Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

The evenings are getting chilly, the leaves are beginning to die and change color and almost any evening now you can start your furnace to take the chill off the house. It seems so incongruous that just two short weeks ago we were sweltering with the heat, air-conditioners were strained to their capacity and we sought every form of relief from the heat we could think of. Now we are into the fall weather and it won't be long until you know what we must face.

While the first returns of the swimming pool fund appear somewhat modest, there is every expectation that the goal can be reached. About 15% of the public's potential has been solicited and to date $3,000 has been obtained and banked. There is much more soliciting to be done and then the business places will be approached and following that, local organizations. Our goal is $50,000 and while we are a long way from that figure there is every hope of raising the entire amount. Let's put our shoulder to the wheel folks, it's a long hard pull ahead.

Well the old Burg is relatively quiet again after a week of sporadic protesting and demonstrating over the police situation here. At times it was feared that things might perhaps get out of hand as supporters of the resigned policeman maundered the streets throughout the late hours at night. Little, if any, property damage was reported but messes of eggs and tomatoes tossed at some houses and cars, left a sore spot with many local citizens. The whole affair is an unfortunate one and we are glad it has terminated. There are still some sporadic instances of vandalism going on but then there is always this element that seeks to take advantage of every opportunity to vent their destructiveness on their very own community and get as much mileage out of it as possible. Right now there is no excuse for community nuisance of this sort and it should not be tolerated any longer. The situation has been resolved whether it met with your approval or not and we must abide by the decision. Personally we liked the Trout brothers and thought they were doing splendid work in the three short months they were on the job. We felt also that with some admonition the situation could be resolved amicably but apparently the authorities felt otherwise. We are sorry to see these two young men terminate their service with us and wish them every success in their future. We cannot and do not condone some of the actions by a number of our citizens who actually terrorized some of our public officials during this trying period. There is a time and place for everything and if there are any gripes to be aired the place is the Town Office, not an official's private home. Egg and tomato throwing along with threatening phone calls is not a part of the democratic system of settling matters. In fact they only hinder any progress on the part of the negotiators and give the community a bad name around the countryside. We have a new town officer now and no more vandalism will be tolerated. We must close the book on the chapter just now concluded and begin anew.

Service-disabled veterans insurance up to $10,000 is available to qualified veterans separated from service after April 1951.

Public School PTA Organizes For School Year

Officers and committee chairmen for the Emmitsburg High School PTA have met to discuss and plan the year's meetings and events.

An interesting schedule is being arranged beginning with the first meeting to be held Wednesday, Sept. 25. There will be a room visitation period from 7:30 to 8 p.m., when parents may speak to the student's teacher and see work to be displayed. At 8 p.m. the business meeting will be held in the school auditorium. The new president, Mrs. George Bassler, will conduct the meeting and introduce the principal, Mr. Richard Van Tries. Mr. Van Tries will speak to the parents concerning the new system of middle school which is being used this year and if there are any questions on this subject which need more explanation, he will be able to answer them at that time.

The Executive Board urges all parents to join the PTA, attend the first meeting, and help start off the school year with a good attendance and enthusiasm. Only an informed membership can make a successful PTA.

Officers for the year 1968-69 are as follows: President, Mrs. George Bassler; vice president, Mr. Eric Glass; recording secretary, Mrs. Wayne Williar; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Saylor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rita Remavage.

Committee chairmen are as follows: Program, Mrs. Fred Warnken; activities, Mrs. Herbert Gilling and Mrs. Ernest Staub; refreshments, Mrs. Stanley Gregg; hospitality, Mrs. Kenneth Mathias; membership, Mrs. John Chatlos; budget, Mrs. Robert Saylor; dance, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Wolfe, Jr.; publicity, Mrs. W. R. Slemmer, Jr.

Swim Pool Fund Passes $3,000 Mark

The two local colleges, Mt. St. Mary's and St. Joseph's have been designated by Civil Defense authorities as fall-out shelters for the people of Emmitsburg. Eugene R. Rosensteel told the members of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting held Tuesday evening at Mt. Manor Restaurant. The president, Mrs. Jane Bollinger presided and Robert Muench acted as secretary in the absence of Sister Margaret Hickey. Rosensteel said the two colleges could accommodate up to 4,000 people in an emergency.

G. Eugene Rosensteel, chairman of the Recreational Area Committee, gave a report of the fund drive for the swimming pool and said that the goal of $50,000 was 15% complete at this stage. To date over $3,000 has been subscribed. There has been 134 donations or subscriptions made and the average was $17 per person. Almost 1200 people will be approached for a donation in the future weeks to come. Rosensteel adjured the recent telethon a success and said the event brought in $984. He expressed his appreciation to Radio Station WTHU for its assistance with the telethon.

The president read a carbon copy of a letter to Mrs. Valli Ryan explaining a recent action by the Chamber on a specific matter. A letter from the State Roads Commission was read stating it conducted a traffic survey at the intersection of East Main St. and Federal Avenue. Some months ago the Chamber asked the Commission to explore the possibility of installing a traffic light there to protect children going to and coming from the Mother Seton School. The letter explained that the survey was under way.

Carl V. Weakley, area manager of the C & P Telephone Company, will be the principal speaker at the next meeting of the Chamber and will reveal the latest data compiled on phone service for the Emmitsburg area. The group voted a $25 donation to the Municipal Band fund drive.

Miss Hoade Is Wed To Roy Zeman

Miss Susanna Mary Hoade, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hoade, Emmitsburg, and Roy Richard Zeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Zeman of Cleveland, Ohio, were united in marriage at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Saturday morning, September 14.

The Rev. John F. King officiated at the nuptial mass.

Traditional organ music was provided by Mrs. Louella Rosensteel. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie, trimmed with french chantilly lace and seed pearls. The gown was designed with empire waist and A-line skirt with detachable chapel train. Her three-tier elbow length veil was attached to a crown of petals of crystals and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and white orchids.

Mary K. Hoade, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Brenda Lowe of Emmitsburg, and Sally Dorsey of Baltimore. All were gowned alike in Nile green floor length gowns with empire waist with large bow and detachable panel in the back. They carried bouquets of yellow daisies accented with yellow lace and bright red leaves.

Shawki Azar, U. S. Army, stationed at Walter Reed Hospital, was best man. Ushers were Thomas Hoade, brother of the bride, and George Zeman, Jr., brother of the groom.

The mother of the bride was attired in a gold sleeveless dress with matching coat and accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses. The mother of the groom wore a shocking pink crepe dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of white roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the VFW Annex. The couple left for a wedding trip to Nevada and California. They will reside in Bedford, Ohio.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School and Maryland Medical School of Hagerstown, Md., and before her marriage was a medical secretary at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D. C.

The groom is a Korean war veteran and is currently in the air conditioning and heating business with his father in Cleveland.

Health Officer To Talk On Cancer

Dr. Charles Specknoll, deputy state and county health officer, will lecture on the early diagnosis of cancer, Tuesday evening, Sept. 24, at 7:30 o'clock in Dodd Lecture Hall, St. Joseph College. The lecture is being sponsored by the American Cancer Society and the Cancer Education program. Sister Ambrose Carreras, resident nurse at the college, who is in charge of arrangements, announced that the public is invited.

Town Officer Resigns After Meetings

Emmitsburg's turbulent police situation apparently reached its culmination at a special meeting of the Town Council and Officer James Trout held Tuesday afternoon when the Council accepted Trout's resignation.

Public interest was aroused Friday night when it was learned that Officer Trout had been charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and was asked to resign, which he refused to do, pending a further hearing before the Council at which time Trout had time to be represented by legal counsel. Mayor Robert A. Seidel relieved Officer Trout of his duties as of 12 midnight Friday.

Following Trout's "suspension", protest demonstrations, mostly by the younger element, began to materialize and by Saturday night it was necessary for Mayor Seidel to ask assistance from the Maryland State Police. It was estimated Saturday night that several hundred citizens lined the streets watching the "activity" which consisted chiefly of a small motorcade littered with posters worded "We want Trout."

At a three-hour meeting held by the Council Monday night, no decision was made to resolve the differences between the officer and the Council. Crowds of demonstrators appeared at some of the Town Officials' homes and threats were made. Eggs and tomatoes were tossed at the Town Office and some at the homes of the Commissioners. At times there appeared six or eight State Police cruisers patrolling the streets throughout the night but no arrests were made. Officer Michael Trout also submitted his resignation to the Council.

The difficulty was resolved at a meeting, closed to the public, Tuesday afternoon, when both Trout and the Council were represented by attorneys. Town Attorney Fred Bower was present while Attorney W. Jerome Offutt represented Officer Trout. After several hours of discussion Trout offered his written resignation and the Council accepted it.

It has been learned unofficially that the Council has engaged the services of Francis Brewer, a local citizen, to replace Officer Trout, and that he will assume his duties just as soon as he can be uniformed.

The mayor also said that Tuesday's meeting was "amicable" and added: "I believe this now is settled and I am glad it is over. I hope that the citizens of the town will go along with the decision."

Commenting on the "demonstrations" held here over the weekend and Monday night in connection with the dispute, Mayor Seidel said "Voting citizens of Emmitsburg were in the minority. Most were curiosity seekers from other nearby towns who came to Emmitsburg to see what was happening."

The mayor commended the Maryland State Police for their assistance and said he had been assured of their cooperation until Emmitsburg can secure a new police officer.

In his resignation statement, Officer Trout said:

Dear Friends and Townspeople: At 12:00 midnight, Sept. 13, 1968, Officers James and Michael Trout were relieved of their duties as police officers of Emmitsburg.

The pessimist believes in luck; the optimist in fate. (Continued on Page 7)

Asian Institute Established At St. Joseph's

St. Joseph College has established an Institute on Southeast Asia, in cooperation with the School of International Service of the American University, Washington, D. C.

Dr. Kenneth Landon, Director of the Southeast Asian Center at American University, is serving as coordinating director for the Institute; and Thomas M. Leonard, chairman of St. Joseph's department of history and government, is acting as campus director. Made possible through grants by the Breezewood Foundation and other contributing agencies, the Institute sessions will be held on nine Saturdays during the year. Each of the meetings will be composed of two sessions: 9:30-11:30 a.m. and 1:30-3:30 p.m., except the November 23 meetings which will be held in the afternoon and evening. A $15 registration fee is the only charge for the Institute, which is open to students and interested adults. Forms are available from the campus director, Prof. Leonard.

The purpose of the Institute, as described by Mr. Leonard, is "to introduce students of St. Joseph College and neighboring institutions to one of the world's most important non-western cultures, to increase their awareness of its vital problems, and to encourage a continuing involvement in Southeast Asian affairs after the participants have graduated from College.

Aware of the need to introduce non-western studies into the curriculum of American education, Saint Joseph College has long encouraged and supported efforts in this direction. In 1959, the history department introduced a survey of Russian history and culture into the curriculum; in 1961, a survey of India, China, and Japan was added.

A Fine Arts Institute on Oriental Culture was offered in the academic year 1963-64; a survey of Latin America was introduced in 1964; and the College, last year, sponsored an Institute on Africa.

This year's Institute, available for two credits or audit, will bring thirteen experts on various aspects of Southeast Asia to the Emmitsburg campus, as well as an evening with the Indonesian Embassy theater group.

This year's Institute begins on Sept. 28 and continues through March 29, 1969.

Whiplash Injury: Brain Damage
BETHESDA, Md.—Whiplash injury—a common cause of severe pain in the neck—may cause even more serious trouble. Scientists at the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness warn that whiplash injury may sometimes cause brain concussion and bleeding.

Any accident that causes violent flinging of the head front to back, back to front, or to the side, may cause a whiplash injury. It is most commonly a result of a rear-end automobile collision. But it can also be caused by so minor an accident as a fall on outstretched hands which may create sufficient force to injure the neck. If the injury is relatively minor the ligaments supporting the neck may be overstretched. If it is severe discs between the neck vertebrae may be torn or ruptured. The muscles of the neck, the nerves, or the vertebral artery also may be injured.

Experiments on rhesus monkeys at the institute show that when they suffered a whiplash injury 19 out of 50 of them also sustained concussions. Fifteen of the 19 showed additional brain damage, bleeding and bruises.

In the past, the institute points out, patients may only have been treated for damage to the muscles and skeletal systems of the neck, while brain damage went unnoticed.

The investigators suggest that patients who suffer from disturbances of consciousness, amnesia, severe headache, or stiff neck, particularly if the symptoms persist for more than 24 hours, be treated for concussion. They also urge that "therapy for whiplash injuries should take into account brain as well as spinal damage."

Moms Not Obsolete—Daughters Seek Moms' Advice After Marriage

LONDON, Eng.—Be it ever so humble or ever so grand, mom's home continues to be her daughter's refuge even after marriage and motherhood. That's what a British survey found when they probed the role of dear old mother in the life of her daughter.

Six per cent of the married women in the sample lived with their parents, and one of every three of the remainder lived within walking distance. With another quarter living within half an hour's journey of their mothers' homes, between half and two thirds were within fairly easy reach of their parents.

More than half the married women saw their mothers once a week or more, and she was the female relative with whom they were in closest contact. Not surprisingly, the daughters sought out their mothers most frequently when they had children under a year. Mother was the most frequent adviser on bringing up the first baby. She was also the person who looked after the first child when the second was born. Mom was also, the survey found, the person most often consulted about child-care, cooking, and shopping.

Rx For Reducing Infant Deaths

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Asked how the U. S. could reduce its high infant mortality, here's what Dr. Oliver W. Hill, Jr., pediatrician here, told a medical journal:

"Improve the over-all nutrition and general health of all our people, especially those of the lower socioeconomic level . . .

"Intensify our research efforts," seeking vaccines for such diseases as German measles, and extending our understanding of the whole reproductive process;

"Make birth control advice and materials available through our public health departments;

"Improve nursing and medical care."

Mahoney Desires Public Debate

George P. Mahoney, Independent candidate for the U. S. Senate, sent the following telegram to the Republican and Democrat nominee for the office of U. S. Senator last Tuesday night proposing that the three candidates meet in public debate to discuss the issues:

"Congratulations on being the nominee of your party. "Now that the primary has narrowed the choice of candidates for United States Senator, I feel that the voter is entitled to hear each of our views on the issues in the remaining months of this campaign.

"For this reason I propose that the three candidates for the position of Senator from Maryland come together at a convenient time, place and date to meet in public debate to discuss the issues.

"In this important election year it is not enough that each candidate have his own private views on the issues . . . it is equally important that these views be expressed and shared with the public in a clear and concise fashion. What better way than a public debate?"

"As a suggested platform for debate I would propose the following important subjects be included in our discussion: Vietnam; The Mid-East; the 10 per cent sur-charge tax passed this year; credits to Communist governments; law and order, and the separate issue of crime in the streets; gun control; fiscal policy; the rising costs of living.

"I further propose that if the time is available that this debate take place on television. However, if this media cannot provide the time, I will, at my own expense, furnish a suitable auditorium, subject to your approval, large enough to accommodate all who wish to attend. I will further, at my own expense, advertise the time, place and date of the debate in all major media throughout the state.

"I hope that you will join me in this effort to inform the voters of the State of Maryland and I look forward to having your answer."

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Starting New Businesses
WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Sept. 19—Despite the fact that our free enterprise system is fettered by heavier taxes and more government regulations than ever before, interest in starting new businesses still runs high. Last year, new business incorporations in the United States totaled 206,000 plus. Add to these the number of unincorporated new businesses started and you reach a formidable figure.

Veterans Beware
Many returning servicemen are seriously exploring the possibilities of going into business for themselves. They seek advice from friends and relatives, from former teachers, and sometimes from businessmen in their home communities. Less frequently do they address their queries to those in the best position to counsel them: Bankers, chamber of commerce officials, and business analysts.

Opportunities still abound in the United States, but a good deal more than hard work is needed to take advantage of them. Veterans and others desiring to enter business as proprietors must be adequately financed, know well the field in which they plan to operate, and be prepared psychologically as well as financially to endure disappointments and setbacks (including bankruptcy). There is no easy road to success, and the business mortality rate is heavy.
Start-Up Costs
Most business counselors caution against returning veterans starting new businesses immediately, even in cases where they appear well financed and well acquainted with the field. One obvious reason is that most returning servicemen have been away from civilian pursuits for two, three, or more years and are out of touch with what is going on businesswise in the nation or even in their own communities. They need time to get their feet on the ground and to think their plans through. Also, many of them have had no prior business experience.

But perhaps the biggest stumbling block is the high start-up cost in most businesses. Even with all other signals "go", individuals starting businesses today soon discover how quickly these costs can eat up what seemed initially to be ample capital funds.
Buying Existing Businesses
Broadly speaking, even the well-heeled veteran who is apparently able to finance a new business venture without taking on an unrealistically heavy debt burden would do better to spend two years at a school of business administration or as an employee in his chosen line. And then he might be smarter to buy an existing business at a reasonable price than to start one from scratch.

Every year, successful though small family businesses are put up for sale because of the retirement or death of their owners. Often survivors need to get their money out fast to pay death taxes or satisfy other obligations. Hence bargains are by no means rare, though you must scout for them. As a rule of thumb, beware of paying as much as ten times the average annual net earnings after taxes for a going business. Aim to pay closer to five times annual net, and then only if you are satisfied as to location, competition, and the general character and condition of the business.

Locating Likely Businesses
Anyone seriously bent on buying an existing business should go about it systematically. First, read your own local newspapers thoroughly — news, editorials, and advertisements. Then learn about conditions and opportunities in other cities in which you might like to locate by studying their newspapers just as carefully.

Follow this up by personal contact with chambers of commerce, bankers, lawyers, and public officials of the community.
Other things being equal, it would probably be wiser to buy a good business in a small or medium-size community than in a large city. But don't be in too much of a hurry. Search patiently, and try to improve your cash position while waiting.

There are 93 two-way radio channels available to the trucking industry. The industry has 4,800 base stations and 65,000 mobile units, which provide instant communication between dispatchers & drivers.

The nation's trucking industry now buys more than a million and a half new trucks and trailers each year. Registrations of new units in 1966 totaled 1,610,450 trucks of all kinds and 131,895 trailers.

If you fish a salt-water bait lying on the bottom, it may be eaten by crabs or small fish. It's better to rig it just off the bottom, where only the more venturesome and larger specimens will find it. —Sports Afield.

D.M.V. REPORT

By D. Murray Franklin
Public Information Officer
Md. Dept. of Motor Vehicles

Alcohol & Highway Safety: DOT Reports To The Congress

A comprehensive study of the role of alcohol in highway safety problems was recently transmitted to Congress by Secretary of Transportation Alan S. Boyd.

The study, called for by Congress in the Highway Safety Act of 1966, finds that "the use of alcohol by drivers and pedestrians leads to some 25,000 deaths and a total of at least 800,000 crashes in the United States each year. Especially tragic is the fact that much loss in life, limb, and property damage involves completely innocent parties."

The study discusses in detail the results of scientific research into the dimensions of alcohol's role as a highway hazard factor.

"Research shows that more than half of adults use highways at least occasionally after drinking.
However, the scientific evidence is irrefutable that the problem is predominantly one of persons, predominantly men, who have been drinking very heavily, to an extent rare among drivers not involved in crashes. . . .

"Fatal and other crashes of teenagers and young adults also frequently involve hazardous amounts of alcohol. Adults who use alcohol immoderately, but not identified as problem drinkers by the research to date, are also frequently involved."

The need for broad programs of research and remedial work, in which alcoholism and medical specialists join with highway authorities to measure the problem in practical terms, is stressed. The report also emphasizes that much additional research is needed into such aspects of the problem as the role of light drinking in highway mishaps, the development of more effective countermeasures to the problem, and relationship between violence on the highway stemming from use of alcohol and other manifestations of violence in society.

Following a precise description of the drug alcohol and its effects on the human body, the report details the role of alcohol in highway crashes and violations.
Through research conducted over the past 35 years "alcohol has been found to be the largest single factor leading to fatal crashes. Drivers with very high concentrations of alcohol in their blood—"one to four per cent of drivers on the road"—are accounting for about 50-55 per cent of all single vehicle crashes in which drivers are fatally injured.

The report also discusses research which found an extraordinary large incidence of high blood alcohol concentrations in fatal multiple-vehicle crashes and crashes fatal to pedestrians.

Although crashes involving alcohol occur at all times of day, the report says, the overwhelming majority occur during the late afternoon, evening, and night hours. One research study discussed in the report found that the odds were more than eight to one that a driver fatally injured in a single-vehicle crash between 9 p.m. and midnight had been drinking heavily.

"Preventive and other police activities directed at this problem must be concentrated in the hours when it is most serious." The same applies to the staffing and state-of-readiness of hospital and related emergency services that treat the injured and dying. Many hospitals, police, and emergency services are least prepared for such activity at night and on weekends, the times of greatest need, according to the report.

Other issues and areas covered in the report include:

The results of experiments to determine the nature and degree of alcohol's adverse effects upon driver perception, comprehension, and performance. . . . Also . . .
grades individual driving performance in many ways, including deteriorations in judgment, ability to concentrate, comprehension, vision, and coordination."

Hearing Date Changed

With a bow to the squirrel hunters, the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission has changed the date of its formal public hearing on proposed game and fish regulations to Saturday, September 28. The meeting will be held in the Assembly Room of the State Office Building, Annapolis, at 10 a.m.

The hearing had been set for October 5, but since this date conflicted with the opening of Maryland's squirrel hunting season, the Commission decided to move the date ahead to allow the squirrel hunters to get in their licks on the proposed regulations.

The Commission makes decisions on various hunting and fishing seasons and regulations following the formal hearing held every fall.

Many changes are being considered by the Commission this year, but none is likely to cause more comment than the deer season, particularly that part of the regulations dealing with the antlerless season.

The regular firearms season for deer already has been set as November 30-December 7, inclusive, except Sunday.

This year the Commission will propose that there be no antlerless deer season in the counties of Allegany, Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Carroll. In four Eastern Shore Counties, Dorchester, Wicomico, Somerset and Worcester, the opening day of the regular firearms season, November 30, will be bucks only.

For the rest of the regular firearms season in these four Lower Shore counties, December 2-December 7, it will be hunter's choice.

For the rest of the State it is proposed that there be a one-day antlerless season and it will be held on Saturday, December 21. The regular firearms season in these counties will be confined to bucks only.

Bow and arrow hunters, of course, must follow the regulations in effect during all the special seasons. The regular deer seasons for the archers are September 16 through November 29, December 9 through December 20, and December 23 through January 4.

The Commission also is considering several changes in fishing regulations. One proposal is for a year-round trout season, eliminating the one month closed season that has been in effect for years. Another proposal is to eliminate the 7-inch size limit on trout.

A change in trout stream designations also is suggested. A petition to make Fifteen Mile Creek from the Pennsylvania Line to U. S. 40 a trout stream in Allegany County will be acted upon.

The Commission will review all requests to determine whether or not Mill Run in Allegany County will be deleted as a trout stream inasmuch as proposals pro and con have been received.

Another petition from Washington County requests the stocking of trout in Little Antietam Creek from Route 64 to Cheswille-Leitersburg Road, Maryland Route 62.

The Commission also proposes to eliminate the closed season on walleyes, putting another species on the year-round list.

A step to conform with Federal waterfowl laws will be taken in a new Regulation G-15. This says that every game bird, migratory game bird and animal wounded by hunting and reduced to possession by the hunter shall be immediately killed and become a part of the hunter's daily bag limit.

Commercial hunting guides would be licensed in another proposal to be considered at the hearing. An annual fee of $10 is suggested for this license.

Also under active consideration are proposals made at the Spring meeting for certain changes in the trapping regulations in Western Maryland.

Practical Nurses To Graduate

Ten practical nurse students will be awarded their diplomas at a public ceremony on Friday, September 27, at 8 p.m. at the North Frederick Elementary School auditorium.

Students to be graduated are: Miss Nancy Lee Brown; Miss Gloria Jane Bussard; Mrs. Opal I. Coyle; Miss Arienne L. Edwards; Miss Shirley A. Haynesworth; Mrs. Helen M. Jones; Mrs. Bernice M. Kunze; Mrs. Mary Ellen Norris; Mrs. Albertha J. Schouten and Mrs. Sharon L. Wachter.

These students constitute the second graduating class of the Frederick County School of Practical Nursing. The school is sponsored by the Frederick County Board of Education; the Maryland State Employment Service under the Manpower Development and Training Act, and is affiliated with the Frederick Memorial Hospital.

This is a full-time course of one year duration. Graduates may be licensed as practical nurses after passing the required state examinations.

and trampled on. That's what happened last October when the same mobs, led by the same Communists, marched on the Pentagon in Washington and then assaulted protective troops—and actually broke into the Pentagon!

Vital Facts Withheld

The Chicago mob actions were viewed by Mr. Ribicoff and other influential "Doves" as respectable, wholesome activities of innocent, unorganized, nice young people being brutally attacked (some TV reporters said, "without provocation") by a massive "gestapo" militia trampling on "freedom of dissent." I heard not a single commentator report that marchers were carrying Vietcong Battle Flags, were openly, brazenly breaking law, creating menacing situations, threatening and endangering life and property (as they had planned to do). Yet these facts were vital to a thorough understanding of the violence.

It is inexcusable that the Communist complexion of the offensive operations was not reported on TV along with the violence itself. It is inexcusable because the facts have been available in print for weeks and even months. Communist and Communist-front newspapers were full of the detailed planning. In this and next week's column, I shall quote from the Guardian, cited by Congress as a "virtual official propaganda arm of Soviet Russia." The Guardian served as a clearing house for information and instructions on the planned Chicago assault. Here are some facts from the August 24 issue: The Commie Plans

Headline, Page 2: "Chicago: Troops are Ready, So Is The Movement." (The "Movement" is the revolutionary mobilization to destroy America—GSB) "The Mobilization strategy in Chicago is twofold," reported the Guardian. "First, it is seeking to raise hte political, "Communist" content of the demonstrations by mounting a massive direct action program — 'a little Tet offensive' . . . This has the advantage of driving the cops batty—they have to guard everything. Second, it is seeking to organize a massive march on the Amphitheater on the evening of Humphrey's nomination 'to vomit on the politics of joy'."

The National Mobilization Committee, which, with the YIPPIES, planned, coordinated and directed the "little Tet offensive" against Chicago police, is headed by David Dellinger, self-identified Communist who led the Communist-organized bloody assault on the Pentagon last October under the fraudulent banner of "Peace". YIPPIES is headed by Jerry Rubin, co-director of the Pentagon assault, who describes YIPPIES objective. "The goal is a massive revolutionary youth movement which, working in parallel cooperation with rebellions in the Black communities will seriously disrupt this country. The United States will find itself faced with rebellions from 15 different directions."

"Red Doves" Assault Chicago

The head-knocking violence and riotous scenes created by the aggressive mobs of "Doves" in Chicago during the Democratic National Convention, and the nature of the TV coverage, carries almost as great an importance to the future security of our country as did the deliberation on nominees for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States. The TV coverage, whatever may have been the intentions of TV reporters towards objectivity, placed a sheltering blanket of innocence over the mobs and indicted the police, National Guard and U. S. troops for "brutality."

The truth is that the chaos and violence was planned. The strategy, organization and guidance of the "peace" forces was in the hands of skillful Communists serving the enemies of the United States as we shall show with documentation. News of the resultant mob actions, as reported on TV while I watched was biased, superficial, misleading; it endangers, in my opinion, the long-range security of the United States. Vital facts about the origin and true nature of the Chicago "Peace" demonstrations were not given. The operation thus became still another valuable propaganda achievement for World Communism.

Aiding The Enemy

Police efforts to cope with the skillfully planned Communist "Agit-Prop" offensive were labelled on TV as "inept", "pig-gish", and "brutal" by national political personalities respected by millions of Americans. Senator Abraham Ribicoff, speaking on the Convention Hall platform at the precise moment that Red "Agit-Prop" marshals were mobilizing thousands of mobsters (and perhaps a few hundred unwitting dupes) for a "march" on Convention Hall, cried out passionately against the "Gestapo" methods of Chicago Police and Troops. World Communism, seeking a victory through cessation of U. S. bombing and withdrawal of U. S. troops in Vietnam could hardly have wished for a more valuable assist to Communism's "Peace" offensive in the U. S.

The massive march on Convention Hall was sidetracked and finally halted by valiant efforts of law enforcement squadrons, else Mr. Ribicoff and all the other delegates might well have been overrun by the mobs

Taney Lions Hold Clergy Night

The annual Clergy Night meeting of the Taneytown Lions Club was held last Tuesday evening at the Taney Inn.

Lion Delmont Koons, program chairman, introduced M. Robert Mathias, the speaker for the evening.

Mr. Mathias spoke about the place of the clergy in the community, that they are translators—translating religion into life. The clergy understands both religion and life, they are experts in both. The problems in life need experts... experts have deep understanding, not superficial.

The clergy serves the community, they are involved, they participate and they are men of action.

The clergy provides the translation of religion to life—the greatest force in the world.

Committee reports on recent activities were heard expressing warm thanks to the community for their support in making them successful.

An executive board meeting was held following the meeting.

Thurmont Man Charged With Murder

A Thurmont man was arrested Monday afternoon and charged with murder in connection with the fatal beating of another man. Clifton W. Manahan, 32, of R2, Thurmont, was arrested at the Federal Stone Company of Thurmont, at 4:15 p.m. by Tfc. Carl Harbaugh.

Earl C. Eckenrode, 65, Thurmont, died Sunday at the Washington County Hospital from injuries suffered Saturday, Sept. 7. An autopsy showed the cause of death to be a fractured skull and brain damage, apparently caused by a blow to the head.

Manahan is being held in the Frederick County Jail without bond pending a preliminary hearing set Sept. 23 at 10 a.m. in Magistrate's Court.

Manahan, a laborer with the Federal Stone Co., is a lifelong resident of Thurmont, and the father of six children.

Police said that witnesses told them Eckenrode came home with the injuries at approximately 6 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 7. Police said Eckenrode apparently did not consult a doctor until Sept. 11, at which time he consulted Thurmont physician, Dr. James K. Gray, who sent him to Frederick Memorial Hospital where, a hospital spokesman said, he was admitted and later transferred to Washington County Hospital where he died.

Funeral services were held at the Creager Funeral Home in Thurmont on Wednesday at 2 p.m., with the Rev. Harry E. Krone officiating. Interment was in Blue Ridge Cemetery, Thurmont.

State Scholarship Exams Scheduled

The Maryland State Scholarship Board this week announced plans for conducting the state-wide competitive examination for the three State Scholarship Programs. The examination will be held on Saturday, November 23, 1968 in test centers throughout the State.

A student who takes this competitive examination may qualify himself as an eligible candidate for a General State Tuition, a Teacher Education, or a Senatorial scholarship. A student who has not previously attended a school of college rank may compete for any one or all three of these State scholarships. Students already attending college may compete only for a Teacher Education and/or a Senatorial scholarship.

Registration for the examination will take place now to October 11 at all public and nonpublic high schools in the State, and at all institutions eligible to participate in one of the scholarship programs.

Further information may be obtained from the counselor or principal in each high school. A pamphlet describing in detail the three State Scholarship Programs may be obtained from the State Scholarship Board, 2100 Guilford Ave., Baltimore, Maryland 21218.

Blue Cross Has Special Insurance For Students

A special Blue Cross and Blue Shield program for students attending school this fall will be offered through October 15, the Maryland Plans announced today.

To be eligible, students 19 to 24 years of age must be registered for at least 12 credit hours in an approved school. No medical examinations or health statements are necessary for membership.

The program, which offers protection on and off the campus, has been chosen by thousands of students in the five years it has been offered. It provides both Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection at a low cost.

Students attending schools in the State, or Maryland residents enrolled elsewhere may apply directly to any of the five Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield district offices. In Baltimore, they may contact the Subscriber Service Department at the Plans' Towson headquarters. The phone number is 828-4360.

St. Joseph College Holds Convocation

"Today, college students everywhere are eager to participate in college government and policy making, and I believe this ambition is to be commended," Sister

Margaret Dougherty told the student body of St. Joseph College last week at the first convocation of the academic year.

The new president, who was invested with the authority of her office just recently, continued: "For students to be able to participate effectively, I believe that some basic steps have to be taken. It seems to me that until the three groups on campus, administration, faculty and students, understand each one's unique role there can be no acceptance of each other as persons or as a group. How does one bring about this understanding? First, I believe that opportunities should be provided for informal exchange of ideas; second, more structured sessions should be had where representatives from the student body, faculty and administration can discuss a problem. From this more structured meeting each one can get an idea of the role he or she should play in a particular situation."

In addressing the students, Sister Margaret discussed the general tone of American society as "one of confusion, frustration and unrest."

"It seems to me," she explained, "that one reason for the confusion and chaos on the American scene is that we have lost sight of humanity. Things have taken precedence over persons and we have become so caught up in the progress of science and technology that we are carried along in a maelstrom of activity. This frenzied pace causes us to lose sight of the individual person, his dignity and his rights. We have become so enchanted with the American automated society that our objective has become to acquire what we want, when we want it, and by whatever means we can attain it."

She indicated that although there is continual concern about involvement, still "We have not solved the great problem of communication, and alas, feverish activity has supplanted or been a substitute for genuine relating."

Urging the students to develop a philosophy of life on an individual basis, Sister Margaret said: "Only when we have determined for ourselves the principles which will govern our attitudes and actions are we really equipped to communicate. However, we must never underestimate the length of time that might be needed to decide on values and to be sure of what we believe in. It is always possible, and indeed necessary, that we change some of our ideas or moderate other views. But it seems to me that we cannot understand others, their ideals and opinions, unless we first know ourselves well."

She urged the group: "In patience and in love let us strive together to become truly human and authentic members of our campus community."

The speech was taped in order to send it to a group of senior and junior nursing majors who are at Providence Hospital, Washington, D. C.

New Telephone Directories Due

The cover of the new Frederick County telephone directory will feature a color photograph of the spires of Frederick, announced Carl V. Weakley, C&P Telephone Company manager in Frederick.

The cover story notes that today's traveler approaching Frederick on Route 40 from the west, is sure to observe the many spires, which "remain an enduring monument to Maryland's rich and historic past."

The new directory, which will be delivered in the area between Sept. 19 and 25, will provide users with about 25,000 phone numbers as well as over 100 pages of listings in the Yellow Pages for local businesses and professional people.

The Call Guide in the front of the directory will also give callers a wealth of information, said Mr.

Weakley.

Included in the Call Guide, for example, are tips about handling anonymous calls. And there are lists of telephone area codes and postal zip codes.

For the first time the list of emergency numbers on the inside front cover of the directory includes a poison control number.

The Call Guide also lists telephone numbers for Directory Assistance. This service is available, said Weakley, for those who need to find out a new number or one that was changed since the directory was published.

Weakley pointed out that the term "Information" has been replaced by the phrase "Directory Assistance," which seems to more aptly describe the service provided. "Information" incorrectly suggested that operators could supply train schedules, baseball scores and other information not connected with telephone numbers.

Ultrasonic waterless washers for cleaning glassware and intricate instrument parts use intense high-frequency sound waves, generated by vibrating nickel or nickel alloy parts to replace the usual water agitator or pump.

Whenever teaching degenerates into a money-making profession, the cause of education will be lost.
