- By Abigail -

Springtime is clean-up time and quite a number of individuals have busied themselves recently cleaning, painting and fixing their properties. Quite a few have or are having their houses painted and the general appearance of these properties is taking on a better look. The Chamber of Commerce has placed evergreen trees on the four corners of the Square, Crouse's Store has two trees beside its steps, the Knights of Columbus has placed two trees and flower pots. The beautification and of recent date, some lady has lined the apartment steps to the VFW with a series of flower pots. The beautification of the Square is slowly but surely taking place and we hope many more organizations follow the pattern. It's a small program folks, but one that's appreciated and enhances the appearance of our Town Square.

In recent weeks automobile cowboys have been active and quite a number of residents are becoming highly incensed over their nefarious activities. Perhaps a few nights of action by a radar team would make a difference in the quietness and tranquility which makes for good sleeping these nights. We realize we have a policeman on duty, but he can't work all night and one man can't handle half a dozen or so individuals bent on disturbing the peace. If and when this sort of unpleasant activity occurs late in the morning hours after our policeman has retired, I'd suggest you just pick up the phone, tell the operator this is an emergency and ask for the State Police. It won't cost you a cent and in a few minutes I'll guarantee you it will get quiet and you can once again return to your good old sleep.

Receives Award

Miss Pam Topper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Topper of 121 De Paul Street, has been named top-ranking home economics student at St. Joseph High School.

As the outstanding home economics senior, Miss Topper has received the Sterling Silver Home-making Award for 1969. The award, a 6-piece place setting of sterling flatware, was presented by Sister Marian at an Honors Convocation.

The pattern for the award sterling was selected by the home economics students as part of a special project in consumer education, and the silver has been on display in the library.

The award is made available by the Sterling Silversmiths Guild of America in recognition of the fine work being done today in high school home economics education, and to stimulate student interest in the homemaking arts.

Admitted To Hospital

Miss Cindy Newcomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll E. Newcomer, Emmitsburg, was admitted this week to the Harrisburg Hospital.

Will Receive Honorary Degree At Mount

Mount Saint Mary's College will honor the rector of its seminary and one of its distinguished alumni during commencement exercises on June 1. Rt. Rev. George D. Mulcahy, who this month marks his 35th anniversary as a priest, will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

His Eminence, Lawrence Cardinal Shehan, Archbishop of Baltimore and chairman of the college's board of trustees, will preside at the commencement program beginning at 2:30 p.m. on June 1.

Monsignor Mulcahy, ordained on May 26, 1934 for the Harrisburg diocese, received 12 years of his education on the Mount Saint Mary's campus, attending preparatory school, the college and the seminary. He returned to the Mount in 1958 when he was appointed as sixth rector of the Mount Saint Mary's Seminary by the late Archbishop Francis F. Keough of Baltimore.

For 24 years—from ordination in 1934 until his present assignment here—Monsignor Mulcahy distinguished himself as priest and administrator in the Harrisburg diocese. He served two bishops: Most Rev. George L. Leech and the late Most Rev. Philip R. McDevitt. He served as chancellor and secretary of the diocese for 17 years, beginning in January 1936.

During this time he was also in charge of St. Joseph Parish at Mechanicsburg for seven years, in charge of St. Lucy's Chapel, Watonsville, chaplain of Sylvan Hgts. Home, Harrisburg, and pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church, Enola. From 1943 to 1948 he was diocesan chaplain of the Boy Scouts. He was appointed pastor of St. Edward's Church, Shamokin in 1953 where he remained until returning to the Mount.

Monsignor Mulcahy was raised to the rank of domestic prelate in 1945 by Pope Pius XII.

He has written numerous papers on pastoral theology and local history. He prepared several historical articles for the Centennial Book of the Harrisburg diocese in 1968.

Swim Classes Now Open

Mrs. Thomas J. Seese announces the opening of registration for summer swimming classes at the St. Joseph College Pool. The four classes are scheduled as follows:

Adult beginners, June 16-27, 7-8 p.m.; Polliwogs (4-6 years), July 7-18, 9-10 a.m.; Beginners, July 7-18, 10-11 a.m.; Advanced beginners, July 21-Aug. 1, 9-10 a.m.

For the first time, Mrs. Seese and her two assistants, Sally Marshall and Gene Newcomer, are following the revised Red Cross swimming instructions. Mrs. Seese learned these new techniques at a Red Cross spring re-training session at St. Joseph's.

Because of unusual circumstances, St. Joseph's finds it necessary to collect a $5.00 pool fee from each student in addition to the usual $10.00 paid to Mrs. Seese and her assistants. On the first day of class each student should wear a swim suit and bring $15, a health certificate from his family doctor, a towel, rubber flip-flops and a bathing cap for long-haired boys and all girls.

To register, call Mrs. Seese at 447-2837 any morning, or in the evening from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mr. Allen F. Davis spent several days this week visiting in Easton, Md.

Face value of 208,600 loans backed by Veterans Administration during 1968 was $3,716,521,900.

DO YOU KNOW?

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Citizens of Emmitsburg! Do you know the Town Commissioners of Emmitsburg? Are you well-pleased with the management of the Town?

Citizens, do you know Emmitsburg has no Maintenance Supervisor? Also, do you know Emmitsburg has no certified water or sewer supervision which is required by the State Health Department? Are you aware that contaminated water can cause an epidemic if it isn't treated properly with chemicals? This is a serious matter and you should be concerned about it.

If you don't know the answers, why not make an effort to find out who does?

Mount Star Signs Bullet Contract

The Baltimore Bullets announced this week that Fred Carter, 6'3 guard from Mt. St. Mary's College, who was the club's third round selection in the recent NBA draft, has signed a two-year contract.

A native of Philadelphia, Carter scored 1850 points in 84 games during a brilliant four-year career at Mt. St. Mary's. He was named to the All Mason-Dixon Conference team three straight years. He also was named Most Valuable Player in 1967 and 1968 in both the Quantic and Albright Invitational Tournaments.

An Education major at Mt. St. Mary's, Carter is currently practicing teaching at Thomas Johnson High School in Frederick.

"I'm very happy to get the chance to play with the Bullets," Carter said after signing his contract. "I know a lot of people are wondering if a player from a small conference can play professionally, but in my own I'm confident that I belong. The Bullets play the kind of running game that best suits my style and I feel that I will be able to fit in and help their club."

Carter was scouted, and highly recommended, by Bob Ferry, the Bullets' assistant coach, who feels Fred has all the tools to become a first rate player in the NBA. "He has the moves, is a good shooter and can handle the ball," noted Ferry, "and, from what I've seen of him, Fred has tremendous desire to prove that he can play with the best."

Carter is the second Bullet draft choice to sign a two-year contract. No. 1 pick Mike Davis, had previously agreed to terms.

Rev. John King, chairman of the nominating committee announced unanimous agreement to recommend the election of the present slate of officers. A letter of thanks was ordered written to Cong. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., for the part he played in obtaining the picnic area for this section.

The Chamber decided to man an information booth at the coming Sportsmen's Carnival and some sort of drawing will be held during the carnival. Three valuable prizes will be offered.

The president read a letter from the County Parks and Recreation Commission stating that no money for recreation for the Emmitsburg area was available for the balance of this fiscal year. Youth Hurt In Car Crash

Two Emmitsburg young men escaped serious injury Wednesday night when the 1964 Plymouth they were riding in left the highway, ran a ditch and hitting a tree, came to rest in a field at the Mrs. Kenneth Waganan property on Rt. 806 near Mt. St. Mary's College.

Occupants of the car were Michael Smith and Mark Gelwicks. Gelwicks was admitted to the Annie Warner Hospital and reported in satisfactory condition. The car was heavily damaged and State Trooper Drumm investigated. It was reported Gelwicks was the driver of the car which wrecked at approximately midnight Wednesday.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Psittacosis, or parrot fever as it is commonly known, appears to be on the increase among Maryland residents, particularly in the Baltimore area, according to Dr. Kenneth L. Crawford, Chief of the Division of Veterinary Medicine, Maryland State Department of Health. For the last decade, this disease has been extremely rare in Maryland; only three human cases have been reported since 1959. The outbreak which Maryland officials are now investigating involves four cases which have occurred since January of this year.

"If additional cases of psittacosis occur, it may be necessary for the State Health Department to temporarily ban the sale of psittacine birds in Maryland," said William J. Peebles, M.D., State Health Commissioner.

Dr. Peebles, in discussing psittacosis, said, "Some patients become seriously ill with high fever, cough, and other symptoms that resemble influenza or pneumonia. Other cases can be quite mild and, if antibiotics are given early, may not be recognized as psittacosis; therefore, they would not come to the attention of health authorities.

"Psittacosis can be a serious disease, with fevers as high as 103° to 104° being common. The disease is caused by virus-like organisms which are airborne and which originate in bird droppings. People ill with influenza or pneumonia-like symptoms in a household where there are birds should see their physicians since diagnosis is difficult and can only be confirmed by laboratory blood test. Recovery is slow even with proper antibiotic treatment."

The first known case in the current outbreak was diagnosed in a 55-year-old man, a resident of Baltimore City, who was admitted to a hospital on January 21 of this year in a semi-conscious condition. During the week prior to hospital admission, the patient had developed severe headache, cough, and fever. The patient had purchased a small parrot from a local store as a Christmas gift. The parrot was described as "never being in good health." It developed diarrhea and died on the same day the man was admitted to the hospital.

Subsequently, two women, also City residents, became ill with pneumonia-like symptoms. They were in contact with parakeets purchased in Baltimore County from pet departments in retail stores. Both women required hospitalization. Investigation by the State and County Health Departments revealed that both birds, from the same New York importer, developed diarrhea and died within three weeks after purchase.

The fourth case affected a Baltimore County resident, and the infection was also traced to a parrot recently purchased from an imported shipment.

"There is no way of knowing how many infected birds have been sold in Maryland or the names of all purchasers," Dr. Crawford said. "The State Health Department's Communicable Diseases and Veterinary Medicine Divisions are investigating all shipments of out-of-town suppliers, all known contacts with infected birds, and marketing procedures in Maryland for birds and other household pets. The Department also offers consultation service to physicians, veterinarians, private laboratories, and vendors of birds.

"Persons who keep parrots or parakeets as household pets should be alert to signs of illness in their birds", advised the veterinarian. "Diarrhea, fatigue, or general ill health indicate that the bird should be immediately destroyed or taken to a veterinarian for treatment. People with birds which appear to be healthy can put them on a preventive diet of antibiotic seed. At this time there is only one suitably treated seed for parakeets on the market—'Keen-Life,' which is available in four and one-half ounce containers from all pet shops. Parakeets should be put on this product for a period of 30 days. Nevertheless, bird owners who become ill with typical symptoms should consult their physician and inform him of the fact that they keep birds."

TB Association Changes Name

Announcement has been made by Frank T. Jones, Executive Director, that the Maryland Tuberculosis Association has passed a proposal, at the group's Annual Meeting on May 13, to change the name to the Maryland Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association.

Samuel E. Proctor, Jr., President, said the change will bring the state association's name in closer relationship with that of its national headquarters which underwent a similar change in February 1968. Mr. Proctor also pointed out that the association has placed greater emphasis in the fields of chronic bronchitis, emphysema and other respiratory diseases which made the name change necessary.

Since the parent organization's change to National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease, the Maryland group is one of the many to adopt the more inclusive name.

No School Monday There will be no classes at the Emmitsburg Public School Monday, it has been announced.

Monday has been termed an in-service day and teachers will assemble to hold discussions on school work.

Pond Program Progresses

The final phase of the reclamation of five State-owned community ponds is under way and these popular fishing spots soon should be in balance and providing sport for neighborhood anglers in Maryland, the Department of Game and Inland Fish says.

The five ponds recently received a heavy stocking of adult bluegills in addition to channel catfish. Later the ponds will receive stockings of largemouth bass fingerlings to complete the program.

The ponds reclaimed are Melwood, Prince Georges County; Rising Sun, Cecil County; Gwynnbrook, Baltimore County; Westminster, Carroll County, and Brunswick, Frederick County. Each of the ponds, mostly one acre water areas, were stocked with 500 bluegills, except the Brunswick pond, which got 300. The bluegills measured 7 to 9 inches.

In addition to the community pond stocking, the Department of Game and Inland Fish placed 700 additional adult bluegills in the new impoundment in the Patapsco State Park in Baltimore County.

The work of reclaiming the ponds was done under the direction of Dave Wharton, warm water fishery biologist, Department of Game and Inland Fish.

Wharton started the work of reclaiming the ponds last October by using rotenone in each of the impoundments to eradicate the existing fish populations. As usual in these operations, the working crews found an amazing cross-section of fish life—mainly undesirable species. There were 4,088 pounds of fish removed from the five ponds and the pounds of fish removed per surface acre of water was calculated at 293 pounds. That excluded the channel catfish poundage.

It was necessary to kill off the existing fish populations in the five ponds because there were so many species—mostly undesirable ones—competing for food and space that none could grow to a size necessary for a good sport fishery. In such cases the wild life managers must start over and reintroduce only those compatible species that will provide catchable fish.

For instance, the sunfish taken out in October, mostly stunted, numbered in the thousands and weighed 1,123 of the total 4,088 pounds of fish removed.

Biologist Joins Dept. Staff

Robert L. Miller, 29, has joined the Department of Game and Inland Fish as a staff biologist on the "Davis Plan," a program to study multiple use of State-owned lands.

The Department of Game and Inland Fish, the Department of Forests and Parks and Virginia Polytechnic Institute are cooperating in the study. One of the phases of the study is to determine the economic balance between timber production, production of deer and low density recreation in two pilot areas.

Miller, who holds a MA degree from VPI, will help coordinate the projects in the field on the two pilot areas, Dans Mountain and Pocomoke State Forest. He will collect data on deer condition and gather input data for the computers used in the project.

The staff's newest biologist formerly lived in Fairfax, Va., and took his undergraduate work at Bridgewater College, Va. He and Mrs. Miller have moved to Annapolis. They have no children.

The biggest trout caught in Maryland so far this year is a 10 pound, 21 inch brown reported from Garrett County.

The lunker was taken on an artificial lure by William D. Ringler of Deep Creek Village. Ringler was fishing in the race below the Penn Electric Co. power plant on the Youghiogheny River, the Department of Game and Inland Fish reports.

While Ringler's brownie certainly is boasting size, it didn't set a new Maryland record. The biggest brown trout on record in the State is a 13 pound 8 ounce buster that measured 33 inches, according to Burt Dillon's Fishing in Maryland. This trout also came from Garrett and was caught in August 1968, in Deep Creek Lake by Simon Cogley, Oakland, Maryland.

Since senior citizens—those above 70, at any rate don't have to renew their hunting and fishing licenses once they have been awarded, they find themselves without the Hunter's Guide and the Angler's Guide, the synopsis of game and fish laws published annually by the Department of Game and Inland Fish.

Many write to the Department requesting that the guides be mailed to them. While the Department is glad to oblige, the senior hunters and fishermen can save themselves delays by going to their nearest license agent or County Clerk's office and obtaining the publications there. Each of these agents should have an adequate supply of the informative little booklets.

SMITH—LITTLE

Miss Carolyn Genevieve Little, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Little, Emmitsburg, became the bride of Karl Joseph Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl J. Smith Sr., Rocky Ridge, in a recent wedding at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg.

The Rev. John King officiated in the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Louella Rosensteel, organist, played appropriate music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of lace over satin, with empire waist accented with a satin bow. The detachable train of satin-trimmed lace hung from the shoulders to the floor, and a pearl crown headpiece held her bouffant veil. She carried a long-line bouquet of white roses centered with several yellow roses, and with ivy streamers.

Mrs. Joyce Dewees was matron of honor for her sister. She wore a floor length gown with empire waist, a yellow veil headpiece and white gloves. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bride, and she carried a long-line bouquet of fall and spring flowers.

Bridesmaids were Misses Connie Briar and Patricia Radtke.

They both wore floor length mint green gowns of lace over taffeta, with matching veil headpieces, and white gloves. Their pearl necklaces were gifts from the bride, and they carried long-line bouquets of fall and spring flowers.

Little Miss Michele Hewitt, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Misses Tina Mitchell, niece of the bride, and Joann Smith, sister of the bridegroom, carried the bride's train. They all wore yellow floor length gowns of lace over satin, with empire waists, and matching veils.

L/Cpl. Larry Smith, Washington, D. C., was best man for his brother. Ushers were Monroe Hewitt, brother-in-law of the bride, and Larry Little, brother of the bride. Jeffrey Smith, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Little wore a three-piece blue wool suit trimmed with beige, with beige accessories and a red rosebud corsage.

The bridegroom's mother chose a pink taffeta dress with matching lace coat, and a red rosebud corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Rocky Ridge Fire Hall. Assisting were Mrs. Margaret Hoke, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Helen Warner and Miss Patsy Hoke, cousins of the bride; Mrs. Betty Boone, Mrs. Bertha Albaugh, aunts of the bridegroom; Miss Janet Boone, Mrs. Shirley Blessing, cousins of the bridegroom; Mrs. Mary Wetzel, Mrs. Fred Warnken and Mrs. Doris Williar.

Out-of-town guests were from Harrisburg, Linglestown, York and Windsor, Pa.

For the wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a two-piece blue suit with matching accessories and a red rosebud corsage.

The newlyweds are residing at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Smith attended Thurmont High School, and is employed at St. Joseph College.

The bridegroom is a 1964 graduate of Emmitsburg High School, and a 1966 graduate of Hagerstown Business College. He is employed by the Anning and Johnson Construction, Washington.

MS Fund Drive Now In Progress

This has been a century of great medical advances. Smallpox, malaria, yellow fever and typhus have been conquered. Infant deaths have been reduced by half every two decades. Poliomyelitis has been virtually eliminated. Death rates have been sharply reduced for influenza, tuberculosis and rheumatic fever.

Behind the conquest of these diseases lies the faith of countless suffering individuals and their loved ones. But also the dedication and enterprise of scientists, doctors, professionals and laymen.

Among the diseases that still remain medical mysteries is one that is a great crippler of young adults—multiple sclerosis. Some 500,000 Americans, mostly between the ages of 20 and 40, are afflicted with this debilitating disability with this debilitating disability is no known treatment.

No one knows how an individual becomes victimized by MS. No one knows a cure or preventive medical treatment. No one knows why this "foremost neurological problem of our time" is so devastating.

But the National Multiple Sclerosis Society—the only national voluntary health agency serving the needs in the field of multiple sclerosis and related diseases—is determined to find out. That is why for 23 years, since its founding in 1946, it has persistently underwritten a program of national and international research.

Over $8,900,000 has been expended on research projects and fellowship grants by the Society. Thanks to this, and the progress of many dedicated scientists, a breakthrough is anticipated by qualified observers. Victory over multiple sclerosis can and will be won because researchers now have the tools, the knowledge and the scientific and intellectual potential to conquer it.

Yes, faith helps. But funds are still needed if the scientists are going to be able to pursue the elusive crippler. That is why this year's MS Hope Chest Campaign (held between Mother's Day and Father's Day) is a crucial drive. Your contribution will help support the program of research, professional education, public education and patient services. All are needed to gain this victory over MS.

Keep your faith and your hope, but remember charity, too!

Your Federal Income Tax

Taxpayers who forgot to include all their income, deductions or credits when they filed their 1968 Federal income tax returns can correct these mistakes by filing Form 1040X.

Mr. Irving Machiz, District Director of Internal Revenue for Maryland and the District of Columbia, said that taxpayers using Form 1040X need only enter the information required to correct the mistake made on the original Form 1040 or 1040A. Another complete tax return does not have to be filed.

Errors in arithmetic will be corrected by Internal Revenue Service and an amended return should not be filed.

About 150,000 taxpayers used Form 1040X last year when it was first introduced. The form makes it easier for taxpayers to amend returns previously filed and speeds the processing of any additional refund that may be due.

Mr. Machiz said a taxpayer generally has up to three years after the deadline for filing a return to claim a refund. Copies of Form 1040X and instructions for filling it out are available at local IRS offices.

The prevalence of multiple sclerosis varies from place to place on the earth's surface but seems to be more prevalent in colder climates.

During a recent visit to Harriet Chapel at Catoclin Furnace by the Rt. Rev. Harry L. Doll, the Bishop of Maryland was presented with a copy of "Gateway To The Mountains," by the author. The Bishop expressed his delight in receiving a copy of the book.

Mr. Wireman announced this week that the distribution of all advance orders has been completed and the book is now on sale at Lewis' Store in Thurmont. Arrangements are now being made with area book stores to handle sales for surrounding communities. A copy of "Gateway To The Mountains" is now on display in the library of the Maryland Historical Society in Baltimore and a review is being prepared for publication in their quarterly magazine.

Looking Ahead

Dr. George S. Benson
President
NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM
Searcy, Arkansas

Five Minutes From Doomsday! NOTE: The following article is fictional. But it is fiction which, amidst the rising clamor for unilateral disarmament by the U.S.A., thrusts itself into the consciousness of this observer.

There is a fixed smile on the face of the Zovet Ambassador as he is ushered into the President's office and the door closes behind him. He shakes his head as the President, standing courteously behind his desk, motions him to be seated.

"Mr. President," says the Ambassador, "I have a very pleasant task. My Government has asked me to come here and suggest to you that you pick up your Krenlink telephone. Someone in Mozgo wishes to speak to you." "Now?" the President asks. "Now," says the Ambassador.

The President swings around rolling with his chair to the small cabinet behind his desk. He inserts a key, pushes a small button on the shelf, and in a moment recognizes the voice of the Chairman of the Central Committee, Zovet Communist Party. (The President notes with a twinge of anxiety that the Zovet Ambassador has moved around his desk to stand close to him, between him and the desk that holds the communicative mechanism controlling the entire military might of the United States. As his eyes flick down to the Ambassador's right hand, the President's left shoulder jerks as if an icy dagger had touched the center of his heart. A small black gun is held in the hand of the Ambassador.)

"World Peace" The Communist Boss on the telephone in Mozgo is talking: "Mr. President, I and the Supreme Zovet—and our Ambassador in your office—must insist that you hear me out. We have a proposition to make. It is in the interest of world peace. Listen, please."

"The United States, Mr. President, is surrounded with 2,000 50-megaton H-bombs mounted on missiles. Counting the ones we have in Cuba, in Mexico, and on the armadas of Zovet submarines in the waters off your east and west coasts, all ready to be instantly launched, there are 10 times enough to wipe out your 200 million people. If you could signal your intelligence planes, they could in five minutes fire exposed on railway car launchers strung out on the Northern coast of Cuba, from Matanzas to Havana, the H-bomb missiles that we did NOT withdraw in 1962, plus more than 100 additional ones. In the coastal hills of Eastern Mexico, your spotting planes could find, now exposed, additional batteries of H-bomb missiles, capable, by themselves of the total destruction of your American cities.

Ringed With H-Bombs "Our Submarine fleets are submerged along your coasts in the Atlantic and Pacific. Just two of our nuclear submarines in the Atlantic can, in five minutes, totally destroy Washington, New York and Philadelphia. In the skies, orbiting 100 miles in space above you, we have four launching platforms containing batteries of multiple-headed missiles that cannot be reached with any U. S. preventive. One of these platforms will be over the center of the U. S. in exactly five minutes. It carries 100 H-bombs.

"Every American missile emplacement, every bomber field, every military installation and unit in the U. S. is known to us, is targeted in for our first strike. All can be destroyed or made absolutely useless in five minutes.

"In addition, Mr. President, in our homeland we have perfected and expanded our defensive missile system which we began to deploy in 1963 (you call it "ABM"). Extensive testing and modernization of our widespread ABM defenses, assures us that damage from your submarine missiles, from missiles launched from your bomber and oversea bases would be of a measure acceptable to us—if, indeed, you sought to and could retaliate from these quarters.

Wholesale Destruction "In addition, Mr. President, we have explosive charges set and ready to ignite in all major U. S. industries. We have similar preparations at the sources of your transportation facilities, the power and water supply in your 35 major cities. Our revolutionary forces within your country, led by our comrades, the Black Vanguard and the Students for Violent Overthrow, have at this moment occupied the headquarters of the major television and radio networks, in fact, all communications systems including telephone and telegraph. Our people while I have been speaking to you have captured the White House, television cameras and radio microphones shortly will be brought into your office so that you can report the situation to the American people.

"In short, Mr. President, we are, as you might say, looking down your throat with a gun. And now, our proposition for world peace: "We request unconditional surrender of the United States to the Zovet. Unless you comply at once, we shall systematically destroy your nation. What shall the answer be, Mr. President?" Next week: The Answer.

OUR LIBRARY

The Emmitsburg Library circulated 773 adult books, 28 records, 10 films and 395 juvenile books for the month of April. The books totaled 1168.

A new addition to the literature collection at the library is the Burns Mantle Theater Yearbook—"The Best Plays of 1967-1968." Edited by Otis L. Guernsey, Jr., it covers the complete Broadway and Off-Broadway programs. It has directories of Shakespeare, London, Paris, cross-country theater 1967-68 statistics — articles, and photos.

"Thirteen Days" by Robert F. Kennedy. On Tuesday morning, Oct. 16, 1962, shortly after nine o'clock, President Kennedy called and asked me to come to the White House. He said only that we were facing great trouble. Shortly afterward, in his office, he told me that a U-2 had just finished a photographic mission and that the Intelligence Community had become convinced that Russia was placing missiles and atomic weapons in Cuba.

That was the beginning of the Cuban missile crisis—a confrontation between the two giant atomic nations, the U. S. and the USSR, which brought the world to the abyss of nuclear destruction and the end of mankind.

This book is recommended for people of all ages from 8 to 80. It depicts a situation that could happen again at any time.

"Baby and Child Care," by Dr. Benjamin Spock. There are 593 pages chock full of valuable information to the young mother. Some of the newer information will be appreciated by the mothers of several children.

"How Firm a Foundation," by Patrick Dennis, author of "Auntie Mame". Move over, Mame! You've been replaced by Lydia Fennessey, who elbowed her way up from a tacky luncheonette in Mackinaw City, Mich., to glittering stardom as the self-proclaimed First Lady of the fabulously rich Fennessey family. You will enjoy this side-splitting funny novel.

"Yankee From Olympus," by Catherine Drinker Bowen. The story of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes is, in a broad sense, the story of his country.

It's Time For ... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
WHAT IS BLINDNESS?

Blindness is a broad term and has different meanings. Legally, when one cannot see the big "E" on the chart, he may be called "economically blind." Which means he still has a little vision, but so little he cannot be gainfully employed. The government allows him an income tax deduction for "economic blindness."

Blindness is a relative term. Generally speaking, the public thinks of blindness as a complete loss of vision — but there are degrees of blindness. What if a person can see from the side, but not from the front? What if a person has only one eye? Is he blind—or partially blind? And if a person has lost his color vision, he is called "color blind" but isn't it true that his ability to make a living is affected if his loss is total?

Blindness can occur in many ways. It may happen in the optic nerve, in the brain, in the crystalline lens as in the case of cataract, or it may occur in the retina. When all these possibilities are considered, we realize the complexity of the term, "Blindness."

Much blindness could be prevented, according to the National Eye Research Foundation, if we had our eyes examined every six months.

It's called Posture Foundation and only P-F's have it.

Posture Foundation is a special wedge built into every P-F® sneaker. It helps distribute body weight correctly. So there's less strain on young foot and leg muscles. And healthy growing feet are encouraged to grow up that way. That's how the exclusive P-F wedge makes a big difference. But not the only one. Because P-F's are built with the strongest materials all around—the kind of quality that lasts longer.

When you look for kids' sneakers, look for the green P-F patch on the heel.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

The Trucking Industry
By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., May 22, 1969—Since the end of World War II, the truckers have made tremendous progress, outpacing the traffic gains in overall transportation by a substantial margin. This has been accomplished by diversion of traffic primarily from the rails. Today the trucking industry is one of the nation's largest, with revenues exceeding $50 billion annually. It provides employment for some 8,000,000 persons and is a major consumer of goods and services.

Joining Forces
This is not a centralized industry. It is highly fractionalized, involving more than 15,000 companies with only about 50 being publicly owned. Many privately held firms are still controlled by the founding families or original owners. But, in recent years there has been an increasing trend toward consolidation or merger. There seems little doubt that this trend will continue as the participants strive to extend their operating authorities and acquire established and professional management teams.

Other Growth Elements
Mergers and consolidations are not the only factors responsible for the industry's growth. Our population has moved to suburbia, away from the traditional rail centers. Decentralization of industrial production has also led to plants being built away from rail centers; and simultaneously our federal highway system, which is well along toward completion, has enabled other truckers to serve far-reaching markets.

Overhead Pressures
At the same time that revenues have grown, expenses have also increased, thereby resulting in a steady pressure on profit margins. The truckers' biggest expense is labor; wages and fringe benefits amount to some two-thirds of operating costs in comparison with 50% for railroads and 40% for airlines. Since 1963, the trucking industry has been absorbing increases in labor expense of about 5% a year. Through technological advances, it has been able to absorb these by use of larger equipment and tandem trailers.

Turnaround
The trucking industry has shown good profit improvement and, barring any unforeseen developments, the year as a whole should be very favorable. Aiding this year's results has been the rate relief granted by the ICC, which will more than offset the wage boosts. This, plus a generally stronger economy, labor accord, and increased freight movement, are all contributing factors to this year's earnings improvement for the truckers.

The success of the truckers is dependent on a healthy economy. Should there be a slackening, the trucking industry's growth rate would level off. But should such a slowdown occur, the Babson staff feels it would be only a temporary situation . . . not permanently damaging to this industry.

Bright Future
On the whole, we feel the trucking industry is in a favorable position, and we are optimistic concerning both its near- and long-term outlook. As more and more companies merge, the surviving firms should be in much stronger positions and better to cope with the narrow profit margins of this cyclical business. Also, unlike the situation in the rails, the Interstate Commerce Commission is not likely to become a roadblock to future combinations.

Advice
Presently, Babson's Reports is maintaining "hold" advices on the better quality issues in the group which have shown good earnings growth over the years and whose management is highly regarded in the industry. These include: McLean Trucking, Pacific Intermountain Express, National City Lines, Cooper Jarrett, and Ryder System, Inc. Several of these have been recommended by us during recent years. Currently, we favor for purchase the common stock of Consolidated Freightways near 33.

AN OPINION

By W. Terry Smith

Language as defined by Webster is any means, vocal or other, of expressing or communicating feeling or thought. Shortened, language is the art of communication. Classified as art then, the use and manipulation of words and the production of the desired result, are as effective or disappointing as the artist's capabilities.

The only thorn in this neat little package is that, as in most art, communication can be a two way street. It is incumbent on the audience to achieve a certain competence as it is upon the artist to produce to his highest capabilities. If Romeo and Juliet is incomprehensible, is the onus on us or Shakespeare?

If I in my attempt to convey a particular idea to a listener fails in that attempt, Should I as the originator always bear the complete responsibility for the negative result assuming of course that the correct language usage was utilized? Does not the listener or reader share some responsibility for the abortive attempt at communication?

If the preceding premise is rejected consider the following example. One is irascible who is by temperament prone to anger. One is choleric who is fiery or hot tempered. Testy implies peevish irritability, while touchy suggests a readiness to flare up or take offense. All of these words have a special nuance of their own, and all have similar yet distinctive shadings. Touchy is more common than choleric, but yet they simply do not mean exactly the same thing. Should the writer then be required to engage in inaccuracies simply because of the lack of comprehension of the majority of his readers? Or should the reader in his attempt at understanding the specific intent make some exertion on his own behalf?

Plato is enigmatic to most, but a joy to others. If the demands of the majority are to be acceded to then all future translations should read like a first grade primer. Perhaps the intricacies of a Bach fugue should be re-written in the chromatics of "old man Mose".

The abiding need of some people to reduce everything to its lowest common denominator is sad indeed. Condescension evokes anger in most, and yet when the baleful cry of "I can't understand him" arises coupled with a lack of effort at understanding, the invitation to banality is unmistakable. The constant reference by the intellectuals to the great unwashed mass is you, my friend. As long as the notion persists that the vast majority of people are hulking slob incapable of comprehension beyond the fifth grade level then the entertainment you get and the politicians you elect will be an exact mirror of this image. Maybe a little metal soap might not be a bad idea.

Multiple sclerosis is neither hereditary (passed down through the generations with some consistency), nor congenital (passed to a child in the womb of its mother), nor contagious (passed from one to another by closeness or contact).

"Staple" refers to cotton fiber length.

Nutritious And Convenient

Rice stuffed ham rolls are topped with a creamy delicious mushroom sauce in this quick and convenient casserole dinner. The sauce, made with fresh whole milk and a prepackaged sauce mix, insures extra nutritive value in the flavorful entree.

Nutritionists recommend that we receive quantities of milk each day. In addition to milk served as a beverage, prepare recipes that are rich in nutritious milk and milk-made products. The importance of a well-balanced diet including milk, meat, vegetables and fruits, and breads and cereals continues throughout life.

Rice Stuffed Ham Rolls
1/2 cup packaged precooked rice 8 slices boiled ham, 1/8-inch thick
1/2 cup chopped salted peanuts 2 cups milk
1/2 cup diced celery 1 envelope (1 3/4 oz.) mushroom soup mix
2 tablespoons chopped onion 1/2 cup white cooking wine or milk, as desired
1/4 cup butter
1/2 cup water

Sauté rice, peanuts, celery and onion in butter until onion is transparent. Add water and bring to boil. Cover. Remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes. Spread 2 heaping tablespoonsful of rice mixture on one end of each ham slice. Roll up and place rolls, seam side down, in shallow 2-quart casserole. Combine milk and soup mix; cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Stir in wine or additional milk, as desired. Pour over ham rolls. Bake in hot oven, 425°, 15 to 20 minutes or until hot and lightly browned. Makes 4 servings.

100,000 DOCTORS HAVE QUIT SMOKING CIGARETTES

Present indications are that 25 countries propose adopting or expanding their use of nickel and nickel alloys for coinage in 1969 or 1970. These changes will involve 41 denominations.

If the Shoe Fits
What further shoe care is recommended?
With the vast variety of leathers, fabrics and man-made shoe materials, it is important to know some of the methods used to preserve and protect them.
For leather, apply paste wax with a cotton cloth for a high gloss. When dry, rub with a fresh cloth, then finish with a lamb's wool brush.
Suede needs a light hand brush. First a gentle brushing to remove the dust. If the suede has been bruised, use an emery board very lightly to raise the surface. Clean with a very small amount of cleaning fluid. It is worth investigating some of the new cleaning products in spray cans that can be used on dark or pale colored suede.
Fabric shoes can be cleaned with cleaning fluid.
Campus and country boots get rough wear and should be cleaned after each wearing. If they are made of smooth leather, wash them with saddle soap, a small sponge and very little water. Then rub with a rough towel until dry and follow with a cream polish.

Senior Citizens Plan Activities
Monday morning at ten o'clock, the Official Board of the Senior Citizens Club met at the Center for the regular business session with seven members present.
The treasurer, Mr. Louis Stoner, gave a report of the results of the Spring Festival and the financial standing of the club. Over $300 was cleared. The amount of funds in the interest account is $890.28 at present with $1200 in the bank to match the Federal grant.
Discussion was held as to the further programs until fall. Due to the fact that Officer Filler was unable to give a talk for May 20, Mr. Arvin P. Jones graciously agreed to move up a month to show his slides from Alaska. It is hoped that Officer Filler will be able to be on the June program. In July, the club will have a picnic out at St. Joseph's picnic grounds. There are prospects of another showing of slides from Mrs. Mary Famous' lengthy trip taken over the winter. September, there will be a discussion of the heart transplants. October has been set aside for an amateur night.
Another trip is in the offing for July to the Dutch County to Landisville, which will be reported at the next meeting in more detail.
The Board set further meetings for the Mondays before each regular Tuesday meeting for every other month. Therefore, the next Board meeting will be at 10 a.m. in July on the Monday before the regular monthly Senior Citizens Club meeting.

Tuesday evening at 7:30, the Senior Citizens Club of Emmitsburg met at the Center with thirty-odd members present. After a prayer by Sister Julianna, Mrs. McNair headed a short business meeting with several announcements, one of which was that there will be a trip to the Dutch Country for the members on June 12, 1969. Further information will be announced later.
Mr. Arvin P. Jones was then introduced and gave a very interesting talk, illustrated by color slides, on their trip to Alaska, ably assisted by Mrs. Jones. Our forty-ninth State opens up a very different way of life from that lived in the rest of the United States. Everyone enjoyed the program greatly and all were truly appreciative of the information as well as the rugged beauties of that state.
Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lester Nester.

Delegates
Miss Mildred Harner, Emmitsburg, and Miss Marsha Gillin of Johnstown, Pa., were delegates from York Hospital School of Nursing, York, Pa., to the Student Nurses Association National Convention in Detroit, Mich., from May 14 until May 19. They flew from Friendship Airport, Baltimore, to Detroit. Miss Harner is Junior Class president and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Harner, Emmitsburg.

Frederick County Backgrounds

By SAMUEL CARRICK

Before continuing the notes on the third generation of the McNair family in America—in response to a request—the epitaphs from the altar tombs marking the graves of Alexander (2) and Margaret McNair.

First that of Alexander (2) McNair (1726-1816), the son of Robert (1) and Anne McNair:

"He was modest, meek and good indeed.

Courteous to all, helpful to those in need;

A careful father, and a loving friend;

Peaceable was his life and calm his end."

Mistress Margaret McNair, the consort of Alexander (2) McNair:

"A pleasing form, a generous, gentle heart,

A good companion, honest without art.

Just in her dealings, faithful to her friends;

Beloved thru life, lamented in the end."

The fine white marble tombs of Alexander (2) and Margaret McNair are in a remarkably good state of preservation. The tomb of Mistress Margaret McNair, however, is beginning to show the wear and tear of age, for it has lain, exposed to the elements for more than 150 years. Before too long the words of her epitaph will be indecipherable.

Smuel (2) McNair, the son of Alexander (2) and Margaret McNair, is interred just back of his father and mother—to the west—in Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard. The inscriptions follow:

6. "Sacred to the memory of Samuel McNair, the son of Alexander and Margaret McNair. Died June 2, 1828, aged 64 years, 9 months and 17 days."

7. "Sacred to the memory of Lavinia McNair, wife of Samuel McNair. Born Aug. 29, 1776, died Nov. 30, 1842, aged 66 years, 3 months and 4 days."

Interred with Samuel (3) and Lavinia McNair are their three infant children: Elizabeth (4), William (4) and Susan (4) McNair.

At least part of the fourth generation of the McNair family in America found a final resting place in old Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard.

In a plot, surrounded by a quaint iron fence, lies buried Samuel Scott (4) McNair, his wife, Statira C. (Bigler) McNair, and two of their children.

Samuel Scott (4) McNair was born January 21, 1807, presumably on the farm first owned by his grandfather, Alexander (2) McNair, and later by his father, Samuel (3) McNair, said lands being located within the bounds of the old Manor of the Masque, in what is now Adams County, Pa. Samuel Scott (4) McNair married Statira C. Bigler, the niece of Governor Bigler of California, and they were the parents of 10 children, as follows:

1. Alexander (5) McNair. Born Oct. 12, 1936, married Sept. 19, 1865 to Amelia Selina Jacobs (born Dec. 9, 1840, died July 10, 1921). Alexander (5) McNair served his country faithfully and well in the American Civil War. He died April 26, 1904.

2. Hiram (5) McNair, born in 1938, graduated from Pennsylvania (now Gettysburg) College, served in the Civil War as an officer. Married June 11, 1868 to Nettie S. Hauer.

3. Samuel Newton (5) McNair. Born Sept. 10, 1840. Served during the American Civil War in Cole's Cavalry. He was severely wounded in a skirmish at Leesburg, Va. A bullet passed through his left leg. He was postmaster at Emmitsburg for many years. Married on Feb. 16, 1871 to Mary Antonette Moutz (born April 16, 1939—died April 4, 1907).

Both Samuel Newton (5) McNair and his wife, Mary Antonette (Moutz) are buried in the Mountaintop Cemetery at Emmitsburg.

4. William Burns (5) McNair. Born March 14, 1945. Married on March 14, 1876 to Mary Jane Eckrode (died Dec. 14, 1914). William Burns (5) served in the American Civil War and died on February 26, 1920.

5. Watson W. (5) McNair. Born May 15, 1847. Served in the Civil War. Married and lived in the state of Iowa. No further data.

6. Jane (5) McNair. Twin of Watson W. (5). Born May 15, 1937, died February 19, 1859.

Jane A. (5) McNair is interred in her father's plot in Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard, and the inscription from the stone at her grave is as follows:

8. "In memory of Jane A. McNair, daughter of S. S. and S. C. McNair. February 19, 1859, aged 11 years and eight months."

7. Ellen (5) McNair, born Sept. 7, 1851, died unmarried in Baltimore, Md.

8. Robert (5) McNair, born August 5, 1853, moved to the west. No further data.

9. Harry (5) McNair, born June 21, 1859. Married and lived near Emmitsburg all of his life. Buried in Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard.

9. Harry McNair, born June 21, 1859. Died April 23, 1908, aged 48 years, 10 months and two days.

"Alice A. McNair (wife of Harry McNair, born Feb. 20, 1868, died Feb. 25, 1919, aged 56 years and five months."

Harry (5) McNair was married to Alice Amanda Keilholtz and as the inscriptions show she is buried beside him in the Presbyterian graveyard.

10. Margaret (5) McNair (twin of Harry (5) McNair), born June 21, 1859, died April 23, 1868, at Emmitsburg, Md.

Interred in the family plot at Tom's Creek, is a daughter of Samuel Scott (4) and Statira (Bigler) McNair, not listed in the family genealogy. Perhaps this is due to the fact that she died very young. From the inscription on her tombstone it can be determined that she was born in 1843, coming between Samuel Newton (5) and William Burns (5) McNair. This little girl lived just a little over two years. The inscription follows:

10. "In memory of Ann Jane

McNair, daughter of S. S. and S. C. McNair, died May 5, 1945, aged two years and eight months."

The data on the McNair clan will be concluded in this series next week.

Writer Resents TV Commercials

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Last Sunday, speaking from the window of his studio in Rome, the Holy Father urged mothers and fathers everywhere to become critics of mass media to protect their children.

When we consider that the Federal Communications Commission normally receives less than 3000 letters each year which comment on TV commercials—many such letters being favorable comment—we see how entirely appropriate and timely is the Pope's warning.

The latest offender, on the television media, is a soft drink company. How really embarrassing it is for a parent, while watching television with teen-age daughters, to suddenly be presented with the picture of a 95% naked blond wretch parading across the screen toward the ocean's edge. From behind, her bathing suit would easily fit twice between the stretch of the thumb and index finger. The words accompanying the picture warn the girls "someone will be watching." Disgusting! At prime TV hours, on a Sabbath afternoon this means about 23 million men, women and CHILDREN. It strikes me as preposterous, that in a republic where citizens are presumed to be responsible, as well as equal, that so few are willing to display responsibility by communicating just complaints to the government. Without responsibility freedom cannot live!

The mass media includes of course our magazines and newspapers, which brings me to the report which U. S. Senator Joseph D. Tydings made public last week concerning his "personal worth."

Considered in dollars and cents it amounted to two million dollars in round figures. Other items of personal worth were difficult to pin down; but the report did detail the financial aspects that attached to an article on gun-control which the senator recently authored for a cheap girly magazine. It is a pathetic commentary on the condition of public morals that a citizen should be obliged to purchase and bring into his home, such an absolute filthy publication in order to acquaint himself with the views of his elective representative to the U. S. Senate. Fortunately, in the fast approaching 1970 congressional election, voters will enjoy the opportunity to make their own assessment of Senator Tydings' "personal worth."
