

Bradshaw In Race For Clerk Of Court

Joseph Robert Bradshaw, a lifelong resident of Frederick County, and a Democrat, has announced his candidacy for Clerk to the Circuit Court.

He is the son of Mrs. Lula Rice Bradshaw and the late John Loats Bradshaw. His father owned and operated the first new and used furniture business in Frederick City.

Bradshaw was educated in the local schools. He is a veteran of the Korean Conflict, having served four years in the U. S. Air Force, of which 18 months were spent in England. While in service he attended schools in conjunction with his duties as clerk typist, morning report clerk, classification clerk, cost accounting clerk, and personnel clerk. He also attended Frederick Community College, as well as specialized schools for various positions he has held with the U. S. Government in a civilian capacity.

Bradshaw, with nearly 20 years of experience in the administrative and clerical fields, feels he is competent in typing, cataloging, drafting, correspondence, personnel supervision and public relations. He has held positions as Clerk of the Executive Office, War Plans Division, Directorate of Plans and Operations, the Pentagon, Washington, D. C.; cartographic clerk, photogrammetric clerk, geodetic clerk, and clerk to the engineers of the operations division at the Army Topographic Command (formerly the Army Map Service), Washington, D. C.; Travel Clerk and Freight Rate and Classification Clerk, Fort Detrick.

Formerly a long-time member of the Church of the Brethren, Frederick, he is presently a member of the Grace (Rocky Hill) Lutheran Church, Woodsboro.

He is a member of the Jeffersonian Democratic Club, American Legion Post 11, Walkersville Volunteer Fire Co., NCO Club of Fort Detrick, and the Frederick Chapter of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials. Being a sports enthusiast, he was instrumental in organizing the Frederick County Adult Recreation League, in which he served as president, secretary and treasurer. He also helped organize and was a past president of the Glade Village Civic Association.

In announcing his candidacy, Bradshaw said, "The decade confronting us will forgo many changes, and offers many challenges to the ones who are aggressive enough to seek and capable to serve. However, my potential lies with the voters of Frederick City and County and their desire to forward the progress that awaits all of us. I sincerely hope I can become a part of this movement and anticipate with great inspiration, enthusiasm, and pride to serving the people in this capacity."

Bradshaw and his wife, the former Shirley A. Boone, of Walkersville, reside with their daughter, Robin, 12, and son, Eric, 5, in Glade Village, Walkersville.

Cougar Gridders Suffer Loss

Brunswick won its second football game of the year 33-6 giving the Catoctin Cougars a rough initiation to the sport in the process last Saturday.

"A combination of excitement, first game jitters, a large crowd of approximately 600 and a bundle of mistakes and errors shook up the boys," Bill Hodge, the head coach of Catoctin said in summing up the game.

On the first play from scrimmage Brunswick which won the toss fumbled to the Catoctin team on a play up the middle. Catoctin then fumbled the ball on its first play from scrimmage to give the Railroaders another shot at scoring.

Nine plays later Railroader quarterback P. L. Orrison carried the ball over from the 16 yard line on a sweep. Butch Shores added the extra point to give the Railroaders a 7-0 lead.

Brunswick's Mike Pearl kicked off and Tom Williams of Catoctin returned the ball five yards to the Catoctin 42.

The Cougars tried to find an opening in the tough Railroader line on the first two plays from scrimmage and on third down and five yards to go Mitch Deener halted Catoctin's chances for a first down, catching the Cougar quarterback behind the line for a nine yard loss.

The Railroaders took over on the 26 yard line after a 36 yard punt by Greg Miller.

On first down Dick Haller rambled for 17 yards and a first down. The other Railroader running back Al Lewis, who led the team in rushing with 5 yards in nine carries, then jogged 18 yards up the middle to put the Brunswick team on Catoctin's 39 yard line.

P. L. Orrison dropped back into the pocket and unloaded a touchdown pass to Butch Shores to give the Railroaders a 13-0 lead as the kick for the extra point was blocked.

Finally in the fourth quarter, the Cougars put together an offensive attack that ended when Tom Williams carried the ball over from the four. Runs by Tony Neff and Tim Campbell and two costly Brunswick penalties helped set up the score.

Catoctin did get another chance to score but Mark Stonesifer again picked off another Cougar aerial as the gun sounded.

Jackrabbits undergo a population explosion every ten years. The next year of superabundance will be in 1974.—Sports Afield.

CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

This week's Citizens of Tomorrow are as follows: Top row, l-r: Shawn, 2 1/2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Tyler, W. Main St.; Christopher, 16 mos., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, 408 W. Main St.; and Bobby, 1 1/2, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Phelan, Rt. 1. Bottom row, l-r: Rhonda Kay, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Keilholtz, R2; Kevin, 14 mos., son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooke J. Damuth, R1; and Lori Ann, 6, daughter of Mrs. Connie Hawk, W. Main St.

tained in these four pamphlets have NOT been given to high school children or college students in their lifetime. We consider them to be "the vital statistics for freedom."

Widest Distribution Needed But they will be like spiked guns in the conflict for the minds of American youth unless they are widely distributed among the youth and read with open minds. We are making the kits available—one or 10-thousand—at our printer's cost, 50-cents each (four pamphlets, handling charge and postage included). If purchased separately: 10-cents each plus postage.

This is a crisis project in which we need the enlistment of millions of citizens, parents, teachers, administrators, youth leaders, foundations, business, civic and industrial organizations, newspapers, and fraternal organizations such as the American Legion, VFW etc.—every individual and group interested in preserving our American heritage. It requires only 10-minutes to read each pamphlet but they should be studied for a long time by the young people.

To End The Dangers It is my conviction that if the facts contained in our "Educational Survival Kit" could be included in the 1970 and 1971 education of our more than 30,000,000 high school and college youth, the rioting on campuses, the disastrous epidemic of drug-taking, the violence in the streets, the threat of revolution led by such Communist groups as the Black Panthers and SDS would subside and finally end. Then our young generation as it comes into command in America in the years just ahead would be capable of making decisions that would strengthen and safeguard the priceless heritage that has contributed so much to so many people in its 200 year history.

What is Right with America? In our 12-page pamphlet, we respond to this question: Let us begin with the big things that are most important and then talk about little things. Mankind's Three "Musts" Personal freedom, in my opinion, represents man's number one desire... Freedom such as we have enjoyed in America has been very, very rare—in fact, it is rare in the world in our own day. A list of the freedoms we cherish and almost take for granted would include (10 are listed).

Man's next big desire is for economic well-being. All men want adequate food, clothing, housing, entertainment, transportation, automobiles, radios, telephones, refrigerators—yes, we all want economic well-being... Our high productivity gives us a high standard of living that is proverbial. Our national income equals that of the next highest six countries combined. Our average per capita income is now $3,600. About one-half of the people of the world are living on a per capita income of less than $100. The people of Western Europe live on an income of about $1,500 to $1,800 a year. Russians live on a per capita income of about $800 a year. (Then we explain the mechanisms, the factors in our American system that bring about this comparative benefit.)

Man is not content just to be free and economically well-off. Man also desires spiritual values... In America we have great spiritual freedom which is real, not just theoretical (In the booklet, we spell out benefits of our spiritual heritage.) Next week: What's WRONG with Communism.

New TV Station For Baltimore

WBFF-TV, Baltimore's new independent, owned and operated television station, is scheduled to start telecasts this fall. It will be the most powerful television station in the Baltimore/Washington area with the capacity of transmitting approximately three million watts.

Julian Smith, WBFF-TV's President and General Manager, said that Channel 45's Maryland coverage area will extend as far west as Hagerstown, Harpers Ferry and Brunswick; to Indian Head and Cambridge in the southwest and southeast, and to Elkton in the northeast.

In Pennsylvania, Channel 45 will be seen as far north as Strasburg in the northeast, beyond York in the north, and to Waynesboro in the west.

Virginia viewers in Alexandria and in Leesburg and beyond will be able to tune in Channel 45; and in Delaware the coverage area includes Dover in the east and almost to Wilmington in the northeast.

Channel 45 will be known as the Tele - Movie Station as approximately 75% of the station's programming will be devoted to top rated films, many of them shown for the first time on the air in this area. The real bonanza for film fans is that all the movies will be shown in their entirety. Channel 45 will vary its time schedules to fit the length of the films rather than cut a great movie to fit a specific time slot. This unique program policy will be a real boon to audiences who have been subjected to television films edited beyond recognition leaving the viewer frustrated and infuriated at the end.

A new children's personality, "Captain Chesapeake," will make his debut on Channel 45. In addition to his own daily adventures, the "Captain" will also host many exciting new films never shown here as well as many of the all-time young people's favorites.

Believing that this is one of the greatest challenges to American parents, to American institutions and to the survival of our freedom system, we have during the summer prepared a packet of four brochures and we are calling it the "Educational Survival Kit" for high school and college youth. HOT WATER ANGLING

Being in hot water usually means being in trouble, but this isn't necessarily so when it comes to fishing.

In many areas of the country there are "hot water" lakes where fishing is excellent both summer and winter. These bodies of water are adjacent to electrical generating plants which use the lake's water as part of their steam generation process. Cool water is taken into the plant and warm water is returned to the supply reservoir.

In many places this warm water creates a year around primary food source — plants and animals which are forage for desirable species of fish. In some lakes, the area near the water discharge becomes rich with food; in turn, the fish become fat and sassy.

Species of fish found in these discharge water reservoirs are varied, according to information received by the fishing department at Mercury outboards. In western Wyoming, for example, a coal-fired steam generation plant returns water to a lake where trout fishing is excellent. There, rainbows of three and four pounds are taken by deep trolling along the fringe area of the hot water discharge.

Other examples can be found in Missouri, where coal-fired generation plants at two locations offer good bass and crappie fishing the year 'round.

Not all the facts are known about hot water discharge into rivers and lakes. In some areas, anglers are opposing proposed nuclear-powered electrical generation plants for fear hot water discharge will seriously damage local fishing. Research into the problem is continuing, and while the story isn't complete yet there are some benefits for anglers in some reservoirs where a water recycling process is being used. The fishing gang at Mercury suggests you check nearby power lakes and learn what is happening in this "hot water" fishing.

Again—The Birnies

One branch of the Birnie family came to America from Ireland about 1763. The ancestor in the "old country" from whom the American clan is descended was one Clotworthy (1) Birnie, whose date of birth is not known but who married Margaret Scott in 1740. She was born, presumably in Ireland, in 1717. Clotworthy (1) Birnie died in 1768. He was the father of ten children, who are listed as follows:

1. Henry (2) Birnie — born 1741—died 1745.
2. Margaret (2) Birnie—born 1742—died 1745.
3. Hugh (2) Birnie — born 1746—died 1822—came to America in 1763.

Note: Hugh (2) Birnie is buried at Piney Creek Presbyterian churchyard and the inscription from the marker at his grave is as follows:

1. In memory of Hugh Birnie, a native of Ireland, Died August 21, 1822, Aged 76 years.
4. Dr. John (2) Birnie — born 1749—died 1779.

Note: Dr. John (2) Birnie came to America and settled in Maryland. He died at Annapolis, Md., but his burial place is not known with any degree of certainty.

5. Francis (2) Birnie — died in infancy.
6. Margaret (2) Birnie — born 1753—died 1784.
7. Clotworthy (2) Birnie—died in infancy.
8. Upton (2) Birnie—died in infancy.

9. Frances Upton (2) Birnie—died at sea.
10. Clotworthy (2) Birnie (second of the name)—born 1765—died 1845—married Hester McNaughton.

Note: This second Clotworthy (2) Birnie also emigrated to America about the year 1810. He was married on November 23, 1793, at Glenaran, Ireland, to Hester McNaughton. Clotworthy (2) built Thorndale, the family estate, in Carroll County, Maryland. His land grant, at one time, consisted of some 3000 acres. Here at Thorndale, the school for "young ladies" was established and maintained for a number of years. The land area has shrunk considerably but the old house can still be seen and is used as a residence. It is no longer in the Birnie family.

Clotworthy (2) and Hester (McNaughton) Birnie were the parents of ten children—as follows:

1. Margaret (3) Birnie — born 1794—died 1878.

Note: Margaret (3) Birnie, one of the "mistresses" of Thorndale School, was born at Bellycan, Ireland, and died at Thorndale, Carroll County, Maryland. She never married and is interred at Piney Creek. The inscription from the marker at her grave is as follows:

2. In memory of Margaret Birnie, a native of Ireland, Born August 23, 1794, Died February 19, 1878.
2. Hester (3) Birnie — born 1796—Died 1855.

Note: Another of the schoolmistresses at Thorndale. Miss Hester was born at Belfast, Ireland, and died at the family estate in Carroll County, Maryland. She never married and is interred at Piney Creek. The inscription follows:

3. In memory of Hester Birnie, Born in Belfast, Ireland, June 3, 1796, Died Thorndale, Maryland, May 28, 1855.
3. Rose (3) Birnie—born 1798—died 1893.

Note: Miss Rose (3) Birnie was also one of the teachers at Thorndale School. She died unmarried and is buried at Piney Creek. The inscription follows:

4. In memory of Rose Birnie, Born at Belfast Ireland, July 17, 1798, Died at Thorndale, Maryland, October 18, 1893.
4. Clotworthy (3) Birnie—born 1799—died 1882—married Harriet Worthington.

Note: No additional information pertaining to this branch of the Birnie family. Not interred at Piney Creek or if so, no markers designate their graves. The Worthingtons were Episcopalians and it is quite possible that this member of the Birnie family is buried in a churchyard of that denomination.

5. Upton (3) Birnie — born 1801—died 1838.

Note: This member of the Birnie family was born at Chichester Quay, Belfast, Ireland, and died in Carroll County, Maryland. He was, apparently, never married and is buried at Piney Creek. The inscription follows:

5. In memory of Upton Birnie, Died April 21, 1838, Aged 37 years.
6. Ellen (3) Birnie—born 1805—died 1890.

Note: Taught at Thorndale School. She was born at Bouer's Hill, Belfast, Ireland, and died at Thorndale. Interred at Piney Creek. The inscription follows:

6. Ann (3) Birnie—born 1805 (twin to Ellen (3) Birnie) — died 1893—no additional data.
7. Frances (3) Birnie — Born and died 1807.
8. Frances (3) Birnie (second of the name)—born 1809 — died 1904.

Note: Frances (3) Birnie also assisted at Thorndale School. She apparently, died unmarried and is interred at Piney Creek. The inscription follows:

7. In memory of Fanny Birnie, daughter of Clotworthy and Hester McN. Birnie, Born Belfast, Ireland, November 13, 1809, Died Taneytown, Maryland, June 24, 1904.
9. Rogers (3) Birnie — born 1811—died 1891.

Note: Rogers (3) Birnie was born at Glen Burn County Antrim, Ireland, and died at Thorndale, Carroll County, Maryland. Married to Amelia Harry, the daughter of George and Amelia (Knob) Harry. Both are interred at Piney Creek and the inscriptions follow:

8. In memory of Rogers Birnie, Born in Glen Burn, County Antrim, Ireland, October 19, 1811, Died Thorndale, Maryland, May 16, 1891.
9. In memory of Amelia K. Birnie, wife of Rogers Birnie, and daughter of George I. Harry, of Washington County, Maryland, Born February 2, 1818. Died June 22, 1913.

10. John (3) Birnie—born and died 1813.

The historical and genealogical study of the Birnie family of Ireland and Maryland will be continued in this series next week.

The public is invited to attend the concert. There is no charge for admission and parking is plentiful.

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS—Scenes such as this are being re-enacted daily in the Hurricane Celia-stricken coastal bend area of Texas as American Red Cross relief workers bring aid to the more than 65,000 families whose homes were damaged by the worst hurricane ever to hit the Texas coast. The Red Cross is seeking generous contributions from the American people to help meet the emergency and long-range needs of Celia's victims. Contributions should be sent to your local Red Cross chapter.

The 1971 Ford LTD is highlighted by this new front end treatment featuring a forward-thrusting center grille section and dual exposed headlamps. This LTD two-door Brozgham includes a new, standard high back bench seat which eliminates the need for separate headrests. Ford's new side impact protection system, flush door handles, concealed windshield wipers and a new two-tiered, coved instrument panel also are standard features of the 1971 Ford.

The Company For People Who Travel

In 1850, when Henry Wells traded his carpet bag for a railroad to specialize in the "safe transport of valuables" American Express Company was born. Wells was president of the new company; James Fargo was a board member. Both continued with American Express even after they formed the legendary Wells Fargo Company in 1852.

The history of American Express is rich in personality. One of those personalities, a contemporary of Wells and Fargo, was Marcellus Berry, "the man who could invent at will."

When the Post Office introduced its money order in 1864, thus signaling less of a need for the "safe transport of valuables," Berry was asked to devise a better money order. He did the American Express money order that could be bought at a fixed sum which could not be altered.

Berry's later invention, the travelers cheque—with the signature/counter — signature protection and identification—made the "letter of credit" a dispensable item.

Then, in 1915, American Express ventured into the travel business, opening a Manhattan travel office to book clients on the already popular "grand tour" of Europe.

This year, the company celebrates its 120th birthday and its 55th year in travel.

When American Express began opening its travel offices in 1915 its employees found that planning itineraries posed a more formidable challenge than inventing travelers' cheques. "I had a client back in 1937," recalls John Hartwig, senior sales rep at the headquarter's Travel Office "whom the newspapers called the woman's Jules Verne." Hartwig says it all began when she asked him to book her on the first flight to Europe. He wrote to Pan Am and they registered her. Two years later the flight was scheduled: June, 1939, New York-Lisbon.

"After she returned to New York," John says, "I suggested that she fly around the world as the new route was the last link in the world network. She loved the idea." So, John booked her on Pan Am to Lisbon, Lufthansa to Leipzig, KLM to Hong Kong, Imperial (now BOAC) to Manila, Pan Am to San Francisco and United to New York. She completed the trip in less than 16 days. "It was quite an event," John recalls. "It was the first eastbound 'round-the-world' flight on commercial airlines."

The company also has a long time client, an 80-year-old woman who must spend most of her time in a wheelchair, but who likes to travel three months out of every year to out of the way places. Last year, with her personal American Express escort, she visited India, Pakistan, the Kingdom of Swat, Nepal and Sikhim, where she dined with the rulers.

This year, American Express is sending her to visit eastern Asia. But she's going the long way—across Russia.

Political events of the 1960s have made American Express' overseas offices "vital centers of information and advice" for Americans abroad.

During the student riots in Paris, officials of American Express in New York were constantly in touch with the office in the French capital. "Americans in Paris," a spokesman explains, "wanted the people back home to know they were safe. After they registered at our Paris office, we were notified to telephone the families here. The procedure calmed quite a few fears."

American Express assistance was also given travelers touring Czechoslovakia during the 1968 Russian invasion. Two of the company's escorted tours were in Prague when the borders were closed. The Vienna office sent buses into the Czech city to take the travelers out of the country.

The Mid-East war of 1967 also challenged the ingenuity of company officers. On June 6, one day after the war began, the UAR broke diplomatic relations with the USA and ordered all Americans, other than Embassy officials, into the Nile-Delta.

When it came time for them to leave, the American travelers found they could charge their "internment" on their American Express Card. Evacuation was by ship to Athens. That, too, was chargeable.

American Express is also in Vietnam and conducts an unusual banking facility there. Mobile units serve military personnel in combat areas. Servicemen can cash their paychecks, open savings accounts, purchase money orders or travelers cheques, and even get advice on where and how to spend their R & R (rest and rehabilitation).

American Express has been called the company "synonymous with security," providing a little touch of home to all Americans abroad. Today, the company has more than 25,000 employees offering services from the Automatic $100,000 Flight Protection Plan to the Zurich travel office — from A to Z it spans the world of travel.

State Police Seek Recruits

The Maryland State Police offers a rewarding career to young men who qualify. The opportunity to participate in challenging work while performing a great service to the community is open to young men of this State interested in the position of Trooper. Trooper applicants must be between 21 and 31 years of age, be no less than 5' 10" tall, and have

Mount Harriers Face Tough Schedule

In a nutshell the current Mountaineer Cross-Country team looks like this: the toughest schedule in a long time, most of 1969's championship team back, several promising rookies, and a great deal of enthusiasm.

Young harrier coach Frank Zarnowski, beginning his 4th season with a 21-5 record, faces an obstacle-course-like schedule which stretches to November 21. Seven conference dual meets and a variety of championship races highlight the log. The distance men will be pointing toward their second straight Mason-Dixon Intercollegiate Conference title on November 21 in Chestertown, Md. But along the way they will face tough opposition in the U.S.T.F.F. meet at Penn State, the IC4A Championships at Van Cortlandt Park, N. Y., and their own Invitational on November 14.

The Mounties toughest test will probably be the College Park confrontation with Atlantic Coast Conference champions, the University of Maryland. North Carolina State and American U. will be in the same meet for good measure.

The 1970 personnel is impressive. Only Bill Lyons is missing from the squad that won the conference meet by 29 points and placed all seven men in the top 18. Lyons entered the service last spring but co-captain Dick Rasmussen, East Williston, N. Y., returns for another outstanding year.

Junior John Nicoletti, Mount Carmel, Pa., who placed 9th in the NCAA College Division mile last spring (4:15.5), returns as well as all seven of last year's frosh. Steve Hanlon, Caldwell, N. J., is the conference two mile record holder, and Tom Curley, of Pittsburgh, both had fine seasons in 1969. Curley won several early meets, while Hanlon finished strong with fine performances in the big ones: IC4A (10th), and Mason-Dixon (6th).

Chet Bieganski, Schenectady, N. Y., Tom Sulewski, Newark, N. J., Larry Noel, Greenbelt, Md., John Baxter, Williston Park N. Y., and Dave Fitzgerald, Potomac, Md. will provide plenty of depth, as will senior Paul Coombe, Mahoney City, Pa., who is determined to grab one of the top spots.

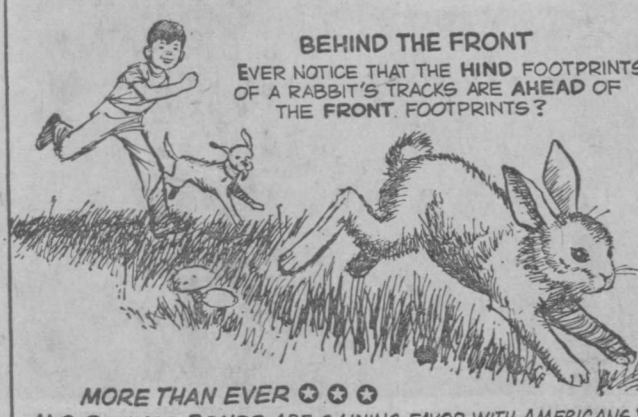

As god as the returnees are, the frosh may be tougher. Mike Mahoney, Waynesboro, Pa., Bill Reinhart, Hillsdale, N. J., Jack Buchner, Johnstown, N. Y., Rob Shoop, Shamokin, Pa., Greg Viola, Stamford, Conn., Art Tolbert, Atlantic City, N. J., and Bob Taft, Rockefeller Centre, N. Y., have all had fine prep careers and anyone of them could move into the team's top seven.

Everyone will be aiming for the annual clash with Catholic U., this year to be held in Washington, D. C. The Cardinals had been undefeated for a four-year span before the Mounties knocked them off 27-29 in Emmitsburg last fall. They will once again be tough.

U.S. Senator

United States Must End Role in Vietnam War

The Senate recently voted to approve the $20 billion Military Procurement Bill for fiscal year 1971. Passage of this legislation followed more than five weeks of debate during which many questions vital to the security of the United States were considered.

One of those questions was whether to proceed with the construction of two additional anti-ballistic missile sites to complement those which were approved last year and which are now under construction. The Senate decided that these additional sites were needed and voted the funds not only to proceed with the ABM project, but also to expand it. I believed, after listening to the debate, that the ABM system approved by the Congress last year is a better system than the Soviet Union's and I voted to proceed at the level outlined by the President last year. I hope my doubts about this system will be overridden by its performance and that it will, in these days of tight money, prove to be a good investment of America's tax dollars.

Another topic which was thoroughly debated during the course of considering the Military Procurement Bill was the Vietnam War. I know of no one in the Congress who does not believe that the American people want this war ended as quickly as possible. However, there persists a great gulf of opinion about the best means to end the conflict. Some senators, and I joined this group, supported the McGovern-Hatfield amendment which would have, had it passed, served notice to the world, particularly to our allies in Saigon and the enemy in Hanoi that the United States intended to terminate its participation in the hostilities in Indochina by December of 1971. However, by a vote of 55-39, the Senate decided, for the present, to support the President's decision to remove 150,000 men by next April and continue to deescalate U.S. involvement in the war at an unspecified pace. I said "for the present" because I suspect that unless the Vietnam War continues to cool and America's involvement decreases, the war will, because of its enormous effect on America, continue to be a subject for debate in the Senate. One example of the influence of the war on our daily lives is the Defense Budget.

President Nixon has, through a great effort, managed to cut back our defense spending by $6 billion from the $77 billion spent last year to a proposed figure of $71 billion for this year. The cut is the largest made in the defense budget in many years. However, as a result, civilian and military sources estimate that the defense industry will be from 30 to 46 per cent idle, that is, it will not be undertaking projects planned because the money is not available. Rather the money which could be spent for this vital work and other pressing domestic needs is being spent in Vietnam.

This situation raises serious security questions which the Congress is going to have to consider. We must worry about not only our security today or tomorrow, but also ten, twenty or thirty years from now. Such planning cannot be adequately carried out while the nation is bogged down in Vietnam. This is one more reason why United States' involvement in Vietnam must end.

BUSINESS and the STOCK MARKET

Daylight Ahead For Cement Stocks

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., September 24, 1970—The faltering pace of the construction market and rising costs have put a severe pinch on cement makers' profits. Thus, lower sales and earnings are the rule rather than the exception. Reflecting the current profits squeeze and the limited chance of immediate improvement, a number of cement producers have reduced dividend payouts this year. For example, American Cement, Lehigh Portland Cement, Giant Portland Cement, and Ideal Basic Industries have all axed their quarterly payments to stockholders.

Profit Pinch

Working against the cement producers in their efforts to maintain a fair degree of profitability has been the sizable amount of excess productive capacity that was added during the 1950s and 1960s. With capacity well in excess of demand, the industry has been unable to realize worthwhile price increases which could help to offset the impact of recent substantial hikes in wage, fuel, and transportation costs. A high rate of earnings is possible if the industry operates at approximately 90% of capacity, but a nearly ideal situation. Yet, since 1962 the cement manufacturers have operated, on average, at only about 77% of capacity.

Better Supply Demand Balance

On the bright side, however: The rate of new capacity additions has slowed, and indications are that over the next few years there will be only a reasonably modest scale of additions. On the demand side of the cement picture, the outlook for the next few years is generally encouraging. Current shipments of this key commodity show a 30% increase over the 315 million barrels in 1960. Looking ahead, however, it is estimated that cement shipments will advance 46% by 1980, to approximately 600 million barrels per year.

Markets For Cement

The housing market will, of course, play a significant role in the projected climb in cement shipments. In an average year, some 20%-25% of the total winds up in the housing market. This percentage is expected to grow as the trend toward concrete housing systems gains strength in order to meet the needs of low- and medium-income families.

Industry spokesmen also see more cement going into the high-rise structural market—schools, hospitals, office buildings—over the next couple of years. Airports are expected to play an outstanding role in the demand for cement during the 1970s. The Administration's Airport Trust Fund proposal calls for about $5 billion to be spent on construction or extension of airport aprons and taxiways over the next ten years. The program for federal aid to highway construction, although presently suffering from government anti-inflation restraints, will ultimately add to demands for cement in the years ahead. Growing pressures for mass transit will mean still another market. Exclusive bus lanes are being tested in some states, and cities attempting to induce use of buses by motorists will have to build fringe parking lots and the requisite facilities for them.

Depressed Stock Group

In view of the improved supply-demand relationship that appears to be approaching for the cement producers, it is certainly merely a matter of time before a more favorable price structure develops to stimulate the industry. Therefore, although the fortunes of the cement manufacturers as well as the group of stocks in this field seem close to low ebb at this time, a rebound is in the makings.

As of now, the Research Staff of Babson's Reports advises investors to hang onto any cement stocks they may have for anticipated price betterment. For those who may wish to make new commitments in this industry, the Staff suggests purchase of the average-grade common stock of Medusa Portland Cement.

KEEP IT CLEAN

by Virginia M. White

DEAR MISS WHITE: Now that summer is upon us I spend much of my free time gardening, but what do I do about grass stains? FLOWER POWER.

DEAR FLOWER: Rubstained area with a small amount of heavy-duty liquid laundry detergent. Wait at least 30 minutes to allow stain to loosen. Machine wash in hot water (150 degrees or more) with 1/4 cup Super Cleaner, 1/2 cup NON-chlorine bleach and additional detergent as needed.

DEAR VIRGINIA WHITE: Almost every detergent on the market today contains enzymes, and they all claim to get out stains, but they just do not work well enough for me. Is there any product I can use that will work on all stains? MRS. S.M.

DEAR MRS. S.M.: To safely and effectively remove almost all stains and to obtain a clean, bright wash, add 1/4 cup Miracle White Powerizer Super Cleaner to the wash water, along with only half the amount of your usual detergent. This Super Cleaner gets out tough spots and stains and also removes enzyme detergent residue. Any detergent, with or without enzymes, will work better with Super Cleaner.

Ask Me Another

BAIRD C. BRITTINGHAM

How many feet does a Thoroughbred cover in a fifth of a second? This is typical of the questions fired at Delaware Park's youthful President, Baird C. Brittingham, when he blossomed forth as a columnist, during their meeting this Spring. "That one was fairly easy to answer," Brittingham recalls. "One furlong, an eighth of a mile, 660 feet. A race horse will run an eighth in about 12 seconds which is at a rate of some 55 feet per second or 11 feet per fifth of a second." The Brittingham "column" was actually a newspaper ad in question and answer form and the first one invited readers to phone in their query. "The switchboard lit up like the Tote Board; we had to drop the phone number and ask readers to write in. We must have averaged almost 100 letters each week," he said. "Of course we didn't have room to answer all the questions in the column but everyone received an answer, and we got some good ideas." One of the latter was the posting of Sunday's workouts on Monday for horses starting that day. "The Monday racing paper which would ordinarily carry workouts is published on Saturday night," he explained and "we thought the public had a right to know."

Two Flying Champs

Internationally famous racing pilot, Bill Brodbeck, flying the record-setting Lark Commander, N1970L, recently set three new flight records for light aircraft during a continuous 6 1/2 hour flight.

Built by Aero Commander, one of the General Aviation Divisions of North American Rockwell (NR), the 4-place, 180-h.p., production model Lark, claimed the records flying over Eastern Seaboard courses. The record flight originated in Albany, Ga., and concluded at the 21st annual Reading, Pa., Air Show, where Brodbeck and his Lark were greeted by an enthusiastic crowd of spectators, and (L to R) Victor Yarnell, the mayor of Reading; (Brodbeck); Col. W. F. Rockwell, honorary chairman of the board of NR, and R. N. Robinson, president of the General Aviation Divisions.

The new Lark records are sanctioned by a member group of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale (FAI), which sanctions all international aviation and aerospace records.

Brodbeck holds six international records and racing championships, all won flying earlier models of Commander aircraft. He holds the Louis Bleriot aviation medal awarded by the FAI.

BETTER BUSINESS

BY W. POST

BROTHER, CAN YOU SPARE THE TIME?

Most business' come to hard-times because they stop doing the very things which made them successful in the first place. This old idea should have special new meaning under today's business and employment conditions.

The beginning of almost any successful company usually shows the top men went after business and worked smarter than the competition.

Reduction of operating costs has been the preoccupation for so long that it's time to consider the final effect. Tighten your belt enough and you'll cut off circulation.

Business belt-tightening has the added fault of keeping the best men at a desk when they should be out beating the bushes to create new income needed to maintain the payroll.

To get business going again, we need to paraphrase an old song, "Brother, Can You Spare The Time?"

The executive shortage in the last decade developed new ideas and tools to amplify the time of our most capable men. Now that the economy is rugged, some of these tools and ideas are beginning to make more sense.

Since nothing much happens in business until someone sells something, within the past few weeks a number of major firms have formed teams of top management specialists and sent them out to show customers how to use their products to greater advantage.

These management teams range in size from two or three to 10 men. The boss himself, his finance, marketing, and manufacturing vice presidents are in-the field applying the firm's best muscle directly on the problems of the firm and its customers. When they identify a new prospect they can tell the product story like it really is.

Should this become a trend it could hyp up current economic conditions and create new ways of doing business for the 70's.

To get the most effective work out of the management teams, some firms have made new use of the tools at hand as a means to have their cake and eat it too. For example, they lease business jets, or other business planes, at less dollar cost than transporting the team by airlines.

They have their cake because the team can fly 2000 miles, work a full day and be back in the office the next day. Leasing, an idea of the 60's means the company can have the 560 mph jets and not tie-up cash needed for day-to-day operation expenses. And, next to time, money seems to be the hardest item to come by.

One type of business jet, the Sabreliner, seats up to 12 men and can operate at airline standards into almost 16 times as many airports as the airlines. So the effect of such a team effort can reach any corner of the nation fast.

There are many such tools and ideas which only need to be put to work by men with the energy and imagination to help to get our economy up to speed again.

We all have the same question to face: "Brother, can you spare the time?" to create new success in your business when times are tough. It seems a better question to answer than, "Can you spare a dime?"

Legion Donates Flags To Schools

As a part of their Americanism Project, the Edwin C. Creger, Jr., Post 168, American Legion in Thurmont, recently presented classroom flags to the Catoctin High School and the Thurmont Middle School. Fifty classroom size flags were given to Catoctin High and ten to the Thurmont Middle School so that a flag could be displayed in each of the instructional areas.

Participating in the presentation at Catoctin High School were: Morris A. Lewis, Post Commander; Student Council Officers: Deborah Bowman, President; Tommy Willard, Vice President; Sue German, Secretary; and Mary Ann Rice, Treasurer. Also present were: Harper Long, Principal at Catoctin; and T. Meade Felton, Assistant to the Superintendent for Community and Staff Relations.

At the Middle School the participants were Commander Lewis; Richard Hahn and Curtis Eyer, student body representatives; Carl Donald, Vice Principal at Thurmont Middle; and Mr. Felton.

According to Mr. Lewis, Commander of the Legion Post, it was brought to the Post's attention that the high school needed these small size flags for the classrooms and that some of the ones in the Middle School were becoming worn from long use. The members unanimously approved the presentation of the flags to the schools.

Firemen Hold Regular Meeting

President Michael Boyle presided over the regular monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Company held Wednesday evening in the Fire Hall.

Fire Chief Guy R. McGlaughlin reported six fires extinguished since the last meeting and in addition, three drills were held. Members reported on the sick list at the meeting were Charles Hartdagen, John J. Hollinger and Edgar Ashbaugh.

The Company voted to purchase a submersible pump to help local residents who have cellar water during heavy rains, by pumping out the water. A shooting match will be held on October 4 with the public being invited.

The Company has added a sabre saw to its inventory of equipment which can be used to cut metal such as wrecked cars, etc. It was felt the machine would be most helpful for rescue purposes.

Another hook-up contest is planned and again Emmitsburg will participate.

On Thursday, October 8, the Fire Company will sponsor a program for the children of the community, offering a ride on a fire truck and a fire hat.

Girl Scout Troop 1316 started its weekly meetings on September 22. All Girl Scouts, Brownies, Juniors, and Cadets met at the Incarnation United Church of Christ. They then divided into troops and went to their meeting places. The Cadets met at the Presbyterian Church.

Patrol I: Patrol leader, Bonnie Gore, Julie Baker, Elaine Little, and Donna Kehne.

Patrol II: Patrol leader, Beth Little, Cindy Baker, Donna Higgins, Fran Fields.

Patrol III: Patrol leader, Melinda Meredith, Jean Sanders, Connie Wivell and Jenny Carr.

Patrol IV: Patrol leader, Bobby Jean Staub, Sharon Joy, Kim Baker and Cathy Wivell.

The troop scribe is Bonnie Gore and the treasurer is Cindy Baker.

The troop's lead is Mrs. William Meredith. Mrs. Robert Staub is the assistant leader. The troop is planning a roller skating party for the future. It looks like an interesting year for Troop 1316.

Senior Citizens To Visit Harrisburg

The Seniors Citizens have decided on a bus trip, Tuesday, Oct. 6, to Harrisburg to see the Capitol and museum, and then to Ephrata Cloister, to see an Eighteenth Century German settlement in the Pennsylvania Dutch Country, one of the most remarkable landmarks on the Pennsylvania Trail of History; and we are coming home by way of the York Shopping Center, and don't we love to shop!

The bus leaves the Center on Tuesday morning, Oct. 6, at 8 a.m. Please make reservations no later than Wednesday, Sept. 30. The bus fare is $4.00.

The bazaar on Nov. 14 sounds so far away, but it's just over the hill, so all you folks look around and dig out some of those nice things you'll never use. (Someone else will love them). Bits of lace and ribbon; and get busy, and we'll have the best bazaar ever. Make your fingers fly!

To prevent sticking and jamming of door locks that must operate in corrosive atmospheres, cylinders of high-quality locks are made from a copper-nickel-zinc alloy called nickel silver.
