The dust has settled and the hectic Town Election is now a matter of history, and what an election it was. I have never seen so much interest manifested and I believe more voters turned out than ever before. At least 100 new voters were placed on the books as the campaign came to a close. There were no bitter attacks on individuals. Oh, naturally some unkind remarks were heard here and there but really there were no vehement or vitriolic attacks made on anyone's character or reputation . . . that is to my knowledge. We now have a new addition to the Town Board and prior to this there were only three voting members on the Council. Now under a new amendment, the Mayor can vote on all issues and this gives the Council five solid votes, which is in my opinion, a much better set-up than was permitted before. The crop of candidates was a sterling one and any one of which would have made an asset on the Board but there were only two positions to be filled and the public has made its choice. We feel certain that the Council will be able to continue its progressive work and the extra Commissioner should lighten the workload that the present Council has been carrying. There is much work to be done in this growing community and I am confident that when the new Board organizes Monday that it will dig right into the business at hand.

Tomorrow we have two official dedications on schedule. Both local colleges will play host to Archbishop Lawrence Cardinal Shehan when he comes here to preside over the dedication of the new Provincial House at St. Joseph College and the new Bell Tower at Mt. St. Mary's College. In this educational community we have more college wealth, both educationally and materially, packed into such a small area that I doubt any other community in the world could equal it. Past becoming a tourist community, the two colleges, Grotto, and the potential offered by the expected canonization of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton, thousands of tourists come annually to Emmitsburg to see these historic surroundings. Tomorrow several more thousands will be on hand for the dedications. We extend a hearty welcome to all of them.

Seems as though getting a hair cut is fast becoming a major headache. An official notice in the Gettysburg paper this week reveals that now the barber shops there will not cut any hair after 6 o'clock in the evening. What's a poor working man to do? Many do not get off work or home till that time so if you notice a new crop of beatniks or long-hairs, you'll know what caused their plight.

School Plans May Day Observance

The annual Emmitsburg High School May Day celebration will be held Thursday, May 6, on the school lawn, weather permitting. If rain is forecast, the program will be held in the high school auditorium. The festivities will begin at 1:00 o'clock with the procession of the queen and her court, followed by the crowning of the queen. The high school band and elementary students will entertain with music and dancing. The fashion show is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. and will be followed by the tea for the queen and her court and the parents and friends of the senior class.

The May Day celebration will be gay and enjoyable, and the public is cordially invited.

Little League Donors

Little League officials this week reported the following have made donations to this year's operating fund: Emmitsburg Lions Club, John H. Walter, Ralph F. Irelan, Knights of Columbus, H. O. Toor Shoe Corp., St. Joseph's Church, Dian's Beauty Shop, Guy A. Baker, Jr., Dr. W. R. Cadle, Dr. George Morningstar, St. Joseph College, B. H. Boyle and Sons, Inc., Dr. D. L. Beegle, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Cardinal Coming For Dedications

One of the largest buildings in Maryland will be dedicated in the "service of God and mankind" on Saturday, May 1.

A Solemn Pontifical Mass will be offered at 11 a.m. in the beautiful chapel in the new Provincial House of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul. His Eminence, Lawrence Cardinal Shehan, archbishop of Baltimore, will be the celebrant.

Dignitaries of the state and nation and other friends of the religious order will attend the ceremony.

The chapel, which seats more than 600 not including the choir loft, was originally intended to include a repository for the remains of Mother Seton, founder of the order in the United States more than 150 years ago. But since her recent beatification by Pope John XXIII and, hopefully, her eventual canonization, the remains of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton will remain temporarily in a special repository in the chapel of St. Joseph College, formerly the Provincial House Chapel.

Eventually a beautiful shrine dedicated to Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton will be erected on the site of the present Mother Seton Elementary School, opposite the entrance of the Provincial House and College on U. S. Route 15.

The new Provincial House, headquarters for the Eastern Province of the Daughters of Charity which extends from Maine to Florida and into South America, and as far west as the Mississippi, has 505,954 square feet of floor space.

The building is the headquarters for the 1,250 Sisters of the Eastern Province. In addition there are 59 postulants and 34 Seminary Sisters. Next summer the expansive facilities of the structure will be taxed to capacity when many Sisters will arrive for summer study.

There is a separate wing for postulants, young girls newly-enrolled in the order. It includes classrooms, community rooms, sewing and activity areas. Another wing is set aside for Seminary Sisters who are progressing thru the second stage of their dedicated service. And still another wing houses the Juniorate Sisters who continue the pursuit of their studies for the full and active service as a member of the community.

The structure, which includes more than 500 rooms, is one of the finest examples of architecture in the east.

The multi-winged four-story and basement building required 30 months to build and cost in excess of $10,000,000. Ground was broken on September 27, 1961. Work on the exterior brick walls of the service building was started in September, 1962. The brick work on the Provincial House was started in March, 1963.

The Sisters occupied the building for the first time on September 12, 1964. The chapel was not completed until January 16, 1965.

MOUNT TO DEDICATE NEW BELL TOWER SATURDAY

Nearly 2,000 guests will be on the campus of Mount Saint Mary's College for the annual Parents' Weekend which will begin on Saturday, May 1, at 3 p.m. with the dedication of the Pangborn Memorial Campanile by Lawrence Cardinal Shehan, Archbishop of Baltimore.

In addition to members of the Catholic hierarchy, members of national, state, and local government units will be on hand with 200 special guests for the dedication program. Rt. Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, director of the National Shrine Grotto, will deliver the opening remarks.

His Excellency, Thomas W. Pangborn, Papal Count, donor of the campanile bell tower, will make the formal presentation on behalf of the Pangborn Foundation. The acceptance will be made by Rt. Rev. Robert R. Kline, Ph.D., president of Mount Saint Mary's.

His Eminence, Lawrence Cardinal Shehan, will confer the blessing and benediction. The ceremonies are open to the public.

Dignitaries and invited guests will be hosted at a reception and buffet in the Cogan Union.

New Postoffice To Be Erected On South Seton Ave., Says Postmaster

Postmaster Lewis H. Stoner of Emmitsburg was advised this week of Postmaster General John A. Gronauski's plans to acquire a new post office in Emmitsburg.

"The new building," Mr. Gronauski said, "is designed to carry out the Post Office Department's objective of a more efficient postal service combined with improved working conditions for our employees."

"President Johnson has asked us to exercise frugality in conducting our governmental operations, and we are doing so. New construction, therefore, is being authorized only when it is demonstrated that the need is urgent and no other alternative is available."

"The alternatives," Mr. Gronauski explained, "would involve remodeling of the existing building or moving into other suitable quarters in the same community."

The building in Emmitsburg will be located on the east side of South Seton Avenue near Potomac Avenue.

Warrants Served On Peddlers

All vendors coming under the Town law which requires them to obtain a peddler's permit, have either paid for the license or have been arrested, Police Chief W. E. Law announced this week.

Information has it that the final three unpaid vendors were arrested this week by Chief Law and will face hearings next month.

Saturday evening from 9-1 a.m. the students will entertain their parents at the Parents' Day Dance. Music this year will be furnished by the Warren Covington Orchestra.

Sunday's program will begin with a Mass in the college chapel for the students, parents, and guests at 11 a.m. A brunch will follow in the student dining rooms.

The College Band will present dinner music and a pop concert from 12 noon until 1:30 p.m. At 2 o'clock a "Meet Your Faculty" reception will take place in the lounge of the Union.

The Mount Saint Mary's Glee Club, which has had an extensive concert tour this season, will present an outdoor concert at 3 p.m. Miss Virginia Blair, soprano soloist from Baltimore, will join the all male chorus during the program.

The weekend activities will close with benediction in the college chapel with members of the Mount Saint Mary's Seminary participating. The Seminary Schola Cantorum will also participate in the dedication program on Saturday.

Mrs. Lewis Higbee Retiring As Church Organist After 41 Years

Mrs. E. L. Higbee, organist at the Church of the Incarnation for the past 41 years, is to be given special recognition at the 10:45 a.m. Worship Service this coming Sunday, May 2.

Mrs. Higbee, who was formerly Miss Mary Kilmer, came to Emmitsburg from Massachusetts in April of 1907. She studied piano and organ at Mt. Holyoke College in South Hadley, Mass., and also at the Boston Conservatory of Music. After having been graduated from college in 1903, she taught piano while attending the conservatory in Boston. Following her marriage to Mr. E. Lewis Higbee, she began to teach piano here in Emmitsburg. While rearing four children, she taught the infant department of the Sunday School of Incarnation Church to which she had transferred her membership from the Baptist Church in Arlington, Mass. Mrs. J. Henry Stokes was the organist at this time, and Mrs. Higbee often played the old reed organ in the absence of Mrs. Stokes.

When the two manual Moller pipe organ was dedicated at Incarnation on Trinity Sunday in 1924, she became the regular organist, and she has held that post ever since. This Moller organ was destroyed by fire when the Church of the Incarnation burned on Sunday, February 26, 1950. The destruction of this organ was considered a great loss to the church. When Incarnation Church was rebuilt, a new organ was purchased. It is an electro-pneumatic pipe organ containing ten stops and chimes with 21 bells, and is located in the organ chamber with the console in the chancel. This instrument was designed and installed by Furst Church Organs of York, Pa.

As Mrs. Higbee retires, she feels that after so many years of service it is time for others to have the privilege of participating in the worship service in the capacity of organist which she has enjoyed for so long. Mrs. Higbee's retirement is effective May 1, 1965.

The retiring organist is the widow of the late Reverend Elathan Lewis Higbee who was ordained and installed as the Pastor of The Church of the Incarnation on February 10, 1913. He served as the Pastor of the church until the time of his death on February 8, 1942. The chancel of the rebuilt church was dedicated to the memory of the Rev. E. L. Higbee. Funds for purchasing the chancel furniture were provided by contributions from various churches within the Potomac Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

The four children of Mrs. E. L. Higbee and her late husband, are: Mrs. (Alice) L. Duncan Moore of Leesburg, Va.; the late Mrs. (Lucy) Claude H. Corl, whose husband is pastor of the Sabillasville Charge of the United Church of Christ; Mrs. (Helen) Gustav G. Wilegans of R3, Spring Grove, Pa.; and Mrs. (Mary) Harold M. Hoke of Emmitsburg.

All of the members and friends of Incarnation United Church of Christ are cordially invited and urged to attend this service in honor of Mrs. Higbee at 10:45 a.m. on Sunday.

Local Lions Club Drops Horse Show After 15-Year Sponsorship

A decision was reached at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club to discontinue the annual Horse Show, for at least one year. President William Kelz presided over the meeting which was held at Mt. Manor Restaurant. Lack of interest apparently was the motivating factor or with the Lions in cancelling the 1965 Horse Show which the club has sponsored for the past 15 years.

A thank-you note was read from a local indigent family for the recent purchase of eyeglasses for the club and a request for assistance was received for glasses and an eye examination for another little local girl. A donation to the Cancer Drive was authorized as was a $20 gift to the Emmitsburg Little League.

Guest speaker of the evening was Leonel DeLaQuesta, Mount St. Mary's College foreign language professor. Professor DeLaQuesta, a native of Cuba, has been on the college staff for a year, has taught in France and has received an educational grant to study in Germany this summer before returning to the Mount next fall. He told of the origin and background of Fidel Castro, Cuban dictator, and conditions under which his native Cubans live today. His most interesting and informative talk was enjoyed by all present.

Flax And Topper Win Town Offices

Incumbent Town Commissioner J. Norman Flax was returned to office in Tuesday's Town election by the biggest majority of votes he has ever received in the three times he has been elected to office.

Quinn F. Topper, retired orchardist and bank director, won the other office open in his first attempt to hold public office. Of the 405 votes cast, Flax received 233 and Topper 184. Others in the race and the vote they received were as follows: B. H. Boyle, 114; Charles W. Bollinger, 19; William C. Ryder, 101 and Charles F. Stouter, 51.

Tuesday's election was a heated one and intense interest had been generated. Friends of the candidates worked feverishly to insure their election and of the 550 registered voters on the books, over 400 turned out to cast ballots in what was perhaps the largest voting turnout in the history of the Town.

Commissioner Flax who is in charge of public works and who is a staunch proponent in locating the new consolidated school halfway between Emmitsburg and Thurmont, and not in Thurmont, begins his third term on the Town Council.

Topper, a newcomer to local politics, has been a member of the advisory Board of the Gettysburg Farm Bureau for 15 years. Both candidates will take their oath of office before Magistrate Guy A. Baker, Sr., before the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council on Monday, May 3. Hold-over Commissioners are Dr. J. W. Houser and Joseph M. Halley. Mayor Ralph F. Irelan will hold office for another year having been elected to a two-year term last year.

With Tuesday's election the Town Council now consists of four Commissioners and the Mayor. Under a new amendment to the Town Charter the Mayor has the right and power to vote with the Commissioners, a privilege heretofore denied him. Two immediate projects confronting the new Board are house numbering and annexation of over 100 acres east of Town.

Father Hugh Phillips Elevated To Monsignor By Pope Paul VI

Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, Mount St. Mary's College, has been named a domestic prelate with the title of right reverend monsignor, by His Holiness Pope Paul VI, according to an announcement this week by His Eminence Lawrence Cardinal Shehan, archbishop of Baltimore. The time and place of the investiture ceremony will be announced later.

"In congratulating you on the reception of this well deserved papal distinction," Cardinal Shehan said, "may I assure you of my prayers that you may continue your splendid work for the glory of God, the advancement of the Church, and the good of souls, especially the students with and for whom you have worked for so many years."

Father Phillips, presently librarian and chaplain at Mount Saint Mary's College, is a member of the College Council, the corporate body, and director of National Shrine Grotto of Lourdes. During his 30 years of association with the college following his ordination in 1935, he has held many teaching and administrative positions.

A native of Washington, D. C., he was educated at St. Patrick's Parochial School there and began his long association with Mount St. Mary's when he entered the Seventh Grade in 1922. He was graduated from the Mount elementary school in 1923, the prep school in 1927, and the college with an A.B. degree in 1931. He also received his A.M. from Mount St. Mary's in 1935 and an M.S. in Library Science from Catholic University in 1943. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1935 in the college chapel by the late Bishop John M. McNamara, auxiliary bishop of Baltimore.

Active in numerous pursuits during his college and seminary days, Fr. Phillips was the only priest to serve as the grand knight of the Knights of Columbus, filling that office in the campus Council No. 1965. He is a Fourth Degree member.

Following his ordination for the Archdiocese of Baltimore and Washington, Fr. Phillips was assigned to Mount St. Mary's where he began his duties as librarian. From 1936-1950, he taught theology at St. Joseph College. From 1936-1958, he was a member of the faculty of the Providence Hospital division of the School of Nursing Education, Catholic University of America, teaching theology, medical ethics and psychology. He served as professor of church history at Mount St. Mary's Seminary from 1960-1965.

From 1947 to 1962, Fr. Phillips was executive secretary of the National Alumni Association of the Mount. During that period he re-established the Loyalty Fund, founded and edited The Sesquicentennial and the Mount Alumnus. He established the college Mothers' Guilds in 1952 and the same year began the tradition of Parents' Day.

He served as chaplain to the college during World War II from 1941 until 1945. He was elected chaplain again in 1958 and still holds that office.

From 1955-1960 he served as secretary to the College Council. He is also responsible for the restoration of the college band and the yearbook, the Pridwin, in 1949 after a lapse of 25 years.

He began the restoration of the Lourdes Grotto in 1958. The shrine the oldest in the country to the Blessed Virgin, dates back to 1808, but it remained a rustic private shrine until 1958. Having completely refurbished and renovated the mountain area, Fr. Phillips opened the shrine to the public in 1958 at the suggestion of Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, then apostolic delegate to the United States and now secretary of state to His Holiness Paul VI. He was instrumental in obtaining the conference of the rich indulgence now obtained by the more than 20,000 pilgrims per month who visit the beautiful woodland sanctuary.

Fr. Phillips is a member of many scholarly organizations: American Library Assn.; Catholic Library Assn.; Maryland-District of Columbia Catholic Library Assn. of which he is a past president; Catholic Historical Assn.; Maryland Library Assn.; Columbia Historical Assn.; Walters Art Gallery; American Archivist Association and the American Association of University Professors.

He is a contributor to The Catholic Library World, the American Library Journal and the new Catholic Encyclopedia.

To Form Honor Society At College

Kappa Omicron Phi, national home economics honor society, will install its first chapter in Maryland at St. Joseph College on April 30 and May 1. Mrs. Elizabeth Morales of Williamsport, Pa., national president, will attend the installation ceremonies and will be guest of honor at a luncheon hosted by the home economics department on Saturday. Officers of the Seton Hill College chapter will install and instruct five faculty members and nine students who form the charter group to be initiated into the Beta Iota chapter at St. Joseph's.

One of three national home economic honor societies, Kappa Omicron Phi was founded at Northeastern State Teachers College in Maryville, Mo., in 1922. St. Joseph College is distinguished in Maryland as the only Catholic college with a four year program in home economics. It is recognized by the American Dietetic Assn., and qualifies as one of the home economics teacher preparation centers.

New officers of the Beta Iota chapter are Maureen McPartland, '65, Trumbull, Conn., president; Patricia Cosgrove, '66, Baltimore, vice president; Jane Davis, '66, Washington, D. C., treasurer; Mary Rosenberger, '67, Pottsville, Pa., secretary; and Elaine Long, '67, Ebensburg, Pa., St. Joseph's editor of "Distaff," the society's national publication. Other home ec majors to be enrolled as charter members are Ann Smith, '65, Princeton, N. J.; Janet Welaj, '65, Arlington, Va.; Maureen Mullin, '66, Great Neck, N. Y.; and Monica Norris, '67, Emmitsburg. Faculty members include Sister

Madeleine Wheeler, Sister Collette Deller, Mrs. John J. Dillon, Mrs. Charles Ecker, and Sister M. Edward Walsh, principal of St. Martin's School in Baltimore. Sister Madeleine, sponsor of the new chapter, is chairman of the home economics department, and also member of the Committee on Aging in the Maryland Home Economics Association.

New Postoffice

Democratic Senator Daniel B. Brewster and Democratic Congressman Carlton Sickles announced this week that the Postoffice

Department plans to construct a new facility in Emmitsburg. "The new building," Senator Brewster said, "is designed to carry out the Postoffice Department's objective of a more efficient postal service combined with improved working conditions for employees."

The building will be located on the east side of South Seton Avenue near Potomac Avenue.

"When the building is completed it will alleviate the overcrowded conditions and enable the Postoffice to provide better service to the Emmitsburg residents," Brewster and Sickles said.

Babson's Point Of View On: Financial Planning For Newlyweds

BABSON PARK, Mass., April 29—We are approaching the big season for weddings. When a young man and woman get married, they become, in a very special sense, two different people, — particularly in terms of basic responsibility to one another and to the new home they are establishing. But it is often difficult to convince newlyweds that there are positive steps that should be taken right away, even though these steps may seem inconsequential to them in their new happiness. Husbands Should Lead The Way

Even before the marriage, while the bride-to-be is floating on a cloud of wedding planning and anticipation, the young man will do well to begin building a "family" economic and financial program. To wait until later is a great mistake, though it ad-mitedly is the easy way out that many young lovers follow. Perhaps first on the list should be a careful and mutual decision on where to start their lives together. Marriage counselors generally favor a small, efficient apartment at a realistic rental for newlyweds, especially if the bride intends to continue, or to start, working. This will leave ample time for the days of early adjustment when extraordinary burdens should be held to a minimum.

Once the knot is tied, the young groom should supervise changeovers of various sorts, but not without the assistance and co-operative understanding of his wife. If either of them has life insurance, an immediate change should be made to the beneficiaries, — and it is a good idea to indicate any surviving children of the marriage as beneficiaries after the spouse even though there are no children at the time. Most policies make provisions for this to ensure that the money will go to a chosen person rather than into the estate of a beneficiary who pre-deceased the insured.

Many Important Alterations
Young people seem to think they are going to live forever, but parents or grandparents should point out to their airborne youngsters that to draw a will is a sign of maturity and intelligent responsibility. Newlyweds are likely to feel that they haven't enough to bother with yet, so they'll draw their wills later on. But they usually have a great deal more than they realize, — and there are such "would-never-happen-to-us" things as transportation accidents that could bring tragedy. Better to make out wills early, then forget them; no need to dwell upon death, but foolish to deny its inevitability. Use the family lawyer; or get another good one and stick with him.

Title should be changed on bank accounts, real estate, stocks and bonds. Make out a list of organizations or people that should be informed at once of a new address, change in marital status, and married name of wife. It will surprise many young couples how complicated the list may be: Employers (there are sometimes extra benefits for married workers such as extra insurance, maternity leaves for wives, etc.), banks, brokers, business associations, charge account stores, auto licensing and registration bureaus, the Social Security office, unions, credit unions, the draft board, and periodical publications offices. And probably many more.

Set Up A Guideline Budget
If a young couple starts off from the very first with a budget mutually decided upon, a lot of headaches will be avoided. A key part of the budget should be outlays for a family financial program. It is an excellent idea to have a joint checking account so that both partners can see exactly where their income is going, and note how realistic their budget may be. Also, cancelled checks are good evidence for income-tax deductions. Young marrieds should be warned, however, that a living budget should be the key to sensible spending and not a strait jacket that permits no leeway in the direction of more gracious, more companionable family life.

Seek Civil War Relics Here

The Maryland Union Room Committee is again appealing to Union-sympathizing residents of the Emmitsburg area to search their possessions for mementoes of the Civil War which they would like to see displayed in the Civil War Room of the new Maryland Historical Society Building.

Relatives and friends of Confederate soldiers have been gathering Southern mementoes of the conflict almost since the close of the war, and many have been displayed at the Society; but it was not until a recent gift by Ernest Howard of Cecil County set up a Union Room Fund that a concentrated effort has been made by friends of the North in Maryland to get together a proper display of mementoes from Union soldiers and sailors and Union-sympathizing statesmen.

The work has been richly rewarded by the gifts of scores of people from nearly every county in the state; but still, the Committee believes, thousands of relics which belong to posterity and should be carefully preserved are lying neglected in trunks and attics all over the State.

Not all are known for what they are; others are known, but not as fully appreciated as they might be; and it is the committee's opinion that they should be given full historical honors in a display such as is projected for the new Thomas and Hugg Memorial Building being built by the society on West Monument Street, in Baltimore.

So far in the Committee's collection are a General officer's field desk, sabres, cutlasses, bayonets, carbines, revolvers, uniforms and parts of uniforms, caps and hats, battle flags and battle - scarred fragments of flags, tintypes, lithographs and photos, official records, personal letters, telegrams and diaries, sheet music, prayer books, needle and thread cases, spectacles, shoulder scales, books, a box for "hard-tack", military buttons, maps, badges and other insignia, political buttons and party "tickets", field utensils, candlesticks, powder flasks, G.A.R. mementoes, etc.

The list is constantly growing, but more is wanted — from every county of the state — not only to be sure of a representative Northern collection when the exhibit goes on public display some time next year, but to be sure that the Maryland treasures of America's greatest historical period are preserved with the dignity that befits their original use.

The Maryland Union Room asks that anyone in possession of Union Mementoes who wishes to give or loan them for display in the Civil War Room, communicate either with its president, Wm. T. Mahoney, 135 East Main St., Elkton, or with the Reliquarian, John C. Heidemann, 4605 Marx Avenue, Baltimore 6, Md. Arrangements will be made either by them or by a committee member resident in the donor's immediate neighborhood to take possession of the relics and turn them over to the Society.

Multiple Sclerosis Great Crippler
Multiple sclerosis is "the great crippler of young adults." An estimated 500,000 Americans, young adults, mothers and fathers, in the active years of community and family service between 20 and 40, have been stricken by MS and related diseases. Cause, prevention and cure remain unknown. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society fights MS through programs of national and international research, community patient services, and public and professional education.

"Direct" Seeding of Tomatoes

Fireball, an extra-early tomato variety, is better sown directly in the soil where plants are to grow. Other tomato varieties also may be "direct-seeded". For names, see article.

While the seeds of most tomato varieties must be started indoors weeks ahead of frost-free date in the garden, there are some varieties that can be planted right out in the garden and still will produce bountiful crops within your growing season. Time to plant is after May 10 in the north, after March 20 in the south, and after April 15 in the "middle" states.

All of these varieties are "early" tomatoes — that require a shorter time to mature fruit than most kinds. Among them are the older Earlianna and Valiant, the newer tomatoes Gardener and Fireball.

After soil has been prepared by spading; preferably to a depth of a foot, clods broken up and the area leveled and smoothed with a rake, seeds of these tomatoes may be planted.

Make furrows an eighth of an inch deep, spaced at least 18 inches apart. Seeds of Valiant and Fireball should be scattered about an inch apart in the row; those of Earlianna and Gardener can be spaced further apart.

This difference in spacing is because Valiant has vines that grow sparsely and Fireball foliage is sparse, thus plants of these two varieties will be grown closer together than those of the other varieties. Cover all seeds with 1/4 inch of soil.

When seedlings are 3 or 4 inches high, thin so they are spaced from 2 to 3 feet apart. If, however, you have planted seeds of Fireball or Valiant, allow plants to remain 6 to 8 inches apart AFTER thinning.

Tomatoes, like other vegetables, need water when summer weather is dry and both plants, and fruits will be larger if fertilizer is given once a month.

In early autumn, when frosts threaten, prolong the tomato season in your garden by covering the plants in the rows with layers of newspapers, anchoring the edges with stones and soil.

Large Field For 'Susan' At Pimlico

The 20,000-added Black-Eyed Susan, mile and one-sixteenth race for three-year-old fillies which sets the stage for the following week's Preakness, has attracted 63 nominees for its 41st running on Saturday, May 8, at Pimlico.

The eligibles include Mrs. Ethel D. Jacob's Admiring, a half-sister to Affectionately, and a stakes winner in her own right. The daughter of Hail to Reason and Searching won the rich Arlington-Washington Lassie in 1964 and was second in the Marguerite at Pimlico late in the year. Admiring has won one of six starts in 1965, was second twice and third once.

Also eligible from the Jacobs' stable, which is having a tremendously successful year with its three-year-old colts, is Adorable. In six starts this year, Adorable won one and was out of the money only once. She was third in a division of the First Lady Stakes.

William Haggin Perry has named Terentia, winner of a division of the Ashland Stakes at Keeneland on April 10. Another of the phenomenally successfully Bold Ruler offspring, Terentia is the daughter of Romanita, winner of the Marguerite here, the Mademoiselle, Matron, Cleopatra Handicap and Monmouth Oaks. Terentia, who scored in the six-furlong Ashland in 1:10 3/5, won two of five starts at two and was second in the Alcibiades Stakes.

Also named is Mrs. Donelson Christmas' Sue Baru, winner of a division of the First Lady Stakes this year, and John T. Gibson's Jackie Dare, who took half of the split Maryland Futurity last fall. Both are Maryland-breds.

Cain Hoy Stable has nominated Lay Aft, second in the Demoiselle Stakes, and Up Oars, both sired by Turn-to. Pancita, a half-sister to the stakes-winner Bronze Babu, was named by Hill-N-Dale Farm.

Ala L. Rive's Equiria, second in the recent Comely Stakes, is eligible. Equiria has been first, second, and third in her only starts this year. Walnut Hill Farms has nominated Littel Gray Pet, third behind Terentia in the Ashland. Ranch Maid, owned by Mrs. P. A. Rothfuss, was second in the Walden Stakes at Pimlico last spring, is another Maryland-bred named to the Black-Eyed Susan.

Keswick Stables has named Hanalei, by Swaps — Wendasy. Wendasy won the Marguerite Stakes at Pimlico in 1957.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Tetanus Are you and your family immunized against tetanus?

If not, you are running an entirely unnecessary risk of serious illness, perhaps even death, from this serious disease.

With the coming of spring and a return to gardening and other out-of-doors activities, the risk of tetanus increases. The spores can be found in the cultivated soils of most areas of the United States. They can be picked up by plants or animals, and introduced into the victim's body by something as inconsequential as the scratch of a thorn or an insect bite.

While millions of babies and members of the armed forces have been inoculated against tetanus, the fact remains that about three-fourths of the adult population is lacking in immunity. The protection offered by immunization wears off after a few years and must be re-established by booster shots, which most people fail to get.

Once they enter the body, tetanus spores "hatch" into tiny, microscopic bacteria, which begin to multiply. In the process, they liberate one of the deadliest of all poisons which attacks the nerve centers causing convulsions and muscle spasms—some so severe that victims have been known to fracture a vertebra.

Usually the first nerves affected are those of the head and neck which control the chewing muscles. These turn rigid with spasm, giving the disease its familiar name—lockjaw.

In a clean, free-bleeding cut tetanus spores usually are washed out. Or they do sprout into bacteria, the microorganisms may be destroyed by oxygen in the blood. But when blood flow is slight, as in a deep puncture from stepping on a nail or in crushing wounds, or when the spores are insulated by imbedded dirt and debris, the tetanus bacteria may gain a deadly foothold within the body. This is because tetanus bacteria thrive in the absence of air.

No antibiotic or other drug can halt a full-blown case, and about 60 per cent of those afflicted by the disease die.

By means of immunization, tetanus is almost completely preventable. Protection should start early—one and a half to two months after birth—for the scrapes and falls of childhood offer tetanus many opportunities. In children, as well as adults, immunity is initiated by a series of three shots, spaced over eight weeks, and followed by a booster dose within six to twelve months. Thereafter, immunity is maintained by boosters every five years.

Don't take a chance with tetanus. Call your doctor and make an appointment to have your family immunized.

Industries Cooperating With Goodwill

Price Electric Company recently added its name to the growing list of industries to cooperate with Goodwill Industries in an industrial clothing drive. The week-long drive ended successfully with the Price Electric employees returning their filled Goodwill bags to the plant where they were picked up by the Goodwill truck.

"The more than 15 handicapped workers of the Monocacy Valley Goodwill Industries are extremely grateful to the employees and staff of Price Electric for their fine cooperation," said William Van Arnam, Goodwill director.

The industrial clothing drives are used to supplement the supply of clothing which is worked on by Goodwill's handicapped employees. Each week these clothing workers sort and repair about

Giant "Nest" To Hatch Moon "Birds"

ONE OF THE WONDERS OF THE SPACE AGE is this gigantic building at the John F. Kennedy Space Center in Florida. With the last of 45,000 individual steel members raised into place April 14 by workmen of U.S. Steel's American Bridge Division, the structure was a step nearer its ultimate goal—to serve as the facility for assembling Saturn rockets for three-man flights to the Moon. Four of these giant rockets can be fully assembled—each with its own launch-umbilical tower—in the four areas provided within the high-rise portion of the Vehicle Assembly Building, which is part of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Launch Complex 39 on Merritt Island, just west of Cape Kennedy.

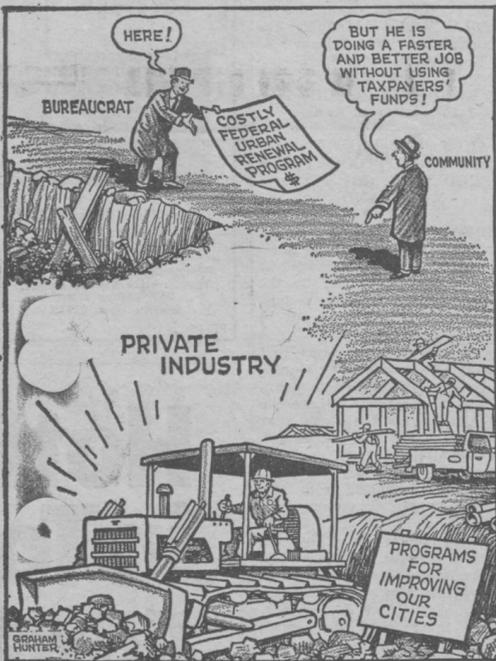

Truly a one-story building in spite of its 52-story height, the VAB has door openings tall enough to admit the 45-story New York Hilton Hotel. Through these great doors, which will require nearly an hour to open, Saturn rockets will be transported to launching pads. Containing 57,000 tons of structural steel—more than enough for another Empire State Building—the VAB's framework was constructed on an extremely tight time schedule, starting January 20, 1964. In the following 15 months, American Bridge workmen brought together the 45,000 steel components from eight fabricating plants in various parts of the country, and raised about 175 of them into place every working day. The resulting structure—in spite of the fact that it encloses more space than any other building in the world—will be able to withstand the hurricanes that sometimes strike the eastern coast of Florida.

Work on the project is being carried out under the supervision of the Canaveral District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The joint venture contractor is Morrison-Knudson-Perini-Hardeman, and the design was by URSAM, an engineering-architecture joint venture.

A Greater Society's Frontiers
Any effort to improve American life—call it progress toward a greater society, if you wish—is doomed to fail unless it puts down its roots to find nourishment that will produce qualities in the individual causing him to be a better American. The individual citizen does not necessarily contribute to a greater society because he makes more money than his neighbor, travels to Europe, or belongs to the country club set. Having an education may not insure such contribution. Wealth, education, and prestige could put one in a position for leadership, but possession of these things will not guarantee good citizenship.

When our government looks for the causes of poverty and finds unequal educational opportunity (or refusal to accept it), of crime and discovers broken homes, alcohol, and disregard for morals, law or property, then we are on the right trail for determining what really are the deterrents of progress toward a great society. But we are dead wrong when we conclude that all the causes of Ugly Americanism are somehow related to some sort of materialistic disparity or "economic disadvantage," as the sociologists put it. The trail leads more directly to the lack of inner resources that govern individual character, thought, and deed.

Some Serious Shortages
It does appear that some of our greatest challenges are not receiving much attention from our national leadership. This may seem a strange comment at a time when dilemmas like Vietnam, the gold outflow, and race relations are big Washington headaches. Some quiet reflection, however, will reveal to us that many of what appear to be our greatest dilemmas have their roots in failures of the past that are due to human short-comings—whether in individual leaders or the electorate—rather than in failures of the American system or idea. We were simply unable to practice foresight, adhere to principle, and act with courage and integrity—before the crisis became avalanche size.

Priority over a war on poverty. Making a safe America by police effort, however, will not produce a secure and sound America. We shall have no great society until there are good people to comprise it as well as build it. Americans generally, we believe, want a higher level of morality even more than they want a booming economy. In freedom's climate, to be sure, no lasting economy can be enjoyed without moral foundations, chief of which in this area are freedom of enterprise and private ownership.

But whence comes the essential morality that undergirds a great society? Our basis has been the faith in God which has brought us where we are. But we have experienced an erosion of moral authority, a let-me-alone and I'll-do-what-I-please attitude, a liberty-without-and-despite-the-law point of view. Unless America can find its strength again in renewed spiritual and moral vigor, as well as individual initiative with responsibility, no amount of materialistic, federally-supported happiness will make us into an enduring society.

Local Scout Leaders Meet In Thurmont

The Children's Corner ...
Cucumber Boat

Tommy has learned how to make a cucumber boat with a celery sail. He is going to make 7 boats, one for each of the boys who is coming to his 7th birthday party. Imagine! Boats to eat!

When Tommy's mother asked him what kind of favors he'd like for his 7th birthday party he said "Something we can eat". Of course he was thinking of candy but his mother thought ice cream and birthday cake would be sweets enough.

So she showed Tommy how to make a salad-favor—a cucumber boat with celery sails for each of the 7 boys he invited to his party. First Tommy washed a cucumber, then cut off its top, from end to end. With just one cut of the knife he made the body of the boat.

Then he needed a sail. For this he pulled off one of the outer stalks from a bunch of celery. After washing it he cut off the broad, lower end. With the tip of his knife he made a slit in the top of the cucumber and pushed the broader end of the piece of celery into it.

Because that one piece wasn't wide enough for a sail, Tommy cut a second, narrower piece from the rest of the celery stalk and pushed it into the slit in the cucumber next to the first piece of celery. Then he took a good look at his boat and decided that the sail would be wide enough in proportion to the length of the cucumber.

A sail is shaped like a triangle and the celery stalks were uneven at the tops and didn't have the triangle shape, but Tommy made one cut from the top of the taller, thicker celery stalk to the bottom of the narrower one and then the sail looked real.

To hold the two pieces of celery close together, so the boat can be played with before it is eaten, Tommy is poking two toothpicks through from one piece of celery to the other. Now he will cut off the ends of the toothpicks and then he will have a cucumber boat all ready to sail on his birthday party table.

The boys can race the boats around the table if they want, but certainly they'll end by eating them. For boys love celery and cucumbers, especially when they can eat them in their fingers.

Crime, For Example
We deliberately used some political shibboleths to head this column. Apparently President Johnson envisions in his Great Society a nation of quality as well as one with a growing economy, for he urged in his state-of-the-union message a greater effort to reduce crime. He proposed a study panel and encouraged Congress to come up with something constructive. However, a national commission is not required to reveal that crime rates are exceeding all records, growing five times as fast as population. The nation's capital is rampant with criminality, forcing residents to set up their own protection groups.

A practical, frontal assault on crime in the District of Columbia might have been organized even before the great society was proposed. Here is a responsibility shortage that shames our nation around the world. We find some of our highest officials eager to urge various demonstrations and reforms, but comparatively little is said about law enforcement or a war against crime. Police in Washington are greatly handicapped by Supreme Court decisions that bolster the criminal's confidence that he can "get away with it." Washington youth doubtless notice "big names" getting away with things too. Very little is heard about this.

Moral Erosions
While our effort to build a great society is under way, we might well consider whether a war on crime might be given

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
From The Bible
For to me to live is Christ.
—(Phil. 1:21).

As you give the substance of your thought to the life of Christ you realize that the life of Christ within you is inexhaustible, eternal and perfect. You should rejoice, therefore, that you are conscious of Christ's radiant life within you, rejoice that you are wholly and completely alive in Him.

Star-spangled way to make your money grow

Plant some of your cash in U. S. Savings Bonds and start your own private money tree. It won't mushroom overnight like a beanstalk. But once the seed is planted, it'll keep on growing at a steady pace.

You'll cultivate interest at a guaranteed rate—3 3/4% when grown to maturity—so your tree won't have any pesky ups and downs to stunt its growth.

The tax bug won't worry you, either. Savings Bonds aren't subject to state or local income taxes, and the federal tax can be deferred until you cash your Bonds.

The best thing about this money tree is the star-spangled fruit it bears. While your tree is growing, it's helping your country grow, too, and helping to make your own future more secure.

If U. S. Savings Bonds sound good to you, plant now. The growing season is year-round.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- ✓ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- ✓ You can get your money when you need it
- ✓ Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- ✓ You can buy Bonds where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

IT'S A FACT!..... by THOMPSON

PEANUT BUTTER WAS INVENTED 75 YEARS AGO BY A ST. LOUIS PHYSICIAN SEEKING AN EASILY DIGESTED HIGH-PROTEIN FOOD FOR HIS PATIENTS.

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in Frederick County now top $407,900, W. S. King, District Manager of Social Security in Hagerstown, said this week in releasing his annual county benefit data report.

The new monthly figure represents an increase of 5 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Mr. King said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter."

"There is no longer any doubt. Social security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in Frederick County. Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940, and they have continued without interruption for years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. King noted that as of December 31, 1964, some 6,600 counties were collecting about $4,895,000 annually from social security, an increase of 4 per cent over the same date in 1963.

More people in Frederick County, he said, could draw social security benefits if they knew more about the law, and for that reason they are urged to visit or call the local social security office whenever they have a question concerning their benefits or responsibilities.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Anti-Freeze
A plastic squeeze bottle full of inexpensive anti-freeze will keep the holes open your next ice fishing trip. A squeeze in each as you make rounds, alcohol prevents freezing.

Magnetic Action
Nothing can pick flies and lures out of hard-to-find places like a magnet. Why not toss one in your tackle box today?

Red Fish
A drop or two of mercurochrome in your bait bucket will give minnows a rosy hue that other fish like. (Could it be, fish are bored, too, always like a new thing?)

Potato Polish
Know how to shine up dull lures? Soak them in the water potatoes have been boiled in.

Toothpaste Tubes
Save old toothpaste tubes. Cut lengths, they make good strip sinkers.

Catch A Fox
Catch a fox with curiosity. Stand up a small log in the center of a clearing where Reynard has left his tracks. Conceal traps around log. The fox has GOT to investigate that log, steps in trap.

Oil Repellent
Insect repellent will make an emergency substitute for oil. Gets a frozen reel going again, or keeps rust off a wet gun.

Sandy Driving
If you're headed for sandy ground to launch your boat, let some air out of your tires. Increased surface helps prevent tire digging in.

Waterproof Watch
If your watch isn't waterproof and you want to make it that way, take a strip of clear plastic and circle your wrist with it over the watch. Rubber bands at either end seal off the watch. Allows considerable wetting with no damage.

of an inept driver. The executive director pointed out, "There are many causes of death on the highways — excessive speed, drinking while driving, following too closely, disregard for laws, and lack of courtesy, to name a few." "Inattention," warns Burke, "distraction, and just plain mind-wandering is flirting with death when indulged in behind the wheel of hundreds of pounds of hurtling metal." "One of the most tragic aspects of traffic deaths is the fact that practically everyone of the accidents could have been avoided. In each case a little more leeway for possible trouble, a little more consideration, a little more sober, sensible driving, could prevent accidents. "We can all help remove death and injuries from the scene," Burke stated, "if every person who sets foot on the accelerator of a car would adopt one simple rule. It can help reduce the death and injury toll in our state. The rule to remember is this—Always be alert when driving and walking. Remember, it is better to get home late than never to get home at all."

WHAT TIME IS IT?

News Note: Confusion in changeover dates and times should be eliminated.

Urge Safety While Driving

With spring upon us and the open road calling—the streets and highways become hrowled with motorists seeking sunshine and pleasure after a long winter of inactivity. "Too often tragedy strikes these pleasure seekers," warns Paul E. Burke, Executive Director of The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission. "The spring-like weather, many times, becomes an incentive for the motorist to abandon all caution and drive in an irresponsible manner."

This year 155 people have died on our highways in comparison to 124 for the same period last year—31 more human beings who have died because of the carelessness

What in the WORLD! by TED

Telling the U.N. Story

A fast-growing library of books dramatizing the United Nations' diversified work — and geared to all tastes and ages—has been published since the world organization was founded 20 years ago.

In the last 10 years alone, a single joint program linking the U.N. and commercial publishers has produced more than 100 books.

Eight new books produced under the joint program were presented to the U.N.'s Dag Hammarskjold Library at a recent ceremony attended by ambassadors, authors and publishers. The works included "The Story of International Cooperation"; "World of Promise," a guide to the U.N.

Development Decade to raise living standards; "Vestpocket Handbook of the United Nations" and "Landmarks in International Cooperation."

Hundreds of other books are being published outside the joint program. These range from children's books to such new works as the Brookings Institute's scholarly "The United Nations Institute for Training and Research"; Praeger's "In Pursuit of World Order" by Richard N. Gardner, an American U.N. delegate; and Columbia University's "Quest for Peace," a series of lectures by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and other international figures.

For further information on the U. N., write to: United Nations Association of the U. S. A., 345 E. 46th St., New York, N. Y. 10017.

REAL "ACTION-PEOPLE" USE THE YELLOW PAGES

Who are the Action-People? Well, according to a nationwide survey—conducted by Audits & Surveys Company, Inc., of New York—people in Maryland and throughout the country in a single year turn more than three billion times to their Yellow Pages for help. They're the Action-People. They use their Yellow Pages to get things done fast.

MORAL: Don't just dash off in all directions; simply do what the Maryland Action-People do...let your fingers do the walking through the Yellow Pages.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Where Minerals Are Needed

The United States, like Canada, is a country of continental proportions, with tremendously varying climatic and soil conditions.

That's why experimental findings in one state or province need to be checked in other parts of the country to see whether or to what extent they apply there.

Gradually a clearer picture of mineral deficiencies and mineral needs has been established, and

Dr. Bohstedt

Dr. J. K. Loosli of Cornell University summarizes these as follows: "Need for mineral fortification varies greatly in different areas of the United States. Salt is recommended everywhere at all times. Iodine is needed in the northwestern states and around the Great Lakes. Cobalt is deficient in Florida, the eastern seaboard, New England, New York and northern Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin. Copper supplements are needed wherever molybdenum is present in soils in amounts greater than 2 or 3 parts per million, such as in Florida, California, Nevada and Oregon. In other parts of Florida and the eastern coast states simple copper deficiency may exist. Extensive areas are low enough in phosphorus that its general use in dairy feeds is recommended. Except when alfalfa or other legume forages are used as the main roughage, extra calcium is recommended as dicalcium phosphate, defluorinated phosphate or bone meal. Excess calcium (2 or 3% CaCO₃) has been shown to depress digestibility of dairy rations and should be avoided. Magnesium fortification is desirable in areas where grass tetany has occurred. Mineral deficiencies may be more widespread than we now recognize and it may be desirable to use trace mineralized salt rather generally on an insurance basis."

"Zinc deficiency has been produced experimentally in calves by feeding special purified diets. In addition to a slower rate of growth, scaly skin and loss of hair occurred. Although a deficiency in cattle fed on natural feeds has not been diagnosed, the possibility that added zinc might prevent some of the skin troubles seen in young cattle during winter feeding should be studied."

Not all facts on mineral needs are known, but enough to prompt stockmen to play it safe according to Dr. Loosli's recommendations.

Question: Isn't the need for added iron in nutrition overrated, except for suckling pigs on a milk diet?

Answer: Most feeds contain fair amounts of iron, as corn 20 ppm, oats 70, soybean meal 130, alfalfa 170, timothy 120 ppm. But not all of the iron is available to an animal, leaving in doubt the exact amount needed. In Purdue tests with semi-purified diets for lambs, 10 ppm of iron was insufficient, 40 ppm more nearly optimum. For insurance sake, iron is included in trace mineral salt.

Senior Class Play Rehearsals Under Way

The Senior Class of Emmitsburg High School is anxiously awaiting the presentation of its class play, "Tom Jones." The rehearsals are progressing toward a successful evening of hilarity and drama scheduled for May 15 at 8 p.m.

The stage is set in Somersetshire, England, at the country estate of Squire Allworthy and Mr. Western. The play is brought to life by appropriate 18th century costuming. The ladies will be seen with their long, elegant gowns, beautiful capes, and coiffured hair. The gentlemen will be sporting knickers, knee socks, waistcoats, and powdered wigs.

Who is Tom Jones? Why was he sent out of his home into the dark dreary streets of London? How does he become so involved in the most provocative predicaments with, when he claims he loves but one, Sophia Western?

Partridge, the narrator as well as actor, is humorously portrayed by Robert Ulrich. Other principal members of the cast are Gary Valentine, Joyce Sanders, Jeff Valentine, Phyllis Chatlos, David Nail, James Martin, Frances Webb, Stullen Knipple, Gregory Bushman, and many others.

Make it a point to spend an enjoyable evening with the Senior Class of Emmitsburg High School and its portrayal of "Tom Jones." Tickets may be purchased from any member of the cast or call 447-2270.

School Group Makes Plans For Thurmont School

An outline of the "Physical Fitness Program" highlighted the Emmitsburg High School Parents Teachers Assn. meeting Wednesday evening in the school gym.

A Youth Fitness Award is achieved by any high school boy receiving 80% or better in all 7 physical fitness areas tested. Boys and girls are classified according to their age, weight, and height. Mr. Kuhn, Physical Education teacher at Emmitsburg High School, explained to the parents and teachers. The local program follows the 1957 President's Commission on Physical Fitness.

High school children have made great strides since 1957. The old "norms" are no longer a great challenge to them. New "norms" will be set up in September of this year.

A demonstration of the testing program was made by the seventh grade boys.

Mrs. Reid, girls' Physical Education teacher of Emmitsburg High School, with the aid of seventh grade girls, showed how interpretive dances and marches are worked into the physical education program.

Mrs. William Carr, vice president, presided over the business meeting.

A committee was formed to work with a Thurmont committee and the architects on the plans for the new North County High School. The committee includes: Ronald Sappington, chairman; Mrs. Harold Hoke, Mrs. William Carr, Mr. Marvin Laws and Rev. John Chatlos.

Mrs. Arsenault's Seventh Grade Two, won the attendance banner for April.

A covered-dish supper will be featured at the next meeting to be held Wednesday, May 26 in the school cafeteria.

Shippensburg Edges Mounts

Shippensburg State College scored two runs in the top of the ninth inning to defeat the Mounties 7-5 last Thursday afternoon.

School Suit To Get Hearing

The State Board of Education has scheduled a hearing to consider the appeal of a group of Emmitsburg citizens challenging the location of the new consolidated high school at the northern border of Thurmont.

The local school system was notified that the state board would meet to hear the Emmitsburg appeal on May 26.

The announcement that the state board, which once refused a hearing of the Emmitsburg appeal after examining evidence in the case would now conduct a hearing was made by Dr. David W. Zimmerman, deputy state school superintendent.

School sources said that Dr. James A. Sensenbaugh, the state school superintendent, a Braddock resident who was former Frederick County School superintendent, had again exempted himself from the case.

Dr. Sensenbaugh refused to participate in the case when the evidence was presented to the state board by both sides on the grounds that he was the local school superintendent when the site selection was made by the board.

Alleck Resnick, attorney for the Emmitsburg group then filed a suit against the local school board and the county commissioners.

In presenting his argument to the court, Resnick said that the state board had no right to deny the Emmitsburg appeal when it had granted hearings to previous school consolidation complaints. Resnick was attorney for a group from Taneytown protesting a school consolidation move.

Judges Patrick M. Schnauffer and Ralph G. Shure of Montgomery County ruled recently that the state board should have granted a hearing to the Emmitsburg group and withheld all further action pending such a hearing.

Dr. John L. Carnochan, school superintendent, said that under a temporary injunction contained in the suit, the school system could do nothing to plan or construct the new high school at the Thurmont location until the suit is settled.

Local Students Named All-County

Girl Scouts Hold Annual Program

The Emmitsburg Girl Scouts held their annual program recently in the Emmitsburg High School auditorium. Three troops took part in this ceremony: Brownie Troop 1300, Mrs. Ralph Lindsey, Leader; Junior Troop 405, Mrs. John Chatlos, Leader, and Cadette Troop 1316, Mrs. Robert Myers, Leader. Mrs. John Warthen, Troop Service Director, was also present.

The program opened with the Flag Ceremony, Karen Warthen directed and Linda Gillespie was reader. Cadette Scouts taking part in this ceremony were Pamela Topper and Jackie Balmer, Flag Bearers; Gloria Long and Janet Frock, Junior Scouts; and Brownie Scouts Phyllis Davis and Kathy Gillespie, Color Guard.

Brownie Troop 1300 sang "Songs the Brownies Love To Sing." Junior Troop 405 presented the play, "The Tsar Trajan's Ears," adapted by the girls from the story of the same title which appear in "Danny Kaye's Stories from Many Lands." The cast for the play was: Mary Ann Rice as the Tsar; Pat Topper and Darlene Nusbaum as guards; Debbie Smith, Claudia Rosensteel and Sheila Chatlos as barbers; Debbie Gillespie was Master barber; Ann Umbel was the servant; the two Shepherd Boys were Kate Marshall and Lisa Orndorff; and the townspeople were Barbara Topper, Susan Topper, Winnie O'Brien, Susie Ott, Vida Antolin, Betty Sue Jackson and Beth Ann Little.

The girls of this Junior Troop produced, directed and made costumes for this play in connection with their Troop Dramatic Badge. Following the play, there was a Juliette Low World Friendship Fund Ingathering at which the three troops contributed a total of $14.22 to the fund. This fund, in the name of the creator of the Girl Scouts, is used to promote international friendship and to bring together Guides and Girl Scouts from over 65 countries throughout the world. While Nancy Carr read, other members of the three Girl Scout Troops carried flags and made the magic circle with the flags of sixteen countries plus the World Flag.

Following this impressive ceremony, Cadette Troop 1316 staged a variety show by the four patrols; all the scouts joined in singing "Girl Scouts Together," and "Taps," and the program was concluded.

Homemakers See Demonstration

At the April meeting of the Emmitsburg Homemakers Club, eleven members participated in rearranging the furniture in the living room of the hostess, Mrs. Charles Harner. Putting into practice the principles of design, which were stressed in an outline given first by Mrs. W. R. Slemmer, Jr., the ladies considered balance, proportion, emphasis and rhythm to give the room a look of spaciousness and convenience. The topic for the demonstration was Furniture Arrangement, and with the aid of a graph paper diagram prepared by Mrs. Harner, the room was shown as it was and how it could be changed. After studying the plan and making the changes, the group decided the final arrangement did give a less cluttered appearance. With pleasant visual and walking lanes.

Mrs. Charles Stouter, president, presided over the short business meeting. She announced the date of the tea given for those interested in attending Short Course, April 28 in Frederick.

The motion was moved and carried that the club give a $5.00 prize to a student chosen for scholastic achievement at each of the Emmitsburg High Schools.

Happy birthday was sung to Mrs. E. L. Higbee.

The next meeting will be May 27, at the home of Mrs. William Meredith.

Lookingbill New

Thurmont Mayor

Thurmont Mayor Donald L. Lewis says he will not contest Monday's election results in which he was upset by Roy W. Lookingbill.

Lookingbill, running as a write-in candidate featuring stickers bearing his name, defeated incumbent Mayor Lewis by a 19-vote margin.

Lewis said, "I don't feel anything can be accomplished by contesting the stickers, although I feel the state may now look into the matter for future elections."

Mayor-Elect Lookingbill, who was defeated by Lewis in the last Thurmont election by 51 votes, announced his candidacy after the nominations were closed.

Cloverettes Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Northern Cloverettes Girls 4-H Club was held at the home of Mrs. James Hill, the leader, on Friday, April 23.

Mary Ann Keilholtz led the club in the pledge to the 4-H and American flags, and the president, Linda Keilholtz, presided at the meeting.

Mrs. Roberta Dietz, Assistant for 4-H and Youth of Frederick County, gave an excellent illustrated talk on "How to Judge Items for Best of Class," and Gail Eyer gave a demonstration on "How to make Rice Puffs."

The club elected Mary Ann Keilholtz to fill the unexpired term of the previous secretary.

The secretary's minutes were read and approved as was the treasurer's report.

The club discussed Rural Life Sunday, and decided to make definite plans at a later date.

month. Delicious refreshments were then served by Mrs. Hill.

Air Force Recruiting Station Now Open

The United States Air Force Recruiting Service announces the opening of a new Air Force Recruiting Office in Frederick, Md. The local Air Force recruiter is Master Sergeant Ken Grimes, a native of Frederick county and a former graduate of Frederick High School.

The necessity for locating in Frederick was due to the extreme travel distances between Air Force offices in other major cities of Maryland. Prior to the opening of this new office, persons desiring information about the Air Force were required to travel to Baltimore, Hagerstown, and other distant cities. This new location should satisfy the needs of all people within commuting distance of Frederick.

Persons interested in the Air Force should make all future contact with Sgt. Grimes at the new USAF Recruiting Office, 1 East Church Street, Frederick, Maryland. Telephone 662-8313 collect.

Mount Sports

Mt. St. Mary's encountered little trouble in again winning the Mason-Dixon Conference relays here Saturday as Coach Jim Deegan's outfit won 12 of the 14 events. No team scores are compiled.

Three school and three meet records were set by the Mountaineers. Bill Walsh, won three events for Mt. St. Mary's, set meet records in the triple and high jump, as well as a Mount record in the high jump. Jack Campbell established a meet record in the discus while the Mount shuttle hurdles and 440 relay squad established school marks in those events.

Bees Top Mounties

The Mountaineer baseball team bowed to Baltimore 7-2 Saturday here in a Mason-Dixon Conference game, the loss giving the Mount an overall 2-5 record.

Both Mount runs came in the last of the ninth inning, the first being a homer by John Monahan. The Mountie rally was halted when a runner was cut down attempting to reach third base from first on a single.
