BY ABIGAIL

Farmers in this area are wearing happy smiles these days as the fine gentle rains continue on an almost normal pattern after five consecutive years of really severe drought. Everyone is remarking how well the gardens and field crops are progressing this year, and they really do look good folks, so let's hope we're back in the normal rain cycle once again. Many farmers were hard hit financially during the prolonged drought and once again they feel they have a firm footing and full control of their farms. Crops should develop in bumper proportions this fall and just in time to help the outrageous inflationary prices we are now paying for just about everything we use, buy, wear or eat. Remember just about this time last year we were facing a real emergency and were pumping water from Toms Creek up the mountain to the reservoirs. Not so, so far this year. We have ample supplies and there hasn't been a sprinkling ban or any other restrictions on the use of water. Ah, it really feels good to get back to normal living once again.

From the mail sack this week comes an interesting letter which is published below:

Dear Abigail:

Your remarks in last week's column commending the VFW for its fine display of flags on Independence Day, reminds me to write to you concerning another date which our town ought to celebrate in a special way.

As you know the Town of Frederick celebrates Reunification Day each year on the Anniversary of the County Court's action in renouncing the infamous Stamp Act imposed on us by the English Parliament. It seems to me that Emmitsburg should in like manner, and by proclamation of its Town Council, celebrate August 28th each year in some similar manner. This date is significant in two respects. First it is the birthday of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton, to whom this Town will always remain indebted; and second, it is the anniversary of the Tom's Creek Resolves, a document of great daring and historical significance that was signed on August 28, 1770, and in which the residents of this community, including such notables as William Elder and Charles Carroll of Carrollton, solemnly affirmed and declared their rights to Religious Freedom as first set forth in the Magna Charter.

Thus to make August 28 a town holiday would serve alike the patriotic cause of religious freedom, and in a small way express our thankfulness to God for that great and saintly woman who once walked these very streets in charity and the service of true religion.

Pat McGucken
P.S.—I suggest further that this proposed holiday be proclaimed "Religious Freedom Day."

Kiddies really enjoyed themselves last Sunday at the fishing rodeo sponsored by the local Lions Club. Over 600 bluegills were stocked in the farm pond and one kiddie caught 35 in 45 minutes. There was a lot of room left for more kiddies but with the weather the way it is I suppose swimming was more appealing than fishing. Anyway, the Lions were pleased with the results and undoubtedly will make the affair an annual one.

Harman Services Held

Funeral services for Daniel Franklin Harman, 69, who died last Wednesday evening at his home, Taneytown Rd., were held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock from the Incarnation United Church of Christ in Emmitsburg with the Rev. John C. Chatlos, officiating. Interment was made in Mountainview Cemetery, Emmitsburg. The pallbearers were Fred Wolfe, Alvey Kline, Harry Swomley, Donald and Allen Crouse, and Eric Glass. Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Carrie Hill, mother of Mrs. Walter F. Crouse, underwent major surgery Monday at the Chambersburg, Pa. Hospital.

Ben Shuff Guides Destiny Of County's Largest Bank

The Farmers and Mechanics National Bank, Frederick, Md., celebrated its Sesqui-Centennial Anniversary with a dinner at the Peter Pan Inn on June 28. Over 100 guests attended, including the directors and top officers of the Main Office, and members of the Advisory Boards and officers of the nine branch offices, as well as representatives of many banks throughout Maryland, District of Columbia, New York, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, the president and vice president of the Maryland Bankers Association, the Controller of Currency of the United States, representatives of the Federal Reserve Bank and prominent local business and civic leaders and their wives.

Mr. Benjamin L. Shuff, President of the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank, welcomed the guests and affectionately referred to the Bank as a family which has had three generations of approximately fifty years each. Mr. Shuff pointed out that, "The ideals, the aims, and the traditions of service have been handed down from one banking generation to another."

Mr. Shuff stressed that every employee knows that he can look upon his job as the beginning of a banking career, emphasizing the warmth and friendliness of the Bank toward its employees.

"While we have had some mighty stormy weather in the past 150 years, and of all the Bank's achievements, I am most proud of the fact that a great number of people sought—and found—shelter under the umbrella of the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank," Mr. Shuff added.

The principle address was delivered by United States Senator Mark Hatfield. Congressman Charles Mac Mathias, Jr., was Toastmaster, and Mr. Louis F. Cahn, author of the Bank's "Sesqui-Centennial History," spoke on Banks are People. The program concluded with the distribution of the handsomely bound, 48-page history which traced the development of the Bank from its establishment in 1817 as a "Pay and Receipt" Office of the Bank of Westminister to its present status as one of the ranking banks of the United States, with assets exceeding $90,000,000.

During its entire history, the Bank has enjoyed continuous management, and has never closed except on holidays. For 150 years the main office has been located on the corner of Market Street and Second, one of the few institutions—banking or otherwise—in the entire nation which has done

Elderly Property Owners Entitled To Tax Break By County

The president of the Frederick County Commissioners warned all taxpayers over 65 years of age who may qualify for tax credits to apply for the credit before they pay their taxes.

"You've got to show the credit slip, showing how much credit you're entitled to, before you pay your taxes," said board president, Charles E. Collins.

"We can't give the credit to someone who's already paid the full amount of his tax. We've had two or three cases so far

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gochenour and children, Cooky, Dave and Debbie, and Mrs. John Dick, spent a week in Florida visiting their brother, Merle Gochenour and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Sprague and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hawk, are resorting at the L. R. Sprague cottage on Lake Mitchell near Cadillac, Michigan.

TOWN COUNCIL WOULD EXPEDITE LOCAL PROJECTS

A request by a local citizen to consider the installation of several park-type benches around the Square was denied at the regular meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners held Monday night in the Town Office. The full Board was present and the meeting was presided over by the Board Chairman, Quinn F. Topper.

The idea behind the bench proposal was to afford a resting opportunity for elderly citizens making their daily trek to the Post Office and also people waiting for busses on the Square. The proposal was discussed and turned down for the time being.

A large portion of the meeting was devoted to the discussion of incompleted projects such as the new water line on the Waynesboro Road, Washington Street development, sidewalk grades, etc. Mayor Guy A. Baker, Jr., was authorized to contact the town's engineers in an effort to expedite the work on these projects which have been hanging fire for a number of months.

L. Michael Boyle appeared before the Council and asked for an established sidewalk grade and complaints from residents on DePaul Street have been received regarding the trailers lodged in the area. Mayor Baker said that 20 m.p.h. speed signs would be installed on DePaul Street in the near future, along with several other safety signs.

Extension of existing sewer lines in the Federal Avenue area were discussed but no action taken at this time. Council discussed the repairing and resurfacing of several of the Town's streets and it was decided to ask bids on the work to be done.

Information on possible sewer line extension out the Mountain Road was sought by a property owner in that section. It is understood that several building lots in that area have been sold and the purchasers are considering building homes there but must have sewer lines available. The matter is under advisement.

ROY SANDERS

G. Roy Sanders, well-known Emmitsburg farmer, died Tuesday afternoon at his home, Route 2, after an illness of two and a half years. He was aged 64.

Mr. Sanders was born in Frederick County and lived his entire life here.

The son of the late George Sanders and Emma Brown Sanders, he is survived by his wife, Erma Null Sanders, and three sons, James H., David A. and Wayne E. Sanders, all of Emmitsburg.

Also surviving are two brothers, Robert Sanders of Emmitsburg, and Richard Sanders of California, and two sisters, Mrs. James Adelsberger of Emmitsburg, and Mrs. Patrick Owens of Herald Harbor, Md.

Mr. Sanders was a member of Elias Lutheran Church of Emmitsburg, attended the men's bible class at the church and belonged to the Harney Fire Department.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Friday) at 2 o'clock at the Elias Lutheran Church with the Rev. Ronald Fearer and Rev. Philip Bower officiating. Interment will be in the Mountainview Cemetery, Emmitsburg. Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, is in charge of arrangements.

Little League

All-Stars Named

The Little League All-Star Tournament for District 2 will pair Sykesville at Emmitsburg on Monday, July 24, Thomas Harbaugh, director, announced this week. Additional plans and names of the local All-Stars will be reported in this newspaper next week.

Walkersville Will Fluoridate Water

Walkersville Town officials have agreed to purchase two fluoridation machines for the community's water system at a total cost of $1,100.

Norman Green, public works superintendent, said the State Health Department had checked the town's system and approved the use of fluoridation.

The two machines should be installed and in operation near the end of October.

In other action, the commissioners agreed that citizens of Walkersville 65 years or over who do not have a yearly gross household income of more than $1800 can receive a tax credit of $10.

An estimated 2½ million youth are now engaged in some phase of 4-H work.

Lions Club Fishing Rodeo Draws Large Crowd

ACTION GALORE—Photo shows a small portion of the group of interested fishermen who participated in the Lions Club Fishing Rodeo last Sunday at Senter's pond near Toll Gate Hill.

DIVISION CHAMPS—Winners of the rodeo are shown above holding prize money and the fish they caught. Martha Slemmer, left, in the 7-11 age group, won prizes for the biggest fish and the most caught. Nevin Topper, beside her, won the prize for the smallest fish. Gary Stouter, 12-15 age group, caught the most (35) and also the biggest and Mike Myers, wearing cap, nabbed the smallest. The Stouter twins, Bret and Bart, far right, 1-6 age group, won prizes for the most caught, the biggest and smallest.

VFW Auxiliary Plans Birthday Celebration July 15

At the regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars Thursday, 28 members were present. Communications were read and committee reports were given by respective chairmen. Etta Mae Norris reported on the final arrangements for the 20th Birthday Party to be held Saturday, July 15 in the Post Home.

A food and rummage sale will be held in the Fire Hall on September 16. Plans for a penny night to be held in the Auxiliary rooms were discussed and the date will be decided at the next meeting. It was announced that a wedding reception will be catered August 5.

The refreshment committee for August will be Gloria Martin and Rita Byard. The draw prize was won by Evelyn Ott.

Nuns Attending Summer School

Approximately 50 nuns from the motherhouse of the Sisters of St. Francis, Glen Riddle, Pa., are participating in a summer school session being conducted at Mount St. Mary's College. This summer school program was inaugurated in 1931 to assist the Sisters in their endeavor toward teaching certification.

In addition to the course work taken at the Mount during the summer sessions the Sisters also attend other institutions during the year with course credits transferred to the Mount which awards the bachelor of science in education upon the completion of all academic requirements.

During the past decade nearly 100 have received their degrees from Mt. St. Mary's.

Popsicle Sticks

Needed For Patients

It's ice cream stick time again—and these tiny sticks are badly needed by the tuberculosis patients at Mt. Wilson Hospital.

In years past, many Frederick Countians have been most kind and generous in collecting ice cream sticks for the patients to make lamps, small chests, flower boxes, jewel boxes and many other useful and attractive items.

All that you are asked to do is collect the sticks, wash them in hot soapy water and bring them to the office of the Frederick County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association, 118 West Church St., Frederick. We will see that the sticks are delivered to the hospital.

Any amount, no matter how small, will be appreciated by those who are confined to the hospital with TB for a long period of time.

The green 4-leaf clover with white H's in each leaf is the national emblem of 4-H Clubs.

County Teacher Shortage Looms

There are almost twice as many teaching vacancies in Frederick County Schools now than there were at the same time last year, the Board of Education was told this week.

Dr. Donald Koons, director of personnel, said there are 47 vacancies as compared to 24 last year at this time.

Thirteen of these are in the high schools, only four more than last year. But the total in the elementary schools is 23, almost double that of last year.

"I think I'll be successful in filling the high school vacancies," Koons said. But the 23 vacancies in the elementary schools bother me. In order to fill them we may have to hire people without college degrees."

There were 141 vacancies this year as compared to 125 last, Koons said. But 46 new teachers have signed contracts and 48 have had contracts offered to them, leaving 47 spots unfilled.

Last year at this time there were 73 under contract and 27 contracts offered.

Koons said one of the reasons for the trouble was because the budget was approved so late this year and this hindered the recruitment program.

Commissioner Charles Collins, who was at the meeting, said he hopes to have the budget approved at least a month earlier next year.

The 1967 National 4-H Week will be observed Sept. 30 through Oct. 7.

Early Morning Crash Injures Seven At Zora Intersection

Seven persons were taken to the Warner Hospital for treatment after four vehicles were involved in a collision at 12:10 Saturday morning at the Zora intersection. Five required treatment, physicians found upon arrival of the Emmitsburg VFW and Gettysburg ambulances and a private auto with the injured.

Most seriously hurt was Mary E. Flohr, 21, Fairfield R1, who was admitted as a patient.

John L. Hill, 22, of Petersburg, Va., a soldier stationed at Fort Ritchie, suffered a laceration of the scalp and contusions of the forehead in the accident.

State Police said Hill was driving on Route 16, the Emmitsburg-Blue Ridge Summit Rd. when he fell asleep near the intersection with Route 116, the Zora to Fairfield Road.

According to the officer's report, Hill's car left the highway and struck the halted car of Jackie Guy Myers, 24, Fairfield R2, causing $400 damage to that car. The Hill vehicle then went back on the road and struck a car of Betty Jane Bowman, Blue Ridge Summit, demolishing that 1954 vehicle and then struck the 1954 truck of Mary E. Flohr, demol-

Lions Club Plans Another Community Auction This Fall

The fishing rodeo held last Sunday was reported a huge success at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday night in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Ralph Tabler presiding.

Lion William Slemmer, chairman of the rodeo, estimated nearly 100 kiddies participated in the event.

Lion Ralph McDonnell reported the horse show jumping equipment has been sold to Mrs. Ruth Eyler, Thurmont, for $150. The club discontinued holding its annual show about five years ago. Another Community Auction was discussed and plans are being mapped out to hold another sale sometime in September.

The annual picnic of the club will be held on Monday, August 28, it was decided.

Will Conduct Seminary Workshop

From Sunday, August 27, thru Wednesday, August 30, under the direction of Rev. Dr. Thomas G. Smith, spiritual director at Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, a spiritual director's workshop will be conducted there.

The theme of the three-day session will be "Spirituality in the Diocesan Seminary." Participants will arrive on Sunday evening for an informal get-acquainted session while the next three days will be devoted to study and prayer.

The Hill car continued on into the parking lot at the Weikert gasoline station and finally came to a halt after breaking off a porch pillar at the Weikert station. Hill's 1958 car was listed as demolished.

Margaret Staley, 51, Gettysburg, a passenger in Mrs. Flohr's pickup truck was treated at the hospital for a cut left ear and bruises, cuts and abrasions of the leg. Donald Flohr, aged five, Fairfield R1, a passenger in the Flohr vehicle, was treated for brushburns of the face, lacerations of the head and brushburns of the legs. His three-year-old sister, Bonnie Flohr, who also was removed to the hospital, was found to be uninjured.

Violet Stouter, 15, Emmitsburg, was treated for contusions of the left knee. She was a passenger in the car operated by Betty Jane Bowman. Tina Marie Bowman, aged four, Blue Ridge Summit, an occupant of the Bowman car, was removed to the Warner Hospital but physicians found her uninjured. Other occupants of the Bowman auto included Richard Bowman, eight; Randy Lee Bowman, two, and Sterling Speelman, 23, Gettysburg R6.

ON THE DOUBLE—Ronald Stouter and Ernie Rosensteel are shown busily engaged baiting hooks for the youngsters as they enjoyed themselves at the fishing rodeo last Sunday afternoon.

HUBBARD—HEFFNER

Miss Linda Jean Heffner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Heffner, Taylorsville, became the bride of Charles Robert Hubbard, son of Mrs. Marie Hubbard, Federal Ave., and the late Charles Hubbard, at 11 a.m. May 27, in a nuptial Mass at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Francis Stauble.

The altar was decorated with identical colonial bouquets. Music was played by the church organist, Mrs. Louis Rosensteel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white A-line street-length dress. Her shoulder-length veil of imported silk illusion fell from a headpiece of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white prayer book decorated with a white orchid surrounded by Stephanotis and white satin ribbon.

Miss Patricia Hubbard, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She wore a blue street-length dress with matching headpiece and butterfly veil. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and pink carnations.

Roland Hubbard, brother of the groom, was best man. Mark Gelwicks and Joseph Gelwicks, both of Emmitsburg, were ushers.

The bride's step-mother wore a blue dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a green knit suit with white accessories and orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 100 people was held at the VFW Annex, Emmitsburg. After a honeymoon to Virginia, the couple returned to their newly furnished apartment in Frederick.

Out-of-town guests were from Frederick, Chevy Chase, Baltimore, Westminster and Reisterstown.

The bride is employed at Government Employees Insurance Co., Chevy Chase. The groom, a 1961 graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, is employed by Moore Business Forms, Thurmont.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A surprise birthday party was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dick in honor of their daughter, Debbie's 16th birthday.

Those present were: Kermit Downs, Shirley and Jeffrey Weirman, Larry Snyder, Joe Topper, Shirley Sheeley, Doug Adams, Colleen Hewitt, Chuck Wastler, Marlene and Darlene Glass, Paul Baumgardner, David Wantz, Mary Ellen Hobbs and Gene Martin, all of Emmitsburg; and Jimmy Hess and Denny Wastler, Littlestown.

Miss Dick received many lovely gifts. Refreshments were served and games played.

Serving in Marines

Forrest E. Knipple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde V. Knipple, Emmitsburg, has enlisted in the U. S. Marines and is stationed at Parris Island, S. C.

Friends may write him at this address: Pvt. Forrest E. Knipple, 2365638, Platoon 298, Co. D, 2nd Bn. MCRD, Parris Island, South Carolina 29905.

Church School Is Well-Attended

The Emmitsburg Council of Churches has announced that the Vacation Church School, held the latter part of June, had a total enrollment of 138 pupils with 111 pupils receiving perfect attendance certificates. The theme for the school and the course of study,

"The God I Love," provided an opportunity for each class to learn about God's love and our response to Him.

Last year the pupils adopted a Korean boy to support throughout the year and this year decided to continue with their support. The six-year-old, Yoon Han Kwon, lives at the Incheon Appenzeller Children's Home. Due to the support of the local Vacation Church School pupils, this Korean boy receives clothing, shelter, education, food and medical attention. Many in the various Churches of the community have been corresponding with Yoon and have learned that he is pleased to hear from his Emmitsburg friends.

The Coordinator for the school was Miss Mary J. Zimmerman. Bus transportation was provided by Mrs. Herbert Rohrbaugh, Mr. William Strickhouser and Mr. Robert Saylor. Serving as a general worker was Luther Zimmerman.

A picnic for the pupils and staff members was held the last day of the school. Traditional picnic fare was enjoyed by the pupils attending. Mrs. Charles McNair provided iced tea and Mr. Harry Swomley provided ice cream for the group. Planning the picnic were Mrs. Donald Eyer, Chairman; Mrs. Rebecca Gingell, Mrs. Ann Gingell, Mrs. Pauline Seabrook, Mrs. Hazel Caldwell and Mrs. Melva Hardman.

The teaching staff included the following: Nursery, Mrs. Shirley Smith, Miss Beverly Davis, Miss Tina Saylor, Miss Mollie Copenhaver, Mrs. Warren Bentz and Mrs. Richard Toms; Kindergarten, Miss Carolyn Umbel, Mrs. Robert Keilholtz, Mrs. Albert Leary, Miss Susan Crouse and Miss Wanda Meadows; Primary, Mrs. Naomi Brewer, Miss Harriet Harner, Miss Glenda McGlaughlin, Miss Sharon Ohler; Junior, Mrs. Wilson Franklin, Miss Audrey Baumgardner; Junior High, Rev. John Chatlos and Rev. King Duncan. Serving as substitute teachers and helping with crafts and audio-visual materials were Mrs. John Chatlos and Mrs. Ronald Fearer.

Pastor Ronald Fearer taught a School of Religion Course entitled, "Love, Sex and Life," to senior high school students, who met each morning in Incarnation Church. This course of study sought to discover the Christian attitude toward sex and love. Although not a part of the Vacation Church School, the group did meet for an hour and a half each morning during the two weeks.

BABSON

Writes . . .

Babson's Point Of View On:
The Futility Of War
BABSON PARK, Mass., July 13 — The Arab-Israeli War of 1967 lasted less than a week. Although Israeli casualties were amazingly low, Arab dead and wounded mounted to the tens of thousands. Israel's out-of-pocket costs are estimated at $800 million, while the cost to the Arab nations must surely be reckoned in billions. While this may still not convince us of the complete futility of war, it should at least drive home the fact that even little wars are too expensive to tolerate. Cost Is Prohibitive

Israel and the Arab nations are poles apart on many issues, but surely their estrangement is no greater than that between the victors and the vanquished in World War II who found a way to rise above their animosities and work together for the reconstruction of their homelands. What the Israeli and their Arab neighbors do have in common are problems of inflation, heavy defense burdens, irrigation costs, difficulties of reclaiming the desert and making it productive, and the need to lift the regional economy from the backwardness in which it is still immersed.

Both Israel and the Arab world must be appalled at the cost of the recent war, which has created more problems than it has solved and which has left both sides poorer by far than before it began. Hopefully, from the experience of this war, the great powers—the United States and the Soviet Union—have learned that even for them small wars are too costly. Middle East

Since the very dawn of human history, the Middle East has repeatedly been an area of conflict. What we have witnessed in recent weeks was the rekindling of some very ancient enmities, with the fire fanned by extremist groups on both sides as well as by forces from outside the region. At this moment, peace in the area is no more than a cease-fire, and the world community cannot yet rest secure in the knowledge that wider war in the Middle East—involving the great and middle powers—may not still break out.

Neither the Israeli, heady with victory, nor the Arabs, still proud and vituperative in their defeat, seem ready to come to grips with the issues that divide them. But when tempers have cooled, perhaps a wider realization of the futility of war will lead to a meaningful agreement for coexistence, an agreement that will encompass Arab recognition of Israel's statehood and Israeli recognition of its obligations to help provide for resettlement of the Palestinian refugees.

Korea And Vietnam
There are lessons aplenty to be learned by the United States, the Soviet Union, and Red China from the Middle East War. In Vietnam, the United States is deeply involved in a military action that commands the presence of nearly half a million young military personnel. Its dollar cost to us threatens to rival that of World War II on a month-to-month basis. In Korea, we still maintain a large police - keeping force to safeguard an unnatural partition.

Admittedly, there is slim prospect of an early end to the Vietnam War, much less of a more wholesome and constructive solution in Korea. But the Arab debacle could well lead to some different attitudes in coming weeks and months. At any rate, new U. S. diplomatic feelers ought to be put out if only to make sure that no chance for negotiation—and ultimate peace—is missed.

Big Powers Not Paramount
Each of us looks out upon the world from the centrality of his own position, falsely assuming that he is located at the hub of the universe. And so it is with nations, too. The fact is . . . we live in a polycentric world in which—for all their armed might, their manpower, and their wealth—the two great powers are not paramount. Their new awareness of the limits of their power just could convince them of the futility of war and lead them into productive co-operation.

Lions Clubs Contribute To Eye Bank

Maryland's Lions Clubs have contributed more than $13,000 to the Medical Eye Bank of Maryland during the last year, according to Robert W. Catzan, chairman of the Eye Bank's Board of Advisors.

The Maryland Eye Bank is one of a network of some 70 organizations in the United States which coordinate the collection of eye tissue from deceased persons for the use by ophthalmologists in restoring the sight of people with certain kinds of blindness.

Three hundred and ten eyes were received by the Maryland Bank last year, according to Mr. Catzan. Most were used for operations in local hospitals, but many were flown for emergency use to other locations, including a military hospital in Japan for treatment of Vietnam casualties.

Mr. Catzan said that eye tissue is donated—it may not be bought or sold—and that the operations of the non-profit organization are financed by contributions.

During the past 12 months, the Lions Clubs of District 22A, which comprises the greater Baltimore area, contributed $7,498.76; the Lions Clubs of District 22B, on the Eastern Shore, contributed $3,435.00; and the Lions Club of District 22W, in Western Maryland, contributed $2,711.08 to the Eye Bank.

Ever since the early 1900's, 4-H Clubs have made it possible for millions of boys and girls to learn useful skills and crafts.

Any boy or girl between 9 and 19 years of age can participate in 4-H.

About 400,000 men and women throughout the 50 states volunteer as 4-H leaders and serve as project leaders.

Wedding In Malaysia

Malaysia's colorful traditional wedding ceremonies of its three main component communities (Malay, Chinese and Indian), will be featured in an Ideal Home Exhibition to be in Kuala Lumpur in connection with the large-scale 10th anniversary celebration of Malaysia's independence on August 31 this year. Photo shows tableau, a permanent exhibit at the National Museum, depicting the "Bersanding" (sitting in state of the bridal couple) ceremony at a Malay wedding.

The Exhibition featuring different types of home interiors will be presented by the Young Women's Christian Association in conjunction with International Tourist Year.

To be held at the National Stadium Negara from July 8-14, it will also include cooking demonstrations on Malaysian recipes and party fare.

Demonstrations will also be given of the Malaysian creative arts such as batik painting, fabric design, weaving, brush painting, beaten metal work, prints, pottery, ceramics and flower arranging.

Hello Neighbor by Betty Crocker

A new neighbor to welcome? That calls for a coffee party with the girls. Now when you reach for the pot, once more for review, the coffee maker's pledge: "a clean pot, fresh cold water from the tap, accurate measurements." For the occasion, use your fanciest cups — maybe lined with spoonfuls of creamy, sweetened meringue. That's Belgian Coffee, remember? And for the "scrumptious" department, go ahead, be gay — try French Quarter Beignets. Mine are tiny square-shaped donuts, a simplified version of the New Orleans original. Don't let the length of the recipe scare you. It's not all that hard. Besides, you do want to impress your new friend.

FRENCH QUARTER BEIGNETS

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup mashed Potato Buds
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup boiling water
3 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
3 cups Bisquick
1 teaspoon nutmeg
Salad oil
Orange Glaze (below)

Stir Potato Buds into water with fork until moistened; whip until fluffy. Set aside to cool completely. In large mixer bowl, beat eggs until fluffy. Beat in sugar and shortening at medium speed. Add mashed potatoes; beat on low speed until smooth. Add Bisquick and nutmeg and beat until mixture is smooth. Cover and refrigerate 2 to 3 hours. Heat salad oil (3 to 4 inches deep) in heavy saucepan or deep fat fryer to 375°. Divide dough in half. Roll one half at a time to $\frac{3}{4}$ " thick on floured surface. Keep remainder in refrigerator until ready to roll out. Cut dough into 2-inch squares. Drop squares, 3 or 4 at a time, into hot oil. Fry about 1 minute on each side or until golden brown. Lift from oil with slotted spoon; drain on paper towels. While warm, top with Orange Glaze or, if desired, sprinkle with confectioners' sugar. Makes 4 dozen squares. Orange Glaze: Mix 1 cup confectioners' sugar, 1 teaspoon grated orange peel and 2 teaspoons orange juice until smooth.

Note that cubes of bread brown in 375° fat in 60 seconds. Use a deep fat thermometer for best temperature control. . . Now, let's get the show on the road. Set the date and call the girls for "coffee."

awarded to horse owners at the Downs.

The meet will run through September 24—42 nights in all, and subject to the approval of the Maryland Racing Commission, the track will not operate Wednesday, July 26, in deference to the Delaware State Fair and on Thursday, August 24.

The track has made several improvements in the grandstand for the comfort of the race fans and the stables have been repainted, this time white with blue trim.

A new caterer will be in charge of the food in the Club Terrace and will operate the concession stands. The Berlo Company of Philadelphia, food purveyors at many tracks from coast to coast, has signed a long-time contract with Ocean Downs.

It will be Ladies Night again every Tuesday and the fair sex will be admitted for the state tax of 15 cents each.

Ocean Downs will offer the customary Daily Double but not the Quinella, a form of wagering where the better has to pick two horses in one race to finish 1-2, or 2-1.

Cash awards to drivers amounting to over $3,700 will be made during the course of the meet and at the conclusion. Each week $250 will be awarded to the top three drivers and at the end the top five drivers with the highest in-the-money percentage will get checks for $1,000, $600, $250, $100 and $50.

Johnny Amato, Rodney Warren and Roscoe Rodgers took the three top awards last year and each is ready to go after the cash awards this week.

Track officials are anticipating another successful season even though some tracks this year are down in the wagering.

Strangely, it has been the larger tracks that have tended to be off in the wagering department, but the smaller tracks have shown a remarkable increase.

Chairman of the Board, J. C. Robinson, last week said: "We have raised the minimum purse from $500 to $550. We are the only trotting track in Maryland to raise its smallest purse. We have plenty of horses and our aim is to produce close, interesting racing so that everyone will get a good run for his money."

The Del-Mar-Va stakes for 2-year-olds and 3-year-olds will be raced the first full week in August. The number of colts still eligible is larger than in any previous year, indicating substantially higher purses and a better grade of horses.

The nine-race card each night will start at the usual 8:30 post time for the first race and the daily double will close at 8:20.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

The traditional summer vacation of the American family is highly recommended by your doctor. The family needs to get away from customary home and office chores, forget day-to-day worries for a short time and generally get rejuvenated and ready to face another year.

Whether your vacation will be a short trip to a nearby lake, camping out in a national park, a plane trip abroad, or what have you, there are a few things to keep in mind that will help avoid having the holiday spoiled by illness.

Depending on where you're going, you may need some vaccination shots. Tetanus, certainly, for anyone who expects to include some out-of-doors activities. Typhoid, if your journey includes areas where the water supply is uncertain. Small-pox, if you're planning to leave the United States to visit a foreign land. Ask your doctor about these, and possibly other, immunizations.

NO. 21,601 EQUITY IN THE
CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this Bill of Complaint is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Phyllis M. Patterson, from the Defendant, Preston P. Patterson.

The Bill states in substance that the Complainant, Phyllis M. Patterson, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, Preston P. Patterson, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and when last heard from was residing c/o Mr. Patrick Thompson, Westchester Road, Route #3, Westchester, Pa.

The Bill further states that the Complainant and the Defendant were married on December 31, 1957, at Frederick, Maryland, by Rev. Williams, a duly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage no children were born; that the Complainant and the Defendant have voluntarily lived separate and apart without cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of the Bill of Complaint; and that such separation is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation. The Bill prays that the Complainant, Phyllis M. Patterson, may be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Preston P. Patterson, and that the Complainant may be granted such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF THE COURT

It is thereupon ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, on this 29th day of June, 1967, that the Complainant, Phyllis M. Patterson, by Order of Publication of this Court to be inserted in some newspaper published in Frederick County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks on or before the 5th day of August, 1967, giving notice to the said Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 5th day of September, 1967, and show cause, if any he has why the Decree should be passed as prayed therein.

Butterflies brilliant in a garden, fireflies flickering like lanterns — children watch them with wonder.

Earth's small creatures are all so different, one from another, that adults often can't answer the questions that come up. How do they live? How long? What do they eat? Where do they go?

A book a child can turn to is Insects In Our World, part of a World Library series from Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin. Books of this kind, at the counters of variety stores, have been written by scientists especially for youngsters but adults find them fascinating too.

"For some strange reason man simply has to pigeonhole things and give them names," the book narrates easily. "This is true whether one is talking about stars, books in a library, stamps, or clothes. Classification serves a good purpose, however, for it is a means by which we can save ourselves from having to remember a great many details." The pages explain how insects are classified. Colorful illustrations help.

The child will mull over the questions raised. Can an insect think? Does he learn by experience? How does an insect hatchling from an egg know what to do next? Even the day-dreamer finds himself looking for answers as he lies under a tree, fishes at a riverbank, or scuffs down a sidewalk.

The book helps him learn how insects make homes — castle-like hills, tunnels, nests. He learns how they colonize and cope with enemies. And he is spurred by a reminder: "As you watch the insect world yourself, you will soon realize . . . you can contribute to the total knowledge of men."

A boy you know could enjoy a fact-packed volume of this kind.

Support Price Set For Barley

Prices for the 1967 crop of barley will be supported at $1.00 a bushel in all Maryland counties, James M. Voss, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has announced.

The basic rate is for barley grading No. 2 or better. It is adjusted by discounts for grade and quality to determine support prices for individual producers. Discounts are the same as for the 1966-crop program.

For major producing areas, county support rates reflect terminal rates less the freight and handling charges needed to get the barley to terminal markets. Terminal rates in Baltimore, for farmers who wish to store their grain in a terminal elevator, will be $1.23 per bushel.

Since barley is not included in the 1967 feed grain acreage diversion program, acreage diversion is not a condition of eligibility for barley price support this year.

As in past years, price support will be carried out through farm and warehouse-stored loans and purchases. Support will be available from harvest time through March 31, 1968.

Old Glory — Symbol Of Our Heritage

On the grass of New York's Central Park, over which have trod through the years untold thousands of immigrants enjoying a better world than they had ever known, the motley crowd cheered as a group of young men set fire to the American flag and watched it burn. No hand was raised in protest. Nobody stepped forward to challenge the desecration. On a grass plot on the campus of UCLA in Los Angeles, a small group of young men in the midst of a swarming crowd prepared to set torches to the Communist hammer-and-sickle flag, the Nazi swastika banner, and the flag of the United Nations. They were set upon by angered members of the crowd, pummeled, and the flags of Soviet Communism, Nazi Germany and the UN were seized and protected. These two events were reported by the Associated Press.

What did the two demonstrations mean? Have our American citizens lost their love of country? Are devotees of Soviet Russia (present and agitating the crowds in both flag burning incidents), or of the Nazi storm-troopers or the UN dominating the actions of Americans from coast to coast? No; certainly not!

Patriotism Present, Unawakened
Through every strata of our native citizenry, regardless of race, color, creed, politics, or age, runs a powerful bloodstream of patriotism (Webster: Love for or devotion to one's country). Lately, however, a tourniquet has been applied. The display of patriotism, the demonstration by an individual or group of zealous support for our nation ("flag waving"), has provoked various forms of criticism in many "liberal" quarters—from editorialists, "intellectuals", college faculties in some very influential segments of the communications media.

The climate, the atmosphere in which we've been living since World War II has in a sense made aggressive demonstration of patriotism unwelcome, certainly "unfashionable." The Communists have generated some of this illwind against American patriotism which is an obstacle in the way of their internal objectives. There is a very real danger that the tourniquet on the bloodstream of patriotism can stop the flow permanently; but there is, on the other hand, overwhelming evidence that it can be stimulated into a great force for our security and progress.

Flags Purchased

Metropolitan Little Rock's quarter million people awoke one morning a few weeks ago to read in their morning Arkansas Gazette a somewhat surprising full-page announcement. The Gazette for more than 25 years has been "liberal" in its editorial section. "Excessive patriotism" has constantly been frowned upon with the French-coined epithet "Chauvinism". With much of its editorial policy I have long been in sharp disagreement. But here in the Sunday Gazette was an advertisement, with Old Glory flying prominently in the center of the page, announcing that the newspaper wanted to get the Stars and Stripes hoisted over every home in its circulation area! This type of idea I have long supported, and herewith commend.

For $3 (less than cost, counting delivery postage) the Gazette aggressively (with all out patriotic appeal) extended to its readers a flag kit containing a display-size bunting flag, a staff, a metal staff-holder, and a tie-ropes—so every family could proudly display its patriotism, as all patriots (all citizens) should! "We just weren't conditioned for what happened," said Sam Harris, director of Public Service for the Gazette. Thousands of flags were sold in the first rush, mail orders came from "every corner of the state". Cub Scouts in Gillette, Arkansas, got nearly every home and business in their city to purchase one of the Gazette's flags. Other Scout groups, American Legion posts and other organizations got busy. Flags waved throughout Arkansas.

Sale Continues

When we contacted Mr. Harris to congratulate the Gazette on this splendid public service he said: "We intend to keep this offer open indefinitely... Americans, Arkansans too, feel their responsibility to the nation and its traditions as much as they ever have. We are delighted that it isn't news that Arkansans love their national flag and are proud to display it appropriately. We believe that certain anti-flag gestures have aroused a vein of patriotism that has been dormant for some time."

Why not a flag project for every community in America? Won't you pick up the challenge? Our flag as a symbol embodies history, as Woodrow Wilson observed; and sentiment too, as Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote:

"One flag, one land, one heart,
one hand,
One Nation, evermore!"

Racing Continues At Laurel Raceway

LAUREL, Md.—The cream of the nation's aged trotters and the finest 3-year-old trotters and pacers in the land will ply their talents over the million dollar lightning fast Tartan track as Laurel Raceway closes the second week of its 20th anniversary season.

Trotters will command the spotlight tonight (Friday) with the first of two Laurel legs of the $7,500 American Trotting Derby and the main division of the 3-year-old Reading Futurity trot, while on Saturday the attention will be focussed on the main division of the 3-year-old Reading Futurity Pace.

Headlining the nominees for the Reading 3-year-old trotting classic is Dazzling Speed from the powerful Stanley Dancer Stable. Dazzling Speed was undefeated until he was upended by Marcel Hanover in the $7,450 Governor's Cup at Roscroft. Marcel Hanover, who is handled by Jimmy Arthur, developer of Harlan Dean into the 1961 Hambletonian winner, is also eligible to this Reading classic.

Older trotters come in for their share of glory Friday night as well as the first of two American Trotting Derby legs which will be contested over Laurel's Tartan carpet. Heading the nominees for this Atlantic Seaboard classic is Spindletop Joe, National Season Champion aged trotting gelding on the basis of his 2:01.2 win at Brandywine. Spindletop Joe will get considerable competition from the likes of Bonus Boy, world record 3-year-old trotter on a half mile track, and Nevele Dell, considered one of the best trotting prospects in Canada.

If Billy Haughton elects to start Romulus Hanover in the Reading Futurity 3-year-old pace Saturday night the track, State of Maryland and stake record is likely to tumble. The track and State record of 1:59.1 was set last year by Good Time Boy, while the stake record is the 2:01.3 mile spun by Adios Oregon in 1959.

Romulus Hanover took one jewel of pacing's Triple Crown when he won the $178,064 Messenger Stake in track, stake and national season record time of a lucky patron Tuesday, July 25, 1:59.1. This talented son of Dancer Hanover has been the absolute master of his age group and is rated by Haughton as the finest horse he has handled.

Laurel Raceway will continue its policy of free admission to the grandstand on Tuesday and Wednesday nights as a remembrance to its patrons who made the Route One facility Maryland's harness racing center. Ladies' Day is Thursday night with distaffing fans admitted upon payment of a 25c service charge.

The 1967 cream Cadillac convertible which will be awarded to will be on display nightly.

DON'T BE LITTERBUGS

PRIESTS...NUNS...BROTHERS

They Find a Career in RELIGIOUS ORDERS

All the "Religious" of the world-wide Catholic Church have one thing in common.

They are all totally committed to a quest for holiness by striving to imitate Christ...and by doing His work through the Church for the salvation of souls.

But they're not all alike in the way they live...in the habits they wear...in the work they do. And to those not acquainted with the structure of the Church, these differences may seem confusing. This is particularly true with respect to those Religious who live in a community of their own and perform mostly in specialized fields of service to the Church and to the souls of men.

The interesting story of these "career" people is told in a new pocket-size pamphlet which we will be glad to send free upon your request and without obligation. It explains why hundreds of thousands of men and women...feeling the call of Christ to "Come, follow me"...voluntarily embrace a life of evangelical perfection for the spiritual good of others.

This pamphlet does not deal with the story of the Diocesan Priest whom you may see in a nearby parish, or with those Religious in contemplative orders who devote themselves exclusively to prayer, penance and mortification in the solitude of their own community.

Rather, it relates the exciting history of those Religious Orders which serve the Church and its faithful in the far-flung areas of everyday life.

The religious orders, as a rule, have a "specialty." For the Jesuits, the emphasis is on education, scholarship and missions. The Franciscans specialize in preaching, missions, education and charity. Literary and scientific pursuits are chief aims of the Dominicans. The Vincentians, Marianists, Redemptorists and other orders of priests perform a variety of services...as do the various communities of nuns and religious brothers.

The historic and, often critical, situations that gave birth to various religious orders make this pamphlet highly interesting reading—whether you are Catholic or not. For it was, as a rule, the urgent need of the Church at a particular moment in history that made the formation of a religious order necessary to meet a threat to the well-being of Christianity. This pamphlet will also give you a clear understanding of the call to renewal and modernization of the religious orders by the recent Vatican Council.

Write today. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-44. It will be sent free and without obligation. Nobody will call on you.

Skimmed Milk for Cooking

There's a new evaporated skimmed milk — 99% fat free — that cuts way back on fat-calories and on cost. (Use it straight from the can for creaming coffee and for all your cooking needs, too.) It's skimmed milk concentrated. So it's creamy and rich. Here it coats and holds crumbs for crisping chicken. And, it whips to give lightness and milk goodness to a freezer dessert.

Oven-Baked Chicken

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1 cut-up chicken (2½ to 3 lbs.) | 1 cup corn flake crumbs |
| ½ cup Fat Evaporated Skimmed Milk | 1½ teaspoons salt |
| | ¼ teaspoon pepper |

Dip chicken into milk. Roll in a mixture of crumbs, salt and pepper. Place chicken in a shallow baking pan lined with aluminum foil. Bake in 350° oven (moderate) 1 hour, or until drumstick is tender when pierced with a fork.

Lemon Freeze

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| ½ cup Fat Evaporated Skimmed Milk | ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind |
| 1 egg, separated | Few grains salt |
| ½ cup sugar | 2 tablespoons graham cracker crumbs |
| 4 tablespoons lemon juice | |

Chill milk in ice tray until almost frozen at edges. Mix in a 1-quart bowl egg yolk, sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, lemon rind and salt. Put ice-cold milk into cold small bowl of electric mixer. Add egg white. Using cold beaters, whip until fluffy. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and whip until stiff. Beat in sugar mixture gradually at low speed. Put into 1-quart ice tray. Top with crumbs. Freeze until firm, about 3 hours.

The outdoor life. Any indoor man will tell you how great it is. But only an outdoor man can tell you what it does to the human skin.

Constant sun dries skin out. Leathers it. Burns it over and over again. And that can be dangerous.

If you are out in the sun a lot (or even if you're not), check into any sore that does not heal. Promptly. It could be a warning signal of cancer. And cancer is easier to cure when it's detected early. Lorne Greene knows the seven warning signals of cancer. So should you:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge.

2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. A sore that does not heal. 4. Change in bowel or bladder habits. 5. Hoarseness or cough. 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Change in a wart or mole.

If a signal lasts longer than two weeks, see your doctor without delay. It makes sense to know the seven warning signals of cancer.

It makes sense to give to the

WOMEN'S HEALTH

By Louise Chase
Women's Medical News Service
Unwanted Pregnancies
Impair Mental Health

NEW YORK—"The rejected or resented child is often the unwanted child. Many of the emotional and behavioral difficulties of childhood, adolescence and adulthood owe their genesis to being unwanted." These observations were made at a recent meeting here of the New York Clinic for Mental Health by Dr. Alan F. Guttmacher, obstetrician-gynecolagist who is president of Planned Parenthood/World Population. What are some of the ways children pay for their unwantedness? By mutilation, pain, and even death. It is estimated, Dr. Guttmacher said, that about 10,000 children a year, more than half of them under four years of age, are physically injured by their parents. Many end up in hospitals with multiple fractures, serious burns, or internal injuries.

One quarter of these battered youngsters die of their injuries. Most are babies under two years of age. Injuries are inflicted by beatings with various objects, by burning with flame from gas burners or cigarette lighters, or by scalding with hot liquid. About 40 per cent of the injuries are inflicted by fathers, an almost equal percentage by mothers, and some by both parents.

Rich And Poor Guilty

Who are the parents guilty of such unspeakable crimes against defenseless children? "Battered children are not peculiar to any particular socio-economic stratum," Dr. Guttmacher pointed out. "The cases involve families living in the poorest slum areas as well as those living in country club districts; from the culturally deprived as well as successful business and professional groups."

Another form of child abuse—homicide by starvation—has recently been called to the attention of the medical profession, according to the physician. Five infants from seven weeks to eight and a half months old were reported who at autopsy had three physical abnormalities in common: They weighed less than half as much as they should for their age; the thymus gland in the neck weighed a third or less than normal; the stomachs of all five were completely empty. Two of the infants were dead when they reached the hospital; the remaining three died within a few hours after admission. Cause of death? "Starvation as a result of prolonged neglect."

A recent study found that among children who suffer multiple skeletal injuries inflicted by abusive parents early in life only about 10 per cent recover fully. The remaining 90 per cent are still marked by physical, mental and emotional scars as they approach adolescence. Lasting effects include skull deformity, eye loss, mental retardation, speech disorders.

Unwanted Pregnancy Responsible

Dr. Guttmacher agreed with an expert on the 'battered child syndrome' who maintains, "Not infrequently the beaten infant is a product of an unwanted pregnancy, a pregnancy which began before marriage, or at some time felt to be extremely inconvenient."

While not all unplanned pregnancies end in such disasters, too many do, Dr. Guttmacher said, pointing out that these tragedies are entirely avoidable.

"Contraception is one powerful answer to the waste of lives. With modern contraceptives—the pill, the IUD—most conceptions can be wanted ones. Contraception, if effectively employed, can make a significant contribution to the mental health of the individual, the family, the nation."

How do youngsters who survive battering, desertion, psychic cannibalism, neglect, fight back, asked Dr. Guttmacher. By delinquency, gang wars, crime, destruction against self or society," the physician maintained.

He concluded, "This would be a different world if each conception were wanted, and if each was conceived by responsible parents."

Paper's Support

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Since the 1967 Heart Fund Campaign is now totaled, and reached a new high of $23,629.52, I would like to thank you on behalf of the Frederick County Heart Association for the very real assistance received from your newspaper during this year's fund raising campaign.

Because of the growing need for educational and community services rendered by the Frederick County Heart Association, we were asked to set our goal at the highest in our history, $23,500.00.

Thanks to the dedication of the more than 1,000 Frederick County citizens who contacted their neighbors, friends, and business associates and to the fine cooperation of your newspaper we were successful. May we ask your help in expressing our appreciation to the untiring volunteers and to the thousands whose generous contributions made it all possible.

Fenian's Trophy

Race tracks of late have gone in for art exhibits, fashion shows and various other interesting extra-curricular activities, and the winner's circle at Aqueduct prior to the running of the Belmont Stake might easily be mistaken for an exhibit of antique and modern silver. The trophy table will be laden with the August Belmont Memorial Cup, four smaller replicas of the cup, which is actually an ornately beautiful punch bowl, and a large silver tray.

The inscription on the Belmont Cup will read "Fenian, winner of the Belmont Stakes supported by the three great sires, Eclipse, Herod and Matchem" but don't mistake this for a tip and look for a horse named Fenian in the entries for the Belmont. Fenian, a horse belonging to August Belmont, for whom the race had been named, was the 1869 winner.

Each of the 40,000 or so Thoroughbreds racing in North America today is traceable to either Eclipse, Herod or Matchem, as for that matter are all registered Thoroughbreds the world over. Fenian was a descendant of Eclipse. Last year's Belmont winner, Amberoid, traces to Herod.

In 1926 the Belmont family presented Fenian's trophy to the Westchester Racing Association, then operating Belmont Park, as a permanent, or challenge, cup. The winning owner holds it for a year, and the Belmont Tray is his to keep. The replicas are presented to the trainer, jockey, exercise boy, and the groom of the winner.

FISHING LINES
By DICK WOLFF

THE ALL-AROUND OUTFIT

It was a cold wet April evening and endless lines of commuter cars edged homeward along Second Avenue. Everybody agreed this was the year the endless winter would jump right into summer without pausing a day or two for spring fishing.

But the call finally came. Bass and crappie were massed for combat at Kentucky Lake, a delicate finger of water more than 100 miles long created by Kentucky Dam in Western Kentucky. Along 2,000 miles of shoreline, good fishing spots are located over flooded apple orchards, cornfields, and tobacco fields. Maybe it's the offbeat diet. Fish enjoy inhabiting old farms and submerged villages, and vast armies of bass and crappie patrol the waters looking for innocent fishermen.

In the company of outdoor columnists Ed Moore and Jerry Kenney, whose combined daily readership is said to exceed the population of most western states, I flew from the cold wet darkness of LaGuardia Airport. In the rush to desert Big Town, each of us carried only a single fishing outfit.

Here we were off to do battle with anything from a half-pound crappie to a seven-pound black bass. From the dozen or so fishing outfits each of us owns, we chose one. By coincidence, the outfits were practically identical. It was the ideal all-around combination for both expert and beginner, and once and for all, would answer the question most frequently asked by new fishermen: "What kind of tackle should I buy?"

Of the four popular methods of fishing, fly casting is toughest to master and spin casting, the easiest. In between are spinning and bait casting, the latter the more difficult. On the other side of the coin, fly casting, being the greatest challenge, also is the most rewarding.

For the serious beginner, the ideal fishing combination is a medium spinning outfit. From reports around the nation, the most popular combination consists of a Garcia Mitchell 300 spinning reel and a Garcia Conolon 2508 rod. With more than 10 million in use today, the Garcia Mitchell 300 spinning reel is the U.S. anglers' undisputed favorite. Smaller of the two spools can be filled with six-pound test Bonnyl monofilament line for lighter game fishes like crappie, perch, trout, and pan fishes. The larger spool can be filled with eight-pound test line for bigger fish.

Combining the Garcia Mitchell 300 reel with the Garcia Conolon 2508 creates a perfectly balanced outfit for most anglers. The 6½-foot length of the hollow fiber glass rod enables the beginner to produce long casts with good control. Its stainless steel guides and wear-resistant materials mean low maintenance and long life.

The fast taper design of the rod makes it a simple matter to cast lures and baits, varying between ¼-ounce and ½-ounce in weight. Lighter lures are sent flying with the fast tip action while heavier weights bring the entire length of the rod into play.

During the next three days at Kentucky Lake, host Carl Thomas of Kentucky's Department of Parks, presented an arsenal of piscatorial fireworks to test the all-around outfit. It was enough action to send me back to Big Town and survive another three weeks of winter.

Roads Commission Discloses Program

The State Roads Commission has disclosed that it will cost about $403 million to complete Maryland's current primary and secondary highway construction program, some $121 million more than anticipated three years ago.

To stay within the $282.1 million authorized for the Six Year Program, the Commission said a "drastic curtailment" appears necessary.

It attributed the increased costs of the program, which is scheduled to end June 30, 1970, to rising construction and right-of-way costs, costly new safety requirements and insufficient time allowances.

In addition, the Commission's eight-page report to State and county officials said that the original estimates for many projects "did not fully recognize the scope of the work necessary to provide an adequate facility, and hence were low."

Furthermore, the report pointed out that if "certain desirable and needed augmentations to proposed projects" are included — such as improved design and safety features — the program's total cost would be $450 million, requiring an additional $168 million for its completion.

"It is evident that such an accelerated expenditure cannot be achieved within the bonding capacity or special fund revenues available to the Commission," the report concluded.

"Unless and until other funds are made available, we cannot exceed the authorization for the Six Year Program," it said. "On the basis of funds authorized under present law, we will be forced to curtail the program."

In separate letters to county officials and legislators, however, Jerome B. Wolff, Chairman-Director of the Commission, said that the Commission believes there may be a feasible alternative to the curtailment which now seems necessary.

He said it is studying the revenue problem, and will later offer recommendations for completion of the program.

The program, begun in 1964, provides funds for a major program of primary and secondary highway construction in the 23 counties.

On the basis of estimates as of last week, which marked the halfway point of the program, the accompanying letters showed that only Cecil and Talbot counties have sufficient funds left to complete all program projects without exceeding the funds allotted to each county.

In discussing the factors which have increased the program's costs and resulted in the fact that it is "already severely lagging," the Commission referred to the 1964 study of the program's first year by Roy Jorgensen and Associates, highway engineering consultants.

The so-called Jorgensen Report said the estimated time allowed for right-of-way acquisition, design and completion of construction during the program's first year was "overly optimistic."

"This forecast has been borne out in the two subsequent program years," said the Commission's report on the program.

"Beyond this scheduling problem," the report added, "it should be noted that enormously increased costs have been experienced in right-of-way acquisition. There has also been an increasing need to give greater attention to safety requirements. This has necessitated an increase in right-of-way widths, sight distances and many other technical improvements which provide added driving security to highway users."

The report observed that construction costs have "continued to rise at a rather rapid rate, averaging about five per cent per year since the initiation of the program."

Finally, the report said, the Commission's workload and spending has been substantially increased by the authorization of other projects "not originally programmed" — such as the ten construction projects included in the $60 million bond issue — and by other responsibilities like the acceleration of the Interstate highway program in Baltimore City.

During the months of July and August, Mr. Wolff and other members of the Commission's staff will visit each county to discuss the entire Six Year Program and the problems involved in its completion.

Final recommendations, based on conclusions developed at the meetings, will be submitted to the 1968 Legislature.

Probably the 1920 earthquake in Kansu, China was the worst in modern times as far as human fatalities are concerned, more than 180,000 having been killed.

COMMUNITY HEALTH FORUM

Dr. James Q. Simmons, Jr., director of medical programs of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, answers your questions on multiple sclerosis.

Q What is known about multiple sclerosis?

A Multiple sclerosis is a disabling disease of the central nervous system. Called the great crawler of young adults, it attacks the substance which sheathes nerve fibers causing nerve messages controlling movement, vision, speech and balance to be distorted, often blocked.

Q Whom does MS strike?

A MS strikes most often at young adults in the 20 to 40 age range, during the years when they should be most vital, most productive. An estimated 500,000 Americans suffer from MS and related diseases.

Q Does MS lead to total physical disability?

A Though MS can be progressive, often leading to total disability, with proper medical supervision, most MS patients continue to be active, vital people.

Q Is there a cure for MS at the present time?

A There is no specific known medical management which alters the natural unpredictable course of the disease which is one of worsening, followed by periods of improvement achieving a plateau where no change takes place. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society recommends good general medical care devoted to the prevention of intercurrent infectious illness and directed toward the control of the more distressing symptoms as they appear.

Feast For The Youngsters

Bologna takes to the charcoal grill! Children will really go for this popular sandwich meat prepared in a "grown-up" manner — Grilled Bologna Kebabs. The flavor secret is a marinade of mustard, soy sauce and 7-Up.

While you're barbecuing, keep the hungry family happy with Sparkling Pineapple Punch. Combine 1 can (6 ozs.) of frozen pineapple-orange concentrate with 2 tablespoons maraschino cherry juice and 1½ quarts (40 ozs.) chilled 7-Up. Pour over ice cubes.

GRILLED BOLOGNA KEBABS

1 tablespoon dry mustard
¼ cup soy sauce
1 cup 7-Up
3 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup honey
1 lb. unsliced bologna, cut into 1-inch chunks

Pineapple chunks
Bacon, partially cooked
Dill pickle chunks
Canned whole onions

Combine first 5 ingredients and add meat. Let stand several hours. Alternate meat on skewers with remaining ingredients. Grill, basting occasionally with marinade. 4 to 6 servings.

County Mayors Oppose Section 7

Mayors of Frederick County's municipalities this week went on record in opposition to proposals for the new Maryland constitution which could permit the abolishment of cities.

The mayors opposed Section 7 of Article VII of the proposed constitution presented by the Constitutional Convention Commission, according to Charles E. Collins, president of the Frederick County Commissioners.

This section would, if enacted as proposed, permit a county, the General Assembly, or the voters in a region by petition to establish a regional government to replace all other governmental units within a specified area.

Opposition to the proposal came at the July meeting of the mayors with the county commissioners. The monthly sessions were initiated by the commissioners several months ago.

Giants Down Sox

The Giants defeated the Red Sox 9-3, Tuesday evening on the Little League diamond.

The game should have turned into a more exciting clash if it were not for the number of errors committed on the part of both clubs. John Ott pitched a fine game in the losing cause as he struck out 11 batters and walked only one. Robert Henke once again provided the big stick for the Giants as he connected on four successful trips to the plate. Nevin Topper went the distance on the hill for the winners and allowed six scattered hits.

A giraffe can see in any direction without turning its head.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

A Fiscal Feature

While not the richest race in the country, having an endowment of a "mere" $50,000, the Massachusetts Handicap, which will be run for the 33rd time at Suffolk Downs this week, has played a very significant role where money-winning records are concerned. It was the richest race won by a H's horse named Whirlaway, in 1937, by a $100,000 career which was to make him the world's leading money-winning Thoroughbred, with a total of $437,730 when he retired in 1940.

What had appeared to be a durable record was left shattered in the dust of the Suffolk Downs stretch on July 15, 1942, when Calumet Farm's long-tailed comet streaked through the stretch in his typical late-running style to win the eighth running of the Massachusetts Handicap and raise his earnings to $454,336.

It was only five years later when another bit of equine financial history was made in the Massachusetts Handicap, as racing's version of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Stymie, made it his 20th stakes victory and became the first horse in history to pass the $700,000 mark in earnings.

Today neither Seabiscuit nor Whirlaway appear among the top fifty on the money-winning list, and Stymie's lifetime earnings of $918,485 find him in ninth place behind Kelso ($1,997,896.) and five other equine millionaires: Round Table ($1,749,869.), Nashua ($1,288,565.), Buckpasser, ($1,271,224.), Carry Back ($1,241,165.) and Citation ($1,085,760.).

Buy Bonds
where you work.

He does.

It's miserable work, crawling through a rice paddy. And being shot at. This American does the job for freedom's sake. So do thousands of his buddies. Many of these brave men also support freedom with their dollars. A majority of our servicemen overseas are investing in U.S. Savings Bonds. Would you like to show this man you're with him? One good way is to buy Savings Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You'll make a good investment. And you'll walk a bit taller.

U.S. Savings Bonds

Bond facts: Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 at maturity in only seven years . . . are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen . . . have special tax advantages . . . can be redeemed whenever the need arises.

The U.S. Government does not pay for this advertisement. It is presented as a public service in cooperation with the Treasury Department and The Advertising Council.

Lutheran Women Hold Meeting

The Lutheran Church Women of Elias Church held their monthly meeting on Tuesday evening in the Church. Mrs. Lewis Smith used the Evening Suffrages for the devotional service. A study of "Lutheranism in North America," given by Pastor Ronald Fearer, was used to introduce the group to the 450th anniversary of the Reformation which will be observed in Elias Church in October 1967. A sound recording and film were used to trace the beginnings of the Lutheran Church in North America. A discussion followed with the LCW members receiving the basic materials for the observance to be held locally.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Hazel Caldwell. She expressed her appreciation to those who served on the Father-Son committee. These included Mrs. James Small, chairman; Mrs. Donald Eyler and Mrs. Lewis Smith.

Mrs. A. W. McCleaf, secretary of the LCW at Elias Church, presented a silver LCW pin to Mrs. Caldwell, who is completing her two-year term as President of the local group, and expressed the heartfelt thanks and appreciation for her leadership.

Mrs. Weldon Shank and Mrs. Ralph Tabler served refreshments to the LCW members and their guests at the conclusion of the meeting.

Frederick Annexes Over 800 Acres

The Frederick City Board of Aldermen has approved the annexation of 834 acres of land in the "industrial east" in one of the shortest annexation hearings in history.

There was no opposition to the proposal.

The annexation will become effective within 45 days, unless property owners in the area oppose the move via petition.

The land to be annexed is bounded roughly by U. S. 40 east, the Gas House Pike, and the Monocacy River. The tract includes the municipal airport and nearby industrial sites, the city dump and sewage treatment plant, and some undeveloped farmland.

Writer Suggests Uniform Road Code

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Traveling into Taneytown on Route 97 from Baltimore one comes to a blinking red light which should only mean stop; at the same intersection there is a stop sign which should only mean stop; also a rumble strip which should only mean stop. Nevertheless, as you get to the intersection there is a sign which indicates that one is to proceed on without stopping.

Eight miles up the road, at Emmitsburg, one comes to another stop sign, red blinking light and rumble strip. Now this time they really do mean STOP, but is it any wonder that some thru "Driver Error," do not? It's time we stop blaming all accidents on driving error and give more thought to uniform highway markings.

Yours Sincerely,
Patrick F. X. McGucken

Lutheran Women Attend Conference At Gettysburg

The Maryland Lutheran Church Women held their Fifth Annual Convention on the Gettysburg College Campus for three days this week with registration on Sunday afternoon. The theme, "Renewed in Christ," was the basic emphasis for the various sessions. The convention began with a Vesper Service in Christ Chapel with the Rev. Dr. George Harkins delivering the message, "Renewed; It's For Real." This was followed with a buffet dinner for over 400 LCW members and delegates in the college dining rooms. Featured on the evening program was an indepth study of the Manifesto which has been adopted by the Lutheran Church in America. Serving as a discussion leader for the Table Talks was Rev. W. Ronald Fearer, pastor of Elias Church. His basic theme concerned "the oneness of the Church in all places and at all times."

The Nativity in Creative Arts provided the focal point for workshops. Some of the categories included Christmas greeting cards, tree decorations, original music for the Advent season, mosaics, oil paintings, Chrismos, and floral arrangements for the Altar and the home during the Advent season. Among the participants conducting Workshops on the Nativity theme was Mrs. Martha Slemmer of the United Presbyterian Church of Emmitsburg. Mrs. Slemmer has a unique collection of Madonnas through the ages and provided interesting information on the artist and his masterpiece. Accompanying Mrs. Slemmer was Mrs. A. L. Leary of Emmitsburg. Representing Elias Church at the three day convention were the following: Mrs. Hazel Caldwell, delegate; Mrs. Ronald Fearer, alternate delegate; Mrs. Harry McNair, Miss Mary J. Zimmerman, and Pastor Ronald Fearer.

Graceham Carnival Scheduled

The eighth annual carnival of the Graceham Volunteer Fire Co., Inc., will be held at Mt. Tabor Park, Rocky Ridge, Friday and Saturday nights, July 21 and 22.

Entertainment will feature on Friday evening the Poolesville Community Band and the Blue Grass Travelers on Saturday night, July 22.

Plate lunches featuring the ham platter with all the trimmings will be served.

There also will be all kinds of sandwiches, games and usual carnival attractions.

The Graceham Volunteer Fire Company appreciates the support the community and surrounding areas have given in helping to purchase the new 750 G. P. M. pumper last year, and the firemen ask that people continue their support and come out and help make the carnival a huge success this year.

State Road Fatal Show Rapid Gain

Nineteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Seven of the persons killed were drivers; seven were passengers; and five were pedestrians.

Alcohol was present in four of the fatalities; speed in ten; and "driver error" in sixteen.

Commenting on the loss of lives on Maryland highways, Lt. Col. George Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police, said: "Year after year, day after day, we find some type of driver error is present in all but a few accidents. Last week was no exception."

"If safe driving is to be achieved, the operator must have complete control of his vehicle. To achieve this he must give his full attention to driving and not permit his mind to wander, even momentarily, from the rapidly changing traffic patterns around him. Otherwise, he creates a hazard for himself and others on the highway."

Time has not changed us.... but we have kept up with the times.

150 years ago the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank opened its doors—and has not closed them since, except on legal holidays.

This nation was only 41 years old when we first opened. James Monroe became the 5th President of the United States. The only disturbance of the peace in 1817 was the Seminole Indian War, which broke out when settlers attacked Florida Indians, who retaliated by raiding Georgia farms. On the western frontier, the Territory of Alabama had been formed by cutting a slice out of Mississippi, which was then admitted as the 20th State of the Union in December, 1817. Business and industry hummed. The 2nd Bank of the United States opened in January 1817.

Also, in that same year, the first machine that made paper was produced near Wilmington, Delaware, and a mill to roll iron was built in Plumsock, Pennsylvania.

The ideals, aims, and the traditions established by the Bank in that year have been handed down from one banking generation to another. For three generations of approximately 50 years each, our customers have enjoyed the Friendly, Personal Service.

We will continue to serve you, the banking public with complete banking facilities and competent efficient service.
