The situation on the new by-pass seems relatively subsided since the additional safety features have been installed. Workmen are fast completing the installation of lights, arrows, signs, etc., and it is sincerely hoped that these devices will deliver a much more satisfactory degree of safety to unwary motorists. For those of you who haven't as yet traveled the road at night, you will be amazed at the difference these safety devices have made.

Emmitsburg's annual election is just around the corner folks. There is one suggestion I would like to make either, or both, to the Town Council. At the beginning of the organization of the new Council in April, I feel that a Business Commission should be formed. The function of this commission would be to help keep our local businesses going and also to induce new industry to come here. Little or nothing has been done since the Chamber of Commerce went out of business many years ago and the effect is being felt here as our youth are compelled to seek employment in other nearby towns and cities. A three-man commission, with some far-sight and aggressiveness might possibly be instrumental in obtaining some new industry for Emmitsburg. It certainly is worth a try as we don't have anything to lose and everything to gain.

Politicking is all right in its place but I feel that certain individuals have overstepped the line when they appear before service clubs in a disguised effort to lead the voters to their camp. Most service organizations have a rule against this sort of thing and I am positive that all Lions Clubs have a pertinent section in the by-laws. I feel that this clause was violated last week when two of the County Commissioners appeared before the Woodsboro Lions Club and announced they favored abolishment of the personal property tax in the County. Unquestionably this action was intended as a vote getter. Normally such an announcement would have been made via the press. If this isn't politicking then I am naive in the art. Organizations should investigate the nature of their guest's business before permitting them to address such groups. I am certain this couldn't and wouldn't happen in Emmitsburg.

Construction of our new Post-office is moving right along. Estimates, or predictions, set the completion date at around May 1. Good progress is reported despite the winter weather and in a few short months we'll be using the new facility.

Topper Announces Heart Fund Returns

Philip D. Topper, local Heart Fund Drive chairman, reported this week that Emmitsburg had far exceeded its quota in the recent financial drive.

The chairman says the total exceeds that of any ever collected here and establishes a local record. In all, $866.22 was collected. Mr. Topper is highly appreciative of the efforts of local solicitors and on behalf of the organization, expresses his public appreciation to the solicitors and donors and all who played a part in the successful drive.

Those solicitors who participated in the drive were: William Sanders, Sr., William Sanders, Jr., Allen Knott, Mrs. Virginia Sanders, Mrs. Marguerite Wolfe, Mrs. Dorothy Stoner, Mrs. Dale Shields, Mrs. Alice Gregg, Miss Jean Topper, Mrs. Philip D. Topper, Mrs. Frank Webb, Mrs. Laura Stoner, James Pryor, Mrs. Elmer Fuss, Leo B. Topper, Jr., Mrs. Richard Toms, Mrs. Sue Sanders, Mrs. Caroline Adelsberger, Robert Zimmerman and Donald Marshall.

Permit Issued

A permit has been issued in Frederick for a new house on Federal Ave, Emmitsburg, to be constructed on the property of Philip D. Topper, Emmitsburg.

Rev. James T. Twomey, Germantown, Pa., former pastor here, was a visitor here for several days this week.

Town Election Set For April 26

April 15 has been designated by the Town Council as the deadline for filing for town offices for the annual local election to be held on Tuesday, April 26, it was announced at the regular monthly meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners held Monday night in the Town Office. Chairman of the Board J. W. Houser presided with a full board in attendance.

Present at the meeting was a delegation of local women consisting of Sister Madeleine, St. Joseph College, Mrs. Virginia Sanders and Mrs. Hazel Caldwell. The group was present in the interest of having the Council form a Senior Citizens' Club. Sister Madeleine acted as spokesman for the group and said the club was interested in providing guidance, companionship and entertainment for the older citizens. Another meeting of this group will be held in the Lutheran Parish Hall on March 15 at 8 p.m. Present also at the meeting was Dr. George Green, Jr., who offered the use of a sump pump to the Town. Officer W. E. Law reported the purchase of a Regency radio monitoring unit.

Public Works Commissioner J. Norman Flax reported he had been in contact with Ferguson Engineering, representing Mt. St. Mary's College relative to the college installing its own water supply. There had been a rumor circulating that the college was planning to provide its own water from other sources than the Town system. A future meeting between the engineers, the college Council and the Town Board is planned as well as a study of the potential facilities of the Town's ability to furnish the institution with an ample supply of water.

Chairman Houser appointed Mayor Ralph Irelan and Commissioner Quinn Topper to contact Mehrle Keilholtz relative to purchasing enough acreage from his farm near town to install a new pumping station. Council has received a complaint concerning the stabling of livestock in the West End of Town. Council agreed to amend the Water Ordinance, Sec. 5, Article XLII, Town Code 1960. After some discussion the Council voted to notify the Police Dept. to tow away all cars parked on Town streets with expired license plates or no plates at all.

Regarding the coming Town Election, Town Clerk Yonnie Baker advises that those qualified to vote can register at the Town Office any weekday up until April 15. To be eligible to vote one must be 21 years of age by election day and must have resided within the corporate limits 12 months prior to the election.

Police Chief W. E. Law's monthly report showed four vehicle arrests, 11 warnings, three complaints handled and two night calls disposed of. One trip to Frederick and one to Gettysburg were made by the officer attending court sessions.

The Emmitsburg Cub Scouts will sponsor a kite contest on Sunday, March 27 starting at 1:30 p.m. in the rear of the Public School.

The contest will be open to all children of the area and you need not be a Cub Scout to participate.

The judging of the kites will take place at 1:30 o'clock and the highest flying contest will be judged at 2:30 p.m. The general public is cordially invited to attend the kite flight and soft drinks, coffee and hot dogs will be on sale during the afternoon.

SENIOR CITIZENS GROUP PLANS ORGANIZATION

Monday evening's Town Council meeting was a little different on March 7. It received a deputation of citizens to discuss a proposed Senior Citizens' Club in Emmitsburg. The Councilmen present were Mr. Irelan, Mr. Flax, Dr. Houser, Mr. Topper and Mr. Haley. They received the idea favorably.

Mrs. Charlotte Eyster is Chairman of the Emmitsburg area of the Frederick County Commission on Aging. In her absence the group's proposal was presented by Sister Madeleine, Mrs. Virginia Sanders and Mrs. Hazel Caldwell.

March 15 was the date chosen for a general discussion of the proposal. All Senior Citizens are invited to attend at the Lutheran Parish Hall at 8 p.m. The purpose of this meeting is to find out what the group really wants by way of interesting, entertaining things to do. All of this effort has grown from the questionnaire which many of you filled out in November. Smaller forms were distributed at the churches on Sunday, March 6, so some idea of the numbers wishing to come to this meeting could be secured. This will help the ladies who volunteered to work on the refreshment committee.

All Senior Citizens are encouraged to attend whether you have completed the forms or not. This is not a statistical survey, only a gauge of the interest here in town. Incidentally, Emmitsburgians were by far the most responsive group in the whole of Frederick County. We love your spirit and interest. Show some more by being at the Lutheran Parish Hall on Tuesday evening, March 15, at 8 p.m. In case you do not have transportation and need it, don't stay home. Call Mr. Clarence Frailey at his home. He volunteered to organize car pools as needs are expressed. It will be a pleasure for him and his committee to help you attend this meeting.

This first meeting will be a warm-up, get-acquainted session. There will be a brief explanation of the Commission on Aging and what its function can be in Emmitsburg. Then there will be some small group discussions of ideas for entertainment, hobbies or just whatever you would like. Because this is a party, there will be refreshments, too. These have been donated by some of the many generous town people. Pass the word around to your friends so they won't miss the fun of being in at the very beginning. See you on Tuesday, March 15, at the Lutheran Parish Hall, at 8 p.m.

Fire Co. Admits New Members

Three fires and 12 service calls during the past month were reported at the regular meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. held Tuesday evening in the Fire Hall, presided over by President Jeff Fitzgerald. Fire Chief Guy R. McGlaughlin made the report.

Chief Guy McGlaughlin and Assistant Chief Charles Stouter reported a booster tank had been installed in Unit 63 and one beacon ray on Unit 69. Chief McGlaughlin gave a report on the recent shrimp feast and said it was a grand social success.

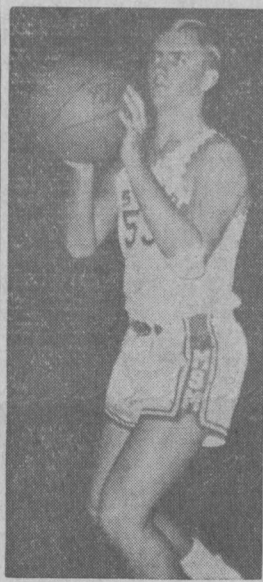

New members admitted and placed on the active list were Michael Orndorff and Charles W. Weidner, Jr. Two others were proposed and will be voted on at the next regular meeting. President Fitzgerald announced the appointment of Dr. George W. Green as the company's public relations director. The refreshment committee for the next meeting will be Harry J. Green and Roland Sanders. The president also announced that eight of the company's members had taken the basic training course offered by the University of Maryland. They were: John Balmer, Robert Rosensteel, Patrick Zimmerman, Herbert Click, Donald Byard, Donald Shorb, James Grindler and Robert Wagaman.

Mr. Martin T. Golibart, director of development at Mount Saint Mary's, has returned from an extensive trip contacting alumni in the Florida area.

Knights Of Columbus Basketball Tournament Hailed Success

St. Mary's High School of Annapolis broke a close game wide open in the third period to whip St. Maria Goretti of Hagerstown, 47-38, and win the Knights of Columbus Small Catholic High School basketball tournament held at Mt. St. Mary's College, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Eight schools were entered into the event sponsored by Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, Emmitsburg.

Following the final game Sunday afternoon, trophies were awarded the players, an all-star team selected and most valuable player award made. Father James Delaney, tournament director, handled the awarding of the trophies, assisted by these individuals: Lumen F. Norris presented the Veterans of Foreign Wars Trophy; Charles B. Harner, the Francis X. Elder American Legion Post Trophy, and C. Arthur Elder, the Knights of Columbus Trophy.

Selection of the all-star team evolving from the eight teams in the tournament was made by the following: James Phelan, Mount coach, Thomas Ryan, assistant coach, and John Bailey, director of guidance, Mt. St. Mary's College.

The all-star team named was: Dave Kieffer, St. Mary's; Kevin Kimball, St. Mary's; Paul Minetti, Sacred Heart; Jack Moran, St. Maria Goretti's, and Don Fazio, St. Francis Prep.

St. Mary's, led by Dave Kieffer, later chosen Most Valuable Player of the tournament, grabbed an early lead after the first quarter, but saw its margin reduced to two by the Gaels by halftime.

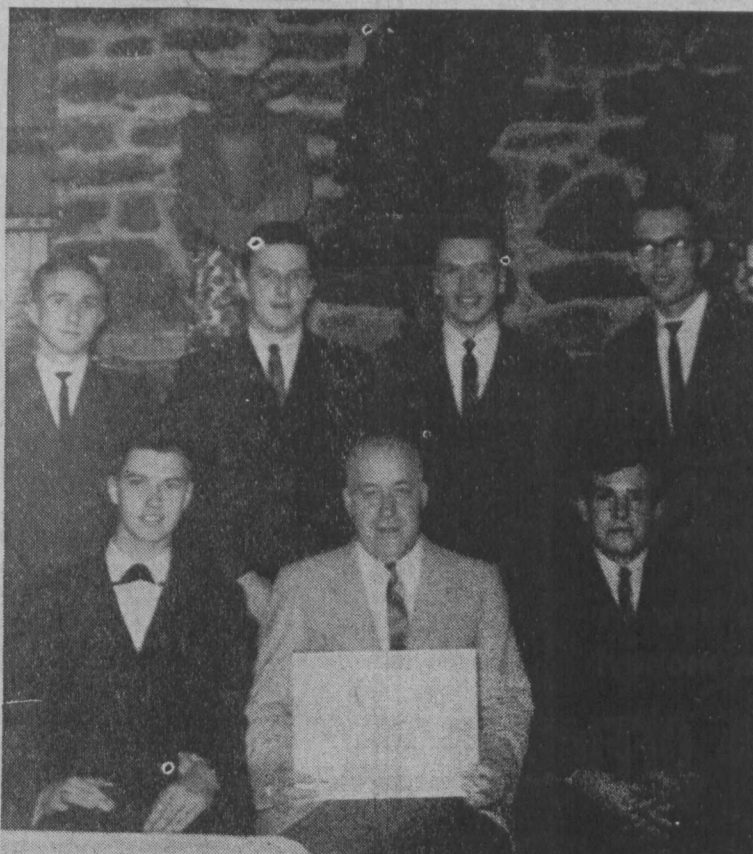

In the third quarter, however, the Saints broke the game wide open on the scoring of Kieffer and Kevin Kimball.

Nick Fell led the Gaels' efforts with 13 points. Kieffer scored 15 points and Kimball added 14.

Marty Williams of St. Joseph's and all-area Riek Hassett of St. John's of Frederick were the only county teams to place men on the tournament team. Both were named to the second all-tourney squad.

On the second team, Hassett and Williams were joined by Jim Scully of St. St. John's of Westminster, Steve Corrich of St. Mary's and Bill Campbell of St. Mary's.

There are more than 200 zoonoses which are the cause of illness in humans or animals, Dr. Crawford points out, but fortunately only a few of these diseases occur in Maryland.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

The Emmitsburg Chronicle, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. Clip and save for future reference.

Questions And Answers

Q. My mother owns her own home but is physically unable to work. Her entire income is $370.00 per year, which mostly goes for upkeep on the home. I live with my mother and contribute over $750.00 yearly toward her support. Can I claim her as a dependent?

A. You may claim a dependency exemption for your mother only if you furnished over half of her support during the year. In computing how much you contributed toward your mother's support, you must deduct from the $750.00 the fair rental value of the lodging which your mother furnished to you in her home. You must also consider that your mother contributed to her own support in the form of lodging. The fair rental value of the lodging which she furnished to herself must be considered in determining whether you furnished more than half of her support.

Q. I just worked out my income tax and I find that despite withholding I still owe almost $100. Can I pay this off in installments?

A. No, any tax due must be paid when the return is filed. One way to avoid this situation in the future is to increase the amount of income tax withheld from your wages. Quarterly payments of estimated tax will also avoid large balances due when it comes time to file.

Q. Where do I get all the forms that the tax return calls for? I need the one for moving expenses and the one for business expenses.

A. These and other forms may be obtained at your local IRS office or by writing your District Director. Ask for Form 2106, "Statement of Employee Business Expenses" and Form 3903, "Moving Expense Adjustment." In many cases, forms are available at banks and post offices.

Q. Is the 2 per cent dividend credit still in effect?

A. No. The 1964 tax law eliminated any credit for dividends received after December 31, 1964. However, the first $100 or ordinary dividends paid to you by qualifying corporations, is not taxable.

Q. Are tuition and other costs for my son's parochial school a deductible item?

A. No. The tax law does not allow a deduction for these educational expenses.

Q. My husband left me and I don't know where he is. What should I do about a tax return? I have my own W-2.

A. File a separate return until your marital status is cleared up.

Q. I'm itemizing my deductions and want to claim the amount of interest included in the carrying charges on my charge accounts. How do I do that?

A. To determine your interest charges where they are not stated separately from carrying charges, add up all your monthly unpaid balances as noted on each of your monthly statements. Divide this total by 12 and then take 6 per cent of the result.

Your interest deduction will be the lesser of that figure or the portion of the total carrying charge allocable to the year. To determine that portion, divide the carrying charge by the total number of monthly payments and then multiply the result by the number of months in the tax year.

Q. I just moved and am not sure where I should file my return. My old district office has a record of my estimated tax payments. Should I file there or with my new district office?

A. File the return with the district director serving you now. On line 17b, page 1 of your return, print the district where your estimated tax was paid.

For further information contact your local Internal Revenue Service office.

Read Genesis 19:15-26; Psalm 15.
God rescued Lot, who was a good man, shocked by the dissolute habits of the lawless society in which he lived. . . . The Lord is well able to rescue the godly out of trials. (II Peter 2:7-9, NEB).

Compared to Abraham, Lot was a poor example of a godly man. Lot chose the rich land, the Jordan Valley, and finally settled down in the wicked city of Sodom. Because of the bad company surrounding him, he was exposed to immoral acts and had his life threatened. Sinful surroundings left their impression and tainted the former companion of faithful Abraham.

Lot barely escaped the judgment and doom suffered by his relatives and neighbors. What saved him and reinstated him into God's favor was that his soul was vexed at the wickedness all around him.

No matter how deep we have advanced into sin, how steep we may have fallen, there remains hope for us. Once we become sickened by sin, deplore our condition, turn our backs to all evil, and put faith in Christ as Savior, then God can reclaim us.

Prayer

O God, may we turn away from sin and turn to Christ as our only hope of salvation. Grant us repentance, faith and eternal life. We ask in the Redeemer's name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

No matter how sin-stained we are, we can become justified thru Christ.

What The Public Wants

It appears that many leaders in Congress and the federal government are dedicated to the proposition that whatever the public wants, that it may have. President Johnson, being an avid reader of the polls, is said to lean in that direction. If this dependence upon the sampling of public opinion is to become such a significant factor in the development of public policy, it should also follow that whatever the public does not want should be dropped like the customary hot potato just as soon as the percentages are available.

So far, this principle has never been applied with regard to the right-to-work question, in the drive of labor's bosses to repeal the Taft-Hartley provision giving states the right to ban compulsory union membership. Nobody's poll, to our knowledge, has ever come up with anything resembling a consensus for repeal. Repeated efforts to sample opinion have shown disfavor for repeal, yet the President and certain Congressional leaders insist on another trip for the repealer through Congress. Predictions are, as this is written, that it will fail in the Senate again.

Re-education Needed

If it does, it may reappear as a plank in future party platforms for as long as labor's leaders want to push it. It will remain a good case example of special interest legislation, proposed for political reasons and renewed annually to enable labor's lobbyists to keep Congress on its toes. These lobbyists can also throw up Section 14b to any Congressman who doesn't want to go along with more unemployment pay, higher minimum wages, or shortened working hours. The public, we hope, will become more aware of these wheelings and dealings.

There are hopeful signs that this may come about. In the most recent Opinion Research Corporation study of public attitudes toward the right to work issue, repeal of Section 14b was placed well down in a list of bread-and-butter issues to which the public thinks unions should give their attention. If labor leaders take their cue from this, there will be more attention given in their education programs and their periodicals to individual freedoms and responsibilities, along with the principles of group action. The principle of voluntary union membership seems to belong to the grain and fabric of our free society.

Strong Labor Support

The ORC opinion study presented the right to work question to the public as a series of issues stated in different patterns. The very lowest level of public approval was found as 56 per cent for and 21 per cent against right to work laws for the home state. When the question was put whether companies should not be permitted to fire workers who refuse to join unions, 70 per cent were for that. Other statements of the issue, including preference for "free choice" argument, showed support for right to work laws by not less than 60 per cent of the public.

Senator Dirksen, who is in the forefront of the battle to retain right to work, reported recently on his findings at grassroots during the Congressional recess. The reaction against repeal, he said, was "absolutely overwhelming" in every section of the country that he visited. He found that union members look upon such laws as a way to discipline union officers. A union member who does not like the way things are run has a tremendous weapon when he can offer to turn in his union card. Thus, many were saying: "We have a good local, and the reason is that we have 14b."

Principles Involved

On the other hand, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, has assumed that all of labor wants Section 14b repealed. He is probably right that nearly every official wants to collect toll from everybody at the plant. Mr. Meany complained to the press recently that the Senate filibuster against repeal was denying lawmakers the right to vote, endangering democratic government. It seems he neglected to mention the right to work as basic in our society, for the union shop leaves no choice at all to the man who does not wish to join a union. He can either join or quit his job.

There seems to be something basic here regarding individual freedom. The public, seems to be wiser than the union hierarchy and more responsive to the basic tenets of our free society. What now remains is for the responsible leadership of America—in labor, government, and politics—to get with it.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Spring puts the zing in bass fishing, because its' that magical times of year when the largest fish are caught. And there are but two things you must know to catch these lunkers: 1) how to find them and 2) how to fool them.

Some fishermen believe big bass are where you find them. Well, after you've found one that's true. But there are methods that will keep you fishing where big bass are known to be, and thus increase your chances of catching them.

The primary item to consider is, how early can you start bass fishing? Some will tell you, right after the ice leaves the lakes. Others will tell you, when the water temperature reaches 55 to 62 degrees.

When water temperature falls below 55 degrees, the metabolism of the bass declines in proportion. "The lower it drops, the more torpid becomes the bass, until virtually all need for feeding ceases to exist," points out Homer Circle, Special Features Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. But at 55 degrees, the water is as compatible to a bass as 85-degree bath water is to you. And at 55 degrees or more, bass start looking for a place to spawn.

Spawning areas are easier to locate in lakes than in streams. One way is to observe the shore surface: where you see a rocky or gravelly terrain, then the lake bottom should be rocky or gravelly also. The other way is to slowly cruise the shoreline, looking for those telltale light, circular spots in three to four feet of water. These are bass beds which the male makes by fanning his tail and sweeping always the silt, right down to gravel or rocks.

Such areas are your primary targets. Secondary areas would be shallow bays with stumps, or weed beds just beginning to show signs of growth. This is where the bass will come for its food, between periods of love-nest construction.

The general rule for fishing in early spring is—slow and deep. This calls for lures like the jig, or jig-and-worm combinations; spoons; weighted spinners; buck-tails and pork eels. These can be retrieved so slowly they'll nudge the bottom, and that's deadly at times.

Hyman Pressman To Seek Governor's Office

The following statement was issued by Hyman Pressman, Comptroller of the City of Baltimore, concerning his position on running for Governor of the State of Maryland:

Many citizens have urged me to run for Governor, telling me that I am needed to solve important state problems such as excessive taxation, crime on the streets, etc. Some have urged me to run for the Republican nomination, while others have urged me to run for the Democratic nomination.

I consider this a call to duty and I am answering the call but I have decided that I can do this most effectively by becoming an independent candidate by the petition of 5,000 voters. In this way, I will not be obligated to the Democratic Party, the Republican Party, any political machine or any special interest groups. I will be a People's Candidate for Governor. My only obligation will be to the people.

When I am elected, I will have no political obligations except to all the people who elected me. I will not have to pay off any political machines, political bosses or heavy campaign contributions. For the first time in Maryland, we will have a Governor who has no special interests to serve and who will be free to serve the public without favoritism and in fairness to all.

My election appeal will be made directly to the rank and file. This includes the rank and file of both parties, the wage-earner, the business man, the farmer, the housewife, and the taxpayer. In other words, I will not try to reach the people through any bosses. This is the day and age when the average voter thinks for himself rather than to let some boss do his thinking for him. During the course of the campaign, I will discuss all the issues in due course and at meaningful times.

I promise a vigorous administration, eliminating waste and inefficiency in government, protecting the rights of the little guy, with fairness and equality for all, regardless of their size or position. HYMAN A. PRESSMAN, Comptroller of Baltimore City

Kelso Wears Mink

As befits a winner of nearly $2,000,000 in purses, Kelso wears a mink cribbing strap but, with modesty equally befitting a Thoroughbred, he wears it only in the privacy of his home at Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Woodstock Farm, Chesapeake City, Maryland.

ber is therefore fitted with a sort of choker which inhibits his air sucking.

Kelso's fancy cribbing strap was a gift from Mrs. John Butler, who owns a few horses of her own. Mrs. Butler was visiting Kelso at the farm one day and noticed that he wore an old sheepskin-covered cribbing strap. She asked Trainer Carl Hanford if he had another and, perhaps thinking the visitor needed it for one of her own Thoroughbreds, Hanford obliged. Mrs. Butler took it forthwith to a New York furrier and had it reproduced in gray mink with a gold buckle and strap to match the Bohemia Stable colors of gray and yellow. It was a while before Kelso received his gift. Mrs. Butler explained "It was no problem for the furrier and getting the gray mink was easy but he had a problem finding the yellow leather."

Variable Intensity Stoplight Cautions Following Motorists

Stoplights glow red when the driver in front of you applies the brakes, but is he merely slowing down a bit or jamming into a tire-screaming panic stop that can involve you? You can't tell. Present brakelights systems do not provide enough warning information, but one designed by a Purdue University student does. It's a stoplight of variable intensity; the harder you push the brake pedal, the brighter and more urgent is the signal flashed to following motorists.

Compounds effective against tumors in mice and human cancer cells in test tubes are being derived from plants used for thousands of years in folk medicine. Extracts of milkweed, dogbane and

An intensified study of very small earthquakes by Columbia University's Lamont Geological Observatory may provide methods of predicting more accurately the occurrence of larger destructive earth tremors. The tiny shocks, too small to be felt by man, are called "microearthquakes" or "ultramicroearthquakes." Their importance lies in their high rate of occurrence. A test near Palmer, Alaska revealed about 700 very small shocks daily.

Isolation and electricity help prevent corrosion in underground high-pressure piping, according to Tube Turns, Louisville. Sections of piping layouts are isolated, as far as electric current is concerned, by use of insulated joints. Direct current is then applied to make the buried pipe negative electrically to the surrounding earth. This reverses ever-present anodic currents and arrests damage that takes place if the corrosive currents go unchecked.

HE AND HIS SHADOW

Huge Hybrids

These award-winning pansies are the Giant Majestic mixture. The bloom at the bottom, right, is Majestic White with Blotch, a white and purple variety which also won a prize for 1966.

There are pansies — and then again there are the new hybrid pansies. Because of these newcomers you can forget all your ideas of how tall pansy plants grow, how large their flowers are and how long they bloom. The hybrids make all this knowledge obsolete.

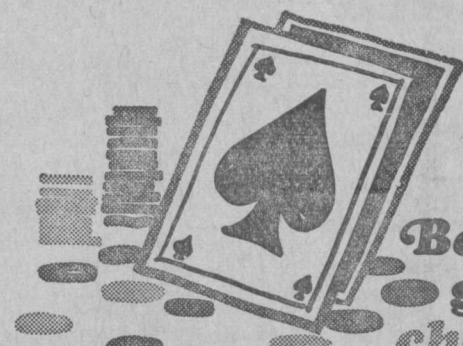

The hot summer weather doesn't mean a thing to hybrid pansies. They keep right on flowering even if spent blooms are not picked. They produce truly enormous blooms, three inches and more across, and there is a continuous succession of them opening on plants up to 7 inches tall.

For the first time in history pansies may be recommended for use as bedding plants, to bloom during summer just as do other more widely grown annuals.

With these facts in mind you will readily understand why two of the All-America Selections awards were given to hybrid pansies. One was presented for a mixture called Giant Majestic which contains many flower colors. The other was given to an enormous white pansy set off by a central blotch of purple. This variety is sold under the name of Majestic White with Blotch.

You'll have to act fast to have these prize-winning new pansies in your garden this year. Order the seeds immediately from your favorite seedman. Plant them early in the house or in a cold-frame, hotbed or greenhouse. Transplant as soon as soil is workable and then wait for the admiration of your friends and neighbors.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

The deeply religious Portuguese on certain festival days carry statues of their various patron saints in processions.

This custom may have given rise to the undoubtedly unfounded rumor they will canonize U.S. Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz and carry through their tomato fields a statue of St. Willie, Patron of Portuguese Paste.

But because Wirtz denied labor to California's huge tomato industry, Portugal now sells tomato paste in the U.S. in huge volume.

C. W. Harder

Tomato paste, a concentrated puree, is a most important product. Not only used by many housewives, it is in huge demand from food processors.

But last season, due to Wirtz's interference, the California tomato acreage went down from 143,000 to 116,000. Production dropped from almost 3-1/10 million tons to about 2-1/2 million tons, according to the Cannery League of California; would have dropped further except for most favorable weather.

American food processors were forced to look for other supplies of paste. Portugal is sharing in this bonanza. In all 12 months of 1964 paste imports from Portugal were less than 2 million pounds. In the first six months of the 1965 crop season, the imports exceeded 2-1/2 million pounds, with six months left to go.

Thus, Portugal, alone, may triple sales of tomatoes for dollars further aggravating precarious U.S. balance of trade situation.

The above dwarfs fact California farmers also lost over a million dollars from the unplanted acreage.

But it is doubtful the American housewife will applaud the sanctity of Wirtz, for the price of tomato paste, which has advanced from $8 per case in 1964 to $9.75 currently will increase the price of many processed foods. Thus Wirtz has perhaps done more to increase the cost of living than the aluminum producers would have done.

Next year's prospects also seem good for the Portuguese, and less than good for the housewife. Building is being rushed on tomato picking machines with 600 expected in operation next season, or about twice the number used in the 1965 season. The machines apparently can handle 80 to 100 acres per season, so prospects are that plantings will be held down to the capacity of the available machines. The smaller planter, unable to afford a machine, will be forced out.

So, what was gained. Cost of living goes up, more dollars go overseas, American farmers take a loss, cannery workers lose income, more small farmers are forced out. All this for what purpose. Merely to hold jobs open for people, who when the need for them was critical, refused to take the jobs. And now, through automation, opportunities for these jobs themselves disappear.

Could this possibly be the way to build a great society?

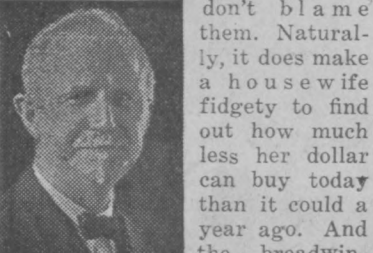

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON'S Point Of View On:
Rising Living Costs

BABSON PARK, Mass., Mar. 10—Lots of people are nervous about price inflation, and we don't blame them. Naturally, it does make a housewife fidgety to find out how much less her dollar can buy today than it could a year ago. And the breadwinner himself—while his income is probably moving up somewhat—notices how much more he has to pay for household goods and services to maintain a decent standard of living.

No End In Sight

To speak very frankly, the "creeping" price inflation that has been going on for so many years shows absolutely no signs of reversing itself. Consumer prices for December chalked up their sharpest advance for the month of report in fifteen years. Goods and services for January cost 2% more than they did on average, only twelve months ago; and this is no small fractional nudge.

The base period used by the Labor Department is 1957-1959. If a typical city family measured what it was able to buy for $10 during that base period, it would find the same purchases now costing $11.10. Another way of looking at it: For the five years 1960-1964, the average annual increase of consumer prices was 1.3%. But during 1965 the figure pushed ahead to 1.7%. While the difference may seem small, the important fact is that despite a pause in January, the upward trend is still strong—and the upside pressures are increasing.

Even Government Is Wary

Although the White House is eager to hold prices in check so they will not explode into runaway inflation, there is only tentative official optimism about the future. The Labor Department has come right out and admitted that consumer prices are likely to increase even more in 1966 than they did in 1965. There is not really too much encouragement in the cautious prediction that the rate of gain is going to advance more in 1966, "but not much more". There is, of course, no way of telling when an inflationary blow-off might suddenly dislocate our basic economy. If such a thing should happen, the inevitable result would be violent deflation.

Probably the greatest danger lies in the possible emergence of a speculative psychology, the sort of thing that happened in the first year of the Korean War. Fortunately, there are vast differences between that time and the present. When the trouble broke out in Korea, our plant capacity was pitifully inadequate to produce the needed volume of both guns and butter. The result was a real buyers' rush for goods that drove the consumer price index up a spectacular 9% within twelve months.

Voluntary Restraints . . .

Or Compulsory?

Currently, our production of both military and civilian goods is miles ahead of any other in our history. In fact, it is not far from capacity. Hence, it is to be hoped that speculative consumer buying will not be so frenzied that it will drive prices radically higher. Labor Department experts do expect to see the greatest concentration of price gains this year in those items that led the list in 1965: Food, shoes, medical attention, transportation, home maintenance, auto insurance, gasoline, and tobacco products, — which make up a big part of the home budget.

The Administration continues to plead for voluntary restraints on both prices and wages. Consumers and manufacturers are asked to avoid piling up top-heavy inventories that might tilt the marketplace. It is obvious that many of the government's economic advisors would truly like to avoid compulsory curbs on prices and pay rates. Chances are they may be able to avoid them unless some huge escalation of the Vietnam struggle darkens the picture. If it does, controls will be tried.

Important Item Omitted

But, while government officials hammer away at the necessity of avoiding price and wage increases, they seem to forget that their own actions compound the problem. The price of government at all levels is soaring year by year. So why not include the price of political administration in the Department of Labor's Consumer Price Index?

NEW SOVIET "DISCOVERY" ?!

NEW YORK — Latest reports from Russia are that the government wants Soviet women to make themselves prettier. They can still sweep the streets and man the bulldozers, but beauty care now is not only in order, it is an order, and "snow facials" are set forth as "the first essential step. In fact, in an effort to catch up, and match up with Western beauty, Soviet officialdom is setting up an Institute of Cosmetology with no less than 300 skin specialists doing scientific research on the subject.

The Russian "discovery" of the snow facial comes a bit late, inasmuch as the use of snow and ice are accepted skin beauty treatments which have been used for years in beauty salons throughout the United States and Europe.

Cofax Laboratories, a division of Shulton Inc., says American scientists are well ahead of Soviet scientists (in this, as in other areas) with the development of a new kind of "ice-o-derm" treatment for the skin, which offers all the inherent beauty benefits of snow and ice, plus special healing and antiseptic qualities.

American women are much luckier than their Russian counterparts, for they do not have to queue up at a government Beauty Institute, or trek North where ice and snow abound, or even check into a beauty salon for an icy facial, for the new discovery is now available to the public and may be used right at home!

Tetanus

With the coming of spring and a return to gardening and other out-of-doors activities, the risk of tetanus increases.

For several years the American Medical Association and many state and county medical societies have carried on continuing campaigns to urge the American public to protect itself against this very serious disease.

Tetanus — commonly known as lockjaw — need not happen. By means of immunization, tetanus is almost entirely preventable.

The tetanus spores can be found in the cultivated soils of most areas of the United States. They can be picked up by plants or animals, and introduced into the victims' body by something as inconsequential as the scratch of a thorn or an insect bite.

While millions of babies and members of the armed forces have been inoculated against tetanus, the fact remains that about three-fourths of the adult population is lacking in immunity. The protection offered by immunization wears off after a few years and must be re-established by booster shots, which most people fail to get.

Once they enter the body, tetanus spores "hatch" into microscopic bacteria, which begin to multiply. In the process they liberate one of the deadliest of all poisons which attacks the nerve centers, causing convulsions and muscle spasms—some so severe that victims have been known to fracture a vertebra.

Usually the first nerves affected are those of the head and neck which control the chewing muscles. These turn rigid with spasm, giving the disease its familiar name—lockjaw.

In a clean, free-bleeding cut tetanus spores usually are washed out. Or they do sprout into bacteria, the microorganisms may be destroyed by the oxygen in the blood. But when blood flow is slight, or when the spores are insulated by imbedded dirt and debris, the tetanus bacteria may gain a deadly foothold within the body. This is because tetanus bacteria thrive in the absence of air.

No drug can halt a full-blown case, and about 60 per cent of those stricken die.

Protection by immunization should be started early—one and a half to two months after birth—for the scrapes and falls of childhood offer tetanus many opportunities. In children, as well as adults, immunity is initiated by a series of three shots, spaced over eight weeks, and followed by a booster dose within six to twelve months. Immunity is maintained by boosters every five years.

LEGAL

BLANCHE L. FRITZ Mt. Airy (Frederick County) Complainant

vs. RONALD L. FRITZ Chambersburg, Pennsylvania Defendant

NO. 21,234 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, IN EQUITY.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION The object of this proceeding is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATROMINII from the Defendant, Roland L. Fritz, and for such other and further relief as the nature of the case may require.

The Bill states in substance, that the Plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, and has been so for more than one year last past; while the Defendant is believed to be a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and that his last known whereabouts was in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania; that your Complainant was married to the Defendant at Frederick, Maryland, on August 23, 1952, by a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage, no child or children were born nor any expected; the Bill further alleges that ever since the said marriage the Complainant has always conducted herself as a kind, chaste, dutiful and affectionate wife towards the said Defendant; and that the Defendant, Roland L. Fritz, between the time of the said marriage and the filing of the Bill of Complaint, abandoned and deserted the Complainant and that such abandonment and desertion has continued uninterruptedly for at least eight months prior to the filing of the Bill of Complaint and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties to this cause is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, to all of which the Affidavit is made.

It is thereupon this 25th day of February, 1966, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four (4) successive weeks prior to the 2nd day of April, 1966, in the "Emmitsburg Chronicle," Emmitsburg, Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the Defendant, Roland L. Fritz, of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint and warning him to be and appear in this Court either in person or by Solicitor on or before the 3rd day of May, 1966, to show cause, if any he has, why the relief sought should not be granted.

"If you have reached 65 and are not receiving social security or railroad retirement benefits, and have not signed up for Medicare, now is the time for action," W. S. King, Social Security District Manager in Hagerstown, stated today.

He explained that almost every older person in the Nation is eligible for health insurance under the new law passed by Congress last year. "The major part of hospital charges and doctor bills will be paid for those people 65 or older who sign up for the health protection," he said. The deadline for filing is March 31.

Shenandoah Opener March 18

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va.—Two major improvements have been completed in the Shenandoah Downs plant for the spring opening March 18, earliest in the night track's eight-year history.

A complete redecorating job has been done in the Starlight Terrace dining room, changing the color scheme to red, gold and tangerine, and the grandstand betting mezzanine has been air conditioned.

Shenandoah will race 67 nights, closing June 4. Post time will be 7:15, and this area's pioneer night track will offer twin double wagering.

The Starlight Terrace, a tiered restaurant overlooking the finish line, has been completely revamped. White and off-white walls, new red carpeting on the floors, tangerine chairs, and gold tablecloths are the centers of color.

The grandstand betting mezzanine, completed in 1965 at a cost of more than $100,000, has been air conditioned for the summer racing. The mezzanine puts added mutual windows, lounges and refreshment stands within a few steps of the more than 3000 grandstand seats.

Nab Driver After Wild Chase

The decision of Cumberland Twp., Pa. Policeman Bernard V. Miller, Sr. early Wednesday morning to notify a motorist that a taillight on his vehicle was not operating led to a 40-mile chase at speeds of over 100 miles per hour, and arrest of a Gettysburg man on a charge of stealing a car.

Officer Miller, on a regular patrol at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, was about to enter the Mummasburg Rd. from a side road near town when he saw a car headed north on the Mummasburg Rd. One of the rear lights of the auto was not operating and Miller decided to notify the operator so he could get it fixed later in the day.

As the officer's car entered the Mummasburg Rd. and started gaining on the vehicle ahead, the motorist "apparently pushed the accelerator to the floor," Miller said, and started north on the Mummasburg Rd. at a high rate of speed. Miller gave chase, and at the same time radioed to the Quick Call Center in Gettysburg, the auto's license number. When he did so, he found Gettysburg police were looking for a car stolen from Albert A. Coscia Jr., 22½ Chambersburg St., and the license number was that of Coscia's car. It was taken from a mid-town parking lot.

The chase continued across a road to the Biglerville Rd., thru Biglerville to Center Mills, then to Gardners and Aspers. There the chase went around and thru the Ducey-Mott plant area with the driver ahead breaking three chains placed across private drives.

At Aspers, Miller radioed again to the Quick Call and Biglerville

Auxiliary Policemen Dale Guise and Sterling Roth went to the square in Biglerville to set up a roadblock. The stolen car, with Miller in pursuit, sped through Biglerville, through the roadblock, and toward Arendtsville.

From Arendtsville the chase led through Beecherstown, then into an orchard where the stolen car, driven by Miller, was not wishing to wreck his own vehicle, followed more slowly through the trees. When he neared the other car, he saw the driver running from the stolen vehicle. Miller followed on foot.

About 5:30 in the morning, the Cumberland Twp. policeman located a man hiding in a barn and learned he was the driver of the stolen car. Miller, identifying the man as George E. Wagerman, 20 of W. Middle St., Gettysburg, placed him in jail while he brought charges of speeding in excess of 100 miles per hour, stealing a car, reckless driving and operating without an operator's license against Wagerman before Cumberland Twp. Justice of the Peace George Lambert.

Lenten Services Well Attended

The strength of a United Protestant Witness was demonstrated in Emmitsburg in a real way on Wednesday evening, March 2, when Incarnation United Church of Christ was filled with worshippers from all five Protestant Churches of the Emmitsburg area. Incarnation served as the host church for the first Community Mid-Week Lenten Service this year which was in the form of a Union Communion Service. With an attendance of 134 (including children) there were 121 worshippers who celebrated The Lord's Supper around a common table as our unity in Christ was demonstrated in a tangible way. All three pastors who serve the churches of the community participated in distributing the elements.

Bread and wine to the communicants. The host pastor, John C. Chatlos, presided at the service, while the Rev. Martin A. Case, Pastor of the Thurmont Methodist Church, assisted Pastor Chatlos with the communion liturgy. Mr. Case led the congregation in the Prayer of Consecration of the Elements. The Rev. W. Ronald Fearer, Pastor of Elias Lutheran Church, read the scripture lesson and preached the sermon of the evening. His sermon topic was "The Lord's Supper." Mr. Fearer also led the congregation in the Statement of Faith of The United Church of Christ. Mr. Harry Swomley, Jr., one of the elders of Incarnation Church, assisted the pastors with the communion. The four men who served as ushers were: Allen J. Crouse, Eric E. Glass, D. Frank Harman, Sr., and Alvey A. Kline.

This venture is the first Union Communion Service in the history of Emmitsburg. The five participating churches were: Elias Lutheran Church, Trinity and Tom's Creek Methodist Churches, The United Presbyterian Church, and Incarnation United Church of Christ.

The second Community Lenten Service of this series was at The United Presbyterian Church on March 9th when Pastor Chatlos preached on the theme: "Greed and Crowd Rule Crucify Christ." The Rev. W. Ronald Fearer is scheduled to preach at the service on March 16 at Trinity Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. His sermon theme will be on the Indifference and False Religionists who contributed to the Crucifixion of our Lord.

The fourth Community Lenten Service will be at Tom's Creek Methodist Church on March 23 with the Rev. Martin A. Case preaching the sermon. He will deal with the subject of the Roles of Blind Militarism and Shady Politicians in the Crucifixion of Jesus Christ then and now. The general theme of this series of Community Lenten Services is "They Crucified and Crucify."

The March 30th service will be at Elias Lutheran Church when one of the best current sound-movie films on the Passion and The Resurrection of Christ will be shown. The name of this full-length movie is "The Day of Triumph." This service is scheduled for 7:00 p.m.

The Community Good Friday Service this year will be at 2 p.m. on April 8 at Trinity Methodist Church with "The Seven Words of Christ from the Cross" as its theme.

It is anticipated that each of these Community Lenten Services will be well attended by members of the respective Protestant Churches of the Greater Emmitsburg area. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.
