- By Abigail -

After two long years of diligent, arduous and tedious work, the Chamber of Commerce has tossed in the sponge and called off its efforts to erect a community swimming pool. Much time and work was spent in studying plans, getting bids, obtaining blueprints and raising money. The efforts were fruitless and after two years, during which only $4,000 was raised, it was reluctantly decided by the group that the project be discontinued. Checks were mailed to all donors last week. The ill-fated project is a sad criterion of the lack of spirit and interest on the part of the citizenry of this town. An enthused group of individuals plunged into this community project with high hopes that in two years Emmitsburg youngsters and adults, too, could be enjoying the fun and relaxation that is afforded by a swimming pool on those torrid summer days. Their hopes have been shattered on the sharp rocks of disinterest and public apathy and it appears now that it will be many a year, if ever, that another group will stick its neck out, so to speak, and try and rejuvenate any plans for a community pool. The Chamber has not lost faith in the community, however, and it will continue its efforts to establish a Recreational Area on the site of the proposed pool. In the meantime, those of you who like to swim, will have to continue commuting with neighboring towns' pools.

In just about another month a history making event will occur, successfully we hope, when the United States lands a man on the moon. It's amazing how much science has learned and achieved during the past decade. It was just 10 years ago that the Russians were years ahead of the rest of the world in rocket and space study, engineering and accomplishments. Not so now, we are the leaders and we pray for the successful completion of this most important mission next month.

The local Lions Club ran into a streak of bad-luck last Friday the 13th, when rain, in deluge proportions, washed out its annual Community Auction. I have been informed that the event has been rescheduled and that it will now be held on June 27th, so don't forget the date. In the meantime, if you have any items you would like to offer for sale, and have them picked up, just notify any of the Lions.

Like most everything else, we are paying more but getting less. This is true with community service as well as food and housing. Right now, after several postal rate raises these past few years, the Post-office Dept. is planning to cut down on the service offered. Come July there will be only one mail distribution per day here, as well as in many other small rural areas and towns. The move is suavely described as an effort to provide "more stable and dependable delivery schedules". You and I both know this is false economy and the service will absolutely not improve, you can bet your bottom dollar on that. Now is the approp time to write or wire your Senator or Congressman in Washington and demand that this curtailment in service will not be tolerated!

Firemen Douse Car Fire

The Vigilant Hose Co. was called Tuesday afternoon at 2:45 when a car owned by Mrs. Mary Hatter burst into flames at her home along the Annandale Rd., two miles west of Emmitsburg.

Chief Guy R. McLaughlin said Mrs. Hatter's son had attempted to start the car when the blaze occurred. He said the fire was confined to the carburetor area and "was about the fourth fire we have been called to this year where cars caught fire after the air filter was taken off."

Mrs. Ethel Mumma of Rocky Ridge is a patient at Washington County Hospital in Hagerstown.

Dr. J. J. Dillon New Mount Vice President

His Eminence, Lawrence Cardinal Shehan, chairman of the board of trustees of Mount Saint Mary's College, has announced the following actions as a result of the regular June meeting of the board.

Elected to seven-year terms on the board of trustees were Rt. Rev. Paul J. Mullaney, pastor of the City of St. Jude at Montgomery, Alabama, and Thomas S. Hogan, LL.B., a law partner in the law firm of Hogan and Hogan in Providence, R. I. The new trustees succeed Rt. Rev. Francis A. Costello, LL.D., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Joseph M. Fitzgerald, Coral Gables, Fla., whose terms expired.

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Rev. Paul V. Redmond as vice president of the college. He had requested to be relieved of his administrative duties to return to a full teaching schedule. Father Redmond will continue at the college as an associate professor of philosophy.

Named to succeed Father Redmond was Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., a member of the English department for the past 29 years. Dr. Dillon will become acting executive vice president, charged by the board of trustees with management of the college's internal affairs, freeing Rt. Rev. Hugh J. Phillips, college president, for representative work and external affairs.

The board of trustees seriously considered the recent censure of members of the administration by the faculty and rejected the faculty action because of the lack of "due process" in the faculty proceedings. The board expressed dismay that the faculty had not afforded the administrators the same privileges it advocates for treatment of its own grievances.

The board entertained the so-called five student demands and considered recommendations of the college president and tripartite committee. The board acted unanimously in all instances.

The board decided to reject the recommendation that curfew be eliminated for freshmen and sophomores, and ordered provisions of the existing student handbook to remain in operation. The board felt that the college owes a responsibility to the parents, and in as much as the catalogue and handbook state that a curfew exists, the curfew should not be abandoned until a consensus of opinion of parents is obtained and reviewed by the board.

The board adopted the recommendation of the president and tripartite committee with reference to campus dress, deciding that this should be left in the hands of the administration and student body.

Off-campus living will be permitted, providing students wishing to do so furnish written permission from parents, and further providing that students living off campus take no meals at the college and not use college laundry facilities.

The student request for visitation privileges for ladies in dormitory lounges was rejected. The board said such visitation rights would be totally impractical with the existing physical layout of the dormitories. Only one of these buildings has what might be considered a lounge. The board said further consideration of this proposal would be delayed until a full and complete study is made of structural changes that would be required, and the financial burden that the college would incur if it were to make the required changes.

The request for a "21 club" on campus was likewise rejected by the board of trustees. The board

Citizen Suggests Revision Of Election Qualifications

Honorable Robert A. Seidel
Mayor
Emmitsburg, Maryland

Dear Mr. Seidel:

There appeared recently in the Emmitsburg Chronicle an article about the possibility of changing regulations governing those eligible for filing as candidates for local elected office.

It is apparent that discontent exists among some of the citizenry regarding restrictions on selection of candidates for local government. It is my understanding that persons employed by a higher governing authority (county, state or federal) are ineligible by virtue of their employment from seeking office locally and this cannot be changed by local law. A second restriction, property ownership, renders additional citizens ineligible and this could be changed locally. In a recent research report I noted that many, if not most, municipalities in Maryland have abolished property ownership as a prerequisite for local office. The proposed constitution voted on last year in Maryland contained this provision and had it passed would have superseded our own local law. Perhaps we should have foresight enough to attend to this matter for ourselves before it is legislated for us.

It appears that this might prove to be a change that would benefit Emmitsburg in the years to come. I realize that a change of this magnitude requires thought and that the Town Council alone might not wish to reach a decision. Could it not then be publicized in the press and a ballot of some type be included with the next tax bills to be returned to the town by the taxpayer indicating the taxpayer's wishes in the matter? With this information council could reach a decision serving the majority of the electorate indicating their wishes in the matter. This method would seem far more preferable than petition, etc. In the event council prefers to take such action it is always their prerogative to do so without polling public opinion. In any event, it would appear that now is the time to act in this matter and not have it brought up again prior to the next annual election.

Local Band Wins Prize Money

The Emmitsburg Municipal Band proudly marched to its 19th win when they received $25.00 in the Taneytown parade last Wednesday night. Second place was awarded to the band, despite the lack of members present, due to sickness, work and summer camp.

As seen in our local parade, a large group of majorettes has been added to the band this year. The girls are without uniforms this year but all prize money is being put aside for this purpose.

We are still in need of new members and we have enough uniforms for anyone who wants to join the band. The band will be in concert this Sunday night at the St. Joseph's Grove on DePaul Street. We are inviting all old band members to play in this concert. Also anyone who is interested in joining the band, bring your instrument and play along. This starts at 7:30 Sunday, June 22.

The Redcoats will be trying for their 20th straight victory in Woodsboro, Tuesday, June 24. The newly reorganized band has competed in area parades for the past two years and have never come home without prize money. Listed below are some of the coming events for the band:

June 22, Concert in Emmitsburg; June 24, Woodsboro parade; July 2, Walkersville parade; July 3, Gettysburg parade; July 8, Harney parade; Aug. 7, Littlestown parade. The band will also participate in parades at Rocky Ridge, Thurmont and Waynesboro. The dates of these parades will be announced later.

Parish To Honor Father Stouter

On Sunday, June 22, St. Joseph's Catholic Church will observe the 50th anniversary of the ordination to the Priesthood of a former pastor, Father Charles Stouter, C.M., a native of the parish, and its only living Vincentian Father.

The Jubilarian will offer a Mass of Thanksgiving at 11:30 on Sunday morning, after which he, his relatives and out-of-town guests will be tendered a brunch by the Knights of Columbus, at the Council Chambers on the Square. In the evening at 7:30, Father Stouter will be the guest of honor at a Parish reception, to be held in the grove beside the rectory on DePaul Street.

Father Stouter was born in Emmitsburg on February 7, 1883. After attending the local school, he went to Niagara University, and then entered St. Vincent's Seminary in Philadelphia, in 1913. He was ordained to the priesthood on June 8, 1919. In his 50-year career as a priest, he has had many and varied posts, serving as a missionary in Panama and in Alabama, as chaplain at a number of hospitals and at the Michigan State Prison, in Jackson, as chaplain at St. Joseph College in Emmitsburg, and as pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Emmitsburg. He is presently stationed in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he is still active in his capacity as chaplain to St. Joseph's Orphanage.

A most cordial invitation is extended to the entire community to join the parishioners of St. Joseph's in honoring this native son, both at the Mass at 11:30 a.m., and the reception at 7:30 p.m. The Emmitsburg Municipal Band will serenade the guests in the evening with a concert of appropriate music.

Thomas Leonard Receives Doctorate Degree From A.U.

Thomas M. Leonard, chairman of the department of history and government at St. Joseph College, has been advanced to associate professor. In making the announcement, Sister Margaret Hughes, Academic Dean, also noted that Professor Leonard was awarded the doctoral degree from American University on Saturday, June 8.

Leonard joined the St. Joseph College faculty in 1962 as instructor in history. In 1965 he was promoted to assistant professor and served as acting chairman of the department. In 1968, at 30 years of age, his appointment as chairman distinguished Leonard as the youngest faculty member to hold that position. Since 1966 he has also served as professorial lecturer in the graduate program of Western Maryland College.

A native of Elizabeth, N. J., and a graduate of Thomas Jef-erson High School in that city, Leonard received an athletic scholarship to Mt. St. Mary's College from which he received his A.B. in history in 1959. He earned his M.A. in American foreign policy from Georgetown University in 1962. His doctoral dissertation at American University deals with aspects of United States-Panamanian relations.

In 1966 Leonard participated in a six area-college Non-Western Studies program sponsored by the Ford Foundation. He was a contributing author to the group's interdisciplinary syllabus on Indian Civilization.

During the past year, in cooperation with the American University, he directed an Institute on Southeast Asia at the Emmitsburg campus. Supported principally by the Breezewood Foundation, the two-semester Institute featured lectures by 13 Southeast Asia scholars, culminating with a lecture by His Excellency, Soedjatmoko, Ambassador of Indonesia to the United States.

Leonard holds membership in the American Historical Association, the Organization of American Historians, the Conference on Latin American History, and the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations.

A member of Phi Alpha Theta, the international history honor society, he initiated the Kappa Sigma chapter at St. Joseph College in 1965. Active in the American Association of University Professors, he has served as President in the college chapter.

This summer, Dr. Leonard will teach a graduate course, "The Negro in American History," at Western Maryland College. He also plans to continue his research on the policy of U.S.-Japanese relations in 1941.

Married to the former Yvonne Clements of LaPlata, Md., Dr. and Mrs. Leonard reside near Emmitsburg with their five sons. He is the son of Edward C. Leonard and the late Amelia T. Leonard of Metuchen, N. J.

Swimming Pool Project Is Abandoned

Plans for Emmitsburg's swimming pool have been abandoned and all money collected from donations has been returned it was learned at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, Mrs. Jane Bollinger, president, presiding.

Actually, the decision to abandon the project was made a month ago by the group, but the announcement was delayed in order to give the Farmers & Mechanics National Bank ample time to return all monies to the donors. The bank announced that every cent collected had been mailed out in check form to the donors last week.

The decision to drop the pool project came only after long deliberation by the group when it was decided that the lack of public support made the project hopeless. For over two years the Chamber of Commerce worked diligently on the project, but raised only $4,000 of the necessary fifty to sixty thousand required for construction of a pool. The group went on record as being more than willing to lend assistance to any other group or individuals interested in obtaining a pool for Emmitsburg. The Chamber will continue its efforts to establish a Recreational Area of some type on the local Community Field area previously planned for the pool location.

In other business transacted, the Chamber made a $10 donation to the Vigilant Hose Co., and heard a report on the progress of the Sixes Bridge Dam project from the committee chairman, Sidney Sappington. Mr. Sappington read a letter from Senator Joseph D. Tydings, informing him of the status of the project at this time. It was reported that the group netted approximately $88 from a benefit drawing that was held during the recent carnival.

President Bollinger announced that a meeting of the executive committee had been held on June 4 at St. Joseph's Provincial House, at which time the following standing committees were appointed:

Sixes Bridge Committee: Mr. Sidney Sappington.

Recreation Committee: Rev. John King, C.M., chairman, Mrs. Frances Rosensteel, Dr. Paul Carter.

Economics Committee: Mr. William Ledbetter, Chairman, Mr. Robert Muench and Mr. J. Norman Flax.

Beautification Committee: Mrs. John Chatlos.

Brochure Committee: Sister Margaret Hickey, Chairman, Mr. Arthur Elder and Mr. George E. Rosensteel.

Edward Grout, public relations director for Charnita, Inc., was present, and gave an interesting account of the progress made by Charnita after its first four full years of operation. He unveiled some of the future plans of the recreational resort and it was generally accepted by the group that the plans will undoubtedly add to the economic stability of the Emmitsburg community.

Writer Discusses

Taxpayers' Meeting

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Carroll County Commissioner Scott Bair addressed the second meeting of the Frederick County and City Taxpayers' League held in the Thomas Johnson High School auditorium Monday night. Approximately 500 persons were present at the meeting.

Commissioner Bair related some of his experiences with the Carroll County School Board and the local teachers' association during the past three years of his tenure as Commissioner. It was much the same, with certain variations, as experienced by the County Commissioners of Frederick and other counties in dealing with autonomous boards which have the authority to and do use the taxpayers' money pretty much as they please with little or no control or supervision from elected officials or the taxpayers who must foot the bills.

After the thirty minute address the meeting was opened for a question and answer period. A few questions pertinent to the subject were posed by members of the audience but for the most part the period was monopolized by persons who attempted to enter into a debate with the speaker, made long irrelevant statements, or just wanted to "show off". Many of the audience, who seemingly were expecting substantial action, became weary of the dialogue and left before the meeting was over.

The League is endeavoring to recruit members from all sections of the County and during the course of the meeting handed out membership applications to volunteers who will solicit new members in their respective areas. Any taxpayer in the County is eligible and there are no dues.

Officer Colliflower

Addresses

Senior Citizens

Tuesday, June 17, the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club held its regular monthly meeting at the Center at 7:30 p.m. with thirty members present. The program for the evening was a talk by Officer Colliflower of the Emmitsburg Police Dept., on the subject of "Public Relations." Since the police are very much in the public eye, they must at all times be well and neatly dressed, well groomed, with uniforms clean and well pressed, which calls for a considerable outlay in clothing to keep them so.

The law is mostly behind the officer, but he must at all times assume a pleasant but firm, as well as polite manner to the public at all encounters. At all hours on duty, he must be in or near his cruiser and show as well as expect, respect.

His duty is to protect the Community, property and the individuals who call upon his help and advice. Always he must be absolutely truthful and trustworthy. He is on duty 24 hours a day and subject to call at any hour of the day or night, to help solve problems submitted to him or get some one who can.

The police officer is expected to set an example in personal appearance, manner and speech, under all circumstances.

Mrs. Helen McNair announced a service to be open to the public on July 10, at 1:30 p.m. in the Center, instructed by Miss Jenkins of the Frederick Home-makers Club, on Home Canning and Freezing of Foods. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

The next meeting of the Senior Citizens Club will be July 15, at 6:30 p.m. in the nature of a picnic at the picnic grounds of St. Joseph's College, to consist of hot dogs, hamburgers, rolls, potato chips, etc., for a regular old-fashioned picnic. All members are cordially invited to come with picnic fare and intentions of having an enjoyable evening.

June 22, the Senior Citizens Clubs of Hagerstown, announce the grand opening of Walnut Towers, the new complex for homes for Senior Citizens. HOW ABOUT THAT!

A lot goes on during a given period of time in the body of an adult of average size. Here is what you accomplish in just 24 hours:

Your heart beats 103,689 times; your blood travels 168,000,000 miles; you breathe 23,040; you inhale 438 cubic feet of air; you eat 3.25 pounds of food; you drink 2.9 quarts of water; you lose .87 pounds of waste.

Inside figures: You speak 4,800 words, including some unnecessary ones; you move 750 muscles; your nails grow .00046 inches; your hair grows .01714 inches and you exercise 7,000,000 brain cells.

HIGH PRODUCTION COW

A registered Holstein cow owned by Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hill, R2, Emmitsburg, has completed a production record exceeding 30,000 lbs. of milk according to the Holstein - Friesian Association of America.

Carrolland Burke Thelma 4966-363 (VG) actually produced a total of 31,270 lbs. of milk and 1,120 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days.

Her record started at the age of 8 years and 3 months. On a two times-per-day milking schedule, she averaged nearly 40 quarts of milk each day throughout her testing period. The Hill Holstein was bred in the herd of Frank E. Hull, Carrolland Farm, Westminster. Her production is more than three times that of the average dairy cow.

"Thelma" was sired by Carrolland Noble Burke 1310080.

Production sampling, weighing and testing operations were supervised by the University of Maryland working in cooperation with the national Holstein organization.

Veterans Administration statistics reveal that there are 30,000 veterans under 20 years of age.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON BLINDNESS

How many blind persons are there in the United States? According to the National Eye Research Foundation and the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, there are approximately one million blind persons in our country.

Can some types of blindness be prevented? I would estimate that one-half of our yearly blind total could be prevented with frequent eye examinations.

How many people become blind each year? About 30,000 every twelve months. What is the greatest cause of blindness?

Cataracts are the main reason, and this disease is followed in cause by glaucoma. At what age is blindness most likely to occur?

Most blindness occurs after the age of 65 and the chief cause is cataracts. It is estimated that 1200 out of every 100,000 Americans over 65 are blind; approximately 300 per 100,000 between the ages of 40 and 64 are blind. The figure drops to less than 100 per 100,000 at younger ages.

Can vision be restored? Once vision is gone, it can never be restored. The time to take care of our sight is while we have it. You can help to prevent blindness by frequent eye examinations.

The Flag Waver

It would be a great thing for America if every native-born citizen could just one time witness the naturalization ceremonies which take place every few weeks in Federal courtrooms across the country. People from all over the world, who are being granted the privilege of citizenship in the USA, invariably react as if it were the greatest moment of their lives. Almost always there are tears in the eyes of the recipients of this great gift. Those who speak up usually say, "Thank, God. Now I am a citizen of the greatest country on earth!"

Very few of us who were born in America understand and appreciate the magnitude of this great blessing. I have a very dear friend who came to America as a boy, from France. His family had no riches, but he considered his opportunities in this Land of the Free to be an almost unbelievable blessing. He worked hard, he worked his way through school; gradually he carved out a career for himself in the business world. And he has never forgotten his indebtedness to the nation and the system of freedom that provided for him the opportunities he has enjoyed.

In Gratitude

His name is S. L. DeLove, his home is Chicago. For 20 years he has expended his time, his unique talents, and a great deal of hard-earned money in a personal crusade on behalf of the American way of life. He is the Founder-President of Independence Hall of Chicago. On a patriotic radio program he conducted back in 1956—"KNOW YOUR HISTORY HOUR"—a listener wrote him: "Your programs are wonderful, but you are waving the flag too much." His answer, as put on the air (and which has had widespread distribution since 1956) makes a challenging message to the people of America for Independence Day, July 4, 1969. Here it is:

"Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided, of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much, is it possible to read the Bible too much?"

"The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, example and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag nearly enough, not nearly enough. It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the Stars and Stripes.

Sign Of Decay

"Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day of America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home and building? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of cancerous patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best that is in us . . . for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy. Isn't our flag a synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired?"

Time To Think!

"I believe it is time for us . . . for the mad-rushing Twentieth Century American to stop for a moment and think. Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so-called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded. Should not every home own and proudly display the colors on holidays and other special occasions? Isn't the flag Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington, Nathan Hale, Gettysburg and Valley Forge, Paul Revere, Jackson and other great men and women who have given us our heritage?"

"When you look at the flag can't you see the Alamo, Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, The Monitor, The Merrimac, Wake Island and Korea? Lest we forget, isn't the flag Flanders Field, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Babe Ruth and Davy Crockett? The great events of our past and present are wrapped up in our flag. It is a symbol of this blessed nation, a giant in industry, education and commerce . . . millions of fertile square miles, wheat lands, coal mines, steel plants . . . our great republic, the chosen infant destined to be man's last and remaining hope for suffering humanity, a shining beacon of light, noble and glorious, the haven for the oppressed and persecuted and truly God's gift to mankind.

"That's what the flag means to me. Can we wave it too much I don't think so."

Emergency Vehicle Law Effective July 1

Effective July 1, new Legislative enactments of the 1969 General Assembly redefined the classification of "Authorized Emergency Vehicles" and provided for a new classification, "Authorized Service Vehicles."

"Essentially, the basic difference between the two types is best described by the urgency of their usage," Commissioner of Motor Vehicles John R. Jewell stated, "where time is of the essence, as in cases where police vehicles, fire apparatus and ambulances respond to emergency calls, these vehicles can be authorized as Emergency Vehicles."

Police vehicles of City, County, State and Federal Law enforcement agencies and vehicles operated by Fire Departments, Volunteer Fire Companies, Rescue Squads and Ambulance Services all fall within the category of emergency vehicles.

"The new classification—Authorized Service Vehicles—applies to Municipal, County, State, Federal vehicles, as well as vehicles owned by public utility companies and other owners performing functions under contract with governments," Jewell stated.

Giving as examples, tow trucks, highway equipment, road construction trucks, farm vehicles and rural mail carriers, Jewell said, "these vehicles are slow-moving, sometimes impeding traffic and possibly creating road hazards."

The new legislation provides for one central authority to determine the status of all authorized emergency and service vehicles operating within the State of Maryland.

Beginning July 1, all of these types must be duly authorized by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

The law is very specific about the color of lights used by the several groups:

Police Departments — Red or Blue.

Fire Depts. and Ambulances — Red or White.

Service Vehicles—Yellow or Amber.

No vehicle will be permitted to use or display a revolving, oscillating or rotating light unless it has been duly authorized to carry such equipment by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and then only the designated type of light will be permitted under the new legislation.

On emergency calls, Authorized Emergency Vehicles are required by law to operate an audible signal . . . whistle, siren or bell . . . simultaneously with the flashing light signals. The mere flashing of the lights alone, does not constitute a condition of "emergency."

The law has been broadened to permit sanitation contractors in such sub-divisions as Baltimore County which does not operate its own sanitation division, to apply for the official designation of Authorized Service Vehicles.

However, it does not provide this identification for private determinative agencies or other types of individual services not under contract with an official government agency.

Another significant provision of the law states that any individual using these lighting devices without the express approval of the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles must not only suffer the criminal penalties already in the law, but his driving privileges can be suspended for 30 days by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and the registration of his vehicle can be suspended for 30 days.

"Authorized Emergency Vehicles flashing red, blue and/or white lights and operating an audible signal such as a siren, whistle or bell should be given the full right of way immediately," Commissioner Jewell cautioned, "and authorized service vehicles flashing amber or yellow lights mean slow down and drive cautiously."

Ripened Late

Of the 40,000 or so Thoroughbreds that race each year, less than 700 prove to be stakes winners. Generally, if a horse doesn't win a stakes race at the age of 2 or 3, he's not likely to, but there are exceptions. Styvie started out in claiming races, where Hirsch Jacobs obtained him for $1,500. Styvie went on to win $918,485, but he didn't win a stakes race until he took Aqueduct's Grey Lag Handicap as a 4-year-old.

No Styvie perhaps, but a record breaker of a sort is the old grey mare Clarice M., who won her first stakes in the Sweepstakes Handicap at California's Stockton Fair last summer at the ripe age of 6.

What makes Clarice M.'s accomplishment worthy of note is the fact that she had never been to the races until, as a five-year-old, she was spotted romping in a field by Richard Magee. Mr. Magee reasoned that with the pep she showed chasing butterflies she ought to be racing instead of playing. She was put in training, made her first start in August of 1966, and won her first race on October 15 at Fresno. Last year, she won a purse on opening day at Stockton and then won the Sweepstakes, which was named for a local hero, the first California bred winner of the Santa Anita Derby, and a product of Harry C. "Dutch" Hill's 30-acre "spread" at Stockton. Clarice M. was the only representative of the "weaker" sex in the field, and paid her backers a handsome $31.60 for their $2 investment.

Writer Discusses College Unrest

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

J. Edgar Hoover warns America that the situation at the University of California in Berkeley, is the work of Marxists, who, under the guise of creating a People's Park on campus, are actually out to create a Communist People's Republic. I agree. But it is not enough for Mr. Hoover to simply point out this hazard; he, and other leaders of stature, must search out and point to alternative avenues of national reform; for the doings of our government are, in too many respects, contrary to the likings of a majority of people. Discontent in America was never greater than now.

Foremost as a cause of discontent, is the unpopular war in Vietnam that just goes on, and on, despite the new President's campaign assurances that he would end it. His solemn promise is now taken so lightly it is made the butt of jokes by comedians, one of whom was heard to explain: "The President's solution is this: Either we end the war, or we get out." More than a year ago the national polls showed 83% of the people regarded this particular war as a misadventure and a mistake. The government of our National Democratic Republic treads dangerous ground to pay so little heed to the discontent of so many people. And the Vietnam war is certainly not the only action of government that the American people deplore. There is also the growing problems of unemployment, under-employment and destitution amongst a large segment of the population... problems that the new administration tends to brush aside. Inequitable tax laws that exempt some, and double tax others, foster this feeling of dissatisfaction that is so noticeable. Foreign aid that our government extends to other governments, the world includes ever increasing sums for such nonsense items as birth control and population planning. Is it any wonder that the people of South America have treated Ambassador-at-large Nelson Rockefeller with such disdain? President Eisenhower warned long ago that this would be the reaction of foreign people—Catholic and other—to the gratuitous insult that accompanies the shallow suggestion that foreign people stop "over-populating" the world. Events have proven President Eisenhower right! What America desperately needs is a new infusion of democratic control by citizens. When it clearly appears that particular laws and actions of government do not conform to the popular will they should be made the objects of referendum. There is little doubt that by such means we could get the cart back on its wheels and avoid a Communist People's Republic. We might commence with the permissive divorce laws that have brought ruin and despair into homes in every hamlet of America.

Patrick F. X. McGucken, J.D.

"I used to stand up and say the world was a miserable place. Then I would sit down and do nothing about it."

Let's face it.

All is not perfect in this land of ours.

America has taken some lumps and quite frankly it hurts.

But maybe we should step back and take a long hard look... take inventory of how we are and how we got here.

Maybe we should inspect our brighter side as well as some of our ills.

And maybe, just maybe, we'll come out thinking this country's good side far overshadows its bad.

Then maybe we'll start to do something to make it better. Rather than knocking it, which ends up making it worse.

Now comes the big question. What can you do? You're only one little individual among over 200 million people. How can you help?

For one thing, you might think about investing in your country. Showing your faith in its future.

That's exactly what you do when you sign up to buy U. S. Savings Bonds. You're simply buying a share in America.

You're also socking away some money for yourself.

Money that grows at a guaranteed rate, to pay you back $4 at maturity for every $3 you've saved.

Of course, Savings Bonds are not going to cure all our headaches. But they'll help to provide the economic strength we'll need for the job.

And at the same time, they can cure a lot of your financial headaches in the years to come.

Any way you look at it, they make good sense.

And that's just what we need in this country right now.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

Named Assistant School Superintendent

Alfred Thackston, Assistant Superintendent for Instruction in Worcester County, has been appointed Assistant Superintendent for Instruction in Frederick County. He will replace Dr. C. Edward Hamilton who is leaving to become Superintendent of Schools in Burlington, Vermont. Mr. Thackston will assume his new duties on August 1.

In 1952 Mr. Thackston began his educational career as a teacher in Baltimore County. He later served as Vice-Principal, Curriculum Coordinator, and Principal in the Baltimore County school system. The Worcester County Board of Education selected him as Assistant Superintendent for Instruction in 1967 and he presently holds this position.

A 1952 graduate of Towson State College, he was awarded the Masters degree in education from Loyola College in 1959. Since that time he has been involved in further graduate study at the University of Maryland, Johns Hopkins and is presently pursuing a doctoral program at George Washington University.

Mr. Thackston is a member of numerous professional associations including the American Association of School Administrators and Phi Delta Kappa. A program, Reorganization for Innovation, funded under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act was carried out during his service in Worcester County.

The new Assistant Superintendent is married, the father of three children and presently lives in Ocean City. He is a member of the Lutheran Church and has been active in both youth work and the choir.

Commenting on educational goals he hopes to achieve in Frederick County, he said, "A continued pursuit of excellence is one. We must strive toward the implementation of individualization of instruction for another; and we should always be trying to make the educational process one of excitement, enjoyment and meaning for all those involved."

Homemakers Plan Annual Picnic

"Be Line Wise," and use the line and design best suited for your face and figure, was the advice given to members of the Emmitsburg Homemakers Club by program leader, Mrs. J. L. Nester, as she presented a most interesting and informative demonstration to the members using as guidelines, several silhouette pictures and fashion illustrations of tall, short, broad and slim figures. She gave many key lines on how to make the most of your figure assets and details to avoid to achieve a more trim and graceful figure which is the fashion of today.

The club met at the home of President Mrs. Luther Cregger, on May 22. A new member, Mrs. Warren Bentz, was made welcome. Thank-you notes were read from Mrs. Frances Stinson and Mrs. Charles Harner for kindness rendered to their families.

Mrs. William Ledbetter and Mrs. James Small gave reports on the Short Course Day which they had recently attended in Frederick, and Mrs. John Chatlos announced the recent food sale a

If the Shoe Fits

How can I be sure that my children's shoes fit when I buy them?

If you mean that you want to check the fit of the shoes yourself, you should first work in a shoestore for at least two years. Then you will be more uncertain than you are now.

If the shoe internship is impossible I would use the practice of most women when they buy a hairdo. They don't rush downtown at 15 minutes before closing time and let the first operator they come to give their hair a fast sizzle. Hairdos are too important.

Even a newcomer to town knows before she leaves the house not only which beauty parlor she is going to but which beautician will give her the kind of hairdo she wants. She will read ancient magazines waiting for the operator to take her and she might even overpay the bill if she is especially pleased with the result.

"Who fits your children's shoes?" should be as commonly asked as "Who does your hair?" Try it. You will find that our shoefitters, who realize the health importance of children's shoes will be pleased to know that you are not primarily interested in speed, low price or high style.

County Says Harney Bridge Too Costly

The preliminary plans for the Harney Road Bridge over Middle Creek near Emmitsburg have been rejected by the County Roads Board.

Commissioner Charles E. Collins, president of the board, said "it is too expensive to build under the plans presented to us."

Baker and Wibberly Inc., an engineering consulting firm in Hagerstown, were hired several months ago, at a fee of $12,750, to design plans to upgrade the present bridge.

Southey Nottingham, county engineer has declared that this bridge is the "unsafest," in the county.

According to Collins "we can't use the design. The way it is set up will cost us $160,000 more than we are will to pay. It would mean another 4.3 cents on the real estate tax rate," he added.

Nottingham, in his capacity as county engineer, said "I have to say that I think the design is a reasonable one."

"It is designed for a 40 mile speed limit and is the minimum design for safety relative to the existing traffic conditions on the road."

Collins said that they were going to reject the plans and have the county engineer design a bridge which would cost about $40,000 instead of the expected $160,000 expenditure.

Sister Jerome

Elected To Board

The election of Sister Jerome Nossell, D.C., to the Board of Trustees of St. Joseph College has been announced by Sister Eleanor McNabb, D.C., chairman of the Board.

A member of the college faculty since 1964, Sister Jerome was assistant professor of education and director of institutional research until March of this year when she was appointed Councillor for Education of the Emmitsburg province of the Daughters of Charity. As provincial councillor, she directs the educational programs of 28 schools conducted by the Order in five southeastern states and the District of Columbia.

Sister Jerome was appointed the first director of institutional research at St. Joseph College in 1965. In that capacity she served as coordinator of the institutional self-study prior to the college's reaccreditation by the Middle States Association. She also directed the preparation of various studies and government grant proposals which enabled the college to effect administrative and curricular improvements. In 1967, St. Joseph's was awarded a federal grant under Title III of the Higher Education Act to conduct a ten-day conference on current problems in college administration. Sister Jerome was co-editor of the college's published compilation of the principal addresses delivered at the conference by nationally-known educators.

A native of Baltimore, Sister Jerome was educated at St. Paul's School and the Catholic High School in that city. She received the bachelor of arts degree from St. Joseph College in 1947. She was awarded the master's degree in education in 1958 and the doctoral degree in administration and supervision in 1964 from St. John's University. Additional study was pursued at the Catholic University of America and Temple University.

Prior to her assignment at St. Joseph College, Sister Jerome taught from 1947 to 1960 at Seton High School, Baltimore, and the following year at the Seton Catholic High School, Endicott, New York.

Sister Jerome is a member of Kappa Gamma Pi, the Association for Institutional Research, the American Association of University Professors, and the National Catholic Educational Association.

WORLD CHAMPION VISITS—Twice "Harness Horse of the Year" Nevele Pride and driver Stanley Dancer will help put the finishing touches on an outstanding opening week of racing at Laurel Raceway when the 4-year-old trotter visits the Route One oval on Friday night, June 27th to compete in a $10,000 Invitational race. Nevele, the winner of 46 of 53 races in his first two seasons of racing for $650,363, won his debut this year when he finished in a sparkling 2:00 4/5 at Brandywine Raceway to win the $25,000 Marquis de Lafayette. The son of Star's Pride-Thankful is considered a strong challenger to break the all-time mile record of 1:55 1/4 established by the great Greyhound in 1937.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

The Sizzling Seventies

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., June 19, 1969. During the decade of the seventies we anticipate a growing quasi-peace-time economy with moderate but acceptable inflation. The Nixon Administration is already committed to slowing the inflation even if it requires a "mini" recession. The American public is now demanding peace. The Administration must create at least a quasi peace, but it is doubtful whether we will be completely out of the Far East even by 1980. With these basic premises, the Babson's Reports Research Staff envisions a growing economy during the seventies.

Increasing Population And Income

Another population explosion is in store for the coming decade. The World War II baby boom peaked during the 1950's and these postwar children are beginning to reach family-forming stage. While better family planning—including various birth control measures—has resulted in a lesser number of children per family, current figures show a turn upward in the average number of offspring. Personal income will continue to rise, but not as fast as it has during the latter part of the sixties. We anticipate that average income will reach $10,000 by 1980. We also foresee a four-day work week and longer vacations.

With the increase in family formation already starting, the building industry will have to keep pace. During the next decade the demand for housing of all types will necessarily result in a building boom. New types of construction (primarily modular) and materials (plastics) will be important growth factors. Home accessories will also share in this building boom.

Younger Influences

Since the average age of our population is getting lower, and youth is becoming a more dominant part of our economy, those industries which serve this segment of our population should do well during the upcoming decade. Life insurance, apparel, and education are three important groups that serve those under 30. Life insurance programs are usually undertaken when a couple assume the financial responsibilities of family life.

The current young set have become very fashion-conscious and are leaders in setting the trends for the apparel industry. Cosmetics fit the same mold. Another beneficial factor is the expected increase in personal income. As income rises, a greater percentage is spent on clothing and cosmetics. Leisure-time industries which have been doing well in the latter part of the sixties will continue to thrive into the seventies.

Future Technology
With the great technological advances that have occurred in recent years, some may wonder what is coming for an encore. We foresee many new ideas and improvements in the seventies. Synthetics and plastics represent the brightest segment of the chemical field because of their many still untapped uses—apparel, construction, and containerization among others. Nuclear power, despite present high costs, provides an almost unlimited source of energy for the future. The mini-computer and more advanced peripheral equipment offer the computer industry great potential during the coming decade. Time-sharing has grown tremendously in the past year and will continue to do so as many new applications are devised to help even the smaller businessman in this computer age. Facsimile reproduction is another part of the office equipment field that appears to have a great future.

The ocean and the sky will receive continually increasing exploration during the seventies. People will visit the moon on a regular basis by 1980, perhaps living there for extended periods, engaging in basic scientific research.

There will be great demand for solutions to air and water pollution problems and for new and better methods of rubbish disposal. Medical science can be expected to astound us with cures for heart disease, cancer, and even the common cold.

55,300 men, women and children died on America's highways in 1968, according to an annual survey by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

AN OPINION

By W. Terry Smith

Mr. Al Rojas and I had a brief chat the other day over the telephone. Mr. Rojas is one of the many cohorts of Caesar Chavez, fanning out over the countryside to spread the word about the boycott of California table grapes.

Mr. Chavez you may remember, is the champion of the cause to organize the grape pickers, so they too may enjoy the privilege of donating a portion of their salary to the union movement. Whether or not a union is needed to represent their best interests, is as always, in this type of situation, quite superfluous.

The monumental and distorted publicity campaign that has been waged in behalf of these gentlemen, of course, preceded the appearance of Mr. Rojas to our city. Consequently the built-in support for his cause complete with the usual army of professional confrontation seekers, radicals, militants of all shades, was ready and waiting.

I asked Mr. Rojas what he thought the chances of success were. He was highly optimistic because, as he often reiterated, it was strictly a consumer boycott, and the people were properly incensed. The obvious stress on the consumer aspect is necessary to avoid any implication that an illegal secondary boycott might be in fact occurring.

The comments of William Buckley and James Kilpatrick to the effect that what was in effect happening was an exploitation of the best interests of basically well-paid and well treated workers by the union organizers, was brushed aside as the usual right wing attack on unionism itself.

Mr. Mendoza, the leader of the anti-union forces, and the man who is probably the true spokesman of the workers was dismissed as an ex disc jockey completely unaware of the problem. Obviously this is of course simply not true.

Mr. Rojas freely admitted that there was a distinct possibility, due to the probable refusal of the Teamsters, and the railroad unions to transport the product, that no California grapes at all would reach the market place. How the absence of any choice at all for the shopper could be equated with consumer support was never adequately explained. Such is the nether world of the liberal.

If the people are so up in arms over the alleged plight of these workers, and if the grass roots support is so prominent, and if his cause is so just, how can the picket lines, disruptions, union pressure, and most importantly the absence of choice be justified?

The answers are obvious. Somehow enough of the truth has filtered through the smoke screen thrown up by Look magazine, the New York Times, and Walter Reuther's powerful forces, to make the aforementioned pressures and union co-ersion a necessity.

In the meantime may I suggest that you eat grapes! Lots of grapes! California grapes!

The sole mission of the Veterans Administration is to serve veterans and their dependents.

"LOTS OF PEOPLE seem to think that finding a gift that pleases everyone is a 'Mission: Impossible,'" says Peter Graves, star of the CBS-TV series of the same name. "But they haven't thought of United States Savings Bonds—the gift that everyone welcomes. Why don't you give Bonds this Christmas? It'll make your Christmas shopping easier—and you'll be helping America, too."

Handbell Concert

At Catocin Monday

A music festival featuring five handbell choirs will take place on Monday, June 23 at 8:00 p.m., in the Catocin High School. The public is cordially invited to attend. A free-will offering will be taken to help defray expenses.

The festival is being sponsored by the Graceham Moravian Church Handbell Choir directed by James L. Fisher. Two Frederick groups, the Evangelical Lutheran Church Handbell Choir directed by Thomas E. Silliman, and the Evangelical Reformed Church Handbell Choir directed by Mrs. Robert Emge will perform several selections. Also included on the program will be two groups, the Hus-site Ringers and the Youth Bell Ringers from Home Moravian Church in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The latter will be directed by Rev. James Salzwedel and are stopping in Graceham on their way to the national convention of English Handbell Ringers to be held in Grove City, Pennsylvania. Highlight of the festival will be several selections combining nearly 60 ringers from the five choirs.

Crossing between intersections was responsible for 40 per cent of the pedestrian deaths in 1968, according to annual figures compiled by The Travelers Insurance Companies. More than 9,600 pedestrians were blamed for their own deaths last year.

We've devised a method for children to see better. And for parents to worry less.

Children's glasses can be expensive. And we've seen parents forego having their children's eyes checked regularly because of this.

Here's how we're trying to solve this problem.

We sell all of our children's single vision prescriptions for one low price. Regardless of how much work goes into filling the prescription.

We hope this will encourage parents not to worry as much about the price of glasses, and have their children's prescriptions changed when they should be changed.

On top of this, we make all children's glasses shatterproof for safety's sake, and we guarantee both the frames and lenses against breakage for one year.

If Johnny can't read, we don't want it to be our fault.

Hunting License Year Ending

Maryland's hunting license agents are reminded that the 1968 license year is ending. All of the agents now should send in their unused licenses and turkey stamps for refunds, says Charles Maize, auditor for the Department of Game and Inland Fish. Maize says the new 1969 licenses should be available at the distributors during the last week of June.

Upon completion this year, International Nickel's 7,150-foot Creighton No. 9 shaft will be the deepest continuous mining shaft from the surface in the Western Hemisphere.

Frederick County Backgrounds

BY SAMUEL CARRICK

The Cochran-Morrow Families

During the colonization period, the experimental era of the "melting pot", of this country's history, people were inclined, nine cases out of ten, to marry within and associate with those of their own race and class. This may be looked upon as somewhat snobbish but, in the long run, it made for a more stable society. This, in turn, cemented more firmly and securely the foundation stones of America. A house built upon sand is sure to fall and domestic upheaval does not advance the cause of national security. A similar cultural and social background helps to "insure domestic tranquility" and therefore advances the progress of the nation as a whole.

In any study of Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard one fact stands out with unusual clarity. All, or nearly all, of the old Scotch families sought husbands or wives within their own race and religion. In that day to marry "out of the church" was an almost unforgivable sin—it was done occasionally but seldom forgiven. On the whole it was better this way—peaceful relations at home and in the church.

When the time of testing came the great mass of the population stood together fairly well. They could fight as a whole because of the solidarity of the domestic, political, and ecclesiastical background of their lives.

Last week mention was made of the intermarriages between the Cochran and Morrow families, both of staunch Covenant stock.

When Jeremiah (1) Morrow died in 1758, in the 47th year of his age, he left his wife, Sarah Morrow, with eight young children. Life was difficult in that day, particularly on the frontier, but this pioneer wife and mother went at the task of rearing her fatherless brood with determination and did a remarkably good job. The oldest child was a boy, John (2) Morrow, and he was just fifteen years of age at the time of his father's death. He must have felt more than a little responsible for his mother and seven sisters—he became a man while still a boy. There could be no half measures.

John (2) Morrow had a farm on Marsh Creek, in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania. It contained 222 acres and was granted to him by John and Richard Penn, sons of the Founder. Like his father, John (2) was a member and Ruling Elder in the Associate Reformed Church. He and his family probably attended the Hill church, under the pastoral care of the Rev. Alexander Dobbin. Although there was a burial ground at the Hill church many of its members buried in the old Lower Marsh Creek churchyard.

The pioneer members of the Morrow family interred their dead at Lower Marsh Creek and the inscriptions from their grave stones will be given later.

As taken from the diary records of the Rev. John Cuthbertson five of the seven daughters of Jeremiah (1) and Sarah Morrow can be listed as follows:

1. Martha (2) Morrow—born December 3, 1742—married on August 29, 1768 to David Parkhill—Died in 1838 at the good old age of 96 years.

2. Sarah (2) Morrow—married John Bourns (Burns).

Note: The Bourns family were early settlers in the Conchoeague Settlement, in what is now Franklin County, Pennsylvania. John Bourns had a forge, he was a blacksmith, and at his place of business forged a cannon that saw service in the War of the American Revolution.

3. Jane (2) Morrow—married William Patterson—died November 3, 1832 in the 82nd year of her age.

4. Elizabeth (2) Morrow—married Samuel Wilson.

5. Mary (2) Morrow—married John Rankin.

There were two other daughters but no record is to be found of them either in the Rev. Cuthbertson's diary or elsewhere. It is quite possible that they died young and unmarried.

John (2) Morrow, the one and only son and brother, was married by the Rev. Cuthbertson, November 9, 1768, to Mary Lockhart, of the Marsh Creek Settlement, in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania. Mary (Lockhart) Morrow, who was born March 24, 1745 and died March 12, 1790, was the half-sister of Rebecca Hodge, who became the wife of Samuel Knox, M.D., and the mother of Rev. John Knox.

John (2) Morrow and Mary (Lockhart) Morrow were the parents of nine children—all of whom later emigrated to the west—to the rich and fertile lands of Ohio. The third generation in America is listed as follows:

1. Margaret (2) Morrow (born 1769) married Hugh Dunwoody, Covenantan, in 1792.

2. Jeremiah (3) Morrow—born 1771—died 1852—married in 1799 to Mary Parkhill.

3. Sarah (3) Morrow—born 1773—died 1820—no record of marriage.

4. John (3) Morrow—born 1776—died 1846—married (first) in 1805, to Mary Robinson, and after her death, in 1819, to Mary Patterson.

5. Mary (3) Morrow—born 1777—died 1829—married, in 1810, to Joseph Stewart.

6. Rebecca (3) Morrow—born 1779—died 1838—married in 1805 to William Cochran.

7. James (3) Morrow—born 1782—died 1865—married, in 1815 to Margaret Knox, of the Marsh Creek Settlement.

8. Jane (3) Morrow—born 1784—died 1829—married 1816 to John Hannah (Hanna).

9. Martha (3) Morrow—born 1787—died 1815—married in 1811 to John D. Robinson.

It is interesting to note that of the family of John (2) and Mary (Lockhart) Morrow, the last to leave what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, was the oldest daughter, Margaret (3) Morrow Dunwoody, and the youngest son, James (3) Morrow.

Jeremiah (1) Morrow is not interred in the McClellan burial ground, as stated last week, but in the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian churchyard. The inscriptions follow:

3. "In memory of Jrem'y Morrow/ who departed this life/ September 14, 1758/ Aged 47 years."

4. "In memory of/ Sarah Morrow/ who died December 19th/ 1798/ Aged 76 years."

"Likewise/ Mary Morrow/ died March 12, 1790/ Aged 45 years."

Note:—The Sarah Morrow mentioned on this gravestone was the wife of the Covenantan, Jeremiah (1) Morrow.

The Mary Morrow listed on the lower half of the stone was Mary Lockhart, the wife of John (2) Morrow.

5. "In memory of/ John Morrow/ who departed this life/ July 31st, 1811/ Aged 68 years."

Note:—The only son of Jeremiah (1) and Sarah Morrow and the husband of Mary Lockhart.

The notes on the Cochran-Morrow-Annan families will be continued in this series next week.

felt that the club plan offered was not practical from an operational standpoint. The board said the matter of obtaining and retaining a liquor license presents a number of perplexing problems. The board said that primarily the rejection was prompted by reason of the fact that only 135 students living on campus, or about 15 per cent of the total student body, are 21 years of age or over and legally eligible to use such club facilities.

Dr. Dillon, the new executive vice president and the first layman to hold such a high administrative post at Mount Saint Mary's, received his B.A. from Duquesne University, his A.M. from St. Vincent College, and his Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh. Following a year of teaching at the University of Pittsburgh, he joined the Mount Saint Mary's faculty. Chairman of the English department for many years, he has served on most of the college committees, including the academic council. He has been a contributor to scholarly journals, written a literary column for the Baltimore Catholic Review, and produced regular literary reviews for the Baltimore Sunday Sun and the Pittsburgh Press. He is a member of many learned societies and several scholastic honor societies.

Monsignor Mullaney, one of the two new trustees, is a native of Scranton, Pa. and an alumnus of Mount Saint Mary's Seminary. He was ordained in 1949. From 1949 to 1952 he was assistant pastor of Little Flower Church in Mobile, Ala. From 1952 to 1959 he was principal of City of St. Jude High School. In 1959 he was made first pastor of the new St. William Church in Guntersville, Ala. He returned to the City of St. Jude in 1961 where he was appointed pastor. In this present position he administers one of the nation's largest parish plants which is composed of church, grade school, high school, convent, general hospital and special children's hospital.

Thomas S. Hogan, an attorney-at-law in Providence, R. I., earned an A.B. degree from Mount Saint Mary's College in 1948 and an LL.B. from Georgetown University in 1951. He has been the probate judge for the town of South Kensington, R.I. since 1965, and was recently appointed for another term. He is a past president of a number of civic organizations. He is chairman of the Monsignor Clarke Regional School Committee, chairman of the South County Senior Citizens housing organization, general counsel for the South County Board of Water Commissioners, and a member of the Panel of Labor Arbitrators of the American Arbitration Association.

"Painters" Pay Damages

Seven Thurmont youths, all members of the Class of 1969, Catoctin High School, were apprehended this week by Emmitsburg Police Chief W. Henry Filler, assisted by Thurmont Police Chief Herman D. Shook.

The youthful graduates went on a "painting" spree of Emmitsburg and Thurmont last week and vast disfiguration by unsightly paintings resulted in the two towns.

Perhaps the most costly vandalism occurred when the gang painted a large '69 on the newly-painted water tower of the Freeman Shoe Co. in Emmitsburg. The tower had been just recently painted at a cost of $2,000. Chief Filler met with the shoe plant manager, Rufus Rhoads, along with the seven youths and their parents at the factory Wednesday night. Charges were dropped when the youths agreed to pay $100 to have the lettering on the tower "blacked" out.

The plant manager, Mr. Rhoads, informs the public that anyone tampering with the tower, in any fashion, even climbing up it, will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Two Injured In Thurmont Wreck

Two persons were seriously injured in a traffic accident over the weekend.

Jessie D. Best, 57, of 509 East Main St., Thurmont, remains in poor condition in the intensive care unit of the Washington County Hospital in Hagerstown, following a Saturday night automobile accident.

He was taken to the Washington County Hospital after treatment in the emergency room of the Frederick Memorial Hospital for head injuries he sustained in a two-car collision.

Best was operating his car west on the Hunt Club Road, just off the Old Frederick Road, one mile south of Creagerstown. The Best vehicle collided with a second car operated by Carroll E. Kinsey, 58, also of Thurmont.

Kinsey was treated at Frederick Memorial Hospital Saturday evening and released.

The accident occurred during a heavy thundershower around 8:30 p.m. According to state police reports, Best was charged with failure to grant one-half of the roadway.

Tpr. D. G. Higgins of the Maryland State Police investigated the accident.

Summer Reading Hour At Library

The summer reading club is open to children from First to Sixth grade. Requirements for the reading club participant is that he read eight books during the summer beginning this week and ending in August. Keeping up on reading in the summer will make your child's next school year easier.

The story hour continues during the summer at 10 a.m. in the library on Saturday mornings. Treat your child to a new and interesting experience every Saturday in your local library. Mrs. John Chatlos, Mrs. Ronald Fearer, Mrs. Joyce Bruchey, and Miss Caroline Umbel rotate Saturdays with the story hour.

Some new and interesting fiction added to the collection at the library will interest you:

"The Liar," by Thomas Savage. Hay Sawyer was a handsome man. He dressed well. He made a good impression. At high school, he received excellent grades in English composition. In later life, he penned countless fine letters to Gerald, his only son. These letters were part of a promise Hal Sawyer made to his estranged wife shortly after Gerald was born. "What kind of a father would you be, you handsome failure?" Hal's wife had asked. "Well, I'll tell you one thing, Anne," Hal had said, "Even if it's by long distance, I'll be a good father."

"Far From the Madding Crowd," by Thomas Hardy. This is not a new book—first published in 1874. It has been continuously popular since, and has recently been made into a major motion picture. Here for the first time his conception of nature as a basic life force unfolds, in the regular procession of seasons and in the rural activities that accompany them. Here also is his conception of woman—irresponsible for good and evil, untrustworthy, and infinitely alluring.

"The Valachi Papers," by Peter Maas. One of the most electrifying and significant documents on crime ever written—the real story behind the Cosa Nostra as seen through the eyes of a man who lived on the inside of America's underworld for more than thirty years; the notorious Mafia informer Joseph Valachi, whose testimony was hailed by Robert F. Kennedy, then Attorney General, as "the biggest intelligence breakthrough yet" in combating organized crime and racketeering in the United States.

K of C To Honor Father Stouter

Grand Knight Ray R. Lauer thanked the membership for their past support and pledged his complete efforts in the future to assist the council in any manner possible, at the regular meeting of Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, held Monday evening in the council home. The meeting was Mr. Lauer's last as president, having decided not to seek re-election.

A $100 appropriation to help defray the expenses of a social reception for Father Charles Stout, a member of the Council, who will observe the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood this month, was voted. Also $100 was voted as a donation to the CYO.

One new member, Lawrence C. Kolb, was voted into the Council. Leonard Gmeiner, social action committee chairman, gave an account of his group's visit to Victor Cullen School on Father's Day and said that another visit will be made there on July 27 and all members were invited to attend and entertain the boys. Clyde Eyer, chairman of the baseball night committee, reported a number of members will attend a baseball game in Baltimore on Aug. 8, after a visit to Carling's Brewery. Tickets are on sale at the Council Social Lounge. Father Joseph Arnold, golf convention chairman, said that he and Stanley Lupinski will attend the event this Friday in Baltimore.

A crab feast was discussed and it was decided to stage such an affair in the Council Home on Sunday, July 20. William L. Topper and Carl A. Wetzel will be chairmen for the affair. The Council voted to retain its membership in the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce and ordered its dues paid. State Warden Paul A. Keepers gave a short talk on membership. The group said prayers for Jessie Best, a member who was seriously injured in an automobile accident this week.
