Good news for water consumers of Emmitsburg was given out this week when Mayor Guy A. Baker, Jr., announced publicly that the water ban had been lifted. Placed in effect several months ago, the ban worked in behalf of the community and it is believed that had it not been put into use we very easily could have been out of water long ago. The recent rains have given the drought a knockout blow and the Mayor feels confident that we now have sufficient quantities of water to perhaps carry us through the winter months ahead. Unrestricted water use is now prevalent in Emmitsburg so now you can wash your car, windows, porches or anything you want.

The old inflation bug continues to bite harder and harder as almost every week sees steady increases in almost everything you buy. Last month the rise was most noticeable in the supermarkets, doctors' offices and the used car lot. Climbing at its fastest rate in the past ten years, costs have risen in the past month alone four tenths of one per cent. This means that it takes $11.38 to buy what we used to be able to at $10. What causes consternation in the public's mind is the rise in prices also of the new cars now on the market. Some companies have hiked their products from $5 to $100. What angers the public is that it is aware that profits are at an all-time high and the automobile companies are actually making so much money that they hardly know what to do with it. Millions of dollars are being shoveled out to educational institutions, which is very commendable, but how about a break to the public for a change? The old battered consumer needs a rest from this constant rising price spiral, but will he get it? Positively not.

Add to the drought damage that never can be replaced, one large rock oak tree on the Mount St. Mary's College campus. Following that nine-inch rain we had last week it is believed that the leaves of the 100-foot tree which graces the Mount campus, absorbed sufficient quantities of water to make it top-heavy and topple to the ground. Apparently the roots of the tree became loosened by the many months of dryness and the quick absorption of water by the branches and leaves caused the giant tree to topple to the ground with a loud crescendo. There are a number of these forest giants around the college and they are apparently in good health, as was the one which was felled. No sign of rot was evident and college authorities estimate that the trees must be at least 200 years old. The age is amazing when one starts to think. Actually these trees were probably fully grown when Father DuBois founded the college in 1808. Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton must have marveled at God's beautiful giants as she walked beneath them back in the early days of the college. What a beautiful story these trees could tell if they were animated and human. How many holy priests, bishops, archbishops, cardinals and other church dignitaries as well as outstanding doctors, lawyers, professional men and others walked beneath them or sat and chatted and smoked and enjoyed warm conversation. Yes, these trees have witnessed much history and are a perfect example of God's greatness. We hope the remaining ones remain for many, many more years.

Pope Asks Prayer, Penance Observance

A period of prayer and penance has been requested by His Holiness, Pope Paul VI, for October 3-4, and will be held at St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

The Holy Father has called upon us to devote the month of October to prayers for peace, and to be especially faithful in reciting the rosary for this purpose. He has also asked us to observe a special day of prayer and penance, and has designated Tuesday, October 4, the anniversary of his visit to the UN, as the date for this world-wide observance.

It is suggested that everyone fast and abstain on that day as an added sacrifice. The period of prayer and penance at Saint Joseph's Church will begin Monday evening, October 3, with Mass at 7:30, followed by Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament during the night and continuing until 11:00 Tuesday morning when there will be a Mass for the school children.

Confessions will be heard during this time so that all may avail themselves of the Sacrament of Penance.

The Day of Special Prayer will close Tuesday evening with an Ecumenical Service at 8 p.m. The local Ministers and their Congregations have been invited to participate in this Service.

No action on the affair was taken at this meeting. The club authorized a $5 advertisement for the Grange Community Show program. The House Un-American Activities Committee, in its hearings into mass demonstrations against United States war efforts in Viet Nam, has performed another great service for the American people. (1) Hard-core Communists directed undoubtedly by strategists headquartered in Red Cuba, are responsible for the spreading agitation and incitement to treason against the U. S. in the Viet Nam war; and (2) Hard-core Communists out to the same training schools — in the U. S. and Cuba—are leading and inciting Negroes to defy law and stir up race violence in cities throughout the nation.

The facts brought out (but not widely reported) make it inescapably clear that Communists have sufficient forces within our nation to start a civil war and to critically sabotage a U. S. war effort. This is contrary to what our Governmental leaders have been telling the nation during recent years.

Treason Defined
Surely American citizens who have witnessed the continuing Negro "open housing" riots, with their carefully planned, widespread arson, pilaging, plundering, looting, and rifle attacks upon police forces, can see how close they have already come to anarchy and civil war. With the aid of testimony at the HUAC hearings and reports of northern city Grand Juries our citizens can now clearly see that leaders in the race riots often are from the same Communist fronts as those seeking to mobilize help for America's enemy in Viet Nam.

Legal textbooks define "treason" as: "Adhering to the enemy, giving aid and comfort to the enemy." The same textbooks are replete with definitions establishing arson, pilaging, plundering, looting, militant attacks of injunctions as illegal—defiance of law. On these two fronts, the Communists and their dupes are defying the law and endangering the security of the nation.

Lawlessness Must Be Halted
If the HUAC hearings and Grand Jury findings are to have any lasting value, the people of America must demand swift action in the upholding of the law. If the law is not enforced against the continuing agitation of racial riots—brought on by massive marches of Negroes into White residential neighborhoods—and if Communists who are raising money and conducting other campaigns to aid our enemy in Viet Nam are permitted to continue this treason, both activities will expand and our nation may be torn by the worst civil strife in history. Also it could make defiance of law epidemic and tear apart our safeguards against anarchy.

In Cleveland, where cadres of well-trained rioters went on a 12-day spree of fire-bombing, looting and vandalism, setting 250 fires and engaging in deadly warfare against police the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury said the outbreak was "organized, premeditated and exploited by a relatively small group of trained and disciplined professionals in this business." Testimony of 40 witnesses established the fact that Communists, notorious for activities in many front organizations, actually played leading roles in the riot and in preparations for the riots.

Training For Riots And Revolution
The Grand Jury report said youths at the Jomo Freedom Kenyatta House in Cleveland were trained, prior to the riots, in the use of weapons and fire-bombs, and were indoctrinated with an anti-white philosophy and hatred. The Negro founder of the JFK House was cited for affiliations with "the Freedom Fighters of Ohio, the Medgar Evers Rifle Club, the Deacons for Defense and the Revolutionary Action Movement," according to the Grand Jury.

The Grand Jury said evidence showed that "rifle clubs were formed, that ammunition was purchased and that a range was established and used, that speeches were made at JFK House advocating the need for rifle clubs and that instructions were given in the use of Molotov cocktails and how and when to throw them to obtain maximum effect." The Grand Jury said that known Communists outside Ohio arrived in Cleveland shortly before the riots and "made swift contact with the JFK House leadership" and known Red leaders throughout the Ohio Valley.

Next week: Congressional evidence of Cuban Communists involvement in the spreading "protest" movements.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Floats
Red and white floats should be adjustable to get maximum use out of them. Put red side up during the day; white side for dawn or dusk fishing.

Crow Bait
A dead rabbit makes a draw-bait for crows. Place in a field and conceal yourself nearby.

Motor Buoy
Make a marker buoy for your motor by wrapping a plastic bottle with long cord. Where you fish, clip the end of the line on the motor. You'll never have any trouble locating motor in the event of a loss.

Nuts
Oversize nuts used in construction work make good decoy anchors. Your junk dealer has plenty of them.

Catfish Bait
Soak strips of rabbit fur in rabbit blood and let dry. Try it as a bait for catfish.

Oil Off
Excess oil on shotgun or rifle can clog action in cold weather. Oil lightly when temperatures drop.

Oil On
Salad oil rubbed on boots will waterproof almost as well as neats-foot oil.

The longest tug-of-war ever contested lasted two hours 41 minutes, and took place in India in 1889 between two companies of British infantry.

Increase in Golden Anniversaries
This appears to be the year of the Golden Anniversary. More than 160,000 American couples will share with President and Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower the pleasure of celebrating 50 years of marital togetherness. And chances are that an increasing number of married folk will live to celebrate that annubial milestone. This happy news comes from Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians who note that when Ike and Mamie were married the chances were only about one in six that a man aged 25 and a girl of 19 would both survive the next 50 years. Now the chances are about one in three that both will survive to the Golden Anniversary. The experts note that, alas, survival of couples a half century after marriage doesn't mean they will necessarily celebrate the anniversary together, divorce rates being what they are. Nonetheless, advances in medicine have literally added years to our lives — including our married lives. Nursing Mothers Do Get Pregnant

The myth that nursing mothers

can't become pregnant is just that, a myth, scientists agree. A British physician reported at the recent World Congress on Fertility and Sterility that ovulation (the monthly release of the ovum) is retarded but by no means prevented by lactation. And ovulation can occur in women who are nursing weeks before menstruation resumes. The physician warned that use of a contraceptive should not be delayed until the end of the nursing period in the mistaken notion that conception can't take place. Unhappy Homes Can Stunt Child Growth

An unhappy home life can not only twist a child's mind, but it can also drastically stunt his physical growth. This astonishing observation was made recently by Dr. Gerald Powell, pediatrician affiliated with Johns Hopkins Medical Center. According to Dr. Powell, 12 strikingly undersized children who were studied over a two-year period grew at a phenomenal rate when they were removed from their families by being admitted to the hospital. One 11-year-old boy who was the size of a child half his age when he entered the hospital began to grow at the rate of 1.2 inches a month during his hospital stay. Another youngster grew 17.4 inches in less than four years. The growth of all these hospitalized children averaged three times the normal growth rate without any special medication. Sometimes these children are mistakenly diagnosed as having a pituitary problem, the pituitary gland being the growth regulating organ of the body, the doctor said. However, all these youngsters showed signs not typical of glandular disorder: They all had markedly protuberant abdomens; 11 of the 12 had retarded speech;

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON
Babson's Point Of View On:
Japan

BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 29 — Though Japan is still plagued by a number of problems and her future role in world affairs is not yet clearly discernible, she is steadily regaining her influence in Asia. Before another decade passes, she may well have recaptured her prewar status as a major world power.

Extraordinary Comeback

Highly industrialized and more completely democratic than any other Asian nation, Japan has achieved truly amazing postwar economic recovery. More astounding still have been the strides she has made toward building the first really modern society in the Far East.

Now emerging from a moderately prolonged business recession which had its beginnings in 1964, Japan's latest burst of prosperity is reflected in an average rise in urban household income of 10.7% in the first six months of this year over that for the 1965 period. Just a few weeks ago, Premier Eisaku Sato's office disclosed that city-dwelling Japanese families now have average monthly income equivalent to $184.53. While this is far below the average for U. S. families, it is a new high for Japan—and three times the average family income in most other Asian countries.

Industrial Capability

Japan's area in square miles is less than four per cent of the area of the United States. Yet there are 100 million people living in Japan, or just about half as many as are living in our country. Although more than half her arable land is still used for growing rice (the chief food) Japan has somehow also squeezed into her small island confines what has become the most concentrated and most readily usable industrial complex in the entire Far East.

She has made impressive use of her raw material resources to build an iron and steel industry as modern and efficient as any in the Western World. She has also become a leader in shipbuilding and in the manufacture of precision instruments. Her own large merchant fleet contributes mightily to the very favorable international trade balance she has enjoyed for some years now.

Leadership Potential

The industrial rebirth of Japan in the past 20 years is all the more amazing when one considers that at war's end nearly 50% of her industry lay in ruin. Our enlightened policy in Japan, administered in the late 1940's by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, was a big factor in making possible the economic gains that nation has achieved. But great credit must also be given to the energy, determination, and creativity of the Japanese people themselves.

Primarily, it is this leadership potential that has brought Japan so quickly to the fore in agriculture, industry, the arts, world trade, and scientific achievement. The Japanese are ambitious, resourceful, and hard-working. They can be counted upon to make the most of their not inconsiderable natural resources, their scientific know-how, and their unique geographical position relative to the Asian continent and the Pacific. Our forecast is that in the next ten years Japan will vastly increase her influence in Asia and in the world . . . whether she decides ultimately to draw closer to Peking, to Moscow, or to the West.

Equal Free World Partner

Today, Japan is at the crossroads. In an Asia racked by war and rumors of war, Japan's early postwar pacifism is gradually giving way to a more realistic posture. She is about to adopt a new constitution. She is about to re-arm. In self-defense, she may well feel that she must develop her own nuclear capability to offset that of Peking.

Tied to China by history and culture, she is at the same time profoundly Western-oriented. She feels strongly that she has a mission in Asia and that she can in time exert an influence on China. But she is also being wooed by Russia and the promise of great trade with Siberia. Will she swing out of the Western bloc of which she has been a part these past 20 years?

Perhaps the answer depends upon whether the West will in fact make her an equal Free World partner.

Water Conservation Program Available To Farmers Now

Farmers who wish to establish soil and water conservation practices on their farms with Agricultural Conservation Program assistance should visit their Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service County office to discuss their conservation problems and file their requests as soon as possible. James M. Voss, Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee for Maryland, has suggested.

"It's important that farmers file their requests now in order to get the necessary approval and take care of other program details before the time is at hand to actually begin work," the Chairman emphasized.

Under the 1967 program cost-share assistance will average about half of the cost of carrying out such conservation practices as establishing and improving vegetative cover, planting trees and improving existing stands of timber, and practices aimed at the conservation and more efficient use of water.

Again in 1967 the program includes practices aimed at encouraging farmers to develop soil and water conservation practices primarily for the benefit of wildlife. These include establishment of wildlife food and cover plots, ponds and shallow water areas, and similar practices with wildlife benefits.

Other practices available include: Seeding of Permanent Vegetative Cover, Planting of Trees, Improvement of Stands of Forests Trees, and Seeding of Winter Cover Crops.

Mr. Voss points out, "Conservation of these soil, water, and woodland resources benefit everyone even though the majority of practices are carried out on privately-owned farmland. This is why the public shares a part of the cost."

EHS Liners Win First Soccer Game Emmitsburg High School Tuesday captured the first game of the 1966 Frederick County soccer season with a 4-2 victory over last year's county champions, Middletown, on the local field. Coach George Kuhn's Liners rallied for three goals in the third period, one a 50-yarder by halfback Steve Wivell. Richard Masser and Jim Seiss also scored in the big third quarter of the game which was played on a wet, slippery field. Center forward Tom Bidle scored the first goal for the Knights in the second period. The Liners' Forrest Knipple knotted the score with a perfect eight-yard shot and giving Emmitsburg a 1-1 tie at the half. Wivell booted his goal from mid-field after Masser scored from 10 yards out and after Seiss' shot. Outside left Don Bartlett got Middletown's second score in the final frame.

School Board Debates New Post

The recent decision of the Frederick County Board of Education to create the position of director of logistical services for the next fiscal year was not unanimous. Chris T. Mathews, a board member, voted against the measure. The logistics director will be paid $12,700 a year with the duties of managing the construction and maintenance of buildings, school operations such as custodial services, warehousing, inventory and stock control and transportation services, including school buses and staff vehicles. Mathews said he voted against the move because he felt creation of the job was not necessary.

Finan is considered to have the inside track for the $25,000-a-year post. He ran third in the recent Democratic Primary for the party's gubernatorial nomination. The vacancy occurred with the recent retirement of Chief Judge Stedman Prescott. Clapp is currently a candidate for re-election to the 15-year term of associate judge in the Sixth Judicial Circuit, Frederick County. He was appointed to the bench, a $22,500 post, in 1964. His term expires this year.

RETIREES Charles T. Naylor, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George C. Naylor, Emmitsburg, has retired after 25 years service as a civilian employee with the United States Air Force. Mr. Naylor held the positions of Budget Officer and Management Analyst with the Military Air Transport Service and the Air Force Systems Command during this period. Mr. Naylor suffered a severe heart attack June 1, 1966, but has progressed satisfactorily and is home at his residence, 6403 Roberts Drive, Temple Hills, Maryland.

Mount Impressions

By Thomas C. Callahan

The college folk are back. Peace is ended. Bedlam reigns in potentially the quietest town in the world.

As in-coming freshmen are shrugging off their amazement at the amount of rules and dogs on campus, upperclassmen are looking ahead to that one time of year that makes mountain life worth living—the basketball season.

The college catalogue divides the athletic program into three categories: varsity sports, intramural sports, and free play activities. Defining free play activities is a task to which this writer is unequal, but a workable definition of intramural sports is anything besides basketball. As a result, sports-minded students spend autumn following the fortunes of their high school football teams and the Colts. To these, cross country is a phrase describing California, and soccer, a game that they think Pete Dawkins played after he left West Point.

Most would say that this is natural, but why? How is it that a student body can be so obnoxiously loyal to one sport and so insultingly missing from the others? Analogous to the feelings of our non-hoopster athletes must surely be those of the Baltimore Orioles in '64. Two games out of first place they played a Sunday afternoon game before eight thousand people because those pride of the Chesapeake, clam-whammin' (etc.) Colts were televised. It kinda made money the only reason for winning a pennant. Well, football is tougher and faster and more dangerous. Yet, soccer is these to basketball. Is it essentially the shorter season, names like Unitas and Berry, or what? What makes Colt fans rush in where Oriole fans veer from treading, namely through the turnstiles of the stadium? It's championships. The Colts are a winner. The Mount basketball team is a winner. Boxer Sonny Liston was a "bad guy" but a winner, so we read about him, argued about him. Now he's a loser and we don't even know where he is.

If you live in a town where your team always wins, winning gets to be boring; and, from this boredom, Shea stadiums are built. This writer is not bored with basketball, just disinterested in September. Tomorrow, the soccer and cross-country teams representing Mount Saint Mary's in the Mason-Dixon Conference open their seasons against American University. Senior Pete Johnson will not be in the goal this year, electing wisely to rest the injured knee which kept him on the sidelines for the 65-66 basketball season. A basketball star and fine natural athlete, Johnston stepped onto the soccer field for the first time last year and experienced the contrast in support. "It's a great game, but you almost don't feel like playing. Like we'd play at 2:30, and they'd have a band come and hold a dance the same time."

Tomorrow there's another game at 2:30. It features a sport and a team that are not winners. But the Baltimore Orioles were not winners, and now they're champs.

Mayor Offers Additional Service To Public

Mayor Guy A. Baker, Jr., announced this week that the Town Office would be open from 6 to 8:30 o'clock on Friday evening, October 7.

The Mayor said this would afford an opportunity for citizens to pay their tax and water bills who find it inconvenient to pay them at the regular hours. He also stated that he, or several members of the Council would be on hand to answer any complaints or suggestions the citizens might have at that time.

New Church Liturgy Explained

A press release dated September 27 from the United Church of Christ Ministerial Association (The Rev. Edwin O. Wench, President), reveals that a newly developed liturgy for the Lord's Day will be the Order of Worship for the United Church of Christ Congregations of Frederick County on this coming Sunday, the occasion of World-Wide Communion.

This liturgy has been prepared by a committee of theological scholars of the United Church of Christ in consultation with the United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. and the Presbyterian Church U. S. The use of the historic structure of word and sacrament in the development of this Lord's Day Service represents the conviction that the unity of Christendom is best symbolized in this tradition from earliest Christian practice in worship. The framers of this new liturgy have explained that theologically, as well as historically, the service expresses the essence of the biblical tradition.

The United Church of Christ Ministerial Fellowship of Frederick County originally recommended the use of this service for all its parishes of the area in order to reflect the ecumenical nature of World-Wide Communion Sunday. The Sacrament of The Lord's Supper will be observed at the regular 10:45 a.m. Worship Service on Sunday. All members of the congregation are urged to be in attendance at this observance of World-Wide Communion.

State Scholarships To Be Held

The Maryland State Scholarship Board announces plans for conducting the state-wide competitive examination for the three State Scholarship Programs. The examination will be held Saturday, Nov. 19 in test centers located throughout the state.

A student who takes this competitive examination may qualify himself as an eligible candidate for a General State Tuition, a Teacher Education or a Senatorial scholarship. A student who has not previously attended a school or college rank may compete for any one or all three of these State scholarships. Students already attending college may compete only for a Teacher Education or a Senatorial scholarship.

Registration for the examination will take place during the month of October at all public and non-public high schools in the State and at all institutions eligible to participate in one of the scholarship programs.

Further information may be obtained from the counselor or principal in each high school. A pamphlet describing in detail the three State Scholarship Programs may be obtained from the State Scholarship Board, 2100 Guilford Ave., Baltimore, Md. 21218.
