Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

You probably didn't notice it but then again it might have been conspicuous by its absence. I have reference to the test blast of the local fire siren. For many years now our firemen have been testing the apparatus every Monday at noon. It was recently decided to change the day to Saturday, therefore it was not tested Monday as usual. Now then, when the blast goes off this Saturday you will know the full story behind it and there will be no cause for alarm.

There's a spree of vandalism in operation in Frederick County and nearby Adams County. A series of mailbox explosions has occurred and State Police and postal authorities are on the alert to nab the vandals. No less than five cases were reported in the past week in this county alone. The vandals also included nearby sections over the state line and parties concerned have called this office. The vandals drive up to the rural mailboxes during the night, plant a "cherry bomb" and depart quickly. The bomb usually destroys the box and any mail that might happen to be enclosed. If you should happen to witness any of this nefarious activity it is your moral duty to report it to the authorities.

While it is not certain that Pope Paul VI will visit the United Nations this year it might well materialize and it would represent the first time in history that the Holy Father visited this country. And wouldn't it come as a mammoth surprise if he would include Emmitsburg on his itinerary while in this country. We do have a very potent drawing card here... the shrine of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton, who if canonized, would be the first native-born American Saint. I hope that you fully realize that the above idea is solely a product of my fertile imagination and that there is absolutely no foundation or authenticity to it. It is just a dream of this typewriter jockey and there's no law against dreaming.

As was predicted some time ago, the water ban is on again for the fifth straight year. Utmost cooperation is necessary to conserve on our reserves or even stricter regulations will be imposed. We must have water on hand for the essential things such as cooking, bathing, drinking, etc. It is sheer folly to be wasting water on already dead lawns, washing sidewalks, porches, etc., and unless this practice ceases we'll all be in for more and more regulations.

Chest X-Ray Unit Coming Here

The Frederick County Tuberculosis Assn. will send its mobile X-ray unit to Emmitsburg on August 11, it has been announced. New equipment has been added to the unit and it is now possible to handle more people in far less time than in former years.

The unit will be stationed at the Tor Shoe Co. from 10 to 12 on Wednesday, Aug. 11 and from 1 to 2 p.m. at the Emmitsburg Manufacturing Co. plant on West Main St. From 2:30 to 6 p.m. the unit will operate on the Square. This X-ray service is free and the general public is urged to take advantage of this excellent medical service.

Ambulance Drive Nets $1800 To Date

Contributions for the financial drive for a new ambulance here are flowing in at a satisfactory rate, Chairman Guy A. Baker, Jr., announced this week.

At a committee meeting of drive assistants and VFW officials, sponsors of this community service, it was announced that to date $1,800 had been collected. Most of this amount was mailed to the committee in response to a form letter mailed out recently asking for funds to help the VFW purchase the new ambulance at a cost of approximately $10,000.

Broken down, the $1800 represents contributions from 223 individuals at an average of $8 per individual. Quite a few sent congratulatory and complimentary notes along with their checks, expressing appreciation to the VFW for this outstanding service to the Emmitsburg community. Contributions are received from $1 on up. The committee welcomes any size contribution and asks individuals to mail their donations in as soon as possible, regardless of the amount.

The new ambulance is expected to arrive here and be in operation around the middle of September. In approximately two weeks a soliciting crew will be employed to contact those individuals who at that time have not contributed to the cause. The committee hopes to wind up the current drive in time for a final report to the VFW at its regular meeting on September 1. An analysis of the drive to date shows that the bulk of the sum will come from the general public, the small donors, but business establishments and professional individuals are expected to donate generously.

Work On School Yearbook Begun

For the third consecutive year, Emmitsburg High School is planning a yearbook to cover school activities. The '66 Liner is again being prepared by the senior class under the direction of Mrs. Rita Remavege and Mr. Marvin E. Laws, who served as advisors to the Class of 1964 during their preparing the '64 Liner.

Getting an early start this year the seniors elected the following staff to lead them: Co-editors, Larry Piper and Rudy Chatlos; business managers, Bill Wivell and Susan Crouse; and art editor, Marge Richards.

At the close of the '64-65 school year, a small four-day sales campaign was held during which over eighty copies of the forthcoming Liner were purchased by eager students and other interested persons. This year the staff has a good outlook of increasing the circulation from a little over 150 copies to nearly 200 copies.

Throughout the summer several meetings have been called to make plans for improvement of the past Liners.

At present the class is working on the advertisement section in which interested businesses show their support for such a worthwhile project. Thus far the staff has announced that pictures will be included, if desired, in any quarter, half, or full page ad and artwork will be furnished in any size ad at no extra cost. Also pictures of student activities will be placed in this section to spur further interest.

For the past three weeks a campaign for town support in the form of advertisements has been under way. Thus far local merchants have been very willing to show support and the staff wishes to thank them sincerely for such action.

In the coming weeks, the class hopes to round up the advertisement campaign and prepare this section for the publishers so they can move to another part of the picture record.

Future changes and improvements, will be posted in this paper. Continued progress will be announced and "thank-you" again to local merchants for your appreciated support.

Local Scout Troop Plans Camp-Out

The Boy Scouts are planning a camp-out from the 15th to the 21st of August at Kump's Dam. Activities planned are the construction of a signal tower and monkey bridge, advancement and work on merit badges. A board of review will be held on Friday night, and a court of honor with parents and friends attending, will be held on Saturday night, with ceremonies beginning at eight o'clock.

Tasty, balanced meals, will be prepared by the boys themselves under adult supervision.

The new tents, bought with funds donated by some benevolent local organizations, will be used for the first time.

Larry Cunningham, a member of the troop, has gone before a board of review for his Eagle Scout rank. This board consists of scouters who have earned the coveted silver beaver award.

Prof. Gerald C. Orosz, Mt. St. Mary's College, was called to South Bend, Ind., where his mother suffered a heart attack on Thursday. He was accompanied by his sister, Miss Mary Orosz, who has been spending the summer here.

Young Men Pay Fines For Obtaining Alcoholic Beverages

Four young men were arrested by Cumberland, Pa. Twp. Police-man Bernard V. Miller early Saturday morning on charges of consuming alcohol while under age 21.

One of the group, Thomas B. Lawver, 20, McKnightstown, paid a fine of $25 and costs on the charge after pleading guilty before Justice of the Peace John Whitman and was released.

The others, Stephen L. Rebert, 19, Fairfield R1, and Dennis Hess, Emmitsburg, and Bernard Anthony Kelly, Emmitsburg, 18, were unable to pay their fines of $25 each on the charge and were placed in the county jail.

Rebert was also charged with throwing empty beer bottles from the car onto private property and was assessed a fine of $100 and costs on that charge.

Delegate Houck To Answer Critics

Through the efforts of the local chapter of the Izaak Walton, Delegate William Houck has agreed to appear at a public meeting to answer the many questions that have arisen concerning the proposed impoundment on Big Hunting Creek.

The meeting will be held Aug. 11 beginning at 8 p.m. at the East End Elementary School in Frederick. This is located on the south side of East Patrick Street about two blocks east of the Frederick Fair Grounds.

The public is urged to attend this meeting and decide for themselves the answers to many questions.

The main issue which it is hoped can be answered by Mr. Houck is this: Can the dam be built without destroying the present condition of the trout stream, thereby ruining the finest trout fishery in the state?

Specifically, can Mr. Houck explain how they will build a dam of earth from the immediate area, plus relocating a road, and not silt the stream. And can he explain to the public how a proposed $160,000 sewer plant built on the stream can be operated without destroying the present ecology of the stream.

The Department of Forest and Parks in several public announcements have said they cannot afford to destroy an existing recreation facility (the trout stream) to construct a new one. The public deserves the answer to how they propose to do this.

It should be clearly emphasized that neither this writer nor anyone else is opposed to Thurmont getting water from somewhere. But, when a possible water supply is to be created at the expense of a trout stream, then conservationists deem that it is advisable to get the true answers to a situation.

Outdoor writers for all major newspapers in the state, as well as most of the leading conservation and sportsmen's groups will be on hand on the 11th to hear Mr. Houck's answer to the above and several other questions. As an outdoorsman, you have a responsibility to attend.

Remember, to vote wisely for those men who look out for the public's interest is an obligation we all assume as citizens of this state. Mr. Houck is one of our representatives, and his answers at this meeting should in some measure decide whether he will get our vote at the next election.

School Board Advised To Obtain Neutral Appraisals

The State Board of Education has instructed the Frederick County School Board to obtain independent appraisals of property sought for school sites.

They have also recommended that the local school board include funds for anticipated school sites in their annual school budgets instead of asking the county commissioners for these funds separately for each school site.

These suggestions were included in the supporting document giving the reasons of the State Board of Education decision to uphold the local school board in its decision to locate a consolidated high school for Thurmont and Emmitsburg at the northern border of Thurmont.

The decision of the state board came last month after a group of prominent citizens of Emmitsburg petitioned the state board and filed a suit in the Frederick County Circuit Court.

They claimed that a previous site selected by the school board which was located half way between the two towns should have been used.

The State School Board contended that the local School Board "could have insulated itself against the action taken by the Frederick County Commissioners" in rejecting the original Jamison-Wivell property selected.

This could have been done in this and all other school site selections. "Had the county board fortified its request (to the commissioners for funds) with sound, independent appraisals of the property involved," the State School Board says.

"This is a matter of great concern to us," the state officials said.

Mount Athlete Trains For Olympics

Frank Zarnowski, one of Coach Jim Deegan's track enthusiasts from Mt. St. Mary's, is currently on a rigid schedule in preparation for the 1968 Olympics pentathlon.

The former York Catholic High School athlete took an interest in the pentathlon when he read an article in the New York Times inviting interested athletes to take part in a military training camp in Houston, Tex. Upon the recommendation by Deegan, Zarnowski sent in his application and was accepted. The main qualifications were that he be a trackman and swimmer; the school would train him from that point in fencing, pistol shooting competition and horsemanship.

Zarnowski, a York native, graduated from Mt. St. Mary's this past June. He will enter Lehigh University this fall on a research assistantship. There he will continue his training for competition in several national meets in the spring. This training will sharpen what he learned during the five-week school in Texas.

Town Imposes Water Ban

A moderated water ban has been placed on this community, effective immediately. This decision was reached at the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council held Monday evening in the Town Office. Chairman of the Board J. W. Houser presided over the meeting with a full Board in attendance.

Effective immediately there will be no sprinkling of lawns, shrubbery, gardens, etc. and the use of water for swimming pools is taboo. The decision to enforce the ban came after inspection of Rainbow Lake this week by the Board. The lake has dropped about 30 inches and reserves are dwindling fast. Should the drought continue naturally there will be other restrictions imposed.

Discussed at the meeting was the safety of the children who attend the new Mother Seton School this fall. Many of them will travel South Alley and it is felt that due to the narrowness of that street it would be dangerous with cars traveling two ways. Closing the alley during the opening and closing of the school was discussed but no decision was reached. The children will be asked to travel Federal Street to the school, as much as possible. A donation was authorized for the Emmitsburg Youth Center, a project which the Board considers as important to community welfare. The Town officials discussed a right-of-way through the property of the late Carson Frailey for the erection of a water pressure valve vault. Attorney Edward Combs, representing the Frailey estate, is expected to inform the Council of a decision within the near future.

Progress was reported in the effort of the Town to take over the garbage collection service which is currently operated by Charles R. Wetzel. Prices are being fixed for business places and residences and the Council will meet with Wetzel to discuss the change-over, at a special meeting later this week. A letter of inquiry was ordered written to Mr. Chesser, the successful bidder for the new Postoffice to determine the delay in picking up the option on the Town's lot which has been chosen as the site of the new office. The purchase of a tractor-mower was discussed but no action taken. Council is expected to ask Emmitt Gardens Corp. for permission to install an overflow valve on its property to stop flooding in basements there during heavy rainstorms.

A pay raise for Chief W. E. Law was discussed and tabled until such time as Council holds a special meeting to discuss the matter in detail.

The Police Dept. reported for the month of July as follows: 13 vehicle arrests; 19 warnings issued; 5 criminal cases; 6 day and one night complaints answered and three accidents investigated.

Surviving are six children: Francis H. Wenschhoff and Robert E. Wenschhoff, both of Gettysburg R2; Mrs. Calvin D. Injunction Stops School Building

The award of a contract for the construction of the proposed Winfield Senior High School was temporarily halted Tuesday when Circuit Court Judge Edward O. Weant issued a temporary injunction.

The action of the Carroll County judge came after two citizens filed an appeal from his previous decision refusing to halt the construction of the school.

The issue now goes to the Maryland Court of Appeals.

Judge Weant's injunction is for a 10-day period during which he will hear the facts of the case and render a decision on its continuance.

The appeal was signed by Robert W. Wagner of Mt. Airy and Mrs. Richard H. Schneider of Sykesville.

The two signers represent the Mt. Airy Citizens League and the South Carroll County Citizens' Group, composed of several hundred residents opposed to the consolidated senior high school at Winfield.

Wagner accused both the county and state Boards of Education of injecting personalities into the problem, and with listening to the citizens' pleas with closed minds.

Wagner said if the two Carroll County citizens' groups represented by Atty. James S. Ansell and Lewis A. Scholz keep appealing they may eventually be heard.

"Our side of the story has never really been heard," he said. "Every time we try to present our case, some legal technicality stands in the way. All we ask is to be heard—we ask no more than that."

"We're not trying to impede progress," Wagner continued. "We're working for progress. We may not be 100 per cent right, but we'd like to be shown where we're wrong."

Wagner pointed out that the citizens' real argument against the school stems from many different areas.

"For one thing, they're trying to take away schools from two organized, established, cohesive communities, and put one nine miles away from both in a remote area."

Wagner said that even if the Mount Airy school is vacated by senior high students, they will return in three or four years. "The proposed Winfield school as planned is already too small even before it is built," he said.

SURPRISE PARTY

A surprise party was given for Johnny Matthews on Saturday evening by Misses Diane Miller and Nancy Porter. Those attending were Miss Frances Wivell, Dave Messner, Clarence Ohler, George Sanders, Buzz Wagaman, Jimmy Wastler and many other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elder and family are vacationing at Ocean City, Md.

Facts About Social Security And Medicare

Now that the President has signed the 1965 Social Security Amendments, some people will want to take action right away in order to protect their new benefit rights. Most others will need to take no action at all. As legislation providing health insurance for the aged and making other far-reaching changes in the social security program became effective with the ceremony in Independence, Missouri last Friday, Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, proposed some "Do's" and "Don'ts" for the many millions of persons who will be affected.

"First of all, let me say to the 20 million people now receiving social security benefits: you don't need to take any action at all in order to get the increased cash benefit payments the law provides. The amount of the increase for the months of January thru August 1965 will be paid to you in a separate check that will reach you in the latter part of September. The first regular checks reflecting the 7 per cent increase will be mailed early in October, covering the month of September."

Second: social security and railroad retirement beneficiaries now 65 or over will not need to take any action to secure their basic hospital protection under the new Health Insurance Program. All aged persons now on the rolls will receive in September or October a full information kit directly by mail describing this protection, which becomes effective July 1, 1966. Before this effective date a Health Insurance Card certifying to their eligibility for the services will automatically be sent to beneficiaries 65 or over.

Third: Social security beneficiaries will not need to go to the social security office about the voluntary supplementary plan covering physicians fees and other benefits. At the time they get the basic information kit, they will receive an enrollment postcard giving them an opportunity to sign up for the added medical insurance program, which also becomes effective July 1, 1966.

Fourth: A special message to people 65 or over who have never worked under social security: although not qualified for cash social security benefits, these people may qualify for the basic hospital insurance protection under the new "medicare" program. Those receiving public assistance from the States may be signed up for the basic hospital insurance by their welfare agencies. Enrollments in the voluntary medical insurance plan can be accepted beginning September 1, 1965. Therefore, persons over 65 who have not worked under social security should wait at least until September 1 before visiting their social security office. Then they can sign up for the basic hospital insurance and, also, enroll in the medical insurance program if they wish that additional important protection.

Certain other groups affected by the law do need to take action. They need only inquire at their social security office, the Commissioner said. The major groups are:

Persons now 65 or over who are insured under social security but have never applied for benefits. Even though they may still be working full time, it would be desirable for these people to apply now to establish their benefit rights. This will qualify them for hospital insurance protection and will also make sure they get any cash benefits to which they may be entitled commencing in 1966 because of more liberal retirement test provisions. Under the amendments, any earnings that a person has after applying for social security will automatically be included at a later date in a computation of benefits if it is advantageous to the individual; therefore no one can lose by filing for benefits as soon as possible.

Persons 72 or older not now getting benefits because they (or their husbands) had not worked enough under social security to qualify under the previous provisions of the law. These persons, if they have any social security credits at all, should get in touch with the nearest social security office right away, because the amount of time they needed to have worked under social security has now been reduced. Some persons 72 or over will now qualify for benefits of $35 a month with as little as three quarters of coverage under social security. Benefits may also be payable to the wife or widow of such persons.

Widows, aged 60 or 61, at the time the law becomes effective. Beginning September, widows can choose to have their cash benefits start at age 60, instead of age 62, but at a reduced amount. Application for this purpose may be filed immediately.

Students 18 to 22 years of age whose social security benefits have been stopped, as well as other, nearing age 18 who plan to continue in school. Benefits can be paid back to January 1965 to those who already have been dropped from the rolls, but only upon application at a social security district office. Those turning age 18 and planning to stay in school or return to school should also visit a social security district office, in order to supply the information about their schooling which is necessary if benefits are to be paid after age 18.

A severely disabled worker may now collect disability insurance benefits if his condition has lasted or is expected to last for 12 full months—even though he may recover. Until now, he could not collect disability insurance benefits unless his disability was expected to continue for a long and indefinite period of time, or else cause his death. The Social Security Administration plans to search its records and get in touch with those who applied for but were denied disability insurance benefits during the past year because they were expected to recover. Others who think they may qualify under this change in the law should ask about getting benefits at the nearest social security office. There is no change in amount of work required under social security for eligibility for disability insurance benefits.

"Other persons who will want to inquire about possible new social security benefits," the Commissioner said, "include widows past 60 who have remarried, and women 62 or over who were divorced after at least 20 years of marriage."

"One other important 'Don't' for persons over 65," Commissioner Ball emphasized: "Don't, because of this new law, cancel any hospital or medical insurance you may now have. None of the health insurance provisions of the new law give any protection whatsoever until July 1, 1966."

Mrs. B. P. Ogle has returned home after a visit with relatives in Virginia.

Let's Go Fishin'
BY BOB BREWSTER
Outdoor Editor,
Mercury Outboards

FROGS ARE FIT FOR FISHIN'

Who ever heard of fishin' for frogs? A lot of folks, that's who. In fact, in many areas across the nation where golden brown frog legs are prime table fare, the fishing approach is more popular than giffin' or grabbin'.

This unusual brand of fishing, note the authorities at Mercury outboards, offers both sport and vittles. The knowing angler who's concerned about catching his supper, is apt to forego his favorite fish for the tastier frogs.

Contrasted with conventional means of taking bullfrogs at night with a flashlight, the fishing method occurs during daylight hours.

Armed with a flyrod or long cane pole, to which is rigged a hook baited with a piece of bright red cloth, the frogger cruises into a quiet cove containing an abundance of floating vegetation.

If not disturbed, frogs can occasionally be seen sitting motionless atop a floating lily pad, just waiting for a flying meal to come within range. Usually, however, an intruder will cause the quarry to slip silently under the surface until just his eyes protrude. With practice, anyone can detect this unnatural hump on the water.

The trick is to flip the red lure within inches of the frog's mouth. With lightning speed his long tongue flicks out and he's part of the evening's main course.

Preparing frogs for the platter is a relatively simple chore, advise the Mercury lads. Merely disjoint and skin the hind legs, cutting off the feet and pulling out the large white cord. Roll them in batter and fry like chicken.

Yummmmm, That's a real delicacy.

RELAX... SOAP NEVER HURT ANYBODY

Sooner or later even the most dedicated Little Leaguer faces the fact that good grooming really is important. Suddenly Mom doesn't need to nag and big sister no longer seems such an utter dope.

He splurges his whole allowance on a bottle of pungent after-shave lotion or an awesome tie, and hair cutting day is no longer a chore.

It may happen when he first notices that girls are kind of nice after all and he would sure like to take Sue to the school dance; or perhaps on that awful day when he looks in the mirror and first notices those adolescent "spots".

The first thing big sister teaches him is that the secret of being attractive and well groomed starts with cleanliness. The brightest tie can't cheer up a dingy looking complexion and the after-shave lotion is no substitute for a bath and a good deodorant.

But what to do about those embarrassing blemishes and the blackheads accumulated from many sand lot games and an avoidance of a good face scrubbing? She'll start by introducing him to soap. No more of that splash and dash routine. She'll show him how to scrub his face good and clean and tell him to do it often. She'll also introduce him to new Ice-O-Derm Medicated Cleansing Bar of Colfax Laboratories, a division of Shulton. Gently antiseptic, it resists bacteria growth that may induce blemishes... and effectively cleans away the dirt and grime in clogged up pores. It feels so good and works so well that his new acquaintance with soap and water is a little less painful.

He'll still need convincing to brush his teeth carefully, and it may be several years before he believes that trips to the dentist are really essential to looking well. It'll be a while before he starts being concerned with the press in his pants and starts to hang his clothes up neatly at night and possibly a bit longer before he understands that chocolate bars and slices of pizza at too-frequent intervals help contribute to the spots he hates.

But relax Mom, a man wasn't built in a day.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

The Emmitsburg Chronicle, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. Clip and save for future reference.

Questions And Answers

Q. My son opened a bank account with the money he makes from his summer job. The bank wants his tax account number. What is that?

A. For your son it is his Social Security number. The bank is required by law to have the tax account number and to report interest payments on all accounts earning $10 or more to the Revenue Service.

Q. I bought an air conditioner recently. How do I go about getting a refund on the excise tax

I paid on it?

A. To find out whether you will receive a refund, check with the dealer from whom you bought the air conditioner.

Q. I filed an amended return after I found I forgot to include some interest and dividend payments my wife received. I just got a bill for interest on the additional amount of tax I paid. On what basis am I liable for this interest?

A. The federal tax laws require that interest at the rate of 1/2 per cent a month be charged on taxes not paid when they are due, regardless of the reason for late payment.

Q. My return is being audited and I'm supposed to bring in my records on the business entertaining and travel I did. What do I need to substantiate these items?

A. Generally speaking, you must be able to produce records to establish each of the following: 1) the amount of the expense; 2) the time and place; 3) the business purpose, and 4) the business relationship of those entertained.

A receipt or other documentary evidence is required for each travel or entertainment expenditure of $25 or more, with certain exceptions. The publication, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expense," IRS Document No. 463, outlines the rules for deducting these expenses. This publication is available at Internal Revenue Service offices at no charge. It may be helpful to look over this publication before you have your audit interview. It will also be helpful in maintaining your expense account records currently.

Q. I have just turned 65. How does this change my tax status?

A. For one thing, you are entitled to an additional $600 exemption because of age. It will also mean that, if you itemize your deductions, your medical and drug expenses will be fully deductible and not subject to the 3 per cent and 1 per cent floors.

These and other provisions will apply to your whole tax year. A complete description of these and other provisions will apply to your whole tax year. A complete description of these and other tax benefits for those 65 and over is given in the publication, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans," IRS Document No. 5569. This booklet may be obtained without charge at any Internal Revenue Service office.

For further information contact your local Internal Revenue Service office.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Nylon Button Thread

On heavy-duty clothes where buttons work hard because you do, stop button loss by replacing flimsy thread with nylon monofilament. Buttons will never come off again.

Murky Trout

Now in mid-summer when trout streams are low and clear try this tip to raise some action: In the evening, kick over rocks and bank sod 100 feet above your favorite pool. Wait until murky water passes, then fish a streamer slow and deep. CAUTION: Watch out for BIG brown trout.

Best Tip Ever

Rub soap on the bottom of camp pails to make cleaning carbon off bottom easy. Detergent "painted" on and allowed to dry will work as well.

No Bite

You'll save your teeth, have neater fingernails and, more important, clip hooks and lures off leaders easily if you always take fingernail clippers along.

Camouflage

Know how to make a camouflage coat easily? Get new bottles of shoe dye-polish. They paint on through wick top, are waterproof and with women's colors offer a variety of reds, greens, browns and blacks.

Sand Bagged

Surf fishermen on the west coast use Bull Durham tobacco bags filled with sand as sinkers. They don't catch in rocks.

Catfish

Ivory soap is a catfisherman's standby.

ROBERT M. MOORE
502 Hudson Street
Leland, Mississippi
NO. 21,027 EQUITY

In The Circuit Court For Frederick County, Maryland
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this Bill of Complaint is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Bertha Lee Moore, from the Defendant, Robert M. Moore.

The Bill states in substance that the Complainant, Bertha Lee Moore, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, Robert M. Moore, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and when last heard from was residing at 502 Hudson Street, Leland, Mississippi.

The Bill further states that the Complainant and the Defendant were married on August 26, 1956, at Washington County, State of Mississippi, by Rev. P. R. Johnson, a duly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage, two children were born, namely, Tony B. Moore, aged 9 years, and Marsline D. Moore, aged 7 years, both of whom are in the care and custody of the Complainant, and whose care and custody the Complainant now seeks; that the Complainant and the Defendant have voluntarily lived separate and apart, without cohabitation for more than 18 consecutive months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint; and that the said separation is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation. The Bill prays that the Complainant, Bertha Lee Moore, may be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Robert M. Moore, and that the Complainant may be granted the care and custody of the said two infant children, and that the Complainant may be granted such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF THE COURT
It is thereupon ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, on this 9th day of July, 1965, that the Complainant, Bertha Lee Moore, by Order of Publication of this Court to be inserted in some newspaper published in Frederick County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks on or before the 14th day of August, 1965, give notice to the said Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 14th day of September, 1965, and show cause, if any he has, why the Decree should not be granted as prayed therein.

YOU'LL NEVER BELIEVE YOUR EYES! Here's a spot — curious Magnetic Hill — near Moncton, New Brunswick, where motor cars in defiance of all the laws of gravitation seem to travel uphill without benefit of gasoline. You prove it by motoring to the "bottom", shut off the motor, release the brakes and throw the gears in neutral. In two minutes you are back where you started, at the "top." An optical illusion, some say. The conformation of the surrounding countryside makes the slope appear to run in the opposite direction from what it actually does.

ON TARGET—A Golden Knight parachutist floats down to his target, a 6-inch disc, after a freefall from an altitude of 13,500 feet at Lincoln, California.

The Golden Knights, the U. S. Army's parachute team, participated in competitions at Lincoln where they made a series of day and night jumps.

During the meet, the team set 60 new world records which, when certified, will give the United States a total of 93 marks, 73% of the total possible. 90 of these were set by the Golden Knights.

In addition to providing a nucleus of highly skilled freefall parachutists for participation in demonstrations and international competitions, the team conducts research and development on military aspects of freefall parachuting.

Parents May Claim Student Workers

Parents of students who have jobs during the summer vacation are reminded by Irving Machiz, Director of the Baltimore District of the Internal Revenue Service, of the special provision in the tax law which allows parents, under certain circumstances, to claim a child as a dependent even though the child has an income of more than $600 and files his own individual income tax return. This special provision applies to all children who will be under 19 years of age at the end of the tax year and to children who are full-time students, regardless of their age. Exemptions in these cases may be claimed by the parents if they contribute more than half the child's support regardless of the amount earned by the child.

Children 19 and over must be engaged in full-time study at a recognized educational institution for at least 5 months of the taxable years. Attendance at night school while holding a day time job does not qualify; this is considered a part-time attendance.

Even if a student is listed as a dependent on his parents' return, he may claim his own exemption on his return. He must file a return if he has income of $600 or more. If he earns less than $600 and has income taxes deducted from his wages, he must file a return to secure a refund of the amount withheld.

The Attack On U. S. Foreign Policy
Many negative noises from the groves of academe have been raised, seconded and echoed by various political beatniks and apologists for Communism, against the emerging U. S. foreign policy. These are minority views, more raucous than persuasive, simply because for the most part they are neither historically sound nor ideologically consonant with American interests. The arguments, besides lacking the stamp of scholarship that adheres to fact, mostly emotionalize irrelevancies. They frequently have descended to personalities, as with one critic who called White House advisers "vile, stupid, and reactionary."

Yankee, Go Home
One of the bad arguments floating around the liberal circuit is that U. S. intervention in the Dominican Republic is as bad as Soviet intervention in Hungary. In fact, Norman Thomas has emphasized this point of view right along with Communist spokesmen, challenging "Yankee imperialism." But the Hungarian revolt was an expression of enslaved and unarmed people against Soviet tyranny, while outside infiltrators entered Santo Domingo to perform a Castro-type takeover. Moreover, the U. S. has welcomed and encouraged other OAS countries to help keep the peace in the Dominican Republic.

No one denies the U. S. has little intent of staying permanently in the Dominican Republic or South Vietnam. What the emerging Johnson Foreign Policy does intend to do, although it has been slow in saying so and clumsy in following through, is to defend the U. S. national purpose to stop Red aggression. The Red plan for "wars of liberation" must not succeed. This amounts to a stand against Communism, and that is the nub of the argument. Some of our fine objectors, apparently, wish to consider any sort of anti-Communism objectionable.

Restraint And Tolerance
It is wishful thinking to argue that Communism is no threat to U. S. interests in Southeast Asia and other places in the world. It is immoral to accuse the Johnson administration of deceit about this. It is intellectually shallow to insist any longer that the Viet Cong represents only a civil rebellion of internal politics, as some insist. It is beside the point to plead that our presence in South Vietnam provokes

Red China and risks nuclear war. Any nation of the free world that says no to a Communist power must assume risks. Although the President has shown restraint in this, his critics find no praise for him.
Leading U. S. intellectuals, according to Archibald MacLeish, are concerned lest the nation becomes a "bully" in its relations with other countries. He has referred to a "tolerance for others' opinions" that usually characterizes the intellectual's approach to international relations. But not letting one's neighbor alone, as Secretary Rusk so simply states it, is the most rampant intolerance for the ideas of freedom. That is what the struggles of this century are all about. These same critics would not have applied their "hand-off" advice to us with respect to Hitler, Mussolini, or Tojo. Their tolerance is only for Communism, which actually is the most intolerant "ism" the modern world faces.
Our Aims Not Selfish
It is little wonder that such confusion at home is multiplied abroad, where many people seem to want to forget past U. S. involvements in behalf of freedom and liberty. But both we and they have paid some heavy costs in Europe and Asia for delay in acting for freedom. If anyone now expects the U. S. not to accept responsibility in its position of power and leadership, not to use its resources for peace, not to practice moral uses of power in concert with other free peoples—then indeed something would be wrong with us and the world would see it.

In the thought capitals of the free world, men must more and more reach a proper and moral rationale that embraces freedom's philosophies and requirements. It must not be expected that we should fail to use every resource to preserve our interests' to save lives, and to encourage free nations faced with Red engulfment. These are national aims but they are not entirely selfish. If there must be debate, let it attend to the issues. We must not skirt the problem by conducting various political operations or attempts to save face for 1968. Our leadership must move to protect the nation's interests, which includes stopping Communism.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH
Hypnosis
Hypnosis is not a toy and unwise use may seriously affect an individual's physical and emotional health, says a pamphlet of the American Medical Association. About one person in four can be deeply hypnotized in a relatively short period of time and most people can be hypnotized to some degree. No one is sure why some people can be hypnotized and others not.
Hypnosis can be easily taught in half an hour and can be self-taught from a book. No equipment is needed other than the voice of the hypnotist.
But hypnosis is dangerous in the hands of an amateur and should be used only by qualified professionals.
The Most common medical use of hypnosis is as an anesthetic. Patients have been hypnotized for childbirth, for dental surgery, during the setting of a fracture and for other forms of surgery. It has also been used to ease anxiety and in the management of painful symptoms such as headache. Obese patients have lost weight as a result of hypnotic suggestion and smokers have been able to cut down or quit entirely.
The American Medical Association has been on record for years as being unequivocally opposed to the use of hypnosis for entertainment purposes. Reports have been received of individuals suffering severe emotional disturbances as the aftermath of being hypnotized by stage performers.
The trained professional, usually a physician or dentist, is well aware that hypnosis can sometimes mask the symptoms of a serious illness that should have been treated. One woman went to a hypnotist because she was a chain smoker. She stopped smoking but became a compulsive eater and gained 40 pounds. Another hypnotist cured the over-eating problem but the woman then became an alcoholic. Finally, she was treated psychiatrically. If she had taken another hypnotic "cure" for her alcoholism she may well have become a drug addict or committed suicide.

Hypnotism does have certain medical uses, but it is not a toy and should never be used by amateurs.

Billy Haughton, one of harness racing's dominant figure for more than a decade, will be back in the sulky at Brandywine Raceway this summer with some classy trotters and pacers in his public stable. Currently leading the nation's driver ranks in money-winnings with more than $441,000, and ranging in second place on the national dash-winning chart with more than 125 victories, Haughton is shooting for his tenth money-winning crown and, if he can overtake Bob Farrington, his seventh dash-winning title. He holds ten world's records, has captured more than 50 major stakes at least once, and was the first man to win 2,000 races, a feat he achieved in 1963 at Brandywine Raceway.

Quint Family All For Cheese
American cheese slices are standard—and favorite—fare for the Andrew J. Fischers of Aberdeen, S.D., family of the famous quintuplets, who are now almost two years old. Here Mrs. Fischer reads more cheese sandwiches for (l. to r.) Mr. Fischer, holding the baby, Cynthia, and Julie, Danny and Charlotte.

Cheese is very conspicuous by its presence at many meals and in between in the Andrew J. Fischer home in South Dakota. And understandably so in a large family which includes, besides the famous quintuplets, now almost two years old, the baby, Cynthia, five other children and two adults.
Mrs. Fischer finds cheese in all forms makes short work of cooking. She's humorously dubbed it "queen of the quick foods."
"I choose cheese often for sandwiches," the quint's mother explains. "With generous slices of Borden's American Cheese, already cut and tailored to the bread I can feed my family in minutes."
For the older children who tote sandwiches to school in town (the family lives on a farm just outside Aberdeen), Mrs. Fischer packs lunches of American cheese sandwiches, fruit, milk and jumbo mince meat cookies. Usually she makes enough for the younger stay-at-home children, then refrigerates the wrapped sandwiches until noon.
The Fischers snack on cheese, too. "Someone's always hungry, so I stock slices, chunks and individually foil-wrapped pieces of cheese for those 'I-want-something-to-eat' moments," Mrs. Fischer says.

A Letter To Our NON-CATHOLIC Neighbors

Catholics and non-Catholics, as a rule, get along right well together.
Our families live amicably next door to each other and often become lifetime friends. Our sons fight side by side on every battlefield. We work together in the same shops and factories...root for the same baseball teams...do business with one another in a spirit of mutual trust every day.
In these and other phases of everyday life, there is a close association which promotes understanding and respect. But in religion...where this close association does not exist...there is often a regrettable lack of understanding and a corresponding absence of good-will.
Many people, for instance, have all sorts of false ideas about Catholics and the Catholic Church. They actually believe that Catholics worship statues...that many sordid things happen behind convent walls...that Catholics do not believe in the Bible...that Catholic teaching is pure superstition and the Mass nothing but mumbo-jumbo.
All non-Catholics, of course, do not believe such things. But enough of these false rumors are in circulation to cause some sincere and intelligent non-Catholics to look upon the Catholic Church with suspicion, and to reject Catholic truth without even troubling to investigate it.
It is for this reason that the Knights of Columbus, a society of Catholic laymen, publishes advertisements like this explaining what Catholics really believe. We want our non-Catholic friends and neighbors to understand us and our Faith, even if they do not wish to join us.
If you do not inquire into the teaching of the Catholic Church, you cannot know whether it is or is not the Church established by Jesus Christ for your salvation. You cannot intelligently accept or reject Catholic teaching until you investigate it and know what it really is.
A distinguished Catholic author has written "A Letter To a Friend Not of My Faith," which has been published in the form of a pamphlet. It gives a beautiful explanation of Catholic beliefs, worship and history, and a blueprint of Christian living which will deeply move you whether you accept or reject the Catholic viewpoint.
We will send you a copy free on request, and nobody will call on you. Write for Pamphlet No. KC-23.

Remember The "Blues" For Jams

Remember how good blueberry jam tasted on hot biscuits last year and how, around January, you wished you had more of this fresh fruit spread on your jam and jelly shelf?

This summer take advantage of this plump and colorful berry when it's in season and make a good supply of Blueberry and Currant Jam. Consider making extra glasses to use as hostess gifts.

Blueberry and Currant Jam
Yield: about 10 medium glasses

4-1/2 cups prepared fruit (about 1 qt. fully ripe blueberries and 1 pt. fully ripe red currants) 6 cups (2 lb. 10 oz.) sugar 1 box (1-3/4 oz.) Sure-Jell Fruit Pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Crush thoroughly about 1 quart blueberries. Stem about 1 pint red currants and crush thoroughly. Combine fruits and measure 4-1/2 cups into a very large saucepan. Then make the jam. Measure sugar and set aside. Mix fruit pectin into fruit in saucepan. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. Immediately stir in all sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim for 5 minutes to cool slightly and to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with 1/8 inch hot paraffin.

Goodwill Plans Children's Night

The Annual Goodwill Industries Children's Night Ball Game will be held on Thursday, August 19, at 8 p.m. when the Baltimore Orioles meet the Boston Red Sox.

The Baltimore Baseball Club, according to Mr. William Van Arnam, Frederick manager for Goodwill, has set aside this date for the annual affair. Five thousand tickets have been allocated for distribution to youngsters, sixteen and under, who provide Goodwill Industries with a bag of useable clothing, a wheel toy or a repairable electrical appliance.

Contributions that can be repaired and renovated by Goodwill employees can be taken to the Monocacy Valley Goodwill Industries, 10 S. Bentz Street in Frederick, where they will be exchanged for a free game ticket.

Mr. Van Arnam said that the Goodwill Industries is very grateful to the Baltimore Baseball Club for giving the Industries the opportunity to obtain the materials which give employment and independence to Maryland's handicapped citizens.

Mr. Edward J. Vinnicombe, Jr. is president for the local Industries.

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On:
Personal Income —
Will It Keep Climbing?

BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug. 5—The personal income of the people of this country has been sky rocketing over the past few years. Records have been shattered time after time, and there are no signs as yet of a reversal in direction. Recent figures reveal how spectacular the increase has been over just the past twelve months.

Income Gains
Broadening Steadily

As of June of this year, personal income from all sources advanced to a total of $524 billion, according to estimates prepared by the U. S. Department of Commerce. This represents a climb of about $35 billion in the past year alone, or a hefty rise of 7%. Of special significance is the scope of the advances in the leading basic sources: Wages, salaries, corporate dividend payments, and the farm "take." Prices received by farmers for meat animals, in fact, climbed more than 30% in this past year.

It should be noted that all of the major industrial segments of the economy shared in the marked upswing in wages and salaries. Part of this rise was due to the growing numbers of people employed. With a combination of this employment growth and gradually climbing hourly earnings, factory payrolls in June hit a total of $110.8 billion, compared with only $102.7 billion twelve months before.

Corporate Dividends
Broadening Steadily
Corporate dividend payments have, of course, been on the increase for a number of years. But there is an interesting angle here that is not commonly emphasized. This is the tremendous broadening of individual stock ownership. A 1965 stockholder census taken by the New York Stock Exchange shows an 18% increase from 1962, the date of the last previous census. This carries the number of individual shareholders to the all-time record high of 20,120,000.

Broadening the base of ownership to such a degree means that the American people have undoubtedly a greater interest than ever before in the management and operation of our businesses. This added income from dividend payments also becomes a greater support for consumer optimism along a wide front. This is a contributive reason for what may well be the lowest ebb in buyer resistance ever recorded in this nation. The quick turnover of expensive merchandise and services, purely luxury and "status" items, gives proof of an unprecedentedly bright consumer psychology.

Uncertainties No Dampener
As yet neither the stock market downside which began last May nor the ominous clouds over Vietnam have disheartened the general buying public. A recent survey for testing consumer attitudes, conducted by the University of Michigan, reveals that buyer sentiment is generally more enthusiastic about business prospects for the next five years than it was in 1964. Neither the stock losses nor growing international tension offset the sense of security brought about by pay hikes and better job opportunities.

Naturally, the big question is whether the upward pressures will persist in personal income. Even with the population rising rapidly, employment could continue as it is. At least for the next few years there will be, if anything, too few skilled workers available rather than too many. Built-in wage and fringe concessions might hoist pay rates still higher. Even if war escalation should now bring controls, it is unlikely that personal income would stop edging upward. A solid backlog is assured from interest, dividend payments, various government benefits, and well-sustained salary rates.

The President's speech of last week should be a help rather than a hindrance to business. He showed the strain of his enormous burden, but he should certainly not feel discouraged; he is doing an excellent job at the helm. We must remember, however, that an unexpected event could always happen and change things—either for the better or the worse—at any time.

In addition, parents were supplied with copies of pamphlets containing helpful suggestions and pertinent information concerning the treatment and care of rheumatic fever patients.

During the last two school months, Mrs. Douglas reported that educational material had been requested for eight hundred and twenty-three students. Twenty educational films were supplied to West Frederick Jr. High School, Brunswick, Frederick, St. John's and Walkersville High Schools, St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Frederick Memorial Hospital Nursing School and Fort Detrick.

The Board approved a scholarship for a Public Health Nurse to attend a three-weeks' course on rehabilitation of stroke patients at

Colt Nite Set For Saturday

Colt Nite—the Baltimore Colts intra-squad game which is played each year as a benefit for the Baltimore Police Boys' Clubs—will feature a half-time show produced by President Johnson's Council on Physical Fitness . . . Stan Musial (former St. Louis Cardinals great) and Consultant to the President on Physical Fitness—is one of the celebrities scheduled to participate during the Colt-Nite half-time. The council is also in contact with Olympic great Bob Mathias with hopes that he might attend too. In addition, many Baltimore and Maryland area gymnast organizations have been invited to participate and are training for the Colt Nite show on Saturday, August 7th in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium. It should be one of the finest half-time shows ever presented in the long history of Colt Nite.

The Colts Associates originated Colt Nite and each year are responsible for the over-all promotion. It is also a project of the Sports Reporter's Association.

Buddies Inc., is the administrative arm and controls the funds raised for Baltimore Police Boys' Clubs work. It is a non-profit, non-salaried organization headed by Walter F. Perkins. The Colt Nite football game is the source from which the greatest amount of funds is raised for the Police Boys' Clubs work.

Tickets are now on sale, and may be purchased at all Baltimore and Baltimore County Police stations; the Colt tickets office; all Baltimore area commercial or mutual savings banks and other outlets. All seats only $1.00—non reserved.

for anyone, everywhere, in fresh-water tackle of any type. But there are definite considerations to bear in mind if you're after trout.

First of all, most trout caught today are quite small, so it takes very small, therefore light, lures to do well with them. And the open, under-rod spinning reel is best with very light lures. All spinning reels cast equally well, since they're all manufactured on the same principle, no part doing any work on the cast. However, some are better than others in retrieving, or playing a fish, or not giving trouble by parts' wearing out rapidly.

A good general rule is that a very cheap reel won't give anybody satisfaction or pleasure; one of moderate cost will serve for somebody who fishes only occasionally, but the person who fishes fairly often, takes his fishing pretty seriously, will do well to get up into the better-grade reels. "The lighter the lure, the lighter the line should be," writes Jason Lucas in Sports Afield's 1965 Fishing Annual. Four-pound-test is the heaviest that will work at all well with those light lures, and two-pound is preferable in most places; it casts better and, being thinner, is less visible to trout, so it should catch more of them for you. It's hardly necessary, nowadays, to add that monofilament is best on spinning reels.

The most productive lures for trout of the size most often found now (as well as for crappies, big bluegills and other small species) are often listed not as spinning lures but as fly-rod lures. However, they cast so wretchedly with a fly rod that you can rarely use them except with spinning tackle. For this, you'll need a little extra weight—a single big split buckshot pinched onto the line, a little way ahead of the lure, will often serve if you don't have to make long casts. And for best results with trout, the less weight you can get by with, the better.

Every male Marine under age of 36 is required to requalify annually with the service rifle.

County Judge Attends College

Judge Robert E. Clapp, Jr., of the Circuit Court for Frederick County, has returned home after attending the second annual session of the National College of State Trial Judges in Boulder, Colorado.

The four-week course of instruction was attended by 106 judges representing 46 states. It was held at the University of Colorado Law School in Boulder.

This new and unique college is being financed by the W. E. Kellogg Foundation for a period of three years. Most of those in attendance were awarded fellowship grants.

The college is designed to acquaint relatively new trial judges with methods of judicial administration being used in other parts of the nation by experienced jurists. The faculty is composed of outstanding judges and law professors.

The national college is part of the continuing legal education program of the American Bar Association. Its purpose is to bring about an exchange of ideas among the trial judges of the United States.

Judge Clapp was honored by being selected to attend the college. Approximately one-third of some 300 applicants were selected.

Safety In The Yard

What can be more enjoyable than sunning in the back yard, with its flowers and greenery? And for children, the joy of running through the back yard sprinkler on a hot summer day is one that may be remembered through adulthood.

But the same back yard, innocent as it may look, presents possible dangers, particularly to children. Sentry Insurance recommends that we safeguard our children—and ourselves—against these threats:

- Lawn tools should always be stored when not in use. A power mower is especially inviting for children to play with, and it's also especially dangerous. Rakes, hoes, spades and other similar tools can also be harmful when left lying outside.

- Garden plants, bulbs and seeds should be strictly "forbidden fruit" to children. While most children know that they can get sick from eating toadstools, and can develop a rash from poison ivy, few are aware of the lethal poison in the tulip bulb, foxglove leaf, potato sprout and the rhododendron. Even the lovely lily-of-the-valley, when eaten, is poisonous.

- Stings from bees, wasps, hornets and even the mosquito can produce violent reactions in highly allergic people. Last year more people died from insect stings than from snake bites. If a member of your family is bitten by an insect, and the bitten area swells rapidly, call your doctor immediately. Fortunately, many people allergic to these bites may be given immunization shots for precaution's sake.

in court administration, evidence, domestic relations, sentencing and probation, criminal proceedings, pre-trial procedure, jury supervision, and other currently developing fields in trial court administration.

The national college grew out of the work of the Joint Committee for the Effective Administration of Justice which is chaired by Tom C. Clark, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court. Mr. Justice Clark is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the College.

In commenting on his stay at the College, Judge Clapp said, "It was one of the most rewarding and stimulating experiences that I have ever had. There were 106 judges all interested in the search for truth through the courts and each gave fully of his time. I hope that what I have learned in the past thirty days will be of material benefit to the people of Frederick County and of this Circuit."

St. Anthony's Youth Center Now Open

St. Anthony's Youth Club began its activities with a dance last Saturday night. Forty boys and girls attended the affair which lasted from eight until eleven p.m. Music was provided by Wally Wilhide from his large collection of records. The biggest hit of the evening was a "combination dance" involving everyone present.

Full scale operation of the club began on Wednesday evening with a new eight-foot pool table and ping-pong table as the main attractions. Shuffleboard and television helped to fill in the time for those awaiting their turns at the tables.

YOUTH CENTER ACTIVITIES

The Blue Jays of Gene Eyler continued on their winning ways to retain undisputed hold on first place in the Emmitsburg Youth Center summer basketball league. They outlasted the Panthers, 53-37, to post a 7-0 record. Dennis Stahley's Hustlers and Jack Topper's Green Indians, are deadlocked in second place with identical

5-2 records, while Jack Dillon's Meadowlarks trail with a 3-3 record.

In the blistering individual scoring race, Gene Eyler passed Jerry Orosz for the lead with John Little and Dennis Stahley pressing the leaders.

Blue Jays 53; Panthers 37

The first half was closely contested with the Blue Jays holding a slim 23-18 lead at halftime. John Little played brilliant for his team, finishing the game with 21 points. In the second half, Harry Hahn, who had been held in the first half, broke loose with 14 points to put the game out of reach for the Blue Jays. Hahn led the winners with 18 points while Eyler, the league's leading scorer, had 16 markers. Marty Williams contributed 14 points to the Panthers' scoring.

Green Indians 35; Night Owls 27

Jack Topper's early shooting plus a balanced offensive attack, gave the Green Indians this hard-played game, 35-27, against the winless Night Owls. Topper scored the first 6 points of the game to give his team a lead it never relinquished. Topper was high scorer for the game with 12 points while George Knox continuing his great play on 10 markers. For the losers, Gene Lingg had 10, while Kenny Slick and Jim May added 7 points each.

Hustlers 63; Meadowlarks 57

The great one-two punch of the Hustlers—Denny Stahley and Ray Baker—did it again. They combined for 48 points to outscore Jack Dillon's Meadowlarks, 63-57 in a shooting contest. The Hustlers led 34-29 at halftime. John Sherwin's long one-handers provided thrills for the crowd and led the losers with 17 points. Jack Dillon had 16 and Jerry Orosz contributed 11 to the cause.

How Do You Find Emmitsburg?

Just how tough is it to locate Emmitsburg? Well with very few identification markers about these parts, a California resident experienced considerable difficulty locating our town recently and wrote an article for a "Coast" paper to prove her point. The writer is a niece of a local lady and sent the clipping in to this paper.

Barbara Dewald says:

I've lost all faith in New York. All those blood-curdling, moral questioning stories that got to the West Coast shouldn't have been a waste. But they were. I came with my zip-gun poised, but in three days not only has no one tried to attack me, there have been no little old ladies mugged. It's been truly disillusioning.

We came to New York from Gettysburg, Pa., by way of Washington, D. C., which even for us is a pretty round-about route. In between Gettysburg and Washington there is a little town called Emmitsburg, which boasts absolutely nothing. Except that, as we were driving towards the town, every mileage chart I saw read EMMITSBURG 7 MILES. Then there was a junction in the road with two mileage signs, One read EMMITSBURG 7 MILES, and the other one, pointing a different direction read EMMITSBURG 7 MILES. Which leads me to conclude that: (1) Emmitsburg is a long, very thin town which runs seven miles farther than the nearest road sign; or (2) someone is pushing Emmitsburg for the 1968 Republican Convention; or (3) Emmitsburg is the center of the universe, and therefore all roads lead there.

In Gettysburg we went to our second national cemetery, and within the next two days had seen a third and a fourth. It's not that we are naturally ghoulish, but small towns, with few tourist attractions, route all traffic thru the things. In Gettysburg, the national cemetery is the least of the attractions, because here is the home of that fine upstanding American soldier, ex-President, and mentor, Dwight D. Eisenhower. All the tourist shops, along with fake Civil War bullets and Confederate belt buckles, sell postcards and plates with Mamie and Ike on them. It touched by Democratic heart.

We bounced into New York by way of sieve-like 34th Street and eventually landed at Kennedy Airport, near the World's Fair.

The city itself would be a nice place if it wasn't for the water shortage, which hasn't really affected me, but makes me feel guilty when I take a shower or an extra glass of water. Living here without an air conditioner would be unbearable. People who don't have them want to take cool showers, but can't. Mayor Wagner may have to institute an elaborate spying system. Water is to New Yorkers what Radio Free Europe is to the Hungarians. If they get caught using too much... it's the secret police for them.

Alcohol Figures In Death Toll

During the past two weeks the State Police summaries of highway fatalities show that alcohol has been a contributing factor in over half the deaths on Maryland highways.

"For the past several weeks we have attempted to focus attention on seat belts and the tremendous role they play in preventing death and reducing serious injury as the result of automobile collisions," commented Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police.

"However, seat belts generally do their life saving work during or after the impact of a collision. They are not designed to relieve the driver of his responsibility to operate his vehicle in a safe and reasonable manner."

Colonel Jarman concluded: "Driving while under the influence of alcohol still remains one of the major driver errors which contribute to the high death rate on the roads of our State. We must not relax our efforts to go all-out in eliminating the influence of alcohol from the highway safety picture."

A total of twenty-one persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the State Police's weekly review. Seven of those killed were drivers; eleven were passengers; and three were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in ten of the deaths; speed in nine; and "driver error" was present in sixteen of the fatalities.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

102 Years New

Saratoga, now in its second century as the capital of Thoroughbred racing in August, is brand new this year. In addition to offering some of the best racing of the season, Saratoga, in the past, offered an obstacle course for the racing fan. That is all changed now. It is no longer necessary to bring your own lawn chair or sit in the aisles blocking traffic. A brand new grandstand stretches for a quarter of a mile from the head of the stretch to past the finish line, offering 4,500 additional seats. The only thing that hasn't changed is the rich tradition of the track which opened as hostilities between the States closed in 1864. It was here, in the Sanford Stakes of 1919, that the aptly named Upset became the only horse ever to finish in front of Man of War. It is here, at the admission-free National Museum of Racing across Union Avenue from the track, that visitors can view perhaps the largest collection of racing art and memorabilia, and see films of past great races. One thing is missing from the museum — a picture of Acrobat, an unsung winner of the Travers Stakes. In 1874 Acrobat and Attila finished in a dead heat in the Travers, or Mid-Summer Derby. After a rest they ran the race again and Attila went into the record book as the winner. Under today's rules they would have shared the victory, and both names would be inscribed on the Travers trophy now in the Museum.
