With the news that we are going to get a new Postoffice and within the very near future we reaffirm our faith in the future of this community. The news certainly is of a welcome nature and long overdue. Efforts have been made in the past to remedy the postal situation here but the efforts were in vain. It was not until last week that the confirmation came from the Postoffice Dept. in Washington that the installation here had been officially approved. The best part of the whole deal is that the new office will be put here at Government expense. Just where the location will be is not yet certain but the postal authorities have scoured the community in search of an appropriate site and this will also be announced shortly. Inside information has it that we should have the new Postoffice complete and ready for service by next summer. This is really quick work and the local Democratic Central Committee is to be commended for the major role it played in obtaining the new office for Emmitsburg.

I was reading the other day where the PTA in a neighboring town was calling a special meeting to map out plans for what installations should be made in a proposed consolidated high school for Emmitsburg and Thurmont. No mention was made as to what part, if any, Emmitsburg would play in the say-so of the plans for the new school. Seems as though certain individuals are picking the carcass before the bird has been slain. This seems to have been the procedure right along and there is nothing new concerning this type of planning. Emmitsburg has not been consulted, it has been told what it could do, and that's all. Take it or leave it! Certainly any plans that concern the two towns should be talked over together, but then that's the way it has been all along. Activity has appeared calm or non-existent concerning the school matter here but don't let the quietness fool you. The Town is now ready for the final charge and you'll be reading the headlines in the near future, believe me.

Recent Bride

MILLER-TULLY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tully of Gettysburg R6, announce the marriage of their daughter, Judy Ann, to Kenneth Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, also of Gettysburg R6. They were married by Father Kealy at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church of Gettysburg on November 18, 1964.

Mrs. Miller is a graduate of Gettysburg High School with the class of 1964. She is employed by the Lane Studio of Gettysburg.

Mr. Miller attended Delone High School, McSherrystown, and is employed by the Gettysburg Throwing Co. Mrs. Miller is formerly of Emmitsburg.

Shoots Bear

George Ashbaugh, operator of Ashbaugh's Grocery, Emmitsburg, shot a 200-pound black bear Monday morning at 8 o'clock in Cameron County, Pa. Others in the group, who left Sunday and returned Tuesday were: Andrew 'Bud' Shorb, Thomas Shorb and Fred Gebhart.

REJOICE - NEW POSTOFFICE... THANKS TO SEN. BREWSTER

The outstanding proof of our local political consciousness is clearly evident in the very fine voting records of the last election. This is a point of great encouragement to all of us who believe in the democratic processes by which the people of this country rule themselves. In a democracy every literate person has the moral obligation to participate in this process of self-government—a process which since its inception has been the instrument by which other peoples have found political expression from less happy forms of government. In our democracy there is no place for indifference which can lead only to some form of tyranny and slavery. With our development of all phases of rapid communication by which every person is informed almost instantly of every local, national or global situation which demands our consideration, there can be no indifference in political matters.

As the community mouthpiece of the Democratic Party it is our obligation to raise the voter registration in the Emmitsburg area to its fullest extent, as well as to foster the most enduring pattern of party loyalty and solidarity.

During the recent election party unity was seriously threatened by divisive forces within. This challenge evaporated as a bad dream when the voters of the Emmitsburg area selected their state and national representatives. Leadership in the Emmitsburg Democratic Central Committee worked hand in hand with party officials on the local, state and national level. With the fine turnout of our local voters congratulations came to us from officials of the Democratic Party. No one man and no one committee achieved this remarkable phenomenon—you, the voters, Democrats and our friends and neighbors interested in our local affairs accomplished this with a clear-cut perspective as to your needs and problems. The Honorable Dan Brewster since he took office has been aware of our local problems. On October 15th, writing to the leadership of this committee said... "Please be assured that I will do everything I can to see that Emmitsburg receives a new postal facility."

The burst of party loyalty displayed by the voting record encouraged party officials all along the line to express their appreciation. Our request for the appointment of a rural mail carrier in the Emmitsburg Postoffice was quickly approved by the Frederick Democratic Central Committee, endorsed by the Honorable Carlton Sickles, and confirmed by His Excellency, the Governor. Our most urgent request for a new postal facility did not long go unheeded. Senator Brewster wrote the leadership of this committee about this matter on Nov. 13, saying that his assistant, our well-known Jack Sullivan, along with other postal inspectors, would come to Emmitsburg on November 16 to inspect the postal facilities, expressing the hope that he and Carlton Sickles could be of some assistance in securing a new Postoffice for Emmitsburg. On Nov. 17 we were told that the inspectors unanimously, in one decision, that Emmitsburg needed a new Postoffice. Within 10 days this decision was officially confirmed in a meeting by the Bureau of Facilities. It is now a fact that Emmitsburg soon will have this new and necessary facility. The whole community rejoices in this, we feel certain, after having endured generations, the most obsolete postal service. Our unserved thanks goes out to all of the party officials who helped us secure this improvement for our community, and especially to Senator Dan Brewster and Representative Carlton Sickles, for the significant part they played in achieving this important objective.

So have we, the voters of the Emmitsburg area, retrieved our political and party solidarity. So have come to us the deserving fruits of victory. However, this is no time to sit back and become indifferent to local problems. With every new turn of events the community is faced with new questions pertaining to the social welfare of our people. The objectives of the newly-organized Emmitsburg Democratic Central Committee is to keep every voter informed of both party and local needs to the level of his highest potential. This, too, is the objective of all democratic education—and we are DEMOCRATS!

Stolen Dynamite Is Recovered

Some 100 pounds of dynamite and a quantity of blasting caps, reportedly stolen from a construction job in Carroll County, were found Monday near Thurmont.

TFC. Neil F. Bechtol, investigating for State Police at Frederick, said the blasting equipment was taken from the M. J. Grove road construction job along Route 97, about one-half mile west of Taneytown.

It was found in a sandy hole along Route 77 just outside Thurmont.

The explosives were returned to the site of the construction and State Police are continuing their investigation.

Persons not actively immunized with tetanus toxoid should have the protection of anti-toxin when injured.

GUY W. HARNER

Guy William Harner, 63, Fairfield R2 farmer, died Tuesday morning at 6:30 o'clock at his home, where he had resided all his life. He had been in ill health for six years.

He is survived by his widow, the former Maude E. Crouse; a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Kennel, Gettysburg R5, and two sons, Robert, Kokomo, Ind., and Guy, Jr., also of Gettysburg R5; four grandsons, and these brothers and sisters: Walter, York; Charles, Gettysburg; Nevin, Minnie, Laora and Lillie Harner, all of Fairfield R2, and Mrs. Mae Grushon, Emmitsburg.

Plans were made for the club's Christmas Party which will be held on December 17th at 1 p.m. at the Lamp Post Inn in Gettysburg. Following the business meeting, an interesting talk was given by Mrs. Elwood Baumgardner on the Baltimore Oriole. Tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Baumgardner and Mrs. Alexander.

BISHOP BLESSES KELLEY HALL AT COLLEGE

St. Joseph College Monday dedicated its new 75-room dormitory for women.

The new residence hall, named after the late dean of students, Sister Mary Ellen Kelley, was dedicated by the Most Rev. Lambert A. Hoch, D.D., Bishop of the Sioux Falls Diocese in South Dakota.

Bishop Hoch, a personal friend of Sister Kelley's family, came to Emmitsburg for dedication ceremonies directly after adjournment of the Vatican Council in Rome.

Bishop Hoch in his dedicatory address urged Catholics to "study and meditate upon the great new constitution of the Church."

It emphasizes, he said, discussing the action of the recently adjourned Ecumenical Council in Rome, "that the Church is the people."

"There is a great equality in the church," he said. "The means of holiness are always the same."

He referred to the mother of the late sister, saying, "The holiness of Sister Kelley's mother, Mary, is not less than that of your beloved sister, Mary Ellen. Her contribution is great because without motherhood our vocations would perish."

Mrs. Kelley was a member of the Sioux Falls archdiocese, Sister Mary Ellen was a native of South Dakota.

The dedication program opened with an academic procession to the DePaul Auditorium, where a convocation was held.

Sister Rosemary Pfaff, D.C., college president, welcomed Bishop Hoch, the faculty and the students.

Before the main address by Bishop Hoch, Miss Claire Maurer of the senior class paid tribute to the late dean. Miss Maurer was a student at the all-girl Catholic college under Sister Kelley's leadership. Sister Kelley died suddenly last October.

Following the convocation, the more than 600 students formed an honor guard for Bishop Hoch from the college auditorium along the walkway to the new Kelley Hall.

There a portrait of the late Dean was unveiled and hung in the entrance lobby of the dormitory. It was a gift of the alumnae.

The dormitory, a modern four-winged structure, is located on the southwest section of the campus adjacent to the student center and facing the college chapel.

Garden Club Meets; Activities Planned

The Silver Fancy Garden Club met for its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson in Taneytown, with sixteen members present. Mrs. Robert Simpson, president of the club, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Louis R. Michae and Mrs. Harry Mohny of Taneytown, were welcomed as new members. The club voted to again furnish 75 door pieces for Christmas at the Victor Cullen Hospital. The club also voted to send a check of $20.00 to buy canteen tickets for patients at the State Hospital at Sykesville.

LIONS CLUB KIDDIES' PARTY DECEMBER 19

Blood is available to every citizen of Frederick County, James H. Grove, guest speaker, told members of the Emmitsburg Lions Club at the regular meeting of the group held Monday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant. Mr. Grove is postmaster at Frederick and is chairman of the Frederick County Red Cross Blood Bank. Mr. Grove informed his audience that you need not be a donor to have the privilege of this service. All that is required is that you be a resident of the county and the blood would be made available to you and the members of your family at no cost.

William Kelz, president, presided over the meeting and three guests were present from Union Bridge Lions Club, William Slemmer, Emmitsburg, also was a guest.

President Kelz announced that requests had been received from three local indigents asking for free eyeglasses. The club voted unanimously to provide the eye care for the three needy.

Charles F. Stouter, general chairman of the annual Kiddies' Christmas Party, reported that his committee had selected Saturday, Dec. 19 as the date for the affair and that advertising already was being sold to local merchants and individuals to help defray the expense of promoting the annual party.

Will Dedicate New Church

It was announced this week that another new church will be opened and blessed on Sunday, Nov. 29, for the Harrisburg Diocese. The church is St. Rita's Church, Blue Ridge Summit, Pa. It is a beautiful edifice in a Swiss chalet style of architecture. The church was planned and the building was started while the Reverend John J. McNulty was pastor of the parish. Father McNulty was changed in the middle of the building program to become pastor of St. Joseph's Parish, Shamokin, and the Reverend Daniel J. Mahoney was assigned to that area.

The Most Reverend George L. Leech, Bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese will offer the first Mass and bless the new church next Sunday afternoon at 3:00 p.m.

The church was well planned and designed. It is a modern stone structure with terrazzo flooring and stained glass windows. The church is surrounded by two acres of landscaping and sits on the pinnacle of the Summit Mountain. The Seminary Choir of Mount Saint Mary's Seminary will assist the congregation in the new hymns for the liturgy of the Mass which will change into English on that day. The new church will cost approximately $130,000 and will seat about 300 persons. The public is cordially invited to attend the first Mass.

Father Shaum

To Address Lions

Rev. David W. Shaum, chairman of the Department of Music and Fine Arts at Mount St. Mary's College, will speak on "Christmas and the Fine Arts," at the Thursday, Dec. 3 meeting of the Lions Club of Halfway, Hagerstown.

Father Shaum, who holds a Master of Arts in Education from Loyola College, Baltimore, and a Master of Arts in Music from The Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., received a doctoral degree from the latter in 1961. He has also pursued post-doctoral studies at the Eastman School of Music. In addition to his teaching duties at the college, he is director of both the College Glee Club and the Seminary Schola Cantorum.

He is a member of the Music Educators National Conference and the National Catholic Music Educators Association, Inc. He is the author of several published works and is currently a contributor to "Musart," the official publication of the N.C.M.E.A.

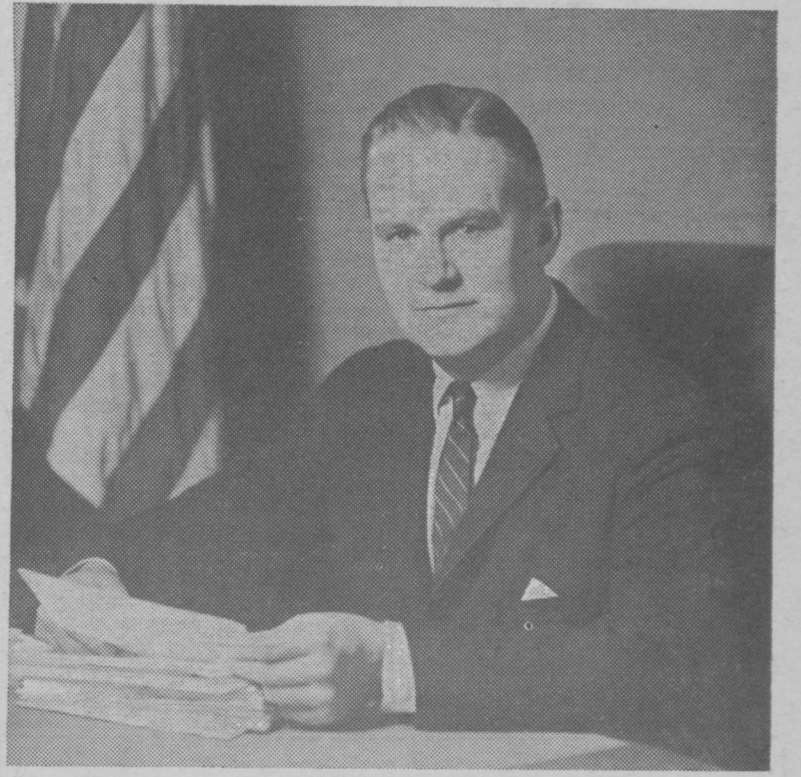

The program which is under the direction of Mr. William E. Dorsey, will begin at 7 p.m.

Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hanson, III, of Waynesboro, Pa., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Richard Hanson, IV. Mrs. Hanson is the former Marie Kankosky of Emmitsburg.

Over 95 cents of every dollar collected by Maryland Blue Cross is returned for subscribers' hospital care.

Senator Brewster Announces New Postoffice For Emmitsburg

Highly instrumental in assisting Emmitsburg to obtain a new Postoffice was Maryland's senior Senator, Daniel B. Brewster. The Senator, in a telegram to the Chronicle, announced the postal facility had been approved on November 20.

It had been known for some time that both Senator Brewster and Congressman-at-Large Carlton L. Sickles had been working on the project. The telegram read as follows:

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Senator Daniel B. Brewster (D. Md.), and Congressman Carlton Sickles (At Large, Md.), announced today that the Post Office Department, after an on-site inspection of postal facilities in Emmitsburg, has approved a new post office for that city.

Senator Brewster stated that the Post Office Department is now proceeding with site selection.

Daniel Baugh Brewster, Democrat, Glyndon, Md., was born Nov. 12, 1923 in Baltimore County. He enlisted in the Marine Corps in 1942 and rose from private to captain, serving two years in the South Pacific. Brewster was wounded, decorated with the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart and the Gold Star in lieu of a second Purple Heart. He is now a lieutenant-colonel in the Marine Reserve Corps.

Senator Brewster attended both Princeton and Johns Hopkins Universities, and received his LL.B. from the University of Maryland in 1949. In 1950 he was elected to the Maryland House of Delegates from Baltimore County at the age of 27. He was re-elected to the Legislature in 1954 and for the next four years served as vice chairman of the Judiciary Committee of the House of Delegates.

In 1958 Mr. Brewster was elected to the U. S. House of Representatives, 86th Congress, from Maryland's Second Congressional District. He was re-elected to the Congress in 1960 and for two terms served on the powerful House Armed Services Committee. Mr. Brewster was elected to the U. S. Senate on Nov. 8, 1962, for the six-year term beginning January 3, 1963. He serves on the Commerce, Government Operations, Postoffice and Civil Service Committees of the Senate.

In each of his elections to public office since 1950, Brewster has led the Democratic ticket. In 1962 he won election to the Senate by 173,000 votes—a record plurality for a state-wide candidate in this state. Senator Brewster was chairman of the Maryland delegation to the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City in 1964.

Senator Brewster is a former president and a present director of the Maryland State Fair and Agricultural Society at Timonium. He is a member of the YMCA, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans, the American Legion, the Reserve Officers Assn., and a member of the Vestry of Saint John's Episcopal Church. Senator and Mrs. Brewster own and operate a cattle, horse and grain farm near Glyndon, Md. They are the parents of two sons—Danny, Jr. and Gerry.

Church To Dedicate Nativity Scene

Incarnation United Church of Christ will hold services this Sunday night, November 28, at 7:30 p.m., at which time the outdoor Nativity Scene will be dedicated. This scene is being placed in front of the church by the members of the Sunday School and Youth Fellowship. The young people of the church have worked with Mr. Fred Wolfe in preparing the figures and setting up the stable. Everyone is invited to this dedication.

This service is also the Annual Family Thank Offering Ingathering for the members of the Church. The ladies of the Women's Guild will conduct this part of the service. Mr. Gerald W. Hagmayer, Executive Director of the Hoffman Home for Children near Littlestown, will be the speaker.

Another feature of the evening service will be the lighting of the First Advent Candle which has become an annual event for Incarnation Church. One candle will be added each Sunday during Advent to the Advent Wreath, with the Christ Candle being lighted on Christmas Eve as the annual Sunday School program.

Suit Settled

The Adams Court Court Saturday approved settlement, for $1,544.64 of the trespass action brought by Thomas E. Brines, Emmitsburg R.D., administrator of the estate of Stuart David Brines, against David Lingg, Emmitsburg.

The suit arose from an accident May 30 when a car operated by Lingg on the old Emmitsburg Rd. struck Stuart David Brines as he was riding a bicycle, and fatally injured the youth.

Good habits are your servant—bad habits your master.

Local Student Contest Winner

A Mother Seton School youngster was awarded first place in a poster contest sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization.

First place went to Gerolf Josef Englestatler, Emmitsburg, an eighth grade student at Mother Seton School. Second award went to William Brady, Frostburg and third place to Dennis Wit, Baltimore. Thirty-three parishes placed entries in the contest. Rev. John V. Ballard, moderator, CYO Junior Division, in a letter to Sister Agatha, principal, Mother Seton School, announced the winners.

Mount Runners

Win Championship

Mount St. Mary's College claimed a fine cross-country season by capturing the Mason-Dixon Conference title Saturday at Bridgewater, Va., as Tom Neidhart set a track record in racing home first.

The championship for the Mount was its second since the start of the conference meets in 1941, the previous title being won in 1943. Neidhart covered the three-mile course in 15:25.03 to smash the previous record of 15:28.05 set by Rick Frampton, Loyola, in 1960.

Townson, the only team to defeat the Mount (7-1) in dual competition during the past season, finished second.

Team scores were: Mount St. Mary's 60; Townson 62; Old Dominion, defending champion, 97; Catholic U. 118; Gallaudet 132; Bridgewater 143; Johns Hopkins 167; Loyola 168; Lynchburg 192; American U. 258; and Washington College 290. James Deegan is the Mount coach.

Waybright Wins Farmer Award

Richard C. Waybright, Gettysburg R2, was named as the "Outstanding Young Farmer in Pennsylvania" at the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Young Farmers Association at Pennsylvania State University last week.

The plaque was presented on the basis of Waybright's farming program, community activities, membership and leadership in farm organizations.

A partner of Mason Dixon Farms, Waybright is a past recipient of the Keystone Farmer Degree and the American Farmer Degree of the Future Farmers of America, a past president of the Gettysburg Young Farmers, a past National FFA vice president and a past vice president of the state Young Farmers. In addition to his farming activities, he is president of the board of directors of the Adams County YMCA and superintendent of the St. James Lutheran Sunday School.

Mason Dixon Farms, of which he is a partner, farms approximately 1,000 acres, growing corn, alfalfa, barley and wheat. The farm has 185 milking cows, 154 dairy heifers, 46 steers and 500 hens. Recently the farm opened a dairy plant and now sells all the milk the farm produces through its own dairy, plus the eggs from the laying flock.

Waybright is a member of the Atlantic Breeders Cooperative and the American Farm Bureau.

Warner Hospital Accredited

Donald Wagner, acting administrator of the Warner Hospital,

Gettysburg, informed the board of directors at a meeting last week that the hospital had been re-accredited for three years by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. The hospital has had uninterrupted accreditation since the joint commission was established some 30 years ago. The Warner Hospital was evaluated by Dr. Adrian M. Robinson, a field representative of the commission, on September 28, 1964.

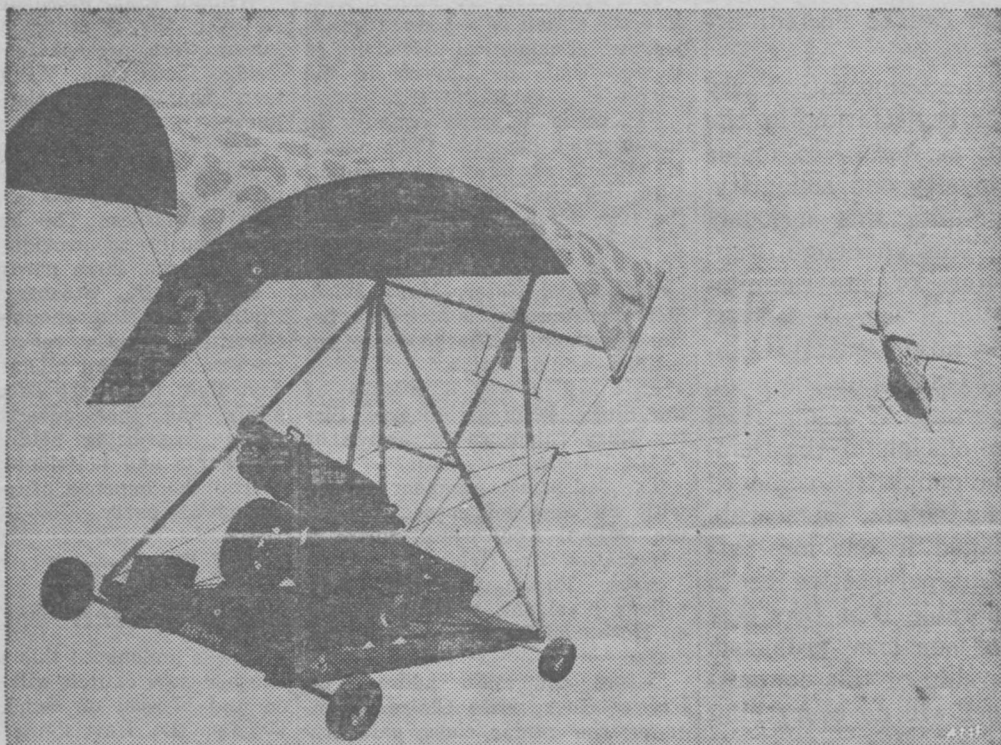

The Accrediting Commission commended the Warner Hospital "for maintaining standards deserving of accreditation and for your constant effort to approve the quality of patient care." Recommendations made by the commission are under study.

Dr. Joseph G. Rhode, an associate of Dr. George Morningstar, Emmitsburg, was admitted to staff privileges in general medicine and obstetrics after Dr. H. F. Harbach, chief of staff, presented his name with the approval of the medical staff.

Dr. Harbach also announced that a special medical committee chaired by Dr. W. R. Cadle, Emmitsburg, was studying the feasibility of an intensive care unit "for monitoring the critical medical patients and the patients who have undergone intensive surgery." Dr. Cadle's committee will consider the location of such a unit, the personnel required, equipment and procedure. Clark Smith, president of the board, named John D. Teeter, chairman of the committee, including Leo McDermitt and Richard A. Brown, to complement the staff committee.

FUEL FILTER—Two soldiers refuel a CH-21 (SHAWNEE) helicopter using a newly developed fuel filter to remove dirt and water from storage drums. Baby of a family of four developed by the U. S. Army Engineer Research and Development Laboratories, Fort Belvoir, Va., the filter permits refueling at the rate of 15 gallons per minute. The portable filter reportedly does a better job than commercial counterparts twice the size. Now standardized, the filter is in use in South Vietnam, and is available for emergency procurement.

ON THE WAY—An artist's concept shows a flex wing utility glider with pay load being towed by a helicopter. Ryan Aeronautical Company, under contract with the Army Transportation Research Command, will design, fabricate, and test the Light Utility Glider (LUG) system. The "LUG" systems are aimed toward providing versatile cargo delivery vehicles of simple design and low cost for use in highly mobile and dispersed combat environment.

13 Die On State Roads In Week

Thirteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Five of those killed were drivers; three were passengers; and five were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths; speed in six; and "driver error" was present in nine of the fatalities.

During the early months of this year there was an indication in the highway fatality picture that the number of deaths might be well below that for 1963," commented Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, "but in the last few weeks we have seen an up-swing in highway deaths. If the present trend continues, there is a possibility that we will exceed last year's record toll. This is very clear evidence that we are not going all-out in our efforts to promote highway safety."

Colonel Jarman continued: "Obviously much of the responsibility for this unfortunate situation must be credited to the driver who wilfully or negligently violates the basic rules of safe driving. But safety will not be accomplished by shifting all of the blame to these drivers, many of whom have been involved in fatal collisions and have already paid a tremendous penalty for their unsafe driving actions. Each one of us has the responsibility to see that his personal driving habits and attitudes are always maintained at the highest possible level; each one of us has the responsibility to see that adequate steps are taken to remove from the highway those drivers who abuse their privilege to drive. Maximum safety will be accomplished in no other way."

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Flu Vaccine
There's still time to protect yourself and your family against influenza in the winter of 1964-65.

Ideally, the flu vaccine should be given in two shots, about two months apart. However, it is best to complete the schedule by mid-December. If you're a late starter, even a single dose can afford significant protection, which is enhanced by a second dose two weeks later. If you had the two series within the past year, a single booster will suffice to rebuild immunity.

How good is the flu vaccine? Not perfect, but good. Carefully controlled tests have shown the vaccine to be 60 to 80 per cent effective against the disease. And this season more virus strains have been added to the vaccine, to guard against more types of influenza.

Immunization is especially recommended for three "high risk groups," those who have experienced high mortality from flu epidemics. These are (1) Persons at all ages who suffer from chronic debilitating disease; (2) Persons in older age groups, particularly past 65; (3) Pregnant women.

Since the vaccine viruses are grown in eggs, the vaccine should not be taken by those who are hypersensitive to eggs or egg products.

If you're not vaccinated yet, and you're considered to be in one of the "high risk groups," ask your doctor now.

100 YEARS AGO

TENNESSEE INVADED; HOOD, SCHOFIELD CLASH

BY LON K. SAVAGE

Gen. John B. Hood, the Confederate who had given up Atlanta to William Tecumseh Sherman, marched through Tennessee 100 years ago this week in the Confederacy's last invasion of Federal territory.

Hood had 55,000 veterans in his army, including about 10,000 crack cavalymen under Nathan Bedford Forrest, the South's best cavalry general, and the things seemed to be going well for him. Since leaving Georgia, Hood's men had swept across Alabama, had met Forrest and his men at Florence, and then, with Forrest in the lead, had turned northward toward Tennessee.

There had been delays, to be sure, but now a Southern army was moving north again, on the offensive, and in front of it the Federal resistance seemed uncertain. Despite freezing cold, hail, rain and snow, Confederates were crossing the Tennessee line near Rawhide, Ala., by November 22.

Thomas Resists

Old Gen. George H. Thomas, the "Rock of Chickamauga," was assigned the task of stopping Hood, but he was not quite ready. Early in the campaign, he had sent Gen. John Schofield with 22,000 men to Pulaski, Tenn., to hold the line and then, working in Nashville, began trying to accumulate the rest of his far flung army.

As Hood drew near, Schofield found Pulaski too hot. On November 22 and 23, with Hood's army due west of him, Schofield pulled out and retreated northward toward Columbia on the Duck River, where his men dug new defense works.

Hood came on. By November 26, the Confederates were at Columbia, ready to attack across the river against the smaller Federal army.

Forrest then showed his military genius. While Hood blasted at the Federal line with artillery, Forrest slipped up the river to the east with his cavalry and pushed his way across, ready to come in on Schofield's flank.

He was met there by young James H. Wilson, commanding the Federal cavalry, and fighting broke out. Forrest quickly drove Wilson back toward the north; more of Hood's army pushed across the river and followed, and suddenly Schofield's army was being trapped, with Confederates to his south, east and north.

Schofield Pulls Out

Wilson told Schofield of Forrest's breakthrough, and Schofield again pulled out, this time at full speed. The Confederates already were near Spring Hill, ready to step across the road to Franklin and Nashville and cut off Schofield off from his base. Schofield's task: to get to Spring Hill and beat it back toward Franklin before this could happen.

What happened still is being argued. The facts are these: Schofield's army marched, full speed ahead, all the way to Spring Hill; while some of his army guarded the road, the rest of his army slipped through to safety, and within two days, he was out of the trap entirely and in Franklin, to the north.

Whether Hood gave proper leadership; whether his generals followed orders properly; these questions have not been resolved. One thing is sure: Hood's army had lost an opportunity to score a smashing victory—an opportunity it would never have again.

Next week: The Battle of Franklin.

Strides Made

In Stroke Research

In September, 1960, medical writer Alexander Gifford of the Baltimore News-Post suffered a stroke. Thirteen months later, in a series of five articles, he writes of his experience and what he learned about stroke.

Part 3

Not very long after I was up and about following my stroke, the doctors told me I should have a "brain wave" test to try to rule out a brain tumor.

It was explained that the brain wave or electroencephalogram, to give it its full name, was a painless procedure, and that it was important to rule out tumor pressure as the cause of my trouble, because a brain tumor might just be cancer of the brain.

"Can't we just rule it out mentally, and forget the whole thing?" I asked the doctor, for I was convinced that if I had a brain tumor it was all up with me anyhow.

"Wouldn't you rather be sure?" he asked, and when it was put up to me that way, I could only nod.

So off to Perry Point I went and had my head "wired for sound" as the doctors said, and let the machine look inside my brain and see whether there was a swelling there or not.

Then, later, they had me swallow some radioactive iodine, and then scanned my head with a geiger counter, just to get some further information on whether or not I had a brain tumor.

Then there was a second trip to Perry Point for another brain wave test.

Next, they wanted to find whether or not my stroke had been caused by a bleeding of a small vessel in the brain. This required a spinal tap—a frightening experience which left me with some severe headaches, but little else.

Then I had a special type of photographic X-ray coverage of my lungs to make sure there was no involvement of my lungs.

It was explained to me that if there happened to be brain cancer, involvement of the lungs would not be unusual.

Actually it was not until that happy day when they told me that all tests were negative—for cerebral bleeding and for brain tumors, and that it would have to be assumed that mine was a stoppage caused by the blocking off of a small blood vessel probably due to hardening of the arteries, and that I could continue the rest of my rehabilitation at home—that I began to realize how lucky I had been.

This my family physician confirmed, and my old friend Health Commissioner Huntington Williams, who wrote out a prescription for me:

"Take it easy."

Yes, great progress has been made in treating stroke since its discovery thousands of years ago.

In the Old Testament (1 Samuel XXV, 37) it is recorded that Nabal became as stone for 10 days before he died.

Early physicians gave fanciful explanations of the cause of stroke.

Said Hippocrates, in the 5th Century B.C., strokes were caused by a loss of "phlegm" in the brain which resulted in a drying out of the nerves.

Two thousand years later, in 1658, a German scientist was first to discover that stroke could be caused by brain hemorrhage.

Now, three centuries later, we know of the three types of stroke—the clot type, the leak type and the tumor-pressure type.

Think of the modern weapons that were available in my case—radio-active iodine—the brain wave machine, the spinal tap.

Now I began to understand why, day after day, the doctors had made me go to the blood "lab" for endless test of my blood for clotting time—for any number of things.

They wanted to find out whether I needed one of the anticoagulants that have recently been discovered.

Even surgery is being called in to combat serious strokes.

It's now possible even to put in artery grafts to provide a new bypass channel for the blood.

In this way sometimes impending ing strokes may be headed off and prevented.

Two things are important in stroke treatment:

(1) The patient must cooperate wholeheartedly with the doctor.

(2) So must the patient's family.

Rehabilitation may be a long process. You may call on the Heart Association of Maryland, which may be helpful in finding and suggesting resources for specific cases.

Stroke is no longer hopeless.

And we can expect that further research—increased in scope and intensity—will uncover more ways to help even larger numbers of stroke patients.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kasting

There have been many strains of American foxhounds. Most of them, were developed by individual fox-hunting fanciers. Among them were the Travis, Goodman, Hampton-Watts-Bennett, Shaver, July, Sugar Loaf, Robertson, Whitlock Shaggy, Avent, Trumbo, Bywaters, Arkansas Traveler, Spalding - Norris, Byron, Cooke, Buckfield, Walker, Trigg and New England Native. Five of these are still in existence, but the Walker hound far outnumbers all the rest. "You'll hear his mighty mouth ringing through the countryside wherever the fox is chased in our nation," states Henry P. Davis, Sporting Dogs Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

The history of the Walker foxhound is an interesting one. The greatest credit for the development of the strain goes to two Kentucky sportsmen of the 19th century, George Washington Maupin and John W. Walker. They bred their hounds carefully, culling the progeny rigorously and selecting only the very best as brood stock. Pedigrees and records were meticulously kept. Yet paradoxically, one of the greatest progenitors of the strain was a possibly stolen dog of unknown pedigree!

ROGER J. TRUAX

Route 1
Ulysses, Pennsylvania, 16948
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Roger J. Truax.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was Route 1, Ulysses, Pennsylvania, 16948; that the parties to this cause were married on the 30th day of November, 1957, at Frederick, Maryland, by Rev. Trunk, a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage three children were born, namely, Roger Michael Truax, six years of age, Teresa Jean Truax, four years of age, and Debra Colleen Truax, three years of age; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without any cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Darlene S. Truax, be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Roger J. Truax; that she be awarded the care and custody of the infant children in these proceedings mentioned; that she be awarded a sum or sums of money for the support and maintenance of said infant children, and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF COURT
It is thereupon this 16th day of November, 1964, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 19th day of December, 1964, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of January, 1965, and show cause, if any he has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

no one knows, and the circumstances of his acquisition probably precluded any serious attempt to find out. But regardless of his origin, he made a great impression on the packs of Maupin and Walker, and the introduction of this new blood came at just the right time to effect the needed improvement in performance. He was given the name Tennessee Lead.

Tennessee Lead was not very prepossessing in appearance. He was a medium - size black dog with a small tan spot over each eye, a thin coat and no brush on his tail. But he had an exceptional amount of fox sense and, though not a standout in any department, was overall a high-class, game-to-the-core foxhound.

Whatever his origin, Tennessee Lead became the idol of Kentucky, where Maupin and Walker bred him extensively on their bitches. His influence was immediately felt, and his blood became highly prized in making the Walker foxhound a truly remarkable breed.

Coast Guard

Appointments Open

Eligible young men are reminded that December 5, 1964, is the deadline for submitting applications to compete for appointment as Cadet, United States Coast Guard.

The 89th annual competition for admission to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Connecticut, will commence with the December 5, 1964, administration of the College Entrance Examination Board Tests. Appointments are made solely on a competitive basis, with no Congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

An applicant must be an unmarried high school senior or graduate who has reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1965. Applicants must be high school graduates who have earned 15 units by June 30, 1965, including the following units: Three in English, two in Algebra, and one in Plane Geometry. Applicants must be in excellent physical condition, between 64 and 78 inches in height, with proportionate weight, and have at least 20/30 vision in each eye, correctable to 20/20.

Qualified young men are urged to enter this competition for appointment as Cadets in the Nation's oldest continuous seagoing Service. Those appointed will receive a four year course of training and education leading to a Bachelor of Science degree and a commission as a career officer in the U. S. Coast Guard.

Additional information and application forms can be obtained from high school guidance counselors or by writing to the Commandant (PTP-2), U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C. 20226.

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On:
Florida Land And Tourism

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 26—This column is not intended as advice to readers that this is the time to buy land in Florida. There certainly are such times, but Florida land ideally should be bought when public interest in "going to Florida" is much less keen than at present. Furthermore, the land to own is that on the seacoast or bordering large rivers or other bodies of water. For a great many years there will be plenty of land obtainable in the interior of Florida, but there can never be much more land than at present on the Florida seacoast, east or west.

The Cold And Dry
Summer In The North

Most of us living in the United States have spent one of the driest and coolest summers for over 30 years. Therefore many of us—especially in the eastern half of the nation—will be heading for Florida as soon as we can, by train or airplane, by bus or automobile. Unless some unexpected deterrent event occurs, Florida will have the largest influx of visitors it has ever had.

There are various reasons for this. Perhaps the foremost is the prosperity of the people in the North. "Going to Florida in the winter" continues to be an attainable luxury for a good many families. These are families who set aside a certain amount of money each month during the year for entertainment, and will use a part of this to go to Florida for a while this winter.

Labor Union Contracts
Also, many of the labor union contracts now have "fringe" benefits which favor their senior workers to the extent that they are able to take a vacation in the winter. This does not necessarily mean that they will all go to Florida. California, Arizona, New Mexico, Hawaii, and other such states also offer an attractive climate. Florida, however, is nearest for those in the eastern half of the country.

Practically all of the families who can enjoy such a winter vacation have automobiles. Many of them enjoy traveling by auto to a warmer climate, and will include the trip as part of their vacation. It seems certain, therefore, that Florida will receive a sizable—if not the major—portion of these senior labor union members. Taken all together, Florida, California, and some of the other southwestern states should have the greatest influx of winter population this year that they have ever enjoyed.

Labor Union Developments

Several of the labor unions have, with government aid, bought large tracts of land and developed them as small towns. The letter carriers, for instance, are building such a settlement about fifteen miles east of Lake Wales. Here they have constructed apartment houses which their members can rent. This particular development includes a post office, a general store, a restaurant, a library, a social hall, and every convenience for movies, dances, and other forms of community entertainment. This little settlement is very enterprising, and usually furnishes a column of news on events in the area which appears in the two Lake Wales newspapers.

Several similar developments are being planned, especially for the west coast of Florida south of Sarasota. Improvements of this sort are healthy indications for Florida, as they bring to the state year-round citizens who are receiving pension checks from the North every month to supplement whatever they may be able to earn in the South.

Final Recommendation

Neither Florida, California, nor any other tourist state should urge people from the North to go and settle in their area unless these people have some income arriving regularly from their "home" area that they could depend upon in the event of sickness or other difficulty which would involve unexpected expense.

And, certainly, any persons making their first visit to Florida, California, or other states mentioned above should travel around and see various sections of the state—even of the nation—before making the ultimate decision and settling anywhere.

the unpleasantness of hearing and seeing a "thank you" said by the lips but not from the heart.

A grateful person is one who says "thank you" for things of a divine origin and continues to use them ever mindful of God, their giver. A grateful person is not an exploiter who seeks more blessings from God by the abundance of words or by the fanciness of his thanksgiving observances. A grateful person is not one who is zealous in giving thanks but once a year. He has at all times a grateful heart and offers thanks to God daily.

Thanksgiving is a condition of one's life rather than merely a tradition he observes. Sincere gratitude has a way of revealing itself in our daily lives. By giving thanks we express the gratitude we have and feel for God's blessing.

Prayer

Father, help us to realize the why of our gratitude. Grant us to know the joys both of giving and receiving. Teach us to pour out of sincere hearts our thanks to Thee. In the spirit of Jesus. Amen.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

A Good 5¢ Investment

A young man named Leonard Goldstein from Dallas, Texas arrived in Nashville, Tennessee this month to collect a $200,000 to 1 bet. It will take him four years for the payoff which is a Bachelor of Arts degree at Vanderbilt University.

A year or so ago young Goldstein invested a 5¢ stamp in applying for the Thoroughbred Racing Association's Grantland Rice Memorial Scholarship, the TRA tribute to one of America's best-loved and respected sports writers who was, himself, a graduate of Vanderbilt University. In winning the 5¢ bet on himself Goldstein gets a grant of $10,000 to cover all expenses for four years of study. These are odds that Granny Rice, an avid Daily Double fan, would have appreciated.

The only requirement aside from his scholastic standing is that the applicant be interested in pursuing a career of sports writing. A deciding factor in choosing each year's scholarship recipient is his writing for his high-school or local newspaper.

Deadline for preliminary applications for this year's crop of high-school seniors is January 1. The winner will be chosen by a committee including three prominent sports writers which will meet at Vanderbilt next May. All applications should be addressed directly to the Vanderbilt University Dean of Admissions.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit for the partition of real estate.

The Bill recites that your Complainants and the Respondents in these proceedings are adults, sui juris, and that the following parties to this proceeding are residents of the State of Maryland:
Margaret Woerner Carmack, and
Emory L. Carmack, her husband, 222 East Church Street, Frederick, Maryland; Eloise Woerner Haines, widow, 101 West 14th Street, Frederick, Maryland; Mary Alice Woerner Harley, and F.
Theodore Harley, her husband,
904 Pin Oak Road, Hagerstown, Maryland; Mildred V. Kirby, and Robert D. Kirby, her husband, 111 Locust Street, Frederick, Maryland; Calvin C. Wilhide, and Virginia M. Wilhide, his wife, 6206 Fairdel Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland; Pauline R. Phelps, widow, Route 6, Frederick, Maryland;

and John M. Shuff, and Curtis W.
Shuff, Executors of the Last Will and Testament of Leonard A.
Shuff, deceased, Frederick County, Maryland; that the following parties to this proceeding are non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing at the addresses indicated: Kenneth Wilhide, and Nellie Wilhide, his wife, Route 1, Shippensburg, Pennsylvania;
Kathleen Mickey, and Richard Mickey, her husband, Box 113, Marion, Pennsylvania; Iona Shaffer, and Welly Shaffer, her husband, 1911 Lincoln Way East, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania; and Betty Herr, and Kenneth Herr, her husband, 547 Cumberland Avenue, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania; that all of the parties to this proceeding, with the exception of John M. Shuff, and Curtis
W. Shuff, Executors of the Last
Will and Testament of Leonard
A. Shuff, deceased, are first counsels, and the closest living heirs at law and next of kin of Mary Lorraine Shuff, deceased, who departed from this life intestate on July 23, 1963, seized and possessed of all that piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being on the south side of East Second Street, in Frederick City, Frederick County, State of Maryland, known as 22 East Second Street, in said City, County, and State, fronting nineteen (19) feet, more or less, on East Second Street, and extending back for a depth of eighty-seven (87) feet, more or less, to Market Space, said piece or parcel of land being duly described in a deed recorded in Liber 401, at folio 32, one of the Land Records of Frederick County, Maryland, a certified copy of said deed being filed in these proceedings, and marked Complainants' Exhibit "A", and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that Leonard A. Shuff, deceased, surviving husband of Mary Lorraine Shuff, departed from this life tes-tate on August 1, 1963, and by the terms of the Last Will and Testament of the said Leonard A.
Shuff, deceased, he did devise and bequeath all of his estate, real, personal, and mixed unto his wife, Mary Lorraine Shuff, deceased, a certified copy of said Will being filed in these proceedings, and marked Complainants' Exhibit
"B", and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that upon the death of the said Mary Lorraine Shuff, deceased, and Leonard A. Shuff, deceased, as foresaid, all of the right, title, and interest in and to the aforementioned real estate,
with the improvements thereon,
did, by operation of law, vest in the closest living heirs at law and next of kin of the said Mary Lorraine Shuff, deceased, at the time of her demise, all being first cousins, namely, William C. Woer-ner, and Eva Martha Woerner, his wife; Kenneth M. Woerner, and Ethel M. Woerner, his wife; Lorraine C. Zimmerman, widow;

Margaret Woerner Carmack, and
Emory L. Carmack, her husband;
Eloise Woerner Haines, widow; Mary Alice Woerner Harley, and
B. Theodore Harley, her husband;
Mildred V. Kirby, and Robert D.
Kirby, her husband; Calvin C.
Wilhide, and Virginia M. Wilhide, his wife; Pauline R. Phelps, widow; Kenneth Wilhide, and Nellie Wilhide, his wife; Kathleen Mickley, and Richard Mickey, her husband; Iona Shaffer, and Welly Shaffer, her husband; Betty Herr, and Kenneth Herr, her husband;
and that your Complainants respectfully represent unto your Honorable Court that the land and improvements thereon herein described is not susceptible to division in kind between the parties entitled thereto according to their respective interests without great loss and damage, and that it would be to the best interest and advantage to the parties to this cause that the land be sold under an Order of your Honorable Court, and after the payment of the usual Court costs and expenses, the proceeds therefrom be distributed between the parties to this cause according to their respective interests.

The Bill then prays that your Honorable Court, upon the usual examination in these premises, will appoint a Trustee or Trustees for the sale of the real estate,
with the improvements thereon,
mentioned herein, and to divide the proceeds of said sale, under the direction of your Honorable Court, to the parties entitled thereto according to their respective interests; and for such other and further relief as the nature of this case may require.

ORDER OF COURT

It is thereupon this 5th day of November, 1964, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainants give notice to the non-resident Defendants of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 12th day of December, 1964, commanding them to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 12th day of January, 1965, and show cause, if any they have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Pheasant Drive

Two men can make a pheasant drive with an outfit like this: Take a nylon cord 60 feet long and in the center attach a light rock.
Now drag this between you.
Birds sitting tight will jump every time.

Cool Drink

Don't forget the old campers' trick to have cool water (freeze canteen the night before) works with larger water jugs too. Just stick 'em in the deep freeze.
Don't fill full, or they'll break.

Leech Trick

It will never become a national sport but some fishermen like to use leeches for bait because the fish love 'em. Use rubber gloves when you handle the ugly things and they won't attach to you.

Steel Wool Sparkle

Campers! Your pots and pans can have that coveted steel wool sparkle if you'll carry your soap in prepared steel wool pads. Plenty better than trying to scour pans with regular soap which is bulky to carry anyway.

Camp Clothes Line

Know how to hang clothes without clothes pins? Like this:
Take a rope twice as long as the distance between two handy trees.
Tie around one tree, then twist the rope its entire length and tie to the other. Stick clothes into the twisted loops. Tension holds them through snow, hail and gloom of night.

Night Fishermen

Night fishermen why don't you paint the inside of your minnow pail white? Makes the critter much easier to see (and catch) when it's dark.

When he, the spirit of truth, is come, he shall guide you into all the truth.

—(John 16:13).

If we but turn to Him the best teacher is the Spirit of God within us. We should always be receptive; ready to follow God's instruction since it is an unending source of deep wisdom.

Shear Stupidity

If your motor uses shear pins, it's "shear" stupidity not to tape
a couple of spares on the motor's shaft.

Slick Coat

Old coon hunters wear slickertype raincoats in the woods.
Doesn't catch on briars and sticks.

It's A Clinch

Clinch sinkers break after use.
To keep serviceable, drive a nail through and loop a copper wire through the hole.

New Veteran

Insurance Change

More than a million-and-a-half veterans may not know that they are eligible for the re-opening of GI insurance. Mr. F. E. Quinn, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Baltimore, said today.

They are those whose disabilities, although adjudged to be service-connected, are so slight that they do not rate monthly compensation payments.

The fact, however, that their disabilities are service-connected makes them eligible to apply for National Service Life Insurance,
Mr. Quinn pointed out.

The VA has no way to trace these individuals to notify them of their eligibility. Veterans receiving compensation checks, on the other hand, can be notified through the mails.

The majority of these million-and-a-half veterans have lost complete touch with VA, since there was no reason to notify the agency of their whereabouts.

Mr. Quinn said VA records show War II or the Korean Conflict that 1,600,000 veterans of World period have been adjudged service-connected in a non-compen-

The VA is enlisting the aid of patriotic, military and other service organizations in an effort to reach these veterans who may otherwise never learn of the op-

These veterans are probably en-

Garrett County Residents To Host Deer Hunters

The Department of Game and Inland Fish announced this week that a large number of residents of Garrett County have offered accommodations to deer hunters for the regular deer season, Nov. 27-Dec. 5 and the antlerless season December 18 and 19.

A department spokesman stated that the State of Maryland owns 75,584 acres of land in Garrett County which is open to hunters.

The public hunting lands are: Mt. Nebo Wildlife Management Area, 1,791 acres; Deep Creek Recreation Area, 1,823; Swallow Falls State Forest, 7,400 acres; Savage River State Forest, 52,520 acres; Potomac State Forest, 12,050 acres.

A list of names where hunters may stay may be secured from Mrs. Patricia Kittle, Garrett County Promotional Council, Oakland, Maryland.

Any-Deer Argument

The arguments for or against deer-of-either-sex seasons have long been fair game topics for members of the hot stove league. The bucks-only advocates would seem to be diminishing in numbers, if not in vociferousness, under the withering fire of the doe-boys' statistical support. The latter can cite such gems as the fact that, since the inauguration of any-deer seasons in Arizona, the number of bucks taken by hunters has almost trebled. As another example, in Montana an increase of 300 per cent was noted in the total deer harvest during the first five years of deer-of-either-sex hunting. Moreover, the buck kill in Montana during that period spiraled from 39,000 to 90,000. With such convincing evidence, the doe-boys ask, why exclude the ladies? Why, indeed? Venison Fit For A Cook

A few folktales about deer meat have been dispelled in a recent study on the care and cleaning of venison by researchers at Utah

State University. Among their findings: It doesn't make any difference whether or not the carcass is washed after field dressing; one week of aging gave maximum flavor; meat from animals two years of age and under was preferred to that of older animals; five or six packing materials commonly used for locker wrapping preserved a good color and prevented freezer burn and weight loss, but plain butcher wrap failed these tests.

County Ag Census Under Way

The 1964 Census of Agriculture, now being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, in Frederick County, will bring up to date farm statistics last collected in 1959.

Here are a few of the many facts recorded in the 1959 farm census for this county:

There were 2,306 farms in 1959, compared with 2,792 in 1954. The average size of farm was 136.0 acres in 1959, compared with 117.7 acres in 1954.

The value of products sold by the County's farmers in 1959 was $23,515,215. The value of all crops sold was $1,761,702. The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $21,753,513.

The 1964 national Census of Agriculture is the 18th in a series which began in 1840. Because of the rapid changes American agriculture has been undergoing in recent years, Census Bureau officials regard the current census as one of the most significant ever taken. They ask every farmer to cooperate in compiling an accurate record of these changes by filling out the census form he receives in the mail and holding the completed questionnaire until a census taker calls for it.

NEWS OF THE HOME

A new development in do-it-yourself hobby craft is the electronic organ you build at home! With no special skills, says the Schober Organ Corp., you can build an all-transistor organ in 100-200 man-hours.

If you're average, you use 30-60 gallons of water each time you shower. An average community needs 150 gallons per person per day! For a free copy of "The Story of Water Supply," write to American Water Works Assn., 2 Park Ave., N. Y. C. 10016.

Fiber glass curtains, now in many new designs and textures, never need ironing. According to Pittsburgh Plate Glass experts, they are ironed "forever" at the factory—in flames that would destroy other fibers!

If fire should break out in your home tonight, would you know what to do? First and foremost, according to the Insurance Information Institute, every member of your family should know how to get out of the house quickly.

Early Xmas Mailing Urged; Benefits Listed

Mail early and include the Zip code numbers with your city and state address on all your Christmas mailings as these Zip code numbers will greatly speed all your Christmas mailings to their destinations. Also include your return address in the upper left hand corner of your Christmas cards or packages with the Zip code numbers. The Zip code numbers with Emmitsburg, Md., address is 21727. To whatever city and state you are sending your Christmas mail and you do not know the Zip code numbers for that particular city and state, come into the post office and ask the clerk who will gladly tell you the Zip code. All addresses must be legible and complete.

Sending your Christmas cards by first class mail at the 5c per ounce rate will give you many advantages. You may seal them, write messages on them and they will be given priority of dispatch and delivery. If the people have moved since you have last written them, they will be forwarded to them as often as they have moved and left a forwarding address. This way they will receive your Christmas cards. They will also be returned to you at no additional cost, if undeliverable for any reason, provided you have your return address on them.

Sending your Christmas cards by third class mail, at the 4c per two ounces rate, you receive none of the above advantages. They only go to wherever you address them. They are not forwardable or returned to you and you do not know whether they receive them or not unless they reply to you.

Christmas packages should be packed in strong double-faced corrugated fiberboard boxes. Cushioning material should be used completely around the inside to prevent damage, rattling, or loosening of articles in the package. Put a slip of paper in each parcel showing name and address of both the sender and addressee, also list the contents, in case of damage to outside address. They should be securely wrapped in heavy paper on the outside and tied with strong cord. The name and address of both the sender and addressee should be placed only on one and the same side of the package. It is permissible to place instructions such as "Do Not Open Until Christmas" on the outside of your Christmas package. This endorsement makes it possible to mail early and have your package arrive before Christmas and be recognized as a Christmas package, rather than being late. Have your packages insured, and have them sent Special Delivery or Special Handling, which will greatly speed them, as fast as an ordinary letter, to their destination. The Special Delivery packages will be delivered on the day of arrival at destination, up to the limits of local night delivery times, also on Sundays and on Christmas Day.

Gift parcels for distant states should be mailed before or during the week of November 29 to December 5, to insure delivery before Christmas. Gift parcels for nearby areas should be mailed not later than December 14.

should be mailed not later than December 10 and those for nearby areas and local delivery not later than December 15.

Labels will be supplied to you so you can separate and tie your greeting cards into bundles for local Emmitsburg delivery, or out-of-town delivery. This will also speed delivery of your greeting cards.

Mount Gleemen To Present Benefit Concert

A "Yuletide Concert" will be presented by the Mount Saint Mary's College Glee Club for the benefit of the St. John's High School Athletic Assn., Frederick, Md., on Tuesday, December 8 at 8:30 p.m.

The program selected by the thirty-seven voice male chorus, under the direction of Rev. David W. Shaum, Ph.D., will consist of traditional carols, folks songs, and popular medleys.

The entire program will be repeated again on the following dates throughout the Maryland area: Wednesday, Dec. 1 at the annual Christmas Dinner of the Taneytown Lions Club, Taneytown, Md., 7:30 p.m. and Thursday, Dec. 12, Carmelite Monastery, Baltimore, 5 p.m.

On Friday, Dec. 11, the male voices will combine with the voices of the young ladies of Villa Julie College at their campus in Stevenson, Md.

Facts of Motoring Life

The first American gasoline taxes were levied in four states back in 1919. Within 10 years, 48 states and the District of Columbia were taxing motor fuel. A "temporary" federal tax of one cent a gallon, adopted in 1932, has never been removed but has grown four times larger.

Gasoline taxes now add 50 per cent to the average retail price of motor fuel. These taxes cost U.S. motorists more than $6.5 billion a year—roughly $18 million every day!

Since World War II, states have enacted 90 increases in gasoline tax rates, which now average six cents a gallon, plus the four-cent federal tax. The average retail price of gasoline, excluding taxes, dropped 9 per cent in the past six years, while the overall consumer price index rose 8.9 per cent.

A Summer Visit In Western Europe

Anabel E. Hartman

To go on first with two especially important places on the list of land tours included in our cruise itinerary:

NORTH CAPE. Not a settlement such as the other places visited but just a rock plateau rising from the tip of Norway 1000 feet above the Arctic Ocean, the most northerly piece of land on the European continent; reached by landing boat from the coastal express and long winding coach ride to the top (not too far back visitors had to cover this distance by foot). A thrilling view of sea and sky from the edge of the cliff and farther back a welcoming building housing a restaurant and souvenir shop offering many interesting items including a special North Cape stamp; also two monuments on this otherwise bare expanse, one commemorating the visit of King Oscar II in 1873, which helped greatly, so we learned, to popularize travel to the Land of the Midnight Sun, and the other a bust of Louis Philippe sent by himself when he became king of France in appreciation of the kindly reception given him in a nearby village when he came to the Far North as an exile in 1795. (A Bit of Lapland Along the Way. Not in Lapland, vaguely farther north and inland in Norway, Sweden, Finland, Russia, but off our main road down from the Cape, on a hillside, a small group of Lapps, men, women and children, in a temporary camp set up in hopes of selling hand-made articles to passing tourists, a not-too-appealing display spread out on the ground: reindeer skin rugs, mats, slippers, etc. A mainly silent group (as we also were, with an equal difficulty of communication) dressed in heavy garments of no particularly distinct style. And of course, in an enclosure to the side, their reindeer, main dependence for living. A sickening odor in the air found to be coming from a fish oil plant visible off in the distance!).

Kirkenes. Of interest to cruise members mainly as the northern terminus of the trip, reached on its 7th day, but with no particular interest for the tourist in its short history within the present century (closely connected with the development of Norway's largest mining concern, the iron ore mines being situated seven miles from the town). An unprogrammed drive of some 10 miles to the Russian border taken by several of us, but nothing to be seen across the road that divided the two countries except a continuation of similar-looking woods and fields, and on the Norwegian side a small house occupied by two plain-garbed Norwegians.

Harstad and Trondheim. From land tours on the return trip to Bergen at each of these interesting places, one above the Arctic Circle, the other far down near Bergen, I can mention only the one most outstanding place visited, a church in each case: (1) a very old stone church, 700 years, in Harstad on Norway's largest island, Hinnøy, remarkable for the fact that it is a fortress church, the walls over 8 feet thick, remain of a surrounding wall 16 feet high in places, and of two watch-towers facing the sea; (2) another very old church in the town of Trondheim but this immense cathedral (largest medieval building left in all Scandinavia) with an unusual history that is known and parallels that of Norway itself, with a period of pre-eminence after 100 years of building, then a long period of decline and part-destruction, and finally the recovery with restoration on a great scale, just now being completed. Awed by its beauty within and without ("Norway's proudest jewel" our guide-book calls it), we watched thru a scaffolding on the west facade skilled workmen restoring the magnificent sculptured figures on that front.

Goodbye, Norway. Under this heading for want of a better, I list two quite different items that stand out in the memory of this cruise but that I purposely skipped and now feel should be mentioned: I trust readers agree with this change of mind although I am giving too much relative space to what is only the first of my main travel experiences. The first of my main travel experiences. The first is the sight of a huge peak near North Cape, Hjelmsøstauraen, its face literally covered with 200,000 it is estimated at this time of year) come to this "bird rock" to breed, flying south again in autumn. The other item is the mock-serious observance of our crossing of the Arctic Circle, held in our part of the ship's diningroom after dinner following that event. Not the Greek or Roman god of the sea but "Njord, God of all the seas" (the captain, appropriately (?) garbed and with a long white beard, congratulated groups of four who knelt before him, wished them "good luck and happiness" following this voyage—and neatly dropped a handful (small) of cracked ice down their backs. Then our courier, who stood by with his accordion for later use, handed each shivering and laughing Circle-crosser a really charming "Certificate of Arctic Circle," a good-sized document signed by the Captain and illustrated in various designs in yellow, orange, blue and gold. Booklets of popular songs in Norwegian and more familiar languages had been placed on the tables and the celebration concluded with a rousing singing-song.

And now we have returned to Bergen early in the morning of the 12th day, and that same afternoon following, for me, some of the sight-seeing previously noted, we boarded our North Sea ship for the return to Newcastle and my own particular trip across England to the town of Chester in the West Midlands.

England and Wales (headquarters Chester).

One of the features of Chester emphasized by the travel folders is its fine position as a Touring Centre within easy reach by motor coach of much attractive countryside and interesting towns in Cheshire and other English counties, and on the edge of the northern tip of Wales; and my 8-day stay in Chester unintentionally illustrated this fact, for the larger part of it was taken up with coach trips in one direction or another. But there was time along with the trips or on days when none were made to become pretty well acquainted with Chester itself and to agree with those who find there are unusual variety of interests.

Two of these interests I explored on the first day of my stay (Sunday) following up the first one the next morning, and the other, I continued to use and enjoy on a number of days.

I am referring first to the Chester Cathedral, not one of the most notable of the many in England, but having an unusual construction and history beginning with an ancient church that in the 11th century became part of an Abbey of Benedictine monks with the many buildings of a large monastery grouped around the church, which was made a cathedral when monastery dissolved, with many additions made during the centuries. Beautifully located around the corner from a busy street in a "close," with extensive lawns, attractive bushes and flower beds, by stone steps from the ground level.

The Wall is the second of the special interests of Chester I mentioned as exploring on the first day of my visit, after the morning service. This is indeed a remarkable and fascinating thing, the only complete wall around a town (about two miles in length) left in England, so the authorities say, and mainly from as far back as Roman times after a Roman Legion set up a fortress here in the first century A.D., and early in the next century building a stone wall, extended after the Romans withdrew—by whom does not seem entirely certain but either the Anglo-Saxons or Anglo-Normans after the Conquest in 1066. So there is in Chester "a splendid example of a fortified medieval town," altho within the walls there have been many changes, making it also a partly modern town; and from very early days there also started to grow up an encircling town outside the walls, which is still growing.

I must pass over other Roman remains in Chester and hasten on to the third and extremely unique and famous feature in Chester's business architecture, finally developed in the Middle Ages from an unknown origin, namely "The Rows." These consist of a double tier of shops, one at ground level and the other at first-floor level reached by its own stairway from the pavement, and set farther back than those on the first level, with a balcony in front of each where the shopper or visitor can linger at will and look down on the street below with its stream of passers-by.

Besides the Rows, which of course have had some modernization, Chester has a number of other genuine survivals from the Middle Ages, many parts of the Cathedral-complex already mentioned, gateways, narrow streets and their names, a few buildings but many more from the 16th and 17 century.

In high heels some young women make more clatter on a marble floor than a team of brewery horses on a cobblestone pavement.
