Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Almost 600 persons were killed in traffic mishaps over the long Memorial Day weekend. Of course this was predicted and as usual the warning went unheeded, as it always does. Accidents are meant for other people, until it's too late. This is an average death rate of eight an hour over the holidays. Horrible to believe, but it is true. It gives me the horrors to think that we must face this identical slaughter on July 4, just a few short weeks away.

As we enter into the last part of the first half of the year and are coming face to face with the summer dry months, statistics show that we are a full eight inches short of rainfall to this very date. Crops and gardens are looking good and wells and the reservoirs are filled to capacity so we have a head start on any drought that might decide to linger with us.

The local Carnival had a bit of difficulty getting started this week but we are looking forward to a strong finish these last two nights. Monday evening a deluge hit the Town and naturally the affair was just about washed out. Tuesday evening was rather chilly and hurt the attendance. Wednesday was the first real break the Carnival got and a good crowd turned out to enjoy itself at the various amusements and the partaking of good food. Of course, Thursday evening was Parade night and the grounds were jammed to capacity as thousands of out-of-towners came here to witness the spectacle. We have Friday and Saturday to wind up the week and barring inclement weather good attendance is anticipated these two nights. See you at the Carnival!

County Taxes Upped 24c; Rate Now $2.54

Calling the final fiscal 1970 budget a "realistic" one, the Frederick County Commissioners hiked the real estate tax 24 cents to pay for the increases.

The tax rate is now set at $2.54 per $100 assessed valuation, up from the fiscal 1969 figure of $2.30. Last year, the tax was raised 15 cents, and this year was hiked nine cents more than last year's increase.

There was no apparent reaction immediately forthcoming from a group formed to fight higher taxes in the county.

The total county budget amounts to $16,425,257, an increase of $2,443,101 over the $13.9 million figure last year.

The commissioners made several large cuts in the requested $15.1 million Board of Education budget and the teacher salary package. The school board had asked the county to pay $10.6 million of their budget. The final county appropriation for the next fiscal year is $8,992,612 for education and the final total Board of Education budget, including state funds is set at $13,538,308.

The commission cut $100 from the starting salary request for teachers. The request was for $6,600. The county has estimated it will save $145,575 by having a $6,500 starting salary.

They also put a limitation on raises for teachers. The stipulation is that no individual will receive a raise of more than $1,000. The kindergarten program requested by the school board was eliminated from the budget for the second straight year. The program would have cost $282,617 according to the school board but only $149,448 would have been county funds.

Robert E. Dailey, president of the Frederick City and County Tax League, said that his group had not met since the commissioners raised the real estate tax rate.

In a resolution from the more than 700 members of the league, the commissioners were requested to hold the tax rate at $2.30, the 1968 rate.

Dailey noted that the executive committee of the league met the night before the announcement of the increase and no action has been taken since. He felt that the full membership of the league should act rather than just the executive committee.

Another full meeting of the league membership is planned in the near future according to the president. Details of the meeting should be released shortly according to Dailey.

More than 650 persons attended the first meeting during May at which the motion passed requesting the commissioners to hold the tax rate.

Offers Comment On Graceham Fire Co. Problem

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

In light of a recent article in the Frederick Post announcing the decision of the Woodsboro Fire Co. to discontinue assisting the Thurmont Fire Co. with their fire equipment and ambulance, unless the Graceham Fire Co. was called before them to assist, I feel it is time our firemen take action on these lines also. Emmitsburg has an outstanding fire company and as a citizen of Emmitsburg, I will stand behind them 100%, but I feel it is time to lay down some guide lines when it comes to assisting the Thurmont Fire Co.

I know many times the Emmitsburg Fire Co. has been called to assist Thurmont with fire or ambulance calls, when our equipment and manpower was needed, but, do you think it is fair to the citizens of Emmitsburg, to take our main fire fighting equipment or ambulance nine miles to assist or stand-by for the Thurmont Fire Co., when the Graceham Fire Co. is only two and one-half miles away from Thurmont? I'm not trying to tell our firemen how to run our fire company, but, on the other hand, I don't think Thurmont should either.

Town Board Meets; Retains Same Tax Rate

Emmitsburg will retain the same real estate tax rate it has had for the past decade it was decided at the regular monthly meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners held Monday night in the Town Office. Chairman of the Board Ralph McDonnell presided with all members present.

Mayor Robert A. Seidel announced the Board had agreed to retain the same 70c per $100 tax on local real estate, one of the lowest in the County.

The Board unanimously adopted the annual budget proposed by the Mayor. Several local citizens were in attendance at the meeting. Sterling Goulden, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Newcomer asked the Council to examine the street leading to their properties on Federal Hill in regards to making some repairs. The Board said it would examine all local streets and alleys and would seek estimates on having them repaired. Mrs. Joseph M. Haley and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stover sought to have the Board name a new superintendent of public works but no action was taken on this matter. Kenneth Gigeous was present and asked the Town about a roadside drain pipe in front of his property on N. Seton Ave. The Town said it would contact the State Roads Commission concerning the matter. Patrick B. Boyle called the attention of the Council that weeds were getting higher in the alleys and also recommended that a new superintendent be employed.

The minutes of a recent special meeting were approved and parking at St. Joseph's Church on Sunday mornings was discussed and it was decided to turn the matter over to the Church Council. David Smith, manager of the College Inn, sought a permit to hold dancing at the snack bar on the Square. Council informed him it had no jurisdiction over such matters. Tax refunds were ordered for the Zimmerman estate building on the Square and the property of the late George H. Sanders.

The Council decided to contact the owner of the Postoffice building relevant to a section of land in the rear backlot, as per agreement when the building was erected. The Commissioners discussed the recent cleaning of Reservoir No. 3 and decided that it should be recleaned. The May financial report was approved as presented and mechanical parts and supplies ordered for the water filtration plant. After much consideration the Town Fathers came to the conclusion that perhaps water meters would be beneficial to the Town interests and could possibly cut down on wasteful water consumption, if installed. The Council has decided to check prices on the installation of meters and seriously consider employment of their use.

Police Chief Henry Filler presented his monthly report. He stated that a number of parking meter tickets had been found in the flag holders anchored to the parking meters around the Square. Recipients of these tickets apparently thought the holders were some sort of collection boxes and deposited their tickets and money in them. Council ordered a collection box for tickets to be placed on the Square, with proper identification. Council instructed Chief Filler to issue fishing permits for Rainbow Lake. The auditor's monthly report was approved by the Council prior to adjournment.

Mayor Robert Seidel and Commissioner Norman Flax spent Tuesday with Mr. Hawkins of the State Health Dept. Mr. Hawkins conducted several tests at the water and sewer plants and commented on the good condition of both plants.

Sister M. Angela Saffer accompanied by her Superior Mother, M. Elizabeth Curley, of Tacoma, Wash., to a meeting of major superiors in Washington, D. C., and spent the past week visiting her mother, Mrs. John Saffer, at St. Martin's Home in Baltimore. Typing Course
Being Offered

For the first time in its summer program, this year Frederick Community College is offering a course in personal typing. The class will meet Monday through Thursday, from 8 to 9:40 p. m., beginning Monday, June 23, and ending July 31.

The course is designed for those who have had little or no instruction in touch typing and should satisfy the needs of those who wish to apply their typing skills in various ways. It should prove valuable for college students for typing projects and papers in their future classes; for school teachers who must prepare tests and other class materials; for businessmen who prefer to handle certain jobs personally, and even for housewives who may have opportunities to type personal business letters, recipes, or possibly minutes of their organization's meetings.

This offering is in keeping with the college philosophy of providing for the needs of the residents of Frederick County. Frederick Community College has begun to expand the secretarial division of its business department, and this is one of the first evidences of the additional services it will be able to provide.

All persons interested in enrolling for the course in personal typing should contact the Counseling Dept., 9-4, Monday through Friday and Wednesday night, 6-8 p. m.

What's one life

who thinks he has nine.

You think it's easy for us to talk to a person who treats his life as though he's got eight more to go?

Or to reason with someone who tells you it can't happen to him, because he's different?

Or to make any headway with a fellow whose mind is closed tight?

Believe us, it's no picnic. We know how deadly cancer can be if it's not caught in time. And we know that thousands more could be helped every year merely by going for a check-up when they thought they were healthy.

There are 1,500,000 people, leading active lives today... living proof that many cancers are curable. 200,000 were saved last year. Annual checkups can help save thousands more. What are you waiting for?

Help yourself with a checkup. And others with a check.

CONTACT LENSES

If you are considering wearing contact lenses, the only person you should consult is your own eye specialist. He is the only one who can tell you if you can wear the tiny seeing aids.

Some people cannot wear contacts, but for those who can adapt to them after being professionally fitted, many conveniences can be enjoyed.

The cost of contact lenses vary depending upon the prescription and the doctor's time in fitting to insure you a proper pair. They may be protected against loss and prescription changes do not occur as often as spectacle changes.

According to the National Eye Research Foundation, there are between 4 and 6 million Americans who have been fitted with contacts. But your own eye doctor is the one to decide.

There are approximately 12,000 members of the eye profession who prescribe and fit contact lenses. Maybe your eye doctor is one of them.

States by the "Zovet" Union carried in our previous columns, there is an unending documented record on the four main points made in our episode of imaginary future history — (1)
the unremitting determination of the Communists to take over the United States; (2) their headlong rush to gain military supremacy over the United States; (3) their achievement of supremacy; and (4) their deceptive strategy to use it.

Here are the historic declarations on take-over, out of the mouths of the Red bosses themselves:

"The Communists declare that their ends can be attained only by the forcible overthrow of all existing social conditions," Karl Marx, said in his COMMUNIST MANIFESTO, published in 1948.

"As soon as we are strong enough to defeat capitalism
(the U. S.) as a whole, we shall immediately take it by the scruff of the neck," Nikoli Lenin, who led the bloody revolution that seized Russia in 1917, wrote
this in 1920 (Selected Works, Vol. VIII).

"To Bury" The U.S.A.

"The victory of the revolution in Russia is the beginning of the groundwork for world revolution," Josef Stalin, who became Red boss after Lenin, wrote this in "The October Revolution," published in Moscow in 1940.

"Whether you like it or not, history is on our side. We will bury you (the U.S.)!" Nikita, Stalin's "hatched man" who came to power after Stalin's death,
said this to the U. S. Ambassador at a Kremlin party, November 17, 1956. He repeated the statement frequently.

"With all the talk about friendship, peace and 'building
bridges,' does the Soviet Union
still have as its primary objective the overthrow of capitalism?" This question was asked of Soviet Premier Aleksei Kosygin at the end of a press conference in New York, July 1967. The Soviet spokesman of the moment replied: "Of course!"

Building Military Might

With their unflinching determination to destroy the American system and take over the nation, the Soviets must have dominant military power. To achieve it they must maneuver

the United States into unilateral (one-sided) disarmament while building up the might of the Soviet Union. And they have.
Here is the chilling news—from an objective source: the International Institute of Strategic Studies, London, England, in its Special Report of April 10, 1969:

"Soviet Russia has become the full equal of the United States in military and political terms and is likely to overtake America in ICBMs by the middle of 1969 . . . The proliferation of submarines, including long-range types, has transformed Russia from a military land animal into a military universal animal . . . The United States has lost the desire and ability to be the world's dominant power."

Soviet Superiority

And here are two shocking
reports from American sources:
NATIONAL STRATEGY
COMMITTEE, American Security Council, May 1969: "It is no longer necessary to suppose . . . that the Soviets will aim for strategic military superiority. Reality now conforms to theory. We now know that the Soviet's military objective is strategic superiority because they have passed 'parity' and are still building. The combined
total of ICBMs, IR-MRBMs (Intermediate and Medium

In his testimony February 20
to the Armed Services Committee, Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird made these disclosures: (1) The Soviet Union is striving for "first strike" superiority; (2) The Russians are building the number of missiles
they need to so utterly destroy the United States it cannot even retaliate; (3) They are improving and expanding their ABM

(defensive) system which they began deploying in 1963; (4)
The Soviets are in a "crash" program to overtake the U. S.
lead in atomic submarines; (5)
They are deploying a Fractional
Orbit Bombardment System
(FOBS), a "first strike" space weapon that launches its multiples of warheads from orbit.

Is a change of shoes advisable?

Yes, change shoes and hosiery at least once a day. You will find it is very refreshing and gives you a definite "lift". Shoes are designed for different purposes.
Use the appropriate shoe for the purpose. If you stand for long periods on your job, wear comfortable shoes with low heels.
The shoes worn by nurses are an example of a good functional shoe.
Take the greatest care in fitting your shoes. Do not depend on size or number alone, but have them fitted with the correct last or shape every time you buy new shoes. Improper shoes can deform the feet with bunions, corns and callouses and can contribute to more serious ailments.

Changing shoes for work, play or relaxation can give a lift to your spirits and contribute to your good health and morale.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
WHAT IS AN EYE
EXAMINATION?

There are 185 million Americans who are in need of eye care—and there are approximately 30,000 people in the eye field who can take care of this need. These are the people who can correct your vision, if possible.

The reason there are not more in this field is because the public, for the most part, is unaware of the necessity of eye care. Few people understand that a professional eye examination can entail as many as 45 or more different phases.

Most people think of their vision only in terms of 20/20, but this is not the only factor involved. How is your depth perception? How fast do you read? How slowly? Do you know for sure you are not color-blind? In a factory where color is an important item, we learned that no employee had ever been given a color blindness test.

As people become more aware of eye care, much blindness will be prevented. Most organizations concerned with vision, such as the National Eye Research Foundation, claim that 50 per cent of all blindness could be cured if only we were to have our eyes examined regularly. At present, it is estimated that 30,000 people will lose their vision one year from the day you read this column.

Don't take chances with your vision—have your eyes examined soon.

american cancer society

Among the nation's youths speaking up for what they believe are three million 4-Hers. They espouse the "head, heart, hands and health" philosophy of helping themselves and others grow in mind and spirit, and in skills as well.

Thousands of members annually participate in the 4-H Public Speaking program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. It is designed not only to teach them how to speak, but also how to research and organize their material. Open to boys and girls from 9 to 19 years of age, the program helps develop the youngster's personality as well, 4-H leaders point out.

Competition is keen. Through speaking contests they judge each other's performance and their own progress. Awards are provided by Union 76 Division, Union Oil Company of California, the program sponsor for 20 years.

The 1969 awards consist of two $600 scholarships for the top boy and girl speaker in the nation, plus an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress held in Chicago the week after Thanksgiving.

Also, the two state finalists will each receive a $50 U.S. savings bond, and the highest ranking pair in the county will win the public speaking medal.

This generation of 4-Hers are just as much at ease before a microphone or TV camera as they are talking to their fellow members. Those who have devoted several years to the art of public speaking say that the training has been a big help in school and community endeavors.

Their 4-H records show that many have become student leaders, and have held offices in school, 4-H Clubs and in other youth groups as well.

Facsimile Transmission
In Business

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., June 5, 1969—The sending of information in printed form or handwritten over microwave, satellite, radio, or privately leased telephone lines—facsimile transmission—has long been used by newspapers, wire services, magazines, and government bureaus. However, the recent development of simpler units over which data can be sent and received over the ordinary public telephone system (for the cost of a regular telephone call plus equipment rental charges) opens up an entirely new and promising area for business information. Babson's Reports expects an explosive growth, in time, comparable to the office copier boom.

The Market
 Because of technological breakthroughs, in the form of the Transceiver (a combination transmitter-receiver) and a Dataphone which can provide automatic answering there is an almost unlimited range of applications from engineering drawings, medical records, criminal identifications to simple letters and customer orders. In addition, the declining costs of transmission from six to three minutes and soon to one minute of time plus the drop in rental charges to as low as $65 monthly open up a vast market. At present there are fewer than 20,000 facsimile systems in operation but only 4,000 of them are currently for business correspondence. Industry estimates look for the sale of at least 100,000 units within the next three years and one fledgling manufacturer sees a total market of 500,000 machines during the next 10 years.

The Franchisee Network

A service or ancillary network has sprung up where individuals and companies not owning the necessary facsimile equipment can send their documents at a charge ranging from $2.50 to $8.95 per page. Already several companies have set up operation. These firms lease or buy the various facsimile equipment now on the market and, in turn license franchisee operators who open up different locations and pay royalties to the parent service networks. It was estimated that as of last September some 500 machines were in operation but that more than 5,000 units would be needed in the future. Babson's Reports believes the creation of these satellite bureaus could give a dynamic stimulus to the, up to now, nascent industry.

Investment Opportunities

There are several major companies producing facsimile transmission systems and a growing number of smaller but distribution- and resource-limited newcomers. It was Magnavox in 1966 that introduced a single low-cost unit and started the movement for business applications. Magnavox makes and sells the device but has given Xerox a non-exclusive royalty-bearing license to produce a similar machine. Another major company, Addressograph-Multigraph, is planning to introduce its own version by the end of 1969. One service network is already preparing to offer its securities publicly, but its success will depend on adroit marketing.

Two Recommendations

Babson's Reports is recommending Addressograph-Multigraph and Magnavox for purchase, primarily for their competence and success in their respective industries. Magnavox's pioneering efforts in facsimile transmission began with its early entry into document storage and retrieval and remote copy equipment. It is believed that Magnavox (along with Xerox) is probably one of the few companies making money in facsimile transmission equipment.

Addressograph-Multigraph, with revitalized management, has a solidly-based office equipment mix. A-M enjoys a prestige position in the field and has developed several new highly promising types of copier/duplicator equipment. Its forthcoming Telikon facsimile device is expected to be marketed in late 1969 or early 1970 and could readily contribute to earnings soon thereafter. Both companies offer investors a position in growing segments of our economy.

Why is safety glass
required on cars.
And not on people?

We're relieved that state laws require safety windshields.

But we'd feel a lot better if people took the same precaution with their eyes.

That's why we recommend a special heat treatment which tempers the lenses of your glasses after they're ground.

This tempering process doesn't make your glasses break-proof.

But it does make them shatter-resistant.

This means your eyes won't be injured by flying glass.

What does this process cost?

About the price of a large pizza.

Frederick County Backgrounds

By Samuel Carrick

Eleanor (Cochran) Junkin

The account of the Enoch Brown massacre, mentioned in last week's column, is continued at this time. This brutal assault is described by the historian Parkman as an "outrage unmatched in its fiend-like atrocity in all the annals of history." Be that as it may — frontier warfare was brutal in all its aspects and the fault cannot be laid entirely on the Indians. The native Americans were fighting to retain possession of their ancestral lands and their own particular way of life. There was blame on both sides and the innocent suffered as they have in all wars.

Eleanor (3) Cochran, daughter of John (2) and Eleanor (Baird) Cochran, was born on her father's plantation, located along the old Monocacy Road, between Waynesboro and the mountain, in what is now Franklin County, Pennsylvania. John (2) Cochran was an early settler and a neighbor of John Wallace, founder of the town of Waynesboro. From the records it would appear that the Cochran and Wall families were related by marriage.

It is interesting to note that the Cochran lands remained in that family until 1826 at which time they were purchased by Lewis Rinehart. The Cochran burial ground is located on this property and although little remains to designate the site there is enough to tell a fairly complete story of John (2), son of William (1) and Sarah (Cochran) Cochran.

Now as regards the Cochran family and the Enoch Brown massacre. It was during the summer of 1764 that Eleanor (3) Cochran went to live in the family of George Brown at Brown's Mills in order that she could attend school at Guitner's Schoolhouse, under the supervision of the schoolmaster, Enoch Brown. It was on July 26th of that year that the master and ten of his pupils were murdered by the Indians—just a day after they had killed an scalped Susan (King) Cunningham.

Strange to relate Eleanor (3) Cochran's life was saved on that eventful day, as well as that of her friend, Sarah Brown, because they were kept at home to care for the younger children while the older members of the household were engaged in pulling flax.

One of Eleanor (3) Cochran's sons relates this incident as it was told to him by his mother, as follows: "From my mother I have often heard the tale of her preservation from a dreadful death. She was about seven or eight years old at the time and was one day kept home from school (with another girl a little older than she was) to take care of the smaller children, while the adults of the family, assisted by the neighbors, joined in the 'flax pulling.' That day a party of Indians (Delawares) came upon the schoolhouse, murdered the master and ten of his pupils. One boy, knocked on the head and scalped as were his classmates, lived to tell the tale. Archie McCullough later related how the master was first tomahawked and scalped and then the children. Archie McCullough fell under the blow aimed at him and was scalped as all the rest were. But he recovered, kept still and heard the savages driving the hatchet into the skulls of those who showed signs of life, while, by lying quiet as if dead, he escaped a second blow, and lived to tell the whole sad story."

Sarah Brown and Eleanor (3) Cochran were providentially absent and what had seemed a hardship turned out to be a blessing. Eleanor (3) Cochran became the wife of Captain Joseph Junkin in 1779. He was a hero of the War of the American Revolution and his right arm was shattered by a musket ball at the Battle of Brandywine.

Among the descendants of Captain Joseph and Eleanor (3) Cochran Junkin were many outstanding men and women. Their son, Dr. George (4) Junkin, was a widely known minister and educator. In 1849 Dr. George (4) was elected president of Washington College, now Washington and Lee University, in Virginia. There his wife and three other members of his family are buried, in the Lexington Cemetery. One of the daughters of Dr. George (4) Junkin was Margaret (5) Junkin, the American poetess. Another daughter, Eleanor (5) Junkin, named for her grandmother, became the wife of General "Stonewall" Jackson of the Confederate Army.

Now to return to the John (2) Cochran homestead and the family burial ground, which has been ignored, forgotten, and neglected for many, many years. It is located between the old barn and the public road. Sixteen bodies are said to have been interred there, but only three markers remain to show where the graves are and of these the inscription is partly legible on only one. It reads as follows:

1. "Here lies the body of / Eleanor Coughran / who departed this life / the 28th day of February, A.D. / 1791 / aged 74 years. / Whom — silent — abide, / With son and grandson by her side, / Let none molest their bones or clay, / Till they arise on eternal day."

This stone was broken from its base more than a hundred years ago and was found about 1930 along a fence row some distance from the burial plot.

The location of three of the graves can be determined by "stubs" of markers, which still remain in the ground. Two appear to have been shaped from native stone, but the third, the broken stone, is beautifully carved. However, unless care and attention are soon given this plot, all trace of site and markers will soon disappear.

The name Eleanor Cochran, together with the names of the son and grandson, inscribed on the broken stone, was evidently intended for the wife, Eleanor (Baird) Cochran (sometimes spelled Coughran, Choehrane, Cochran or Cochran), son and grandson of John (2) Cochran. It is said that this broken stone was the only one, especially cut, in the burial plot. All the others were just ordinary fieldstones.

According to a fairly reliable Cochran family tradition it was the custom of old John (2) Cochran to sit under the shade of a large walnut tree that stood beside the little graveyard and read his Bible. He was often heard to say that he wished to be interred beneath this tree. As he had requested so was his body buried beneath the tree's "spreading branches." If John (2) Cochran's grave was ever marked the stone has long since disappeared.

The notes on the Cochran family will be continued in this series next week.

EYLER—BARBE

Miss Ann Kathleen Barbe became the bride of Donald Wayne Eyer, Saturday, May 31, at St. Anthony's Church, Emmitsburg, Md.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Vernon Barbe of Rocky Ridge, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Eyer of Sabillasville.

The Rev. Carl J. Fives officiated in the double-ring ceremony. Altar boys were Dale Shields and Joel Neighbours. Appropriate wedding selections were sung by Mr. Eugene Rosensteel, accompanied by Mrs. Alma Seltzer.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an exquisite white A-line gown of peau de soie and French imported lace, designed and hand-fashioned by the mother of the bridegroom. The lace bodice with an empire waistline and scalloped neckline, was adorned with bell-shaped lace applique pearl enhanced sleeves. Her detachable chapel train was richly bordered with lace appliques and pearl trim. Her bouffant white silk illusion five-tiered chapel length veil fell from a beautiful hand-made petal cluster of pearls and sequins touched with lace and satin and she carried a cascade bouquet of daisies.

Mrs. Joseph L. Topper, Gettysburg, Pa., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an aqua blue floor length sleeveless gown of brocade. Her gown featured a scoop neck, empire waist and a straight skirt. The entire gown was covered with a flowing cape effect, trimmed with satin bows at the shoulders. She wore a matching forward flowerette nosegay veil trimmed in pearls and rhinestones.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Long, Hagerstown, sister of the bride, Mrs. David Bosworth, Frederick, and Miss Julie Neighbours, Emmitsburg. All of the bridesmaids wore yellow gowns and headpieces styled identically to that of the matron of honor. They carried colonial bouquets of aqua blue and yellow daisies. Each attendant wore formal length gloves and pearl necklaces, gift of the bride. Miss Tamera Ann Topper, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her gown was styled identically to those of the bridesmaids, her headpiece was a yellow bow trimmed in daisies and she carried a basket of aqua blue and yellow daisies. She wore a silver locket, a gift of the bride.

Best man was Dominick Sicilia, Thurmont. Ushers were Richard Elliott, Elmira, New York, Lawrence Freshman, Thurmont, and Myron Ahalt, Middletown. Ring bearer was Kevin Davis, cousin of the bridegroom. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Barbe wore a beige crepe dress and matching jacket with aqua blue accessories and a white rosebud corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pink metallic bonded knit dress featuring scalloped neck and hemline, white accessories and a white rosebud corsage.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the Shamrock Restaurant, Thurmont, Md. Mrs. Charles Biser, aunt of the bridegroom, cut the four-tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Donald Davis, Mrs. Robert Rutherford, aunts of the bridegroom, Mrs. Harold Barber, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Diane Shields, served the cake. Mrs. John Davis, aunt of the bridegroom and Mrs. Roy Miller, attended the punch bowls. Mrs. Robert Keeney presided at the guest book.

For their wedding trip through the New England States, the bride wore a long sleeve blue and white A-Line dress with white collar and cuffs, blue accessories and a corsage of daisies.

Fugitive Capture

Two Emmitsburg area citizens were credited Monday by a Maryland State Police trooper with apprehension of a man who escaped from the Adams County, Pa., jail on April 18.

Albert Joseph Myers, 21, Littlestown R1, was nabbed Sunday night after he had been chased 500 to 600 feet through a field off Route 97, near Emmitsburg, to a creek located near a wooded area.

Maryland State Police Trooper Donald Higgins said Alfred C. Hahn and Charles J. Champlain, both of Emmitsburg R1, gave chase to Myers after his car smashed into a tree.

Trooper Higgins said he observed Myers' 1957 Mercury while on patrol on Route 97, and started pursuit. About a mile west of Emmitsburg Myers attempted to enter a driveway between two houses. His vehicle struck two mail boxes and crashed into a tree.

Myers then left his car and ran. Hahn and Champlain, who were sitting in front of their homes, observed the accident and pursued Myers on foot.

Just minutes after the accident, Trooper Higgins arrived. The Emmitsburg men held Myers at bay until Trooper Higgins took him into custody. Trooper Higgins said that both men chased Myers thinking he was attempting to flee the accident scene. They were surprised to find they caught a prison escapee.

Trooper Higgins said Myers suffered a slight laceration of the forehead when he wrecked his auto.

He was removed to the Frederick County jail to await extradition proceedings.

Myers had escaped the Adams County jail April 18 when he, Sheridan Richard Jones, 19, San Pedro, Calif., and Robert Kenneth Free, York, overpowered turnkey John Knox as he was placing two other prisoners in the main cellblock. Jones was captured minutes after the break by Gettysburg patrolmen. Free turned himself over to York city police a few days later. It was the second escape by Myers from the jail.
