Emmitsburgians became aroused this week over several cases of dog biting. It has been noted that of recent there seems to be quite a number of roving canines in the area and even on the streets in town. Several persons were bitten this week and the local Police Dept. is planning a crackdown on the owners of these roaming dogs. Chief W. E. Law plans direct action to halt this menace to the welfare of our local citizenry. The Chief informs all that the law carries a penalty of a fine from $1 up to $300, or imprisonment of from one to three months in jail, or both. The Chief goes on to say that owners are responsible for the actions of their dogs and the fact that the animal may have a license does not give him the liberty to roam the streets. All dogs, whether licensed or unlicensed, must be kept in confinement, so the crackdown begins. Our personal advice is that owners would avoid a lot of trouble if they would cooperate and keep their dogs penned or tied. Some individuals care a lot for their animals and would hate to lose them, however, if compliance with the law is not met with, some of these animals may disappear in the near future, or their owners unpleasantly haled into court and fined.

Emmitsburg is being ringed with industry these days but no progress is being made here. The Frederick area is debating allowing the giant Howmet Aluminum Co. to locate in the southern part of the county. However, a ruling is expected very shortly and it is generally felt that permission to rezone the area there for industrial use will be granted. The new industry would utilize 1400 acres and would employ nearly a thousand people. In the Gettysburg area, the Westinghouse Co. this week announced it was locating a large elevator parts factory on 75 acres there. This new plant could employ up to 500 persons. What a boon these two industries will mean to these communities. Too bad we couldn't get just one teeny-weeny little firm to locate here. The Lions Club is toying with the idea of offering its civic grounds of 11 acres near town for industrial use but it seems to require more on the part of the community as a whole, to swing any such deal to induce industry to locate here. Got any ideas?

Efforts are under way here to obtain a wider calling range on our telephones. Presently we can only call to Thurmont toll free. State Senator Charlie Smelser is taking action to try and have the distance extended to our county seat, Frederick. This indeed is welcome news. Many calls must be made to the Courthouse, Health Dept., Zoning Board, Sheriff's Office, Fire Alarms and even to consult your attorney as most of them reside in Frederick. We certainly hope the Senator is successful in his try for better service here and we should back his every move. This matter has been under discussion for at least a decade but nothing ever came out o fit.

Liners Down Thurmont

Senior Gary Manning once more supplied most of the fireworks with Emmitsburg High School topped Thurmont 78-65 Tuesday night at Thurmont.

Manning scored 30 points on 13 field goals and four foul shots to lead his team. Lee Koontz with 16 points was a distant second while Dick Masser scored 12 and Dennis Valentine 13.

Eddie Gillis led the losers with 17 points followed by Dick Benjamin with 15 and Charlie Gearhart with 14.

Steve Wildasin, usual Thurmont high scorer, could only manage six points for the night.

The Liners hit on 30 field goals and 18 foul shots while Thurmont had 27 field goals and 11 foul shots.

In the JV game, the Jr. Liners outlasted Thurmont 45-41.

Widows of deceased veterans now qualify for pensions from the Veterans Administration if their marriage had a duration of one year, or if a child was born to the couple, the Veterans Administration announces.

Matthews Starts 57th Year Here

Francis Scott Key Matthews, dean of Emmitsburg's businessmen, will observe the 57th anniversary of entering into business here on February 11.

The affable elderly merchant, now 79 years old, started on a small scale here back in 1911 and his business still is located in the original building. Remarkably agile for his age, Mr. Matthews opened another store in neighboring Thurmont back in 1954. Today he operates two thriving businesses with the assistance of his son-in-law, Earl Rice, and five other employees. A fleet of five trucks is used to transport botched gas and electrical appliances to his many customers in the area. He is an exclusive RCA appliance dealer for the Emmitsburg-Thurmont districts.

Starting in business at the tender age of 21 years, Mr. Matthews married six years later. His bride was Jesse Rouser, who predeceased him in 1964. One daughter, Mrs. Mary Jean Rice, resulted from the marriage. His pride and joy are the three grandchildren.

Mr. Matthews vividly recalls having sold the first television set here to Charles Grace then a student at Mt. St. Mary's College. Grace later owned the fabulous Grace Steamship Lines. He also remembers selling the first radio back in the early 1920's.

Hale and hearty at 79, the amiable merchant was a former Town Commissioner, is a member of the Methodist Church and board, Lions Club, Tyrian Lodge AF&M and is an honorary member of the Vigilant Hose Co.

Two Cars Wreck On Square

A Thurmont youth was admitted to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, and two other men were treated after they were involved in a $2,900 accident that demolished two cars on the Square in Emmitsburg last Friday midnight.

Theodore Raymond Ridenour, 16, Thurmont, suffered severe lacerations of the head and face. He was a passenger in a car operated by Clarence Denton Ohler, 18, Thurmont, who was treated for lacerations of the forehead and the lower jaw. Carl Eugene Angleberger, 26, Emmitsburg, driver of the other car, was treated for contusions of the right side of the chest and the right leg and an abrasion of the left foot. All were taken to the hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance.

The accident occurred, Maryland State Police said, when Angleberger, traveling west on Rte. 97, stopped for a red traffic light and then proceeded through the intersection on the green light. His vehicle was then struck by Ohler's car, traveling south on Route 15. The force of the impact pushed Angleberger's car on to the sidewalk.

Ohler will be charged with failing to stop at a traffic control signal.

Damage to Angleberger's 1967 Mustang was estimated at $2,000 while Ohler's 1962 sports coupe was damaged to the extent of $900.

D.A.R. Contest Winner

Frances Fields, a fifth grade student at Emmitsburg Elementary School was a winner of the D.A.R. contest held in Frederick County. Franie wrote about Admiral Hyman G. Rickover—American Inventor. She will present her paper in Frederick at Calvary Methodist Church on February 26, 1968.

Mountaineers Start Series Of Home Games

Mt. St. Mary's College court squad started off a series of five home games by meeting Catholic University here in the first of the series Thursday night.

In rapid succession Jim Phelan's crew takes on Hampden-Sydney tonight, Western Maryland Tuesday night, Loyola Thursday and American U, next Saturday, all games to be played in Emmitsburg.

The Blue and White, showing the effects of a long mid-semester layoff, absorbed the worst defeat in Coach Jim Phelan's career at the Mount when Old Dominion racked up a 131-76 decision at Norfolk, Va., Saturday evening in a Mason-Dixon Conference game.

The Monarchs, who sport an overall 14-4 record and lead the southern division of the M-D Conference with a 9-0 mark, shot a fantastic 70 per cent from the field, including 25 of 36 tries in the first half. They also converted 21 of but 24 foul tries.

During the first 15 minutes of play the score was fairly close but in the last minute of the half the Mount was charged with four turnovers which were quickly turned into 10 points by Old Dominion for a 57-35 lead at half time.

Eight minutes into the second half the Mount trailed by 17 but in the next 1:30 of play the Monarchs ripped the cords for six baskets and that was the game. Coach Phelan then used all of his reserves in the remaining minutes.

Hitting in double figures for the Mount were Fred Carter with 15, Dick Dohler 14, Lou Grillo 12 and Bob Riley 10. The Mount netted 14 of 22 throws from the foul line.

The Mount is 12-3 overall and 5-1 in the northern division of the M-D Conference.

Reader Disagrees With McGucken's Viewpoint

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

It is going against my better judgment to write this letter to Patrick F. X. McGucken; but—here it goes.

In reference to your letter to the editor in last week's Chronicle, I would like to make a few observations.

The young lady whose letter you answered, is a teenager who is obviously (as many teenagers are) interested in humanity. Who in turn have to learn the hard way that there are all kinds of people in this vast world of ours; especially those who crave attention by writing letters to the papers tearing anything apart from politics to human beings (as a reminder: to the last one, you remain).

It is certainly upsetting to our young generation to hear of people with such corrupt minds, that think the way you do. You can take facts and turn them around, not understanding humanity at all.

Teenagers are aware God gave them life and there is a purpose in this world for them. If you would turn to page 2 of last week's Chronicle, column 2, and read all of 'Meditation', I am sure you will see (if that is possible) why the young lady, speaking in her way (for many teenagers) wrote her letter.

There are too many people with your kind of outlook on every day situations that scare and confuse the minds of our adults of tomorrow, into the not knowing or caring what they do or which path to follow. And it is with this in mind the reason I made an attempt in this letter (no doubt giving you material for another item). Here is just hoping maybe there will be teenagers (if just one teenager) that will read this column this week and understand—somewhat—the purpose of it all!

Here's hoping God will give you wisdom and guidance in your articles that (we know) will come in the future.

By the way the teenager whose letter you answered said: 'She hopes you miss that boat, because she feels that a sincere gentleman would not bring up the subject in that particular situation.'

The end of my journalism.

Old-Timers Should Easily Remember This One

Town Meeting Held; Routine Business Discussed

Chairman of the Board Quinn F. Topper presided over the regular monthly meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners held Monday night in the Town Office. Mayor Guy A. Baker, Jr., was absent, due to illness.

Present at the meeting were B. H. Boyle, Attorney Fred J. Bower and Joseph M. Haley.

Mr. Boyle registered a complaint about sewerage entering the basement of a property owned by him located at the corner of DePaul St. and Federal Ave., and also that the water pressure was low in that area. Council agreed to inspect the area and to make corrections provided they were justified.

A request by the Police Dept. for an extension phone in the office was discussed, voted on, but ended in a tie vote. The Town Fathers took under consideration the laying of a water line to the Joseph Andrew property on the Hornet's Nest Road.

The Council discussed the installation of a water pressure valve vault to be located on Frailey Road. It was voted to install the valve last year but no action was ever taken so it was decided to proceed with the project.

A faulty recording device at the water filtration plant was discussed and it was decided to check out the matter before ordering a new one. The Council also agreed to inspect St. Joseph's High School Lane preparatory to installing water and sewage lines there since there has been some house building going on in the area.

Mayor Guy A. Baker, Jr., has called a special meeting of the Board for February 13 at 7:30 p.m., to discuss water rates for customers.

Police Chief W. E. Law's monthly report to the Council showed: Vehicle arrests 5; warnings issued, 9; out-of-town trips made, Hagerstown, 1 and Frederick, 2. Eleven day complaints were answered and nine night complaints handled.

One accident within the corporate limits was investigated. The Chief asked for a number of No Parking Signs and recommended some crushed stone for School Alley. Days off numbered 6 while 25 were worked. The average number of hours worked daily, was 14.30.

Economics Class Being Offered

A home economics program is being held for 12 to 15 weeks at Fairfield High School. The program is for adults or out-of-school girls, and is being held each Tuesday evening from 7 to 9. The program is flexible. It can be geared to anything that the group is interested in. Sewing, interior decoration and meal planning seem to be the topics most interested in now. If interested, and you need information, call the instructor, Mrs. Paul Beall at 447-5493 after 4:30 p.m., or just come to the next class meeting on Tuesday night. There is no charge except for the materials used.

Here's hoping God will give you wisdom and guidance in your articles that (we know) will come in the future.

Represents Mount At College Meeting

Dean J. Sprague, Director of Student Recruitment at Mount St. Mary's College, attended the National Executive Meeting of the Catholic College Coordinating Council in New York this week.

Sprague, who is national vice president of the group which represents 150 colleges and universities, is also chairman of the organization's constitutional committee. This committee drafted a proposed constitution for the group at Tuesday's meeting.

Present at the meeting were B. H. Boyle, Attorney Fred J. Bower and Joseph M. Haley.

A state Homemaker of Tomorrow and runner-up will be selected from the winners of the schools in the state. The state winner will receive a $1,500 college scholarship, and her school will be awarded a complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica, Inc. The runner-up will earn a $500 educational grant.

The 603,798 girls from 1967 schools registering for the 1968 Search established a new record for the program.

Senator Smelser Seeks Better Phone Service

State Senator Charles H. Smelser announced this week that he has been in contact with the Public Service Commission relevant to improved telephone calling service in the Emmitsburg area. Senator Smelser says he has received complaints from Emmitsburg residents regarding the restricted toll-free calling distance here. Also that complaints were heard that the Town couldn't utilize the new Frederick County Central Fire Alarm System due to the fact that it costs about 25¢ to call Frederick to report a fire.

In an effort to remedy the situation Senator Smelser has written to the Public Service Commission in Baltimore calling for an investigative study of the telephone situation here.

Thurmont Man Wins High Honor;
Named State Young Farmer Of Year

"It was quite an honor, I never expected to win. In fact, I almost didn't go. I had a Pomona Grange meeting the same afternoon and I didn't think that I had the time to go to Salisbury and get back for the milking," said Rodman Myers as he and his pretty wife, Jean, returned to their dairy farm to find that quite a number of his friends and associates had gathered to honor Maryland's Top Farmer.

Vic and Bill Leisner of WTHU were on hand and Vic interviewed Rodman, his family, Bill Baker, Tom Fogle, D. S. Weybright and Francie Biddinger, the babysitter, and others.

Rodman won out over 15 other contestants for the honor.

"Rod" is 33 years old, married to the former Jean Ogle and the father of three daughters and a son. He is a member of the Thurmont and Frederick County Pomona Grange and is master of the Frederick County Grange for the second term.

In 1961 Rodman and Jean were named State Young Couple of the Year by the Maryland State Grange. He also is a member of Farm Bureau, ASC local committee, the Md. Coop. Mill Producers' Assn. Thurmont Adult Agriculture Class Frederick County and National Holstein Assn. Frederick County Breeding Co-Op. St. John's Lutheran Church, the FFA and numerous other organizations.

Homemakers Club Meeting Held

The Emmitsburg Homemakers Club met at the home of Mrs. Luther Cregger on Thursday, January 25, with fifteen members and three guests, Mrs. Robert Cassell, Mrs. King Duncan, and Mrs. Cassie Gore, present. At this meeting we were glad to have as new members, Miss Nellie Maekall and Mrs. Nancy Grimes.

The president, Mrs. Cregger, announced that the name of the club had been changed from Frederick County Homemaker's Club to Frederick County Extension Homemakers' Club.

Mrs. John Chatlos gave a very interesting demonstration on party foods. She explained how to prepare these foods and freeze them to be used at a later date. After each person tried their skill at cake decorating, they had the privilege of sampling foods that had been frozen since last November and those freshly made. The frozen foods were as delicious and tempting as the freshly made ones.

The next regular meeting will be held February 22, 1968, at the home of Mrs. James Nester. A demonstration on chair caning will be presented by Mrs. Luther Cregger and Mrs. Charles Harner. All who are interested in learning this type of art are asked to bring their own chairs. Any split or broken places in the seat should be repaired before attempting to reseat the chair. If the chair needs refinishing, it should be done when the repairs are complete and before caning is started. Also at this meeting will be a White Elephant Auction. All members are requested to bring something for this event.

Anyone desiring further information may contact Mrs. Cregger at 447-2259.

Fighting Fatness Makes Good Sense

There's no doubt about it. Many of us are too fat.

Almost everyone who is too fat would like to slim down to average size for his height and build. Many women would like to be on the skinny side.

The American Medical Association's home health book, Today's Health Guide, points out that most physicians consider obesity an important factor in personal health for three reasons:

- It is common.

- It is associated with increased sickness and death rates, notably in respect to heart, circulatory, kidney, and metabolic disorders as well as surgical and obstetrical complications.

- It can be successfully treated to help control associated medical conditions.

Medical experience strongly suggests greater risks for overweight persons in respect to most of the major disorders besetting our population. The evidence for generally adverse effects from obesity seems too massive and too consistent to be ignored.

So we need to lose weight. It should be simple: just cut down on the calories. Unfortunately, it often isn't simple. Taking fewer calories than are needed seems to be within the theoretical capability of most of us. Yet results suggest that this is difficult and often not achieved. Long-term observations indicate poor success for most dieters.

One factor involved in overweight is psychological. Emotional factors are operative in all of us. Psychological factors may help cause overweight, or help to maintain it. Seldom is psychiatric consultation required. The general physician's aim is to prod and reinforce our will to lose weight, to help us be so determined to trim off excess pounds that we will stick to the reducing regime.

The physician may prescribe drugs at first, as a crutch to help us get started. These can reduce appetite, promote a feeling of well-being, add bulk in the stomach, eliminate excess fluids. They can, at best, afford only temporary help. They postpone the day when facts must be faced, when we finally make up our minds that we must change our eating habits to keep our weight under control.

New Wing Added To Historical Society Building

A bequest of $2,600,000 from the Thomas brothers, William S. and John L., made possible this handsome new wing of the Maryland Historical Society, known as the Thomas and Hugg Memorial

In reaching the decision on soybean plantings for feed grain acreage, officials noted that two successive record soybean crops in 1966 and 1967 have resulted in currently adequate supplies of soybeans. Present indications are that soybean acreage in 1968 will be sufficient to assure continuation of adequate supplies through the 1968-crop marketing year without encouraging the planting of additional soybeans on feed grain permitted acreage.

The Chairman noted, however, that farmers who sign up and plant as much as 50 per cent of their total feed grain base acreage to corn and grain sorghum will earn maximum price support payments and may still plant the remainder of their permitted feed grain acreage to soybeans or some other crop.

The action follows farmer and producer association recommendations expressed at a series of meetings held in 11 states last fall. It also is in line with the legislative requirements that this provision be exercised in such a way as not to impair the effective operation of the soybean price support program.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Babson's Point Of View On:
Spread Of Municipal Income Taxes

BABSON PARK, Mass., Feb. 8—No matter what city you live in, you may be subject to municipal income taxes in the not-too-distant future,—if you are not already. For most wage earners the federal income levy is a fact of financial life. In recent years it has become customary for a steadily rising number of people to pay state income taxes too. However, in most cities, the municipal income tax is still little more than a threat. But this will not be true very long.

Already Entrenched In The East

Thus far, the concept of a municipal income tax has been largely limited to the Eastern section of the country. In fact, about 86% of all the larger cities using this method of enriching their exchequers are located in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

But the idea is intriguing to city fathers everywhere who are responsible for budget requirements, especially with all types of costs and outlays soaring spectacularly. Since 1966, New York City, Baltimore, and Cleveland have introduced income taxation. Other large centers have contemplated such an innovation, including Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Fort Worth, Minneapolis, and San Francisco.

Despite the concentration in the East, it is significant to note how swiftly the city income tax has spread since its inception at Philadelphia in 1938. By mid-1967, more than 170 cities having a population of 10,000 or better were receiving part of their revenue from income taxes on their inhabitants and usually also on non-residents and companies operating within local limits. This figure did not include an unknown, but large, number of villages, towns, educational districts, and other geographical units resorting to income taxes to augment their spendable funds.

What The City Income Tax Means

In most communities with such a system, the method is simple. It usually involves a flat-rate tax on earned income of individuals or on the net profits of corporations. There are no personal deductions or exemptions, but the percentage tax generally runs quite low. For the smaller cities, the rate ranges from 0.25% to 2%. But New York and Baltimore employ a graduated schedule of rates on personal income, ranging from 0.4% to 2% in New York and from 1% to 2.5% in Baltimore. It is safe—if fortunate—to estimate that such rates will increase as local expenses rise, as has been the case in federal and state levies.

How much of a city's total tax revenue comes from a community income levy appears to be highly variable, according to the Tax Foundation, Inc., of New York. Its study of the situation indicates that income taxes as a percentage of total city tax collections run all the way from 20% in Pittsburgh, Pa., to an impressive 71% in Columbus, Ohio. One thing is clear, nevertheless: That the community income tax, where it has been operative, brings in sufficient money to make it definitely worth consideration for those cities not yet tapping this source of funds.

Guesses On The Future

The Tax Foundation's studies point to strong and continuous growth of community income taxes. In fact, it is estimated that by 1975 substantially more than half of the large-city inhabitants of the country will be subject to these levies if municipal individual and corporate income taxes keep on expanding at the rate that prevailed from 1960 to 1966. There seems no doubt that smaller taxing entities will add many more to the list.

There is, as yet, no end in sight for the mounting pressure on the taxpayer, at all levels. Perhaps the only citizen who may not mind so much the incursion of the city income tax is the property owner. It has been noted that property taxes tend to increase far less vigorously than usual where community income taxes are put in operation. But with skyrocketing governmental, educational, and social outlays, even this apparent boon may not long survive.

The old days were those times when the human race survived without benefit of miracle drugs or get-well cards. No wonder those who came through were rugged individualists. — Leader, Fairfield.

Social Security Letters In Mail

A number of older people in the Frederick area will be getting letters this week reminding them that they have only until April 1 to sign up for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare.

Over nine out of ten of those 65 and over are already signed up for the supplementary doctor bill insurance, W. E. Dunn, Social Security Branch Manager, said today. They do not need to take any action.

Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, is sending letters to those who are signed up for only the hospital insurance. His letter tells them that they have about 2½ months more in which to enroll in the supplementary program that covers doctor bills and a wide variety of other medical expenses in and out of the hospital.

Since the medicare program started only 18 months ago, the Commissioner notes in his letter, the doctor bill insurance part of the program has helped pay over 28 million medical bills, totaling almost $1.3 billion.

Practically everyone over 65 is eligible for the voluntary doctor bill insurance under medicare, Dunn pointed out, whether or not they have ever worked under social security, and whether retired or still working. Almost 18 million older people—92 per cent of all those 65 and over—are signed up for the supplementary program.

About 1.6 million persons missed out on their first chance to enroll. The Social Security Administration has current addresses for 1.1 million of them and these are the persons who will be receiving the letter from Commissioner Ball this week.

Mr. Dunn urged older persons in Frederick County who are not signed up for the doctor bill insurance under medicare to get in touch with the social security office if they do not receive a letter from Commissioner Ball within a week or so.

In his letter the Social Security Commissioner lists eight reasons that older people without the supplementary doctor bill insurance need to consider. He also encloses a leaflet explaining the medical insurance benefits and an enrollment card to be sent back showing whether or not the person wants the protection.

As reasons for signing up now, the Commissioner cites:

That the $4 premium rate represents an excellent buy because it represents only half the cost of the protection. The Government pays the other half.

crease his monthly check.

Beginning in April, covered outpatient hospital benefits will be paid only under the medical insurance part of medicare. To have outpatient hospital coverage, therefore, the older person must be signed up for the medical insurance program.

The protection will cost more later on. The premium is 10 per cent higher for each year that has passed since the older person's first opportunity to enroll.

People over 65 and still not signed up for the supplementary medical insurance by April 1, cannot get the protection until July 1, 1969. A delay of more than 3 years after the person's first opportunity to enroll means that he will not be able to get the protection at all.

"INSTANT" SHADE

Make a sun-shelter with posts set 10 feet apart, snow fencing wrapped around for back and sides, draped over the top for a roof. Under this row various shade-loving plants.

It won't be a matter of minutes, but certainly no more than hours are required to construct the sun screen (if it can be dignified by that name) shown in the illustrations above.

There's nothing fancy about it but it serves its purpose, that of providing semi-shade for the shade-loving begonias and coleus that are growing under its shelter.

The four corner posts are wooden. Between them, set 10 feet apart, are metal drive posts. The height of these posts above the ground can suit your convenience. Should you wish to work in the shelter in an upright position, then posts will need to be higher; if you intend only to weed now and then and do this on hands and knees, there's no reason even for the height shown in the pictures — about 5 feet.

Tacked onto the fence posts, wrapped from front to rear on one end, across one long side (the back) and from rear to front on the other end is snow fencing. It is readily available from lumber yards and is not expensive. It forms the back and sides of the shelter.

Supports of wood, installed between posts at the rear and front of the structure, hold the weight of a second length of snow fencing which, draped across these supports, forms the "roof."

This idea could be used for a summerhouse to hold seats as well as shade-loving plants. The structure easily could be made more attractive by more attention to finishing details.

Plants that thrive in semi-shade include begonias and coleus already mentioned, impatiens, tuberous-rooted begonias, flowering tobacco and such bulbous plants as caladiums.

Best of all, a simple structure like the one shown will provide the gardener who owns a bare lot or the gardener living in a treeless area with shade at no great cost in either time or materials.

D.M.V. REPORT

By D. Murray Franklin
Public Information Officer
Md. Dept. of Motor Vehicles
Driver Education
Improvement of public and private Driver Education Courses and the need for making them more widely available is called for in Standard 4.4.4 of the National Highway Safety Program.

The Standard proposes that every high school student have the opportunity to enroll in a course of instruction designed to train him to drive skillfully and safely under all traffic and roadway conditions.

It further proposes that commercial driver training schools achieve and maintain a corresponding level of instruction for beginning drivers, with recognition of differences between the needs of adults and adolescents.

Specifically enumerating the requirements of an acceptable driver education and training program, the Standard provides that:

1. Each State must provide a driver education program available to all youths of licensing age and taught by instructors who are certified as qualified for this type of instruction;

2. The education must embrace practice driving and instruction in basic and advanced driving techniques including emergencies, knowledge of the rules of the road, and familiarity with the critical vehicle systems requiring preventative maintenance;

3. Students must learn the correct interpretation of signs, signals and highway markings; the differences in characteristics of urban, rural and expressway driving, and must be trained to provide for pedestrian safety;

4. There is a State research and development program which includes the procurement of practice driving facilities, simulators and teaching aids, and a program for adult driver training and re-training;

5. Commercial driving schools must be licensed and commercial driving instructors must be certified in accordance with the specific criteria adopted by the State.

Maryland is fast progressing toward full conformity with this Standard, and beginning April 1, 1968, all Driver Education Courses supervised by the State Department of Education will require a minimum of 30 hours classroom instruction and six hours behind-the-wheel experience for completion and certification.

From JPC, Centreville: I got my 90 day card when I got out of the Army in '58 . . . I had to have insurance with my Mother because of my age (20) . . . when I went to try for my license, my Mother told them things were not true. Can you help me? I still don't have a license.

It will be necessary for JPC to contact Mr. George F. Robinson, Secretary of this Department's Medical Advisory Board, for information regarding his application for reinstatement. At the present time he is refused indefinitely.

From: ATR, Colesville: Is there a law requiring drivers to clean the snow or ice off the rear window, if you have an outside rear view mirror?

There is no specific law referring to snow or ice, but the law does state that you must have unobstructed vision for at least 200 feet behind the car. The outside rear view mirror does not meet this requirement. Prosecution is possible under general traffic regulations if snow or ice obstructs the rear view.

From: DDB, Carlisle: My wife and I both drive the same car and always have a problem over who has the registration card. We don't want to leave it in the car. Can we obtain a second card?

Yes, for the payment of one dollar. The law permits the issuance of a second "original" when requested in writing by the vehicle's owner.

Deer-Auto Accidents

A recent study showed that more than 120,000 deer were killed in a single year by motor vehicles on the Nation's highways, according to information received by the Maryland Department of Game and Inland Fish.

Usually a collision with a deer means serious trouble for the driver, an accident with major damage to the car, and often injury or death to the occupants. With the improved highways which are being built through many sections where deer abound, and with greater speed of cars on these highways, such accidents are sure to increase.

What can be done to prevent these? The following suggestions will help:

1. Use caution when you see the sign "Deer Area." Slow down and proceed with care.

2. At night watch both sides of the road for glowing eyes.

3. If you do see a deer, slow down or stop as quickly as you can safely.

4. Drive carefully for some distance after you have seen one. Deer are unpredictable. Often they will turn around and dash back across the road after they have gone into the woods.

5. Remember that it's the strong steady light that causes deer to "freeze". If you see one in the road, flash your lights from low to high repeatedly and sound your horn several times. Usually he will move out of the way.

6. It is more difficult to stop or slow down a car on slippery roads and the deer are not sure-footed on ice. So be extremely careful in winter driving.

In the State of Maryland alone last year over 990 deer were killed by motor vehicles. Without doubt others were killed and not reported, and many were injured and died later. There are no figures available on the total amount of damage to cars or personal injuries.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Mark 1:32-39.

In the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed. (Mark 1:35).

The Lord Jesus Christ walked tall and never compromised. He spoke straight - forwardly, and turned in a full day's work. Jesus was a man's man.

In the first chapter of Mark, we have the record of a Sabbath day in the life of Jesus. He taught in the synagogue at Capernaum, and while there He cast a demon out of a man. He went to Simon's home where He healed Simon's mother-in-law who was ill of fever. After sunset He was still at work healing those brought to Him. What a day!

True, He was God, but He was also man. How could He stand up under the pace? Our text from Mark's Gospel reveals the answer. Jesus communed with His Father in the early morning hour of devotions. Here He received strength, encouragement, wisdom, and guidance.

God's Word supplies these spiritual nutrients. When we memorize, meditate, and pray, we store up these spiritual reserves. In the discipline of daily devotions we find the secret of unseen power, never - failing strength, and ever-present peace.

Prayer

Our Father, we need Thee every hour. Strengthen us in our special time of meeting Thee that we may receive love, strength, and peace needed today. In the Master's name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

Jesus gave us the ideal example for daily devotions.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

"Strep" Season Here

In a statement just released by the Frederick County Health Department, area residents were reminded that "strep" season is here. "From now through spring," said Dr. Spicknall of the Department, "is the period when most so-called 'strep' infections occur. Striking anyone regardless of age, they can be far more dangerous to health than many people might suspect."

A "strep" infection, Dr. Spicknall explained, gets its name from a scientific term for the bacteria which produce the infection, streptococcus. He stated that only certain types of these bacteria are harmful and that sore throat is the most common indication of infection by them. Usually entering the body through the mouth, these microscopic organisms can grow rapidly under favorable conditions found in the throat. As they multiply, a substance irritating to throat membranes is given off causing the familiar raw, sore feeling of "strep" throat. Fever generally accompanies it, said the Doctor.

Mild to severe sore throat, however, is not the only possible result of this infection, Dr. Spicknall emphasized. Streptococcal infections, especially in children, can spread to or begin in other parts of the body. Scarlet fever is a serious disease of childhood also caused by certain of these bacteria. Rheumatic fever, in which there may be damage to the heart, and a mild to severe type of kidney disorder are two complications which can arise from "strep" infection.

Because the course of streptococcal infection cannot be predicted, it is best to see a physician whenever sore throat appears, the Doctor pointed out. The physician may take a "swab" of the throat, a painless procedure that is done in order to identify the infecting organism. For streptococcal infections, specific medicine which will destroy the bacteria can be prescribed. Through this early detection and eradication of "strep" bacteria, later damage to vital body organs may be prevented.

Dr. Spicknall cautioned that "strep" infections are contagious, the bacteria being spread mainly by direct or close contact between people. The ideal conditions for epidemic spread of "strep" bacteria are found in crowded, confined areas. Hence early detection of such infections offers a good preventive measure.

In closing, Dr. Spicknall stated,

"Even though streptococcal infection may only produce minor sore throat pain, people should not overlook the fact that a major medical problem with serious consequences can spring from it."

He then issued this plea: "During this 'strep' season your health department is urging you to seek qualified medical attention whenever members of your family, particularly your children, complain of sore throat."

In South Korea, 1,250,000 people have tuberculosis, or 5.1% of the population over age 5. Contributions to the CARE Food Crusade, Baltimore 21201, provide nutritious food packages to help treat and cure TB patients.

Walk Extra Mile To Lose Weight

Want to lose ten pounds in the next year?

One way you can do it is to walk an extra mile every day.

The American Medical Association's home health book, Today's Health Guide, reports that a walk of just an extra mile per day for 36 days is a "simple, pleasant device for shedding an extra pound of fat." In a year this would mount up to about ten pounds. The extra mile means just that - a mile of walking in addition to the customary walking you now do each day.

Once regarded as a major factor in losing weight, physical activity was later accorded less importance. It was realized that considerable effort was required to shed even one pound of extra tissue. Would-be reducers found comfort in some expert opinion that calories expended through exercise would be immediately replaced, due to an automatic increase in appetite.

Fortunately for fitness as well as for fatness, exercise has been restored to grace and enjoys respectability. Exercise helps expend calories; within the usual range of activity, it need not stimulate appetite excessively. The energy output required to offset a pound of fat is approximately 3,500 calories, but the weight need not be lost all at once.

Instead of the exhausting, often impossible, 36-mile walk within a span of hours, a walk of just one extra mile a day for 36 days will get rid of that extra pound. Weight gain usually is relatively slow, and the extra mile will - for most of us - help keep our weight down to a reasonable figure.

Exercise also furthers physical, mental, psychological, and social fitness. It provides an outlet for emotional tensions, promotes self-confidence, wholesome social activity, and good sportsmanship. It enhances the sense of general well-being that enables us to confront and master a reducing regimen.

To be effective for both weight reduction and for general physical conditioning, exercise must be a regular part of your way of life, and not something that is overdone spasmodically.

So, if you want to lose ten pounds in the next year, just arrange to walk that extra mile today.

OUR SIXTH ANNUAL WINTER DISCOUNT PROGRAM NOW IN EFFECT

This unique program was begun to benefit both YOU and OUR COMPANY.

Since it is most impractical to place foundations during the inclement winter weather, there was for many years a large demand for memorials to be erected in the spring. Most families would wait until warm weather and place their order for a monument at that time. Certainly, you can realize that this created quite a backlog of orders for spring installation.

Another reason which we feel is most important, is that it provides year around work for our employees. Should you make your selection now, our craftsmen will complete the carving and lettering during the inclement weather, thus avoiding any unnecessary delay next spring. Your memorial will be installed when weather permits in the spring. As an incentive for you, we also offer outstanding discounts throughout this period, which we allow on ALL our monuments, and markers.

Following, is our discount schedule:

Jan. 14, 1968 to Feb. 13, 1968 10%

Feb. 14, 1968 to Mar. 10, 1968 5%

The above discount prices assure you of guaranteed substantial savings.

Other features of this unique program are:

* Payment in spring, AFTER you have inspected completed installed memorial.

* Free transportation to and from our large and complete display.

* Monthly terms available, if desired.

College Building

Being Renovated

Rt. Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, president of Mount Saint Mary's College, has announced that in a continuation of the college's development program, Flynn Hall, originally constructed as a gymnasium, will be remodeled as a student activities center, complementing the Student Union.

Flynn Hall, formally opened by Cardinal Gibbons at the June, 1903 commencement exercises, was considered a showplace of its time according to records of that day. The original design provided for a 5,000 square foot hardwood playing floor with the most modern gymnastic riggings and equipment. A 21x50 ft. indoor swimming pool was considered one of the finest in the country.

There was a patented running track (thirty-two laps to the mile) balconied above the playing floor.

In addition, there was a large bicycle room, as well as spacious locker and shower rooms.

One wing contained a sumptuous billiard room with a large fireplace, two pool tables and a billiard table.

The student body officially inaugurated the many athletic events held within its walls in the fall of 1903. An interesting historic note on those same walls is the fact that much of the mountain stone came from the 1857 uncompleted church, construction of which was halted by the Civil War, 1861.

By the half century mark its opulence had declined and basketball succeeded football as the major varsity sport creating a need for a larger facility. In 1950, the present Veterans Memorial Gymnasium was opened. From that time to the present the old structure has known only sporadic use.

In the new plans much of its early grandeur will be retained such as its rough-hewn wood-beamed ceiling and its hardwood playing floor. The running track, which also served as a spectator gallery, will be removed and its interior will be refurbished with bright and youthful colors conducive to dancing, movies, concerts, lectures, meetings, and other college activities.

Full length glass doors will enhance its main entrance and stylish lounges and powder rooms will be provided for the young men and their lady friends. An additional fire exit, in compliance with the state code, will be added as well as modern sanitary facilities and a ventilating system.

The operation of the modernized student center will be under the jurisdiction of the student committee of the Student Union, headed by Mark J. Regan, senior from Plainfield, N. J. It is hoped to open the new center shortly after the beginning of the February semester.
