Martin.

It is at the northwest corner of land formerly granted to the Blue Bell Farm, Inc. The land was granted in fee simple with improvements.

Attends Institute

John Balmer, Sperry Ford Sales employee, attended a Ford Marketing Institute held for two weeks recently at the Marriott Key Motel, Washington, D. C. The two-week course terminated last Thursday. The seminar dealt with retail sales of Ford, Lincoln and Mercury cars.

Natural Gas Coming To Town

Natural gas is coming to Emmitsburg this week by company officials of the Penn Fuel Gas, Inc., Oxford, Pa. At the present time installation of seven miles of pipeline is under way. It has been known for some time that a company contemplated bringing natural gas to this community but the project was not announced publicly until this week. The line will extend from Emmitsburg to Gettysburg.

Application has been made in the name of the Emmitsburg Gas Co., a subsidiary of the Oxford corporation, for a franchise to serve the northern Maryland community. The line will be completed in time for the fall heating season, officials of the parent company said.

The installation of the line from near Gettysburg to Emmitsburg is the result of requests to serve the new Central House of Saint Joseph College which is under construction in Emmitsburg, and officials of the gas company say heat will be available on the new construction project by the time interior walls are ready for plaster.

The new line will take off from the Manufacturers Light and Heat station three miles south of Gettysburg on Route 15 and will be laid underground along the road to Emmitsburg, a distance of approximately seven miles. It will be a six-inch line and is designed to serve the entire community of Emmitsburg through the newly-formed Maryland corporation.

A spokesman for the Oxford firm estimated the cost of construction to be approximately $20,000 a mile under normal conditions, for a total of about $140,000. He said construction will begin as soon as all permits are issued for the installation of the line.

Gas mains through the town of Emmitsburg will be installed at the same time the line is extended to the Central House in order that final connections may be made while the contractor is laying the lines, the company representative said.

Revised Edition Of Grotto Pamphlet

Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, Director of the National Shrine Grotto of Lourdes at Mount Saint Mary's College, announced the second 10,000-copy printing of the historical Grotto booklet entitled, The Story of Our Lady's Grotto. The book was written by Rt. Rev. George D. Mulcahy, Rector of Mount Saint Mary's Seminary, and first published in May, 1961.

Monsignor Mulcahy has revised the first edition adding new photographic sections portraying the improvements that have been made in the recent restoration of this oldest Grotto Shrine in the United States.

The restoration was encouraged by Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, Vatican Secretary of State under the late Pope John and the present Pontif, Pope Paul VI. His Em-nence was a frequent pilgrim to the Shrine while serving as Apostolic Delegate to the United States for many years. With his appointment in Rome, he obtained and sent grants of indulgences which may be obtained by all pilgrims to the Grotto.

The Grotto is intimately connected with the life of Blessed Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton whose first house in Emmitsburg was located adjacent to the Shrine. As described in the book, the early religious activities of the community of sisters which she founded was centered in this Shrine.

Copies of the revised edition may be obtained by writing to the Director of the Grotto at Mount Saint Mary's College.

Graceham Carnival Today

The annual carnival of the Graceham Volunteer Fire Co., Inc., will be held in Mt. Tabor Park, Rocky Ridge starting Friday, July 26. The affair will continue thru Saturday night, July 27.

Free entertainment will be provided each night. Friday night The Shadows, a rock 'n' roll unit will perform and on Saturday evening Bill Perry and Paul Chaney and the Blue Grass Travellers will appear on the bandstand. This musical aggregation is from Wheeling, W. Va., and broadcast from Harrisonburg, Va. They also are starred on Dixie Records.

Many other types of entertainment and games will be on hand and delicious food platters and sandwiches will be served nightly.

Groups Advocate Road Change

The State Roads Commission has been asked to review and consider proposed changes in U. S. Route 140 and Maryland Route 97.

In a letter to Chairman-Director John B. Funk, the Board of Carroll County Commissioners proposed two major changes.

That U. S. Route 140 leading from the Reisterstown area to Westminster, Littlestown and Gettysburg, Pa., be changed as a U. S. route to lead from the Reisterstown area to Westminster, Taneytown to Emmitsburg and thence westerly.

That Maryland Route 97 leading northerly from Howard County to Westminster and then to Taneytown and Emmitsburg be changed from a Maryland route to a U. S. Route which would locate it in the Silver Spring area entering Carroll County at a location proposed for Maryland Route 97 thence to Westminster and northerly to the Littlestown area.

Both the Taneytown and Westminster Chambers of Commerce have approved by resolution the two proposals submitted by the commissioners.

The Taneytown Chamber has been considering the proposals for some time and the Westminster Chamber recently passed a resolution approving the changes. Both chambers appealed to the commissioners for assistance.

Little League Picnic

The Emmitsburg Little League Baseball organization will hold a picnic at Kump's Dam on Thursday, August 1 at 6:30 p.m.

All Little League and Minor League players and their parents are cordially invited to attend. This invitation is also extended to all Little League officers, managers, coaches, umpires, scorekeepers and their families.

To Be On Television

To Serve Abroad

Donald F. Rohrbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rohrbach, Emmitsburg R3, is enroute to France for duty with the U. S. Army.

New Church Planned At Blue Ridge Summit

A new church destined for Blue Ridge Summit will find the mountains a happy setting for its contemporary designed warmed by the hint of an Alpine chalet.

Construction costs are estimated at $100,000 for St. Rita's Roman Catholic Church to be built at the corner of Monterey and Wyndham Avenues.

The Rev. John J. McNulty is pastor of the Fairfield parish which operates a mission church at the Summit. The new St. Rita's Church will replace the mission. Designs and specifications of the structure are now in the final stages, according to Frederic A. Nassaux and Associates, Chambersburg engineering and architectural firm in charge.

St. Rita's Church is designed to blend with its mountain surroundings by incorporating modern American architecture with a feeling reminiscent of the Swiss Alps. The exterior of rubble stone masonry and stained redwood is emphasized by a steeply pitched roof and the slender spire of a 50-foot spire. The tower is capped by a copper roof. Building dimensions are 300 by 300 feet.

Amber windows of cathedral glass—tinted to absorb heat and reduce glare—complete most of the big expense of glass at the northern entrance.

Eight-foot doors of aluminum and glass will be flanked by redwood paneling. The paneling will carry an inscription on the left and a carved wood statue of St. Rita on the right.

The feeling of warmth is carried inside the sanctuary by high-pitched ceilings of wood, plaster walls and a simple table-type altar. Over the altar will be sus-ended a large, hammered wrought-iron crucifix.

The church will accommodate 250 and another 150 may be seated by opening the walnut folding doors serving as a divider between the church and the multi-purpose room.

Construction is scheduled to begin in the fall, said the architects, aiming toward a spring completion date.

Locals Eliminated

The pitching of Pete Cooper and hitting of both Cooper and Paul Lindsey paced the Frederick American Little League All-Stars to a thrilling 3-0 win over the Emmitsburg All-Stars Friday evening before a large turnout at Little League Field.

The game marked the first round of the Little League eliminations. The setback eliminates Emmitsburg from further play while Frederick earned the right to enter the second round.

Cooper sailed through the game allowing but two hits, walking three and striking out 12 batters. Tom Topper belted a double in the sixth inning for Emmitsburg and Adelsberger lashed a single in the fifth to account for the loser's two safeties.

The locals' looked as if they might get something started in the last frame when Topper led off with his double and, after the next man struck out, Mike McKenna drilled a line drive, but second baseman Dave Working made a spectacular catch and turned it into a double play to end the game.

Frederick tallied its first run in the bottom of the first inning when Lindsey uncorked a long home run after the first two men had gone out. The winners came up with their last two scores in the third. Lindsey led off with a double followed by Cooper's second two-bagger of the day. After Powell and Forney drew walks, Cooper came home with the second run on a passed ball.

Cooper and Lindsey each had two hits to account for the four safeties given up by Manning.

S. S. Meeting August 6

Election of Advisory Board and Farm Home Advisory Committee members, plus operations reports and the celebration of the 40th anniversary of service to farmers, will highlight the Southern States Cooperative annual membership meeting for the Emmitsburg area on August 6 at 7:30 p. m. The meeting will be held at Tom's Creek Church.

One of the 40th anniversary features of the meeting will be special recognition of all present and former board and Farm Home Advisory Committee members.

Robert Wood of Fairfield will serve as chairman of the local meeting. Harry Swomley will give the invocation. Group singing will be led by Mrs. James Sanders.

Local operations and services will be discussed by Ralph Lindsey, manager of Emmitsburg Feed and Farm Supply.

R. A. Nickle Jr., of Baltimore, a member of the regional staff, will report—using color slides—on the over-all Southern States operations for the fiscal year, which ended June 30.

Nominees for the local Southern States Advisory Board for the Emmitsburg area, are: Charles E. Brauer and Glenn Gillespie.

Ladies nominated for the Farm Home Advisory Committee are: Mrs. Merle Keilholtz and Mrs. Albert Wivell.

Other highlights of the session will include cutting of the 40th anniversary birthday cake and a discussion period. There will also be the awarding of a number of attractive door prizes.

The following committee chairmen will assist with the local meeting: Foods, Mrs. Maurice Fuss; decorating, Mrs. Charles Valentia; 40th anniversary cake, Mrs. Raymond Keilholtz; greeting, Ralph Tabler; ribbons, Mrs. Ralph Tabler; entertainment, Raymond Keilholtz.

CHOIR PICNIC

The choirs of Elias Lutheran Church held a picnic Sunday, July 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Sanders. Those attending were: Rev. and Mrs. W. Ronald Fearer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Saylor, Mr. and Mrs. John McGlaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Frock, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Hahn, Mrs. John Reaves, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Zepp, Miss Mary Jo Zimmerman, Luther Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanders, Renfred, Randolph and Grace Zepp, Ronald and Gary Reaves, Harry Hahn Jr., Robert Ulrich, Edna Zimmerman, Lona Frock, Craig Stoops, David Copenhaver, Susan Martin, Mary Jane Saylor, and Mr. and Mrs. James Sanders and Denise and Allyson. After an afternoon of games, a picnic lunch was enjoyed by all.

Infestation Of Beetles Light

Japanese beetles are less active this year than ever before, reports Henry Shoemaker, county agriculture agent. With the middle of July as the height of the Japanese beetle season, and very little activity as of yet, prospects are good for a practically beetle-free summer.

However, Mr. Shoemaker stated, "Beetles are appearing later this year than usual, so their peak may be in August rather than July."

A hot and dry end of July and August would mean greater beetle activity and destruction of garden plants and flowers. "Heat stimulates the Japanese beetles" stated Mr. Shoemaker.

Cheap Lotion For Suntan

A mixture of baby oil and tincture of iodine is an apparently harmless method for obtaining an artificial suntan, according to Dr. John M. Knox, a Houston dermatologist.

Although the homemade mixture may be used in the belief that it speeds suntanning, the iodine probably acts as a stain, Dr. Knox wrote in the question and answer section of the current Journal of the American Medical Association.

He said he had observed no ill effects from use of the "home mixture" and there is probably little or no absorption of the iodine through the skin.

"The usual suntan is a response to injury from sunlight and is the body's way of protecting itself from additional injury," Dr. Knox stated.

"From a medical standpoint it is safer to use certain types of stains or dyes . . . than to obtain a true suntan. It must be remembered, however, that artificial stains do not provide protection against sunburn upon subsequent exposure to the sun. Such protection is only provided by naturally produced pigmentation."

To better inform the public of the many benefits to be derived from owning insurance of all sorts, insurance companies in 1961 invested $12,925,000 in national newspaper advertising.

INJURED

Mrs. Catherine T. Hodges, Bethesda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Timmerman, and Mrs. Agnes Layman, Bethesda, a sister of Mrs. Timmerman, were injured on Sunday when the car Mrs. Hodges was driving skidded on the wet road on U. S. 15, one-half mile south of Hansonville, and crashed into a telephone pole. Mrs. Hodges suffered lacerations above the left eye and Mrs. Layman was admitted to Frederick Memorial Hospital with a broken collar bone and a broken ankle. They were on their way to Emmitsburg when the accident occurred.

In Appreciation

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: We are most grateful to the Chronicle and its staff for the splendid cooperation we have received in regards to our college publicity program during the past year.

Your assistance in publicity releases concerning the administration, faculty, and students and their activities whether academic, athletic, social or other has been most profitable to us in our public relations.

Again we thank you and pray that the blessings of the Mountain may rain forth on you and yours.

Rt. Rev. Robert R. Kline, Ph.D. President, Mount St. Mary's College

Rocky Ridge 4-H Meets

The regular meeting of the Rocky Ridge Progressive 4-H Club was held at the home of Karl, Ronnie, Larry and Jerry Smith, on Friday evening, July 12. Thirty-four members answered roll call and three new members were present, Tim Keilholtz, Charles Keeney and Michael Smith. In the absence of the president, Allen Brauer, and vice president, Karl Smith Jr., who were attending the Western Maryland 4-H Conservation Camp, Sylvia Brauer, secretary, acted as president. Becky Keilholtz was appointed secretary for the meeting. The treasurer's report was given by Gary Valentine. The pledge to the flag and the 4-H Pledge were recited. Each member named their 4-H project of the year. They discussed their records books and Larry and Ronnie Smith gave garden demonstrations. They also discussed the field day which will be August 3, when the members will visit each others' home and look at the member's project after which he will talk about and show his or her project. He will then answer questions which are brought up. On August 10 the club will hold its picnic in Mt. Tabor Park. The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments were served by the hosts.

100 YEARS AGO

MORGAN IS CAPTURED DURING RAID IN OHIO

By Lon K. Savage

Brig. Gen. John H. Morgan loved guerilla fighting, and in the first two years of the Civil War, the Confederate raider had proven himself a master at pestering Yankees in Tennessee. But Morgan's most famous raid—a breathtaking ride across the full width of Ohio—came to an abrupt end 100 years ago this week and his guerilla career came to a temporary halt.

Morgan, after leading thousands of Federals on a wild chase through the Buckeye state, was captured.

Perhaps Morgan, himself, can be blamed for his capture, because he was disobeying orders when it happened. His full raid across Ohio, in fact, was done against the wishes of his commanding officer, General Braxton Bragg.

His Departure

During that summer of 1863, Bragg was having his troubles in Tennessee. Having lost much of his army as reinforcements for the Confederates at Vicksburg, Bragg decided to fall back from Tullahoma to Chattanooga, and he ordered Morgan to ride through Kentucky to throw the Yankees off balance while he withdrew his army. Morgan immediately asked to extend the raid into Ohio, but Bragg would not consent.

On July 2, Morgan and 2,460 men set out from Burkesville in southern Kentucky. Quickly, his men moved northward, skirmished at Columbia, Ky., fought at Tebb's Bend, Ky., captured a small Federal garrison at Lebanon, Ky., and then rode on to the Ohio River at Brandenburg.

There, Morgan then took matters into his own hands. He boarded his men onto two captured steamboats and moved them across the river into Indiana. Then, with Indiana militia and Federal troops from Kentucky hot on his trail, he headed east for Ohio.

At Corydon, Ind., he overpowered a militia detachment. At Lexington, Ind., he captured 400 militia and then crossed the Ohio state line. It was July 13.

Bridges Burned

Burning bridges behind him, Morgan and his men moved toward Hamilton, Ohio, pillaging freely and impressing fresh horses. Suddenly, they turned southward and passed silently through Cincinnati's northern suburbs under cover of night. Then they turned east again, as their pursuers closed in on them in mounting numbers.

Across the state they rode at full speed until after dark on July 18, they reached the Ohio River near Buffington Bar and Blennerhasset's Island, just south of Parkersburg, W. Va., where Morgan had planned to escape southward from the beginning.

Next morning, as his pursuers closed in from all directions, his men started across the river but were turned back by Federal gunboats and Federal troops coming in from south, west and north.

About 300 men escaped into West Virginia that day, but many others were drowned, killed or captured. Morgan, with about half his force, failed to get across and, instead, eluded the net and headed for Pennsylvania.

Burning bridges again, Morgan and his men made it 100 miles northward until July 26, near Salineville, Ohio, 250 more of his men were captured. Later that same day near New Lisbon, Morgan and his last 364 men surrendered.

Next week: A lull.

Where there is joy, there is bound to be a song. God's Word abounds with joyous songs.

We recall the song of Moses after the Red Sea deliverance, and the song of Deborah at the overthrow of Sisera. We enjoy the lovely songs of David, the wonderful chorus the shepherds heard over the fields of Bethlehem, and the grand hallelujah anthem in the Book of Revelation.

But the most joyous of all songs is the one the angels sing when you and I come to the cross and have our sins forgiven. As Jesus tells us, "There is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." No mortal ear has heard this song: but someday, by the gift of His grace, we shall join in it. It is one of many blessings that God has prepared for them that love Him.

Prayer

We thank Thee, O God, for the joy we find in Thy Word. We come to Thee to help us so to live this life that we shall be able to join the triumphant chorus of the redeemed around Thy throne in glory. We ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

The more we live with the Scriptures, the more joy we find in life.

Laurel Race Course Opens Monday

The opening of Laurel Race Course on Monday, July 29, ushers in the first venture into vacation thoroughbred racing in Maryland's modern history.

The joint Laurel-Pimlico meeting at Laurel will run 24 days, from July 29 through August 24. Hearty response from horsemen wanting to participate in the meeting has assured a capacity volume of top-flight horses for the history-making August season.

Stall superintendent William McCabe announced that applications for 2,900 horses have been received, far exceeding the 1,050 stalls available at Laurel. The overflow will be accommodated at Pimlico.

"We have received applications from horsemen at practically every place where racing is being conducted now," McCabe said. "For example, we've had inquiries from Delaware Park, Monmouth, New York, Detroit, Cleveland—everywhere."

Prominent trainers who will campaign at Laurel include J. Bowes Bond, Bernie Bond, Frank A. Bonsal, C. V. B. Cushman, Jr., Danny Shea, Jr., R. E. Harper, E. W. Kuykendall, and N. L. Haymaker.

The famous racing colors of Elmendorf, C. T. Chenery's Meadow Stable, Christiana Stable, Bayard Sharp, Mrs. Henry Obre, Milton Ritzberg, and Baird C. Birthingham will be seen at Laurel.

Delaware Park's leading rider, Jacinto Vasquez, will be going for his second straight jockey title at the Maryland meeting. A 19-year-old from Panama, Vasquez appears about to join the ranks of such outstanding riders from that country as Braulio Baeza, Manuel Yeaza and Heliodoro Gustines.

His competition will include the 1962 champion of America, Ronnie Ferraro, who has held Laurel's leading rider title previously; Eldon Nelson, who rides for Christiana; Buck Thornburg; Rudy Rincon; Jack Yother and many other top jockeys.

Opening day activities at Laurel will highlight the holiday atmosphere with a salute to the nation's capitol. It will be "Washington Summer Jubilee Day" with each race named to honor a famous Washington, D. C. landmark.

The feature will be the Washington Summer Jubilee Day Purse and the Washington Summer Ju-bille queen, Miss Janet Earner, will make a presentation in the winner's circle after the race.

A special program of grass racing will be conducted on Laurel's famous Washington D. C. International turf course. Two turf races will be carded each Wednesday and Saturday.

Continuing its policy of promoting thoroughbred breeding in Maryland, Laurel has scheduled a graduated series of races for Maryland-breds to be run on Saturdays. Each succeeding race will increase both in distance and purse money up to a mile and one-eighth, $20,000 race on the final day of the meeting.

Ladies' Day each Thursday will again feature admission for women racing fans on payment of a small tax only. At noon on Thursday a "Lucky Lady Seminar" will be presented in the clubhouse lounge with prominent racing personalities giving informal talks and answering questions. Raymond Haight, whose voice is familiar as Laurel's announcer and race-caller, is scheduled as the first speaker on Thursday, August 1.

Nine races will be run daily except Sunday, with first race post time at 2 p.m.

School Receives March Of Dimes Grant

The National Foundation-March of Dimes has awarded a renewal grant of $50,000 to support the Arthritis Clinical Study Center at The Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, it was announced today jointly by Dr. Thomas B. Director of the center program is Dr. Lawrence E. Shulman, assistant professor of medicine. The

Read That Label!

Some of the most important but least read writings are on the containers of household chemicals and insecticides.

According to Charles E. Allderice, Jr., president of the Chemical Manufacturers Association, the labels instructing consumers on the proper and safe use of the chemical contents are probably, word for word, the most expensive literature written today.

Allderice says it takes five or six years of research and testing, and costs from $1 to $3 million for a chemical company to acquire the scientific evidence required to qualify for label registration for a new insecticide.

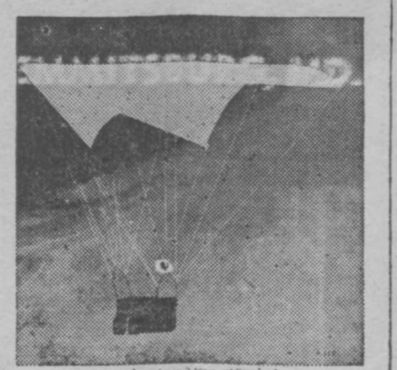

"Using any chemical without following directions is akin to reaching into the medicine cabinet in the dark and taking the first pill that comes to hand," Allderice says.

The manufacturers label not only outlines the safety precautions to be taken, it also tells exactly which insects will be destroyed by the product.

For example, the Department of Agriculture permits certain chemicals to be labeled for home use against roaches and silverfish but not against ants. Other chemicals are labeled for use in combating carpet beetles and spiders but not fleas or brown dog ticks.

"Before using any chemical substance in your home or garden," Allderice warns, "READ THAT LABEL!"

New Aerial Supply Concept

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Precision Drop Glider, a new concept in the aerial delivery of supplies, has been successfully tested at Yuma, Arizona, by the U.S. Army Transportation Research Command, Fort Eustis, Virginia.

Using the flexible wing concept (see photo), the precision drop glider is designed to deliver large quantities of supplies into areas of limited space. Priority cargo such as ammunition, food, medicine, etc., can be delivered by an aircraft without actually flying over the drop zone.

The paraglider wing, fabricated of extremely lightweight, flexible, plastic-coated material, is folded into a compact package similar to a parachute pack and attached to a cargo container. As the container is ejected, a static line attached to the aircraft begins a sequence of operations to deploy the glider, which carries the cargo container to earth.

A high degree of reliability was achieved in more than 130 missions flown at Army's Yuma Test Station, Yuma, Arizona. The system is ultimately designed to deliver cargoes as heavy as 5,000 pounds.

medical director of the study center grant is Dr. Mary Betty Stevens.

The general program of the Baltimore center aims at developing the best possible methods of treatment for patients with arthritic disorders of all kinds. This aim is backed by clinical research that seeks significant new knowledge in the arthritis field.

Much of the center's work is done with outpatients, but care in the hospital is provided for selected patients with cases of unusual interest and value in medical research and training.

In recent studies of 43 patients at the center and their families, a hint was found linking arthritis and thyroid disorders. This was based on the observation that relatives of arthritics in this group had a much higher incidence of thyroid disorders than the general population.

Under the March of Dimes renewal grant, the significance of this finding in larger numbers of patients will be probed.

The center staff has also been studying systemic lupus erythematosus, a serious connective tissue disease related in some respects to rheumatoid arthritis.

With all patients, special emphasis is put on collecting detailed information, including the date of onset, special factors in the life of the patient at that time that might have been related to the onset, medical history of family members, and the specific effects of all treatments attempted.

It is hoped that such careful recording of information may reveal new leads to the causes of connective tissue diseases and to improved methods of treating them.

Henry Ford was instrumental in bringing industry, agriculture and recreation to the South. His offer in 1921 to buy a government-owned nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala., on the Tennessee River, kindled interest of private and public groups, and helped bring about the Tennessee Valley Authority.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
ADVANCING AGE AND SIGHT

As we all know, many changes occur in the human body as we advance in age. For instance, the bones become harder and more brittle.

The eye begins to change at around 25 to 30 years of age. The crystalline lens begins to harden.

This hardening process, as with the bones, continues at all age levels. Between the ages of 40 and 45 it becomes most noticeable.

When reading, the print tends to blur and the reading matter has to be held at varying distances from the eye. This is because the lens is no longer as flexible as it was and cannot change its shape to focus for objects that are closer.

The focusing mechanism of the eye changes much like the bellows in a camera. It is doing this constantly, depending upon the sharpness or blurriness of the image received on the retina, or back of the eye.

Since this focusing is automatic, we take it for granted. Only when the lens hardens do we realize its importance.

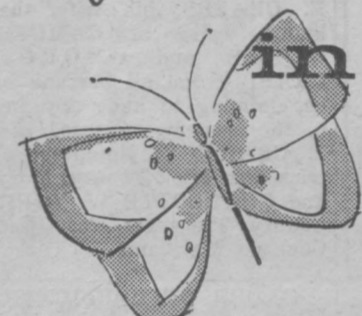

Remember, however, that this condition is normal and does not mean weakness or disease. With bifocal, or even trifocal contact lenses, or spectacles the useful age of mankind has been extended.

A professional eye examination at regular intervals—every six months, according to the National Eye Research Foundation—is a certain method of knowing your exact eye condition.

Wesley

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 25—A few years ago I used to hear people grumbling about the high cost of living wherever I went. The other day it occurred to me that I had not heard much complaining along those lines for quite a while. I wondered whether consumers had simply become used to ever-climbing retail costs or whether the long-term climb had stopped without my realizing it.

what they tell us about the present economic condition of the average American family. Living costs have, of course, been on the rise, long term, ever since the pit of the terrible depression of the early 1930's. On several occasions, especially after World War II, the advances were spectacular, and were keenly felt by all consumers.

But here is something that I do not see commonly stressed in the papers and magazines: Over the past five years, the consumer price index has moved ahead on average only 1% a year. While this does represent some pressure on the upside, it shows remarkable stability when you consider that since 1930 the cost of living as measured by the Labor Department has skyrocketed 119%. So it is not surprising that the average consumer has not suffered seriously from the 1% annual boost of the past five years. Gains have simply not been big enough to cause grumbling.

Prices Versus Incomes
Beyond that, too, incomes have been swelling at a far more rapid rate than have retail prices of goods and services. Tracing the figures back to 1947, about half way between the end of World War II and the beginning of the Korean War, they show that the cost of living has moved up 30% since that time. But take a look at U. S. incomes for the same span. They have climbed 127%. Even the rather abrupt jump in consumer prices from 1957 to 1959 of 5.4% looks pale beside the uprush of 24% in personal income for the same two-year spell.

There is no question but that American consumers are better off right now than they were even five years ago. They have

JOHN W. CRABBS and MARY
E. CRABBS, his wife, the unknown heirs of SAMUEL A. CRABBS and GEORGE F. CRABBS, and all persons having or claiming to have any interest in the property assessed to DAN S. CRABBS in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, Maryland, and CHARLOTTE W. YARROLL, County Treasurer for Frederick County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this proceeding is to foreclose all rights of redemption of the Defendants in and to a property assessed to Dan S. Crabbs in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, Maryland, containing 8 acres, more or less. The Bill states in substance that Charlotte W. Yarroll, County Treasurer for Frederick County, State of Maryland, offered at public auction the real estate assessed to the said Dan S. Crabbs (also known as Daniel S. Crabbs) in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, Maryland. That said real estate is now vested in Nellie B. Crabbs, widow, John W. Crabbs and Mary E. Crabbs, his wife, the unknown heirs of Samuel A. Crabbs and George F. Crabbs, and any other persons having or claiming to have any interest in said property. That said sale was held on April 9, 1962, and the purchaser was Earle D. Hightower at the sum of Eight Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($850.00). That said sale was made in satisfaction of unpaid taxes due and owing the State of Maryland and Frederick County for the year 1961. That the purchaser paid the sum of Eighteen Dollars and Thirty-four Cents ($18.34) toward the purchase of said real estate and that the sum of Twenty-Nine Dollars and Ninety-Seven Cents ($29.97) including taxes, interest and costs necessary to redeem the property has not been paid and the property not redeemed, although one year from the date of sale has passed, that a final decree is prayed for, foreclosing all rights of redemption of the defendants in and to the property assessed to Dan S. Crabbs.

It is THEREUPON this 3rd day of July, 1963, by the Circuit Court of Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this Order of Publication be published for at least 4 successive weeks prior to the 10th day of August, 1963, in some newspaper published in Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the non-resident defendants Nellie B. Crabbs, who resides at Route 2, Littlestown, Pennsylvania, and the unknown heirs of Samuel A. Crabbs as well as the unknown heirs of George F. Crabbs, deceased, and all other persons having or claiming to have any interest in the property, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by solicitor on or before the 18th day of September, 1963, to show cause if any they have, why the relief sought should not be granted.

the actual money to buy more than they ever have been able to before in our nation's history. And I would like to point out, also, that the quality of goods obtainable is, on the whole, better than ever. This applies not only to our own goods, but even to those being imported so heavily from foreign lands. This is a reflection of the improved industrial standards emerging in Western Europe, South America, Japan, etc. And of course, many products from overseas are available to our consumers at prices considerably below those of our native goods, — a boon for the buyer.

How About Pensioned Workers?
When the cost of living climbs, nobody suffers more than those with a fixed income, such as those living on pensions, social security, or investments with a set interest. After the end of World War II and after the Korean War the swift uprush of living costs hurt such people badly. Over the past five years, while the pinch became very faintly tighter, it did not intrude so bitterly upon disposable income of those with fixed spending power as it had in previous years. I am often asked whether the upsurge of retail prices and wage rates that has persisted since the early 1930's will continue indefinitely. At present there does not seem to be any reason to expect a reversal of this long-term wage-price inflation. But there are many factors which will be likely to hold it within reasonable check, at least for a considerable length of time.

Competition Has Its Value
Perhaps the most powerful checkrein on the consumer price index over the past five years has been competition, both domestic and foreign. Rivalry will become only the more intense over the period ahead, and it will be virtually impossible for manufacturers or service vendors to hike prices substantially without losing their competitive position in both domestic and overseas markets. More likely, savings will be sought via wider technological improvements and automation. This will tend to hold at a minimum further wage-price increases.

Recommends Federal Development Of Assateague Island

In a report submitted to Governor Tawes this week, the Maryland Economic Development Commission recommended federal development of Assateague Island. "The ultimate economic benefit to Worcester County and the State of Maryland will be greater if Assateague Island is developed as a national seashore than if it is left in the hands of private developers for motels, hotels, and low density home use," the report said.

Based on a review of many studies and reports an Assateague Island by both proponents and opponents to federal development, the Commission's report also said that adequate protection for the island under private development would require an outlay of State funds of at least $7,000,000, and questioned whether this would be a "sound and equitable expenditure of tax money."

The chief reason the Commission gave for favoring federal development, however, was the greater economic benefits would result. Using the Cape Hatteras (N.C.) national seashore as an example, the report confirmed the Department of Interior's estimate that Assateague would attract at least 3,000,000 visitors a year if developed by the federal government. "Such an influx into Worcester County would generate a boom of major proportions throughout the entire area," the report said.

The report also predicted that federal development of Assateague would lengthen the tourist season and increase land values in the Maryland seashore area. Although it did not delve deeply into what it called "engineering problems" — water supply, sewage disposal, erosion control, etc.—the report noted that there is sufficient controversy over such problems to make uncertain "the feasibility of Assateague being able to maintain such services in a manner consistent with accepted standards" if the island were privately developed.

The report was signed by Harry A. Boswell, Jr., Chairman of the Maryland Economic Development Commission, and George W. Hubley, Jr., Director of the Maryland Department of Economic Development. But Hubley pointed out that the report had been unanimously approved by the nine members of the 12-man, state-wide Commission with whom it had been discussed. Three of the members were on vacation or otherwise unavailable, Hubley said.

Your Personal Health

Beat The Heat
Whether it's the heat or the humidity or both, it's hot in most of the United States in July. In some places it's hotter than others, but it's still hot.

After a month or so of sweating and steaming, it's not uncommon to find the heat is beginning to wear you down.

There's nothing you can do about the outside temperature. Unless you're fortunate enough to have air conditioning in your office or shop, home and auto, there's nothing much you can do about it inside either.

But there are some things you can do to be more comfortable—things that can help you beat the heat.

Stay out of the sun as much as possible, especially during the middle of the day when rays are hottest. Wear light, loose clothing, the less the better. The ladies have an edge over the men in this respect. Drink more liquids than usual, but take extra salt only on your physician's advice, particularly if you have liver or kidney trouble or a heart condition.

Take a shower or a dip in the pool once or twice a day to cool off. Get plenty of rest and sleep. Eat your regular diet and don't go overboard on cold cuts, and salads, unless you like them anyway.

Get up early in the morning to do your heavy work on the lawn or garden. Or work at dusk in the evening, but try to avoid heavy exertion during the hottest hours of the day.

You need exercise in the summer as well as in the winter, but don't overdo it, especially on extra hot days. Don't overdo physical exertion, whether at work or play.

The more relaxed outdoor life of the summer months has many advantages to compensate for the heat. Stay relaxed and use common sense, and you can beat the heat—at least somewhat.

Homes Abound with Potential Poisons, AMA Official Warns

Children, supposedly "safe at home," are poisoning themselves at the rate of nearly 1,500 a day.

"When you consider that more than a quarter million home-used products on the market contain toxins, it is not difficult to understand why more than 500 children die each year from self-administered poisons," said F. J. L. Blasingame, M.D., executive vice-president of the American Medical Association.

Children are naturally curious, especially the very young ones. They are prone to stick into their mouths anything they can get in their hands. It doesn't even have to taste good or look pretty.

Most accidental poisonings occur in children under five. Two-year-olds are the most poison prone, with one-year-olds close behind. At this stage in life their curiosity is at its height and their sense of fear not yet developed, Dr. Blasingame explained.

Medicine, especially aspirin, heads the list of items children seem to like to sample, accounting for nearly half of all accidental poisonings. In fact, too much of virtually any medicine can produce serious consequences.

Among the supposed non-edibles that frequently find their way into children's stomachs are cleaning and polishing agents, detergents, shoe polish, cosmetics, waxes, insecticides, paint, turpentine, chalk, bleaches, plant foods, plaster, perfume and decorations.

Medicines account for nearly half of all accidental poisoning in United States each year. Discard unused medicine and keep rest out of children's reach.

A primary cause of such accidents, says Dr. Blasingame, is storing poisonous substances in food containers or soft drink bottles. A toddler just naturally assumes that a soft drink bottle contains a treat. He'll drink whatever he finds in it.

"The facts are clear," he warned. "Between 65 and 70 per cent of all poisonings take place because an item was accessible to a child.

"If we're going to live in modern homes with modern conveniences and modern medicines, we have to develop some up-to-date standards that will make home safe for our children."

Among suggestions for lessening the poisoning hazards in the home, Dr. Blasingame suggested:

- Keep potential poisons out of reach and tightly sealed.
- Never transfer toxic materials into household utensils.
- Don't leave your child alone in a room in which you're working with poisons.
- Give medicines only in a lighted room.

If your child might have taken a poisonous substance, call your doctor for instructions at once. Don't wait to see what happens.

Another nice thing about Savings Bonds is the way they grow on you

Besides growing 33 1/2% bigger at maturity, Bonds tend to settle in and become members of the family.

So, although you can get your money anytime with U. S. Savings Bonds, most people hate to do it. To them a Savings Bond is for the long pull. Sort of an ace-in-the-hole. When the roof needs new shingles, or the living room needs carpeting, a Bond isn't likely to get cashed in if there's any other way to finance the job.

This can come in handy if you're the type who finds it almost impossible to put money aside—and leave it there.

You don't have to worry about the money you put in Bonds, either. It will keep on growing even beyond the maturity date. (People who held those first Series E Bonds issued back in the early '40s are still earning interest—and at a better rate than they started with.)

Investing in Savings Bonds is popular as well as profitable. Right now Americans own over $48 billion worth—an all-time high. Besides building financial strength for millions of families, this money is doing an important job for America at a time when the enemies of freedom are stronger than ever.

This month, ask your employer to put $13.75 (or more) into the Payroll Savings Plan for you. You'll soon have a nest egg you can hang onto. What's more, you'll feel pretty good about it.

Quick facts about U. S. Savings Bonds

Plaintiffs

vs.

devises, personal representatives, descendants or successors in interest of
SUSAN FOGLE
Defendants

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this Bill is that the court may take jurisdiction in the premises and enter a Decree removing the cloud upon the title of the Complainants, and that the Court shall declare that the Complainants have a good and marketable fee simple title to the property described in the Bill of Complaint, and may sell or convey or otherwise deal with such property without regard to the claims of the unknown heirs, devises, personal representatives, descendants or successors in interest of Susan Fogle.

The Bill recites that the Complainants, Atlee E. Green and Dorothy I. Green, his wife, are the owners of a tract of real estate situate, lying and being in Liberty Election District, Frederick County, Maryland, said tract of land lying on the west side of the road leading from Libertytown to Woodsboro, about 1.7 miles north of Libertytown, and containing 11 acres, 1 rod and 11 1/2 sq. perches more or less, it being all and the same property conveyed to the said Atlee E.
Green and Dorothy I. Green, his wife, by deed from Raymond O.
Smith and Annie E. Smith, his wife, dated the 10th day of October, 1941 and recorded in Liber
430, Folio 26, one of the Land
Records of Frederick County, Maryland.

The Bill further states that the above described property is the same property that was conveyed to Raymond O. Smith and Annie E. Smith, his wife, by deed from Earl Steel and Margaret R. Steel, his wife, dated March 24, 1927 and recorded in Liber 632, Folio 38, one of the Land Records aforesaid; it being also the same property conveyed unto Earl Steel and Susan Fogle by deed from George T. Bowers dated January 2, 1902 and recorded in Liber DHH No.
13, Folio 193, one of the Land
Records aforesaid; certified copies of said deeds being filed with the Bill.

The Bill further states that a question has now been raised as to whether the Complainants have a good and marketable title to said premises; that the Complainants are now in possession of the premises openly, notoriously, adversely under claim of right and with color of title and that the predecessors in title of the Complainants have also been in such continuous adverse possession under claim of right and with color of title since 1927; that the Complainants and their solicitor have made reasonable efforts to ascertain the heirs, devisees, personal representatives, descendants or successors in interest of the said Susan Fogle but have been unable to discover them.

It is thereupon this 1st day of July, 1963, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, and by the authority thereof, ORDERED that the Complainants, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Frederick County, once a week in each of four successive weeks, the last of such publications to be made not less than thirty days before the 3rd day of September, 1963, give notice to the unknown heirs, devises, personal representatives,
descendants or successors in interest of Susan Fogle, whether residents or non-residents, of the object and substance of the Bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of September, 1963, to show cause, if any they have, why a Decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

and lack of information. Altogether, the whole area has been clouded and the public confused. He commends conclusions presented by Washington reper Earl H. Voss, in a book titlet Nuclear Ambush: The Test Ban Trap, which he says can help clarify the issue by clearing away some of the misconceptions and misunderstandings.

Among the book's conclusions approved by the Senator are these, the dangers of radio-active fallout from tests have been greatly exaggerated; the techniques for avoiding detection have developed faster than methods for making detection possible; even many on-site inspections would not prevent the Soviet Union from testing secretly; and other nations, such as Red China and France, will very likely keep on testing. Fear of the unknown can be eliminated through information, and then one can view other considerations in perspective, the Senator says.

The British have shown themselves ready to go all out to achieve a total ban of nuclear tests. The French have said they will go on testing, regardless of what the U. S. and Russia do. The enigma of Russian intent is open to some speculation, although it does seem certain that Russian purposes now lie in something else than achieving a test-ban with teeth in it. One can reasonably assume that the Soviets might have taken this course at Geneva, or some other, if it had desired anything other than U.
S. unilateral disarmament.

There are those who envision a disarmed world, except for a United Nations peace force.
Such disarmament proposals are being put forth by the U.
S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, but they are not about to be ratified by the Senate, even if they are received with warmth at the United Nations. Even Mr. Kennedy's highly speculative disarmament messages make unrealistic reading. These idealistic impulses apparently originate from persons who are not curageous enough to deal with the world as it is, who avoid the Monroe Doctrine and allow Communist free run of the hemisphere.

No Hope in Treaties

ical reasons, the American people should be told by our lead-

Route 1, Walkersville, Maryland

vs.
CHARLES UPTON CROSS
c/o Mrs. Iona Bryant 1128 North Jackson Street
Arlington, Arlington County, Virginia

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Virginia Palmer Cross, from the Defendant, Charles Upton Cross.

The Bill states in substance that the parties were married on the 14th day of September, 1946, in Washington, D. C., by a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that they lived together as man and wife in Montgomery County, Maryland, in Washington, D. C., and in Frederick County, Maryland; that the Defendant deserted the Complainant; that there is no hope or expectation of a reconciliation; that the Defendant has drunk excessively and has frequently inflicted physical cruelty upon the Complainant; that no children were born as a result of said marriage; that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County and has been for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and that his last known place of residence was in Arlington, Virginia. The Bill prays that the Complainant be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII.

It is thereupon this 15th day of July, 1963, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, OR-DERED that the Complainant give notice to the said non-resident Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 17th day of August, 1963, commanding him to be and appear in this court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of September, 1963, and show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

overlord, that would lead us to believe that any agreement would be kept one minute after there should be advantage to the Soviets in breaking it or sneaking past its provisions.
Moreover, we have no reason to believe that the Russians will ever willingly take second-best or even equality, in nuclear competition.

Apparently, the President is hoping to soften strongly entrenched suspicions toward U.
S. purposes, while at the same time preparing Congress to set aside their well-founded distrust of Communist agreements.
It is a large order that consumes valuable time. The Russians show increasing signs of winning the Cold War. So far, the U. S. is sovereign and free, the only hope of the free world to escape from tyranny. Since this game of power politics has freedom as its pawn, Mr. Kennedy had better win it.

1963 Wheat Price Announced

Prices for the 1963 crop of Maryland wheat stored in terminal warehouses in Baltimore will be supported at $2.22 a bushel,

William L. Dudley, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, announced this week. County support rates on farm stored wheat range from $1.95 a bushel to $2.08 a bushel, which reflect the terminal rate less the freight and handling charges needed to get the wheat to terminal markets.

In addition to these rates, farmers who participated in the 1962 Wheat Stabilization Program are eligible for an additional 18 cents per bushel support payment on their normal wheat yield.

The basic rate is for wheat grading No. 1, clear, and it is adjusted by discounts for grade and quality to determine support prices for individual producers.

To be eligible for loan the wheat must be grade No. 3 or better, or grade No. 4 or No. 5 on basis of test weight but otherwise No. 3 or better. As in past years, price support will be carried out through farm and warehouse-stored loans and purchase agreements and will be available from harvesttime through January 31, 1964.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

When the difficult midsummer fishing begins varies not only with latitude and altitude, but can be very different in two lakes alongside each other, says Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. One may be shallow all over, easily warmed by the air; the other may have many deep spots, perhaps with those fine, sudden drop-offs from comparative shallows, water weeds along their edges. If you can, avoid the former kind in midsummer and fish the latter.

What if the only lakes available to you are very shallow? You might do well in bass by fishing after, say, about ten at night with a surface lure. Most anglers have a strong preference for mainly-black lures for night fishing, and perhaps bass do, too; anyhow, I think them always at least as good as those of any other color then—and topwaters perhaps always best at night for bass in a shallow lake.

Walleyes are even more inclined than bass to feed at night; maybe that's why their eyes look that way. Theoretically, they too are supposed to strike well on topwaters at night, but I've personally found mighty few occasions when they would; I could practically always catch far more on under-waters.

What of pike in warm water? Frankly, I expect to catch but few, and small ones then. Spring is the time to get most pike, including some good ones, and very late fall is the time to catch most really large pike.

Much of the same goes for walleyes. There are very few places indeed where a reasonable number of them, especially better ones, can be taken when the water is warm.

In some places crappie fishing holds up quite well through midsummer, when it can become poor, to remain so through fall.

Bluegills are the one game fish that are practically certain to afford sport fit for a king all season until late fall. They're reliable hitters if you work things right.

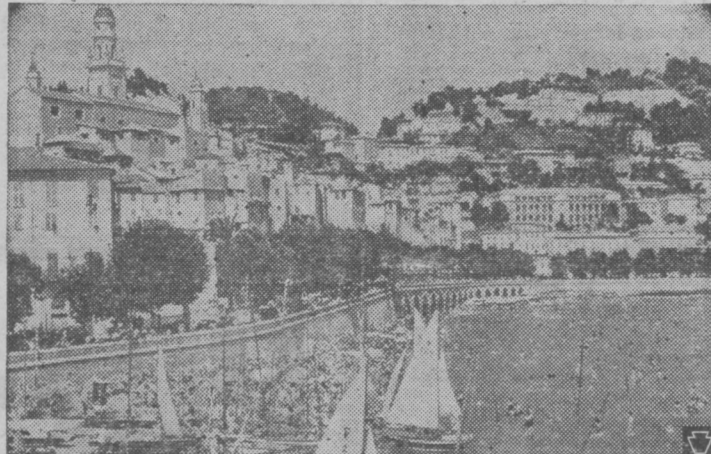

From all the foregoing, you may have deduced, correctly, that I consider bass the one larger game fish that you're likely to catch satisfactorily when the lakes are warm. But I'm warning you that—well, to put it mildly, you won't need to carry a baseball bat along to fight them out of your boat.

OUTDOOR SPORTS TIPS

Mystery Buoy

Cagey salt water fishermen know this tip. It's a way to mark a place you don't want anyone to find. Simply soak a wooden buoy in salt brine for several days. Then attach it to its anchor and the side, buoy, rope and anchor sink. BUT salt leeching out of wood

American Families Flock To Riviera

More and more American tourists are flying to Nice which, after Paris, has become the second most popular travel destination in France. A sea resort long frequented by royalty and movie stars, today the Cote d'Azur is readily accessible to families from all over the United States.

The Riviera's variety of holiday pleasures appeal to American families. The best of many worlds enchants those who seek scenic and historic wonders, sports in the sun, elegant night-life, museums, as well as pottery, perfume and craft centers.

French families from Paris and elsewhere in France return year after year to the Riviera, taking their children along. Budget-conscious, like most travelers, they often stay at smaller hotels or "pensions" where rates are reasonable, meals are served with less formality, and children are more than welcome. A practical tip for U.S. traveling families: Ask for a child's bed in your double room. It's an accepted custom and costs but a few additional francs.

A timesaver for those traveling with children is the direct Air France service, New York-Paris-Nice, without change of plane. Flying time aboard the French airline's Intercontinental jets is eight hours and five minutes.

Comprehensive information about the French Riviera is gathered in a 44-page illustrated booklet entitled "You on the Riviera," and is available without charge at all Air France offices throughout the United States and Canada.

Treat For Sunday Supper

It's fun to vary the standard meat, potatoes and vegetable menu fare for Sunday night supper. Something that's easy to make and popular with the family—sandwiches, pancakes or waffles—makes a good Sunday night supper menu. And sausage corn bread with fried apple rings tops all for variety. It's this easy.

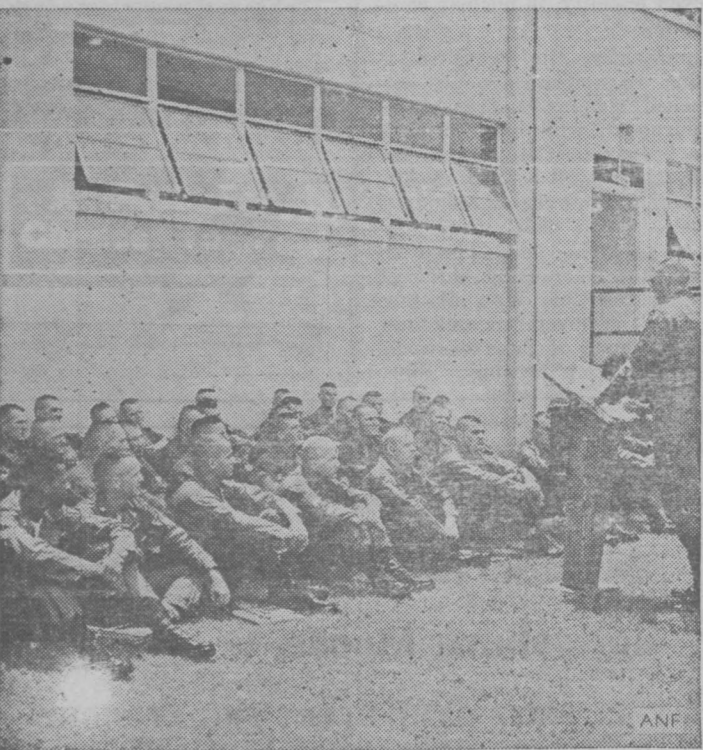

For the corn bread, begin with a package of corn muffin mix. Along with the usual egg and milk add tender kernels of corn. Blend ingredients, then circle the pan of corn bread with cooked sausage link "spokes" and it's ready to bake! A wedge of golden corn bread with its sausage link baked right on top is yummy served hot with syrup. Apple rings fried in butter are a flavorful accompaniment. Try this new menu next Sunday!

SAUSAGE CORN WEDGES

Makes 8 servings

- One 12-oz. pkg. Flako Corn Muffin Mix
- 1 egg
- 2/3 cup milk
- 1 cup drained whole kernel corn
- 8 cooked pork sausage links

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). Empty contents of package into bowl; add corn, egg and milk. Blend only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened. (Batter should be slightly lumpy.) Pour into greased 9-inch round layer cake pan. Arrange sausage links as "spokes" over top of batter. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) 20 minutes or until golden brown. Cut in wedges; serve piping hot with maple-blended syrup.

ARMY INFORMATION CLASS—Officer Candidates are an attentive audience for classmate H. S. Brown's presentation on Astronaut Maj Cooper's recent space flight. Students at the Fort Benning, Ga., Officer Candidate School produce and present their own information classes which are then evaluated by their Platoon Tactical Officers. Instruction at the school is designed to develop qualities of responsibility, leadership, and command as well as knowledge of a wide range of military subjects.

PUT MORE EGGS IN HER FEED!

Many farmers in this community can tell you there is a difference in the rations they get ground and mixed for their chickens and livestock.

You supply the grain. The difference comes in the kind of concentrate used and the right amount for proper balance.

If you believe there is a difference in results you get, you ought to try out our Check-R-Mix Service. Here is why we think you'll like it:

1. We balance all rations according to formulas tested and approved at the Purina Research Farm. We don't add more Purina Concentrate than is needed. We add just enough to give you lowest practical cost in the feedlot, dairy barn or henhouse.
2. We do quick and careful grinding and mixing.

3. We will pick up and deliver on call when you are busy in the fields.

4. We can deliver in bag or bulk, and we'll put the Check-R-Mix rations where you want them.

Give us a call. Prove to yourself . . . Purina Check-R-Mix feeding can cost you less.

All About Dogs

Unusual Canine Capers

At one time or another you probably heard an exciting story about hunting dogs. But did you know there are dogs who fish?

The Ainus of Japan train dogs to swim hundreds of yards out to see in two parallel columns; to turn on command and paddle toward each other, and at a second signal swim shoreward, driving the fish into shallow water. Then each dog snaps up his catch and brings it to his master.

Dogs of Portugal sail with fishing fleets to dive for nets and gear. They also carry messages between boats. Along the coast of Normandy dogs hunt eels. Labrador sled dogs, left to fend for themselves in summer, scour the shallows for finny tidbits.

Through the ages dogs have helped man in many unusual ways. Canine authority Clarence C. Fawcett of the Purina Dog Care Center, St. Louis, Mo., notes that in addition to hunting game, dogs have been trained to find plants and vegetables. Some European hounds, for example, sniff the woodland for truffles—a tasty fungus that grows underground and is highly prized by gourmets.

Arctic dogs were not only used to draw sleds but they also towed boats through canals and up rivers. "It appears," Fawcett says, "that dogs can handle just about any job man can think up. Before electric appliances, dogs were hooked up to wheels and treadmills for turning roasting spits, raising well water and churning butter."

A Western railroad uses sheep dogs to keep their tracks clear of animals . . . and pedestrians. One utility company employs a pack to sniff out leaks in gas pipes, and an Allentown, Pa., storekeeper has his German Shepherd carry the day's cash receipts to the bank.

Holy Name Game August 6

Ticket sales are moving fast for the Tenth Annual Holy Name Family Night, scheduled for Tuesday, August 6 at Memorial Stadium in Baltimore. Featuring a game between the Orioles and the Cleveland Indians, the event is sponsored by the Holy Name Union of the Archdiocese of Baltimore to provide scholarships for needy boys.

Pre-game ceremonies will include a parade in which the Knights of Columbus, the Catholic War Veterans, the Jewish War Veterans, the Department of Maryland, Baltimore Post Office Band, several drum and bugle corps and the Catholic Youth Organization will participate.

Frank Hennessey will be master of ceremonies for the event, which will also include the presentation of the annual Holy Name Award to Nicholas C. D'Adamo.

Pre-game festivities will get under way at 7 p.m. with the game scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Tickets are available at Catholic parishes throughout the state and also at Memorial Stadium box office. Monsignor John C. Griffith is Archdiocesan Director of the Holy Name and Paul J. Nevin, Archdiocesan Holy Name Union President, is general chairman of this year's game.

The Parade Marshal will be Paul P. Zawicki, State Commander of the Catholic War Veterans. He will be assisted by Gene Shue, star of the New York Knickerbocker professional basketball team.

Walter D. Hyde, Jr. is Chairman of the parade and field activities.

Motorists To Pay Postage On Tags

John R. Jewell, Maryland's Commissioner of Motor Vehicles this week again reminded motorists that since June 1, 1963 applications for license tags to be mailed from the Department must include fees to cover postage.

The new fee resulted from enactment of House Bill 1115 by the recent session of the Maryland General Assembly calling for "prepayment of postage for mailing registration plates."

The postage rate was established as 14 cents for mailing trailer tags and 6 cents for motorcycle plates. Applications for all passenger cars and truck plates must include 26 cents for mailing of tags.

Commissioner Jewell stated "Maryland motorists will save themselves a great deal of time and inconvenience if they submit the proper amount of postage for the mailing of their plates when they make application to the Department."

The man who watches the clock will always be one of the hands.
