It was bound to happen what with all this equal opportunity stuff, etc. The Gettysburg Battlefield now has a qualified woman guide. For as long as one can remember men had the monopoly on guiding tourists around the famous battlefield, but not now, or ever more. It's really not a man's world at all any more. Guides are required to pass a rigid test to qualify for the job and we are glad to learn that an Emmitsburg young man, Joe Eckenrode, has qualified also and you may see him anytime at all in one of those guide uniforms you have come to recognize so well.

The weather seems to be the paramount topic of discussion these days, and a right hot subject at that. While we are sweltering in 90 degree temperatures these days, and with little or no relief in sight at this writing, a certain part of Iowa received eight inches of rain in a two-hour period Tuesday. Brother that's not a rainfall. I'd call it a deluge. It's amazing how quickly things dry out. Just two weeks ago the land and foliage appeared to have ample moisture for survival and really looked good. In no time flat the ground has dried and plantlife is beginning to shrivel and there is a great demand for rain at this time. High humidity is playing havoc with most of us and a number of people are taking early vacations to escape this sticky weather. Let's hope we see the end of this mess in short order.

The Square beautification is rapidly taking shape. Soon four flower boxes will be placed on the corners; Crouse's Store already has pine trees and the Knights of Columbus is planning some sort of natural ornamental shrubbery. It is hoped the spirit will carry to other places of business, not only on the Square, but throughout the Town.

The drive for funds for our Swimming Pool is about to commence folks and your financial support is most earnestly needed if this project is to succeed. Outright donations are sought, or family memberships will be on sale for $30 which will entitle your whole family to the use of the pool for the first year it is in operation. It is the hope of the Chamber of Commerce to have the full support of every organization in Town and to form a joint committee of these organizations to run the campaign and have a say in its operation. The Chamber then would step aside and turn over the reins to this committee which in turn would turn the Recreational Area over to the Town of Emmitsburg for permanent ownership. Soon printed brochures will be circulated over the area telling you exactly how much money is to be raised, what Federal aid is expected, size and dimensions and other pertinent data concerning the Recreational Area. Read this brochure carefully and I feel that you will readily see that this community project warrants your total support.

Band Elects

The Emmitsburg Municipal Band held the election of officers for the new year, 1968-69, recently. NOTICE

In an effort to insure vacations for all employees of the Emmitsburg Chronicle, the management has agreed to suspend publication for one week.

The publishing plant will be closed from July 29 until August 5. There will be no Chronicle published on Friday, Aug. 2. We ask your indulgence in this matter and look forward to serving you in the future.

Mammoth Metal Plant To Locate In County

Pechiney Enterprises, Inc., New York, and Howmet Corp., N. Y., have formally announced their decision to construct a new aluminum reduction facility on a 1,400-acre site in Frederick County following extensive feasibility studies of several locations. The announcement was made by the president of Howmet, John J. Burke and Michel Castera, executive president of Pechiney Enterprises.

It is anticipated that the new plant will have a projected annual capacity to 255,000 tons of primary aluminum per year and will cost approximately $190 million when completed.

Present plans call for construction to begin immediately on the first 85,000 ton production unit or "potline". Initial operation is scheduled for October of 1970 and remelt ingot, rolling slabs and extrusion billet will be produced. Second and third potlines would follow as additional metal is required by the two companies.

Mr. Burke stated that this additional source of primary aluminum is needed to support planned future expansion of Howmet's aluminum fabrication capabilities. Plans presently envision the broadening of the company's product lines and the entry into other segments of the aluminum market. Howmet expects to consume all of its 50 per cent share of the production output of the Frederick facility.

Mr. Burke further commented that current metal needs of Howmet's sheet rolling mill in Lancaster, Pa., are being satisfied by Howmet's share of the production output of Intalco, a 225,000 ton reduction facility near Bellingham, Wash. Howmet and Pechiney Enterprises each own a 25 per cent interest in that plant. The Lancaster rolling mill is being expanded to attain a production output of 180 million pounds by the end of 1969 and aluminum from the first potline of the new Frederick plant will furnish the anticipated requirements. The new plant will also provide extrusion billet to the operations of Air Master Corporation, an Eastern producer of primary windows, storm windows, doors and replacement windows, which Howmet has agreed to acquire was announced recently.

Mr. Castera stated that the East Coast capacity will give Pechiney Enterprises geographical flexibility for the supply of primary metals to their traditional independent customers in the United States and will complement the basic product line now being produced on the West Coast.

According to Mr. Castera, the aluminum reduction plant in Frederick is expected to be the most modern facility of its kind in the world, employing more than 1,000 persons when operating at full capacity. As Intalco, it will be designed by Pechiney and will benefit from the most recent improvement in reduction and casting technology, a field in which the Pechiney Group leadership has been demonstrated through numerous technical assistance agreements throughout the world.

Mr. Burke and Mr. Castera said: "We are delighted to be able to join the Frederick community, and owe a debt of thanks to the many state and local officials, as well as to numerous private citizens, who worked in our behalf to make this site available. We are particularly appreciative of the efforts of the Honorable Spiro T. Agnew, Governor of the State of Maryland, the Commissioners and Joseph L. Stanton, Executive Director of the Maryland Port Authority, and Charles E. Collins, Russell Z. Horman and Wallace E. Hutton of the Frederick County Board of Commissioners."

The Potomac Edison Company, a subsidiary of the Allegheny Power System, has contracted for the long-term power needs of the Frederick facility. Each potline will consume about 130,000 kilowatts of electricity per year and will operate 24 hours per day.

Bechtel Corporation of San Francisco, Calif., general contractor for the Intalco plant, has been awarded a contract for the engineering, procurement and construction of the new plant.

Local Woman
Seriously Injured
In Car Wreck

Two cars were demolished and an Emmitsburg woman was critically injured in a six-car smash-up on old Route 16 in Rouseville Saturday at 9:30 p.m. Two of the drivers suffered minor injuries.

In critical condition at Waynesboro Hospital is Mrs. Ida Humerick, 55, Emmitsburg. Hospital aides said she suffered a fractured right arm, broken hip and fractured ribs.

Released from the hospital after treatment of injuries received in the accident were Donald S. Kepner, 49, Fairfield, and Dale E. Crider, 24, Waynesboro R4. Kepner suffered a shoulder injury and Crider contusions and cuts.

According to Pennsylvania State Police, Mrs. Humerick was a passenger in the car operated by Kepner that pulled from a stop intersection across Old Route 16 into the path of Crider's westbound vehicle. Struck broadside, the Kepner car was pushed into Zeiman's Tavern parking lot where it struck four parked vehicles.

Kepner's car, valued at $1,800, and Crider's $3,200 car, were demolished.

Rev. Simpson To Be Guest Speaker At Service

In observance of the anniversary to be held at Incarnation United Church of Christ, on Sunday morning, July 28 at 10:30 o'clock, Rev. William H. Simpson, Ph.D., the only pastoral son of the congregation, will be sharing the pulpit with the pastor, Rev. John C. Chatlos. He will deliver the sermon and assist in the Sacrament of Holy Communion.

Rev. Simpson is the son of Mrs. Leah Simpson, West Main Street and the late Walter A. Simpson. Bill, as many of us know him, was born in Frederick, but he soon migrated to Emmitsburg where he attended school, graduating from Emmitsburg High School in 1941.

While in school, Mr. Simpson was quite active in the glee club, band and sports. He was also a member of the Emmitsburg Municipal Band. At Incarnation Church he was a choir director and member, Church School teacher, President of the Youth Fellowship and served one term as deacon on the church Consistory.

After one year at Western Maryland College, Westminster, Bill enlisted in the U. S. Army, serving in the Army Ground Services. While there he was a member of the 2nd Army Band. Following his discharge he completed his college work at Western Maryland, graduating with honors in Music.

Mr. Simpson began his theological studies at New College (University of Edinburgh, Scotland) and received his Bachelor of Divinity from Lancaster Seminary, Lancaster, Pa., in 1955, and was ordained at Incarnation Church in June, 1955.

After serving the congregation at St. Andrew's Church in Lancaster for four years, in 1961 Rev. Simpson enrolled in a program leading to a Ph.D. degree in Biblical Studies at Boston University. During these years and at present, he is serving as pastor at Bethany United Church of Christ, Lynn, Massachusetts. He also continues to do guidance counseling at Eastern Junior High School in Lynn.

Mr. Simpson is married to the former Martha Anne Benner, Lancaster and they are parents of Timothy, aged 11.

Incarnation Church will be observing the 100th anniversary of the present church site and the 200th anniversary of the German Reformed Congregation of Emmitsburg, July 28 to Aug. 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Myers and family spent last week visiting relatives in Clinton, Iowa.

Local Men Are Charged With Arson

Two Emmitsburg men have been charged with arson in the malicious burning last Sunday of a barn on the Irishtown Road, near Emmitsburg.

They are Charles N. Smith, Jr., of Main St., Emmitsburg, and Ronald Lee Cool, Emmitsburg. Bond was set at $2,500 for each man.

The barn fire caused an estimated $2,500 damage to the building and $2,000 damage to hay and straw stored inside. The building was owned by Alfred N. Myers of Westminster and the hay and straw belonging to Alvie A. Kline of Emmitsburg. The building was a total loss.

The arson investigation into the barn fire was conducted by State Fire Marshal Top Barnes, assisted by Emmitsburg Police Officer J. J. Trout.

Named To Local Police Force

J. Michael Trout, 26, Walkersville, Md., has been named part-time, or relief officer, for the Emmitsburg Police Dept.

Trout is a brother to Officer James Trout, the regular full-time officer and was appointed by the Mayor and Commissioners.

Redskins Will Train At Mount

The Washington Redskins front office reported this week that the football club will move its training camp from Carlisle, Pa. to Mount St. Mary's College at Emmitsburg next season.

Two reasons were given for the shift. One, that Mt. St. Mary's is nearer Washington, and two, that Dickinson College, the site of the training camp now, is expanding to a trimester system and dormitory space might not be available.

The Skins pay about $6,500 a year for the use of Dickinson where they have worked out for the past four years.

The Mount was chosen over two other sites, one in Orange, Va., and the other at Garrett Park, Md.

BITTEN BY DOG

An 11-year-old Emmitsburg girl was severely bitten by a large dog Friday morning.

Lidia Ann Lingg, Emmitsburg R2, was bitten by a dog owned by Robert M. Henke. She was treated by Dr. George Morningstar and the wound required several stitches.

The dog has been quarantined in order to test it for rabies. Tpr. Joseph M. Kuhn investigated.

Handbell Choir To Perform At Anniversary Service

Sunday evening, July 28 at 8 o'clock a musical service will be held at Incarnation United Church of Christ, featuring the Handbell Choir from the Evangelical Reformed Church, Frederick. The program will include vocal numbers from Mr. and Mrs. David Reifsnider, Taneytown, Miss Susan Martin, Mr. William Stemmer Jr., the Davis family and the church choir. Prior to the service Miss Beverly Davis will present a 15 minute organ recital. Miss Davis is the organist at Incarnation Church. We hope you will be able to come join the singing with us. The offering from this service will be applied to the Organ Fund.

Then on Thursday night, Aug. 1 at 7:30 o'clock, Community Night is scheduled with greetings from the pastors of all Emmitsburg Churches, St. James U.C.C., Littlestown, Pa., and the Town Council. This will be an informal service with a Fellowship Hour following at the Lutheran Parish Hall.

There will be a historical display at Incarnation Church and you are invited to view this at any of the services.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services. Come, help celebrate our anniversaries with music and fellowship.

Citizen Warns Water Rate Inequities Exist

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

At a recent meeting of the Town Council of Emmitsburg, a motion was passed to ignore a previous Board Order which recommended an increase of water rates to people beyond the corporate limits of Emmitsburg. In my opinion, this is a mistake of the first order and should bring down storms of protest on our good Board members. Unrestraint in this matter by you, the taxpayers of Emmitsburg, is permission to the Town Fathers to do other foolhardy things without being challenged.

My complaint, of course, is directed at the inequity of the water rates and regulations now in effect. Specifically, when the people outside of town pay $11,000, plus or minus, for more than half the total water supply and the people inside of Emmitsburg pay $33,000 for less than half the water supply, I contend that we, in town, are paying too much for water and the people outside of town are paying too little.

Consider for a minute what other communities do about rules and rates to the out of town consumers. At a meeting of Frederick County Mayors in April 1968, seventeen communities were represented. Their discussion revealed that all communities (except Emmitsburg) made a "one time charge" for service beyond the corporate limits to be retained by the municipality as a capital contribution to the water and sewer systems already paid for by prior customers.

When major changes in any water or sewer plant are necessitated by the addition of customers, particularly those beyond the corporate limits, these customers are invariably expected to contribute toward the financing of the improvement. Not so in Emmitsburg. St. Joseph's Provincial House recently became a customer, consuming dangerously large quantities of water without paying anything toward the construction of the new plant.

I do not know why this was permitted. I should like to know and I think all the taxpayer owners of the water and sewer systems in Emmitsburg have a right to a complete explanation.

For the benefit of those concerned, I list some of the gross errors of the recent past:

1. None of the large consumers are under contract.
2. St. Joseph's Provincial House became a water customer without paying anything toward the huge capital investment necessitated by their becoming a customer. In addition to this kindergarten type of business dealing, St. Joseph College does not even appear as a customer on the Town books. They get water through the same meter that supplies water to the Provincial House. This means that millions of gallons of water are sold to them at the very lowest rate on the rate schedule.

3. Mistake No. 3 has to do with failure to limit the amount of water that can be used by customers outside the corporate limits. If Mt. St. Mary's College and the Provincial House continue in their demand for increased quantities of water in the next few years as they have in the past five years, the taxpayers of Emmitsburg will be faced with another large expenditure because they will be forced to dig wells, build another reservoir, buy pumps or in some way meet the increased demand.

4. Realistic minimum charges should be set for large customers so that they may not use great quantities in dry seasons and practically nothing in wet seasons, thus making it difficult, if not impossible, to operate the plant properly. This was recommended for correction; it has not been done and must be labeled mistake No. 4.

5. St. Joseph College is really not a water customer. They get water from St. Joseph's Provincial House. It can truly be said that without the need for serving this one large customer, the Provincial House, the recent expenditure and present indebtedness of Emmitsburg, would not have been necessary. Now, to discover that St. Joseph's College is not on the books as a customer, forces me to the understatement of the year, mistake No. 5.

If you are inclined toward disbelief, let me suggest that you go to the Town Office (it is your office) and inquire:

1. Is St. Joseph's College on the Town books as a customer?
2. How many gallons of water did the Provincial House and Mt. St. Mary's College use during the (Continued on Page Two)

C. of C. Plans Drive For Pool Financing

A door-to-door solicitation for funds to build a recreational area is planned for the near future. This was the decision of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce at its regular monthly meeting held Tuesday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Jane Bollinger presiding.

Before the actual soliciting is commenced the Chamber will undertake a plan to give more complete information to the general public and an informative brochure is under preparation at this time. This brochure is being edited by Mrs. Valli Ryan and Msgr. Hugh J. Phillips and should be ready for distribution in about a week.

Guests at the meeting were Msgr. Hugh J. Phillips and Rev. Paul V. Redmond, president and vice president of Mt. St. Mary's College, respectively. Both took an active part in the discussion and pledged their support of the project. Sister Margaret Hickey acted as temporary secretary during the meeting and gave a resume of the group's action on the swimming pool project over the past 14 months. It is the hope of the group that the solicitation of funds can be completed by October 1. All funds will be collected and deposited in the Farmers & Mechanics National Bank, Emmitsburg Office. Should the project fail by any means, the money will be refunded to the donors, the bank handling the complete transaction.

G. Eugene Rosensteel, chairman of the Recreational Committee gave complete details for the solicitation of funds and said he will have designated areas and captains named when the drive actually gets under way. Mr. Rosensteel, chairman of the committee to have picnic tables placed in this area, said he is in contact with the State Roads Commission and that he hoped to have some detailed information concerning the project in the very near future.

Mrs. Francis Rosensteel, chairman of the beautification committee, reported she had attended a meeting of the Town Council and that she had received permission from the Council to place four flower pots at locations on the Square. Petunias and geraniums will be planted in the pots and will be maintained by the Chamber of Commerce.

Sidney Sappington, chairman of the Sixes Bridge Committee, reported he was in receipt of a letter from U. S. Senator Joseph Tydings relative to the progress of that project.

C. EDGAR DUKEHART

Charles Edgar Dukehart, died Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock at the Carroll County Hospital, Westminster, at the age of 76. He had been in ill health for several years.

A native of Emmitsburg, he was the son of the late John and Mary A. (Baker) Dukehart. For many years he operated a carriage shop in Emmitsburg until he moved to Westminster a number of years ago.

The deceased was a charter member of Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus and had a continuous membership in the local council for over 50 years. He is survived by his widow, Sibel C. (Dorsey) Dukehart; two sons, Charles E. Jr., and John R., both of Westminster; one brother, Raymond J. Dukehart, Westminster; two sisters, Mrs. Mary C. Finke, Baltimore and Mrs. Alice Sternbisky, Emmitsburg; also 11 grandchildren.

A requiem Mass will be celebrated at St. Joseph's Church, Emmitsburg, Friday (today) morning at 11 a.m. Interment will be made in the church cemetery. Saffell Funeral Home, Westminster, is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Citizen Protests Water Rates

year 1966?

3. How much did they pay?
4. How much did Emmitsburg use during this same period?

5. How much did they pay? This question you might ask the Town auditor.

6. Is the income from water sufficient to pay the total water expense?

7. Finally, Mr. Auditor, when you said it was "feasible" to get along one more year without correcting the water rate, did you mean that the shortage from water income might be made up from another fund, such as taxes, or just how will water income be O. K. this year?

If you find after inquiry into the above questions that St. Joseph's College has become a customer; that St. Joseph's Provincial House has indeed paid a contribution in aid of construction; that the people outside of town are paying what is fair; that provisions have been made to secure the safety of the water supply for the taxpayers of Emmitsburg who are ultimately responsible for its operation; then, but please—not until then—you may remind me and I will be silent.

Would Abolish Parking Meters

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Thus far, for the five years I have lived in Emmitsburg, I have held my tongue and restrained my pen concerning the subject of parking meters on our main residential street. Just why must we put up with these monstrous penny grabbing machines?

On occasions that I have had guests from out-of-town, their first big ha, ha, is the thought that a man should be taxed for the privilege of parking his own car in front of his own home (indeed on his own land—the Town holding only an easement for traffic use).

Make no mistake, parking meters—especially ours—serve only the purpose of raising revenue. I would except from this only those on the Diamond and 2-4 in each direction on Main Street. These few meters help to regulate traffic and are innocuous.

Since the balance of our parking meters serve only as a means of raising tax money, it seems proper to ask why some houses are exempt and others burdened. There is no more reason that a resident of Main Street should be obliged to pay for parking in front of his house than a resident of Federal Hill, Green St., of Emmitt Gardens!

The solution is to do away with parking meters and exact some equitable tax that falls evenly on all shoulders . . . provided we cannot do without the small revenues which the meters have produced.

A VIEWPOINT

By Terry Smith

The conservative this election year faces quite a dilemma. It is assumed, erroneously, as I will point out that of the current front runners, Mr. Wallace is by far the most conservative of the candidates. But the term conservative used in conjunction with George Wallace is a misnomer. In point of fact the gentleman is a free spending, racist tinged, populist and for these reasons alone anathema to the true conservative position. It's quite true that in some areas Mr. Wallace couches his phrases in conservative terminology, but the basic deception still remains.

Mr. Wallace has attracted to his campaign those radical elements that for too long have gone under the guise of conservatism, when in reality quasi fascism would be more descriptive. It is this guilt by supposed association that is particularly damaging to the conscientious conservative.

It would be a shame if that portion of the electorate desirous of a definite shift in government direction, deceived by phony emotional rhetoric hopelessly split their vote. The only winners in such a situation would be the same liberals who have been in Washington since Franklin D. Roosevelt.

This election probably more than any other in our history must be decided on issues, not superficiality. The conservative desiring a return to fiscal responsibility, reduction of the Federal monolith, law and order, and positive action to rid the country of its current ills without creating myriad others in the process, must realize that a vote for Gov. Wallace only enhances the Democratic liberal that is sure to be nominated.

Attends Short Course

Miss Carolyn Keilholtz, R2, Emmitsburg, was one of 232 members from seven states who attended a 4-H Citizenship Short Course last week in the Nation's Capital.

Those attending the course also saw Mount Vernon, Arlington National Cemetery, the Smithsonian Institution, the White House and other points of interest.

Carolyn is the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Vernon Keilholtz and was one of seven delegates from Maryland. The courses are conducted annually by the National 4-H Club Foundation in behalf of the Cooperative Extension Service of the state land-grant universities and the Dept. of Agriculture.

Rampaging Car Heavily Damaged

A runaway car ripped through two fences and 3,000 feet of wheat, clover and grass fields before hitting a combine and a firewall before coming to a stop culminating a freak series of mishaps which started with a sticking gas pedal.

It all started at 3:43 p.m. Thursday, July 11 when Louise B. Kennedy of Buies Creek, N. C. who was driving north on U. S. 15, near Emmitsburg, attempted to free a sticking gas pedal by kicking it with her foot, State Police said. But when she kicked, the pedal became stuck, giving the car full acceleration. The Kennedy woman then tried to stop the car with the foot brake but it caught on fire. The car, did however, come to a stop at the side of the road, at which point she and a passenger, Dennis J. Costa, of Ithaca, N. Y., got out. But, in getting out, police said she apparently accidentally, hit the gear-shift lever, putting the car into gear, sending it on its wild rampage.

The car went down the U. S. 15 embankment, through a 500 foot long wheat field, entered a 500 foot long grass field, through a 1,000 foot long clover field, knocking down a fence, into the farm of Donald E. Moser where it hit a combine knocking it up on its end, knocking down another fence and hitting a firewall and traveling another fifty feet before finally coming to a stop.

Police estimated the total journey of the empty car at 3,000 feet. Damage to the 1966 car was estimated at $1,000. Damage to the fields, fences, combine and firewall is unknown.

No charges were made by Tfe. Paul Crutchley.

Udall Hails Whooper Eggs Hatch

Nine whooping crane eggs taken from the Canadian wilds late in May have hatched at the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center in Laurel, Maryland, and Interior Secretary Stewart Udall hailed the achievement "a major success in man's battle to preserve this rare bird."

The cooperative expedition involving the Canadian Wildlife Service and Interior's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife resulted in the removal of the eggs and one newly hatched whooper from the nests.

In 1941, only 15 whooping cranes were counted at their winter home at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas, but conservation efforts since have reversed the tide, Udall said.

Last year the wild population had climbed to 48 and 22 cranes in captivity.

The captive stock is expected to increase further if eggs produced by a mating pair at the San Antonio Zoo produce live young. The Zoo is artificially incubating one of the eggs, another was left under the birds, and three were shipped to Patuxent.

Clairvaux History Continues

Clairvaux—Chapter XII
Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:
Twenty years ago, just following World War II, my uncle and name-sake, Dr. Patrick McGuck-en, undertook a visit to the South of Ireland to locate family friends and relatives left behind when his mother came to America during the Potato Famine. It was a highly successful and enjoyable trip; but in one respect Uncle Pat came back disgusted. When he finally located the house in which his mother Bridget had been born, he discovered that her closest of kin were still living in the same house . . . and that they had been renting all those years. When he tried to explain that this was kind of dumb and that they should have bought the place outright, they didn't seem to understand.

Further, as it turned out, the family had been renting the house for twelve generations before grandmother had up and left. They saw nothing wrong in the relationship. The landlord, always of the same family throughout the generations, had been of the helpful, understandable, and reasonable sort. To comprehend colonial America—the age of Charles Carroll—we must understand that, as regards land tenure, it was a thing very similar to what Dr.
McGucken found in 20th Century Ireland. The great bulk of our country's colonial records involve land dealings with persons who were able to purchase land. Only rarely was a record made of vessel-like indentured Irishmen, such as the McGuckens, the Mc-Elderrys and the McFraleys, who arrived in America at the same time, too poor to buy shoes much less land.

The Carrolls, the Bunanys, the Digges, and other large land owners, made land available to them as tenants. These tenancies, up until the Revolution, had certain hereditary aspects. Whether the land occupants enjoyed a lease or a mere license, they tended to stay with the same landlord-family, generation after generation.
The tenant cleared the land, tilled the soil, constructed improvements in most instances shared his crops or paid a small and reasonable annual rent. Both parties benefited. It was, for its day, a mutually satisfactory arrangement.

I say all of this as background and in support of a bit and a piece that I will now throw out: Scharf, in his History of Maryland, points out that the Baltimore of today is in fact, a con-geries of three towns: Baltimore Towne, Jones Towne, and Fells Point. "On the first of December, 1729 . . . commissioners bought from Daniel and Charles Carroll the tract of 60 acres." Readers should recognize that Scharf is speaking of the same Daniel and Charles Carroll who, at the same time, owned the land now occupied by the Sisters and the Town of Emmitsburg. At page 417 Scharf continues: "It was on the 8th of August 1729 that the Act for erecting a town on the north side of the Patapsco (Baltimore)

. . . in and about the place whereon JOHN FLEMING now lives, was passed. . . John Fleming was a tenant of Mr. Carroll . . . and his house stood . . . about the present intersection of Charles and Lombard Street."

What Scharf did not say is that this same Fleming—continuing all the while as Carroll tenants—moved later to Georgetown, to Frederick Towne, and finally to Tom's Creek.

Which sister wants to bet that the ROBERT FLEMING, from whom the Sisters supposedly derived title, was not in fact a mere Carroll tenant like his ancestors . . . written records to the contrary notwithstanding?

Patrick F. X. McGucken

Nationally, the amount of monthly benefits exceeds $2 billion, an increase of more than $360 million above the December 1966
women, and children, or nearly 1 out of every 8 Americans, are now receiving some type of monthly benefit.

About 18.4 million of those receiving benefits at the end of February were 62 or older. An additional 2.2 million were disabled workers under 62 and their young dependents. About 3.4 million social security beneficiaries were young widowed mothers and their children, the Officer - in - Charge said, noting that a total of about $19 billion has been paid to orphaned children and their mothers since January 1940, when monthly survivors benefits first became payable.

In the past 6 years alone, benefit payments to this "younger group" have amounted to 1 1/4 times as much as the amount paid out in this category during the preceding 21 years.

Many younger people also receive benefits due to disability.
More than $2.2 million is being paid each month to disabled workers and their dependents—a rate that is 10 per cent higher than that of December 1966.

"Most of the changes in the 1967 social security amendments provided more protection for younger people," Tidwell noted.
For instance, some 175,000 children are now eligible for benefits based upon the earnings of a mother who has died or is entitled to disability or retirement benefits. Previously, women needed to have worked for at least one and a half of the last three years. However, that requirement has been removed. Payments can now be made to the children of a woman worker who has died, become disabled, or retired if she has enough work credits—earned at any time—to be "fully insured."

Another change made 100,000 younger persons—disabled workers and their dependents—eligible for benefits. The amount of social security work credits required for the payment of benefits to workers who become totally disabled before they reach 31 years of age has been reduced substantially—for those below 24 years of age, to as little as a year and a half of coverage.

Some 65,000 widows, unable to work because of severe disability, were able to get monthly benefits as early as age 50. Dependent disabled widowers also became eligible for payments, and in some cases, so did divorced wives of deceased workers.

Report On "The Real" Vietnam

The people who have been crying out in horror about the "brutality" of U. S. bombing raids on North Vietnam have been silent while the Vietcong deliberately bombed the center of Saigon with rockets, killing thousands of civilians, destroying residential areas and hospitals, and making tens of thousands homeless. The leading "Doves" continue to press loudly for the negotiation of a "coalition" government in South Vietnam which would include the Communist Vietcong.

This has disturbed one of America's foremost newspapermen and war correspondents,

Jim Lucas, of the Scripps-Howard newspapers. The U. S. Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security has just published testimony of Mr. Lucas, back home in America after four years covering the Vietnam war. I wish every American citizen could read the transcript. It can be obtained from your Congressman or Senator. It is a particular importance because of the so-called "peace negotiations" under way between the U. S. and the North Vietnam Communists in Paris, and because there are so many and such widely divergent opinions on the Vietnam war.

A Distinguished Reporter

Jim Lucas is perhaps the nation's foremost war correspondent. At 54 he has won more honors than any active journalist—the Pulitzer Prize, the Ernie Pyle Award (twice), the George Polk Memorial Award and at least a dozen others of highest calibre. He was one of The Marine Corps first combat correspondents, and has won distinguished military awards. Since 1964 he has covered all fighting fronts in Vietnam.

Speaking out frankly about the divisions of opinion in America, Mr. Lucas said: "In the wars that most of us in our generation remember—World War II and Korea—there was not this clash of American against American. Even in our office there are reporters that I have been very friendly with in the past, and I would say that our relationship is considerably strained because we have taken opposite sides."

Americans Should Back Troops

"Vietnam has divided this country. I do not understand the division. I guess I am too simplistic. To me the issues are so crystal clear that I find it puzzling that there could be these doubts. Yet, realistically, I know they exist." Mr. Lucas then gave his opinion that the American public is not getting a true picture of the Vietnam war and the military incidents and actions, and that this has contributed to the uneasiness and division among citizens. "I do not watch much television any more," he said. "I get too mad. I lose my temper."

He said the American press generally had been unfair to the South Vietnam Government and its army. "As a member of the press," he said "I confess that we have not been fair to either the South Vietnamese Government or its army. . . . I wrote absolutely nothing about the South Vietnamese Army. I did not have any circulation in South Vietnam. I wrote about Americans with hometown addresses."

Vietnamese Fighting Well

"About once every two months, prodded by Lew Walt (General Lewis Walt, Commander of the Marine Corps) would check to see what they had done. And I would learn that the South Vietnamese Army had won five, six, seven or eight pretty substantial victories. But nobody had written anything about them. So the impression grows that the South Vietnamese Army is no good."

"I am asked, 'How can the North Vietnamese be so much better motivated than our people?' In the first place, they aren't; they are not 7 feet tall. They put their trousers on one leg at a time like anybody else. . . . They are sending four men South for every man they intend to use: one to defect, one to be killed en route, one to succumb to malnutrition, and, finally, one to engage. They don't have inexhaustible reserves of manpower." And as for the political, social and economic reforms under way in South Vietnam, he said: "We are trying to help these people do in one generation what we have accomplished in this country in four or five. It is going to take time. They are trying to do this while fighting for their very existence."

County Cancer Drive Exceeds Quota

The Frederick County Unit of the American Cancer Society has surpassed the $21,000 goal set for the recent cancer crusade.

According to Crusade Chairman Francis W. Bush, Sr., the goal was passed by nearly $1,300 and was the largest amount ever raised in Frederick County for the Cancer Crusade.

In making the announcement, Chairman Bush paid high tribute to the co-chairmen, division chairmen and the corps of volunteers who gave of their time and talent to make this crusade a success. "We had about the finest group of leaders and interested volunteers any chairman could want," Bush said.

Frank Martin of Thurmont served as co-chairman; Miss Hilda A. Haller, Frederick City chairman; Claude H. Barrick of Woodsboro was chairman for the County areas, with Mrs. Fred Oyhus of Johnsville as his co-chairman; Mrs. Russell L. Michael was Crusade Treasurer; Leon Enfield of Knoxville was chairman of clubs and organizations; Mrs. Walter D. Stapleton of near Middletown was chairman of public information, and Lester B. Feaga, chairman of special gifts.

"The successful completion of our Crusade Goal," Bush said, "will assure the many cancer victims in Frederick County of continued assistance and service and preventive program sponsored by the Frederick County Unit in cooperation with the Maryland Division. We deeply appreciate the generosity and cooperation of our workers and supporters."

Can We Be Modern and CHRISTIAN, TOO?

To some people nowadays, the Christian way of life is naive, old-fashioned, "square."

As if the teachings of Jesus Christ had ceased to be pertinent to this sophisticated age.

A radio commentator, in fact, said recently that in another 50 years mankind will seek answers to man's questions of being from science rather than religion.

This may seem to make sense to an era plagued by war, dishonesty, social injustice, "hippies," LSD, divorce, pornography and an exaggerated preoccupation with matters of sex.

But — does it? Christ did not sacrifice His life for the salvation of one generation and not another. Nor did He promulgate a way of life that would be relevant to the needs of one period of time and not to others. His "blue print" for Christian living is founded on divine and enduring principles, not upon the changing mores and deviations of a particular time in history.

Living the Christian life in the modern world may be different than it was in earlier and less turbulent times. But the vital need of doing so has not diminished if we are to find meaning and purpose in this life and eternal salvation in the next.

If you feel truly concerned about these things, we invite you to send for our new pocket-size pamphlet entitled "Christian Life and The Modern World." It covers in easy-to-read style such topics as "What Is a Christian?" "The Modern World" "The Christian's Involvement in The World" "Christ and The Christian" "The Christian — Old-Fashioned or Up to Date?" "The Ecumenical Christian" "The Christian and The Bible" and "The Christian Goes to Church."

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW
Our Stake In A Strong Canada
WELLESLEY, HILLS, Mass., July 18—For the first time since 1962, the governing party in Canada has a clear-cut majority as a result of last month's smashing victory of the Liberal Party under the leadership of the energetic Pierre Elliott Trudeau.
Solidarity Vital To Stability
This is a heartening development, for in Canada as elsewhere solidarity is vital to stability. Canada is the second-largest nation in the world in terms of square miles of land and water, topped only by the Soviet Union. Yet, for all her feverish postwar population growth, our neighbor to the north still has scarcely more than 20 million people.
Ranking first in world production of asbestos, nickel and zinc; second in output of gold, gypsum, molybdenum, and uranium; and third in cadmium, cobalt, platinum, and titanium, Canada's plenitude of natural resources augurs well for her future economic progress.
Growing Pains

U.S. BUSINESS 1968 25 TO 51 YEARS OF 4-H SUPPORT IS BIG WITH 4-H YOUTHS
A half century ago Armour and Company picked up the tab for about 40 members of the fledgling 4-H Clubs who came to Chicago for an "educational" tour. They visited the International Live Stock Exposition, International Harvester and Armour.
Outstanding 4-H'ers still travel to the Windy City for their annual National 4-H Congress. Private industry has continued to pick up the tab.
Today 56 firms support 4-H youth through the National 4-H Service Committee and the Co-operative Extension Service.
Contribute Millions
During the past decade nearly $12 million given by these firms has been channeled to 4-H through the 4-H Service Committee, reports Norman C. Mindrum, director.
"The funds are used to support specific phases of 4-H work as requested by the Cooperative Extension Service," Mindrum said.
A breakdown by years reveals that 15 business enterprises have been 4-H sponsors for a span of 25 to 51 years.
Wilson & Co., Inc., now a subsidiary of Ling-Temco-Vought, Inc., shared Armour's early interest in livestock education. And 4-H'ers continue to tour a Harvester plant in connection with the agricultural program it sponsors.
Sears-Roebuck and Montgomery Ward became interested in 4-H in the early 1920's. Wards has always supported home-centered projects. Recently, the home economics emphasis was shifted to consumer education. Sears for many years gave cash prizes for community and club betterment. For the last eight years, The Sears-Roebuck Foundation has sponsored the 4-H Leadership program and numerous state and city 4-H activities, as well.

The railroads provide funds for broadened educational experiences, including scholarships. Donors are Burlington, Illinois Central, Chicago & North Western, and Santa Fe.
More Projects
Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation is the original sponsor of the 4-H Canning program, dating back to 1929. The program recently was expanded to include home-processed frozen foods. A thread manufacturing company, Coats & Clark Inc., joined the 4-H award donor family in 1941 by supporting the clothing program.
About that time the 4-H Electric program was introduced, and Westinghouse Electric Corporation became the sponsor.
Since 1936, livestock conservation demonstration contests —which included heavy support in the political hotbed of Quebec Province where dissatisfaction with Canada's federal government has been widespread and articulate—suggests a new era of peace and progress. The cause of separatism, espoused by French-speaking Canadians, has received a setback and Canadian nationalism has been accorded a boost.

Hopefully, this means that Canada is overcoming some of its more serious growing pains and moving into a period of vastly improved relations between the two cultures—English and French—of which it is composed.
U.S.—Canadian Trade
We have a stake in a strong Canada because we are such close neighbors. The fortified border of contentious United States and Canada extends for 3,987 miles from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In addition, there is a 1,538-mile border between Alaska and Canada. We also have a stake in a strong Canada because she is by far our best customer. In 1966—latest year for which complete statistics are available—our exports to Canada totaled $7,135,860,000, while our imports amounted to but $6,027,722,000.
The dollar value of our total trade with Canada is the equivalent of about 25% of Canadian gross national product, but is only about 1 1/4% of our own gross national product. Yet there are thousands of American businesses which prosper as a result of trade with Canada. An uncomfortably large number of these would find their net earnings very seriously impaired if that trade were to be importantly curtailed for whatever reason.
Physical Merger Or Closer Economic Ties?
Canadian prosperity is very heavily dependent on her world trade. Her trade imbalance with the U. S. is roughly $1 billion annually,—a deficit she must overcome through her commerce with other nations. As Canada grows, she will also develop a population that may make her more dependent on the U. S. in some respects. But as she grows, she will also develop new economic strength that should provide even larger markets for our goods within her borders. Meanwhile, her ties with the British Commonwealth seem likely to ease.
Some observers foresee an eventual merger of Canada and the United States. But the two countries have grown up in separate ways,—the one achieving its freedom and independence by evolution and the other by revolution. Physical merger—if it ever should come—is a long, long way into the future. But closer economic ties are inevitable, and perhaps in this century we shall see the establishment of a North American Common Market, more practical, more viable, and more prosperous by far than the European Common Market of today. In any event, the further development of American-Canadian friendship is going to be vital to the prosperity of both nations and to the peace of the world in the year immediately ahead.

A "Learn & Live" Message For New Drivers—Part 2
This week our concern is directed toward problem drivers and mechanical failures.
One of the more unnerving experiences any driver can face is a dangerous action of another driver. If a car approaches the new driver in his own lane of traffic, the best solution is generally to slow down, pull to the right, and honk his horn. This should attract the attention of the other driver. Flashing headlights may help if the incident occurs at night. It is not safe to swing to the left, because the inattentive or drowsy driver might "wake up" at the wrong moment and return to his own traffic lane—and into the new path of the driver he has startled.
If the "problem driver" is tailgating, the best thing to do is to pull as far to the right as possible and let him pass.
Generally, mechanical failures can be prevented by proper maintenance of a vehicle. However, breakdowns do occur. Here's what the driver should do in two of the more common situations.
Blowouts: Since a collapsing tire throws a car off-balance, the driver's problem is to maintain that balance. He should not brake, but should ease up on the accelerator, keep a firm grip on the steering wheel, and steer straight ahead. When the car has slowed down, he should ease it off the roadway while taking care to maintain its balance.
Brake Failure: If the brake fails—with the pedal suddenly sinking to the floor—it may be possible to build up pressure by pumping the pedal. The driver may decelerate by shifting to a lower gear, or by using the emergency or parking brake. This brake should be pulled back gently so it does not lock the wheels and throw the car into a skid. If the car has standard or manual transmission, he can turn off the ignition—leaving the car in gear—and the engine will slow the car down. But power steering or power brakes will also be turned off with the ignition.
A new driver should fully understand the proper actions to take in each of these difficult driving conditions. Reading the solutions is useful, even essential, but it is not enough. He should also observe experienced drivers, ask questions, and, in his imagination, place himself in difficult situations and work his way out of them. He should regard every trip he takes as a graduate course in the fine art of driving, and carefully review every lesson learned in each journey.
For the new driver is, essentially, a driver who has a lot to learn. And realizing that he needs to learn something is the first step he must take.

NCAA Awards Scholarship

Joseph C. Bremer, Jr., a June graduate of Mount St. Mary's College, has been awarded a $1,000 scholarship for postgraduate study by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, according to an announcement from their Postgraduate Scholarship Committee. The award is granted on the basis of outstanding achievement as a scholar and athlete.

Bremer will use the scholarship at Louisiana State University Medical School, where he has been accepted for admission in the fall. A graduate of Balboa High School in the Panama Canal Zone, Bremer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bremer, Sr., of Panama City, Panama.

At Mount St. Mary's, he majored in biology and maintained a high scholastic standing while at the same time participating in soccer and track. During his junior and senior years he captained both the soccer and track teams.

He is the school record holder in the 440 dash and was a member of the 440, 880, and mile relay teams which posted new records last spring. During a trip to the Panama Canal Zone last February with other members of the Mount St. Mary's College track team, he set a Canal Zone record in the 440 dash at the Balboa Relays.

Tourist Council Organized For This Area

Of particular interest to local business men there has recently been organized in this area, a group of business men known as the Catoctin Mountains Tourist Council. The purpose of the council is to provide information to the tourists and the adjacent cities on the points of interest and unique tourist attractions between Lewistown, Md. and Fairfield, Pa., which form the heart of the Catoctin Mountains. We feel that the many points of interest that we now have and that are planned for this district in the future by Government and private organizations, should make this the most tourist-conscious section of our country.

The economic impact of the influx of the tourist will be felt by every type of business. The points of interest must be brought to the attention of the tourists and potential visitors from the surrounding cities. This hte council hopes to accomplish by various means of advertising and promotion.

Recent developments indicate the Sixes Bridge Dam is in the not-too-distant future and will attract many thousands of visitors as will Cunningham Falls Dam, now under construction. Charnita is now a major asset to the area and will be even better in the future. Our covered bridges, colleges, shrines, orchards, parks, campsites, mountains, etc., are assets to our communities and should be seen as such, with so many interesting assets at our disposal we should as active business men, show some initiative and develop the potential around us, and not just sit and wait for someone else some outsider, to recognize and develop the things we should have foresight to do. What better move as individuals could we make for our respective communities, our whole area, than to help it grow economically?

This group, the Catoctin Mountains Tourist Council, meets on the second Tuesday of each month. The meetings have been moving alternately from Mt. Manor in Emmitsburg to Cozy Restaurant in Thurmont. The next meeting will be at the Cozy at 7:30 p.m., August 13, 1968. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend. For further information call Mrs. Pat Irons, secretary, at 271-2204.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

By Louise Chase
Women's Medical News Service
Fertility Declines
As Woman Ages
CHICAGO, Ill. — The age at which the menopause occurs is advancing steadily, probably because of better health practices in the United States and most of Europe. The average age of menopause at present is just under 50. This means that while it is unlikely, it is possible for a woman in her forties to become pregnant. This is what Dr. Sherwin A. Kaufman, medical director of Planned Parenthood of New York City, told fellow physicians attending a meeting here of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.

"Although practically all of us have heard of the 'middle-age baby,' the physician observed, 'the fact is that pregnancy is an uncommon occurrence in women in their late 40's.' Dr. Kaufman noted that in a review of more than 50,000 deliveries in a New York hospital, no woman over 50 had given birth.

In general, a woman's fertility begins to decline when she is in her mid-forties. The decline is gradual, the doctor observed, but quickens as she approaches 50. Lowered fertility occurs even though the woman may not have had a single menopausal symptom or missed period.

Contraception Necessary
Nevertheless, 'better to be safe than sorry,' Dr. Kaufman said. That is why most physicians "suggest that a woman continue to practice contraception for a full year after menstruation ceases."

As to which method is best for the older woman, Dr. Kaufman explained that this depends upon the individual's needs. In general, the oral contraceptive which has given virtually complete protection against pregnancy up to age 45, may not be necessary for the older woman. Methods such as the diaphragm may afford the contraceptive protection needed.

Highlighting the fact that there is no hard and fast rule, no magic time at which to stop taking the pill, Dr. Kaufman explained that some 300 older women at the clinic the physician heads, are still taking the oral contraceptive.

If a woman does go off the pill and tests show a developing estrogen deficiency (estrogen is the female hormone), she may be put back on the pill to help her maintain the proper estrogen level, Dr. Kaufman said.

In his view, the intrauterine device (I.U.D.) should not be offered to women over 45 for the first time because it sometimes causes irregular bleeding. Since there is an increase in abnormal conditions affecting the reproductive system in older women, and since bleeding alerts the physician to such conditions, anything which makes this bleeding should be avoided. (This holds true for the pill too.)

However, if an I.U.D. has been in place for some time it can remain in place until the menopause is complete.

The woman who relies on the rhythm method is most apt to become anxious at this period in her life since her periods may no longer be regular and the slight possibility of pregnancy continues to exist.

Little League All-Stars Play Frederick Monday

The Yankees secured only three hits but managed to come up with seven runs in the bottom of the fifth and defeat the champion Red Sox 10-8 last Thursday evening.

The Yankees scored their seven tallies on the three hits, singles by Harold Engelstatter, Jack Sweeney and Denny Adams, plus four walks, three errors and a couple of wild pitches.

The Red Sox collected nine hits but couldn't produce the needed runs. Bill Carr and Wayne Smith each had a pair of safeties for the losers.

The Little League will now enter tournament play with the local all-stars meeting the Frederick Americans in Frederick on Monday evening. Should the locals win this game they will play another team here next Wednesday.

The annual picnic has been set for Thursday, Aug. 1, at Kump's Dam Park. All managers, umpires, and players and their families, are invited.

Senior Citizens
Hear Medicare
Representative

Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m., about thirty Senior Citizens met at the Center for the regular monthly meeting of the club. The chief item of interest on the agenda was a discussion of Medicare and some of the recent changes, by Mr. Tidwell of Frederick. After a period of questions and answers, Mr. Tidwell suggested that everyone read his book supplied to those belonging to those subscribing to Medicare. He also stated that anyone having questions or problems with the program, call him at his office in Frederick and he will gladly advise them or make a visit to the ones in doubt.

Mrs. Helen McNair, Co-ordinator, announced the following events for Senior Citizens: the August 20th meeting will be a picnic, the place and time not yet settled, but watch the Chronicle or a notice in the window at the Center; it is hoped that for the September meeting Dr. Cadle will be gracious enough to show some of his delightful pictures; there will be an official board meeting soon. Watch for further announcements.

The Spanish Study group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Lester Nester with a delightful luncheon in honor of Dr. Erma Gonzales, who is leaving soon to assume her new post in the Spanish Department at Kent University, near Akron, Ohio. The group is greatly indebted to her for her faithful weekly instruction and gracious personality. She will be much missed, not only by the group, but also St. Joseph College, where she has been instructor of Spanish the past year. A small token of thanks and regard was presented to Dr. Gonzales with wishes of good luck and the hope of future contacts.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nester, Mrs. Morrison, Dr. Erma Gonzales, Mrs. Kathryn Klosky, Mr. Ward Kerrigan and Mrs. Hazel K. Caldwell.

Summer Court
Games Begun

Tuesday, July 16, marked the beginning of the St. Joseph Summer Program Outdoor Basketball Tournament. The following teams are competing for the championship:

Dillon's Demons: Jack Dillon, Marty Williams, Denny Hess, Rich Krietz and Dave McIsaac. Stahley's Scramblers: Denny Stahley, Joe Welty, Lee Koontz, Lu Norris, Bob Adelsberger and Gene Finn. Little's Larks: John Little, George Brown, John Sherwin, John Neighbours and Tom Topper. Adelsberger's Aces: Eddie Adelsberger, Ray Baker, George Baker, Mike Smith and Jim Harner.

In high spirits the tournament opened with Stahley's Scramblers challenging Dillon's Demons to what proved to be an action packed game. The Scramblers, exhibiting excellent team work, led throughout the game. Lee Koontz, scoring 16 points, was high scorer for the Scramblers, with Gene Finn right behind with 14 points. Dillon's team was lead by Marty Williams with 20 points. They put forth a great effort but could not keep the Scramblers down. The final score was 62-51.

As an immediate followup to the first game, Adelsberger's Aces battled Little's Larks. The Aces proved their skill by defeating the Larks 92-73. High scorer for the Aces was Eddie Adelsberger with 37 points. The Larks were led by John Little with 30 points.

All are invited to come and cheer their favorite team on to victory. Next week's games are: Monday, July 22—7 p.m., Stahley's Scramblers vs. Little's Larks; 8:30, Adelsberger's Aces vs. Dillon's Demons. Tuesday's games will be announced.

New State Rule
For Magistrates

For the first time in Frederick County, Trial Magistrate's Courts have the authority to place a "guilty" person on probation without passing verdict.

Under a new state law which became effective July 1, Trial Magistrates in Frederick County are empowered to suspend sentence and place on probation before conviction or commitment any person accused of a crime over which jurisdiction is obtained under the Annotated Code.

Any person who is placed on probation by these courts will be under the supervision of the State Department of Parole and Probation.

The law states these magistrates shall have the power, "before conviction of any person accused of crime, with the written consent of the person so accused, and after conviction or after plea of guilty or of nolo contendere, without such consent, to: (a) suspend that imposition of sentence; (b) place such person on probation before commitment; (c) and in all such cases above named to make such written conditions of suspension of sentence and probation as said justices of the peace may deem proper; and (d) upon determining that such person has violated any such condition, to strike out the suspension of sentence and to impose such sentence as may be authorized by law and to revoke such probation."

Simply stated this means that a "guilty" person can be placed on probation before verdict and if the person does not violate the conditions of his probation, at the end of the probation period, he is released with no "official conviction on his record."

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Equine Medicare

A wealthy dowager's pet poodle gets no better medical care than does a run-of-the-track horse, and frequently the horse gets better medical attention than the owner gives himself.

In this day of proliferating specialists and ever-increasing paper work, the human general practitioner must frequently limit his house calls to unconscious or otherwise non-ambulatory patients. The Thoroughbred, however, need only sneeze, take a sore step or just be "off his feed," and the veterinary doctor comes running. At most Thoroughbred tracks he gets a physical going over from the track Veterinarian, whether he needs one or not, on the morning of the day he is to race.

Dr. Davie Lee Paice, a member of the American Association of Equine Practitioners (a sort of AMA among horse doctors) and the veterinarian representing the State of Maryland, says: "We check from 75 to 100 patients daily, all in the privacy of their own home. We keep a complete card system on every horse similar to the clinical records doctors keep on their human patients." Particular attention is paid to the legs, and at the slightest sign of lameness a horse can be ordered scratched. Nor does the examination end there. The horses are observed as they go to the post and as they pull up after a race. This concern is not primarily for the horse, but for the public. "We try to assure that each horse is sound and able to give his best in a race," Dr. Paice said.
