If you haven't received your new real estate tax assessment you will. For the past several months assessors have been at work reassessing the Emmitsburg District and after they left the area all seemed quiet. However this week notices were mailed to propertyowners here and most were hit right smack in the face . . . with a higher assessment figure than they had anticipated. It appears that most received a 10% jump and it's not hard to observe some agitation over the matter. Naturally those living in the Town limits will receive a double slap next year when the tax bills are sent out. It's odd that almost each year either the tax rate or the assessment goes up and the matter becomes quite a hardship on the propertyowner. Never is there any lowering despite the fact that the house depreciates each year. Almost 80c on every tax dollar goes to education facilities in the county. What does Emmitsburg get for its tax dollar? You name it. Why they even take our tax money to build schools in other towns and take our very own from our midst. If the giant Federal Government can cut the tax cost I wonder why our so-called leaders of our county can't take it a little easy and at least hold the line for a year or two. Wonder what next year will bring . . . most likely an increase in the rate. In a way I sort of hope they do so I can get angry and vote them all out of office because as you know, next year, 1966, is an election year, and that is the only time we get a whack at those birds.

The last few weeks there has been much talk about an annexation program here. I have had several inquiries about the matter. Most people say they would like to be annexed, providing they get sewerage and water. These things can't be guaranteed, especially to those homes situated at the far extremities of the area to be annexed. In a few years perhaps, when some of the Town's indebtedness has been paid off, then these facilities may be extended. This is not to say absolutely that these areas will not be reached in the near future because we are speaking solely from our own point of view, and not the Town Council's. However, things sometimes have happened a lot faster than anticipated. It is a long-range proposition and a gamble that must be taken. Some day the Health Dept. will step into the picture and fast action will result. There are flagrant violations of the health law in several of the outlying sections of the Town which are not incorporated and some day these conditions will have to be corrected.

"Peeling" rubber is going to be an expensive past-time if the results of a trial held this week are any indication of the attitude of local authorities to break up this public nuisance. A gay young blade paid a fine of a cool hundred bucks for peeling rubber in the Corporation limits this week. In addition he paid an additional $25 for reckless driving. This type of silly carrying-on does no one any good. It is a public nuisance, damages road surfaces and causes quick wear on tires. This case should be a stern warning that this cowboy practice will not be tolerated in the Town.

Police Cruiser Wrecked In Chase

The Emmitsburg Police Dept. cruiser was damaged to the extent of around $500 when it was involved in an accident early Saturday.

Corp. Bowman of the State Police investigated the accident. The mishap occurred when a 1964 Chevrolet sport coupe rounded the Square at 1:05 a.m. Saturday morning in such a manner that it aroused the attention of Chief W. E. Law who was parked near the Square at the time. Suddenly the car "took off" and Chief Law started pursuit. The car, operated by Carl Joseph Fusco, Mt. St. Mary's College, is reported to have parked almost in the center of Route 97 just east of Flat Run Bridge, without lights. The police patrol car, in hot pursuit, came upon the vehicle suddenly and when it was discovered in the center of the road headed east and some distance over the center stripe, it was too late to avoid striking the vehicle. The two cars sideswiped and the damage to each was estimated at approximately $500. Trooper Bowman charged Fusco with failing to yield the right of way and Chief Law placed a charge against him of speed greater than reasonable. No one was reported injured in the mishap.

When the new Fire Hall is completed in the near future the Firemen hope to hold an open house for the public.

FIRE COMPANY PLANS ACTIVE OBSERVANCE NEXT WEEK

The Vigilant Hose Company will go all out to impress the people of this community of the importance of Fire Prevention Week which will be held next week, October 3-9.

The firemen will sound the local siren at seven o'clock Wednesday evening and all families are asked to participate in one massive fire drill. Evacuation of the home for a few minutes is asked and members of the family should be informed of the safe exits existing in their own homes. This part of the program will be held simultaneously with other Eastern states.

On Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, movies will be shown at the Fire Hall. The picture will depict the disastrous Chicago fire of several years ago which cost the lives of several hundred school children. In conjunction with the general program of the week the Fire Company will spring surprise fire drills at the local schools.

which might serve as emergency exits.

Procedures should include the closing of bedroom doors to retard the entry of smoke and immediate departure by the most direct safe means. An outside meeting place for the family should be determined in the plan to enable the fire department to determine if everyone is outside upon their arrival on the scene. The fire department should be called as soon as possible.

Among the organizations sponsoring the drill in Maryland are the Maryland State Firemen's Association, the Baltimore Safety Council, local and county fire departments and fire marshal's offices and the State Fire Marshal's Office.

P.T.A. Seeking Family Of Year

The Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers is looking for a 1966 PTA Family of the Year, representative of thousands of families throughout the state, to honor at its 50th anniversary convention in Baltimore on November 4 and 5.

Early in October, the family will be chosen from council nominees, selected at county levels from questionnaires submitted by local PTAs. Judges are Mrs. Jesse Gore, president of the Girl Scout Council of Central Maryland; Dr. James A. Sensenbaugh, state superintendent of schools; and Rev. John Murray Smoot, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in Towson. Also, Mrs. Robert E. Hampson, first vice president, and Mrs. John D. Loizeaux, public relations chairman, of the state PTA.

The congress is looking for a family that will be easy to recognize as one that can be counted on because its members act as thoughtful human beings toward one another, and toward others. A family that may have a group project in which all family members participate, such as hobbies, music, recreation, or a family business. A family that contributes to the life of the community, its members may be active in school affairs, youth work, church, citizens' associations, welfare work, or other.

Mr. and Mrs. John Laycock, of Anne Arundel County, and their three children, Donald, Ronald, and Joan, were the first family in 1964. St. Mary's County was so honored in 1965 by the selection of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Zollinger and four children, Sherry, Darling, Wendy, and Duncan, as Family of the Year.

Guests included Mrs. Kuo-Hsin Chen, Mrs. Stanley Gregg, Mrs. Charles Grimes and Miss Beatrice Tarver. Mrs. Charles Stouter, president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Charles A. Harner gave a demonstration on "What Wax Shall I use?" She stressed the use of a wax that takes the least work, lasts longest and gives the best protective quality. There are two types of wax: solvent and water base. It is interesting to note that wax has been in use since 1300 B.C., first being used by the Egyptians.

Mrs. John Chatlos gave a demonstration on Freezing Foods. She stressed the most important factor in freezing was the proper wrapping of foods for the freezer. Mrs. William Slemmer, Sr., Mrs. George Eyster and Mrs. Hazel Caldwell have volunteered to help with the Community Show on Oct. 15, 16, in the Public School.

The October 28 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Glass.

The third series of changes since it was introduced as a 1965 model 17 months ago mark the debut of the Mustang as a 1966. New styling touches — shown on the hardtop model above — include a new grille, simulated magnesium wheel covers and side ornamentation. A five-dial instrument cluster and new safety features also are standard for all 1966 Mustangs. New Mustang options include a Stereosonic tape player — shown below — that provides up to 80 minutes of true stereo music or the equivalent of two long-playing records. The tape player is incorporated into the car radio which may be used at any time for news or information simply by removing the cartridge. With three Mustang options introduced in April, the 1966 Mustang represents the second enhancement of the Mustang in five months.

a Dog's Life

DOG'S AGE
COMPARED TO MAN'S

By Bob Bartos, Manager
Friskies Pet Foods Research Center

Figuring Fido's age in terms of human years has always been considered a mere matter of multiplying his years by seven. According to this formula, if your pet is two years old, he's the equivalent of a fourteen-year old human. Yet he's expected to act considerably more mature than a teenager.

Recently scientists have come up with a much more realistic ratio. With the new formula, the year-old dog corresponds in development to a 16-year old human. From there the gap begins to narrow. It's 2 years against 24, 3 years against 35. After that each human year is equivalent to 5 dog years.

While this formula gets your dog into his fifties faster than the old one, it slows his aging down when he reaches the crucial sixties. The 12-year old, for example, will be a spry 75 instead of a teary 84.

It's not only a new formula, however, that's knocking years off your dog's life. Improved veterinary care is the chief factor. Many common canine diseases that formerly were fatal can now be prevented by vaccination.

Owners, too, can claim their fair share of responsibility for the longer lives of their pets. They're giving them better care and feeding them prepared dog foods scientifically formulated to meet the dog's every nutritional need. They're also controlling their better, which means that fewer are losing their lives to autos.

Feeding tip: The best way to be sure your puppy develops good sound bones is to feed him a prepared food such as Friskies Puppy Food which is especially formulated for his every growing requirement.

Recommended Family Reading... Your.... Farmers and Mechanics National Bank Interest - Building Savings Account Book

Yes, everybody . . . even the youngest . . . enjoys reading about mounting savings. That's why so many heads of families start savings accounts for their youngsters at an early age. With an Account growing along with the youngster, earning a generous rate of 4%, it won't take too long before there will be enough money to send the children to college or set them up in their own home when they decide to marry.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

The Emmitsburg Chronicle, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. Clip and save for future reference.

Questions And Answers

Q. What do you do to keep yourselves busy after April 15? When you get all the returns filed by that date out of the way, I would think you'd not have much to do.

A. The Revenue Service has more than enough to do both after and before April 15. Tax administration is essentially a year-round job.

Besides all the returns that come in around April 15, there are millions of returns that come in at other times. Growing numbers of taxpayers are required to file and pay quarterly declarations of estimated tax. Then there are the countless business returns we receive.

Employers are required to report what they withheld for income and employment taxes on a quarterly basis. There are also quarterly returns required for excise taxes collected by manufacturers and retailers.

In addition to the returns that come in at other times of the year, the Internal Revenue Service handles its return examination program on a year-round basis. Currently, returns at the rate of 3 million a year are being examined for completeness and accuracy. This calls for an examination of a taxpayer's records.

Q. What kind of training do you need to be a Revenue Agent?

A. Most of the new agents we hire are college graduates with either an accounting or a legal background. If you are interested in a career as a Revenue Agent, contact the personnel office in the District Director's office. Booklets are available covering the various types of jobs with the Internal Revenue Service.

Q. Do you have any films or booklets that tell about our tax system?

A. Yes, we do. Get in touch with our local office to find out which will be most suited to your needs.

The Internal Revenue Service also sends speakers to civic groups and other organizations interested in various aspects of the tax system.

Q. I read in the paper recently that you have sent some of your officials to South America. What are they doing there?

A. Our tax officials are there under the Alliance for Progress Program. Tax reform has been set as a major goal of many South American nations and this country is providing what assistance it can to help reach this, and other goals, of the Alliance.

The role of the Revenue Service is to provide assistance in the area of tax administration, in cooperation with the Agency for International Development of the State Department. We currently have tax teams in 14 Latin American countries and have been hosts to their tax officials touring our operations here.

Q. I just returned from military duty in Viet Nam. What should I do about my tax return? I didn't file one while I was over there.

A. There is an automatic extension of 180 days for taxpayers who did not file their return because of military service in Viet Nam. This means you have 180 days from the time you left Viet Nam until your return has to be filed. Servicemen hospitalized outside the United States as a result of wounds, disease, or injury received while serving in Viet Nam have 180 days after their discharge from the hospital to file their return.

Commissioned officers do not have to pay tax on up to $200 a month in pay received since January 1, 1964, for active duty in Viet Nam. Enlisted men may exclude all such pay.

Q. I just received a letter asking me to come in for an audit of my tax return. The problem is that the letter is from the office in the town where I used to live. What can I do about it?

A. Inform the Internal Revenue office that sent the letter that you have moved and furnish both the address shown on your return and your new address. Arrangements will be made to have your file transferred to the office that serves the area where you now live.

Q. I've just been assigned by my employer to a job some 100 miles from here. As it will last several weeks, I'm going to commute or at least come home on weekends. Will my rent and board while away from home be deductible?

A. If you work at this job for a short period, then your living expenses while away from home may be deductible. However, if the end of the job can't be fixed within a short period or is for an indefinite period, then the job location becomes your home for tax purposes and living expenses will not be deductible.

Whether your expenses for rent and board are deductible or not depends on whether the job is temporary or is for an indefinite period. The rules for deducting board, lodging, and other travel expenses are explained in detail in IRS Publication No. 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses," which may be obtained without charge at your local Internal Revenue office.

For further information contact your local Internal Revenue Service office.

LACK OF SEAT BELTS CAUSE MANY INJURIES

In serious highway accidents investigated by the State Police last week, nine persons were killed and forty-nine were injured. In the forty-two instances where seat belts were not available, use of the life-saving device would have prevented three of the deaths and would have reduced the seriousness of injury in thirty-two cases.

Sixteen persons had seat belts available, but in only four cases were they in use. State Police officers are of the opinion that three of these four persons sustained injuries that were much less serious because the seat belts were being used. If the remaining twelve had used seat belts, one death would have been prevented and nine would have suffered less extensive injuries.

Each week, in State Police investigated accidents alone, the evidence supporting the safety value of seat belts continues to mount, and every motorist would certainly do well for insurance reasons, to take full advantage of this device which can so easily be installed and used.

According to the weekly review of the State Police a total of thirteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week. Five of those killed were drivers; six were passengers; and two were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in one death; speed in six; and "driver error" was present in all of the fatalities.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Winding Line

You know how when winding on a new line the spool jumps and runs generally makes things difficult. Next time, wind your line through a book. Pages of book will put just enough pressure on the line and book steady-ness keeps spool from jumping.

Paper Clips

A couple of paper clips are a smart item to keep in your tackle

box. They can be used to replace a broken line guide in a jiffy.

Crippled Duck

You can tell how badly crippled a duck is by the way he holds his head. If head is up, better shoot again. If his head is down, you've got him.

Lantern Light

Can you suspend a lantern over the water where you fish at night?
If so, you can catch more fish.
Light attracts bugs. Bugs attract fish.

Cold Weather Gloves

A pair of rubber gloves that housewives use for washing dishes can keep your hands warm in icy weather. Slip them over woolen gloves. Waterproof and double barrier keeps cold out.

Nailed Sinkers

Drive several nails into your lead sinkers if you are having difficulty holding bottom. Nails will catch and hold every time.

Stringer

Your fish stringer works as well in hunting season to carry small game as it did in fishing season to hold catch.

Telephone Pole

Hunting in unfamiliar country?
Note down the number of the telephone pole where you go into the woods. Poles are numbered consecutively. If you come out in the wrong place, pole number will tell you which way to walk.

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

Read Matthew 28:16-20.

O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord. (Jeremiah 22: 29).

In response to the radio broadcast in our language we received a letter from a Roman Catholic priest. In part, he said, "I don't know if your broadcast is Protestant or Catholic... Nevertheless, the most important thing is that the Lord's Word is properly interpreted. The people know so little about the gospel. For this reason it is a great thing in God's eyes."

In the dark days of the Middle Ages, God's Word, the Bible, was available, primarily in Latin. But the reformers translated it into the languages of the people and gave it to great and small.

We can be glad that we live in this modern age when by various means more and more persons have the privilege to know about this wonderful Word. It has been translated into many languages of the world. People can listen to it over the radio and in some places even on television.
Jesus' parting word to His disciples was "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation."

Prayer

Dear Lord, we thank Thee for the opportunities to hear Thy voice through Thy Word. Help us to be witnesses of Thy Word to all nations. For His sake we pray. Amen.

Thought For The Day

God speaks to us through His Word every day. Do we hear Him? Do we help other to hear Him?

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On:
Our Stake In Latin America
BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 30—Now that peace of a sort has come to the sorely troubled Dominican Republic, our attention is focused more closely upon Asia and the subcontinent of India. Yet the United States can no more disengage itself from Latin America than from Asia or Europe. Our stake in the nations to the south of us is high and our commitment there is forever.

Poverty Amid Plenty
No one who has visited Latin America with open eyes could fail to be deeply affected by the contrasts encountered. The great cities rival our own in their fine buildings, their variety of enterprise and commerce, and their prosperity. Yet, hand in hand with these evidences of power and wealth, one sees grinding poverty as distressing and dehumanizing as any experienced in Asia or Africa.

Although rich in potential resources, the countries of Latin America are for the most part poor. This is the result of deficiencies in government, in technological development, and in agricultural knowhow. And these deficiencies stem from deep-rooted injustices and inequities as well as from educational limitations. Governments are at best unstable, frequently incompetent, and sometimes downright corrupt. Currencies are not readily convertible between the various Latin nations; their bonds are not easily salable in world markets; and credit is generally poor. Economic and social problems are aggravated by haphazard official restrictions, which vary widely from country to country but which are similar in their harassment of business. Why Communists Have Made Gains

Of course, social and economic reform is recognized as the long-term solution to Latin American ills. But the obstacles are many . . . ranging from dictatorial governments which generally tend to be inept rather than evil, through wealthy landowners, to peasant leaders whose extreme nationalism too often defeats their worthy goals. The U. S. must make Latins more fully aware of the need to halt the deterioration of order in their countries, but we must walk warily and persuade rather than dictate. For Latin American distrust of democracy, and of the great colossus to the north, is strong.

The Communists have gained friends, and influence, and prestige in Latin America because—with admirable singleness of purpose—they have planned it that way. They have succeeded because they have worked diligently to acquire a rapport with the masses; but mostly because their agents are better equipped than we to sell the people a bill of goods. Most of the popular nationalist movements in Latin America are not Communist, or even Communist-inspired. But they are easily infiltrated by Red agents who subvert them for their own ends.

Language Barrier
We are losing ground against the Communist conspiracy in Latin America and we are losing ground against the competition of other nations for the markets of Latin America. Our lack of real success—despite hard work and the expenditure of large sums of money—can be laid directly to the language barrier.

Only a handful of top U. S. diplomats in Latin America are really expert in the Spanish or the Portuguese language. Many of the men sent by U. S. companies that have large investments there have only the barest smattering of the languages in which they must do business.

Western Hemisphere Unity
Yet, no matter how frustrating our attempts may have been to keep Latin America from Communists enslavement, we cannot abandon our neighbors. To do so would be to invite our enemies to prepare, in safety, for our eventual burial. For if we cannot win friends and influence people in Latin America, our status as a world power is ultimately doomed—and with it our advanced standard of living.

The over-all need in Latin America is for continental economic integration. A healthy, vigorous Latin American common market must one day be forged. If the U. S. does not provide the needed capital and credit for such a venture, some other power will . . . and our hopes for Western Hemisphere unity will be dashed.

The lack of morals among the youngsters, if it exists, is a reflection of a great lack of morals among their elders.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Atherosclerosis

Atherosclerosis is a form of arteriosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries.

Most heart attacks can be traced to atherosclerosis of the coronary arteries, through which travels the blood which nourishes the heart muscle, says Today's Health Guide, the manual of health information and guidance of the American Medical Association. Most strokes result from atherosclerosis in the arteries that deliver blood to the brain.

Most people have atherosclerosis to some degree without troublesome symptoms and live a normal life span.

In atherosclerosis, the inner walls of the arteries are gradually thickened and roughened by deposits of fatty material. As more layers of deposits are formed, they narrow the channel through the artery, hindering the flow of blood. When the artery wall is considerably roughened, blood clots may form on the roughened areas and block circulation at that point.

Research scientists are seeking the causes of atherosclerosis and ways to prevent and cure it. Changing the fat content of our diet may be one approach, and long-range studies are under way to discover whether a modified fat diet will help prevent heart attacks and strokes. Other factors being investigated include the role of exercise or its lack, emotional stress, heredity, excessive smoking and sex hormones.

Excessive smoking, especially of cigarettes, is thought by some scientists to be related to heart and blood vessel diseases, because of the constricting effect of smoking on the smaller arteries.

Usually a heart attack is caused by a sudden blocking of one of the arteries that supply the heart muscle with blood. A clogged artery may be closed by a blood clot (thrombus), and the part of the heart muscle fed by that artery may deteriorate or die from lack of blood.

In such cases, healing begins almost immediately and scar tissue begins to form in the damaged area of the heart. Treatment and rest give the heart time to heal itself. For some patients, doctors prescribe drugs to prevent new clots from forming.

Heart attack symptoms vary greatly and are not easy to identify. However, when the following symptoms occur, a doctor should be called at once:

Moderate or severe pain or an uncomfortable sensation of pressure in the front of the chest. This sometimes spreads to the arms, throat or back, and sometimes is accompanied by sweating, shortness of breath, weakness or loss of consciousness.

Nausea and vomiting. These symptoms can be mistaken for acute indigestion; only a physician can tell the difference.

Until the doctor takes charge, the patient should be placed in a position most comfortable for him, either lying or sitting. Tight clothing should be loosened. The patient should be kept from chilling, but should not be made to perspire by use of too many blankets. He should not be lifted or carried without the doctor's advice.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Keating

Push boating is a wonderful way to hunt marsh birds. The perfect boat for pushing is a light, flat-bottomed double-ender. It doesn't need oars, anchor or motor. Gunning more than two men at a time would be dangerous and is never done, so the small, 12-foot size is sufficient. The sharp ends aid somewhat in allowing the boat to press through the dense reeds and cattails. And the flat bottom doesn't catch as much as stumps, limbs, old bed-springs, rubber tires and other marsh adornments. If you haven't got a boat like that, don't give up the ship. You can probably use your present one for pushing. Almost any light boat can do duty as an infrequent push boat, and probably has.

There are two real essentials for pushing and one item you should have. The first essential is a push pole with a proper "foot." The pole ought to be 12 feet long, round and strong. A wooden curtain pole from your local lumberyard will do fine. On the end you can make your own out of wood strips. The foot gives the pole purchase on the gooey bottom, yet allows you to yank it free.

A second essential item is some way to keep the gunner on his feet. The pusher has no problem, since he can use the pole to balance himself and is prepared for each lurch since he is causing it.

The best support is an old bar-stool screwed to a flat board. This fits on the bottom, and the gunner's weight keeps it steady. It may require some work and ingenuity to fit such a rig in your boat. "An alternative would be a pole sturdily fastened or lashed into the bow that could be grasped with one hand," suggests Zack Taylor, Boats Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. Or in the aluminum or fiberglass boats where you wouldn't wait to drill the sides, perhaps an aluminum rod could be fitted into the oarlocks to form a brace against which the gunner could lean.

When a bird flushes, the pusher must make the boat as steady a shooting platform as possible. The gunner will have long since learned not to rock the boat when he swings. If he does, he won't hit anything.

When politicians forget principles of government in order to gain votes, representative government inevitably loses ground.

There are people in the world who believe that a cash contribution is all that they are required to do for their communities.

VOLUNTARY FEEDING

By Bob Bartos, Manager Friskies Pet Foods Research Center
Voluntary feeding, whereby you supply your pet with a 1-day or 2-day supply of dry dog food so he can eat whenever he's hungry, solves two dog-owning problems. It relieves the anxiety of working owners who can't get home at the appointed feeding hour, and it relieves the dog's tension when the dinner hour arrives and no one is home to serve it.

It also helps keep the dog who's a poor eater in good condition. Often times the poor eater is a high-strung dog and is easily distracted at meal times. He'll have a mouthful, hear a noise and take off to investigate. Having had just enough to take the edge off his appetite, he won't return to his food. Later he may be hungry, but in the meantime, if he lives outdoors, a neighbor's dog may have beaten him to it. At the next meal, the same thing happens, so he naturally loses weight. This can also be true of the indoor dog, for his dish is usually taken up if the food isn't eaten in a reasonable length of time.

Let such dogs have food available at all times, and they'll eat a few bites, investigate a strange sound, take a snooze, wake up and have a few more bites, and so on throughout the day. During the 24-hour period they will have consumed an adequate amount of food.

And since the top quality prepared dry dog foods such as Friskies contain all the nutrients a dog is known to need, he will be in top-notch condition.

Surprise Party

Mrs. Thomas Eyerler was given a surprise party on Tuesday evening, Sept. 28, by the ladies of the Green Parrot Tea Room. Mrs. Eyerler received many useful gifts. Catholic Church. Rev. John S. Homish performed the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Louis Rosensteel, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Susan Martin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white street length gown with a fitted bodice and nylon sleeves ending in points over the hand. The skirt was bridal satin over taffeta. She carried a white Bible topped with white roses.

Mrs. Thelma Byard, Washington, D. C., was maid of honor. She wore a medium pink street length gown featuring a sleeveless fitted bodice, scooped neckline and a droop back. She carried a bouquet of mixed fall flowers.

Mrs. Carol Staub, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Charlotte Kepner, Fairfield, sisters of the bride, were bridal attendants. They wore pearl blue and yellow street length gowns featuring sleeveless fitted bodice and scooped necklines. Both carried mixed fall flowers bouquets.

Robert Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, was best man. Ushers were Clyde Hahn and Bill Eiker, both of Emmitsburg.

Eric Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, was ring bearer and Miss Yvonne Rosensteel, Emmitsburg, was flower girl. She wore a white dress and shoes, with a flowered headpiece and carried mixed flowers.

The bride's mother wore a light tan dress with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a cranberry dress with accessories, and a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Methodist Social Hall for approximately 100 guests. For their wedding trip to Winston-Salem, N. C., the bride wore a cranberry suit with white accessories. They are now residing on South Seton Ave.

The bride is a graduate of Emmitsburg High School and is employed at the Green Parrot Tea Shop.

The bridegroom is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School and is employed at the Farm Equipment Center, Thurmont.

Sewerage Committee Advocates Changes In County Set-Up

Frederick City and County will share water and sewerage zoning authority in the one-mile belt surrounding Frederick City, informed sources said this week.

After four months of closed-door sessions, the Frederick City and County Water Sewer Committee recommended that the city give up its zoning authority in the one-mile belt as the first step.

The suggestion was made in the final report of the committee, which was appointed in mid-May by city and county officials, presented Monday to Mayor E. Paul Magaha and County Commissioner Lawrence A. Dorsey by chairman Roger W. Willard.

Other recommendations in the report were: Sale of Frederick City water or sewerage services for joint use of city and county sanitation facilities without spending the bond money of either;

Establishment of large sanitary districts in the county to provide the tax base for more rapid development of sanitation facilities needed in the county;

Expansion of the city's sewerage treatment plant—called "possible and feasible" in the report—at its present location while the extension of sewerage interceptor lines, north and west of Frederick is labeled "not financially feasible";

Immediate annexation by the city of Rock Creek and Carroll Creek drainage areas to the Catoctin Mountain foothills because Frederick has said it will not sell water services to this area without annexation;

A proposed Ideal Farms Dairy private sewerage treatment plant, which would dump treated effluent into a small tributary of the Monocacy River not be built;

Establishment of a single sewer system in the Walkersville area which would also meet the needs of the Maryland Baptist College and new apartment buildings to be completed in the future;

Complete consolidation of sanitary facilities under one agency to avoid duplication of city and county facilities which would place an excess burden on the taxpayers.

Detailed recommendations of the Sewer and Water Study Committee and its solutions to the problems will be released later this week after city and county officials have had a chance to study them.

Father Redmond Secretary To Mount Council

Rev. Paul V. Redmond, B.A., M.A., S.T.L., a native of Albany, N. Y., has been elected as secretary of the council of Mount St. Mary's College and Seminary.

Father Redmond studied for the priesthood at the Catholic University of America and was ordained for the Diocese of Albany in 1954. After an assignment at St. John the Evangelist Parish, Rensselaer, N. Y., he was assigned to the faculty of Mount St. Mary's in 1955 as Dean of Freshmen and an instructor in philosophy.

Elected to the College Council, corporate governing body of the institution, in 1960, he served as secretary from 1961-1964. From that date until his re-election, he has pursued doctoral studies in philosophy at the Catholic University. He is presently working on his dissertation.

In addition to his duties as secretary, he is an assistant professor of philosophy and a member of the college's finance committee. He also has served as moderator of the campus council of the Knights of Columbus, the chapter of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, and a class moderator.

He is a member of the American Association of University Professors, the American Catholic Philosophical Association, and the Metaphysical Society of America.

Electric Use Shows Gain

The sale of electricity during the first eight months of this year has shown a substantial increase over the same period in 1964, according to the report made recently to the Potomac Edison Company's board of directors by President Charles D. Lyon.

Kilowatt hour sales for this period have increased nine per cent over last year and total revenues for the period have shown the same percentage gain.

Mr. Lyon told the directors that all classes of customers have participated in this improved sales picture. Commercial sales recorded the best gain—up 18 per cent over 1964. Residential sales were 15 per cent above last year and industrial sales are up seven per cent over a year ago.

"These eight-month figures reflect the generally good economic condition of the area in which we serve," Mr. Lyon said. "We anticipate that this condition will continue at a high level for the remainder of the year."

He attributed a good portion of sales results to PE's efforts to market electricity for home heating. Connections of electrically heated homes for the first eight months were nearly 950, compared with slightly over 600 in 1964.

"Electric heating continues to do well in a highly competitive heating market," Mr. Lyon reported.

The utility company president also reported that PE established new all-time peaks in August—both for one hour and 24 hour periods. A one hour high of 471,000 kw was established August 16; and a record 24 hour peak of 9,156,000 kwh was set August 17.

Two Injured In Car Mishap

Two persons injured last Thursday night about 5 miles north of Emmitsburg when a car in which they were passengers collided with the Marsh Creek bridge, were listed by the Warner Hospital as satisfactory. They were Mrs. Joseph Larkin, 21, Philadelphia and Emmitsburg, and John A. Lynch, 21, of Dricken Hill and Emmitsburg.

The Gettysburg ambulance transported Richard Samuel Hallahan, 21, of Pottsville, a Mt. St. Mary's student, who state police said was the driver of the car, and Mrs. Larkin and Lynch to the hospital. State police said Mrs. Larkin was listed as having a laceration of the right leg, a fractured right leg and possible back injuries. Lynch was listed as having a compound fracture of the right leg. Hallahan was examined and discharged.

Police said the Hallahan car was traveling south when it went off the west side of the road, broke off some guard posts and smashed into the bridge at Greenmount. Julius Swope, who was called to tow the vehicle to a junk yard, said the right front wheel and axle of the car were driven back over the right rear wheel of the vehicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ridenour visited their baby daughter, Lori, Thursday and Saturday at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Mrs. Harry F. Mowers and daughter, Pittsburgh, Pa., spent Saturday with Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder. Other visitors over the weekend were Matthew Paidokovich and friend, and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Smith and son, Robert.

BY THE SEA, BY THE SEA

by Margie Blake, Carnation Teen Committee

The best of summer parties is the beach party, starting early in the blazing sun, winding up with songs after dusk. The best is the easiest, too: a nice crowd, a good picnic packed by you. At the beach there's something for everybody to do, from the most fervent athlete to the languidest sunbather. Even the chaperones love it; no noise problem with the whole sky the ceiling!

While the sun is high, you'll swim, beachcomb for shells or pebbles, and flop on the sand (or the grassy bank) for sunbaths. And volleyball, softball, or touch football were never like this in P. E. class!

At sunset it's time to eat, and you were a genius to pack such a fine supper and pack it so well. You made a list of the things you'd need (even salt and napkins and beverage can openers); you packed and wrapped so that cold things stayed cold, nothing got crushed, and sand didn't seep into the food. (Tip: to keep perishables cold, stack the well-chilled soft drinks against them.) The classic picnic menu may be old-hat, but it's still good: weiners to roast if you're permitted to build a fire, do-it-yourself cold cut sandwiches if you're not; potato salad, devilled eggs, little tomatoes.

And finally the music, with yourselves on guitar, banjo, harmonica, and vocal. To nibble on during ten or twelve or twenty verses of a song, hand out Peachy Dessert Bars, sweet as they sound. Drain a 17-oz. can sliced peaches. In saucepan, place peaches, 2 cups seedless raisins, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup flour, ½ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, and ¾ cup undiluted Carnation evaporated milk. Stir constantly over very low heat until thickened; cool and add ¼ teaspoon almond extract. In a mixing bowl combine 1 cup brown sugar, 2 cups sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup shortening, and 1/3 cup undiluted Carnation evaporated milk. Blend well with hands; place ¾ of this mixture in a rectangular pan (13" x 9" x 2"). Spread fruit filling over crust and top with remaining crust mixture. Over the top sprinkle 1/3 cup chopped nuts. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 40 to 45 minutes. Cool in the pan on a wire rack. Cut into 24 bars. To insure their safe arrival at the hootenanny, slide the whole pan into a plastic bag. The Carnation Teen Committee, made up of teens in schools across the country, makes suggestions for this column. If you have an idea, or want a Teen Party Idea Booklet, write to CTC, 777 Third Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10017.
