Now that the TV strike has been settled it will more than likely cause a rise in the cost of living. Newscasters and stars sought, and were granted, pay hikes and percentages of the "take." Already overpaid, in my opinion, this added cost to producing TV shows will be reflected in the price you pay for your cereal, bad breath mouth washes, whiter baby diapers, etc. Actually it was a pleasure not to have to sit through some of the shows during their absence, but everything is normal once again and we'll have to sit and take whatever they throw at with this so-called "entertainment."

Adam Clayton Powell has come back stronger than ever, just as he predicted he would. Imagine stealing an election district with 85% of the vote and especially after being called a thief by the U. S. Congress? Apparently Harlem's motto is the bigger thief you are the better representative you are. We are anxious to see whether or not the House "pulls in its horns" after this one.

Our infamous by-pass is back in the news again after a somewhat surprisingly quiet winter. With the advent of more favorable weather and the increase in the traffic flow, we will be hearing more about this intersection in the next few months. "Murder Avenue" as it is familiarly dubbed, just claimed its 25th victim in the two years the two-mile stretch has been in operation. A New York woman was killed at one of the four intersections early this week to become the 26th casualty. A little more than a week prior to this accident, two elderly folks narrowly escaped death at one of the intersections when their station wagon was overturned by impact with a panel truck. And so it goes on, broken bodies, lives snuffed out and thousands of dollars in property damage, all in a short two-mile stretch of so-called "modern" highway. With the statistics piling up this could easily be the most dangerous and treacherous stretch of highway in the country.

Library Sponsors

Art Contest

The annual Children's Art Contest is being sponsored by the Emmitsburg Public Library in conjunction with Children's Art Month and National Library Week. After the art work from grades one through 12 is judged, the library has made arrangements to hold an exhibition of all the entries in the old Post Office building on the Square. The public may visit the exhibit on Sunday, April 23 from 2 to 4 p.m. The winners will be announced and prizes will be awarded at that time.

Mrs. William H. Carr is acting as Chairman. The judges will be Sister Anna Mae of St. Joseph College, and Prof. Richard Etchison and Prof. William Meredith of Mt. St. Mary's College.

OBITUARIES

EARL D. ROOP

Earl David Roop, 63, Taneytown R1, died suddenly Sunday of a heart attack at the Carroll County General Hospital at Westminster. He was a well-known farmer of the Taneytown area and was a member of the Keysville Lutheran Church and Sunday School. He was the husband of Agnes Bentzel Roop and a son of the late George W. and Bertha Nogle Roop.

Surviving besides his wife are these children: Mrs. Audrey Rohrbach, Taneytown; Mrs. Thela Schaffer, Keymar; Mrs. Mary Louise Gunn, Falls Church, Va.; Norval L. and Paul D. Roop, both of Taneytown. There are 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Three brothers and a sister also survive: G. Raymond Roop, Emmitsburg; Curtis L. and Charles W. Roop, both of Hanover.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2 o'clock from the C. O. Fuss and Son Funeral Home, Taneytown, with the Rev. William A. Markley officiating. Interment was in the Keysville Cemetery.

Co. Commissioner Answers School Board Member

The president of the Frederick County Commissioners has refused to hold a joint meeting with the school board to discuss the legal status of a commissioner sitting with the educators.

The refusal by commissioner president Charles E. Collins, came Tuesday in a letter to Mrs. Mary Condon Hodgson, president of the school board. The school board sought the joint meeting — and specified that the session should be closed to the public — last week at the urging of board member Ross V. Smith.

Smith questioned the legal right of a commissioner to meet with the school board, and asked that the school board be defined as either a county or a state agency.

A 1965 law passed by the General Assembly requires that a commissioner sit as a member of each county agency.

Collins said his refusal of the joint meeting was based on a legal opinion of Samuel W. Barrick, county attorney, that the school board is a county agency and thus covered by the law.

Collins, regarding himself as "an authority on this subject as I helped draft the legislation," said it was the full intent of the state legislature that a county commissioner serve as an ex-officio member of the Board of Education.

"I had no idea at that time that I would be the county commissioner selected to serve on this board," he said. "It bothers me that a member of this board (the school board) would openly try to circumvent this indisputable legislative intent."

"I have been very happy at the improved relations between the Board of Education and the County Commissioners. To reopen this controversy can do much damage to these relations."

"We would be breaking the law if I did not sit with the board. Mr. Smith also demonstrates that he is not familiar with the law as the law clearly states that a county commissioner shall not receive additional compensation for sitting with another board above his regular salary as a county commissioner."

"The many lay people and the many teachers that I have discussed this subject with have all expressed themselves to be in favor of a County Commissioner sitting on the school board. There should be no legal question in the minds of Mr. Smith and his friends and teachers in view of the Court of Appeals rulings," Collins said.

In his legal opinion, Barrick cited two rulings by the Court of Appeals and one by a Circuit Court to the effect that county boards of education are agencies of the county governments.

"Generally speaking," Barrick said, "the courts have held that states and counties cannot act directly, but must act through agencies. The Board of Education of Frederick County acts as an agency of the county, and any employees are employees of the county and any action taken by the Board of Education is done as an agency of the county."

The state law provides that "at least one member of the County Commissioners shall serve as an ex-officio, non-voting member of all administrative boards and agencies of the county government which receive or expend county funds."

Ford Salesman

Receives Honor

More than 400 Ford dealership car and truck salesmen in Ford Division's Washington sales district were honored for outstanding performance in 1966 at a banquet at the Eastwind in Baltimore last Saturday.

Among the salesmen qualifying for the award was John S. Hollinger of Sperry Ford Sales, Emmitsburg.

INJURED

John S. Baumgardner, Jr., 21, Taneytown R2, was admitted to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, last Thursday evening at 11:45 o'clock after he was injured in an automobile accident near Taneytown. The hospital reported that he suffered multiple lacerations, contusions, and abrasions of the head, trunk and extremities.

By-Pass Claims 25th Victim Tuesday

Photo shows car in which two New York women were riding Tuesday afternoon after it struck a steel pole supporting the caution lights at the intersection of Business Rt. 15 and Rt. 15 at Toll Gate Hill. One woman was killed and the driver hospitalized. The ambulance crew, Michael Boyle and Paul Humerick are shown extricating the injured driver from the vehicle.

The Emmitsburg by-pass claimed its 25th victim in the two years it has been opened when a New York woman was killed Tuesday afternoon at approximately 3:30 o'clock. The car, operated by a woman driver and a companion, struck a concrete base and steel pole which supports the caution warning lights at the intersection of Business Rt. 15 and U. S. Rt. 15 at Toll Gate Hill.

Mrs. Maude Blanchard Vine, 87, Martinsville, N. Y., was killed and the driver of the car, Madeline Vine Stevenson, 66, Martinsville, N. Y., was listed in satisfactory condition at the Warner Hospital this week.

Mrs. Vine was dead when she was taken from the wrecked auto. Death was reported to have been caused by a crushed chest. The body was removed to the Wilson Funeral Home in Emmitsburg. Mrs. Stevenson was admitted to the Warner Hospital suffering severe lacerations of the head and arms.

Dr. W. R. Cadle was on the scene to examine the woman.

Maryland State Police said the accident occurred when the Stevenson car traveling north on Rt. 15 behind another vehicle, came upon another vehicle which was allegedly stopped in the northbound lane of traffic at the intersection. A car in front of the Stevenson vehicle swerved to the right to avoid the stopped automobile, while the Stevenson car swerved to the left crossing the southbound lane traveling 20 feet off the left side of the road down an embankment, colliding head-with a utility pole which supports the yellow warning flashers at the intersection.

The Emmitsburg VFW ambulance crew and firemen worked for one-half hour to get the women out of the tangled wreckage.

Police found that the two women were returning to their New York home from a Florida vacation. The driver is believed to be a daughter of Mrs. Vine.

Damage to Mrs. Stevenson's 1963 Buick was estimated by police as a total loss.

Maryland State Police are searching for the unidentified vehicle which was stopped in the northbound lane. Witnesses at the scene said the vehicle apparently missed a turn off at the intersection and may have been in the process of backing in the lane of traffic when the mishap occurred.

Parade Invitations Are Mailed

The Vigilant Hose Company will host the firemen's parade here June 8 at 7 p.m.

Prize money totaling $725 will be awarded to the participating units in the parade. Emphasis has been placed on the prize money for musical units such as high school bands, drum corps, and other bands not associated with schools.

Parade chairman George Danner announced that various units have been sent invitations. Any organizations or groups not receiving one and would like to participate in the parade may notify Chairman Danner at 217 East Main St., or phone 447-5601 before May 25.

Prize money for participation in the parade will be offered as follows:

Best appearing company with apparatus and firemen's marching unit, 1st, $50; 2nd, $25. Best appearing band (other than high school, 1st, $60; 2nd, $40; Best appearing drum corps not associated with fire company, 1st, $125; 2nd, $60. Best appearing high school band, 1st, $100; 2nd, $50. Best appearing ladies' auxiliary marching unit, 1st, $30. Best appearing fire fighting apparatus, 1st, trophy; 2nd, trophy. Company with apparatus coming the longest distance, 1st, $35; Company with oldest apparatus in parade, 1st, $10. Best appearing floats, 1st, $40; 2nd, $20. Most comical entry, 1st, $10. Majorette groups, 1st, $35; 2nd, $20; 3rd, $15.

A carnival will be held June 5-10 by the Indian Lookout Conservation Club. The Club has booked new rides and concessions. Entertainment for the week is as follows: Monday, "The Hullabaloo Show"; Tuesday, "Ernest Tubbs and his Texas Troubadours"; Wednesday, "Johnny Walker and the Tijuana Brass"; Thursday, parade and band; Friday and Saturday night entertainment, to be announced later.

Ill In Hospital

Mr. J. Laurence Orendorff is a medical patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, Towson. He was transferred from the Warner Hospital last week to St. Joseph's. Friends may write to him at this address: St. Joseph's Hospital, Room 526 West, Towson, Md.

MSM Tops Hampden-Sydney

Mount St. Mary's College baseball team defeated Hampden-Sydney 11-9 Friday afternoon on the loser's diamond.

The victory was the second in four starts for coach Tom Ryan's Mountaineers.

Former Emmitsburg Woman Is Candidate

Mrs. Helen G. Alexander has filed candidacy for delegate to the forthcoming Maryland Constitutional Convention. Election of delegates takes place June 6 in a special election. Delegates are elected from the legislative district from which the General Assembly was elected. Carroll and Frederick County are entitled to a total of three delegates.

Mrs. Alexander, 38, was born in Emmitsburg and was educated in the public schools here, graduating in 1947. She also studied with the Palmer Institute of Authorship and has an avid interest in U. S. Government and political science, and has taken an additional course in each of the latter subjects.

Since moving to the Frederick area, Mrs. Alexander has been active in civic and non-partisan politics, especially voter registration.

Organizational affiliations include the Unitarian Fellowship of Frederick as past chairman and present member of its Social Action Committee, Frederick County Branch NAACP executive committee as chairman of political action and voter registration, the Frederick County League of Women Voters, Housing Committee of the Frederick City-County Human Relations Council, Elections Committee chairman of the Community Action Committee of Frederick County, secretary-treasurer of the Frederick Memorial Society and member of the American Civil Liberties Union, the Maryland Council to Abolish Capital Punishment and the Maryland Council for Civic Responsibility.

Mrs. Alexander recently resigned her position at Fort Detrick, where she had been employed for the past nine years. At the time of her leaving she was treasurer of the American Federation of Government Employees, Lodge No. 2485.

"I have been interested in the Maryland Constitution issue and a convention for its revision from the beginning and have attended several very informative conferences conducted by members of the Governor's Constitutional Convention Study Commission for the purpose of informing the public of its progress and analyses of the situation."

"Although concerned with the revision of the entire state document, which vitally needs modernizing, (it contains at present much material which practically should not be in a constitution, but are purely administrative and/or statutory matters), I am especially interested in seeing a concise and forthright Declaration of Rights emanate from the Convention."

Mrs. Alexander said this week for publication.

VFW AMBULANCE

Mrs. Madeline Stevenson, New York, an accident victim, was transported to the Warner Hospital this week via the VFW ambulance. Driver and assistant were Leo M. Boyle and Paul E. Humerick.

SERVICE SUNDAY

The First Service and Venture In Faith Series, sponsored by the Emmitsburg Council of Churches, will be held at Toms Creek Methodist Church, Sunday, April 16, at 7:30 p.m. Special music will be presented by the Toms Creek Choir and the Men's Quintet. Everyone is invited to attend.

VFW TO ELECT OFFICERS

A special meeting for the election of officers will be held by Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, on Wednesday, April 19 in the Post Home on the Square. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

K. Of C. Will Exemplify Third Degree Sunday

Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, will exemplify the Third Degree of the order at the council home Sunday afternoon starting at two o'clock. Previously the degree had been scheduled for Mt. St. Mary's College but a last-minute change of plans necessitated the change of location.

On Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, the Council Home will serve as the meeting site for a meeting of the State Council, attendance at which is by invitation. Following the Third Degree Sunday, a banquet will follow the exemplification at Cozy Restaurant, Thurmont, at six o'clock.

Local Firemen Will Not Join Alarm System

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

If the articles which have appeared in the Frederick papers, mainly that the County Commissioners have voted to allow all fire companies which exist in Frederick County to belong to the Central Alarm System, then the Vigilant Hose Co. of Emmitsburg, feels that it will provide better and faster protection to the lives and property of the residents of Emmitsburg and vicinity by not joining the Central Fire Alarm System.

The decision of the Commissioners is contrary to the recommendations of the Fire Board and the Frederick County Volunteer Firemen's Association. Since direct dialing to Frederick from the Emmitsburg area is not available and will not be available for some time, the Vigilant Hose Co. can not see any advantages to becoming part of Central Alarm under the present circumstances.

The Vigilant Hose Co. will continue to answer all fire calls or any other emergency or service calls on its present phone number which is 447-4141.

Pres., Vigilant Hose Co.

Nominate Tabler At Lions Meeting

Ralph Tabler, local farmer, was nominated for the presidency of the Emmitsburg Lions Club at the regular meeting of that group held Monday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Norman J. Shriver presiding.

The nominating committee, consisting of William H. Kelz, Clarence E. Hahn and Arthur Elder, presented the following slate of nominations: President, Ralph Tabler; first vice president, Charles F. Troxell; second vice president, Milton Sewell; secretary, Eugene Sappington; treasurer, William R. Slemmer; taitwister, Floyd L. Lewis; liontamer, William H. Kelz; director, Norman J. Shriver. The election will be held at the next regular meeting.

Present also at the meeting were three Lions from the Silver Run Club and Gus Shank, Taneytown auctioneer who will handle the forthcoming community auction to be sponsored by the Lions Club on May 5. Ralph McDonnell, chairman of the auction, gave a progress report and said Saturday collections of items were being held. Persons wanting items handled on a commission basis are asked to contact Mr. McDonnell. A 20% commission will be charged on these items. Pick-up service is furnished by the Lions on Saturdays.

Local Youth

On Dean's List

Rev. Carl J. Fives, Dean of Studies at Mount Saint Mary's College, has announced that twenty-nine collegians have been included on the academic Dean's List for the first, second semester marking period of the 1966-67 academic year. To qualify, a student must achieve an 88% or better average in all of the subjects for which he is registered.

Among those honored was Joseph F. Baldacchino, freshman, of Emmitsburg.

Alumni Officers Meet

At the meeting of the officers of the St. Joseph's High School Alumni Association held recently, it was decided to hold the annual Dinner and Dance on June 10, 1967, at the VFW Annex. The charge for this affair will be $5 per couple. Any alumni who have not been receiving notices of the various functions, are asked to give their current address to Jean Topper, the secretary.

R. A. Rosensteel Opposes Haley In Town Election

A race for Town Commissioner developed this week when Robert A. Rosensteel filed with Town Clerk Yonnie Baker.

Joseph M. Haley, incumbent Commissioner, announced his intentions of running for re-election last week. Haley has served three years as Commissioner.

Rosensteel, a newcomer to politics, will make his first bid for public office in the Town Election which is scheduled for Tuesday, April 25. He is an employee at Sperry Ford Sales, Emmitsburg, and is a property-owner and resident of DePaul Street.

To be elected to office this year will be only one Commissioner. Next year the term of the Mayor and two Commissioners will expire and there will be three to be elected.

Those interested in running for Town office this year in the April 25 election have only until Friday, April 14 to signify their intention in writing at the Town Office. Also Friday is the deadline for new registrations then the election books will be closed until after the election. To be eligible to hold office a citizen must be a property-owner in the Corporation limits and must be 21 years of age or over. To be eligible to vote, one must be 21 years or over at election date and must have lived within the Corporate limits at least 12 months prior to the election.

The Town Clerk, readying the books for the coming election, said that over 500 are now registered.

Cub Scouts Will Sell Hoagies

The Cub Scouts, Pack 1060, under the direction of Cubmaster Raymond Baker, will sponsor a Hoagie Sale which will be held on April 29 from 10:00 to 12:00.

Cub Scouts will cover the area, door to door, to take orders, starting today. The cost of a whole hoagie will be 65c and a half will be 35c. You may have your order delivered if you wish. In case you are missed and would like to order one, you may do so by phoning 447-2201 before April 21.

This sale is one of the several ways that the Cubs raise money for the many activities that are held during the year. Support the Cub Scouts in your town and order your hoagie today.

Senator Smelser Guest Of Club

The New Frontier Democratic Women's Club held its regular meeting, Monday evening at the VFW in Emmitsburg.

The club women welcomed State Senator Charles Smelser as their guest. He talked to them about a variety of topics.

It was announced that Maryland's Attorney General, Francis B. Burch, will be the featured speaker for Frederick County's annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner to be held Saturday, April 22, in the National Guard Armory in Frederick. The dinner will begin at 6:00 p.m. Price of tickets is $5.00.

The next scheduled meeting of the New Frontier Club is Monday, May 8.

JOHN W. ENGLE

John William Engle, 62, Woodsboro, died Friday evening suddenly at Frederick Memorial Hospital.

He was born in Frederick County, son of the late Howard and Bertha Martin Engle.

He is survived by his wife, Mary E. Kline Engle, one daughter, Mrs. Betty J. Reed, Thurmont; two grandchildren, five sisters, Mrs. Eligh Ellsmore, Niagara Falls; Mrs. Samuel L. Taylor, Frederick; Mrs. Geneva Davis, Thurmont; Mrs. Claude Deberry, Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Leroy Null of Frederick, and two brothers, Franklin D. and Austin E. Engle, both of Niagara Falls.

Funeral services were held at the Creager Funeral Home, Thurmont on Monday at 2:30 p.m. Interment was in the Rocky Hill Cemetery.

Will Address Corps

Major W. W. Corbin, assistant chief of operations of the Maryland State Police, will address members of the Adams County Ambulance Corps at a meeting of the Corps at the Emmitsburg VFW Tuesday, April 18.

Comptroller Goldstein Speaker At Mount Career Day Program

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein spoke at the fifth annual College Career Day at Mt. St. Mary's College April 5.

Goldstein gave the keynote address to 1,000 students and faculty in a day-long program which included speakers from twelve professions.

He questioned the validity of education as an end in itself and called on students to seek a meaningful application for their college studies.

Defining education, he termed it "the art and science of gaining practical experience and knowledge about any and every possible aspect of life and all that this implies."

A combination of book knowledge and experience from job and personal contact is the sum of a

Opportunities are lurking in business, medicine, science, education and all levels of government, he said.

"Five thousand vacancies exist in career state service in the Maryland government right now," he said, adding that he would help any interested student find a job.

A beginning education is not enough, he said, but one must constantly update his resources to keep abreast of the "knowledge explosion" which threatens "to double all existing knowledge every six months."

He called on students to accept the challenge of America and "to find answers that will bring peace to this earth and freedom from want and hunger in every corner of the world."

Art Classes Will Resume At Senior Citizens Center

The Senior Citizens sewing class will continue Monday, April 24, under the instruction of Mrs. Abramson, who will be unable to hold the class on April 17, as scheduled, due to other commitments.

Available for loan to the sick will be braided self-arresting ropes 12 and six feet long. Please contact the Senior Citizens Center.

Monday evening, April 10, the members of the Art Class staged a surprise shower for Miss Norrie Whitaker, instructor. Miss Whitaker will be married Sunday, April 16. Refreshments were served and gifts opened and displayed with the best wishes of the group.

At the April 18 meeting of the club the winners of the hams will be announced.

An All-County meeting of the Senior Citizens Clubs will be held Thursday, April 20 at 12:30 p. m. in the Church of the Brethren on West Second Street, Frederick. All members desiring to attend please contact the Center for free transportation.

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens Club will take place at the Center Tuesday evening, April 18 at 7:30 p. m.

The program will consist of a talk with illustrations by Dr. and Mrs. Charles Ecker of Westminster, on "The Schools of Europe." Dr. Ecker is assistant county superintendent of Carroll County Schools and Mrs. Ecker is an instructor in the public schools. The discussion should prove to be both interesting as well as instructive.

OUR LIBRARY

The Emmitsburg Public Library is in the process of being enlarged. However, service to the patrons will not be disrupted. We invite you to come in and browse. The new addition is most welcome and it will better accommodate the books already in the library plus the new books arriving each week.

Youth books—"Castle Ugly," by Mary Ellen Barrett, and "The Burning Glass," by Annabel and Edgar Johnson.

Adult books, fiction—"The Wedding Bargain," by Agnes Turnbull, and "The Artificial Man," by L. P. Davies (mystery). Non-Fiction—"New World of the Mind," by J. B. Rhine; "Good Housekeeping's Guide for Young Homemakers," by Lass; "Citizenship and Government in Modern America," by Bard; "American Bishop at the Vatican Council," by Bishop R. E. Tracey, and "The New Church: Essays in Catholic Reform," by Daniel Callahan.

VFW Auxiliary Cancels Dances

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held recently at the Post Home. President Rita Eyard presided and 21 members were present. Following the reading of the minutes and other communications, the committee which held the Teen Dance on March 10, gave the financial report. It was decided that no dances would be held in the near future. The committee for the wedding to be catered on April 8 was as follows: Etta Mae Norris, Idella Fite, Carmen Topper, Dolores Henke, Evelyn Ott, Rita Byard and Jane Orndorff. Since this is the 20th year of the chartering of the Auxiliary, it was decided to hold an Anniversary party in July. The committee selected by the President was as follows: Chairman, Etta Mae Norris, Carmen Topper, Anna Stoner, and Dolores Henke. It was decided to have a covered dish social at the May meeting which would begin at 7:30. Carmen Topper volunteered to take charge of this affair.

It was voted upon to send a donation to the Cancer drive and to send the usual prize money to the two local high schools. It was voted upon by the members to donate a coffee urn to the Senior Citizens Club.

Elections followed and the results were: President, Catherine Hodge; senior vice president, Etta Mae Norris; junior vice president, Gloria Martin; treasurer, Anna Stoner; chaplain, Carmen Topper; conductress, Evelyn Ott; guard, Joan Topper; trustees, Gloria Martin, Gertrude Joy and Dolores Henke; color bearers, Dixie Valdi, Irene Zurgable, Mary T. Miller and Phyllis Joy; flag bearer, Jane Orndorff; banner bearer, Betty Ann Baker; historian, Rita Byard; patriotic instructor, Lois Hartdagen; musician, Mary Hoke. The secretary will be appointed by the president-elect, Rita Byard will continue to serve as chairman of the catering service offered by the Auxiliary and anyone wishing these services may contact her.

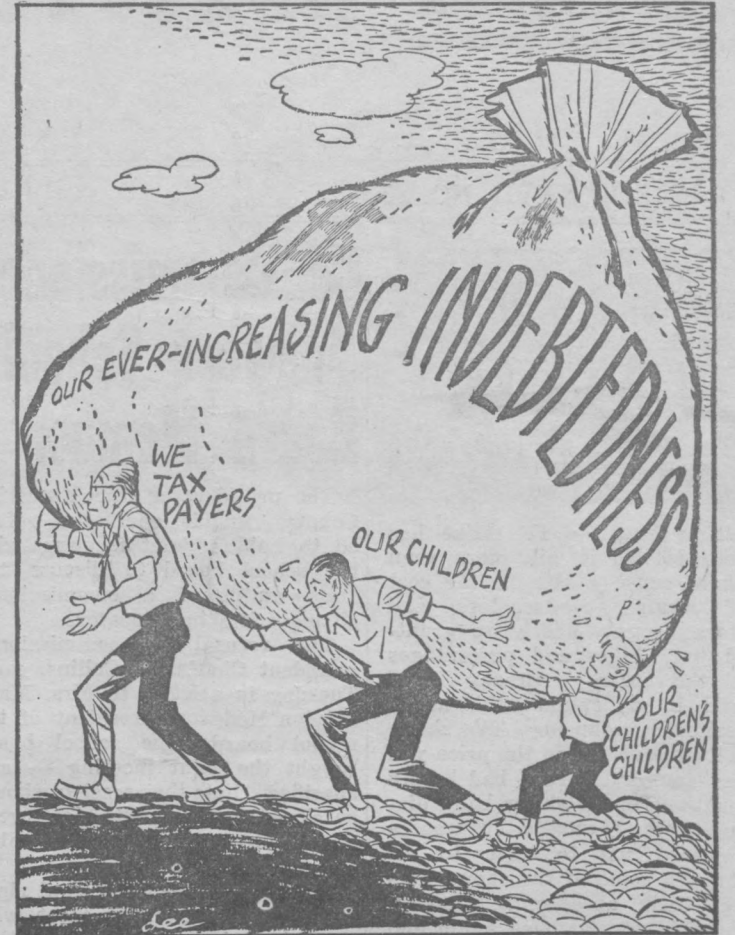

It was announced that the committee for the anniversary party would have a meeting in the near future to begin plans for this affair.

Etta Mae Norris won the draw prize. Refreshments were served by Gloria Martin. Installation of officers will be held at the May meeting.

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

Feeding A Horse

Of all farm and ranch animals the horse has been researched least as to its nutritional requirements.

We are more in the dark for instance with respect to the necessary minerals and vitamins for a horse than we are for pigs and poultry and even ruminants, which according to a saying of years ago included "the darkest place on earth, the inside of a cow."

So in horse nutrition a number of assumptions and scientific guesses are made based on the known anatomy and physiology of a horse.

The horse stands about midway between ruminants and single-stomached animals such as the pig, but leaning more toward ruminants because of its "substitute paunch" its caecum or greatly enlarged gut and the fact that a horse can thrive on forage alone as a pig cannot. Fortunately, at an early age, a foal is nourished by its mother's milk, the universally most nearly complete food, having on the dry matter basis 21% protein and a lot of other fine nutrients.

Meanwhile the growing colt is given a chance to help himself to some grain and hay or pasture, and by weaning time can get along on a protein content of about 14%, taking the ration as a whole, grain and forage, on the air-dry basis.

This level may gradually be reduced and at relative maturity a total protein level of 8 or 9% is satisfactory.

Let us keep in mind that most grains have from 9 to 12% protein, most grass hays 7 or 8% and mixed legume—grass hays from 9 to 12% protein. So it isn't difficult to satisfy the protein requirement of mature horses.

Also, if they are idle, merely a good quality grass or legume—grass hay is sufficient for their needs.

With reference to minerals and vitamins, Dr. Cunha of the University of Florida reasons from the requirement of other farm animals, but stipulates somewhat higher percentages of calcium and phosphorus than for cattle, salt at 1% of the grain mixture, with free access to salt on the side.

Quoting him directly: "Horses need trace minerals." A table presented by him lists suggested levels of the six essential trace minerals for horses that are used for racing and performance show purposes, and this statement: "Trace mineralized salt is available which supplies minerals at levels which are close to those for race horses."

Dr. Cunha recognizes that many horsemen add vitamins to their rations, and while recognizing that some of them add extremely high levels, suggests reasonable levels, in line with those added to rations of other farm animals, the requirements of which are known. Leafy green hay is not apt to be lacking in vitamins, even less so is pasture.

Question: When should pigs be weaned for best results?

Answer: Where formerly this was done at 8 to 10 weeks of age, now with excellent pig starters or baby pig feeds available, it is frequently done successfully at from 3 to 5 weeks of age. Sows lose much less weight that way, and pigs with right management gain fully as rapidly as they would when kept with the sow.

BABSONWrites . . .*Babson's Point Of View On:
Teachers' Strikes

BABSON PARK, Mass., Apr. 13 — All across the country school budgets are skyrocketing. Funds have to be provided for new or improved buildings and facilities, for updated textbooks and visual aids, and for rising salary requirements for teachers by and large apparent. But in spite of all efforts, teachers by and large apparently are not satisfied. There is real danger that teachers' strikes — once unheard of, but now by no means rare — will spread and intensify.

What Do Teachers Want?

During the past decade or so, teachers have become much more fully organized than ever before. There federations and labor unions are more aggressive and more articulate in local communities and they have stepped up their lobbying at state capitals. What are they after?

The essence of most teacher demands of late has been money. Even in cases where local school boards have (often quite reluctantly, to be sure) agreed to unprecedentedly large salary increases, greater fringe benefits, and improved working conditions, teachers are reported to be still unhappy.

Professional Recognition

They are also groping for something which their profession has lost during the past several years, — the spontaneous respect of the child and of the community. Time was when everybody understood education's general purpose. Now there is much confusion and difference of opinion between teachers, school officials, parents, and businessmen regarding educational goals.

An eminent American professor, Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, once said: "The true object of education is to train one to think clearly and to act rightly." That and other wholesome definitions of our educational goals have been obscured in recent years as we have overemphasized diplomas and degrees while undervaluing the development of human qualities of mind and spirit not measurable by tests and examinations.

Unclear Thinking

Most of us are sadly aware that the influence of the church upon our young people is nowhere near as pervasive as it once was. Unfortunately, too, there has been a breakdown of discipline in the home. On the one hand — alert to the competitive nature of our society — we urge our children toward diplomas and degrees that we hope will open the door to good-paying jobs. On the other hand, we give our children the bad example of rating comfort, ease, and self-indulgence much too highly.

We try too hard to insulate ourselves from tension, forgetting that tension is itself a sign of life and that some anxiety is the price we must pay for being intelligent. Is it any wonder our teachers have difficulty emphasizing and encouraging clear thinking?

New Perspectives Needed

Teachers' strikes are a mistake. They are against the public good and they do grave harm to teachers' interests. They are a wrong approach and are tantamount to an admission that teachers themselves are not thinking clearly or acting rightly. Where persistent negotiations have left teachers short of their goals, the truculence and antagonism implicit in a strike only emphasize that the strike weapon is still not the answer.

Most school boards recognize the importance of teachers in community life. In most cases the stubbornness and recalcitrance of officials in the matter of teachers' salaries is based on cold fiscal facts rather than on indifference toward teachers' needs. Everybody loses when there is a hardening of hostility between school boards and teachers. What is needed are new perspectives on the whole question of education and how it is to be financed . . . and a closer relationship between our secondary schools and our colleges and universities.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH*Rheumatic Fever

Rheumatic fever accounts for much of the heart disease found in children and young adults, says Today's Health Guide, the American Medical Association's book of health information for the American family.

Rheumatic fever usually occurs between the ages of 5 and 15, although adults can have it. It may affect any part of the body temporarily, but damage to the heart, which can be long lasting, is the greatest danger.

Rheumatic heart disease results from the scarring of the heart muscle and valves by rheumatic fever. This may interfere with the vital work of the heart. Many patients recover without permanent injury to the heart valves, but the disease has a way of repeating itself and each attack renews the chances of heart damage.

Rheumatic fever is preceded by a streptococcal infection such as sore throat, scarlet fever or a strep era infection. It can be prevented by treating the strep infection promptly and thoroughly with antibiotics. Because persons who have had rheumatic fever are susceptible rather than immune to repeat attacks, long-term preventive treatment is often prescribed for them. Regular doses of penicillin, under the direction of a physician, can prevent further strep infections and thus ward off subsequent attacks of rheumatic fever.

You can protect your child against rheumatic fever by consulting your doctor if the child develops a sudden, severe sore throat, or if he has been exposed to someone with scarlet fever or another strep infection.

The Church Speaks On FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

Mass media, of course, exert a vast power in the shaping of public opinion.

What people think on questions of public concern is often influenced by what they read in a newspaper, hear over radio and television, or see at a neighborhood movie. In some cases, these are the chief sources for information on which people make moral, social and political decisions.

It is no wonder, then, that the Church took a long and searching look at the instruments of social communication during the recent Vatican Council. And while affirming a strong belief in freedom of the press, the Council emphasized a moral obligation inherent to such freedom.

"An open and timely revelation of events and affairs," a Council decree said, "provides individuals with a grasp of them which is sustained and considerably detailed. As a result, men can actively contribute to the common good and all can more easily foster the development of the whole civic community."

The Council's decree, however, points out that mis-use of the power of the mass media can be devastatingly destructive. "Slanting" or managing of the news to prejudice the public in favor of a particular point of view, the decree declares, should be scrupulously avoided by those who control the media.

"Each man," the decree asserts, "should strive to form and to voice worthy views on public affairs." To do this, it adds, "requires discriminating reading and viewing as a background to forming and voicing worthy views." Providing such material, the decree concludes, is the moral obligation of all mass media.

"Rightly used," the decree says of all mass media, "they can bring solid nourishment to the human race." But if they are to be properly used, "it is absolutely necessary that all who use them know the norms of morality and apply them faithfully in this field."

If you are engaged in the mass communication field . . . or feel the influence of mass media in the shaping of your own views . . . you'll want to read our new pocket-size pamphlet dealing with the Council's discussion of this vital question. We'll be happy to send you a copy free and without obligation.

Write today. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-62. Nobody will call on you.

Boating Tips...DISTRESS SIGNALS

With today's finely engineered motors and modern boats there's seldom need to summon aid while afloat. Statistics show that the major reason for distress cries is simply "running out of gas."

If you ever find yourself in this embarrassing position, here's how to attract attention, say the Mercury outboard people. If other boats are in sight, stand with your arms spread and move them up and down like a bird's wings. Or you can attach a white shirt to a fish-pole or oar and wave it back and forth above your head.

Some other ways are: signal "SOS" (three dots, three dashes, three dots) with a flashlight; activate one of the smoke flares designed for just such situations; continuously sound any fog-signal apparatus; raise a square flag with a ball or something resembling a ball underneath it; carry emergency flares with you and set one off whenever anyone approaches in a boat or airplane.

Better still, carry enough gas.

Eye Defect May Cause Crooked Spine
DULUTH, Minn.—A child who seems always or frequently to hold his head at a tilt may be signaling an early sign of eye trouble. This warning comes from Duluth physicians, D. E. Dietrich and W. J. Slack, who reported in a recent issue of a medical journal that the tilt may cause scoliosis, or crooked spine.

According to the physicians, the child tilts his head to compensate for an eye defect called diplopia.

In diplopia, the eyes cannot work together to produce a single image. Instead, two images are seen by the afflicted member. Scoliosis as a result of this problem is not rare, the physicians observe.

The emphasize that if the basic problem, the eye disorder, is treated early enough and if the proper posture is instituted, the child's spine may straighten automatically. Sometimes a neckbrace or orthopedic corset might be necessary for a time, but they claim, seldom will more serious measures have to be taken.

Bit Of Bubbly Helps The Aged
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — A sip of wine with meals and before bedtime may pep up old folk enough to enable them to enjoy their meals, calm their fears, help them enjoy a good night's sleep. At least that's the claim made by Chauncey D. Leake, Ph.D., senior lecturer in pharmacology and the history of medicine at the University of California School of Medicine and Milton Silverman, Ph.D., director of medical research, Wine Advisory Board, California State Department of Agriculture.

In a recent article in "Geriatrics" magazine, they maintain that for elderly people who lack appetite or complain about the taste of their food, "wine may have great value both in stimulating appetite and flavoring food."

It is also helpful, they maintain in reducing "their fear, anxiety, loneliness, and real or imagined rejection." They urge moderation and the eating of small amounts of food with the wine so as to "reduce the rate of absorption and produce low but long-lasting concentrations of alcohol in the blood. Since wine (and other alcoholic beverages) may mix poorly with medicines, the pharmacologists recommend that it be taken only with the guidance of a physician.

Youth Queries Reveal Education Need

NEW YORK—Young women today are "begging for help with the art and science of love," according to psychologist Dr. Eleanor Hamilton, who writes regularly in "Bride" magazine, "and when given the chance, there is no hesitancy in asking forthright questions that are far-ranging in depth and scope." She believes that soon boards of education, trustees of schools and churches, college and medical school administrators will be "forced" to include training for marriage in their curriculums.

Here are some of the questions high school girls ask the experts: What effect does kissing have on sex? Is sex immoral? Who is more aggressive in the game of love, boys or girls? What is a girl supposed to do when she has got into trouble with a boy and cannot talk the situation over with her parents? What do you think of forced marriage?

From college age girls come many questions on pre-marital sex, hundreds on birth control, menstruation, pregnancy and menopause.

Young people want help—they don't think they have all the answers, according to Dr. Hamilton. "Youth is banging at our doors," she wrote recently, "wherever courses are given they are flooded with takers."

VORNAY

100% Vectra® Continuous Textured
Filament Olefin Yarn

A MASLAND MATCHMATES CARPET

VORNAY has been specially styled by Masland to add that touch of enduring beauty that will make your home the delight and envy of all who see it. Consider these decorating features:

THE SURFACE: Rich. The texture is thick, heavy, bulky—truly luxurious. VORNAY's soft, graceful surface is a joy for comfort lovers, a perfect base when decorating handsomely with Provincial or Country Casual, spectacularly with Modern, soothingly with Early American.

THE CONSTRUCTION: Excellent. Voluptuous in scale and "hand," random-sheared for an opulent textural effect, VORNAY is built to withstand family wear and tear. Loomed of 100% Vectra® continuous textured filament olefin yarn, that has won so much praise for its stain and soil resistance. Carefree. The jute back assures stability underfoot.

THE COLORS: Solution-dyed; will not fade. Colored to create a lavish effect to enhance even the simplest setting. VORNAY comes in a radiant group of uninhibited two-tone and solid colors—delicate, inspired and crisp. This carpet literally outlaws a let-down when decorating.

THE VALUE: Superior. In VORNAY, Masland has created a lovely and long-lasting floor fashion that will flatter for years. Yet VORNAY is amazingly modest in cost. That's the Magic of Masland Carpets.

Today plan to see lovely VORNAY. From the Masland Matchmates Collection—the only group styled by a woman for women.

Spring Is for Fishin'

In the spring rivers run fast and deep and fishing reaches the height of its popularity. Many boaters rely on light "car-top" boats and small outboards like this six-horsepower Mercury to avoid the shoreline crowds that go with spring angling.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

A fisherman's surest method of taking king-size male bluegills is finding their spawning beds. If the water is clear, it is often possible to locate a bed by wading or easing along the shore-line in a boat or inner tube until a cluster of oval nests on the bottom is spotted. During late afternoons, when the water is calm, it is often possible to locate a bluegill bed by watching for telltale concentrations of swirls or splashes which are made by the big males as they feed and work at their nest digging. When water or weather conditions do not permit spotting of bed locations by these visual methods, they can often be found by test fishing. Once a bluegill bed is located, the angler is fortunate, for the same beds usually are used by the big males in any lake or stream year after year unless levels change appreciably.

Of course, in early spring bluegills may not yet be on the beds, and by late summer they will have left them. Even during spawning periods, the big males will not be on the beds continuously.

If bluegill beds cannot be spotted visually during the spring and early summer months, test fishing should be conducted along bank lines not only in three- or four-foot water, which is most favorable for bedding, but also in both deeper and shallower water. The angler usually will know he has a bed located if he takes several big red-breasted males from the same spot in water three to four feet deep. If, on the other hand, he finds the fastest action in deeper or shallower water at scattered spots along a shoreline and takes a mixture of adult males and females, he will know this is the kind of water he should continue fishing. Of course, during late summer, concentrating your angling efforts in deep water is most likely to produce big adult bluegills.

During the periods when bluegills are not on beds, the hottest fishing spots often are in deep water under overhanging trees or in shallow brush- or grass-choked coves, says Col. Dave Harbour in Sports Afield Magazine. Deep water under overhanging trees attracts big schools of insect-hungry bluegills of all age groups during both prespawning periods in early spring and postspawning periods in late summer. Warm and very shallow brush- or grass-choked coves are preferred by bluegills of all age groups from those spring days when they first leave deep water until spawning activities begin. During spawning periods when adult males are off their beds, they may occupy either deep or shallow water, but will rarely roam more than a hundred yards from the beds.

Survivors Stakes At Pimlico Saturday

Misty Cloud and Gala Performance, who have battled to a draw in four earlier Maryland Fund stakes, head a list of 24 nominees to the $28,750 Survivor Stakes at Pimlico on Saturday, April 15. As the longest and richest event in the five-stakes series designed to establish leadership in the Maryland-bred 3-year-old division, the Survivor will be the last such event on the schedule until November.

The Survivor, at a mile and an eighth, is expected to settle divisional leadership which has been hotly disputed between Misty Cloud and Gala Performance since the first of the year. Misty Cloud, a recent $60,000 purchase by R. S. Reynolds, Jr., drew first blood when he defeated Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Gala Performance in both the E. P. Heagerty and Annapolis Stakes at Bowie.

Gala Performance turned the tables on his rival, however, when he won the subsequent Prince George's Stakes at Bowie. Meeting next in the March 18 Challedon Stakes at Pimlico, Gala Performance again was returned the winner over Misty Cloud. The latter, however, performed with a shoe missing from a hind foot.

Gala Performance and Misty Cloud will not have the Survivor to themselves, however. A pair of strong invaders—Dawn Glory and Gordorigo—are expected to offer keen contention.

Dawn Glory was named 1966 Horse of the Year in Puerto Rico, and scored in the George Washington Handicap at El Camandante before being shipped to Florida. Runner-up in two allowance races at Gulfstream, the Estable Eden colt is due at Pimlico this week.

Plans to run Gordorigo in the Challedon went awry when he became snowbound in New York.

Of proven stakes class, the Florida seasoned Buckland Farm runner won the Marylander Stakes in December, defeating Misty Cloud.

Others prominent among the Survivor nominations include Audrey Davies' Maryland Futurity winner Viking Dancer, Helen Lapinski's Make It Platinum, Locust Hill Farm's Irish Stile and Saul Nadler's much-improved Primo Theo.

Lutheran Women To Meet Saturday

The Spring Assembly of the Frederick District, Maryland Lutheran Church Women, will be held on Saturday, April 15, at Grace-Mt. Zion Lutheran Church, Ladiesburg, Maryland.

The theme for the Assembly will be "Directions and Horizons in Leadership—Membership." The scriptural theme comes from the New English Bible, New Testament, Romans 12:8—"If you are a leader, exert yourself to lead."

Guest for the day will be Mrs. Warren C. Heinley, member of the Board of Directors of the Auxiliary, Lutheran Church Women and immediate past president of the Central Pennsylvania Unit. Others to be there is our own Unit President, Mrs. G. Paul Lotich and chairman of the Unit Committees on Leadership—Membership, Social Ministry, Education and Finance. A "Time to Talk" session will be a time to share problems, to ask questions, and share ideas.

Devotions will be led by the Rev. Eugene Gardner, Pastor of the host church. There will also be an election of a District Chairman.

Registration will begin at 9:15 a.m. and the Assembly will convene at 10 a.m. and continue until 2:30 p.m., with a luncheon break from noon until 1:15 p.m.

Tree Trimmers' Exam Set

The Department of Forests and Parks will conduct an examination for the licensing of tree experts at 10 a.m. Wednesday, April 19, in the State Office Building, Annapolis.

Applications are available at District Offices in Salisbury, Bel Air, LeVale and Laurel. They must be filled out and mailed with a $15 fee to the Annapolis Office of the Department prior to the examination date.

Maryland law requires that all persons engaged in tree trimming operations must be licensed and possess liability and property damage insurance. Violators are subject to prosecution under Chapter 795 of the Annotated Code.

All children are entitled to prompt protection against all forms of neglect, cruelty and exploitation, UNICEF says.

MAKE YOUR KITCHEN MORE EFFICIENT

COOKING UP A CARE-FREE KITCHEN MAY TAKE LESS TIME AND MONEY THAN YOU THINK ONCE YOU KNOW SOME MAJOR TROUBLE SPOTS AND WAYS OF COPING WITH THEM. THESE IDEAS MAY HELP YOU TAKE THE HITCHES OUT OF YOUR KITCHEN:

1. THE KITCHEN, ACCORDING TO EXPERTS, IS OFTEN THE NOISIEST ROOM IN THE HOME BECAUSE OF ITS MANY HARD, SOUND-REFLECTING SURFACES. BUT YOU CAN SAVE YOUR NERVES, AND SPEND LESS THAN YOU THINK IN THE PROCESS BY INSTALLING ACOUSTICAL CEILING TILES WHICH MAY ABSORB UP TO 85% OF THE NOISE.

3. YOU CAN DO AWAY WITH UNNECESSARY ELBOW GREASE IF YOU CHOOSE A MATERIAL FOR WORK SURFACES—AS WELL AS FOR CABINETS—THAT WILL WIPE CLEAN WITH A DAMP CLOTH. ONE, CANADIAN YELLOW BIRCH PLYWOOD, IS STURDY ENOUGH TO RESIST SPLITTING AND IMPACT, AND ADAPTS EASILY TO BUILT-INS LIKE REFRIGERATOR, FREEZER AND DISHWASHER.

2. YOU CAN SAVE STEPS AND TIME IF YOU GROUP YOUR KITCHEN EQUIPMENT AROUND THREE MAJOR WORK STATIONS: PREPARATION CENTER, COOKING CENTER AND CLEAN-UP CENTER. A WALL PEGBOARD FOR HANGING UTENSILS IS MORE THAN A DECORATION—IT SAVES HUNTING AROUND IN DRAWERS FOR OUT-USED ITEMS.

4. YOU CAN INCREASE SHELF CAPACITY BY INSTALLING SUCH INEXPENSIVE DEVICES AS GUIDEWAY RACKS FOR GLASS TUMBLERS; VERTICAL RACKS FOR DISHES; RACKS ATTACHED TO THE UNDERSIDE OF SHELVES, FROM WHICH CUPS CAN BE HUNG; AND LAZY-SUN REVOLVING SHELVES TO KEEP SPICES AND OTHER SEASONINGS EASILY ACCESSIBLE.

HOW TO GET A THOUSAND COMPLIMENTS

For lunch or supper, serve Eggs a la Russe with Wish-Bone Thousand Island Dressing. Or, try Thousand Island Dressing in a thousand different ways. It's that versatile. Originally, Thousand Island was basically a Russian dressing with mayonnaise; then pickle relish was added. Now there are many versions and the newest one is a peppy blend that really pours from the bottle, just introduced by Wish-Bone. Use delicate-colored, mildly tart Wish-Bone Thousand Island Dressing to pep up salads; improve sandwiches; sauce seafoods; start a casserole. You'll get a thousand compliments!

EGGS A LA RUSSE

Lettuce leaves 1/2 cup Wish-Bone Thousand Island Dressing
4 hard-cooked eggs, halved lengthwise 4 pimiento strips
1 can (10 1/2 ounce) asparagus spears, drained

Line a platter with lettuce leaves. On it place egg halves, cut-side down and arrange asparagus in bundles. Spoon Wish-Bone Thousand Island Dressing over eggs. Top asparagus bundles with pimiento strips. Garnish with watercress, if desired. Makes 4 servings.

CHILDHOOD AROUND THE WORLD

You may have worn knitted booties when you were a baby, but Sicilian tots sport wolf-skin shoes! A little Korean girl may play with a doll of bamboo and grass, while the ideal gift for an African child may be a doll carved out of wood.

The greatest gift a child in the poverty-stricken areas of the world can receive is relief from deprivation and destitution. Monetary gifts from Americans help provide food, clothes and medicine for more than 40 million needy men, women and children in 80 countries. War Against Independence

History records the story of a band of courageous English pilgrims who went many years ago to a far-away, uncivilized land and established a British colony. In time they quieted the savage attacks of the be-wildered tribes and began to carve out of the wilderness a future with bright promise for all. As generation followed generation private capital poured into the area to develop the resources, providing jobs, homes, and schools for increasing thousands of the Africans, who had not succeeded in the beginning, in making profitable jobs for themselves.

The Motherland government granted the colony self-rule, and its record of progress, stability, justice and orderly government became a pattern for all underdeveloped regions to observe. Then suddenly, under a variety of pressures, the British government began to make demands upon the colony. Governmental and citizen leaders, and the electorate, considered the demands dangerous to the young nation's future progress and prosperity and a flat denial of self-rule. Great Britain established painful, harmful sanctions and rallied other nations of the world in condemnation and in blockades against this determined little country.

Historic Declaration

The Government of the aggrieved nation met and, with overwhelming support of the citizen leaders and electorate, enacted a historic proclamation of independence which began as follows:

"Whereas in the course of human affairs history has shown that it may become necessary for a people to resolve the political affiliations which have connected them with another people and to assume amongst other nations the separate and equal status to which they are entitled. And whereas in such event a respect for the opinion of mankind requires them to declare to other nations the causes which impel them to assume full responsibility for their own affairs. . ."

And the Proclamation went on, as did the U. S. Declaration of Independence of July 4, 1776, to make its case for sovereign independence.

The Reds At Work

This is the story of little Rhodesia in Southern Africa. It is ironic and some observers say, incredible—that the United States has officially joined in condemning Rhodesia and is supporting the blockade and boycotts designed to bring her to her knees and force reconstruction of her government along lines which for some reason happen to be in close accord with what the Communists want.

The Communists, operating out of Moscow's Kremlin, have agitated the black race against the white race throughout Africa. In Ghana and Guinea and other new African nations they have placed their "man" in power. The Communists in the U. N. are actively seeking to foment a U. N. war against South Africa and Rhodesia which could sweep through the entire continent and place World Communism in a relatively frightening position of power.

Agitating Turmoil

A few months ago I traveled throughout a large area of central Africa, visiting and working and interviewing leading citizens, white and black. In Zambia, next door neighbor of Rhodesia, evidence of Communist activities was widespread. And in the Congo, just to the north, the Reds seem to be biding their time before showing their strong positions. Friends of mine who have watched the political turmoil in central and southern Africa are fearful that the bosses of Soviet Communism, with the U. N. playing their game in Africa, are laughing gleefully over the prospects of overthrowing the Ian Smith Government in Rhodesia, with American power.

Such an overthrow or breakdown due to blockades certainly would constitute a decisive turn in world events—a turn again, for the Communists. A British journalist, writing in the London Daily Telegraph, has exhibited secret memoranda of an organization master-minding an international propaganda campaign against the Republic of Rhodesia, seeking its downfall. In subsequent columns we shall look more deeply into the forces at play in this propaganda and psychological war against Rhodesia, now cold but threatening to become hot, and fateful for the free world.

Selected For Training

Airman Gary L. Deardorff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry J. Deardorff, Fairfield, Pa., has been selected for technical training at Lackland AFB, Tex., as a U. S. Air Force policeman.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland. His new school is part of the Air Training Command which conducts hundreds of specialized courses to provide technically trained personnel for the nation's aerospace force.

Airman Deardorff is a 1966 graduate of Fairfield High School.

ANOTHER BIG HEADACHE

HOW'S YOUR SENSE OF SCENT?

Would you wear an evening gown to the office?

Lower that incredulous eyebrow, young lady, you may be guilty right this moment of wearing nighttime "attire" to your daytime job!

Madame Helene Rochas, President of Parfums Marcel Rochas in Paris, reports that some women have trouble distinguishing between daytime and nighttime scents. She compares exotically-scented nighttime perfumes to martinis—"never, never before 6 P.M."

The best for nine-to-five wear are colognes and toilet waters, worn, if possible, in the same type of fragrance as you wear at night in perfume. Or if you've made home-making your career, perfume can play an important role in keeping the honeymoon in your marriage, if you heed Madame Rochas' suggestions.

Don't wear a perfume your husband doesn't like. If he expresses a dislike for a scent, it's not for you. Display bottles of your favorite scents on your dressing table. Let him know your perfume habits, and holidays and other special occasions will keep you well supplied. Don't overdo a good thing. Madame Rochas compares applying an exotic perfume on an apron hem or a daytime dress to serving a vintage champagne at breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Don't let the multitude of exotic names fool you. Every scent falls into one of seven basic categories. The trick is to figure out which type—floral, woody, spicy, etc.—is best for you.

Experiment with other scents. Perfume habits can be lifetime things, and you may be missing out on perfumes that may be custom-made for your personality and looks. For a sparkling, vivacious beauty, "Madame Rochas," is completely gay and provocative. "Femme"—a fruit-and-floral scent is for the woman who's knowing enough to combine an earthy worldliness with supreme graciousness. For the lady in a ballgown mood, there's "La Rose," a single-floral aura.

Take advantage of your favorite scent. "A drop here and there on pillow cases and bed sheets; a subtle spray directed at the hem of your nightgown, even a touch in your hair," says Madame Rochas, "will imbue the master bedroom with you, you, you!"

Williams Gets

Athletic Honor

The Blue Ridge Catholic League revealed Sunday that Saint Joseph's Junior, Marty Williams, was selected to the First Team All-Star squad, compiling 53 of 60 possible points. Williams led the Saints in practically every offensive phase of the game, averaging 20.5 points per game, and shooting at a 63% from the floor, while leading his team to a third place tie in the league and an overall record of 18-9.

Also chosen were John Sherwin, all-star second team, and Eddie Adelsberger, who received honorable mention. Sherwin, in making the select team for the second straight year, joins Dennis Stahley and John Little as the only players from Saint Joseph's ever to achieve the award more than once. Stahley turned the trick in 1964 and 1965, while Little, along with St. John's of Westminster's Bob Lister, are the only two players in the history of the league to make the squad three times, achieving this in 1961-62-63.

Marty Williams, while scoring 573 points, puts him just 256 points behind John Little's record 1,214 points, a school record. Besides his 573 points of this year, Marty scored 385 points last year as a Sophomore, to give him a total of 958 points going into next year's campaign.

Thomas Johnson

School Dedicated

The principal speaker at the dedication of Governor Thomas Johnson High School held on Sunday, April 9, was Dr. Don Davies, Executive Secretary of the National Education Association's Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards. Dr. Davies spoke of Governor Thomas Johnson High School's participation in his commission's "Year of the Non-Conference." This project is aimed at improving education by finding more efficient and effective ways to organize schools and utilize the talents available in schools and communities.

Dr. Davies discussed the underlying ideas behind the project and proposed several lines of attack upon the problem. He identified Governor Thomas Johnson as embodying many of the characteristics so desirable in promoting learning. Among these are individualization of the instructional program, the assumption of greater responsibility by the student, the emphasis placed upon teaching students to inquire, to think and organize facts. The latter points being especially important in view of the knowledge explosion now occurring.

The local community was praised for its willingness to lead rather than follow in educational matters. Dr. Davies warned of the fear of failure and the necessity of risk-taking in any endeavor which results in progress. In closing he expressed the desire to help in providing every young person with a school as good as Governor Thomas Johnson.

Mrs. Mary Condon Hodgson, president of the Board of Education of Frederick County presided at the ceremonies. She called for local citizens to dedicate themselves to the wise use of educational facilities and asked for support in the provision of the type of educational program which will meet the needs of the community.

Dr. James A. Sensenbaugh, State Superintendent of Schools, stressed the necessity of planning for the needs of the future and illustrated the low cost per pupil year of good facilities when spread over the fifty years projected lifetime of a school building.

Mrs. Hodgson read a letter from the Frederick Chamber of Commerce citing the Board of Education for its vision in planning such a facility and pledging continuing support from local businesses in all of the programs typified by Governor Thomas Johnson High School, vocational, academic and cultural.

Local officials, past and present, were introduced as were many of the people who were responsible for the planning and execution of the school.

An open house was held afterward with guided tours available for visitors.

School Board

Administrators Will Work 12 Months

The Board of Education approved 12 month employment for teachers and associated pay scales Monday at its last scheduled budget meeting.

The board also adopted all of the pay scales proposed by the superintendent of schools, the only substantial part of the over $11 million budget that had not been previously approved.

The administrative salary scale passed by the board will give salary increases of approximately 20 per cent to administrators on the upper portions of the scale.

Administrators had been previously paid at a flat rate over what their individual salary would have been as a classroom teacher on a 10-month basis.

The new administrative scale is based on the 12-month pay scale for teachers plus an additional amount of from $100 for department chairmen and teaching vice principals to $3,100 for the principal of Thomas Johnson High School, the county's only school with over 100 teachers.

Although the board would not release salaries of individual administrators, it gave "hypothetical" examples demonstrated salary increases in the area of $2,000 for some administrators.

Several board members, Richard R. Kline, Haller Best and Chris Matthews, questioned the increases of the administrators.

Dr. John L. Carnochan, Jr., superintendent of schools, explained that the administrators were given the additional increment over the classroom teachers due to their additional responsibilities.

In the case of supervisors, he explained, the present salary scale calls for a flat $2,500 over the amount the administrator would receive as a classroom teacher.

The additional pay he said, compensates for both time—administrators now work 12 months—and responsibility.

When teachers are on the 12-month pay scale, Dr. Carnochan said, administrators must receive compensation for their additional responsibilities.

The board failed to approve one of two additional directors positions requested in the budget.

It approved a new position of director of elementary schools, but failed to approve the position of director of secondary education.

The board reallocated the position under classroom teachers, with the indication that the position would be assigned to TJ in the vocational technical department.

During action on the instructional part of the budget, board president Mrs. Mary C. Hodgson called an executive session.

At the end of the session, the board "confirmed the action taken in executive session."

No statement of that action was given.

Why Weather Changes Skin

Bad, blustery weather and dry indoor heat are a destructive combination. Together, they cause even normal skin to dehydrate and lose natural moisture. Is there a solution?

When bad weather causes normal skin to become extra dry, Pacquin specialists suggest daily use of a lotion for extra dry skin. Creamy, emollient and protective, it helps put moisture back where it belongs and will provide immediate benefits of smoothing and softening. In three household sizes, it is priced from about 39¢ at local stores.

America's first sports car Wins magazine poll award

Chevrolet's Corvette Sting Ray scored a double victory in the 1967 Car and Driver magazine's Reader's Choice poll as it was chosen the world's "best all-around car" of the year. The Corvette was also picked as best GT sports car over 3000cc class for its third double win in the poll. At presentation ceremonies, E. M. Estes, left, Chevrolet general manager, receives the "best all-around car" plaque from Steve Smith, editor. In announcing results of the poll, the magazine observed that the Corvette was "America's first sports car and still leads the way in American automotive engineering."

A Viewpoint

By Thomas C. Callahan

This, fans, is the first time in history that this writer has braved stepping into a swami role prior to a baseball season. The reason lies in the fact that I can't stand picking the other guy. It depresses me.

Except for a brief stint as a White Sox patron, (O Comiskey Park! O Nellie Fox! O 1959!), the Baltimore Orioles have been my champions, even in the second division. But that doesn't mean I wasn't sensitive to never winning. Like Charlie Brown's teammates, I often considered ripping off my bumper sticker and unlocking the jiggly-headed "oriole" from the dash.

But just when things looked blackest, Gus Triandos would park one, or Al Pilarcik would steal a base, or Billy Loes would do something eccentric. The interest was back and what if we did lose?

This year, predictions are dancing in my head because not only am I predicting, but hoping too. Here goes:

In The American League . . .

Harry Brecheen is back, and Hank Bauer gives every indication of willingness to listen to the wiry pitching coach again this season. If manager Bauer is once more wise enough to sit second in affairs of the mound, then the hurling is in the best hands possible. Tendonitis, or something, still has a grip on ace chucker, Steve Barber. The Orioles aren't figuring on much help from the 28-year-old southpaw — labeling any coming around by "number 13" as pure bonus. Dave McNally, a lefty himself, has slipped into the "ace" role. Pacing the Birds in strikeouts last year, Dave was one of the few that had no arm worries, and at 24, "fathers" the kiddie pitchers that also start. Jim Palmer is 21. Wally Bunker 22, and Frank Bertina is 23 today. Rookie Dillman joins homegrown Tom Phoebus and John Miller in rounding out the starters. Ed Watt and World Series sensation, Moe Drabowsky are the "long" relievers and ageless Stu Miller shares the short stuff with knuckler Ed Fisher.

Do you remember last year's world Champs? Well that's your starting nine. There are few new names. Super-Jew, or just plain "supe" is of course Mike Epstein. Where he is, is any man's guess. All rave and shout, "Great future, this boy!", but "where" is undetermined. Trading him would be silly. Making room for him, something else. Expect the bawny, kosher star-to-be to be in Rochester again this year learning to play somewhere that Boog Powell can not.

In that regular nine of last year, keep in mind that again there is a possibility of platooning centerfielder Paul Blair with super-sub Rutsy Snyder. Don't be surprised if Bauer goes both ways with Blair, however, for Paul covets both halves of the pie this year and Snyder could go hungry. A new wrinkle in the batting order is the demotion (if it can be interpreted as one) of Luis Aparicio to second spot in the line-up. Biefary is leading off.

This club is as strong and older than last year's. They've got to be the favorites.

Minnesota was a club that killed you with the bat, but you could kill them back, with your play wooden guns off their pitching staff. Now, Dave Boswell has matured into a real pitcher and Bo Belinski's ex - play-mate Dean Chance has joined him to do some serious pitchin'. But who took that killer bat they used to use? California is who, and they swiped potential-packed hurler Pete Cimino in the bargain. This club has only been improved, and even then only slightly, if Chance has a banner year. He didn't last year, nor the year before, and his spring this year was dastardly.

Detroit was the pick of the majority last year. Stable managing will give them their shot at Baltimore.

The Yanks just weren't a last-place outfit last season on paper. Personnel is still there, and McPhail has seeded the ground for growth. Would you believe 4th or 5th?

My kind of town, Chicago, and though it looks like a collection of Orioles of yesteryear, the Chicago club will be up there. They always have the pitching (Peters & Co.) and they utilize the running game to somehow produce runs. Buford and Agee ('66 rookie-of-the-year) head the base parade. Ex-Bird, (and aren't they all!) Ron Hansen, is rebounding from injuries. They should be up there.

Let's tab Cleveland to head-up the second division, followed by Kansas City, California, Boston and you guessed it, the Senators. Just the spectacle Washington put on scrambling for President Johnson's initial toss at the opener was enough to earmark them for last. They're real losers . . . summer help . . . strictly . . . and what's more they beat the Orioles regularly. I hate them! Next week: The National League

Rocky Ridge 4-H Club Meeting Held

The Rocky Ridge 4-H Club held its monthly meeting recently. The meeting was brought to order and roll call was answered by 55 members. Following the roll call, Chris Skylex gave a demonstration on "Selecting a Good Lamp." Paul David Sharrer also gave a demonstration on "Equipment For Your Lamp."

Debbie Parks gave a report on the 4-H Bake Sale and the date is set for April 29 at the Emmitsburg Fire Hall. Mark Wivell gave a report on basketball. Larry Smith told the club to meet April 30 at the Rocky Ridge Fire Hall so the club can attend 4-H Sunday as one group. Phyllis Wivell gave a report on a previous flower arranging meeting. Ray Thompson told the club of the Tractor Maintenance meeting held for any county boys interested.

The County Sheep and Swine meeting was held earlier and two members from the club were elected officers. Sharon Sharrer, vice president and Debbie Parks was elected to serve as secretary.

Four members from the club attended the Public Speaking contest and the club decided that these members should give their speeches to the club members. Phyllis Wivell and Debbie Parks will give their talks at the next meeting and Vicki Wivell and Mark Wivell to follow.

Jane Bassler gave a report on Dairy Work Shop and nine members attended this. Thomas Keilholz gave a report on the County Beef Tour.

Seven members will attend the State Citizenship Tour to be held Saturday, April 15. Demonstration Day is to be held April 22 and 13 members are going to attend.

After the business meeting was concluded, Miss Doty Smith, a former "I.F.Y.E." Exchange Student, gave an interesting talk on her foreign exchange trip to India. The club members were quite interested and a number of questions were asked concerning her six month trip.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Sharon Sharrer and Chris Skybyx. The next meeting is to be held on May 8, but the time has been changed from 7:30 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Firemen Name Financial Drive Committee

The Vigilant Hose Co. held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, in the Fire Hall. Chief Charles F. Stouter reported the company answered one alarm since the last meeting. Edward E. Pryor was elected by the membership to active status on a six-month probationary period.

Chief Stouter announced that there will be a training practice on Sunday, April 16 at 1 p.m. It was announced that the Frederick County Firemen's Association meeting will be held in Myersville on April 20 at 8 p.m.

The Maryland State Firemen's Association will be held in Frederick on June 21, 22 and 23. Any member who wishes to be a delegate is requested to sign up by the May meeting. The Maryland State Fire Marshal's office has appointed a new investigator for this area. He is Top Barnes. A recent inspection has been made in the town by the Marshal's office.

The Fund Drive Co-Chairmen for the 1967 Fund Drive were announced as Thomas White and Michael Boyle.

Due to Daylight Savings Time, the May meeting will begin at 8:00 p.m. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Taneytown Pool To Open May 30

Opening of the Taneytown Swimming Pool for the season will occur over the Memorial Day weekend, it was decided at a recent meeting of the Town Council.

At the same time, the group took steps to order a fence erected around the tennis and basketball courts in the park and voted to lay out badminton and volleyball courts.

Have you ever wondered why it's so much easier to tell somebody else how to do something than it is to do it yourself?

Nurse Refresher Course Planned

Bon Secours and Franklin Square hospitals in Baltimore will conduct refresher courses for inactive nurses beginning May 1, the Hospital Council of Maryland announced this week.

Mrs. Gertrude Y. Retzer, coordinator for the statewide program, asked those interested in applying to contact Sister Bernard Anthony or Mrs. Ruth Clayton at Bon Secours and Mrs. Ollie McNeil, director of inservice education at Franklin Square. The courses will run through May 19, she said.

Sixty-five nurses have completed the courses at four general hospitals since they began late in January, Mrs. Retzer stated. Three of these hospitals have scheduled second courses and 11 others are beginning courses in April or May, she added.

Farmers' Poverty Program Explained

H. Bryce Hopkins, County Supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration who services Frederick, Washington, Howard and Montgomery Counties, says: "The Economic Opportunity Loan Program which is a part of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, better known as the Poverty Program, is a service available thru the Farmers Home Administration. This service to low income farmer and non-farmer is available in the form of loans for farming or loans to small businesses. While there has been quite a bit of severe criticism aimed by the public regarding other phases of the Economic Opportunity Program, the one part which has had no serious criticism appears to be the one least used but one that is available to many worthy low income people who no doubt could qualify for a loan.

The purpose of the Economic Opportunity Loan is to help low income people to obtain a higher level of living by putting their talents to work as a means of extra income. For example, a wife or husband might by handy as a seamstress or a carpenter, but they need funds to secure a sewing machine or tools to accomplish the work. This is where the FHA can make a loan to get them into business. (There are many other examples where talents can be used.) Loan repayments can be scheduled for periods up to 15 years and interest rate is 4 1/8 per cent. This type of loan can also be made to low income farmers too, provided they have an operation which has a reasonable chance of succeeding."

Information on obtaining these loans or applications can be gotten at Winchester Hall, Frederick, Maryland.

Mount Trackmen Register Wins

Tom Newberger and Bill Walsh registered triple victories in leading the Mt. St. Mary's College track squad to a decisive 95-38 victory over Shippensburg State College Tuesday afternoon here.

Newberger won the 100-yard dash, 120 high hurdles and broad jump. He also placed second in the triple jump and 220 dash, and was a member of the winning 440 relay team.

Walsh won the high jump, triple jump and pole vault while placing second in the discus.

The Mountaineers captured 11 first places in the 15-event clash. Milt Deitch took the two-mile race for Shippensburg and set a school mark for his team in 9:53.

Mt. St. Mary's will meet American and Georgetown in a triangular clash here Saturday afternoon.

Do Well In Colonial Relays

Mt. St. Mary's College trackmen turned in fine performances in the Colonial Relays at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va., Saturday.

The Mounties' mile relay team of Tom Newberger, Bob Keogh, Joe Breamer and Bill Klimas won the college division event in 3:21 with West Chester second, Norfolk State third and Virginia State fourth.

Tom Newberger jumped 22'1 1/4" in the broad jump to tie for first place but under NCAA rules was placed second when his second-best jump was used in determining the winner.

Mike Kearney threw his longest discus toss of the season, 134'7 1/2", to gain a sixth place.

The American Cancer Society says about 14,000 women died of uterine cancer in 1966, most of them of uterine cervical cancer. But if all women would have annual 'Pap' tests, uterine cervical cancer, as a cause of death, could be virtually eliminated.

Boating Tips...

NAUTICAL TERMS

Every good boater should recognize and use the colorful and traditional language of the sea. Without a command of basic nautical vocabulary the would-be boater dooms himself to the classification of "landlubber." To help prevent this calamity the Mercury outboard experts developed the above illustration to identify the proper nomenclature for an outboard boat. Gunwale is pronounced "gunnel."
