Many residents are somewhat disturbed and irritated over the rusty condition of the local water supply recently. For almost two weeks now the water appears to be a somewhat rusty brown. Information has it that some work is being done on pipes and valves and that one of the reservoirs is being cleaned causing a flare-up of sediment in the system. It is believed the situation will be remedied in the near future just as soon as the work on the lines has been completed. In the meantime citizens are asked not to become alarmed over the condition of the water as it cannot make one ill.

The Town Council would like to inform the public that the water is perfectly safe, that it has been tested by the Health Dept. several times and there is positively nothing harmful in it. Council says that when pressure from Rainbow Lake was applied to the extension mains supplying other reservoirs that the pressure loosened algae and rust in the lines and that in several more days the situation will be normal.

The local attendance at the Horse Show was very disturbing to producers of the show and also to many local people who did attend the event. Aside from the committees, exhibitors and out-of-towners, it was estimated that less than 100 local people were in attendance. This is a sad commentary on the charitable spirit of a proud town. The show is held for the benefit of local charity cases yet the local people don't patronize it. What's the answer? Out-of-towners do their part in patronizing the show by attending it and showing their horses. Out-of-town merchants advertise in the program to help the cause along but where does Emmitsburg come in? Aside from those local merchants who advertise in the program little or no support is accorded the affair. For 15 years bad attendance has been plaguing the show, one of the largest and nicest around so I wonder when Emmitsburgians are going to wisp up and learn to take care of their own charity cases? My heartiest congratulations to the members of the various committees and the Lions Club for a job well done despite adverse conditions and public apathy.

The State Roads Commission is doing a splendid job on North Seton Ave. An unsightly and dangerous condition that has existed there for many years is being remedied. All this week workmen have been busy widening and blacktopping several hundred feet of the avenue giving it a much neater appearance and improving the safety at that point. Then again the Roads Commission has done considerable widening and general improving of the road farther north. Our thanks to the Commission for its kind attention.

Fire Destroys Large Barn Near Here

Fire completely razed a large barn on the Harry Prongas property on the Old Frederick Road Tuesday afternoon. The alarm was answered by the Vigilant Hose Co. and Guardian Hose Co. of Thurmont at 4:10 p. m. Fire Chief Sterling White reported.

The fire destroyed a barn containing 3,000 bales of hay located three miles south of Emmitsburg near Motters Station.

The 40x80 foot bank barn of frame construction, with a foundation of concrete block, was completely burned. Firemen were unable to determine the origin of the blaze but said it might have been spontaneous combustion.

Destroyed along with the barn itself were an adjoining crib barn, a combine, a corn-picker and the hay. Mr. Prongas could not estimate the amount of damage to his property but said everything was fully insured.

The barn was well on its way to being destroyed when firemen arrived at the scene and it was reported they could do no more than prevent the fire's spread to other buildings on the farm.

Chief White said the fire would probably smoulder all night and Mr. Prongas would keep an eye on the ruins throughout the night. The majority of the firemen left at about 6:30 p. m., the last Emmitsburg truck leaving at 10 p. m. Several head of cattle were removed from the barn safely before the blaze gained a foothold.

The annual family picnic of the Gettysburg Young Farmers Association was held Sunday evening at the home of Milton Hoffman, Gettysburg, Md., with 136 present, including 84 children. The committee for the picnic included Daniel Hoffman, chairman, Paul Waybright, Lyndale Brandon and Clyde Detrick.

Richard Waybright, chairman of the Farm-City Day program to be held Saturday, August 17, from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. at the Clarence Eyer farm near Barlow, reported on plans for that event. He said a meeting of the full committee will be held August 7 at the Eyer farm and on August 15 a briefing session will be held for all participants in the Farm-City Day program at the farm.

As has been the case during the last several years, the Business and Professional Women's Club of Gettysburg will serve as hostesses and the Kiwanis Club members will operate a refreshment stand in connection with the Farm-City Day program. Wagon tours of the farm will be provided and in addition tours of the barn and other parts of the farm will be conducted. Milking operations will be under way from 4:30 to 6 p. m. at the farm.

Announcement of the retirement was made by Dr. Edward Alton, Director of the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Maryland.

Dr. Alton, in his announcement, said, "The services of this quiet, efficient and popular County Agent have gained the respect of the people of Frederick County, fellow extension agents, as well as the people of Maryland. LIONS CLUB HORSE SHOW SUCCESS

The fifteenth annual Horse Show sponsored by the Emmitsburg Lions Club will go down in the records as one of the most successful in recent years. General Chairman Joseph M. Haley, reported this week.

The show was held last Sunday at the Civic Grounds east of town under a blistering sun. Attendance was somewhat hampered by the intense heat of the day but many braved the temperatures to witness the show.

Guy A. Baker Jr., show secretary, reported over 100 horses and ponies participated in the event, the highest number in years and that the show was apparently successful financially. Lions Club officials said that a financial report was not available at this time but that a detailed account would be published at a later date. The show is a member of the Maryland-Pennsylvania Horse Show Circuit. Proceeds from the affair are used by the Lions for community welfare projects.

Construction Begun On MSM Science Building

Ground was broken Tuesday morning on the new million dollar Science Building at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

Designed by F. Edwards Torrey, Jr., the exterior of the three-story structure will be a modified Georgian design with walls of rough-hewn variegated stone quarried from the mountains on the college properties. The 34-foot wide by 29-foot high Indiana limestone front entrance is a pilastered facade for the full height of the building and is capped by a pediment.

The steps at the base of the entrance are of Mount Airy granite with wrought-iron handrails and limestone and granite cheek walls. The large central section of the building, for which the Lawrence Construction Company, Inc., Baltimore, is the general contractor, will have an expressed slate roof in keeping with the roofs of Pangborn and Sheridan halls nearby to the north. This attic area will serve as space for the elevator penthouse, fan room for the ventilating system and other mechanical equipment.

The two wings adjoining the central section will have flat roofs in keeping with the library to the south. All cut stone, such as water table at the second-floor line, cornices, parapet coping and mullions between the windows on the second and third floors will be buff Indiana Lime Limestone. All windows will be of the wood double-hung type.

The interior walls will be painted cinder concrete masonry. Ceilings will be of acoustical panels. There will be two stairways for efficient and easy circulation throughout the building.

The first floor of the building is principally for physics. A lecture hall, seating 152, will be reached from this floor. There will be a greenhouse, room for small animals and a refrigerator room for use of the biology department on this level.

The second floor will be given over to biology. There will also be three faculty research rooms with offices adjoining a seminar room, a lecture room, student research room and storage space.

The chemistry department will be on the top floor. There will be a large lecture room, instrument room, three offices, two research rooms, a balance room, dark room and ample preparation and stock rooms.

Complains About Water Condition

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

I have been drinking Emmitsburg water for over 60 years and now it has become so foul in color and taste that I am thinking the water line and the sewer line have crossed somewhere.

Where can a taxpayer get help to get clean water? What has happened to the fine-salaried Health Department of Frederick County? Why is there no consideration given to producing God's gift—clean water—so it reaches us clean and pure? Please help an American taxpayer to get clean water!
