Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

The weather we have been having the past several weeks is amazing. While not pleasant by any stretch of the imagination, at least it is, or has been, unseasonably mild. Temperatures have been hanging in the 50-60 degree bracket and on numerous occasions this week I saw several people out mowing their lawns, when it wasn't raining. Here we are, in the middle of November, still mowing grass... amazing isn't it? And to top it off, Peepie Masser this week came up with two fresh strawberries from his garden. This was the second yield for the Masser strawberries, the first yield coming last spring. This is no hearsay... I saw the berries myself. We shouldn't complain though, the weather sure is easy on the heating bill!

There has been another automobile accident at the entrance to Mt. St. Mary's College. During the past decade there have been several accidents at the same location. Requests have been made to the State Roads Commission for the installation of a warning light at the site, but no action has ever been forthcoming. Fortunately the three youngsters involved in Saturday's wreck were not seriously injured, but only by the grace of God did they escape fatal injuries. The roadway there is deceptive at night and some sort of warning should be installed, or at least several streetlights erected there. Talking to a number of drivers living in this area this week, I have found that many of them have almost had wrecks there, and one actually did. Some organization, or the college itself, should put pressure on the Commission to remedy the condition there before there is a fatality.

With the stores already advertising Christmas items the talk came around this week to our Town's Christmas lights. Seems as though it is getting harder each year to find someone who is willing to erect these decorations. Once again this year, our local Firemen have offered their services, on the condition that they be permitted to put them up before Thanksgiving, while the weather is still favorable. In past years putting up these lights was a hit or miss proposition and almost at the last minute the Firemen were called out in almost zero temperatures to erect the lights. This is not necessary at all. A little planning and cooperation between the Town and the Firemen could make this a pleasant task... not a drudgery. Let's get 'em up early men!

MRS. MARY ZURUBA

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Mary Zuruba, Baltimore, last Sunday. Mrs. Zuruba was found unconscious in her burned out apartment Sunday morning at 4:40 and died en route to St. Agnes Hospital. She lived in the Oakley Village section of Baltimore. The deceased was a native of Emmitsburg and was the former Mary Spalding Welty, daughter of Joseph and Stella Welty. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at Our Lady of Victory Church in Baltimore.

Blast Victim Loses Sight

Eugene Harold Andrew, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Andrew, Thurmont, is reported in poor condition at the Frederick Memorial Hospital. Young Andrew was the victim of a dynamite explosion while working on construction of a sewer line to Frederick Community College near Harmony Grove, on October 27. He is confined to the intensive care section of the hospital but can receive visitors. Andrew lost the sight of both eyes in the explosion.

More than 400 products are manufactured in St. Louis, Mo.

FIREMEN TO PRACTICE ON OLD HOUSE

The regular monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. was held on Tuesday evening in the Fire Hall with 40 members present. President Leo M. Boyle presided at the meeting.

Chief Guy R. McLaughlin reported that since the last meeting there were 12 alarms answered and one fire drill. During the month of October, a total of 17 calls was answered by the company.

A report on the shooting match held last Sunday was given by Charles Hartdagen. A profit of over $500 will be realized. The firemen wish to thank all who helped make the shoot a success.

A motion was made for the Christmas Light Committee to purchase some new lights for the building. Chief McLaughlin said that the Town has approached him about the Fire Company's assistance in putting up the lights. The date is to be set later and all firemen will be notified by a reminder on the bulletin board.

President Boyle reported that at the quarterly meeting of the County Firemen's Assn., held at Brunswick recently, the drivers of the fire trucks will have to secure a special driver's license. This is a Class A License. Drivers must apply for the license and then at an announced time they will take one of the trucks to a certain location where the driver will take a test. It is hoped that all drivers will have their license by the first of the year, as this rule will be enforced.

One member, Brooke Damuth, was reported on the sick list.

The nominating committee then presented the slate for the coming elections. They included: President, Leo M. Boyle; vice president, James Kittinger; secretary, Thomas White; assistant secretary, Terry Myers; treasurer, James E. Fitzgerald; director, 2 years, Lloyd Fite; director, three years, Arthur Damuth and Charles Hartdagen; chief, Guy McLaughlin; 1st asst. chief, Arthur Damuth and 2nd asst. chief, Richard Sprankle. Thomas White declined the nomination for secretary. Nominations from the floor included Sam Cool and Michael Byard for secretary. Other nominations from the floor included director, 2 years, Larry Little; director, 3 years, Harry Green, Dr. George Green and Thomas White. Nominations for 2nd asst. chief included Eugene Myers, Thomas White and James Kittinger.

Judges for the election are Paul Keepers, James Harner, Austin Umbel and David Copenhaver. Voting will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. on the next meeting night—Dec. 8—in the Fire Hall.

Chief McLaughlin reported that this Sunday, Nov. 15, at 1:00 p.m., the Vigilant Hose Co. will have practice at the old O'Toole house on S. Seton Ave. The Chief said that this will include practicing with smoke masks and the new saber saw will be tried. Chief McLaughlin also reported that the three men who have been on probation to become drivers are now off and are gull-fledged drivers. They are James Kittinger, Harry Green and Terry Myers.

David Copenhaver was appointed to paint the windows of the meeting room.

The refreshment committee for the December meeting includes Richard Sprankle and Thomas White. Following adjournment refreshments were served.

Hanover Man Charged Following Accident

A Hanover man escaped serious injury Monday morning when his car collided with the side of a tractor-trailer on U. S. 15, south of Emmitsburg.

Approximately $1,000 damage was caused to the car belonging to David Granville Reigle, Hanover 14, according to Trooper Henry Pilch.

Reigle was attempting to pass a tractor operated by Roger C. Finneyfrock, Emmitsburg R2, who was making a left turn onto Orndorff Road. The two vehicles collided about 5:50 a.m. and Reigle's car was knocked into a ditch along U. S. 15. Reigle sustained minor injuries when his car rolled over on its top, Pilch said.

The tractor, which is owned by John I. Troxell, Emmitsburg, sustained about $100 in damages. Trooper Pilch charged Reigle with attempting to pass when unsafe to do so and charged Finneyfrock with making a left turn without giving a proper signal.

The population of Ireland is about three million.

Local Beauty Shop Has Grand Opening

A grand opening was held on November 10 for the Emmitt House of Beauty Styles by Becky in Emmitsburg.

The owner and manager of the beauty salon is Evelyn L. (Becky) Harbaugh. Following her graduation from Thurmont High School in 1961, Becky was employed at Claire Frock Co., Thurmont, and as a waitress at Fitzgerald's Shamrock. These jobs kept her busy enough but didn't quite satisfy her talents and desires of her high school days—the hope that some day she would be a beautician.

Six years later, in September 1967, Becky enrolled in the Award Beauty School, Frederick, where she was chosen "Miss Award Beauty School", during her graduation exercises in October 1968.

After beauty school graduation, Becky was employed at Lolly's Town and Country Beauty Bar in Emmitsburg.

During the past year, she attended Brown's Advanced Styling School in Canada. The Emmitt House of Beauty Styles by Becky is Emmitsburg's newest business.

"Our ultra modern salon has been designed with our patrons' comfort in mind and our prices are moderate," said Becky. "And remember to tell everyone," she continues, "we're located at 200 West Main Street in Emmitsburg, phone 447-2334. I'm so excited—a business of my own—gee, doesn't that sound great?"

In the picture, owner-manager Becky Harbaugh styles a patron's hair as she prepared for the grand opening of her new salon.

The annual Kiddies' Christmas Party was discussed at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President J. Ralph McDonnell presiding.

It was decided to hold the Kiddies' Party on Saturday, Dec. 19 and the president appointed J. Norman Flax as chairman of the committee. Other named were Milton A. Sewell, William H. Kelz, Charles F. Stouter and Norman J. Shriner.

President McDonnell announced that the District Governor would be the guest of the club on December 14. Lion Harry Smith of Woodsboro, was a guest at the meeting. Harry Otterson was voted into the club as a new member during the meeting.

Sight Conservation Chairman William Kelz and Lion Milton Sewell reported they had investigated requests for three pairs of eyeglasses for local indigent children.

Senior Citizens Bazaar Saturday

One more little item concerning the annual Fall Bazaar to be held by the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club on Saturday, November 14, at the Center, from 10:30 until there's nothing left. There is still time to take a chance on the beautiful hand-made wool Afghan, now hanging in the window at the Center.

All the usual features of a Bazaar will be seen: White Elephant Table, Plant and Flower Table, Country Store, Food Sale; Cakes, Pies, Sandwiches, Soup in Jars; Fancy Fruit, gew-gaws of all sorts. There will be two door prizes: a flower given anonymously, and a chicken dinner donated by Mrs. Edna Shorb. Everyone is urged to come, for this time next week the Bazaar will be a thing of the past.

Monday morning at ten o'clock, Nov. 16, will be the regular Board meeting. Anyone interested, as well as Board members, are welcome to attend to see and hear what goes on and enjoy a cup of excellent coffee.

The Stretch Your Dollar group will also hold the third meeting of the series, with Mrs. Marshall discussing ways of making the dollars stretch. All are cordially invited to attend!

Bowling-Skating Party

This Friday night, Nov. 13, the CYO will go bowling and roller skating at Rainbow Rink in Taneytown. Transportation will be provided. Cars will leave from St. Euphemia's at 7:15.

The population of Ireland is about three million.

Two Local Girls Injured At Charnita

Two 17-year-old Emmitsburg young women were injured Sunday morning at 2:20 when their car crashed down a ten-foot embankment at Charnita.

Liberty Twp. Police Chief A. J. Pecher said Darleza Glass, 17, Emmitsburg, was driving east on a Charnita road parallel to Route 116, three miles west of Fairfield, when her vehicle failed to stop at an intersection, crossed the intersecting road, and went down a ten-foot embankment onto property of Floyd Baker.

The Gettysburg firemen's ambulance took the two young women to the Warner Hospital. There Miss Glass was treated for lacerations of the chin. A passenger in her car, Miss Winifred O'Brien, 17, also of Emmitsburg, was treated for a contused nose. Damage was set at $200 to Miss Glass' 1964 Chevrolet.

Clothing Drive For Indigent

A group of Mount Saint Mary's College students is going to try to make this Christmas a happy one for some underprivileged families who live in the hills of Eastern Kentucky.

The group, which is headed by sophomore Dan Marshall, is beginning a drive to collect clothes, blankets, dishware, silverware, toys, and other items for these families. They are directing their appeal to the residents of the communities surrounding the Emmitsburg campus.

Contributions to the drive can be dropped off at the front desk of the Student Union Building on the Mount campus. For those who have no transportation, the group will provide a pickup service. Arrangements can be made by calling 447-2463 and asking for Dan Marshall.

R. J. HARTDAGEN

Robert J. Hartdagen, 79, Biglerville R2, died Monday afternoon at 1:30 at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg. He had been a patient at the hospital since Thursday.

A native of Emmitsburg, he was a son of the late James and Jennie (Miller) Hartdagen, and was employed by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways for a number of years.

Parents Organize To Protect School Children

After a brief discussion at a recent PTA meeting at the Mother Seton School, it was unanimously agreed that the parents would form a Block Parents Plan for the protection of the children walking to and from school or at the bus stops, for Emmitsburg and the surrounding areas. A resume of this plan is as follows:

Certain homes will be selected throughout the school area which will display an appropriate sign which will represent a refuge to a child in trouble.

The child will be instructed that he may seek protection and help at these BP homes during his going to and from school.

As a guideline to the Block Parent and child, the child will be instructed that he may go to these BP homes for emergency only, such as dogs, bullies, and alarming strangers, sudden illness or accident.

Each Block Parent will have a list of names and telephone numbers as reference to call in emergency situations, such as police, school, etc. This information will be listed on the reverse side of the BP sign.

The BP responsibility will include only those of any private citizen responding in a responsible manner to a given situation. The assumption and desire will be that an adult's judgment will be more responsible than that of a child.

Block parents are not necessarily expected to leave their property to assist, break up fights, nor give first aid.

The homes will be screened so that the child may have a reasonable degree of assurance.

The Block Parents have no legal status whatsoever except those of any private citizen.

It is recommended that parents and schools explain the plan to children without undue alarm. Children have great imaginations. Stress to children that these homes are not to be used for such things as torn shirts, drinks of water, skinned knees, and the like. One would not expect their child to run to their neighbor's home for this type of assistance, and do not want to encourage him to seek this type of help from a stranger, whether or not it is a BP home.

Mrs. George L. Morningstar has volunteered to serve as chairman of the committee. At an organizational meeting held at the Morningstar residence last Thursday, Chief Herman Shook, Thurmont Police Dept., Chief W. Henry Filler, Emmitsburg Police Dept., Mrs. William Carr and Mrs. Leo Boyle were present to discuss further steps necessary to begin a successful Block Parents Plan.

The Emmitsburg Middle School has been contacted in hopes that it will go along with the plan as well as the Thurmont Elementary School, to make the communities safer for the children. Additional meetings are being planned at which time it is hoped that all necessary information, posters, and appropriate signs will be available so the Plan can be put in effect immediately. Businesses and responsible individuals, not necessarily connected with the schools will be contacted in order to have complete coverage for the Block Parents Plan to be 100% effective.

College Chaplains To Meet Here

Mount Saint Mary's College will host the Regional Meeting of the National Association of College and University Chaplains on Friday, November 13.

Arrangements for the meeting are being handled by Rev. Daniel C. Nusbaum, Chaplain of the college and a member of the Association's Executive Committee. Invitations have been extended to over seventy college chaplains.

The main event of the day-long meeting will be group discussions followed by Mount Saint Mary's political science professors Thomas Reeves and Emile Nakhleh. Mr. Reeves' discussion will focus on the chaplain's role in draft counseling and Dr. Nakhleh's role in campus political activity.

This is the first time that Mt. St. Mary's has hosted such a conference.

A soufflé baked in a pan of hot water in a slow oven will hold up longer than one that is baked without the hot water at a higher temperature.

TOWN OFFICIALS ASSIGNED SPECIFIC DUTIES

Looking forward to bigger and better things for Emmitsburg, the Burgess and Commissioners took a bold new step this week, the final outcome of which was the reorganization of the entire Board of Commissioners.

Commissioner Myers was given the responsibility for the sewerage disposal system. Commissioner Flax will have charge of parks and recreation, grass cutting, etc. Commissioner Bollinger will have charge of water while Commissioner Rosensteel will be responsible for streets and alleys, effective immediately.

At a special meeting on Saturday morning, it was agreed that the town could be served better if each Commissioner could be made responsible for a small portion of the entire operation of the Town facilities.

It is the hope of the Mayor and Commissioners in dividing this responsibility, that the Town work will be accomplished more efficiently and that each will share in the work load.

The Mayor, in making these various assignments, pointed out the necessity for each official to learn the basic operation of each department in order to do well that for which he was elected.

Brute' Ladies Hold Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, was held on Monday evening at 8:15 with 25 members in attendance. Miss Lois Hartdagen, president, presided. Mrs. Ruth Baker, acting chaplain, opened the meeting with a prayer, followed by the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Four new members were then introduced: Dorothy Kearns, Dorothy Kelly, Arlene Giannini, and Agatha Sicilia.

The secretary's report was read and approved. A thank-you note was read from Anna Gerken. The treasurer's report was read and approved.

Alice Boyle, Ways and Means Committee Chairman, reported on the possibility of a wig show. It was voted to hold a show in the near future. Three salons have asked to hold the show for the Auxiliary. Margaret Warthen and Alice Boyle will act as co-chairmen for the show. The committee helping will consist of Nancy Danner, Becky Stover and Helen Oster. Publicity will be handled by Alice Boyle. Ann Topper will head the committee for refreshments at the show.

Betty Lupinski, delegate to the Community Fund, thanked the organization on behalf of President Bernard Welty for the generous contribution to the Fund. Mrs. Lupinski, also representative to the Lifelong Learning Council, also asked that should any member have the time they would be most welcome to do volunteer work at the Seton Center for the Thrift Shop.

Jane Orndorff suggested that the ladies hold a Christmas party. It was decided to hold one at the next meeting. The ladies attending are to bring a gift, valued at $1.00 to be exchanged.

Initiation of the four new members present followed. Bills were presented for payment to the treasurer and were approved for payment. Betty Lupinski and Lois Hartdagen volunteered to serve refreshments at the December meeting. Mary Theresa Topper's name was called for the door prize but was not present. Next month's drawing will be $7.00.

The chaplain closed the meeting with a prayer. Afterwards the ladies enjoyed refreshments in the social room.

English setters have been bred for upland-bird hunting for more than 400 years. They draw their name from the fact that early in their history, the dogs were trained to "set" or crouch when contacting game while hunters threw nets over both the dogs and the birds they pointed.—Sports Afield.

Film On Smoking Now Available

How high school students decide on the question of whether to smoke or not can be a vital factor in their future health and success, as shown by scientific evidence in "To Smoke or Not to Smoke?" a color filmstrip available for loan through the State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Produced by the American Cancer Society, the filmstrip is accompanied by a 15-minute record which includes a brief pro and con discussion by teenage boys and girls.

Charts compare death rates of cigarette smokers and non-smokers, and drawings of the bronchial tubes demonstrate how chemicals from cigarette smoke can accumulate on the lining of the air passages of the lungs, penetrate and damage living cells and give cancer cells an opportunity to develop. Laboratory photographs show the composition of a cigarette and describe the gases and tar inhaled by smokers. Several hospital patients are interviewed and discuss their smoking habits, which physicians have linked to the cancers from which they suffer.

Included with the filmstrip is a teacher's guide which contains reference data, the record text and a suggested review quiz.

Recommended primarily for classroom use, the filmstrip also can be used effectively with youth groups. It may be borrowed without charge in Maryland from the Film Services, Maryland State Department of Health and Mental Welcome Traitors!

Traitors to the United States have no cause to fear a legal penalty as they go about mobilizing to take over the nation in a violent, bloody revolution. Read that statement again. It is true! The traitors know it is true. It is one of the most fantastic realities of our unbelievably permissive, deteriorating and endangered American society of the 1970's.

In Washington last week, one of the top legal minds of the nation who also is one of the best informed men in America on the ramifications of the Communist conspiracy, told us that the United States Justice Department could not arrest traitors or halt acts of treason now prevalent throughout the country. Supreme Court decisions of recent years so shattered the security laws that there is no workable safeguard against the mobilization, arming and training of a massive revolutionary force which is determined to seize control. This is a fact that seems not to have been understood by the American people. For years the American people have done nothing to change it.

No Defense

The United States Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security, which has been conducting hearings on various aspects of the conspiracy, cannot, under the Supreme Court's interpretation of treason, do anything more than recommend to the American public and to the Congress of the rebuilding of a structure of law which would permit the nation adequately to deal with the growing menace. There is presently buried in the Senate Judiciary Committee a bill—S-12—which if reported out and passed would permit the Justice Department to arrest a thousand ringleaders of revolution—Black Panthers, Weathermen of the SDS, Revolutionary Union Reds, and traitorous members of many other organizations—and begin the stamping out of this major and growing threat to our national security.

But S-12 and its legislative predecessors (designed to repair the Supreme Court's damaging work) have been in the Committee more than four years! My friends on the Hill tell me there are today adequate votes in Committee to report the bill favorably to the Senate. Yet action continues to be stalled on it. Why? Citizen apathy... Administration foot-dragging, Congressional pre-occupation, a deepening atmosphere of national permissiveness... a head-in-the-sand, "I don't-care, I'm-too-busy" attitude.

Impossible Legal Task

The Warren Court "welcome treason" decisions make it necessary to prove "intent" to violently overthrow the United States Government. Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver can teach and preach the violent takeover of the U.S.A., can advocate and participate in acts of revolutionary violence against American society but the Justice Department knows that in court it would be virtually impossible to prove that in Eldridge Cleaver's mind (no matter what he says and does) as he commits these treasonable acts, is the absolute "intention" of overthrowing the U. S. Government by force and that these acts actually are a part of his assault to overthrow. The Supreme Court has made it necessary to prove this degree of "intent."

The Senate Committee's General Counsel, Jay Sourwine, went into the fall hearing sessions with the hope that four bills prepared by the Committee staff under the direction of Senator James O. Eastland could be started on the way toward enactment. They would in effect provide authorities with legal means of coping with the bombings, burnings, and riotings; and would set up legally workable protection for policemen and other law officers now under the guns of the ambush killers, the revolutionary individuals and groups who call them "Pigs."

Money From Red China

There is a definite pattern of "concerted action" in the nationwide bombings, rioting and guerrilla assaults on law officers. Mr. Sourwine and at least some Committee members seek to enact legislation that will by-pass the Supreme Courts abortive "intent" requirements for prosecuting conspiracy and treason charges. Mr. Sourwine and his colleagues are convinced that unless strong legal safeguards are set up immediately the worst is yet to come; permissiveness of violence, killings, revolutionary mobilization, only invites the expansion of the revolutionary force.

Our Government now is in possession of facts (details not made public) that show the Revolutionary Union, a so - far shadowy outfit operating just outside the publicity spotlight, to be in control of most of the revolutionary planning. Two alien secret agents of Red China are in charge. They are pumping vast funds from Communist China into the recruiting and mobilization activities of the Black Panthers and other traitorous outfits.

So the internal security of our nation is gravely jeopardized as our defense remain shattered and useless — inviting treason.

Apparel Sales Outlook Brighter

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., November 12, 1970—The slowdown in consumer spending has wrought havoc on sales and earnings of apparel retailers. In fact, operations and profitability in this segment of the economy have been disappointing during the latter part of 1969 and through most of 1970. Owing to the concept of "total merchandising," however, some retail outlets have not suffered severely because turnover of general merchandise has offset the decline in demand for clothing.

Fashion Rules Apparel Demand
There has been tough sledding for the entire apparel industry. Part of the problem arose from the sharply negative response to the radical plunge of hemlines in women's outerwear. This has been in marked contrast to the previous enthusiastic reception of the mini-skirts. While the fight raged over the mini-midi-maxi designs, demand for women's apparel waned noticeably.

Uncertainty as to the ruling fashion and lack of a favorable reaction to both the mini and the maxi stylings prompted cautious buying, on the part of both consumers and retailers. More recently there has been a considerable swing toward pantsuits and "separates."

General Sales Lag
While demand for clothing has been a victim of these drastic fashion changes for more than a year, this has been far from the whole story of the difficulties in retailing. The volume of total retail trade has actually been languishing for the past two years. For example, sales of home furnishings, furniture, appliances, and TV sets have lagged due to the low level of home building.

Monthly retail sales figures—seasonally adjusted—have held in a peak range during this period, but the trend has been sideways and not higher. It has been price hikes, not unit gains, which have kept dollar sales volume at a high level. On the basis of a constant dollar, indications are that the physical volume of retail trade has been losing ground.

Consumer Sentiment Cautious

There are many reasons for the lack of vitality in consumer spending at a time when a rapidly growing population and a strong uptrend in personal income should be having an optimistic effect. For one thing, the Vietnam war and Mideast tensions dampen confidence.

Moreover, demonstrations and other social disruptions keep many women from shopping as often as usual. And there has been definite resistance to soaring prices. Other developments making consumers less eager to buy: Gloomy business and employment outlook over the past year, the weakness in the securities markets for two years, and the relentless climb in various tax levies. As a result, there has been an increasing emphasis on saving.

Outlook Brighter

There are two favorable effects of the step-up in the rate of consumer savings. First, the moderation in spending has helped prevent a more critical inflation binge. Second, the savings build-up puts consumers in a better position to spend now that the economy is in need of assistance.

Despite the drab performance of the past year, apparel sales can still close out 1970 on a strong note. Prospects for 1971 are even more promising. There should be some improvement in sales, and stringent cost-cutting programs of apparel retailers should help counter inflated operating expenditures. With women making up a larger share of the work force, there is a growing market for clothing of all types. Currently, the Research Staff of Babson's Reports favors purchase of the common stock of Franklin Stores—for participation in the apparel retailing field—for investors seeking capital appreciation by way of a thoroughly deflated issue.

On Snow Tires

In a quandary about whether to use snow or studded tires on your car this winter? The AAA Automobile Club of Maryland says your decision may depend on your personal preference, winter weather conditions in your area, and your pocketbook.

But to help motorists make an educated decision, Mr. Harry E. Uhler, President of the Maryland AAA club, cites the latest performance records of each type of tire, and also reviews current legislation and studies involving studded tires.

He points out that snow tires provide considerable traction, quoting a recent study by the National Safety Council that shows these tires provide 28 per cent better traction than regular tires on glare ice at 25 degrees Fahrenheit, and 51 per cent better traction on loosely packed snow.

But the snow tire record fares less well when it comes to braking distances. On loosely packed snow, they're only 13 per cent better than regular tires, and only one per cent better on glare ice. The warning to motorists using snow tires, then, is implicit: When driving on icy roads, they should make a special effort to drive slowly.

Economy-minded motorists who plan to have snow treads put on their regular tires should first make sure that these tires are in good condition—free of any cuts or cracks.

Studded tires are probably the best bet for motorists who do heavy driving in areas where icy conditions prevail. New studded tires provide 19 per cent more braking distance than regular tires on glare ice, and even old ones provide 13 per cent more. Traction on ice with new studded tires is 218 per cent better, and with old studded tires, 183 per cent better.

Drivers should keep in mind, however, that studded tires should be marked so that they can be placed on the same wheels each winter. The studs wear at a slight angle, causing them to lay over slightly on one side, and this can reduce much of their effectiveness if they are installed to travel in the opposite direction.

Now that studded tires have at last gained almost nationwide acceptance—they're now legal in all states except Louisiana and Mississippi, as well as in 10 Canadian provinces—it's ironic to note that ominous signs for their future have already begun to emerge.

Last September, Ontario, one of the 10 Canadian provinces currently allowing studded tires, announced a ban on them to become effective April 30, 1971.

Government officials said that their safety value was being outdistanced by the highway damage they caused. Ontario's highway and transport experts found that ruts from a quarter to a half-inch were found to result in the pavement during a single season of driving. The government estimated the ban would save $127 million in highway repair over the next 10 years. The new restriction also will apply to outsiders traveling on Ontario's highways.

And if a study begun recently by the governments of Minnesota and Michigan comes up with similar findings, the use of studded tires may be prohibited, or sharply restricted, in this country.

The report won't be forthcoming for at least a year, however, and any all-out ban on the tires following it will probably take the form of a phase-out operation. So says Mr. Uhler, car owners could go ahead and purchase studded tires for the 1970 and 1971 seasons.

Scholarship Deadline Is Approaching

The deadline date for making application for the NROTC College Scholarship Program is fast approaching. Applications must be received by the Educational Testing Service on or before December 1, 1970. Applicants for this program will be considered based on scores obtained on either the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) of the College Entrance Examination Board (CEEB), of Princeton, New Jersey or the American College Test (ACT) of the American College Testing Program, Iowa City, Iowa, in lieu of the Navy College Aptitude Test (NCAT) previously utilized as the first step toward a college scholarship and a regular commission in the Navy or Marine Corps.

All tuition, fees, and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50 per month for not more than four years. During each summer between his college years, a midshipman participates in interesting at-sea training periods.

High school seniors and graduates who entered college in September and who were at least 17 but not 21 years of age by July 1, 1970, may apply for the NROTC College Scholarship Program. Those who attain qualifying scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test or American College Test will be given a medical examination and will complete their applications in January and February of 1971. Applications for the NROTC College Scholarship Program are available at local high schools, the nearest Navy or Marine Corps Recruiting Station which is listed in your telephone directory, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel (Pers-B6411), Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C. 20370.

PTA Delegates Hear Drug Talk

Over 1,000 PTA delegates participated in shirt-sleeve sessions on Drug Abuse and Student Unrest among others at the annual Maryland PTA Convention in Silver Spring, Thursday. Reacting to what has been termed "an alarming increase" in student unrest and drugs in the school system in Maryland, the Convention delegates explored these issues to determine what steps must be taken to acquaint local PTA organizations with these problems.

Panelists conducting the seminar on Drug Abuse were Mrs. Ruth Harris, head of the Department of Human Relations, and Dr. William Holder, Health Officer for Montgomery County.

John J. Lancaster, President of the Maryland PTA, described the proposed sessions on student unrest and drug abuse as "an honest attempt by parents and teachers to come to grips with these problems and to learn how best to come to grips with these problems and to learn how best to prevent their spread. We must realize," President Lancaster said, "that more and more of our young people will be exposed to drugs at an earlier age. It is imperative that the Maryland PTA establish guidelines by which our local PTA organizations can take positive action to offset the extreme danger that drugs present to our young student population."

The convention was held at the Sheraton Motor Hotel in Silver Spring, Maryland.

The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A Vinculo Matrimonii from the Defendant, Charles E. Cucina.

The Bill recited that the Complainant is a resident of the County of Frederick, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was 24685 Calle El Toro Grande, El Toro, California, 92630; that the parties to this cause were married on the 4th day of December, 1965, at Baltimore, Maryland, by Rev. Lowell S. Thompson, a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the marriage between the parties to this cause two children were born, namely, Karen A. Cucina, Jr., three years of age, who are presently in the care and custody of the Complainant; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without any cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant may be divorced A Vinculo Matrimonii from the Defendant, Charles E. drive. This will be the first year for the event to be staged at the college. In recent years it was held at the C & P Telephone Co. in Baltimore. Miss Mary Frances Smith, Alumnae Executive Director, expects approximately 2,000 phone calls to be made.

A blackboard will be set up at the Phon-o-thon headquarters to tally the money count. Each night the caller who receives the highest total pledges will receive a prize. Refreshments will be served in the conference room.

Other tentative events on the calendar are a small card party in Dubois Lounge on campus in the beginning of December, a Mother Seton Mass during January, an art workshop in the Spring, and election of officers.

Motorists who have a flat tire where the road shoulder is too narrow to clear the pavement should continue driving until they find a safe place to stop. Even if it means ruining a tire, the AAA Automobile Club of Maryland points out that this is a small matter compared to running the risk of having your car—or yourself—struck by another vehicle while changing a tire.

Frederick County Backgrounds

By SAMUEL CARRICK
The Barr-Horner Connection

It would appear—sometimes—that just about all of the pioneer families—who settled within a certain district—intermarried. Given names were proudly carried from generation to generation. Many a genealogical and historical "headache" can be traced to this "ancient but honorable" custom. Because of the many inter-relationships the majority of old churchyards must be studied as a whole and this is particularly true of the early Presbyterian congregations for the Scot usually married within his own race. Piney Creek graveyard is no exception—"touch one and you touch all."

Now to return to the study of the Barr family:

James (3) Barr, the third child and second son of James (2) and Isabella (Leckey) Barr, married Margaret Hunter, the daughter of James Hunter. They lived on the old homestead in Mount Joy Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, and were the parents of seven children—as follows:

1. James W. (4) Barr—born 1817—died 1899.

Note: Buried in the Barr plot in the Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg, with others of his kindred. The inscriptions follow:

3. James Watson Barr, Born November 24, 1817, Died January 27, 1899.

4. Elizabeth M. Barr, wife of J. W. Barr, Born October 11, 1821, Died February 4, 1890.

2. Jane A. (4) Barr—no additional information at this time.

3. Isabella (4) Barr—no further data at this time

4. Smith (4) Barr—married Harriet Horner, the daughter of Eli and Jane (Denwiddie) Horner. Interred in the family plot, Evergreen Cemetery.

5. Smith Barr, Born 1826, Died 1905.

Harriet Horner Barr, Born 1836, Died 1915.

5. Sarah M. (4) Barr—no further information at this time.

6. Albert L. (4) Barr—no additional data at this time.

7. Agnes S. (4) Barr—no further data at this time.

Smith (4) and Harriet (Horner) Barr were the parents of three children—as follows:

1. Mervin (5) Barr—no further data at this time.

2. Margaret J. (5) Barr—married J. Kerr Lott—both buried in the family plot in the Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg.

6. J. Kerr Lott, Born 1858, Died 1941.

Margaret Barr, Born 1870, Died 1963.

In 1871 the Barr family moved some five bodies from the Piney Creek churchyard to the Evergreen Cemetery at Gettysburg. Of these four were those of children one of whom was a daughter of Smith (4) and Harriet (Horner) Barr—apparently their oldest child. The inscription follows:

In memory of the Infant Daughter of S. and H. Barr, Died October 1, 1866.

The other three children, moved at the same time, were those of James Watson (4) and Elizabeth M. Barr. They are now interred near their parents in Evergreen. The inscriptions follow:

8. In memory of William W. Barr, son of J. W. and E. M. Barr, Died July 24, 1851, Aged 5 months and 10 days.

9. In memory of the Infant Son of J. W. and E. M. Barr, Died September 20, 1854, Aged 14 days.

Note: According to family records this little boy bore the given name of "Matthew"—but it was not cut upon the marker at his grave.

10. In memory of the Infant Daughter of J. W. and E. M. Barr, Died September 7, 1847, Aged (this part of the inscription is now illegible).

The adult body moved from Piney Creek to the Evergreen was that of James (3) Barr. The inscription from the monument at his grave was given in last week's column.

Smith (4) Barr was a veteran of the Civil War—a member of Company G, 101st Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. Both he and his family were members of the Piney Creek Presbyterian Church and at one time Smith (4) Barr served as an Elder.

The Barr and Horner family intermarried (Smith (4) Barr married Margaret Horner) and there are a number of Horner graves at Piney Creek. Therefore, since there is a definite tie, some history pertaining to the Horner clan might fit in well at this time.

David (1) Horner and his brother, Robert (1) Horner, came to America from County Antrim, Ireland, about 1760. In due time they settled in what is now Mount Joy, Adams County, Pennsylvania before 1764.

In 1764 David (1) Horner married . . . (?) Love and they were the parents of nine children—as follows:

1. Alexander (2) Horner—married . . . (?) McAllen.

Note: Alexander (2) Horner is interred at Piney Creek and the inscription from the marker at his grave is as follows:

8. In memory of Alexander Horner, Died June 12, 1831, Aged 67 years.

Note: There is in the Horner plot a grave of which only the base remains. This could well be the grave of the first wife of Alexander (2) Horner.

2. John (2) Horner—no additional information at this time.

3. Robert (2) Horner—no further data at this time.

4. David (2) Horner—no additional data at this time.

5. William (2) Horner—no further information at this time.

6. James (2) Horner—no further data at this time.

7. Andrew (2) Horner—no further information at this time.

8. Margaret (2) Horner—no additional data at this time.

9. Polly (2) Horner—no additional data at this time.

Alexander (2) Horner was twice married. After the death of his first wife in 1806 he married Mrs. Sarah Marshall. By his first wife he had six children and by the second, four. A fair sized family even for that day when big families were the rule rather than the exception.

The historical and genealogical study of the Barr-Horner families will be continued in this series next week.

Local Homemakers Hold Meeting

The Emmitsburg Homemakers Club met at the Senior Citizen's Center for its October meeting with 15 members, five guests, and Mrs. Kathryn Jenkins, Frederick County Extension Agent, in attendance.

Mrs. Cregger opened the meeting with a devotional reading and prayer, and centered her remarks on "Ways to Observe Christmas." The International Relations Chairman, Mrs. Caldwell, told the group of a magazine that is published on Foreign Relations, and the club passed a motion to subscribe to it.

A letter was read from the Emmitsburg Community Fund requesting support toward their work and the club voted to donate a sum of money to that organization.

The Christmas Open House, which is to be held in Frederick on November 12 and 13, was discussed and the members were urged to send or take something for the exhibit by November 11.

The theme for the demonstration was "Christmas Gifts from your Kitchen," and Mrs. John C. Chatlos, the food and nutrition chairman, demonstrated the making of a Raspberry Cream Cheese Coffee Cake and while it was baking, quite a bit of interest was shown by other members who had brought to the table many homemade goodies from their own kitchens and told how they were made and shared their recipes with the group. Some of the articles were attractively wrapped for Christmas giving.

During the social hour everyone got a taste of the hot breads, coffee cake, jellies, preserves, salads, pickles, cookies and the Christmas Cranberry Punch.

Each person present went home with many new ideas and good intentions of things they will be making for Christmas-giving, and for entertaining.

It was decided to have the November meeting at the Public Library on November 19 since the personnel there had invited the club to meet there—sometime and become better acquainted with their facilities.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

Congress Should Press For Employment Remedy

The off-year elections are now history and in January, the people will be sending a number of new faces to the House of Representatives and the Senate. However, before the 92nd Congress comes into being, the 91st Congress still has a post-election session to conduct beginning November 16. It is my hope that this session, in which members of Congress defeated for or who did not seek re-election will participate, will be more productive than other so-called lame-duck sessions have been.

Now is the time for the 91st Congress, which has already established a number of milestones, to reserve its special place in history by putting personal and partisan considerations aside in favor of solving the urgent problems that face the nation. One of the most urgent questions facing us today is unemployment.

Unemployment was a major issue in any of the House and Senate races across the country. The campaign rhetoric has cooled, but Congress has the responsibility, indeed, the duty to act on this problem now; it cannot wait until January.

One of the major causes of the rising unemployment rate is United States' deescalation of the war in Vietnam. As the nation's participation in Southeast Asia lessens, the number of civilian jobs needed to support that effort will decrease too. This situation is particularly serious for Maryland, which ranks fifth nationally in the percentage of jobs that are in some way related to our national defense efforts. In some Maryland counties, nearly half of all the jobs available are defense-related.

To help cushion the impact of our disengagement from Vietnam and an overall cut-back in defense spending, I will sponsor legislation to prepare for this major economic conversion. This bill will:

a) Require Federal agencies, including the Department of Defense, to draw up conversion plans for their own installations;

b) Require defense and space contractors to investigate conversion possibilities and prepare as a safeguard against future defense cuts;

c) Protect employees in defense industries against losses of incomes from layoffs, reductions in their hours, or downgrading of their jobs due to cuts in defense spending.

It is my hope through such planning, alternate projects can be gradually employed to replace outgoing defense work so that teams of scientists will remain intact and ready to be pressed back into service should an accelerated defense effort be called for in the future. Rather than allow these teams to scatter to the ends of the Earth, they can and should be used for re-environmental, social and searching answers to medical, technical problems facing our society.

Presently, it is estimated that between 33 and 46 per cent of our defense industry is idle. Under our present way of doing things, this means that idle research and manufacturing teams will disperse and their expertise will be lost. However, this should not be the case today or in the future and I hope the Congress will give top priority to enacting conversion legislation before it adjourns. It will take an extraordinary effort to accomplish this during a post-election session, but then these are extraordinary times.

FOOTNOTE. . . . The primary and general elections have resulted in major changes in the Maryland delegation to the Congress. Rep. George Fallon, the dean of the delegation, was defeated in the primary by Paul Sarbanes of Baltimore. Mr. Sarbanes was successful in Tuesday's general election and will represent the Fourth Congressional District beginning next January 3. Other changes include Parren Mitchell of Baltimore, who will replace Seventh District Rep. Samuel Friedel, a member of the House for 18 years and Goodloe Byron of Frederick, who will replace Rep. J. Glenn Beall, Jr. Rep. Beall will move to the Senate to take the seat of Sen. Joseph D. Tydings. Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of the First District, Rep. Edward Garmatz, of the Third District, Rep. Lawrence Hogan of the Fifth District, and Gilbert Gude, of the Eighth District, were re-elected.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Early Health Lessons May Help Avoid Some Future Problems

As children grow they acquire the values that will influence their behavior as adults. One important lesson children can learn early is to understand and care for their health. This lesson may help young people avoid the unfortunate problem of drug abuse which exists in the United States today.

Teaching children to care for their health means teaching them why the family sees the doctor and dentist periodically, why mom keeps household chemicals carefully stored away and why she gives children carefully measured amounts of medicine when they are sick. The answer is that mom and dad understand their responsibility to protect the family's health.

A youngster's initial decision to misuse drugs is often made without a real understanding of the health consequences, says the Council On Family Health.

Once such a decision has been made it is difficult to convince a young person that he is endangering his health. If he understands that maintaining good health is a personal responsibility before being confronted by such a decision, he may first ask some important questions: "What do I stand to gain by taking something I don't know anything about?" "What do I stand to lose?" "Whose advice am I accepting if I agree to experiment with drugs?"

The Council, a non-profit organization sponsored by the manufacturers of medicines, encourages parents to begin teaching good health care when the children are at pre-school age.

The Council suggests these lessons be included in the curriculum:

Suffers Injury In Freak Accident

Brook Damuth, 38, Emmitsburg R1, was admitted to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, in satisfactory condition last Friday with a severe injury to his left hand suffered in a freak accident while working at the C. F. Stouter Oil Co., near his home. According to a report, Damuth slipped while carrying four coffee cups and cut himself severely when he fell on them.

Firemen Answer Two Alarms

The Vigilant Hose Co. responded to a chimney fire at the home of Jacob Bentz, Appolds Road, six miles south of Emmitsburg at 11:17 a.m. last Friday. Fire Chief Guy R. McLaughlin said the fire was extinguished with no damage. At 4:14 p.m. Sunday, the Vig-ilant Hose Co. was called to a blaze at the residence of John Sanders, Zora. A fire company spokesman said that Sanders was spraying a car when two cans of paint located near the gasoline tank ignited. Library Lends Record Number Of Books

In the library the community has a force potent enough to render more good to the populace than any single force or body I know. Unlike the church, it serves people of all creeds; unlike the schools, its doors are open to people of all ages; its shelves are open to one and all regardless of race or worldly possessions. It can do more to educate the people, young or old, to help keep a democratic, representative government alive and to destroy hates and narrow thoughts than any other means known. For it is through the written word that is the library's stock in trade that the average human being better understands himself, his fellow men, his immediate surroundings, and the world at large. In increasing the facilities of its library the community enlarges its own viewpoint and its scope of understanding by one and all of the involved factors that go to make up human existence, an understanding that will make the world a finer place in which to live. (Contributed to the Forty-first Annual report of the Washington County Free Library by a member of its Board of Trustees, Mr. R. S. Dillion of Hancock.)

The total number of circulation from the Emmitsburg Library for the month of September was 932. This figure includes eleven films and 41 records. The Emmitsburg Public Library Board of Trustees met on the third Tuesday evening of October. Figures presented show that the library registered fourteen new patrons. Total number registered borrowers now is 927.

The library welcomes any civic group or organization to visit the library. The library asks that they know a few days in advance of the visit. Library cards could be issued at that time. Anyone is eligible to own a library card. They are free for the asking.

A book on the "California Missions," was donated to the library by Dr. Caulfield of St. Anthony's. This book shows in vivid color pictures the outstanding features of the famous Franciscan missions of California. There are 30 color plates of the famous missions. This is a nice addition to the collection.

Another donation was received from Father Stauble, formerly of St. Joseph's Church. The book is "Cardinal Cushing of Boston," by John Henry Cutler. This book tells how the Cardinal felt about the unfortunate, the deprived; the physically handicapped, and the aged. His especial concern for the mentally retarded. He calls them his "little angels with broken wings." This book will be greatly appreciated for our biographical section.

Local Man Injures Pennsylvania Trooper

Pennsylvania State Trooper Rodney F. Mutchler, 26, Gettysburg, was listed in satisfactory condition this week at the Warner hospital with injuries suffered when he was struck by a hit-and-run motorist while investigating a car-deer mishap on the Lincoln Highway, three miles west of Gettysburg at 10:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

Mutchler was removed to the hospital in the Gettysburg Fire Co. ambulance where he was admitted with a fractured left knee, abrasions and contusions of the body. He had been assigned to the Gettysburg substation a year ago.

Jailed shortly after the accident by Trooper Donald Simpson, was Donald Lloyd Speelman, 33, of Emmitsburg. He was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under suspension; driving a car while under the influence of alcohol; two counts of hit and run and reckless driving. Sixth District Magistrate Harry Baker set his bail at $2,000.

According to state police, Mutchler was standing along an auto parked off the south berm, talking with Sharon E. Anderson, 34, Gettysburg, moments after her car had struck a deer crossing the highway.

At the same time Simpson was on the north side of the highway talking to a trucker who had stopped his vehicle off the road to assist the Anderson woman pull the animal off the highway.

State police said Speelman's eastbound car approached the scene at a fast rate of speed. Mutchler waved his flashlight in an effort to flag down Speelman's car. Speelman's auto is said to hit Mutchler, struck the Anderson auto and continued on without stopping.

Trooper Simpson immediately went to Mutchler's assistance. After seeing that he was comfortable and that the unidentified trucker would be available until medical aid arrived, Simpson went in pursuit and stopped him at the Red Top Golf course, just west of New Oxford, and took him into custody.
