The Russians appear determined to entangle the United States in all the foreign involvements they can and it may be that we must take another look into our world leadership before we are ensnared in a fight for our very survival. It appears the Reds want us tied up just about everywhere in the world. Their conquest of Czechoslovakia this week is just the latest in a series of turmoil that could pin us down for decades, if we are foolish enough to be sucked in.

One of the finest farm shows in many a year is scheduled in this area next month. The Emmitsburg and Thurmont Granges have combined their efforts this year to produce just one outstanding Farm Show. The affair will be held at Thurmont High School where more spacious quarters are available. Since our local Grange Chapter is a small one and it works a real hardship on the group to produce a show annually, it is well that it joins with Thurmont to produce one large show instead of Thurmont producing its own. The Emmitsburg Grange dropped its show last year and we are happy to see them come back with a combined effort to give the area the real show it is entitled to.

Former President Eisenhower is battling for his life in a Bethesda, Md. hospital after suffering numerous heart attacks. General Ike, as his friends know him, has been a good neighbor and has done much to give Gettysburg the national prestige it deserves. Gettysburg would still be just a small "hick" town had not Ike decided to make his home there. Since then the town has grown and is fast becoming a national tourist attraction. Ike has some small roots right here in Emmitsburg too. He is an honorary alumnus of Mt. St. Mary's College having received an honorary degree from that college a number of years back. We hope and pray that the General will be with us for years to come and that he will win the toughest battle of his career.

Still no respite in this torrid heat wave that has practically roasted us for the past month. For weeks now the thermometer seems to be stuck in the 90's and the humidity is practically unbearable. That swimming pool we are seeking would look right good these days. Speaking of the pool, indications are that it is meeting with public approval and the acid test will come within the next two to three weeks when the first contributions and subscriptions start trickling in. Solicitors already are at work and YOUR response will determine whether the project will become a reality, or not. Should the public response be satisfactory, the committee then will turn to businesses and then to organizations.

Buchanan Valley Picnic Saturday

The annual picnic of the Old Jesuit Mission at Buchanan Valley will be held in Adams County, midway between Gettysburg and Chambersburg, this year on Saturday, August 24, Msgr. Louis Yeager, pastor, announces.

Perhaps the most well-known affair of its type, the picnic and supper draws thousands from the surrounding area and seems to become more popular yearly. The affair begins at noon and continues until midnight. There's entertainment for both young and old and good old mountain music for dancing. In recent years a spacious diningroom has been erected and comfortably seats several hundred at a time.

A special feature of this annual event is the delicious ham and chicken dinner that is served family style.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Crouse and daughter, Susan, are vacationing this week in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Miss Norris Becomes Bride Of Thomas D. Ryan, MSM Professor

Miss Rebecca Ann Norris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lumen Francis Norris, Emmitsburg, and Mr. Thomas Denis Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Ryan, Philadelphia, Pa., were married August 17 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg.

The marriage was performed by Rev. Father James T. Delaney, Newark, Delaware.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length gown of silk organza with a chantilly lace bodice featuring a sculptured neckline, elbow sleeves and empire waist. The organza, A-line styled skirt had appliques of lace and was completed with a detachable waist train ending in chape length. Her veil of imported illusion fell from an open crown headpiece of organza and seed pearls.

Miss Monica Norris was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a floor-length gown of yellow ottoman styled with rounded neckline, empire bodice, trimmed in Venise lace and short sleeves edged in Venise lace. It was trimmed down the back with buttons and a bow at the empire waist; the skirt was A-lined styled.

The bridesmaids, Loretta Norris, sister of the bride; Ann Ryan, sister of the bridegroom; and Kathleen Keating, cousin of the bride, wore gowns of mint green identical to the maid of honor.

The flower girl was Leslie Carr, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William R. Carr, Emmitsburg. She wore a yellow ottoman gown similarly styled. John Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bailey, Towson, was ring-bearer.

The best man was Robert Ryan, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were John Ryan, Joseph Ryan, brothers of the bridegroom and Lumen Norris Jr., brother of the bride.

Guy A. Baker Jr., vocalist, sang "O Perfect Love", "Lord I Am Not Worthy", "Panis Angelicus" and "Mother At Your Feet Is Kneeling".

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at Cogan Union Building, Mt. St. Mary's College with over 200 guests attending from Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Virginia. Mrs. George Baker cut the wedding cake.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Norris wore a yellow dress of ribbon lace and chiffon with yellow shoes and bag. The mother of the bridegroom wore a pink crepe dress with beaded neckline and matching accessories.

After a wedding trip to the Virgin Islands the couple will reside at Faculty Row, Mt. St. Mary's College.

Swimming Pool Drive Under Way; Collecting Begun

Full steam ahead was the decision of the Recreation Committee of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce at the regular meeting Tuesday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Jane Bollinger presiding. A two-hour discussion of the plans to collect money for the proposed Recreational Area which would include a swimming pool, tennis courts, etc. was held.

G. Eugene Rosensteel, chairman of the committee, gave a lengthy progress report of the activity to date. He revealed his plans for establishing soliciting teams, captains and routes. The canvassing will include the entire Emmitsburg Election District. In the meantime, 12 centers have been named in Town where citizens may make their donations.

On July 26 a special meeting of the Chamber was called and at that time it was decided not to have a brochure printed after the recommendation of the Recreation Committee that the project was too costly and that the money should be placed in the pool fund. The general information that was compiled for the brochure was published in last week's Chronicle.

Sidney Sappington, Sixes Bridge Dam committeeman, reported he had learned that the project had become bogged down in Congress and that there would be a delay of possibly another year.

A letter of resignation was received from Father Louis B. Storms, secretary. Father Storms has been assigned to Brooklyn, N. Y. The group then voted to elect Sister Margaret Hickey, St. Joseph's Provincial House, as the new secretary. A check for a month's phone bill was returned to the group by the Community Action Committee since not enough support for the project here was registered.

A letter from Mrs. Valli Ryan was received and read and noted in the minutes. The Chamber voted to contact the C and P Telephone Co. of Maryland relative to county-wide phone calling without a toll charge. An applause vote of appreciation was given Mrs. Frances Rosensteel, chairman of the beautification committee for her work in having flower planters erected on the Square.

At a special meeting on August 16 at St. Joseph's Provincial House, the Recreation Committee met to appoint solicitors for the swimming pool drive. Receipt books were distributed the solicitors and their areas assigned. All money donated will be deposited in the Farmers & Mechanics Bank and cannot be withdrawn by any member of the Chamber of Commerce. It was voted by the group to publish the names of all the donors and solicitors weekly in the Emmitsburg Chronicle.

Chairman Eugene Rosensteel announced the following authorized solicitors and the areas they will cover:

W. Main St.—North side—Mrs. Rosemary Bollinger and Mrs. Shirley Dillon.

W. Main St.—South side—Mrs. Bruce Gigeous and Mrs. Penny Gingell.

E. Main St.—North side—Mr. J. Norman Flax.

Local Bicycle Inspection Scheduled For September 7

Dear Parents & Bicycle Operators:

During the past two months in office I've issued two Bicycle Licenses to local residents. All bicycles must be registered in the Town Office files. Due to the large amount of bicycle owners who have no licenses, Officer John Michael Trout and myself will issue a license to those who don't have them on their bikes now. The date is set for September 7 at 9 a.m. behind the Farmers and Mechanics Bank. Reflector tape will be put on the rear of the bicycles of all owners, and a license plate issued for 25c.

This message to owners is for your protection. License numbers enable us to recover stolen bikes, and it makes our job a lot easier. Let's protect the lives of our younger group. All bikes not registered after the 7th of September will be confiscated by the local police. Please cooperate with this matter.

Very truly yours,
Officer James J. Trout

Mrs. Carolyn Moler played the traditional wedding march and accompanied Miss Levern Harrison, who sang Ava-Maria and the Wedding Prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a costume designed wedding dress of silk organza, having a sabrina scalloped neckline trimmed with point d' Venise lace and a wateau train from the shoulders. Petaled peau-de-soie trimmed with seed pearls outlined the crown, which held her floor-length maline veil. They wore floor length peau-de-soie gowns, matching pumps, and head veils of clustered daisy crowns with single daisies flowing about their faces. Each wore white gloves and carried a bouquet of daisies.

The flower girls, cousins of the bride, Tina R. Smallwood and Tonya S. Smallwood, were dressed in white dotted Swiss trimmed with white daisies with yellow centers. They carried white baskets of yellow, green and white daisies.

Phone ServiceDisruption Explained

Phone service in the Thurmont area was disrupted for several hours Wednesday.

Carl V. Weakley, general manager for Frederick County, said the trouble occurred at approximately 4:30 p.m. when one of the power units went dead. After remedying this trouble restoration of service was again attempted but a second power unit went out of action. Phone service to Emmitsburg and Frederick was disrupted for two hours from 4:30 to 6:30. The utility brought into action an emergency backup system and by 9:30 Wednesday service was normal for the area.

Mr. Weakley explained that the interruption was a rarity and unexplainable. The switchboard was monitored manually for emergency calls during the service interruption.

City Police Officer Sam R. Lepo has charged Sprankle with not having a license or registration in possession, and Dickens with inadequate brakes.

"Black Power" — Three Definitions

As more and more "Black Power" leaders speak out to their comrades, the clearer it becomes that the "program" of the gathering "united front" of revolutionary organizations, working within the U.S.A. for the total destruction of the American system, is the program of World Communism. The strategy for conquest, the ideological theories, and the social philosophy of World Communism have become the primary substance of an expanding "dialogue" within the revolutionary Black Power "brotherhood".

We read the daily and weekly Communist press from all over the world, plus most of the fellow-traveling publications, including radical student "underground" newspapers. All elements in this journalistic brotherhood—from the internationally circulated World Marxist Review to the Communist Party USA's official daily newspaper, The World—are involved in the "dialogue" on Revolutionary Black Power.

Power Growing

The original goal of the original Black Power militants, for the destruction of the American system, has not changed; but there has been some shifting of "out front" faces and some realignments among the organizations. All news concerning this developing revolutionary force within our nation is of vital concern to every American citizen. Out of the recent "dialogue" has come three clarifying definitions or programs for "Black Power." Here they are:

1. Black Power—"Moderate": "Self-determination", expansion and consolidation of Negro racial pride and self-respect, control by Negroes of predominantly Negro schools, neighborhoods, communities, cities. Economic and social reforms within the structure of the United States. This is the new "Black Power" program of the Urban League, one of the most "conservative" of the organizations speaking for Negroes. The fact that it now endorses a form of "Black Power," would seem to indicate the extent of power being wielded throughout the Negro community in America by the radicals and revolutionaries.

Cutting Up U. S.

2. Black Power—"Radical": Black "nationalism," the take over by blacks of all economic and political institutions in the black communities across the country, control of the "center cities", a forced redistribution of the wealth in America, taking from the white community and giving to the Black. Complete separation of the two races, black and white, by ultimately establishing "City States" separating the black from the white by strips of unpopulated land. The present governmental and economic systems would be radically changed. This is the CORE program (Congress of Racial Equality). At the CORE 1968 Convention, the new National Director, Roy Innis, said this program may be achieved without violence because "White America" knows "we (Black Power) radical organizations" have the ability to withdraw a sacred commodity from America: peace and tranquility." The Communist press reports that CORE has been chosen by "radical" Negro organizations to be the leader of the "middle ground" Black Power forces.

A Black — Red Revolution

3. Black Power—"Revolutionary": Armed revolution to destroy the United States, its political and economic system; to kill all who resist, black and white, and to establish rule by the "oppressed" (in cooperation with World Communism). The recently merged organizations—SNCC (Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee) and the Black Panthers, led by Stokely Carmichael—have become the vanguard of the revolution. RAM (Revolutionary Action Committee) may also have merged its far-flung revolutionary activities with the Carmichael forces.

The program of the revolutionaries (in which some White student organizations are participating) will be to wage urban "guerrilla" warfare forays (such as those in Cleveland July 23-25) continuously. The massive nation-wide blow will come later, when the Communists are ready for a climactic move. Carmichael, harranging a Negro mass meeting in Mobile on July 27, said: "We must create the maximum damage with a minimum of losses of black people. And that is through guerrilla warfare." The ultimate goal, he said, is "to destroy this country." Is this not treason, Attorney General Ramsey Clark?

Summer School Ends In County

August 2 saw the end of most of the children's programs operated by the Board of Education during the summer months. Programs included: Head Start, a program for the children of migrant workers, a program for visually handicapped children, the regular summer school program for both elementary and secondary students, Operation Opportunity, and a Neighborhood Youth Corps project.

The Neighborhood Youth Corps project is the only one of the projects that did not end on August 2. This program will continue until the last week in August.

One unusual aspect of the summer programs was enjoyed by the children in Operation Opportunity. They had the privilege of going to a summer camp for a week. The camp, located in Garrett County, Maryland, near Deep Creek Lake, is operated by the Garrett County Board of Education. A cooperative effort of the Frederick County Board of Education and the Board of Education in Garrett County made the trip possible.

When Dr. Carnochan, local superintendent, visited the children on the last day of the summer program, the trip to Garrett County was the outstanding feature in the opinion of all the children. Dr. Carnochan presented a picture of the group taken at the camp in Garrett County to each child as a memento of this pleasant summer experience. Lee Smith, principal at South Frederick Elementary School, in assessing the results of the total program said, "I believe this project has been extremely helpful for these children. We expect to see rapid progress in school this coming year for these children because they had a chance to participate in Operation Opportunity."

WOMEN'S HEALTH

By Louise Chase
Women's Medical News Service
Health Survey Finds U. S. Is "Underdeveloped Nation"

NEW YORK — Seven out of eight poor women of childbearing age cannot now have the number of children they want when they want them. They cannot now plan their families because communities across the land fail to provide them with subsidized family planning services. The conclusion of a comprehensive report that appears in the current issue of the Journal of Marriage and the Family is that the U. S. is an "underdeveloped country" in the area of family planning services. The report notes that although about 98 per cent of all births in the United States take place in hospitals, with a physician present, hospitals do not for the most part provide family planning information and services for needy patients. According to a Ford Foundation study "less than five per cent of all United States short-term general hospitals had such services in 1965." Of the almost 5,000 hospitals with under 500 beds, where four out of five of all hospital births take place, only one in thirty reported the availability of family planning services. Fewer than one fifth of hospitals with large maternity services reported providing these services in 1966.

Hospitals Lagging

The Journal study reports that "there is general agreement that hospital-based family planning services are the most effective and economic way of reaching large numbers of women at the very time they are likely to be most receptive to family planning information."

In this connection, Dr. Howard C. Taylor, Jr., Director of the International Institute for the Study of Human Reproduction, maintains that to work primarily in the hospital setting with women who have just completed a pregnancy is "to place the emphasis where maximum results could be obtained with a minimum of effort."

Public Health Services Inadequate
Local health departments, like hospitals, are also found to be serving poor women inadequately in the area of family planning. The report notes that only about 200,000 women were served thru local health departments last year, although the network of such departments is considerable. Public health services are available in 2,425 of a total of 3,072 counties. But only one in three offers family planning services and some 10,000,000 people live in 650 counties not served by local health departments.

Budgets Inadequate

Although the last four Presidents of the United States publicly stated their belief that birth control is a vital health measure that should be available to all who want it, the federal government's budgetary support for birth control programs has been grossly inadequate. The report notes that in 1967 between $10 million and $12 million was allocated for direct family planning programs against an estimated annual need of about $100,000,000 to reach all the poor or medically indigent fertile women in the land not desiring pregnancy.

The report concludes that "until the federal government sets a more realistic budget, a great many poor and near-poor women are going to continue to produce more children than they themselves want or can care for and will become more deeply mired in poverty."

Who The Poor Are

Contrary to popular opinion, the report notes that seven out of ten women needing subsidized family planning services are white. Two thirds of the target group live in the nation's cities, and almost nine out of ten of them live in families which are self supporting. Two thirds of them have less than 70 cents a day for food for each family member; the near-poor have less than 90 cents a day. Women living in these circumstances simply cannot afford to pay for family planning services and supplies and in many communities there are few or no free or low cost clinics readily available.

Loans Available To Farmers

Farmers who are short of storage space for corn and soybean crops were urged this week to get in touch with their ASCS county office for information on available program aids.

James M. Voss, Chairman, Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, pointed out that the ever-present need for orderly marketing to project farm prices—particularly at harvest time—requires sufficient cribs and bins to store crops instead of rushing them off to market right from the field.

Commodity loans on stored crops can furnish immediate money and thus help farmers keep their crop off temporarily depressed markets, but this program too depends on plenty of storage space. Should a crop be high in moisture content, conditioning it before storage or marketing may be called for.

Since many farmers do not have facilities to store and condition crops, the Chairman reminded corn and soybean growers that loans for drying equipment as well as for building on-farm storage facilities are available to eligible farmers at ASCS county offices.

Mr. Voss explained that the loan program for storage facilities and conditioning equipment has been somewhat liberalized, and in some cases farmers previously not eligible for such loans now may be able to get one. So the best thing to do is to ask the ASCS office for full and up-to-date information.

"Cooperation" is the key word, according to the Chairman, in solving potential problems of flooded markets and depressed prices. All corn and soybean growers stand to benefit if they all work together in marketing sound crops in amounts that the market can take.

Health Payments Set Record

Record health care benefits totaling more than $42.7 million were provided by the Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans to their members in the first half of 1968, it was announced this week.

This figure includes better than $32.8 million in hospital care services covered by Blue Cross and over $9.8 million in medical-surgical care benefits provided by Blue Shield. By comparison, the combined benefit payments for the first half of 1967 amounted to some $38 million.

Blue Cross enrollment increased over the six-month period by more than 16,000 to its current total of 1.2 million. Blue Shield enrollment passed the million-member mark this year with the addition of 25,000 new members to its 1967 total.

In the first six months of this year Blue Cross and Blue Shield processed some 3,800 claims per working day. In all, over 153,000 Blue Cross claims and more than 325,000 Blue Shield claims were processed.

In addition to regular Blue Cross and Blue Shield programs, the Plans also administered $28.3 million in health care benefits to Marylanders over age 65 under the Federal Medicare program. These payments covered some 230,000 bills. The CHAMPUS program for dependents of military personnel accounted for an additional $750,000 in benefits provided.

Taneytown Lions Selling Calendars

Tuesday evening, Aug. 13, the calendar project committee of the Taneytown Lions Club, outlined the procedure for canvassing the city residents. Team captains, co-captains and members were assigned to their sections. The project will be in effect through September 5, 1968.

The calendars sell for 75c without a birthday listing or 50 cents with one or more listings at 25c each. The name or names will be printed in the appropriate month and day. Anniversaries may also be listed.

The Birthday Calendar is one of the several funding projects thru which the Lions raise money to carry out their many civic activities which include sight conservation, scholarships, safety programs, Little League baseball and community betterment.

The GRACE of GOD-What Does It Mean?

Even among Christians, there is often misunderstanding of the nature and effects of this supernatural gift.

Saved from misfortune... or blessed in a worldly way... some pious and well-meaning people are wont to say: "It was only by the grace of God." This may reflect a worthy attitude of appreciation toward God, but it doesn't necessarily reflect the understanding of divine grace every Christian should have.

In general, grace has been defined as a supernatural gift infused in the soul, making it pleasing to God. No one can merit divine grace, or acquire it by his own unaided efforts. "...by grace you are saved... that not of yourselves, for it is the gift of God" (Eph. 2:5-8).

There are, moreover, distinctions in the kind, quality and purposes of divine grace. The first distinction is between sanctifying grace, which the Church calls a permanent quality in the soul, and actual grace, described as a transient movement from God that comes and goes and acts on the soul rather than in it. Sanctifying grace makes the soul pleasing to God and remains there permanently unless expelled by serious sin. Actual grace moves us to do good works.

There are other kinds, qualities and purposes of divine grace with which every Christian should be familiar. Lacking space to describe them here, we have published an interesting pocket-size pamphlet called "GRACE—Without It, You're Dead"... and we will be happy to send you a copy free upon your request.

This new pamphlet covers such topics as "The Supernatural State"... "Grace—What Is It?"... "Actual Grace"... "Other Kinds of Grace"... "Ways to Obtain Grace" and "How Can We Merit God's Grace?" It explains what we must do to make ourselves worthy of God's freely given gift of grace... how the Sacraments and prayer open the channels through which the grace of salvation is poured into our souls.

Every Christian... in fact, everyone seeking the favor of God through grace... should read this interesting pamphlet.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
PROTECTIVE REFLEXES OF THE EYE

There are many examples of eye protection reflexes. Blinking, for instance, is a protective reflex. In a wink the eyelids can be closed to shut out excessive light, or a foreign object.

Many contact lens wearers become more conscious of dust in the air. Sometimes they will close their eyes so rapidly they will catch a dust particle before it strikes the eye and they can feel it between the lid margins. The contact lens wearer's lid reaction is more sensitive because dust underneath the lens can result in great discomfort.

We have all seen photographs taken with a flash bulb that reveals someone with their eyes closed. It is incredible how fast the eye can react.

Tearing is another good example of protective reflex. If a foreign object finds its way into the eye, the tears will well up immediately to wash out the particle. Tears are antiseptic and tend to negate the action of the foreign object. In warmer or dryer weather the tears increase automatically. This action is also protective.

The pupil of the eye will react to different degrees of light. If there is very little light, the pupil will enlarge and if there is too much, it will dilate, or grow smaller. The reflex to dilate the pupil takes a little longer than the contracting action.

A VIEWPOINT

By Terry Smith

I was thinking after watching the wrap up of the Republican national convention that the proper way to close these conclaves would be to set up an awards presentation similar to the Oscar ceremony.

After the Presidential nominee's acceptance speech the delegates would settle back, and watch. For the first time on any stage ladies and gentlemen the quadrennial presentation of the "Hubie" award presented for the most lackluster and bumbling performance by a politician in the following special categories. For the worst nominating speech in the history of conventioning this year's "Hubie" is presented to Gov. Raymond Schaeffer of Pennsylvania. For the most churlish and petulant performance by a delegate on national television the winner is former Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania. The selection committee had no problem in selecting Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, for his most obvious omission of congratulations to Gov. Agnew, as this year's recipient of the poorest loser award. The committee also voted to retire this particular "Hubie" because it feels that the performance of the Governor in the last three conventions couldn't possibly be topped. Poor Rocky, it's a shame that he's so popular with Republicans (by his own calculations) that each time he runs he engenders about as much enthusiasm as a Doris Day movie. But to continue with the important business at hand.

In the category of the most inept handling of a delegation, Gov. Schaeffer accepts his second "Hubie" of the evening. It might be interesting to point out that

Gov. Schaeffer ended the festivities by garnering his third and fourth "Hubies"; One for his classic statement of availability on any of the front runner's tickets, and the other, appropriately called the Phrenology award, for his jutting lower jaw, sloping forehead, and general Paleolithic appearance. Finally the evening's entertainment is brought to a close by the awarding of the final "Hubie" to that politician, why by his performance personifies all that is inept, hackneyed, and downright boring in American politics. In his acceptance speech Gov. Romney managed to make the veins of his neck stand out a record five times, violated every rule of public speaking, put half the audience in a trance, achieved a new high in garbled syntax, and in general was completely incomprehensible.

Well that's it from Miami Beach, but stay tuned for the "Rocky" awards immediately following the Democratic Convention. And if Chicago wasn't the windy city before, well . . .

Goldstein Favors National Primary

The following was presented by Louis L. Goldstein, Comptroller of the Treasury of the State of Maryland before the Resolutions and Platform Committee Hearings held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Washington, D. C. on Monday, August 19.

As a delegate to the Democratic National Convention and a member of the Resolutions and Platform Committee, I strongly suggest that a plank be included in the 1968 Democratic platform calling for a National Presidential Primary Election to be held on the fourth Tuesday in May, beginning in 1972.

I would also recommend that the regular Democratic National Convention be held during the last week of August, beginning in 1972, for the purpose of formally presenting the Democratic Presidential candidate to the party and the people, choosing a Vice Presidential candidate, and adoption of a platform prepared in advance upon which the party would run in the general election campaign.

In addition, I propose that the 1968 Democratic Party Platform contain a plank calling for abolishment of the Electoral College and deciding of the direct election of the President and Vice President of the United States by popular vote. The Federal Constitution should be amended to abolish the present system of giving all of the electoral votes to the winner in each state. The present system should be replaced with a direct popular vote for President and Vice President by a National General Election every four years.

Under the present system of selecting presidential candidates, millions of Americans believe that they are left out of the process and merely given a choice between two candidates selected for them by delegates to national conventions who are chosen in turn by state party conventions in a majority of the states. In 1968, only 15 states plus the District of Columbia had primaries for the purpose of electing delegates to the two major national conventions. In 35 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands (plus the Canal Zone and Guam, in the Democratic Party), delegates were chosen in state conventions under a blend of 108 different state and territorial laws, party regulations and unpredictable circumstances.

The average American voter has a vague sense of being ignored by the political caucuses which are held at the local town or district level in most states at the time of choosing delegates to the various state conventions.

Thus, many voters develop apathy, indifference, or animosity toward the established methods and procedures used to select the delegates to National Presidential Conventions. Some means must be developed in order to give these voters a greater direct voice in the selection of presidential candidates, and a nation-wide presidential primary election is a logical answer to this problem.

Eligibility could be established by requiring each candidate to submit a petition containing the signatures of registered voters, the exact number to be determined by a select committee of each major national political party.

Costs of campaigning could be reduced by giving each candidate a limited amount of free television time and free radio time plus some free postage for mailing campaign literature. Financial aid for candidates could also be provided by allowing tax credits or tax deductions for private contributions, or giving each candidate an outright grant of Federal aid. In this way, qualified citizens of modest financial means would have an opportunity to serve as president without making detrimental financial arrangements with special interest groups.

Many clear thinking, reasonable and patriotic Americans sincerely believe that they are denied direct participation in the selection of their presidential candidates every four years. 1968 is the year in which the Democratic Party can give a majority of the voters what they really want, a rational, orderly, nation-wide Presidential Primary, beginning in 1972.

Sr. Juliana Kowal Completes Institute

Sister Juliana Kowal, D.C., Assistant Professor of Biology at St. Joseph College, returned here this week following completion of Drew University's special summer institute for biology teachers on "The Organism—Its Origin, Development, and Environment."

Supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation, the six-week Summer Institute ended July 26. Only 40 college and university teachers throughout the nation were admitted to the special program.

During the six-week period, the three topics of "Cellular Biology," "Developmental Biology," and "Environmental Biology" were pursued by means of lectures, discussions, seminars, and laboratory work.

A staff of twelve guided the Institute, with classes held on century-old Drew's new $3.24 million Hall of Sciences.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Big Government Is Expensive

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., August 22. — More than $100 billion has been added to the cost of living in the U. S. since 1961 as a result of inflation. Other tens of billions of dollars have gone down the drain as the buying power of the money we have invested in savings, life insurance reserves, pension funds, and securities has shrunk. Actually, during the past seven years, inflation has cost each of us almost $1,000.

Uncle Sam: Spendthrift

To be sure, wages and prices have upspiraled with alarming speed as management and labor have played a dizzying game of "got you last", as each has made vain efforts to gain in a race that everyone is losing. But the real culprit is Uncle Sam himself, whose liberal and indiscriminate spending has been the greatest single factor in the decline of the purchasing power of our dollar.

Not only has Uncle Sam been spending our money with great abandon; he has also been spending far in excess of tax returns, thus placing a heavy burden of debt on our children and grandchildren. Since 1960, the national debt has ballooned from $290 billion to $350 billion... a boost of more than 20%; and the interest has jumped from $9.2 billion a year to $14.4 billion... a boost of 56%!

One-Man Fact Finder

Truth is, the federal government has so many spending programs in operation that no one knows their exact number. Nor do officials in Washington know precisely which agencies are spending how much at any given time. Rep. William V. Roth of Delaware was unable to get definite answers about government spending during an eight-month statistical study of such programs.

For example, his queries to the Office of Education draw a reply that that agency was operating 53 spending programs. But the Office of Economic Opportunity told him there were 52 such federal education programs. Then he discovered an Office of Education pamphlet listing 111 programs. His study disclosed a total of 120! Concerned by the tremendous probability of overlap and irked because Congress is not keeping pace with government spending as is required by law, the Congressman has introduced legislation calling for annual listing of all federal spending programs and monthly updating of pertinent figures respecting them.

Government Competing With Business

If Rep. Roth's bill becomes law, Congress will be better able to judge the need for new programs and in better position to root out duplication of services. But there is another aspect of the government spending picture also urgently in need of investigation. That is the extent to which government agencies are competing with private enterprise. Presently, Uncle Sam operates commissaries, post exchanges, book stores, barber shops, and even gas stations. Being tax-free, these compete unfairly with regular business operations of similar nature in their respective localities.

Back in 1955, the Hoover Commission on Government Operations pointed to 985 business areas where the federal government provided goods or services readily available from private enterprise. The late President, who headed the commission, was widely applauded when its report was made. Its findings were welcomed by business and taxpayers, but in the main Congress neglected to follow through.

Action Depends On You

Size and prestige too often beget carelessness. Without doubt Uncle Sam is wasting our money on overlapping or unnecessary projects and is providing goods and services which could be furnished more cheaply by private enterprise. Probability is that the ensuing annual cost to taxpayers reaches into hundreds of millions of dollars in money spent and tax revenues lost. It is the duty of Congress to determine which programs should be cut back and by how much. But — as always — the response of Senators and Representatives will reflect your interest and prodding... or lack of it. Remember: It's your money and your freedom that are at stake.

State highway use taxes paid by one large truck on the average are the same as taxes paid by 32 passenger autos.

To Compile Photographic History

Several organizations are cooperating in an attempt to photographically record the history of Frederick County. An appeal is being made to persons knowing of old buildings being razed or renovated, or who have artifacts which can be photographed, to make this material available.

The project is an outgrowth of a program prepared by Dr. Carlton E. Brown for the annual banquet of the Frederick Travel Club last year, which attempted to do the same for Frederick City alone. Response to the program was most enthusiastic and led to the decision to undertake an even more ambitious program this year to include the entire county.

Recently, representatives of several cooperating groups met at the Board of Education offices to discuss plans for the project. The Board of Education is interested in the project because it is planned that the program will be available for use in county classrooms when completed. Persons attending the meeting were: Mrs. Charles S. V. Sanner, Dr. Carlton E. Brown, Miss Alice L. Robinson, Mrs. Louise F. Thompson, Robert E. Hess, Richard E. Summers and T. Meade Felton.

Dr. Brown represented the Ace Photo Club of Frederick, a group of interested amateur photographers who will take the photographs needed for the program.

Dr. Brown emphasized the importance of having the cooperation of all county residents in calling historical features of the county to the attention of the committee. He especially stressed the value of being informed of buildings which were to be torn down, but also asked that persons having historical documents allow them to be photographed for inclusion in the program.

Dr. Brown said these materials could be photographed in the owner's house.

The program will be divided into seven general periods: before man, early man, early non-Indians to 1800, 1800-1865, 1865-1900, 1900-1939, and 1939 to the present. To be considered in the period before man are such topics as topography, geology, vegetation, wildlife and climate. In the period since man the following areas will be considered, among others: resources, travel, shelter, food, protection, work, health, government, education, religion, and communication.

In addition to the Board of Education, the following organizations are cooperating in the project: Frederick Chamber of Commerce, Frederick Women's Civic Club, Frederick Travel Club, Frederick County Historical Society, and Ace Photo Club.

T. Meade Felton of the Board of Education staff is serving as coordinator of information for the project. All inquiries and offers of material to be photographed should be directed to his office.

Many city trucks today provide the public with improved service and benefits through modern radio-facilitated pickup and delivery services. Local dispatchers are in constant communication with drivers of city fleets, saving time and money.

The outdoor life. Any indoor man will tell you how great it is. But only an outdoor man can tell you what it does to human skin.

Constant sun dries skin out. Leathers it. Burns it over and over again. And that can be dangerous.

If you are out in the sun a lot (or even if you're not), check into any sore that does not heal. Promptly. It could be a warning signal of cancer. And cancer is easier to cure when it's detected early.

Lorne Greene knows the seven warning signals of cancer. So should you:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge. 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. A sore that does not heal. 4. Change in bowel or bladder habits. 5. Hoarseness or cough. 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Change in a wart or mole.

If a signal lasts longer than two weeks, see your doctor without delay.

It makes sense to know the seven warning signals of cancer.

Two Elected To Advisory Board Of Southern States

Mr. Harry Swomley, Jr. and Mr. Charles Brauer were elected to the local Southern States—Emmitsburg Feed and Farm Supply Advisory Board at the 45th Anniversary Annual Membership Meeting held in Emmitsburg on August 13. Over 35 stockholders and their families attended the session.

Charles E. Brauer was named chairman of the board while Harry Swomley was picked as vice-chairman.

Elected to the local Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee were: Mrs. Robert Baer and Mrs. Merle Keilholtz. Mrs. Charles Valentine was chosen as chairman of the Farm Home Advisory Committee while Mrs. Ralph Tabler was named secretary.

Mr. Brauer was chosen as a delegate to represent the local membership at the Southern States Cooperative's 45th Anniversary Annual Stockholders Meeting in Richmond, Va., on November 14 and 15. Mr. Raymond E. Keilholtz was named alternate.

There was also the election of a delegate and alternate to a District Election meeting to be held in Winchester, Va. this fall. Mr. Brauer and Mr. Keilholtz were named as delegate and alternate, respectively.

One of the highlights of the meeting was the financial report of Southern States Cooperative, given by P. H. Murray of Baltimore, Md., a regional representative of the organization. According to the report, the cooperative will pay a 3.2% patronage refund to its farmer-members this year, the largest refund it has paid in 11 years. Total volume for the year ended June 30, was over $113,000,000, up about 1% over the previous year.

Mr. Ralph Lindsey, manager of Emmitsburg Feed and Farm Supply, gave the report on local operations and services.

Another feature of the 45th Anniversary session was special recognition of all former local board and Farm Home Advisory Committee members. There was also the presentation of lapel pins to newly elected board members while retiring board members were given the cooperative's Leadership Award in recognition of their service.

In addition there was also the cutting of the 45th Anniversary birthday cake and the awarding of a number of door prizes.

Band Color Guard Seeking Members

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: Two years ago, it was very doubtful that a Town band even existed. Well, I am sure there is no doubt in anyone's mind that this Town not only has a band, but one of the best in the area.

The Emmitsburg Municipal Band has competed in fourteen parades and has 14 top-notch prizes to its credit. This perfect record should speak for itself. I am very proud to be a part of this organization in the capacity of Color Guard Captain. Last year as you probably remember, the band was headed by the American Flag only. This year you couldn't help but notice the five-man color guard that sharply marched in front of the musicians. Right now I am seeking additional members for the color guard and need boys or girls, who like myself, can't play an instrument, but still want to be a part of this great band. Please call 447-2855 if interested.

County Commissioners Authorize Large Bond Issue

A $3.5 million bond issue for school construction purposes was authorized this week by the Board of County Commissioners. The bids on the bond issue will be opened Sept. 5 in the County Commissioners' office in the courthouse.

A county spokesman said that the bond will be used to finance all construction for public schools.

The bond will be advertised in the local newspapers and in the National Daily Bond Buyer, a brokerage-company oriented publication.

Presenting the facts and figures on the bond issue to the commissioners were William D. Fisher, Jr., and Cleveland Miller, of Semmes, Bowen and Semmes, a Baltimore Bond counseling firm.

The bond issue is the first one authorized by the present board since they came into office last December.

When the county announced its decision in June to sell the bonds, Charles E. Collins, president of the County Commissioners, said that the sale was based on estimates of what the county would need in a 12-month period.

Collins also estimated that the interest on the bond would be in the neighborhood of 4 1/2 per cent, depending on the bids.

The county has $6 million in bond issues authorized for school purposes.

Delbert Null Sentenced

A former County Commissioner, convicted last May of making false statements on his federal income tax return, was fined $5,000 and sentenced to 10 months imprisonment Friday.

Judge Alexander Harvey, II, imposed the sentence in U. S. District Court in Baltimore on Delbert S. Null, 51-year-old real estate man and auctioneer. The defense indicated it had not decided whether to appeal within the 10 days allowed for appeal.

Null actually was given two 10-month terms, to run concurrently—one on each count of the indictment which accused him of failing to report on his return county funds used on his home in Braddock Heights.

A federal jury found Null guilty May 22 of making the false statements on his returns for 1960 and 1961. Asst. U. S. Atty. Clarence E. Goetz said at the time the 1960 charge involved $3,700 and the other $3,100.

Judge Harvey mentioned in passing sentence that the case represented a public official taking public funds since Null was county commissioner at the time.

The jurist also took note of defense testimony by Dr. Thomas Quill of Frederick that Null had had one eye removed and the other eye is going bad. Incarceration would have a detrimental effect, Quill told the court.

More On Heart, Brain Transplants

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

It appears that mankind has now travelled the whole course . . . from individual interpretation of the scriptures, to individual interpretation of death.

In recent months several international medical organizations have made separate efforts to define the fact of death somewhere this side of "rigor mortis," the time-honored test heretofore applied by law, the church, and medicine; Rigor mortis being a stiffness that usually attacks the body some two to four hours after the heart ceases to beat. Thus far, these international medical groups have failed to agree. And is it any wonder?

The heart surgeons propose a definition based on an absence of brain waves; a definition which will permit them to get at, and remove, good healthy hearts while they are still beating. As for hearts that have stopped beating, forget it.

If all the doctors in the world were heart surgeons the medical profession would not be at odds with itself over this issue. But, it so happens, that many doctors are brain surgeons who look forward to the laurels already earned by their associates in the heart field. Someday (likely soon) they will want to transplant a brain from one body that is already dead—from lack of waves—but rather, an unimpaired healthy brain. This means that death, for their purpose, must be defined in quite a different manner than has been proposed by the heart specialists. For instance, why not transplant healthy brains if the heart has stopped?

The most recent medical group to meet on this question has proposed that doctors divorce themselves from all criteria and act "according to their best judgment at the time." The implications of this stand are truly stupendous and dreadful.

Yes, we have now travelled the full course.

Patrick F. X. McGucken, J.D.

State TB Cases Show Increase

The number of new cases of tuberculosis in Maryland continues to mount and now stands at 659 cases for the year, according to Dr. John D. White, President of the Frederick County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association. Dr. White noted the current total to be "considerably less than the same period a year ago, and behind the State's five-year average of 772 cases." However, statistics reveal that Frederick County is still in the high incidence of counties.

We expect recent legislation affecting reporting of active cases of tuberculosis to the State Department of Health will bring about an increase in the number of new cases, the local president said, but we would like to point out that this will primarily indicate more efficient case detection and not an increase in tuberculosis. Frederick County had 27 new cases of tuberculosis reported in 1967 for a case rate of 32.1 per 100,000 population while the average case rate for the counties of Maryland was 18.1—24.2 white and 148.7 non-white per 100,000 in this county. Frederick County ranked sixth overall in Maryland.

It was also noted that, of the State's 1,187 cases of tuberculosis in 1967, 579 were white and 608 non-white. There were 118 deaths in Baltimore City and 62 throughout Maryland's counties, six of the deaths were from Frederick County.

Public School To Open Sept. 3

Emmitsburg Elementary and High School will resume classes September 3 with an enrollment of approximately 450 pupils in grades one through twelve. This year some new grouping techniques will be tried. Another innovation will be the introduction of the "middle school" concept, where grades four through eight will be departmentalized, with different subjects being taught by different teachers. For example, one teacher will teach all the history classes in grades four through eight; another will teach the mathematics in those grades; another teacher the English, and so on.

Homeroom teachers and their class assignments are listed below, with numbers of rooms to which they should report the first day of school:

Miss Helen Poffenbarger, Grade 12, room 33; Mrs. Rita Remavege, Grade 11 (girls) room 32; Mr. Richard Kreh, Grade 11 (boys), room 3; Mr. Larry Ondrejack, Grade 10A, room 34; Mr. Mark Schneider, Grade 10B, room 2; Mrs. Mary Hoke, Grade 9A, room 31; Mr. Francis Fair, Grade 9B, room 35; Mrs. Joyce Bruchey, Grade 8, room 21; Mr. Kenneth Grand-

21 Die On State Highways

Twenty-one persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers, seven were passengers, and six were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in six of the deaths, speed in six, and driver error in thirteen.

"So far this year we are forty-eight fatalities ahead of the same period in 1967," noted Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police, "and we still have over four months to go.

"There is nothing at all to indicate an optimistic outlook in connection with the highway safety picture. It's a tragic situation indeed."

Vice President Of UA Drive

James W. Freeman has been named Vice Chairman of the Frederick County United Appeal Campaign for 1968, according to an announcement by Charles M. Trubac, General Chairman of the United Appeal.

Freeman, who is Vice President and General Manager of Frederick Gas Company, will assist Mr. Trubac in the task of raising $190,000, the highest goal in the 40-year history of the Community Chest of Frederick County.

Freeman, his wife Lois, and their four boys, Gary 12, Alan 10, Craig 8, and Glenn 5, reside at 203 Crestview Court in Frederick.

Hospital Reports Loss For Year

Directors of the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, at their August meeting, learned that the fiscal year ending June 30 showed an increase of $92,000 in earned income and an increase in expenses of $176,000. The unaudited report showed a loss for the year of $84,000 after depreciation charges of $58,000 and crediting $23,000 of other income, principally contributions.

The previous year there was an operating balance of $36,000 after $58,000 depreciation and the credit of $18,000 in other income.

In July, the first month of the new fiscal year, the hospital admitted 320 patients for 2,206 patient days and an occupancy of 72 per cent. Newborn hit the high figure of 70 admissions for 261 patient days and occupancy of 42 per cent for the month.

There were 693 visits to the emergency room; 786 x-ray procedures and treatments and 5,071 laboratory tests and electrocardiograms—all well ahead of last July. There were 152 major surgery operations as compared with 119 during the same month last year.

Earned income was $121,000, up from $106,000 last year. Allowances for Blue Cross, Medicare and Medicaid aid were $13,500 as compared with $9,800 last year. These allowances are the unjustified differences between hospital charges and contractual fees of these services.

Expenses for the month jumped from $89,000 in 1967 to $103,000 this July and after credits for other income the month showed an excess of earned income over actual expenses of $3,842.51 as compared with $7,163.13 last July.

Analysis of the financial reports indicated that the impression that Medicare, which in the past two years has covered better than one-third of the in-patients and possibly 40 per cent of the out-patients served by the hospital, pays the hospital bill in full is erroneous.

After successive audits, Medicare pays only what is termed "reasonable medical costs" which excludes several classifications of normal hospital expenses. The resulting unpaid balance indicates the hospital is carrying a greater charity load than ever before. At least, the results are contrary to the general belief that health care services are paying the entire bill.

In the case of Medicare, the account with the hospital for the year ended June 30, 1967, has not yet been finally adjusted and a balance carried on the books of nearly $1,000 may be settled some months hence at a fraction of that sum, depending on constantly changing directives and interpretations of what is reasonable medical costs. What adjustment balance the hospital books may indicate for the fiscal year just closed will likely be greatly reduced by subsequent directives and interpretations and probably will not be settled for another 18 months, the board learned.

These are principal factors along with insurance claims still in litigation, in the increase in accounts receivable from $205,000 to $248,000 in one's time.

School Board Wrangles With County Commissioners

With the opening of Frederick County public schools for the new year only a fortnight away, the dispute between the Board of Education and the County Commissioners over the school budget has grown larger and with no resolution in sight.

The president of the County Commissioners said Tuesday he has no sympathy for the Board of Education in the latest dispute over the school budget.

Charles E. Collins said, "I'm not going to let them hamstring the public. I have the public interests to look after."

Collins was defending the commissioners' action Monday in refusing to sign a school budget without the cuts requested by the commissioners.

The school board returned the budget to the commissioners in early August, refusing to go along with the $335,315 in cuts.

Dr. John L. Carnochan, superintendent of schools, said earlier the board didn't go along with the cuts because the commissioners didn't request them until after June 1.

Carnochan contends that law requires all cuts be made by June 1. Carnochan said Tuesday that the school board was not trying to create a controversy over the budget.

He said his only comment on behalf of the Board of Education was that: "If the county has a financial problem, the school board is sympathetic to it."

"We will just have to live with our budget," the superintendent added.

Collins said Carnochan was quoting a law which the commissioners don't know anything about. The law states the tax rate must be set by June 1, and also says that any cuts in the budget must be in proportion to any reduction in county receipts.

The county found that after they set the budget a mistake by the state in estimated income cost them about $400,000. They were then forced to go back over the budgets and cut them in proportion.

"We are duty bound to cut the budgets to meet the income," Collins said.

"I cannot personally be in sympathy with anyone who wants us to spend more than we have in receipts," he added.

"He (Carnochan) harps on the June 1 date, but the budget he sent us was dated July 1. We had already made the additional cuts by July 1," Collins asserted.

The president of the commissioners said that not only was the county not in any violation of law, the school board may be violating a law themselves.

The commissioners did not have included in the budget two additional items of revenue due the school board from other sources when they made the cuts. The county had asked the school board to include these on the budget but the education board balked.

"If we dug into the laws, we could find a possible violation on their part. One source of revenue was an audited surplus which by law must be included in the estimated revenue," Collins charged.

Another source, $175,000 worth, according to Collins, due the school board was not included by the education board because President Johnson hadn't signed a funding bill into law at that time.

"We felt he would and he since has," Collins said. He added that the funds will be used by the school board as additional revenue above the budget while it should have been in the budget to begin with.

The president of the commissioners suggested an alternative plan to avoid such disputes over the budget in the budget in the future.

"I advocate that all school board receipts come to the county to be dispensed to the Board of Education to make them stick to their budget," Collins said.

Dam Construction Hurts Fishing At Thurmont

Fishing in Big Hunting Creek at Thurmont is practically a waste of time and effort, says Le Roy Whitman, writing an outdoors column in the Washington Post, in the August 9 edition.

Says Whitman: What the opponents of the building of a dam in Cunningham Falls State Park, near Thurmont, so greatly feared, has come to pass.

Big Hunting Creek, for years the fly fishermen's favorite mountain trout stream in this area, has become heavily silted from the construction work.

This was the substance of a report to the Board of Natural Resources by George M. Hampson, of Cascade, Hampson headed a committee appointed by the Board to check into the degree of siltation in the creek.

The Board then voted to appoint an "action group" to go further into the problem. As its newly-elected vice chairman, Dr. Donald W. Pritchard, director, Johns Hopkins University's Chesapeake Bay Institute, expressed it, the group is to "come back with some response to Mr. Hampson's concern, which is also the Board's concern."

Pritchard appointed the following ex officio members of the Board, or their representatives, to the action group: George B. Shields, director, Dept. of Game and Inland Fish; Spencer P. Ellis, director, Dept. of Forests and Parks, and Paul W. McKee, director, Dept. of Water Resources.

Hampson reported he had visited the park with Dr. Kenneth N. Weaver, director, Maryland Geological Survey and they found the creek bed and its rocks covered with silt and mud.

Hills have been denuded, he said, and their erosion runs into the creek. Sediment and collection ponds are inadequate and running over, he reported. The old road he said, was covered with six inches of mud and running over into the stream.

"In the creek," Hampson told the Board, "one can stir up mud anywhere. In spite of the terms of the permit issued by the Water Resources Commission, there is no adequate control of erosion or siltation."

McKee, Water Resources director, had a report from one of his engineers, Robert S. Norton, in which he stated: "While I was looking at the debris basin, a front end loader came right down the stream, turned around at the dam, ran back up the stream for a way, walked out on the bank and went up the road. This kind of activity completely defeats the purpose of the debris basin."

Shields first suggested that he and McKee select representatives to investigate and report back at the next meeting.

But McKee replied, "Let Mr. Ellis have some responsibilities. He is in this up to his hip boots. Forests and Parks have a responsibility to comply with the permit."

Dr. L. Eugene Cronin, director, Natural Resources Institute, commented that when the Board had considered the dam before the permit was granted it had been assured that the construction would not damage the stream.

Hampson pointed out that the spring floods and freshets would flush the creek but that each flush would just move some silt and mud further down the stream and eventually into the Monocacy River.

Senior Citizens Picnic At Charnita

Tuesday evening, August 20, the Senior Citizens Club enjoyed a picnic supper in the pavilion at Charnita with thirty-two members present and seven members of the Thurmont Senior Citizens Club as guests. A delightful meal was served after which the clubs gathered at the Center to be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fuss of California, showing beautiful slides from their recent trip to Central and South America. The showing was both fascinating and enlightening as to how that part of our Western Hemisphere lives. Many thanks to the Fusses for this privilege.

Booklets of chances on the beautiful Afghan to be raffled at the Senior Citizens Fall Bazaar were distributed Tuesday. It is hoped the general community will assist in the buying of these chances.

The Senior Citizens of Thurmont have issued an invitation to a picnic to the Emmitsburg club to be held in the park in that town on Wednesday, August 28, 1968. The time is at five o'clock in the evening. All Senior Citizens try to make it a point to be there!
