Snow and frigid temperatures again returned to this area after a respite of several days. Tuesday night the cold front moved in and was followed by a two-inch snow late Wednesday afternoon, along with falling temperatures. The few nice days we enjoyed since the last big freeze-just a week ago, really had us thinking of spring, even though the temperatures were only in the 40's and 50's. Let's hope this cold spell doesn't linger too long with us.

Neophyte typists will remember that old practice line of the beginner which read: Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party. Well I saw a slogan the other day which I really liked: Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their COUNTRY. Just one little word made a whole of a difference in the sentence. The draft-doggers and card-burners should take cognizance of this sentence and its connotation. It wouldn't be a bad idea either if typing teachers used the word country instead of party, just for starters.

In my mind the seizure of the Pueblo Tuesday is an overt act which should not be taken lightly by this country if we are to maintain our integrity and our respect. I am at a loss to know why the Captain of the ship didn't resist the boarding party of North Korean Communists. We have a multitude of war ships fully equipped in many areas of the world and we let the Commies just up and take one without a struggle. I feel that the Captain should have resisted. We realize we had only light weapons aboard and might have lost his ship had he resisted, but it was lost anyways and not a Commie even stumped his toe. Perhaps the Captain was under orders not to resist, and if he was, we wonder if all our warships are under the same order? If so, what then are they doing in troubled waters to start with? There are many angles to mull over in this incident and I doubt if we get the ship and crew back for a long time to come. It definitely is another attempt by the Russians to keep us in a state of confusion and confinement in a number of areas. I wonder what they would say if we just up and grabbed one of their fat fishing boats that hang around Alaska, the year around? I believe that in this case it would have been better to shoot first and ask questions later.

MSM Pre-Med Society Organized

Under the direction of Dominic G. Greco, associate professor of biology at Mount Saint Mary's College, all science majors interested in medicine or dentistry have formed a Pre-Medical Society.

The newly created group was organized primarily by the members of the senior class who have set forth the objectives of the organization as the promotion of unity and a spirit of fellowship among students who wish to pursue careers in medicine and dentistry. The college's Inter-Club Council recently approved the organization's constitution under which new officers were elected.

They are: president, Frederick M. Blaszk, senior, Sayreville, N. J.; vice president, Edward W. P. Smith, senior, Medina, Ohio; secretary, Anthony M. Nespole, senior, Berwick, Pa.; and treasurer, Raymond A. Kuthy, Valley Stream, N. Y.

As its initial project the group has set-up a library of catalogues from the major schools of dentistry and medicine providing information for students on admissions policies, schedules, etc.

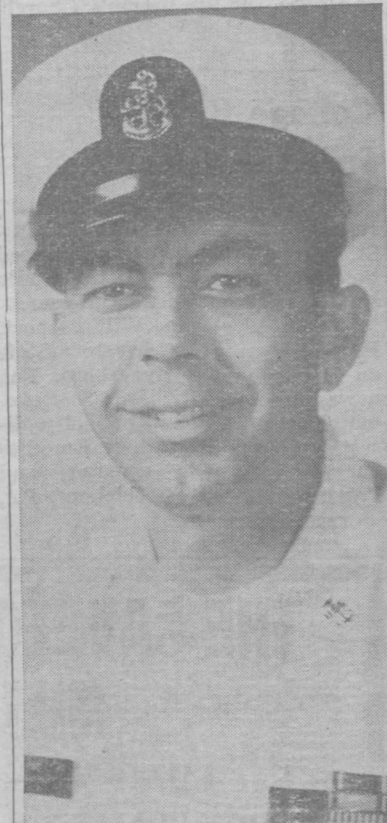

Future plans call for an affiliation with national fraternities, Alpha Epsilon Delta.

Retires From Navy After 20 Years

The Harrisburg, Pa. Navy Recruiting Office announced this week the 20 year retirement of Chief Petty Officer Vincent 'Pat' Clarke, son of Mrs. C. H. Clarke and the late Charles H. Clarke, Jr., of Thurmont.

Chief Clarke enlisted in the Navy in January, 1948 and served in the Atlantic and Pacific Fleets on various ships. For the past three years Clarke has been Recruiter in Charge of the Navy's Recruiting Office in Harrisburg.

'Pat' is married to the former Ruth Lynn Umbel of Emmitsburg and they have four children, Pat, Jr., Thomas, Rebecca and Mark. Chief Clarke resides with his family in Lemoyne, Pa., and has accepted a position as Safety Engineer with the Maryland Casualty Company in Harrisburg.

Atty. Fred Bower Addresses Lions Club

Fred Bower, assistant State's Attorney for Frederick County, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Ralph L. Tabler presiding.

In addition to Mr. Bower, two guests, Lions A. J. Smith and Neal Cain, of New Market and Mehrl Burgee, Yellow Springs, were in attendance.

Attorney Bower gave a very interesting and comprehensive talk on the duties and operations of the State's Attorney's office and following his talk held a question and answer session which was thoroughly enjoyed. Lion Edith A. Sewell gave a final report on the annual Christmas party for local children. Lion Norman Shriver gave a report on his attempt to obtain a center for the Civic Grounds. He named several potential interested individuals who might be induced to see Go Karts here.

A thank-you letter from George E. Davis, candidate for District Governor, was read and expressed his appreciation for the local club's support in the coming election. President Tabler reported tickets were available to the Cumberland Lions Club's anniversary ball on Jan. 27. The president also reported that the District Governor of District 22W would be the guest of the club at the next meeting.

Considerable discussion was held on the future of the Civic Grounds. Should it be sold, rented or given away. The spacious field, over 11 acres, would make an excellent industrial site or could be used for recreational purposes or be developed for housing. President Tabler appointed the following committee to study the issue: Milton A. Sewell, chairman, Norman J. Shriver and Town Commissioner J. Ralph McDonnell.

Annual Carnival Date Selected

The biggest array of talent ever to be presented at a carnival in Emmitsburg has been signed up for this summer's annual Indian Lookout Conservation Club's carnival to be held June 3 to 8, inclusive.

Eugene Myers, president of the club, announced this week that he had the following well-known entertainers under contract to show here this summer: Monday, June 3, Angels' Little Devils; Tuesday, June 4, Jeanie Shepard; Wednesday, June 5, Ronney Dove; Thursday, June 6, big Firemen's Parade with a concert by the Emmitsburg Municipal Band; Friday, June 7, The Osborne Brothers; and the concluding day, Saturday, June 8, Cheryl Lee and the Carter Brothers plus the annual big drawing.

Plans for the big parade, which was such a tremendous success last year, are being made right now. Conservation Club officials ask that any organization or individuals wishing to aid with the staging of the parade, please contact either Gene Myers or George L. Danner, immediately.

Road Fund Status Is Confused

The director of the State Roads Commission called the cutting back of federal funds on the highway program by the Johnson administration as "horrendous" and said it will have a terrible effect on the Maryland road program.

Jerome B. Wolff said Monday that his office had yet to receive official word of the cutbacks but that he had begun an investigation to see what effect such an action would have on the road programs in the State.

Wolff expected to have definite figures this week on the various county programs.

He said that the main damage would be done to obligations which have already been committed in calendar year 1967 but that the first job of his office would be to protect the State monies already in the counties.

Wolff called the move "terrible" because it covers the calendar year of 1967 which included half of fiscal years 1966 and 1967.

He explained that under the Maryland system, federal funds are promised and allocated when they are approved but not distributed immediately to the specific projects and thus the State will suffer more than most other States in this cut back on promised funds rather than on future funds.

The exact effect on Frederick County's road program could not immediately be determined.

The county commissioners and legislative delegation submitted priorities to the State Roads Commission at the end of December with the dualization of U. S. 15 from Harmony Grove to Lewis-town as the "Number One Project" in the two year program.

Second on the priority list was an interchange on U. S. 15 near Thurmont which could not be included in the two-year program because it is not a part of the SRC-20 year needs study for the county.

Listed for the third priority is the dualization of U. S. 40 west of Frederick to Alternate U. S. 40.

The SRC has promised the county $8,300,000 for the coming two-year program. The SRC had turned down a list of priorities submitted by county officials last October.

Firemen Respond To Calls

The Vigilant Hose Co. was summoned to Mount St. Mary's College Monday evening at 6:29. Chief Guy McGlaughlin said investigation showed someone had apparently thrown a piece of lighted paper down a chute leading to an incinerator and ignited debris in the incinerator. There was no damage.

The firemen were summoned to Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock to extinguish a chimney fire at the home of John Shorb along the Kelbaugh Rd. Chief McGlaughlin said there was no damage.

Liners Nudge Thurmont 64-61

Lee Koontz refused to let a little thing like a second quarter injury that required six stitches stop him as he came back in the fourth quarter to help Emmitsburg edge Thurmont 64-61 here Friday night.

Koontz, the tallest man on the Liner's squad, at 6'2, was injured in the second quarter and sat out play while a doctor administered six stitches.

He then came back in the game in the fourth quarter to set up three plays that brought the Liners from a three point deficit to give them the lead over Thurmont.

The Liners held on to the small margin to take their ninth win in 11 games.

Gary Manning and Ronnie Wierman led the Liners attack with 15 points each.

The win was the second of the year for the Class C school over Class B competition. The Liners have managed to compile the record despite only having one man over 6 feet.

In the JV contest, the Liners edged Thurmont in overtime by a 44-41 score.

St. Joe's Splits Pair Of Games

St. Joe's of Emmitsburg split two Blue Ridge League games over the weekend, beating St. John's 42-36 on Sunday after losing to St. Joe's of Martinsburg 70-60 on Saturday.

John Neighbours, filling in for star Marty Williams who was sick, teamed up with Lumen Norris to lead the St. Joe's win Sunday.

Neighbours, who usually spends much of his time on the bench watching Williams, got his chance when the Saints' high scorer came down with the flu.

Neighbours took advantage of the situation to the tune of 12 points, while Norris led his team with 14.

It was a different story on Saturday as the Saints lost despite a 22 point performance by Williams.

Mike Gelwicks had 12, Norris 11, and Mike Smith 10, to lead the St. Joe's attack.

During the first year of their eligibility under the 1966 GI Bill, 22,000 servicemen on active duty received educational training. More than half were enrolled in courses below the college level, according to the Veterans Administration.

Dam Was Part Of Old Mill Operation

A few more words on old mills in the area. Several weeks ago we ran a picture of an old mill near the Hampton Valley Road. Many attempted to identify it and it was finally acknowledged that it is now the site of the Gike Miller home.

This week another photo, not the mill itself, but the stream which fed it, was presented to the Chronicle by Mr. Charles Wagaman. Charlie says the old mill for 17 years they moved to Emmitsburg. The mill was later renamed the Cooney Hartdagan Mill, the owner being the grandfather of Guy Hartdagan and the late Vincent Leroy Hartdagan, and the great-grandfather of Charles V. "Shorty" Hartdagan, Toll Gate Hill. The picture shown above shows Charles Wagaman and his father at the foot of the dam which fed the mill waterwheel. Remains of the dam still stand in the area.

Band Selects New Uniform

The Emmitsburg Municipal Band held its monthly business meeting January 17 at 7:30 p. m. in the Lutheran parish hall.

At the meeting the members discussed the choice of new uniforms from a number of selections and eventually made a choice.

The uniforms, purchased from the Howard Uniform Co., Baltimore, cost approximately $65.00 each. The uniform consists of black trousers with gold stripes, red jackets, black ties and hats of red and black. Members decided to buy their own hats.

A committee was named for a Bake Sale to be held sometime in February. Janie Koontz was made chairman of the committee.

Reader Differs With McGucken's Transplant Stand

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Referring to your letter from a Mr. Patrick F. McGucken, January 19th issue, on heart transplant. This is the second letter of the sort. I guess the first didn't seem to be enough. Well, I would like to get one thing straight with you, Mr. McGucken, that everyone of the transplant donees agreed fully to donate their heart to someone who needed it worse than they, since they knew it would be of no use to them since they were going to die soon, let's say within a day. Another thing, if you had a diseased heart and wanted to live badly enough, and someone was willing enough to donate their heart to you, I bet you'd jump at the chance to take it. And I tell you, if I knew someone who was dying of a diseased heart and I was going to die, I'd very gladly and willingly give them my heart.

I think transplants are a very wonderful thing. I also think that Dr. Christian Barnard is the greatest man that ever lived. And where do you have the right to criticize what he does that is really a miracle?

Sir, maybe I'm only a teenager, but I certainly know more of what I'm talking about than you seem to! And I don't see where abortion has a single thing to do with heart transplant.

Anyway, just remember if you were dying and you knew you had a chance to live through a transplanted heart, you'd probably take the chance of a new heart. That is if you call a new heart a chance.

And thus Maudie, her emotions as starved as her face, looks forward to her travels.

Hospital Occupancy Shows Drop

December occupancy at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, dropped to 65.13 per cent as compared with the exceptional December figure of the year before of 75.82 per cent.

Emergency room treatments, X-ray procedures and treatments and physical therapy showed corresponding decreases while laboratory tests, electrocardiograms and surgery increased.

Occupancy for the first six months of the fiscal year, which ended December 31, showed only a slight difference . . . 72.47 per cent this year as against 74.59 per cent last year.

Earned income in December was $87,260.31, down from $95,337.18 the year before. Actual expenses of $97,652.61 were up from $85,502.66 in December, 1966, and last month, therefore, showed an operating loss of $10,048.39 while the six months' period reflects an operating loss of $16,046.61.

Higher expenses in all departments reflected higher costs of material, supplies, payroll and professional care of patients.

The financial reports for November and December were studied by directors of the hospital at a well attended board meeting last week.

ANNAPOLIS REPORT

By Charles H. Smelser State Senator

Carroll-Frederick Dist. No. 2 The Maryland Legislature convened in Annapolis on Wednesday, Jan. 18 for the annual 70-day session. After the House and Senate organized, both Houses met in joint session to hear the State of the State message and receive the budget from Governor Agnew.

All of the bills introduced during the first day's proceedings resulted from studies made by the Legislative Council and several of its committees which conducted meetings between sessions.

Annually, the budget is the single most important bill to be considered and this year, I foresee greater public interest in the budget due to the phase-out of the State Scholarship Program, plus reductions in requests of a number of state agencies, to the complete exclusion from the budget of several departments by Governor Agnew.

Other bills certain to cause a great deal of discussion are Capital Punishment, Chemical Tests for drivers charged with drunken driving, Meat Inspections, along with others to be introduced.

As your representative I will again bring to your attention proposed legislation that I feel to be of particular interest to the readers of this paper. If any of you readers desire copies of specific bills, either of your Senators or members of the House of Delegates will be happy to furnish copies upon request.

My constituents who wish to contact me in Annapolis during the session can do so by calling 263-2321, Extension 291 or 292, or by writing to me at the State House, Annapolis, Md. 21401. I am located in Room 319 of the Treasury Building for those who desire to see me personally. In addition, messages will reach me by calling locally the following: In Carroll County, 848-2770; in Frederick County, 898-9666.

Reader Suggests National Coverage In Weeklies

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: Although no longer a resident of your little hamlet (parental decision in the late forties), I must admit to a certain nostalgia concerning my first home, Emmitsburg.

It is with fond memories that I remember Emmitsburg in general, and the Chronicle in particular. There is, however, a rather disturbing aspect relating to said paper that I must, in all honesty, relate to you.

I realize that the function of a small town paper is one of primarily local news; garden parties, filial reunions, fish fries, etc., but I must say that to completely negate the historic events occurring outside your ken, is a disservice to your craft, but more importantly, your readers!

I'm quite sure the Chronicle has editorial opinions on a few important issues besides band concerts, city council machinations, or the latest on Mother Seton's canonization.

As one of the few remaining true voices of rural America you have shamefully abrogated a great responsibility. A constant diet of Abigail's tepid oatmeal can only result in acute torpor. Let us see some opinions on civil rights, Vietnam, urban renewal, riots, the presidency, Congress, taxation, et al. Surely these have as profound effect on the lives of your readers as does the Warner Hospital report.

Knowing this paper's founder, and his successor, as I have through the years, I realize I'm encouraging another liberal voice to be heard in the land, but some voice is better than none at all. Besides, who knows, the conservative response you will undoubtedly generate may result in your introduction to the philosophies of Milton Friedman, William Buckley and others of their stature.

In short, the dialog might prove highly beneficial to all concerned. W. Terry Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Senior Citizens Take Up Bridge

The White Elephant Bingo Party which was held at the Senior Citizens Center Tuesday evening, Jan. 16, was highly successful. David Harbaugh called the numbers and each successful player chose his prize from the White Elephant collection. Five or six tables of Senior Citizens enjoyed the party. Light refreshments were served by Mrs. William Slemmer, Sr., and Mrs. Frances Stinson.

A class was initiated Wednesday at 1 p.m. into the intricacies of the Legislative Intern Program being established by State Senator Goodloe E. Byron (D-Carroll-Frederick) for the 1968 session of the General Assembly now convened in Annapolis.

In announcing the program, Byron, a Frederick attorney, said, "These one-day internships will afford interested students an opportunity to participate in committee hearings, help in the actual drafting of legislation, view a session of the Assembly at close hand, and assist in the routine handling of services to constituents in my Annapolis office."

Citing the Eagleton Institute's recent report on modernizing of legislative procedures, State Senator Byron noted that it called for the creation of an intern program as a supplement to regular legislative services.

Byron continued, "Such a program has operated successfully for several years within the legislative and executive branches of the Federal government, as well as in at least five other state legislatures where much of the cost has been underwritten by the Ford Foundation."

"The actual mechanics of selection will be left in the hands of school authorities in the two participating counties", Byron explained, "and will be based on the selection of one student to every 100 eligible. At least eight students will 'intern' at the General Assembly on selected days."

In conclusion, Byron said, "It is hoped that such a legislative intern program will act as a stimulus for further participation by these students in government on a local, State and national basis."

of the game of Bridge. Mrs. Mary Famous has kindly consented to teach a group of any Senior Citizens who wish to learn at the Senior Citizens Center. All who are interested, come join the class.

For the next regular meeting of the club on Tuesday, Feb. 20, at the Center at 7:30 p.m., it is hoped that Dr. Harry Daniel Bowman of Hagerstown, will be able to give a talk on the History of Emmitsburg. Look for later announcements. Anyone of the community interested will be welcome. Mrs. Nell Sullivan and Mrs. Ann Thompson will serve refreshments.

Community College Enrolment Up

Frederick Community College begins its second semester on Monday with little change in enrollment expected.

College President Lewis W. Stephens said enrollment should remain around 700.

Stephens had predicted in the fall there would be between 500 and 600 students, but instead more than 700 registered, enabling the college to hire new teachers and obtain more space.

The college plans to offer new courses in the business field, including business management, ele-

Rep. Clarence D. Long (D-Md.), this week introduced a bill to compensate firemen totally disabled or killed in the line of duty during riots.

"Firefighting is the third most hazardous occupation in the United States under normal circumstances," Rep. Long said. "During riots, firefighters are the victims of direct physical attacks and even guerrilla warfare. They deserve to be compensated for their extraordinary service."

The bill covers both volunteer and paid firemen. "Rioters attacking firefighters make no distinction between full-time, paid firemen and volunteer firemen," Rep. Long said. "In fact, 92 per cent of all fire departments in this country are volunteer, and there are volunteer fire departments in each of Maryland's 23 counties."

Babson's Point of View On:
Value Of Local Credit Bureaus
BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 25—Consumer credit is such a natural part of our business life that few recognize how involved the system actually is, particularly in determining the "risk" rating of customers. If a breadwinner, or his family, is refused credit, it may come as a shock to one who has considered his credit record generally satisfactory. Here is where the Credit Bureau Comes In. Virtually all major cities in the country have credit bureaus, but it is surprising how few consumers know they can find valuable help from these sources. Such knowledge would be especially useful if the time should come when you are turned down in your request for credit. One of the chief responsibilities of the bureaus is to assist individuals and families to build up and maintain healthy credit records. Even more important in some instances is the programs the bureaus can offer for rebuilding a financial reputation that has suffered from unavoidable reverses. Credit bureaus are not involved with actually making the decision of whether or not you should be accepted as a risk by a retailer or other establishment. Rather, they are concerned with gathering information and providing a reporting service for both buyers and sellers. If you have a black mark against you, your credit bureau may well be able to suggest the best method of working out the problem. In most communities, you will find the agencies listed under "Credit Bureaus" or "Consumer Credit Bureaus" in the yellow pages of the local phone book. Your Privacy Is Respected

A telephone call to your credit bureau is recommended, with a request for a personal appointment. Credit records are not discussed over the phone and their contents are carefully guarded from those with no legitimate reason for requiring such data. An interview with the trained personnel of your bureau, however, may reveal the cause for your rejection. There need be no worry in reviewing your credit background with these people; it is commonly done all over the map by a great many honest consumers with such problems. For example, the Credit Bureau of Greater Houston estimates that its staff interviews and advises as many as 1800-1900 persons with credit dilemmas every month. Other cities report a steady expansion in the need for and use of their services. If you visit such an office, you will be granted a private session with a highly experienced supervisory or management-level adviser. The objective in most straight-forward cases is to reveal the reasons for any periods of faulty payments, so that they may be placed in the files. Establishing Renewed Solvency

Most people are honest and have every intention of paying their bills in accordance with the original arrangements. But they may overreach in this day of credit cards and the hard sell. Or there may be illness, accident, or loss of a job. Occasionally there will be a case where family assets are completely decimated by a series of unfortunate circumstances. Many bureaus have associated with them some form of counseling service to which those deeply in debt may be referred. In some instances, such family credit counseling is underwritten by local credit granters. The essence of the work of a credit bureau is to rehabilitate the rating of an honest risk who has fallen on difficult times in the past. Most credit granters, when they know the details of the lapse, are likely to go along with a consumer on his present solvent position instead of on his past record. In South Bend the counseling service has been remarkably successful in pooling consumers' accounts and arranging an extended pay-out for those who have fallen behind. In the four and a half years this system has been used, local personal bankruptcies are said to have been noticeably reduced. Those with a need for maintaining or re-establishing good credit would be wise to visit their credit bureau. The services proffered are, as a rule, without charge.

will offer a guaranteed minimum price for veal calves and if enough farmers are interested, for those without the labor to veal out calves, the Co-op will maintain a veal barn where young calves will be purchased from a member, fed until veal weight and a bonus paid back to the farmer when the calf is sold. Wilcox pointed to a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture Livestock Report which stated that last year, 1967, the production of veal calves was down 11% on 1966. This can be expected to continue," he said, "as more farmers quit dairying, cow numbers are down, but milk production remains fairly constant as production per cow is constantly rising because of better breeding and management. There is still about the same amount of milk, but the cow still only produces one calf." Nine calves are now in a pilot project for the cooperative in Frederick County. The purpose being to confirm or repudiate the claims of milk replacers used to veal out calves. To date, results have been very encouraging and farmers interested in the trial are invited to visit the project and discuss new methods of producing veal and better conversion rates.

Wilcox, a Pennsylvania Holstein breeder, will chair a meeting at the Holiday Inn in Frederick on Tuesday, January 30th, where details of the guaranteed prices offered by the cooperative for 1968 will be given. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. but he plans to be in the Charcoal Room at the motel Tuesday to visit any interested Maryland State Holstein Breeders who will be attending their annual meeting at the Holiday Inn on the same date. "We think we can help raise farm income through better veal calves not only for dairymen but any other farmers who have an hour, night and morning, to work with calves." He concluded by saying, "There is a lot of extra income to be had without taking an "off the farm job," away from home. We'd like to help Maryland farmers get it."

"Higher income for family farmers through cooperative marketing," is the thinking behind the newly formed Maryland Vealers Cooperative. "We are starting our cooperative marketing program with veal calves," said Henry E. Wilcox, one of the organizers, "as this commodity seems to us to offer the highest potential increase in income for farmers in the state." "3,000 calves are sold through the local Frederick county markets a month . . . but," he added, "only a small proportion of those calves are taken to profitable veal weights." "There are several reasons why farmers don't think it worthwhile to add a few pounds to their bull calves." "The labor shortage on dairy farms is probably the biggest single reason against keeping the calves on. Another is that market prices seem to depend upon the whim of buyers." "Right now, prices are high for good veal calves, but as the Spring approaches, prices will decline." Maryland Vealers Cooperative

MOTHERS SEE ADVANTAGE OF SLIDING GLASS DOORS

Keeping an eye on children playing outdoors used to be a pain in the neck for mother, as she had to twist on tip-toe to peer through the little window over the sink. Now, sliding glass doors give Mom a clear view of the whole back yard with just a glance. And Herculite K, a strong thin safety glass used in many sliding patio doors, protects youngsters who might bump against the glass — added insurance for mother's peace of mind.

Miss Beall

Miss Brown

Among Maryland delegates returning from the 46th Annual 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, was Robin Beall, 16, of Germantown, and Pamela Roderuck, 16, of Walkersville. Winners of trips and other 4-H awards are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Nina Brown, 15, of Barnesville, was also named a state award winner and received a handsome gold wrist watch. Miss Beall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beall, redecorated her room, which included removing wall paper and refinishing the floor, to take top honors in the 4-H Home Improvement program. Her trip was sponsored by The S&H Foundation, Inc.

"Patience and practice add up to success," according to Pamela Roderuck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roderuck. Her demonstrations, "Salmon Cheese Pie" and "5-Cup Salad" contributed to her success in both state and sectional dairy foods competitions.

Sponsors of the 4-H Dairy Foods program for 20 years, the Carnation Company has presented her with a wrist watch and an expense-paid congress trip. While in Chicago, Miss Beall and Miss Roderuck mingled with 1,650 other 4-H delegates from the 50 states and Puerto Rico. They took educational tours, attended parties and participated in panel discussions featuring Chicago television and sports personalities.

Miss Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, raised and trained a Newfoundland puppy for her prize-winning project. "While He's a Puppy" was a demonstration which contributed to her success in the 4-H Dog Care and Training program. The Ralston Purina Company supports this 4-H program.

What's RIGHT Between CATHOLICS and JEWS?

There are, certainly, differences of belief between Christians and Jews.

And for nearly 2,000 years, their relationship has been marred by misunderstandings and even animosities from both sides. It might have seemed, indeed, that the gulf between them was too wide and too deep ever to be bridged... that the sores and wounds of discord were too old ever to heal.

But a long step in that direction was taken when the late Pope John XXIII... in con-voking Vatican Council II... called for emphasis on "the things which unite us rather than the things which divide us." The present Pontiff, Paul VI, echoed the same sentiment in his encyclical Ecclesiam Suam, when he said: "Let us stress what we have in common rather than what divides us."

Vatican Council II... in its declaration on "The Relation of the Church to non-Christian Religions"... reminds the world of the common heritage of Christians and Jews in the prophets and promises of the Old Testament, and says:

"Since the spiritual patrimony common to Christians and Jews is thus so great, this Sacred Synod wants to foster and recommend that mutual understanding and respect which is the fruit, above all, of biblical and theological studies as well as fraternal dialogues."

The declaration of Vatican Council II set forth four spheres of common interest between Catholics and Jews. They are Biblical research, theological studies, mutual understanding and fraternal dialogues. Writing on this later, Augustin Cardinal Bea, President of the Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, had this to say:

"The first essential task—and it will be most rewarding—is to realize how very closely and intimately we are united to the Jews and how many paths we tread as fellow-pilgrims with them in the daily practice of our religion. The mere fact of doing this is already an important advance toward that mutual understanding which the Council recommends to us and which also forms the starting point for further progress along the same road."

If you'd like to know more about the common heritage that binds Christians and Jews together in their love of God, write today for our new pocket-size pamphlet entitled "Relationship Between Catholics and Jews." We'll send it free on your request—without obligation. Nobody will call on you.

March of Dimes Physician Demands More Science in Choice of Spouse

No one wants to rule out romance as the lure that leads boy and girl along the happy highway to love and marriage. But science should also play an important part in selecting a life-long mate.
So argues Dr. David B. Shurtleff, well known as a researcher in pediatrics and medical director of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at the University of Washington School of Medicine, Seattle.
He feels more attention should be paid to the medical and genetic background of the boy who meets girl and vice versa. Today virtually the only medical test required for a marriage license in 46 of the 50 states is the Wassermann or some comparable test for syphilis.
Dr. Shurtleff believes a lot more attention should be paid to family pedigrees, metabolic studies, chromosome analyses and any other laboratory procedures that might disclose, in prospective fathers and mothers, hidden physical and mental traits likely to cause the birth of defective infants.
"If we don't establish these tests—and I am talking about mandatory tests—we're only kidding ourselves when we talk about our 'enlightened society,'" he declares.
"We Americans say we are a sensible, realistic people. We cannot justify procreating, year after year, tens of thousands of babies who are crippled, mentally damaged or suffer from inborn errors of metabolism."
"Please note that I am not saying that a couple should be forbidden marriage if their genetic and other prospects are unfavorable. But I want this couple to know the unpromising odds, if these exist. Then, with their eyes open, they can decide to forget the whole thing, or marry and take their chances of having defective infants. They could also elect to adopt children.

"I believe that within a decade we will see certain states and various organizations embracing enlightened attitudes that will assist the medical profession in preventing certain catastrophic birth defects. For this I must pay tribute in part to the educational labors of the March of Dimes."

Federal Government. Just before Congress convened, he came to the auditorium of our American Heritage Center in Searcy, to talk "horse sense" with a large gathering of his hometown friends. After his formal address, they kept him up late with questions.
"If the growth of spending by the Federal Government continues at the present rate for the next 20 years," he said, "the Federal Budget will be nearly $700 billion!" The groan which came up from his audience was expressive, I am sure, of the feelings of all the taxpayers in America. "And, of course," said Chairman Mills, "it will have to be paid in taxes one way or another." Another groan.
Controls Are Vital
About the only sure way to prevent the continuing growth of Federal Government spending, Wilbur Mills said, is for the people to insist that Congress be given the power to set a limit on the amount of money each department can spend each year. Gradually through the years, he said, this responsibility of Congress had been taken away by the President. Chairman Mills sponsored a bill in the 1967 session which would have specifically given Congress the power to establish ceilings on spending in every department of Government. It passed the House but died in the Senate. And Chairman Mills expects that the Senate, unless moved by a huge wave of citizen pressure, will continue to block the establishment of such controls.

Yet, in my opinion, such a legislative power over Federal spending, is the most important need in the life of our nation. Without it, political expediency, and not common sense and a regard for the financial stability of our nation, will control spending and it will continue to grow and grow. Swelling Federal Payroll

As this column is written, the latest report of the "Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures, Congress of the United States" has come to my desk. The Committee's name, under present circumstances, is something of a joke, although the members are sincere economy-minded members of the House and Senate. The Committee hasn't been able ever, to actually function in "Reduction of Non-Essential Federal Expenditures." But its reports each month ought to motivate the entire American citizenry to demand immediate and stringent controls by the Congress over the expenditures.
The number of employees on the Federal payroll went up again in November, 1967. There are now 3,048,970 civilians on the payroll. This is an increase of more than 100,000 in 11 months! Salaries for these people are costing the taxpayers more than $23 billion. There are approximately 3,500,000 military personnel on the Defense Department payroll. When we add them to the army of civilian employees, this boosts the total employee payroll to more than $40 billion a year. That's $7 billion more than the entire Federal Government cost the taxpayers just 20 years ago.

4-H Girls Back From Chicago

Grace Fielder

Two 17-year-old Maryland girls attended the recent 46th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago as state award winners in the community beautification and dress revue programs.
The winners, selected by the Cooperative Extension Service, are Mary Leatherman, of Frederick, and Grace Fielder, of Bel Air.
During their Chicago trip, they attended a concert and a talk by syndicated newspaper columnist, Ann Landers.
Miss Fielder, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Fielder, was the guest of The Sears-Roebuck Foundation for her community beautification work. She headed a three-club group that planted a plot in the business section and installed flower boxes at the local postoffice.
Her project started when she planted a garden of annuals in 1963.
Miss Leatherman's trip was donated by Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., sponsor of the dress revue program. She sewed 38 garments and modeled many of them. She also sewed for her younger brothers and sisters. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leatherman.

Chairman Mills wants desperately to halt this mammoth growth. He reflects the attitude of a substantial majority of the House of Representatives, whose membership is much more reflective of the mood of the American people than is the Senate's. Senators are elected for six year terms, House members for two years. At the moment, a heavy majority of Senators are "spenders", going along with Presidential plans for expansion of Federal spending programs and creation of new ones. This, in spite of the heavy drain in the resources of our nation and on the incomes of our people by the Vietnam war.

on at the present rate, Chairman Mills' figure of nearly $700 billion could mean that the tax bill of every citizen would more than triple! Either that, or a continuing rise would occur in Federal deficit spending and the national debt, whose interest cost now has soared above $14 billion a year. It is time for each citizen to make participation in Government an essential interest and duty. Unless we master our Government very soon, it will master us until we are, genuinely, its slaves.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

Hot Foods Can Shrink Fillings
BETHESDA, Md.—If your filling loosens don't blame your dentist. It may be due to causes beyond his control—to hot food as a matter of fact. At least that's what a recent report from the National Institute of Dental Research (one of the eight National Institutes of Health) suggests. According to one scientific investigator, moderate heat, equal to the temperatures of hot foods, hastens shrinkage in dental fillings, because moderate heat eventually causes a reduction in the size of clusters of molecules in dental fillings.

Amalgam, a commonly used dental filling, is an alloy of silver, tin, and mercury. Temperature causes the alloy to respond in a variety of ways; heat, for instance, causing a deterioration of amalgam which can result in leakage around tooth fillings.

Nine Of Ten Plan Families
ANN ARBOR, Mich. — "The norm of fertility control has become universal in contemporary America." This is the conclusion drawn by two eminent sociologists, Drs. Charles F. Westoff and Norman B. Ryder, who polled close to 6,000 American wives in an effort to find out what American women do about family planning.

They found that regardless of religious preference or devoutness, race, education, income, husband's occupation or area of residence, American women appear to be approaching virtually total acceptance of contraception in one form or another.

Eighty-four per cent of American wives have used contraception, and another six per cent said they expect to use it. Among Catholic women with a college education, some 81 per cent have used it, with another 10 per cent planning to do so.

The percentage of non-white Americans practicing family planning has also risen sharply and in the South it has risen 25 per cent in a five-year period.

The study also found that "couples tend to be adopting contraception earlier in marriage."

Young well-educated couples tend to choose oral contraceptives as their preferred method both because such people are likely to be aware of newer methods and to be interested in them, and they are the style setters, the sociologists found.

Ear-Piercing Not For Do-It-Yourself
CHICAGO, Ill. — Do-it-yourself ear-piercing is risky, warns the American Medical Association, increasing the chances of infection and the development of scar tissue.

The medical group warns that the small, self-piercing ear-ring loops now being widely promoted are not considered safe. These devices have sharp points which are supposed to pierce the ears within a few days as they are worn. Infections requiring medical treatment have developed from the use of these devices.

Physicians will not pierce ears having any type of rash or infections or if small cysts are present in the lobe. Persons subject to keloids (scar overgrowth) or who have this tendency in the family, or those allergic to nickel or other metals should not have their ears pierced, the AMA warns.

Attending Convention

Sister Josephine, Instructor in Social Welfare at Saint Joseph College is representing the college at a national convention for the Council on Social Work Education in Minneapolis this week. Major questions being discussed at the convention include a curriculum study of the present balance of graduate and undergraduate courses in social work.

Ways to improve the relationship between the graduate professional education and undergraduate programs will be explored with special attention to new developments in education to meet the needs of a rapidly changing society.

Sister Josephine, who has a master's degree in Social Welfare from the University of Michigan, was appointed to the St. Joseph faculty in 1967.

Read John 16:14-15.

Thou dost show me the path of life; in thy presence there is fullness of joy. (1st John 1:7, RSV).

My furlough year spent, I was returning to work in Korea. I was aboard the freighter De Soto anchored outside the harbor of Pusan. Captain Hansen was waiting for the dense fog to lift. He invited me, the only passenger, to go with him to the bridge of the ship.

In the thick fog he stood looking intently ahead. We could not see the bow nor the stern of the ship. After watching for several minutes, I asked, "Aren't you straining your eyes?" Laughingly, he answered, "I'm not looking. I'm listening for the sounds thru the fog!"

Sometimes when we cannot see where we are going, we have to stop to listen for God's voice through the fog of our confusion. When we cannot see the way ahead, we can listen to Him who holds us constantly in His love and care.

Prayer

Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for guiding us past the shoals and rocks which would destroy us. We thank Thee for Thy voice which comes when we stop to listen. Help us to look to Thee when we are confused by life's fogs. We pray in the name of Jesus, our Pilot. Amen.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

By GOODLOE E. BYRON
STATE SENATOR

The 1968 Session of the Maryland General Assembly convened on Wednesday, January 17 at 12 noon, as required by Maryland's

Navy Unit Receives Certificate Of Appreciation

The men of the U. S. Naval Unit, Fort Detrick, proudly display the Certificate of Appreciation presented to the Unit by the U. S. Navy Recruiters of Frederick, Md., Chief Electricians Mate K. W. Keilholtz (far left) and Chief Shipfitter O. B. Stultz (far right), on behalf of the U. S. Navy Recruiting Service. The Certificate recognizes the Naval Unit's "public spirited cooperation in furthering the excellent relations between the U. S. Navy and the people of this community."

Constitution. After a brief organizational session in which Senator William James of Harford County was re-elected President of the Senate and Delegate Marvin Mandel of Baltimore, Speaker of the House, the Assembly heard Governor Agnew's State of the State message. Calling for a budget in excess of one billion dollars, the Governor presented a program designed to meet many of the requirements of Maryland's rapid urbanization. However, because of some anxiety over decreased sales tax revenues, the proposed budget reflects a realistic approach to many programs which were initiated in last year's Session.

This year's Legislature will consider many broad areas including the following:
Traffic Safety
The hotly-contested implied consent law which would require breath tests of all persons suspected of drunken driving should receive additional support this year because of the State's mounting traffic accident rate.

Education
The Governor has recommended abolition of the scholarship grant-in-aid program and the establishment of a bank loan system for students attending Maryland's institutions of higher education. While there is an increasing dependency on scholarship aid, it may be difficult to substitute an entirely different program, particularly as it would affect tuition grants for teacher education at the University of Maryland and the State Colleges.

Meat Inspection
The Legislature is becoming concerned with consumer protection and an attempt will be made to bring Maryland's quality standards in line with minimum Federal inspection standards on meat products sold in the State.

Interest Rates
An increase in the basic bank loan rate from six to seven per cent has been recommended, along with full disclosure by leading institutions of extra charges normally connected with consumer loans.

Housing
Governor Agnew has proposed the creation of a State Housing Authority along lines of the Federal Housing Authority to offer financial and technical assistance for low and middle income housing projects.

of the Jaycees, while having a good time entertaining the people who have supported them. All in all, it should be a great day for the Jaycees; but Jib Gibbons hasn't yet decided how it will be for him!

Rotary Club Plans 'Flea Market'

The Rotary Club of Frederick has completed plans to sponsor the first "Flea Market" (Paris Style) ever to be held in the Frederick area.

As explained by the Project Chairman, a "Flea Market" is an opportunity for individuals, businessmen, religious, charitable or civic groups, to raise money. This is accomplished by the Rotary Club acting as the intermediate to bring the sellers and buyers together. The Rotarians will make available and rent exhibit spaces to anyone who has something to sell.

The general public will be invited to come and browse through the market area and purchase needed items.

The "Flea Market" will be held on Saturday, May 4, 1968 at the Braddock Drive-In Theater. Detailed information on this project will be circulated in the near future.

Jaycees To Man Radio Station

Each year to honor the achievements of Jaycees throughout the world, the week of January 21-27 is designated as "Jaycee Week." On Saturday, January 27, Jim Gibbons Radio—WFMD AM and FM—will honor the Jaycees of this area in a unique way. The entire operation of WFMD AM and FM will be turned over to the Frederick Jaycees for the broadcast day.

Jaycees will sell advertising time, write the copy and be the "personalities." They will assign a manager, ass't. manager, sales manager, sales staff, announcing staff, etc. The cooperation of the people and merchants in the area will be greatly appreciated as the Jaycees realize 50% of everything they sell. This makes it an ideal project to raise money for the many public service functions

Small Fry Send Love and Allowances To Ricky, March of Dimes Youngster

Six-year-old Ricky Carlsen is learning early in life that the hearts of American youngsters overflow with sympathy for the handicapped.

For almost two years, Ricky, born without a left forearm, has been swamped with letters to his Yorktown Heights, N.Y., home from small fry across the nation. The letters all expressed love and most were accompanied by small sums from two cents to fifty.

Whatever the sum, it meant a sacrifice for the small donors in terms of less candy or bubble gum or going without a comic book.

The unexpected outpouring of mail and money came about in this way:

For use during the 1966 March of Dimes campaign to fight birth defects, a "school card envelope" was prepared for classroom distribution around the country. The card was perforated with slots for coins and it also bore a photo of Ricky and beneath it the name of his home town. Thus, if they wanted to, the school children could write to Ricky directly, and some of them did, instead of sending their contributions to the local chapter of the March of Dimes.

Ricky is quoted on the school card as saying that he would like to grow up to be an astronaut but that it's impossible because he was born with only part of one arm. (This explains, in the passages from his pen pals that follow, the occasional references to his space-age aspirations.)

Aside from sending sympathy and contributions to Ricky, some of his pen pals seized the opportunity to tell him what's weighing on their young minds. For instance, Nancy Wanstrath, 6, Batesville, Ind., sounds off on one particular sore point, and she seems to express the consensus in this area of all the others.

"Dear Richard," she writes, "I go to St. Louis Catholic School. It's nice but I could do without it—really. And if it keeps on showing, we might not have any school tomorrow! Love, have to go now."

FOR TWO YEARS Ricky Carlsen, 6, Yorktown Heights, N. Y., born without a left forearm, has been receiving notes and contributions to the March of Dimes from pen pals across the nation. Here he collects the day's mail.

never give up because God will always be with you. God bless you, son. I hope to be a Preacher some day. Love forever."

Phyllis Mastey of Dolton, Ill., apparently aware of a woman's right to be coy about her age, seems to want to make a point about sex discrimination. She protests, "I can't be an astronaut because I am a girl! But I will try my best to help you so you will become an astronaut. I have to go now."

Perhaps three-quarters of Ricky's correspondents signed off "have to go now." This suggests the onset of some sort of escape compulsion or feeling of impending crisis as soon as Young America sets pen to paper.

Sue Larson of Estacada, Ore., who is also demure about her age, quickly gets down to juvenile essentials. She immediately asks Ricky, "Do you have any animals? I have three cats and two dogs. Also chickens. And I am in the 7th Grade. Also I have to go now." Perhaps the most touching note, because of its simplicity, comes from Jayne Smith, 8, Haysville, Kan. She writes that "I send you this letter to bring you love from children all over the world."

Ricky is busy these days answering the letters and mailing his replies. He and the writer to whom he showed this correspondence could quote from many more. But they both have to go now.

THE NEARLY 100% CURABLE CANCER!

A simple, painless examination, the "Pap smear", helps physicians detect cancers of the uterus in time. When discovered early and properly treated, this second most common cancer in women is nearly 100% curable.

Our film, "Time and Two Women" will show you how to guard yourself against uterine cancer. It has already saved many lives. To see it, call the office of the American Cancer Society nearest you, or write to "Cancer", c/o your local post office.

The abolition of the woodshed, as heating plants come into general use, may have serious effects upon the education of children. Every generation of old people worries about the youngsters and think that boys and girls have no sense.

OUR SIXTH ANNUAL WINTER DISCOUNT PROGRAM

NOW IN EFFECT

This unique program was begun to benefit both YOU and OUR COMPANY.

Since it is most impractical to place foundations during the inclement winter weather, there was for many years a large demand for memorials to be erected in the spring. Most families would wait until warm weather and place their order for a monument at that time. Certainly, you can realize that this created quite a backlog of orders for spring installation.

Another reason which we feel is most important, is that it provides year around work for our employees. Should you make your selection now, our craftsmen will complete the carving and lettering during the inclement weather, thus avoiding any unnecessary delay next spring. Your memorial will be installed when weather permits in the spring. As an incentive for you, we also offer outstanding discounts throughout this period, which we allow on ALL our monuments, and markers.

Following, is our discount schedule:

Dec. 4, 1967 to Jan. 13, 1968	15%
Jan. 14, 1968 to Feb. 13, 1968	10%
Feb. 14, 1968 to Mar. 10, 1968	5%

The above discount prices assure you of guaranteed substantial savings.

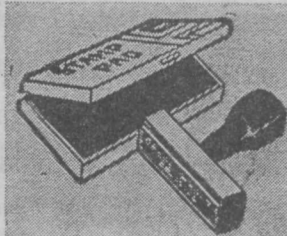

- Other features of this unique program are:
- * Payment in spring, AFTER you have inspected completed installed memorial.
 - * Free transportation to and from our large and complete display.
 - * Monthly terms available, if desired.

14 Killed On State Roads In Wreck

Fourteen persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the survey published by the State Police. Six drivers, two passengers, and six pedestrians were killed. Alcohol was a contributing factor in three of the deaths, speed in five, and driver error in eight.

"Of the thirty-eight persons killed on Maryland highways so far this year, thirteen of them have been pedestrians," noted Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Chief of Operations of the State Police. "Police officers who investigated these collisions are of the opinion that the pedestrian was totally responsible in all but four cases and in one it was a combined driver-pedestrian responsibility."

Lt. Col. Davidson continued: "None of the pedestrians killed was a pre-schooler who might have darted thoughtlessly into the path of a car. Each one of them should have been fully aware of the dangers encountered when walking along or crossing a roadway. Yet they obviously failed to take the necessary precautions."

"Safe use of our highways today, and this includes walking as well as driving, precludes any attitude of complacency or inattention. Every pedestrian should assume that the driver might not see him or that, even if he does see him, he won't be able to stop in time. Whenever a car strikes head-on or merely sideswipes a pedestrian, there will probably be little damage to the car but odds are that the pedestrian won't be so fortunate. That's a good thing to keep in mind when walking on or crossing a road."

Delegate Virtz To Offer Bill

Delegate C. Clifton Virtz has introduced a bill in the General Assembly which would empower the magistrates of Frederick County to suspend sentences and grant probation before verdict.

Delegate Virtz said the bill, if made law, would permit the magistrates to place on probation those who are guilty of crimes but where the circumstances do not warrant the defendant to have a criminal record.

"Many times a young man will get into trouble and is charged with a criminal offense. If he is found guilty, the verdict goes on a criminal record and makes it difficult or impossible for the man to serve in the Armed Forces," Virtz said in explaining the bill.

Under the proposed law, the youth would be under supervision of the parole and probation officer but would not have any criminal record.

The Circuit Court judges already have this authority, the delegate said, and magistrates in some counties also are permitted this discretionary power, Delegate Virtz added.

The Bill, HB72, is the same as one introduced into the General Assembly last year by Delegate Virtz which passed the House but got lost in the Senate in the rush of legislation during the closing days of the session. The bill was referred to the Frederick County delegation.

next two or three weeks. All incumbent members of the Board of Directors were re-elected for another year: William C. Birely, Raymond E. Creager, Dr. J. K. Gray, Ernest P. Hammaker, Donald L. Lewis, Harry G. Masser, Charles F. Myers, Claude A. O'Toole, Robert K. Remsburg, Ross V. Smith, Ross S. Stull, M. M. Weinberg and Charles Winebrenner, Jr.

An additional board position was approved and Dr. William H. Carr, Emmitsburg, was named to that position. Dr. Carr is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine, is a native of Ossining, N. Y. and has been practicing since 1955 when he moved to Emmitsburg. He is active in community and civic affairs and is an elder in the Presbyterian Church.

The following officers were elected: Dr. James G. Gray, chairman of the Board; Ernest P. Hammaker, president; William C. Birely, vice president; Harry G. Masser, vice president; Ross V. Smith, vice president; Ralph E. Stottlemyer, vice president and cashier.

The following appointments were made: Dorsey J. Lovell, branch manager and assistant cashier; David W. Harman, assistant cashier; Donald E. Stitely, assistant cashier and manager of the consumer loan department; Donald J. Gardner and W. Kenneth Haugh, members of the Advisory Board, Cascade Branch.

Suggests Better Clarification Of Facts

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: That hogwash you pervaded in last week's column about the six students blinded by LSD was surpassed in mischief only by your remarks concerning Adam Clayton Powell.

Powell was not expelled from the House of Representatives for cheating on his expenses (a rather common offense), as you maintain. If you have any measure of astute perception you must know that he was expelled only because he threw a camera at a Press photographer who invaded his privacy at Bimini; whereupon the entire Fourth Estate (Press) rose up as one, in revenge. The barrage of bad publicity that followed has no equal in the annals of American journalism. Over one million letters (indirectly solicited by the American Press) were mailed to various congressmen from persons all over the country. This did him "in".

Back on the mountain farm where I was born and raised, we had an expression which I think properly describes the conduct of the Press in its program of revenge: Each evening at 6 o'clock, Poppa used to say, "OK Pat, it's time to slop the pigs". We called this nostalgic ritual "sloping the pigs".

The ZIP Column

With the advent of Valentine Day, soon upon us, I find it necessary to again remind our patrons of one aspect of the new postal rates, now in effect. It is no longer possible to send greeting cards at a reduced rate of postage. There is no 5c letter rate! The one and only item which can be mailed first class for 5c is the Postal Card (Post Office issue) or a regular post card which does not exceed 4 1/4 x 6".

We have received a supply of Maryland Income Tax Return Forms, for the convenience of our patrons. Among these, we have the Non-Resident Form, which we had so many requests for last year. We also have the W-2 forms for the employer, if any local businesses should have need for extras. George E. Rosensteel, PM

Fillies' Race At Pimlico

Twenty-one young fillies, headed by stakes winners Mink Stole and Cockey Miss, have been nominated for the $25,000-added Flirtation Stakes at Pimlico Race Course Saturday, Jan. 27.

The newest addition to Pimlico's 1968 program of 14 stakes worth a record $509,000, the Flirtation will have its inaugural running this year. Programmed for 3-year-old fillies, the Jan. 27 feature will be run at six furlongs. In selecting a name for the new stakes, Pimlico officials decided on "Flirtation," inasmuch as it seemed appropriate for young fillies. Much to their surprise, one of the first nominations filed for the race was for a filly of the same name: a daughter of Fleet Feet—Hot Orange. Owned by Thomas G. Brown, Flirtation was a stakes winner in Ohio last year.

Barbara Gordon's Cockey Miss, who commanded only $800 when sold at Timonium as a yearling, looms prominently among the Flirtation eligibles. A track record-holder, the rags-to-riches filly won the New Jersey Futurity and Home Bred Handicap last year, but by far her best performance was in the Sonority Stakes last summer when she extended the then-unbeaten Queen of the Stage. At the wire Cockey Miss was beaten a half-length by the filly later named champion of her age and sex. Angrosa Stable's Mink Stole, at 110 pounds, was the fourth highest-weighted filly on the Jockey Club Ltd.'s Canadian Free Handicap. Regal Farms' Lanoka, trained by C. L. Robbins and now at the top of her form, has won her only two starts at Pimlico. A good meal sometimes develops an amiable philosophy.
