Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Summer is all but gone and fall is bearing down rapidly on Emmitsburg. The two colleges are ready for a new crop of students and already you can see a number of the girls browsing around the town, shopping, etc. The freshman crop can be seen examining the landmarks and generally familiarizing themselves with the 'Burg. St. Joseph College opened a week earlier than the Mount and naturally were first on the scene. Members of the Mount soccer squad came in early but the freshman crop doesn't descend on the town until this weekend. In all, some 1600 collegians will make their home in our community for the next nine months. Information has it that all students of both colleges will be housed on campus this year as new facilities have been provided for them at the schools. At any rate it's been a long hot summer, the boys and girls are back with us once again and the new faces are a welcome sight in town. We sincerely welcome them.

Kump's Dam Park, that favorite rendezvous for so many local picnickers, has been renovated, so to speak. The dam, which burst with ice gorges several years back, has been restored to use and the large stream is gradually filling, adding to the beauty of the picturesque spot. The cost of this improvement has been borne by the local VFW, for which we are truly thankful.

Tuesday, Sept. 10, is Primary Election Day and this is when we select our state officials. To be elected will be a U. S. Senator and a U. S. Congressman. Doesn't sound like too thrilling an election folk, but the jobs are very important and your vote is needed to get the right man into the right office. There are a lot of changes that should be made in Washington and now is the time to say your piece . . . as a matter of fact it's about the only time you'll have anything to say. I think that at this time most of us are apathetic about the whole political mess and don't give a hang who wins, after watching our recent so-called conventions. However, we'll just have to start the changes rolling in the smaller offices and work up. See you at the polls!

The swimming pool committee is still plugging away and it reports a gratified amount of progress. The full canvassing teams haven't co-ordinated their efforts yet and quite a number of areas haven't been reported so there can be no report on the progress as yet. However, someone will be around to see you in the near future so be ready to do your share. When the general public has been fully solicited then business and industry will be contacted, as well as local organizations and any other potential source where money can be raised.

Heart Transplant Not For Ike

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Dr. Paul Dudley White, President Eisenhower's physician, and the country's foremost heart specialist, has just announced a great improvement in the President's condition. According to Dr. White "it is not surprising . . . regardless of how sick a heart patient may be, there is always a chance of recovery."

Apparently, Dr. White takes issue with the heart transplant surgeons, who, universally have said, "there was no alternative." Who is right? If Dr. White is correct, then there are 34 additional lives for which accounting must be made . . . besides to the lives of 34 so-called donors.

Dam Restored At Favorite Town Picnic Area

The burst dam at Kump's Dam Park has been restored to usefulness, Commander Thomas F. Saylor of the VFW reported this week. The dam was pushed out by ice several years ago. The above photo shows the dam as it is now, with the addition of a second release pipe to the left.

The breast of the dam has been cemented by the Sanders Construction Co., Gettysburg, at an approximate cost of $5,000. Work was started over two weeks ago is about completed. Water is now slowly filling the basin of the dam.

St. Joseph College Opens New Academic Year

St. Joseph College officially opened its 160th year on Sunday evening, September 1, when Sister Margaret Dougherty extended the President's welcome to 112 incoming freshmen. Arriving on campus, they were greeted by members of the Orientation Committee, seniors who returned a day early to prepare for their coming. Sophomores and juniors came Tuesday, bringing the registration to 605 students. Classes began on Thursday.

The early opening date marks the College's change to the new school calendar which was approved on an experimental basis for the 1968-69 academic year. Accordingly, the first semester will end before Christmas, and the school year in mid-May.

The traditional Rose Ceremony will be held on Saturday evening. In an impressive rite, each freshman is presented with a rosebud by her big sister. The tradition has its sequel four years later when, as a graduating senior, she marks her growth to maturity by placing a full-blown rose before the outdoor shrine of the Virgin Mary during the Soiree Mariale.

A comprehensive program of social activities is planned to introduce the freshmen to their colleagues, the campus, fellow students at Mt. St. Mary's College and the area. Highlighted are a Get-Acquainted Party and Fashion Show, sight-seeing and dinner at Gettysburg, a swim meet, picnic supper at Cunningham Falls, a softball game, scavenger hunt, Big Sister-Little Sister Party, coffee house, and the freshmen mixer with Mt. St. Mary's College.

The formal opening of the school year occurs on Sunday, September 8, with the traditional academic procession and Mass of the Holy Spirit. The occasion has added significance this year in that prior to the Mass, Sister Margaret Dougherty will be invested as the sixth President of St. Joseph College by Sister Eleanor McNabb, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The Orientation Program concludes on Tuesday evening, September 10, with an address to the students by the President.

VFW AMBULANCE

Sterling Myers, Emmitsburg, and Donald Giamini, Thurmont, were transported this week to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, via the VFW ambulance. Drivers were Paul Humerick and Michael Boyle.

Ceiling for GI home loan guaranty was raised recently from $7,500 to $12,500 to ease downpayments for veterans.

Mount Enrolment Sets Record; Opens Sunday

Mount Saint Mary's College begins its 161st scholastic year next week with the largest student enrollment in its history.

There are 297 freshmen scheduled to register Sunday, as the vanguard of an estimated total of 945 students arrive at the second oldest Catholic college in the nation. Upperclassmen, including 45 new transfer students, are slated to check in on Monday.

When the two days of registration are concluded, the Mount expects to have 100 more students than it did last year.

A major renovation program was carried out during summer months in the two oldest dormitories, providing facilities for an additional 140 students. Besides taking care of increased enrollment, the new rooms will eliminate the need for students to live off campus.

This will be the first full school year under the new 15-member Board of Trustees composed of both laymen and clergy which last May succeeded a College Council composed of all clergy, and under a new administration headed by Rt. Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, president, which gave students additional responsibilities for leadership in campus affairs, and appointed additional laymen to key college positions.

Freshmen registration on Sunday begins at 1 p.m. in the Student Union Building. After supper for freshmen and parents, Monsignor Phillips will welcome the new students and introduce key department heads and student government officers.

Upperclassmen who register on Monday will participate in an outdoor Mass offered by Msgr. Phillips at the National Grotto of Lourdes.

The formal classroom schedule for upperclassmen begins on Tuesday and for freshmen on Wednesday.

Plan Welcome For New Assistant Pastor

On Sunday evening, September 8, the parishioners of St. Joseph's Church are planning to gather in the grove beside the rectory to welcome the new Assistant Pastor, Father Gerard Conroy, C.M. Father Conroy arrived in Emmitsburg during this past week, and has already assumed his new duties. He replaces Father King, who last Sunday assumed his new post as Pastor. The parish party is for the purpose of having Father Conroy meet and get acquainted with the members of the parish.

The committee in charge of the affair announces that it will begin at 7:30 Sunday evening, and is open to everyone in the area. Sandwiches, chips, rolls and beverage will be served; ladies attending are requested to bring some form of dessert. Families are invited to bring their children.

The Emmitsburg Municipal Band, which scored a big hit last month when it entertained at the Farewell Party for Father Storms, has again most graciously consented to grace this affair with a program of band music. It is hoped that the parish and the community will turn out in large numbers to meet and welcome Father Conroy. In the event of inclement weather the party will be held in St. Euphemia's Hall.

Town Officer Trout Investigates Mishaps

Two mishaps involving motor vehicles were investigated by Town Officer James Trout over the Labor Day weekend.

At 1:55 a.m. Sunday morning, Officer Trout found Sterling (Butch) Myers, 24, lying along Rt. 97 just west of town. Myers was taken to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, where he received treatment. Myers told Officer Trout he was walking east towards Emmitsburg, on the side of the road when he was struck by a moving car which did not stop. He described the vehicle as a late model blue Ford with Pennsylvania license plates. Officer Trout and State Trooper Williams are investigating. Myers was released from the hospital and is apparently in a satisfactory condition.

The second mishap occurred at 2 a.m. Sunday morning. Officer Trout was contacted by Forrest Knipple who said he saw a 1959 black Ford lying in a ditch on the Keysville Road about two miles from Emmitsburg. Officer Trout did not receive the report until 3:25 a.m. and upon investigation found that the car was owned and operated by Arthur Harvey Bankard, R2, Emmitsburg.

Upon questioning by police, Bankard said a front tire blew out and caused him to lose control of the vehicle. The car was demolished. Officer Trout preferred no charges against Bankard.

Suggests Hippies Utilize Efforts

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

In the wake of recent hippie demonstrations, it occurred to me that their peaceful intentions have never been really tested. These young people of minority groups and beliefs have been raising a great amount of turmoil over the war in Vietnam and inequalities at home. They have been seen rioting, demonstrating, burning draft cards, and defiling the American flag. Yet the Government fails to test the sincerity of these young folk. It is my suggestion that service in the Peace Corps be made an alternative to military service. I'm sure that a Peace Corps training camp could be made as rigorous as any military camp. The service in poor foreign lands would be greatly helpful in moving forward to a peaceful world, and would help other small nations to gain hope that true democracy can come to them. The energies of the young are great and can be very helpful if channeled in the right direction. I, myself, would much prefer doing something constructive towards peace when given the choice. Think of the money and embarrassment this country would save if such a program were workable. Yes, much could be done by our peace-loving hippies, and our country would be backing them instead of macing them. Yes, much could be done if these demonstrators are truly sincere and if they are not they will be shown up for the fakes they are.

POINT OF VIEW

Czech Disaster A Setback For Peace

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Sept. 5—In the aftermath of the Russian-sponsored and Russian-led invasion of Czechoslovakia it is clear that this disaster will influence significantly the plans and policies of the next U. S. Administration no matter who succeeds President Johnson.

Russian Weakness Exposed

The emergence of Czech independence and liberalism which culminated in the armed suppression of Czech freedom and sovereignty points up Russian insecurity. However divided the leaders of the Kremlin may be as to what course the Soviet should follow in its relations with its satellites, it is clear that fear has tipped the scales in favor of those who advocate a hard line reminiscent of the Stalin era.

For all her rank and strength as one of the world's two "super-powers", Russia desperately needs to build, with her satellites, an international community. But, through lack of confidence and lack of enlightened leadership, she has failed to knit such a community together. Obviously, her fear of permitting the light of freedom to penetrate the communist bloc is stronger than her desire for truly peaceful coexistence with her own satellites as well as with non-communist nations.

Peace Farther Away

The retrogression implicit in the Czech invasion is a cruel blow to the Czechs and Slovaks who are among the most progressive and most productive of Europe's peoples. It is also a blow to peace from which Europe and the world will not soon recover. True freedom for the "captive nations" of Eastern Europe and a sensible solution to the "German question" are again pushed into the future.

The thaw in the cold war—intermittent and erratic though it has been—is now replaced by a deep-freeze. President Johnson's hopes for "bridge-building" and President de Gaulle's championship of "detente" are replaced by mistrust, scorn, and anger as the Russian Bear licks imaginary wounds.

East-West Trade Imperiled

One of the early effects of the Czech invasion will be a cutback in the flow of trade between Western Europe and the East European communist bloc. During the past couple of years, commerce between the two sectors had been expanding apace. Indeed the promise of much more profitable trade relations with Western Europe was one of the factors in the Czech bid for greater freedom from Russian domination.

It is perhaps too soon to make a meaningful forecast of what this retrogressive step will mean to the economies of both Western and Eastern Europe. But initial curtailment of trade will have some adverse impact on productivity, employment, wages, and general prosperity in both sectors before restored confidence permits a new rapprochement.

Impact On The U. S.

Even if the occupation of Czechoslovakia should end relatively soon and be followed by new Soviet overtures to the West for closer trade and other ties, the bad taste will linger. Mistrust of Russian motives, now widely revived, will die hard. As a result, any plans we may have had for further curtailment of U. S. armed forces in West Germany will be shelved, peace in Vietnam will likely be harder to come by, and our balance-of-payments position could worsen.

All this is going to put the next President in something of a bind. Hope of ending the federal tax surcharge on the target date of June 30 was fast fading, even before the August 21st invasion; now the odds definitely favor extension, and the road to peace and prosperity will become rockier . . . not only for the U. S. but for other nations as well, inside and outside the communist bloc. Look for the strain on the dollar, the franc, and the pound to increase.

Helmets Required For 'Cyclists

Maryland's 22,000 motorcycle owners this week were reminded that helmets meeting standards established by the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles must be worn by motorcycle operators and passengers effective Sunday, September 1, 1968.

The reminder, issued by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles John R. Jewell, also cautioned motorcycle operators to wear protective eye devices or goggles also approved by the DMV.

The action is the result of legislation enacted at the 1968 session of the Maryland General Assembly and brings Maryland into further conformance with Federal Highway Safety Standards promulgated by the Department of Transportation last year.

Jewell said that a number of manufacturers of safety helmets have sought and received DMV approval of their product but manufacturers of goggles and protective devices for eyes have been slow in filing requests for approval.

Average age for the 1.88 million WW I veterans is 73, says the VA.

Says Government Needs Overhaul

"The Nation is undergoing a revolution," Jacob B. "Jack" Berkson, Republican candidate for Congress from Maryland's Sixth District told members of the Hagerstown Lions Club at last week's meeting.

"The present method of running the government just isn't working," he continued. "We are either at the beginning or perhaps in the middle of a revolution and every citizen must get involved to save this democracy. The system is not working because the people have avoided their responsibilities of citizenship."

He described as anarchists those who determine which laws they are going to obey and those to ignore.

"You just can't break a law because you do not agree with it," he said. "Laws are made to protect all of us and they must be obeyed. Without law and order there can be no progress. The government today is in trouble because the present system is failing to respond to the serious existing problems.

"While we try to police a country 10,000 miles away in Asia," said the candidate, "one of our great political parties can not even hold a convention to nominate its candidate for president in the country's second largest city, without being protected by thousands of police and troops.

"In the past four years we have seen our stable government practically crumble before us," said Berkson, "and regardless of what the present administration in Washington blames it on, a most significant factor is that we are wasting our resources on a land war in Asia while millions in our own nation live in poverty and rat infested hovels.

"This is still the greatest nation in the world and it is not too late to turn around and correct these things that breed lawlessness and distrust. Our present trend of government encourages lawlessness," said the Hagerstown attorney, "and when fear of getting caught and punished for crime is removed, there can be no democracy."

Berkson concluded by praising the Hagerstown service club for permitting himself and the other candidates to express freely their ideas.

Motorists Must Take Caution

September means "Back To School" for boys and girls thru-out our State, and for the motorist it means CAUTION to protect child life.

Paul E. Burke, Executive Director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission points out the appalling fact that traffic accidents kill more children from one to fifteen years of age than any disease. In the United States last year 6,000 children in this age bracket met death by automobile. Protecting the children of your community against the dangers of disastrous accidents is everybody's job, he said and it is the responsibility of parents, motorists and the child himself. Therefore, if the parents will set a good example by obeying all traffic regulations — teach their youngsters habits of safety — and urge them to play in safe places, this will help them become self-reliant and safe at all times. The motorist should do his part in protecting the child by employing careful driving practices — looking for the unpredictable in children's actions and be especially alert when driving in school and playground areas, and at school bus stops.

Children should walk with care — avoid dashing into the streets or scuffling on the curb — not take foolish chances when riding their bicycles — and always obey all safety rules.

With everyone cooperating, the result will justify the effort, and insure our youngsters the right-of-way to a long life.

Byron Favors Spring Primary

State Senator Goodloe E. Byron, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Maryland's Sixth Congressional District seat, revealed this week that he had written letters to the Democratic leadership in both Houses of the General Assembly urging that steps be taken at the next legislative session to have the primary election date changed back to the second Tuesday in May.

In his letters to the legislative leaders, Byron said, "Events of the recently concluded Democratic National Convention have done much to hold our party up to question before the entire nation. A return to a 'spring' primary date will indicate to the voters of our state that the lawmakers of Maryland are anxious to be responsive to the will of the people."

Earlier this month Byron had noted his support of a proposed national primary for selecting Presidential candidates.

The Frederick County attorney also noted that he had written to Speaker Marvin Mandel, Chairman of the Maryland Democratic State Central Committee, requesting that he express dissatisfaction to the Democratic National Committee regarding the interference with the orderly news coverage of the Democratic National Convention proceedings and his serious concern regarding the general, overall atmosphere prevailing in Chicago.

Softwood Lumber Supply
The total world softwood timber stands amount to barely half of the total of all standing timber but they provide four-fifths of all lumber, the National Forest Products Association reports.

U. S. veteran population is increasing at the rate of 70,000 per month, according to the VA.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Breeding in Reverse

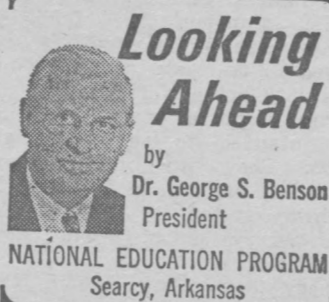

In England early in the 18th century they set about improving the breed of horses, and the swift and handsome animal known as the Thoroughbred is the result. At about the same time, in Argentina, a family set about a breeding project aimed in the opposite direction, and the novel result was seen recently at Cleveland's Thistledown race track when a diminutive horse and rider, both six-year-olds, galloped down the home stretch. The horse was Pancho, one of seven of his breed in the United States, loaned for the occasion by Harry Massey, a Pittsburgh auto magnate and a breeder of Thoroughbreds. The "jockey" was Doug Bonamy, son of Thistledown's publicity director

Peter Bonamy, and said to be the youngest exhibition rider in the country. This "odd couple" has appeared in many shows and exhibitions since both were four-year-olds.

The odd part about Pancho is that he is not a pony but a bred-down horse developed in Argentina by a family which does not permit either stallions or mares of the breed to leave the country. The diminutive gelding stands 8 hands one inch, or 33 inches from ground to withers. A Thoroughbred standing 15.2 is considered pony sized, the average being about 16 hands or five feet four at the withers, the point where the saddle sits.

A CH-47 CHINOOK helicopter attracts the attention of Vietnamese boys riding their water buffalo to nearby rice paddies. A U.S. Army photographer, CWO Don Joyce, was on an operation with I Field Force when he saw these two methods of transportation in Vietnam meet in a field near Nha Trang.

"Black Power" Internationalized

In his "history" of revolutionary Black Power in the United States, James Forman, director of SNCC's "International Commission," writes in the international Communist press that armed revolution is the method to be used in destroying the American system. His article in the recent issue of the magazine, "Tricontinental," published in Red Havana, significantly spotlights the value to World Communism of Communism's victory in Cuba and particularly the continuing existence and expansion of the Red island fortress before the eyes of a seemingly helpless U.S.A.

"The Cuban revolution, occurring only ninety miles from our shores," Forman writes, "demonstrated to many young blacks that revolution was possible and that total social change could not be voted in, but came only after an armed revolution."

"Civil Rights" Dead
"A whole new rhetoric and a new set of attitudes as well as policies emerged at that time," he chronicles. "The phrase 'civil rights movement,' long moribund, died forever with the birth of 'Black Power.' The issue was not legal rights but power to make basic changes."

Forman traces the growth of the revolutionary Black Power movement (with segments being led by Elijah Muhammed, Malcolm X, Rap Brown, Stokely Carmichael, Robert F. Williams and others) to its open alliance with international Communism in the world-wide "struggle" to destroy "capitalism and American imperialism." The year 1967, Forman says, "might be called the year of internationalization for revolutionary Black Power."

Forman reports on the visits of Stokely Carmichael to Communist bastions such as Cuba, North Vietnam and Guinea to confer with Castro, Ho Chi Minh, Sekou Toure and other Red bosses. He says Fidel Castro summed up the attitude of all the Red international hierarchy. He quotes Castro: "The revolutionary vanguard within the United States will arise from the most mistreated, the most exploited and oppressed of the Negro sectors."

The Red Line

Forman in his article uses the propaganda technique of World Communism in excusing armed aggression ("rebellions") as being defensive actions. "American Imperialism," he says, is trying to enslave, is oppressing most of the people of the earth, but particularly the Negroes in America. This is the un-wavering "line" of international Communism. The alliance of revolutionary Black Power in the United States, Forman says repeatedly, is with the Communist forces waging "wars of liberation" such as Ho Chi Minh and the Vietcong are waging against the U. S. in South Vietnam.

"Our struggle," he says, "is clearly against racism, capitalism, and American imperialism, whether it is directed against black people abroad or at home. Mounting resistance (by Black Power revolutionary forces) breeds repression, but repression will only heighten the resistance."

Revolution Underway

Forman cites "repressive" measures, in the jailing of H. Rap Brown and other Black Power firebrands. He foresees a move to destroy SNCC (Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee). "The technical destruction of a single organization such as SNCC," he says "would be unfortunate but it can no more stop the black liberation movement than the murder of Che Guevara (Communist 'master' of Cuban-exported guerrilla warfare) can stem the tide of liberation in Latin America..."

MARGARET REAVEY DUBEL
30 Hazel Street
Hartford, Connecticut
NO. 22138 EQUITY
In The Circuit Court For
Frederick County, Maryland

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Charles L. Dubel, from the Defendant, Margaret Reavey Dubel.

The Bill states in substance that the parties were married on June 8, 1945, in Worcester, England; that the Complainant is a resident of the State of Maryland, having resided in Frederick County for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, believed to be residing at 30 Hazel Street, Hartford, Connecticut; that two children were born as a result of the marriage, these being Patrick Michael Dubel, age 20, and Sheila Ann Dubel, age 19; that the parties to this cause voluntarily separated October, 1966, and that said separation has continued uninterruptedly since that time and said separation is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of a reconciliation. The Bill prays that the Complainant be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, and for general relief.

the future. Too many brothers have taken up the cry: Freedom or Death! The year 1968 will surely bring the greatest repression we have seen to date. We must organize to meet the new techniques and weapons of the enemy (the United States) with new strategies of our own. It will be a crucial year, a year in which the solidarity of liberation forces around the world is of absolutely vital importance. . . . The choices are clear: resistance or accommodation, struggle or servitude, freedom or death!"

This revolutionary and his cohorts are operating within our nation, brazenly declaring their alliance with World Communism. The torch has already been set

Know the seven warning signals that may mean cancer.

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge. 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. A sore that does not heal. 4. A change in bowel or bladder habits. 5. Hoarseness or cough. 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Change in a wart or mole. None of these is a sure sign of cancer. But if one lasts more than 2 weeks, see your doctor at once. Have any idea where your Christmas tree came from? The Great Lakes states lead in the production of Christmas trees with about 32 per cent of the total. California is second with 26 per cent. The Northeastern states produce about 18 per cent and the Central states provide about 11 per cent, according to the National Forest Products Assn.

D.M.V. REPORT

By D. Murray Franklin
Public Information Officer
Md. Dept. of Motor Vehicles

Family Automobile Ownership Soars

Almost 80 per cent of all American families owned automobiles in 1966 as compared with 59 per cent in 1950; 25 per cent of all families owned two or more automobiles in 1966 as compared with 7 per cent in 1950.

"The total number of registered motor vehicles in the nation rose during those 16 years from 49.3 million to 94.2 million, and in 1967, this number rose to 98 million," stated Commissioner John R. Jewell, added, "and in Maryland, Class A passenger car registrations increased from 574,497 in 1951 to 1,404,822 in 1968."

Commissioner Jewell pointed to the especially accelerated growth in vehicle registration which has taken place in the two Maryland counties bordering the District of Columbia: In Montgomery County, registrations rose from 80,385 in 1953 to 252,242 in 1968 and Prince Georges County showed a growth from 83,088 to 280,392 during the same period.

When these statistics are considered in relation to the fact that practically all of the net population growth in the United States is occurring in urban areas, the obvious result is a massive increase in urban traffic problems. Even those cities which have forged ahead with freeway construction programs find these facilities heavily loaded, especially at peak hours.

A recent national survey established what everyone has surmised: The automobile is the preferred mode of transportation in this country.

The pollsters called it a close "ego-involvement" of Americans with their automobile. In fact, 60 per cent of those polled thought that the family car was "the best form of transportation invented by man."

No such ego-involvement was evident, however, when the questions dealt with the facilities used by the autos, namely highways.

Admittedly, there's no simple answer to the traffic problem, not even making all streets one way, leading out of town.

Completing the planned 41,000-mile Interstate System and building other new freeways, as needed, to complement it will help a great deal. Hand in hand with freeway development, an expanded program is needed for the improvement of existing streets.

Such improvements as traffic channelization at interchanges, overpasses for pedestrians, and sophisticated traffic signal systems can alleviate much of the congestion on arterial streets of older design.

It's obvious, too, that much could be done to improve public transportation facilities. Despite the increasing urbanization of our country, public transit patronage decreased 36.5 per cent between 1940 and 1966. While patronage went down, operating revenues doubled, indicating that transit may eventually price itself out of existence.

Congress recently received the results of an 18 month study of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) suggesting a broad program of research and development costing $980 million, aimed at improving public transportation facilities. Many more millions will be required to translate research findings into actual facilities.

The proposed innovations are not intended to supplant highways. They either use highway facilities, or will fit in with the highway system to form an integrated system of urban transportation.

They demonstrate again that highway transportation is adaptable to serve many kinds of traffic and all kinds of people.

Mark Waters was a chain smoker. Wonder who'll get his office?

Too bad about Mark. Kept hearing the same thing everyone does about lung cancer. But, like so many people, he kept right on smoking cigarettes. Must have thought, "been smoking all my life...what good'll it do to stop now?" Fact is, once you've stopped smoking, no matter how long you've smoked, the body begins to reverse the damage done by cigarettes, provided cancer or emphysema have not developed. Next time you reach for a cigarette, think of Mark. Then think of your office — and your home.

What Do You Mean: "TO SIN IS TO DIE"?

A lot of people just don't believe St. Paul's warning that "the wages of sin is death."

Not when they see so many sinful scoundrels live to a ripe old age.

They conclude that the "death" referred to in the epistle to the Romans was a figure of speech, and that there really is no such monstrous punishment for those who sin.

Taking St. Paul's words literally, they contend, is responsible for the old-fashioned "hell-and-brimstone" concept of punishment for sin. And this concept, they add, doesn't make sense in these enlightened and sophisticated times.

St. Paul was not speaking, of course, of death in the physical sense. But neither was he speaking just figuratively. For the "death" to which he referred is more tragic and more to be feared than the inevitable ending of our mortal lives... and no less real.

"The wages of sin is death" to our friendship with God. It is our rejection of His love. It is our voluntary surrender of the right to eternal salvation which He offers us through the life and death of His own divine Son. The "sting" of death is a frightening thing only if it finds us alienated from God, when truly "the wages of sin is death."

Sin is never a popular topic. And even when a sense of guilt troubles our conscience, we are apt to excuse and rationalize our weakness. To err is human, we say to ourselves. And the old-fashioned notion of sin doesn't fit today's standards of right and wrong. And it's so comforting to blame our lack of holiness on a disturbed emotional experience, environment and family background.

But whether we like it or not, the most important thing in life is to face up to the problems and consequences of sin. If you want to do that... if you are seeking the personal holiness that will keep God in your heart and your life... take a few minutes to read a new pamphlet we have just published and which we will send free upon your request.

This interesting, easy-to-read pamphlet covers such topics as "Our Sense of Sin"... "The Bible and Sin"... "Kinds of Sin"... "Causes and Consequences"... and "Overcoming Sin."

Sister Margaret To Be Installed As College Prexy

Sister Margaret Dougherty will be installed as the sixth president of St. Joseph College on Sunday morning, September 8, at 9:30 o'clock in De Paul Auditorium, in a service that will be marked by its simplicity. Rev. John E. Hurley, C.M., College Chaplain, will offer the Mass of the Holy Spirit. Sister Eleanor McNabb, Chairwoman of the Board of Trustees, will invest Sister Margaret with the authority to administer St. Joseph College.

The new president has chosen to be invested during a brief ceremony prior to the low Mass which will be attended only by members of the campus community. There will be no representatives from other colleges present.

Sister Margaret explained her philosophy in eliminating the elaborate ceremonies which usually accompany the installation of a college president this way: "Traditionally each fall the college faculty and students meet and attend Mass together to dedicate the academic year to God. To me this is the most appropriate and meaningful occasion for my investiture as President of St. Joseph College."

She also observed that formal occasions often leave no room for participation by the persons closest to the event, and for that reason has chosen only members of the faculty and the student body to participate in the investiture ceremony.

An educator with a pragmatic approach, Sister Margaret hopes that this initial move toward simplicity in academic ceremonies will set the theme for the coming year. She stressed her desire also for informality, and for frank and open discussions with faculty, students, and members of the administration.

Sister Margaret assumed her new duties at the Emmitsburg college, which is conducted by the Daughters of Charity, on July 1. For the past two years she has served as Vice President of the institution, preparing her for a smooth transition to the President's office. She began her career in education as an elementary teacher and later taught English and history on the secondary level. Most recently she was principal of the Cathedral Academy in Syracuse, N. Y. She holds a master's degree from Catholic University and a doctorate in administration from St. John's University.

A graduate of St. Joseph College, Sister Margaret brings to her new position an alumna's affection for the school as well as an understanding of both student and administrative points of view.

Asked about the role of the small, church-oriented girls' college in today's world, Sister Margaret said she thinks that on a small campus young women can more effectively develop themselves as persons and as students. Here, too, their abilities are challenged in a one-to-one relationship with faculty.

As to the value of the church college, she believes it highly important for young women to have the opportunity at the college level to reaffirm and deepen their commitments to values based on a Christian philosophy. If they are to be leaders in contemporary society they must have strong convictions of their own in order to make a significant contribution in the world around them.

Sister Margaret sees her role as president principally as one of leadership, but with welcome acceptance of the ideas of others. She commented that the president must assume leadership if progress is to be made, but added, "At the same time the administrator must acknowledge what has been accomplished through the years on this campus and consider any actions on the basis of a continuity between the past and the present."

Receives Neck Injury

Giannini, who was standing on a truck, was struck in the back of the neck by a low-hanging wire, and was thrown to the ground.

He was removed to the hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance.

Senior Citizens Enjoy Thurmont Picnic

Last Wednesday evening, Aug. 25, at 5 o'clock, eleven of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens hid themselves to Thurmont to a picnic in the Community Park as guests of the Thurmont Senior Citizens group. A delightful time was spent feasting and visiting with friends.

There was also a group from the Frederick Senior Citizens Club making a sum total of about 100 gathered in the delightful and spacious pavilion in the park.

A film entitled "Getting Ready For Edna," will be shown at the next regular monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens Club on September 17, 1968 at 7:30 p.m. All Emmitsburg Senior Citizens should attend. At that time the date for the Fall Bazaar will possibly be announced. Let everyone rally round and push this annual event and make it as great a success as the one held last fall.

Walt Disney spent a portion of his early boyhood on a farm near Marcelline and it was there he began to draw barnyard animals, a proclivity that was to bring him renown and fortune as the creator of Mickey Mouse.

Library Receives

New Books

The library is open 24 hours per week to serve the surrounding area. The collection housed here should have a book to suit your taste. However, if it is a book not located in the local collection, it may be owned by either Frederick or the Enoch Pratt Free Library and may be borrowed on inter-library loan. Use your library, it is only as good as the patrons who use it regularly. Also in the library for loan are 78 RPM records. Some are classical and some popular. All records are on loan for a 7-day period. To round out the collection we have a wide assortment of periodicals that may be borrowed. Make it a habit to visit your library regularly.

These books mentioned below are recently added to our collection:

"Famine 1975," by William and Paul Paddock. By 1975 a disaster of magnitude will face the world. Famines, greater than any in history, will ravage the undeveloped nations. A swelling population is blotting up the earth's food. United States surpluses are virtually exhausted. Birth control programs are failing. Our technology will be unable to increase food production in time to avert the death of tens of millions of people by starvation. This is the greatest problem facing mankind.

"The People's President," by Neal R. Pierce. This book appears at a time when Congress is considering a Constitutional amendment to abolish the electoral college and replace it with a direct national popular vote. The proposal has wide bi-partisan support and has been endorsed by leading political scientists, business and labor groups and the American Bar Association. This book deserves the attention of every thoughtful American voter.

"An American Dilemma," by Gunnar Myrdal. This book is one of the most expensive books added to our social sciences section of the library. A very meaningful book in a day when the eyes of all races all over the world are turned upon us to see how the people of the most powerful of the United Nations are dealing at home with a major problem of race relations.

"Those Incredible Christians," by Dr. Hugh J. Schonfield. Dr. Schonfield tells about the early years of the struggling Christian Church, explaining the individual contributions—and the conflicting roles—of Paul and John. He proves the different factions and the rivalries among the other disciples and their followers; the bid for power by the church of Rome, and the conflict between the early Christians and the Roman Empire.

"Death At An Early Age," by Jonathan Kozol. This is a deeply disturbing, fully documented account of a teacher's year in a predominately Negro school, a school that happens to be in Boston but might be found in any number of American cities.

These above mentioned books are new to the collection and may be borrowed. Visit the library with your family.

Thurmont Jaycee Barbeque Sunday

Are you tired of cooking on Sunday, ladies? Why not bring your family to the Thurmont Jaycees Chicken Bar-B-Q. The Bar-B-Q will be held Sunday, Sept. 8, beginning at 12 noon on the Thurmont Firemen's Carnival Grounds. There will also be chicken-corn soup, all kinds of side dishes, watermelon, tea, coffee, and soft drinks. Come and eat all you can for just $1.75 for adults and 75c for children. Also come and get your picture taken standing behind funny photos. Don't forget, come rain or shine!

Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Aumen Myers and family are visiting friends and relatives in the area. Sgt. Myers has just returned from England after a stay of three years. His next assignment will be Andrews Air Force Base. Valerie Kraemer has been vacationing through the New England States.

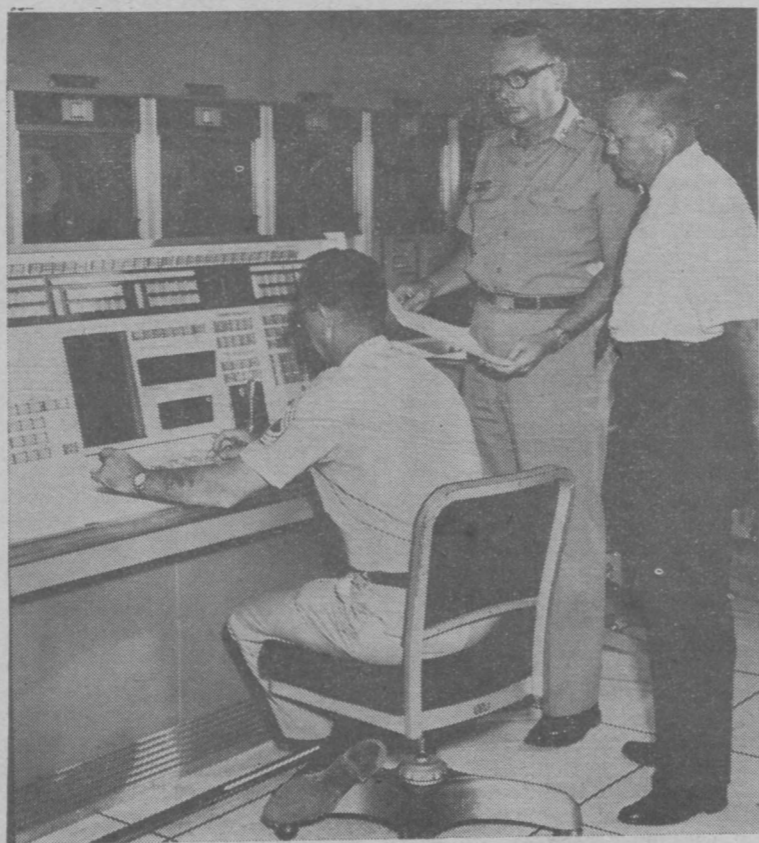

Two Towns Join To Promote Community Show

Thurmont's annual Community Show, which has been attracting large crowds each year, will be held again this fall on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 20 and 21, at the Thurmont High School. This year's event will be the 12th annual presentation of the affair and bids fair to be as attractive as ever, with a large number of entries expected.

Local residents from Emmitsburg, Thurmont and surrounding communities will vie with one another for some $750 in prize money. A youth department has been added this year for 4-H, FFA, FHA, and youth of the communities. All winners will receive new show ribbons for their prize winning entries.

The Maryland Turkey Producers Association will also hold its annual show in conjunction with

Smoking and Your Health

CIGARETTE SMOKING: Just How Dangerous?

Senate Bill 559, passed by the Senate on December 28, 1965, requires all cigarette manufacturers to have imprinted on every package of cigarettes, "Caution: cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health." Just how "hazardous" is cigarette smoking? "Very hazardous," stated the chairman of the National Interagency Council on Smoking and Health and associates of sixteen professional, private and governmental agencies. "Cigarette smoking is responsible for at least 125,000 deaths each year in the United States and may be responsible for as many as 300,000."

Former Surgeon General Luther Terry states, "Studies of mortality rates of smokers and non-smokers indicate that 250,000 men will die prematurely each year from diseases associated with cigarette smoking. An estimate of deaths among women would bring the total to more than 300,000." Dr. Terry's statement has been accredited as accurate by the present Surgeon General, Dr. William H. Stewart.

The danger is greater for teenagers. Among men who began smoking when they were teenagers, the death rate is 100 percent higher for smokers than for non-smokers.

Ten times more people will die of lung cancer in the United States this year than in 1936. "Unfortunately, lung cancer is a largely incurable disease because it is extremely difficult to diagnose," states the American Cancer Society. "Only about five percent of all cases are being saved today. Lung cancer is directly related to smoking."

Two other diseases associated with smoking are also taking an increasing death toll—emphysema and coronary heart disease. Emphysema is an irreversible and frequently fatal lung malfunction attributed to heavy smoking. In 1966 it caused over 12,000 deaths.

The State Mutual Life Assurance Company of America, Worcester, Mass., also recognizes the hazards of cigarette smoking. The Company offers a life insurance plan with a lower premium on new policy issues for persons who have not smoked any cigarettes for one year or longer. State Mutual feels that non-cigarette smokers are better insurance risks and, therefore, deserving of a premium saving.

Firemen Answer

Local Calls

The Vigilant Hose Co. was called out at 4:15 o'clock Saturday morning when fire destroyed the interior of a 1958 auto owned by Kenneth Wetzel, near Emmitsburg. The fire occurred about two miles east of Emmitsburg on Rt. 97. Fire Chief Guy R. McGlaughlin said no one was injured.

Hot Summer, But Not Hottest

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

I have been interested in finding out whether this has been the hottest and the driest summer that we have experienced here in Emmitsburg, so I examined my records and came up with the following data:

You will notice that the driest and hottest summer in the last 11 years was 1966, since in June and July there were already 32 days over 90 degrees and only .52 inches of rainfall.

In 1959 there were 36 days over 90 degrees. In 1965 there were 6.64 inches of rain and in 1957 only 6.30.

So, despite the way everyone feels, this has not been the HOTTEST nor DRIEST summer, but it might of felt hotter because of the high humidity which I do not measure.

I hope you find this information as interesting to you as I have found it.

If you had a raincoat like this you'd be Smug too

Smug has taken the quality features of the expensive raincoats and is bringing them to you for $37.50.

For this Mandarin Collar Coat they used two ply, high count 65% DAKRON® polyester and 35% combed pima cotton poplin. And they used ZEPEL® to help keep out rain and spots. And a zip-out wool and satin lining. They even added a few things the expensive coats don't have. Like KORATRON® permanent press. And loads of fashion colors. Now you know why they're Smug.
