Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Once again this area will be the center of attraction for the next three weeks as thousands of motorists pass through town for a look at the mountain scenery. The recent frosts have brought out the autumnal beauty of the foliage and the mountains are picturesque, to say the least. Since our mountain here is the first to be encountered after traveling over 200 miles from the eastern shore of Maryland and the Atlantic Ocean, scenery seekers pass through here on the first leg of their journey which could take them as far as Pittsburgh, over a number of mountains. Weekend traffic will be heavy and continue for several weeks now as individuals take perhaps their last look at summer's fading beauty before the cold weather and unpleasant driving conditions come upon us.

Word has been received that the musical concert scheduled for this Saturday night at Thomas Johnson High School has been cancelled due to the strike by Baltimore musicians. Those who are holding tickets to the Frederick concert will be notified when it will be rescheduled and of any other variations in the season's schedule.

Emmitsburg's drive for funds for a recreation park and swimming pool has hit the three-quarter completion mark and those in charge report about $4000 collected. This phase of the drive, upon completion, could net just about $5,000. It must be remembered that this is a drive conducted for individuals only. The next phase will be to contact the business firms, industry, clubs, etc. There is no way to determine just how much money will come from these other sources until efforts have been tried, but if the first collections can be used as a barometric indicator, there is much more work and co-operation needed. . . . and much more giving. Sizeable donations must start coming in and soon, or dismal failure is lurking in the foreground. This, I hope, never happens. This community desperately needs recreational facilities and it would be tantamount to public disgrace should the project fail. It must be remembered that this is a community project, not just a Chamber of Commerce sponsored one. It is for use for the present generation and for those to come later. If you intend to help, now is the 11th hour and your assistance is needed. If we falter now the issue will be dead for at least another generation.

Sixes Bridge Importance Is Stressed

The 1965-1966 summer droughts turned the Monocacy River into a virtual sewer because of the effluents that were put into the stream by treatment plants serving municipalities.

According to a report recently released by the Department of Interior, "The Nation's River", the construction of the Sixes Bridge Dam would insure this did not happen again by storing water to be released in the river during its low flow periods.

The report strongly urges the creation of the Bloomington and Sixes Bridge reservoirs for this reason and for the creation of a safe and adequate water supply for both the Washington metropolitan area and the Frederick County area.

Citing Frederick City particularly, it says: "Frederick has begun to come under the changeful, expansive influence of Megalopolis . . . and has been brought abruptly face to face with a looming water shortage."

"Recent studies by the Maryland Department of Water Resources indicate that the dependable flow of the Monocacy will not serve the town for more than another seven or eight years even if the flow needed to maintain adequate water quality is left out of account, and the summers of 1965 and 1966 made even those figures seem highly optimistic."

"Both city and state have declared themselves in favor of an upstream major reservoir at Sixes Bridge."

Turning again to the Monocacy River pollution situation the report stated that the Monocacy furnishes the approximately 40,000 persons in the Frederick environs water and a conduit to carry away the effluent from the average-to-good secondary plant.

At times, during the 1966 drought, practically the entire flow of the river below Frederick consisted of effluent.

The report also listed Frederick as one of three critical areas in the upper basin region that are faced with large water shortages in the near or middle future and have streams that would greatly benefit from flow augmentation.

In looking at this problem the report states that a reservoir at Sixes Bridge on Monocacy can be adequately coordinated with the Bloomington project to provide roughly a 20 year margin of safety in water supply in the immediate neighborhoods.

In recommending an action plan for the creation of a water secure Potomac River Basin the report stated, "for maximum usefulness and safety, Bloomington should be completed on an expeditious basis and other reservoirs at appropriate intervals."

Specially Designed Poster For Fire Prevention Week

This specially designed sign was placed on the Fire Hall last week during observance of Fire Prevention Week. The sign was painted and designed by Sister Ann Marie and the Art Department of St. Joseph College.

Emmitsburg school children and their teachers "did very well" during a surprise Fire Prevention Week drill conducted last Thursday morning by the Vigilant Hose Company.

Chief Guy R. McGlaughlin, and nine other members of the company, took two fire trucks to the schools where, without prior notice to teachers, they sounded the school fire alarms.

The Emmitsburg Elementary and High School building was emptied of students in one minute and 45 seconds. St. Joseph's High School emptied in one minute and the Mother Seton elementary school emptied in "just about a minute."

On Thursday evening, as part of Fire Prevention Week activities, the fire men took approximately 250 children, under age 10, rides on the fire truck. Small fire helmets were presented to the youngsters also.

Bull Stud Farm Plans Open House Oct. 24

Frederick County dairymen and their families are invited to hear a noted scientist tell about "Capitalizing on Bull Power" at the October 24 Open House Program at the Maryland-West Virginia Bull Stud near Frederick.

Mr. John I. Troxell, the artificial insemination technician and Jesse Burall, representing the farmers of this area on the Co-operative's Board of Directors, will be among those attending.

Telling dairymen how they can get the most out of a breeding program will be Dr. J. E. Legates, head of the animal breeding section, Dept. of Animal Industry, North Carolina State College.

Many Maryland dairymen will remember Dr. Legates as one of two speakers at the state's first dairy cattle breeders' institute in 1961.

A native Delawarean, Dr. Legates made an outstanding record in that state's Future Farmer program while in high school. He was state champion FFA dairy judge and public speaker in addition to being class president for four years, class valedictorian and captain of the basketball team.

He continued his outstanding work at the University of Delaware where he was president of the Agricultural Club and played several varsity sports. After earning his B.S. degree in Animal and Poultry Industry, he was inducted into the U. S. Marine Corps.

Upon discharge from the Marines with the rank of captain, he enrolled at Iowa State University and earned the M.S. degree in Dairy Husbandry in 1947. Two years later he was awarded the Ph.D. degree in Animal Breeding, Dairy Husbandry and Veterinary psychology.

Dr. Legates is scheduled to begin speaking at 11 a. m. and plans to allow time for questions before the chicken barbecue dinner with all the trimmings.

The Open House program will begin at 10 a. m. with a business meeting of the artificial breeding cooperative and presentation of awards. After lunch, bull stud personnel will parade the bulls and describe each sire's outstanding characteristics so that dairymen can begin "Capitalizing on Bull Power."

Following the parade of bulls, there will be the "freeze branding" demonstration put on by Norman Hooven from Beltsville. "Freeze branding", at this point, seems to offer many of the answers to the problem of dairy cattle identification.

For further information, contact John Troxell, local technician.

Mr. J. Earl Elder, Pittsburgh, Pa., spent the weekend here visiting his mother, Mrs. Genevieve Elder, and brother, Arthur Elder. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Wachter are vacationing in Florida this week.

Pool Collection 75% Complete

G. Eugene Rosensteel, chairman of the Recreation Park Committee, gave a progress report at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Jane Bollinger, presiding.

Mr. Rosensteel reported that with approximately 75% of the public canvassed for funds for the park, a total of nearly $4,000 had been collected.

Guest speaker for the evening was Carl V. Weakley who spoke on the telephonic service provided for this district. Mr. Weakley forecast that by mid-1970 direct dialing service for this area would be available. Referring to an inquiry by the Chamber as to why Emmitsburg does not receive toll free calling to Frederick, the district manager referred to a survey conducted here in 1964 which showed that Emmitsburg, by a large majority, had opposed the service when it was learned it would cost about 75c additional on the monthly telephone bill. Following Mr. Weakley's talk, a question and answer period was held.

Parish Council Election Held

On Sunday, October 13, the parishioners of St. Joseph's Parish voted to elect five members to the newly-formed Parish Council.

A Ballot Box was placed at the entrance to the church, early Sunday morning, and was removed after the last Mass. Ballots were counted by the Pastor, Father King, and the Parish Corporators, Mr. Eugene Myers and Mr. George Eugene Rosensteel. The final tabulation of votes was completed late Sunday afternoon, with the following declared members of the Council: Mrs. Marie Rosensteel, Jacob Baker, Guy A. Baker, Sr., Michael Boyle, and Roger Zurgable. These elected members will join the ex officio members to compose the Council.

The ex officio members are: Mrs. Mary Topper, Miss Martha Byard, Guy Baker, Jr., and Clyde Eyer, all of who represent parish organizations. The new Council will have an organizational meeting on Sunday evening, October 20, at 7:30. The Board of Corporators and the Advisory Board are expected to attend this meeting, and an invitation is issued to the entire parish.

PTA To Hear Catocin Plans

The October meeting of the Emmitsburg High School PTA will be held Wednesday, October 23 at 8 p.m. The speaker will be Mr. Howard Goodrich, principal of Catocin High School. If there are questions which interested parents would like to bring up concerning the new consolidated school, this is the time, for Mr. Goodrich is the most informed and qualified person to answer them.

There will be a half hour for room visitation beginning at 7:30. Mrs. Herbert Gingell, chairman of the Village Fair, to be held November 16, has been at work with members of her committee. Solicitors will be out in the near future asking for your help and cooperation to make this day a success. This is the one yearly affair held by the public school to raise money, and all proceeds will be spent on a project chosen by the members of the PTA.

You are invited to attend the October 23rd meeting and join the PTA.

To Perform At Civic Center

The Cook family. From top to bottom: papa Cal, mother Dori, Kris and Kelly, the six-year-old twins and Kim, an eight-year-old skating sensation. They are all featured in the 1969 edition of Holiday on Ice coming to the Baltimore Civic Center from October 22 thru October 27.

Lions Club Plans Charter Night

Mrs. Sue Wilhelm, Frederick, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening at Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Milton A. Sewell, presiding. Also present was Col. Earl Turbyfill, from Kansas.

The speaker discussed Code Home Rule for Frederick County and following her talk a question and answer period followed. She represented the League of Women Voters. During the meeting "Happy Birthday" was sung to Francis S. K. Matthews and a small cake was presented to him. Lion Secretary Eugene Sappington announced that the Lions Club was again collecting old eyeglasses and asked the public to give any glasses they have to any member of the club. These frames are distributed to indigent people all over the world, free of charge. A $10 donation was authorized for the Emmitsburg Middle Soccer Team.

President Sewell announced the club would hold its annual Charter and Ladies' Night at Mt. Manor Restaurant on Monday evening, Oct. 28 starting at 6:15 p.m. The president appointed the following committee to handle arrangements for the affair: William H. Kelz, J. Norman Flax and Eugene Sappington.

Mount Homecoming This Weekend

Scores of "Mountaineers" — members of the National Alumni Association—will return to Mount Saint Mary's College for Homecoming Weekend on Friday, October 18.

A full schedule of social events, business sessions, and religious services has been planned. Special get-togethers will be held for those who graduated 25 years ago (class of 1943), 10 years ago (class of 1958), and 5 years ago (class of 1963).

Medals will be awarded to a distinguished community leader and an outstanding alumnus at the annual alumni banquet on Saturday night. Harold F. X. Schwartz, association president, will preside.

Following a practice started last year, priest alumni will gather in advance for a buffet dinner on Thursday evening and a special banquet at noon on Friday.

Benediction at the National Grotto of Lourdes, on the mountainside overlooking the college campus, will be held at 4:30 p.m., Friday to signal the beginning of Homecoming Weekend for both priests and laymen. At 6:30 p.m. in the student Union Building, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Hugh J. Phillips, college president, will hold a reception for the veterans of the Mount. A seafood smorgasbord dinner is to follow.

The annual alumni business meeting is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. on Saturday. A wife's reception, conducted by wives of the faculty, will be held at the same time. The annual banquet, at which awards will be presented, is set for 7 o'clock that evening.

Mass in the college chapel, followed by a noon brunch, will conclude the 3-day event on Sunday.

THEODORE T. EVERSOLE

Theodore T. Eversole, 49, husband of Freda (Wagerman) Eversole, died in his home, Fairfield R1, on Saturday evening at 7:54. He had been in ill health for some time and under a physician's care.

A life long resident of Adams County, he was a son of William Eversole, Fairfield R1, and the late Cora (Gantz) Eversole.

He had been a truck driver for a number of years. His last employment had been with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

In addition to his father and wife, he is survived by four children: Sgt. David T. Eversole, Vietnam; Mrs. Sharon Snoke, Blue Ridge Summit; Donald L. Eversole and Roy W. Eversole, both at home; one grandson, one brother and one sister: Richard W. Eversole, Sr., Waynesboro, and Mrs. Ralph Masser, Sr., Fairfield; two half brothers, John Hardman, Fairfield R.D., and George Hardman, Aspers.

He was a veteran of World War II, serving in the Army with grade of technician fourth class in Battery B, 62nd Armed F.A. battalion. He was inducted May 1, 1942, and discharged September 5, 1945, after serving in the Rhineland, Ardennes and central Europe.

He was a member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6658 of Emmitsburg and the Charles Gilliland Amvets Post of Fairfield.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. Claude Corl officiating. Interment was in the Mountview Cemetery, Emmitsburg. Military rites were conducted by the Francis X. Post 121, American Legion, of Emmitsburg.

Two Treated After Accident

Mrs. Cecilia Hutchinson, 63, of Elizabethtown, Pa., was treated at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, after she suffered a contusion of the scalp as passenger in her husband's car that was involved in a collision on the Route 15 bypass at the Welty Road intersection, two miles north of Emmitsburg at 12:35 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Her husband, John Hutchinson, along with the driver of the other vehicle, Norman Riley, Westminster, were removed to the hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance. They were examined and released.

Maryland State Police said the accident occurred when Riley traveling east on Rout 806 stopped for a stop sign and pulled out onto the bypass and was struck by the southbound Hutchinson vehicle.

Miss Margaret Rosensteel was a dinner guest recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Kreitz, Sr.

County Prepares To Vote On Home Rule

A vote Nov. 5 to give Frederick County Code Home Rule government would, as the name implies, return to the people of this county the privilege and power of deciding its own legislation; that is, legislation pertaining strictly to Frederick County.

Code Home Rule is seen by opponents as a contrivance to put more power into the hands of the County Commissioners. The truth is, Code Rule would arm the voters of this county with one of the fundamental tools of effective self-government, the right of petition. "But we have this now," one might argue. True, but for Frederick County it is Excaliber — a magic sword to do the job, but with no one to wield it.

In Code Home Rule, petition power becomes a useable political instrument, the common denominator between the governing body and the people, a trump card for the electorate.

For Frederick County now, without Code Home Rule, to petition a local bill to referendum in the legislature requires 33,000 signatures. Frederick County has less than 32,000 registered voters. This county would have to go afield in other counties to obtain the required number of signatures, to be sure. If obtained, the expense and trouble of a statewide referendum would be required to act on a local bill.

Under Code Home Rule, only 10 per cent or less than 3,200 signatures would be required to put the question to the people. And only 50 per cent of the 3,200 signatures would be needed within 40 days to gain for the petitioners an additional 40 days to obtain the other 1,600 signatures. The issue would then be voted on county-wide at the next Congressional Election.

Indeed, Code Home Rule would return the balance of power to the people.

Plan To Form DAR Chapter At Catocin

A special event is to take place on October 24 at Harriet Chapel, Catocin Furnace, at 1 p.m. where preparations will be made to organize a new Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, in the Thurmont and Emmitsburg area. The DAR offers every woman something of particular interest, providing her the means for active participation in the effort to preserve our American Heritage of personal, economic, political and religious freedom.

"Patriotism is not old fashion". Membership in the DAR gives each the opportunity to sharpen her vision, renew her patriotic courage and add new stimulus to their lives.

The objectives of the society are historic preservation, educational promotion and patriotic endeavor. This is done through 25 committees to activate membership at Chapter level. Since 1890 the society has been instrumental in acquiring historic spots, erecting monuments, preserving documents, records as well as encouraging historical research and the study of American History.

Any woman is eligible for membership in the National Society DAR who is not less than eighteen years of age, and is descended from a man or woman, who with loyalty to the cause of American Independence, served as a Sailor, Soldier or Civil Officer in one of the several colonies or states. Also they could have rendered material service or were recognized as a patriot. Proof of this is required.

Mrs. Bryan P. Warren, Maryland State Regent, will be the guest speaker. About one hundred are expected to be present from Thurmont and surrounding areas.

School "Super" Surprised At Statement

Dr. John L. Carnochan, superintendent of schools, issued a statement this week registering "surprise" at Charles E. Collins' call for an investigation of school fund expenditures and said "there is no $829,292 difference."

Dr. Carnochan said, "I was surprised to read in the local paper that Mr. Collins has called for an investigation of school construction."

"The Board of Education is a public agency and a report on its financial status is available to the public and to Mr. Collins at all times. I would, however, like to make five points clear."

"(1) All expenditures by the Board of Education including capital funds are audited by the county auditor. Last year the firm of Nelson R. Bohn was employed by the County Commissioners to perform the audit. The firm of Linton and Shaffer has been employed by the Commissioners this year and its report will be published shortly. These reports are made available to the public as soon as possible."

"(2) No bond money can be spent without the approval of the commissioners through an allocation of funds by project."

"(3) When funds are approved for a project such as the Frederick High renovation, the money is spent only on that school. At 'no' times is the money used elsewhere. Unexpended balances in any project revert to the capital expenditures fund for reallocations by the commissioners."

"(4) Mr. Collins, for more than a year, has been sitting with the Board of Education in its regular meetings, both open and executive. He has received written reports made to the Board as well as hearing all oral reports. Since all official action by the Board of Education must, by law, be transacted in open session, it is odd that Mr. Collins has not brought these matters up during these meetings."

"(5) The figures used by the newspapers and attributed to Mr. Newby were actual construction contract costs and were taken from a progress report given by Mr. Newby to the Board at its regular meeting on October 2. These figures did not include total allocations by projects; such things as architects fees, contingency money, equipment costs, and the cost of land were omitted."

"Mr. Collins knows that the process of financing school construction costs is quite complex and involves local, state, and federal funds. A simple treatment of the figures such as he uses can not reveal the true picture."

"For example, state aid for school construction is calculated by a complex formula and cannot be easily related to specific projects."

"In any case this money is received by the Board of Education and transferred as a lump sum to the County Commissioners for debt service. It cannot be used as an item to reduce the costs of individual projects, as done by Mr. Collins, because this is not the way the County Commissioners have chosen to budget the item in their accounts."

"As an example of the kind of concrete information on this subject readily available to the public, I can refer to the statement of Revenue and Expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1967 in the Audit Report of the Construction Fund of the Board of Education."

"This report was prepared by Nelson R. Bohn, a certified public accountant, employed by the County Commissioners to audit Board of Education accounts."

"The amount shown as revenue to the Board of Education is $1,538,445.87. The audit report for the county government for the same fiscal period in its statement of bond funds authenticates that a like amount, $1,538,445.87 was expended for school construction. Similar figures for 1968 also show no discrepancies."

"In conclusion, 'there is no $829,292 difference.'"

Bell Research Produces Scientific Modern Marvels

Did you know that a surprising number of today's living conveniences—and, yes, necessities—can be traced back to either inventions or significant developments by the Bell System?

It all started, obviously, with Alexander Graham Bell's "electric speaking telephone" in 1875. Bell's apparatus included important advancements in the speaker and microphone, which later became elements in the development of radio.

Radio, however, didn't get very far until Harold Arnold, a Western Electric scientist, got hold of Lee DeForest's crude audion tube in 1912 and developed the modern vacuum tube (now being rapidly replaced by the transistor, a Bell Laboratories' invention). The vacuum tube spawned modern electronics and may well have been the most important single development of the first quarter of this century.

And radio didn't mean much to the average homeowner until Western Electric set up the first experimental radio station in 1919 (known as 2XB) and started the ball rolling for commercial broadcasting.

Thomas Edison invented movies, but did you know that the Bell System developed the first commercially successful "talkie"? Henry C. Harrison, a Bell Labs engineer, designed the Vitaphone system of synchronizing phonograph records with the movie reel, used in the first sound motion pictures, "Don Juan" in 1926 and "The Jazz Singer" in 1927.

Edward C. Wenthe, another Bell Labs engineer, had already invented a method of imposing the sound track directly on the movie film. It soon replaced Vitaphone and has been used in 90 per cent of the motion pictures produced since then. Though the Bell System dropped out of the sound movie business long ago, you can still see a Western Electric sound credit in a vintage movie on the late show on television.

Wenthe, a productive inventor, had already perfected the condenser microphone in 1916. This led to the first electrically made phonograph recordings in 1924, another Bell System development of an Edison invention. Last year more than 200 million phonograph records were produced in the United States using this same basic method.

Stereophonic Music Isn't So Modern

Speaking of phonographs, a Bell Labs scientist, Alexander M. Nicholson, developed the crystal phonograph pickup in 1919—the same type of pickup still being used today in nearly every U. S. home. And modern stereophonic music isn't nearly as modern as you think. The idea was first demonstrated at Bell Labs in New York in 1933.

Liners Tounce Linganore

Emmitsburg High School rebounded from a loss to Middletown earlier in the week by blanking winless Linganore, 2-0, last Thursday night at Thomas Johnson High School.

Emmitsburg had little trouble in beating Linganore. Robert Flory scored the first goal with seven minutes gone in the game to give the Liners an early lead. Linganore outplayed Emmitsburg in the second quarter, but couldn't score.

Then with eight minutes gone in the third period Dave Wantz scored the final goal. Wantz kicked the ball towards the upper part of the net, but it didn't look high enough at first as the Lancer goalie reached up as if to catch the ball. Instead it touched his fingertips and bounded into the net.

The Lancers have never beaten Emmitsburg and has not scored on them in three years.

The Liners controlled the statistics with 18 shots to 14 for Linganore. The Linganore goalie had nine saves and his Liner counterpart four.

Television is nearly ancient history to the Bell System. Scientists at Bell Labs, now perfecting the video-telephone set, played a large part in making it practical to bring TV into more than 40 million U. S. homes.

Some of the more important events in TV, pioneered by the Bell System include:

—first cathode ray tube receiver developed in 1923.

—first public demonstration of TV transmission over telephone wires in 1927.

—first commercial TV transmission service established in 1937.

—first transmission of major sports telecast in 1946.

—first transcontinental TV transmission service established in 1951.

—first color TV transmission network established in 1954.

—first TV transmission via satellite accomplished in 1962.

Development of the solar cell by Bell Labs scientists in 1954 paved the way for TV transmission by satellite; invention of the transistor (1948) has revolutionized the communications industry making possible such conveniences as pocket-sized radios and thimble-sized hearing aids.

And along the way, Bell Labs made sure it didn't neglect its most important reason for being—the telephone.

The odd-looking device that Bell first used to converse with his assistant, Thomas Watson, has been followed by a steady flow of ever-more-modern versions right up to the "PICTUREPHONE" set, expected to be available to a limited number of customers in the early 1970's.

Senior Citizens Enjoy Bus Trip

Tuesday, October 15, 39 Senior Citizens of Emmitsburg boarded a bus at eight o'clock in the morning from the Center for their fall tour in the mountains. The first stop was at the new Potomac Edison plant outside of Hagerstown. The travelers were divided into groups of thirteen with a guide to show them through the building. After a very interesting and instructive hour, the whole group was escorted to the cafeteria where they were served coffee and rolls. Expressing cordial thanks for the many activities, the crowd left by bus for Fort Frederick, but found it had been closed for the winter. The next stop was the Antietam Battle Field, then lunch at Charlestown. The peak of the trip was the ride to and visit at Harper's Ferry. A tired Senior Citizens Club arrived in Emmitsburg at 6 p.m.

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens Club will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 22, at 7:30 at the Center. Note the change in date!

Work and interest continue in preparation for the annual Bazaar scheduled for November 9. It is hoped that every member will appoint himself a committee of one to aid, assist or help in every possible way to make this second bazaar as successful as the first one, if not better.

An Art Class has been organized for another season, with Mr. Francis Smith in charge. About six have shown interest in the course which will continue to meet every Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Senior Citizens Center. Anyone wishing to join the group will be welcome.

Benefit of Pills Outweighs risks CHICHESTER, Eng. — Noting that the benefits derived from taking oral contraceptives far outweigh their risks to a small number of women who take them, British physician D. Warren Browne, health chief of this city, wrote recently: "Nearly all doctors who work in family planning clinics, in general practice, and others involved in marital problems, agree that oral contraceptives have saved many marriages from permanent breakdown by removing the fear of an unwanted pregnancy and by allowing spontaneity in marital relations." He also noted that by preventing unwanted pregnancy the pill plays a role in reducing abortion, and eliminating the tragedy of the unwanted child.

Excising Adhesions Relieves Pain CHICAGO, Ill. — Inflammation, infection, or surgery sometimes cause adhesions to form in the abdomen or chest. These are bands of fibrous tissue, explains the American Medical Association's magazine Today's Health, which often extend from the body wall to some organ or between organs. When they tug on or constrict an organ they can be extremely painful or interfere with function or both. Removing adhesions surgically gives much relief and occasionally may be lifesaving, according to the magazine.

1968 PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF MARYLAND WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1967, the General Assembly enacted Chapters 245 and 474 proposing amendments to the State Constitution; and WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1968, the General Assembly enacted Chapter 617, proposing an amendment to the State Constitution; and WHEREAS, it is the duty of the Governor, under Section 1 of Article XIV of the Constitution, to order the publication of the bills proposing said amendments in advance of the General Election of November 5th, 1968; and WHEREAS, there will be presented on the ballot at said election the following proposed amendments to the Constitution for adoption or rejection by the voters: CHAPTER 245 AN ACT to propose an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, titled "Legislative Department," by adding new Section 40D thereto, to follow the existing Section 40C thereof, providing for an optional procedure for the acquisition of land and interest in land by the Board of County Commissioners for Prince George's County for the construction or extension of county roads and streets, providing for a contingency by which this amendment may be void and of no further effect and providing for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Maryland for their adoption or rejection. SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (Three-fifths of all the Members elected to each of the two Houses concurring), That the following new Section 40D be and it is hereby proposed as an amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Maryland, titled "Legislative Department," to follow immediately after Section 40C thereof, if adopted by the legal and qualified voters of the State as herein provided, to become a part of the Constitution of Maryland. 40D. The General Assembly shall enact no law authorizing private property to be taken for public use without just compensation, to be agreed upon between the parties or awarded by a jury, being first paid or tendered to the party entitled to such compensation, except that where such property, located in Prince George's County, is in the judgment of the Board of County Commissioners of Prince George's County needed for the construction or extension of county roads and streets. The General Assembly may provide that such property, except a building occupied as a dwelling, may be taken immediately upon payment therefor by the condemning authority to the owner or owners thereof or into the hands of the State, or to the person or persons entitled thereto, such amount as the condemning authority shall estimate to be the fair value of said property, provided such legislation requires that the condemning authority's estimate be not less than the appraised value of the property being taken as evaluated by at least one qualified appraiser, whose qualifications have been certified by a Court of Record of this State, and also requires the payment of any further sum that may subsequently be awarded by a jury. This section, if adopted by the voters in the year 1968, at the time it becomes effective, is void and of no further effect if the voters of the State prior thereto have adopted a revision of the Constitution of Maryland proposed by a Constitutional Convention. ### Fateful Weakness: Short Memory

Lenin, the Genghis Khan of 20th Century Communism, laid out a blueprint for rapine and conquest whose first targets were eastern Europe and the "masses of Asia." Without meaningful protest and with diplomacy which, indeed, aided the Kremlin masters, the U. S. watched at the end of World War II as the Soviet Bear stalked across eastern Europe, annexing the one-time independent nations. Then the surviving Red Aggressors who had been taught by Lenin, set their forces to entrap China's 600,000,000. They outmaneuvered China's great friend, the United States, and established Red dominance over Asia.

To accomplish this, they had to get America to forsake Chiang Kai-shek and incapacitate his armies. America's Ambassador to China, William C. Bullitt, subsequently wrote in a Life Magazine article: "In early summer of 1946, in order to force Chiang Kai-shek to take Communists into the Chinese Government, General Marshall had the Department of State refuse to give license for export of ammunition to China (for fighting Mao Tse Tung's Moscow-armed Communists) . . . Whatever share of the responsibility was Roosevelt's and whatever share Marshall's, the vital interest of the United States in the independent integrity of China was sacrificed, and the foundation was laid for the present tragic situation in the Far East" — a China ruled by Red despots, the massive genocide against Chinese, and the Communist plundering of neighboring Asian nations such as Tibet.

"Good Old Joe" President Truman was to be elected by the American people (after his first short term) in spite of the record of his and Roosevelt's in the fall of China — so complete had become the black-out in America's memory of the nature of World Communism and the failure of our leaders to cope with its expansionism and global plan for conquest. President Truman forgave and forgot the monstrous atrocities of the Kremlin and Mao Tse-tung's executioners in China; and he said, midway in his White House occupancy, that to him, Stalin was "Good Old Joe." Millions of wishful thinking Americans accepted this designation.

President Eisenhower came to office in 1953 and shortly a new face was affixed to the Russian Bear — Khrushchev's. Ike had warmed up to the top Red Army generals whom he met while fighting Hitler, but he was confronted with the heart-freezing coldness of Communism in the costly "truce" negotiations in North Korea, carried on for two years while thousands of American GIs were dying under continuing Communist attacks.

The Hungarian Tragedy Yet Eisenhower's policy of "containment" towards aggressive Communism frequently was relaxed (in Cuba, for instance) and in his first years as President he made friendly overtures toward Khrushchev. Then came another catastrophe to freedom that rocked the world—for a short time. The military might of the Soviet monster crushed the courageous but pitiful Hungarians rebelling for freedom. Because our Government and our people were to forgive and forget this monstrous deed so quickly, and since it nevertheless heralded the second slaying of Czechoslovakia in independence (1968), we should be reminded again of some of the horrible details.

Flare ups of freedom already had burst upon the Soviet masters, in East Berlin, in Poland and other eastern European satellites—and had been crushed under tanks and machine-gun fire, when, on October 24, 1956, the New York Times reported that "bloody anti-Russian riots" had broken out in Hungary. From Moscow came the blunt Khrushchev announcement: Soviet tanks and troops were going into Hungary in force to protect against "outside forces" and "internal uprisings."

But Khrushchev and the Soviet forces, committed to a "small engagement", underestimated the fervor of an enslaved people fighting for liberty. The Hungarian freedom fighters defeated the Communist forces and seized control of the nation. Then, six days later, they were crushed to death. The free world and the other miserable populations enslaved behind the Iron Curtain sent up prayers of thanksgiving and harbored bright hopes for the future. The New York Times said editorially: "Now the foundations of the Russian State rock even though there is no revolution in Moscow."

The United States and the West watched hopefully, but idly—hands unmoved against the smitten Red forces or for the Hungarians who in the next few days sought to set up a provisional non-Communist government. The New York Times had spoken too quickly and the West, in its agonizing inaction, had missed a fateful opportunity to shatter Communism's European fortress. Because Khrushchev, who had directed the Kremlin's first genocide (in the Ukraine) was believed when he announced in Moscow on October 30, that the Soviet Union was "willing to examine the whole matter of Soviet troops stationed in Satellite countries. The Times headline said: Cos-cow Admits Error in Harsh Attitude. The West (and hapless Hungary) had been caught again in a deadly Communist trap.

The Red Army—in great force —was moving toward Hungary.

Let's Go Fishing

BY BOB BREWSTER
Outdoor Editor,
Mercury Outboards

LETTING 'EM OFF EASY
It's difficult to condemn any man who deliberately releases some of his catch. But, too frequently, the end result is the same as if these particular fish had been kept for the skillet.

"Good intentions" in releasing fish are not enough, say the fishing authorities at Mercury outboards.

Knowing how and when are equally important.

Fish should never be freed after being deep- or foul-hooked in such a manner that serious wounds result. As a rule, the use of bait causes most incidents of deeply imbedded hooks that cannot be extracted without inflicting injuries to vital organs.

Even hooks that are down in the gullet can be removed without damage, provided the angler exercises care and uses a hook disgorger. A pair of long-nosed pliers, common in many tackle boxes, will usually do the trick. When such pliers are not carried, a disgorger is mandatory.

An efficient disgorger can be made from a strip of metal or plastic with a vee-shaped notch cut in the end. A hacksaw blade works well, and an old toothbrush handle is equally effective.

To use the disgorger, simply slip the notch into the bend of the hook, push down and back.

Opinion is divided over whether one's hands should be wet or dry when grasping fish. Regardless of the school of thought to which you subscribe, always handle the fish gently, being careful to avoid excessive squeezing or scraping.

Some species, note Mercury lads, are less susceptible to rough treatment than others. Trout are relatively tender; bass bruise less easily.

Regardless of the fish involved, if you intend to release him, make certain he has a good chance of recovering.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Traffic Jams In The Air WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., October 17—Traffic jams in the air could cost plane passengers as much as $300 million this year. So estimates the Air Transport Association, which is the voice of the nation's scheduled airlines. Hazardous Situation ATA's estimate of the loss to passengers may well prove conservative, and no one has come up with a dollar figure of how much the airlines themselves are losing because of logjams in the airways approaching the country's larger commercial airports. Cities like New York and Washington, already feeling the pinch of lack of sufficient fast, dependable rail service for passengers, are faced with dire economic consequences as air congestion mounts. In a sense, the situation is even worse in Los Angeles and Chicago. Recognizing the hazards and risks to life and limb involved, the air carriers themselves will follow through (though not happy) with the Federal Aviation Administration's proposal to assign a specified number of take-offs and landings under instrument flight rules at Kennedy, LaGuardia, and Newark Airports in the New York area, Washington National Airport, and O'Hare at Chicago. Only the patience and the skill of airline pilots and air-traffic controllers at these congested airports have averted disaster during heavy stacking periods. Airport Decentralization Of course, the airlines themselves have been responsible for some of the conditions that have caused planes to be stalled in the skies for many minutes at a time. Scheduled flights between the larger cities have been expanded considerably during the past couple of years. Also, crowding in the air has been intensified by the practice of some airlines to run second, third, and sometimes fourth sections of scheduled flights in what are popularly known as shuttle services. But government is also responsible. Federal officials have been slow to increase air-traffic control crews, while state and local governments just haven't kept up with the big boost in air passenger service. Expansion of existing airfield facilities and development of alternate fields so as to achieve a measure of airport decentralization are urgently needed. Air Priorities Curiously enough, the traveling public flying in today's commercial airliners discover that their craft with dozens of people aboard may often be stacked up over a busy airport for long periods because two or three, or even more, light situations create unnecessary hazards, as does also the operation of military aircraft from civilian airports. It would appear that the Civil Aeronautics Board, or some other federal agency, could take the lead in working out a logical, sensible system of priorities for aircraft at the more congested fields. Longer range, perhaps non-airline, private flights could be diverted to alternate terminals where they would not so greatly add to congestion and to risk. Who Will Pay? Short term and long term, air travel costs promise to point upward . . . sharply upward. Both government and business have been singularly slow to attack this problem forcefully. In the case of airport expansion, it has almost invariably been a case of "too little, too late." This has been especially true during the past three or four years as rail passenger service has been slashed. Now we are in urgent need of new safety and other equipment for airfields, more air-traffic controllers and other skilled help, and additional airports. Whether we live in or near the big cities or 'down on the farm', we can't afford to be isolated from rapid contact with the rest of the nation. As taxpayers and as passengers, then, we must be prepared to pay a good deal more for air transportation. After each performance the company will be available for a question and answer period. The musical BABU was presented at the Longacre Theatre on Broadway, last Christmas, in association with the Theatre Guild.

Students To See Musical Children's Theatre International, Inc., will perform on the Title III Cultural series, sponsored by the Board of Education of Frederick County, at the Governor Thomas Johnson High School Auditorium, Frederick, on October 23, 24 and 25 at 10 a.m. and again at 12:45 p.m. On the first day of the engagement Children's Theatre International will conduct a theatre-lecture demonstration for eighth and ninth grade students representing every school in Frederick County which will consist of the theatre producer, director, an actor, a dancer - choreographer, who will demonstrate on a program called "Creating and Producing Professional Theatre." Set designs, costume sketches, swatch boards, lights, scripts will be used in this demonstration. The performers will explain how he became an actor, his training, background and ambitions. On the second and third days the company will perform in the East Indian legend-musical BABU for fourth and fifth grade students.

LEGAL JULIA F. HAWKINS New Market, Maryland COMPLAINANT vs. CLAUDE T. HAWKINS c/o Dixie Hawkins Independence, Virginia DEFENDANT NO. 22,188 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND ORDER OF PUBLICATION The object of this proceeding is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Claude T. Hawkins, and for such other and further relief as the nature of the case may require. The Bill states in substance, that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, and has been so for more than one year last past; while the Defendant is believed to be a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and is believed to be living with his mother, Dixie Hawkins, in Independence, Virginia; that your Complainant was married to the Defendant at Independence, Virginia on October 20, 1945, by a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage one child was born; the Bill further alleges that ever since the said marriage the Complainant has always conducted herself as a kind, chaste, dutiful and affectionate wife towards the said Defendant; and that the Defendant, Claude T. Hawkins, between the time of the said marriage and the filing of this Bill of Complaint, without just cause or reason, abandoned and deserted the Complainant and that such abandonment and desertion has continued uninterruptedly for at least eighteen (18) months prior to the filing of the Bill of Complaint and is deliberate and final and the separation of the parties to this cause is beyond any reasonable expectation of reconciliation, to all of which the Affidavit is made. It is thereupon this 10th day of October, 1968, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant, by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four (4) successive weeks prior to the 16th day of November, 1968, in the "Emmitsburg Chronicle", Emmitsburg, Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the Defendant, Claude T. Hawkins, of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint and warning him to be and appear in this Court either in person or by Solicitor on or before the 17th day of December, 1968, to show cause, if any he has, why the relief sought should not be granted. Mount Court Squad Opens Season Dec. 4

Mount Saint Mary's College this week announced a 25-game basketball schedule for 1968-69. The Mountaineers of Jim Phelan open December 4 against Virginia Union at Memorial Gym.

Facing the Mounties are 13 Mason-Dixon conference tilts, two Christmas tournaments and several games against recognized powers from both College and University division.

M-D foes include Shepard, Baltimore U., Randolph-Macon, Washington College, Hampden-Sydney, Western Md., Roanoke, Old Dominion and Towson once each and traditional rivals Loyola and Catholic U. twice.

The Mountaineers face major opposition early when they travel to Long Island U. Dec. 13, to meet the powerful Blackbirds, a University division member. L.I.U. held the number one spot in the college division ratings a year ago and competed in the National Invitational Tournament.

The Phelanmen travel to Philadelphia, Feb. 1, to play major power St. Joseph's College in the Palestra.

The Mounts also tangle with small college powers Cheney State and Philadelphia Textile. Textile hosts the Mounts, Feb. 3, while Cheney travels to the Emmitsburg campus Feb. 24.

Prior to Christmas, the Blue and White return to Quantico, Va., to defend their 1967 Quantico title. The field includes Md. State, Cheney State, Luther Rice, New York Tech, West Liberty and R.P.I. in addition to the host Marines.

On Dec. 28, the Mount dribblers compete in the Gannon Invitational in Erie, Pa. Along with host Gannon, St. Francis (N.Y.) and Manhattan will compete.

CYO To Meet Tonight

Religious vocations will be the topic at the next meeting of the CYO to be held this evening (Friday). It has been arranged to have two guest speakers on this subject. The meeting will get under way at 8 o'clock. Anyone interested in the religious vocation is definitely urged to attend. And others are asked to come and hear what the speakers have to say.

It was also announced that record hop would be held in time for Halloween. All members are asked to keep up with all the activities that the organization holds.

College Students Observe "Ike's" Birthday

The words "Happy Birthday, Ike" rang through the dining hall at St. Joseph College Monday afternoon as students gathered to blow out the 78 candles on the huge two-tiered birthday cake and to sign a large greeting card to the former President of the United States.

The birthday greeting for the thirty-fourth President was outlined in pink icing on a white cake and repeated on the tablecloth, as planned by Mr. John McNavish, food service director. The greeting card, designed by Sister Anna Mae Schaben, assistant professor of art, carried the message: "Happy Birthday from Your Many Friends in the Valley." A watercolor of the accordion-shaped card depicted the mountains and evergreens so familiar to visitors to the campus. In one corner of the card appeared a small sketch of a section of the college seal.

Displayed in a prominent position near the cake was the self portrait of the former President, a gift to the college in 1965 from the Eisenhowers.

The affection held for the General and Mrs. Eisenhower by students, faculty, and members of the administrative staff of the Emmitsburg college is the result of many pleasant contacts over the years.

In 1959 the college conferred the degree of Doctor of Laws on Mrs. Eisenhower, then First Lady, making her an honorary alumna at the same time.

On occasion, the students wearing their academic robes, lined the Emmitsburg Pike to greet the then President and Mrs. Eisenhower on their trips from Washington to their farm in Gettysburg.

Unholy Deal Denounced

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

I was startled by Dr. McGucken's prediction last week, that Nixon—who so obviously made a deal with Strom Thurmond—might make a similar deal with George Wallace, for electoral support. Dr. McGucken proclaimed further that straight-shooting Hubert Humphrey surely would never make any such deal with Wallace.

Sure enough, on the radio tonight, Vice President Humphrey proclaimed publicly that he would never do business with George Corley. Also, he challenged Nixon to get out of the bushes—or from in under the covers—and make a similar disclaimer.

The next move is up to Richard Nixon.

NASA To Reveal New Tool In Research Management At Sea Conference

The 22nd annual conference of the Southeastern Association of Game and Fish Commissioners will bring several hundred experts in all fields of conservation to Baltimore, October 20-23.

The Maryland Commission of Game and Inland Fish will be host to representatives of its sister commissions from 16 states. Registration will begin at the convention's headquarters in the Emerson Hotel at 9 a.m. Sunday, October 20 and from that point on the schedule will be crowded with activities ranging from a fish fry to an address on earth satellites as a new management tool until the formal sessions adjourn Wednesday noon.

The fish fry will be part of an entertainment program arranged for its guests by the Maryland Commission. The visiting conservationists will be taken on a Chesapeake Bay cruise beginning at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, October 20. The party will go to the famed Remington Farms near Chestertown on Maryland's Eastern Shore where a field trip will be held followed by an al fresco meal at the farm featuring Chesapeake Bay seafood.

The work of the convention will get under way in earnest at 9 a.m., Monday, October 21, when it is called to order by its President, Dr. O. E. Frye, Jr., of Florida. The visitors will be welcomed by George B. Shields, Director of Maryland's Department of Game and Inland Fish.

The opening session will be marked by the presentation of what should be one of the most thought provoking papers among dozens of outstanding treatises.

It is a paper of the space age entitled: "Earth, Satellite, a New Management Tool," and it will be presented by J. Robert Porter, Chief of the Earth Resources Survey Disciplines of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Porter believes that manpower probably is our greatest resource; how to allocate it is our greatest problem, and our work in space has brought us to the verge of an extraordinary extension of man's perception.

"We believe that remote sensors from space are on the leading edge of a revolution which is going to be as important from a management standpoint as the industrial revolution was from a mechanical standpoint," he says.

"The industrial revolution allowed man to do work that he inherently was not capable of doing; now we may allow man to extend his perception in such a way as to compensate for his confinement in space and time," Porter concludes.

Space sensors will allow the study of systems in magnitude that we've never done before and Porter points out that Gemini photography has allowed a much more detailed study of the Continental Shelf than ever before because the angle of view, unhampered by reflection, permits a much deeper look into the water.

Other speakers at this opening session will be former Governor Millard Tawes, Chairman of Maryland's Board of Natural Resources, and Representative Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland.

Throughout the convention there will be dozens of papers presented in the various sections that cover such diverse topics as public information and education and law enforcement to problems of wildlife and fisheries management. A reception and presentation of motion pictures will be held in the hotel's Grand Ballroom at 7 p.m., October 21 and the annual banquet will be held in the same hour, October 22. C. Stanley Blair, Maryland Secretary of State, will be master of ceremonies.

Field trips will be held on October 23, including visits to the White Ballistic Laboratory and the Susquehanna Flats.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Keitz, Sr., entertained their family last Sunday at a family dinner. The occasion was the return of their son, Michael, from his tour of duty with the Army.

Library Acquires New Books

So much is being written today about Psychic People and their strange experiences it might be well to mention a few books in the collection of the Emmitsburg Library.

"Vision of the Past," by Pierre Teilhard de Chardin. In the direction of the very small and the very great, modern science is trying to develop a power of vision into space, on which scientifically everything else depends.

"Edgar Cayce on Atlantis," by Edgar E. Cayce under the editorship of Hugh Lynn Cayce. America's most amazing prophet reveals the mysteries of the strange lost continent—and predicts where and when it will rise again.

"New World of the Mind," by J. B. Phine. Discusses clairvoyance, telepathy, precognition, and the influence of mind over matter.

"The Unexplained," by Allen Spraggett. The startling discoveries of an expert in extrasensory perception and the occult.

"Predictions Fact or Fallacy?," by Hans Holzer. The startling truth about the ability to see into the future.

"Psychic People," by Eleanor Toughy Smith. An extraordinary human document of psychic experience. Everyone seems to have an alive interest in the kinds of people who have had extrasensory experience, and this book will serve as an introduction to some of the most interesting.

An exciting story hour is planned for this Saturday morning. Mrs. Joyce Bruchey is in charge this week. Plan to have your children attend. This feature of the library is free and children of all ages are welcome.

The new commemorative edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica has been placed on the reference shelves of the Emmitsburg Public Library. The 1968 edition commemorates 200 years of publication of the Britannica. It is a monumental work containing information on virtually every subject. Over 10,000 authorities from all over the world contributed to this edition, 41 of whom are Nobel Prizes winners.

Other recent acquisitions include the 8 volume set of Encyclopedia of Philosophy, and the 1968 edition, 8 volume set of Magill's Masterplate.

Special Deal Abhorred By Citizen

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: I agree with Doctor McGucken that there is a great danger that one of the principal candidates may make an unholy deal that amounts to purchasing electoral votes from George Wallace.

But I do not believe that it is enough for either candidate to simply say—as Humphrey has said—that he will not enter into any deal to obtain electoral support from Wallace.

Senator Brewster Hits Campaign Trail

U. S. Senator Daniel Brewster is shown campaigning in Frederick County on a recent visit to Frederick, and the Fair. He was met by members of the State Central Committee (Democratic) and other officials. Shown with the Senator is Thomas M. Eichelberger, Register of Wills, wearing sunglasses.

It could be, that Wallace electors—before the election—might make known an intention to vote for Nixon, if Wallace fails to obtain a majority. This has been done before.

What is needed—to ease our minds—is an absolute disclaimer from Nixon and from Humphrey, that they will not accept votes from any electors except those who may be pledged to them in the impending election.

In this manner, both principal candidates can ease the minds of the people and offering to us that if they, on their own, do not receive a majority of the electoral votes, the election will go into the House of Representatives, as contemplated by the Constitution.
