Gettysburg appears to have stolen the limelight from Emmitsburg when it comes to fatal automobile accidents. Within the past two weeks nine people have been killed in that area, several of them riders of motorcycles. It wasn't too long ago that Gettysburg firemen were coming to our assistance with their rescue squad, now it looks like the tide has turned. No one has been killed here at our dangerous intersections in the past four months and I don't believe there has been a single accident at these locations since the Governor came here to look over the situation and to make remedial action to ease the danger. Everything seems to be working smoothly since improvements were made to the intersections although there have been many "near misses". We sincerely hope bad luck doesn't again plague us at these spots where 21 persons have lost their lives.

With the advent of wonderful summer weather and the present motorcycle and scooter fad in full swing, road fatalities are constantly climbing and many of these are involving motorcycles. Two were killed in Frederick County and three in Adams County the past week when 'cycles were involved in accidents. How to stop these accidents is the same problem that faces car owners and state officials.

With the spanking new Postoffice now operating, numerous complaints from residents who reside what you might call distantly from the location of the office, are being heard. We anticipated this reaction however we have no solution to the problem. It has been suggested that perhaps a collection box or two be placed at strategic locations so the older folks wouldn't have to walk such great distances to mail letters. This would provide a certain measure of convenience but folks would still have to walk to the Postoffice to receive their mail. There is one sure-fire system that will cure this inadequacy in postal service and that is door-to-door delivery. The Town has been working on house numbering as one of the prerequisites for this postal service but a great many houses still do not have their numbers tacked on. This must be done before any consideration for such a service will be given, so let's get those numbers on folks. In the meantime, a drive should be initiated by our local central committees and the Town itself, to obtain this mail delivery service. With elections scheduled for this year and also 1968, NOW is the time to make our bid.

Shortly after this column expressed the opinion that the Town was becoming "land-locked" by out-of-town land speculators who have bought numerous acreage here, the Town Council took a long look at the situation and went to work immediately on the problem. We understand that some assurances have been given that some building lots will be freed to the public in the near future. This is indeed good news and our thanks to the Council for its progressive attitude.

Warner Hospital Plans New Wing In Expansion Move

Directors of the Annie M. Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, at their regular June meeting in the Christian H. Musselman Memorial Annex at the hospital, voted unanimously to construct a new wing to the hospital to house the new and enlarged dispensary and emergency facility.

The cost of the new structure is estimated at $300,000 and the directors will undertake to raise the required money without employment of a fund-raising organization.

The proposed new unit is the first of three expansion phases recommended by engineers following a six-month study of the hospital which anticipated its requirements for several years into the future.

The engineering study, the directors and the medical staff all gave the new wing top priority in the overall future program and described it as "an absolute essential" to the hospital's ability to provide adequate service to the people of the area it serves.

John A. Hauser, chairman of the new building committee, said discussions with architects will start Monday so that construction can begin at the earliest possible date.

The new wing will extend eastward from the present X-ray wing along the north end of the original hospital building. It will comprise a basement and one story. The laboratory will occupy the basement area while the first floor will house expanded X-ray and the new dispensary or emergency facility.

Charles Smelser Seeking State Senator's Seat From This District

Charles H. Smelser of Unionville has announced his candidacy for State Senator in the newly created Frederick-Carroll County Senatorial District.

In announcing his candidacy, Smelser stated, "The newly created senatorial district offers a challenge to me I am confident I can meet for the best interests of the citizens of both counties. Of particular concern to me is that during this first session of the newly apportioned legislature, in which the metropolitan districts will have majority representation, the smaller counties such as ours, will need experienced legislators and members with knowledge of legislative proceedings in order to protect the interest of the voters of those counties. I am confident I can be of service to Frederick and Carroll county residents as their Senator in such a newly apportioned Maryland State Senate."

Smelser was elected to two terms in the Maryland Legislature, 1955-1963, as a delegate from Frederick County and served on some of the most important legislative committees, including the powerful Ways and Means Committee, the Special Committee on Taxation and Fiscal Matters. He served on the Legislative Council, the between session arm of the Maryland Legislature, and was an active member of the House Education Committee.

In closing his announcement as a candidate for the Maryland Senate, Mr. Smelser said: "During my two terms in the Maryland Legislature, I was a consistent supporter of sound fiscal policy and was dedicated to good government and the wise use of the taxpayers' dollar. This is a principle I will endeavor to faithfully follow."

A. Keepers reported on the recent convention in Ocean City, Md.

Topper; advocate, Carl A. Wetzel; warden, Clyde Eyer; inside guard, Martin T. Golibart; outside guard, Martin Sprankle; trustee, Guy A. Baker, Sr.; delegate, Carl A. Rep. Long Bucks Second Bay Bridge

Rep. Clarence D. Long (D., Md.) this week charged Governor Tawes with using the State Roads Commission's energies to manufacture statistics to justify a parallel bay bridge instead of working to eliminate congestion or to build a second bridge where it is needed.

"Congestion has nothing to do with the case for a parallel bridge," Rep. Long said, "If another bridge is really needed, it should be in another location, preferably in the Baltimore area where 60% of the Maryland population lives. When a Baltimore bridge gets congested, if ever, let's them have a bridge in Southern Maryland. When, finally, all three bridges get congested, let's consider a parallel bay bridge. That would be about the year 1990 or 2000.

In any case, Rep. Long said, "the congestion on the Bay bridge has already been distorted beyond all proportion. We don't need more statistics."

1) The bridge is still carrying less than half of the original rated capacity according to the 1949-1950 report of the State Roads Commission.

2) A number of instances were cited in 1965 where monthly traffic was at record levels, yet traffic for the year was still below 1963 and total revenues from the bridge below 1961.

3) The State Roads Commission still refuses to do anything to relieve what congestion there is. It has refused to put up toll booths on the Eastern Shore side; refused to widen approaches; refused to add more toll booths; refused to put in "exact-change" booths; refused to publicize to the people of the Northern Baltimore area that they can get to Shore resorts just as fast by going around the head of the bay; refused to consider many other possibilities, such as adjusting tolls, resuming ferry transport, or scheduling express buses—all far cheaper than spending $73 million on a bridge which will, on the basis of the SRC's own figures, lose $50 million in the first sixteen years of operation.

4) The State Roads Commission continues to claim that a second bay bridge would cost nothing to the people of Maryland, but the SRC maintains a significant silence on the fact that if no bridge were built all tolls on major bridges in the State would be lifted within a few years.

The truth is, Rep. Long said, that the Governor and Chairman Funk want all the congestion they can contrive, either actually or statistically, in order to make a case for a parallel bridge and $10 million in bond underwriting, engineering, insurance and legal fees.

Charles Collins Seeks County Office

Delegate Charles E. Collins (D., Frederick) has filed as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the Board of County Commissioners and called sanitation "the paramount problem in the county."

"Providing county-wide sanitation facilities will be the greatest problem in Frederick County in the next four years," Collins said. "We have seen some of our smaller towns already get into an unfortunate situation because action has not been taken to meet this need in time," Collins said.

"The bill which the Legislature passed to allow the State Roads Commission to install sleeves for future county sanitary facilities during the construction of Interstate Route 70-S will save thousands of dollars when the need arises, and I fully supported this proposal," Collins added.

Highway Fatalities Exceed Last Year

Thirteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police. Six of those killed were drivers; three were passengers; and four were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths; speed in eight; and "driver error" was present in all but two of the fatalities. Maryland's highway deaths so far this year are forty-two more than for the same period in 1965.

"In State Police investigated accidents last week thirty-eight persons were killed or injured," commented Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, "but only two of them were wearing seat belts and investigators are of the opinion that use of this safety equipment did lessen the extent of injury. In two other cases it is felt that death would have been prevented and in thirty-one cases injuries substantially reduced had seat belts been in use."

"It is unfortunate that an awareness of the importance of having seat belts installed—and then using them—extends to such a small percentage of the motoring public. Time and again it has been proved that seat belts do provide that extra margin of safety so necessary when driving on today's highways. However, it's up to each individual to take full advantage of this valuable safety equipment.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

Drugs Endanger Driving Ability

Drugs and driving may well be as hazardous as alcohol and driving. This warning was issued recently by the New York Safety Council and the American Medical Association's Committee on Medical Aspects of Automobile Safety and Council on Drugs. The powerful modern drugs generally prescribed for nervous tension, allergies, and for relief of a variety of other conditions can interfere seriously with coordination and judgment, thus increasing manifold the possibility of accidents.

Self-medication or unauthorized use of drugs by motorists increases the accident potential, according to the Safety Council. Certain nonprescription drugs induce drowsiness, dizziness, fainting spells, confusion, and dim vision in some people. To save lives, check with the pharmacist or with your physician on the possible effect such drugs might have on driving. And read warnings on labels carefully.

Progeny Normal After Pill Use

Women who stop taking the oral contraceptive pill in order to have babies experience normal pregnancies and give birth to healthy infants. This good news comes from a team of doctors of the University of Washington School of Medicine in Seattle.

For the past year, the physicians have been following closely the experience of 115 patients who discontinued the pill after having taken it an average of 15 months. As of May 1966, 50 of the women had become mothers, 56 were still pregnant, and nine hoped to become pregnant.

Those who became pregnant did so within an average of four months after stopping the pills. All of the 50 women who completed their pregnancies gave birth to normal term infants. There were no multiple births and no abnormalities among the babies.

The doctors report that there is every indication that the 56 women now pregnant will complete their pregnancies successfully, too. Dr. A. Lawrence Banks said he had observed one striking difference between the pregnancies of the women who had been on the pill and a group of women who had not used the oral contraceptive. The former, he said, were happy and relaxed and escaped most of the complaints, such as morning sickness, often associated with pregnancy. This was probably because all the pregnancies were desired, not accidental, Dr. Banks believes, and all the babies were wanted.

The physicians feel that this study supports their conclusion from an earlier, similar study that prolonged use of the pill for contraception is not only not harmful to the mother's reproductive capacity in any way, but may actually be beneficial.

Sports' Advantages

Outweigh Dangers

Although there is some risk that children between the ages of nine and 14 who compete in sports may injure their growing bones in ways that may hamper growth or result in deformity — the dangers have been exaggerated. This comforting news comes from Drs. Robert L. Larson and Robert O. McMahan of the Sacred Heart Hospital in Eugene, Ore.

In reviewing 1,338 athletic injuries in the Eugene area, the physicians found that one out of five of those injured were 14 or under. However, growth disturbances resulting from these injuries were the exception rather than the rule, they found. But activities such as the base — runner's slide in baseball, pitching curve balls, and too many innings of pitching do seem hazardous.

Youngsters who are obese, or who are unusually tall, lanky, and uncoordinated, with poor muscle development, seem especially prone to injuries that might hamper growth or result in deformity. They should postpone sports activity, the doctors recommend, unless such activities are well supervised.

TODAY'S Meditation from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

Read I Timothy 6:12-16.

O Lord my God, thou art very great; thou art clothed with honour and majesty. (Psalm 104:1).

The greatness of God defies man's ability to comprehend it. We stand in awe before the power that controls the universe.

It is a disturbing picture, partly because the observers seem to be looking without concern at what they consider an ordinary death because they see nothing of eternal significance in it. Even more disturbing is the size of Christ's figure. His legs stretch across the canvas. It is obvious that this body is much too large for the cross behind it.

I wonder if the painter meant to illustrate the greatness of God. To me this picture suggests just that. Though the cross is the symbol of Christ's supreme sacrifice for the redemption of all mankind, He is, indeed, greater than the cross.

Prayer

Our Father, open our minds to Thy greatness. Open our hearts to accept Thy love. Strengthen us with the power of Thy spirit that we may be worthy to love and serve Thee. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

LEGAL

NO. 21,334 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND

REX K. BLOOM
112 Frederick Avenue
Frederick, Maryland
Vs.
TWILA J. BLOOM
1000 North Pine Street
Wamego, Kansas 6547

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to procure a divorce A MENSE ET THORO by the Plaintiff, Rex K. Bloom, from the Defendant, Twila J. Bloom, and for such other and further relief as the nature of the case may require.

The Bill states in substance, that the Plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, and has been so for more than one year last past; that the last known address of the Defendant was 1000 North Pine Street, Wamego, Kansas; that the Complainant was married to the Defendant on April 17, 1961 in Denver, Colorado before a duly commissioned Justice of the Peace in accordance with the laws of the State of Colorado; that as a result of said marriage one child was born, namely, Shawn Michael, aged four, who is presently in the care and custody of the Defendant; the Bill alleges that although the conduct of the Complainant toward the Defendant, Twila J. Bloom, has always been chaste, dutiful and affectionate, the Defendant, Twila J. Bloom, between the time of the said marriage and the filing of the Bill of Complaint, without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the Complainant on May 16, 1966 and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties to this cause is beyond reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

It is thereupon, this 1st day of June, 1966 by the Circuit Court of Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four consecutive weeks prior to the 9th day of July, 1966, in some newspaper in Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the Defendant, Twila J. Bloom, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning her to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 9th day of August, 1966, to show cause, if any she has, why the relief sought should not be granted.

Racing Continues

At Laurel Raceway

June is bustin' out all over as Laurel Raceway heads into the first big weekend of its 32-night meet with a power-packed stakes schedule highlighted by two sections of the time-honored Reading Futurities and a Division of the American Trotting Derby.

They go as the finales to the first local appearance of Grand Circuit racing at Maryland's pioneer harness track, on Friday and Saturday night. The Readings are for 3-year-old trotting colts, sharing the Friday spotlight with the ATD, and 2-year-old pacing fillies, Saturday.

Four hopefuls to Friday's Main Division Reading are eligible to all of trotting's Big Four classics, namely the $122,000 Hambletonian, the $65,000 Kentucky Futurity, the $122,000 Yonkers Futurity and the $80,000 Dexter Cup. These four bluschip youngsters are Satan Hanover, Nugget Hanover, St. Gattian and Rocket Rodney.

Up for grabs in this classic is Hickory Pride's 2:04.1 stakes record set in 1959, and Bright Chance's season's record for the class, a handy 2:02.4.

In the 2-year-old Reading for fillies on Saturday, starters will be looking to lower the stakes and track record for the class set by Aline in 2:03.2 last year, as well as dislodge Lucious Lou, 2:01.3, from the Season's Champion's roster.

Racing Secretary John Phillips anticipates a good-sized field of power-house trotters for the first local division of the American Trotting Derby Friday. The 2nd Division will be contested Thursday, July 21.

Laurel Raceway is offering the Twin Double nightly on the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th races.

The earlier 8:00 o'clock post time, meanwhile, appears to be enjoying great popularity among fans. "Ladies Night" is being marked every Thursday with the fairer sex admitted for a nominal tax charge.

said to his chief-of-staff, General Doyle Hickey: "For the first time in military history, a commander has been denied the use of his military power to safeguard the lives of his soldiers and the safety of his army. To me it clearly foreshadows a future tragic situation in the Far East and leaves me with a sense of inexpressible shock." He continued in command, although, he later wrote, the Washington restrictions upon his waging full war upon the Communist enemy indicated to him "a loss of the will to win" by our policy makers.

Results in Korea were not a genuine victory for the U. S. The Communists, with their sanctuaries, remained powerful, arrogant and grasping in Asia. The General's words (above) appear now to have been prophetic: "... a future tragic situation in the Far East." The enemy in Viet Nam today should not be granted sanctuaries. It is a policy without provable justification.

Social Security Information

Many homemakers fail to report their domestic employees for social security credits, according to W. S. King, Social Security District Manager in Hagerstown.

The majority of those who do not report are the people who hire babysitters to work in their homes on a regular basis. Babysitters, who work in private homes regularly and are paid at least $4 per week, are often forgotten when social security wage reports are due.

The law is very specific. Anyone who pays $50 or more in cash wages to a domestic employee, in a calendar quarter, is legally obligated to report these wages to the Internal Revenue Service. Reports, together with social security taxes payable, are due within 30 days after the end of the quarter in which the wages were paid. The report for the April, May, and June quarter is due July 31.

Mr. King emphasized that only cash wages paid domestic employees are to be reported. Wages in the form of room and board, etc., are not subject to social security tax. No report is required if the employee was not paid cash wages of at least $50 in the quarter.

Failure to make accurate and timely reports of wages paid to domestic employees can result in penalties and interest to the employer—and loss of social security credit for the employee.

The Hagerstown social security office has a free booklet available to employers of domestic help, containing information on proper methods of reporting wages. Copies are available at the district office located at 59 North Cannon Avenue. The phone number is 731-1000, Extension 1264. Ask for booklet OASI-21.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

The order of flatfishes is common and numerous species — genera and numerous species — which are widely distributed from the southern oceans to the cold waters of the North. In addition to those of the Atlantic, flounders, soles and turbot of various kinds are found from the southern coast of California to the waters of Alaska and south on the Asiatic side to Japan and Korea, according to Robert D. Hall, Salt-Water Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. Along the north Atlantic coast, the summer flounder is a very popular flatfish species. Though the name "flounder" is generally used in some sections of New Jersey and southward, in many localities of Long Island and New England the fish is called a "fluke" to distinguish it from the winter flounder.

The summer flounder resembles the winter species to some degree in shape and outline. It differs, however, in having the eyes and body color on the left instead of the right side. There is considerable difference in the average size of these two species of flatfish. The winter species will usually range from one to two pounds, whereas the summer variety will average about three to four pounds. It is not uncommon for fishermen to catch flounder of ten pounds and more. It is reported that they have been caught in the neighborhood of 25 pounds.

Flatfishes, which include the flounder, halibut, turbot and others, habitually lie on one side on sandy bottom. When hatched, the young are normal in appearance, with even coloration and an eye on either side of the head. They swim upright in a normal way. However, as the fish begins to develop it tilts over toward one side and finally become adapted for swimming and resting in this position. Meanwhile, the color on the more exposed side gradually darkens, while that on the underside remains light. The eye on the lighter side slowly migrates over the top of the skull, so that in the adult both eyes lie on the upper side of the head. The mouth also is partly twisted toward the upper side of the fish.

The flounder can change its coloration to match the surroundings in which it is found. There are many species of marine fish that have this peculiarity, which is a camouflage that serves to conceal them from their prey, or from their natural enemies.

Though a number of successful means are employed for catching summer flounder, and though methods may vary somewhat in different areas, the fact remains that most of the catches are made by trolling of live bait or of a lure-and-bait combination. The reason for this can be readily appreciated when we consider that the flounder is mainly a bottom dweller and its feeding habit is to await food that is carried to it by the tide or current. However, a flounder will often follow a lure or bait a considerable distance before taking it.

Placid, Uneventful Future Is Forecast

If the world continues to develop the way it is going, life will become placid and uneventful, predicts Dr. David E. Davis, professor of zoology at Pennsylvania State University. "Behavior throughout the world will be ritualized and uniform. Language will be universal, with a few pockets of dialects remaining. Education to a high level and age will be universal. Careers will be dictated by exhaustive tests of abilities and by needs of the system. Only a little energy will be spent in producing materials; most energy will be used in services. Innovations will be rare. The population will have very few young and the old will have ample recreational means to fill their time."

The estimated rate of population growth in the U. S. last year was 1.21 per cent. The Census Bureau reports that this is the lowest figure since 1945.

One firm that has taken the lumps out of making pigment is J. S. & W. R. Eakins, Brooklyn. A new apparatus for producing chrome-yellow pigments eliminates lumps by filtering and spray-drying the pigment slurry. In the old method of production, pigment cakes had to be dried in trays and lumps in the dried product made uniform grinding difficult.

The salt cedar tree, common in the Southwest, creates a large water-waste problem. Its roots extend to the water table and the tree "breathes" ground water into the air through its leaves. The U. S. Geological Survey says salt cedars transfer 20 trillion gallons of water to the atmosphere each year, accounting for a large loss of usable water.

Money isn't everything. Fewer than half of the graduating men at Rochester University entering industry during the period 1961-65 accepted the job that paid the most money. This was also true of students receiving advanced degrees. Liberal arts graduates showed the least interest in monetary rewards: Only about one in four chose the job that paid the most. The figures seem to indicate that factors other than starting salary are more influential when it comes to deciding which offer to accept.

The Basilisk is an aquatic marvel. The three-foot-long lizard can scamper over the surface of water on its hind feet at a rate of five to six mph. It is a native of Central and South America.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On:
The "New Economics"

BABSON PARK, Mass., June 23—Before World War II, most economists and businessmen accepted cycles as being as "normal" as as marriage and babies. The Biblical fat year would be followed by the lean years. The upward, or action, phase of the business cycle would be followed by reaction. Babson's made Newton's theory of action and reaction famous . . . as applied to economics . . . during the early decades of this century.

Outlawing Depressions

But after World War II, people began asking: "Must we have the hardship and pain of recessions?" Across the seas in England a new economics prophet emerged . . . Lord John Maynard Keynes. He greatly influenced the thinking of President Roosevelt before the war, and later the attitudes of Presidents

Truman, Eisenhower, and Kennedy. In a word, Lord Keynes said that business cycles were not necessary, that they could be flattened out by the government's applying stimulants to a lagging economy and curbs to a booming one.

Generally, Keynesian economics held that, when conditions were depressed, government should spend more heavily to offset lack of spending by consumers. Then, however, and this is most important . . . the English financial wizard held that inflation should be avoided by the administration's collecting more in revenues than it paid out. Apparently, he recognized that if more and more were spent and more and more lent, prosperity would degenerate into inflation and a grand bust. So impressed were the politicians in the U. S. that they passed the Full Employment Act of 1946, making it the government's business to see that depressions would be outlawed.

Enter The Inflationists

During the terms of Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, there was a strong disposition to avoid overstimulating the economy. But, toward the end of President Eisenhower's time in office, and especially during President Kennedy's short stay, a great impatience with the nation's rate of economic growth spread thru an important group of young, "liberal" economists. They emphasized that other Free World nations were growing faster than the U. S. They blamed this on our government's habit of applying the brakes too soon.

The "new Economists", as they are now called, promoted inflation as a way of life. Claiming that a "little" price advance was far better than the sufferings of unemployment and meager profits, they preached perpetual prosperity. Growth must never cease . . . our economic climb must be made impressive than anyone else's.

A Rose By Any Other Name?

Under the Administration of President Johnson, the New Economists have had things pretty much their own way. U. S. growth has been admittedly phenomenal. But in the last year the price level for consumers rose almost 3%. Strangely enough, the same public who accepted this 3% cut in their

FREDERICK COUNTY,

NAOMI J. LIPPS

Vs.

RALPH F. LIPPS

Chariton, Iowa

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Plaintiff, Naomi J. Lipps, from the Defendant, Ralph F. Lipps, and for such other and further relief as the nature of the case may require.

The Bill states in substance, that the Plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, and has been so for more than one year last past; that the whereabouts of the Defendant are presently unknown, but when last known was Chariton, Iowa; that the Complainant was married to the Defendant on October 9, 1928 in Frederick, Maryland at St. John's Roman Catholic Church by Father Farrell, regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of said marriage two children were born, both of whom are of age and emancipated; the Bill further alleges that although the conduct of the Complainant toward the Defendant, Ralph F. Lipps, has always been chaste, dutiful and affectionate, the Defendant, Ralph F. Lipps, between the time of the said marriage and filing of the Bill of Complaint, without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the Complainant and that such abandonment and desertion has continued uninterruptedly for a period of more than eighteen months prior to the filing of said Bill of Complaint and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties to this cause is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

It is thereupon, this 9th day of June, 1966, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four successive weeks prior to the 16th day of July, 1966, in some newspaper in Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the Defendant, Ralph F. Lipps, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning him to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 16th day of August, 1966, to show cause, if any he has, why the relief sought should not be granted.

purchasing power without a whimper would have hollered to high heaven if the President had suggested a 3% sales tax on all production to pay for the Viet War.

Also, it should be noted that the New Economists readily admit that some inflation is the price we must pay to avoid the hardships of recessions. But no one of them has stated flatly how much is enough and how much is too much. And that is where the big danger lies. To many of us old-fashioned economists, it looks as if the new theories are no more than the old boom-and-bust credit sprees that were first made infamous by the South Seas Bubble in England and by John Law in France over two hundred years ago.

Signs Of Fatigue

And while the controversy rages, we notice that it is taking more and more dollars of inflation to make a lesser addition to the dollar price of our Gross National Product. In the last five years government spending rose by 47% and Federal Reserve credit climbed 50%; yet GNP was able to move up only 34%. If this trend continues, we may find that the medicine of the New Economists will "work" only when first applied. Like so many other stimulants, the long-run effect may turn out to be bad.

Hang your casting rod on the coat hangers in the back of your car and dirve away unworried that someone will sit on them . . . or slam in a car door.

No-Skid Seat

Put stair treads on the seat of your boat. No slip when you sit.

Freshwater Clam

One or two live freshwater clams in your minnow bucket will keep the bait alive longer.

Coin For A Shotgun

If you stow your shotgun when it is snowing or raining place a coin on the muzzle. Keeps out the elements, but falls off if you go into action fast.

This is the victory . . . even our faith. —(John 5:4)

If the good in our own life is not visible to our eyes we need to center our faith in God, and remember that we are His children. We must stand firm in our faith. We shall not go down in defeat or discouragement when we hold firm to the Truth. God is with us, and His Good is at work in our life and affairs.

New Nursing Program At College

Sister Aloysia, Head of the Division of Nursing at St. Joseph College, announces the initiation of a new program at the Emmitsburg College which aims to assist graduate and registered nurses interested in a B.S. degree in nursing to obtain the degree in less time than possible in the past.

Cited in the June 1966 "Nursing Outlook," the plan has been granted full accreditation by the Collegiate Board of Review of the National League for Nursing.

To qualify for admission the graduate nurse must currently be licensed to practice nursing, hold an associate in arts degree in nursing or be a graduate of a program in nursing accredited by the National League for Nursing, and meet the college entrance requirements.

The registered nurse seeking admission must meet the general academic and professional requirements for the degree of bachelor of science with a major in nursing.

According to the plan the registered nurse may challenge certain general academic and professional courses to establish credit for her previously acquired knowledge and competencies. The final hours of academic and professional work will include the courses required in the senior year of the bachelor of science nursing curriculum. Once required credits are established, it is possible to receive the B.S. degree in 18 months.

Cooperating agencies include Providence Hospital, Washington, D. C., Seton Psychiatric Institute, Baltimore, and some of the Maryland county health departments.

Further information regarding the program may be obtained from the Director of Admissions, St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Md. 21277.

With the announcement of the new program, Sister Aloysia also released results of the 1964-65

State Board licensing examinations in which 41 degree candidates from St. Joseph's scored first in all areas—psychiatric, pediatric, medical, obstetrical and surgical nursing.

Buck Alexander

Again Candidate

Horace M. Alexander, who has been Frederick County Sheriff for the last 19 years, has filed for another four year term of office, subject to the Republican Party primary.

Alexander, 53, was a Frederick City policeman for more than a year and a deputy sheriff for two years before becoming sheriff. He also served for seven years as a county delegate to the State Legislature.

A clerk at public sales in addition to his official duties as the county sheriff, Alexander is also president of the Maryland State Sheriff's Association.

Public Auction

To Benefit Library

"Operation Projector" has been resumed by the Emmitsburg Public Library and an auction and rummage sale will be held on Saturday, July 9, at the Fire Hall to raise money for this project. Last year half the purchase price of a 16mm film projector was realized by such a sale and it is hoped by the Board of Trustees that this year's sale will complete the project.

The only way in which this sale can be a success is for everyone in the community to cooperate. Do you have something in your house or around your house that you no longer need or use, but which is still in good condition? Bring it to the Library during the next two weeks and let it go on the auction block. Do you have some old clothing, good but of no use to you anymore? That will go very well in the rummage department of the sale. Anything and everything that the Board thinks can be handled at this sale will be acceptable. If you have some articles, but cannot get them to the library, please call 447-2682 and some arrangements will be made to collect them. And then everyone come to the sale and buy what you can use.

The rummage sale will begin at 10 a.m. and the auction sale will begin at 11 a.m. Refreshments will be on sale by the American Legion Auxiliary.

It is planned to loan the projector to be purchased to any local organization for use provided it is operated by a trained projectionist. The Board of Trustees feels that in this way the services of the library can be extended to more people.

The Board also wishes to announce that the annual public meeting will be held in the Library on Thursday, July 21, at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited and urged to attend this meeting at which time new Trustees will be elected.

Fireworks Remain Outlawed

A warning about the dangers of fireworks was issued today by Dr. Richard E. Hoover, president of the Maryland Society for Prevention of Blindness.

A marked reduction in the number of eye injuries due to fireworks has been observed nationally since most states have enacted legislation controlling their sale and use according to this Community Chest agency president.

"Violation of both state and federal law are responsible for the accidents now occurring," Dr. Hoover explained.

Permanently impaired vision or loss of sight is often the result of fireworks eye injuries, Dr. Hoover stated. He urged parents to guard their children against such tragedy by observing and supporting the state and federal safety regulations governing fireworks.

Elizabeth Macpherson, French major at St. Joseph College, is one of 44 college juniors selected in a nationwide competition to attend the NDEA Summer Language Institute in French being held at Tufts University, Medford, Mass., from June 20 to August 6. The institute is supported by Federal grants from the U. S. Office of Education under the provisions of the National Defense Education Act to help upgrade the language and teaching competencies of language teachers in elementary and secondary schools, and is especially designed for college juniors who intend to make language teaching their career.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Macpherson of Watervliet, N. Y., Miss Macpherson is a graduate of Catholic Central High School, Troy, N. Y.

The NDEA Summer Language Institutes were established in 1958 as a retraining program for teachers already in service. Two years ago, however, the Office of Education decided to fund 3 pilot institutes for undergraduates majoring in French, Spanish and German, in an attempt to reach the prospective teachers of foreign languages who already had an excellent background, and provide for them an intense and integrated program involving areas in which they may have had little or no contact in their own colleges. These prospective teachers would thereby become future leaders in the profession.

And, I suppose, the fact that even a starving lawn will green up and make an effort to grow in the spring, simply reassures them.

Roughly speaking, the color and vigor and thickness of a grass lawn depends almost entirely on how well it is fed. Feed it regularly with a modern fertilizer such as Turf Builder and it will require little other attention. Fail to feed it and it won't vanish away or scream for help. It will simply go down hill. Bare spots will increase. Weeds will get the upper hand. And one day someone is likely to say, "I can't figure out what's wrong with this lawn. It must have poor soil."

Students To Hear
Heart Specialists

What do research scientists do? What is meant by "space medicine"? Is sports medicine a specialty? Answers to these questions and many more will quicken the slow summer pace of Western Maryland's campus in Westminster this weekend when 89 carefully selected science students and a faculty of 15 gather for the Heart Association of Maryland's "Weekend with Doctors." Sessions will begin on Friday at 5 p.m. and continue through 3:30 on Sunday.

Frederick County Heart Assn. is sponsoring four students: Raymond Baker from St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg; George Constantino from Frederick; Douglas Metcalf from Thurmont, and Philip Smith from Lingamore. Baltimore city schools will be represented by 29 students and the remaining 54 will be sent by other Heart Chapters in Maryland.

The "Weekend" is a Health Careers project of the Heart Association's Council on Public Education. Dr. Bernard Tabatznik, chairman for the event, states that its purpose is to attract gifted science students toward careers in medicine. Lectures and free discussions and recreational periods are all designed to give the students first-hand knowledge of the opportunities, demands, and educational requirements of the multiple, medical specialties which will be presented.

Lutheran Women
Hold Meeting

The Lutheran Church Women of Elias Church met last Tuesday evening at the Parish House. The study topic, "The Computer-World and the Church," was presented by Mrs. Albert McCleaf and Miss Mary Jo Zimmerman. A play depicting the problems of automation and the way a family solved this ever-increasing challenge was presented by the following: Mrs. Earl Sheeley played the role of the Mother in an average American home; Ralph Ohler, Jr. portrayed the Father whose position had been jeopardized by the onslaught of automatic machines; Sharon Ohler, a teen-aged daughter; and Eric Ohler, the teen-aged son. The family play demonstration brings a crisis to some families, but thoughtful planning and education can aid in solving the problem. Resources in the Lutheran Church in America, such as the Board of College Education and Church Vocations, and the Lay Workers Vocational Service, provide opportunities for the laymen of the Church to find new opportunities for employment. Young people of the Church were urged to prepare themselves for life in the computer-world by attending youth vocations conferences, participating in Vocational Guidance Services, and becoming involved in Tutoring Services that are available. The Devotions for the evening program were led by Miss Mary Jo Zimmerman, with Miss Ruth Shuff as pianist.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Joan Eyster, vice president. It was announced that fifty-three persons from Elias Church had become members of the Auxiliary of the National Lutheran Home for the Aged in Washington. Members were also reminded of the Maryland Lutheran Church Women's Convention to be held June 23, 24 and 25 at Gettysburg College. Mrs. Harry McNair is the official delegate from the local LCW organization. The opening Vesper Service was held Thursday evening at Christ Chapel on the Gettysburg College campus. A summer project of collecting soap for the Infirmary at the National Lutheran Home was also announced.

Concluding the business meeting, refreshments were served to the LCW members by Mrs. Esther Gillelan, Miss Mary Jo Zimmerman and Mrs. Chester Chapman.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS OPINION POLL

YOUR OPINION can help influence Congress. Senator Dirksen wants Congress to pass an amendment to the Constitution to allow voluntary prayer in our public schools—despite the Supreme Court ruling.

But powerful pressure groups are working to keep all mention of God, the Bible, and even voluntary prayer out of our schools. They are opposing majority rule.

This is a poll to measure public opinion—the results will be sent to Senator Dirksen and to Congress. Express your opinion by checking "Yes" or "No" to the following:

- | | YES | NO |
|---|-------|-------|
| 1) Simple, voluntary, non-denominational prayers should be permitted in our public schools | | |
| 2) The Lord's Prayer should be allowed | | |
| 3) Teachers should be free to quote the Bible: From the Old Testament | | |
| From the New Testament | | |
| 4) Children should be taught that God is the source of our rights, as stated in our Declaration of Independence | | |
| 5) Great American leaders' faith in God and in the Bible should be quoted, as William Penn's: "Men who are not governed by God will be ruled by tyrants." | | |
- You will be mailed the results of this poll, along with further information on this subject, if you will print your name and address clearly below:
