During the recent red-hot controversy over whether or not sex education should be taught in Maryland schools, one wag was heard to say: Why not take sex out of the classroom and put it back into the school bus, where it always was before? I guess that's as good a place as any, however, there are many who will disagree with this statement.

Never incur the wrath of the garbage man or you'll be mighty sorry, and possibly embarrassed. Let me cite an instance which happened recently with the opening of school. Seemed the bus driver from the School Board refused to haul several kiddies who live up Charlie Wetzels way on the Hornet's Nest Road. Charlie, who is one of our community assets and who is reputed to be the best trash collector in these parts, didn't take to the situation very kindly. An ultimatum was issued, either the Board haul the kiddies to school or there would be no more garbage hauled from the Emmitsburg School. Both parties remained adamant in their stand. Soon the garbage began piling up, the school purchased over $100 worth of trash cans to accommodate the pile-up, and now I see that the Board has advertised for someone to haul the garbage away from our local school. This could be much more expensive than having Charlie handle the deal, but then, I say once again, don't fall into bad graces with the garbage man.

Our Indian Summer is lingering beautifully and we could take this sort of thing all winter, the Lord willing. It can't last long enough because those harbingers of winter, the wild geese, have been spotted hustling off to the deep South and warmer climes. Oh how I envy them.

Vandalism appears to be on the increase locally as reports come trickling in that this or that has been marred, scarred or broken. Several tires were slashed recently and this week beer cans were tossed through St. Joe's High School windows and also the Sisters' Convent directly across the street. On many nights, and even afternoons, cowboys dominate the area and screeching tires can be heard any hour of the day or night. We are not complaining about the job our local police force is doing. It is impossible to expect one man to handle a town as large as this one, 24 hours a day. We understand that a new officer has been engaged and will assume his duties shortly, and this is indeed good news. Chief Henry Filler has done a remarkable job controlling the situation and the addition of another officer should cut down on the number of irritating conditions existing here.

Fire Razes Charnita Home Monday

A pair of Mt. St. Mary's College students escaped injury when they were forced to jump from a second-story window during a fire at their frame seven-room cottage at Charnita Monday morning.

Fairfield Fire Chief Lawrence Eversole estimated damage to the two-story structure at $25,000. The fire gutted the cottage overlooking a small lake and the Fairfield-Zora Road.

The two students, Mike Maloney and Dennis Mottley, told firemen they were awakened by a "cracking noise downstairs" shortly before 7:45.

They said they went to the stairway and saw the first floor was engulfed in flames.

Trapped on the second story of the structure, they were forced to jump eight feet to the ground from their bedroom window.

The students were among five Mt. St. Mary's students who resided in the cottage. The three others, identified as Charles Cunningham, George Boarst and Robert Dominczyk, had left the premises sometime earlier for the college where they had classes Monday morning.

Fire Chief Eversole said the house was owned by a Rev. Green of the Baltimore area.

Eversole said the fire was apparently caused by a defective electrical heating system and originated in the wallboard in a downstairs bedroom.

The students, all from the New York City area, lost all their personal possessions in the fire. Fifteen members of the Fairfield Fire Company with three pumps, poured water on the flaming structure for over an hour to bring the blaze under control. They were called back about mid-morning when the fire again flared up.

Local Man Hurt In Truck Mishap

A 32-year-old Emmitsburg man was treated at the Warner Hospital about 7:30 Monday for injuries sustained in an accident earlier in the evening on Route 97, about a mile and one-half west of Emmitsburg.

A hospital spokesman said that Elwood Smith, Emmitsburg R2, received treatment for injuries to his left cheek and neck and was released. He was transported to the hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance.

Maryland State Police said that Smith had been driving his 1965 Ford pickup east on Route 97 near the Mountain View Road when the truck left the road, entered a front yard and struck a maple tree. The vehicle continued on and struck a utility pole, breaking the latter into three pieces. Still traveling at high speed, the truck travelled 70 additional feet, demolished two mailboxes, and collided broadside with a vehicle parked in an adjacent driveway, shoving the parked car sideways for six feet and through a picket fence.

Police said that the cab of the truck was torn off upon the initial impact with the tree, resulting in a total loss of the vehicle. There was no estimate of damage to the other objects struck.

The Vigilant Hose Co. will participate in Fire Prevention Week by competing with a Fire Prevention Week program sponsored by the Adams County Fire Chief's Association at Fairfield. Rocky Ridge Barn Fire "Set"

A $20,000 blaze which destroyed a barn near Rocky Ridge Monday afternoon has been listed as a "set fire" by Maryland State Fire Investigator Top E. Barnes. The barn was located on a farm owned by Hamilton Geisbert and rented to George Hines, who used it to store his hay, straw and grain. A farm house on the property is rented to Raymond Hyde.

Kenneth Mumma, assistant chief of the Rocky Ridge Volunteer Fire Dept., commented after the fire that he had "never seen anything burn like that barn did." He indicated that he thought the sudden outbreak of the blaze was quite suspicious.

Firemen were told by Hines that his wife was in the area of the barn about 20 minutes before the fire alarm sounded and she noticed nothing unusual. Five minutes after the alarm went off, firemen arrived on the scene to find the roof already falling in.

Barnes placed the value of the building at $15,000 and he said the hay, straw and grain inside brought the total loss to $20,000. He was assisted in his investigation by TFC John Reburn of the Maryland State Police.

Barnes said that Frederick County has led all counties in the state in set fires over the past three years. He added that the county also has one of the highest arrest and conviction rates for this offense.

Valley Home Weekend At St. Joseph's

St. Joseph College is preparing to host approximately 400 parents October 3-5 for Valley Home Weekend on campus. The three-day program replaces the custom of previous years when parent weekends were divided into spring and fall events.

Parents will begin registering at the Student Center Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and will be guests of the college at 8 o'clock in DePaul Auditorium for an address by Rev. John McLaughlin, S.J., associate editor of "America," and a nationally-known authority on "New Morality on College Campuses." He was a guest lecturer at St. Joseph several years ago and was enthusiastically received by students and faculty.

Sister Margaret Dougherty, college president, will preside Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in DePaul Auditorium at a faculty roundtable entitled "SJC 1970," which will bring parents up to date on college programs. Mrs. Rita Frey of the faculty will present the "Student Body Profile;" Dr. Thomas Leonard will discuss "Current Academic Highlights;" David Neun will detail "Curriculum Study;" and Sister John Frances Gilman will describe "Extracurricular Activities."

A highlight of the weekend will be the freshmen investiture Saturday afternoon at one o'clock in DePaul Auditorium, when members of the incoming class will receive their academic attire.

A Parents' Conference, sponsored by the Associate Board, will be held at 2 o'clock to establish a parents' organization aimed at increasing parent involvement in SJC activities. Robert J. Higgins, Executive Vice President of Broadcast Music, Inc. of New York, and chairman of the parents' committee of the board, will preside.

The President's Tea at 3 o'clock will provide an opportunity for parents to meet faculty members for a social hour, while in the Student Center members of the Junior class will receive their class rings in a special ceremony. Guided Shrine tours will be conducted continually from 3 to 5 o'clock to enable parents to become acquainted with Mother Seton's Shrines and original classroom facilities on campus.

Two dances Saturday night from 9 to midnight will honor parents of all classes. "Sister" classes, seniors and sophomores, will dance with their parents and guests in the Student Center, while juniors and freshmen will entertain at a dance in the gymnasium. Delbert Null Loses Appeal Former Frederick County Commissioner Delbert S. Null has lost an appeal of his conviction for falsification of tax returns.

Judge Harriston L. Winter, 4th Circuit Court of Appeals, upheld the 1968 conviction sentencing Null to 10 months in federal prison for failing to report four items of income on tax returns in 1960 and 1961.

The defendant, a county official from 1955 to 1962, was convicted of failure to report private expenditures paid for with county funds as income for tax purposes.

Null appealed the 1968 conviction on grounds that the jury was not allowed to consider evidence that the "error" had been corrected a year after filing the tax returns. In his denial of the appeal, Judge Winter said, "Where the error corrected by the defendant was so obvious that he had no alternative but to rectify the matter, we think that the judge did not abuse his discretion in rejecting the proffered evidence."

Mrs. Herbert Glass and children, Mike, Debbie and Ricky, of Lake Heritage, and Mrs. Ruby Sheeley and children, Shirley and Betty Jean, spent last Sunday at William's Grove.

Frederick County Backgrounds

By Samuel Carrick
Musings from Tom's Creek
If, as Ralph Waldo Emerson says, "... there is properly no history, only biography," then the old burial grounds in this or any other section should be of major importance. Here are the people—the builders—the destroyers—the good—the evil—all have come to man's ordained end—final rest in the good earth. But, it must be remembered, they helped to shape this nation and the mere fact of their existence is important in the annals of history.

In continuing the study of Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard, many family names seem to "leap out." Take, for instance, the one grave of the Edie family—where the marker is still in place.

1. In memory of Mary D. Edie, Died July 15, 1847, Aged 29 years.

Note: It is quite possible that Mary D. Edie was a member of the Marsh Creek (Pennsylvania) family for the Edies were early settlers in what is now Adams County. Some of their old graves are in the Upper Marsh Creek churchyard (Black's) and a few of the tombstones are still in place.

Nothing is known, at this time, of this particular member of the Edie clan but that she came of "good stock" there can be no doubt.

Located approximately in the center of the graveyard is a comparatively small plot enclosed by an old-fashioned iron fence. Within are two altar tombs which bear the following inscriptions:

2. In memory of my parents, Henry Williams, and Jane Williams. The former was born in 1753 and died in 1820. The latter was born in 1779 and died in 1854.

3. In memory of Washington Williams, son of Henry and Jane Williams, Born 1817, Died 1822.

Note: The Williams family were early settlers in Tom's Creek Hundred and were members of the Presbyterian church. Apparently Washington Williams was a man of means for the gravemarkers both for himself and his parents are of the "expensive variety." The Williams family intermarried with the Shields clan, that which is definite, and, it is quite possible, with many other of the old families in this section. There is a tradition that Henry Williams was a soldier in the War of the American Revolution. This is probably true—the dates of his birth and death "fit perfectly."

In the row directly in front of the Williams plot is the grave of Benjamin Ogle. The inscription follows:

4. Sacred to the memory of Benjamin Ogle, Died June 20, 1822, Aged 62 years.

Note: There is no more honored name in Maryland than that of Ogle. Both the men and women of this family have been outstanding. In truth they helped to shape the history of the state. On the Eastern Shore — at Annapolis—Ogle graves are to be found and the history of the clan is most interesting. It would be impossible at this time to go into detail it is enough to say that it is a pleasure to find the name in Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard.

Next to the grave of Benjamin Ogle are those of Joanna and John Jodan.

5. In memory of Joanna Jodan, Born April 3, 1809, Died October 16, 1930.

6. In memory of John Jodan, Born June 4, 1804, Died July 27, 1832.

Note: John and Joanna Jodan were probably man and wife although there is no proof of this. They died very young — Joanna was only twenty-one years of age at the time of her death while John was twenty-eight.

There is no additional data on hand at this time pertaining to the Jodan family and these two are the only marked graves of this clan at Tom's Creek.

In the next row of graves are those of the Clark family. The inscriptions follow:

7. In memory of Analeze Clark, Died April 13, 1838, Aged 6 years, 1 month and 12 days.

8. In memory of Vincent W. Clark, son of John and Eliza Clark, Died September 8, 1849, Aged 5 years, 7 months and 12 days.

9. A rough, brown fieldstone — without inscription.

Note: Vincent W. and Analeze Clark were probably brother and sister. There appears to be several unmarked graves in this plot but just who is buried therein is not known. The fieldstone also marks a grave but there is no inscription to give identification.

The Moore family plot contains three marked graves and the inscriptions are as follows:

10. Sacred to the memory of Margaret Moore, daughter of James and Jane S. Moore, Died June 13, 1842, Aged 31 years, 1 month and 8 days.

11. In memory of Jane Scott Moore, relict of James Moore, Born September 6, 1786, Died May 9, 1849, Aged 62 years, 8 months and 3 days.

12. In memory of James Moore, Born October 6, 1785, Died October 19, 1821.

Note: The Moores probably came to Tom's Creek Hundred from the Marsh Creek Settlement, in what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, for they were early settlers on the then frontier. David Moore, a soldier of the American Revolution, is buried just within the entrance at Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian graveyard (Black's) and there are other members of that clan buried in the same place but the markers originally placed at their graves have long since been lost to time and vandals.

Apparently James Moore married Jane Scott, another fine "Marsh Creek" name. The pioneer Marshes are interred in the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian graveyard.

There are two Eichelberger children buried in this row of graves. The inscription follows:

14. Sacred to the memory of Lydia Eichelberger, daughter of G. M. and Jane Eichelberger, Died September 20, 1824, Aged 8 years, 2 months and 6 days. Also, of her Infant Brother, Died November 28, 1818, aged 20 days.

Note: The name of Eichelberger is usually associated with the "Pennsylvania Dutch Country" but some of the family must have "strayed" over into Maryland at a fairly early date. These children died well over a hundred and twenty-five years ago but their memory is "kept green" by the small gravestone in Tom's Creek churchyard.

The historical and genealogical study of Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard will be continued in this series next week.

Catoctin High Topples Middletown

Catoctin High School beat defending champion Middletown 1-0 in a key soccer game Tuesday at Catoctin.

The victory leaves the Cougars as the only unbeaten county team in soccer. The Knights, who did not lose a county game last year, are now 1-1.

Dave Swomley scored the only goal in the second quarter with an assist by Dave Wantz.

He kicked the ball in from about 12 yards out. Swomley earlier had missed two wide open shots.

It was a sloppily played game by both teams. Catoctin had several chances to score in the contest but couldn't get the ball in the net.

Goalie Steve Pugh had a great game for the Knights with 12 saves. Two Cougar goalies registered six saves.

Catoctin took nine shots and Middletown five.

The Cougars were paced by reserve fullback John Hemmingway who came off the bench and did an outstanding job.

Middletown dominated play for the first quarter but Catoctin took over after that.

from The Bible
God called the light Day.— (Gen. 1:5.)

With the coming of each new day we begin again. No matter what yesterday was like, we have the joy of beginning anew today. There is a sense of freedom that comes with the newness of the day. There is a powerful release from bondage of yesterday, when we positively know that today is a new beginning. God is in this new day and His wisdom is as the sun that shines in our sky. His power is in each and every one, welling up to strengthen us in our endeavors.

The Wright Brothers' airplane, first successfully flown in 1907, had engine parts made of high-strength chromium-nickel steel.

If the Shoe Fits...

What is the difference between a corn and a callous?

The most common of all foot ills are the corn and callous, caused by ill-fitting shoes.

When there is constant pressure or friction on any given point of the foot, a callous or hardened layer of skin will form. It is nature's way of protecting the tiny nerves and other sensitive tissue beneath the top skin layers. These calloused areas are usually found on the toes, the heel, and under the ball of the foot.

A corn starts as a callous, but with constant pressure and friction it develops a cone-shaped core with the point penetrating into the toe and pressing upon the nerves. This is nature's way of signalling that the pressure on the corn be relieved.

Callouses can occur on bare feet. The corn, however, is found only among shoe wearing people. Usually the shoe is too short or too narrow or of improper fit, or incorrect design. A corn can also be caused by swelling feet, which develops the same pressures as a shoe too short or too narrow.

Incitation To Murder

The Black Panther Party has sought to "disown" the Black Panther "Coloring Book" since the nation-wide publicity it received after its dramatic exposure at the Senate's McClellan Committee hearings. The Black Panthers cannot get away with disowning it. It is their creation. They distributed it. It carries the message of the Black Panthers just as it is being carried each week in their widely distributed newspaper, the Black Panther. The same cartoonist (signed: "Teemer") who drew the "Coloring Book" cartoons showing children stabbing and shooting policemen, continues to draw the same sort of cartoon in every issue of the Black Panther newspaper.

At 42nd and Broadway in New York, at Hollywood and Vine in Los Angeles, at State and Madison in Chicago, at downtown crossroads and along the Negro community "Main" street from coast to coast, the Black Panther newspaper is sold (price 25¢) to the tune of perhaps 100,000 each week. It is a massive dagger-like weapon aimed at the heart of police and all other government authority. The "Coloring Book" is an incitation to Negro children to murder whites. Here is a page-by-page description:

Black "History?"
Cover: A Negro leads a Black Panther on leash; the man has a pistol in his hand. Two children are behind him, a black boy and black girl, both with pistols. Printed title: "Black Panther COLORING BOOK."

Page 2: THE BLACK MAN IN AFRICA HAD STRONG WARRIORS AND BEAUTIFUL CITIES—shows glorified Africans amidst ornate surrounding. Page 3: THE WHITE MAN WANTED THE RICHES OF THE BLACK MAN. THEY CAME WITH GUNS AND FORCE AND TOOK THEM—show tusked pigs with guns, holding out Bibles to young Negroes. Page 4: THEY MADE SLAVES OF THE BEAUTIFUL BLACK WARRIORS AND BROUGHT THEM TO AMERICA—shows shackled Negroes unloaded from boat in America, pigs with guns symbolizing white race. Page 5: BLACK MOTHERS AND FATHERS WERE TAKEN FROM EACH OTHER AND SOLD OFF TO THE WHITE MAN—shows handsome Negro chained, torn from wife by pigs with whips and guns.

Page 6: THE STRONG BLACK MAN DIDN'T LIKE BEING A SLAVE SO HE FOUGHT THE WHITE MAN—

shows powerful Negro plunging footlong dagger into back of hairy pig. Page 7: NAT TURNER, A STRONG SLAVE, SHOWS THE BLACK MAN NOT TO FEAR THE WHITE SLAVE OWNER—shows Negro chasing pig with dagger held at pigs back. Page 8: "OFF THE PIG" BEAUTIFUL BLACK MEN!—shows three Negroes with knives, axes, killing and butchering pig ("off" in Panther language, means KILL). Page 9: THIS IS A PIG. HE TRIES TO CONTROL BLACK PEOPLE—shows fat pig with policeman's star and holstered pistol, with long tusks, mouth foaming, flies swarming around him.

Page 10: THE PIG TRYS TO PROTECT THE WHITE STORES IN BLACK COMMUNITIES THAT ROB BLACK PEOPLE—shows downtown city stores, with two giant pigs towering over the city, one taking currency from Negroes, the other holding pistol on them. Page 11: BLACK BROTHERS ARE TIRED OF THE WHITE MAN IN BLACK COMMUNITIES—shows handsome Negro attacking pig policeman, knocking him down, while Negro children pick up policeman's gun. Page 12: HUE P. Measle Immunization Campaign Set

The Frederick County Health Department will begin a campaign of measles immunization the last week in October, according to Dr. Charles Spicknall, county health officer.

Last spring, 1,854 eligible children in the elementary schools were vaccinated and this program in October is expected to immunize the remaining children. Letters will be sent to the parents for their permission to immunize the pupils.

Public health officials estimate that a level of 85 per cent immunity is necessary for an "epidemic safe" community. Dr. Howard J. Garber, chief of the Division of Communicable Diseases, has recommended a concerted effort at the local level to protect these children who are still susceptible.

Dr. Garber also predicted that the next epidemic of German measles, a basic cause of birth defects, could occur as early as next spring and he warned that the state of Maryland could only acquire enough rubella vaccine to immunize a small portion of the 700,000 children eligible for the immunization.

Dr. Spicknall, however, has said that Frederick is very fortunate in that it is expected to have available for general use, a new vaccine manufactured by a leading drug firm. He said he expects no problems in obtaining enough vaccine to take care of Frederick County.

reflections in beauty

BY

Aubrey McDonald

One of the most basic, yet often neglected, beauty assets a woman possesses is a pleasant voice. For no matter how well groomed, skillfully made-up or poised she may be, a woman's beauty and charm can be overshadowed by an unpleasant voice, careless speech habits or uninteresting conversation.

Good posture is closely related to effective speech. Sitting and standing erect while conversing is extremely important. To demonstrate this, lie flat on your back and notice how effortlessly you can project your voice.

Observe yourself in a mirror as you practice. Can you give directions to the powder room without moving your hands? Hand gestures are very expressive, particularly when talking to a group, but one should be careful not to use too many hand gestures, as this can be distracting in talking to a group or in conversation.

Proper breathing is another good-speech essential. While speaking before your mirror, check to see if your shoulders move. Breath should be inhaled and exhaled by force from your diaphragm, and neither your shoulders nor chest should move noticeably.

It's interesting to observe the link between personality and speech. If a woman is nervous, her voice is apt to be high-pitched and irritating. A critical, unfriendly individual frequently has a harsh, disagreeable voice. A dull, monotonous voice often indicates a cold, unexpressive person. Whether your voice is pitched in the high speaking range, or the low, it can still be attractive and soft, if you consciously strive to make it so.

Your public library has books and brochures which outline proper diction and speaking habits which, when studied and practiced, can improve not only your telephone voice, but everyday speech in conversation.

A pleasing voice is a must for social and professional success, and adds immeasurably to a woman's total portrait of grace, femininity and charm. Remember - your voice, how you speak and what you say are direct reflections of your entire personality. Don't neglect this integral part of your beauty program.

One of the easiest and most pleasant ways to achieve visual beauty is with the aid of your local Fashion Two Twenty Consultant. She will be glad to help you establish a beauty and grooming routine and select the proper make-up especially tailored to your individual needs. If you have any questions regarding beauty or grooming, I will be pleased to answer them. Just send them to me c/o Fashion Two Twenty, Box 195, Aurora, Ohio 44026.

Truckers Seek Road Revisions

American Trucking Associations this week issued a White Paper documenting its assertion that the need to liberalize federal motor vehicle sizes and weights is both necessary and desirable.

To combat emotion and misrepresentation the ATA White Paper spelled out the history of present federal limits—written in 1946—and underscored the considerable support that exists for the trucking industry's position that it can operate more safely and economically with more liberal limits.

The paper gives an emphatic "Yes" to three questions:

Will the safety of motorists be protected and enhanced?

Will highways and bridges be preserved?

Will consumers and shippers profit from more efficient transportation?

The ATA paper asserted that H.R. 11870—which would permit states to update their limits on truck and bus sizes and weights—has been endorsed by the Department of Transportation and its branch, the Federal Highway Administration, and by the American Association of State Highway Officials.

More than 200 manufacturing, agricultural, food and other business industries maintain the bill is essential to combat inflation, the ATA position paper noted. Materials handling experts affirm passage of the bill would lead to a $50-a-year saving for every American family.

Highway safety will be enhanced, ATA said, because of technical improvements—improved brakes, greater stability, better hill-climbing ability—that are possible if trucks can be manufactured six inches wider.

Truck length will be held to 70 feet under the proposed law, thereby refuting opponents' charges that the industry wants "truck trains," said the ATA paper. Also, extra highway expense, according to Department of Transportation experts, won't exceed $305 million, contrary to assertions by the American Automobile Association that costs will run as high as $5.8 billion.

The ATA paper gave strong proof that the trucking industry's widely-used twin-trailer combinations—two short trailers pulled by a single tractor—are as safe or safer than conventional semi-trailer combinations. The paper noted the misuse by the American Automobile Association of an accident study it commissioned by Ernst & Ernst. The AAA claimed to Congress the paper said, that twin-trailer units have higher accident rates. This was categorically denied by Ernst & Ernst.

The proposed legislation would not, said the paper, authorize larger or heavier trucks than are now on Interstate highways. The bill merely gives each state the option to bring its standards up to the proposed federal limits. Some states already have higher limits and could keep those limits.

Principal elements of H.R. 11870, the paper stated, are:

Increase from 18,000 to 20,000 lbs. for single axle weight.

Increase from 32,000 to 34,000 lbs. for tandem axle weight.

Change in maximum gross weight from 73,280 lbs. to a formula designed to protect pavement and bridges in each state.

Increase from 96 inches to 102 inches in width.

Institute for the first time a 70-foot length limit.

"The Department of Transportation has estimated that the transportation industry will have to double its facilities every 20 years just to keep pace with the nation's anticipated economic growth," the ATA paper declared.

"Since trucking is growing at a considerably faster rate than transportation generally, it appears conservative to estimate that truck capacity will have to be increased even faster.

"The way to facilitate an increase in truck capacity without a proportionate increase in the number of vehicles is to permit more economic use of vehicles consistent with highway safety and highway capacity. H.R. 11870 visualizes a new family of trucks which satisfies those conditions. Its passage is the essential first step toward this objective."

employment alone in the construction will amount to 20,000 people and it is interesting to note that some of this employment might be in the 6th Congressional District. The Fairchild Hiller Company in Hagerstown has a possibility of getting a subcontract to work on this plane.

Very important also is the fact that under the present finance plan the United States government will recover its investment in the development of this airplane over a period of years. The government will get a royalty on each plane sold, thus if 300 aircraft are sold the United States government will break even.

After that the government will receive royalties plus 6% interest on the next 200 aircraft and if sales go beyond 500 the interest is even greater. From a competitive standpoint our plane should be better than the foreign competition because it will fly about 400 miles an hour faster and will have a range of about 4000 miles compared with 2400 for the Russian plane and 3500 for the British-French version. The United States version should be able to find sales for uses which its competitors do not have.

There are however, serious problems arising from the use of this aircraft—the most important of which is the sonic boom. This is the sound that a person on the ground hears as a result of the supersonic transport passing overhead. It generally creates a great deal of displeasure. Studies are under way now to determine how this boom can be counteracted. It is expected that because of the noise the uses of the airplane will be confined to over water travel.

Although the development of this plane is extremely important to the economy of our country there will still be considerable debate in Congress before the plan presented by the President is finally approved.

Counterspy To Speak At Mount

What happens when a U. S. scientist becomes a double agent?

John Humnik a man who lived for six years as a counterspy for the F.B.I., comes to Mount Saint Mary's College on October 8 to tell his extraordinary story at 8 p.m. in Flynn Hall. The public is invited.

Author of the recent book "Double Agent," widely discussed in the press, on radio and TV, Humnik has been interviewed by Mike Wallace, Barry Farber, as well as on NBC's Monitor and other shows. The espionage nightmare that began in 1961 seems to have safely ended at long last for this prominent young scientist and engineer, who is married and the father of four children.

His work for the F.B.I. began to come to light on September 1, 1966, when the U. S. Government expelled from the country one Valentin Revlin, a member of the Russian Embassy in Washington, D. C. The charge: spying.

During the months that followed, through newspaper reportage and then testimony before a Senate committee, the crucial role played in this affair by John Humnik gradually unfolded. For it was Humnik, at the F.B.I.'s urging, who had let himself be enlisted by the Russian Valentin Revlin as a spy.

For six years Humnik worked for a Soviet spy network operating out of the Embassy in Washington all the time secretly reporting his meetings to agents of the F.B.I. Risking his life on many occasions, he stole and photographed for the Russians highly classified defense and space documents that had been altered and/or falsified under F.B.I. supervision.

Congressman Beall Reports From Washington

The Congress received a proposal from President Nixon this week that is certain to create quite a bit of controversy and involve considerable discussion in both the Senate and the House of Representatives.

The President requested $96 million this year and a total of $682 million in the next five years to proceed with the construction of a prototype super sonic transport plane. This plane, which will travel at 1800 miles per hour and carry 250 passengers, is to be built by the Boeing Aircraft Company under a contract won last year. In his message to Congress, Mr. Nixon said that he reached his decision after listening to considerable debate inside the White House among members of his staff.

The most compelling reason for the United States to build a plane of this type is the fact that Britain, France and Russia have already flown prototypes of SSTs and therefore our country is in danger of losing its number one position in the world airplane market. We have always been able to sell airplanes to airlines in other countries and it would certainly be a tremendous economic loss for us if our domestic airlines were forced to buy their aircraft from either France or England. It is expected that the em-

We make sure children's glasses last for one year. At least.

We don't expect them to break in the first place, because they're heat-treated for strength. But if they do break, a new pair is on us.

Frames, lenses and fitting. This is in line with our policy of selling all our children's glasses for one flat price, regardless of prescription.

If Johnny can't read, we don't want it to be our fault.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Growth In Shelter Requirements

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., October 2, 1969—Government efforts to curb inflation have put the pinch on new construction, particularly housing. For August, housing starts dropped 1.6%, the seventh consecutive monthly decline. Building permits a forerunner of housing starts, dipped almost 3% in August to a 1,193,000 seasonally adjusted annual rate.

Demand Is Pressing

In reflection of the slowdown in building and the unfavorable market climate, many building stocks have fallen 20% and more from their 1968-69 highs. In our opinion, long-term oriented investors could use present weakness to begin picking up some selected building issues. While we recognize that the near-term housing picture does not inspire confidence, we feel the shelter market in the next few years is going to boom. The demand for shelter is now nearing the critical level. It has been estimated that in the next 30 years as many houses—142,000,000—will have to be built as have been built since the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock almost 350 years ago.

Filling A Void

Soaring costs of conventional building, record - high interest rates and tight money may temporarily delay the building boom, but eventually we feel the demand will be met. Where traditionally built homes cannot meet the need, mobile units, modular buildings, apartments, and factory manufactured housing will fill the void. Those companies whose capabilities span a broad spectrum of shelter concepts should be in the forefront of the booming shelter market of the 1970s. Among the companies the Babson staff favors for participation are the following:

Boise Cascade

From a small lumber producer ten years ago, Boise Cascade has expanded dramatically to become an international manufacturer and marketer of building materials paper and packaging, and office supply products. Its broad scope of activities in the shelter field include the manufacture of factory - built homes, mobile homes, recreational travel trailers and campers, and land development activities. The speculative-grade common near 71 appears attractive for aggressive investors seeking appreciation and growth of capital.

Emhart Corp.

As one of the world's largest makers of builders' hardware, Emhart is in a good position to benefit from anticipated building boom of the 1970s. In addition to making hardware, Emhart has a strong position in glass-making machinery and in sporting firearms. Start-up costs of a new, highly automated hardware manufacturing complex, believed to be the largest hardware manufacturing plant in the country, will be heavy this year, but company's prospects for the '70s are bright. Purchase of the average-grade common stock, near 37, is recommended for accounts looking for growth potential.

National Gypsum

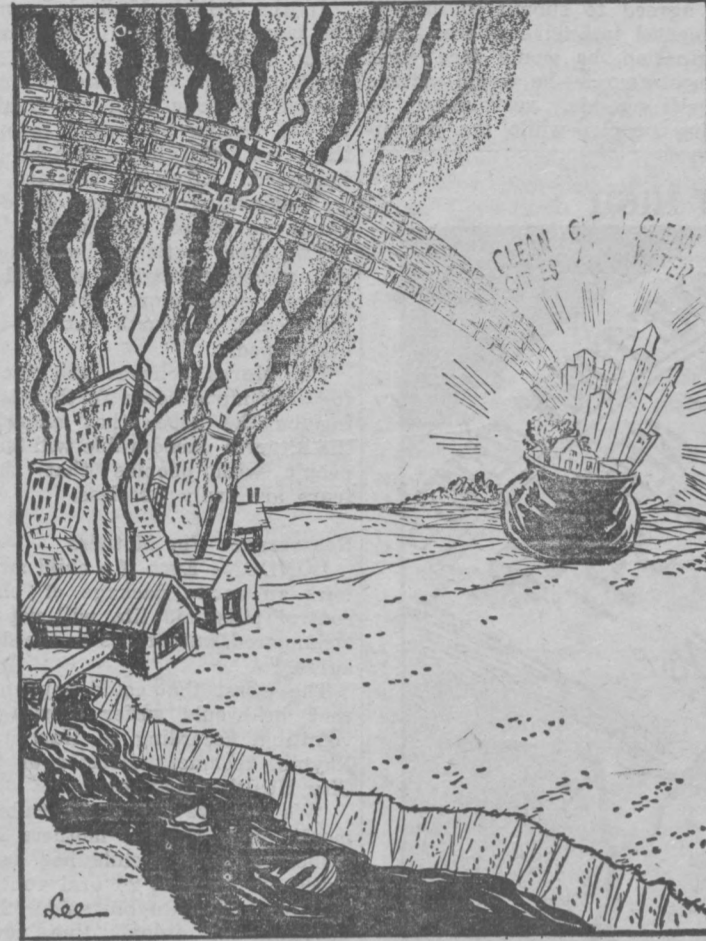

The second largest producer of gypsum products, National Gypsum also holds an important position in other building lines including portland cement, insulation, ceramic tiles and paints. Recent acquisitions have further expanded company's activities into decorative vinyl wall covering and plastic laminates and into the fabrication and installation of glass for commercial shelter construction markets. Purchase of National Gypsum's speculative-grade common stock, near 28, is recommended for intermediate- to longer-term appreciation.

Weil-McLain

Makes and markets indoor climate control and water supply equipment and factory - built, sectionalized homes. Sales have grown from $17 million in 1964 to $54.5 million last year, while net income has increased from $1.2 million to $2.6 million. Company is seeking, through acquisitions and internal growth, to expand its opportunities in factory-built housing in the northern Midwest and New England areas. Near its recent price of 31, the speculative-grade common appears attractive for aggressive accounts seeking appreciation.

Who is this lady?

- A. Little Orphan Annie.
- B. The Jolly Green Giantess.
- C. The Statue of Liberty.
- D. MacWest.

If you picked anything other than C, well, you're in a whole lot of trouble.

Sure, you probably picked the Statue of Liberty. Everybody knows who she is and what she stands for.

Or do they?

It's amazing how many of us take this proud lady of the New York Harbor for granted.

We should know that her proper name is "Liberty Enlightening the World." That she symbolizes the triumph of freedom over tyranny. That she is a declaration of our independence.

Of course, we need more than statues to remind us of our freedom. We need action, by each and every one of us.

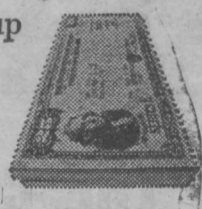

And that's where U. S. Savings Bonds come in. They help preserve that thing called freedom.

They help make this country of ours economically stronger to tackle some of the problems that face us.

And, buying Savings Bonds can be easy and automatic. All you have to do is join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank. And then you can sit back and forget 'em while the money piles up.

So think about the freedoms we enjoy. And think about U. S. Savings Bonds as a way to keep us free.

As for Miss Liberty, well, when you're in New York go up and see her sometime.

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em!

WOMEN'S HEALTH

By Elizabeth Stewart
Women's Medical News Service
Curing Phobias
LONDON—The 42-year-old Englishman had been deathly afraid of open spaces for 16 years. Now his phobia was so overwhelming that even with sedation he could not bring himself to leave his house. Desperate, unemployed, he finally agreed to submit to an experimental technique where, in his imagination, he would face what he most feared—he would picture himself outside, surrounded by jeering people—while the psychiatrist would continuously embroider the fantasy so as to maintain terror at the highest possible pitch for the longest possible time. In the British Medical Journal, the psychiatrist, Dr. I. M. Marks, reported striking success. By the tenth session the patient forced himself to cope with the reality of his phobia by living through the same horrifying scenes he had imagined. After 16 sessions, he was dismissed as "more confident (and) no longer miserable."

level off in the early 1950s? A leading radiation expert blames fallout from atomic tests begun in 1945 and continued until 1963. Dr. Ernest J. Sternglass, Director of Radiation Physics at the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, points to infant mortality rates in eight Southern states as proof. In these states, all in the path of fallout from the New Mexico and Nevada testing sites, the rate of baby deaths stopped declining while infant mortality in neighboring states—out of the fallout path—remained "normal."

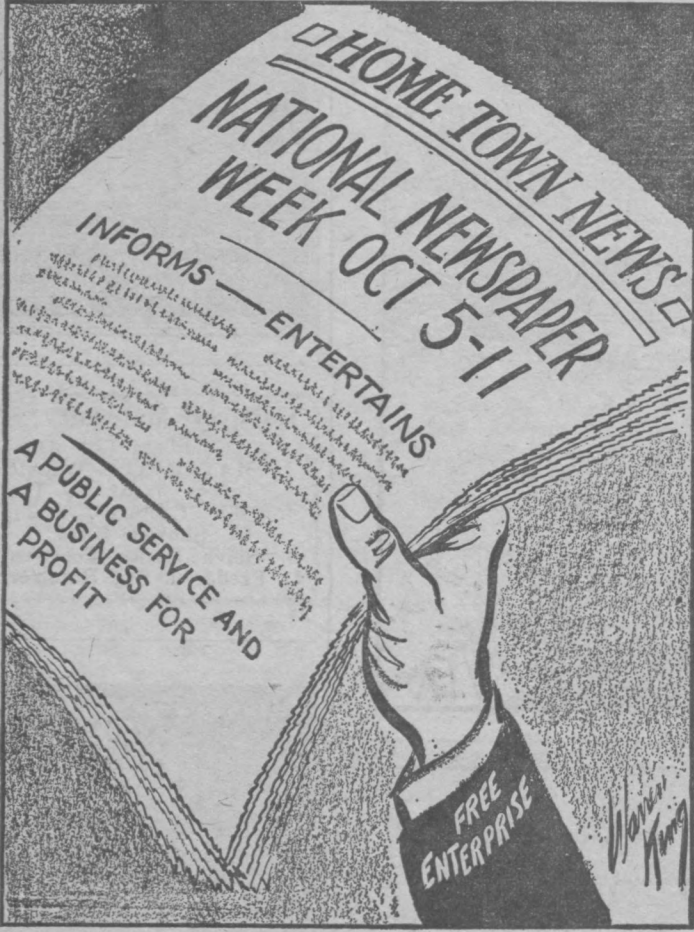

to the mid-Sixties. Spokesmen for the Atomic Energy Commission dismiss Dr. Sternglass's data as "just a coincidence." TO LECTURE Rev. Robert S. Flagg, instructor in moral theology at Mount Saint Mary's College will be one of the lecturers for "The Towson School of Theology", an ecumenical adult education program to be conducted by the christian churches of Towson, Md. Father Flagg's subject is "Theology of Hope". He will discuss the problem of hope and despair in the light of contemporary literature, philosophy and politics, citing christian faith as a pre-condition to hope, and the resurrection and after-life as objects of hope. More than 700 adults in the metropolitan Baltimore area are expected to participate in the program which runs over a three-month period starting this month.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Roger C. Finney-frock, Emmitsburg R2, announce the engagement of their daughter, Linda Marie, to Daniel W. Seiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Seiss, Thurmont. Miss Finneyfrock is a 1969 graduate of Catocin High School and is employed by GEICO, Chevy Chase. Her fiance, a 1965 graduate of Thurmont High School, served two years in the U. S. Army at Fort Bragg. He is employed by M. J. Lime Co., Boyds. A fall wedding is planned.

HOLDING IT HIGH

Reassurance For Mothers LONDON—Even if a child swallows an entire package of birth control pills, his life will not be endangered, authorities in the field agree. The worst that could happen is that he would suffer nausea or vomiting, according to Harry W. Raybin, technical director of the City Health Department. "We receive about 25 calls a month from anxious mothers and fathers because a child has swallowed as many as 20 oral contraceptives," Mr. Raybin said. "But parents can relax. I've never read of any acute problem associated with a child's swallowing these pills. Acute poisoning simply does not occur."

New Main Dish Salad

It's called "Surfers' Salad," but landlubbers will love it, too. Glamorous as all get out, it combines red and gold nectarines with crab and avocado. Sliced hard-cooked eggs bolster its protein content. You'll find that fresh nectarines will bring new interest to many salad favorites. Garnish chicken salad with nectarine slices; add diced nectarines to gelatin molds; toss slices with torn salad greens and onion rings in an herby oil and vinegar dressing.

SURFERS' SALAD

- 4 or 5 fresh nectarines
3 cups shredded iceberg lettuce
2 cans (7 1/2 oz. each) crab meat, drained and flaked
OR 1 lb. cooked crab meat
3 or 4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1 1/2 cups bread croutons
1 avocado, sliced
1/4 cup chopped green onion
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cup catsup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 teaspoon prepared horseradish

Slice nectarines to yield 2 1/4 cups. Set aside a few slices for garnish; place remainder in large salad bowl with lettuce, crab, eggs, croutons, avocado and onion. Gently toss salad; garnish with nectarine slices. Chill. Blend sour cream, catsup, Worcestershire and horseradish in small dish; pass with salad. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

RE-ELECTED SECRETARY

Rev. Thomas G. Smith, S.T.D., Spiritual Director of Mount Saint Mary's Seminary, has been re-elected executive secretary of the Eastern Regional Conference of Seminary Spiritual Directors for another two-year term.

The election took place at a workshop in "Field Education of Seminarians: Content and Supervision" which was conducted at Georgetown University. The workshop was co-sponsored by the National Catholic Educational Association, the Midwestern Association of Theological Schools, the Eastern Conference of Major Seminary Rectors, Georgetown Summer School and the Eastern Regional Conference of Spiritual Directors.

The spiritual directors meet twice yearly to discuss developments in their field and to exchange information which can be mutually helpful.

SOMETHING EXTRA SPECIAL

We just purchased a 1964 Rambler Classic "660" 4-door sedan, automatic drive, with 9,000 actual miles on it (actual miles or money back). Car is white with green interior and actually still smells new inside! This car was bought and owned since new by Mrs. Fowler, High St., Gettysburg, who was forced to sell it on account of her eyesight. Car is same as new inside and out, has had no body or paint work and the original spare tire has never been on the ground. We believe this is the most unusual car we have had in the 26 years we have been in the auto business.

JOHN STERLING FUNT

East, Berlin

Pennsylvania

NO. 22,553 EQUITY

In the Circuit Court For Frederick County, Maryland

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A Vinculo Matrimonii from the Defendant, John Sterling Funt.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland whose last known address was East Berlin, Pennsylvania; that the parties to this cause were married on the 6th day of March, 1950, at Westminster, Pennsylvania, by Rev. Barbach, a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result to this cause four children were born, namely, Larry Eugene Funt, who is at the present time eighteen years of age, John S. Funt, Jr., who is at the present time seventeen years of age, Susan Elaine Funt, who is at the present time fifteen years of age; and Deborah Ann Funt, who is at the present time thirteen years of age, all of whom are in the care and custody of the Defendant, John Sterling Funt; and that the parties to this cause have lived separate and apart, without any cohabitation or interruption by the parties, for more than five years prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the said separation is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation. The Complainant then prays for a divorce A Vinculo Matrimonii and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

It is thereupon this 30th day of September, 1969, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks before the 1st day of November, 1969, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 2nd day of December, 1969, and show cause, if any he has, why a Decree should not be passed in this cause as prayed.

Senior Citizens Prepare For Bazaar

The date of October 14, chosen unanimously at the last Senior Citizens meeting, is fast approaching and all those expecting to go, should stop in at the Center to sign up for the excursion to the Skyline Drive. Only a few spaces are left open on the list, so hurry up that signature. The bus leaves at 8:30 a.m.—Be on time!

Word comes to the Senior Citizens of Frederick County that October 22, at 11:30 a.m., is the date for the annual Fall Assembly. Lunch will be served at 12 noon at the Calvary United Methodist Church on West Second and North Bentz Streets in Frederick. Mr. Charles Stup will serve the lunch for $1.25.

This will be an excellent occasion to visit with each other and also meet our new State Executive Director, Mr. Harry F. Walker. Send into Senior Fellowship Center, 10 South Court St., by October 18, for as many reservations as you require.

The Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Center is abuzz with preparations for the annual Fall Bazaar which opens Saturday, November 8, from 10:30 a.m. on. Chance tickets are already on sale for the beautiful afghan made by a group of Senior Citizens with the aid of Mrs. Frances Keller.

Other attractions are: a country store, light lunches, baked goods, fancy work, children's and women's dresses made from goods donated the club, and sewed by Senior Citizen ladies; white elephant table, gifts, growing plants, and other articles too numerous to note the less useful and beautiful. Set aside Saturday, Nov. 8, as your day at the Senior Citizens Center Bazaar.

The girls will spend three days in Baltimore rehearsing with other members of the chorus from all over the State of Maryland. Vito E. Mason, director of choirs at American University in Washington, D. C., will be the conductor.

The highlight of this will be the gala concert on October 17 at the Civic Center.

This concert is open to the public and everyone is invited to attend.
