Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

From all indications we could have an apathetic Town Election on our hands this year. Today is the deadline for filing for office and as of this writing we have only one candidate for the lone office to be filled. In a way this sort of thing can be easily understood when there is only one office to be filled and to top it off the only incumbent for that office is the incumbent. The situation is understood but we like to see opposition in a local election. We have absolutely nothing against Mr. Wachter, the only candidate to date, but we don't like to see these offices go uncontested. We'd like to see more local interests in Town affair generated. Anyway if any of you are interested in filing, the deadline is eight o'clock tonight!

Quite a few citizens are concerned over the lack of the State Roads Commission to keep the roadsides clean, especially in this area. All four main approaches to Emmitsburg display a filthy mess of litter, mostly beer cans. We get little else from the Commission in this northern part of the County, so we feel completely justified in asking and demanding that they keep the area clean, if nothing else.

The unrest and turmoil that prevailed on the Mount campus this week was not entirely unexpected. It more or less is a portion of the wave of dissension among college students that has been sweeping the Nation for the past several years. Haste and impatience seems to prevail over better judgment with a great number of the students. They want lightning-like gains in academic liberty and social conditions. It cannot be done in this fashion. These colleges and universities weren't built overnight and cannot be changed so swiftly. We hope that the differences of opinions between the college and its students can be solved in an amicable and satisfactory manner to both parties. We have watched this tide of dissent sweep across the country and somehow had hoped that it would miss dear old Emmitsburg, but it's here now and the confrontation is taking place. Let's hope and pray that the solution is a peaceful and non-violent one.

Baltimore City and County is facing a tax rate of $5 per $100 of assessed value. We are more fortunate in this County, but the way County Departments and Boards are asking for increased budgets would push our rate near the $3 rate if the County Commissioners granted all that is asked for. Everyone knows budget requests are padded and it's up to the Commissioners to figure which ones are bona fide requests. A petition to keep the tax rate in line has been presented the Commissioners and the time has come for them to take a realistic look at the picture. The taxpayers are busted, disgusted and thoroughly bored with the inflationary trend and feel the time has come to trim the fat off every single departmental request.

CYO Rehearses For Comedy Play

The CYO has prepared a one act farce entitled, "Egad, What a Cad," to be presented at Mother Seton School, Sunday, May 3, at 8 p.m. Tickets may be purchased in advance on Sunday, April 27 after the Masses at St. Joseph's Church or at the door opening night. This gathering will consist of campaign speeches and electioneering, and will be held at St. Euphemia's Hall beginning at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend and express their support for the candidates of their choice. Further details concerning the elections and the forthcoming CYO dance are to be announced tonight.

SRC Denies Traffic Light At Intersection

An information booth will be set up by the Chamber of Commerce at the annual carnival of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club in June, it was decided at the regular meeting of the Chamber held Tuesday evening at Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Jane Bollinger presiding. The treasurer's and secretary's reports were given by Ralph D. Lindsey and Sister Margaret Hickey, respectively. The booth at the carnival will be used to raise revenue for the Recreation Fund as well as giving the public information concerning future plans of the Recreational Committee.

G. Eugene Rosensteel reported he had received a letter from Cong. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., stating that he had contacted the State Roads Commission concerning establishment of a roadside picnic area near Emmitsburg. The president reported having been in contact with State Senator Charles Smelser and the Public Service Commission pertinent to phone costs and service for this area. The report was optimistic and in the near future it is hoped that Emmitsburg customers will be able to call Frederick and perhaps Taneytown, toll free.

A meeting of the Executive Board and Recreation Committee was held at St. Joseph's Provincial House on April 10 to discuss with Mr. Hill and Mr. Moreland a project for the Catoctin Job Corps. This project involves renovating the proposed Recreational Area on Community Field. If it materializes, picnic tables and fireplaces will be erected there. The Town has empowered the Chamber to engage the Job Corps to do this work, hopefully before the Job Corps is closed down by Presidential order.

The group went on record as favoring the retention of the Catoctin Job Corps and ordered letters sent to Senator Joseph D. Tydings and Governor Marvin Mandel, asking their support of the request.

A letter from Mayor Robert A. Seidel was read. The letter referred to the recent request by the Chamber to have a traffic control system placed at the intersection of East Main St. and Federal Ave. where several hundred school children must cross daily. Mayor Seidel stated that the State Roads Commission had studied the problem there and had denied the Town permission to erect such a control device, but recommended a revision of parking conditions at that site. The Chamber agreed to enter a float in the annual Sportsmen's Parade here in June. A $10 donation to the Little League was approved. Mrs. Frances Rosensteel, chairman of the beautification committee was authorized to purchase another evergreen tree for the Square, replacing one which has died.

President Bollinger named the following nominating committee: Rev. John King, Mrs. John Chatlos and J. Norman Flax. It was voted to retain the $10 fee for annual dues of the organization.

VFW Elects Thomas F. Saylor

The Emmitsburg Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, re-elected Thomas F. Saylor as its commander for another year at the annual election of officers of the Post held Wednesday evening. Stull, Jr.; surgeon, William Kennedy; trustee, Roger Zurgable; directors, William E. Sanders, Pat Buch, Frank Ohler, Raymond M. Baker, Donald F. Topper, Clarence Orndorff and William L. Topper.

During the meeting a $1,000 pledge was made to the Catoctin High School Booster Fund which plans to initiate football at the school in the near future.

Mount Nine Wins Two

Mt. St. Mary's pounded out a total of 21 hits, including five extra base knocks, as it defeated American University twice, 7-4 and 12-8, in a Mason-Dixon double-header here Friday afternoon.

The Mount exploded for five runs in the last two frames of the first game to pull that contest out of the fire. They then scored heavily in the middle innings to stay ahead of the Eagles throughout the second game.

Past Grand Knights of Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, are shown after receiving special recognition service plaques at the Council's first annual banquet Saturday evening at the VFW. Shown seated, left to right: Jacob E. Baker, Charles F. Troxell, Guy A. Baker, Sr., and J. Everett Chrismer. Standing are Curtis D. Topper, Carl A. Wetzel, William E. Sanders, Raymond R. ## Milton A. Sewell Elected President Of Lions Club

Nominations for elective offices of the Emmitsburg Lions Club were made at the regular meeting of the group held Monday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Milton A. Sewell, presiding. The nominating committee was composed of William H. Kelz, chairman, F. S. K. Matthews and C. A. Elder.

Present at the meeting were three Lions from the Middletown Club. Following the nominating committee's report, the annual election was held with the following being elected: President, Milton A. Sewell; first vice president, Charles F. Troxell; second vice president, J. Ralph McDonnell; third vice president, J. Norman Flax; secretary, Eugene Sappington; treasurer, Floyd L. Lewis; taitwister, Francis S. K. Matthews; Liontamer, Clarence G. Frailey; directors, William Kelz, Charles Stouter and Arthur Elder.

The annual public auction was discussed and it was decided to hold such an event either in late May or early June. Individuals having items to offer the club for the sale are asked to contact either Milton A. Sewell or Ralph McDonnell. A $10 donation was authorized for the Little League.

The group unanimously endorsed a motion to go on record as favoring keeping the Catoctin Job Corps in operation near Thurmond. Letters to the proper authorities will be sent out asking that the Job Corps be preserved. One pair of eyeglasses for a local indigent woman was authorized.

Girl's Death Called Homicide

The State Medical Examiner's Office in Baltimore has ruled the death of a 14-year-old Emmitsburg girl Wednesday night, April 9, "homicide."

Dr. Ronald Kornblum, who performed the autopsy, said "there were two bullet wounds right through the heart and we have listed it as a homicide."

Dr. Kornblum said the homicide ruling was the opinion stated in his report. He said the two bullets appeared similar but still had to be examined by ballistic experts.

The body of Linda Gail Muma, was found by State Police lying on a bed in the residence of Paul Glass on Keysville Road near Emmitsburg dead of gunshot wounds. A .32 caliber pistol was found nearby.

The police had gone to the residence after Glass called them about 10 a.m. that evening stating "there has been a shooting." Linda was reported to have been dating the grandson of Glass for several weeks prior to her death.

She was a freshman at Catoctin High School and the daughter of Dr. Robert W. and Catherine Ward Muma of Bollinger School Road. The Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, handled the private burial services Saturday.

The State Police said that investigation of her death is continuing because of serious mysterious circumstances that surround it. Tpr. Carl Harbaugh is the investigating officer.

Students Boycotting Classes At Mount

After several days of unrest on the Mt. St. Mary's College campus this week, caused by student demands, the situation eased somewhat when the president of the college, Msgr. Hugh J. Phillips, issued a statement to students stating a boycott of classes. Minor demonstrations were non-violent in nature and only about 20% of the student body participated.

The boycott was called by John G. Whelley, newly elected president of the Mount's student government, after a requested meeting at the Review Board to act on the demands by 10 p.m. Tuesday did not materialize.

The Review Board is an advisory body to the Board of Trustees and is made up of the president of the college, faculty members, officials of the college and the student government president.

Whelley said, "over 600 students met with me Tuesday night and voted unanimously to boycott." There are 900 students at the school.

The boycott comes as a result of five demands the students made Tuesday seeking more personal freedom.

A peaceful demonstration was staged by students Tuesday in front of the administration building. A torch light parade was held Tuesday night after the Review Board failed to hold a meeting before the 10 p.m. deadline. Whelley had set for them to act on the students demands.

In addition to the immediate demands, the students also are seeking a host of suggested proposals for the college administration to consider for improving the academic, cultural and social structure of student life.

The immediate demands sought by the students are: immediate revision of the dress code, permission for students to live off campus, on campus drinking privileges for students of legal age, visiting hours for women in the dormitories and elimination of check-curfew-for the students.

Whelley said "the boycott will be orderly and not disruptive." In his list of proposals for bettering the academic, social and cultural facilities at the college, Whelley suggested that revisions of the offices of dean of students, dean of student affairs, and dean of academic affairs be made.

"One thing we are pressing for is that these offices be the only position the person filling them holds. They are time consuming enough without another job interfering with the execution of the duties," Whelley said.

We are also pressing for more student representation on committees such as a student-faculty affairs committee, admissions committee and the academic council.

One of the points stressed by the proposals is that more consideration be given to admitting qualified non-whites. There are only four non-white students in the 900 member student body at Mount Saint Mary's.

Shoring up this view is a proposal that more academic scholarships covering tuition, room and board be given yearly by the college to gifted students.

They also suggested that Bradley Hall be turned into faculty offices and student government service areas. Bradley Hall is the third floor of the present administration building.

Rt. Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, president of the college, issued this statement on Wednesday, April 16:

"Student Government demands for additional so-called student rights come at a time when students enjoy unprecedented freedoms and responsibilities on this campus.

"Since September, the president of the Student Government has held a voting position on the President's administrative staff, attending and participating in all meetings. The student president thus has had frequent and regular opportunities for orderly presentation of proposals for additional change, without resorting to a 24-hour ultimatum to the College administration for action on proposals of great impact, many of which require a vote by the Board of Trustees.

"In addition, students have a direct channel of communication to the governing body of the College through a Faculty-Student-Alumni-Board of Trustees Committee which I appointed.

"For more than a year, students have exercised increased self-discipline through membership on a Student Court and a Board of Review. And, through new committees provided in the first Faculty Handbook for Mount Saint Mary's recently approved by the Board of Trustees, students will be serving on key organizations having to do with academic, religious and athletic planning and activities."

High School Play Thursday

You needn't live in New York or Paris to see a fine theatrical performance. The Drama Club of St. Joseph's High School is presenting a French comedy on Thursday evening, April 24, at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Moliere's "The Would Be Gentleman," is a delightful comedy in 17th century France. The script shows Monsieur Jourdain, played by Monte Ray, as a moron who has recently acquired a large amount of money. He has hired music, fencing, and philosophy teachers, and has taken up the friendship of the nobility. His wife, portrayed by Sally Marshall, is appalled that her husband has fallen in love with a marquise—Dorimene, played by Dorothy Marshall.

Other members of the cast include: Joan Hatter as Lucille Jourdain; Tom Eckenrode, her fiancé; Karen Warthen, the maid; John Hollinger, a Turk; Bill Muir as Dorimene's true lover. Masters, servants, and tailors are: Genie Ryan, Barbara Seidel, Mary Ann Orsz, Cindy Welty, Janice Neighbours, Steve Hobbs, Kathy Stoner, Winnie O'Brien, and Nancy O'Brien.

This play is under the talented direction of Mr. Gary Vena. The production provides light humor along with the culture, so plan to spend an entertaining evening.

Firemen Ready For Fund Drive

The regular monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Company was held recently in the Fire Hall with President James Fitzgerald presiding. Chief Guy R. McLaughlin reported that eleven alarms had been answered and one service call made since the last meeting. Trooper Gary Lindner of the Maryland State Police was present at the meeting and gave an instructive talk on the rights and responsibilities of emergency vehicles when answering an alarm. He stressed the use of common sense as the basic rule. Insurance agent John "Bill" Strickhouser was present at the meeting and explained to the firemen the extent of the coverage which is provided by the insurance which the Fire Company carries with his company. Dr. George Green, Eugene E. Myers and Larry Little volunteered to take care of the arrangements for providing the refreshment table at the sale of the Estate of Dr. Houser, which will be held at the Fire Hall on April 26. Several practice sessions are scheduled for the next few weeks. All members are urged to check the board in the Hall for the time of each. The Fund Drive Committee announced that plans were being made to mail letters to all residents in the Emmitsburg area within a month. This will mark the start of the 1969 Fund Drive. The public's support of the Fire Company will be appreciated.

Bell & History Days Planned

Bell and History Days will be celebrated in Frederick on April 26 and 27, in an effort to acquaint Frederick residents and interested persons from surrounding areas of the importance and charm of Frederick's past. Several spots not normally open for visitors will be open, and those usually requiring separate admissions fees will be included in the general admission ticket. In addition, bus transportation will be available, providing for a unique opportunity to review Frederick's place in our country's history. Tour headquarters will be established at the Francis Scott Key Hotel, where out of town visitors may obtain tickets at $1.00 per person. Tours will depart from there at 15 minute intervals, and those waiting will be able to view slides of surrounding areas. Included on the tour will be the Barbara Fritchie Home, which was renovated last year; the Roger Brooke Taney Home and Museum, which has undergone extensive repairs and redecoration during the past winter and which will be open to the public for the first time during these two days; the grave of Francis Scott Key in Mt. Olivet cemetery; the Hessian Barracks and Museum, Steiner House; Rose Hill Manor, recently purchased by the county and slated for future development; the Frederick County Historical Society Home, where special children's lectures will be held during the afternoons; the Visitation Academy Convent Gardens; Court Square and the Court House; and the Independent Hose Co. hall and museum where will be displayed relics of former fire fighting days. In addition, churches in the downtown area will be open for those interested in church history and architecture.

Each afternoon's events will begin with the ringing of the bells in the "clustered spires". In addition, there will be a concert by Mr. H. David Hagan, local musician, on the Baker Park Memorial Carillon. Costumed residents will act as hosts and hostesses at most of the points on the tour. On Saturday, April 26, there will be an "Art in the Park" how featuring local artists and their work. Local citizens interested in promoting Frederick's wealth of history are acting as a Steering Committee for this event. General chairman is Mrs. Charles S. V. Sanner, and co-chairman is Mr. Richard R. Kline.

AN OPINION

By W. Terry Smith It is with profound pleasure, I must confess, that I view the inevitable demise of the Smothers Brother's Comedy (sic) Hour. Inevitable in the sense that the economic and social tenets of the free enterprise system are happily inevitable. If the product (the brothers) begins losing its appeal (decline in the ratings) then the corporation (CBS) out of economic necessity (commitments to those people, the stockholders, who are betting their savings on a profit) either alters or cancels the commodity. Curiously enough in this instance, the product itself sought the alteration, but in quite the opposite direction intended, making it even more unpalatable to the consumer. My pleasure though, honestly, is more of a gut nature than the above rationale would indicate. To watch week after week while with self satisfied smugness the divisive due paraded the likes of Joan Baez, Pete Seeger, Harry Belafonte, and the cost of Hair, ad nauseam before the audience, who with patriotism burning in their hearts flailed themselves for the decadent racist, past and present, was something akin to being beaten with a truncheon and gazing lovingly at my tormentor for the purgative I so richly deserved. But a nice little lesson has been learned. Once again the public, inundated as it is with the liberal's propagandizing his innate bestiality, crudeness, anti-social behavior, and lack of concern for his fellow humans, has said huh uh it just ain't so. So as the sun sinks slowly in the west we bid fond farewell to Tommy and Dicky, who happily join the ranks of those who be-lately have learned that the people's retaliatory reflexes rise in direct proportion to their indignation.

State Police Seek More Applicants

Colonel Robert Lally, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, announced that applications for appointment as Trooper are still being accepted.

He stated the next recruit class will begin on July 7, 1969, at the Police Academy in Pikesville. Qualified applicants will undergo twenty-four weeks of intensive basic training in all phases of law enforcement, before being permanently assigned to field duty. Starting salary for the position is $6700 with automatic increases over a period of six years to $8710.

In order to qualify, applicants must be citizens of the United States, residents of Maryland on the date of appointment; between the ages of 21 and 31; 5 ft. 10 inches tall; approximately 160 pounds; possess a high school diploma or equivalency certificate; and be in excellent physical condition with good moral background. Applicants passing the written and physical examinations may be employed as Trooper (Temporary-Pending) and assigned to one of the field installations for non-police duties; pending appointment to the Academy Class.

Written examinations for qualified applicants will be given in Baltimore and Cumberland on April 26, in Cambridge on May 3, and in Baltimore and Hagerstown on May 10.

Applications may be obtained at Maryland State Police Headquarters or any State Police Installation.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley DRIVING AND VISION

Vision requirements in most states have tightened for drivers. Only South Dakota permits a person to drive a car without taking a driver's test. Some states permit the driver to wear contact lenses, asking only that he present a card showing he is a wearer of the tiny vision aids.

Motor transportation has increased at such a high rate in recent years that 6 million people are examined each year for driver's licenses. 13 of our states require visual examinations upon license application. Much pressure is presently being exerted to include such examinations in the other 39 states. At 6 million drivers each year, it seems reasonable to suppose that many of these new motorists need some type of vision correction.

One good law missing in all 50 states is a test for night vision or glare resistance. Some states restrict a driver to daytime motor-ing if he has a deficiency, but some provision should be made to include a night driving test. Many people know they should be wearing glasses while driving and do not wear any type of correction. The Driving Research Laboratory of Iowa State College states that 60 per cent of the general adult population require glasses but only half of them wear them.

If you are one of the 6 million drivers in this country, you should be sure you are driving with your vision at its best. Have your eyes examined soon.

National Library Week To Start

National Library Week is to begin on April 20. The Library Board takes this opportunity to invite each and every resident of the area to visit the local library. The library is open Monday thru Friday from 2:30-5:00. It is also open four evenings a week and Saturday morning, to serve you.

In celebration of National Library Week, the library has been loaned part of a collection of Byrle Fraley MacPherson of McKnightstown, Pa. The window display you will notice as you go by the library is known as the MacPherson-King Collection and dates back as far as 1816. It is the only one of its kind in the world. Scrapbooks on the English pageantry and Royalty have been kept since Miss MacPherson was a child. This collection will be given to the Royal Museum in London at her death.

Queen Elizabeth is displayed by her Royal Throne in Coronation Robes, this is just one of the collection that is owned by Miss MacPherson. Included in her collection in a glass lighted case are: The Duke of Edinburgh, Earl Marshal of England, The Archbishop of Canterbury, The Lord Chancellor, The Lord Mayor of London and many others. The library wishes to express its thanks to Miss MacPherson for such a generous loan.

Mr. Bernard Kaliss represented the Emmitsburg Library at a budget hearing in Frederick on Tuesday, April 15.

Recently purchased by the library and available for loan to the public is a new Bell and Howell Film Strip projector and slide projector. There will be a charge of 50c per borrower to help maintain the equipment. The movie projector has been repaired and can now be borrowed also.

Circulation totaled 1178 for the month of March. 28 records and 15 films were borrowed from the library. To this date Emmitsburg has made 324 requests to C. Burr Artz or Enoch Pratt for Inter-Library Loan materials. Currently registered in the library are 523 borrowers.

Story hour will be conducted this week by Mrs. Joyce Bruchey. All children welcome. Pre-schoolers or under 4 should be accompanied by an adult.

Senior Citizens Plan Tour

There were seventeen members of the Senior Citizens Club of Emmitsburg present Tuesday evening at 7:30, the regular monthly meeting in the Center, although the weather was unpleasant. The program as announced, however, was not forthcoming due to the fact that Dr. Phillips could not be secured for his lecture on Exobiology, due to a previous commitment.

A very pleasant and profitable evening was spent, nevertheless, in discussing the bus trip to be taken by the Club members, Tuesday, April 22, to Mount Vernon, the Smithsonian Institute and the White House in Washington. The bus leaves at 8 a.m.

Three members are hospitalized and all those present at the meeting were asked to send cards. Mrs. Frances Stinson is at the Hanover Hospital in Room 202, Mrs. Roop is at Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, and Miss Emma Ohler at Annie Warner.

Treasurer Louis Stoner announced books available for selling 50-50 chances on the beautiful lace table cloth to be raffled at the Spring Festival, May 5. A good number of members took the books to sell chances.

A county meeting of all Senior Citizens Clubs will be held at the Church of the Brethren in Frederick on May 7 at 12 noon, with luncheon and a program built around the topic, "Housing Facilities for the Older Citizen." Better put on your hat and decide to attend, it might prove interesting as well as a pleasant social time for all county club members.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. La Rue Harmon and Mrs. Esther Gillelan.

Widows of servicemen who died of service-connected injuries, as well as the wives of veterans who are totally and permanently disabled, are eligible for educational assistance from the VA.

On March 16, 1802, the United States Military Academy at West Point was founded. The Academy opened on July 4 of that year with 10 cadets in attendance.

Salad Dressing Goes "Saucy"

Casseroles are a never-ending subject . . . there are so many ways to dress up leftovers with imagination and good taste or to combine inexpensive ingredients so that they are flavorful and attractive. Harlequin Ham Casserole is a striking case in point and an excellent way to use cooked ham.

You start with a simple cream sauce and then stir in velvety-smooth salad dressing. With a whole bouquet of delightful seasonings the salad dressing provides sprightly taste touches. Try it in other sauces and casseroles and see what a flavor lift it gives. This "saucy" base sets off a palate-pleasing mixture of ham, rice, green pepper, crunchy water chestnuts, Parmesan cheese and pimiento. It's a dish for special company and a guaranteed family favorite, too.

- Harlequin Ham Casserole 1/4 cup margarine 2 cups cooked rice 1/4 cup flour 1/2 cup chopped green pepper 1 1/2 cups milk 1/2 cup sliced water chestnuts 1/2 cup Miracle Whip Salad 1/4 cup shredded Parmesan cheese 1 Dressing 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cups cubed cooked ham 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento

Make a cream sauce with margarine, flour and milk; stir in salad dressing and salt. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Pour into a 2-quart casserole; cover and bake at 350°, 30 minutes. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Reports from Washington

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

Although I will be releasing the complete results of the questionnaire recently sent throughout the 6th District in the future, I thought a preview of the trend of the thought on certain issues before tabulation would be of interest to you. The questionnaires have provided an insight into your feelings on these issues and as a result have been most helpful to me in the formation of my opinions on some of the important matters before us today.

Foremost in the minds of most residents of the 6th District are the heavy tax burden, the present welfare situation, the increases in government spending and the Vietnam War. Each of these has its effect on our citizens' economic situation not to speak of personal losses in the War. The average taxpayer has been saturated to the point where one man suggested "if taxes aren't reduced and controlled all of us will be compelled to commit suicide."

The comment was balanced by one from another man who stated that while he couldn't afford to live any longer he couldn't afford to die either. While these comments may seem humorous at first glance the tax squeeze that has caused them is one of great urgency and seriousness. Congress is in the process of a re-examination of the Federal tax structure and I am hopeful that meaningful changes will come before too much longer.

The welfare situation is of great concern not because the poor should not be helped out because a substantial income causes no incentive to work. People on welfare stay on welfare without any inducement to better their situation. One constituent remarked that "welfare is now becoming a way of life for more and more of our families." Government spending has perplexed so many that it has been the general plea of the people of the 6th District to "strive for more efficiency in government and reduce government spending."

As might be expected, the overall opinion on Vietnam seems to be to get out of this area of the world. The "how" part though shows a wide range of opinion extending from those advocating an immediate withdrawal on the one hand, to those who would like a complete show of force to overcome the enemy on the other. The wide range of answers and suggestions with regard to Vietnam only point up what a frustrating involvement this has been for our country.

Generally there have been only two questions as to the questionnaire itself and I would like to clarify these. First of all, some constituents have pointed out to me that the questions asked are too broad for a yes or no answer. I am the first to admit this; however, at some point I have to vote yes or no on most of these questions without any qualification. It is very helpful to me, therefore, to have the benefit of your definite answer. Secondly, a few people have suggested that I should not be using the Congressional franking privilege in mailing these questionnaires. I would like to point out that this questionnaire was composed and printed at private expense and not at the expense of the taxpayers. It was mailed under my free mailing privilege because it bears quite directly on my job as your Representative.

The questionnaires are still coming in so I hope that you will understand any delay in receiving an answer to a question you might have asked or in obtaining the final results. We are extremely pleased with the response because thousands of you have taken the time to send these papers back to our office and we appreciate your patience. We now ask for your patience because it's going to take us quite awhile to tabulate the results.

facilities was the guest speaker reviewing the present facilities and projecting the future needs based on the development potential of the next 10-20 years. He predicted a population increase of 200%.

This projected increase demands careful planning now with continued improvement of present facilities. The existing plant is ten years old and is developing problems as a result of already increased demands. The entire area is being planned for tomorrow's citizens, keeping in mind the average increase yearly of 5-10% in construction costs. Development should be within corporate limits to facilitate an efficient system . . . this requires planning, time and much work.

It is gratifying to be reassured that the Mayor and City Council are planning ahead for the City's growth and that progress is being made in improvement of service facilities. The planned improvements are required and not being made just for the sake of change.

It is a challenge for the citizens to support and help the City officials in this all important facet of their work.

Official guests were: Mayor Neal Powell, Councilmen George Naylor, Clifford Ott, William Hopkins and Thomas Smith. Also Elwood Harner, supt. of utilities, Police Chief Donald Myers, Patrolmen Joseph Fleishman and John Wallace; George Fream, president of the Chamber of Commerce; and State Police Tfc. Robert Ellis and Trp. John Miller.

"Free Vacation" Warning Given

The Frederick County Chamber of Commerce advised residents this week to be wary of promotions for certificates that promise a "free vacation," usually in Florida.

A typical promotion, it was explained by Richard D. Hammond, Manager of the chamber, notifies a recipient "Congratulations! You've won second prize . . ."

To obtain the prize, which is a certificate providing a "free vacation," the "winner" must pay $12 to $15.

The National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated through membership, says the fee takes the vacation out of the free category. Further, the certificate does not provide the usual features of a vacation, such as the cost of transportation, meals, beverages, tips, outside entertainment, telephone and other incidentals.

According to NBBB, the certificate is limited to the use of a hotel or motel room for a brief stay and the establishment's facilities.

The promoter's method of operation is to set up a booth in a retail store, shopping center, trade show or fair, and invite the public to register to win a prize.

Sometimes, said NBBB, an actual vacation is awarded to one or two registrants. But the vast majority of the others are notified they have "won second prize."

Besides the certificate fee, a number of terms and conditions must be met by the user before the hotel or motel will validate it.

If the certificate is used during the winter season, the holder must pay a small daily charge.

When a promotion of this type is tied in with a Florida real estate developer, as a number of them are, certificate users must attend promotional activities aimed at selling lots. This kind of requirement seldom is stated in the advertising or promotional literature.

Other certificates do not require participation in real estate promotion, but the holders of certificates usually are invited on more than one occasion to take part.

Several certificate companies state they give "winners" a book of "vacation dollars." However, said NBBB, they are not spendable as dollars but only as small discounts on paid admissions to attractions or on the purchase of certain goods and services.

NBBB advises recipients of certificate offers to read all the fine print and make sure they understand the many terms, conditions and qualifications.

D.M.V. REPORT

By D. Murray Franklin
Public Information Officer
Md. Dept. of Motor Vehicles

Career Employees
Vital Asset To DMV
A far cry from 1910 when a handful of people formed the newly created Department of Motor Vehicles to handle a few thousand vehicle registrations, today's modern complex requires nearly 1,200 employees to staff 50 separate Sections which serve almost 2,000,000 licensed drivers, 1,700,000 vehicle owners, and 1,900 licensed automobile dealers.

DMV's headquarters facilities comprising offices, test ranges and parking areas are located on 17 acres on Ritchie Highway at the Baltimore Beltway Interchange.

During an average day thousands of persons visit the Department to arrange for vehicle titling and registration and driver licensing, take examinations, attend hearings, and rehabilitation clinics or transact business with the Financial Responsibility, Driver Insurance, or Commercial Insurance Sections, the Dealer Licensing Section or the Unsatisfied Claims and Judgment Fund.

During a normal work day, DMV's Central Telephone Exchange directs in excess of 2,000 calls to its four Telephone Information Centers. In peak seasons, for example, February, March and April, which DMV employees label "tag rush periods", visits to the Department multiply 400 to 500% to a daily average of nearly 20,000 persons, and the Telephone Information Centers process a daily average of more than 5,000 inquiries.

Many DMV employees possess a diversity of knowledge and experience gained from employment in different Sections requiring varying degrees of technical expertise. Management can, therefore, utilize this flexibility to cope with seasonal volume upswings by assigning shifts of personnel as required to serve the public's immediate needs.

When transactions at DMV require the multiple action or assistance of several separate divisions, the close compatibility with which each Section assists in the final consummation of these transactions testifies to the wide range of employee capabilities.

DMV's five Division Directors have an average employment record of nearly 20 years and the Assistant Directors average 15 years. Their employment shows an average work experience in 6 or more different Sections prior to their present responsibilities.

Perhaps less known to the general public, but nevertheless of prime importance in their respective fields, are the School Bus Inspection, Professional Driving Schools, and Dealer Licensing Sections, as well as the Medical Advisory Board which has been labeled by the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare as one of the best managed operations of its kind in the country.

Through a continuing exchange of information, studies and practical experiences with other states, members of Maryland's Department of Motor Vehicles keep abreast of trends and developments in management techniques.

Many staff supervisors are nationally recognized for their leadership in administrative practices and procedures. Today, Maryland's Department of Motor Vehicles ranks among the nation's leaders in advanced methodology for motor vehicle administration.

In the early 30's, Maryland's Commissioner Austin E. Baughman helped to found the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators and became its first president. Last year, Maryland again was honored when AAMVA elected its present Commissioner John R. Jewell to head the Association's international conclave of 50 States, 10 Canadian Provinces, Puerto Rico and several Federal agencies. Maryland thus becomes the first state to provide two Presidents.

As far back as 1959, Commissioner Jewell envisioned the role which electronic data processing would play in motor vehicle administration of the future. The first computer programs for DMV were developed from studies by Department employees, and during the past decade the progressive advances made in computerizing filing of driver records and vehicle registrations have been initiated by DMV's own Data Processing personnel.

DMV employees recognize their responsibilities to participate in employee organizations and in civic and community affairs. MCEA has a representative chapter in the Department with Woodrow B. Meek presiding over the activities of Chapter 22.

Appeals for contributions to the United Fund and Red Cross drives for their Blood Bank are met with universal response. Some individual employees give generously of their time and talents. As for instance, Bob Haburchak, Instructor in the Driver Rehabilitation Clinics, who heads a small group of Cerebral Palsy supporters who sponsor an annual Dinner-Dance which now grosses nearly $10,000 each year for CP.

Employees of the Examination Section participate in County Fair Exhibits, act as judges in Safety Rodeos, and lecture to thousands of school children each year. Driver Rehabilitation Instructors speak before community groups on traffic safety. Executives on the Commissioner's Staff frequently preside at civic organization discussions on highway safety and motor vehicle administration. Division Directors appear on TV panels and radio talk shows.

The crescendo of activity increases at DMV with each succeeding year as more vehicles are registered, more drivers are licensed, and more business is transacted with a motoring population that is literally exploding.

Today, nearly 100 Examiners are required to man the 25 Examinations locations throughout Maryland. This increased complement of Examiners has necessitated the upgrading of the Section's Chief Examiner to the rank of Major.

It is interesting to note that the Department of Motor Vehicles transacts business with almost every Maryland family several times a year, sometimes more often, due to the varied programs of titling, registration, renewals, driver improvement, etc.

Approximately 6,800,000 million pieces of mail are processed each year from the Department's Mailing Section and about 3,000,000 pieces are received each year. Sometimes it is difficult to comprehend the magnitude of the combined task of mail, phone calls and personal visits which DMV employees service with efficiency, courtesy and dispatch.

Youth is recognized at DMV and today a number of important positions are held by young people who have proven their qualifications as administrators. At age 24, Mrs. Nance Stamboni occupies the sensitive post of Registrar of Titles; Gordon Wilcox at 30 is Assistant Director of Vehicle Registration; Edward Supik became Personnel Manager at 31; Mark Frosburg was 29 years of age when he was appointed Supervisor of Cashiers; Ted Wehberg is Coordinator of Data Systems and Programmers at age 30, and Ejner J. Johnson was appointed to the important post of Executive Assistant to the Commissioner at 33 years of age.

Opportunities for career employment with prestigious advancement are unlimited at the Department of Motor Vehicles. With the advent of the electronic age, citizens who are desirous of dedicating their life's work to public service will find a satisfying and rewarding career in the fascinating and challenging world of motor vehicle administration.

Chicken Wink

DO YOU KNOW where the name "Chicken a la King" comes from? Back in the late 1800's Foxhall Keene, son of a wealthy Wall Street broker and a gourmet, discussed his idea for chicken in a cream sauce with his good friend and restaurateur, Lorenzo Delmonico.

The recipe, developed in Delmonico kitchens, was introduced to restaurant patrons and named "Chicken a la Keene" in honor of the originator; but over the years "Keene" emerged as "King."

In a true sense, chicken is king of the menu. Known for its versatility, it is also one of your best food buys. For the low cost of a whole chicken or chicken parts, you can create a dish fit for a king quick as a "wink."

Surprise your family or entertain your guests with Chicken Wink. Its secret—a marinade of Wink and lemon to give a sweet-sour taste. You'll discover a surprising flavor, and have the advantage of a gourmet dish with few calories.

| 1/4 teaspoon dried rosemary   | 3 tablespoons flour                    |
| 1/2 teaspoon salt             | 2 cups cooked rice                     |
| Oil                           | 3 tablespoons chopped green onion tops |
| 6 chicken breasts             |  |

Mix the first 5 ingredients together. Lightly salt and pepper chicken and place in a large bowl. Cover with the liquid and refrigerate for 1 hour or longer, turning several times. Place chicken and marinade in a deep kettle, cover and simmer until fork-tender. Remove chicken. Strain and save the broth for sauce. Brush chicken with oil and broil until golden brown on skin side only. Meanwhile, saute onion and green pepper until soft. Add flour and stir in broth. Cook until thickened. Arrange chicken on a bed of rice which has been tossed with chopped green onion tops. Garnish with parsley. Serve the sweet-sour sauce separately.

Tools For Wealth Production

A railroad company once ran an advertisement to dramatize how much money was required to make a job on the railroad for each employee. The ad said: "Wanted: one locomotive engineer. Bring your own engine when applying." At the time of the advertisement, a locomotive engine cost $200,000 to $500,000. The advertisement, as intended, made a lot of people stop and think about how jobs are made. It takes a lot of invested capital, a lot of operating capital, a lot of management know-how to make new jobs.

American industry's high investment in production tools is one of the secrets of our incomparable production and comparatively high living standards. It is the fourth element that I shall discuss in this series of columns on The Wealth Machine.

The Better Wheelbarrow

In a Government-owned system, the operators do not have the worry of a competitor's high investment in machine tools. There are no competitors, thus no reason to improve production in quality and speed. Competitive products can be kept out. And the consumer is forced to buy the product which the political government chooses to have produced. Some visitors to Russia a few years ago were astonished to find that the clerks in a Moscow store used the ancient abacus to total up the cost of a list of items. The Socialist government didn't consider adding machines or fast service necessary. The management of the store was a part of the Government, a member, you can be sure, of the monolithic Communist Party.

In a private enterprise system, management has got to be concerned with ever better machine tools, ever better service to the customers.

Suppose two companies are making wheelbarrows, and the competition is a bit keen. One of them says, "I'm going to put in better tools to make our wheelbarrow lower in cost and at the same time make it better." He puts in the better machine tools. What's his competitor going to do? He's going to get better tools, also, or quit. He can make his choice.

"Automation" Means Progress

We are witnessing now a big leap ahead in mass production with machine tools. We have reached the era of "automation." Actually it is not something drastically new, but merely the natural result of a constant improvement in manufacturing tools and techniques, demanded by competition in the market place. A single machine today can do the work that 20 years ago required 10 men to do. And a single automated factory can produce products at a rate and at a production cost never dreamed of 10 or 15 years ago.

It is true that workers are being replaced, but it is also true that the production machine in America is constantly spreading out, developing new products, creating new jobs—about two million new jobs each year. And because of the improving machine tools, created to meet the competition, workers can buy more with their earnings than ever before.

King Of The Workers

The average investment of capital to create one job in American industry has constantly gone up as greater and greater improvement has been made in machine tools. The average in 1969 is $23,000 per job. That means that an investment of $23,000 in plant, inventory and tools is necessary to create a single average American job. It is much higher in some industries.

The last time I was in Detroit, I spoke to the production manager at one of the Ford Motor Company plants. "What does it now cost to buy the stamping machine that stamps out the front fenders for a Ford car?" He said: "$500,000." I asked: "What does the man do who operates it?" "Pushes buttons," he said. "How fast do you turn out fenders?" "One every eight seconds," he replied. "How long did it take the workman to make the first Ford fenders—years ago?" "Probably all day to make a pair," he said. "With what tools?" "An anvil, a hammer, a forge, and a pair of tongs—tool cost, about $30."

The original fender-maker made less wages for a full day's work than the man at the $500,000 machine makes today in one hour! That's the amazing story of the tool investment in American industry. It is duplicated in industries all across America. High tool investment helps to make the American, King of the Workers of the World!

More Graduates Going To College

A report recently released by the Maryland State Department of Education shows how the graduates of local high schools compare with those of other counties with respect to attendance at degree granting institutions, and trade, commercial, or vocational schools.

For the graduating class of 1967, the latest covered by the report, Frederick County ranks 16th among the 24 local units in the state in percentage of high school graduates going on to degree granting institutions. This figure for the 1967 graduating class across the state ranged from 19.6% in Calvert County to 67.3% in Montgomery County with a state average of 40.1%.

This percentage for Frederick County has risen from 20.5% for

NO. 22,347 EQUITY IN THE
CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this Bill of Complaint is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Dorothy Marie Prince, from the Defendant, Edward Lee Prince.

The Bill states in substance, that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address is Police Department, Tampa, Florida; that the parties to this cause were married on the 14th day of February, 1959, at Washington, D. C., by Rev. Melvin W. Crump, a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage three children were born, namely, Harold Lee Prince, 8 years of age; William Allen Prince, 6 years of age; and Guy Denzil Prince, 5 years of age, all of whom are presently in foster homes; that on or about the 14th day of December, 1965, the Defendant did, without just cause or reason, abandon and desert your Complainant, declaring his intentions to live with her no longer as husband and wife, and that said abandonment and desertion was deliberate and final, and has continued uninterrupted for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that there is no reasonable hope or expectation of a reconciliation between the parties to this cause. The Bill prays that the Complainant may be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant; that she may have such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF COURT

It is thereupon this 1st day of April, 1969, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the non-resident Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper in Frederick County, Maryland, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 10th day of May, 1969, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 10th day of June, 1969, to show cause, if any he has, why the relief sought should not be passed as prayed.

the class of 1958 to 29% for the class of 1967. In the same period, enrollment in Frederick County schools increased by 31.8%; the number of high school graduates increased by 80.3%; and the actual number of these graduates going on to attend degree granting institutions increased from 120 in 1958 to 306 in 1968, an increase of 155%.

Including the number of students from Frederick County that continued after high school in trade, commercial, or vocational schools (college preparatory, and nursing schools) adds an additional 4.9% of the 1967 graduating class. The total percentage continuing education beyond high school then becomes 33.9% for Frederick County.

210 or about 2/3 of the Frederick County graduates of 1967 who continued their education did so in institutions with the state of Maryland. The 96 students who attended out of state colleges chose institution in 19 different states and the District of Columbia.

In summary, the state report indicates an increasing rate of college attendance for Frederick County students. The county falls in the middle third of the state when local units are ranked by high school graduates going on to degree granting institutions. More significantly, local school enrollments over a ten year period have increased about 32%, but in that time the number of high school graduates has increased by more than 80% and the number going on to degree granting institutions by 155%.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Change In U. S. Economy
By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., April 17, 1969—When this country was first founded ours was an agrarian society, meaning that most of our production and employment was in agriculture. In the late 1800's and early 1900's, we have become the world's first service economy. This is with reservations, however. For, while more than half of our work force is employed by the service segment of our economy, with production as the standard, we are still an industrial society.

Defining A Service
Defining the service sector is rather difficult. It is generally accepted that it consists of the intangibles—i.e., insurance, retail trade, finance; whereas the industrial sector produces the tangibles—automobiles, steel, and the like. Using a broad definition, the service economy is made up of a wide variety of personal, professional, and business services, retail and wholesale trade, repairs, finance, insurance, and government.

Service Productivity
Although the service economy has expanded greatly in terms of employment, it has lagged far behind both agriculture and industry in terms of productivity. Automation in the factory and on the farm has boosted productivity in these areas tremendously; but there has been only limited automation in the service sector. The computer has heightened productivity of the larger service industries, but has had little effect on the smaller-size businesses which make up over 90% of the total industry. And it is difficult to see how the local barber, beautician, or insurance salesman can improve on his output. Hence, while the service segment will undoubtedly enjoy improved productivity in the future, it will be limited.

Economic Significance
Employment and income in a service economy are quite different than in an industrial economy. Employment in the former is relatively stable when compared to that of the industrial worker throughout the business cycle. The consumer can put off buying a new automobile indefinitely, but cannot react the same way when he needs a doctor. In the future, the fluctuation of total unemployment will be milder due to the growth of the service economy.

Average wages in the service sector are lower than in the industrial. There are several reasons for this, among them productivity, unionization, and the general employment mix. There is very little organized labor in the basic service industry, owing to the characteristically small number of persons employed in each company. Recently, however, the services do seem to be getting more organized. Teachers, sanitation personnel, police, and firemen have joined forces to demand better wages. This trend has been gaining momentum, and the future results will be a closing of the gap between their wage structure and that for workers in industry.

The fact that the service industry does not require strong physical endurance has resulted in a high proportion of women and older people in the work force, who have historically faced wage discrimination. Recent regulations which forbid discrimination based on sex or age will bring higher wages for these people.

Service Industry Reaching Peak
Employment in the service area, which has grown steadily over the past 30 years, will continue this trend but at a slower rate. Technology will advance productivity, but its potential is limited by the inherent personalization of the industry. Income has been improving and will continue to as long as the demand for services continues. People are demanding more and more different services—such as interior decorating, income tax assistance, and medical attention—which will account for most of the future growth in the industry. We are now a service economy in terms of employment and should remain so to an even greater degree in the future. But we will still be an industrial economy when production is the basis for comparison.

—where it is intended to be—on a scale not possible in services, the Concert Choir of the Frederick Evangelical Lutheran Church will again present a concert of unusual interest to the community. The concert will be held Sunday evening, April 27, at 8:00 p.m.

The Concert Choir will be assisted by a chamber orchestra consisting of professional players from symphony orchestras, armed services orchestras and the White House music staff.

Alan deVeritch, brilliant 21-year-old concert violinist, one of the most promising violinists in the country will be featured soloist. William Rusinak, concert violinist and well known to Frederick audiences, will also be soloist, and will serve as concertmaster.

The program will open with the Vivaldi Concerto for Violin, Organ, and String Orchestra, to be followed by Sarabande con Variazioni by Haendel-Halvorsen. Trauermusik by Paul Hindemith for Viola and Orchestra follows, and then the Concerto for Viola and Strings, arranged from works of Handel, by Sir John Barbaroli will be played. The last work to be presented will be the Mozart Missa Brevis (Short Mass) in D for Choir, String Orchestra, Organ and Soloist. The soloists will be JaAnn Comer, Carlyn Feaga, Doris Magaha, Thomas Silliman, and Donald Leatherman.

The concert is being financed by sponsors and patrons and is open to the public at no charge and all music lovers are invited to attend. A reception in the Old Chapel will be held immediately following the concert.

The cost of government is in proportion to the demands that we make upon government.

Get Your Power Mower Ready For Spring

This modern suburban husband will find operating his electric lawn mower not only faster this year but safer: he has read his use and instruction manual and performed the few tasks necessary for springtime "get ready."

Power mowers, either gasoline or electric, require close attention to cleanliness if they are to give top performance. Sunbeam engineers, designers of both types, say in their manual. Gasoline engines should be drained, wiped dry, and refilled with fresh fuel at season's start and occasionally during the long summer. The spark plugs should be checked occasionally and crank case oil should be drained before the season and at least once during the summer. Homemakers are warned to keep gas in UL approved red can, in fixed places beyond children's reach. Can should be securely covered to prevent fumes from spreading and stored outside of the home, away from the furnace, water heater, etc.

Electric motors require no attention beyond a few drops of oil, checking brushes, cord and connector plug. A dry cloth is suggested for "after-use" wipe-up. This type mower is best stored off the floor by hanging it on a hook.

Will Phase Out Job Corps
Despite congressional protests, the Nixon administration announced Friday the closure of 59 of the nation's 113 Job Corps centers. Catoctin Job Corp Center near Thurmont is among those slated for shut down.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz told a news conference that the move does not represent "a wholesale slaughter" of the youth-training program.

"It is a question of rearranging the mix," he said. Shultz said the shutting down of the old centers—most of them in rural areas—will be offset somewhat by the establishment of 30 new inner-city and near-city training centers. Twenty-seven are confirmed and three other—not named—still are under consideration.

The old centers, Shultz said, will be phased out by July 1. "They won't be shut down overnight," another Labor Department official said. He added that the plan is to move trainees to alternate facilities.

Operation of the five-year-old Job Corps was turned over to the Labor Department in February by President Nixon. The transfer from the Office of Economic Opportunity will become fully effective after June 30. The Job Corps was criticized by Nixon during his presidential campaign.

Glenn Hill, director of the Catoctin center, confirmed that it would close down by July 1. He said, "I was advised by a telegram from the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEC) that the center was on the list of those to be closed."

"We are proud of our record, and feel it stands on its own feet," Hill said. "We're disappointed. But our feeling is that we have a job to do and not worry about closure," he added.

The center will continue to do its job of training young men until the last day and last hour, Hill asserted.

Richard W. Maeder, director of the Harpers Ferry Job Corps Center, said that he had not been notified as to closure, and understood that the Harpers Ferry center was not on the list for cutback.

Nine More Die On State Roads

Nine persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Four of those killed were drivers, three were passengers, and two were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in three of the deaths, speed in five, and "driver error" in five.

"Three of last week's highway fatalities were youngsters," noted Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police. "One darted into the path of a car; one fell off a truck while hitching a ride; and the third, not yet three years old, released the emergency brake of a car and was thrown from the vehicle as it drifted into the roadway."

"Obviously even the strictest parental supervision will not always be able to prevent the impulsive and dangerous actions of a small child. However, it is still the parents' responsibility to see that youngsters do not play in automobiles or in areas where they stand a good chance of being struck by a car."

If you are interested in water pollution and air pollution, plus the following, we urge you to attend:

1. Why are millions of tax dollars appropriated for weather modification and no law to control it?

2. Do you realize silver iodine settles on pastures, vegetation and other growing things which humans consume?

3. Do you know one inch of rain means 27,143 gallons of water per acre?

4. When modifying the winter snows, summer rains and tropical disturbances how will our water table meet our needs?

5. Why is the emphysema death rate three times higher in regions of cloud seeding?

Frederick County Backgrounds

By SAMUEL CARRICK

Again—The Shields Family

When William (1) Shields came to what is now Frederick County, Maryland, in 1748 and settled on lands within the boundaries of Tom's Creek Hundred, he became, perhaps, unknowingly, the ancestral pivot which has extended over more than 200 years of vital concern in the life and progress of this country. History is the story of an individual—magnified in this day and age by billions. This being the case the share of the pioneer William (1) Shields would be impossible to calculate. By his courage, perseverance, his willingness to "back up his words with action", to put "his life on the line" so to speak—he proved himself an American of the finest type. The gift without the giver is bare—the pioneers gave themselves to this new land. Therein lay their greatness.

The genealogical and historical data on the descendants of William (1) Shields is continued at this time.

5. Samuel (2) Shields—fifth son of William (1) and Jane (Williams) Shields—was born March 13, 1754; married Jane Montgomery or Margaret Ware. Left Frederick County, Maryland sometime after the American Revolution and went to Tennessee. Here he settled—reared his family and played his part in pushing back the frontier. Insofar as is known he never returned to his native state but spent the remainder of his life in Greene County, Tenn., where he died and is buried.

There seems to be some question regarding the "maiden name" of Samuel (2) Shields' wife, some authorities give it as Jane Montgomery, others as Margaret Ware. It is quite possible that said Samuel (2) was twice married—but on this point no definite answer can be given.

6. David (2) Shields, sixth son of William (1) and Jane (Williams) Shields, was born June 12, 1769, married Rachel Waddell, settled in Tennessee where he reared his family of five, died and was buried.

There is no additional data pertaining to this branch of the Shields family.

7. Banner (2) Shields, seventh son of William (1) and Jane (Williams) Shields, was born Oct. 28, 1772, emigrated as a young man to Tennessee, apparently in the footsteps of his elder brothers and sisters. He married Margaret Ware of Blount County, Tenn. Nothing is known pertaining to the family of Banner (2) and Margaret (Ware) Shields.

8. Agnes (2) Shields, eldest daughter of William (1), was born Dec. 30, 1766 and was first married to Jacob Gilliland and after his death to Michael Woods. It is a known fact that Agnes (2) Shields, in company with seven of her brothers and sisters, emigrated to Tennessee. This was probably after her first marriage for the Gillilands were an old and honored family in southeastern Pennsylvania and northern Frederick County, Md. It is also quite possible that Jacob Gilliland died while a resident of the Emmitsburg vicinity and was interred in a grave that is now unmarked, as so many are, in Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard.

It is interesting to note that there are several Gilliland graves in Piney Creek Presbyterian graveyard. Perhaps the family buried in this churchyard; it is impossible to give a definite opinion at this late date with so little data to go on.

9. Mary (2) Shields, second daughter of William (1), was born January 2, 1775 and married John Blair, son of a good Frederick County family, Mary (2) Shields Blair, according to tradition, eventually moved to Tennessee. This is borne out by the fact that after 1806 there is no record in Frederick County of this particular branch of the Shields-Blair family.

Jane Bradley (Williams) Shields the wife of William (1) Shields, died in 1806 and in her will designates her daughter, Mary (Shields) Blair and Mary's several children, as sole beneficiaries of her estate. From this it would appear that after the death of her mother Mary (2) Shields and her entire family moved to Tenn.

10. Margaret (2) Shields, third daughter of William (1), was born Oct. 2, 1783, married Evan Evans of Welsh descent. They lived and died in Greene County, Tenn.

Evan and Margaret (2) Shields Evans, were the parents of two children.

11. Ebenezer (2) Shields, the youngest son of William (1), was the only one of their 11 children to live his entire life in the Emmitsburg vicinity, Frederick County, Tenn. Ebenezer (2) was born Dec. 27, 1778, during the middle years of the American Revolution. This youngest son was only 18 at the time of his father's death and shortly thereafter received his "cash share" of his father's estate.

By the time Ebenezer (2) Shields had reached early middle age he was the only one of his family living in Frederick County, Maryland.

Ebenezer (2) Shields was a somewhat complex character. Traditions of some of his "doings" are still repeated in his home neighborhood. Some are good and others are just the opposite.

As was to be expected Ebenezer's reputation has been handed down to posterity, in part, by legends. There is even a ghost story associated with his name and person.

It is said that on dark, moonless nights, the ghost of Ebenezer Shields may often be seen riding horseback up and down old Route 15 south of Emmitsburg. Apparently he did not rest "easy in his grave" but desired to be "up and doing." He was buried in the family burial ground and his gravestone can be seen at that site to this day.

Ebenezer (2) Shields was the father of at least four sons for he named this number in his will. They were as follows: Jefferson (3) Shields, John Henry (3) Shields, Andrew Jackson (3) Shields, and William Vanburen (3) Shields.

The second son, John Henry (3) Shields, married Eve Benchoff, and this branch of the family had a number of descendants. John Henry (3) is buried in the graveyard of Elias Lutheran Church at Emmitsburg. His wife, Eve (Benchoff) Shields is buried in Burns Hill Cemetery at Waynesboro, Pa.

The data on the family and descendants of William (1) and Jane (Williams) Shields will be continued in this series next week.

School Chorus To Give Concert

On Wednesday, April 23, the Catoctin High School Chorus will present its first annual Spring Concert, "Those Were The Days," at 8 p.m. in the Catoctin High School auditorium.

The Senior High Chorus, appearing for the first time in their new blazers, will open the program with several sacred selections including, "Canticle of Praise," by Beck; "Honor and Glory," by Bach; and "Thou Lord All Praise and Honor," by Hayden.

The second part of the program will revolve around the theme, "Those Were The Days." This will be a reminiscing of the days gone by at the former Emmitsburg and Thurmont High Schools, in song and narration.

The theme song, "Those Were The Days," will first be presented by the Junior Chorus, along with other selections including, "Comin' Thru The Rye," and "No Man Is An Island."

The Senior Chorus will again appear, this time including in their program, "After Today," from Dr. Doolittle; Jim Webb's "Up, Up and Away"; "Inch Worm," from Hans Christian Anderson, and "Once In Love With Amy," from "Where's Charlie." John Martin will be featured as soloist for the Male Chorus which will sing, "By The Time I Get To Phoenix."

The finale numbers will be taken from the "Up With People" performance. "Freedom Isn't Free," will be sung by the Senior Girls' Ensemble followed by "A New Tomorrow," by the combined choruses.

The program is under the direction of Miss Gail Kennedy, music instructor at Catoctin. Accompanists for the concert are Jean Houck, Linda Sixx, and Beverly Davis.

This is the first concert given by the Chorus since the opening of Catoctin and the public is cordially invited and encouraged to attend. Tickets are now on sale from members of the choruses. The price is $1 for adults, 50¢ for students, and children under 6 admitted free. Tickets will also be on sale the night of the concert.

The budget hearing on the request for the Frederick County Board of Education has been delayed by the county commissioners at the behest of the education group.

The school board's hearing before the Frederick County Commissioners was originally set for Thursday, but has been changed to May 5 at 10 a.m. in the Winchester Room, Winchester Hall.

The reason for the delay is the school board's hassle with the Frederick County Teachers Association over a salary package, and they didn't come to agreement until last week. The teachers themselves received the package Monday night. The current starting salary is $6,050.

The delay didn't leave the school board much time to have their own public hearing on the budget, and the one before the commissioners as well. The school board's public hearing in the Winchester Room is set for April 23.

The law requires the board appear before the commissioners not less than 20 days before the county has to finalize the budget and set the tax rate for the next fiscal year. The deadline for setting taxes is June 1.

The change was granted Monday by the commissioners after the official request by Dr. John L. Carnochan, superintendent of schools, was received.

Mrs. Haley Hosts Homemakers

A most informative lesson on "Fabrics and Finishes," was presented to members of the Homemakers Club by the Clothing Chairman, Mrs. Luther Cregger, at their March meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Haley, Emmitt Gardens. Mrs. Cregger had numerous samples to show of both natural and man-made fabrics and told in detail the construction techniques used when sewing on the many special fabrics that are being used today.

Mrs. John Chatlos was appointed chairman of the food sale which is to be held on May 17 at the Fire Hall.

After the business meeting, a White Elephant Auction was held with Mrs. Chatlos acting as auctioneer. Due to the number of items to be sold and the time limit, it was decided to continue the auction at the next meeting which will be held on April 24 at the home of Mrs. James Small, when Mrs. Verne Ray will present the program on "Oven Cookery."

Delicious refreshments were served from a buffet table attractively set in the Easter theme.

A Ways and Means Committee was appointed as follows: Loretta Sprinkle, chairman; Nancy Danner, Joyce Rosensteel, Catherine Hodges, Ann Marie Koontz.

Mrs. Carrie Austin was approved as a new member. The next meeting will be held on Monday, May 12 at 8:15. Refreshment committee for next month is Irene Zurgable and Gwen Topper.
