Emmitsburg will receive a distinguished visitor Saturday when the mother of President Kennedy journeys here for a visit to Saint Joseph College. Mrs. Rose Kennedy will be the recipient of an honorary degree at an honors convocation being held at the local college on that day. Mrs. Kennedy will be the first person of international prominence to come to Emmitsburg since former President Eisenhower received his honorary degree at the Mount several years ago. We sincerely hope the President's mother enjoys her short visit with us. It would be nice if the distinguished son would happen to come along.

Did you know that Maryland is ranked the safest state in the Nation? Despite the steadily increasing number of highway fatalities our fair Free State leads the country in highway safety. Maryland is out in front of its nearest competitors by a 4% margin. This is indeed a tribute to our state officials, Roads Commission, State Police and the drivers. Let's try and stay on top folks.

With the Town's delay in hiring a policeman a dangerous situation exists at the Mother Seton School. It was noted that several mornings this week the 400 little students attending school there have had to cross dangerous Route 15 without adult supervision. This condition is inexcusable and we sincerely hope that remedial action will be taken by our Town Council before some unfortunate fatality occurs. It has actually been over five weeks since our policeman resigned the position and the Town has been without local police protection all that time.

I am in receipt of an anonymous unsigned letter criticizing one of our Town officials. Naturally I am not going to publish it. My advice to the writer is to check in at the Town Office where you will find all the answers as to how much money each Commissioner and the Mayor is paid, how much salary workmen for the Town receive and also as to the permanency of their jobs and also as to the duties of the Town Officials. The answers are all there and you have a perfect right to ask for them as all Town records are public.

Local Scouts Enjoy Bowling

Cub Scout Dens 1 and 2 participated in bowling last week at the Emmitsburg Recreation Center. The bowling was spirited and several nice scores were posted by the small Scouts. A team of Brownies also bowled and the competition between the little girls was keen.

The scores were as follows: Kenny Adelsberger, 51 and 59; Chris Warthen, 52; Dennis Miller, 33 and 47; Philip Little, 58 and 78; Thomas Eckenrode, 52 and 33; Stephen Sanders, 62 and 80; Jeffrey Sanders, 51 and 80; Gary Baker, 42; Gary Stouter, 55 and 48; Michael Myers, 47 and 73; Mark Zurgable, 52 and 57; Vincent Rosensteel, 44 and 56; Jimmy Phelan, 32 and 34; and Mario Ligorano, 34 and 52. Also Greg Hollinger, 51 and 49; John Hollinger, 47 and 59; Robert Henke, 60 and 73. The girls' scores were as follows: Barbara Seidel, 56; Donna Vaughn, 43; Marcella Nusbaum, 46 and 36; Linda Seidel, 50; Judy Seidel, 48 and 47; Debbie Vaughn, 49 and 57; and Darlene Nusbaum, 55 and 53.

Class Officer

Thomas F. Ross, senior accounting major, has been elected by the members of the senior class at Mount Saint Mary's College, to serve as vice president for the current academic year. Mr. Ross is the son of the late William J. and Mrs. Margaret L. Ross, Ashland, Pa.

In addition to his new office, he has been a member of the College's Business Society, president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and an active participant in the intramural sports program. Ross is a graduate of the Immaculate Heart High School, Fountain Springs, Pa.

Community Show Dates Scheduled

The Emmitsburg Grange will sponsor the annual Community Show on Friday and Saturday, October 11 and 12 in the Emmitsburg High School Auditorium.

Exhibits for this show will be able to be entered on Thursday evening, Oct. 10 from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m., and on Friday morning, Oct. 11 from 8 until 11:30 a.m. Anyone who wishes to receive a premium list will be glad to know that all school children will be given one to bring home. If you do not get a list please contact a Grange member.

Exhibits may be removed after 10 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 12 and must be claimed by 3 p.m., Sunday, October 13.

Two interesting programs are being planned for the show. On Friday evening, a member of the Soil Conservation Committee will show a movie "The Land is the Lord's." This is National Land Week and the movie is quite appropriate for this season.

On Saturday evening, the Emmitsburg Municipal Band, under the direction of Mr. Walter A. Simpson, will present a concert of varied music.

Let's all help make this year's show the biggest and the best we have ever held in this community.

The committee in charge reports the show all in readiness and has many interesting features. It also issued for publication the rules governing the show and the following premium list:

General Rules

Exhibitors are solicited from the residents of the Emmitsburg Community. All fruits and vegetables should be in clear glass containers. The show is striving for uniformity by requesting the use of quart containers, but pints will be accepted. Labels and markings will be handled upon presentation for entry. Only exhibits grown or made by the exhibitor shall be eligible for a prize. No more than one entry per person is permitted in each class under each department. Example: Each individual may exhibit under Dept. 3, clover, alfalfa, lespedeza and mixed hay, but two exhibits of alfalfa, etc., from one individual will not be permitted.

Exhibitors from out of the community and also antiques, will be welcome and displayed, but will not be judged or be eligible for a prize. No exhibit that has won in a former Emmitsburg Community Show will be eligible for a prize again this year. They may be placed on display, however.

The placings of the judges must be accepted as final. The show committee reserves the right to pass on any decisions not covered by these rules.

Exhibit List

- Dept. 1—Corn, 10 ear samples, open pollinated varieties, hybrid varieties, popcorn and sweetcorn.
- Dept. 2—Small grains and seeds, displayed in quart jars, wheat, barley, oats, rye, clover seed and timothy seed.

World Communion Sunday Observance At Local Churches

The Sacrament of The Lord's Supper will be administered this Sunday, October 6, at Elias Lutheran Church at 10:30 a.m. This is World Communion Sunday, which vividly brings to mind the world-wide reaches of the Christian Fellowship. It is on this day, each year, the first Sunday in October, that the Communion Table is 25,000 miles long as it extends around the world. The Lord's Table is spread first with its sacred emblems by those churches living just beyond the international date line—Fiji Islands, New Zealand, Australia, and others.

The Pastor, the Reverend W. Ronald Fearer, will preach the morning's sermon, which is entitled, "A Fellowship Without Frontiers."

The concept of a World Communion Sunday developed at the first meeting of the World Council of Churches in Amsterdam, Holland, in the summer of 1948. At this meeting, over one thousand delegates and visitors, representing the majority of the nations of the earth and the major Protestant groups of the world, came together and knelt at the Lord's Table to partake of the Holy Communion.

WILEY T. RIGHTNOUR

Wiley T. Rightnour, 80, died Monday morning at 1:30 o'clock at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Ryder, 327 N. Seton Ave., Emmitsburg, five days after the death of his wife.

Mrs. Rightnour died last Wednesday afternoon at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, after having been a patient there a week. Her funeral services were held Friday afternoon. The couple had been wed 53 years.

Mr. Rightnour had been under a physician's care for a heart condition for some time. Sunday his condition worsened and death followed Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Rightnour had resided at 320 N. Seton Ave. after moving to Emmitsburg from Gettysburg, 11 years ago. When Mrs. Rightnour became ill, they moved to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ryder.

A native of Woodlawn, Ill., Mr. Rightnour was a son of the late Thomas and Mary Rightnour. He was a retired farmer and he and his wife had been among the last homesteaders in South Dakota before moving to the Gettysburg area, along the Taneytown Rd.

He was a member of Trinity United Church of Christ, Gettysburg.

Surviving are three children: Miss E. Rose Rightnour, Baltimore; Wales Rightnour, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Gerald F. Ryder, Emmitsburg, and 10 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Bender Funeral Home, Gettysburg, with the Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox officiating. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg.

The pallbearers were Carl Menchey, Ray Kitzmiller, Elbert Harbaugh, John Brown, John Eckert and Harry Ridinger.

MRS. GEORGE W. ROOP

Mrs. Bertha Alice Roop, 88, died early Monday morning at the National Lutheran Home in Washington, D. C. She was a former resident of Keyville and widow of George W. Roop. She was a daughter of the late George and Julian (Stem) Nogle and had resided at the home for the last seven years.

Mrs. Roop, who was a member of the Keyville Lutheran Church, is survived by five children: G. Raymond, Emmitsburg; Curtis L. Hanover; Earl D., Taneytown; Charles W., Hanover, and Beulah A., Frederick, and a brother, John Nogle, Frederick.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the C. O. Fuss and Sons Funeral Home, Taneytown, with the Rev. Donald Brake officiating. Interment was made in the Keyville Cemetery.

MRS. CHARLES S. NAILL

Mrs. Daisy May Naill, 79, widow of Charles S. Naill, died at the Washington County Hospital last Thursday night after an illness of one month. She lived with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Stotler, Hagerstown.

She was born and reared in Emmitsburg, the daughter of Joseph and Susan (Shaffer) Grimes.

President's Mother To Visit Here

At an Academic Convocation on Saturday, Oct. 5 honoring the beatification of its foundress, Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton, Saint Joseph College will confer honorary degrees on His Excellency, the Most Rev. Lawrence J. Shehan, D.D., Archbishop of Baltimore; Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of President Kennedy; and Miss Sarah Christie, assistant superintendent of schools in Trenton, N. J.

The Most Rev. T. Austin Murphy, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of Baltimore, will preside at the ceremony and the Very Rev. Edward J. Burke, C.M., president of Saint John's University, New York, will address the faculty, students and guests of the degree recipients.

Sister Rosemary Pfaff, D.C., president of the college which is conducted by the Daughters of Charity, stated that the candidates for the degrees of Doctor of Laws were selected because their lives in the modern world are related in a significant manner to the life of the recently beatified foundress who is the first American born person to be so honored by the Church.

Archbishop John Carroll, friend and advisor of Mrs. Seton, will be cited as "a prelate after the heart of Mother Seton who cherished the highest ideals of the priestly state . . . and who would commend his efforts in the cause of racial justice and his leadership in the liturgical renewal of the Church." Since Archbishop Shehan returned to Rome last week for the opening of the Ecumenical Council, Bishop Murphy will accept his degree in absentia.

The doctor of laws degree also will be conferred on Mrs. Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy. The college will pay tribute to the President's mother as "a wife and mother of the Twentieth Century, who, in her exemplary life, mirrors many of the beautiful qualities which distinguished the young Mrs. William Seton in her role as wife, mother and homemaker."

Miss Sarah Christie, who is described as typifying the goals and ideals which Saint Joseph's endeavors to instill into its students, will be honored for her life of dedication to the guidance and instruction of youth and devotion to the causes of the poor and unfortunate.

Thomas W. Pangborn, Maryland industrialist and pioneer of Catholic action in the Archdiocese of Baltimore, will be honored as a distinguished guest and commendator for his interest in the intellectual formation of youth which has prompted him on several occasions to provide the means of higher education for students of Saint Joseph's, and thus "established his spiritual association with Mother Seton who realized that the pursuit of truth is the ultimate goal of every Christian."

The convocation will be held in dePaul Auditorium on campus. Mrs. Kennedy's citation will read as follows:

To think of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton simply as the foundress of a religious community,

Benefit Art Festival Saturday

An Art Festival will be held in Memorial Park, Frederick, Md., on Saturday, October 5 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the benefit of the Frederick County Easter Seal Treatment Center.

The Center serves children from Frederick, Washington and Carroll Counties and the general public is cordially invited to attend the festival.

On sale will be art pictures, plants, displays and several demonstrations will be given. In case of inclement weather the festival will be held in the basement of Calvary Methodist Church, Frederick. There is no admission charge to the affair.

Mount Soccermen Lose

The Mt. St. Mary's College soccer team suffered a 3-0 setback at the hands of Baltimore University in its opening Mason-Dixon Conference game Saturday here.

RUMMAGE AND FOOD SALE

Saint Anthony's Shrine will conduct a Rummage, Food and used clothing sale on Saturday, October 5, starting at 10 a.m. On sale will be delicious food, clothing articles, etc. The general public is cordially invited to attend.

A moment of carelessness can mean a lifetime of regret.

50 Local Youths Register For Kicking Contest

The initial practice of the Kick, Punt and Pass Contest got off to an excellent beginning last Saturday afternoon when approximately 40 youngsters between the ages of eight and 11 showed up at Community Field.

The contest, sponsored by the Ford Motor Company through its local agency, Sperry Ford Sales, is open to any Emmitsburg area boy fitting into the aforementioned age bracket.

Co-sponsor of the event is the Emmitsburg Lions Club. Frank X. Ligorano, former Western Maryland football star, Rev. Mr. Vincent A. Werl, Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, a former professional player with the Pittsburgh Steelers and four collegians from the college, were in charge of the practice and will conduct another this Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Community Field. About 50 boys are registered to date and the sponsors say the more the merrier. Registration will continue until October 11 and the contest will be held Sunday, Oct. 13.

Martin Golibart Assumes Position At Mt. St. Mary's

Rt. Rev. Robert R. Kline, Ph.D., president of Mount Saint Mary's College, has announced the appointment of Mr. Martin T. Golibart, formerly of Baltimore, as the new Director of Development for the college.

Mr. Golibart was formerly manufacturers agent for the Philip Carey Mfg. Co., Cincinnati, Ohio. He is a native of Frederick, Md., and a recent graduate of Mount St. Mary's College, class of 1957. Golibart is married to the former Chica Godbee, also from Frederick, and has one daughter, Helen.

Golibart succeeds Mr. Donald Alfano, who was associated with the Mount during the past year and who has taken a similar position with the University of Sudbury, Sudbury, Canada.

The Golibarts are residing in Emmitt Gardens.

Firemen Answer Several Calls

The Vigilant Hose Company was called out Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. to a used-car lot on Old Route 15, north of Emmitsburg near the state line, when a 1954 Chevrolet on the lot caught fire.

Cause of the fire was unknown and the auto was a total loss. The engine, front seat and dashboard were extensively damaged and the whole interior was burned beyond repair, according to firemen.

The blaze had already been extinguished when the firemen arrived, it was reported, and the car was watered down to prevent a recurrence of the fire.

Firemen were at the scene about 15 minutes, Chief Sterling White reported.

Last week the firemen responded to an alarm when a grass fire occurred along the Keysville Rd. south of Emmitsburg.

The small blaze was on the property of John Baumgardner and an area of 100x20 feet was scorched before firemen were able to extinguish it.

Mount Grads Achieve Literary Recognition

Bernard S. Kaliss, M.A., assistant professor of English at Mt. St. Mary's College, and the international moderator of Lambda Iota Tau, the collegiate honor society for students of English and foreign literature, has been informed that the writings of two former Mount collegians have been included in the society's literary magazine, LIT.

The works are a poem, "Out of Twilight" by Slack and an essay, "The Odyssey of Kazantzakis." Mr. Slack is a theological student at Holy Cross College, Washington, D. C., where he is studying for the priesthood with the Congregation of the Holy Cross.

Mr. Garver is presently studying at Harvard University on a Danforth Graduate Fellowship and is majoring in history. He was a student at the University of Bonn last year studying under a grant, one of fifty, given by the West German government to American students.

Slack is a native of Lambertsville, N. J.; Garver hails from Harrisburg, Pa. Both were members of the Alpha Rho Chapter of Lambda Iota Tau while attending the Mount.

Public Urged To Support Fire Prevention

On October 9 at 7 p.m. an area-wide home fire drill is planned in Maryland, Delaware, the District of Columbia and parts of Virginia. Residents of this area are being asked to plan and hold a home fire evacuation drill in order to prepare for fire. The Vigilant Hose Company will sound its siren at this time with one long blast to signal the drill.

Maryland fire departments, fire marshals offices and the Maryland State Firemen's Association are joining to encourage citizens to participate in the drill. Their experience shows that a family which is ready for a fire emergency is usually able to come through safely when fire actually strikes.

National Fire Protection Association studies indicate that many lives taken by home fires each year have been needlessly lost because of failure to pre-plan for fire emergencies and rehearse these plans. Planning ahead is essential, for fire may spread so rapidly there is no time then to figure out what to do. Families should make sure each individual in the family, including the children, knows exactly what steps he is to take in the home life safety plan. Family fire drills should be held regularly.

The fire services have listed the following suggestions for the plan:

- Carefully figure out at least two routes to the outside from every room in the house, especially bedrooms. Allow for blocking of stairways and halls by fire.
- Particularly for nighttime fires, remember that closed bedroom doors will hold back flame and smoke and allow extra time for escape.
- For upper floor escape, use any available porch and garage roofs, ladders, or trees as ways down to safety. Be sure that exit windows work easily, and that they are low and large enough to get through.
- Pick an outside assembly point where the family will meet, and be sure everyone understands the rule "once out—stay out."
- Know how to call the fire department, by street box or neighbor's phone, and do this as quickly as the house is clear of people.

Young Farmers Expanding County Youth Program

The Adult Agricultural Program sponsored by the Frederick County Board of Education is expanding this fall to include two newly organized Young Farmers classes. The classes will be held at the Thurmont and Walkersville High Schools. During the past two years adult farmer classes have been held in the five county high schools offering the Vo-Ag course to high school boys.

Kenneth Wisner, Adult Vo-Ag teacher, who is organizing the group at Thurmont with the aid of Mr. William Baker, Vo-Ag teacher at the high school, says the young farmer classes are open to all farm boys and young men who are in the process of becoming established as farmers or agricultural workers in the community. During September, Mr. Wisner met with several young farmers in the Thurmont-Emmitsburg area to formulate plans and topics of discussion for the classes. Classes for this year will center around economical feeding of livestock and dairy cattle, use of farm credit, income taxes, and crop rotations to realize the greatest return.

All young men in the area are invited to attend who have an interest in agricultural work. If you have any questions about the program please contact Ken Wisner, Board of Education, 115 E. Church St., Frederick, phone 662-4191. A copy of this year's schedule is as follows: October 9 and 23; November 13 and 27; December 11; January 8 and 22; February 12 and 26; March 11 and 25, and April 8.

Fool me once, shame on you; fool me twice, same on me.

College Faculty Members Engaged In Giving Lectures

Participation in a convention, seminar and an accreditation visit will engage three faculty members of St. Joseph College, during the month of October.

Sister Margaret Flinton, D.U., chairman of the Modern Languages Department of the college, has been invited to address the Ohio Catholic Education Association convention to be held at Veterans Memorial Hall in Columbus, Ohio, on Friday, Oct. 11. The general theme of the convention, which is expected to draw 12,000 delegates, is "Catholic Schools at the Crossroads." Sister Margaret is slated to present a paper on "Foreign Languages at the Crossroads."

Thomas M. Leonard, M.A., of the department of History, has been invited to represent the college at a seminar on "The Steel Industry in the American Economy" sponsored by the American University at the Shoreham Hotel, Washington, D. C., on October 31 and November 1. Joseph L. Block, Chairman of the Inland Steel Company, H. C. Lumb, vice President of Republic Steel Corp., and Dr. Nathan A. Bailey, Dean of the School of Business Administration of the American University, will address the participants. The two-day program will also include a tour of the operations of the Bethlehem Steel plant at Sparrows Point, Maryland.

Miss Gertrude Hotaling, Assistant Professor of Nursing, will participate in the accreditation visit to the Duquesne University School of Nursing in Pittsburgh on October 7. Miss Elizabeth M. Fenlason, Assistant Professor, College of Nursing at Rutgers University, will be the other representative from the National League for Nursing. Miss Hotaling attended a Visitors' Conference of the Department of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs of the National League for Nursing in New York City from Sept. 25 to 27.

Sister Margaret, who is also Vice President of Pi Delta Phi, the national French Honor Society, recently installed chapters for the society at Trinity College, Washington, L. C., and Mercyhurst College, Erie, Pa. This past summer she returned to Rivier College, Nashua, N. H. as staff member of an NDEA French Institute. In the past year she also conducted workshops for secondary school teachers of languages at Richmond, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Erie.

State Teachers Group To Meet

Approximately 20,000 Maryland teachers will convene in Baltimore on October 17, 18 and 19 for the Ninety-sixth Annual Convention of the Maryland State Teachers Association. The general sessions and convention school suppliers' exhibit will be held in the Baltimore Civic Center for the first time.

Governor Terry Sanford of North Carolina will be the featured speaker at the opening General Session which will be held on Thursday, October 17 at 2 p.m. Governor J. Millard Tawes and Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., State Superintendent of Schools, will greet Maryland teachers at this opening session.

The All-Maryland High School Band, which is composed of outstanding representatives of school bands from across the State, will present a concert prior to the address by Governor Sanford. The band will be conducted by Lee Chrisman, Professor of Music, Boston University. On the lighter side, the teachers will hold their annual banquet and dance on Thursday, Oct. 17 at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. Jack and Lucile Kilty, stage and recording stars, will sing Broadway tunes as the entertainment for the banquet.

At the second General Session on Friday, Oct. 18, at 2 p.m. Sir Muhammed Zafrulla Khan, Ambassador to the United Nations from Pakistan, and immediate past president of the United Nations General Assembly, will deliver the main address. Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin and Dr. George B. Brain, Superintendent of Instruction for Baltimore City, will extend a welcome to the Maryland teachers at this session. The All-Maryland High School Orchestra, with Arthur Cohn, Head of Symphonic and Foreign Music Departments, Mills Music, Inc., serving as guest conductor, will perform at this time.

On Friday evening, Oct. 18, the Association will honor Dr. Thomas G. Pullen, Jr., with a Testimonial Dinner. Dr. Pullen has announced his retirement effective at the end of the present school year. The State Superintendent of Schools will speak on the topic, "The Voice of the Teacher," at the third General Session which follows the Testimonial Dinner. The Madrigal Singers of the Parkville High School, under the direction of Mary Rehmyer, will also appear at this session.

More than 600 delegates, meeting as the Representative Assembly of the Maryland State Teachers Association, will hear reports of Association committees and will establish policies for the organization at sessions which will be held on the Thursday and Saturday mornings of the convention. In addition to the speakers at the General Sessions, teachers will hear from various experts in their respective fields in meetings sponsored by the 40 departments of MSTA. Several of these meetings will be held in meeting rooms at the Civic Center, but many will be held at various schools throughout the city on Friday morning, Oct. 19.

No man has a good enough memory to make a successful liar.

Barbecued Hamburgers
Any time of year, nothing beats old fashioned broiled hamburgers. Serve them as a meal, with potatoes and salad or green vegetable; or serve them picnic style, on toasted bread or buns. For wonderful flavor, brush hamburgers with this sauce before broiling.

- BARBECUE SAUCE
(Makes 1 1/2 cups)
- 1 cup butter
 - 1 tsp. dry mustard
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1 tsp. paprika
 - 1 clove of garlic peeled and mashed
 - 1 tsp. sugar
 - 2 tsp. lemon juice
 - 1/2 cup chopped onion
 - 2 tsp. Lee & Perrins Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 tsp. catsup
 - 2 tsp. vinegar
- Few drops hot pepper sauce
- Beat together the butter, mustard, salt, paprika, garlic, sugar, and lemon juice. Then beat in remaining ingredients. (May be stored in a covered jar in the refrigerator.)

Hamburgers may be broiled under your broiler, or they may be pan-broiled on top of the stove. To pan-broil, put a tablespoon of butter and a tablespoon of oil in a skillet. Have the pan hot, put the hamburgers in and sear the meat quickly on both sides over high heat. Turn heat down and cook, turning the meat once more, until hamburgers are cooked to your liking.

SPECIAL WASHINGTON REPORT

Federal Tax Cuts Needed To Stimulate The Economy

By U.S. Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.)

President Kennedy's proposals for tax cuts and tax revisions deserve the support of the American people because they would stimulate the economy and make our tax system more equitable.

For the past five years an average of almost six per cent of our labor force has been fully unemployed. Many others are working only part-time.

Our idle industrial resources amount to about 17 per cent of capacity. Our economic growth rate is sluggish. It falls well behind our potential and the growth rates of most countries of Western Europe.

The victims of this economic sluggishness are the poor, the weak, the Negro, the younger worker, the unskilled, and the older worker, to name a few.

Furthermore, our present tax system discourages economic vitality and prevents us from attaining full use of our human and productive resources.

This, then, adds up to an intolerable situation. It is high time for positive action to stimulate the economy.

To put the problem in economic terms, there is not enough purchasing power in the economy to buy the goods and services which our labor force and industry can produce at the prices charged.

One way to attack this problem is to bring prices down to the level of our purchasing power. This could be done by an all-out attack on monopoly, administered prices, and other devices which prevent competition. While this policy certainly should be pursued, it would take too long for it to solve the present urgent problem.

The other way to attack it is to increase the purchasing power in the economy to the level of the prices which are charged. This is what a tax cut would do.

Tax cuts would increase monetary purchasing power which in turn would put idle men to work on idle machines producing goods which would otherwise not be produced.

Paul Douglas

A most important point is that the amount of purchasing power released would be much larger than the amount of the tax cut—three or four times larger, in fact. Economists call this the "multiplier effect."

It is estimated, for instance, that an $8 billion personal tax cut would increase the Gross National Product by from $24 to $32 billion more than it would otherwise be. These additional funds generated in the economy would in turn be taxed and ultimately about one-fifth of the total increase in the GNP would be returned to the Treasury, bringing in added revenues of from $4.8 to $6.4 billion. The net cost of an $8 billion cut then would be only from $1.6 to $3.2 billion.

Such an increase in the GNP would produce about two million new jobs. A tax cut with a net cost of $1.6 to $3.2 billion would be an extremely small price to pay for so many new jobs. If we don't make this investment in our economy, we probably will pay much more in both governmental and private losses in our society.

Equally as important as the tax cuts in the President's program are the tax reforms, both to stimulate the economy and for equity reasons.
