Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

It is difficult to understand the inner workings of the Frederick County School Board. With most schools dismissed for the summer our county had to tag along with an extended program almost to the middle of June. It seemed sort of silly to call the buses and the children back last Friday morning for an hour just to pick up their report cards. For a few dollars, much cheaper than hiring busses, the cards could have been mailed, as some schools already do. The occasion was made all the more incredulous when a 14-year-old school boy from Urbana met his death traveling on his bicycle to the school the last hour to pick up his report card. Let us hope the School Board uses a little better judgment next year and avoids these little nuisance acts which sometimes result in misfortunate mishaps.

Emmitsburg is not the only town trying to curb juvenile delinquency. A curfew initiated several years ago has helped some but there remains quite a bit yet to overcome. Frederick City appears to be facing the same sort of problem and this week put into effect a curfew which would clear the streets of youngsters under 16. The problem still remains though what to do to rid us of the over eighteen problem.

It was bound to happen with the population exploding in voluminous fashion and land and parking space at a premium. Some ingenious inventor from Indiana has now come forth with a cylindrical burial casket. The gadget is man-sized, oval and made of aluminum. It requires only a third of the space that the conventional burial box takes and naturally the corpse is buried standing up. Sounds frightful but then everything is changing these days and I wouldn't at all be surprised to see the thing catch on.

TOMORROW'S CITIZENS

This week's Citizens of Tomorrow are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Topper, Emmitsburg. They are, left to right, Richard, 10 months, and Philip, Jr., 21 months.

Hymn Sing Sunday Night

This Sunday night, June 27, at a "Hymn Sing" in the Incarnation United Church of Christ, the Emmitsburg Hand Bell Ringers will present several numbers. This will be the choir's first appearance following their participation in the National Hand Bell Ringers Convention in Washington, D. C., this week. Here is your opportunity to hear this fine group of children under the leadership of Mr. Samuel C. Hays.

Other groups will also present special music at this service at 7:30 p.m. The choirs of both Keysville and St. James United Church of Christ will sing. There will be group singing of many favorite old hymns.

Observed also during this special service will be the quarterly "ingathering of the little churches." The members of Incarnation Church use these little churches as a means of increasing the fund for their educational building. "A penny a meal with a prayer" is the motto. The offering at this service will also go toward the building fund.

Everyone is invited to attend and join in the evening of music.

With proper medical supervision, most asthma victims can lead comfortable, useful lives.

Adult Education Classes To Begin At Local College

Adult education classes in fundamentals of clothing construction will be inaugurated at St. Joseph College on July 2. Two two-hour classes will be held Mondays (except July 5), Wednesdays and Fridays during the month of July.

Morning classes will begin at 9:30 o'clock, and evening classes will be held at 6:30 o'clock. Both sessions will be conducted in the home economics building at the southeast end of the campus near the site of the new science building which is under construction.

Fundamentals of clothing construction will be the first of a series of courses planned for this year. The opening sessions will be devoted primarily to orientation and introduction and discussion of pattern and fabric selection.

Women interested in the course may request an application on or before July 2. A registration fee of $5 should accompany the application. Additional fees will be charged only to those participants seeking college credit for the work.

Application forms are available on request from Sister Madeleine, chairman of the Home Economics Department and director of the Adult Education Program.

Courses in more advanced clothing construction and other areas of learning are being planned for evening classes during the fall and spring semesters of the coming school year. These courses are being offered at a nominal fee as a contribution to the citizens of Emmitsburg and surrounding towns and cities who have requested and urged their inception.

Rev. Fr. Gerald E. Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pius E. Kelly of Newry, Pa., and grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly, Emmitsburg, was ordained a priest in the Altoona-Johnstown diocese on Saturday, May 29.

The ceremony was held at the Pontifical College Josephinum in Worthington, Ohio, where he had been a student since 1953.

He offered his first solemn High Mass at 12 noon Sunday, June 6 in St. Patrick's Church, Newry, Pa.

On Sunday, June 13, he visited his aunt, Mrs. Marie Rosensteel, DePaul St., and officiated at the 10 o'clock Mass in St. Joseph's Church, after which he gave his priestly blessing.

Mrs. Rosensteel and Mrs. Carrie Rodgers attended the ordination and first Mass. Others from Emmitsburg attending the Mass were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rodgers and daughter, Josephine; Mrs. George Arnold and son, Paul; John G. Humerick; Mrs. Helen Brown; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stoner; and Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker Sr.

Mrs. Hogan Chosen Outstanding Lady

Mrs. Bartholomew Hogan, the former Grace Gloninger of Emmitsburg and Pittsburgh, was recently chosen as one of the "Distinguished Women of Washington, D. C." in the book of that name, for the year 1964, published by two well known Washington Journalists, Helen Cooke and Evelyn Dent Boyer.

Mrs. Hogan was given this honor, not only because of her many activities and responsibilities during the years her husband, Rear Admiral B. W. Hogan, Medical Corps, U.S.N., was Surgeon General of the Navy, but also for her continuing interest in Community Welfare, especially in work for the emotionally disturbed child.

Among the thirty-five ladies included in the book are Mrs. Lynndon Baines Johnson and Mrs. John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Mrs. Hogan was graduated from Saint Joseph College and taught at the Public High School here. Dr. and Mrs. Hogan were married at Saint Anthony's Shrine in 1933, as were Dr. and Mrs. Bartholomew, Jr., in 1960.

Paper Is Critical Of Road Engineering

Are Roads Engineers Infallible?

Certainly modern roads could hardly be built without the preliminary engineering work associated with their construction, but there is a growing conviction among laymen that the State Roads Commission of Maryland is not doing a very good job in its engineering approach to highway construction within the State.

The Baltimore Beltway has come in for severe criticism regarding its potential for accidents, the very thing it was expected to curtail. A Frederick magistrate has admitted frankly that he is being somewhat lenient regarding cases involving accidents at intersections and intersections with the Frederick Freeway because it is evident that poor construction at these points is contributing to a number of the accidents which have occurred there. The Frederick Chamber of Commerce is advising that intersections on this Freeway be lighted at night, with special emphasis upon the dangerous situation at Rosemont Avenue, where the road changes abruptly from a divided highway to a two-lane road and the two roads intersect in a manner designed to confuse out-of-State motorists and induce them to plunge into the north-bound lane of the dual road when heading south.

These are only several of the complaints being heard just in this local area. There are many more dangerous and ridiculous situations throughout the State where some advanced engineering would have remedied the situation.

One might be cited as the monstrosity where U. S. 40 and U. S. 40-A intersect just west of Frederick. All over the State there are instances of this short-sighted engineering. What is the matter? Of course some people will always complain regardless of conditions, but the rash of dissatisfaction in these roads cases indicates that something surely must be wrong. Engineers are necessary, but there are good and bad engineers, just as there are good and bad operatives in every field of endeavor. Perhaps the Roads Commission ought to do a little evaluating of its engineers who are designing these "wacky" situations along our highways, with a view to correcting the matter.

Of course it may also be possible that the trouble is caused by certain officials not abiding by the advice of their engineers, as was the case with the choice of the corridor for Interstate 72 between Frederick and Hagerstown. That puts the responsibility elsewhere, but at least the public ought to know who is responsible for these accident-prone designs on our roads.

Public Auction To Benefit Local Library

The Board of Trustees of the Emmitsburg Public Library is collecting articles to be auctioned off for "Operation Projector" on Saturday, July 10. The Rummage sale will begin at 10 a.m. in the Fire Hall. The auction sale will begin at 11 a.m.

Already many fine things have been donated toward this cause. More things are needed if the purchase price of the 16mm. film projector is to be realized. Do you want a radio? There are several that will be up for sale. A good 28-inch English bike will make a fine gift for someone you know. Come and bid on it. There are antique dishes, glasses, and other things which you may see if you visit the library during open hours. Your family would enjoy the popcorn from the popcorn popper which is among the many things to be sold.

During the sale music will be provided by a local group of young people. Refreshments will be on sale by the American Legion Auxiliary.

You may help this sale by donating anything which you may have in the line of clothing or other articles. The clothing will be priced but the other things will be auctioned. You may also help by supporting the sale with your presence and active bidding. The proposed projector will be for the use of any organization in the community so you are helping all when you help this project.

Mount Receives Gulf Grant

It was one of 584 awards, totaling $595,500 that Gulf will distribute this year as direct, unrestricted grants to as many universities and colleges under its Aid-To-Education Program.

In addition to direct grants, the other phases of Gulf's comprehensive Education Assistance program include capital grants; Gulf merit scholarships to children of employees and annuitants; employee gift-matching to colleges; departmental assistance grants; graduate fellowship; and faculty supplementation grants.

Institutions eligible for direct grants are those which are privately operated and controlled, and which obtain a major portion of their financial support from non-tax sources.

The amount awarded to Mount Saint Mary's was $1,000 and the check was presented to Rt. Rev. Robert R. Kline, Ph.D., college president, by Mr. G. W. Ruppberger, Area Sales Manager of Gulf, Mr. George Irving, Gulf Superintendent of Services, whose son, Martin G., will be a senior at the college in the fall.

TO HOLD HEARING ON REZONING OF LAND HERE

A "Notice to neighboring and affected property owners" was sent out this week by the Frederick County Commissioners concerning the annexation of approximately 14 acres of land owned by the 3-D Inc., purchasers of the former J. L. Nester farm, east of Emmitsburg.

The 3-D Inc. of Frederick, has applied to the Frederick County Planning and Zoning Board for rezoning this acreage from agricultural to commercial. The plan, it is understood, has the approval of the Zoning Board, but a public hearing must be held before the County Commissioners in Winchester Hall on Tuesday, July 6 for final approval by the Commissioners. The notice was sent to the Emmitsburg Development Co. which owns considerable acreage in the area. Should there be any objections to the rezoning, objectors will be heard at the scheduled hearing.

The official notice from the County Commissioners reads as follows:

In re: Rezoning Case No. A-65-7 THREE - D, Inc.

A parcel of land East of Emmitsburg, Maryland, bounded on the West by relocated U. S. Rt. 15, on the South by Maryland Rt. 97 and on the East by Harney Road, containing 13.692 acres. A meets and bounds description is included in the case file.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed with the Board of County Commissioners by the owners of the property in question, requesting an amendment to the County Zoning Ordinance, by changing from "A-1" Agricultural District use to "B-3" Commercial District use the property described above.

For the purpose of considering the effects of such an amendment, the County Commissioners will hold a public hearing in the Hiram Winchester Room, Winchester Hall, East Church Street, Frederick, Maryland at 10:00 a.m. Tuesday, July 6, 1965. At that time the Commissioners will be glad to hear from any property owner in support of, or in opposition to the making of such amendment.

This hearing is not limited to those receiving copies of this notice, and if you know of any neighbor or affected property owner who, for any reason has failed to receive a copy, it would be appreciated if you would inform them of this public hearing.

The success of a club is due in large part to the efficiency of the various committees. The following committee chairmen supported the president, Mrs. Jane Bollinger, other officers, and club members during the past year: Ways and Means, Mrs. Ada McKissick; membership, Mrs. Mary Hatter and Mrs. Mabel Townsend; publicity, Mrs. Dorothy Lambdin; sunshine, Mrs. Jacob Baker; hostess, Mrs. Frances Rosensteel; and program, Mrs. Jane Nolan. Club representatives to Montevue Auxiliary were Mrs. Betty Strine and Mrs. Elizabeth Kiser.

Dr. Dillon Resigns From Hospital Board

Dr. John J. Dillon, Emmitsburg, has resigned as a director of the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, to which post he was re-elected for another three-year term this week.

In a letter to President Clark S. Smith, Dr. Dillon, a member of the faculty of Mount St. Mary's College, said he is moving from Emmitsburg to Blue Ridge Summit. Since his new residence will be out of the Gettysburg area he explained it would be in the better interest of the area to vacate the post and thus permit another director to be selected from Emmitsburg.

Farmers Must Abide By Agreements

Farmers who signed up under one or more of the 1965 diversion programs—for feed grains or for wheat—were reminded today that now is a good time to take care of conserving-acreage provisions of those programs.

James M. Voss, Chairman, Md. Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, explained that, under the diversion programs, the participating farmer agrees to devote an amount of acreage to conserving uses which is equal to the farm's normal base acreage in such uses in addition to the acreage signed up for diversion under the program. If the farmer signed up in both the feed grain and the wheat programs, he would need to increase his farm's 1965 acreage of cropland devoted to conservation use above the conservation base by not less than the sum of the acreage signed up for diversion to conserving uses under both programs (including the basic 11.11 per cent of the wheat-allotment acres for which no diversion payments are available).

Failure to meet the conserving-use or any other provision of the diversion programs could mean loss of all program payments for that crop — price-support loans and payments, wheat marketing certificates, and diversion payments.

Fatals Increase On State Roads

Seventeen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Seven of those killed were drivers; seven were passengers; and three were pedestrians.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in eleven of these deaths; speed in twelve; and "driver error" was present in all but two of the fatalities.

In reviewing last week's summary of highway fatalities, Col. Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police had this to say:

"Two items stand out like a sore thumb. First, alcohol was a contributing factor in eleven out of seventeen deaths. In two of these fatal accidents, in which five lives were lost, the alcohol test on the deceased operators, who were seventeen and eighteen years of age, showed readings of .18% and .15%, indicative of substantial driving impairment.

"The second item is this. In six of the fatal accidents, in which nine persons were killed, State Police investigators found that seat belts were available in eight of the nine cases, but in no case were they actually in use. The investigators feel that at least five of the nine lives would have been saved if seat belts had been in use.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

The Emmitsburg Chronicle, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. Clip and save for future reference.

Questions And Answers

Q. I think I'll qualify for income averaging this year, but I can't find a copy of my 1962 return to use in making the computation. Can I get a duplicate?

A. Copies of returns that you filed may be obtained by writing or visiting the District Director's office. A charge of 50 cents per page is made for each copy furnished.

Q. I just bought a delicatessen. Do I have to obtain a Federal beer license to sell beer and what form should I use?

A. Before you commence operation you should register and pay the occupational stamp tax (not a license) required for the balance of the fiscal year ending June 30th. You are required to buy a new stamp on or before July 1 each year thereafter. Use Special Tax Return Form 11 obtainable from your district director's office for this purpose.

Q. My refund check is made out to both me and my wife. Do we both have to endorse it?

A. Yes.

Q. I've been requested to come in for an audit of my return. Why can't this be done in the local office I go to for information?

A. Probably the local office you refer to is only a one- or two-man operation. Audit personnel are usually only located in offices where the volume of work makes their employment practicable. In most cases, audit personnel are located at offices convenient to taxpayers so that long trips will not be necessary.

Q. If I have a gardener during the summer months do I have to pay Social Security taxes on his wages?

A. If you pay the gardener $50 or more during a calendar quarter than you are required to report wages and pay social security taxes on them. This will be the case for any person you hire to perform services for you about your home. Besides maids and gardeners, it includes chauffeurs, cooks, governesses and handymen.

Details on these reporting requirements are contained in Circular H. Copies of the Circular and Form 942, "Employer's Quarterly Return for Household Workers," may be obtained at any local Revenue Service office.

Q. I'm going to take a three-week trip by car around the country next month. Will any of my expenses be deductible, and if so, what kind of records should I keep?

A. A vacation trip is a personal expense and therefore expenses would be no more deductible than they are at home. The expenses you deduct at home, sales taxes, gasoline taxes, etc., will be deductible while you're away. Therefore, keeping a record of gasoline and sales taxes you pay, receipts, cancelled checks, etc., would help you substantiate deductions you claim.

If part of your trip, however, qualifies as a business trip then the rules covering business travel and entertainment would apply. These rules are explained in Internal Revenue Service Publication No. 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses," which you can obtain from any Internal Revenue Service office.

Q. I just got a raise and think I have to file an estimated tax return. When I file this, should I take the standard deduction? I'm not sure whether I'll be able to itemize or not this year.

A. If you are not sure about your deductions, figure your tax based on the standard deduction. Remember, estimated tax declarations are only required to keep taxpayers on a pay-as-you-go basis.

A declaration generally is required if withholding will not come within $40 of meeting your actual tax liability. Increased withholding may make it unnecessary for you to file estimated tax declarations.

Q. I've been involved in a dispute with your audit people. It looks now, like I'm going to need a lawyer. When I brought this up during a conference at your office they refused to recommend anyone. Why was that? Don't they want me to get professional assistance?

A. If you want to pursue your protest beyond the district conference stage you will probably want to have professional help. However, the Revenue Service does not recommend who you should use to represent you, since there are many qualified lawyers and accountants.

Officers of the local chapter of the bar or accounting association will be able to give you the names of persons in your area qualified to represent you.

CHARLES AUGUSTUS MORRIS
Route 1, Box 73
Jefferson, Maryland
VS
JANIE V. MORRIS
7 Gay Street
Providence, Rhode Island

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Janie V. Morris.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, Maryland, where he has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address is 7 Gay Street, Providence, Rhode Island; that the parties to this cause were married on the 28th day of September, 1956, at Newport News, Virginia, by a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage five children were born, namely, Leo Henry Morris, 7 years of age; Robert Augustus Morris, 6 years of age; Emma Jean Morris, 5 years of age; David Lee Morris, 3 years of age; and Michael Morris, 2 years of age; that the Defendant did, on or about the 15th day of October, 1962, abandon and desert your Complainant declaring her intentions to live with him no longer as husband and wife, that said abandonment and desertion is deliberate and final and has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Charles Augustus Morris, be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Janie V. Morris; that he be awarded the care and custody of the infant children in these proceedings mentioned; and for such other and further relief as be the nature of his case may require.

ORDER OF COURT
It is thereupon this 24th day of May, 1965, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 3rd day of July, 1965, commanding her to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of August, 1965, and show cause, if any she has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

Model Air Meet Scheduled

The annual two-day radio-controlled model airplane meet, sponsored by the DRC Model Club, will be held again this year at the Frederick Municipal Airport on Saturday and Sunday, July 3 and 4, from sun-up to dusk each day. Contestants from Maine to Florida are expected to participate in the event, according to John E. Patton, spokesman for the model club. This event is held each year during the 4th of July weekend and has been held in Frederick for the past seven years. During the two-day meet, the north section of the north-south runway of the Airport is closed to air traffic and used by the contestants. The entries are judged for precision and control and each plane may be entered in one or more competitive classes. Trophies are awarded to the winners of each class at the end of the contest.

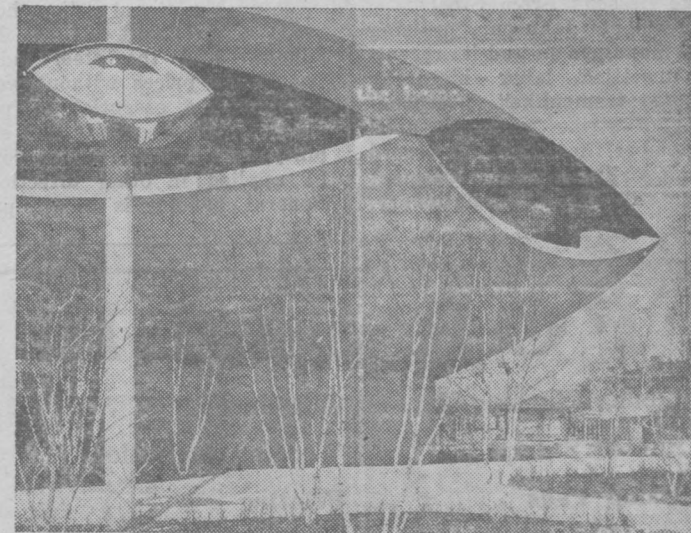

A food concession stand, operated by the Frederick Civil Air Patrol Squadron, will be open to the contestants and spectators during the entire meet. CAP will also provide runners; generator power for electricity; personnel, vehicles, and an airplane to retrieve run-away models; and first aid facilities. The Squadron will also provide a mobile water tank for dust control around the contest area.

The public is invited to watch the contest. There is no admission charge and plenty of free parking will be available.

Keep bathroom furnishings — scales, hampers, wastebaskets — where they won't be tripped over.

Lead paints taste like candy and are poisonous if swallowed in small doses over a period of time.

The Travelers Insurance Companies "red umbrella" building at the New York World's Fair is one of many major exhibits in the industrial area. The Travelers exhibit offers an exciting and educational look at the history of man including the discovery of fire and agriculture, the grandeur of Rome, and the Civil War. More than 1,300,000 persons visited the exhibit in 1964.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

For The Record

To keep the record straight: a race track Steward does not roast fowls for jockeys but instead roasts jockeys for fowls. . . . A jockey weighs out before a race and weighs in after a race. . . . The Jockey Club has 73 members none of whom are jockeys. . . . The Registration Department of The Jockey Club asks breeders to use the words left and right instead of the terms near and off in describing markings on their registration papers. . . . A horse's fore-arm and elbow are located above his knee. . . . The Michigan Mile Trial at Detroit Race Course is run at a mile and one sixteenth as a prep for the "Michigan Mile" which, because of a short run to the first turn, is run at a mile and an eighth. . . . Jockey John Longden, who has ridden more winners than any other jockey (5,900 plus), has one that doesn't show in the record book. At a recent rodeo he won a race for burros on a mount named Count Fleet after his 1943 Triple Crown Winner. . . . Ikaika, an Hawaiian-bred Thoroughbred won his first race at Longacres in 1946 at the age of 11, a record which will stand because maidens over four years old are no longer permitted to race in Washington. . . . Ak-Sar-Ben is not a Turkish delegate to the United Nations, but a race track in Omaha (Nebraska spelled backwards). . . . There are eight furlongs in a mile, but Suffolk Downs, a one-mile track at East Boston, Mass., has nine; its public relations director is Beatrice Furlong.

Some Lessons From Steel
President Johnson, praising steel management and its recently unsettled labor hierarchy for "statesmenlike" postponement of strike pressures until September, has gone on record as demanding a final settlement that will be non-inflationary.

He, in turn, deserves public commendation for taking this stand as if it were a matter of principle. If the President should now follow through and make such a policy apply to all the nation, particularly the federal government, the maintenance of U. S. economic security would be assured.
No such national policy, however, is proposed. If, as Mr. Johnson told the steel industry, stable prices without wage inflation are essential to preserve U. S. prosperity and stability, such sensible action could be applied in other directions. Federal spending is up way past all reason, with deficit spending commitments going far into the future. There are 2.8 million federal employees, six times as many as we had when the graduated income tax became law, and they spend 150 times as much money taking care of a population that has only doubled. Inflation? Priced Out Of Market?

Postponement of a steel strike is of course a good thing, next to not having one at all. This will be a signal for our industries to begin stockpiling in anticipation of either scarcity or higher prices, or both. "Down Payment" wage increases are provided while productivity rates and profits are being debated during the summer. It will be claimed that federal guideposts have been keeping prices stable, that wage boosts are within productivity gains, and profits are up with the higher volume. If the "down payment" is the floor, however, and the union boosts to the 13 cents they want, average wages could reach $4.54 per hour.

What could happen then might be the same as the result of all the good intentions when minimum wages are set higher. When new levels are reached, some workers are just going to be priced out of the market. In a year we may lose enough steel to have employed 31,500 men, which of course we will not have employed. Jobs Are Exported

This has led Columnist Don Rogers to remark that the steelworkers' program "has effectively exported jobs through the import of steel." The highest paid industrial workers in the U. S. and the highest paid steelworkers in the world may thus be throwing their jobs away to foreign competition. If there is an upsurge in foreign steel buying, as seems likely when stockpiling is thus encouraged, there would be a loss to America in business and jobs as well as a loss in the balance of payments situation.

The President's Council of Economic Advisors has indicated that a 3 per cent wage increase (taking the whole of what they consider adjusted productivity gains) would be non-inflationary. The companies, however, have insisted that the gain in productivity has been about 2 per cent and any raise above that would require higher steel prices to maintain adequate profits. The 11.5 cent "down payment" that seems to be guaranteed amounts to a 2.6 per cent wage increase. Steel labor officials look jealously at the 4.9 per cent increase in autos and the 3.5 increase in the can industry.

How To Come Through

Pressure is apt to build up for a bigger boost than even the government guidelines suggest. The union, under new management that proposes toughness, will doubtless look askance at the booming profits being reported this year by industry generally. It is too bad that so few labor leaders have a kind word for profits, despite the opportunity for increases in wages and job security brought about by the employer who is fortunate enough to make adequate profits. Unions should applaud the company that is successful enough to give productivity increases.

As the British prepare to re-nationalize their steel industry, we are going to be impressed with the superiority of America's privately owned enterprises.

The success of steel's labor-management relations since 1959, in which responsible and reasonable men have worked out difficult problems together, has been impressive. The worst flaw has been government intervention from the White House. If Mr. Johnson can remember to apply sound principles to the whole of the economy and let steel alone, leaving bargaining to the parties concerned and to the mediation service and pricing to the industry, then our steel companies will weather their storm of problems.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Memorable Suburbanites

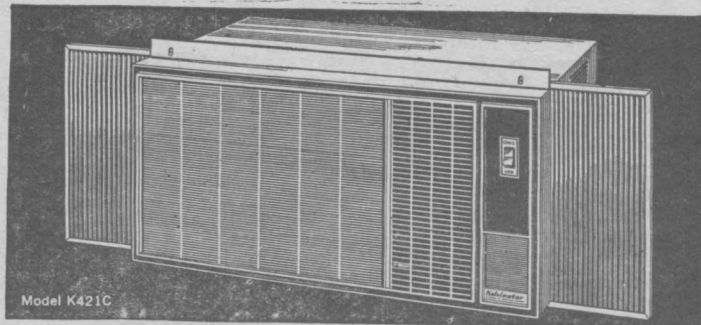

Winners of the Suburban Handicap, traditional Independence Day feature on Belmont Park's stakes schedule, make up a roster of equine greats which if listed, would more than fill this space. One of these turf immortals was Salvator, winner of the 1890 Suburban under the guidance of the famed Negro jockey, Isaac Murphy. Today one of Monmouth Park's stakes is named for Salvator, who is best remembered for running a sensational mile at the first Monmouth Park in 1890. Salvator lowered the then existing mile record by a full four seconds, covering the eight furlongs in 1:35 1/2. It was 42 years later that Salvator's trainer, Matt Byrne, watched Equipose take down Salvator's record, hanging up a standard of 1:34 2/5. Byrne shook his head and said that had Isaac Murphy been in the saddle the day Salvator had set his record it would still be standing for he'd have run the mile in 1:34 flat.

Byrne's friends smiled tolerantly. Byrne said he was not faulting the ride given Salvator by Marty Bergen who subbed that day the then suspended Murphy. Bergen had rated the great horse perfectly and had finished with Salvator running the final two quarters in 24 seconds each under steady restraint. Equipose, incidentally, was also a Suburban winner in 1933 but he didn't threaten the record for a mile and a quarter set when Whisk Broom II won the 1913 Suburban in two minutes flat.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point of View On:
Where Retail Buying Is Headed

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 24

With prosperity moving persistently into its fifth year, there is bound to be a lot of speculation as to how long business can maintain this upswing. Tied in with this question—and probably of the widest possible
interest to the general public—is the length of time that retail buying can continue its climb to one new high after another.

Reflection Of Consumer Confidence

Thus far in the current upward cycle there have been no apparent signs of buyer resistance, no signals of hesitation at the retail level. Both light and durable consumer goods are turning over at an unprecedented pace, and producers are still planning on output gains for an indefinite period. Hence,

both consumer and producer
psychology appear more optimistic than at any other time
in the nation's peacetime economic history.

Vital to this attitude is the persistent advance in personal income of all types. Even the recent increases in taxes have failed to halt the upthrust in disposal of personal income (after deduction of municipal, state and federal levies). On the basis of the 1957-59 average equaling 100, post-tax spendable funds rose from 130.6 during the first quarter of 1964 to 139.5 for the first quarter of this year. Personal savings showed a moderate gain for the same period, reflecting some lay-away thrift even with retail purchasing at the highest level ever.

Trend In Earnings Still Up

All of the major labor agreements of the past year have included not only substantial fringe benefits—some of which mean delayed concessions—but also strong hikes in take-home pay and salaries. Not only have immediate raises been provided,
but usually multi-year pacts
have guaranteed additional wage hikes for the following two or three individual years of the contracts. Apprentice and post-college starter pay rates are steadily pushing upward, particularly in many specialist lines that suffer from a sharp manpower shortage.

Large sums are pouring into family coffers from bank interest, rising stock dividends, and ever-broadening government payments. There is also a growing number of families which have multiple incomes contributed by working wives, relatives, and older children. All such additional funds generate a stronger sense of security and raise the standard of living in a great many homes.

Installment Buying Stimulated

With such widespread prosperity, spurred on even more
by the Administration's sizeable outlays for The Great Society, people are not afraid to turn to installment credit for many articles too expensive for their immediate pocketbooks. With the 1957-59 average again equal to 100, it should be noted that installment purchases have soared
from 149.1 in the first quarter of 1964 to 165.2 for the 1965 period. While such a climb smacks of overextension to more conservative observers, there is still the encouraging fact that installment repayments are holding at good heights.

For at least the remainder of this year and probably well into 1966, retail trade should continue to reach for new records. This is true for even the high-tag products like automobiles, kitchen appliances, furniture, color TV sets, and other semi-luxury and "status" items.
Readers should realize that consumer purchasing is an economic factor slow to react seriously to depression or resession forces. So that, even if there should be a corrective setback in general business—stirred perhaps by foreign reverses and/or uncertainty in the stock market—chances favor continued brisk consumer buying even during any early jitters
in the business world.

In brief, retail buying through 1965 and early 1966 will chalk up further gains, though the pace may not match that of the past few spectacular years.

universal language . . . From the day you land, that language of Love, understood by all, will be pouring forth its unconscious eloquence. It is the man who is the missionary, it is not his words.
His character is his message."

One ingredient of God's love is His compassion, His pity, His mercy. As we turn to Christ daily and ask for this quality for ourselves, we grow in compassion;

and the spiritually needy around us will come to us, sensing our care. We are able to lead them to Christ, who can satisfy their every need.

Prayer

Our Father, may we have divine compassion for others—compassion which will draw them to Thee for new life, new decision, new service. May our hunger to serve Thee never diminish until Thy will rules in the hearts of all men and nations. Through Christ our Redeemer. Amen.

State Drivers Lose Licenses

Some 5,678 Maryland operator licenses were either revoked or suspended during the month of May, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles John R. Jewell reported today.

The May figures bring to 65,169 the total number of Maryland operator licenses that have been either revoked or suspended during the first eleven months of fiscal 1965, Mr. Jewell added.

Of the current year's total, thus far, 58,992 were suspended because of an accumulation of points as a result of violations of the motor vehicle law, as a result of hearings held either at DMV headquarters at Glen Burnie or in the various counties; for failure to comply with financial responsibility requirements or for medical reasons.

The remaining 6,177 were revoked with 5,347 the result of the point system and 830 the result of hearings, either at DMV headquarters or in the counties.

In addition to the 65,169 suspensions or revocations during the first eleven months of fiscal 1965, some 1,738 individuals were refused operator permits.

During a similar 11-month period in fiscal 1964, 67,633 operator licenses were either suspended or revoked while 1,702 applicants were refused permits.

Commissioner Jewell also reported that the DMV administered 98,541 driving examinations during the first 11 months of fiscal 1965, and, of this total, 73,034 passed and 25,507 failed.

A total of 144,935 drivers were assessed points from July 1, 1964 to May 31, 1965, almost 11,000 more than during a similar period in fiscal 1964.

Of the current total 87,391 drivers were assessed one point each; 50,643 were assessed three points; seven drivers were assessed five points; 2,170 drivers were assessed eight points and 4,724 drivers were assessed twelve points.

A total of 2,477 drivers were convicted of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of either alcohol or drugs, including 231 reported during the month of May.

From July 1, 1964 to May 31, 1965, some 9,359 drivers attended the Department's Driver Rehabilitation Clinics, 382 more than during a similar period in fiscal 1964. Some 21,308 drivers have attended the Driver Rehabilitation Clinics since July 23, 1962, when the clinics began operation.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

The Tragic Syndrome

They keep coming into hospitals, welfare departments, public and private social agencies, in a steady trickle that sometimes becomes a stream. Children with deep bruises or burns, children with broken limbs or internal injuries, children grossly malnourished or suffering from neglected diseases.

It's a medical problem, a social problem, a mental health problem rolled into one: the "battered child syndrome." Pinpointed by doctors and social workers a few years ago, it has by now been thoroughly mulled over by experts and interested bystanders. But the kids keep getting hurt just as much.

About 10,000 children in the United States each year suffer severe physical abuse by parents or others in charge of them. As to how many die, there is no way of knowing; many such deaths are reported as "accidents."

What to do? It's one of society's toughest problems. According to Dr. Fredric Wertham, noted psychiatrist, the chief culprit is society itself. "People aren't sufficiently concerned," he said. "Some of these cases are horrible beyond belief. The real gravity of the problem has yet to be understood."

He rejected a widespread view that it's merely a question of emotional disorder on the parents' part, subject to cure by judicious counseling. "It goes much deeper than that. Many of these abusive parents are 'normal' persons by most modern standards. The young parent of today has grown up in an atmosphere pervaded by violence. Not only in the books, news reports, entertainments they absorb, but in the dealings of individuals and nations with one another."

He had no ready solution to offer. Would a simmering-down of general violence help? There is no scientific certainty of it, the psychiatrist believes; but he indicated that in an atmosphere

Young Robert Lansing, 7 year-old son of the soon-to-be-replaced star of 12 O'clock High, plays a part in what will be his father's last episode of the series. Young Lansing previously appeared in General Hospital with Emily McLaughlin, who is his mother.

The stork is the biggest star of all the Screen Gems studios in Hollywood these days. In addition to Elizabeth Montgomery, who's baby is going to be part of the action in Bewitched, Barbara Eden, star of the new I Dream of Jeannie series, is also expecting. But the Jeannie people are rushing to get episodes finished, since in the show the character is single. Danny Thomas will be doing five more specials for NBC next year; two will be follow-ups on this year's "Wonderful World of Burlesque"... With four starters hitting double figures, Dennis Stahley's Hustlers routed Gene Lingg's Night Owls in the opening game of the summer season. Joe Gelwicks and Ray Baker each scored 13 points, while Capt. Stahley and Jerry Orndorff split 20 points between them.

The Hustlers pulled out to a 16-8 first quarter lead and were never threatened from that point. They lead at halftime 30-14. For the Night Owls, Jim May was the only man in double figures with 13. Capt. Gene Lingg had four for the losers.

Green Indians 43; Panthers 33
With Harry Harner hitting for 23 points, the Green Indians, captained by Jack Topper, outlasted the Panthers of John Little, 43-33 in a closely fought game.

The first quarter was marked by a scoring drought and ended with the Panthers leading 4-2. The Littlemen increased their lead to 18-14, led by the shooting and all-around play of Marty Williams. The Indians caught the Panthers in the third period and pulled ahead 25-24 to set the stage for Harner's heroics. In the final period, Harner personally took charge of the game—he scored 13 points to put the game out of reach for the Indians. Marty Williams was the big man for the Panthers, combining 12 points with an all-around floor game.

Panthers 4 14 6 9—33
The third game of the week was rained out with 2 minutes remaining in the first half. Gene Eyer's Blue Jays were leading Jack Dillon's Meadowlarks, 16-15 when the rains came. The game will be played from that point next Thursday evening.
