Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Christmas in Emmitsburg was a quiet and solemn affair with the usual caroleering, midnight Mass, and visits to friends and neighbors. Little partying and revelry was manifested as most people recalled to mind the real meaning of Christmas. To say it was just a white Christmas though, was putting it mildly. Most people spent Christmas Eve digging out from under the eight or nine inches that fell during the day and late evening. Commercialism was at a standstill with most stores closing early and continuing closed from Saturday evening until Tuesday morning when business as usual resumed. Town workmen were busily engaged over the weekend with keeping the streets and alleys open and when the workmen tired, some of the Town officials took over the job of operating the snowplow. No sooner had the Dec. 13 snow been cleared away than the Christmas Eve downfall came and all equipment of the Town, State and County was put into operation in one combined effort to keep roads and streets open throughout the County and State. Many roads crews did not get the time off to spend Christmas Eve or Christmas Day, for that matter, with their families.

Last year at this time no snow was reported. This year, with official winter just a week old, approximately 20 inches has been recorded. In addition, Wednesday's snow, sleet and rain added to hazardous driving conditions. The dangerous road condition undoubtedly kept the Nation's traffic fatality toll down somewhat and for the four-day period just 578 deaths from car accidents was reported. Last year, in a three-day period over Christmas, 720 men, women and children met their Maker. This weekend, New Year's, is sort of expected to be a repetition of last weekend. The only difference, perhaps, will be in the fatality totals, should the highways be clear and fast. My annual admonition: If you drive, don't drink. Happy New Year!

A fine example of cooperation was manifested this week when it was announced that the Postoffice Dept. would install a drop-in mailbox on the Square. With the streets in slippery condition and the Postoffice relocated in a somewhat inaccessible spot for a lot of citizens, complaints were naturally received. The Lions Club protested, individual citizens wrote letters of complaint and the Mayor of the Town followed suit with a personal letter to the Postoffice. Our new Postmaster, quick to analyze the situation, prudently forwarded the complaints to the proper authority. Action resulted this week and now we are to have a mailbox on the Square with the rural carrier picking up the mail daily. This proves what cooperation among our citizenry can accomplish.

Extends Liquor Sale Time

Frederick County taverns and lounges will be allowed to sell alcoholic beverages New Year's Eve consumption on the premises until 2 a.m. Sunday, the county liquor commissioner has ruled.

Louis V. Myers said the law grants him permission to allow on premises consumption until 2 a.m. on special occasions, and that taverns and lounges may secure permission to do so by contacting him.

The law, however, does not allow for off premises consumption after midnight, Myers added.

Rev. Fr. Peter A. Coad, Mt. St. Mary's College, quietly observed his 97th birthday on Christmas Day.

Radio Station To Send Soldier Messages Free

Over a period of years, the "Military Affiliate Radio System" of the armed forces has established a vast network of radio stations owned and operated by licensed amateur radio operators—often known as "Hams". Radio amateurs operate their stations primarily as a hobby and as a means of learning the science of electronics. In times of natural disaster, they offer these services to the public when other means of communication have failed. The talents and equipment of many of these amateur operators have been enlisted to assist the military in the event of armed conflict or other disaster. These military radio communications are practiced in networks which span the globe—wherever American troops are stationed.

Now—a new service is being made available to the public. This station, AA3EWU, is now authorized to accept messages from families in the Emmitsburg-Thurmont area addressed to servicemen anywhere in the world. These messages will be transmitted free of charge and, while delivery cannot be guaranteed, the "MARS" system is proud of its rapid delivery record. Due to the traffic load, messages must be kept short and to the point. Families desiring to send a message to service personnel may telephone this station, 447-2302. Assistance in wording your message will be available. Be sure to have the full military address and APO number when you call.

State Police

Seek Arsonist; 20 Barns Burned

State Police have placed one of their top men of the arson squad to investigate the recent series of fires which has plagued Frederick County. In the past several months approximately 20 barn fires have occurred.

Capt. William E. O'Hara, commander of the State Police Western Troop, said Sgt. Leo Sullivan, one of the two State Police arson experts, will be stationed on temporary full time duty at the Frederick Barracks "until the problem is cleared up."

Capt. O'Hara said he discussed the arson problem with Col. Carey Jarman, State Police Superintendent Friday, and has decided to "beef up" patrols in the area of the fires.

The latest barn fire in Frederick County broke out on the farm of Richard Delauter off Route 40 near New Market about 12:15 a.m. Friday.

The fire on the Delauter farm was the 19th barn burning since April 2 in which the police suspect arson.

In the Delauter fire, ten heifers made their way to safety through an open barn door, but the pet dog, Ginger, was tied inside the barn and died in the flames.

Water from a stream near the intersection of U. S. 40 and Md. 144 was used to fight the blaze. Firemen concentrated their efforts on saving a small shed near the barn and the Delauter house which was about 10 yards from the barn.

About 75 firemen from the New Market, Mt. Airy, Libertytown and Independent fire companies, using 10 pieces of equipment, battled the blaze.

Besides, the 45x60 foot barn, which was destroyed in the $10,000 fire, about 5,000 bales of hay and straw were also lost. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Thurmont Crash Injures Couple

A Rockville couple was injured Monday evening when their automobile was struck from the rear while slowing for a caution light, on Route 15 at the intersection of Route 81, at Thurmont.

Maryland State Police reported that Edward Kent Wadding, 31, and his wife, Carole, were treated and released from the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. Wadding suffered a fractured rib and contusions of the knees. His wife sustained multiple lacerations of the face requiring 24 sutures and abrasions of the knees.

Wadding slowed his car at the intersection, police said, and it was hit in the rear by a car driven by Dallas Claude Ruch, of Holland, Mich. The Ruch car skidded on the ice.

School Board Divided Over Thurmont School

By a split vote the Frederick County Board of Education this week accepted a negotiated bid for the proposed new consolidated high school at Thurmont. The accepted bid was $3,013,890.

The building, as approved will include a swimming pool at a cost of $100,000.

Mrs. Mary Condon Hodgson, president of the board, cast the tie breaking vote in favor of the school.

In addition to the construction cost of the building, $135,000 in architects fees and an undetermined amount for equipment will be needed for the completed building.

Lowell E. Nelson, architect for the school, in a letter to the board, listed 34 items deleted from the original proposal representing a cut of $456,110 from the original bid price of $3,470,064.

The largest of the items deleted is an information retrieval system which includes closed circuit TV, language laboratories and an intercom system at a cost of $302,665.

The negotiated bid is $67,000 less than an earlier negotiated bid which the board did not accept at its Dec. 7 meeting.

Senior Citizens Enjoy Covered Dish Supper

The Senior Citizens held their third covered dish supper on December 22 in the Social Center of St. Joseph College. About 40 Senior Citizens enjoyed a delightful evening.

Among the special guests were Mr. L. B. Twist, county contact officer, and Mrs. Twist, Rev. John Chatlos, Rev. W. Ronald Fearer, Father Louis Storms, and Sister Rosemary Pfaff, President of St. Joseph College.

The Sisters, led by Sister Madeline, graciously received the Senior Citizens and served coffee with the supper and ice cream later in the evening.

After supper the members and Sisters sat around a beautiful Christmas tree and, led by Sister Jane Marie, sang Christmas carols and enjoyed the group singing and solos of a large group of student Sisters.

The Senior Citizens were presented a punch bowl set, given by Sister Mary Paul, a native of Emmitsburg.

Mount Drops 2; Play Thursday

Showing the loss of its star, Fred Carter, Jim Phelan's Mountaineers dropped a squeaker Tuesday night to Cheney College at Wilmington, Del. Carter was injured in the Catholic U. game prior to Christmas and may be sidelined for another month.

Big Bob Sutor fouled out with three minutes remaining in the game and the Mount slipped noticeably after that as Cheney State downed them in the opening game of the Delaware Classic 64-59.

Sutor, a 6'9" sophomore around whom the fortunes of the team revolved, committed his fifth foul with 2:56 remaining on the clock and with the Mount behind by three points.

The Mounties held a 33-29 lead at halftime and were commanding respect of Cheney, grabbing off the majority of the rebounds and making fewer errors.

The complexion of the contest was reversed, however, in the second half when Cheney gradually diminished the Emmitsburg school's lead and finally knotted the score with 13:15 showing on the clock.

The lead changed hands for the next several minutes as the contestants exchanged ball control. Then with 7:30 left, Cheney went ahead for the first time in the game and were never again behind. The victory was Cheney's 60th consecutive regular season victory.

Sutor led the Mounts in scoring with 17 points. He was followed by John Novey, a 6'3" freshman, with 14 points and Pete Johnston had 12.

The Mount lost its second game of the Delaware Classic Tournament Wednesday night, a 66-55 defeat at the hands of Tennessee State, the Nation's fifth ranked small college team.

Dick Dohler was high for the Mounties with 21 points as the Emmitsburgians held a five-point lead at one time in the first half before being tied at 30-all at halftime.

Pete Johnston chipped in with 16 markers in the losing cause.

The Mounties return to the Mason-Dixon wars when they tackle Loyola next Thursday night in the Baltimore Civic Center. Sports fans who cannot attend the game can tune in Station WTTR-FM, Westminster, for a complete broadcast of the game, sponsored by B. H. Boyle and Sons, Inc.

Soldier Promoted

Terry L. Davenport, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Davenport, R2, Emmitsburg, received an early promotion to Army pay grade private E-2 on completion of basic combat training at Ft. Bragg, N. C., Dec. 2.

He was awarded the promotion two months earlier than is customary because of his accuracy in firing the M-14 rifle, high score on the physical combat proficiency test and his military bearing and leadership abilities.

The early promotion program is an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees.

Weekend

Weather Forecast

Somewhat colder Friday, with moderating temperatures over the weekend. Some precipitation expected.

Mailbox Will Be Located On Square

Emmitsburg Postoffice patrons will receive additional postal facilities in the near future it was announced this week by Postmaster G. Eugene Rosensteel.

Following a series of complaints arising following the relocation of the local Postoffice, Postmaster Rosensteel contacted the Regional Office in Washington, relative to improved mail service in this area. The Postmaster stated he had received complaints from numerous private citizens as well as letters from the Lions Club and Mayor Guy A. Baker, Jr., representing the Town Council, requesting additional service.

The local Postmaster forwarded the complaints, along with his personal request and suggestions by the Postoffice employees, to the Regional Office. Rosensteel was in receipt of a letter from the Department this week stating that a compromise agreement had been reached whereby it would be agreeable to make an exception to the rule and permit a rural carrier to pick up the mail at a designated spot at a specified time. It was explained that the exception was made due to the fact that no door-to-door carrier service was available to Emmitsburg at this time and that it was hoped this action would quell any future complaints relative to mail service here.

It is anticipated that the new drop box will be in operation Friday, Dec. 30. If and when the service is started one daily collection will be made, namely 11:30 a.m. daily, except Sundays and holidays. The new mailbox, which has arrived here, will be bolted down to the sidewalk and permission has been obtained from the Emmitsburg Office of the Farmers & Mechanics National Bank, to locate the box on the bank's sidewalk, near the parking space provided for the Town's police cruiser.

Christmas Party
The Sodality of St. Joseph's Catholic Church will hold its annual Christmas party January 3 at 6:30 p.m., at the Green Parrot Tea Shop.

Sgt. Davis, his wife and eight-year-old daughter reside in Thurmont. He will begin his new duties after the first of the year, however he will continue to reside in Thurmont.

Cpl. Newcomer, 30, joined the state police force in 1958 and since that time has been assigned to the Frederick barracks.

Local Airman Basketball Star

In what was nearly a story-book finish, A/2C Robert J. Ulrich of Emmitsburg, Md., sparked the Clinton - Sherman AFB basketball team to a 86-85 victory over the Mexican National team. With only two minutes remaining, and the Bombers trailing 83-79, the lanky forward came into the game. Immediately, he stole the ball from the Mexican guard, Manuel Alvarez, considered the best player in Mexico today, and drove the length of the court for the score. In the process he was fouled, and he added the free throw to make

With three seconds to go, A/3C Tony Fears found Ulrich alone in the corner. Ulrich quickly pumped from 20 feet and the game ended with the Air Force men on top. EMMITSBURG — MARYLAND

Babson's 1967 Business & Financial Forecast

The close of 1966 marks the seventeenth consecutive month in the life span of the longest business boom of all time for the American economy. However, "trees do not grow to the sky." Already, signs of deterioration in the expansive vigor that characterized the earlier phase of the business upswing have been increasing in 1966. Hence, the outlook for business and finance in 1967 is of greater-than-usual importance.

Lest readers of this column be tempted to "push the panic button," however, let me state that it would be unwise to expect a major depression in 1967. Our greatly expanded economy still has a considerable degree of momentum. The spotlight on 1967, therefore, should focus upon those factors which are likely to cause a breathing spell in economic activity. Politicians and labor leaders have a phobia against even a hesitancy in business, and rush headlong into measures designed to treat a case of pneumonia when cold pills would be more appropriate.

1. Although business and financial problems loom large in the prospects for 1967, I must first warn readers that the greatest danger for the year ahead does not exist on the domestic front. Surely it will be developments abroad that will hold the gravest threat to our country. These could be economic as well as military or political.

2. I foresee no war between the United States and Russia in 1967. However, tensions between the two world leaders may seem to reach the breaking point as the Kremlin "goes all out" to create diversions to our efforts in Vietnam. Look for Moscow to throw salt on festering wounds in the Middle East, Africa, and Germany.

3. I am also hopeful that a direct clash between Red China and the U. S. can be avoided in 1967. Internal dissensions are rampant throughout Mainland China, and a great scramble for power is in full swing. Sabre-rattling may help to unify the people; but pressing problems of low productivity, plus the demands of her nuclear program, should restrain Red China from direct attack upon the United States.

4. The struggle for leadership of the Communist world camp will continue unabated throughout 1967. Full political attack will be mounted by the Kremlin against Peking. It will be touch and go, however, whether Russia can persuade her wavering satellites to sign a final manifesto reading Red China out of the Party.

5. Recent elections in West Germany have fanned the embers of nationalism into a tiny flame. This has surely thrown a scare into Russian leaders. I predict that they will take a harder line against Germany in 1967 than in some time. I feel that we should particularly watch General de Gaulle, who is playing closer and closer to Moscow from month to month.

6. Heavily armed with Soviet weapons, the Arabs of the Middle East—squared off against Israel—present a grave threat to world peace. Nevertheless, I do not believe that Russia or the United States can afford a direct confrontation at this time; hence my forecast that the smoldering conflagration there will not erupt into World War III.

7. While all reasonable people are hoping for a genuine peace in Vietnam, I predict that the issue will not be resolved in 1967. Though the tide of battle is swinging in our favor, we may be fore-ed to increase our commitment in order to retain this upper hand.

8. I predict, therefore, that military spending will be raised in 1967. This can help soften the impact of any easing in the private sector of the economy.

9. Turning now to domestic conditions, I foresee a definite deceleration in business activity in 1967. The fantastic boom is in need of a rest. Instead of the strong uptrend of recent years, I look for a high level of industrial production early in the year; but unless some new stimulus is introduced, I fear that a cresting-over pattern is likely to develop as 1967 progresses.

10. I forecast a continuation of the tug of war between inflation and deflation in 1967. Tight credit, and increased productive capacity resulting from the flood of business capital expenditures in recent years, are deflationary. However, I can see no substantial relief from the inflation in labor and other operating costs. In short, we can have "cost-push" inflation co-existing with deflation.

11. A key factor in the business and financial outlook for 1967 is taxes. With defense outlays climbing, I look for a rise in corporate and personal taxes in 1967. Moreover, I forecast that various levies at the state and local levels will continue to increase.

12. The tightening tax squeeze on all fronts will worsen as the year advances. And there will be rising complaints from both businessmen and employees that social security taxes are becoming unbearable.

13. Results of the recent elections indicate that the headlong run of the Great Society Program must take a breather along with the economy. Gains scored by the Republicans have altered the balance of power sufficiently to force a more sober look in public spending.

14. One of the primary reasons for expecting a deceleration in the economy is the likelihood that business capital expenditures may ease. Tight credit, suspension of accelerated depreciation guidelines, and suspension of the tax credit on business capital outlays will be tough obstacles to surmount.

15. Except in defense industries, I look for an abrupt switch during 1967 from a business policy of inventory accumulation to one of inventory liquidation.

16. I forecast that scarcity of credit will continue to be a problem with which business must contend in the early part of 1967. The money managers should keep enough credit available for legitimate business needs, but I expect no early radical easing of

SKI TIPS#1 WALKING

By Ace Manley
Director, Big Bromley Ski School

Walking is one of those fundamental movements that every beginner learns as he gets acquainted with those funny things on his feet that are called skis.

The most important thing for the beginner to remember in this exercise is that he is on skis, not in street shoes. Even though the maneuver consists of short rhythmic steps, it is not the same as regular walking.

The main difference is that the ski is not lifted off the snow. The ski should slide forward, always with the tip and the tail of the ski on the snow.

Each "step" is accompanied by a forward swing of the pole and the arm opposite the forward-moving leg. For example, as the left ski moves forward, the right arm is extended forward. The pole is placed in the snow near the boot, which puts the skier in a position to slide the opposite ski forward and gives balance on either side.

With each movement, the weight goes from the stationary ski to the advancing ski.

This exercise should be performed on perfectly flat ground with nothing to obstruct the skier.

Next time: "Sidestep or Climbing Steps."

17. However, I do foresee enough of an easing in credit to permit more orderly monetary conditions. If the economic situation falters badly, money rates will, of course, move downward sharply.

18. I predict that commercial and industrial building will trend lower in 1967, reflecting the tapering off in capital outlays.

19. Mortgage money should remain scarce in 1967. Hence, residential building should see another disappointing year.

20. 1967 opens with the building of single homes in a state of crisis. Starts are down over 40% from year-earlier levels. As a result, I forecast that the Administration will leave no stone unturned to stimulate construction of houses as soon as possible. At best, however, it may be midyear or after before this important part of our economy can contribute much strength to over-all business.

21. Although new housing starts may remain in the doldrums for most of 1967, I confidently forecast that the year will see the beginning of a great boom in the construction of new, modern nursing homes.

22. Despite President Johnson's request for cutbacks, public construction should enjoy a fairly good year; the emphasis will be on bridges, dams, and water and sewer systems.

23. The expected declines in residential building and in commercial and industrial building notwithstanding, I forecast that waterfront property will remain
a good inflation hedge.

24. Labor stands at the crossroads as the new year opens.
Things never looked better for nailing down record wage and fringe gains; however, neither the public nor the Congress is in any mood to tolerate long, costly, and inconvenient shutdowns. I freely predict that there is more likelihood in 1967 of restrictive labor legislation than at any time since Taft-Hartley was put on the books. Union chiefs are aware of this, and they may act with more strike restraint than most people

now expect.

25. 1967 promises to be a year in which many managements will be fighting a "rear-guard" action to control climbing labor costs.
The defense buildup will maintain hiring pressure in some industries;
but even more activities will be wielding the paring knife. I forecast that the net result will be a rise in unemployment next year.

26. I do not look for price and wage controls in 1967, unless our defense expenditures rise far above what is now contemplated.

27. An encouraging aspect of the 1967 outlook is the affluence of consumers. I forecast a further upward trend in personal incomes, due to higher wage rates.
However, if taxes are raised, take-home pay may not show a rise commensurate with the gain in gross pay.

28. Retail trade held up well in 1966, but there was a note of lethargy throughout the year. The pattern is not expected to show much change in 1967 . . . with gains in dollar volume largely reflecting price inflation. Though consumers will have more money to spend, tight credit, high borrowing costs, and higher price levels could cause some tightening of purse strings.

29. Spending for food, apparel, and general merchandise should be greater in 1967. Also, consumers will devote a goodly portion of their spending budget for leisure activities, vacation, and travel.

30. Durable goods may not fare so well. Demand for home appliances, color TV sets, and furniture may be hampered by tight
credit and high borrowing costs,
plus the lethargy in new home building.

31. I forecast a decline in new auto sales. However, with the increase in the population of driving age, and with the record rate of personal income, new car sales could hold within 10% of 1966's.

32. Soaring living costs will hit the headlines more often in 1967.
Ire will be directed most strongly at runaway service expenses—especially medical—and at advancing red meat prices.

33. Despite new highs in the cost of living, I predict there will be many signs of deflation in the midst of inflation. Chief among these will be sliding profits, rising bankruptcies and foreclosures.

Some "Egg Plant!"

400,000 Chicks A Week

The most automated factory hasn't a thing over today's "egg plant". So says Jamesway Division of Butler Manufacturing Company, Fort Atkinson, Wis. When raw material is touched but once by humans in the mass production of a final product, you have the answer to any industrialist's dream. Yet it's happening
every day in the poultry producing business.

A single-stage incubator system called the "Big J" has cut labor costs up to 75% . . . that is, one man can now do the work of four. What's more, most of the work is done by the supplier . . . the flock owner. The secret to the system is in the special plastic egg flat developed by Jamesway.

Four Steps
When eggs are gathered,
they are placed in the flats which hold 36 eggs each. That's the only time the eggs are touched, because they rest there until they reach the hatching stage. Here's what happens:

- (1) Gathered eggs on flats
are stacked and packed
by flock owner for shipment.
- (2) At hatchery, flats are placed on a special loading pal-let and shipped into a portable egg rack.
- (3) Pallets are shipped out for re-use. Flats (still in use) now become self-supporting trays in correct position for incubation.

(4) Rack, holding 6,480 eggs,
is rolled on smooth
tracks into incubator
unit.

A twice-a-week setting of two racks should produce in excess of 10,000 chicks each hatch.

Multiple Use Tests

Only one man is needed for these important steps and the special flats have acted as visual checkers, containers, separ-ators and incubator trays.
They are so fashioned that eggs are actually held in suspension in the incubator in order to let air flow completely around and over each egg.
This incubator system has production line control of exact heat and humidity for each setting, has automatic egg turning. Complete with a scientific "brain center" which relays to an electronic information panel, the system constantly and automatically lets the poultry man know what's going on and whether or not everything is normal.

Plans Available

The incubating of 77,760 eggs takes a space of only 10 ft. by 27 ft. 4 in. Jamesway says it has plans available for optimum continuous flow of eggs
from unloading dock to incubator through hatchery. One plan, for instance, can produce 400,000 chicks per week, hatching six times a week.

34. Industrial commodity prices should be firm to slightly higher.
Selective price markups will be necessary to offset wage hikes.

35. Profits began to wobble in the final half of 1966. I am convinced that hesitancy will give way to decline during the year ahead. Big squeeze on margins will come from soaring costs, especially labor.

36. But profits results will also vary widely from one company and one industry to another, as sales volumes sag, hold, or advance. For example, I am willing to "stick my neck out" and say that oil companies will enjoy a sales rise, but that the auto makers will be struggling with a volume slump all year.

37. The combination of less vigorous business, pinched profit margins, and stringent credit conditions points to an increase in business failures, shaking out the financially weak and inefficient.

38. Collections may be more difficult in 1967 on business accounts, consumer installment and charge accounts, and mortgage debt. I forecast a further rise in nonfarm real estate foreclosures.

39. Barring crop failures, I

forecast another good farm production year. Farm prices should rule firm to slightly higher in 1967, but higher costs may result in a slight drop in net realized farm income.

40. Nevertheless, farm equipment manufacturers should enjoy good business. Sales of fertilizers and insecticides should post gains.

41. 1967's stock market promises to be one of vicious selectivity. I am expecting the old aristocracy of the blue chips based on past performances to be replaced by a new aristocracy of superable management based upon hopes of good future performance.

42. I forecast, however, that 1967 will still hold many dangers for the speculator. I urge readers not to borrow money to buy stocks, and I urge investors to buy for growth and basic investment values.

43. The safest kind of long-term bonds are available now at prices affording very close to the highest income returns of the century. It is a good bet that there will not be so many top-grade issues on the bargain counter at the end of 1967. Should the 90th Congress boost income taxes, tax-exempt bonds will put on the best performance.

44. World opinions on the future price of gold has blown hot and cold many times in recent years. Though lately in the shade, I predict that gold will again be in the spotlight before 1967 is out.

45. I forecast that the dollar will not be devalued in 1967, but the pound will continue shaky.

46. Certainly, Congress will become more and more critical of the looting going on under cover of the Administration's War on Poverty. The whole program will be subjected to tighter supervision.

47. As 1967 wears along, the high hopes for more constructive conservative action by the 90th Congress will give way to increased doubts as a legislative stalemate develops. Republicans will have enough strength to stop the most liberal Administration bills, but not enough to launch a program of their own.

48. There will be a lot of talk in 1967 about the economy's "still growing". But I warn readers to examine carefully the advance in Gross National Product which I am forecasting here. Biggest part of the increase will come from higher prices and wages.

49. I foresee that a breathing spell in the economy can prove helpful. The prolonged prosperity has bred waste, laxness, and inefficiency. These can be corrected only by a return to fundamentals. Just as the human body requires adequate rest in order to enjoy proper health, so too the economy, and the stock market as well, must undergo periodic resting phases.

50. As the economy cools off in 1967, readers should beware of reassurances that our problems are only temporary and will soon be followed by a decade of boom conditions. The promised land may be only across the river, but it is always wise to test the depth of the water before wading in. That is behind my forecast that 1967 will be a good year for businessmen and investors to have strong confidence for the future, but to proceed with caution and restraint until the uncertainties just ahead have been resolved.

Commissioners Reject Salary Increase

The Frederick County Commissioners Thursday turned down a request from the Parks and Recreation Commission for a higher salary for the post of parks supervisor.

Earlier this week the parks group asked the commissioners to approve a starting salary of $9,000 annually for the post. In the current parks budget, $7,000 is allocated for a supervisor's salary, but no one has yet been hired.

Charles F. Bowers, chairman of the parks group, told the commissioners his group has been unable to hire a qualified man for the salary offered. He said however, that a man could be hired if the starting salary were increased.

Commissioners Russell Z. Horman and Charles E. Collins said they felt a qualified man could be hired at the salary offered.

"I think we should leave the salary as it is," Horman said. "and try to get a man who can grow with the county."

"I would not vote for more money," Collins said, "because if we can hire a man at $7,000 we can have a little leeway to give him salary increases if he merits them."

Commissioner Wallace E. Hutton dissented, saying he felt it was extremely important that a person be hired as soon as possible to hurry the job of planning the county's parks system.

"I am concerned about a possible delay in getting this planning done," Hutton said. "Planning our parks is an integral part of the county-wide planning program."

Deer Slaughter In County Sets Record

A record number of antlerless deer was killed last week and the Maryland deer hunting season came to a conclusion. The record shows 562 deer killed in Frederick County.

On Saturday alone, hunters downed 241 deer, 21 more than the total take for the entire eight days of this year's rifle season for buck. A record 321 deer were reported from the county's four official checking stations on opening day.

Pre-season estimates released by the Department of Game and Inland Fish set the probable kill of antlerless deer in the county at 293.

But, at the same time, the Department indicated that a kill of over 400 does was desired to bring the deer herd in this area into balance with available natural food supplies.

Ideal hunting conditions and a larger-than-usual turn-out of hunters during the two-day season contributed to the large number of deer taken.

Also contributing to the heavy hunting pressure was a recent change in regulations doing away with antlerless deer permits, which in previous years had limited the number that could hunt in any given county.

Frederick County's deer herd has been increasing steadily during the last decade. And, although the harvest of antlerless deer this year far exceeds the number taken in any previous season, it represents only a small portion, about 10 per cent, of the herd.

The largest deer bagged in the county were 2 does each weighing 130 pounds. Both were killed Saturday.

Antipoverty Agency Seeks More Space

Frederick County's antipoverty agency, the Community Action Committee, asked the county commissioners for space for two additional offices in Winchester Hall this week.

Sister Madeline, newly-elected president of the CAC, told the commissioners the additional offices might be needed as part of the county's contribution to the antipoverty effort. The war on poverty is 90 per cent financed by federal funds, with the remaining 10 per cent coming from the local level, in the form of office space.

"If we had the extra office space we could hire two more aides from the poverty class," Sister Madeline said. "We have the money from a federal grant for their salaries, but we just don't have any place to put them."

Space for the two offices could come from a lounge in the adjacent office of the Farmers Home Administration, according to a plan presented to the commissioners. The board promised to discuss the proposal and give a decision later, after inspecting the area.

In a "get-acquainted" session with the new board, Sister Madeline and Mrs. Shipley Tannenbaum, program developer for the CAC, gave the commissioners a progress report on poverty programs under way here.

"We have had much success with Project Headstart in the schools," she said, "and we have noticed that this project has helped some parents of underprivileged children almost as much as it has helped the children."

The Pennsylvania Assembly occupied Independence Hall in Philadelphia in 1785, long before the Declaration of Independence was adopted in the building in 1776.

The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, James Nelson Weadon.

The Bill recites that the Complainant, Helen Elizabeth Weadon, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, James Nelson Weadon, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address is c/o Capitol Towel Service Company, 500 Emerson Street, N.E., Washington 4, D. C.; that the parties to this cause were married on the 19th day of November, 1943, at Washington, D. The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Helen Elizabeth Weadon, may be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, James Nelson Weadon; that she may be granted the care and custody of the infant child in these proceedings mentioned; and that she may have such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF COURT

It is thereupon this 7th day of December, 1966, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 14th day of January, 1967, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 14th day of February, 1967, and show cause, if any he has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

FOR THE STRUM-ALONG SET

Ever since young America discovered the exports of London, the guitar has been accepted as the "in" instrument among teenagers. Of 1.5 million guitars sold last year, more than half were sold to teenagers.

Now another teenage trademark, the portable phonograph, has been combined with the guitar in a brand new offering for the strum-along set.

The new Guitarmate, by General Electric, is a combination electric guitar/stereo phonograph set which enables the player to solo, or accompany his favorite recording group, while the phonograph provides amplification.

With the guitar jacked into the phonograph, the strung instrument is literally played through the phonograph speakers. Stereo amplification comes from two pickups in the guitar, each with a volume control plus a tone control.

One pick-up produces a soft, mellow tone such as might be desired for jazz, and the other gives a sharper tone more typical of country and western music.

Whatever the brand of music desired, the two-in-one product gives the beginner an unusual opportunity to learn by playing along with experts.

The phonograph, a General Electric Trimline 400 stereo set, features solid state design with a four-speed automatic changer, 14 watts peak power, and audio controls for loudness, treble, bass and balance. It weighs less than 30 pounds and features a convenient carrying handle on top for ready portability.

Suggested retail price of the new Guitarmate is $149.95.

Bowie Race Course To Open Tuesday

A $1,250,000 construction program; introduction of quinnella wagering (5th and 9th races) and the earliest opening in the history of Maryland thoroughbred racing will mark the first of a 53-day season at Bowie Race Course on Tuesday, January 3. Nine races will be programmed daily with post time at 1:05 p.m. and Ladies Day on Thursday when women are admitted upon the 15 cents tax payment.

F. George Tucker who will be serving his first term as president of the Southern Maryland track, is highly optimistic of a banner season and is looking forward to eclipsing Bowie attendance and mutual records.

"Our improved program has been centered principally in patronage convenience," Tucker said, "and I am certain the innovations will be well-received by racing fans. We have also constructed four cement block barns to alleviate the many requests for stall space."

The racing scene appears particularly bright. The $335,000 added money in 11 stakes events and $40,000 daily overnight purse distribution are incentives in attracting topnotch stables from Canada, New England, New York, New Jersey in addition to the Maryland regulars.

All available stall space—1,390 capacity—has been allotted at Bowie and racing secretary Lawrence J. Abbundi will draw his programs from this group in addition to the stables located at Laurel and Pimlico.

Leading trainers of previous Bowie meetings are set to seek additional honors and two of the nation's leading horse men, Howard Jacobson of New York and Jerry Meyer of Canada, have strong stables to lodge their challenges. The Maryland horse men will be led in their bids by Grover G. (Buddy) Delp, leading trainer at Bowie the past two seasons, and Bernie Bond, four time Bowie champion, 1959 through 1962. New Jersey's leading trainer will be represented by Charles L. Robbins.

The jockey colony will include Chuck Baltazar (Maryland's leading rider), Paul Kallai, Joe Culmone, Tommy Lee, Phil Grimm, Eric Walsh, Frank Lovato, Herb Hinojosa, Wayne Chambers, Danny French, Eldon Nelson, Bill Passmore, Joe Brocklebank, Ray Kimball, Oswaldo Torres, Dave Gorman, Bobby Adams and Bobby Stovall among the veteran riders. Among the promising apprentices set to don silks are Bobby Kotenko, Earl Maple, Mario Marinaccio and Tony Affello.

The opening day's program will be featured by the $7,500 Early Bird Purse, a six furlongs test for fillies and mares. The $16,500 E. Palmer Heagerty Stakes on Sat., Jan. 7, is the first of the major events which are climaxed by the $100,000 John B. Campbell, Maryland's richest handicap, on the March 4 closing day card.

Signup Dates Set For Farm Programs

The signup for the 1967 programs for feed grain and wheat will start on February 6, 1967, James M. Voss, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, has announced. The final date for filing an intention to take part in the 1967 programs is March 3. The signup period for the commodity programs thus extends over a period of four weeks in this State.

The signup for the 1967 Crop-land Adjustment Program (CAP) got under way on November 28 and also will conclude on March 3, 1967.

The Chairman explained that a flexible schedule of signup starting dates has been adopted thru-out the country, with each ASC State Committee determining the most appropriate period for the activity. The signup closing date, however, is the same for all counties and all States.

In general, the commodity programs (except wheat) and the CAP call for a certain amount of acreage to be diverted from production into an approved conserving use. By meeting the various provisions of the programs, farmers become eligible for various benefits in the form of payments, and also for loans under the commodity programs.

However, Mr. Voss reminds farmers that participation in the various programs is not automatic—filing an application which shows the operator's program intentions is the first necessary step in qualifying for program benefits.

All of the program signups will be conducted at ASCS county offices.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Pipe Cleaner Roundup

How many uses can you think of for the lowly pipe cleaner? Here are a few to start you thinking: Hold parts of rod together when disassembled. Keep line from unwinding on reel. Nook and cranny oiler. (Can also be used to clean pipe.)

Leaded Gun Barrels

Mercury can clean lead out of shotgun barrels in a day or two. Plug end of barrel, fill with mercury. Pour out and wipe clean after 2 days. Barrel looks like new. Your druggist has the mercury.

Baked Batteries

Heat flashlight batteries over your campfire for a few more hours of light.

Easy Laces

Char ends of rawhide boot laces and they'll be easier to slip through eyelets.

Paint 'Em Up

A few stripes of fluorescent paint on spoons will add to their attractiveness for pike and muskies. Increases the wobbly effect.

No-Scent Traps

Boil your traps in a solution made of a half cup of bark from cottonwood, willow, cherry and beech trees and a few bows from a cedar for about an hour. Foxes will never smell them.

Yellow Jacket Trap

Hang a fish near camp and put a pail of water under it. Yellow jackets gorge themselves on fish until they can't fly, fall into water and drown.

TOMORROW'S WORLD

SLIDING GLASS DOOR MANUFACTURERS TO LAUNCH DRIVE FOR HOME SAFETY

Washington, D.C. — The mounting toll of personal injuries from walking through "something you can't see" — glass — will cease to be a threat because of a consumer protection campaign announced here recently by the Glass Door Safety Committee of the Architectural Aluminum Manufacturers Association.

Meeting with representatives of the U.S. Public Health Service and the National Safety Council, the committee said that safety glass in every home sliding glass door in the United States is the long-range goal of the drive instituted by AAMA. Composed of 170 manufacturer-members who account for 70% of the total aluminum sliding glass door production in the United States, the prominent trade association will continue the drive until all sliding glass doors have safety glass.

The expanded program is the result of the action unanimously approved by the Board of Directors and the Technical Committee of the Association in August, and will take immediate steps to reach all manufacturers of sliding glass doors and other key groups with the importance of changing across the board to safety glass, according to William Mathews, committee chairman. "We are 100% in favor of safety glass in every sliding glass door sold by both members and non-members alike. The public deserves building products designed for the ultimate in safety," he stated.

AAMA's Glass Door Safety Committee has already begun work toward development of sliding glass door guidelines for revising building codes and preparing construction specifications which will be broadly distributed to all levels of government, code groups, lending agencies and others related to the building industry.

AAMA will also distribute a folder on glass safety in sliding doors to the millions of readers of newspapers and national magazines. Within the building industry, a series of meetings will be held with builders and other trade groups to stimulate broad use of safety glass to reduce home accidents to a minimum.

The AAMA Glass Door

Safety Committee made plans to work with model building code agencies, local and state building code and government forces, Congress, lending agencies, insurance companies and the National Association of Home Builders.

"One of the greatest supports for safety glass has come from the U.S. Public Health Service and the National Safety Council," Mathews stated. "They are most cooperative and AAMA will continue to work very closely with both groups. This cooperation includes an all-out publicity program by them which will eventually reach every home in America. The support of these respected authorities will drastically shorten the time required to gain complete acceptance of safety glass," Mathews concluded.

March of Dimes Physician Opposes Institutions for Birth Defect Victims

The human stampede is under way the moment the tall doctor strides into the waiting room.

With a flying tackle, a five-year-old, born with nine birth defects, catches him around one thigh, and refuses to let go. A little girl, who's only four and has been blind since birth, knows instinctively he's arrived and gleefully latches on to his belt.

"A typical day," Dr. Paul H. LaMarche says cheerfully to a visitor as he peels off the children and sidesteps a phalanx of advancing mothers.

The embattled doctor is director of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at Rhode Island Hospital, Providence. He is a pediatrician who feels strongly that the last place for a defective child, with few exceptions, is an institution for the handicapped.

"We regard it here as part of the Bill of Rights that all of these children with birth defects are entitled to the best diagnosis and treatment, regardless of race, finances or superstitions of the past," Dr. LaMarche says.

"A decade ago, even five years ago, almost every one of these children would have been sent to some institution. There they would have been forgotten as they wasted away and sometimes died. These tragedies still happen. But more and more of these afflicted children are with their parents in their own homes, where they belong, learning to become useful citizens."

A tousled five-year-old yells "Hi, Doc!" and buries a small fist in the pediatrician's midriff.

"Craig here thinks he's another Jack Dempsey. Maybe some day he will be. He was born with a good part of his spinal cord, membranes and nerves sticking out of his back. We repaired the opening and today he swings by his knees from the monkey bars at school and climbs his neighbor's trees to swipe apples. But most medical thinking at the time of Craig's birth was that a meningomyelocele always meant you had a paraplegic on your hands—total paralysis below the waist."

Another five-year-old named Tommy is a classic case in the annals of children who have survived despite multiple congenital malformations.

"Tommy has known just about every severe birth defect in the book," the pediatrician says, "from dislocated hips and elbows to cleft palate and curvature of the spine."

"Despite all this, Tommy's life now is pretty much that of normal kids. He plays ball and gets into the usual small-boy mischief. He's in the stream of life where he belongs."

Gilda, born without eyes, has a radiant smile although in her sightless world there would seem little to smile about. "The basic aim," Dr. LaMarche says, "is to get Gilda into nursery school as soon as possible. Artificial eyes will improve her appearance, minimize comment from the unthinking, and help eliminate the stigma that cruelly but inevitably attaches to the blind."

Thus the mending of these small defective bodies progresses each week at the Birth Defects Center in Providence, just as it does in San Francisco and Denver and Chicago and at more than 70 other March of Dimes Centers across the nation.

Taneytown Man Dies Suddenly Here

Clayton S. Staub, 62, Taneytown, a retired farmer, was fatally stricken after his car became marooned in the snow near Emmitsburg Saturday about midnight. Dr. B. O. Thomas, Frederick County medical examiner, attributed death to a coronary thrombosis.

Relatives reported that Mr. Staub had been visiting at the home of a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Staub, Emmitsburg R2, on Christmas Eve.

Relatives said Mr. Staub left about midnight and his car became marooned near the home of John Stoner, Emmitsburg R2, about two miles from the Ernest Staub residence. They reported he walked to the Stoner's home where he suffered the attack about 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

A son of the late Roy C. and Mary S. Fogle Staub, Mr. Staub was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown. His wife, Mrs. Ruth V. Reaver Staub, died May 6, 1966.

Survivors include these sons: Robert C. Staub, Emmitsburg R3, and Ernest W. Staub, Emmitsburg R3.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 1 p.m. from the Little Funeral Home, Littlestown, Pa., with the Rev. Howard W. Miller officiating. Interment was in Trinity Lutheran Church Cemetery, Taneytown.

St. Joe's Win Streak Broken

Saint Joseph's High School scored its eighth straight victory last Thursday by knocking off Taneytown, 84-53. St. Joe's, playing without their leading rebounder and third scorer, Ray Baker, who is lost indefinitely with a leg injury, jumped to a 37-16 half-time lead and coasted the remainder of the game. For the winners, Sherwin's 28 points and Williams' 26, paved the way while Adelsberger's 11 aided the cause. For Taneytown, Smeak's 15 and Howarth's 11, were the only scoring threats.

On Tuesday evening it was another story as St. John's of Frederick dropped St. Joe's from the ranks of the unbeaten with a decisive 92-64 rout. Combining a fast break with tremendous percentage shooting, St. John's pulled away in the last quarter after St. Joe's held the Frederick five to just a one point half-time lead, 29-28. For the winners, the leading scorer in the county, Rick Hassett, scored his average, 25 points, while Williams' 20, lead St. Joe's with Sherwin adding 15. The loss left the Trojans with a 8-1 record while St. John's is now 6-2.

Sewer Grant Is Approved

Approval of a $129,087 grant to help construct a sewer line to connect the city of Frostburg to the Cumberland, Maryland, sewage treatment facility, was announced this week by the Economic Development Administration, U. S. Department of Commerce.

The grant was recommended by the Appalachian Regional Commission.

The Federal funds will supplement a grant of $183,313 from the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, and $495,600 to be provided by the applicant, the Allegany County Sanitary District, Inc. Total cost of the project is $808,000.

Frostburg is an important area of potential growth in the State's investment plan, according to the application. The project will enable the area to supply adequate sewer facilities for potential development.

The grant is provided under the Appalachian Regional Development Act of 1965, which authorizes the Secretary of Commerce to supplement funds under certain grant-in-aid programs.

Safety Urged Over Holiday Weekend

Bells will soon be ringing to usher in the New Year, and in your anxiety to celebrate this wonderful occasion, please do not lose sight of the many traffic hazards existing, especially at this time of the year, warns Paul E. Burke, Executive Director of The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission. Contributing in no small part to this brand of highway murder is the havoc wrecked by the drinking driver. Drinking drivers are involved in more than half the fatal New Year holiday accidents. Burke cautions all those who contemplate attending New Year parties and celebrations to give serious thought to the dangers of imbibing too freely, as drinking and driving are a lethal combination at all times. The holiday cheer that comes in a bottle may make the party more festive but it's a cinch to make the road home more dangerous for everyone, the Executive Director stated. Even a couple of drinks reduce a driver's reaction time for hazards and emergencies. So, if you do drink, please stay out of the driver's seat and respect the rights of others for an accident-free holiday. At this time of the year the pedestrian seems particularly oblivious to the dangers existing. The combination of celebrating the holiday, inclement weather and darkness create a serious threat to the safety of the pedestrian. He has a tendency to become careless and make himself a target for the driver.

Please help insure a safe, happy holiday and New Year for everyone by being extra Careful, Cautious, Courteous and Cooperative. The ingredients in this mixture will make a good "safety punch!"

The Safe Winter Driving League presents this tip for safer winter driving from the National Safety Council: "For severe snow and ice conditions, tests show that reinforced tire chains provide four to five times as much traction as regular tires without chains." Assure your ability to get through regardless of the weather—always carry chains and be prepared for winter's worst storms.

Children's Choir Enjoys Party

The Children's Choir and the Youth Choir of Elias Church held their Christmas Party on Monday, December 12 in the Parish House following their weekly rehearsals. Their Pastor, the Rev. Ronald Fearer, spoke to them concerning "How The Christmas Tree Talks." He used the symbols found on trees and showed their origin and their meaning for Christians today. Highlighting his presentation was the interpretation of Christmas which are used on the trees in Elias Church and on the Parsonage tree.

Mrs. Charles Koontz, Director of the Choirs, presented each choir member with a special gift in recognition of their service to the Church. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Koontz and the Choir Mothers to the following children and Pastor Fearer: Children's Choir, Jimmy Small, Robin Sihue, Bobby Leatherman, Debbie Leatherman, Debbie Small, Peggy Long, Frank Saylor, Randy Smith, Carol Eyer, Todd Leatherman, Teresa McNair, Francis Gingell, Robert Ohler and Cindy Hahn. Youth Choir: Mary Jayne Saylor, Jimmy P. Saylor, Jimmy A. Saylor, Debbie Rohrbaugh, Herbert Rohrbaugh, Brenda Rohrbaugh, Valerie McCleaf, Vickie Shank, Barbara Sanders, Carol Saylor, Virkie Saylor, Patty Eyer, Mike Olinger, Doug Long, John Hemingway, Gary Seiss, Dennis Rohrbaugh, Anne Umbel, Dennis Adams, Shirley Wilson, Doug Adams and Steve Adams. Lois Meadows and David Harbaugh were unable to attend.

Girl Scouts Active Over Holidays

Girl Scout activities for this Christmas Season have been many and varied. The girls decided to take on the local Health Clinic as their project this year.

Troop 1238 Juniors with their leader, Mrs. Jane Orndorff, set up and decorated a tree in the clinic which is located in the basement of the American Legion building. The decorations were all made by hand and were very clever and attractive indeed. These girls worked hard on this project and can be proud of their work.

Brownie Troop 1164, led by Mrs. Anna Bushman, made scrapbooks from old Christmas cards. The girls were fortunate in having a collection of cards given them that were just beautiful. Father Phillips donated all his old Christmas cards for use in any crafts the Girl Scouts had. The clinic had asked for small scrapbooks as the children loved them so much that they often asked to take one home. This Mrs. Leverone allowed them to do.

For Father Phillips' kindness, we truly thank him. He may be glad to know the good his beautiful cards are still doing.

Brownie Troop 1300 made a very lovely gum drop tree, hopping each clinic child might take a gum drop. This the girls had lots of fun doing and it was quite attractive. They hoped the little folks in the clinic enjoyed it as much as the Scouts did making it for them.

Junior Troop 405, led by Mrs. John Chatlos and Mrs. Carol Slemmer, had two projects this year. They made toys from tin cans of assorted sizes and painted in gay colors. These cans can be stacked or nested as the child prefers. Games made using plastic bottles and clothes pins were also made. These items were then given to the clinic and to the Scott Key Center for Exceptional Children—The Montevue Home.

Much hard work went into this double project and I am sure the girls enjoyed every minute of it. The Cadette Troop 1316, with Mrs. Margie Myers as leader, took on a real cadette sized job. They decided to make all the arrangements for the Annual Christmas Carol Sing by all the girl scout troops.

They set Monday night for the get-together of all troops at their regular meeting place in the Methodist Educational Building. They sent out groups of girls to various places in town to sing. After the caroling they served cookies and hot chocolate, which many parents had been asked to donate for the occasion. A nice time was had by all. I think, as I heard many girls voice this opinion. We trust our good folks in town heard and enjoyed the girls also that they appreciated the effort put forth by the girls and leaders. Our thanks to the adults who helped with their donations or their presence at the carol sing. Happy New Year from all of us.

Social Security Gives Farmers Alternate Choice

W. S. King, district manager of the Hagerstown Social Security Office, points out that the rules for farmers reporting under the option for 1966 are more liberal than in previous years.

Farm operators are the only self-employed group covered by social security that have the privilege of an optional method of reporting earnings for social security. In bad years, this enables them to keep up the average earnings in their social security accounts.

This year, if a farmer's gross farm income is over $2,400, but his actual net income is not more than $1,600, he has the option of paying the social security tax on $1,600 or his actual net earnings. If his gross farm income is over $2,400, but his actual net earnings are over $1,600, he must pay the tax on the actual net earnings.

Mr. King observed that most informed farm operators use the optional method of reporting when their actual net earnings are lower. This has the effect of providing a higher benefit amount at the time the farmer retires.

For the convenience of people who cannot visit the Hagerstown District Office during the day, the office is open on Monday night from 5:00 to 8:00 beginning January 9.

Adequate Water Supplies For County Are Discussed

The Sanitary Commission feels adequate supplies of water for municipal and industrial uses from the Monocacy River, Catoctin Creek and their tributaries are the most important resources in Frederick County. We strongly advise serious consideration for the Sixes Bridge Dam as the first step to provide an adequate supply of water.

James H. Grove, chairman of the Commission, is concerned with the financial burden that the proposed standards may impose on Frederick County, its municipalities, industries and farming operations. To provide adequate waste treatment it would appear that the Water Quality Standards are higher than can be met with the finances available at this time. New urban and industrial developments with required waste treatment should increase quality of our present water supply.

We favor the improvement of water quality of our streams. Financing the planning and construction of necessary waste treatment facilities will require time and a lot of money. The proposed standards cannot be met until all the municipalities, industries and farming operations have installed waste treatment facilities. During this interim period, Federal and State financial assistance and cooperation could be needed, with the direction of these funds to be at the state and local level. We feel no Federal punitive action should be taken against the county or municipality where financing cannot be obtained to meet the presently suggested water quality standards.

The proposed standard should be further studied as we have experienced little difficulty with our existing present water sources in most areas of the streams.
