Mother Nature seems bent on making it as tough a summer as possible for all of us. Not content to dry us out by a prolonged drought, she decided to turn on the heat this week and fry us a bit. All week long temperatures remained in the high 90's and several weather records were shattered and some established. Many nearby areas reported heavy rain at times but nary a drop fell in this community. Crops which were thought to be safely across the "hump" are now showing distinct signs of the effect of the drought and unless relief is soon forthcoming farmers will be hard hit for the fourth straight year.

While on the subject of the drought we are reminded that the Town's water reserves are reaching a dangerously low state and utmost cooperation and conservation is asked. At the present rate of consumption it is estimated that perhaps within a month our reservoirs very easily could be dried up. Droughts of the past four years have run as late as November, so if no appreciable amount of rain falls within the next few weeks a real emergency will have transpired. Better cooperative folks... it really is getting serious.

Quite a number of inquiries concerning the new Postoffice have been received and I decided to check into the matter. I am sorry to report I have learned little or nothing. It is understood that a Senator has been contacted as to the delay of the construction but as yet no reply from him has been received. Town officials report that an option on the ground has been granted several months ago but that option has not been exercised and the lot not paid for. A legal and proper deed has been drawn up for the sale of the ground and all is in readiness. No one seems certain just how many days the contractor has, after being awarded the contract, to commence construction. So there, my friends, you know as much now as you did before. Sorry.

How do you get to Route 806 is a question asked on many occasions here recently. It's a good question and one that'll drive you batty trying to answer it. Route 806 starts North of here around the Curt Topper property and continues clear to the southern end of Frederick County. Some say it is intersected 15 or 20 times. Every little segment of road cut off from the main Route 15 appears to be tagged Rt. 806. State Police even have trouble pinpointing accidents on the road. As the call comes through: Accident on Route 806 and Route 15 intersection. Police have difficulty locating it as it could be one of 20 different intersections as it threads its way through our county. It seems to me that it would be better to give these left-over stretches of road a proper name such as Skunk Hollow, Possum Pike or some other name for easier identification.

Benefit Game For Youth Center

An Evening of Games will be sponsored by the Emmitsburg Youth Center in St. Euphemia's Hall on Monday evening, August 23 starting at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be on sale and the general public is cordially invited. An award of half the profits will be made during the evening.

Want Articles For Goodwill

The Goodwill Industries of Frederick County sends a truck to Emmitsburg the third Monday of the month. Mrs. Paul Beale is the local representative of Goodwill and anyone wishing to donate items of clothing, furniture, toys, etc., to this worthy cause is asked to call Mrs. Beale, 447-5493, early in the week to arrange for pickup.

The SS Queen Mary and SS Queen Elizabeth could easily rest side by side on the flight deck of the USS Enterprise.

Local Ambulance Drive Totals Over $3,000

Just about the third of the cost of a new ambulance for this community has been raised, Guy A. Baker, Jr., chairman of the drive announced this week.

The ambulance service has been maintained here for the past 16 years by the Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, who will pick up the tab on the balance owed once the drive is completed. It is understood that the new vehicle, which is on order, will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 and to date Chairman Baker reports $3,262.00 collected. The chairman stated that the results were encouraging and that mop-up solicitation would continue until the first of next month. He urges all those who haven't as yet contributed, please do so immediately as a final report must be made the first week of September.

Form letters were mailed about a month ago asking for contributions and this week soliciting crews took to the roads and streets and brought the drive to its present standing of over $3,000. Following is a list of donors since last week:

Buchanan Valley Picnic Scheduled For August 28

The annual picnic of the Old Jesuit Mission at Buchanan Valley will be held in Adams County, midway between Gettysburg and Chambersburg, this year on Saturday, August 28, Msgr. Louis Yeager, pastor announces.

Perhaps the most well-known affair of its type, the picnic and supper draws thousands from the surrounding area and seems to become more popular yearly. The affair begins at noon and continues until midnight. There's entertainment for both young and old and good old mountain music for dancing. In recent years a spacious diningroom has been erected and comfortably seats several hundred at a time.

A special feature of this annual event is the delicious ham and chicken dinner that is served family style.

On hand to provide entertainment and dance music will be Merle Everts and his Hilltop Harmonizers featuring Juanita Kaye. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Local Young Men Take Physicals

Twenty-two Frederick County young men took Selective Service examinations this week as County Draft Board 45 began the task of stepping up action to fill its increasing quota due to the Vietnam crisis.

Those from Emmitsburg taking their physical were: Ray G. Brown, Victor A. Weishaar, Edward E. Lingg and James E. Sands.

Youth Drowns In Pond

A 19-year-old Mont Alto youth drowned about midnight Sunday in a lake of the Blue Ridge Sportsmen's Club at Fountaineau.

The young man, James C. Baker, had gone with two other young men to the pond about 11:30 Sunday night, the Adams County coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist, said.

Baker disappeared and at 12:12 Monday morning Fountaineau firemen were summoned to search the large pond for the youth.

Gettysburg firemen's rescue squad, which has grappling hooks, was summoned at 12:28 a.m. The Gettysburg firemen responded with two trucks and assisted in dragging the lake until 6:24 Monday morning but the grappling hooks failed to locate the body. Fairfield firemen were summoned to assist in the search at 1:37 a.m.

The body was finally recovered at 7 o'clock Monday morning by Irvin W. Weigandt, Clarence and Craig Swimm, Gettysburg.

Dr. Crist said the Salvation Army kitchen from Waynesboro sent a mobile kitchen to the scene to provide coffee and doughnuts to the large number of firemen and others assisting in the search for the body. Skin divers joined in the search.

Westminster Maintains Tax Rate

A municipal budget of $529,213 and a tax rate of $.54 have been approved by the Westminster mayor and council.

The tax rate is the same as fiscal 1965. Bills are being prepared and will be mailed to property owners soon.

"It has been a real challenge to plan a productive and progressive program for this year without an increase in the tax rate," said Mayor Joseph H. Hahn, Jr. "With the additional services being provided, the improvement projects contemplated, and the constantly increasing cost of personnel, materials and equipment, we were fortunate to be able to maintain the present tax rate," Hahn said.

Miller Services Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary S. Miller, 72, wife of Irvin Miller, R2, Thurmont, who died in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, last Tuesday, were held Friday morning from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with a Requiem Mass in St. Joseph's Catholic Church with the Rev. Fr. Vincent Tomalski officiating. Interment was made in the new St. Joseph's Catholic Cemetery, Emmitsburg. Pallbearers were Austin Eyer, Lloyd Eyer, Roderick Shoemaker, David Herring, Wilbur Umble and Clyde Eyer.

ATTENTION YOUNG MEN!

Where are Emmitsburg Young Men in Action? There is a need in the area for a Jaycee Chapter. What are Jaycees? They are young men, ages 21 to 35, developing Leadership Training through Community Service.

For the past five years the Jaycees of Emmitsburg have been an up and down organization. An attempt to reorganize is going to be attempted again. The first meeting will be held at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, August 25, at the VFW in Emmitsburg.

If you are a young man between the ages of 21 and 35, ask yourself what you have done for your community recently. Then take a long hard look at your community. Isn't there something you can do in assisting your community to grow? If you can answer yes to this question, YOU BELONG IN THE JAYCEES.

There are many areas where the Jaycees can benefit the community. Among these are Youth Activities, Mental Health, Community Development, and Clean Water. Wednesday, August 25, is your chance to learn more of this organization and how it teaches young men to build communities. REMEMBER! The only restriction is that you be between 21 and 35 years of age.

Young men of Emmitsburg start helping your community. August 25, 8 p.m. at the VFW in Emmitsburg

Youth Tossed 70 Feet In Wreck

An Emmitsburg motorist is in satisfactory condition at the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, after he was thrown 69 feet from his car Monday night near Thurmont.

Suffering from numerous abrasions, lacerations and other possible injuries is Donald Eugene Wantz, 21. Wantz was injured about 8:45 p.m. Monday night along the Kelbaugh Road, three miles north of Thurmont.

Tfc. Earl F. Tracey said the accident occurred as Wantz was driving east along the Kelbaugh Road at an apparent high rate of speed.

Rounding a slight curve in the roadway, the trooper said Wantz crossed the center of the road, lost control of his car, and left the opposite side of the road.

The car continued several hundred feet before skidding broadside through a wooden fence and throwing Wantz from the vehicle.

Wantz was found lying about 69 feet from where the car came to rest. His 1956 sedan was demolished in the accident. The Thurmont American Legion ambulance transported Wantz to the hospital. No charges have been filed.

Enroute to Maryland he spent two weeks with his brother, James Kreitz, and family, in Seneca, S. C. After completing his leave he will return to Texas. His address will be 3646 Pilot Training Wg (ATC), Laughlin AFB, Texas 77840.

The international boundary line between the United States and Canada is crossed more often than any other in the world.

Horse Riders, Car Collide

An Emmitsburg motorist probably thought he was back in the days of the "Old West" Sunday night when he rounded a curve in the road and came on face-to-face with 16 horses and their riders.

Not only did Robert D. Houck, 18, R3, Emmitsburg, see the horses and their riders, he struck one of the animals and knocked its rider to the roadway.

The 16 riders were not part of a posse, but a Sunday School class out for a Sunday ride.

Trooper Paul C. Crutchley said the encounter with the horses occurred about 8:15 p.m. Sunday along Md. 76 south of Motter's Station.

Houck was driving his car south on Md. 76 when he rounded a curve and saw the horses, and a car stopped in the roadway in front of him.

In order to avoid ramming the vehicle, Houck swerved his car to the left, striking one of the horses, and throwing its rider, Albert Radisch of R2, Keymar, to the ground.

Radisch complained of slight pain. His horse suffered injuries to one of its rear legs. Damage to Houck's 1954 sedan was $125. No charges were preferred.

Library Receives New Books

New books are constantly being shelved in the Emmitsburg Public Library. Our library can be thankful for county services. Our book selection has been marvelous in the past and should continue to build our basic collection while furnishing best sellers for our readers of the latest fiction.

New books from County Services include: "Things as They Are," by Paul Horgan. Using the devices of autobiography in order to invite the reader's belief, this book, though not a conventional novel, is a work of fiction. Of its ten chapters only one reflects in its central event a direct experience of my own life. The other nine are fabricated after observation, surmise and memory of other lives, young and old. This means that—even if backgrounds and places suggest the real—more of this book belongs to the imagined life than to the strictly factual.

"The Ziegfeld's Girl," by Patricia Ziegfeld. Confessions of An Abnormally Happy Childhood. The daughter of Florenz Ziegfeld, America's most flamboyant producer, and the feathery Billie Burke, one of its most beloved actresses, shows what love and laughter can do to keep an American princess from growing up into useless royalty.

"Up the Down Stare Case," by Bel Kaufman. This book describes from the inside what goes on in a large metropolitan high school. With genuine warmth and shrewd comic touches, it shows what happens when a teacher's ideals run smack against the inadequate facilities, the lack of communication, the gobbledygook and pedagogy, the trivia in triplicate—all that stands in the way of good teaching.

Seven Plays by Bernard Shaw. This new omnibus has been prepared for those who wish a representative selection of Shaw's plays, with their prefaces, in a single compact volume. It includes Caesar and Cleopatra, Mrs. Warren's Profession, Arms and the Man, Candida, Saint Joan, Man and Superman, and the Devil's Disciple.

The hummingbird, despite its minute size, has been known to make the flight over the Gulf of Mexico, a distance of 500 miles, in a single night.

Military Money To Be Spent In Maryland

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

On the 21st of June the Senate Armed Services Committee, of which I am a member, approved a total of $35,470,000 worth of military construction at various installations throughout Maryland.

Among the largest projects authorized was the construction of a Medical Biological Research Laboratory and additional operational facilities at Fort Detrick. The total cost of this individual project amounted to $11,717,000.

This action by the Senate Armed Services Committee and its reporting in the press led to a number of inquiries from citizens of Frederick County concerning any possible health hazard associated with the activities of the Biological Laboratory and the Walter Reed Medical Unit at Fort Detrick.

These inquiries prompted me to arrange a meeting with Mr. Harold Brown, then Director of Defense Research and Engineering, and now the new Secretary of the Air Force, to discuss these specific programs being conducted at Fort Detrick.

The reply which I received from Secretary Brown is reassuring. He states that "both expert opinion and the record of 22 years of safe operation leads to the conclusion that such hazard is virtually nonexistent."

I felt that it would be helpful to reassure the citizens of Frederick County and the residents in the Fort Detrick area through the medium of your newspaper.

With kindest regards, I am
Sincerely yours,
Daniel B. Brewster
United States Senator

More Water Restrictions Are Imposed

More stringent restrictions were placed on the use of water by Town Officials this week as present reserves were dwindling fast.

Commissioner Norman Flax reported reserves on hand had been cut in half as the drought continues. Rainbow Lake, the major source of supply, was reported down as much as 48 inches with no sight of rain to break the drought. This lake holds approximately 30 million gallons and at the present rate of usage Town Officials estimate that within a month the reserves will be depleted.

It is hoped to have a new well in operation this week to augment the present supply of water. A large well drilled last year, has been put into operation. In an effort to conserve water Saint Joseph College re-activated a well on its property and will use the water for use in concrete work and other construction purposes until such a time as the local supplies are adequate.

Effective immediately Town Officials warn there will be no car washing, window washing, porch scrubbing, no sprinkling and no swimming pools. In fact the use of a hose is not permitted at all.

The Town Office, which has been closed due to employees' vacations, for the past week, will open on regular schedule August 23. A deed for the lot the Town sold to the builder of the new Post-office has been prepared and ready for delivery just as soon as the party exercises his option.

Mother Seton School Principal Attends Boston Workshop

Sister Agatha, principal of the Mother Seton School, is among 200 school administrators participating in a two-week institute for elementary school principals at Boston College.

Under major consideration is the evaluation of the Catholic elementary school. The institute is one of nine regional workshops organized and staffed by the Steering and Criteria Committees of the Elementary School Dept. of the National Catholic Educational Assn. Sister Mary Nora, S.S.N.D., associate secretary of the elementary department of the association and Sister Josephina, C.S.J., of the education department at Boston College, are co-ordinators of the institute.

Over 1200 Catholic elementary school administrators (superintendents, supervisors, principals) and teachers have participated in the nine regional workshops being held throughout the country during the summer.

Gus Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rice, is presently in training at Ashboro, N. C. Gus, regarded as a promising baseball player, is trying out with the Piedmont League, with the hope that if successful, it could lead to a major league career.

Thurmont Editor Retires After 25 Years

Miss Blanche Eyer, editor and office manager of Thurmont's weekly newspaper the "Catoctin Enterprise" for the past 25 years, has retired. Succeeding her is Mrs. William H. Benjamin of Thurmont.

Miss Eyer began her newspaper career on the now defunct "Catoctin Clarion." Following her graduate from Thurmont High School in 1932, she joined the "Clarion" staff and served as bookkeeper for eight years. When the present newspaper was founded in 1940, Miss Eyer was hired as the editor. She is a member of St. John's Lutheran Church and is in the choir.

Mrs. Benjamin attended Washington College, Chestertown, and the Strayer Business School, Baltimore. During college, she majored in English. Active in community life, she is also a member of the Thurmont Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Benjamin and her husband have five children.

Mrs. Julia Siggins has returned to her home in Pittsburgh, Pa., after visiting here for the past month with her sister, Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder.

YOUTH CENTER ACTIVITIES

Coach Jack Topper's Green Indians stayed a game and a half off the pace of the Blue Jays by picking up three wins in Youth Center play.
Down 19-16 to Coach Jack Dillon's Meadowlarks, the Indians rallied for a 44-39 win behind the fine shooting of Topper, 17, and Harry Harner, 15. Topper hit for six baskets in the second half. Dillon led the losers with 14 points. Jerry Orosz had 11.

For a half it looked as though Gene Lingg's Night Owls might break their long losing streak as they jumped in front of the Panthers, 21-17 at half, as A. Stoner had a hot hand firing in four baskets. But the Panthers uncorked a tremendous shooting outburst in the second half as Little picked up 16, Wierman, 11, and Martin Williams six. Little's 26 points led all scorers and insured the 54-42 win. Stoner with 13 and May with 10, were high for the losers.

In their other two victories, the Green Indians beat the Hustlers, 47-35, and the Panthers, 52-42. D. Sweeney and Denny Stahley kept the Hustlers close as both hit in double figures, but Harry Harner pumped in 11 field goals for the winners. D. Wivell had 10 points.

Harner equaled his 22-point outburst against the Panthers as the Indians jumped off to an early lead and then had to hang on as the Panthers tried to close the gap. Jack Topper had 13 points for the winners. Jack Little with 18 and R. Wierman with 11, led the losers.

St. Anthony's Youth Center

The regular Saturday night dance held at St. Anthony's Youth Center had a special feature. The music was provided by the Slim Jones Trio, to the delight and enjoyment of all present.

Many of the young men and women present learned an old favorite dance called the Paul Jones. Slim and his group donated their services and have volunteered to return for tomorrow night.

A dance was held last Friday night for the boys and girls from the Lebanon Catholic High School Band which was staying at Mt. St. Mary's and St. Joseph Colleges. Wally Wilhide provided the music from his own record collection.

Another pool table and ping-pong table have been installed in the clubhouse thus allowing more activity. The first softball game was slated for last Wednesday with a contest between A and B teams. Any boy from the St. Anthony area interested in playing softball, may join a team by signing up at the club.

Father Kelly has asked for more adults to assist with the supervision of the club.

Dear Friends:

We, at Charnita, wish to take this opportunity to express our utmost thanks and appreciation to all of you who have responded so tremendously in the creation and the success of Charnita. Your overwhelming acceptance has far exceeded our fondest expectations. Because of this response we have been able to accelerate the development plan at Charnita by three years.

Our eighteen hole championship golf course with its watered fairways is in its final stage of completion. The skiing facilities will be available this winter. Several cottages are built and many lot owners are planning to build immediately. There are play grounds for children and acres of picnic groves along streams and lakes.

Charnita is rapidly becoming the most beautiful private recreational and residential development in the East.

For you who are not property owners at Charnita, investigate Charnita. Invest in your future — in a Country Club atmosphere on a budget income — that's right — on a budget income. Although over one third of the cottage sites to be offered have been sold to date, new sections are now open with many choice lots available at a low pre-development sale price. Charnita is located at Fairfield, Pa. on Rt. 116, 10 miles southwest of Gettysburg, Pa.

Sincerely yours,
Charles G. Rist

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

The Emmitsburg Chronicle, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. Clip and save for future reference.

Questions And Answers

Q. My home was broken into recently and some jewelry stolen. What records do I need to establish a theft loss deduction on my 1965 return?

A. To claim a theft loss deduction you must be able to establish the following: (1) when the theft was discovered; (2) that the property was actually stolen and not lost or mislaid; (3) that you were the owner of the property; (4) the cost or other basis of the property; (5) the depreciation allowed or allowable if any; (6) the amount of insurance or other compensation received as a result of the theft.

Only the unreimbursed amount of each theft in excess of $100 is deductible. If both you and your wife suffered losses from the same theft and are filing a joint return, then just one $100 floor is applied to your combined losses.

Q. When my return was audited, the agent disallowed some expenses I'm sure I can deduct. What should I do?

A. When you receive the notice of the proposed adjustment to your tax liability, request a district conference. This will enable you to present your side of the story to a conferee. Procedures for requesting this conference are described on the adjustment notice you will receive.

Q. I'm thinking about putting a punch board in my bar. However, someone told me that if I did I would be liable for a 10 per cent wagering tax. Is that right?

A. When punch boards or similar devices are used to stimulate trade, the business men operating them will generally be liable for the 10 per cent tax on the gross amount of wagers. In addition, the $50 Federal occupational (stamp) tax on wagering must also be paid.

Q. How much can I put aside a year for retirement as a self-employed individual? I own a pastry shop.

A. You may contribute up to $2,500 a year or 10 per cent of your earned income from the pastry shop, whichever is lower, to a retirement plan. You may deduct up to $1,250 for any taxable year. If you set up a plan, you must include each of your employees who has completed three or more years of consecutive service.

In addition, there are other rules which must be observed. Form 2950SE, "Self-Employed Retirement Deduction," should be completed and filed with your tax return.

The Internal Revenue Service recently issued a publication on retirement plans which explains these rules. It is available at no charge from your local Internal Revenue office. Ask for Document No. 5592, "Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals."

Q. I sold some of our household furniture before we moved and took a loss on some of it. Can we deduct this when we file next year?

A. No. Losses on the sale of personal property are not deductible. Before you file next year's return be sure to look into the deductions and exclusions you might be entitled to as a result of your change of residence, however.

Q. I was fined $25 for a traffic violation in a speed trap while driving home from our vacation. Will the fine be deductible?

A. No.

Q. My company wants me to take a course this summer. My boss says they will pay half the tuition cost if I pass it. Will the half I pay be deductible as an educational expense?

A. If your employer requires you to take the course or if it is necessary to maintain or improve the skills needed for your present job, then generally the expenses you pay will be deductible.

You will be able to deduct amounts spent for tuition, books, supplies, laboratory fees and similar items. If there are travel expenses including meals and lodging, these may be deductible too.

Q. Is a monthly statement from a druggist sufficient to substantiate claims for medicine and drug expenses?

A. Yes, it is if the statement identifies what the items are. Some items purchased in a drug store such as cosmetics or shaving supplies could be included in the statement but are not deductible.

Q. I got behind in my tax payments on my 1963 income tax return when I went on vacation. After I went in to talk about settling this debt the revenue officer attached by salary. Do you have the right to do that?

A. Yes, the law permits such actions as levies and liens when it is necessary to protect the revenue. However, these actions are taken only when the taxpayer refuses to cooperate with the Internal Revenue Service to satisfy the tax liability.

Seymour B. Stern, Sederick attorney, has been named general chairman of the 1966 Heart Fund drive in Frederick County.

Stern's acceptance was announced recently by B. O. Thomas, Jr., M.D., president of the Frederick County Heart Association.

In assuming general chairmanship of the Heart Fund Drive, Mr. Stern stated, "What is called the 'heart disease problem' is really a vast complex of heart and blood vessel diseases which claims nearly a million American lives each year. These diseases and disorders include heart attack, stroke and other complications of hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure, inborn heart defects, rheumatic fever, varicose veins and many others. The Heart Association fights them all."

Most Frederick County residents will be affected in some way by one or more changes made in the social security law by Congress this year. W. S. King, Social Security District Manager in Hagerstown, announced this week.

The one change that will affect all Frederick County residents who now get monthly retirement, survivor, or disability payments is the 7 per cent increase in the benefit rate. 6600 people will get a total of about $29,000 more each month because of this increase.

Monthly payments which previously ranged from $40 to $127 a month, will now be $44 to $135.90 each month. The increase will be effective with January 1965. In the latter part of September beneficiaries will get an extra check for the difference between the old and new rates for January thru August, King added.

Another important change will affect nearly everybody 65 or over. A new program of health insurance for the aged was established. There are two parts to this program—one a basic plan of hospital insurance and the second a voluntary medical plan covering physicians' and surgeons' fees as well as other costs.

In addition, there were many other changes which affect other groups including widows, divorced wives, children over 18 who are in school, etc.

King urged anyone having a question about the changes in the Social Security Act to write, phone, or visit the Hagerstown Social Security Office, located at 59 North Cannon Avenue. The phone number is 731-1000, Extension 1264.

The "masters," or captains, of the first Coast Guard cutters received a pay of $30.00 per month. The "boys," or seamen, received $4.00 per month.

Your Health

It's funny how people who wouldn't dream of acting as their own lawyers or plumbers often try to "doctor" themselves. By so doing, they're cheating themselves of a vast range of expert services a real physician can provide.

For example, your family doctor can give you an electrocardiogram to check the health of your heart... draw up a safe, sane diet that will keep the pounds off... prescribe drugs you can't get over the counter. Tinactin, for example, is a new fungicide that has produced excellent results against athlete's foot and other common ringworm infections—but it's available on prescription only.

The doctor's most important contribution may be peace of mind—the peace that comes with knowing that his services, backed by those of the local pharmacist, are based on expert, up-to-date knowledge, not amateur guesswork.

LOOKING AHEAD
by GEORGE S. BENSON
President - Housing Authority
George S. Benson

Let Sam Pay The Rent!

One of the major directions our welfare state has taken in the past 30 years has been toward the provision of housing for its citizens. It is as if this particular necessity of shelter were entirely beyond reach of both the poor and the not-so-poor. One of the depression antidotes was government insured private mortgages and, later, direct loans to some citizens at favorable interest rates supposedly unavailable from private lenders. All these government plans were meant to encourage construction activity, along with the low cost housing in urban centers and lush apartments in redevelopment projects. Apparently, some planners thought of government housing efforts as supplying living quarters for people. But it is perhaps this factor, wherever there is a subsidy effect in the federal involvement, that has come to be least valuable to the national well-being. Such efforts closely resembling as they do the socialist pattern, apparently do lead us to the view that the state should eventually accept responsibility for all housing.

The Next Step

Having succeeded in putting a roof over the heads of a good many voters, the federal government now wants to do something for the renter who earns too much to live in public housing and not enough to afford "decent" private housing. It is supposed that there may be 4 million families in this category, for whom the Great Society wants to assume responsibility. Rent supplements (subsidy is a word they avoid) are expected to require $50 million for payments to landlords for the first four years in a 40-year program that some say could cost $13 billions.

If it were not such a sad commentary on the extent of socialism's penetration into the American pattern, and so expensive it would read like a joke on human nature. The bill squeaked by the House after minor modifications, and passed the Senate. It has yet to become apparent to the American people just what it is all about. Families with incomes well past the national median can have you pay their rent for them. This is clearly another way to redistribute the wealth of the nation, by having taxpayers assume this kind of obligation.

Unequal Opportunity

The idea of the rent subsidy is that the Housing Administrator should pay an amount equal to the difference between the free-market value of the house or apartment and one-fourth of the renter's income. As introduced in the House, it might have made possible a family earning $250 a month (poverty level) renting a $100 apartment for only $62.50. But the family might also have moved into a $200 apartment, still paying only $62.50. In its present state, the subsidy portion of the measure is supposed to be pegged to public housing. But this housing varies around the country, and is still likely to offer some hair-raising examples of welfare-statism.

The minority report of the House Committee pointed out that the whole idea would mean billions for "creating a national system of unequal opportunity in housing." Representative Talcott, of Calif., a member of the Committee, believes the program could lead to subsidies for the rents of more than half the families in the U. S. Few families would wish to buy homes and assume home ownership responsibilities when high class, subsidized apartments or houses are available to them for less than the very lowest mortgage payments. Also, the boondoggling possibilities for builders and operators have not remained unnoticed.

Demoralizing Effect

This is the way subsidies go. And it is in the nature of a politically inspired Great Society to endeavor to find something to offer everybody.

The sad fact that the subsidy people overlook is that this kind of thing is making spineless jelly-fish out of erstwhile tough, independent, hardworking Americans. Such plans take away the incentives to learn, earn, and save. Why should a person strive to raise his own living standard through his own efforts (rewards for his industriousness or skills) if everything is already available on application to the government. Might as well go fishing. Surely the Congress is not going to continually welcome regressions from freedom that make us dependent, palms-up pawns of the State.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Child Development

At what age should children learn and be able to do certain things?

Any such listing must always keep in mind the fact that no two children are alike and that development periods can and do vary widely in perfectly normal children, says Today's Health Guide, the American Medical Association's manual of health information for the family.

There are certain things that most babies learn at approximately the same age in the early development period. Here are some of them:

- One month—Can raise chin off bed.
- Two months—Can raise chest off bed.
- Three months—Reaches for objects, but without success.
- Four months—Can sit with support.
- Five months—Can sit on lap and can grasp small objects.
- Six months—Can sit in high chair and grasp a dangling object.
- Seven months—Can sit alone.
- Eight months—Can stand with help.
- Nine months—Can stand by holding on to pieces of furniture.
- Ten months—Can creep.

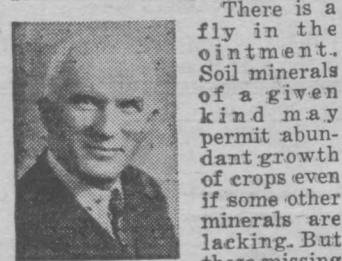

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Rich Soil May Lack Certain Minerals

Our heaviest livestock population is concentrated on the richest and most productive soil. Somehow rich soil suggests equally rich rations for farm animals. After all, feed crops to a considerable extent take after the mineral content of the soil on which they are grown.

Dr. Bohstedt

There is a fly in the ointment. Soil minerals of a given kind may permit abundant growth of crops even if some other minerals are lacking. But these missing minerals, while not necessary for crop growth, may be necessary for animal growth and health. Here we have iodine and cobalt for example.

In consequence, livestock that figuratively is living off the fat of the richest land may actually be starving or be unthrifty to varying degrees.

A few years ago six different experiment stations, cutting straight through some of the most fertile and productive states of the nation, announced that the addition of trace minerals considerably improved common swine rations.

Cornell University reported an increase in gain by one-fourth pound daily per pig in feeding experiments when trace minerals were fed. More vitamin B₁₂ was found in the droppings of pigs fed trace minerals than in the other lots, suggesting that pigs may be able to utilize cobalt to some extent in their digestive tract. Ordinarily we think only ruminants benefit from cobalt as such.

In Ohio, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota and Florida feeding tests with swine, favorable results were reported from feeding trace minerals.

Typical comments were: "The average daily gains were significantly influenced by the level of trace minerals fed," or "the results were in favor of the addition of trace minerals."

At one of the annual meetings of the American Society of Animal Science no negative or adverse results with trace mineral feeding were reported in the considerable number of tests reviewed.

So, mindful of the fact that farm animals on lush pasture or on apparently well-balanced rations may be deprived of certain minerals, it is well to assure adequate trace minerals at all times.

Free-choice feeding of trace mineralized salt is one of the best "insurance policies" against trace mineral deficiencies. Question: Does pelleting actually improve both the quality and palatability of low-grade roughage? Answer: There is evidence that it does. Pellets of a mixture of corn cobs, oat straw, starchy hay, minerals and protein have made good feed for ewes when making up 85% of the ration. They liked the pellets better than good forage. But a problem is that of the cost of pelleting.

Eleven months—Can walk if led by one hand.

Twelve months—Can pull up and stand with the help of furniture.

Thirteen months—Can climb up a few stairs.

Fourteen months—Can stand alone.

Fifteen months—Can walk alone. But, cautions Today's Health Guide, the parent has no real basis for either an unwarranted pride in the precociousness of the child or an unwarranted pessimism over his slowness if the child's development pattern should vary widely from the above table.

No two children are alike.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Your fishing needs and personal preference will dictate whether you buy chest-, waist- or thigh-height waders.

Likewise, where you're going to fish decides the choice of boot-foot-type wader or stocking-foot type with separate shoes. It's faster and easier to slip into and out of the boot-foot type—but if you have to walk far, these will no doubt feel uncomfortable and rub your heels. With the stocking-foot type, you can lace the shoes tightly enough for comfortable walking without rubbing your heels. It's necessary, however, to wear heavy woolen socks outside these, or they'll very soon have holes worn in them and leak.

If you try on chest-highs in a store and they look in the mirror as if just the right length—they're not. Squat to see if they pull at knees or crotch. If the legs are too short, you can compensate by letting out the suspenders—but then the crotch will hang too low; they'll wear out fast there because of rubbing, and they will be somewhat uncomfortable to walk in. Much better somewhat baggy than too short!

At first we had only rubber-and-fabric waders. Then came plastic ones that were quite fragile, but inexpensive and light. Now heavier, tougher ones of various plastics are available. Don't rush out and buy the first pair you see. Take plenty of time to decide which is best for you and your pocketbook.

We've almost always read that rubber waders should be stored hanging up full length, open so that air can circulate freely to all parts of them, inside and out. "This is the worst possible advice! Light and air are great enemies of rubber," asserts Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports

Veterans Must Report Address Changes

Veterans or the dependents of veterans receiving compensation or pension payments from the Afield Magazine.

If there's even a trace of oil or grease (another great enemy of rubber, wash it off well with soap, and rinse. Dry waders thoroughly, and roll them up as tightly as possible in heavy brown paper. Nowadays, with empty transparent plastic bags lying around every kitchen, it's also well to use one of these over the paper, sealing it with tape. Thus the waders are kept from light, with a minimum of air trapped in with them. And it's best to keep them in a cool place.

Veterans Administration should report immediately any change of address to avoid delay in receipt of their benefit checks.

F. E. Quinn, Manager of the Baltimore VA Regional Office, said that both the old and the new address should be given in notifying the VA of the fact that they had moved. In addition, it is always well to file a change-of-address card with the local post office.

Mr. Quinn said the Baltimore Regional Office receives hundreds of letters each month, including many which cannot be answered, because the writer failed to identify himself with address or claim number. The writer's full name, the address and the "C" number (or insurance number) should always be included, he said.

PROJECT GASBUGGY

Underground Nuclear Blasts May Increase Gas Reserves

El Paso, Tex.—(HK)—For the first time in history, an underground nuclear explosion may be used for peaceful industrial purposes.

The explosion may point the way toward a vast increase in U.S. energy resources: a predicted seven-fold rise in recoverable gas reserves from certain major fields, particularly in the Rocky Mountain area.

If the Atomic Energy Commission gives it the green light, El Paso Natural Gas Company—one of the nation's largest natural gas transmission firms—will join with the AEC to conduct the underground nuclear test in the remote San Juan Basin gas field of north-west New Mexico.

The nuclear test would stem from a recently completed feasibility study conducted by El Paso Natural Gas Company, the Atomic Energy Commission and the U.S. Bureau of Mines. The study, called "Gasbuggy," is a part of the AEC's Plowshare Program to develop industrial and scientific uses for nuclear explosives.

The Gasbuggy study covered the preliminary design of an underground nuclear explosion to fracture gas-bearing strata in fields where large quantities of gas are now unrecoverable because of low permeability of the rock formations.

The study team concluded that in such "tight" gas-bearing formations, a nuclear explosion could be expected to create extensive fracture systems that would permit gas to flow more freely into wells.

A joint announcement by El Paso Natural Gas Company and the Atomic Energy Commission said the experiment would probably utilize a 10-kiloton (10,000 tons TNT equivalent) explosive about 4,000 feet underground.

Extensive studies would be made by the AEC to assure safety of the experiment.

The test would work this way: The blast would vaporize the rock around it and create a subterranean chamber deep below the surface. Then the roof of the chamber would fall in, and a "collapse zone," or area of broken rock, would form above it to a height of about 350 feet and a width of about 130 feet. This would, in effect, create a large storage chamber into which gas would flow through innumerable fractures extending in all directions.

The study by El Paso Natural, the AEC and the Bureau of Mines said: "Estimates based on anticipated fracturing effects indicate the use of nuclear explosives would increase total energy resources of the nation by improving recovery and production rates from such formations."

The study team concluded that a nuclear experiment to test the concept can be executed safely, without inconvenience to residents of the San Juan Basin of New Mexico.

"Because of the magnitude of the benefits that might be obtained at a reasonable cost,"

the study team recommended that the experiment be carried out, and El Paso Natural Gas has submitted to the AEC a proposal for jointly conducting the test.

WONDER WORKING ELEPHANT

PEANUT-PICKING PACHYDERM IS PARTIAL. When it comes to picking up peanuts, Monica, the circus elephant, has no peer. She s-h-l-u-p-s them up like—well, like you-know-what gobles up dust and dirt. But for cleaning carpet, that's another trick entirely. For that she is partial to her Hoover vacuum cleaner and no clowning around. Even so it's quite a chore. The entrance to the center ring at the Belle Vue Circus in Manchester, England, is fully carpeted and in addition to a constant stream of circus equipment and animals, has to endure the tramp of over half a million spectators during the season. Those are long odds, but Monica and her Hoover cleaner are up to it all, particularly since the carpet leading to the ring is an Axminster in an unusual pattern—elephant hoof.

HOW TO PAY FOR COLLEGE (Without Really Trying)

Cincinnati—(HK)—If you're lucky, you won't have to "slave" all year to earn enough money to go to college. You will have an opportunity this summer to win a $10,000 scholarship fund or the cash equivalent. All you need is an entry blank that can be picked up at your local grocery store or supermarket.

Sponsored by Crest and Prell Concentrate, the "Scholarship Sweepstakes" is designed to give financial assistance to college-bound students. First prize will be the $10,000 scholarship fund at any university or college where the applicant is accepted. And if grandmother, aunt, or the girl friend wins—but doesn't want to go to college—she can transfer the award to her favorite student.

Second prizes in the "Scholarship Sweepstakes" will be 51 scholarship funds of $1,000—one for each state of the Union and the District of Columbia. Winners of second prizes also may designate another person to receive the fund. In cases where a scholarship fund might not be desired by the winner, equivalent cash prizes will be awarded.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On:
How To Make Use Of Medicare
BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug.
19—So much is being written about the medicare program

that the basic
"whens" and
"whats" are often smothered
in a welter of
too much information. Hence
it may be helpful to many senior citizens
if we highlight
some of the key points in this newly passed national law.

Coverage Is Virtually Complete

First, it should be emphasized that practically all people, aged 65 or over are eligible for the basic medicare benefits, whether they are poor or well off, are gainfully employed or retired, are under social security or not. True, a few federal employees appear to be without this coverage, but they are protected in a similar fashion by a 1959 statute. All in all, it is estimated that approximately 19 million people will be able to avail themselves of the new medical advantages.

It should be made clear, however, that the first step in the basic plan—involving hospital, home-nursing, and outpatient help—does not become operative until July 1, 1966. The second stage—establishing nursing-home provisions—does not go into effect until January 1, 1967.

So senior citizens should hold onto any hospital insurance they now have in order to take care of emergencies in the interim. Meanwhile, most insurance companies will be arranging to have existing policies revised by the time medicare becomes effective. Duplication, of course, should be avoided in any revised policy, and marginal coverage should be worked out to pay for any possible big-scale illnesses beyond the scope of medicare.

Does One Have To Sign Up?

The 17 million or so eligibles receiving social security or railroad retirement pension allotments will automatically receive the required identification cards through the mail. The other 2 million or so must get theirs by applying at any Social Security office. The system is paid for by payroll taxes levied on employees and employers with a first increase to come next January 1 and another increase a year later. Workers should realize that these two tax hikes will represent wage cuts wherever full payment is not assumed by employers.

Starting next July 1, those eligible may be placed in a hospital by the doctor of their choice for 60 days of care, with $40 deductible; an additional 30 days is granted, but the patient must pay $10 a day for this.
Basic hospital coverage is included: Room and board, regulation drugs, supplies, and ordinary services. Hospital outpatient treatment becomes obtainable at the same time, along with home visits by nurses and therapists. Not covered in basic medicare are the costs for doctors, specialists, or private nurses. Starting January 1, 1967, free nursing-home care will be available for 20 days after at least 3 days in the hospital.

Then, 80 additional days may be spent in the nursing home, with the patient paying $5 a day.
Voluntary Supplementary Program

For those over 65 who are willing to pay a $3 monthly premium beginning next July 1, a voluntary plan gives further coverage for doctors' or surgeons' bills (in or out of the hospital, ambulance, specialists'
services, X-ray, rental or medical appliances, and nurse and therapist care. This will come to only 20% of the total cost, less $50 deductible, per year.
Payments under this arrangement will not be made for dental work (unless it is due to illness or accident), drugs, regular physical exams, eye examinations or glasses, hearing aids, or immunization shots.
Enrollment for the voluntary service starts officially September 1 of this year.

The doctor will determine both in basic medicare and in the voluntary setup, how much hospitalization and nursing-home care is required. As each part of the system becomes operative, anybody needing medical care will have to apply first to his or her doctor. From there on, the situation will be in the doctor's hands, except that after a patient has been in a hospital for 20 days a review board of medical experts will make certain that no unnecessary prolongation of the patients stay is being made.

OUTDOOR
SPORTING TIPS

Suitcase Food Rack

One of the best camp "kitchen"
cabinets is made from an old metal suitcase. Line inside with shelves so you can stand on end or hang from tree in use. Vermin proof. Stowable in car or camp.

Grubby Tip

Grubs from shellbark hickory
nuts will catch bluegills, bream, crappie, white perch.

No Rust Knife

Oil a piece of felt. Then to store your knife stick it into the felt. No rust.

Barrel Protector

Hunting in heavy snow, don't take the chance of rifle or shotgun barrel becoming plugged.
Tape scotch tape over barrel. You can shoot through it if you have to.

Skunk Smell

One of the best deodorants for skunk smell is tomato juice. Another is gasoline. Soak smelly object with gas. Gas evaporates, takes smell with it. (You hope.)

Plugging For Ducks

Don't forget to take along your plug rod when duck shooting without a boat or dog. A cast over duck snags the bird and brings it home.

Fish Scaler

Used hacksaw blades, heated until they can be bent in a "U" shape, make a good fish scaler.
Tape one end for a handle.

Hook Organizer

You can keep small hooks "organized" in your pocket by threading eyes through a safety pin or by sticking them on a good bar magnet.

Ice Tips

Ice fishing for crappies, clip a piece off the tail of bait minnows.
Wobble swim pattern makes them more attractive. If that doesn't get strikes, drop pieces of egg shell down hole. If that doesn't work bait hooks with tiny marshmallows. If that doesn't work . . .
quit and go home.

Military Construction
To Increase In State

Congressman Carlton R. Sickles, (D-Md.), revealed this week that Maryland will receive approximately $46.4 million in fiscal 1966 under the Military Construction Appropriations Bill passed
last week by the House of Representatives.

Sickles praised the emphasis which this year's appropriations bill places upon improvement of living conditions on bases, stating,
"It is just as important for our military installations to provide personnel with adequate housing as it is for these bases to keep up in defense preparedness and scientific research."

Sickles noted that Maryland's share of the appropriations would provide important breakthroughs both in military housing and in scientific research and education.
He cited a $2.8 million project at Aberdeen Proving Grounds and a $4.3 million project at Andrews
Air Force Base both for family and officer's housing units as examples of attempts to make Maryland's important defense establishments as livable as possible.

Besides housing, Sickles called attention to important funds appropriated for scientific research.
He noted that the Naval Academy
at Annapolis will receive $13.6 million to construct a new science building. Edgewood Arsenal will receive approximately $2.5 million for a chemical quality assurance laboratory, and Fort Detrick will receive $9.2 million for a medical-biological laboratory.

"The money designated for Maryland in this year's appropriation bill," Sickles declared,
"will assure that the state's military personnel will be of high morale and that defense facilities will continue to be in top condition and readiness."

The first man to fly an airplane
over both the North and South Poles was Admiral Richard Byrd.

The Flip of a Lip

Nineteen years ago, on August 15, technicians of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau conducted an experimental demonstration which some skeptics thought might result in putting a man in orbit
a bit prematurely and inadvertently.

Several hundred horsemen,
racing officials, and newspapermen gathered in the Fasig-Tipton Sales paddock while a "volunteer" from the stable of Alfred G. Vanderbilt named Yankee Dollar had the figure 22933 tattooed on the inside of his upper lip.

Yankee Dollar's reaction to the procedure was to flick one ear forward in the equine equivalent of a lifted eyebrow.

and, when the process was completed, he ran an inquisitive tongue over his ink-stained lip.

Since that date more than 115,000 Thoroughbreds have been thus "branded" and there-has not been a case of a ringer,
the substitution of a fast horse
for a slow look-alike, at a TRA track. In the 15 months prior to the introduction of the liptattoo method of identification
there had been no less than 22 ringer cases uncovered. The positive identification of race
horses, once a complicated procedure, can now be accomplished by the flip of a lip.

vs.
CHARLES WOODY HARPOLD
1813 N. Cleveland St.
Arlington, Virginia
Defendant
NO. 21,063 EQUITY
In the Circuit Court For Frederick County, in Equity
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this proceeding is to procure a Divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONI from the Defendant, Charles Woody Harpold, for the care and custody of the infant child, namely, Deborah Ann Harpold, and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

The Bill states in substance, that the Plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, and has been so for more than one year last past; while the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and that the last known address of the Defendant is 1813 N. Cleveland Street, Arlington, Virginia; that your Complainant was married to the Defendant at Rockville, Maryland, on June 20, 1963, by a regularly ordained minister of the gospel; that as a result of the said marriage, one (1) child was born, namely, Deborah Ann Harpold, age 10 months, who is residing with the Complainant and whose care and custody the Complainant seeks in this proceeding; the Bill further alleges that ever since the said marriage, the Complainant has always conducted herself as a kind, chaste, dutiful and affectionate wife toward the Defendant, Charles Woody Harpold, and that the Defendant, Charles Woody Harpold, between the time of the said marriage and the filing of the Bill of Complaint herein, has committed the crime of adultery with a certain Lynn Nye; that since the discovery of said adultery, the Complainant has not lived or cohabited with the Defendant nor condoned his actions in any way, to all of which the Affidavit is made.

It is thereupon this 16th day of August, 1965, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four (4) successive weeks prior to the 18th day of September, 1965, in some newspaper published in Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the Defendant, Charles Woody Harpold, of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint and warning him to be and appear in this Court either in person or by Solicitor on or before the 19th day of October, 1965, to show cause, if any he has, why the relief sought should not be granted.

Survey Shows Buying of Paints Is a Name Game

How do people buy paints? By brand name generally, a trade magazine survey showed. Seven out of ten building supply dealers covered in a survey conducted by Building Supply News reported that brand names were more important for paints than for most other products.

In fact, 52 percent of the dealers said the customer usually asked for a specific brand. If the brand requested was not carried, most customers bought the brand recommended by the dealer.

The Building Supply News survey found that 85 percent of all lumber and building supply dealers carry painting and decorating products, supplies and equipment.

Paint sales by these dealers are approaching an estimated half billion dollars annually. Sixty percent of these sales are to homeowners, 28 percent to building and painting contractors, nine percent to farmers and the remaining three percent to industrial clients.

Nine out of ten dealers who maintain a paint department carry several types of exterior and interior paint finishes, patching and caulking compounds, removers, thinners, brushes and rollers.
