At the present time the local Band is attempting to compile a history of the organization since its organization perhaps half a century back. While being a recently-formed organization, the Band is trying to trace the history and activities of its predecessors. The group is seeking old pictures, newspaper clippings and even verbal accounts of the activities of the old group. It is believed that many older residents of the community have the clippings and pictures, and perhaps even some old instruments may be lying around in the attic somewhere. If you are interested in assisting the new Band on this subject of writing a history, please contact the president of the organization, Robert A. Rosensteel. In the meantime, the drive for funds continues and it is understood that now the uniform fund is slightly over the $2,000 mark. Donations are still trickling in, so if you are interested, please mail in your little financial gift today. No specific amount is requested. Some donations have run from 25c to over $100.

The bicycle inspection was reported a tremendous success and Police Chief Law reported over 100 vehicles inspected and given tags. The response was overwhelming and the large turnout quickly used up the available 100 tags on hand. More of these tags are on order and should be available in two or three weeks, Chief Law advises. When they arrive the local schools will be notified and those youngsters who were shut out at the last inspection, will be given an opportunity to get theirs. An appreciable result from the inspection was the talk given the youngsters by the Police Dept. and little if any sidewalk riding is seen these days. Most youngsters are appreciative and cooperative of any advice the Dept. gives them and you must admit that a lot of good is being derived from the efforts of the Police Dept. However, the Dept. can't do it all and the cooperation of parents is asked. Please see that your kiddies operate their vehicles in conformity with the motor vehicle code and admonish them when they ride on the sidewalks because it is in the interest of safety to everyone that the inspection and talk was given the youngsters.

As was predicted, the dualization of Route 15 from the state line south to Thurmont, undoubtedly will be the last road improvement to be made in the next decade. When the State Roads Commission officials were here about a month ago to talk over the county's needs with the County Commissioners, it was hoped that this particular improvement would be given some type of priority but it appears now that almost every other road in the county will be improved before anything is done to this death trap which has killed 27 innocent victims in the two and a half years it has been in operation. There's hardly a stretch of road in the state that can compare with this one around Emmitsburg going to be done about it. Oh well, as long as it remains in existence, it will stand as a monument to the stupidity of the Maryland State Roads Commission which put it there!

In addition to the county schools the Liners also again travel to Mercersburg to take on an always strong Mercersburg Academy team.

The biggest change on the local high school level will be two night soccer doubleheaders to be held at Thomas Johnson in Frederick. There will not be any admission charged and the Liners will be in action both nights.

Sister Marian New Principal At St. Joe's High

Saint Joseph's High School opened with a full day schedule, Monday, Sept. 11, enrolling 150 students. Orientation of freshmen and a half-session for other students took place the week prior.

Formal opening of the school began Friday, Sept. 8, with the Mass of the Holy Spirit offered by Rev. John King, C.M., assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church. Students took part in the folk music and singing during the Mass.

The new principal, Sister Marian, was formerly stationed at St. Paul's Catholic Central High School, Portsmouth, Va. She comes to Emmitsburg with wide experience in dealing with teenagers, having taught also in Philadelphia, Boston, Harrisburg and New York.

Sister Marian announced several new electives offered in the schedule this year: Business Law, Economics, Sociology, Advanced Mathematics and Library Science. Returning again this year to St. Joseph's faculty are Dr. Robert Marshall and Mrs. Walter Hennessey.

Students on returning were pleased to note improvements and new equipment in the school building. With the help of the Parent-Teacher Assn. the school has purchased reception room furniture for the browsing area of the library. Also, a disc recording file, an overhead transparency file, and a group listening station complete with eight overhead headphones, have been supplied for the Instructional Materials Center. A new signal clock will be installed in the principal's office.

The Sewing Laboratory tables were equipped with formica by Mr. Clyde Eyler who has given time and service to Saint Joseph's High School over a number of years.

Few people study to discover the truth; most of us seek to confirm our errors and perpetuate our prejudices.

Mount Seminary Commences Its 160th Academic Year

A major change greeted the 125 seminarians returning for the opening of the 160th academic year at Mount Saint Mary's Seminary, with the merging of all seminary philosophy courses with the department of philosophy at Mount Saint Mary's College, according to Rt. Rev. George D. Mulcahy, seminary rector.

The seminary opened its academic year on Wednesday, with an enrollment representing a 10-state area in eastern, southern and midwestern United States.

New students underwent a special orientation program prepared under the direction of Rev. Harry J. Flynn, dean of students, and a 12-man committee of students headed by Rev. Mr. James J. Durkin, a fourth-year theologian. The program opened with a conference for the students and their parents, followed by a buffet dinner and a get-acquainted social for the seminary faculty, students and parents. Other phases of the program included tours of the campus, library orientation and visits to Saint Joseph College and other historical sites in the area. The program will close on Sunday following a faculty reception.

Upperclass students will report for registration today, Friday, and classes will resume Monday. Sunday has been designated as a Day of Prayer.

William J. Skelton, a Pennsylvania native, will join the English Department at Mount St. Mary's College, for the academic year replacing Prof. Bernard S. Kalish, who will be on sabbatical leave completing his doctoral dissertation.

Prof. Skelton, a graduate of Penn State University, brings a varied background to the classroom with nearly fifty years of teaching experience. He has taught in the Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, Florida, and Virginia school systems.

He is a life member of the National Guidance Fraternity, the National Fraternity of Dramatic Arts, the N.E.A., V.E.A., V.T.E.A., and the National Teachers of English.

Skelton and his wife, Elizabeth, who will teach in the Thurmont, Maryland, High School, are parents of a son and daughter and have five grandchildren. They reside at 1713 W. 7th St., Frederick, Md.

Sheriff Jacobs Addresses Local Lions Club

Crummell P. Jacobs, sheriff of Frederick County, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Ralph Tabler presiding.

A letter from the Frederick Chamber of Commerce was read and it offered films and speakers to be available to the Lions Club upon request. The sight conservation committee reported the purchase of two pairs of eyeglasses for local indigent children.

One new member, Frank Reilly, St. Joseph College professor, was voted into the club.

Sheriff Jacobs spoke chiefly on the duties of the county sheriff's office. He stressed the importance of having some type of institution where habitual drunkards could be rehabilitated, stating that at the present time more care and consideration was being given to stray dogs rounded up by the County than to the drunkards who are simply arrested and tossed into jail for a short period of time. Alcoholism is a sickness, the Sheriff said, and some type of home or shelter should be provided them, other than the usual jail sentence. His talk was warmly received by the Lions and a question and answer period followed.

Acceptance of the $2.7 million state loan this year pushes the county's total indebtedness to $34,128,194 compared to $32,693,701 last year. The total includes $26,122,787 in principal and $8,005,406 in interest on capital improvement bonds, public school bonds, public school state loans, and state loans for highways.

Story Hour

The Story Hour for Children, will be held every Saturday morning starting at 10 o'clock, in the Public Library. All children are welcome and encouraged to attend this weekly affair.

The 1967 duck crop is good, and hunting this fall may be somewhat better than it was last year. —Sports Afild.

Mount Opens With Record Enrollment

A record enrollment of 864 collegians has been reported by the Registrar's Office, Mount Saint Mary's College. The freshman class which will register on Sunday, Sept. 17, will total 230 members which is slightly lower than last year's 241.

The increased total enrollment is attributed to the increasing number of students transferring from two-year junior and community colleges.

In pre-registration figures there are 205 seniors; 187 juniors; 237 sophomores; 230 freshmen; and 5 special students. Students from Pennsylvania lead the list with 242; followed by 228 from Maryland; 170, New Jersey; and 98 from New York.

Other states represented include: Virginia, Connecticut, Delaware, California, Massachusetts, Florida, Ohio, Alabama, Michigan, Missouri, New Hampshire, North Carolina, South Carolina and West Virginia. There are also students registered from the District of Columbia, the Canal Zone, Cuba, Japan, and Kenya.

County School Funds In Red

Frederick County's school construction fund started the current fiscal year nearly $2 million in the red, from an accounting point of view.

According to figures from the county accounting department, the school construction fund contained $2,072,591 in cash and securities on June 30. At the same time, the ledger showed $3,974,313 approved by the county commissioners for various school projects but not yet spent.

This leaves $1,901,722 excess of spending authorizations over the fund balance.

The shortage, however, is only on paper, for two reasons: first, the excess has only been authorized and not actually spent; and second, the county still has a total of $6 million in bonding authority from the state legislature.

Since the start of the fiscal year, the county has received a state loan of $2.7 million for the fund, making the fund balance as of Sept. 1, $4,772,591. And in the last two months, the county commissioners have authorized the spending of an additional $1,152,825 — for Valley Elementary School, the Lewistown addition, and portable classrooms.

As of Sept. 1, the fund showed approvals of $353,547 in excess of the fund balance.

The commissioners are expected to wait until next spring, in hope of a more favorable market, to sell additional school bonds. The board has not yet decided on the amount of bonds which will be offered.

Acceptance of the $2.7 million state loan this year pushes the county's total indebtedness to $34,128,194 compared to $32,693,701 last year. The total includes $26,122,787 in principal and $8,005,406 in interest on capital improvement bonds, public school bonds, public school state loans, and state loans for highways.

VFW Auxiliary Plans Activity

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held Sept. 7, in the Annex of the Post Home at 8 p.m. President Catherine Hodge presided with 23 members in attendance. The food and rummage sale for the benefit of the Auxiliary will be held Saturday, Sept. 16 in the Fire Hall. The following committee was appointed for the sale: Anna Stoner, Evelyn Ott, Nettie Ashbaugh, Dixie Vinaldi, Etta Mae Norris, Idella Fite, Rita Byard and Bernadette Hemler.

The Penny Evening of Games will be held Monday, Sept. 25 in the Annex. The public is invited. Gloria Martin is the Chairman, assisted by Evelyn Ott, Joan Topper, Lois Hartdagen, Dolores Henke, Rita Byard, Mary Topper and Nettie Ashbaugh.

County Officials Dicker With SRC Over Priority Roads

Frederick County officials failed to reach an agreement on how to spend state funds for road construction during a nearly two hour session Friday which became bogged down in general criticism of State Roads Commission policies.

The only actual decision resulting from the meeting of the County Commissioners and legislative delegation with SRC officials was an agreement that the county commissioners should write to Jerome Wolf, chairman-director of the SRC asking for estimates on the cost of improvements to Maryland 80 and Maryland 550.

A motion by Commissioner Wallace E. Hutton that the group instruct the SRC to improve approximately four miles of Maryland 550 between Woodsboro and Long's Mill Road, died for a lack of a second.

Although no other formal motions for road projects were made President Charles E. Collins of the Commissioners told the group he preferred improvements to Md. 80 between Buckeystown and Urbana to improvements of Md. 550.

Collins described Route 80 as a worse road than Route 550 with more cars daily. "We've been kicking 80 in the pants for five years," Collins added.

State Senator Charles H. Smelser (D-Frederick-Carroll) voiced a preference for improvement of Maryland 75.

If the commissioners and delegates do not sign an agreement on a roads program with the SRC by Sept. 18, Collins said, the SRC will be able to proceed with the original program.

If they act before the deadline, the county officials can spend funds amounting to approximately $300,000 originally allotted to Maryland 550, approximately $800,000 allotted for a bridge across the Potomac River at Point of Rocks on the relocated U. S. 15 and approximately $700,000 in surplus funds from construction of U. S. 340 on other state roads in the county, Collins said.

Much of Friday's meeting was devoted to a discussion between Smelser and Del. William M. Houck, (D-Fred.) and the State Roads Commission officials on the relative merits of quantity vs. quality.

"What sense does it make to reconstruct a portion of the road when we could use the money to rehabilitate the entire road, Smelser asked the other members of the group.

In answer to the objections from Smelser and Houck on reconstruction of a portion of Route 550 instead of rehabilitating it, Cordt A. Goldeisen, deputy chief engineer for development, said to rehabilitate the section of road east of the Monocacy River bridge would create a "death trap". He said that a new road surface without eliminating the other faults in the road would encourage drivers to travel above a safe speed since the road would appear less dangerous than it really was.

Goldeisen said it is the feeling of professionals that it is better to construct fewer, but safer roads. Early in the meeting, Houck vowed to seek legislation to make the SRC more responsive to local governments.

Houck, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, said it apparently "does not make a bit of difference" if local officials approve or disapprove SRC proposals for road construction.

"I know one thing for sure," Houck said, "that law is going to get changed."

Houck's criticism of the SRC came after Collins revealed that local officials had agreed in 1965 to use surplus funds allocated to work on Md. 550 to build a new bridge over the Monocacy River on Md. 80 at Buckeystown.

Commissioner Hutton, who attended a meeting with other SRC officials in Baltimore Wednesday, said he was told at that time that the SRC never recognized the 1965 change in the road program, because local officials had not formally approved and signed the original SRC proposal within the 60-day time limit.

So, since they didn't recognize local approval of the original program, they wouldn't recognize any changes requested by local officials, Hutton said.

Northam Friese, chief of the SRC's Bureau of Program Scheduling and Control, confirmed that local officials must approve or change SRC proposals within 60 days or the SRC will place proposals into effect without local approval. He agreed with Houck that this procedure is not spelled out in state law, but is an administrative procedure set up by the SRC.

Will Dedicate New Postoffice At Fairfield

The dedication of Fairfield's new post office will be held on Saturday afternoon, September 23, at 4 o'clock, at which time expected guests at the dedication will be Congressman George A. Goodling and Service Officer J. H. Lee.

Under this program, investment financing is used to obtain needed facilities which remain under private ownership, pay local taxes to the community and are leased to the Federal Government. This gives the Department some flexibility in adapting its building program to changes in mail volume, transportation and population, at the same time, the need for large outlays of money from the Federal Treasury for construction purposes is eliminated.

The Department is now concentrating on constructing new postal units only where they are most urgently needed. In areas where it is practical to do so, existing buildings are under going renovation.

The fact that Fairfield has been chosen for a new post office, reflects credit on the growing contribution to the economy and life of the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair R. Hikes of Gardners, Pa., are the owners of the new post office building, which was occupied by the U. S. Postal Department on May 29, 1967.

Patrons will find doing business in the new location of the post office more pleasant. Mail will be handled more efficiently and this building, with its up-to-date equipment, will enable the postal employees to work under the best conditions. This new facility will be a link with a postal system that today has over 44,000 postal installations. This system serves more than 795 million Americans and handles nearly half of the world's mail. Nearly 700,000 postal employees are handling over 80 billion pieces of mail a year including a billion parcels.

Mail business in the Fairfield area has gone up. For example, five years ago revenue was $10,652, compared with $32,000 last year.

The Fairfield Post Office now serves some 3400 patrons and has a working staff of five employees and two sub-rural carriers. The two clerks are Mrs. A. Kenneth Sites and Mrs. Mark D. Dear-dorff. There are two rural routes that emanate from this office. The first rural route, route number one, was established on October 15, 1900 and Frank Moore was appointed the first carrier for this route. The present carrier for this route is James S. Donaldson. Route one is 47 miles long and serves 434 families. George A. Flenner is the sub-carrier for route one.

Rural route two was established on July 1, 1915 and John Hantz was appointed first carrier for this route. The present carrier for this route is Guy E. Brown. Route two is 43 miles long and serves 255 families. Paul F. Crist is the sub-carrier for route two.

OUR LIBRARY

New books added to the collection at the local library include:

"HMS Leviathan," a novel by John Winton. At the center of this gripping novel is a gigantic aircraft carrier called H.H.S. Leviathan. Intended as the ultimate showpiece of the modern Navy, Leviathan has instead limped from one crisis to another in her first year of service, gaining a reputation as a career graveyard for anyone who tries to tame her. But in Commander Robert David Markready, the new executive officer, this jinxed warship meets her match.

"A Very Quiet Place," by Andrew Garve. A Harper novel of suspense.

"Jazz Country," a novel by Nat Hentoff.

"I Love Life," by Franck. A living portrait of John XXIII, prophet of a world at Peace. A book for young people.

"The Three Faces of Eve," by Corbett H. Thigpen.

"Let's visit Southeast Asia," by John C. Caldwell. From Hong Kong to Indonesia.

"Maryland Personality Parade, Vol. I." By reading about these Maryland people, you will get a very personal look at the past and the present of our state.

"The Senator's Lady," by Shirley Seifert. Pre-Civil War—The story of Addie Cutts. The Senator is the "Little Giant," Stephen Douglas. The story is essentially a love story, from the first time the beautiful Addie and the rich handsome widower meet, in the election year of 1856.

School System

Short Of Counselors

Three Frederick County high schools have only one guidance counselor instead of the two recommended by the state and the situation may continue.

Dr. Donald Z. Koons, director of personnel, told the school board that Thurmont, Linganore and Brunswick High School have one counselor each.

He said that unless he can find qualified people the present set-up will continue.

The state recommends that there be a guidance counselor for every 400 children. Brunswick has 750 students while Thurmont and Linganore have 800 and 900 respectively.

School superintendent Dr. John Carnochan said that he would rather "hire no counselor than a poor one."

He said that the situation arose because there is a great demand for guidance counselors and that the schools were caught short at the last moment.

Babson's Point Of View On:
Possible New

Consumers' Buying Binge
BABSON PARK, Mass., Sept. 14—There is still a lot of optimism among marketing men despite the fact that consumers lately have been dragging their heels on the retail front. Are the optimists right in their conviction that we are heading into another buying spree? Or is a substantially more cautious view prompted by the probabilities for coming months?

Totting Up The

Pluses And Minuses
There are some hopeful signals. Personal income is still heading upward, though not at the invigorating pace of the past few years. Labor is still on the go-go for big pay increases, and many of the settlements this year have pushed ahead of those for 1966, breaking the guidelines and edging into the 5%-7% range. Employment continues to smash one record after another, and jobless totals are small enough to prove that our economy is successfully absorbing millions of the steady additions to the labor force.

Even though prices have been pressing upward in many lines, our nearly 200 million consumers have not yet put on any frantic display to buy things before there is "more price inflation." They have, in fact, been socking away more cash in the bank, and reducing the volume of their debts as related to their incomes. These are fundamentally healthy developments; they could lay the groundwork for a later burst of confident buying. But there are other things that must be considered. Checkreins On Consumer Enthusiasm

The seemingly unwinnable war in Vietnam seems to be having an unfavorable effect on buyer attitudes. There just isn't much desire to splurge when a butter-and-guns economy calls for a big new income tax boost. More and more families are sending their youth to a distant land, paying billions to do it, and seeing no chance of an early end to this bitter situation. Local and state taxes practically everywhere are going in one direction only. And that is UP!

Some lines have had to raise prices because of rising output costs, and this has caused many potential customers to back away. This can also be applied to new homes, with outlays for materials and labor expanding so spectacularly that many young couples would rather just "wait a while" and rent an apartment. All in all, rising prices seem to be holding buyers back from big-tag items. This is the opposite of what happened after World War II, when there was a scarcity of consumer goods instead of today's surpluses. Gains Ahead—But Probably Slim

This doesn't mean that we are heading into a buyers' strike. More likely there will be retail gains over the months ahead. But they will be less sprightly than in recent years because of the continuing nagging doubts about the war and the uptrend in taxes. Some industries are reporting cutbacks in working time, which represent a restrain-ing influence on income advances. And here and there layoffs of workers have been publicized—news that must be almost unbelievable to many young people, and at least vaguely disturbing.

Comparisons with a year earlier in various divisions of retail trade are definitely not going to be as rosy as they have been in recent years, at least not for some time. For one thing, there is nothing moving onto the market yet that is as dramatic as, say, color TV. Some possible car buyers may be held back because they expect still further safety features in the next year or two. And the rise in auto prices brought about by soaring costs and added outlays for safety requirements may add to consumer restraint in this field.

Hence, while it is probably accurate to assume that retail buying will continue to edge ahead, there are not enough plus factors to create an early fresh buying surge. For a time, gains will probably just about mirror increases in population and the advances in personal incomes that will be limited by higher taxes and more saving.

Farmers May Graze
Diverted Acreage

Farmers who diverted acreage under the 1967 feed grain program will soon be able to graze this acreage without losing program benefits, James M. Voss, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation State Committee, has announced.

Authority was recently granted to ASC State Committees to extend to 7 months the free grazing period for livestock on lands taken out of production under the annual commodity diversion program. The starting date for such grazing, therefore, will be October 1, marking the end of the period during which the no-grazing provision was in effect under the diversion programs.

Formerly, commodity diversion program lands could be grazed for 6 months each year, and the "normal" grazing period in Maryland was from November 1 through April 30.

During the intervening 5-month period, diverted lands can be grazed.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Dewey A. Hess, from the Defendant, Anna Mae Hess.

In such cases, Conservation Reserve and Cropland Adjustment program lands also may be used for grazing and for the harvesting of hay. Downward adjustments are made in diversion payments to farmers if these lands are grazed or hay is harvested under the disaster provision.

"Extension of the free grazing period," the Chairman stated, "will give farmers an additional month each year for grazing livestock on these diverted croplands. It will permit program participants to clean their fields without the expense of erecting fences between lands on which they have grown crops and those they have diverted."

"In making this move to help the farmer, the Department took note of the expanding use of the picker-sheller in corn production which provides for harvesting earlier than was customary under old methods. The net effect of the change is to allow farmers 7 months of free grazing for livestock on diverted lands instead of

Laurel Readies For International

Five horses from England, eight from France, four from Ireland, two from Italy, and one each from Germany and Belgium were named this week in a first list of 21 possibles for eventual invitations to the 16th running of the Washington D. C. International at Laurel Race Course on Nov. 11.

Laurel president John D. Schapiro, who originated the unique $150,000 global classic in 1952, said in an announcement from his Baltimore office that the list had been compiled on the basis of information received from his advisors abroad. It would be amended as necessary in the light of major races still to be decided in the coming weeks, including the British St. Leger, the French Arc de Triomphe, and the Champion Stakes at Newmarket.

Mr. Schapiro named the 3-year-olds Ribocco, Reform, and The Queen's Hopeful Venture, and the four-year-olds Busted and Salvo as potentials for invitations to represent England at Laurel.

"In what is a splendid year for English-trained thoroughbreds, we believe we will have one or more fine representatives from England at Laurel in November," Mr. Schapiro said.

From France, Mr. Schapiro named the 3-year-olds Roi Dagobert, Taj Dewan, Astec, the outstanding unbeaten filly Gazala, and the 4-year-olds Behistoun, Bon Mot, Taneb and Nelicus. Behistoun won the 1966 Washington D. C. International.

The Irish horses named were the colts Dan Kano (fifth to Ribocco and the best placed Irish horse in the Irish Derby), who has since won the Ulster Harp Derby and the Grand Prix de Vichy, and the 3-year-olds Great Host, winner of the Chester Vase and the Great Voltigeur Stakes, and Dominion Day, who won the Blandford Stakes at The Curragh. Also being considered is Vincent O'Brien's White Gloves, who apparently is coming back into form, having won the one and one-half mile Desmond Stakes, Sat., Aug. 19.

From Italy, the 3-year-old Ruysdael, winner of the Italian Derby and the Gran Premio d'Italia, and the durable 5-year-old Marco Visconti were named as meriting consideration.

The English-bred colt Luciano, unbeaten in his five races this year including the German Derby, was an obvious German choice at this stage of the 1967 German season.

Belgium could earn a first-time invitation to the Laurel classic if Mon Colonel, winner of the first two Belgian classics this year, should go on to become the first winner of the Belgian triple crown since 1933.

The leading Japanese handicap horse, the 4-year-old Speed Symbol, nominated by the Japan Racing Association, has already been named as the first acceptor for the Laurel November 11 event. Invitations to horses to represent the U. S., Canada, Russia, and some of the Latin American nations will not be decided until later, on completion of some of the major races still to come in those areas.

The Laurel International scoreboard now stands at seven U. S., five French, and one each English, Australian and Venezuelan wins. For the past fifteen runnings, 110 thoroughbreds flew a total of 791,495 miles from eight-nation teams to compete in the expenses paid, by - invitation only classic.

THREE'S A CROWD

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day
Expensive Pony

In the dictionary the word "pony" is defined as a horse of any small breed, but on the race track it is a verb—and a misnomer.

To pony a horse is not to resort to the Brazilian aborigine's art of shrinking, usually applied to an enemy's head. It is to exercise a riderless horse while mounted on a pony. This would prove a difficult task if ponies were actually used. The race track or stable pony is a regular sized horse of any breed. The late Ben Jones, famed Calumet Farm trainer, used a beautiful 5-gaited saddle horse as a pony. Still another odd pony was Clyde Van Dusen, a gelded son of Man o' War and winner of the 1929 Kentucky Derby.

Dominick Condone, one of the outriders who lead the post parade at Aqueduct, is mounted on a $52,500 pony, a gift from Mrs. John R. H. Thouron. Condone's pony, named Super Charged, is by Royal Charger—Without Equal, and was the second highest priced colt sold at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga yearling sales in 1963.

While Super Charged didn't quite live up to Mrs. Thouron's $52,500 expectations, he was, during his two seasons of racing, "better than an empty stall." Before a bowed tendon ended his racing career he had won six races (setting a track record for 5 furlongs at Pimlico as a 2-year-old), and earned $20,285.

FILL 'ER UP—This UH-1D HUEY helicopter from the U.S. Army's 9th Infantry Division prepares to land on a floating gas station for refueling. The specially outfitted Armored Troop Carrier remains close to combat areas, eliminating back-and-forth flights to land-based fuel depots.

GERMAN GEMÜTLICHKEIT AT MUNICH'S OKTOBERFEST

The gaiety of carnival time... pageantry... singing and dancing—mix them with plenty of beer, pretzels, knockwurst and other hearty fare, and you have Oktoberfest, Munich's annual 16-day celebration—the biggest folk festival in Europe.

Each year, there are about four or five million visitors—out-of-town guests and, of course, the Munchners themselves—who'll stream down to the Theresienwiese, Munich's festival meadows.

It all started more than 150 years ago, in 1810, when Crown Prince Ludwig, later King Ludwig I of Bavaria, was planning his marriage to Princess Therese of Sachsen Hildburghausen. According to information from Lufthansa German Airlines, a sergeant in the Bavarian National Guard had the bright idea of staging a grand horse race to commemorate the occasion. This developed into what Oktoberfest is now.

The multitude of amusements and the pervading odor of roasting and baking food are dazzling to the senses. Southern temperament, Bavarian joy of living, and the way of life of Munich—the metropolitan city of artists—are bound to catch the visitor completely under their spell.

The event gets off to a rousing start with a triumphant parade. Munich's seven big breweries try to outdo one another in the luxurious pomp on their beautiful horse wagons, which are accompanied by the "Oberlander" brass bands through the streets and finally out to the Theresienwiese. The magnificent teams and wagons of each brewery are bedecked in harnesses of shining silver, brass and well-oiled leather, the wagons creaking with big wooden kegs of beer. Also in the parade are people in native historical costumes, clowns and masks.

When the parade arrives at the Theresienwiese, the Lord Mayor of Munich, in the dignified manner of his office, opens the first keg of beer. And that's when the frolic of Oktoberfest begins.

The easiest way to get in on it all is to catch a Lufthansa German Airlines jet early in the evening: it'll put you down in Munich the next morning. Naturally, you can't take a sustained dose of such frolic, so the best thing is to combine a discreet peep into the activities at Oktoberfest, which takes place this year from September 16 to October 1, with a tour of Germany, or for that matter, Europe.

County To Sponsor Cultural Program

The Frederick County Board of Education has received final confirmation that Title III Comprehensive Cultural Program has been approved for a second year grant.

Dr. John L. Carnochan, Jr., also received copies of the Congressional Record from Congressman Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., which included the Advisory Evaluation Report of the first year's program. The Congressman commended the Board of Education, teachers, and advisory committee, for their interest and concern in making this program a meaningful and integral part of the daily educational lives of the Frederick County students.

Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew, wife of the Governor of Maryland, will officially open the Title III Cultural Program series as a special guest on October 5, at 10 a.m. She will bring greetings to the boys and girls attending this program from the governor.

Following Mrs. Agnew, Miss Hote Casella will open the second year's program series with a four-one hour program at Governor Thomas Johnson School Auditorium, on October 5 and 6, at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. An exhibit of historical American Indian items from New York and Washington museums will be displayed on stage and used with the program.

Miss Casella will present "From Teepee to Totem Pole," with stories and songs of the American Indian which will include gay tribal melodies, ceremonial songs, work and play songs, love songs, tender lullabies, and nature songs about the sun, the wind and the rain—each with its own colorful story—from the Navajo, Zuni, Apache, Hopi, Tewa, Cheyenne, and Chippewa.

Miss Casella's Indian Exhibit will be open to the public on Thursday evening, October 5, from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m. A special invitation will be sent to Boy Scouts, community organizations, colleges and other interested groups.

Miss Evelyn Swarthout will be the second artist in the series with two-one hour commentary—piano recitals at the Governor Thomas Johnson School Auditorium, on October 12, at 10 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. Miss Swarthout will be returning for a second time on the program series. She is head of the piano faculty at The American University.

Lady Sarah Lou Carter, wife of the Ambassador of Guyana, will lecture at two—one hour programs at the Governor Thomas Johnson School Auditorium, on October 26, at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Lady Carter will use an exhibit from her embassy along with her lecture. She will acquaint the students with her country and in doing so will touch upon its past, its present problems, the future and a great deal of its culture.

Robert L. Pitts is director of the cultural programs sponsored by the Board of Education under Title III of the National Elementary and Secondary Act of 1965. Mr. Pitts commented that the programs this school year will involve every school child in Frederick County. He also pointed out that emphasis is placed upon an educational kit preparing the students in advance for what they will see, as well as being used for follow-up activity.

Mr. Pitts also announced that this year emphasis would be placed on participation by community organizations, colleges, teachers of music and related fields. In fact parents and the public will be invited insofar as the seating capacity of the auditorium will permit.

Fall Is Time To Lime

According to leading agronomists throughout the country, fall is a good time to lime. In order to be ready for correcting the deficiency of the important minerals—calcium and magnesium—of the soils on your farm, it is important that arrangements be made to have your soils tested. This is especially true, if you plan to participate in the Agricultural Conservation Program. Remember, there are the usual time lags and delays from the taking of the soil samples, transmitting them to the laboratory for analysis, getting the recommendations of the College or County Agent, securing the approval of the County ASCS Committee, placing the order and getting the lime applied to the soil. These can consume a lot of time, in fact enough so that the liming season may be over before the lime can be applied.

Fall is a good time for applying limestone because it works relatively slowly in the soil, and agronomists recommend that it be applied several months in advance of seeding legumes such as alfalfa or clover. Lime should be disked under in the fall and then plowed under in the spring for maximum effectiveness. The disk helps incorporate the material into the soil thereby stimulating the freezing and thawing action.

One well-known midwest agronomist has reported that the benefits of liming sweet clover have been noted for as much as 22 years after the lime was applied. While it is not a recommended practice from an agronomic, production or profit basis, nevertheless, it is true that liming is a long lasting conservation practice. It is recommended that the soils be checked at each rotation whether this is four or five years. This will assure maintenance of the proper pH level for maximum production.

Work Force At Fort Detrick To Be Cut

A previously announced reduction in the work force at Fort Detrick will prove to be much smaller than had been anticipated, according to Colonel Peter G. Olenchuk, Commanding Officer.

It will not be necessary to separate more than 10 of the 1900 civilians employed at Fort Detrick, although many positions must be abolished to realign the programs. Individuals affected are employed in the engineering, procurement, research and development, and security activities of the Post.

Job rights of all employees under Department of the Army and Civil Service regulations will be protected. At least sixty days advance notice has been given to each affected employee.

In speaking of the reduction, Colonel Olenchuk said, "Fortunately, in the realignment of some of our programs we have been able to absorb nearly all of the employees who occupied the jobs that must be abolished. However, I am deeply concerned about the welfare of those few who may be separated through no fault of their own. We are making every effort to find jobs for these valued and faithful employees in other government and industrial facilities."

"We have carefully reviewed each action to insure that every change is essential to the effective accomplishment of our mission. I am confident that the continued loyalty and devotion of Fort Detrick employees will assure that our future operations will be made even more efficient and productive by these necessary changes."

'Corridor of Death' Ends When Guard Rail Appears

Twenty grinding head-on collision fatalities occurred on a seven-mile section of the eastern end of Michigan's Interstate 94 in the neighborhood of Ypsilanti when speeding vehicles crossed over the narrow median separating opposing traffic lanes. The long reign of terror on "Death Row" stopped abruptly when the Michigan Highway Department installed a double safety barrier of resilient steel in the narrow median. Inset shows a typical cross-over accident which brought tragedy before guard rail. It is unlikely to pay a return call on the now protected median (above).

BUILDING TRENDS

by Robert C. Daley

Glass Door Safety

"No other building product today symbolizes more the trend to indoor-outdoor living than the sliding glass door," reports the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Dr. Richard E. Marland, of the Public Health Service, estimates that 1,100,000 sliding glass doors will be used in new construction and remodeling this year. By 1970, the figure is expected to top 1,400,000.

According to the National Center for Urban and Industrial Health, sliding glass doors "first appeared in higher-priced homes in California and Florida following World War II. The concept of wide open glass areas then spread to homes, apartments, storefronts, shopping centers, theaters, hospitals, office buildings, airline terminals, motels and hotels."

Insulating glass and better weatherstripping were large factors in the growing popularity of the doors in all areas of the country.

During the 1950's, as low-cost housing developers began using large window units in the homes they built, the thickness and strength of the glass installed was reduced.

Today, the trend is toward safety glass in sliding glass doors. And one glass manufacturer has succeeded in increasing the strength of tempered safety glass while reducing its thickness! The revolutionary product, called Hercules K, is sold in thicknesses down to one-eighth inch.

He's safe at home because the sliding door contains tempered safety glass.

If you're thinking of building or buying a new home—or even remodeling your present one—make sure that all sliding glass doors and other large glass areas contain tempered safety glass.

State and municipal codes are in the offing in this area as a result of a model code set up by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, in cooperation with PPG Industries (Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company) and other manufacturers.

So play it safe—by insisting on safety glass in all sliding glass doors, storm doors, glass partitions and ceiling-to-floor windows.

Muzzling The Cuba Story

Both the Kennedy Administration and the Johnson Administration have suppressed ("classified") most of the official exchange that occurred between President John F. Kennedy and Nikita Khrushchev in October-November 1962 when our government recognized the fact that Russia was deploying H-bomb missile in Cuba capable of destroying much of the United States. But our watchdog committee of the U. S. Senate, the Subcommittee on Internal Security, has turned up a report of a letter which, if authentic, has great import to all Americans.

The letter, as reported, confirms what Khrushchev and Castro have said about the secret "deal" made by President Kennedy with Khrushchev in order to get the Russians to agree to withdraw the fearsome missiles from their Cuban launching pads. The letter report was published in Bohemia magazine in Cuba, November 2, 1962. As it now appears in the transcript of hearings by the Senate Subcommittee, the report:

To Protect Cuba?
"WASHINGTON (PRENSA LATINA) — President John F. Kennedy responded to the letter sent yesterday by the Prime Minister of the Soviet Union.

"In his letter, Kennedy pointed out:

"1. You would agree to remove these weapons systems from Cuba under appropriate United Nations observation and supervision; and undertake, with suitable safeguards, to halt the further introduction of such weapons systems into Cuba.

"2. We, on our part, would agree—upon the establishment of adequate arrangements through the United Nations to ensure the carrying out and continuation of these commitments—A) to remove promptly the quarantine measurements now in effect, and B) give assurances against an invasion of Cuba. I am confident that other nations of the Western Hemisphere will be prepared to do the same."

Has there been such a commitment and is it still in effect, with the U. S. guaranteeing the security of Cuba which—according to weighty testimony of eye witnesses—now has become a mighty Soviet fortress proclaiming the ultimate goal to be—our destruction?

Safeguarding The Reds

Credible witnesses say, Yes. (Witness Paul Bethel, former State Department official in Cuba, and later a Cuban expert serving the Kennedy Administration.) "On March 17, 1963, (after the reported 'deal') a Cuban exile group made an attack on Cuba. On March 30, another Cuban group attacked Cayo Frances, the Baku. The next day Attorney General Robert Kennedy sent 600 agents into Miami, would not permit any Cuban exile leader to leave Dade County. The Coast Guard was beefed up by 20 per cent with instructions to prevent any attacks whatsoever from whatever area against Cuba. At the same time, we called upon the British in the Bahamas to join with us in preventing any attacks. . . . This policy has not wavered since that time."

Witness Emilio Nunez-Portuondo, former Cuban Ambassador to the U. N. and former President of the U. N. Security Council, now living in Panama. Senor Nunez-Portuondo told the U. S. Senate Subcommittee that the U. S. State Department kept all Cuban refugees from attending the recent Latin American conference in Buenos Aires "because they don't want Cuba mentioned. They feel," he explained, "that they can get along with the Soviet Union and this would hamper it. . . . They not only try to keep the Cuban problem outside of any conference, but they are also setting up obstacles for the Cuban exiles. . . . It is not explainable why the United States doesn't help the Cubans to make a Vietnam in Cuba as the Russians are doing in Vietnam.

"Or Nuclear Blackmail"

From Mr. Bethel: "There is something much more serious that I have learned from witnesses I have talked to whose names cannot possibly be made public, that there is actual pressure being brought against them not to talk publicly." By whom? "By the U. S. intelligence community in Miami, apparently on orders from Washington. . . . They offer them jobs; say, look, keep your mouth shut and so on and we will get you a job, and so on. . . . If we are moving as we appear to be, toward an accommodation with this Russian base in the Caribbean, then obviously, any disrupting information might upset this delicate balance. I am certain that this is a political decision relating to the whole business of accommodation with the Soviet Union, plus the possibility that (we) are operating under the threat of nuclear blackmail."

About one of every five applicants for social security disability benefits delays so long before making his application that he risks possible loss of some payments, W. S. King, district manager of social security in Hagerstown, said this week.

In an effort to remedy this situation, the Social Security Administration is asking anyone who might possibly qualify for disability benefits to get in touch with a social security office as soon as possible. Some people fail to apply because they don't realize that they can benefit from the program. Younger people often think that social security payments are only for people in their sixties, whereas the disability program was specifically set up to protect the wage earner who is forced to stop working before he is old enough to collect retirement benefits.

A person under 65 can receive monthly payments if he has a physical or mental impairment that has kept or will keep him from working for a year or more. Benefits begin after a person has been disabled for six full months. No benefits can be paid for months during this "waiting period." An application can be filed at any time during this period.

For further information, phone, write or visit the nearest social security office. The Hagerstown district office is located at 59 North Cannon Avenue. The telephone number is 731-1000, Extension 1264.

SAFETY-MINDED PUBLIC OFFICIALS PUSH NEW CODE

USA standard
Performance Specifications and Methods of Test for Transparent Safety Glazing Material Used in Buildings

State and municipal building code authorities are getting behind a new model code which tells how thick and strong safety glass should be when used in glass doors and panels in private homes and commercial structures.

Sponsored by the National Safety Council, the code has been accepted as a standard by the United States of America Standards Institute.

Local public officials are especially interested in the safety recommendations contained in the new code. A patio door made of safety glass will stand up to some pretty rough knocks. But even if it does break under tremendous impact, tempered safety glass simply crumbles into many small fragments without sharp cutting edges.

Building officials and other interested regulatory officials may obtain a copy of the new safety glass standard by writing to U.S.A. Standards Institute at 10 East 40th St., New York, N. Y. 10016.

An exhaustive survey of the best times to catch muskies reveals nothing. Muskies hit when they feel like it. At York Haven Dam, Pennsylvania's best "hot spot," a yellow bucktail on the bottom in February and early March has produced sensational catches. A Wisconsin survey shows good summer fishing with surface plugs or bucktails, but catches soared in October and November when regulars took over with suckers and minnows. Observed muskies feed best at water temperature of 68°F. At 90°F. feeding stops. Below 60°F. it slows.—Sports Afield.

Freedom of speech is a valuable possession of every man but it is a foolish individual who speaks too freely.

A hot, new top-of-the-line GT model (top) with distinctive GT stripe and bucket seats as standard equipment, heads the list of changes in the Ranchero line for 1968. The completely redesigned Ranchero, four inches longer than last year's model, combines the utility of a pickup truck with passenger car luxury. It has an improved front suspension system and is available with four total performance power packages including a new 302-cubic-inch V-8 engine. The model lineup for 1968 also includes Ranchero and Ranchero 500 (bottom).

"I Believe in God... ISN'T THAT ENOUGH?"

Some people seem to think so. They'll tell you they believe in a Supreme Being. But they have no religion . . . belong to no church . . . feel no need for religious worship.

They are convinced by their own logic and reason that there must be a supernatural power. For what else could explain the marvels of the universe . . . the origin of life . . . the unique nature of man? This sort of belief, however, represents a minimum recognition of our Creator . . . a minimum understanding of divine truths . . . a minimum effort to learn the most important thing in our lives.

The wonders of the universe undoubtedly show forth the existence of God. But, they do not establish it to everyone's satisfaction. The unique nature of man suggests our possession of an immortal soul. But such proof is not immediately evident to everyone.

The clearest proofs we have concerning God are those He reveals to us. And the channel of His revelation is religion. Through the prophets, through the Bible, through the Church—He manifests Himself to us in ways we can understand.

He doesn't leave us to guess and theorize about Himself, or ourselves. He tells us what to believe—and why. Without religion we can only conjecture. As members of the family of God, we can be sure!

Belief in God is not enough to bring the true peace of mind that everyday living requires.

There must also be understanding of God's relation to us and our relation to God. Though we can see how our bodies function and our minds think, we can understand why only when we understand our God-given place in the order of creation. While we can hope for an eternal destiny of joy, we can be sure of it only through the sure knowledge that comes from God Himself.

"Religion Means God and Me" is the title of a newly-published pamphlet which we know will help you to achieve a better understanding of the divine and eternal "facts of life." It covers such topics as "God and Man—How Related?" . . . "Reason and Revelation" . . . "Christianity and Freedom" . . . "Morality and Religion." It is pocket size and can be read in a matter of minutes.

We'll be happy to send you a copy upon your request . . . and without cost or obligation. And nobody will call on you. Write today . . . ask for Pamphlet No. KC-18.

Hope For 13 Million Victims of Arthritis

Arthritis, the nation's No. 1 crippler, affects 13,000,000 people and costs the nation about $2 billion yearly. Contrary to popular belief, it is not a disease of old age alone. In one form or another it may strike people from 20 to 50, but it can occur at any age. Strangely enough, it occurs far more often in women than in men.

Is there hope for sufferers of this painful disease? There certainly is, according to The Arthritis Foundation which believes that "the question is no longer whether arthritis will be controlled, but when."

This is the view, too, of one of the country's leading physicians in the arthritic field. Reporting recently in Today's Health, a publication of the American Medical Association, Dr. John L. Decker, Chief of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Branch of the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases (NIAMD) says:

"While there is no cure as yet for rheumatoid arthritis, modern medicine has an array of effective defensive measures to greatly reduce its ravages. With early diagnosis and proper medical care, nine out of 10 patients are benefited, and seven out of 10 avoid severe disablement."

The basic treatment program for sufferers, says Dr. Decker, consists of drugs, rest and exercise. It may come as a surprise to some that aspirin is cited by Dr. Decker as the most useful drug known in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, the most painful and crippling form of the disease.

"Since rheumatoid arthritis is usually chronic, lasting years or a lifetime, toxic drugs are avoided as far as possible," Dr. Decker reports. "The patient is started on large doses of aspirin. Scoffed at by some because it is inexpensive and doesn't require a prescription, aspirin is the most useful drug in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, and was originally developed for the specific purpose of treating the disease."

The noted physician reports further that "NIAMD-supported studies have shown that the effects of aspirin are not limited to its capacity to relieve pain but that it also has a significant anti-inflammatory and fever-reducing action. This finding has considerable clinical importance for the physician now has reason to avoid agents which entail higher risks," he adds.

Dr. Decker's advice to arthritic sufferers is to shun quacks and self-treatment, to see a doctor at the first sign of the ailment—persistent pain, stiffness and swelling in one or more joints—and to cooperate in the treatment. In the meantime let us hope that this crippling public enemy's days are indeed numbered.

The ZIP Column

Due to the rural route evaluation and inspection during the next two weeks, our rural patrons will not receive their ZIP-A-LIST kits until Monday, Oct. 2. However, the P. O. Boxholders and general delivery section, will receive their kits as scheduled, on Wednesday, September 20.

As a reminder to our patrons, you are cordially invited to tour our office on Postal Services Day, next Wednesday, September 20, every hour on the half hour, between 9:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The subject of discussion for this week is the money order. A postal money order may be written in any amount, to and including one hundred dollars. The fee is as follows: 1c to $10.00, 25c; $10.01 to $50.00, 35c; $50.01 to $100.00, 40c.

Money orders are not to be stapled, clipped, or folded, but should be placed in a proper size envelope, due to the automatic processing of these cards.

Should problems arise, with the payee, due to loss or improper recording, inquiry may be sought, after a waiting period of sixty days. Also, photostatic copies of orders which have been cashed, may be obtained, for a fee of 30c. This requires approximately five weeks for processing.

Money orders are sold during regular window service hours, except no service after 5:00 p.m. and no service on Saturdays.

In keeping with Postal Services Day next week, I feel that a word of credit is due, to the following personnel, who have served the community so faithfully, over the years: Earle Gelwicks, James Adelsberger, Gerald Ryder, Everett Chrimer, Arthur Elder, and the rural carriers, Richard Harner and Wayne McCleaf.

To get your mail where the action is, "Use ZIP Code." George E. Rosensteel, PM

New Student Insurance Plan By Blue Cross

Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield have announced that their student health care program will be offered from now to Oct. 15.

Students must be 19-24 years of age and registered for at least 12 class hours per week in an approved educational institution to be eligible. Available on an individual basis, the low-cost program offers protection on and off the campus throughout the year. No medical examinations or health statements are necessary for membership.

The Blue Cross portion of the student program covers the cost of up to 30 days of hospital care for each admission in member hospitals, including full coverage of semi-private room and board, general nursing care and all other customary hospital services.

Blue Shield coverage under the program provides protection against medical and surgical care costs, including benefits for emergency X-ray services, anesthesia and consultations. Through the cooperation of Maryland Blue Shield's Participating Physicians, scheduled Plan allowances will be accepted as payment-in-full for covered services provided a student whose annual income, including that of a spouse, is less than $4,500.

Students may be enrolled thru all Plan offices in Maryland. Blue Cross and Blue Shield offices are located in Baltimore, Cumberland, Easton, Frederick, Hagerstown, and Salisbury.
