Now that the Gemini space program reached termination one wonders where we go from here and just what the cost will be and whether it will be worth it or not. The exploration of space has been mighty interesting but also mighty costly. Now we come to the Apollo part of the space program which is designed to set a man on the moon. This, it is expected, will take another two to three years and what the cost will be and what good will it do, is conjectural. I guess it's part of this mad world we are living in and we'll have to take it in stride.

The Supreme Court's refusal to rule on the State of Maryland's appeal to make parochial schools and colleges eligible for state funds has created a real dilemma for a number of educational institutions in our state. How many will be affected by the ruling on a national level is hard to ascertain. Many colleges have gone ahead with their expansion plans, spent the money appropriated by the states and have erected costly buildings. How this money will be repaid, if at all, is a real problem confronting these institutions. Fortunately the ruling came soon enough to avoid difficulty for some but for others there's real trouble ahead. Some have spent a million dollars for a single building. It is almost impossible to repay sums of this kind and it is hoped that some sort of a moratorium can be attained whereby things remain status quo but there will be no further expansion with state funds. Small privately owned colleges have had to struggle for existence and have taken a tremendous burden off the taxpayers' backs. Everyone can't go to a large state university because there aren't enough. The smaller schools have helped ease the load and have been instrumental in getting students degrees who otherwise would never have received them. I see nothing wrong with a little financial assist from the states, but then I am not the Supreme Court, either.

Dear Abigail:

Each week as I read the Chronicle, I'm impressed by the zeal of the American Legion, VFW, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and various church organizations in behalf of our youth. They deserve a word of congratulations. On the other hand, it surprises me to see that a few of our best citizens make available to our children some of the trashiest "literature" (this is stretching the term beyond its strength) I've ever seen. Perhaps these businessmen would argue that they are only supplying the demand for vulgarity. Is this a valid excuse? Won't the small child reach for the piece of heavily frosted cake even if it has a sign on it that reads, "Arsenic Inside"?

Maybe more parents should take a look at the magazine racks in town. We're all willing to make great sacrifices for the material needs of our children. What are we doing to develop their characters? Let's not be so gullible either to think that our children won't reach for the poison when offered.

Pornography is a growing problem all across the United States, but it seems to me that in a small community like Emmitsburg, we ought to be able to control it. The dealers should be on our side. Let's let them know where the wave of public opinion really lies. Maybe they've just never thought about it.

Respectfully,
An Interested Citizen

Benefit Shooting Match Sunday

A shooting match for the benefit of the Vigilant Hose Co. will be held Sunday afternoon starting at 1:00 p.m. at Stouter's meadow, near town.

The prizes to be offered will be turkeys and refreshments will be on sale. Participation in the match will be limited to 12-gauge shotguns and shells will be furnished.

Justice is the goal, and not necessarily the product, of our courts.

Engaged

Dr. August W. Knauber, Deerpath Road, Lebanon, New Jersey, has announced the engagement of his daughter, Althea V. Knauber, to Ronald E. Reaves of R2, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Miss Knauber is a graduate of Hunterdon Central High School in Flemington, New Jersey. She will be graduating from the York Hospital School of Nursing in York, Pennsylvania in September 1967.

Her fiancé graduated from Gettysburg High School and is presently attending Gettysburg College. He is also pre-enrolled in the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary. Mr. Reaves is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Reaves, Jr., of Gettysburg R2.

An August wedding is planned.

Miss Hoade Secretarial Grad

Miss Susanna Mary Hoade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Hoade, Emmitsburg, was one of one hundred sixty-two students graduated from the Maryland Medical Secretarial School, Hagerstown, Md. Miss Hoade received her diploma in the Technical Medical Stenographic course. She completed courses in the secretarial sciences as well as training in the terminology of the medical profession and basic medical courses such as anatomy, diseases, medical office practice, and laboratory technique. She also received 13 weeks' internship training at University Hospital, Baltimore, which is one of the nine such institutions engaged in a cooperative training program with the school. Graduates of the school are prepared to work as secretaries and medical assistants to physicians in private practice, hospitals, government installations, and industrial medical positions.

Miss Hoade graduated from St. Joseph's High School in 1965.

The annual Lions Club Kiddies' Christmas Party will be held on Saturday, Dec. 17, it was decided at the regular meeting of the Lions Club held Monday evening at Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Norman J. Shriver presiding. Present also were three Lions for the Terra Rubra Club near Keyville, and one from Taneytown. Lion Milton Sewell gave a report on the recent Charter Night held in conjunction with the Thurmont Lions at Cozy Restaurant. Lion William Slemmer, chairman of the National Essay Contest, announced he had contacted all local schools and that the project was well under way.

President Shriver reported that an inventory of Horse Show equipment had been made and that the District Governor would be invited here for the January 23 meeting.

Miss Michelle Boyle, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Boyle, underwent major surgery this week at the Harrisburg Hospital.

Senior Citizens Permanently Located Here

November 15, 1966, the Senior Club of Emmitsburg met for the first time in the new club rooms with forty-two members present. Six new names were added to the roll.

Papers were distributed to be filled out by each member as to their choice of activities to be pursued by the group from time to time.

Mrs. Charlotte Eyster announced that instructions were available to be given Nov. 29 at one o'clock p.m. to all interested in making pine cone Christmas wreaths. Everyone who wishes to participate is to bring a bucket or other container, old newspapers, wear old clothes, bring snippers or scissors and all pine cones available.

Open house will be held Dec. 5 beginning at 6:30 p.m., to welcome invited State and County committees, as well as donors, ministers and all who have assisted in this club enterprise. Refreshments will be served all guests.

The secretary, on unanimous approval of the members, was instructed to write a note of thanks to Rev. W. R. Fearer and Elias Lutheran Church Council, for the use of the Parish House in the months during the organization of the club before obtaining a permanent meeting place.

Mrs. Tess Stinson graciously brought for display four lovely blooming orchid plants which all greatly admired.

Discussion was held concerning time and persons to be responsible for presiding over the club rooms while open. Tentative plans call for Mrs. Virginia Sanders, director, to serve several days a week. Mr. George Miller also volunteered to assist as will other members, so that the place may be open to members wishing to drop in to read, play games, visit and have a cup of coffee when desired.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Virginia Sanders and Mrs. Frances Keller.

Thanksgiving Service Listed

A community Thanksgiving Day Service will be held in Elias Lutheran Church on Thanksgiving Day at 10 a.m. Preaching the Thanksgiving message will be the Rev. King Duncan of Trinity Methodist Church and Tom's Creek Methodist Church. Serving as Liturgists will be the Rev. John Chatlos, Pastor of Incarnation United Church of Christ and the Rev. W. Ronald Fearer, host pastor.

A community Church Choir, composed of choir members from all the Emmitsburg churches will present two Thanksgiving anthems: "While the Earth Remaineth," by J. H. Maunders and "A Song of Thanksgiving," by J. A. Parks. Directing the Community Church Choir will be Mr. Diehl Askerman of the United Presbyterian Church, and Mr. Ronald Reaves of Elias Lutheran Church. The children's choir of Elias Church, which is directed by Mrs. C. W. Koontz, will sing "A Thanksgiving Day Hymn," by Donald Sewell, and the hymn, "Praise Him." Organists for the service will be Mrs. Donald Eyer of Elias Church and Miss Beverly Davis from Incarnation Church.

Warner Hospital Plans Expansion

The Annie M. Warner Hospital inaugurated a $350,000 building fund campaign last Thursday. It is intended to match the $350,000 gift of the Emma G. Musselman Foundation to finance urgent and necessary expansion of hospital facilities including enlarged laboratory, X-ray and emergency facilities; a modern maternity and obstetrics division and in increase in patient capacity of approximately 20 beds.

The program, which is estimated to cost $700,000, provides the extra dividend of removing the remaining patients from the original hospital building. The nearly 50-year-old historic structure thereafter will be used in its entirety for office and service purposes.

The campaign is unique in that it will be conducted by the board of directors instead of by professional fund raisers. In deciding on this format at an earlier meeting, the directors declared their primary reason is to "make manifest the appreciation of the entire community served by the hospital for the $350,000 gift to the Emma G. Musselman Foundation."

Bird To Grace Governor's Table

Six-months-old and 30-pounds-heavy, this Broad-White Tom Turkey is destined for the Thanksgiving table of Maryland Governor J. Millard Tawes and Mrs. Tawes.

Grown by Mr. Ross Smith of Hillside Turkey Farms, Thurmont, Frederick County, the bird is a gift of the Maryland Turkey Producers Association.

Available in supermarkets thru-out the State, Maryland turkeys are especially noted for their tenderness and quality.

Mount Grad Reminisces; Recalls Old Time Football At College

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: I remember when Mt. St. Mary's College played football against Johns Hopkins, a half century ago, specifically on Sat., Oct. 5, 1916 at Homewood Field. It was a warm sunny day, more suitable for baseball than for football.

A large group of spectators, with girls in long colorful dresses, with flowers in the stands, and it was a gala affair, resembling somewhat as a cricket match.

I was one of three regular substitutes, and did not get into the game until the third quarter. The Hopkins men, not boys, were mostly medical students, and had to practice under arc lights, the first school to use this system, as the students were tied up all day, and could only practice at night. Most of them had been stars at their own college, as well as captains, and they really were veterans.

Their unique method of calling signals was confusing to their opponents, for they used chemical symbols, such as H2SO4, Sulphuric acid, or NA 2CL, sodium chloride, etc., to designate the player, the formation and the action.

In the second quarter, our captain, "Larry" Sheridan, a three letter man, had his nose broken, which was not the first time, and I helped to carry him back under the stands. In a few minutes, he recovered and was fighting mad to get back into the game as half-back. He later became Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, President of the college for many years, until he died a few years ago.

At half time, our coach, John L. Day, star end at the University of Syracuse, told me to get out in the center of the field, and match my punts against Brickley, formerly star and coach at Yale, and then coach at Hopkins, who could drop-kick from the 50 yard line. We were back to back, and others were "souping" the balls for us. The goal posts were right on the goal line. No big bands and parades at that time.

In fact the goal posts were not even padded and were very dangerous. On Oct. 12, 1914, Columbus Day, in an inter-mural game at the Mount, a young man was tackled, and his head struck the goal post, killing him, so the college suspended football that year.

The Hopkins team was too powerful for us, and overwhelmed us by some score of 35 to 7. When they were on our one yard line, I was sent in as a defensive guard, and when they saw me, they yelled, "Here's a new man", and proceeded to try to go through me three times, but without success, so they went in on an off tackle play.

was taken in the fall of 1919, along side of the old "gym", with century old oak trees in the background, and adjacent to Echo Field, from which a view of Sugar Loaf Mountain, some 35 miles south, and beyond Frederick, Md., could be seen. Several years later the trees were torn down.

In the center is "Tony" Friday of Pittsburgh, Pa., our touch little quarterback, and I am to the left of the picture, which was published in the Sunday Sun as the "I do and I don't" of the Mount team, after a popular advertisement for a baby cereal. My picture was later published along with others in the Sun's All-Maryland Eleven. I also received a miniature gold football properly inscribed, from the Sun, which was presented to me by the President of the College, Msgr. B. J. Bradley, at public assembly. I still have this memento.

I was the first man in some 5 years at the Mount to be so honored, when "Bear" Dowdle of Chicago, Ill., made it in 1914, on the first team.

The quarters were in 12 minutes, and the action was fast. Very few forward passes to hold up the game, and with only one referee, the only time he blew his whistle was for off-side. We had four formations for line plays, end runs, etc. The referee never brought the ball out to the near center of the field, and if a touchdown was made in the corner, it was necessary to kick it out towards the center, a maneuver too complicated to describe. I did the kicking out from inside the goal, and also the kick-off. We did not have a huddle system and sometimes plays would be made in succession without calling signals. We did not have any deception as to who had the ball. There was no platoon system, and you played the full game, unless you had to be carried off the field.

When we played Washington College at Chestertown, Md., we arrived by train and stayed overnight at the Hotel Caswell, now the site of the Lord Baltimore Hotel. The boys raised merry mischievous that night. We were up early the next morning to catch the boat across the Bay. I recall the black smoke be'coming from high funnels, as well as one of yellow, no doubt, a sulphur plant, an eerie sight in the early morning mist.

With only three substitutes, we finally had to ask our opponents for one of their players. They had a player who would hurdle the line like a kangaroo, and almost impossible to stop.

I could recall many other interesting games, but I think this is all for now.

Lutheran Church Bazaar Dec. 3

The annual Christmas Bazaar of Elias Lutheran Church will be held on Saturday, Dec. 3, from three p.m. until all are served.

A feature of the bazaar will be the delicious turkey and oyster supper to be served family style.

Local Realtor Seeks Rezoning Of Land Here

The Frederick County Planning and Zoning Commission held a public hearing this week on a request by an Emmitsburg realtor for rezoning ground in this area.

David E. Aldridge, attorney for Ernest R. Shriver, said that Shriver asked for the rezoning of a 6.6 acre tract of land north of Emmitsburg from residential to commercial. Aldridge, who also handled the Shriver presentation, told the commission his client had made no definite decision on a use for the land, but said preliminary consideration was being given to construction of a motel.

Aldridge said additional motel and service facilities would be needed in the future, as the area expands as a religious center. Two Roman Catholic colleges and a Catholic Shrine are located in the Emmitsburg area.

Robert Wirgau, county planner, told the commission that although the land is not well suited for residential development, it could be used as a park to serve nearby residential areas. Wirgau also said commercial development of the tract could increase vehicular traffic on adjacent Creamery Rd.

Shriver said he had talked the rezoning over with officials of Emmitsburg, and that the town's leaders were definitely in favor of the request. He promised to have an official letter from the Town when the rezoning is presented to the county commissioners for decision.

MRS. NETTIE SHARRER

Mrs. Nettie O. Sharrer, 78, wife of Newton O. Sharrer, Littlestown, died Friday morning at Hanover General Hospital.

She was born in Frederick County and was the daughter of the late Charles M. and Estella Bell Englar. A retired postmistress, she served the Rocky Ridge Post Office for 32 years. She was a member of Mt. Tabor Lutheran Church, Rocky Ridge, Eastern Star of Thurmont and the Rebecca Lodge of Taneytown.

She is survived by her husband; three stepdaughters, Mrs. Luther W. Ritter, Littlestown; Mrs. Heasley Corum, Frederick; and Mrs. Bernard Aronson, Mt. Vernon, N. Y.; a stepson, Dr. Norman E. Sharrer, Exeter, Calif.; three step grandchildren and two step great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Mt. Tabor Lutheran Church, Rocky Ridge, with Rev. William Markley officiating. Interment was in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were Lloyd Baker, Lloyd Humbert, Luther Ritter, Heasley Corum, Dr. Norman Sharrer and Norville Eckard.

SMITH-JOY

Miss Judith Elaine Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin L. Joy, Emmitsburg, and Charles Norman Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Smith, Taneytown, were married recently in St. Joseph's Church, Emmitsburg. Rev. Louis B. Storms performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a light blue suit with blue crown and veil. She was attended by Miss Juan Wivell, Emmitsburg, who wore a pink suit and accessories. Thomas Wivell, Ellicott City, was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The couple will reside in the Shriner Apartments, Taneytown.

The bride, who attended St. Joseph's High School, is employed at St. Joseph College. The bridegroom, who attended school in Uniontown, served three years in the Navy and is employed by Howard Green Housing Corp.

Initial Band Rehearsal Held

As was announced in the Emmitsburg Chronicle last week, the Municipal Band held its first rehearsal in some time, this past Tuesday evening. Nearly 20 musicians came to the Parish House of Elias Church. Unfortunately, many of the veteran band members did not come, but the young group that was there promises a new enthusiasm, and a continuation of a Town Band.

With the invitation still wide open to anyone interested in playing with the band, a second rehearsal is scheduled for Wednesday evening, 7:30 p.m. at the Parish House. Some new and easier music will be purchased for that rehearsal, including some Christmas music for the performances next month.

Mr. Thomas Harbaugh is serving as leader of the group.

C. Of C. Plans Local Slogan Contest

Vice President Sydney Sappington presided over the regular monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening in the Green Parrot Tea Shop, 15 members in attendance.

Following the reading of the minutes by Secretary Valli Ryan and the treasurer's report by Ralph D. Lindsey, a number of items of business were discussed. Floyd L. Lewis and George R. Sanders gave a progress report on the proposed slogan contest and Sydney Sappington was added to the committee to draw up rules, publicize the contest and to ask local merchants for donations as an assist to the project which is expected to elicit some excellent slogans for the community. It was felt that the contest could be gotten off the ground sometime after the start of the new year.

A community road sign plan was discussed whereby local organizations would be asked to purchase advertising space on four road signs on the main approaches to the town. This plan is fast gaining in popularity throughout the state. Edward Grout was asked to explore the costs of such signs and report back at the next meeting.

At the next meeting the Chamber is expected to review its old set of by-laws and perhaps amend them or draft an entirely new set. William Ledbetter gave a report on an education-business conference at which Governor Tawes was present, Tuesday in Baltimore. Mrs. Maas, Silver Spring realtor, was a guest at the meeting.

The next meeting of the group will be held on Dec. 14 at the Emmitt House. Dues are now payable and new members are being accepted. Dues are $10 annually and interested individuals can join by mailing their check to the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce, Ralph D. Lindsey, treasurer. It was explained that it was not necessary to be a businessman or professional man to be eligible. Any citizen of the district, male or female, with the interest and welfare of the community at heart, is eligible for membership by mailing in their check.

Bridal Shower Given Miss Stouter

A surprise bridal shower was held in honor of Miss Maureen Stouter on Sunday, November 6, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stouter. The hostesses of the shower were Dianne and Doris Stouter.

In decorating, a pink and white color scheme was used. Games were played and refreshments were served. The bride-elect received many lovely and useful gifts. Those present were Mrs. Rosie Damuth, Mrs. Edith Haley, Mrs. Ruth Hobbs, Mary Ellen Hobbs, Mrs. Daisys Simpkins, Mrs. Birdie Fox, Mrs. Carmen Harner, Beverly Harner, Mrs. Mary Pryor, Mrs. Dot Damuth, Mrs. Audrey Downes, Mrs. Reba Haines, Mrs. Mary Rice, Mrs. Catherine Lippy, Mrs. Helen Utz, Mrs. Viola Babylon, Mrs. Caroline Smith, Mrs. Doris Stouter and Mrs. Dianne Stouter. Some of the guests were accompanied by their children. Sending gifts but unable to attend were Miss Dale Elder and Mrs. Margaret Valentine.

Miss Stouter will be married on January 14 at St. Joseph's Church, Emmitsburg, to Mr. William D. Babylon.

Democratic Club Plans Food Sale

The New Frontier Democratic Women's Club held its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, November 14, at 8 p.m.

Club members met at their usual meeting place, the VFW in Emmitsburg. Their guests were Mrs. Charlotte Yarrall and Mr. Austin Powell. Mrs. Yarrall, Frederick County Treasurer, and Mr. Powell, Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee in Frederick County, spoke to the women about their respective jobs and responsibilities.

Again this year fruit cakes have been sold as a money-making project. Also, the Democratic women are sponsoring a food sale Saturday morning, Nov. 19, at 10 a.m. in Emmitsburg. At the next meeting scheduled for Monday evening, December 12, the annual Christmas party will be held.

Favorite Recipes

As an added public service and an extra feature of the Emmitsburg Chronicle, we will publish weekly, if possible, your favorite recipe. We will print your name or you can remain anonymous. If you would like to see your recipe(s) in print, send it to the Chronicle. This offer is open to all readers of the Chronicle, both local and out-of-town.

RITZ TORTE
20 Ritz crackers; 1 teasp. baking powder; 1 teasp. vanilla; 1 cup nuts (cut into pieces); 3 egg whites (beaten); 1 cup sugar (scant); 1 small Hershey bar (shredded); 1/2 pint whipping cream (beaten).
Fold this into the cracker mixture. Grease 8x8 pan. Pat in mixture. Bake 350° for 30 minutes. When cool, cover with whipped cream. Cover this with shredded chocolate bar. Refrigerate 3 hours before serving. Makes 9 nice servings.

Lutheran Women Hold Meeting

The Lutheran Church Women of Elias Lutheran Church held their November meeting recently in the Parish House. The study topic, "Hunger in the World," was presented by Mrs. Charles Linn and Mrs. Esther Gillelan. Demonstrating with a loaf of bread and a group of LCW members, the program leaders illustrated the creeping hunger that's prevalent in many of our Eastern countries. Large cards showed the Church and government agencies that are focusing their attention on the acute "food shortage" in Asia and other areas. The leaders emphasized the fact that locally, Church women have just finished participating in UNICEF, an agency that strives to provide some of the basic foods for the underprivileged.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Hazel Caldwell, president. The agenda dealt with the forth-coming Christmas and Advent activities of the Church. Gifts for the National Lutheran Home in Washington, D. C., will be sent following the meeting on December 13. This Dec. 13 Christmas meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Lewis Smith and Miss Mary J. Zimmerman, who will devote their meditation and study on Chrismos, and the spiritual messages of Christmas greetings.

Mrs. James Small served refreshments to the group and their guests. The table featured a cornucopia overflowing with harvest fruits and foliage around which the women gathered for a fellowship hour.

Completes Infantry Training

FT. ORD, Calif.—Army Private James E. Grinder, 19, son of Mrs. Corrine M. Seiss, Federal Ave., Emmitsburg, Md., completed eight weeks of advanced infantry training Nov. 10 at Ft. Ord, Calif.

His wife, Joyce, lives at 410 W. Main St., Emmitsburg, Md.

your columns, I should like to give the electorate in Frederick and Carroll counties a brief report on a lady's first venture into politics. I was defeated last week in those two counties in my run for the Maryland Senate.

To all who shun politics as a nasty business, let me say that it is nasty in some respects, but it is also heart-warming in many ways and in any case amazingly instructive. Despite defeat, I continue to recommend it as a highly rewarding personal experience. I do not intend to give it up.

To encourage those who supported me in the election—and as a sobering thought for those who may have to oppose me in future elections—I would like it to be noted that had we succeeded in shifting less than 1200 votes (out of an unofficial total exceeding 60,000) from one of the winners to my column, we would have captured the Senate seat we sought.

The gentlemen whom I opposed were all thoroughly experienced local politicians, with an aggregate of many years in the legislature and with an accumulation of followers that can ordinarily be built up in politics only after some years of effort. For a lady novice with neither an initial following, nor an organization, nor any professional publicity agents, nor even a single advisor with extensive political experience, to come close to defeating them is an accomplishment not to be underrated.

We may realistically conclude that we are a budding political force to be reckoned with in the future in the two counties and in the state. This is all the more true since our support came essentially from thinking people who do not vote as directed by any machine. Moreover, time is very much on our side, for the influence of such people is bound to spread and grow, given a candidate of sufficient quality to serve as the focal point of their interest and energy.

We also learned a lot about politics that we didn't know, and this will stand us in good stead in the future.

But most important of all, we have learned that in defeat there is no abiding discontent, for the wonderful warmth of the people who appreciate what you are trying to do dissolves all bitterness. For them you would cheerfully do it all over again—only do it better.

NIGHT BLINDERS

The person with 20/40 daytime vision may have only 20/100 vision at night, according to authorities. Driving at night, guided only by car headlights, such a person suffers much the same effect as if wearing dark glasses and blinders—a lethal combination.

Ability to see straight ahead is limited to range of the headlights, about 350 feet maximum. Since headlights shine only to the front, lateral vision is virtually zero. The driver is in a "tunnel of vision," seeing only the road immediately ahead.

With the nighttime traffic death rate two and a half times the daytime rate, the Street and Highway Safety Lighting Bureau urges better street lighting as a means of overcoming this problem and making streets safer for drivers and pedestrians alike.

State Police

Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, announced this week that applications are being accepted for Cadets under a State Police Cadet Program which will be inaugurated on January 1, 1967.

The purpose of this program is to expose the Cadet to certain departmental duties which will qualify him to be a Trooper at age 21. Initially, the Cadet will work with the Truck Weight Enforcement Division. This position is open to high school graduates between the ages of 18 to 21 years. Young men who are interested and can qualify are urged to go to the nearest State Police Installation for a personal interview with a uniformed member of the department. Applicant will be given the necessary application if he meets the following requirements: Must be a citizen of the U. S.; and resident of state at time of employment; single and at least 17; but must not have reached his 20th birthday on the date he files his application (he must be 18 years old on date of appointment); minimum height of 5 ft. 10 inches, with weight in proportion, but not less than 155 lbs. Must be in excellent physical condition. High school diploma is required (equivalence certificate will not be accepted). Applicant must also possess a valid Maryland Vehicle license at the time of his appointment. He must have an excellent moral character, and display a career interest in police work with the capacity to successfully pass college level training courses.

Upon reaching his twenty-first birthday, a Cadet shall be expected to apply for appointment to the State Police Academy in preparation to become a Trooper. Failure to apply for appointment to the Academy within three months after having reached 21 will be sufficient grounds for dismissal.

High school students who anticipate graduation, and meet the necessary qualifications at the time of their graduation, may submit an application.

The tentative starting salary for the position of Cadet is: $4540 for the first year; $4722 for the second year, and $4904 for the third year. In addition, all uniforms and equipment will be furnished.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

November 11, 1966
Sealed proposals, in duplicate, for the construction of Valley Elementary School, located in Jefferson, Maryland, Frederick County, will be received by the Architect, Bushey and Chapman at the office of the Frederick County Board of Education, Frederick, Maryland, for the Owner, Frederick County Board of Education, until 2:00 P.M. (EST), December 6, 1966, and immediately thereafter publicly opened and read.

The Valley Elementary School shall consist of twelve classrooms, two general education areas, library, kindergarten, administrative area, multi-purpose room, kitchen, music room, audiovisual rooms, and other related areas.

The structure will be one story masonry wall, load-bearing walls, with bar joist roof construction. Floors will be slab on grade.

All labor, material and equipment required for the execution of a complete job will be let under one single contract.

Bidding documents, specifications and drawings may be examined after November 11, 1966 at the Board of Education office in Frederick; at the office of the Architect, Bushey and Chapman, 49 Summit Avenue, Hagerstown, at the Building Congress and Exchange of Baltimore at 2301 North Charles Street, Baltimore, Maryland; at the Plan Room of the F. W. Dodge Corporation, 6600 York Road, Baltimore, Maryland; or at the office of Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc., 239 South Potomac Street, Hagerstown, Maryland where they are on file.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or to waive any and all technical defects in the execution of, and informalities in, the submission of any bid.

Bidders may obtain two sets of bidding documents, specifications, and drawings on and after November 11, 1966, from the office of the Architect, Bushey and Chapman, 49 Summit Avenue, Hagerstown, Maryland, upon the deposit of $50 for each set. The full deposit will be returned to those who submit a bona fide bid and return drawings and specifications to the Architect, Bushey and Chapman, in good usable condition within ten (10) days after the date set for opening of bids, or return them at least five (5) days before with a notice they do not intend to bid. If a bona fide bid is not submitted and documents are returned in good condition between five (5) days before and ten (10) days after the date set for opening of bids, the deposit will be refunded less the cost of reproduction. After ten (10) days, the bidder's deposit will be forfeited.

Additional sets or individual sheets may be purchased directly from Gardens Blue Print & Photo-Print Company, 2118 Maryland Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland 21218.

A five (5%) percent Bid Bond, AIA Document A-310 and 100 percent Performance, Labor-Material Bond, AIA Document A-311, will be required.

Time for completion will be July 1968.

Thanks to the many inventive minds that are being directed toward improving artificial baits, we have reached a high degree of proficiency in lure manufacturing. It appears that most of the ideas for lures have come from fishermen who are forever trying to increase their success in attracting fish to strike, states Robert D. Hall, Salt-Water Fishing Editor of Sports afield Magazine. Although there have been some weird ideas advanced on just what a lure should be, the majority that finally reach the hands of the fishermen are generally good.

It is indeed very unfortunate that many excellent lures have passed off the market and are forgotten, to be replaced by some new item that is highly advertised and promoted. The lampwick trolling lure, which was very effective for bluefish and school tuna, disappeared after the death of its inventor, Dave Engel. The lure was made with a lead-thimble head and a cotton lampwick, and its action improved with use, as the ends of the wicking became frayed. The fisherman further enhanced its effectiveness by soaking it in menhaden oil before it was trolled. It is a well-established fact that fish seek their food by sense of smell to various degrees, depending upon the species of the fish. The olfactory lobes are relatively larger in sharks and rays than in other fish, but we know that many marine fishes are attracted from a considerable distance by the odor of a chum slick.

Written examinations will be given by the Training - Personnel Division of the Maryland State Police at State Police Headquarters, Pikesville, Maryland, on Saturday, November 26, and Saturday, December 3, 1966 at 10:00 a.m. Applicants who apply too late to be considered for this examination will be notified of the next test date.

There is a wide assortment of metal spoons that are used for offshore and bay fishing. Perhaps the best-known are the Drone, Sparky, Nungesser, Wilson, Itcord, Spoon-Squid, Clark's, Tony Accetta bunker spoon, Gudespoon, and Barrauda. The majority of spoons are nickel- or chrome-plated. Some have bucktail tied on the single hook to give the appearance of a flexible tail; others rely on their wobbling, irregular action to attract fish.

Protecting Our Enemy!
Has the population of the United States been subjected to an enemy - controlled atmospheric drug that is scrambling our thinking and normal reactions and undermining our intellectual, moral and material strength? The idea of such an enemy drug distribution is a little fantastic, but with present scientific developments the scheme is not at all impossible. Our Communist enemy may never need to carry out such a drug-spreading project, however. Something already is scrambling a large part of American thought and inhibiting normal reactions—to the decisive advantage of our Communist enemy.

We do have a Communist enemy, don't we? The present scrambled thinking seems to be that we do indeed have a Communist enemy, but only in the rice paddies, the swamps and hills of Viet Nam. The Communists in the United States (who are fighting us more fiercely and with greater effectiveness than their motor-firing Viet Cong comrades) are not our enemies? We protect their "rights" while, in effect, they strike at our vital points with their daggers. We invite them to lecture in our American universities, to American young men and women whose brothers and fathers are being killed by Communist missiles. We permit them to solicit and give blood donations to bolster the Red armies slaughtering our young men at the battle front.

All Communists Against U. S.

Sharaf Rashidovich Rashidov, chief of the Soviet Communist delegation to the recent Havana Conference called to coordinate world-wide Red efforts to destroy the United States, told strategists from 83 nations in which the Communists either rule or have substantial power: "The Soviet Union is supplying the fraternal people of Vietnam with the most modern weapons for meeting U. S. aggression. We are doing everything in order that the deliveries of Soviet military equipment — aircraft, rockets, artillery, ammunition, and so on — will get into the hands of the Vietnamese freedom fighters as rapidly as possible . . . (this) helps the cause of our Vietnamese brothers over the United States."

Today, Communists (both American and alien) are working within our nation openly (even boastfully) for our enemy. We have heard them (on TV) at Congressional hearings boasting about how much they have aided, and will aid, the very Communist soldiers who are killing men wearing the uniform of this country and sent into battle by our Government. We have seen them seeking to block shipments of supplies to the soldiers; and in hundreds of other ways, practicing treason —with our Government, amazingly, condoning it. Since President Johnson, exercising his vast influence as Commander-in-Chief as well as Chief Executive, could steer us back to rational actions toward the enemies among us, next week's column will be directed to him personally: "Are You Aware, Mr. President?"

If you reach 72 before the beginning of 1968 you may collect these special payments without any social security credit, but you should come in and apply either in the three months before your birthday or the month of your birthday. The special payments are not retroactive and you will lose benefits for some months if you delay until after you become 72 to apply.

15 faculty guests to the meeting. A visitation group from the Silver Run-Union Mills Lions Club was also present. The Principals of the high school and elementary school introduced the teachers from each school who were present.

Program Chairman, Lion Merwyn Fuss, who arranged the delightful evening, introduced Rev. O. F. Kibbe as soloist. Rev. Kibbe gave the group several enjoyable solos. Speaker for the evening, Dr. James P. Earp of West and entertaining message.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Stewart Hall.

The Bill recites that the Complainant, Alma Virginia Hall, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, Stewart Hall, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address is Post Office Box 792, Wilmington, North Carolina; that the parties to this cause were married on the 10th day of November, 1964, at Trenton, Georgia, by J. V. Jenkins, Ordinary, Dade County, Georgia, a person duly authorized to solemnize marriages; that as a result of the said marriage no child or children were born; and that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without any cohabitation for more than eight months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Alma Virginia Hall, may be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Stewart Hall; that she may be granted the right to resume her former name of Alma Virginia Crebs; and that she may have such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF COURT
It is thereupon this 25th day of October, 1966, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 3rd day of December, 1966, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of January, 1967, and show cause, if any he has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

First monthly checks were delivered last week to about 400 elderly Frederick County residents. The special benefits, payable to persons 72 or older who are not eligible for regular social security cash benefits, were made possible by an amendment to the social security law enacted earlier this year. W. S. King, Social Security district manager, said today.

The special monthly payments, amounting to $35 a month for a single person and $52.50 for a couple, are financed out of general Federal revenues, not out of social security tax contributions, King noted. These payments are intended to provide a small continuing income to people who may have missed out on social security coverage because they were too old when social security started, or worked in occupations not covered by social security until recent years.

Persons 72 or older who are not eligible for a public retirement benefit from the Federal Government, or from a State or local government retirement system, can collect the monthly payments. Persons receiving a cash welfare payment are not eligible.

Most eligible people in the Frederick County area were sent questionnaires on the basis of their medicare application and did not have to make a separate application for the special benefits.

King also had a special mes-

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Measles
No longer is it necessary for your child to have measles. All that's needed is immunization against this disease that once was taken for granted as one of the hazards of growing up.

A veteran medical expert on communicable disease said this fall that measles could be eradicated in the United States in a relatively short time if all young children were immunized. Already more than 12 million American children have been immunized against measles since a vaccine was licensed in 1963, and the disease has dropped to a mere fraction of its once high incidence.

Doctors have long known that measles is sometimes a much more serious disease than many parents realized. True, most children recover from measles in a short time and with no ill effects. However, in recent years deaths attributed to measles have averaged more than 400 per year, and other non-fatal effects have caused serious health problems for many more children.

Even though deaths and serious after effects are not particularly common among children who get measles, it isn't wise to take a chance. And it isn't necessary to take a chance.

The American Academy of Pediatrics, the professional society of the physicians who specialize in health problems of children, recommends that the measles vaccine be given at the age of about 12 months. If your infant is routinely under the care of a physician, the chances are he will give measles vaccine at the proper time.

But if your child is past the age of 12 months and hasn't yet been immunized against measles, don't delay. Call your physician and ask his advice about measles shots. There are several different types of measles vaccine available. Your doctor will select the vaccine that will be best for your child.

Job Corps Seeking Youths

Qualified Maryland youths, as many as 40 a month, can now expect to enter a Job Corps Center within thirty days after applying, according to a spokesman of the Maryland State Employment Service Division of the Department of Employment Security.

The Maryland State Employment Service is responsible for Job Corps recruiting and screening throughout the State with the exception of Baltimore City and Prince Georges and Montgomery Counties and is currently soliciting support for this program from community action agencies, civic groups and youth-service organizations in an effort to reach those young Marylanders who are most in need of Job Corps training and happen to be the ones who are most difficult to reach.

Legally any young man or woman 16 through 21 who is a citizen or a permanent resident of the United States is eligible for the Job Corps. To insure that the benefits of Job Corps training does reach those who need it most, the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity considers other criteria. These take into consideration young people who have tried and failed in school and who have few avenues of opportunity; those who are living in homes and neighborhoods of poverty and have limited prospects of completing education or finding employment.

According to the Office of Economic Opportunity, the "heart of the Job Corps program is a special course of study designed to attack the many barriers to the full employment of young people from a background of poverty—it is a program that builds character and citizenship, increased basic education and starts occupational training for the Corpsman to help him find a job with a future—the training gives this youth the basic skills to qualify for entry level positions with career potential."

There are two types of Job Corps Centers; the Conservation Center located on Federal lands, such as national parks and forests, and the Urban Center within federal government facilities in or near metropolitan areas.

At a Conservation Center, the Job Corpsman learns forestry, entomology and insect control, surveying and other skills including basic education and how to apply for a job. At Urban Centers, Corpsmen are trained in more specialized, vocational skills such as appliance and office machine repair.

Job Corps men and women receive $30 a month spending money. Upon graduation, they receive a terminal pay of $50 for every month spent in the Job Corps. If a Corpsman chooses, he may send home $25 a month and the Job Corps will match this with an equal amount.

Supporting community agencies throughout the State are being urged to alert those young people who would benefit most, to the advantages of Job Corps training. Any local office of the Maryland State Employment Service Division of the Department of Employment Security is ready to assist such youths and to expedite applicants on their way to a Job Corps Center.

NO. 21,437 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND
IDA V. VAN WINKLE
VS:
LEE A. VAN WINKLE

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit of procedure to a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Lee A. Van Winkle.

The Bill recites that the Complainant, Ida V. Van Winkle, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, Lee A. Van Winkle, is presently residing McCoole, Allegany County, Maryland; that the parties to this case were married on the 17th day of March, 1937, in Weems, Virginia, by Rev. Good, a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage, eight children were born, six of whom are of legal age, and William W. Van Winkle, aged 16 years, David L. Van Winkle, aged 14 years, both of whom are in the care and custody of the Complainant and whose care and custody the Complainant seeks; that the parties to this have voluntarily lived separate and apart without cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Ida V. Van Winkle, be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Lee A. Van Winkle, that said Complainant may be awarded the care and custody of the said infant children, and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF COURT
It is thereupon this 3rd day of November, 1966, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 10th day of December, 1966, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 10th day of January, 1967, and show cause, if any he may have, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

County Homemakers Plan Open House

The Frederick County Homemakers will hold their bi-annual Christmas Open House on November 29 and 30 from two to four and seven to nine. This year it will be held at the Steiner House, located at the corner of West Patrick and Jefferson Sts., Frederick. The Steiner House will be beautifully decorated and the chosen theme, "What Is Christmas," will be in the air throughout. Cookie baking and the wrapping of packages will be two demonstrations, along with the many displays available for ideas for you to take home. There will also be scheduled music programs.

Mrs. J. Vernon Coblenz is the overall chairman and Mrs. August Selckmann aiding as co-chairman. Each club, doing its part, is looking forward to your attendance. There is ample parking available and no meters to feed. So spread the word and come to Steiner House on November 29 and 30 from 2-4 and 7-9. The Homemakers will greet you there.

School Board Member Criticizes School Plans

Additional criticism on the school board approval of plans for the Catoctin High School at Thurmont has been made by board member Chris T. Matthews.

The school board last Wednesday approved plans for the $3 million structure by a 4 to 2 vote.

In his criticism, Matthews said the plans do not comply with the National Fire Code No. 2277 which states that every classroom is to have a window and/or door leading directly to the outside of the building.

The Board member said the window and/or door is to serve as a supplementary means for an emergency escape and/or provide breathing air in smoke filled rooms. Because of the present plans, the State Fire Marshal has to enforce an alternate to alleviate the hazard but not resolve it with the installation of a sprinkling system, he said.

"It is well known that 80 to 90 per cent of the fire fatalities are due to asphyxiation. The Catoctin design pumps air into each room. In the event of a fire all electrical power is turned off before any fire fighting can begin; therefore, the source of breathing air becomes acute and paramount in a windowless classroom," Matthews asserted.

"As it stands today, Mr. Nelson, the architect, has received $75,000 for the design and plans. He will need more money to change the plans to comply with the fire code. But in view of the fact that Thurmont has to spend additional $30,000 to $40,000 to provide additional water and storage for the proposed sprinkling system, the added expense for this change in the plans could possibly be a saving," he added.

Matthews urged county-wide recognition of the mistake in plans. Bids will be received on the project until 4 p.m. on Nov. 22 when they will be opened by the school board.

A one-armed right-handed pitcher, Hugh Daley, won 74 games and lost 88 between 1882-87. He pitched a 1-0 no-hitter for Cleveland against Philadelphia in 1883.

Do-It-Yourself Darling from Texas Is National March of Dimes Child

Donna Dill, a 5-year-old Texan who is most at home on her pony, has been named the March of Dimes National Poster Child for 1967.

Branded by friends as a do-it-yourself darling, pert and pretty Donna likes to be active and independent despite a severe birth defect.

Donna, who was born with an open spine (spina bifida), symbolizes the 250,000 American babies born with birth defects each year. The March of Dimes has helped her as part of its continuing fight against birth defects.

There was a time when the independent little miss wanted to sleep in her braces so she could get up by herself in the morning. She helps around the house by picking up her toys, helping mother with the dishes and cookie-baking.

Donna frequently visits her grandparents' ranch near Corsicana, 40 miles from her home in Hillsboro, Tex., to ride her pet pony Popsy.

When she's on Popsy, Donna's blue eyes sparkle and her blonde pony tail bounces up and down. Riding gives her a feeling of freedom—Donna needs no crutches when she rides.

But she can't walk without crutches, and her partially paralyzed legs are supported by braces every waking hour.

Donna's open spine was treated when she was 18 months old, and she has had four operations since. Her general health is good, and her doctor thinks she may be able to discard her right leg brace someday.

Popsy is not Donna's only pet. In fact she is surrounded by animals. Her 3-year-old poodle, Fluffy, is a favorite, and she keeps goldfish in a bowl in her room. Donna also finds time to play with a neighbor's kitten.

"I just like all animals,"

THE EYES OF TEXAS and the nation will focus on Donna Dill, 5-year-old miss from the Lone Star State, who is the 1967 National March of Dimes Poster Child. She symbolizes 250,000 American children born each year with birth defects.

she told her mother recently, "even snakes."

Donna now attends Sunday school and plans to begin public school next fall. This young lady will enter the first grade an accomplished and experienced traveler.

As the National Poster Child, Donna may very well meet President Johnson. During the January March of Dimes campaign tour, this 5-year-old charmer will make public appearances in about 20 cities from coast to coast. There will be guest spots with the stars of television, motion pictures, and radio.

Along with Donna on this nationwide tour will be her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Dill, both native Texans.

Donna's father is quite at home on the range. As a student in high school and college he roped calves in rodeos. He is employed today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the Assistant County Supervisor for the Farmers' Home Administration.

The National Poster Child's mother, Jo Ford Dill, is secretary of the Hill County (Tex.) Chapter of the National Foundation-March of Dimes.

A former majorette in college, she is teaching Donna to use a baton, but Donna's ambition is elsewhere. A true Texan, she wants to be a cowgirl when she grows up. She privately confesses, however, that she would settle for being a mother or a nurse.

Its new look is just one nice thing about the '67 Chevy pickup

'67 Fleetside Pickup

THERE ARE LOTS OF OTHERS.

For instance, new durability: New sheet metal construction discourages rust. Eliminates exposed joints on cargo box and tailgate. Provides self-washing wheelhousings with special splash shields. Inner cab is specially treated against rust.

Also, added comfort, safety and convenience: Improved visibility all around. Dual master cylinder brake system. Telescoping lower steering shaft. Energy-absorbing instrument panel. Interior color-keyed to go with exterior paint. One-hand tailgate latch.

And extra strength: Full-depth double-wall side panels (Fleetside models). Double-wall steel in cab roof and other important areas.

Plus famous Chevrolet truck features: Independent Front Suspension that gives a smooth ride—like a car. The most popular truck 6's and V8's. (And there are lots more, as your Chevrolet dealer will show you.)

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On: Each Husband An "Economist" BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 17—There was once a day when only specialists paid much attention to national economic trends. That was a time when life was more casual, more "local."

There was no jet-plane transportation, no swift-as-light communication. But now the pace of change has quickened and deepened in business, finance, social developments, international relations, and family life. If a man is to make the best of his abilities, his assets, and his domestic situation, he must be pretty much of an "economist" himself.

Preparing For Socio-Economic Changes

Today an individual (and, of course, his family) is more of a cog in the wheel of our total society than ever before. For top success a man must be truly flexible, quick to sense new tendencies and get ready for their emergence. No matter what field a worker is in, he ought to keep an acute eye on the probable prospects for his occupation. Automation and other dynamic innovations cause the phasing out or the narrowing of many jobs.

A man caught in the upswing of technology should recognize the dwindling opportunity in his job. New areas are opening up constantly, and a study of basic economic trends will reveal where the best positions will be and where wages and salaries will be highest. It is up to an ambitious family head to decide whether he should shoot for further experience and training in his present field, or move immediately into a more promising pursuit. The one who makes up his mind intelligently and takes the appropriate steps toward betterment is most likely to end up on the top of the heap.

Investment Knowledge A Must Once a young husband or father has established a home, assumed a fair degree of insurance protection, and has a reasonable nest egg in the bank, he should think about building his estate. Part of a well-balanced holding would usually consist of carefully selected stocks, bonds, and eventually some real estate. Here again each man will find that he must become more or less an "economist" himself in order to proceed safely and wisely.

He will want to know what businesses and industries will benefit most from the direction our economy and our society are taking. A higher standard of living and a more sophisticated attitude on the part of consumers will alter the needs and preferences of the general public. Automation is turning into an ever-greater business, while computers are steadily changing the landscape of our service and industrial fields. The foresighted man will determine the liveliest fields,—for investment, for job chances for himself, and for giving direction to his children's education.

Child Education And Retirement

A father must play the part of the economist in planning for the education of his children. In our ever-expanding economy, costs of schooling will be going up like other living expenditures. What might appear to be an adequate education fund right now may prove pitifully inadequate in a few years. Hence, economic trends must be projected so that a family education fund will be sufficient when needed, even though it may mean some temporary "austerity" on the home front. Every man should think about plans for retirement while he is still young, not wait until he is pushing senior citizenship. Chances are strong that retirement living at the level of his choice will be substantially more costly in the years ahead than it is now. True, there have been dramatic gains in provisions for retirement payments, medical care, and other personal benefits. But the fact remains that a man must be versed in economics if he is going to aim for the highest possible standard of living for his wife and himself in retirement. He must know where the economy is heading and how rapidly, where he is heading and how efficiently. He must learn as he goes along and take advantage of every opportunity to better his leverage and increase the estate on which he can finally retire,—and probably eventually leave to his family. He must be his own "economist."

Gives Views On JFK Assassination

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: The column "Assassination Doubts" by Bob Considine, reminds me that I never had doubts of Oswald's innocence because of the following reasons:

Too much evidence against him, too quick. A reporter wrote as an eye witness in the Baltimore Morning Sun, Nov. 23, 1963, that riding in the procession that when he heard the shots, he looked up and saw two men in the window immediately below the one from which it was alleged Oswald fired the shots. He did not mention seeing anyone in the upper window. Also he wrote of a couple scuffling on the ground before the cavalcade. I read several newspapers daily and I have never read further about the two incidents mentioned.

I re-enlisted in the Regular Army in July 1917. Sept. 1st, I was sent to Camp Upton, L. I., New York, as a training cadre with the rank of first sergeant in Co. I, 306th Inf., 77th Div. As such it was one of my duties to instruct the draftees in the rudiments of operating the 30-06 Springfield bolt action rifle. There are several manipulations involved in firing the rifle repeatedly.

Assuming there is a cartridge in the chamber and the other four in the magazine and the bolt is pushed down locking the cartridge fast in the chamber, the safety lug is on firing position and the piece is lined up on the target. The trigger is squeezed and the gun is fired. The recoil throws the gun off target.

The bolt handle is raised, the bolt drawn back the empty casing is ejected, a cartridge is pushed up from the magazine, the bolt is pushed forward inserting the cartridge in the chamber, the bolt handle turned down locking the firing mechanism, the target has to be located anew, the sights lined up and squeeze the trigger. I doubt if the Supreme Court Chief Justice gave a thought to the time spent in making the about manipulations.

College Gets Grant

Gettysburg College has received a gift of $2000 from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. The presentation was made to President C. A. Hanson by the local foundation representative, R. D. Anderson of Hanover.

Gettysburg is one of 600 colleges in the country receiving unrestricted grants totaling $1,000,000 under a continuing program of aid to privately supported colleges and universities.

In announcing the distribution of the 1966 grants, Mr. Anderson said 42 participating colleges and universities in Pennsylvania will share in grants totaling $87,000.

Purpose of the program is systematically to help institutions of higher learning meet their financial needs. Grants are unrestricted to allow schools to allocate funds according to their greatest needs.

In addition to its grant program, the foundation during the current year will invest more than $800,000 in a variety of scholarships and other types of education programs, bringing its total expenditures for higher education purposes this year to more than $1,800,000.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

by Carol Hart

Expectant Mother Should See Physician

The greatest miracle on earth is so commonplace that women, who have a monopoly on it, take it for granted.

That is the miracle of birth. Far from taking it for granted, says the Council on Family Health, every day of a pregnancy is so vital to both mother and baby that a prospective mother should seek medical advice from the first day she believes she is pregnant.

In fact, the miracle of each birth is unique, and the more often a woman becomes pregnant, the more important it is for her to have medical attention.

Modern prospective mothers can help make the experience of pregnancy and birth a happy one by cooperating with the doctor and heeding his advice.

During her pregnancy a woman undergoes remarkable biological and chemical changes. During a period of approximately 280 days, all parts of the baby's body are formed. Thousands of square inches of skin and bone, 600 muscles, thousands of miles of blood vessels and nerves and billions of cells are manufactured.

Obviously, this is too important an event to allow it to be ruled by superstition and ritual. Each expectant mother should follow the doctor's advice on the proper diet. Most doctors like to limit weight gains to about 20 pounds. Excess weight is to be guarded against because it puts a burden on the heart and kidneys, which are already strained.

A well balanced and nutritious maternity diet should include meats, green vegetables, fresh fruits and at least a quart of milk a day. If there is a dietary deficiency, or in individual cases a special need, the doctor may add a vitamin to the diet to aid the growth of the unborn child.

The prospective mother can also cooperate by getting adequate sleep and rest, maintaining a cheerful outlook, and keeping busy and active within reason, according to the Council. On the average, a pregnant woman is permitted to do the things she customarily did before pregnancy. As a matter of common sense, it is best not to wear elastic garters or rolled stockings, which may encourage the formation of varicose veins, or to wear high heels which may cause tripping.

Plan Air-Condition For New Schools

The Frederick County Board of Education decided last Wednesday to put to a vote soon the question of installation of air-conditioning in all new county schools.

The board is expected to act at its December meeting. The superintendent said the school board was "pioneering" toward better educational facilities. He also told the board that a recent survey of county teachers indicated that 63 per cent of the instructors were in favor of a 12-month school year.

The last two major schools built in Frederick County—Brunswick and Gov. Thomas Johnson high schools—are completely air-conditioned, and plans for three new schools—Catoctin High, Valley Elementary, and an addition to the Lewistown Elementary School—call for complete climate control.

The school system is planning new schools, and additions to existing facilities, not only for year-round use but for night use for adult education and as community centers.

Treat Cold with Common Sense

Since George Washington went to bed with a neglected cold and died of complications resulting from it, man has struggled to discover a cure.

Medical science has been able to produce cures for many desperate diseases, but the cure for the common cold is still elusive, according to the Council on Family Health.

What man's ingenuity, effort, and expenditure of millions of dollars have been able to produce, says the Council, are drugs and medicines to alleviate the symptoms. These can range from a minor sniffle and stuffed nose to a disabling illness similar to influenza.

The adult with average good health can expect to be bothered by three or four colds a year, and children can expect to have even more.

Although there is no cure, the common cold is no longer the deep mystery it was in the days of George Washington. It is known, for example, that colds can be caused by as many as 100 different viruses. Fresh colds are known to be more contagious than older colds, and it is expected that a cold will last from four to seven days.

The Council on Family Health suggests you treat a common cold with common sense. Start at the first cold symptoms, before they become more serious. Get sufficient sleep and plenty of rest. If the cold does not respond to treatment after several days, and the patient seems to feel no better, the doctor should be consulted. As one doctor has stated, "all that sniffles is not a cold." Cover coughs and sneezes to protect others. Keep all eating

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible
Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips.—(Psalms 141:3 A.V.)
We are often told that our actions speak louder than our words. However, this does not lessen the importance of our words. It is left to each of us to consider our words and thoughts. Our prayer might well be, "God, guard our thoughts that we may guard our tongues." And it is through prayer we ask God's help.

The individual who attempts to reform the entire human race has an exaggerated opinion of his, or her, ability.

A Viewpoint

By Thomas C. Callahan

Monday night, the world ran out of cavaliers to carry the cause of goodness, truth, motherhood, and especially the flag and marines into the arena against the black knight. However, just like in the movies, I find myself rooting for the bad guy. Cassius Clay, shuffling clockwise with his hands defiantly low, took his first poke with two minutes gone in the first, obligingly allowed himself to be cornered three times (so as to flout his speed), escaped unharmed and pummeled Cleveland Williams at will until referee Harry Kessler halted the smear at 1:51 of the third round. Williams was the last straw, and rather than breaking Clay's back, he was eaten. Cassius came on the boxing scene, proclaiming to be "the greatest", annihilated the rather skimpy crop of disclaimers and now will surely retire undefeated, untied, and untried. He has only possibly one fight left, and this writer believes that that fight will never materialize. Ernie Terrell bolted into the ring after Clay's hand was raised, and sputtered and spumed, aching to get at Cassius and the other half of the crown. You see, Terrell is recognized by the World Boxing Association as the heavyweight champ, a title which isn't even honored by Terrell's sparring partners. But it's nice to be even a pseudo-best at something, especially the poor-man's sport of boxing, which, as Rod Serling points out so poignantly in his "Requiem For A Heavyweight," has only six spots at the top.

Terrell was set to fight Clay last summer, but backed away at the last instant because of an unacceptable clause in the contract. Clay merely provided that the victor fight Chuvalo of Canada. It's difficult for this writer to believe that Terrell really wanted the fight. For this minor clause in a contract that provided for no rematch protection for the champion (and all that moola) Terrell couldn't yield?

It seems that boxing is a dying attraction, and much the pity. I think we've become snobs and too refined to revere a man who can "handle himself". They're just two slobbs conking each other's brains out because they can't do anything else. Hoodlums, naive and slow witted, bouncing from town to town meeting the bum of the month in front of a very low-brow clientele. Inhuman and distasteful . . . This is not true, you know. A fighter is a man, fit and alert, sprung under a third-degree lamp alone — to practice his art. Every pug working, striving, living for one of those six titles at the top of his game.

Before our society became so cultured and benevolent, kids in Chicago could look up to a Dempsey and want to be like him. Joe Louis is somewhat slow-speaking, and not an educated man, but playing golf in Baltimore two years ago, it was the bespeckled educated young men who crowded around the "bomber" to just shake his hand and call him "champ."

Well, Cassius Clay is the champ, and what's more, probably the finest athlete alive today. He has courage, speed, strength and a heart that has to endure being the best in a sport worthy of, but denied, reverence. He's not educated, not smart; has spoken without really thinking and alienated many. In a cloudy, sad kind of thinking, Cassius thanked the Canadians for accepting his fight when our states, one by one, declined in a phony pomp of indignity, by letting George Chuvalo hit him and carrying the champion of Canada the distance before his home crowd.

I hope Cassius Clay retires. If he does fight Terrell (who was himself twice beaten by Williams) he will surely conquer, unless he looks out over the crowd, sees what he knows, is depressed, and gives in. I wouldn't blame him.

Team scores were: Towson 34; Gallaudet 40; Mt. St. Mary's 58; Washington College 121; Catholic (second team) 129, and Loyola 148.

The five top Mount runners finished as follows: fifth, Jimmy Clarke; 11, Jerry Eisel; 12, Phil Banashek; 14, Joe Doherty; 16, Pete Geraghty.

The Mountaineers will finish their season Saturday when they participate in the Mason-Dixon Conference championships at Washington College, Chestertown, Md.

Project Mistake Costs More Money

The Frederick County Commissioners approved Monday an additional $17,000 for renovations at Frederick High School, bringing the total appropriation for the project to $566,875.

The supplemental appropriation contained $8,000 in additional fees for the project architect, Charles F. Bowers of Frederick, and $11,000 for equipment and furniture.

A spokesman for the school administration said the additional appropriation for the architect's fee was necessary because the fee had originally been mistakenly at five per cent rather than six per cent.

"It was just one of those mistakes, which will happen," the spokesman said. Total architect's fee for the project is $33,000.

The extra funds for equipment and furniture were required because administrators of funds under the National Defense Education Act (NDEA) would not allocate cash for some of the equipment requested.

"It was just a difference in interpretation of the law between us and the NDEA people," the school spokesman said. "We thought they would give us the funds, but they didn't. It happens often."

In planning for the renovation, the school system anticipated receipt of $38,000 from NDEA, but the fund administrators allocated only $27,000, leaving the remainder to be supplied from county coffers.

Mayor Resigns; Plan Appointment

Raymond Perry, who has served as mayor of Taneytown since 1950, has resigned his post because of ill health.

Perry, who is in his early 60's, resigned his post at last week's meeting of the council of Taneytown. The council named Neal W. Powell, president of the council for the last eight years, to replace him.

Powell, 45, a native of Topeka, Kansas, is personnel manager and safety director at the Cambridge Rubber Company.

He has lived in Taneytown since 1945.

Perry has served on the Town Council since 1946.

His successor, Powell, has served on the council the past nine years, and as president the last eight.

The council named George Naylor Jr. to replace Powell as president and will pick another councilman shortly, Powell said.

Powell will serve out the remaining months of Perry's term, which expires in June. He said he has not yet made a decision on whether to seek election as mayor then.

State Fatals 4% Higher This Year

Seventeen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police. Five of those killed were drivers; six were passengers; and six were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in five of the deaths; speed in eight; and "driver error" was present in thirteen of the fatalities. Maryland's highway death toll is now 637—an increase of 4% over the same period last year.

V-M portable stereo breaks the sound barrier.

The barrier to great stereo sound was portability, right? Portable stereo didn't sound like much, while stereo that sounded great wasn't portable. Then came V-M's "Ranger," portable stereo that would do a component system justice. And it's so beautifully styled, fine luggage might be envious. The amplifier is totally transistorized. The changer plays stereo or mono records of any size, even intermixed if they're the same speed. And the speakers are the big 9" oval, wide range kind, detachable, too, for maximum stereo effect. P.S. Check the price. That's another barrier we've broken.
