BY ABIGAIL

Dear Abigail:

My congratulations to Mr. Elder (your hard-fighting Editor), to Mr. McGucken and to other fine citizens of Emmitsburg and Frederick County who waged such a determined crusade to get some remedial action on the hazardous stretch of Rt. 15, near Emmitsburg. Going through every channel, and finally their direct appeal to the Governor himself, armed with a powerful signed petition—their persistence, long hue and cry have obviously finally paid off.

As a former Emmitsburgian who is still a resident of the State, though rather far removed from the Rt. 15 scene, perhaps I need no longer shudder when the radio, newspaper and T.V. media give their news reports. This kind of widespread news coverage Emmitsburg can well do without! I have always felt great pride in Emmitsburg. It is famed for its two fine colleges, its own historic background as well as its nearness to the Civil War Battlefield at Gettysburg, plus the fact it was the home of Mother Seton whose canonization as a Saint appears imminent. I never dreamed that this beautiful section of Maryland would become infamous as a horrible, murderous area whose very name connotes tragedy to people everywhere. Not only were the lives of all Maryland residents who travelled this area endangered, so also were people from every State in the Union, who, driving along blissfully, were completely unaware that this beautiful countryside could suddenly become their funeral grounds. Twenty-one deaths in about fourteen months on a two mile stretch in this day and age, with modern man's ingenuity, doesn't make sense. I doubt very much that this record could have been matched in Emmitsburg's early history when travellers were ambushed by wild, native Indians in the same two mile area!

Again, my congratulations to Mr. Elder et al for their justifiable indignation, their persistence, their conscientious and humanitarian efforts! I read in my city paper that Governor Tawes was appalled at the tragic statistics and well he should be! We Marylanders are following with great interest the remedial action Gov. Tawes is taking. Certainly our State taxes are being recklessly spent if construction of this Rt. 15 road is a sample of what our State Roads Commission considers good engineering. . . . Perhaps a few heads will roll, which in my estimation, would only be fitting because twenty-one deaths are a horrendous price to pay for what definitely appears to be a mockery of modern engineering.

And now for a change of pace I must tell you that the 'new look' of the Chronicle, replete with its fine photographic work, excellent, up to the minute reporting, etc., is Great! Certainly the former Editor, the late John D. Elder would, I'm sure, be proud that his son is carrying on in the best tradition the work he started many years ago. In our opinion, it's the best, most modern weekly newspaper in the State, bar none! You should be proud to be part of it, Abigail!

Which brings up one final point: I'm sure that, like me, there are others who are curious as to the derivation of the by-line "ABIGAIL", how long the column has been in existence, when it first appeared in the Chronicle, etc. Would you oblige us in some future issue by supplying the history of this column? Of course I know better than to ask who IS, and who HAS been writing under the pseudonym during the years. . . . Somehow, I don't think I really want to know. . . . because the NOT knowing gives it a more interesting, elusive, flavor. A weekly, serial type mystery which challenges us anew with each issue to unmask and identify the writer. Suffice it to say you're doing a fine job, so keep it going, Abigail!

SUNDAY VISITORS?—Above scene shows parked car owned by college student after it was rammed in the rear by a car driven by a Smithsburg minister who apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The mishap occurred Sunday afternoon on West Main St. Struck car bounced into porch of Eyster property tenanted by Hazel Caldwell and Esther Miller.

School Production Seeks Support Of Local Patrons

"The Sound of Music," sponsored by the Senior Class, is the biggest undertaking of this kind in the history of Emmitsburg High School. Due to the great expense of royalty, music rental, costume rentals, stage and scenery costs, and publicity, the cast finds it necessary to ask for patron help to support its endeavor.

Anyone may become a patron for five dollars. For this donation the patron is entitled to have his name printed in the program, two tickets for the performance of his choice, and two reserved seats in the choice section of the auditorium.

Everyone concerned with the musical has been putting in many hours of hard work to make it an outstanding performance. There are two things beyond their control which will make this production a huge success: your immediate support as a patron, and your help in filling the auditorium for the April 22 and 23 performances.

Anyone who wishes to become a patron or purchase tickets may contact any member of the cast. Tickets will also be on sale at Crouse's Store.

Card Party

Family recreation was stressed as important because through this interests are born.

Mrs. Victor Fiery, International Relations Leader, talked on "Penalties For Friendship," a project of the Associated Country Women of the World.

It was announced there would be an Open House on April 5 at the County Extension Office. The club welcomed Mrs. Jacob Baker into the club as a new member.

Baker, Wachter File For Town Offices

Baker-Wachter "Ticket" Formed

As had been predicted, a race for Town Offices has been developed with the filing this week of two local citizens for the jobs of Mayor and Commissioner.

The local election, scheduled for April 26, became competitive Thursday when Clarence Wachter filed with the Town Clerk for the office of Commissioner. Wachter will oppose incumbent Dr. J. W. Houser who has served six years in that capacity.

Filing at the same time as Wachter, Guy A. Baker, Jr., declared himself, officially, a candidate for the office of Mayor. Incumbent Mayor Ralph F. Irelan, now completing his third year in office, has remained non-committal and has not as yet filed for re-election. Baker has been registrar at Mt. St. Mary's College for the past decade and resides in Emmitt Gardens. He is also a member of numerous local civic organizations and at 34 years of age he could be the youngest Mayor ever elected here.

Wachter, maintenance supervisor at St. Joseph College and Provincial House, resides on North Seton Ave.

Town Clerk Yonnie Baker reported no voter registration activity this week as the deadline for registering nears. The deadline for voter registration is April 15, ten days prior to the Town Election on Tuesday, April 26. Other aspiring candidates must file before April 15. To date there are over 500 registered voters in the Corporation limits.

Lions To Blacktop Race Track

There is a good probability that the Go Kart racing track at the Civic Grounds will be blacktopped this year. Action was taken to pave the track at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday night at Mt. Manor Restaurant.

Estimates place the cost of the improvement at between two and three thousand dollars. A committee was named to make arrangements. President William H. Kelz presided at the meeting. Floyd L. Lewis, the club's newest member, was inducted into the organization.

The club voted a $5 donation to the Cancer Fund and $5 to the Md. Society of Crippled Children. President Kelz named Eugene Sappington as a member of the Frederick County Committee for Education. One pair of eyeglasses was authorized for a local indigent child.

President Kelz appointed the following nominating committee: Charles F. Troxell, Clarence E. Hahn and C. Arthur Elder. The nominations will be presented at the next regular meeting. The president reported that the annual Hospitality Night for District 22-W will be held at the Venice Motel, Hagerstown, on April 23 and a number of Lions are planning to attend the affair. A meeting of the Civic Assn. will be held Monday night at 7 o'clock.

Myers Radio, TV Remodels

Myers Radio, TV & Record Shop, E. Main Street, recently underwent an extensive remodeling and added an additional 640 square feet of floor space.

The establishment was founded in the former Roy Bollinger property ten years ago by Eugene E. Myers and continues under his operation today. This is the second remodeling in the past two years, the proprietor says. About two years ago a new front was added to the building.

The Myers business is exclusive franchise operators for Emmitsburg and Thurmont Districts of General Electric and Sylvania appliances. In addition it sells records, tape recorders, appliances, etc., and operates a complete repair department in the rear of the store.

Hollinger Wins Ford Award

Nearly 500 Ford dealership car and truck salesmen in Ford Division's Washington sales district will be honored for outstanding performance during 1965 at a banquet at the Eastwind in Baltimore, Saturday.

B. L. Crumpton, district sales manager, said a select number of Ford dealership salesmen will be presented a 300-500 Club membership award for "excellent retail sales performance." The Ford 300-500 Club was formed in 1950 to recognize the performance of outstanding Ford salesmen throughout the country.

Mr. Crumpton noted that the average 300-500 Club member sold nearly $500,000 worth of automotive merchandise in 1965 to qualify for the national honor.

John S. Hollinger of Sperry Ford Sales, Emmitsburg, qualified for the 300-500 Club membership.

Governor Signs New Laws For County

Gov. J. Millard Tawes this week signed into law bills to increase the size of the Frederick County school board and to change the county's liquor license laws.

The school bill provides that as of June 1, this year, the Frederick County school board will consist of seven members instead of six. The bill was sponsored by Sen. John A. Derr (R-Frederick).

The liquor bill, sponsored by the entire Frederick County delegation raises the requirements for the issuance of licenses to serve beer and wines in taverns or restaurants. Under the new law, which also becomes effective June 1, these licenses may be issued at the rate of one license for each 1,000 people in an election district, while present law permits one license for each 500 people.

Gov. Tawes also signed two other bills sponsored by the Frederick delegation. They were:

To increase the civil jurisdiction of trial magistrates to include civil cases involving up to $1,000;

and
To permit the county sheriff to appoint up to six members of any volunteer fire company as deputy sheriffs, with full powers of the office.

Irvin Renn Files For Mayor

A. Irvin Renn, president of the Board of County Commissioners, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as Mayor of Frederick City Saturday.

Renn had announced previously for re-election as a county commissioner.

OUR LIBRARY

The selection for this week's article is from the adult collection. "How to get Rich," by J. Paul Getty. The wealthiest billionaire in the world reveals the art of acquiring a fortune and making the most of it once it's yours.

"The Job Hunter," by Allen R. Dodd. The diary of a "lost" year. This is the story of the Job Hunter, the brilliantly presented documentary that exposes one of the most terrifying yet hushed-up problems of the Expense-Account-Age—the desperate plight of a high-salaried executive in his prime, who overnight finds himself unemployed.

"One World Perspective," by Preston E. James. How divided is our world? Many Americans are confused and uneasy to find themselves in a world full of conflicts and challenges. Rapid and apparently chaotic changes are taking place in the way people live, in the systems of values, the attitudes and objectives. But are these changes really chaotic and unpredictable? This book offers a new perspective on what is happening in the world.

"The Golden People," by Paul Gallico. A top ex-sportswriter of the '20s and '30s takes a fond and reminiscent backward look at the super-athletes who were raised to incredible immortality.

"Sky Rangers," by Eloise Engle and Kenneth H. Drummond. Before the United States launched its first satellite, it had to create with the drive and stamina to live in some of the world's worst terrain, many of them in jungles and deserts and swamps, the ability to operate the fantastic new mechanisms, and the devotion to duty that an astronaut can enrust his life to.

The mistake of optimistic people is not in expecting too much of the future, but in exacting too little from the present.—Tyler.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Pound for pound, leopards are probably the strongest of all the big cats. Their strength is astonishing. A leopard will seize by the neck an animal twice his own weight and climb up and down a tree, selecting just the proper crotch in which to tastefully hang his meal so that he may dine in leisure.

A leopard is independent, a loner. Lions often hunt in prides (groups), and they are comfortable among their own kind, being gregarious and family-loving. A leopard may team up with a female, but he apparently does so for reasons other than need of aid in hunting.

Leopards are sly, cunning and wonderfully equipped in every way to cope with varied conditions. If there is game to be had, a leopard has no chow problem. If wild animals are for some reasons scarce, the canny, furtive leopard will set up housekeeping within sound of a village and surreptitiously feast on chickens, dogs, goats and full-grown cattle.

Intelligent and adaptable, the leopard thrives over the widest range of any big cat. He is at home in the subarctic and the tropics. His range includes Africa, the continent of Asia and the vast southeast-Asian archipelago. In the subarctic regions of Siberia and the subarctic and arctic zones of the lofty Himalaya Mountains, he grows a long, warm coat. In the desert or semi-desert regions (where he is equally at ease) his coat is short and suitable for high temperatures. In the lush, moist tropical jungles his coloring reaches its maximum vivid richness.

Leopards invariably are shot close to heavy cover. A wounded one is in said cover (concealment) in a flash. There he usually waits, for that is his general tactic. It is against the white hunter's code—and indeed the law so enjoins—to allow a client to follow a wounded leopard into cover. It is too dangerous. "Other cats usually give warning or some indication of their presence," states John Johnson, Camping Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. An African lion will growl before he charges. The leopard does not. He waits. Patiently, craftily, murderously. When you are within range, he is on you with speed that is indescribable. An attacking leopard is a yellowish ball of fury incarnate.

Your Personal Health

Counting Your Coughs

"Do you cough too much?" It's a question often asked in modern health literature. Your answer might be, "How much is too much?"

To shed some light on the average frequency of coughing, a doctor at the University of Texas sat in on medical lectures for an hour a week over a period of three years and actually counted the coughs of each person present. He came up with a "normal" cough rate of approximately three per person every two hours.

So far so good. But there's another question. How long can a person go on coughing before it's considered "too much?" Doctors already have an answer to that one. According to the American Thoracic Society (the medical section of the National Tuberculosis Association) a cough that persists for a month or more is a chronic cough—one that calls for a doctor's attention.

That's true even if the chronic cough has several cough-free hours each day. It's true if the cough is "just a cigarette cough", or "only in the morning," or "just when I lie down," or "only in the winter." The test of a chronic cough is how long it persists—or, if it goes away, how regularly it comes back.

A chronic cough can signify the presence of asthma, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, tuberculosis, or some other serious Respiratory Disease (RD). Such diseases can be treated if found early enough—and that's why it's important to see your doctor if you cough and keep on coughing.

For more information about coughing, ask your Tuberculosis Association for these free leaflets: "Chronic Cough: the Facts," and "What to Watch For in Coughs, Coughing, Coughers."

Easter Seal Sales Support Center

Last year the Easter Seal Treatment Center broke a record in the number of people receiving therapy. A total of 281 people came to the center for therapy and a total of 4,000 treatments were given, so stated J. Milton Brunk, Chairman of the Frederick Easter Seal Treatment Center. Of the total, 106 crippled children and 175 adults received treatment and other rehabilitation services financed by contributions made during the annual Easter Seal Campaign.

These funds supported medical diagnosis, physical, occupational and speech therapy, residential camping at Greentop and Camp Farlee on the Eastern Shore, the equipment loan closet which includes wheel chairs, walkers, crutches and canes, the purchasing of textbooks used by high school students and other personnel in the medical field when doing special projects in rehabilitation, and counselling parents of brain damaged children and giving them pamphlets or booklets to aid in their understanding of these defects. Ten per cent of the money raised locally is used on the State level for student scholarships in the rehabilitation field; another ten per cent goes to the National Easter Seal Research Foundation for grants to universities and other institutions investigating the causes and prevention of crippling diseases and conditions. Last year, the Easter Seal Campaign from Frederick County netted $8,500 and fees collected during the fiscal year amounted to $5,400, an average of $1.41 per treatment per patient. Thus, one can see that the services offered by the local Easter Seal Center is mainly supported by campaign funds. The generous response of the people of Frederick County to this year's annual Easter Seal Campaign, March 1 to April 10, Easter Sunday, will make these vital services available to all handicapped people of the area.

A footnote to this article is the fact that in eighteen months, our center will be moving into the Frederick Memorial Hospital and will be providing both inpatient and outpatient rehabilitation services so badly needed in our community.

This year's goal is set at the $10,000 mark, according to the campaign chairman, Mr. John A. Skillman. It is the hope of the Easter Seal Society that this amount can be reached so that the additional personnel and equipment needed to carry out the future plans of the center can be obtained.

SPORTING TIPS

Umbrella Blind
Take a discarded umbrella and strip off fabric. Tie a loose-meshed fish net to frames. Weave bits of grass into the net. Now you've a good portable blind. In the field just open umbrella, stick end in ground and crouch under.

No-Rust Hinges
Iron hinges rust quickly when used around water on bait boxes and such. And brass is expensive. Use strips of rubber tire instead. Secure with round-headed brass screws and washers. Tire will bend easily and last long.

Taped

Hunting in foul weather or where hard use may send dirt or straw down the gun's barrel? Place a strip of cellophane tape over the muzzle. First shot blows it harmlessly away.

Ear Plugs

Sneet and trap shooters know that long hours on the firing line can dim hearing ability and cause pain and unpleasantness. Buy special ear plugs to ease the problem or, in a pinch, use filters from filter cigarettes.

Freezer Burn

Freezing experts say this method keeps fish from getting "freezer burn" over a long period of storage. Wrap fish in foil and freeze. Take out and submerge in water, refreeze immediately.

Frozen Milk

Campers freeze milk in cartons for long trips into the bush. Keeps other supplies cold and can be drunk as it thaws. If flavor is flat, blow air bubbles through.

Worm Can

Most popular tip today is to cut the end out of a coffee can and put plastic lids on both ends. Then no matter which end is up, take the lid off the other end where worms are.

off a much larger share of individual and corporate earnings than in earlier years. This has forced the states to adopt sales taxes, often in addition to state income taxes. It has also forced the cities and towns to depend on real estate taxes for the bulk of their revenue.

Why do state and local governments still need further large amounts? Partly because federal fiscal policies have led to higher government cost generally. Partly because there are so many more Americans to provide government services for than there were 30 years ago when our population was only 127 million compared with today's 195 million—an increase of more than 50%. And partly because we are demanding a broader range of services than ever before.

Crisis In Fiscal Responsibility
Obviously, the states and cities will not be able to provide all of the government services requested. Their resources just are not large enough to permit them to follow the paternalistic pattern set by the federal government. But, goaded by special interests, the states and cities do tend to bite off more than they can chew.

There is, fortunately, very little deliberate fiscal mismanagement at state government levels. But there is a good deal of actual mismanagement because the states do not always take the trouble or go to the expense of hiring the best-qualified personnel to handle services and projects involving the expenditure of large sums of money. And there is a very great deal of fiscal irresponsibility in the matter of directing state government policies into channels that will provide real economic growth for all the people.

Higher State Taxes Coming

Costs for police and fire protection, for education, and for health and welfare services are mounting. Hence state and local government costs will certainly be upped further in the years ahead. But many state and local government projects are either ill-planned or unnecessary. A closer watch by citizens on their state houses and city halls would curb such boosts in local spending.

Also, it is very much to the advantage of citizens—especially businessmen—to keep informed as to what is going in in local government. Big business has its lobbyists who often succeed in forestalling heavy imposts on its operations. Small business has its trade associations which also perform good service in this regard. But the average citizen has no such watchdog to look out for his interest and to keep him informed of what's coming up next by the way of new spending and new taxes. He must knuckle under and pay —UNLESS he gets up gumption enough to make his views known and his influence felt.

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On:
Mounting State and Local Taxes
BABSON PARK, Mass., Mar. 31—In a recent column we discussed living costs,—emphasizing the increase in consumer prices that has occurred. Today we give attention to taxes—especially to those levied by state and local governments.

Trend Is Up

Right at the moment, the federal tax burden on individuals and corporations is less than it was a few years ago, in spite of the January increase in social security taxes. But our state and local levies are rising at the rate of about 9% per year. 36 states and the District of Columbia have income taxes. 39 states and the District of Columbia tax retail sales. Virginia is about to collect a 2% sales tax and a 3% limited sales tax becomes effective in Massachusetts April 1.

Mayor Lindsay of New York has attracted national attention by sponsoring a proposal for a graduated income tax on those living or working in that city that would take an amount equal to 50% of what they are paying in taxes to the state of New York. It is not widely known that 10 American cities already have municipal income taxes—among them Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis.

Why So Much Need?

For the most part, the need of the states and cities for additional revenue is pressing. Since World War II, the federal government has been siphoning

Looking Ahead

By Dr. George S. Benson
PRESIDENT-NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

We Cannot Ignore History—And Survive

When a three year-old child sticks his finger into a flame he learns a harsh lesson. Usually he remembers it. When a man trusts a friend and is betrayed it is unlikely he will be fooled again. The child and the man have learned from personal experience. There is no better teacher. Yet, in our disturbing world of today, our nation—its governmental leadership—seldom acts upon the lessons of experience, the record of history. And the people themselves, when cast in the role of "public opinion" or "the electorate," have a very short memory indeed.

National events, after a quick reading in the daily paper or a viewing on TV, fade into oblivion. The grocery budget, son John's college tuition or daughter Mary's love affair, and the party coming up Saturday night, are the centers of attention. National and international affairs? Of serious, continuing concern to only a few. Yet far-reaching decisions are being made daily for our nation; fundamental, vital changes are being gradually, subtly wrought; the pattern of our way of life is being scrapped—with very little, if any, attention given to the lesson of history, to the facts of life last week, last year, ten or 20 years ago.

Times Never Better?

We're told "times were never better." Yes—if we must forget our local, state and federal government indebtedness of approximately $500-billion (all of our names are on the borrowers' notes, our property is the collateral); if we ignore the relentless month by month inflationary destruction of our dollars' purchasing power; if we blot out of our mind's-eye the storm and strife of our internal disorders and the continued agitation to further ignite and explode them into a holocaust.

We've never had it better if we blot out these facts, and—if we forget our 200,000-plus American young men fighting a one-handed war against the Soviet-supplied Communist monster in the jungles of Viet Nam; if we forget the mighty Communist fortress of atomic weaponry and the poisonous infiltration forces fanning out across Latin America from their base on Cuba, 90 miles from our shores; and if we just ignore the continuing advance of the Red menace throughout the world.

Gradual Change Unnoticed
Remembering my own amazement at seeing the changes that had been wrought in America (virtually unnoticed at home) when I returned to the U.S.A. years ago after 11 years abroad, I went this week to our library files of the New York Times—for a brief recall of history. The front page of the 20 year-old Times, January 1, 1947, was focused on the two great problems with which we were then trying to deal and with which we must very soon deal successfully or be destroyed as a nation and perhaps as a civilization.

Most of the news columns dealt with activities of Communist Russia, our erstwhile ally, and with the Federal Government's changing position in the American Way of Life. This was the day in 1947 on which President Truman formally declared hostilities in World War II to be ended. The 80th Congress was preparing to convene. Mr. Truman's proclamation automatically ended his wartime powers and terminated 51 war emergency laws which had held the nation under almost absolute government control. (But before the week was out he decided to postpone termination of the wartime excise tax—for 18 months! It was finally terminated only last July, 20 years later; and now LBJ wants it relieved at once.)

Some Shockers
This is the first of a series of columns on historic events recorded in the New York Times during the week, Jan. 1-8, 1947. There are great lessons to be learned from viewing that week in history, though it might have seemed utterly uneventful to most citizens.

For instance, the Jan. 1, 1947, Times carried the report that "Russia (then under Stalin) is swiftly moving toward agreement on the unification of Germany..." Our leaders believed this. And—"President Ho Chi Minh (of Viet Nam) called on the Indo-Chinese to support the (Communist) leaders" in the struggle (against the French) which would (he said) be "long but would be victorious." Five days earlier, Ho Chi Minh had been calling for peace talks. Ultimately he won the Peace—and the War.

Reading Futurities Set For Laurel

Virtually every top juvenile standardbred of 1965, including the number one pacer, Lucky Star Stable's Romeo Hanover, and leading trotter, Gainesway Farm's Kerry Way, have been nominated for the Reading Futurities for 3-year-olds at Laurel Raceway during the pioneer Maryland track's 19th season scheduled for 32 nights, June 20 through July 26.

President and General Manager Dick Hutchison announced that seventy-nine horses, two more than last season, have been kept eligible for the four events in this 30-year-old classic. These include the 3-year-old trot (main division) on June 24 and (filly division) on July 15; the 3-year-old pace (main division) to be raced July 9 and (filly division), July 23.

From the standpoint of class and speed seldom has the Reading for sophomores attracted such outstanding fields, Hutchison said. He attributes the excellent response to the growing interest in the Tartan plastic five-eighths mile strip built last year at a cost of $1,000,000.

In addition to Romeo Hanover, who was the leading money winner among 2-year-olds with $146,786, and fastest colt with a 1:59 clocking, and Kerry Way, tops with $116,549 in trots, the Reading also has lured the swiftest filly pacer, The Lehigh Stable's Bonjour Hanover (1:59), and speediest trotter, Mary Donner (2:01.2), Kerry Way's stablemate from the Frank Ervin string.

All four Reading 2-year-old champions also have returned for graduation exercises. They are Del Miller's Meadow Lenco, colt pacing winner in a record 2:03.1; Max Hochberg's Aline, filly victor in 2:03.2; Margaret Lloyd's Ideal Rodney, colt trotting winner in 2:10, and L. T. Nottingham's Prudence Special, filly winner in 2:08.4 a track mark.

Stanley Dancer and Billy Haughton, each, nominated six—the former American Adios, La Mere, Nugget Hanover, Our Rainbow, Peppy Rainbow, in addition to Bonjour Hanover, and the latter Anabela Hanover, Jim Harrison, Louella Sampson, Phillip The Great and Victory Trophy plus Ideal Rodney.

Three other Dancers are represented—Harold, with Susanna Hanover and Texas Hanover; Harold R., with Anita Hanover and Satan Hanover, and Vernon with Conga Hanover and Miss Butler.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

By Elizabeth Stewart
Women's Medical News Service

Baby's Colic Not Mother's Fault

Mothers, you are not to blame if your new-born baby develops colic. This news comes from Dr. Jack L. Paradise, pediatrician of the Bellaire Clinic, Bellaire, Ohio. Dr. Paradise told colleagues attending a recent meeting in Chicago of the American Academy of Pediatrics that in a study of 146 mothers and their new-borns he could find little evidence that the emotional state, intelligence, education, or attitudes of mothers caused babies to get colic.

Some infants got it although their mothers were "cheerful non-worriers," the doctor noted. Other babies whose mothers were quite anxious did not get it. Nor did colic seem related to nausea during pregnancy, disappointment with the baby's sex, maternal age or parental allergy. He urged physicians to dispel such erroneous notions so as to relieve the new mother's anxiety.

White House Conference Pushes Family Planning

At a recent White House Conference on Health, physician-members of a panel on family planning made the following recommendations:

Every woman who wants it should be given birth control information when she has her check-up following childbirth.

Family planning should be part of every hospital's out-patient service.

Family planning information and service should be an integral part of medical care plans.

Social workers should be permitted to discuss family planning with their clients as they now discuss a variety of other family matters.

Tragedy: Failure To Immunize

Are you and your family properly immunized against polio? Are your immunizations up-to-date? The answer should be yes—or tragedy can strike as it did in Blackburn, England not so long ago. An outbreak of the disease took the life of a teen-age girl and hospitalized 18 other residents. After the epidemic subsided, public health authorities vaccinated seven-eighths of the population of 110,000 people. But, noted chief medical officer Dr. John Ardley, this was prevention after the fact. Hardly any of those stricken had been immunized before the outbreak.

Installation of a storm sewer for the eastern end of town and a pumping station for supplying water to the proposed Catocin High School are major items under consideration.

Also being contemplated is a new disposal unit to relieve the present over-burdened plant.

Total cost of the projects would be an estimated $250,000 for which bonds would be floated for a 25-year span.

An increase in sewerage rates has also been voted. Yearly assessments for facilities were raised an average of $10, ranging from $25 per year for single houses to $300 for motels with up to 50 units.
