More problems are in store for the motorist and the Maryland State Police. According to an article in the Gettysburg Times, State officials of Pennsylvania are making Route 15, the by-pass east of Town, a 55-mile-an-hour speed zone. The present speed limit is 50 and even this creates a problem to the motorist entering Maryland north of Emmitsburg. They will be immediately confronted with a 40-mile-an-hour zone as they are funneled across the State Line. This is a rapid deceleration of 15 miles an hour in a short distance. There is no doubt the 40-mile Maryland limit has saved accidents and lives and it comes as somewhat of a surprise that Pennsylvania should raise the limit as the motorist approaches our dangerous by-pass. The two-mile stretch will soon become a veritable speed trap as motorists are nabbed and the work for the Maryland State Police will become heavily increased in the Emmitsburg area.

It has almost become unparaphrased to water your shrubbery, garden or trees, or wash your car at night or otherwise violate the water ban. Citizens are quick to spot their neighbor's nefarious acts and they quickly spot these violators as they see the green patches in their yards, signifying them as violators, or down-right cheaters. Several sprinklers have been warned and penalties may be added upon a second violation.

For those of you who are interested in the weather, and who isn't these days, we have some statistics to shoot at you. As the drought and heat continue, we decided to contact someone who knows officially just what's going on. A short telephone conversation with Mrs. Paul L. Beale, official cooperative weather observer here, quickly brought me the following figures which I believe will prove interesting to all of you.

The "T" on the weather report means that only a trace of rain fell, which is less than .01 inch, the smallest quantity that can be measured.

Since the first of June, Emmitsburg has received 19 inch of rain. In May 1.29 inches of rain fell. In April we had 4.30 inches, which is near normal. In May 1965 we received 2.24 inches of rain, in June, 1.87; in July 2.00; in August 2.77; in Sept. 2.99; in October 3.30, and in November 0.97. By these figures, one can tell that 1966 has been, so far, much drier than last year.

Temperatures, too, have set records this summer. In June, 1966, we had 12 days when the temperature was above 90 degrees in July, 18 days were above 90 degrees, three over 100 degrees, only 5 days were below 90 in the whole month so far. June 1965, had 6 days above 90; July, 1965, 13 days were above 90, and none were over 100 degrees.

Change Speed Zone

Things are moving more quickly in Adams County these days as a result of the work of a crew from the state Highways Dept.

The crew this week was working on the Emmitsburg and Hanover-Gettysburg roads making "55 miles per hour" signs out of "50 miles per hour" signs.

The change was accomplished by placing a decal of the number 5 over the zero in the "50 mile per hour" signs. Road Superintendent Charles Lightner said.

The crew has already completed the Route 15 bypass and Route 34 and expects within the new week to have altered all of the 400 or more speed limit signs along the state highways in the county.

Speed limits on most roads throughout the state have been increased by five miles per hour. Those with a 50-mile limit generally now have a 55-mile limit. Those with a 60-mile-per-hour top speed now are generally 65-mile-per-hour roads.

Motorists have been warned however that their driving speeds must correspond to the posted signs along the highway.

The complete changeover throughout Pennsylvania is scheduled to be accomplished by January 1, 1967.

Lieut. Paxson Receives Citation

Second Lieutenant George D. Paxson, Infantry, U. S. Army, performed his duties in an outstanding manner while assigned as Training Officer, Organization and Training Division, G3 Section, Headquarters, IV United States Army Corps, during the period 8 July, 1965 to 31 May, 1966. Often called upon to present the training policies of this and higher headquarters, Lieutenant Paxson worked tirelessly to obtain background information and professional know-how through countless hours of researching directives, conversations with knowledgeable personnel, and thorough examination of every requirement within his field. His initiative, diligence, enthusiasm and sound judgment quickly established expertise in his area of responsibility and gained the respect of associates, contemporaries and innumerable field contacts who looked to him for guidance. Lieutenant Paxson's distinctive performance of duty, at a time when the entire Corps was drastically understaffed, is an outstanding example of the high performance standards which may be achieved through personal desires, perseverance and ambition. Additionally, he ably filled a necessary, responsible position and rendered invaluable and professional service far beyond limitations normally associated with newly commissioned officers. Lieutenant Paxson's many achievements reflect credit upon himself and the IV United States Army Corps.

Wachter GOP Candidate For State Senator

Mehrl F. Wachter of Frederick, Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, was endorsed by the State Central Committee and appointed by Gov. Millard Tawes to complete the unexpired term of John A. Derr, recently elected Mayor of Frederick. Mr. Wachter is also a candidate for State Senator for the newly created district of Frederick and Carroll Counties.

Mr. Wachter, long active in the Republican Party of Frederick County, has been a member of the State Central Committee for the past 12 years and was Chairman of this committee until two weeks ago when he resigned from the committee to become State Senator of Frederick County. He has been chairman of some of the most successful dinners and rallies held in Frederick County.

Mr. Wachter is a successful plumbing and heating contractor in Frederick. He is a member of the Frederick Evangelical Lutheran Church and a past officer of the Sunday School. He is married to the former Lola M. Rice of Myersville and is the father of one son, Allen, age 14.

Mr. Wachter, in announcing his candidacy, said: "I am confident that I can meet the challenges of the newly-created senatorial district in the best interests of the people of Both Frederick and Carroll counties. My successful business experience and having served on the legislative committees of the State and National Association of Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors, well qualify me for the important position of State Senator."

Lions Club To Ask For Additional Town Mailboxes

The Emmitsburg Lions Club took steps Monday night to obtain more adequate mail service for local patrons. The lack of postal facilities here for the convenience of senior citizens was discussed at the regular meeting of the club and a course of action was decided upon. President Norman Shriver presided over the meeting held in Mt. Manor Restaurant.

The Lions decided to have Lion President Shriver contact postal authorities and ask for several mail drop boxes to be located at strategic points throughout the town.

Treasurer William Slemmer Jr. announced that $3,000 had been paid on the bill to the contractor for blacktopping the Go-Kart track and that $300 more had been paid on the borrowed principal. Ralph McDonnell, treasurer for the Civic Assn., reported that all former shareholders in the group had been paid off and that there were no outstanding debentures.

Also discussed at the meeting was the problem of "frozen" building lots in this area. Means of having these lots released at favorable prices to the public to encourage building of homes here were talked over and future talks will be held.

President Shriver named Secretary Eugene Sappington as chairman of the annual picnic committee and the affair will be held at Charnita on Monday, Aug. 8 starting at 6:30 p.m. All Lion members, their families and guests are invited.

Property Transferred

George W. and Alma M. Myers, Fairfield, have sold to George M. and Mary A. Springer, Emmitsburg, R2, two tracts in Hamilton-ban Twp., Pa., for $16,000.

FINED

George E. Groh, 30, 210 South Seton Ave., Emmitsburg, pleaded guilty to a disorderly conduct charge brought by Gettysburg Police before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder early Tuesday morning after he was apprehended in Racehorse Alley, Gettysburg, near the borough shed where he was reportedly beating a woman in a car. He paid a $19 fine and costs.

Fractures Ankle

Raymond Springer, 31, Emmitsburg R1, was treated at the Warner Hospital Friday for a fracture of the left ankle sustained when a motor dropped from a hoist and landed on his left leg and foot.

Local Democratic Committee Plans County Federation

Emmitsburg Democrats will spearhead a movement to unite all central committees of the party located in Frederick County, in the near future. This action was decided upon at the quarterly meeting of the Emmitsburg Democratic Central Committee held Tuesday night in the Fire Hall, Chairman Clarence E. Hahn presiding.

Under the plan, all Democratic Central Committee chairmen would form an association of the County and would keep in close touch with the Frederick County Democratic Central Committee. Complaints about shoddy dealings concerning appointments to Postoffices and some county offices were registered and it was decided to form such a group to keep the local committees advised and in touch with the larger and more powerful Frederick County Committee.

During the meeting Mrs. Virginia Sanders was elected chairman of Precinct 1, replacing C. C. Combs, who resigned. Mrs. W. R. Cadle was elected to fill a vacancy on the committee from Precinct 2 and Carl A. Wetzel was elected to also fill a vacancy on the committee of Precinct 3.

It was announced that on Aug. 8, the New Frontier Democratic Woman's Club would hold a Candidates' Night in the VFW annex with all interested persons being invited. An invitation has been extended to Candidates Thomas B. Finan and Carlton Sickles, two principal contenders for the gubernatorial election. Other candidates, both on a state-wide and county level have been extended an invitation to attend. Each candidate will be allowed three minutes to introduce himself.

It was decided to communicate with the County Commissioners to learn their policy of making appointments to County Offices. Indignation was registered over the recent appointments to the Roads Board and a Postmastership given out in the County. Resentment was expressed, not because of the persons receiving the appointments but the method used by the Commissioners and the County Central Committee making the appointments without the knowledge of the local Central Committees.

Out-of-town guests at the meeting were Mrs. Chambers, Lingapore, who spoke on the coming Maryland constitutional convention; Mr. Moorhead, Hauvers, who spoke of the vital importance and work being done by local central committees, and Mr. Ephraim, of Brunswick, who spoke briefly on reorganizing the Brunswick Democratic Central Committee.

ELMER K. GLASS

Elmer K. Glass, 58, formerly of Emmitsburg, died Sunday at his home in Kissimmee, Fla., after a short illness.

He was born near Emmitsburg, a son of the late Lawson and Maude L. Hickman Glass. He was a member of the Methodist Church in Florida.

Familiarly known as "Lindy," Glass was a popular baseball pitcher for the Emmitsburg team in the old Frederick County League in the early 1930's.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Marie D. Glass; one son, Donald, and three daughters, Roberta, Linda and Ann, all of Kissimmee; seven brothers, Edgar Glass, Wales, Fla.; Paul and Milburn Glass, of Emmitsburg; Lloyd Glass of Key-mar; Gilmer Glass of Westminster; Thurston Glass of Fallston; Hayburn Glass of Jonesville, Va.; two sisters, Mrs. Betty Sprinkle of Florida, and Mrs. Kenneth Robinson of Westminster.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Creager Funeral Home, Thurmont, with the Rev. King Duncan officiating. Interment was in the Keysville Cemetery.

GRASS FIRE

The Vigilant Hose Co. was called at 6:20 o'clock Monday evening to the Michael Rue, Jr., property on the Old Frederick Rd. to fight a grass fire. The blaze, which started from a trash fire, burned over about a half acre.

VFW TO MEET

VFW Post 6658 will meet Wed., Aug. 3, 8:30 p.m. at Kump's Dam.

Plane Pilot Receives Driver's License

Miss Linda Davenport, right, is shown following completion of driver's training course. Shown to the left is Linda Cool who also completed the schooling. Both are Emmitsburg residents.

Just to show her friends her versatility, a young Emmitsburg girl, Linda Davenport, this week completed the task of obtaining her automobile driver's license. What's so unusual or sensational about this? Nothing, only a few weeks ago she flew a plane solo at the Frederick Airport under the supervision of Manager Paul Cochran, while being unable to operate an automobile.

Linda, 16, daughter of Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. James E. Davenport, Rout 2, decided recently that perhaps she should learn to drive a car and she enrolled in the County Driver Education Course. She made the grade and obtained her license this week after taking the course under the watchful eyes of her instructors, Paul L. Beale and Donald Boyer. Sperry Ford Sales provided two new Ford cars for the course which was taken by the following local citizens:

Drought Continues; Situation Critical

Photos show Toms Creek west of town where emergency pumping was done last year. Pump stands ready for emergency use. Creek was dammed this week in readiness for use. The stream also has been hit by the drought and it is questionable just how much water it can provide if needed. Yesterday's showers did little to alleviate conditions here.

Emmitsburg continues in the throes of the worst drought in some 30 years. This community has the dubious distinction of being the driest spot in the state of Maryland.

This area has had no measurable amount of precipitation since the last week in May. As a matter of fact official weather records show exactly .19 of rainfall in the last two months. Farmers are reporting wells and springs drying up for the first time in their history and there will be no more hay cutting for the balance of the year. Corn has gone into tassel at two feet and there will be little yield to the crop. Elected representatives are working on Federal drought aid for the County and dairymen are feeding their livestock this winter's feed already. The effects of the drought are reflected in the higher prices for fresh vegetables as gardens are yielding little or nothing to be canned or marketed. Additional hikes in milk to the consumer are in prospect and the situation has become critical generally.

The water ban in Emmitsburg remains in effect and there has been a saving in the consumption of water, Public Works Director Norman Flax reports. The ban will continue in effect until sufficient rain has fallen to alleviate drought conditions. Rainbow Lake, Emmitsburg's chief supply of water, has dropped about two feet. Two wells are being pumped at the present time but springs are providing little if any water to the reserves.

Tom's Creek, used last year in the emergency water period, has been dammed up but there is one dark spot in the whole picture. The extended drought has played havoc with Tom's Creek and it is conjectured whether the stream will be of much use this year during the emergency.

Faced with tinder-dry conditions, in the woods, Frederick County forestry officials moved to prevent a serious outbreak of fires. Calling the situation dangerous, the officials acted in the wake of what they called one of the driest summers in years.

Herman D. Toms, state forestry supervisor for Frederick and eastern Washington County, called the situation "critical" in most of Frederick County and "very critical" in the Thurmont and Emmitsburg areas.

At the same time, Marion W. Rice, superintendent of Parks and Watershed for Frederick, has warned users of the city watershed not to build fires there except in fireplaces set up for the purpose and also below the dam at Fishing Creek.

Toms said that although the situation is dangerous, the danger reading on the forestry meter maintained for the purpose is set at "1." He attributed this to the green foliage.

Emmitsburg, called by Toms a "very critical" area, also acted on its own to prevent an outbreak, warning citizens not to burn anything outside. The action was taken by the Burgess and the Vigilant Hose Co., who are faced with tinder-dry and dead grass and a stringent water ban. The U. S. Department of Agriculture, in its monthly weather release, showed that Emmitsburg is the driest town in Maryland, receiving only a "trace" of precipitation.

The situation with the green foliage, Toms said means that forest fires will burn deep in the group and do heavy damage.

Gettysburg Water Situation Is Critical

The Gettysburg Municipal Authority Wednesday termed the town's water supply "critical" and banned use of water for any other than "barest essential needs" and "emergency use."

Unless use of water is confined to only "barest essential needs" the town may be out of water," a spokesman for the authority said.

Meeting in an emergency session to study the effects of the continued summer-long drought, the Authority Board passed a resolution declaring "a critical scarcity of water" and directing the manager of the authority to cut off water service after due notice to anyone found violating the regulations on un-essential water use.

The resolution banned such things as watering of lawns and gardens, washing automobiles, operation of water-cooled air conditioning units and "the maintenance of ponds, swimming and bathing pools."

According to the resolution, the public welfare requires that the use of water be restricted until scarcity has been eliminated.

Francis Albers, manager of the Municipal Authority, told the board a prior request for people of the town to voluntarily curtail use of water had resulted in a reduction in water use, but that with continued dry weather, "further conservation is required at this time."

The present demand for water, he said, continues to lower the level of the Marsh Creek supply. The Authority has been using its well at its pumping station, but "the well, plus what is available in Marsh Creek, cannot meet the present demand for water."

Mrs. Margaret Wilhide and children, Thomas, Elizabeth and David, visited Mrs. Wilhide's son, Stephen, for several days last week at the Cherokee Indian Reservation, Cherokee, N. C. Stephen has been doing social work among the Indians there for several years.

OUR LIBRARY

"The Costume Book for Parties and Plays," by Joseph Leeming, is a new and interesting book which has been added to the collection. A book that is in demand in bookshops and libraries which never before has been produceable. The text is brief but effective in describing the costumes of 27 different nations and 9 historical periods and the most often sought fanciful costumes, from fairy godmoths to Captain Kidd.

"Keoeit—the story of the Aurora Borealis," by W. Petrie. In a form that is easily readable, the story of that beautiful natural phenomenon, the aurora borealis. Previously interest in this subject has been confined to the residents of countries at high northern and southern latitudes, or to the small band of scientists concerned with events taking place in the earth's upper atmosphere.

"Basic Electricity," by Abraham Marcus—a text on the fundamentals of electricity. This book is intended for beginners. It requires no prerequisite knowledge of physics or mathematics other than ordinary arithmetic.

"Volcanos in History, theory and eruption," by Fred M. Bullard. The terrible beauty of a volcano in action is unforgettable. The author brings that dramatic experience to readers of this book. He moves all around the world describing the awful wonders of eruptions in Italy, Iceland, Mexico, Hawaii, Japan, Indonesia, and New Zealand, and detailing the human tragedies wrought by their havoc. "Latin America," by Tad Szulc of the New York Times. A clear, concise introduction to our nearest neighbors; their present situation and their way to tomorrow.

A TIRED AMERICAN SPEAKS OUT

(The following editorial by Alan McIntosh appeared in the Rock County Herald, Luverne, Minn.)

I am a tired American. I am tired of being called the ugly American. I'm tired of having the world panhandlers use my country as a whipping boy 365 days a year.

I am tired of having American embassies and information centers stoned, burned, and sacked by mobs operating under orders from dictators who preach peace and breed conflict.

I am a tired American—weary of being lectured by General De Gaulle (who never won a battle) who poses as a second Jehovah in righteousness and wisdom.

I am a tired American—weary of Nasser and all the other blood-sucking leeches who bleed Uncle Sam white and kick him in the shins and yank his beard if the flow falters.

I am a tired American—weary of the beatniks who say they should have the right to determine what laws of the land they are willing to obey.

I am a tired American—fed up with the mobs of scabby faced, long haired youths and short-haired girls who claim they represent the "new wave" of America and who sneer at the old-fashioned virtues of honesty, integrity, and morality on which American grew to greatness.

I am a tired American—weary unto death of having my tax dollars go to dictators who play both sides against the middle with threats of what will happen if we cut off the stream of dollars.

I am a tired American—who is tired of supporting families who haven't known any other source of income other than government relief checks for three generations.

I am a tired American—who is getting madder by the minute at the filth peddlers who have launched Americans in an obscenity race—who try to foist on us the belief that filth is an integral part of culture—in the arts, the movies, literature and the stage.

I am a tired American—weary of the bearded bums who tramp the picket lines and the sit-ins—who prefer Chinese Communism to capitalism—who see no evil in Castro, but sneer at President Johnson as a threat to peace.

I am a tired American—who has lost all patience with the civil rights group which is showing propaganda movies on college campuses from coast to coast. Movies denouncing the United States. Movies made in Communist China.

I am a tired American—sickened by the slackjawed bigots who wrap themselves in bedsheets in the dead of night and roam the countryside looking for innocent victims.

I am a tired American—who dislikes clergymen who have made a career out of integration causes, yet send their children to private schools.

I am a tired American—who resents those who try to peddle the belief in schools and colleges that capitalism is a dirty word and that free enterprise and private initiative are only synonyms for greed.

They say they hate capitalism, but they are always right at the head of the line demanding their share of the American way of life.

I am a tired American—real tired of those who are trying to sell me the belief that America is not the greatest nation in all the world—a generous hearted nation—a nation dedicated to the policy of trying to help the "have-nots" achieve some of the good things that our system of free enterprise brought about.

I am an American who gets a lump in his throat when he hears the "Star Spangled Banner" and who holds back tears when he hears those thrilling high notes of the brassy trumpets when Old Glory reaches the top of the flagpole.

I am a tired American who thanks a merciful Lord that he was so lucky to be born an American citizen, a nation under God, truly with mercy and justice for all.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kestler

"Eleven years ago, I lengthened the chambers of a Browning 20-gauge superposed from 2½ inches to three inches. Now, this, I'll admit, was a pretty sneaky thing to do. For one thing, I'm sure the Browning Arms Company would not have approved of this act. It couldn't have sanctioned it because the gun hadn't been designed or proofed for the three-inch magnum loads. When I altered the gun, I knew I was assuming full responsibility. However, I did proof the gun to my own satisfaction," confesses Pete Brown, Arms Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

For these past 11 years Pete has used this gun—bored with modified and improved—cylinder choke—with light loads in the 2½-inch shells and three-inch magnum loads in the heavy duck and goose getters. With loads

NO. 21,182 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND. ANNIE C. MARTIN, an infant, by NELLIE V. SHANK, her mother and next friend

VS. ROBERT W. MARTIN, SR. ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The Bill of Complaint is a suit procedure to a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Robert W. Martin, Sr.

The Bill recites that the Complainant, Annie C. Martin, an infant, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, Robert W. Martin, Sr., is presently residing c/o Vivian Wetzell, 102 South Market Street, Frederick (Frederick County), Maryland; that the parties to this cause were married on 14th day of May, 1963, at Middletown, Maryland, by Rev. Klinefelter, a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage two children were born, namely, Sharon Ann Martin, aged two years, and Robert W. Martin, Jr., aged one year, both of whom are in the care and custody of the Complainant and whose care and custody the Complainant seeks; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Annie C. Martin, be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Robert W. Martin, Sr., that said Complainant may be awarded the care and custody of the said infant children, and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF COURT It is thereupon this 15th day of July, 1966, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 20th day of August, 1966, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 20th day of September, 1966, and show cause, if any he may have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

from 2½ drams—equivalent and 7/8 ounce of shot to 3½ drams—equivalent and 1½ ounces of shot, the 20-gauge with three-inch chambers emerges as a very versatile game gun. At least, that is the way Pete has had it sized up.

For this Browning Pete also has a set of .410-bore barrels made by Simmons Gun Specialties in Kansas. On occasion he has turned this gun over to visiting friends, usually for dove shooting. He has had a couple of people become so attached to the gun that they would try almost anything to own it—including whipping out their checkbooks and asking him to name his price. This 20-gauge gun with three-inch chambers and extra .410-bore barrels has been something different—pleasingly different.

It's not Pete's nature, he says, to fall madly in love with any gun, but he just couldn't bring himself to part with this gem of a 20. He has never even explored the limit to which his eager friends might go in threatening him with their checkbooks. The gun weighs only six pounds eight ounces, it is slim and trim, it feels good in the hand and it handles nicely. All current 20-gauge Browning superposed guns have three-inch chambers, and 28-gauge and .410-bore barrels are available.

weighs only six pounds with 26½-inch barrels.

Pete believes the 20-gauge side-by-side or over-and-under double has become the aristocrat among shotguns. He is also convinced that most sportsmen will soon be choosing the 20-gauge with three-inch chambers over the current popular "one gun," or all-purpose, choice—the 12-gauge. So far the change has come about very gradually, but this year practically all 20-gauge.

SPORTS TIPS

Red Worms
Why do fish bite more readily on red worms than worm-colored worms? Ask the fish. But they do. Dye worms with red brick dust spread over worm box or artificial food coloring.

Front Hitch

Mount an easily removable trailer hitch on your front bumper when you have to ease a boat or travel trailer in or out of a tight spot. You'll be astonished how much easier it makes a tricky job.

Hellgramites

To drift a hellgramite over a rocky bottom, clip off the end of its tail. The ugly little critter can't get into the rocks as easily and hang up your bait.

Rawhide Laces

Rawhide laces will thread easier if you harden the end by singeing over a cigarette lighter.

Wasp Larva

If you've run out of ways to make bluegills bite, try baiting your hook with wasp larva. The wasps may not like it but the bluegills will. Crappies too.

Mink Trap

Find a hollow log along a stream and you'll catch a mink with a trap in it. The lively mink almost always shoot through these places . . . mostly for the fun of it apparently.

Trout Cheese

Heading for a stock trout stream? Put some cubes of velvetea cheese in your bait can. Often works wonders.

Snow Suit

Planning to do any winter hunting next year. Buy a couple of old fashioned white nightshirts. Slip right over your regular clothes and the crows or ducks never know you're there.

Communist," that the Red Chinese leaders have no ambitions for world conquest, that they wish only to become a member of the "family of nations," that they are motivated by understandable fright over the "historical arrogance" of the United States.

These factors voiced in defense of the Red Chinese leaders should ring a bell in the minds of all informed Americans. When World Communism in the mid-1940's was trying to pave the way for the takeover of China, American "experts" defended Mao and his forces by describing them as merely "agrarian reformers." Our Government "bought" this fraud and left Chiang Kai-shek without effective aid. The great China land mass and 600,000,000 Chinese were gobbled up by the Reds, and the "agrarian reformers" set about executing millions of citizen-leaders as "uncooperative, enemies of the State."

"Expert" Opinion Challenged

Ambassador Liu Chieh, permanent representative of the Republic of China to the U. S., is well qualified to speak out in the "Great Debate." He has access to a mass of information coming out of Red China. He is a lifetime student of the Red "movement" in China. He has an intimate knowledge of the mentality of the Red Chinese leaders. I know him personally to be a man of highest integrity and extraordinary intellect.

Ambassador Chieh says: "The China experts tell us that the conflict in Viet Nam would sooner or later involve the United States in a war with Peiping, with all the frightful consequences that implies. As a matter of fact, however, Peiping has already been involved in the conflict. But given the economic troubles at home, the lack of adequate air support, logistic difficulties, and the tremendous risks involved, Mao Tse-tung is not expected to rush into a head-on-clash with the United States. There is little to gain (for the Chinese Reds) but everything to lose in such an all-out conflict.

Red Goal: The World

"The Chinese Communists' hostility toward the United States is deeply rooted in their ideology. The United States has incurred the hostility of Peiping not because it has denied the Communist regime diplomatic recognition, not because it has been opposed to its admission to the U. N., not because it has imposed an embargo on strategic materials, but because, as the strongest power in the so-called 'imperialist camp,' it stands in the way of eventual Communist victory. The United States is to be destroyed, not by any nuclear confrontation, but by what is called a 'people's war.'

"Experts" Aid World Communism

When the United Nations General Assembly meets in New York next September the appeal of the Chairman of the U. S. Senate's Foreign Relations Committee undoubtedly will be used by the powerful Communist forces in the U. N. to win recognition for Red China. It is an appeal now being voiced repeatedly by Chairman Fulbright. The lofty prestige of such an appeal together with the cunning diplomacy of Red leaders in the U. N., could crown with success the long fight by World Communism to seat Red China and thus strengthen Communist power in the world organization. At the last session of the General Assembly the vote on admission was a tie, 47 to 47, with 20 abstentions.

Chairman Fulbright's repeated call for admission of the Red Chinese, presently kept out (technically) because of their aggression in Korea and (morally) by the revulsion of the free world to their invasion of Tibet and other such assaults, arises from the considered opinion of a growing body of China "experts" who have provoked the present "Great Debate" on Red China and Viet Nam.

"Agrarian Reformers" Return
These "experts" contend that Communist China "is a reality" and that the U. N. was created "for all nations." But the significant factors in the collective opinion of these "experts" is their stated belief that Mao Tse-tung is "more Chinese than

"Mao's conquest of mainland China from the rural areas is now viewed as a rehearsal for an ultimate global performance. If this performance has so far not been uniformly successful in various parts of the world, it is, in Mao's view, principally due to the unevenness of development. But he is convinced that Communist victory on a world-wide basis is already in the offing. . . I can deduce no evidence in support of the view that Peiping would be ready to abandon its hostility toward the U. S. once the recommendations of the experts are adopted. . . One shudders to contemplate what grave consequences may yet flow from a revamped version of the 'agrarian reformer' theory."

"The Place to Go for the Brands You Know"

Finan Blasts Sickles' Charges On Chesapeake Bay

Attorney General Thomas B. Finan, Democratic candidate for Governor, this week accused Congressman Carlton Sickles of "shifting his negative campaign to a new low gear which is calculated to put fear in the minds of the people of Maryland."

The Attorney General labeled Mr. Sickles' statement that "the Bay will be biologically dead in less than five years" as "preposterous" and as "sheer political demagoguery which could reflect adversely on one of Maryland's proudest industries — tourism. Even his purported authority for this unfortunate statement has said that Mr. Sickles has misquoted him. "This is but another example of the type of extremist thinking Mr. Sickles engages in, but this time he has gone too far in tearing down our State."

"As usual, Mr. Sickles has publicly displayed gross ignorance of programs which have been instituted in this State in recent years. There has been a constant battle waged by the State against the pollution of our waters, and we have instituted many bold programs to encourage the orderly expansion of our seafood industry."

"Even a desperate political candidate, in fairness to the people who have devoted their careers to this work, should recognize the progress which has been made with a very difficult problem."

"I cannot let Mr. Sickles' absurd charges go unchallenged at this time, especially since they may have serious effects on our seafood and tourism industries by planting unnecessary fear in the minds of Marylanders and visitors to this State."

"If the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries are polluted so badly, how did Maryland take over the national lead in producing marketable oysters this year for the first time since 1950? The answer, which Mr. Sickles apparently doesn't know, is that the re-seeding and conservation drive of recent years is now paying big dividends."

"Mr. Sickles is apparently unaware of the fact that Maryland has developed the clam industry in recent years to a point beyond anyone's expectations. The Maryland softshell clam industry now accounts for more than seventy per cent of the national production of this seafood.

"Mr. Sickles might also be interested in knowing that the harvest of blue crabs in 1965 exceeded the record for any previous year in the history of the State."

"Despite recent progress in the area of seafood conservation, we must take decisive steps to see that the situation continues to improve rapidly in the future. Obviously, this is a particularly crucial problem with all seaboard states. Probably more progress has been made by Maryland than by any other state toward solving this problem, particularly since our problem is compounded by having such a large body of inland water."

"My Blueprint for Progress will contain detailed proposals for continuing the progress we are making in this State regarding seafood conservation. These proposals will be released according to my regular time schedule of informing the people of Maryland as to how I feel on basic issues."

some of the most exciting baseball it has ever seen.

This weekend the Birds are away, meeting the Minnesota Twins in games which will be televised over WJZ, Channel 13, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

But next weekend they return for two games with the Washington Senators, the toughest team in the American League for Hank Bauers club this year.

The Senators will be at Memorial Stadium when the Orioles return home for two games, August 5th and 6th. Friday, August 5, will be a Junior Orioles day and Saturday night, August 6, will be the first annual ball night at Memorial Stadium. Each youngster thirteen and under accompanied by a paying adult will get a Baltimore Oriole baseball.

Babson's Point Of View On:
Four-Year Term
For Congressmen
BABSON PARK, Mass., July 28—Congress has been asked by President Johnson to approve a constitutional amendment that would extend the terms of Congressmen from two years to four. This proposal—which is not likely to be acted upon at this session—has stirred up a good deal of comment pro and con. Promotion Of Efficiency

The President himself has served with great effectiveness in both the House and the Senate. He is widely regarded as an expert on congressional procedure with knowledge in this field second to none. We would assume, therefore, that his arguments in favor of a four-year term for Congressmen seem valid and constructive to him in the light of his experience, both as member and as President.
Mr. Johnson pleads that this change has become necessary because of the expanding volume—and the complexity—of legislation. He also points to the high cost of campaigning, which is burdensome to candidates for the House of Representatives and especially distracting to those who are running for reelection. In short, he believes we would have more efficient

Congressmen if the length of their term were doubled. Competitive Pressures
The President deplors "the competitive pressures imposed by the two-year term, when the incumbent must remain in Washington into the fall to attend to public business." He contends that, because of these competitive pressures, the ability of a Congressman—to legislate as well as to campaign—is impaired.
Granted, the frequency of campaigning under the two-year term is a burden, especially in these days of skyrocketing costs. But is it a heavy enough burden to warrant depriving American voters of the right to express their will in selecting Members of Congress every second year?

Effect On Perspective
As a matter of fact, the whole question of campaign funds is a burning issue with which Congress must come to grips before very long. There is wide difference of opinion regarding the ethics involved in raising and in spending campaign funds. There are also broad differences on the matter of limiting the amount a candidate may spend in seeking a congressional seat. Once the question of campaign funds is settled, the issue of a two-year versus a four-year term will fall into clearer focus.

In the earlier years of our Republic, and in practice pretty well down to the presidency of Herbert Hoover, Congressmen "sojourned" in Washington, but still maintained homes in their districts as principal places of residence. Thus they kept in close touch with their constituents. Now, congressional sessions are so lengthy that most Members actually live in Washington year-round, making only fleeting visits to their home states for holiday observances, vacations, and some "politicking." Caught up as they are in the artificial atmosphere of Washington with its multitudes of government employees, their perspective is easily distorted, their feel of the pulse of the nation unsure. Change-over to a four-year term would not be likely to improve that perspective.

Checks And Balances
The four-year congressional term is proposed in the name of greater efficiency. Most of us will agree that there is a need for more efficiency in our federal government operations. But it is to be hoped all the angles will be explored before we scrap the two-year term in the name of efficiency.
Undeniably, the four-year term would tend to make Congressmen more "independent." Would it also make them less responsive to the will of their constituents? If, as the President's plan provides, they were elected during presidential election years, would that have a truly beneficial effect, or not? Finally, would a four-year term tend to weaken—perhaps eventually destroy—the system of checks and balances designed by the Founding Fathers to insure that neither our government, nor any of its branches, can become tyrannical?
