BY ABIGAIL

With the primary election a few days less than three weeks away it's time to start looking over the list of eligible candidates and to make some plans to support those whom you would like to see elected. There's a lot of good candidates on the ticket this year and it is going to be hard to pick, however it must be done. Numerous aspirants to office have been in town the past two weeks and you'll be seeing more and more as the election date approaches. Talk to them, hear their story, put your point across to them and let them know just what we here in Emmitsburg need and expect from them, if and when they are elected. Unless we inform them of our wants they generally assume we have all we need here and we progress no farther. Remember too, that if any of those in office now had anything to do with Emmitsburg losing its school, be sure to tell them that we haven't forgotten and that you can not support or tolerate such actions by our elected representatives. We have waited four years, spent money battling the issue in court, had the problem rammed down our throats and now it's our day to be heard. Don't be afraid to speak out.

In the meantime don't forget we have three Emmitsburg citizens in the running for these jobs. They are Norman Flax for County Commissioner, Robert Muench for County Central Committee and Pat McGucken for Congress. They all merit your consideration and support. Pat McGucken is still having his name on the ballot, having been on again, off again so many times that it is downright confusing and right at this writing I can't tell you whether or not he is a legal candidate. This matter should be straightened out in time for the election though . . . we hope!

Another dry week was recorded for Emmitsburg and the weather man recorded .13 of an inch from the scattered showers we did get. Rainbow Lake, our major reservoir is beginning to look anemic and former Commissioner and Water Superintendent Flax turned in his keys this week and is taking what he termed "an extended vacation", whatever that means. One thing that is certain though is that this town cannot be left run out of water and if it doesn't rain darn hard in the next six weeks predictions are that we will be out of water.

Dear Abigail:
While we are on the subject of lack of accommodations for Emmitsburg, we are very much in need of shelters for the school children who live in the country. Some children have to walk several hundred feet or more and stand along the road in cold or wet weather. And one 40 mile speed limit sign doesn't mean a thing to some people. More than once I saw children run from the side of the highway to keep from getting run down. Our bus driver waits for some and others he don't wait long enough to sit down. I saw my child get thrown more than once, and he was banged up too. I think all highways should have a bus stop sign too.

Finan 'Quarters Opened In Frederick
The Frederick County Campaign Committee for Finan for Governor formally opened its headquarters at 213 North Market Street on August 22, 1966. In spite of the closeness of the weather, Democrats came from all parts of the county so that the crowd filled the headquarters and spilled out on the sidewalk. Refreshments were served and the iced fruit punch was greatly in demand. Some of the Democratic women had robbed their gardens, and the office was decorated with great masses of black-eyed Susans and with other blooms.

The consensus of the Frederick County candidates was that, though the summer is unsuited meteorologically for campaigning, Thomas B. Finan is leading the gubernatorial race handsomely in the county.

The gathering was not only a social one; plans were made to start an intensive program to get out the Democratic vote on September 13th.

Koontz Services Held
Funeral services for Mrs. Charles P. Koontz, 64, Emmitsburg R2, who died at the U. S. Public Health Hospital, Baltimore, last Tuesday, were held from the Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, Friday afternoon. The Rev. W. Ronald Pearer officiated and burial was made in the church cemetery.

Making Way For Cathedral

Workmen are shown above as they began the razing of the white house and stone wall opposite the campus at St. Joseph College. The task of tearing down the 40-year-old house was completed early this week. The clearing of the ground is one of the first steps to free the ground for the construction of the huge basilica honoring Mother Seton, upon her canonization.

Farmers Granted Use Of Diverted Land In Area

The minimum state-established rate for use of diverted lands for drought relief will be charged Frederick County farmers taking part in the program.

The establishment of the rate, a necessary step in implementing the federal drought relief program, was announced Tuesday by Larry Howard, ASC office manager.

The rates approved by the county committee are: $5 per acre for making hay only; $1 per acre per month for grazing only; $50 per acre per month for grazing after hay is removed; $6.50 per acre for the full period, grazing and hay both.

The full period of the program includes land usage up to Nov. 1. After Nov. 1, land in the wheat and feed grain programs can be grazed without penalty.

Under the four land diversion programs farmers are paid for not planting feed grains. The land is planted in grasses and neither grazing nor hay cropping is allowed except after Nov. 1 in the feed grain programs. The four programs include wheat stabilization, conservation reserve; feed grain and cropland adjustment. Benefits paid to farmers are based on yield. Payments on the county average yield of 78 bushels per acre would be $57.33.

The land usage program, one of two programs sought by the county to aid farmers through the drought, was approved by the federal government last week. While it is not expected to help the majority of farmers it may help those farmers with livestock that are both without pasture and short on other feeds.

It is necessary, Howard said, that farmers who have land in the diversion programs and who want to use it for hay or grazing, apply to the County ASCS for approval before using the land. Use of the land prior to approval can result in severe penalties including the loss of all program benefits.

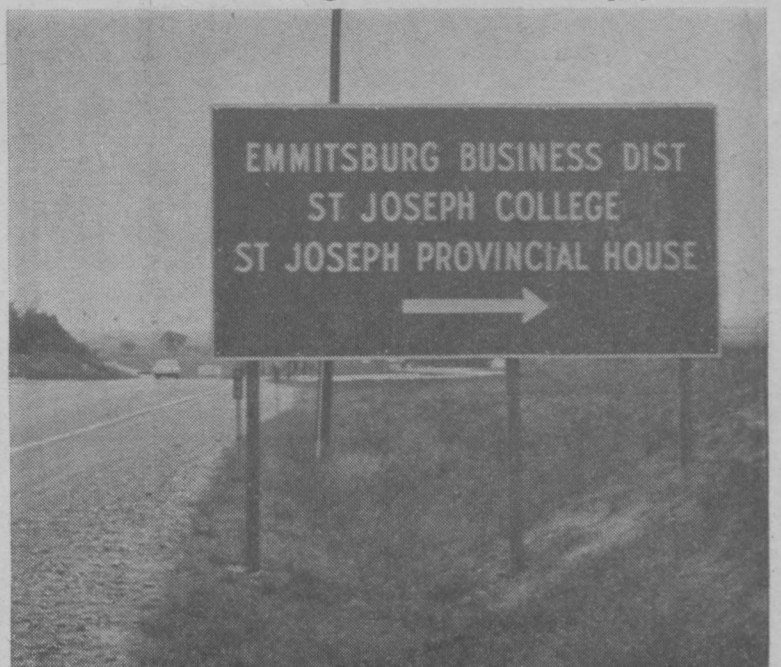

In a second action the committee set maximum rates that participants in the program may charge other farmers for use of diverted acreage and the maximum price for hay sold off diverted acreage.

A maximum markup of 50 per cent for land usage was approved by the committee. This, like the minimum rates, follows the recommendation of the state ASCS committee.

The rate, as approved, means a farmer in the program may charge a maximum of $7.50 per acre for making hay off diverted land if another farmer wishes to use it. The maximum price for hay sold off the diverted land was set at $20 per ton.

Once a farmer has submitted a request to use diverted acreage for hay or grazing, he will be notified by the committee of its approval and how much land he has in the program. He must then pay the government for use of the land or have the charges deducted from his program benefits.

New Directional Signs Placed On By-pass

New identification signs directing motorists to the Emmitsburg Business District and other points of interest were erected this week by the State Roads Commission on the new Rt. 15 by-pass. This sign greets motorists heading south at the intersection of Rt. 15 and 806 at the Curtis Topper property. Other signs are in the process of being erected.

MICHAEL E. CLARKE

A Requiem Mass for Michael Edward Clarke, 11-year-old Thurmont boy, who died of injuries after being hit by a car while riding his bicycle on Monday, will be celebrated this morning (Friday) at 10 o'clock at Mount Carmel Catholic Church in Thurmont. The Rev. Edward Ehle will officiate and burial will be in Mount Carmel Cemetery.

The youth was a member of Mount Carmel Church and had served for several years as an altar boy.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Clarke of near Thurmont; four brothers: William C., David R., Kenneth J. and Frederick R. Clarke; four sisters: Regina E., Rosemary, Angela M. and Amy L., all at home; and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Charles Clarke of Thurmont.

McGucken Off Ballot Again!

The Maryland Court of Appeals this week reversed a Circuit Court ruling and ordered that Patrick F. X. McGucken of Emmitsburg not be certified as a Democratic Congressional candidate.

The court said that details on the action will be released later.

Mr. Lewis Bell, Western Maryland Hospital, Hagerstown, spent the weekend here visiting Mr. and Mrs. George F. Rosensteel.

Miss Lynn Paidakovich who has been spending the summer here with her grandmother, Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder, has returned to her home in Silver Spring, Md.

County Firemen Hold Election At Rocky Ridge

Melvin F. Schwearing, a member of the Independent Hose Company of Frederick, was elected president of the Frederick County Volunteer Firemen's Association last Wednesday night.

Schwearing, who succeeds Mr. Charles W. Mumma of Rocky Ridge, was elected during the Association's 32nd annual convention at the Rocky Ridge fire hall.

The convention, with more than 100 firemen from the county's 16 companies ended Thursday night with a parade in Rocky Ridge featuring 95 separate fire and marching units.

Others elected for the coming year were Harry O. Miller of the Guardian Hose Co., Thurmont; Paul M. Burrier of Walkersville, second vice president; Philip H. Beard of Walkersville, treasurer, and William M. Moore of the United in Frederick, secretary.

Trustees for the year are Mumma, James R. Hahn of New Market; Charles R. Virts, Brunswick; Richard L. Blickenstaff, Middletown; Sterling H. White, Emmitsburg, and Paul F. Bittle, Myersville.

During the business meeting it was announced that more than $560 had been collected in the Muscular Dystrophy campaign.

It was unanimously decided at the meeting to adopt the new constitution and by-laws and to approve application of the Libertytown Volunteer Fire Company for membership in the association. Everett W. Gaver, chairman of the county-wide radio committee, said No. 17 had been assigned to the new Libertytown Fire Company.

Secretary Moore reported 31 fire company members died during the year and the Rev. William E. Ervin, Jr., pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, Thurmont, delivered a memorial address.

It was announced that the Rev. Samuel R. Weybright, long-time chaplain of the host company, celebrated his 91st birthday Aug. 1.

Man Jailed For Destroying County Property

A Thurmont R2 man who tore a wash basin from the jail wall was convicted Friday in Circuit Court of destroying Frederick County property and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered in Circuit Court.

Charles Milton Knott, 36, of R2, Thurmont, was also found guilty of resisting arrest and interfering with a police officer, disorderly conduct and intoxication, March 4.

Frederick police officer Gary Heerd testified Knott was knocking over benches and tables in Rutzahn's department store, N. Market Street.

Officer Heerd said there was a strong odor of alcohol on Knott and Knott kicked him and struggled with him when he tried to handcuff him.

Austin Devilbiss, former turnkey at the jail, testified Knott pulled the wash basin from the drunk tank and threw it at him when he entered the cell.

Wilbur F. Sheffield, defending Knott, said Knott could not remember any of the incidents.

Deputy state's attorney, Frederick J. Bower, prosecuted. Judge Robert E. Clapp heard the case.

Finan Opposes Several Proposals On State Education

Attorney General Thomas B. Finan, democratic candidate for Governor, this week voiced opposition to two proposals on education which are now under consideration by the Constitutional Convention Commission.

The Attorney General prefaced his criticism of suggestions for the removal of the constitutional guarantee of public funds for education and the appointment of the State Superintendent of Schools by the Governor by stating: "I think I have made my position clear over the past several months that I strongly favor a constitutional convention to update the basic document of our State government, and I am fully cognizant of the fact that the duty of the Constitutional Convention Commission is limited to the presentation of a preliminary draft to a Constitutional Convention, which I hope is approved by the voters on September 13."

"This Commission is headed by one of the outstanding lawyers in Maryland—Mr. Vernon Eney, and the membership of the commission is an excellent cross-section of the real contributing minds of this State."

"While I am extremely appreciative, as a citizen of the State, of the exhaustive work that the Constitutional Convention Commission is doing, I believe that this is the hour to air basic differences of opinions among people who are making various recommendations for changing our Constitution."

"I do not intend to comment on all of the recommendations which have been made to the Commission, but I do feel compelled to speak out on the proposals affecting the office of the Attorney General and education."

"I have previously indicated that I am opposed to suggestions that the Attorney General be an appointed official, rather than an elected official. I comment now on proposals affecting education, because my goals for improving our schools are the keystone to the 'Blueprint for Progress', upon which I am running in this campaign."

"Article III of our present Constitution carries a very unique and valuable provision that funds authorized by statute for education shall not be deleted from the budget by either the Governor or the General Assembly. I can not support any constitutional change which might result in a shortage of funds for schools or that would disrupt the orderly planning and operation of our school program. The lack of the present constitutional guarantee of school funds would give the Governor virtual control over the operation of the school program of the State. As Governor of Maryland, I would be opposed to such manipulation of public education, and I, therefore, hope that the Constitutional Convention Commission will leave this very wise provision of our Constitution intact."

"I also oppose a recommendation, which has been advanced by several individuals, that the Constitution be changed to require the appointment of the State Superintendent of Schools by the Governor rather than by the State Board of Education. Such a move would be in the face of the trend throughout the country to make state superintendents of schools career professionals, rather than political appointees. Fortunately, Maryland was among the leaders in this movement more than a half century ago. The result has been a desirable continuity in the superintendency in Maryland."

Costly Fire Razes Large Barn Near Here

Damage was estimated at "between $65,000 and $75,000 Saturday night when fire broke out in a barn at a farm owned by Grier Keilholtz, Taneytown, and tenanted by his son, Lavern Keilholtz, near Keysville.

Taneytown firemen, who made the estimate of damage, said the barn, one of the largest in the area, a shed attached to the barn, a dairy house, and silo were consumed in the blaze.

Destroyed by the fire also were such items in the barn as an ensilage blower, two John Deere tractors, two ensilage wagons, a grain drill, all the dairy equipment, a wagon unloader unit, a conveyor used to put bales of hay in the barn, a hammer mill, a half ton of fertilizer, two tons of dairy feed, 600 bushels of wheat, 900 bushels of oats, 1,000 bushels of barley, 2,500 bales of hay, and 2,000 bales of straw.

Keilholtz and others were able to remove steers and most other livestock from the barn. Three hogs perished, suffocating before the men could reach them.

More than 100 firemen took part in the fight to prevent the blaze from spreading to other buildings. Most of the firemen remained on the scene until 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Some Taneytown firemen remained until 3:30 Sunday morning.

Taneytown firemen were called about 8:30 Saturday evening and responded with 40 men and three pieces of equipment. Littlestown sent one truck to Taneytown to stand by while the Taneytown firemen were at the barn. Union Bridge sent a pumper and a service truck and about 15 men. New Windsor sent a truck to stand by at Union Bridge during the absence of that fire company. Rocky Ridge fire company responded with two pumpers and 15 men, and Emmitsburg firemen answered the call with two pumpers, a service truck and 40 firemen.

Maurice Zentz, Taneytown, who owns a milk plant at Keymar, sent tractor-trailers loaded with water secured from the canning factory at Keymar to help fight the blaze.

Emmitsburg firemen placed a portable pump in the Monocacy River about a mile from the scene to secure water.

Taneytown firemen said Laverne Keilholtz had been at the barn about 6:30 Saturday night and saw nothing amiss at that time. Sometime after 8 o'clock, Keilholtz was moving some cattle along a road nearby when he saw smoke issuing from the barn. He ran to the barn and found it "full of fire."

Firemen asked the state fire marshal's office to send an expert to determine the cause of the blaze, and Capt. Britt of Baltimore was scheduled to be at the scene Monday to conduct the investigation.

TRAVEL TIPS by Thompson

Whether you're going on a long vacation this summer or just planning a week-end jaunt close to home, these travel tips compiled by Madison Labs, may help you avoid some common pitfalls and increase your traveling enjoyment:

1. To protect your valuables against loss or theft, it's a good idea to make a list of the serial numbers of watches, cameras and other numbered items.
2. You'll be more likely to hang onto your travel funds when you carry travelers checks which can be promptly redeemed if lost, stolen or destroyed.
3. To avoid vacation fatigue, try to vary the pace of your trip, alternating days of sightseeing and leisure. When driving, take frequent rest breaks.
4. For stomach upsets caused by changes in water, food and schedule, it's a good idea to carry a remedy recommended by your doctor.
5. First-aid supplies for travel should include medications for minor burns and cuts, Antivyl, a new spray-on treatment for itching due to poison ivy, poison sumac, poison oak and insect bites, can bring welcome relief to travelers.
6. When traveling with children, you may prevent "squalls" by keeping driving periods short. Give older children some responsibility in connection with the trip such as jotting down travel expenses. Reassure little ones with a favorite toy.

Disease Prevention Starts Early
It is almost never too soon to protect your children from such life-threatening diseases as diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, polio, measles, and smallpox. This timely reminder for parents comes from the American Academy of Pediatrics which recommends that immunization against the first four be begun at between two and three months of age.

The Academy notes that three doses of DTP vaccine, for the first three diseases, as well as oral polio vaccine, should be given simultaneously at four to six week intervals. A fourth dose and the polio vaccine should be given one year later. Another DTP should be given at three years of age.

Boosters are important to maintain the immunizations. Tetanus-diphtheria boosters should be given at six and again at 12, while children about to enter school should receive another dose of oral polio vaccine, the Academy says.

Vaccination against smallpox should be given to toddlers of 15 to 18 months, during a relatively cool season, and should be repeated at six and 12.

Happily, children need no longer suffer through a bout of measles, with its possibly serious complications. The Academy recommends that all infants be immunized "by the end of the first year of life." In addition children should be tested for tuberculosis at between nine and 11 months of age, annually until four, and every two years after four.

Since we Americans move so frequently it would be wise to keep a careful record of each child's immunizations.

Avoiding A "Winter Of Discontent"

Emphasizing the value of oral contraceptives to women of about 40 years of age, Dr. Robert B. Greenblatt, endocrinologist of Augusta, Georgia, told a recent press conference in London, "I see no reason why any woman in the autumn of her life should not experience an Indian summer instead of a 'winter of discontent'."

The physician explained that women over 40 feared becoming pregnant more than at any other time of life. Their children had grown up and they had other interests. By taking the pill which, the doctor said was practically 100 per cent effective, they would not have to undergo "the torments and psychological problems" caused by pregnancy at that age. Dr. Greenblatt is professor and chairman of the endocrinology department at the Medical College of Georgia.

Fathers Useful In Delivery Rooms

The presence of her husband in the delivery room may not only give some women important psychological support, it may benefit the child as well.

Dr. Edgar L. Engel, obstetrician of Evansville, Ind., told a recent medical meeting that women require less analgesia and anesthetic when their husbands are in the delivery room with them, and therefore fewer drugged babies are born.

Before fathers are permitted in the delivery room, however, Dr. Engel noted, the following circumstances must be established: The father must want to be in attendance and the mother must really want him to be there. The attending physician must have the final word on whether the father may attend the birth—since only he can determine whether or not a delivery is likely to be uncomplicated. The father must agree to leave the delivery room at once if requested by the doctor.

Dr. Engel is chief of obstetrics and gynecology at St. Mary's Hospital in Evansville, Ind.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Line Storage
Ask your hardware dealer for the empty cardboard spools rope comes in. Make the dandiest line storage containers you ever saw.

Outboard Lock
Don't make it easy for crooks who deal in stolen outboard motors. A bicycle lock will usually stop them.

Damp Matches
You can dry damp matches by rubbing them in your hair. If they still don't strike, rub two smooth stones together until they get hot. Then try to strike on stones. Ad-ded heat may do it.

Keyed Up
Have a certain key you need to find in the dark? Drill two holes in the top. Find it by feel.

Clammed Up
Soak clams in brine. Makes a better bait since clams are as fresh but are a lot tougher. Stay on the hook better.

Portable Bench Rest
Bolt a piece of two by four to an auto sizzler jack. See how it makes a portable bench rest, readily adjustable to whatever height you need. Oh! it doubles as a car jack, too.

Bait In The Pads
Fish lie in lilly pads. Bait does, too. If you run out of bait (but not of fish) search out stalks with a bulge. Probably contain a grub.

Fish On!
If you are tending many holes ice fishing without tippets, tie strip of red rag to each line. At a glance you can see if a strike has pulled one of the lines.

Damp Waders
If boots or waders get wet and clammy even though you don't go over the tops, you are probably sweating the water in. Stop this by spraying feet with anti-perspirant before you go fishing.

Raps Land Seizure

In a recent press release, James Ensor, candidate for State Senate, said it is about time we all wake up to the fact the "Government Planners" are dreaming up new ways to seize land. In a speech on the 5th of June, one of our Congressmen said, "I propose that we enact State legislation that will enable a county to acquire land by Condemnation for the development of a new town. This is in fact how our Urban Renewal program works in Baltimore and elsewhere."

This same congressman is seeking election to the Governorship of Maryland where he will work for this type of legislation. The wheels have already started turning in anticipation of just such a law. Baltimore Urban Renewal Agency and the Maryland Planning Commission have helped finance an aerial photo survey of owners of farms in Frederick and Carroll Counties. These photos show large tracts of rural land which could be used for building tax-supported public housing. This works the same as Urban Renewal. The land would be condemned and sold to speculators at bargain rates. Then public tax monies is used to provide sidewalks, sewers, water, etc., to improve the speculators investment. In talking to many people throughout Frederick and Carroll Counties, no one seems to have heard anything of this plan. Why is it so secretive?

Private ownership of properties is one of the basic American rights. Tony Lazarewicz, candidate for the House of Delegates from Frederick County and I are asking Farm Bureau and Grange to investigate this unconstitutional use of private land.

get big litters of HUSKY PIGS

A sow is a pig factory. She has the big job of producing and nursing two litters of pigs every year. Like any other factory, she has to have raw ingredients to produce the product (pigs) and maintain the factory (her own body).

If she doesn't get proper nutrition she may actually resorb some pigs into her system, causing you to lose pigs you'll never even see; or she may farrow weak, unthrifty litters.

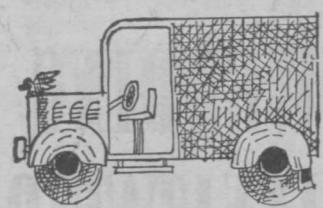

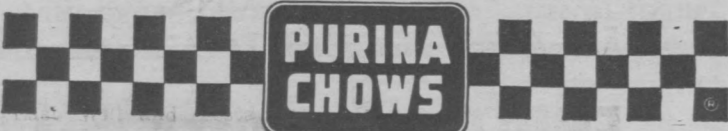

Purina Sow Chow has what it takes to help the sow keep up her own body, farrow big litters and have plenty of milk to start 'em right. Available as a supplement to your grain or as a complete sow ration. Ask for Purina Sow Chow at our store.

Truth About Communism
Prominent Americans who continue to advocate American acceptance of the Communist dictatorship in Russia, China, Cuba and Viet Nam seek to create an altogether distorted image of the Red bosses and the brutal police states they operate. Their utterances are full of mischievous assertions about "the expanding religious life" under the "New Communism," the "expansion of personal freedom," and the "apparent" desire of the Reds to be friendly, neighborly and nice. But the continuing stream of refugees fleeing from these "nice Communists" at every point where the Red empires touch a land of freedom, dramatizes the truth.

Baleriy Tarsis, noted Russian author, came out of Soviet Russia just a few weeks ago after having smuggled out manuscripts of two books exposing some of the truth. Following is a part of his story as told to the National Press Club in Washington — and recommended for those who are today advocating a neighborly alliance with the Communist dictators:
"Warning To Mankind!"
"The soul of a Russian poet is broad and impulsive. It is given to meditation and fantasy. It thrives in the air of freedom and simply cannot exist without it. The poet's soul is unable to lie, nor can it be creative without truth and justice. It is in such atmosphere that I craved to live.
"It is only in the West, and especially in America, that I realized with great sadness and horror that I have not been living before, just existing. I was suffocating in a cell without light or air. Now my only consolation and justification before God's judgment and my own conscience is that I did not side with evil. I refused to submit to the dictates of a ruthless government. I did not betray my ideals.

"I grew up in a world that has been brutally deceived by cheats and oppressors. They duped and enslaved the people in the name of freedom and the brotherhood of men. Dazed and daunted the people were made to follow their treacherous shepherds to nowhere. Like a lost herd, blinded by foul weather, one-third of the world population (under Communism) is driven by them today onto a slippery, dangerous path along the very brink of a precipice. I saw and understood the threat and I felt that I had to shout a warning to mankind.
The Police State
"For this, the Soviet Government labeled me a traitor, a criminal, and finally, proclaimed me insane. Then it stripped me of my citizenship."
In his warning to Americans, Tarsis, now 59, described the Stalin years. "When I looked around and saw the cruelty, beastiality, corruption, and lies which—like a cobweb—enveloped Russia ever tighter, I felt I could no longer follow the path of the kowtowing, servile Soviet writers . . . I knew I had to tell the truth about those terrible years, when millions of the best people were suffering in jails and concentration camps, when even children stopped smiling

. . . a monstrous machine of mass extermination was developed in the Soviet Union. The urge to describe all this became obsessive, irresistible. I knew this was my duty under God."
He kept his descriptive manuscripts in a trunk and, in 1962, smuggled them out to England. After publication there the 'New' Communist bosses arrested him and placed him in the Kaschenko Mental Hospital. There in the asylum, a second book took shape in his mind, exposing the present day dictatorship. "There, as in a mirror," he told the Press Club audience, "I saw all Russia—my great and ill-fated motherland, upon whom the Communist villains have thrust an iron straight-jacket."
"Help Fight This Evil"
Tarsis said that since the war the Russian people's discontent with the Communist system has grown "ever stronger and stronger. In recent years," he pointed out, "this resistance expressed itself in mass riots, strikes and demonstrations." He said "the people are now squaring their shoulders in battle. They are becoming ever more determined to shake off the shackles of a half century of slavery." He asked for American help — not an alliance of our nation with the dictators holding the Russian people in slavery, but the very opposite, a fight, in concert with the Russian people, against the evil Communist system. "For the sake of all the Russian people," Tarsis begged,

"protest, protest! Do not give in. It will bring closer the victory of freedom-loving men over the enslaving cohorts of Communism. God will help us!"
How can prominent Americans who agitate for acceptance of the "reality" of a Communist China ignore the reality of this colossal evil, existing not only in Russia but also in China, and Cuba, and North Viet Nam—in all Communist-held nations?

Urge School Vets To Register Now

Only about 20 days remain before the opening of the fall term, Rufus H. Wilson, Manager of the Baltimore VA Regional Office, pointed out to veterans who plan to enter school this fall under the new GI Bill.
Applications will be processed as rapidly as possible, Wilson said, but processing requires several days. He urged all eligible young men and women in Maryland who plan to pursue on educational or vocational course this fall, to make application immediately to their Regional Office at Fayette and Saint Paul Streets, Baltimore, Md. 21202.
The basic allowance for a veteran in training under the new GI Bill is $100 per month. This increases if he is married and has other dependents.
However, Wilson said, the law requires VA to make payments to veterans after they have been in school for a full month. So, those who plan to attend school this fall should apply immediately and should be prepared to pay their own way for at least two months—giving their papers ample time to be processed, and their attendance certified.
Checks usually are received by the student on the 20th of the month following the month of attendance.

Your Vote and Support sincerely appreciated

For the past several years it has been my desire to aspire for the office of County Commissioner. I fully understand the responsibility and demands that this office holds for its officials. After over 30 years of a successful business career, and now retired, I would devote my full time, interests and efforts to this important office, should I become a part of this Government body.
Through careful examination and long range planning, I feel we should prepare our County to deal with the problems of the enormous growth we are surely to have in Frederick County. I believe we can do this by taking into consideration, the best current thinking of our planners, and to utilize the assistance that is available through the various commissions.
If I am elected to this very important office, I will to the best of my ability, try to merit the confidence you will have placed in me. And may I respectfully solicit your help and support in the Democratic primaries of September 13th.

To Increase 1967 Wheat Allotment

The increased 1967 national wheat acreage allotment will give farmers the opportunity to plant more land to wheat where wheat production is profitable while maintaining their eligibility for wheat program benefits, Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman pointed out recently in announcing the action.

"We expect wheat prices, even with the larger acreage, to be well above support levels next year because of strong commercial demand at home, continued export expansion, and large food assistance requirements," the Secretary said. "Therefore, farmers can expect increased income from increased production . . . "No one can be positive how much wheat we will need or how much the world will produce between now and July 1, 1968. I have increased the wheat acreage allotment so that farmers who want to produce more can help make sure that we don't run short."

Secretary Freeman said acreage allotments for future years will depend on the wheat situation at the time the allotment is determined. Wheat stocks this year are being reduced below a desirable level as a result of continued strong domestic and world demand.

The increase of 8.9 million acres brings the total 1967 national wheat allotment to 68.2 million acres. With the 7.7 million acre increase announced May 5, the allotment for 1967 now is 16.6 million acres greater than for 1966.

The action does not constitute a request for additional production; however, it will enable those farmers who believe increased production will be profitable to plant more land to wheat while maintaining their eligibility for program benefits. Producers who plant within farm acreage allotments are eligible for price-support loans on all of their production and for price-supplementing certificate payments on the farm's share of the domestic food market for wheat.

The increase in the wheat allotment does not change either the price-support level or the number of bushels on which a farmer will qualify for certificate payments. The loan level for 1967 will be $1.25. Domestic marketing certificates, as required by law, will be issued on approximately 520 million bushels of wheat, and the value of the certificates will be the difference between the parity price of wheat on July 1, 1967, and the $1.25 loan value. (The 1966 certificate value is $1.32 per bushel.)

James M. Voss, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, explains that farm conserving base acreages will be reduced to correspond with the increase in wheat acreage allotments. No diversion program will be in effect for the 1967 wheat crop.

New wheat allotment notices will be sent to farmers shortly. The new allotments may be determined by multiplying the 1967 allotment recently established for the farm by 1.15.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Defensive Driving

In the era of steadily increasing auto accidents with their consequent deaths and injuries, the safety experts have coined a new phrase to help us survive in traffic—"defensive driving."

What is defensive driving? Basically, it is keeping full control of your car at all times, so that you can avoid an accident no matter what the other fellow does.

Some of the fundamentals of defensive driving are outlined in Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association. Never "tailgate." This practice of following too closely the vehicle ahead has been found to be a common cause of accidents. Stay back one car length for each 10 miles of speed.

When you have a driver tailgating you, slow down and encourage him to pass. Expect the driver ahead of you to brake without warning. Watch especially for situations which will cause him to slow down or stop.

Stop smoothly and gradually when there is a vehicle behind you. Signal your intentions of stopping, slowing down, or turning.

Look to the left, look to the right when approaching an intersection. Never assume the other driver will yield the right-of-way, even if you have the green light.

When in doubt, never pass. Before you change lanes check your rearview mirror and glance to be sure your blind spot is clear. Use your turn signals when passing. Make certain someone behind you is not trying to pass you at the same time. When passing, sound horn or flick your lights to let the driver ahead know. Accelerate and pass quickly. Get back quickly after you can clearly see the car in your rear-view mirror.

The expert driver follows some basic common-sense rules, Today's Health says.

He keeps his eyes moving, thus avoiding eye-holding situations while his car moves blindly into an accident-producing situation.

The expert takes in the whole picture. He trains himself to scan the entire driving scene for a full city block or a half mile on rural roads.

The expert leaves an out for himself by maintaining a "space cushion" for maneuvering.

The expert signals others his intentions early while he still has time and space to avoid them if they do not respond.

FAN FACTS TO HELP YOU CHOOSE

Cool air around the clock adds to carefree living, especially in warm weather, local merchants emphasize. In fact, good ventilation and circulation of air in your home or apartment is important every season of the year. If you're concerned about an air-cooling plan, here are helpful tips from General Electric Housewares where portable fans are made.

Review your living space and areas to be cooled. Today's pattern of living calls for convenience, so consider the ease that comes with the portability in an electrically reversible fan which can be moved and used anywhere in your home. The new 20" fan permits you to draw air in or blow air out without the bother of having to take the fan out of the window and turn it around. If your windows are larger than 20" wide, G.E. solves the problem with a handy accessory—adjustable window mounting panels which can be attached to a window up to 38 inches wide.

Advantages of a portable electrically reversible fan are many: as a circulating fan on the floor or a table, it will circulate a full 4000 cubic feet of air per minute; it will ventilate your room for fresh-air change; it can be placed on a table close to a casement or small sash window, or on the inside window sill if it is wide enough. You'll delight in the portability.

You may cool up to several rooms with the fan as shown in this homemaker's living room. The Use & Care booklet on the five-blade fan offers plans for using the reversible portable unit to circulate air and ventilate rooms. Review your individual requirements based upon your space; then select the best air-cooling plan for you for year-round comfort.

Babson's Point Of View On: Strikes Affecting Public Well-Being

BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug. 25—Peculiar countercurrents are in play in today's stream of labor events. Moving in one direction is the growing determination of workers—even in fields that affect the public welfare—to get more money and wider benefits, regardless of whether it will mean paralyzing strikes to achieve these ends. Against this tide is developing an increasing impatience on the part of business and citizens generally, strong enough to snag the attention of our legislators and move them to action. Election-Year Reluctance The fact that this is a Congressional election year has been the reason for the limited and wary type of action taken by the lawmakers in Washington. But sharp proof of the national concern over tie-ups that injure the public well-being as well as business lies in the fact that so many of our legislators did respond to a call for a curb on the air strike during this crucial year when the labor vote can determine many a close Congressional contest.

Once next fall's voting is out of the way, it is our opinion that both houses will give fresh committee attention to formulating a general measure that will protect us against the intense inconvenience and discomfiture of large-scale, prolonged public-service walk-outs. This does not mean that labor's fundamental right to strike will be curtailed. Rather, economy-crushing shut-downs will be made less possible—and less necessary—while genuine collective bargaining will continue to receive encouragement.

Get-Tough Attitude Gaining Ground

It is not difficult to see why Congress is likely to be more disposed to reasoned constraints than in the past. The New York City transit strike, which was illegal, spurred millions of local residents to an anger and frustration that did not go unnoticed by President Johnson and the Congress. The airline strike and its almost endless repercussions on businesses large and small throughout the country, as well as its vast impact on individual travel and prearranged vacations, went farther than even the unions wanted.

Labor leaders thought they had a settlement, then the rank and file of the mechanics and ground service workers refused to accept the package. This is another reflection of the sharp determination of the workers themselves to get bigger pay envelopes and more fringe benefits while the bloom is still on the boom. It is showing up more and more among employees in lines that have the greatest effect on the public, such as hospitals, state and city services, transportation, farms, and utilities. Congressmen may well feel in 1967 that the time has come to shield their constituents from unwieldy or illicit labor impasses.

Pay Demands Will Not Die Down

Whatever happens next year in terms of such labor legislation, the drive for higher wage rates and fringes will continue strong for the remainder of 1966 and well into 1967. Employers are afraid of exaggerated advances in basic labor costs, but in many instances they would prefer to give workers what they want rather than risk walk-outs while demand is high for virtually all products. Smart management officials know, of course, that the business skies are not always as blue as they are now. At least they haven't been in the past. But it's easier to give in on worker demands when profits have been on the climb for over five years.

Despite the lesson of the airline stoppage and its warning repercussions in Congress, a lot of strikes will be seen over the months ahead. There are trigger-happy conditions emerging in quite a number of important industries. There could be at least token trouble, for instance, in telephones, trucking, railroads, oil, and electrical machinery. Success of the grape-growers in California may encourage more union action on farms in some Southeast states.

All dogs, brood matrons and sires, have some faults. We can expect that. But if your bitch has a particularly glaring fault of either temperament or conformation, don't use her as a breeder. "Don't depend on the sire to correct this fault in the puppies—he may possess the same fault in lesser proportion," asserts Henry P. Davis, Sporting Dogs Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

If your bitch passes your rigid and unbiased analysis, then look for a proper mate for her. Certainly a famous "name" dog that has sired a number of outstanding and spectacular performers from a number of different bitches deserves your careful consideration. But that doesn't necessarily cinch the deal. He might not nick well with your bitch. Study his bloodlines carefully. If they go along fairly parallel with those of your bitch, the outlook is favorable, for linebreeding has always produced the best. Now, if possible, take a look at some of the puppies he has sired. Not those who have won their spurs in field trials, but those that are used in average gunning. If you can find some whose dams were of similar bloodlines to your own bitch, so much the better. See if they are strong in some of the characteristics in which your bitch is slightly lacking. Watch them particularly for temperament. Then, if possible, take a good look at the prospective sire himself. A breeding program, like any other program, is only as good as the foundation laid for it.

State Population Shows Increase

The population of Maryland is estimated to have grown to 3,551,400 as of July 1, 1965, an increase of fully 450,000 since the national census of April 1, 1960, according to data prepared by the Maryland State Department of Health. The larger share of the gain—about 254,000—was due to the excess of births over deaths, while about 196,000 was attributed to a net inflow of migrants.

According to Dr. Bettie Rogerson, Acting Chief of the Division of Biostatistics, the Health Department's estimate for July 1, 1965 showed a total population of 1,939,820 living in the Baltimore Metropolitan Area—Baltimore City and Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Harford, and Howard counties. A combined population of 951,480 is shown for the two Maryland counties in the Washington Metropolitan Area—Montgomery and Prince George's.

Almost all of the estimated increase of 136,000 in the Baltimore Metropolitan Area since the 1960 census resulted from the surplus of births over deaths; in the Maryland sector of the Washington Metropolitan Area, on the other hand, about two-thirds of the gain of 253,000 since 1960 was due to the favorable in-migration balance.

The three non-metropolitan regions of the State—Northwestern Maryland, Southern Maryland, and the Eastern Shore—contain about one-fifth of Maryland's population. The Health Department's mid-1965 estimate for Northwestern Maryland—the four counties of Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick — was 298,350. Southern Maryland—the counties of Calvert, Charles and St. Mary's—had an estimated 99,620 residents. The estimate for the Eastern Shore, which comprises the nine counties lying east of the Chesapeake Bay and the Susquehanna River, was 262,130.

The Department also has prepared a set of projections of the population of the State and its subdivisions for 1966 through 1970. Using the 1965 estimates as benchmarks and assuming the pattern of growth of the early 1960's will continue, by mid-1970 Maryland is expected to have 3,965,000 residents. During the five year period from July 1, 1965 to July 1, 1970, the Baltimore Metropolitan Area is projected to grow by about 128,000 to reach 2,068,000. It is anticipated that the two suburban counties adjacent to Washington will show an increase of 240,000 to reach a total population of 1,191,000 in 1970.

Copies of these population estimates in more detail may be obtained by writing to the Division of Biostatistics, Maryland State Department of Health, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21201.

NO. 21,390 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND
LLOYD C. DERN and

PAUL B. DERN, EXECUTORS OF THE ESTATE OF CARRIE B. DERN, deceased vs.

THE UNKNOWN HEIRS, DEVISEES, PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES, DESCENDANTS OR SUCCESSORS IN INTEREST, OF JOHN CLOSE, deceased

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this Bill is that the Court may take Jurisdiction in the premises and enter a Decree that the Last Will and Testament of Carrie B. Dern, deceased, meets the requirements contained in the Last Will and Testament of John Close, deceased, and properly devises the Real Estate referred to herein.

The Bill recites that Carrie B. Dern died on the 16th day of November, 1965, testate. That the Last Will and Testament of the said Carrie B. Dern is recorded in Liber T.M.E. 4, Folio 72, one of the Will Books kept in the Register of Wills for Frederick County, Maryland. That the Complainants were granted letters testamentary on the 29th day of November, 1965. That the Last Will and Testament of Carrie B. Dern directed her Executors, the Complainants herein, to sell, assign, and convey and convert into cash all of her Estate and Property, real, personal and mixed. That the Estate of Carrie B. Dern consists of three tracts or parcels of Real Estate lying and being in the Emmitsburg Election District, Frederick County, Maryland. That the aforesaid three tracts or parcels of Real Estate are all and the same parcels of Real Estate given and devised unto the said Carrie B. Dern, to hold the same during the term of her life for the full power to devise the same by her Last Will as she may seem fit, by the Last Will and Testament of John Close. The said John Close died during the month of July, 1893, survived only by his wife, Mary A. Close. The said Mary A. Close died during the month of September, 1963, testate, and by the terms of her Last Will and Testament, she gave, devised and bequeathed unto the said Carrie B. Dern, all of her Property and Estate, real, personal and mixed, of every kind and description whatsoever. That the said Carrie B. Dern did reside on a part of the aforesaid Real Estate, beginning in the year 1893 until 1925 and from 1925 until her death, on the 16th day of November, 1965, did rent the Real Estate to various individuals, with income paid to the said Carrie B. Dern.

It is thereupon this 27th day of July, 1966, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, and by the authority thereof, ORDERED that the Complainants, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Frederick County, once a week in each of four successive weeks, the last of such publication to be made not less than thirty (30) days before the 3rd day of September, 1966, give notice to the Unknown Heirs, Devisees, Personal Representatives, Descendants or Successors In Interest, of John Close, deceased, whether residents or non-residents, of the object and substance of this Bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 4th day of October, 1966, next, to show cause, if any they have, why the Decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

By Ted Kestner

If you are planning to raise some puppies, give very careful consideration to the brood bitch. First, if she isn't an outstanding performer in the field—don't use her. Even this alone will not qualify her. Look for overall quality in conformation. Body structure is highly important, for she will be required to carry and deliver that hoped-for litter of future champions. Bone structure is also an important factor. If she is a finicky eater, pass her by. Use a good "feeder." She must feed the puppies in utero if they are to be strong and healthy. A most important characteristic in a good brood matron is temperament. She should be rather placid, with no worries, and not the least bit

Smelser Names Francis Bush His Treasurer

Charles H. Smelser, candidate for State Senator in the newly reapportioned Frederick - Carroll County District, this week announced the appointment of Francis W. Bush, Sr., as treasurer of his campaign.

Bush, well known in business and community circles in the area is director of safety, personnel and public relations with the M. J. Grove Lime Company, a Division of The Flintkote Company. He was recently named Chairman of the Frederick County United Appeal Campaign for the 1966 county-wide drive.

A vice president of the Frederick County Chamber of Commerce and a vice president of the Frederick County Community Chest, he is past District Commissioner of Francis Scott Key District Boy Scouts of America and serves as Executive Secretary of the Frederick County Community Concert Association.

In accepting the assignment as treasurer of the Smelser for Senator campaign, Bush stated: "The newly reapportioned General Assembly in Maryland is going to demand the best qualified representation the State can find. It is going to be a demanding and challenging job for the representatives of the smaller rural counties. It is going to require people with expert knowledge and experience in legislative procedures to protect the interests of the citizens of counties like Frederick and Carroll in a legislature overpowered by big city and big county interests. I am, and have been, concerned with the problems of growth and expansion of our county and the demands made upon the taxpayers for the costs of education and financing of services to our ever increasing population.

Mr. Smelser's previous eight year record as a consistent supporter of sound fiscal policies and the economical use of tax dollars plus his own success as a businessman farmer were a great influence in my decision that he would make the type of rural county senator we need in Frederick and Carroll counties."

Mahoney Visits Ocean Downs
Ocean Downs Raceway starts its final week of racing Monday night and race secretary Don Roberts has come up with another outstanding card of racing Friday and Saturday for this weekend.

The track, through its chairman of the board, J. C. Robinson, is now giving away $250 each week to the three leading drivers of the week.

The first awards of $150, $75 and $25 went to Chuck Ferranto, West Islip, L. I., Louis Floyd, Exmore, Va. and Guy Lockerman, Jr., Middletown, Del.

The awards made Monday night went to Roscoe Rodgers, Springfield, O.; Ed Crowson, Jr., Harrington and Williams Spencer, Sr., Lancaster, Pa.

Of course the big "fish" is the $1,000 check that goes to the leading driver of the entire meeting.

Rodney Warren from the Eastern Shore of Virginia, has been the leader in that department for the past two weeks but is being closely pressed by Roscoe Rodgers.

Last Saturday night was a most happy one for Bobby O. Clark of Rock Hall, Md., grocer. His Bay-side Doll, with Ray Gosman up, won the sixth race and George P. Mahoney, candidate of governor in the Democratic primary, was there in the winner's circle to present a trophy. When Mahoney was being introduced to Clark, the latter said, "We know each other: He's been in my store at Rock Hall."

Mahoney Sees Victory In Sight

George P. Mahoney, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, said that he is now positive that he will win the primary election in September and that he is the only Democratic candidate who can and will win the general election in November.

"I can sense it," said Mr. Mahoney. "Every place I've been, I've seen a tremendous ground-swell for my candidacy. The people of this state want a business administration and they know that I am the only candidate who is a businessman. The public wants a governor who will serve in their best interests—and they know that I will."

There is no doubt in my mind that my stand on open housing—my defense of the right of any man, regardless of race, color, creed or national origin—to rent or sell his home to whomever he chooses—has alerted the people of Maryland to a very grave threat to one of our basic rights.

My position is in direct accord with the constitutional guarantee of the right to own property, as embodied in the phrase "a man's home is his castle."

I have been firm in this. Other candidates keep shifting their positions for political purposes, while another threatens to put through a state bill to take away this right.

"The switchboards at my headquarters are constantly busy, mail is piling in, and people are stepping forward, happy to lend their support to an honest candidate."

"I have received endorsements from countless organizations throughout the state. I am delighted to say that many organizations which were against me in other campaigns are now eagerly backing my candidacy. And I predict that this trend will not only continue, but will develop into an avalanche of endorsements in the next few weeks.

"Marylanders realize that my ticket offers them good clean government by experienced capable men. Throughout the state I have heard cheers of 'Let George Do It.'"

"I expect the Mahoney-Cory-Goldstein slate to sweep this election with a huge majority, and I am confident that I and my running mates will go on to victory in November."

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Brewer held a birthday party on their lawn Sunday, Aug. 21 in honor of the 4th birthday of their granddaughter, Kimberly Ann Poole of Wheaton, Md. She received many lovely gifts. Games were played and refreshments served to the following present: Judy, Eddie, Terry and Timmy Brewer, St. Anthony's; Mrs. Anna Brewer, great-grandmother of Kimberly; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Poole and Lisa of Wheaton; Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Warthen and children, Dougie, Debbie, Deedee and Patrick, Jr., Emmitsburg; Miss Cathy Ott, Emmitsburg; Sandy, Micky, Linda and Sharon Lingg, St. Anthony's; Connie and Brenda Medvid, Emmitsburg; Jenny and Sammy Tressler, Gettysburg and Miss Karen Stackhouse, St. Anthony's.

CHARLES F. WAGNER

Charles F. Wagner, 50, Baltimore, a retired foreman with the National Brewing Company died Sunday in the Johns Hopkins Hospital after a long illness.

His wife, Anna Crouse Wagner, formerly of Gettysburg, and Walter F. Crouse, Emmitsburg, a brother-in-law, survive.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Scouts To Build Dams At Thurmont

Dams to provide pools for fishermen and to stem erosion will be built next month by area boy scouts at three streams near Thurmont.

Twenty-two scout troops with more than 150 boys are expected to combine forces in building the dams across Little Hunting Creek, Big Hunting Creek and Owens Creek, according to Lud Catlett, district scout executive.

The scouts will meet Sept. 10 at Cunningham Falls State Park for the project, their second annual stream conservation day.

Last year the youths cleaned-up Owens Creek above Thurmont, Alton Powell, assistant fish culturist of the Maryland State Game and Inland Fish Commission explained.

Many of the scouts are working on the project as part of the requirements for the conservation merit badge.

Garden Club Meeting Held

The August meeting of the Silver Fancy Garden Club was held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Harry Mohney in Taneytown with Miss Liza Carpenter presiding, with 15 members and one guest present. One new member, Mrs. Theodore Fair of Taneytown, was welcomed into the club. Mrs. Robert Clingan and Mrs. A. D. Alexander were co-hostesses. Tentative plans were made for entries in the District 5 Flower Show to be held in Hagerstown on September 21. Mrs. Andrew Eyster gave a very detailed flower arrangement demonstration.

The next meeting will be held on September 15 at the home of Mrs. Simon Klosky with Mrs. Andrew Eyster and Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson acting as co-hostesses. Each member is requested to bring a present flower arrangement.

State Road Deaths Up 12%

Eleven persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers; one was a passenger and two were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in three of the deaths; speed in three and "driver error" was present in nine of the fatalities. Maryland's highway toll so far this year is 49 more than for the same period in 1965—up 12%!

"Last week's toll included two motorcycle operators, one of whom was under the influence of a substantial amount of alcohol," commented Colonel Carey Jarman, superintendent of the Maryland State Police.

"For sometime now," he continued, "it has been evident to everyone interested in highway safety that the rapid resurgence of motorcycle travel points to the need for control of this growing problem."

"It would appear that legislation is needed, including a requirement that operators of motorcycles must have a license which can be obtained only after passing a rigid test."

"In the meantime the motorcycle operator must realize that he, too, has a great responsibility for the promotion of highway safety. He should be thoroughly aware of the capabilities of the motorcycle; he should be adequately trained in its use and capable of controlling it under all conditions; he and his passenger would do well to wear a protective helmet at all times, and, added the superintendent, "an adequate muffler would make a lot of non-motorcycle people happy."

Brant Seeking Register Of Wills Seat In County

Irvin C. Brant, Jr., a district sales manager for the O. Ames Co. of Parkersburg, W. V., has tossed his hat in the Frederick County political ring as the Republican candidate for the office of Register of Wills.

Mr. Brant, who was formerly well-known as a Prudential Insurance agent for six years in the Frederick County area, is giving up a four-state area of responsibility.

firm as manager for the Ames firm in the hope that it will encourage other well-qualified people to take an interest in public affairs.

As a 17-year resident of Frederick County, the candidate has been active in the Boy Scouts, Rosedale Baseball League, the Little League and the Babe Ruth League.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Brant served with the 27th Division in the Pacific. Brandt, 42, is an active member of the Lynch Lodge 163, A.F. & A.M., Frederick Lodge of Perfection, Tall Cedars of Lebanon, Yellow Springs Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce of Frederick. Brand and his wife, two children, Terry and Cynthia, now reside in Frederick.

Mr. Brant is unopposed in the primary election.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

A Race Apart

An important, rich and unique event on Thoroughbred racing's calendar this week is the United Nations Handicap at Atlantic City. One thing that sets the United Nations apart from other feature events is the fact that it is not a Stakes race. In a Stakes race owners must pay a fee to nominate their horse, perhaps another subsequently to keep him eligible and finally a stiff entry and/or starting fee, all of which frequently amount to several hundred or even thousands of dollars, depending on how much the track is adding to the pot. In the United Nations it costs nothing to try for the $100,000 put up by the track. The catch is that the horse must be invited to run.
