Emmitsburg, just as the whole eastern seaboard, is gripped in a torrid heat wave that is establishing records almost daily. The sustained heat wave is wreaking havoc on crops and grasslands in the area. Lawns are practically destroyed and it is doubtful if they would spring back to any degree of life if it did rain. Water reserves are fast dwindling and numerous nearby towns and cities have imposed water bans. The heat wave continued into its third week with degrees ranging in the low 90's past 100. Local gardens are wastelands now and the yield has not justified the expense and labor of putting them out. Farmers face one of the bleakest summers in many moons and there still is no assurance that the drought, and the heat, will dissipate. Quite a few citizens have reported temperatures at 110 and 115, in the sun, of course, and these are really blistering figures. Citizens are urged to conserve as much water as possible as it could very well be a disastrous summer. I would venture to say Emmitsburg is about the driest town around. Other places have received good showers and some even heavy downpours, actually just a few miles away. At Zora last Monday, it rained for almost a solid hour yet hardly a drop fell in Emmitsburg proper. This has happened on numerous occasions. It blows, clouds up and with the intense lightning one would expect a terrific downpour, but in a few minutes it blows over or bypasses here and all that is left is a few splattering drops. How long our water reserves can hold up without heavy rain is conjectural. Water conservation is essential and absolutely necessary.

As was to be expected, complaints about the location of the new Postoffice have been received and it is my opinion they are well justified. The complaints aren't exactly about the actual location of the building, just the lack of accommodations here. Residents think a collection box on the Square or at two or three points at the extremities of town would help erase the inconvenience of walking to the new Office. Rural carriers could empty these boxes daily at no extra expense to the Government as they travel past these locations twice daily anyway. Better yet, a door-to-door delivery would end all the discontent. If interested citizens really want better service I would suggest they contact their Town Officials to request it from postal officials, or, organize a petition and present it to the acting Postmaster who would gladly forward it to the proper authorities in Washington.

Another ghastly record of death on the highways was established over the Fourth. Some 576 good American citizens met their Maker over the period. This alarming figure becomes even more alarming when you figure that this is the third time this year that such a record was established. Let's go back to the New Year's weekend when a new death toll was racked up. Not content with this new high figure we bettered the record on Memorial Day. And what happened over July Fourth is another record to be posted. Think it over folks, three records established in a short six months. I still say the only way to beat the statistics is to stay right in your home over the holidays.

Two Fires

The Vigilant Hose Co. was summoned Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock when fire started by a tossed firecracker burned over two acres of barley along the Harney-Emmitsburg Rd. At 4:05 Monday afternoon the firemen were called to the Bill Kelly farm on the Simmons Rd., when fire, starting from a spark by a tractor baling straw, burned over 1 1/2 acres, according to Guy R. McGlaughlin, fire chief.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Florence and family, Orlando, Fla., are spending several weeks here visiting Mr. Florence's mother, Mrs. Romanus B. Florence, and sister, Loretta.

Miss O'Brien Given Scholarship

Miss Mary McLeod O'Brien, junior French major at St. Joseph College is the recipient of a tuition scholarship for the 1966 summer session at Laval University, Quebec. Miss O'Brien flew to Canada last week and began courses on July 2.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. O'Brien of Emmitsburg, Miss O'Brien plans to teach French at the high school level following her graduation from St. Joseph's in 1968. She is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg.

Benefit Auction Saturday

Tomorrow, Saturday, July 9, will be the day for the rummage and auction sale of the Emmitsburg Public Library. The sale will be held in the Fire Hall, with the rummage going on sale at 10:00 a.m. and the auction to begin at 11:00 a.m. Come, look over the things which will be for sale, and then make your bid and purchase.

The proceeds from this sale will go toward the projector fund of the library. It is hoped that this sale will bring in enough money to complete the project and make it possible to buy the film projector. This projector, when purchased, will be loaned to the various organizations of the community.

Have you looked over the things in your attic or cellar? Do you have anything which you no longer need or use, but that someone else may want? Then bring it to the library for the sale. If you need transportation for your articles, please call the library, 447-2682 or Mrs. John Warthen, 447-2560.

The Board of Trustees also wishes to announce that the annual public meeting of the Library will be held on Thursday, July 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the library. This is an important meeting as new trustees will be elected and everyone who is interested in having a library in the community should attend.

COUNTY TOWNS FEEL PINCH OF LONG DROUGHT

Latest Towns imposing water bans as the drought continues are Mt. Airy, Taneytown, and parts of Baltimore County. Emmitsburg placed a partial ban last Friday. Mt. Airy has banned all water usage except for domestic or household purposes.

Mt. Airy has no water shortage but the town's pump can't operate fast enough to meet hot weather demands.

The ban was imposed for fire protection so that adequate water is available in emergencies.

Violation of the ban in Mount Airy which prohibits lawn sprinkling, car washing and other activities, carries a $10 to $50 fine.

Taneytown's mayor and city council have asked residents to conserve water because of a lack of rainfall.

Mayor Raymond Perry said, however, that the water supply is comparable to supplies of past seasons.

Baltimore Begins Water Restrictions

A "strictly enforced ban" on all non-essential use of water has been placed in effect in Northwest Baltimore City and Northwest Baltimore County.

The action was taken because of the increasing threat of fire hazard due to drought conditions and low pressures in water tanks used for distribution in the area.

The strict ban which forbids use of water for all outside use such as lawn sprinkling, auto washing and filling swimming pools, will remain in effect indefinitely unless considerable rainfall alters the situation.

The water engineer warns that he has asked the Police Dept. to strictly enforce the $20 penalty for each violation of the ban.

Over-use of water was responsible for a cut-off in all water in the Reisterstown area for three hours this week. Engineers said that even after water was available pressure was so low that only a trickle of water could be coaxed from faucets.

Taneytown Pool Rates Reduced

Rates for Taneytown Community Pool season tickets have been reduced.

A family season ticket now costs $30, with individual tickets priced at $20.

Guests of season ticket holders will be admitted on weekends and holidays at weekday prices if they are accompanied by season ticket holders.

Weekend and holiday tickets for adults are $2, for students $1, and for children under 6, 50 cents. Daily admissions are $1, 50 cents and 25 cents respectively.

Other facilities available will include softball, basketball, volleyball, horseshoes and shuffleboard.

Thurmont Seeks Additional Cop

The Thurmont town council this week is studying two applications made by county men seeking the position of policeman.

The town police department has been without a second officer since May 12 when policeman George R. Culler resigned and rejoined the Brunswick Police force.

Since Culler's resignation, the town council has been advertising for a man to assist Thurmont Police Chief Clarence Hagelin.

According to Roy W. Lookingbill, Thurmont's mayor, the position will pay $85 to $95 a week.

68 File For Election; Some Unopposed

Thirteen candidates for County offices filed at the last minute Tuesday at the Supervisor of Elections Office. These late-comers swelled the total number of candidates to 68.

The prospective officeholders include 36 Democrats and 32 Republicans.

Three candidates, all incumbents, will have no opposition in the general election in November. They are: Clerk of the Circuit Court, Ellis C. Wachter, a Republican; County Treasurer, Mrs. Charlotte W. Yarroll and State's Attorney Robert S. Rothenhoefer, both Democrats.

Offices without opposition in the primary are: judges of the Orphans' Court, Register of Wills and candidate for the GOP nomination for sheriff.

Three of the incumbent members of the House of Delegates filed for reelection: C. Clifton Virts and William M. Houck, both Democrats, and E. Earl Rensberg, a Republican.

Frederick representation in the House was pared from six to three seats as the result of the court-ordered reapportionment of the state legislature.

A total of eleven persons filed for the three Delegates seats. In addition to the incumbents mentioned, filing were: Austin F. Angleberger, Lemuel D. Keller, Harry F. Rhoderick and Anthony J. Jazarewicz, on the GOP slate.

Democratic candidates for the House of Delegates, besides Virts and Houck, are George B. Stupp, Alban W. Smith, William F. Cramer Jr. and Mrs. Ruby V. Hahn.

More candidates filed to be on their party's state central committee for the county than for any other office.

Eleven Democrats filed for the party posts and 12 Republicans on their ticket. This is the only final election on the ballot. Seven will be elected for each party.

Democrats filing for State Central Committee for Frederick County were James I. Ewing, Austin C. Powell, present chairman, John O. Ramsburg, Herbert L. Daugherty, Joseph J. Coady, Robert P. Muench, Alvey V. Renn, Harvey E. Cannon, Robert E. Dailey Jr., Charles L. Main and Otho J. Keller IV. Only one incumbent, Powell, will seek reelection.

Five Republican incumbents filed for re-election to the central committee. They are David H. Brown, Francis H. Harshman, William B.

Crum, Mrs. Hilda B. Croghan and John Strawder.

Other Republicans filing were Joseph F. Rhoderick, Samuel V. Palmer, Dr. Melvin E. Lea, Edward P. Thomas Jr., Merhle H. Duvall, James H. Hooper and Walter A. Martz.

Fourteen persons filed as candidates for County Commissioners, but only two of the three incumbents, Lawrence A. Dorsey, a Democrat, and Russell Z. Hormant, a Republican. A. Irvin Renn, president of the Board of County Commissioners, did not seek re-election.

Eight Democrats filed for County Commissioner. Besides Dorsey, they are Carroll H. Kehne, Del. Charles E. Collins, Lloyd R. Stupp, J. Norman Flax, C. Gordon Smith, Wallace E. Hutton and Daniel C. Poole.

Six Republicans filed for the three posts. They are besides Hormant, Mrs. Lorene W. Bowlus, Bruce E. Crum, Charles W. Mumma, William G. Hill Jr., and J. Richard Hudson.

Register of Wills Thomas M. Eichelberger, a Democrat, will be unopposed in the primary, as will his Republican challenger, Irvin C. Brant Jr.

County Sheriff Horace M. Alexander, a Republican, will be unopposed for the nomination. Crumwell P. Jacobs and Denver J. Shook will both seek the Democratic nomination to oppose Alexander in the general election.

The three Democrats seeking election as Orphans' Court Judge will be Howard Z. Stup, an incumbent, Mrs. Mildred S. Fisher and G. Raymond Shipley.

Republicans running for Orphans' Court judge are the Rev. Ralph E. White, an incumbent, Norvell Belt and Mrs. Virginia A. C. Anders.

The president of the Judges of the Orphans' Court, Mrs. Mary Hancock Gregory, did not seek re-election after serving three terms.

There will also be fights for election as delegate to the State Convention that will affirm the voters' choice for state-wide offices of governor, comptroller and attorney general in the general election.

Frederick County will have three delegates to this convention. Republicans running are Richard C. Reynolds, Charles S. V. Sanner and Col. Philip R. Winebrener.

Democrats running are Thomas S. Glass, John Warfield and Maurice J. Schroyer.

McGucken Faces Single Opponent

U. S. Rep. Charles McC. Mathias (R-Md. 6th) of Frederick will have only one challenger in the Republican primary in his re-election bid, as will have Patrick F. X. McGucken of Emmitsburg in his bid to be the Democratic challenger for Mathias' post.

Mathias, who has represented the Sixth District of Maryland in the Congress since 1961, will be opposed in the primary by Marshal Peters of Catonsville.

McGucken will be opposed by another Catonsville resident, Walter G. Finch, in his bid to be the Democratic candidate.

Twister And Hail Hit Fairfield Area

Fairfield firemen Tuesday hurriedly rebuilt carnival equipment damaged Monday evening in a storm that ripped down framework and tents, upset rides and moved the bingo stand off its foundation in one of the worst wind-lashings ever seen in the area. The carnival grounds were struck by the second of two storms to hit the area in less than 90 minutes.

Several large trees on Main St., near Dr. Ira Henderson's office were blown over electric lines and into the street to block traffic in both directions until workers with power saws were able to remove the debris from the roadway. Electric current was interrupted for as long as two hours in the Fairfield-Orrtanna areas, according to power companies.

Two firemen attempting to hold the bingo stand in place as high winds raked the grounds were struck by flying tables and broken framework. Treated at the office of Dr. James Hammett were Doyle Rebert and Warren Donnelly, who suffered minor head injuries.

The first storm dumped a half-inch of rain on the area in less than 30 minutes in a strictly localized shower. The second storm, accompanied by "twister-type" winds, struck at 8 o'clock and dropped hailstones "as big as golf balls" for 20 minutes. A total of 2 1/2 inches of rain was measured near the carnival area.

The largest cantilever span ever erected, the Quebec Bridge spanning the St. Lawrence River, contains nearly 17,000 tons of structural nickel steel. It was completed in 1917.

Modern Winter Biathlon
WASHINGTON (ANF)—Sling a rifle over your shoulder, strap a pair of "slats" on your feet, and run as fast as you can cross-country for 12 1/2 miles. Don't stop, except briefly four times to fire five shots at a tiny paper target off the trail. And don't let your heaving lungs and pounding heart make the rifle muzzle waver all over the countryside, because each miss is going to add two minutes to your time.
Sound tough? It is. Sound exciting? It is.
Olympic Sport
Modern Winter Biathlon is the newest of the international Olympic sports. It was added to the Winter Olympic lists in 1960, and in the Winter Olympic Games of February 1964, 14 nations entered competitors in Biathlon.
The only place in the United States where Biathlon competitors are trained is the U.S. Modern Winter Biathlon Training Center at Fort Richardson, Alaska. Under the supervision of the Commanding General of United States Army, Alaska, the Center carries out a continual training program for Biathlon.
Twelve Biathlon candidates, five of whom will be selected to represent the United States in the World Biathlon Championship meet in Europe this spring, are currently in training at Fort Richardson.
Modern Winter Biathlon is a grueling sport which combines cross-country ski racing with rifle marksmanship. The race course is 20 kilometers (12 1/2 miles), with one-third uphill, one-third downhill and one-third level. At four points along the course competitors stop to fire five rounds at targets at ranges of 100, 150, 200 and 250 meters. The shooter may select his own firing position, except that at the 100-meter range he must fire offhand (standing).
For each shot which misses the target, the racer has two minutes added to his adjusted elapsed time. The man who completes the course in the least time (adjusted) wins.
Year-Round Training
Training at the U.S. Modern Winter Biathlon Training Center is a year-round program of skiing, marksmanship, cross-country running, swimming, and calisthenics. The entire program is aimed at giving the men speed and stamina enough to run the race, and breath and heart control enough to fire accurately in the face of well-trained, skilled, determined international competition.
The U.S. "Biathletes" are all volunteers, many of whom joined the Army specifically to take part in this program. Membership in the U.S. Modern Winter Biathlon Training Center is open to any young man in the United States who can meet the requirements for Army service, and the requirements of the training. All applications are carefully screened by the Biathlon Training Center staff.
Any man, either civilian or a member of any of the military services, interested in joining the U.S. Modern Winter Biathlon Training Center should write directly to the Officer in Charge of the Center at Fort Richardson, APO Seattle 98749.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

A spectacular conservation feat has been achieved across the top quarter of the nation. To the American sportsmen it is comparable in importance only to the introduction of the Chinese pheasant 80 years ago, announces Zack Taylor, Boats Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

The mighty and unpredictable muskellunge is experiencing a population expansion of fantastic proportions. Huge muskies, less than ten years ago termed "a relic species doomed by time," are slashing lures of astonished fishermen from the Mississippi to the Susquehanna and in Canada's province of Ontario.

Not only have such traditional musky states as Wisconsin and New York recharged their native populations, but areas in Virginia, North Carolina and eastern Pennsylvania—where anglers still say "Good Gawd! What was that?" when the baleful shapes loom out of the deep—are producing fabulous musky fishing, with the certainty of more to come.

A "guesstimate" puts the number of musky fry and fingerlings stocked in 1960 at 200,000. These have become the 10- to 15-pound fish causing all the excitement today. Last year almost seven million fry and fingerlings were set free to grow up and scare bass fishermen.

Today anyone can catch a musky. Even in the most populated centers of the eastern United States, muskies have been stocked within fishing distance. Almost certainly a legitimate "hot spot" where large fish are taken in quantity is less than a day's drive away. Two main forces are combining to produce this astonishing conservation triumph. The first is the creation of large new reservoir impoundments in the East. The second has resulted from the discovery that warm-water forage-fish populations tend to far outstrip the food resources of their habitat and reduce all fish populations to stunted thousands.

The search for a voracious predator fish whose appetite could keep forage species in check led fish biologists unerringly to the pikes. And of these the musky, the supreme fresh-water trophy, was a natural choice. Muskies have a wide tolerance for varying water temperatures. They are among the fastest-growing fresh-water fishes. Under natural conditions musky fry are subject to severe predation by pike, mostly because the northern spawn several weeks earlier, and the three-inch pike fry gobble up the two-inch musky fry with ease. But in the absence of northern, muskies are tough enough.

ent damage. Toluene induces a state of euphoria, thus making it attractive to some troubled, unhappy people.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Tuberculosis

Tuberculosis still is a serious health problem in the United States.

One hundred thousand Americans are walking the streets today with active infectious tuberculosis who don't know they have it, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

By the time symptoms appear—fever, weight loss, coughing, and perhaps blood spitting—the disease has reached a point at which control is difficult. Some won't recover; 10,000 victims died from tuberculosis in a recent year, Today's Health reports.

Everyone is susceptible. TB is contracted from someone who has it, mainly by breathing air contaminated with TB germs. These are spread by coughing, sneezing and spitting. Sometimes a person becomes infected when germs enter his mouth from contaminated fingers, food or eating utensils, or from kissing an infected person.

If active tuberculosis is diagnosed, your physician has a choice of a variety of drugs, such as streptomycin and isoniazid, which effectively suppress the germs while the body builds up its own immunity.

Children under five are a "high risk" group because of the frequent and close associations with their parents, relatives, household help and baby sitters, any of whom may be carriers.

Everyone should have an annual check-up in the form of a skin test or chest x-ray. These tests are available free in most areas any time of the year. Local public health officers and the local chapters of the National Tuberculosis Association will direct you to TB detection centers in your area. The skin tests are simple and painless. If one of these indicates TB germs are present, it doesn't necessarily mean the germs are doing damage. It takes an x-ray and sputum test, along with blood and urine studies, to determine accurately whether the bacilli are active.

Minnow Bait

Best minnow bait of all is corn on the cob . . . off the cob, rather. Soak kernels for three or four days then put in trap. Minnows flock to it.

Clean Rod Handle

Freshen up "tired" cork grips on rods with sand paper. Just sand lightly and watch how they brighten up.

Long Stringer

Try this tip if fishing gets slow. Tie your fish stringer on a long line and let it drift out a good ways from the dock or boat. Fish may attract other fish, lure them to your bait.

Mosquitos Attack 'Fragrant' Humans

It's not fair — but if you're healthy, dark-skinned, active, perspire freely, and scent yourself with perfume, cologne, or aftershave lotion—you make a splendid target for mosquitos. This is the itchy word from the American Medical Association which adds, however, this note of comfort. If you dress in light-colored clothing rather than in blacks, dark reds, and dark blues (which mosquitos prefer), bathe frequently and cut down on scents (since the beasts are guided to their human target by such emanations), and cut down on strenuous activity, the insects may by-pass you.

Latin American Men Favor Birth Control

Physicians from Ecuador, Mexico, and Venezuela have exploded the widely-held notion that Latin American men want large families because this demonstrates their virility and therefore oppose birth control. The contrary is true, noted Dr. Edris Rice-Wray, who heads a non-profit birth control clinic in Mexico City. She reports that 98 per cent of the women who come to her clinic for birth control information do so with the permission of their husbands, and a majority of them are accompanied to the clinic by their spouses.

The physician also reported that lack of education is no hindrance to the Latin American woman who wants to practice contraception. "Avoiding pregnancy is so vital to these poverty-stricken women that they follow any prescribed regimen scrupulously," said Rice-Wray. She reported that some of her illiterate clinic patients have taken the pill in the prescribed way for as long as five and six years.

Glue Sniffing Damages Brain

Glue sniffing can cause permanent brain and central nervous system damage. California neurologists Drs. J. William Knox of the Oakland Naval Hospital and James H. Nelson of Harbor General Hospital in Torrance reported recently that a man in his 30's who had been sniffing glue regularly for some time showed the following symptoms of permanent brain and nerve damage. He walked with a staggering, stumbling gait, was very tremulous, and was unable to perform certain skilled movements. He also had involuntary, rapid side-to-side movements of his eyeballs, and some slurring of his speech. In addition, tests revealed a marked loss of brain substance.

A chemical called toluene is the significant constituent of glue vapors that can cause such perman-

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Plaintiff, Naomi J. Lipps, from the Defendant, Ralph F. Lipps, and for such other and further relief as the nature of the case may require.

The Bill states in substance, that the Plaintiff is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, and has been so for more than one year last past; that the whereabouts of the Defendant are presently unknown, but when last known was Chariton, Iowa; that the Complainant was married to the Defendant on October 9, 1928 in Frederick, Maryland at St. John's Roman Catholic Church by Father Farrell, regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of said marriage two children were born, both of whom are of age and emancipated; the Bill further alleges that although the conduct of the Complainant toward the Defendant, Ralph F. Lipps, has always been chaste, dutiful and affectionate, the Defendant, Ralph F. Lipps, between the time of the said marriage and filing of the Bill of Complaint, without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the Complainant and that such abandonment and desertion has continued uninterruptedly for a period of more than eighteen months prior to the filing of said Bill of Complaint and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties to this cause is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation.

It is thereupon, this 9th day of June, 1966, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four successive weeks prior to the 16th day of July, 1966, in some newspaper in Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the Defendant, Ralph F. Lipps, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning him to be and appear in this Court, either in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 16th day of August, 1966, to show cause, if any he has, why the relief sought should not be granted.

COLOR OPTICS

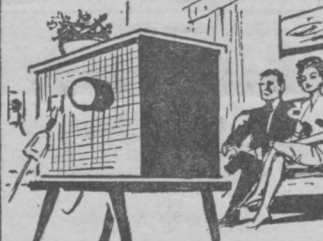

1. With special instruments, physicists are able to detect thousands of variations in the colors of the spectrum. But the average human eye can only distinguish about 40 of them!

2. Color is present in all light. And sunlight, which appears to have no color, is really the sum total of all color. This is best seen in the presence of rainbows after a rainfall.

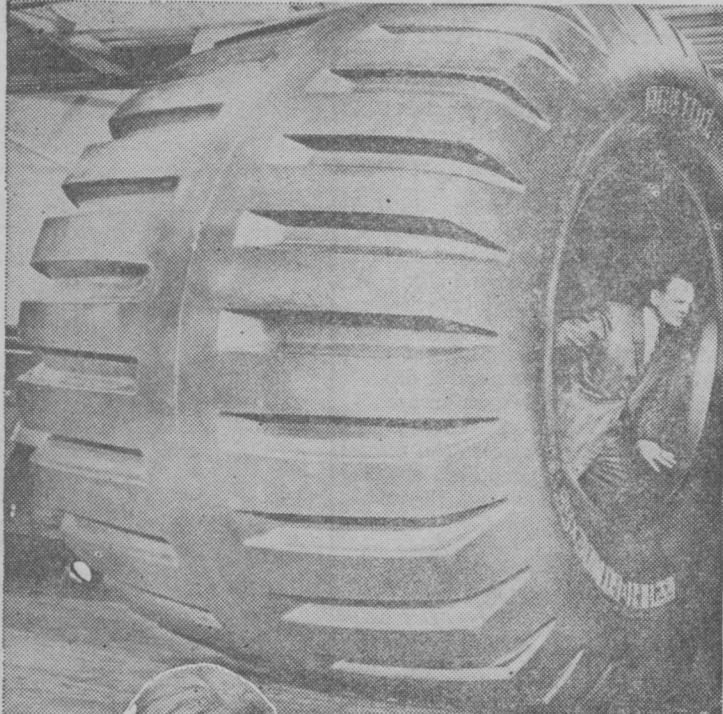

3. Color TV is harder to receive than black and white. Signals are weaker and interference more prominent—which is why an outdoor antenna is a must for fine color reception, yet not always needed for black and white sets.

4. Perfect color TV reception is possible by using shielded coaxial cable rather than twin-lead to connect the antenna to the TV set. New Jerrold coaxial antenna systems keep color pure and true; keep interference out.

Beware Of Communists In Churchly Roles

Nikolai Lenin, World Communism's messiah, taught his disciples that the United States, "last bastion of capitalism," could be brought to its downfall by the degeneration of its institutions and its society. Josef Stalin, Lenin's No. 1 disciple, reminded the Party hierarchy that "capitalism carries the seed for its own destruction." And Nikita Khrushchev, who trumpeted "co-existence," nevertheless said in one of his American speeches that the U. S. would decay within itself and World Communism would "bury" the remains.

The strategy is to hasten the deterioration of America and then, when the decay is complete, take over by insurrection or invasion. This is the strategy which the new Red bosses discussed and expanded at the 23rd Congress of the Communist Party of the USSR in Moscow last April. The chief target of the plotting, as always, is the Church. Atheist Communism from the beginning force which could prevent its takeover of the world was the Church. In every nation where it now works to cultivate the fungus of decay it has filtrated the Church and deceptively sought to abort its mission and turn it into a materialistic "social" mechanism and propaganda device for Red goals.

Reds Plan For Geneva Council Meeting

It is imperative, therefore, that the people of America, in their Church congregations, understand clearly some of the forces which will be at work in the World Council of Churches when it convenes next month in Geneva, Switzerland. When Herbert Philbrick, author of "I Led Three Lives," worked his way into the deep underground hierarchy of the Communist Party in Boston (serving secretly for the FBI), he met and plotted with many Communists who were being trained to be "ministers." Some already-prominent "preachers" were revealed to him to be Atheist Communists working secretly for the overthrow of the U.S.A.

Herbert Philbrick today is one of our nation's outstanding authorities on World Communism and particularly its widespread activities in America. Here is his warning concerning the Communist activities planned for the World Council meeting:

Planning For Population Expansion

"From sources behind the iron curtain we learn that the Communist-controlled 'churches' in the captive and slave nations of Europe have, since last December, been holding a series of special planning sessions to develop the propaganda line to be brought before the scheduled meeting of the World Council of Churches in Geneva. The Communist controlled 'ministers' have been told that 'the Geneva Conference will certainly be the greatest ecumenical event in 1966' and to thus prepare accordingly for 'the study of the burning problems in the rapidly changing world.' Several specific propaganda themes which may be extended by the Communist 'ministers' at Geneva:

"The 'cold war has come about through the crusading ideology of fanatical anti-Communism' to which 'hundreds of thousands were sacrificed in the last months.'

"The 'inhuman war of the U.S.A. in Vietnam threatens by its escalation to spread over the whole Southeast Asia.'

"Terrible bloodshed and mass executions are going on under the slogan of anti-Communism.' 'The store of atomic weapons is 'so big that every living being on our planet may be killed several times . . . no place on earth is safe against the bombs.' 'Reds Seek To Use The Church'

"In spite of great efforts of the forces of peace no disarmament agreement has been reached . . . The first task of all men of good will (is) to do everything possible to prevent a third world war.'

"From the pattern of this, and a great deal more information received from the Communist 'church' sources (Mr. Philbrick says) it is clear that the Red delegates will attempt to portray the United States as the evil aggressor in the world; the Soviet Union as a 'peace loving' nation; and that they will further suggest that the solution should be a policy of appeasement toward Communism on the part of the United States and the free world countries."

This is just another reminder that the greatest fortress for freedom for mankind is the Church, and that the Communists are working to make it into an instrument to expand atheism!

The salary of Edmund J. Randolph, first U. S. attorney general was $1,500 a year.

Asbestos May Add To Air Pollution

Airborne asbestos particles may someday be a new hazard of urban living. Although the concentration of asbestos particles in city air isn't of major concern now, the American Medical Association says that the wear of auto clutch and brake linings, the weathering of asbestos roofing—even the wearing of floor tile containing asbestos—are certain to increase its concentration in the air. Inhaled in considerable quantities, asbestos can cause lung disease, including malignant tumors.

Carbon dioxide can prevent mosquitoes from crashing your next patio party. Chunks of dry ice suspended around the patio give off heavier-than-air carbon dioxide gas which, says Cardox, Chicago, floats downward to form an invisible barrier containing less oxygen than the surrounding area. There's no danger to people, but the uninvited insects will have their party elsewhere.

A University of Rochester medical scientist recently went on an unusual safari to East Africa to capture the smallest of small game: antibodies that fight a cancer-causing virus. Dr. Herbert R. Morgan collected blood samples from wild birds and domestic fowl in Kenya and found that a great number of the birds carried antibodies of the Rous sarcoma-leukemia family of viruses, indicating that the birds had been infected with the virus and developed resistance to its cancer-producing effects.

The Sahara Desert, a synonym for total aridity, is underlain by water—an estimated 150,000 cubic miles. Fresh water exists in the ground in some quantity nearly everywhere on earth. In fact, the U. S. Geological Survey says that most of the world's stock of fresh water, 2 million cubic miles, is inside the earth. Half of this huge supply is believed to be within a half mile of the surface and reasonably accessible.

Non-scheduled airlines carried an estimated 39.4 million passengers last year, reports the Federal Aviation Agency. Scheduled airlines carried 84.6 million travelers.

The fighting ability of U. S. servicemen in Viet Nam has given many headaches to the Viet Cong. New the U. S. Army has disclosed that it is air-dropping bottles of aspirin to the Viet communists in the swamps southeast of Saigon. It's all a part of psychological warfare. The Army says that the Viet Cong is short of medicine in the area. The aspirin is being dropped in containers carrying also safe conduct passes for those wanting to surrender.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall, estimates a record 185 million visitor-days of use will be available in Federally-managed recreational areas, as compared with 173 million last year.

You feel good about it when you buy Savings Bonds
Savings Bonds are a great way to build a solid financial foundation for your child (or grandchild). It stands to reason. BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On: Our 1966 Forecast

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 7—As we New Englanders say, a lot of water has gone over the dam since our business and financial forecast for 1966 was published here on December 30, 1965. Both the Gross National Product and the Federal Reserve Index of Production have scaled new peaks in the first half of 1966 . . . just as we expected. But the stock market (as we also felt might happen) stumbled while business was still climbing.

Foreign Skies Still Clouded

Looking back, we find that last December we counted on more important developments to come out of Russia than actually took place. Very definitely South Vietnam has dominated the international scene. The "fireworks" in that unhappy country may well account for the relative inaction of the Russians.

Also, despite the rumble of threats from Red China, that rousing giant has been preoccupied with shifts in the Peking power setup. These should become increasingly clear later in the year. We were quite right in predicting no major war with either Russia or China. And we still feel our forecast that the balance would swing our way in Vietnam has been borne out, and will become even more apparent when the dry season returns in Southeast Asia.

Gains Harder To Come By
Six months ago we reasoned that the best of 1966 might be seen in the first half. Although some further progress will be made, we still feel that the economy may become more on the defensive. First signs of serious faltering have already occurred in automobiles. In this field we foresaw, last December, "no significant upsurge beyond the high levels of the past two years." Looking toward 1967, we now believe it will be even harder for the car builders to make progress. Best bet is that total output will trail last year by 5% or even more. This will act as a minor drag on business generally.

As projected, the bulge in defense spending proceeded on schedule . . . but did not overwhelm our economy; likewise, wage rates and the cost of living spurred, leaving in their wake grave fears of runaway inflation (which has not yet developed) and a slowdown in the rate of profits gain. The biggest block to further substantial advances by business (in addition to the auto slowdown) are the developing paralysis in home building and the checks to the long rise in capital outlays. Last December we expected these retarding trends to develop.

Credit The Culprit

Six months ago we said, "... the greater danger will lie in credit inflation, rather than in price inflation." And we have had indeed a mighty boom in credit; but the wellsprings are drying up. Interest rates have soared. More to the point, those who would like to expand—from home builders to school builders—are finding that funds either are not available or can be had only at prohibitive cost.

Some economists have begged the government to use its tax power to slow the economy . . . so credit inflation will not spill over into run-away price inflation and then a big bust. Apparently Uncle Sam has left the job of "cooling off" the boom to the money managers . . . the Federal Reserve Board. It is the old-fashioned way; it is cumbersome, all-embracing—sort of a shotgun method that hits around as well as on target—and, above all it is slow. But just because it is slow, don't think it won't work. It is working. That is why we still look for the final half year to be less boomy than the first half.

On Stocks And Bonds

In our 1966 Forecast, we warned of speculation and gambling in stocks. We also looked for bonds to decline. Actually, bonds have declined more than we expected. They are now at a point where new issues of high quality—"AA" or "AAA"—may be bought on a long maturity basis, especially if they are protected against early call. Certainly they may be better buys than some of the widely touted growth stocks. Indeed, we believe that these days—and the days just ahead—will come to be looked upon as one of the great opportunities of this century for buying and holding top-grade government, local, and corporate bonds with long maturity and with protection against sudden call.

Bonanza's "Hoss" Cartwright Boosts See America First Americans For Indian Bureau

All across America, this summer, people will be hearing the phrase: See America first with the first Americans. Volunteering to tell about Indian reservations for the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Indian Affairs will be Dan Blocker, "Hoss" Cartwright of NBC-TV's "Bonanza." Blocker will do a series of radio and TV public service spots extolling the beauties of the Indian reservations of the country.

The idea is to create more traffic through the reservations this summer and public interest and concern for our first Americans. In addition, as "Hoss" points out, "You'll find that reservation country has some of the most spectacular hunting and fishing and beautiful country for miles around. Too, the historical background of most reservations is something for the whole family to catch up on and know more about."

Indian Affairs is the first to point out the accommodations on reservations can vary from a few tables and a barbeque pit to modern motels with swimming pools and hot springs baths. That is why Blocker urges anyone interested in the scenic beauty of reservations in the areas where they are traveling, write to the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Washington, D. C., for information about reservations under Federal administration.

Blocker, who has been to a few of the reservations, himself, says:

WORKS FOR INDIANS—NBC-TV's Dan Blocker has contributed his services to the Indian economy by making a series of radio and TV spots telling of the advantages of visiting Indian Reservations for fishing, scenic beauty and historic sites.

"There's just no end of places to go when you get reservation-minded. And the various ruins, museums, historical sites and works of art you'll see, will be of interest to the whole family. You can cover the area from Florida to Arizona, and all the way up to the Alaskan panhandle and still see only a small part of the 50 million acres of Indian land in the United States."

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Corn Cobs For Hogs

When thinking of corn cobs in connection with hogs, most of us who have shoveled ear corn onto a feeding floor would see an accumulation of cobs that need to be cleared off the floor to be gotten rid of somehow.

Can cobs be converted into good hog feed? Yes, say Minnesota and Wisconsin researchers. But that is before the cobs have become fouled on a feeding floor—rather while they are still present in good sound ear corn and in that condition are ground through a relatively fine screen of a hammer mill.

Minnesota workers report that during four years of research ear corn dried to 15% moisture and ground through a quarter-inch screen resulted in more efficient feed conversion and cheaper gains for growing pigs. The pigs fed ground ear corn gained a little slower than pigs fed ground shelled corn, but they were more efficient in converting the shelled corn equivalent of the ration to pork. The pigs had less backfat, slightly larger loin eyes, and tended to have leaner carcasses.

Much the same observations were made at the Wisconsin Experiment Station where during two years the pigs fed ground ear corn gained somewhat slower than pigs fed ground shelled corn but definitely required less shelled corn equivalent of the ration for a pound of gain. In other words, the ground cobs replaced the major part of their weight in the form of shelled corn. It seemed almost like exchanging cobs for corn.

In the Wisconsin work grinding ear corn through a three-sixteenth inch screen of a hammer mill resulted in a somewhat finer product, in greater gain and feed efficiency, than did grinding through a quarter-inch screen. But of all seven lots of pigs fed corn in different ways, the lowest cost of gains was obtained with the finely ground ear corn described.

Earlier this season, I mentioned a newly designed silo filling machine for high-moisture corn, that took freshly harvested ear corn, shelled the ear corn, and in separate parts of the machine ground the cobs, the shelled corn, and then mixed the two on their way into the silo. I stated that it was a wonderfully fine blend.

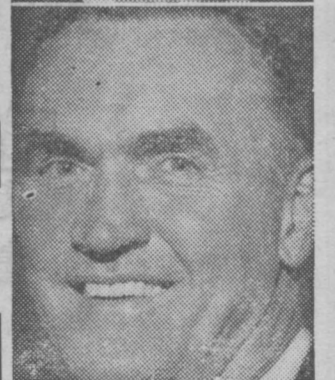

It would seem that such a machine might do a similar excellent job with dry ear corn, perhaps somewhat better than would a hammer mill.

Question: Since all trace mineral deficiencies are not likely to occur at any one time or place, why feed all six by way of trace mineral premixes or trace mineral salt?

Answer: The cost of adding all of them instead of one or two is small in comparison to the protection they afford. Even if some of them should not be seriously deficient they are well tolerated by livestock, and are low cost insurance against sub-clinical deficiency losses.

is all you do!

Are you constantly faced with developing new craft projects? And must they be cheap and easy? Well, here's one—actually many—that den mothers, Red Cross workers, teachers, Scout leaders and maybe even you will want to clip and stick in your files. It's making doll furniture with Elmer's Glue-All, scraps of material and boxes and cartons such as those used for milk, toothpaste and scores of other products you cart home weekly from the market. In fact, just about all the materials you need can be intercepted on their way to the scrap basket. In Glueville, tops from perfume bottles become precious vases; eye cups hold fruit and flowers and Dad's old gray fedora carpets the dining room.

Here, for example, is how you make a bed and sofa. Start with a box approximately 6½ inches long, 4½ inches wide and 2 inches high. (The lid of a one-pound candy box is the right size.) Spread glue over the top of the box, and place a piece of fabric, slightly larger than the top, over it. Repeat the same procedure to cover the sides, remembering to always smooth

Coady Seeks Seat On Committee

Joseph J. Coady, an investigator for the Department of Motor Vehicles, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic State Central Committee.
Coady, 54, was a member and secretary of the central committee from 1954 to 1958. He also served as trial magistrate from 1959 to 1961, when he resigned.
He said that every local chairman should be notified of job openings so that the committee can select the most qualified candidates.
Calling for central committee meetings open to the public, Coady said that residents should also be allowed to present their views.
A state trooper from 1940 to 1944, Coady transferred then to the Department of Motor Vehicles. The Coadys live at 410 Carroll Parkway, Frederick.

Coady was also the original secretary of the Frederick County Democratic Club and is still a club member. He was a losing candidate for alderman in 1962.

Highway Death Rate Rising

Nine persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police. Three of those killed were drivers and six were passengers. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths; speed in four and "driver error" was present in all of the fatalities.

"Last week's highway toll included a prime example of speed as a contributing factor," commented Colonel Carey Jarman, superintendent of Maryland State Police. A Chevrolet sedan east-bound on Race Road at high speed failed to negotiate a left curve, ran off the right side of the road and struck a large tree, killing three passengers.
