Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

It's probably a bit premature to give any thought to Spring, but the really beautiful days we enjoyed this week certainly put one in a frame of mind, despite the traces still remaining of that 15 inches of snow which fell several weeks ago. It wasn't hard to take but a quick frigid blast overnight dispelled any thoughts of Spring from our mind. In case you haven't forgotten those two harbingers of Spring, the robin and the groundhog, they will be with us soon. In fact we have a date with Mr. Groundhog Sunday. Any encouragement he can give us at that time will be greatly appreciated.

When President Johnson attended services in a Thurmont Church recently there was a rumor around that he is said to have stated he would eventually attend all churches in Thurmont—all denominations. Well last Sunday he attended Mass at a Catholic Church in Washington thereby adding some credence to the rumor that he would attend services in "all" churches in Thurmont, sooner or later.

The cigarette scare doesn't appear to be so potent an issue as was first supposed. Seems as though practically all my friends and associates still are puffing away. Oh, here and there you run into an individual who has taken the cure, but I don't believe there are very many.

The Bobby Baker investigation now being conducted in the Capital appears to be getting juicier and juicier all the time and with a presidential election in the offing there is bound to be a lot of dirty laundry washed. At the present time it appears the Republicans are capitalizing on the Tall Texan's stereo set but you can rest assured that the Democrats will be rattling the GOP skeletons before many more days. How nice it is not to be a politician.

And now we have a woman candidate for President. Senator Margaret Chase Smith is the first announced candidate for this office in the history of this country. We give the lady credit for having nerve but it is highly doubtful if she'll go any place. It's a rough and tumble race and we hope she can stand the gaff... at least it's another first.

And now folks, just a word about the drive to get better school facilities in this area. You couldn't help seeing the main story on this page and we urge your generous support to the cause. Contributions are badly needed to pay for the legal expenses involved. Many dollars are needed but the task is not as hopeless as it would appear. Remember the Taneytown consolidation issue several years back? Well they took it to court and won. They still have their high school intact. I feel certain that we can look forward to victory also as we too, have a just cause. Remember several years ago when the local Jaycees started a fund to buy new Christmas decorations for the Town? Well you gave almost $1200 to the project and it was a grand success, one of which we are all justly proud. Surely if you gave so generously for that project you will come to the aid of a much greater and noble cause, that of improving our educational facilities in this area. This is a common cause, one to be shared by all, so please give generously.

Rider Stops Mounts, 72-61; Home Feb. 7

A two week layoff apparently didn't help Jim Phelan's Mountaineer cagers as they lost to Rider College at Lawrenceville, N. J., Monday night, 72-61.

The Mounts, idle during the change of semesters, led 32-30 at intermission but bogged down in the second half and succumbed to a 17-point second half performance by Doug Endres, the Roughriders' leading scorer. Endres played only the last 40 seconds of the first half.

Rider went ahead after 6:20 of the second half and remained on top thereafter. The second half was highlighted by a scuffle between Ray Haesler of Rider and Mike John of the Mount, both of whom were ejected.

Ed Folk topped the Mount scorers with 17 points, 15 of which came in the first half. Mike Costello followed with 16 and John Carrell with 14.

Phelan's Mountaineers are now 11-4 for the season while Rider is 8-4.

The Mount will be idle until Friday, February 7, when it resumes Mason-Dixon Conference play against Hampden-Sydney on the local floor. The following evening a return game will be played with Loyola at Baltimore.

KREIT—HUBBARD

Miss Suzanne Marie Hubbard, daughter of Mrs. Marie Hubbard, Federal Ave., Emmitsburg, became the bride of George John Kreit, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Kreit, Westminster 77, Jan. 18 in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg. Rev. Fr. Louis B. Storms performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar banked with white snapdragons, gladioli and pompons. Mrs. Louis Rosensteel played traditional wedding music and "Mother at Your Feet Is Kneeling" while the bride presented her bouquet to Blessed Mother.

Given in marriage by her brother, Charles Hubbard, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white Chantilly-type lace top and satin skirt with long pointed sleeves. Her veil fell from a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses and pompons.

Miss Mary Kreit, Westminster 77, was maid of honor and wore an orchid ballerina-length gown with cummerbund effect and draped neckline. She carried orchid and white pompons and wore a matching headpiece. Bridesmaids were Miss Bonnie Shyroek and Miss Marlen Pinkus, Taneytown. Miss Shyroek's gown was a yellow ballerina-length and she carried yellow and white pompons. Miss Pinkus wore a blue ballerina-length gown and carried blue and white pompons. Both wore matching headpieces and their gowns were made identical to that of the maid of honor. Miss Patricia Hubbard, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and wore a pink dress. She carried pink and white pompons. Miss Cindy Newcomer, Emmitsburg, was flower girl. She wore a green dress with green velvet trim and a matching headpiece and carried a basket of colored pompons matching all gowns.

William Kreit, Taneytown, was best man, Ushers were Donald Staub and Donald Reaver, both of Taneytown. Robert Kreit, Lancaster, cousin of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a mid-night blue dress with a white satin hat trimmed in sequins and a pink rose corsage. The groom's mother wore a light beige dress, white hat and a yellow rose corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Emmitsburg VFW Annex. For their wedding trip to Virginia the bride wore a blue suit with a white orchid corsage. Upon their return they will reside at Westminster 77.

The bride is a 1963 graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, and is employed at the H. O. Toor Shoe Corp., Emmitsburg; the bridegroom attended Taneytown High School and is serving in the Army Reserve.

The greatest of faults is to be conscious of none—Thomas Carlyle.

Nun Advanced In Nursing Field

Sister Bernadette Armiger, D.C. of St. Joseph College, author, lecturer and educator in the nursing profession, has been named administrative chairman of the Department of Nursing in St. John's University's School of Education, Jamaica, N. Y.

Very Reverend Edward J. Burke, C.M., St. John's president, said that Sister Bernadette would assume her new duties February 1. She will succeed Mrs. Mary E. Reap who has resigned.

The new St. John's administrator, a member of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, is presently an assistant professor of nursing at St. Joseph College. ## Lions Meet Four guests were present at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening at Mt. Manor Restaurant, President C. Arthur Elder presiding. Three guests from the Francis Scott Key Club, Frederick, and one from Taneytown, were present. Treasurer John H. Walter gave a report of the recent Kid-dies' Party and an account of the advertising. Clarence G. Frailey gave a report on a recent Scout meeting held in Frederick. The club sponsors the local Scouts and Lion Frailey is the club representative on the executive board.

Mount Prof Heads Philosophy Dept.

Joseph D. Broussard, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Philosophy at Mount St. Mary's College, has been appointed as Chairman of the College's Department of Philosophy, according to the Dean of Studies, Rev. Carl J. Fives, S.T.L.

Dr. Broussard, who is a native of New Iberia, La., received his doctoral degree in philosophy from The Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., in April, 1963. He also received a master's degree from there in 1956. His undergraduate study was completed at Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Lafayette, and at Tulane University, New Orleans.

In addition to his departmental duties, Prof. Broussard is studying in conjunction with the Ford Foundation's Far Eastern Program which is being conducted by the staffs of six area colleges including St. Joseph, Gettysburg, Hood, Western Maryland, Dickinson, and Mount Saint Mary's. Dr. Broussard's concentration is on India.

He is also vice president of the college's chapter of the American Association of University Professors and editor of its publication, Colloquia. He is a member of the college's Faculty Library Committee and the Educational Program Committee of the current self-evaluation study.

The new chairman has been a member of the Mount faculty since 1950. In his new duties he succeeds Rt. Rev. Robert R. Kline, Ph.D., who is President of the College and Seminary.

Since pension payments are made by the Veterans Administration at a monthly rate based on anticipated annual income of the claimant, any change in this anticipated annual income should be reported immediately to the VA.

County Delegates Discuss Teachers New Pay Scale

Frederick County Delegate C. E. Collins revealed this week that all of the local State Legislators held a panel discussion before an audience of several hundred local school teachers last Thursday evening.

The meeting, held at the North Frederick Elementary School, was to explain the Hughes Report, which would increase state aid to education, Delegate Collins explained.

Five of the six local Delegates, C. Clifton Virts, Goodloe E. Byron, William Houck, E. Earl Remsburg and Delegate Collins and State Senator John A. Derr attended the meeting and answered written questions from the floor following the panel discussion, he said.

Summing up their answers and comments regarding the Hughes Report, Delegate Collins said that the state aid under this formula would be given to the counties with no strings attached, except that the money must be spent on some form of aid to education.

The money obtained from the increased state aid does not have to be spent on increasing teachers' salaries. But the formula also provides for an increase to $4,800 per year in the minimum starting teachers salary everywhere in Maryland, Delegate Collins said.

Chinese Professor Added To Mount Saint Mary's Faculty

Professor Chien-sheng Shih, a leading economist from the Republic of Nationalist China on Taiwan (Formosa), will be a guest lecturer during the spring semester at Mount Saint Mary's College, according to Rt. Rev. Robert R. Kline, Ph.D., president.

Prof. Shih, who has been lecturing on the faculty of Rockford College, Rockford, Ill., comes to the Mount through the cooperative efforts of the Fullbright Committee and the John Hay Whitney Foundation. The latter, in the past, offered to colleges the services of teachers who had been forced to retire because of rigid age laws. Under a new program the Foundation is underwriting the services of non-Western scholars for colleges which have already demonstrated an interest in such geographic areas. For the past year and a half the Mount, with six area colleges, has been a participant in the Ford Foundation's Far Eastern Study Program.

The Whitney Foundation assumes the costs of teacher salaries while the Fullbright Committee provides transportation and the respective institution, housing. Professor Shih, a native of Chekiang, China, is on a leave of absence from Taiwan University where he has served as Professor of Economics and Economic Policy since 1952 and as Dean of the College of Law since 1959. He will lecture on the economics of underdeveloped countries.

He has published several works in this area, as well as, several textbooks which are used in the colleges and universities of Nationalist China. Professor Shih will also participate in the Ford Program while at the college and will be available for engagements outside the college.

Shih is a graduate of the National Central University of China and Harvard University. He is a member of the Chinese Association for the Advancement of Science. Professor Shih, his wife and two children, will reside in the James McKenna home on Annandale Rd. near the college campus.

In an enthusiastic meeting attended by a representative group of Emmitsburg citizens held in the Fire Hall Tuesday night it was decided to take definite legal action to stop the Frederick County School Board and Commissioners from removing the local Public School and locating it in Thurmont.

The meeting was called and conducted by the Emmitsburg Jaycees and three members of the Town Council were present and made brief remarks. It was the consensus of the group that a definite stand or showdown on the school situation should be taken immediately. After a number of years of dickering and bickering about consolidating the Emmitsburg School with that of Thurmont, the School Board decided to move the local high school to Thurmont and an option to buy a parcel of land there was taken, despite the desires of the residents of this area. Abandoned also was the plan, and the wishes of a large number of Thurmont and Emmitsburg citizens to locate the new consolidated school halfway between the two towns, knowing that in perhaps a few short years the two towns will grow and meet and the school would then be in the heart of the two communities. This was believed to be futuristic and intelligent thinking but it also was ignored.

There was no question as to the understanding reached at the meeting Tuesday night when it was decided to take action and to have any new school built equitably accessible to students from both towns. This naturally would be at a half-way point.

After an hour's discussion it was unanimously agreed to hire a Baltimore law firm and to seek an injunction to stop the movement by the School Board to locate in Thurmont proper.

The meeting was conducted by the president of the Greater Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, Herbert Gingell, and Secretary-Treasurer Patrick B. Boyle.

In order to finance the legal action to be taken the group agreed to raise funds by public subscription and canisters will be placed in a number of local business firms where citizens can make their voluntary donations. In addition it was decided that personal solicitation may be made at a later date. A coupon will be printed in the Emmitsburg Chronicle weekly for a series of publications and donors can mail these coupons, with their donations, either to the Emmitsburg Chronicle or to Patrick Boyle, treasurer of the Jaycees. Herbert Gingell was named financial drive chairman. Checks should be made payable to the Jaycee School Fund.

Most of those present expressed their opinion freely and it was generally conceded that immediate action should be taken. William D. Smith gave statistics on school transportation, teachers' salaries and future locations for schools in Frederick County. The group also expressed its desire to have a local representative named to the Frederick County School Board and it is hoped that in the near future one or more names will be submitted to the State Central Committee.

Catholics Exchange Views With Lutherans

Catholic seminarians from Whitefriars Hall, Washington, D. C., will visit the Lutheran Seminary in Gettysburg, February 22 for the third ecumenical exchange between the two institutions in the past year.

Approximately 30 Carmelite seminarians will arrive by bus for an exchange of ecumenical discussions. Each group will make a formal presentation to be followed by informal group discussions. A liturgical service will be held in the afternoon.

The Carmelites visited the Gettysburg campus last February and the Gettysburg seminarians accepted an invitation to visit the Washington school last spring. The program is designed to hold two exchange meetings each year.

The conference is being arranged by Conrad Christianson, ecumenics chairman for the seminary, and Rev. Fr. Canisius J. Hinde, of Whitefriars Hall.

Attend Hair Styling

Cloverette Club Holds Meeting

Making attractive containers was the main topic of a demonstration given by Vivian Hines at the regular monthly meeting of the Northern Cloverettes 4-H Club held on Friday evening, January 24 at the home of Vivian Hines.

Following the demonstration a business meeting was held and various reports given. The club voted to donate $5 toward the construction of the Maryland Room at the National 4-H Center in Chevy Chase, Md.

The girls decided to hold a style review for their parents and friends and the following committee was named: Sylvia Brauer, chairman, Becky Keilholtz, Jeanne Sharrer, Mary Ann Keilholtz and Mildred Orndorff. In an effort to accomplish more on the club projects it was decided that small groups of girls meet with each leader. Leaders are Mrs. James Hill, Mrs. Norman Wiley, Mrs. Vernon C. Hines, Jr., and Mrs. Charles Brauer.

It was agreed to change the meeting nights from the fourth Friday to the fourth Wednesday. The next meeting of the group will be held on Feb. 26 at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Jeanne and Sharon Sharrer.

Jaycees To Meet

The Greater Emmitsburg Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its regular dinner meeting at Mt. Manor Restaurant on February 13 at 6 p.m.

All members are urged to attend and any young man 21-35 interested in joining the group is urged to be present at this meeting.

Dreaded Diphtheria Almost Eradicated

Diphtheria, once one of the great killers of children, is no longer a major threat in the United States. Widespread, routine immunization has greatly reduced a highly contagious epidemic disease that once killed thousands of children each winter.

But diphtheria isn't entirely gone. There still are a few hundred cases and some deaths each year, largely in the winter. These cases almost invariably occur among those who aren't properly immunized.

The first sign of diphtheria usually is a sore throat, with patches of grayish membrane formed in the throat. There usually is a slight fever. The throat swells and swallowing may be difficult. The swelling sometimes blocks air passages and causes suffocation.

The very fact that there are relatively few diphtheria cases today makes the disease even more insidious. There are fewer "carriers" spreading the germs, and thus children have less opportunity to build immunity through repeated small doses of natural exposure.

Immunization against diphtheria should start at a very early age, possibly two to three months. Physicians today routinely give the "DPT" shots to babies, immunizing against diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough), and tetanus (lockjaw) at the same time. Another injection several months later is recommended for full protection, plus boosters every few years as the child grows.

Your doctor will be aware of the schedule of shots, and what shots are needed in your family. If your children haven't had a booster diphtheria shot in the last three years, ask your doctor to bring your family's protection up to par. If someone in your family is exposed to diphtheria, check with your doctor immediately as to whether a shot of diphtheria antitoxin is needed. This is a short term protection, lasting only a few weeks, that may help prevent the disease after exposure.

Immunization can prevent diphtheria. Even though the disease is almost gone, enough cases still occur to make diphtheria a threat to the unimmunized, or to those whose shots are too far in the past to be effective.

Plan To Reduce Farm Program Costs

As a part of USDA's continuing effort to reduce farm program costs, the Commodity Credit Corporation will assume the risk on commodities owned by the Government or pledged as collateral for price-support loans in commercial storage against loss from fire, windstorm, and other causes now covered by casualty insurance, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced.

The wide distribution of commodity holdings by CCC accomplishes the same spreading of risk which individuals obtain from insurance.

The new policy will take effect on the renewal dates of the present Uniform Grain Storage Agreement, July 1, 1964.

Dudley C. Aist, State Executive Director, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Office, points out that the change will result in savings to producers as well as to Government. At present, producers of grains pay for casualty insurance as part of the general storage charge on warehouse-stored grain under price - support loan. This storage charge is deducted from the loan to the producer. If CCC takes possession of the grain in satisfaction of a loan, it pays the storage charge, which includes casualty insurance.

According to USDA, the CCC can absorb any losses that occur at a far lower cost than the expense of continuing the insurance requirement in storage contracts, which cost is reflected in storage rates the Government pays. In fact, estimates are that the new policy will result in savings to the Government of two or three million dollars a year in storage costs, and these savings would be over and above any estimated losses that may result from fire, windstorm, or other causes.

The CCC action does not affect bond requirements. For grain warehousemen, CCC's bond requirements now are met by a blanket legal liability insurance policy, covering obligations of all warehousemen operating under the Grain Storage Agreement. The policy protects CCC against losses other than casualty, up to $2 million at each warehouse facility, with maximum aggregate liability to the insurance company of $50 million.

Make Winter BEAR-ABLE

100 YEARS AGO

SOLDIERS RELAX, SHIVER IN WINTER QUARTERS

By Lon K. Savage

January, 1864, was one of the quietest months on the battlefronts of the Civil War—something of a lull before the great and final storm that would begin with the spring. The struggle of the Northern and Southern armies 100 years ago this week was not so much against each other as against a common enemy: cold.

Both armies did remarkably well against this foe—so well, in fact, that many soldiers later told of enjoying their winters in the field. Both Yankee and Rebel showed great ingenuity in improving upon what their respective governments had given them for comfort.

For many soldiers, the government had provided tents, and large, tented cities were seen scattered across the country. Along the Rapidan in Virginia, Gen. Robert E. Lee looked down from Clark's Mountain on such a city of Yankee troops and watched hundreds of curling smoke lifting skyward.

But tents were not the final word—not by any means. Thousands of soldiers on both sides built little huts or log enclosures, topping them with tent canvases or wood and filling the chinks with mud. Some built fireplaces, frequently using bricks from abandoned homes nearby. A few even added Victorian gingerbread designs along the eaves.

Bunks, Too
Some soldiers built bunks in their huts, using barrel staves or boards fromhardtack boxes. Others, even fancier, built spring beds with saplings and cushioned them with leaves or hay. They then stabbed their bayonets into the dirt floor and stuck candles in the handle ends to furnish light.

Therein, warm and lighted, they would pass away the time between tours of duty writing letters, reading, cooking, mending clothes, shaving or just talking.

Less Ambitious
There were, of course, less ambitious men. Some men would lay a bed of leaves or straw between two logs, lie down and cover themselves with tent canvas, and that was their winter home. Others would sneak off each night to sleep in a nearby barn or haystack, and a few lucky ones obtained regular sleeping quarters in a farmer's home, complete with featherbed.

Wherever the quarters were erected, the soldiers would first take care of their own needs, then turn to their community needs. In each camp, soldiers would build a chapel, a stable and, of course, a guard house. In some camps, log sidewalks made their appearance.

As winter wore on, some soldiers turned to the finer things and made benches, chairs and tables, then whittled chess men and chess boards for recreation.

And so the winter passed, with little fighting and much companionship. The Civil War soldiers were like soldiers in any day and time; they appreciated rest and friendship. But like soldiers in other days and other times, they knew their purpose was to fight, and eventually they would have to do just that.

Next week: From the Cradle to the Grave.

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Forecasts 'Seventy-Five Years Hence
BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 30—I have a friend in Lake Wales, Florida, Mrs. William Jones, who specializes in authentic antiques. Some time ago she gave me a book, which I have just finished looking over. It is entitled "The History of Mankind," and was printed many, many years ago before the time of photography.

How Our Ancestors Lived Years Ago
The book first impresses me with the great courage of the people of long-ago days, when very few of the commodities existed which we think important today. The skins of animals provided clothing to keep people warm day and night. They cut down their own nearby trees to provide heat. Their only need was for food; and the essentials for producing food are seed to grow it and offspring to continue the harvesting of it . . . both of which the people provided.

Their idea of the function of government was to educate and to protect people from sickness. Hospitals were almost non-existent, and people sent to one were treated as if they were in a house of correction. As time went on, families gradually started to unite into groups, thus marking perhaps the beginnings of the United Nations Organizations, which I feel sure is here to stay.

Investing Seventy-Five Years Hence
This book also suggests how the sun, the moon, and the stars were sufficient to give free light, heat, and someday perhaps free power to everybody. As I go out at night and look at the heavens I am impressed with the fact that the sun is today the source of everything, including food; but that some day the moon and the stars will likewise play a great role in the lives of those on this planet. This is why so many are intelligently interested in the study of space. We surely will reach the moon before seventy-five years of exploration.

Basing the future on the past, I should say that within seventy-five years there may be no stock exchange, and even "over the counter" trading may be forbidden. I hope I am wrong; but I feel that almost everyone may be working for the government under some sort of socialistic system. This would not provide opportunity for investment, other than in the form of buildings. These would be primarily for the education and health of the people. It is quite likely that employment will come from three sources: (1) government, requiring personnel to run it; (2) education, calling for teachers and doctors; and (3) construction, creating demand for those who have a trade.

Value Of Municipal Bonds
How will these buildings be financed? My guess today would be that the community would issue so-called "municipal bonds" to provide the funds necessary to build schools, hospitals, and other community facilities. These bonds would be sold to the people; they would pay a very low interest rate; and would be perfectly safe. They would be redeemed gradually through taxation. Whether we are living under socialism or some other "ism", taxes will be unavoidable.

In short, municipal bonds may be the safest investment even today. I do not mean that there are not other safe investments, but I should place municipal bonds used for buildings as the most acceptable. Toll road bonds may be all right for a reasonable time into the future, but ultimately all highways will be free of tolls.

What About Religion?
This book shows clearly that religion in many of its primitive forms was a kind of "magic". There gradually followed the rise of many different denominations. Along the way—between the "quackery" with which it started and the several hundred church denominations we have acquired today—there developed what is called "theology".

Let me make it clear that I believe in one God and one church; but it is the family and home which must establish this faith—it cannot be left to legislation or church organization. Let me add, in closing, that I feel the future must depend also on courage and self-control such as marked the pioneers of old. We do not have to fight wild animals for our very existence; but we do have other things to face which take courage. Faith in God will help us to succeed.

BURCH HANDICAP AT BOWIE SATURDAY

BOWIE, Md.—At least 10 of the 13 eligibles for the $15,000 added Burch Handicap are rated starters in the six furlongs event which will have its 25th running on Saturday. The Burch is the first of 10 stakes events to be contested during the 52-day meeting.

Topping the list of prospective candidates is the Lyle Titman-trained entry of Montell Stewart's War Council and Mrs. Violet Stewart's Space Skates. Expected to oppose this hard-hitting pair are Mrs. Ada B. Eklof's Kings Song, Peter Fuller's Amberjack and Half Breed, George Lambroff's Lansing Lane, R. S. Reynolds, Jr.'s Bonny Johnny, William D. Robinson's Rural Retreat, Stanley Sagner's Srta. Monica and Thomas T. Gilman's Coppahaunk.

Three of the likely candidates have posted victories at the session—War Council, Space Skates and Bonny Johnny. War Council has always raced kindly over the Bowie racing surface and is the co-holder of the 1:09 2/5 track record. Last year he won the Southern Maryland Handicap and in 1962 was runnerup to Vir-Marie in the Burch. In his 1964 debut War Council carried 124 pounds to a neck triumph last weekend.

From a time standpoint Space Skates turned in a sharper pace in his history when he was clocked in 1:11 1/5, a full second faster than War Council. However, Space Skates was under a feathery 109.

Bonny Johnny was very impressive in capturing a six furlongs allowance foal last week. The Maryland-foaled colt, winner of last year's E. Palmer Heagerty Stakes, was a handy winner by two lengths in 1:12 3/5 over a track termed "good."

Coppahaunk will be seeking a repeat Burch victory and must be accorded a good chance of upsetting her male rivals. The 5-year-old mare bowed in a head photo decision to Space Skates in their last meeting after spotting the Stewart color bearer five pounds.

Rural Retreat, a Florida invader, may prove troublesome. The 4-year-old colt was unplaced in three starts this year but showed a high turn of speed at Hialeah on Thursday when he set the pace in a mile and a sixteenth grass race.

The Fuller forces also figure prominently. Half Breed, hero of the Jennings Handicap at Pimlico last fall, closed ground to Bonny Johnny in his first start of the campaign and should benefit from the race.

Trainer Harry S. Eklof who saddled Vir-Marie for her Burch win also has a formidable in Kings Song. The son of Royal Serenade won three races last year and was impeded in his debut this year when he finished fourth to Space Skates and placed third through a disqualification.

More than 7 million fish were killed by water pollution last year, not counting a massive kill of 37.8 million in San Diego Harbor. The latter kill resulted from dumping toxic oil into coastal waters.—Sports Afield.

LOOKING AHEAD
 BY GEORGE S. BENSON
 President—Harding College
 Seay, Arkansas

Foreign Aid In Perspective
 Senator John L. McClellan of Arkansas has a record of voting against foreign aid since 1954. In mid-November, when the current authorization bill was before the Senate, he gave notice that he would again oppose foreign aid and told the nation in a Senate speech just why he would do so. His reasons why he has refused for the tenth year to give foreign aid an affirmative vote should be known to all concerned citizens across the land. Despite his objections the bill was passed by the Senate after 15 days of debate, 63 to 17.

The measure authorized $3,702,365,000 in spending for this fiscal year. Senator McClellan told the nation that the $103 billion committed by the U. S. to military and economic aid since 1945 had produced results "not too gratifying; indeed, they are extremely disappointing." One can find in history, he said, the fall of nations such as ancient Byzantium which relied too heavily on foreign aid. "The whole thrust and emphasis of our program is, in my judgment, misguided, so I have no alternative, but to continue my opposition," the Senator said.

Helps Nobody
 He cited eight general shortcomings of the aid program: 1.

The U. S. has either lost sight of the goals it pursues with aid or pursues contradictory goals. 2. Assistance creates envy and resentment by its bestowal and hatred and hardship by its refusal. 3. U. S. aid often encourages the development or perpetuation of socialism by leaders anxious to maintain power by clamping government control on all facets of life in their countries.

(The Senator cited continued nationalization of industry in Turkey as an example of this last objection. Our nation, he said, ought to provide underdeveloped countries with the benefit of our experiences in massive growth through private enterprise. This has not been our accustomed practice. Instead of encouraging nations to follow our leadership as free-enterprisers, we lean over backward to let it be known that we cannot interfere, even to suggest that private ownership offers superior advantages as a method of conducting the commerce of a country.)

The Cuts Were Healthy
 4. U. S. aid often never gets any further than the ruling class in a country. 5. Often this country gets no recognition for the goods its aid is said to accomplish. 6. Massive aid—$2.4 billion to Yugoslavia alone since 1946—to Communist countries is reprehensible. 7. Foreign aid is a major factor in the U. S. balance of payments deficit. 8. Military aid does not keep nations from falling under the Communist yoke. (Armed might is the only thing that does this, Senator McClellan said.)

Strong Senate opposition to foreign aid, of which these eight objections from the Arkansas Senator are examples, undoubtedly made possible the healthy cuts in the amount and the various limitations placed upon use of the funds. Total cuts amounting to about one billion were put through, restrictions were placed upon assistance to aggressor nations, and aid was banned to countries that expropriate properties or annual contracts with them without giving prompt and adequate compensation.

Damage To The Dollar
 There are so many objectionable features to foreign aid that it is hard to say which most damaging. Serious indeed is the delusion that leads many to feel that national security is created through foreign aid. Some Congressmen, following Administration leaders, have said that this money makes defense of the free world possible. Yet after spending more than $100 billion, the U. S. is still the only nation able or willing to deter war or offer defense should war come. Aid beneficiaries remain largely unstable, and like Cambodia, don't know to which side they owe loyalty.

But perhaps the financial strain to which foreign aid has subjected our economic strength is its worst feature. The late President commented in July that the U. S. would be bankrupt if France and Germany should present their dollar credits for payment. It remains a frightening situation, this loss of gold, one that holds the possibility of bankruptcy and chaos in the free world. Whether our creditors can maintain confidence in the dollar, while we instruct on being so reckless, is questionable.

SCOUT HEADQUARTERS RELOCATED

Girl Scout headquarters in Frederick County have been relocated at 106-7 Frederick Shopping Center, 7th and Schley Streets. The organization formerly occupied space at Winchester Hall in Frederick.

Mrs. Calvin Chaplain, Area Director for Frederick County, has her office in the new location. Office hours are 1 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. During these hours, the office secretary, Mrs. Thomas J. Zimmerman, is available to help Girl Scout adult volunteers. She sells Girl Scout pins, accepts paid badge orders and Troop registrations, lends books and some supplies and materials. She also can take messages and arrange for volunteers to use of-fice facilities.

March of Dimes Mothers To Deliver Health Leaflet

Mothers who will be marching for the March of Dimes throughout the nation this January will distribute millions of copies of a leaflet entitled "One Minute Warning," which gives the latest facts about birth defects and arthritis.

According to local March of Dimes volunteer leaders, these two disease areas are of concern to millions of people in this country. About 250,000 of our children are born each year with a serious birth defect. Arthritis and the rheumatic diseases afflict upward of 11,000,000 Americans.

The National Foundation-March of Dimes is fighting these diseases with the same three-pronged attack which helped conquer polio as a public health problem. Using the experience gained in spearheading the development of the Salk and Sabin polio vaccines, March of Dimes funds currently finance:

- a nationwide scientific research program aimed at finding causes and cures for birth defects and arthritis,
- a nationwide network of treatment centers which help bring top-quality medical care to victims of these cripples,
- a nationwide professional education program which channels latest scientific findings to scientists, physicians and their associates, and
- a nationwide public education program.

Latest addition to this public education program, according to Dr. William S. Clark, director of the medical department of The National Foundation, is the "One Minute Warning" leaflet.

"Our purpose is to reassure the public that much is being done in the fight against these two great cripples," Dr. Clark says. "The American people are financing the fight with their contributions to the March of Dimes, and they have a right to receive periodic reports of what is being accomplished."

In reassuring, non-technical

Jane Wyatt, star of screen and TV, who is the 1964 Honorary National Mothers' March Chairman for the March of Dimes.

- language, the pamphlet, which takes only a minute to read, suggests these precautions for a pregnant woman:
  - See your doctor early. Be sure to tell any other doctor you may consult, for treatment of other conditions, that you are pregnant.
  - Take no drugs on your own initiative. Tell your doctor about any you have been taking. Especially, stay away from "tranquillizers," "mood adjusters," and "happy pills."
  - Learn your Rh factor, blood type, and your husband's. Inform your obstetrician.
  - Follow the diet your doctor prescribes.
  - Avoid excessive smoking and drinking.
  - If pregnant, don't knowingly expose yourself to infectious diseases—particularly German measles.
- For the person who suffers from arthritis, the leaflet stresses: "Follow ONLY the advice of your doctor." Several other points of advice are given, among them, "Remember, there are no quick cures, no short cuts. Good results from treatment require time and patience."
- If your home has been missed in the distribution of this pamphlet, you can obtain one free of charge from the local March of Dimes headquarters.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

Control Of Ear Infections
 By Irving L. Ochs, M.D.
 Ear, Nose, and Throat Surgeon
 Johns Hopkins Hospital
 Baltimore, Maryland

Discharges from the ears are not uncommon in babies. Sometimes a mother may find thick pus in the ears as a complication of a respiratory infection, which means that an infection of the middle ear has broken through the eardrum to the outside.

Only a few years ago, such infections were very serious. The disease would also invade the mas-toid cavities, making mastoid operations the most common surgical procedure in pediatric hospitals.

Antibiotics have changed the picture radically. The germs involved are readily controlled by modern drugs so that mastoid operations are now quite rare. The small opening in the eardrum, when it occurs, will heal naturally as the infection subsides.

There's another kind of infection of the ear that does not respond to antibiotics given by mouth or by injection because of the resistant germs. It is confined to the outer ear canal.

The discharge in these ear canal infections is usually green and of foul odor and appears in such quantity that it will be quickly seen. While infections of this type can continue for months despite conventional treatment, they can now also be cleared up promptly, without damage to the health or hearing of the child.

Although the several kinds of organisms which infect the outer ear canal will often include some types that resist antibiotics, we have developed a treatment which has been very successful, and without adverse effect upon the baby.

 Acetic acid, the basic acid of vinegar, is the chief ingredient employed, with other ingredients added to assure good spreading and to prevent evaporation.

Laboratory tests have shown that the solution kills virtually all the germs that infect the ear canal within 30 seconds of contact; treatment is contained for three or four days to insure eradication.
 Now available to all physicians as a special solution, it is in wide use and there have been several reports of its effect and safety in leading medical journals.

The best advice about what to do about discharges from baby's ears that I can give to mothers is simply, call your doctor. He now has the drugs and techniques to clear up the problem in short order.

Free College Urged For All
 All high school graduates should have two years' free college education, recommends the Education Policies Commission, sponsored by the National Education Association and the American Association of School Administrators.
 "Unless opportunity for education beyond high school can be made available to all," the Commission said, "the American promise of individual dignity and freedom cannot be extended to all." It emphasized that the two years should be directed primarily at intellectual growth, not vocational or technical training.

A new volcanic island rose out of the North Atlantic off the southern coast of Iceland in November, 1963 and grew to a height of 300 feet above sea level in six days. It was created (as of course all volcanic islands are) by an eruption far below the ocean's surface, explains the Chicago Natural History Museum, a violent escape of molten and gaseous material from the earth's interior.

Steel is not a single metal but a family of materials ranging from mild or low-carbon structural steel through a variety of alloys including familiar stainless steel. The welding together of

CAPITOL COMMENT

by Charles "Mac" Mathias Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

The Case Of Maryland's Congressional Districts

This week, the United States District Court convened in Baltimore to hear one of the most significant legal arguments offered within the State of Maryland for many years.

This is the case involving the constitutionality of Maryland's disproportionate Congressional Districts. It has been the practice in this country for over a century for State Legislatures to draw the lines by which Congressional Districts are established. And, it was at least the tradition and intention that these Districts should be of approximately equal population in order to have fair representation in the United States House of Representatives.

The Maryland General Assembly did draw District lines on this basis in the past. But with the rapid population growth and the shifting of population in recent years, our Congressional Districts have become hopelessly out of balance.

It is a matter of regret that this vitally important question should finally have ended up in the Courts. The first place it should have been settled was within the Maryland General Assembly. When the State Legislature failed to achieve the equitable re-districting, the Congress should have laid down standards for the election of Members to the House.

However, neither the State Legislature nor the Congress have acted in this situation and the matter is now before the Court in Baltimore. A similar case has been argued and is pending in the Supreme Court. The findings of the Courts will have special significance for the people of Maryland.

House Passes Bribery In Sporting Contests Bill

The Bribery in Sporting Contests bill passed by the House will make it a Federal criminal offense to influence a sporting contest by bribery through interstate or foreign commerce facilities.

With the development of highly organized professional and collegiate athletics over the past several years there has also developed a substantial illegal business of gambling, "fixes", and attempts at bribery.

This bill, giving the Federal Government the authority to act, is of great importance for the protection of the many honest professional, amateur and collegiate athletes in this country.

Bill To Raise Patent Fees Passed By House

A bill (H.R. 8190) to fix the fees payable to the Patent Office has passed the House. It will provide a long overdue revision, increasing fees for the first time in 30 years.

At the present time fees defray only about 30% of the expense of operating the Patent Office. This bill will restore the income of the agency to about 75% of the cost of operation.

One of the problems which has been of concern to both the Patent Office and the public is the long delay between the date the patent application is filed and the date of issuance. The bill will provide for issuance of the patent within 3 months after notice of allowance of the application.

It also provides for the establishment of maintenance fees which will encourage patentees to discard inactive and defensive patents which clutter the files of the Patent Office.

I am hopeful that the Senate will cast favorably on this bill in order that our Patent Office might once again approach its earlier standard of being financially self-sustaining without restricting the creative genius of this Nation.

Mark Down Bird

Here's a tip pheasant hunters in the big western corn fields use to mark down game. As soon as a bird goes down, several hunters draw an arrow in the dirt with the heel of their boot pointing toward spot. Cross bearing keeps the mark exactly located.

TODAY'S Meditation from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read I Corinthians 3:10-17. Grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. (II Peter 3:18.)

The writer of II Peter exhorted those to whom he was writing to "grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." He knew it was gloriously possible for men and women like ourselves, imperfect though we are, to become Christ-like in aim, desire, and purpose.

The Apostle Paul did not become a perfect Christian the moment he heard Christ speak to him on the road to Damascus. No, that was only the beginning. He grew into the Christlike man he became. Day by day, he lived in close fellowship with his Lord, and the result was that he became more and more like Him.

"The measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ" is not achieved in a moment; it is a process of growth and development. If we live with Christ, we grow like Him. He gives us power to become what He wants us to be—people who are like Him in all our ways.

Prayer
Eternal God, so guide us in daily life that all we do may contribute to our growth in Christlikeness. Moment by moment may we become different men and women; different because we are becoming more like Thee; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Fravel, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where he has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was 1409 Bennington Street, Kansas City, Missouri; that the parties hereto were married on the 22nd day of April, 1961, at Liberty, Missouri, by Rev. Lee F. Soxman, Jr., a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage no child or children were born; and that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without any cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Robert L. Fravel, be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Margaret L. Bashan Fravel, and for such other and further relief as the nature of his case may require.

Social Security Office Changes

The Social Security representative no longer makes regular visits to the Maryland Employment Office in Frederick each Tuesday and Thursday.

Recent change of policy advises that now on every Wednesday hereafter, representatives will be on regular visits to the Maryland National Guard Armory, Second and Bentz Sts. from 9:30 a. m. to 2:00 p. m.

In announcing the new location, W. S. King, district manager of the Hagerstown Social Security Office, stated that two representatives from the Hagerstown office will go to Frederick each Wednesday. The change is made to economize on travel funds and to offer improved service to those individuals in the Frederick area who may be unable to call at the office in Hagerstown.

Antique Wood To Be Utilized

A piece of oak from the first Methodist meeting house built in America is being given to the Wesley College, Dover, Del. for a mace to be used in academic processions.

The wood, from Strawbridge's Log Meeting House in Carroll County, Md., has been owned since 1855 by the Methodist Historical Society whose directors this week voted to donate it on the plea of Dr. Robert H. Parker, president of Wesley College.

The Log Meeting House, forerunner of the 39,000 Methodist Churches now in America, was erected 200 years ago in 1764. Superceded in 1783 by Stone Chapel, still in use, its site is marked by an inscribed monument erected in 1914 and enlarged in 1934. Its location on Maryland Route 407 is marked.

Mrs. Kathryn Elizabeth Humerick, 83, York Springs, Pa., died at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg Sunday morning at 4:55 a.m.

Born at Hillsboro, Ill, a daughter of the late John B. and Martha (Neusman) Kipe, she was a member of the United Brethren Church of Thurmont and of the Home Department of the York Springs Methodist Church.

She had lived in York Springs since 1929. Surviving are her husband, Samuel L. Humerick; a stepson, LeRoy Humerick, Emmitsburg R2; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Raymond Boller of Graceham; four daughters, Mrs. Allen Stull of Thurmont; Mrs. Bernard Feeser of Graceham; Mrs. Jerre Lerew and Mrs. Merle Miller of York Springs; two brothers, Earl Kipe of Ellicott, Md., and Carl Kipe of Highfield, Md.; two sisters, Mrs. Maude Kauffman of Waynesboro, and Mrs. Martin Hovis, Mt. Holly Springs; 24 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. from the Pittenturf Funeral Home in York Springs, conducted by Rev. William Kennard. Interment was in the United Brethren Cemetery in Thurmont.

Dr. Doo Stricken

Dr. Gerald Doo, surgeon at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, was removed Monday afternoon in an ambulance to the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, for various tests.

Dr. Bruce N. Wolf of the surgeons' staff, said Dr. Doo had apparently suffered a recurrence of an illness which hospitalized him for some time about a year ago and was "much improved" over his condition Sunday when he became ill and was removed to the Warner Hospital from his home.

Two Big Sales Days In Gettysburg

The biggest bargains of the year will be found this weekend in 34 of Gettysburg's retail stores, where owners have slashed winter prices as much as half.

Gettysburg Sale Days, the semi-annual event that helps to keep budgets in line, will be held Friday and Saturday. Stores will be open from 9 to 9 each day for the convenience of working mothers and parents of school children.

Merchants report that stocks are not complete and not all sizes and colors are available, but there are many fabulous buys for every member of the family. Today's edition of The Chronicle includes advertisements of sale items.

In addition to the tremendous savings in prices, merchants are giving away $15 worth of merchandise to winners of lucky merchandise tickets. Shoppers are reminded to register in each of the 34 participating stores for certificates of $10 and $5 each. Winners will be drawn Saturday night and names will be announced Sunday evening at 9 o'clock on radio station WGET.

Merchants joining in Gettysburg Sale Days are: Bargain-town Stores, Bender's Gift Shop, Benn's, Bix-Sway Men and Boys' Shop, Britcher and Bender Drug Store, Coffman-Fisher Co., Dougherty & Hartley, Carol Ann Shoppe, Estep's Cut Rate, Faber's, W. ### Our Library . . .

Library hours are as follows: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 7:30 to 9 p.m.; Tuesday and Thursday, 3 to 4 p.m.; Saturday, 10 to 12 noon. The telephone number is HI 7-2682.

Just Browsing—In The Library Did you know the local Library subscribes to seven popular magazines? They do! You're invited to borrow them from the library on a three day loan basis. We've ordered Antique magazine for the antique lover in your family. For the sports minded, Sports Illustrated will be of interest. For the younger set we have Jack and Jill, new ideas for that Valentine party and numerous pictures and stories to keep the kiddies happy. Seventeen magazine will be of interest to all the teen-age girls. It illustrates all the latest fashions. Popular Mechanics will interest your mechanically-minded boy or his father. National Geographic will keep the whole family informed along with the Newsweek magazine to keep you in the know on current events.

In addition to the above reading our young readers will enjoy reading the following books. "Mama's Bank Account," by Kathryn Forbes. Mama survives disasters and triumphs with her instinctive goodness, humor, wisdom, and natural feeling for the right thing to say and gives her family object lessons in human relations.

"Old Yeller," by Frederick B. Gipson. The story of an ugly mongrel dog who would tackle anything from an angry bear to a mad wolf in order to save his Texas frontier family.

"Rowan Farm," Benary-Isbert, Margot. The story centers around sixteen-year-old Margret, her budding romances and her decision to stay on the German farm rather than accept an offer to go to America to live.

"Big Doc's Girl," Mary Medearis. A heart-warming story of a doctor's family and especially of Big Doc's daughter, who has to choose between a career in music and life among her own mountain people.

Mr. James McKeon, Westfield, N. J., spent several days here this week visiting with friends.

Sitting Pretty

A controlled dog is a pleasure to be with, especially if he is trained to obey your commands unhesitatingly.

Teaching the dog to "sit" is one of the fundamentals of obedience training and is relatively easy to put across. C. C. "Tex" Fawcett, Director of the Purina Dog Care Division, offers the following advice.

Put your dog on lead and place him at your left side. Command him to "sit." Pull up and back on his collar with your right hand and, at the same time, push down on his rump with your left. If he resists, wiggle his rump to get him off balance.

Hold him in the sit position, repeating, "sit." Praise him by voice and petting, let him up and move on a bit, and repeat the lesson.

Caution: Don't overdo any lesson—15 minutes a day is enough.

by MARY TROY, Home economics consultant to Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

Care-Free Kitchens

My new neighbor is a middle-aged woman who's raised a family of five. The other day I had her in for coffee, and it was fun to hear her exclaim, "Why, all your kitchen tools are new!"

"Not new," I answered with a laugh. "But they look good as new, don't they? They're stainless steel."

Her remark called for a tour of my tidy little kitchen. What had first caught her eye? My row of beaters, ladles, spatulas and carving equipment. They winked and gleamed at us from the wall. "Stainless steel won't rust," I told my neighbor, "even in contact with acid foods." It surprised me that she knew so little about the endless uses of care-free stainless—especially for the busiest room in the house.

I showed her my wipe-clean stainless steel wall oven, counter tops and dishwasher.

"And here's something else I think you'd appreciate," I said, waving a hand in pride toward my immaculate kitchen sink. "It's stainless, too. This sink takes rough treatment but comes up shiny bright every time. Stainless surfaces are non-porous . . . dirt and resulting discoloration don't get to first base here."

In fact, according to a recent survey sponsored by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation, over 50% of the sinks in test kitchens of professional home economists are made from stainless steel. The quick-cleaning quality plus permanent beauty of stainless have made the metal "a kitchen pet" of busy housewives everywhere.

My new neighbor went home with a gleam in her eye. I'll just bet there are changes in store for her own kitchen!

Famous Choral Group To Appear At St. Joseph's

The Roger Wagner Chorale will perform at St. Joseph College, during its annual North American tour under the joint sponsorship of St. Joseph's and Mount St. Mary's College. The performance is scheduled for February 3 in DePaul Auditorium on campus.

Headed by its French-born founder and director, Roger Wagner, the group numbers 24 voices, equally divided among men and women. Originally formed fifteen years ago in southern California, the Chorale has won distinction in all media of musical variety. It was acclaimed in London, Paris, and Amsterdam. In 1959, under the President's Special International Program for Cultural Presentations, the Chorale completed a tour of 19 countries in South and Central America and Mexico. During the same year, Roger Wagner received the GRAMMY award from the Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences for his album "Virtuoso."

The program at St. Joseph's will include sacred and secular music of the Renaissance and music of the baroque era, and will feature de La Lande's "De Profundis" in memory of John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Also programmed are several English folk songs and folk songs of the New World.

In addition to his musical activities in concert, radio, television and motion pictures, Mr. Wagner is director of Choral music at the University of California at Los Angeles, and head of the music department at Marymount College in Palos Verdes.
