- By Abigail -

There has been existing for some time now, a hazardous condition which could very easily cost some pedestrian his or her life some evening. We have noticed for some time the unmarked section of Business Route 15 from the Emmitsburg Middle School to Toll Gate Hill. By unmarked I mean that there are no white guide lines on the sides of the roads there. The danger is even more prevalent these dark wintry nights when visibility is extremely poor. This main road out of town is used constantly by boys and girls from the two colleges, as well as citizens living in that area who choose to walk in or out of town. It seems to me that a few dollars spent by the State Roads Commission to paint these white lines would be a sound investment before some catastrophic mishap occurs to some one while walking in that area. Perhaps the Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club, or even the colleges, would like to make this matter a little project to work on?

While Emmitsburg is not noted for its heavy industry, there was a day, away back when, we had considerably skilled artisans living here. Paper making, iron foundries, tanneries and leather making were very popular here over a century ago but they all have disappeared over the years. Harold Hoke came across an interesting article about Emmitsburg's skilled artisans recently while reading the current issue of The American Rifleman. Seems there were two expert rifle-makers living here at the same time, viz., John Armstrong and Nathaniel Row(e). At that time they were manufacturing their own version of the Kentucky rifle. Seems that a Baltimore businessman, Albert M. Sullivan, Sr., latched onto one of each of the above-mentioned manufacturer's rifles. One of the displays he has consists of the firearms of John Armstrong, who worked during the first quarter of the 1800's, and Nathaniel Row, his apprentice, who worked during the first and second quarters of the same century. Both men were located in Emmitsburg, Md., and produced superior rifles. Sullivan considers Armstrong the nest maker of long rifles ever in Maryland. Altogether, the Sullivan collection has four rifles by Armstrong and two by Row. Those by the apprentice bear a very strong resemblance to those of the master. The two Emmitsburg makers produced both flintlock and percussion rifles. One original Armstrong is dated November, 1836, in ink under the butt-plate in Armstrong's very precise handwriting. The same piece is signed John Armstrong on the top flat of the barrel and bears the initials J. A. on the lock and inside the trigger guard. The overall length of the guns was 57-59 inches while the barrels were 42-43 inches. In caliber they were .47 and .42.

Msgr. George Mulcahy, Former Mount Rector, Transferred To Harrisburg

The Rev. Msgr. George D. Mulcahy, formerly rector of Mount Saint Mary's Seminary, will leave the Mount to become rector of Saint Patrick's Cathedral in Harrisburg, Pa. The appointment, announced by the Most Rev. George L. Leech, Bishop of the Harrisburg Diocese, is effective Jan. 22.

Knights List Council Activities

Planned activities for the next several months were announced at the regular meeting of Brute No. 1860, Knights of Columbus, held Monday evening in the Council Home, Grand Knight George L. Danner presiding.

The Council voted to retain its membership in the Sacred Heart Broadcast Program and voted a $10 donation to the March of Dimes. A thank-you note was received from Bernard Ott Jr. and letter from the State Council announcing the Knighthood Degree to be held February 28 in the Alhambra, Baltimore, was read. A donation also was approved for St. Rita's Fashion Show.

Henry Gerkin and Louis H. Stoner, both members, were reported hospitalized.

William E. Sanders, six-point program chairman, called on the various committees for reports. Carl A. Wetzel, council activity chairman, announced that an oyster feast would be held on February 14; St. Patrick's Day Party on March 13; Council Awards Night, April 24 and a shrimp feast on June 6.

William Austin, family activity chairman, reported that a father-daughter breakfast and Mass would be held on May 30 and a father-son breakfast and Mass on October 31.

Donald Giovinnini, Catholic activity chairman, announced the annual Communion Breakfast for March 27. Paul A. Keepers, membership and insurance chairman, reported on an Open House scheduled for Thursday night and also discussed a State meeting at Bowie recently.

Leonard Gmeiner, social action chairman, announced that another visit by the Council will be made to Victor Cullen School for Boys on February 18.

One new member, Leonard J. Keepers, was voted into the organization. District Deputy Eugene R. Rosenfeld discussed the coming Manresa Retreat and also a recent State meeting he attended at Bowie, Md.

PTA Group Hears Drug Talk

The Parent-Teacher Association of St. Joseph's High School held a meeting Tuesday, January 19, in the school auditorium. Following brief committee reports, Mrs. Loretta Adelsberger announced the appointment of committee chairman for the forthcoming bazaar. A major annual project of the PTA, this year's bazaar is scheduled for Saturday, March 13, on school premises.

At the close of the business meeting, Mr. George Danner introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Harry Otterson. Mr. Otterson is a graduate of the Philadelphia Police Academy. He served eleven years with the Uniform Division as an investigator. He has served in the Juvenile Division, as well as on the morals and the vice squads. Mr. Otterson attended the Pennsylvania Institute of Criminology. Having attended the required classes, he holds a certificate from the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Mr. Otterson spoke on the subject of marijuana, discussing its source, use, actions and penalties. He then presented the informative film entitled "The Trip Back." This film will have supervised student viewing at a later date.

Guest Preacher At Sunday Service

The Rev. Eugene R. Ackerman, Pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, will preach the sermon at the Community Ecumenical Service on Sunday at 7:30 p.m. The theme of his message will be "A Concern and a Hope", and will be in keeping with the theme of the National Week of Prayer for Christian Unity which is "Fellowship of the Holy Spirit." The word "fellowship" or "communion" is used in the New Testament to indicate participation in a common good.

The primary good promised to us by Christ is the gift of the Holy Spirit. The Communion of the Holy Spirit is God's gift of the Holy Spirit and man's acceptance of God's gift. Those who receive this gift come into a new fellowship with each other, drawn together to praise and give thanks and to confess God as the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ. The text on which Pastor Ackerman's sermon is based will be Acts 2:32-47.

This service at Incarnation United Church of Christ marks the fifth year that all of the churches of Emmitsburg have observed the National Week of Prayer for Christian Unity. One of the features of this ecumenical service will be special folk music presented by the "Sunrise Singers" of St. Joseph's Church. Following the evening hour of worship, an informal period of fellowship will be enjoyed in the new Fellowship Building during which time light refreshments will be served by the Women's Guild of Incarnation Church.

The second event marking the community observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity will be an Informal Panel Discussion at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, January 27, in the auditorium of St. Joseph's High School. The Rev. Harry T. Kuhn, C.M., one of the Pastors of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, will preside at the open panel discussion on "The Ecumenical Movement in general—Where We Are Now, and Where We Are Going". The panel will be made up of the local Protestant and Roman Catholic clergymen. An hour of fellowship with light refreshments will follow this informal program.

The following congregations are participating in the observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity: St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Elias Evangelical Lutheran Church, Trinity and Tom's Creek United Methodist Churches, the United Presbyterian Church, and Incarnation United Church of Christ. The members of all of these congregations are cordially invited and urged to attend both of these events planned for by the local clergy in cooperation with the Worship Committee of the Emmitsburg Council of Churches.

Betrothed

The engagement of Miss Linda Christine Herrold of Port Trevorton, Pa., daughter of Mrs. Ralph E. Herrold and the late Mr. Herrold, to Mr. Charles A. Brophy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Brophy of Allentown, Pa., has been announced.

Miss Herrold graduated from Selingsgrove area High School and is presently matriculating at Susquehanna University where she is an English major.

Mr. Brophy, a graduate of Louis E. Dieruff High School in Allentown, is a 1969 graduate of Susquehanna University. He is currently in the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg, and serves as Student Pastor at Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg.

Paper To Publish New Series Of Baby Pictures

For many years the Chronicle has been running a pictorial feature of the youngsters in this area as "Citizens of Tomorrow". In the near future we will again be publishing free a picture of all the children who are brought by their parents or other guardian to the VFW Hall, Emmitsburg, between 2 and 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Feb. 2.

An expert children's photographer will take the pictures to assure uniform quality and size for best reproduction . . . and this year will be taken in natural living color. Please dress your children colorfully to take full advantage of the beauty of color photography. The pictures will run in black and white in the newspaper. No Cost To Parents

There are absolutely no strings to this invitation nor are there any charges to the parents . . . they do not have to be subscribers or even readers of this newspaper to participate. Neither are the parents obligated to purchase any of the color pictures taken.

Those who might desire color photographs may obtain them by making arrangements with the Studio Representative when they select the pose they wish to see printed in the Chronicle. There is no age limit and older children and family groups are especially welcome.

Appointments may be made by calling Mrs. Leo Boyle at 447-2345. While appointments are not necessary to have your children photographed it could avoid your having to wait. Check this date on your calendar now—Tues., Feb. 2—and help us make this a memorable community feature.

MRS. MELVIN J. HEWITT

Mrs. Charlotte Elsie May Hewitt, 53, Thurmont, died Tuesday, January 15 at her home after a long illness.

She was the wife of Melvin J. Hewitt and the daughter of Charles Donnelly and the late Ida Miller Donnelly.

Besides her husband and father, she is survived by the following children: Mrs. Mary Little, Mrs. Doris Knott and Mrs. Evelyn Green, all of Thurmont, and Miss Kathy Hewitt, at home; five sons: Melvin Hewitt, Jr., Fairfield; Lee Hewitt, Gaithersburg; Monroe Hewitt and James Hewitt, both of Emmitsburg, and Jerry Hewitt, at home; 16 grandchildren; six sisters, Mrs. Blanche Flabbi, of Thurmont; Mrs. Margaret Kerwath, Hanover; Mrs. Viola Beddinger, Cocoa, Fla.; Mrs. Regina Dunaway, Hanover; Miss Catherine Donnelly, Thurmont, and Mrs. Hilda Fisher, Hanover; and a brother, Charles T. Donnelly, Taylorsville.

Funeral services were held on Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Weller United Methodist Church in Thurmont, with the Rev. Raymond Kingsborough officiating. Interment was in Resthaven Memorial Gardens, Hansonville.

Phelan's Team Begins To Jell

Tony Kinn remains the leading scorer for the Mount Saint Mary's College basketball team.

Midseason statistics show that the southpaw sharpshooter from Harrisburg is averaging 20.1 points per game. In eleven games (he missed last Thursday's clash with Roanoke due to illness), he has scored 91 field goals and 39 of 43 foul tries for a total of 221 points.

John Novey, the 6'3 forward from Shamokin, who just returned to action this month, has the second best scoring average, 16.2. Novey leads the rebounders with a 11.6 per game average. Six-six Pete Goodwin trails closely in this department with a 11.4 average while Joe Molinaro, the 6'5 freshman, is the third best scorer with an average of 10 points per game.

Molinaro has the team's best field goal percentage, 49 per cent, while Kinn's 91 per cent from the foul line is tops in that department.

Mount Saint Mary's, 3-9, for the season, will be idle for the next two weeks. Their next game will be on January 28 against the Shippensburg State College Red Raiders at Shippensburg.

Parks Board Administrator Objects To Method Used In His Ousting

Administrator Rhea T. Kincaid has charged in a letter to Chairman John A. Derr of the Board of County Commissioners that he has been fired from his job with the Frederick County Parks and Recreation Commission "without due process."

Kincaid said that although he had planned on resigning at age 70, that he is making the matter public in deference to the rights of the employees who will come after him to receive due process. "I'm just not the kind of a man," he said, "who can be fired like this and not say something about it. I'm not mad at anyone and I can't say that I'm disappointed, but I want the people to know what happened." Kincaid will be 70 January 27.

Kincaid cited two communications which led to his making the matter public:

(1) A letter dated Jan. 4, 1971, to him signed by James L. Bryan, Clerk, Board of County Commissioners, which follows — "On Thursday, December 31, 1970, the Board of County Commissioners unanimously concurred in the action of the Parks and Recreation Commission Executive Committee regarding your status as Parks Administrator. By this action, you are relieved of active duty as of Jan. 1, 1971, but you will remain on the payroll until January 27, 1971. At this time you will be paid your accumulated unused annual leave."

To which Kincaid replied to Chairman Derr — "On January 5th I received a communication dated January 4th, in carbon copy form, from Mr. Bryan, Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners, stating that the county commissioners concurred in the illegal actions of the Parks and Recreation Commission. In view of this action and your lack of response to my letter of January 1, I feel the contents of my letter to you should be made a matter of public knowledge. Please understand that my sole interest at this point is preserving due process for Frederick County employees and in the proper functioning of the Parks and Recreation Commission in the public interest."

DAIRY DEPT. MEETS
The January meeting of the Dairy Department of the Rocky Ridge 4-H Club was held at the James Hill residence on January 7, with Mrs. Hill serving as hostess.

The meeting was called to order by the new president, Lee Bassler. The minutes were read and approved and the treasurer gave his report. Roll call was answered by nine members, five parents and the leaders, James Hill and Laurence Bassler.

The by-laws were reviewed and several new ones added. The meetings will be held the second Monday of each month, with the next meeting February 8, 1971, at the Gregg residence.

Mount Studies Community Education Program Success

Mount Saint Mary's College has begun its program of community education by presenting courses for military and non-military personnel at Letterkenny Army Depot in Chambersburg, Pa.

The program at Letterkenny began during the summer when Donald Currier of the Mount Saint Mary's Business Department taught a course in Business Organization Operations. This fall Dr. Raymond Lauer, chairman of the Business Department, taught a course in Statistics. Each course attracted approximately 25 people. Though plans are not yet complete, it is hoped that three business courses will be taught at Letterkenny during the spring semester.

Academic Dean Bernard Kaliss, who directs Mount Saint Mary's community education program, stresses that the college is eager to provide in any way that it can for residents of nearby communities and is willing to offer any course that is in sufficient demand. Dean Kaliss is presently awaiting approval from the federal government to begin a Law Enforcement Education Program sanctioned by the Department of Justice. The program would be for the benefit of area local and state policemen and those who are interested in pursuing a career in law enforcement.

Other programs are under consideration. Dean Kaliss would like to provide courses for the townspeople of Chambersburg and other communities and to expand the offerings at Letterkenny to areas other than business. He is also considering a request by officials at Edgewood Arsenal in Bel Air, Md., for a program similar to the one at Letterkenny.

Preacher To Talk Here Sunday

The Rev. Charles M. Miller, a missionary in Rhodesia with the United Methodist Church for 17 years, will be guest preacher at Trinity (Emmitsburg) and Tom's Creek United Methodist Churches this Sunday, January 24, at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. respectively.

Mr. Miller, who is at present on furlough, has been a District Superintendent, school administrator and director of a social center in Rhodesia where all the churches are at present facing critical decisions following restrictive measures taken by the apartheid-oriented government of Ian Smith.

Since 1966 Mr. Miller has been District Superintendent of the Utah South District which has 60 preaching places and 60 schools. There are more than 13,000 students enrolled in the district's schools. Formerly the director of Hilltop Christian Center, Mr. Miller also served in the Mreva and Mutamba Districts. He is a graduate of Drew Theological Seminary and Kennedy School of Missions.

Anyone who is interested is invited to attend these services. The Rev. Adrian S. Brown is the pastor.

Frederick County Backgrounds

By SAMUEL CARRICK
Some "First Families"

One of the "first families" of Frederick County, Maryland, who first settled in the Emmitsburg area, were the Troxells. This clan can boast graves both at old Tom's Creek Lutheran burial ground and Elias Lutheran churchyard. According to a fairly reliable tradition the Troxells first settled in Pennsylvania and emigrated into Maryland with the so-called "Monocacy settlers." Be that as it may they were early at Tom's Creek and a goodly number are interred there—some in unmarked graves.

In his history of Emmitsburg, Maryland, James A. Helman has this to say pertaining to the Troxells:

Page #13—"On May 27th, 1777, Christian Keefe sold to Peter Troxell, of Lehigh County, Pennsylvania, 479 acres for 2,500 pounds in cash sterling (his father coming to the colonies in 1723), the present (1906) lands of Charles Keilholtz, J. W. Troxell and others; Mathias Martin, son-in-law of Peter Troxell, bought at the same time, 1777, the farm now Samuel Troxell's (1906). James Martin, N. C. Stansbury, John Troxell, son of Peter, at the same time, 1777, the lands of Charles McCarren and Welty. He (John Troxell) built a mill in 1777 or 1779."

Page #14—"Peter Troxell called his tract of land 'Diggs' Lot."

Page #14—"Peter) Krise settled near Rocky Ridge. His son married Elizabeth Troxell, and took up the land now owned by E. F. Krise (1906). This land called Brotherly Love was patented by Jonathan Hayes in 1757, now owned by W. Moser."

Page #17—Note: The people of Tom's Creek and vicinity protested against the Stamp Act in 1770

in no uncertain terms. They held a meeting which—"convened at the old school-house, not far from the mill built by John Troxell, on Tom's Creek, on Sunday, August 28, 1770 . . ."

Among those present at the gathering mentioned above was Frederick Troxell.

According to Mr. Helman, Peter Troxell was the architect of the steeple erected "on the Lutheran church (Elias) in 1814."

Page #48—"in the town of Emmitsburg lot No. 29, the large brick house, burned in the fire of 1863, was built by John Troxell."

Page #54—"Jacob Oyster conducted a tan yard on a lot east of the foundry at an early date. Jacob Troxell married his daughter, and conducted the business until his death in 1833, after which his sons, Samuel and William, continued the yard until Samuel Troxell's death in 1851, at which time the yard was closed. Shortly thereafter William Troxell, the brother of Samuel, deceased, moved to Kentucky."

Page #54—"Grist Mills—"the oldest mill was the brick mill built by John Troxell, recently torn down by the Sisters, on Tom's Creek. It was built in 1778 or 1779. In this mill meetings were held to recruit and arrange matters for soldiers during the Revolutionary War."

Page #55—"Post Office—"Poplar Fields was the name of the first post office. William Greenermyer was the first postmaster. He died in 1802 in his 30th year. He was a son-in-law of John Troxell. The second postmaster was Patrick Reid, landlord of the Eagle Hotel."

owned a black girl, named Kitty and for her disobedience he sent her to Peter Troxell's farm. She became dissatisfied with farm work and returned to her master; she was told she could remain at home so long as she obeyed, her first disobedience would send her back to the farm. A few nights later she stole away and set fire to Peter Troxell's barn; barn and house were burned. She did this in order to make sure that she could remain in town no matter how she behaved.

"Unfortunately she was found out—tried for the crime, found guilty, and hanged, in Frederick on May 20th, 1820."

Page #71—"Hatters—"This was an occupation second to none in each community, as every head required a hat, and all the hats were made by the local hatters. Major John Harrit carried on where the Slagle Hotel stands; he was born in 1779, and died in Baltimore, in 1856. He is buried in the Roman Catholic cemetery. Jacob Troxell carried on the business where J. Harry Row lives; he was born in 1767, died in 1852 and is buried in the Lutheran churchyard."

In his history, James Helman gives quite a bit of space to inscriptions from the burial grounds of Emmitsburg and its immediate vicinity. Apparently he visited these sites and made his own transcriptions. On page #43 he lists the following as copied at old Tom's Creek Lutheran churchyard (1906):

"George Smith, born 1720 — died 1793; Christian Smith, born 1720—died 1790; Jacob Danner, 1768 (no other data); Margaret Danner, 1782 (no other data); Peter Troxell, born 1719—died 1799; Mrs. Peter Troxell, born 1737—died 1806; Maria Troxell, born 1771—died 1794; Michael Row, born 1762—died 1831; Mrs. Michael Row, born 1763 — died 1842; Jacob Troxell, born 1763—died 1807; Captain Michael Sluss, born 1785—died 1859; John Sluss, born 1809—died 1890; Isaac Row, born 1797—died 1841; Frederick Ohler, born 1787—died 1859; Joseph Crabbs, born 1786—died 1850; Barthol Waddle, born 1787—died 1847; John Hockensmith, born 1775—died 1855; Barbara Hockensmith, the wife of John, born 1778 —died 1842; William Hockensmith, born 1813—died 1864; S. Oyster, born 1792—died 1794; John Smith, born 1782—died 1783; James Ohler, born 1801—died 1873; Daniel Row, born 1806—died 1851; George Row, born 1755—died 1845; Anna Mary Row, wife of George, born 1758—died 1838; John Row, born 1800—died 1873; Agness Row, the wife of John, born 1802 — died 1880; George Ohler, born 1788—died 1826; John Hoover, born 1771—died 1832; Jesse Hoover, (no dates); Sally Hockensmith, born 1814—died 1894; and Betsy Hockensmith, born 1802—died 1874."

Mr. Helman also writes of the early burial customs which are in sharp contrast to those practiced in this day and age. This is what Emmitsburg's town historian had to say:

Page #92—"Deaths and Burials—"When a person died, the undertaker went to the house, if in town, and measured the dead for a coffin; if in the country, some person took a stick and measured the length and breadth, bringing the stick to the undertaker. Coffins were not kept on hand as now; then all were buried in the single coffin. It is within the memory of all persons over sixty years of age, when caskets were let down in the graves by ropes fastened inside the coffins; rough boxes are of recent date."

The historical and genealogical study of the Lutheran church in Emmitsburg, both at Tom's Creek and in the town, will be continued in this series next week.

Free Trees Offered For Planting

The Dept. of Forests and Parks is now taking requests for tree seedlings. These free seedlings are to be planted for any conservation purpose on rural land in Frederick County early this spring. Requests will be received from now until Feb. 26, 1971. The smallest order accepted is for 250 trees which plants approximately one quarter acre. For plantings of approximately three acres and larger, forestry contractors are available to do the planting.

The main species available are white pine, scotch, scotch pine, Norway spruce and white spruce. Hardwood species available are black walnut and tulip poplar. A variety of wildlife shrubs is being offered to be planted in conjunction with the pine plantings.

The seedlings are available primarily for planting on land that is idle or non-productive. On many farms there are idle fields or portions of fields and pasture that are currently non-productive. Planting and growing trees on these lands can turn this idle land back into production. The tree planting program's objective is timber, but many side advantages are to be found in growing trees. Land that is planted to trees is best protected from soil erosion, which in turn helps to make cleaner streams, ponds and rivers. Wildlife is benefitted by tree planting by providing protection as well as food for small game. Recreation potential and scenic beauty are certainly enhanced by tree planting. Thus tree planting is multiple use of non-productive, idle land.

Frederick County has been allotted approximately 75,000 tree seedlings for planting this spring. Requests are serviced on a first come first served basis and distribution is made between March and mid-April.

TELLING IT LIKE IT IS

by Vant Neff

Off-the-Congressional record: More and more people, fed up with the never-ending wage-price spiral, are realizing that excessive union power is bad for the country. A bill recently introduced by Senator Tower of Texas would help restore balance in labor relations. Senator Tower, in case you missed the notice, has proposed that the National Labor Relations Board—supposedly impartial but definitely union-biased—be replaced as our country's ruling body on labor issues by Federal District Courts. The courts would administer our labor laws and mete out justice fairly and squarely to all, not merely cater to the whims and wishes of the big labor bosses, as the NLRB does. Once excessive union power is deflected, perhaps the rest of us, Mr. and Mrs. Average American, will get a better break.

Red-hot Chile newsnote: The new headman, Dr. Salvador Allende, still insists that he isn't going to conduct a Communist government, or, as he chooses to label it, "Marxist". Yet the Chileans are now sending aid to the North Vietnamese. Five Major Communist news agencies in Chile's press the slanted news they want the populace to hear—and believe. There are no less than fourteen "Soviet friendship" clubs, plus dozens of other Chilean-based, Communist-oriented "information centers". All this is in addition to countless Red radio shows, cultural and technical exhibits, film imports, publications, lectures, and who knows what else. And Allende himself owes his election to a tidal-wave left-wing vote which he carefully cultivated over the years. Note his first major move after taking office: Chile resumed diplomatic relations with Cuba. Then Allende sounded the death knell for American business interests—in spite of the fact that the Chileans probably didn't even know what copper was until the enterprising Americans came along and showed them how to produce it and profit from it. Informants on the local scene are firmly convinced that it is only a matter of time until Communist policies turn Chile into just one more slave nation. And once they have established a foothold there, what happens to the rest of South America? Your guess is as good as mine.

The long-hair look may be on the way out—or, at least, in this case, its owner. A salesman was fired from his job for exceeding acceptable limits of furriness and fuzziness. The company for which he worked felt that he would frighten away, rather than encourage, the customers. The salesman's union claimed a violation of his "civil rights". "Out!", concurred the neutral arbitrator, "or to the barber!"

If you think that the young, anti-police revolutionaries in our country behave outrageously, compare them to those in India: A band of dissenters kidnapped a policeman and tied him to the railroad tracks in an attempt to murder him. His police training paid off, luckily, and he managed to struggle free from his bonds just before the train came thundering down the line. It may be praiseworthy to be a policeman in America—but it can be catastrophic to be a cop in Calcutta!

It's an open secret that Communist Party leaders are delighted with the arrest of black revolutionary Angela Davis, since it affords them a golden opportunity to enlist sympathetic Blacks in the radical Red cause. (Incidentally, dear Miss Davis' lawyer is the very same one demanded by Lee Harvey Oswald, JFK's assassin, and other known Commie adherents.)

When we Americans do something, very often we overdo. The next time you see an advertisement or a television commercial favoring ultra-liberalism, remember that it was probably dreamed up by a weirdo "creative" type in an advertising agency. This peculiar breed of individual always wants to do something far out, no matter how far fetched, though they are employed by the agency to present the "establishment" client's selling message forcefully, cleverly, and competitively. Having observed a number of agencies in various places, it is this writer's conviction that over 90% of these creative "geniuses" are deliberately bizarre in appearance and definitely anti-establishment in attitude, because they are fascists, over-doing what they think is a popular fashion. If this isn't biting the hand that feeds you, it will have to suffice until a better example comes along.

A friend reports from New York City that splinter groups of radicals are cropping up overnight, rivalling established gangs. For instance, the Young Devils have set up shop in the same street as the much-publicized Young Lords. Right on, Young Devils, preferably into oblivion!

With 1970 labeled the all-time, record-setting year for strikes all across the country, don't be too astonished if it also sets the record for inflation. One follows the other, as surely as day follows night. It must stop somewhere, or we'll be nowhere, economically. It's simple arithmetic. Look around you. Compare last year's prices to today's. Quite a difference! But they're nothing to what we'll pay next year, if things continue this way!

The Facts About The Kent Shootings
The Portage County Special Grand Jury which made a thorough investigation of the shootings at Kent State University on last May 4, viewed documentary film of the National Guard actions leading to and during the shootings and took testimony from more than 300 witnesses. Then the Jury indicted 25 students, non-students and faculty. Concerning the shootings, the Grand Jury said: "It should be made clear that we do not condone all of the activities of the National Guard on the Kent State University campus on May 4, 1970. We find, however, that those members of the National Guard who were present on the hill adjacent to Taylor Hall on May 4, 1970, fired their weapons in the honest and sincere belief and under circumstances which would have logically caused them to believe that they would suffer serious bodily injury had they not done so "Fifty-eight Guardsmen were injured by rocks and other objects hurled at them as they moved across the 'Commons' to Taylor Hall hill and down to the practice football field and were then forced to retreat. Whatever may have been in the minds of those who harassed and otherwise taunted the National Guard, it is clear that from the time the Guard reached the practice football field, they were on the defensive and had every reason to be concerned for their own welfare. Tear gas was admittedly ineffective because of wind direction and velocity and it was the belief of most of those Guardsmen present on the football practice field that their supply of tear gas had been exhausted The circumstances present at that time indicated that 74 men surrounded by several hundred hostile rioters were forced to retreat back up the hill toward Taylor Hall under a constant barrage of rocks and other flying objects, accompanied by a constant flow of obscenities and chants such as 'KILL, KILL, KILL!' Rioters Attacked Guard

"Photographic evidence has established beyond any doubt that as the National Guardsmen approached the top of the hill adjacent to Taylor Hall, a large segment of the crowd surged up the hill, led by smaller groups of agitators approaching to within short distances of the rear ranks of the Guardsmen.
"The testimony of the students and Guardsmen is clear that several members of the Guard were knocked to the ground or to their knees by the force of objects thrown at them. Although some rioters claim that only a few rocks were thrown, the testimony of construction workers in the area has established that 200 bricks were taken from a nearby construction site. Various students were observed carrying rocks in sacks to the 'rally'; others brought gas masks and other equipment from off campus in obvious anticipation of what was to happen. Rocks had been stockpiled in the immediate vicinity and cries of 'get the rocks' were heard as the Guardsmen went onto the practice field The fact that we have found those Guardsmen who fired their weapons acted in self-defense is not an endorsement by us of the manner in which those in command of the National Guard reacted. To the contrary, we have concluded that the group of Guardsmen who were ordered to disperse the crowd on the Commons was placed in an untenable and dangerous position."
Permissiveness Continues
In its indictment of the University Administration for over-permissiveness and lack of disciplinary actions, the Grand Jury said: "The most discouraging aspect of the University's role in the incidents which have been the subject of our investigation is that the Administrative leadership has totally failed to benefit from past events. The same condescending attitude toward the small minority bent on disrupting the University that existed last May is still present: On Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1970, the Youth International Party, more commonly known as the 'YIPPIES', applied for and were granted permission from the University to use its auditorium On October 11, two appearances were scheduled at the Memorial Gymnasium for a rock music group known as the 'Jefferson Airplane.' During the second performance and while the 'Airplane' were doing their musical numbers, color slides were projected onto a screen behind the group consisting of psychedelic colors, scenes of the Ohio National Guard on Kent State campus, and scenes of the shootings, complete with views of the bodies of the victims. On Oct. 12, the 'YIPPIES' scheduled a second (agitating) meeting

When studied in its entirety, the Grand Jury report certainly gives great weight to the findings that blame for the shootings must rest upon the rioters; and, indirectly, upon the too-permissive policies of the university.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 8,821 lbs. (4,103 quarts) of milk and 324 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the National Holstein Association.

Old Hurdles Confront The New Congress
President Nixon has renewed his call for Congressional approval of his revenue sharing and welfare reform programs. I sponsored these vital programs in the 91st Congress, regret that they were not approved and will support them again in the 92nd Congress. The 91st Congress shirked its responsibility to the American people by not approving these Nixon Administration efforts to reform the welfare system and develop a new method of helping homeowners and businessmen obtain tax relief by returning federal revenues to state, county and municipal governments. It is urgent that the new Congress take action of these programs. For too long we have tolerated a welfare program which does not promote the welfare of the nation. The current program degrades recipients, destroys families and erodes the social fabric of our cities and states.
In Maryland, from June 1969 to June 1970, the number of recipients under the program of Aid to Families with Dependent Children increased 20.8 percent, while costs rose 31.6 percent. State welfare costs in Maryland in fiscal year 1972 could easily show an increase of 43 percent over that of 1970. The end is nowhere in sight. While the President's Family Assistance Plan may not be perfect, it is the first step in giving the poor a hand up rather than a handout. Although initial expenditures will be greater because of the work incentive program, ultimate expenditures promise to be less because the social service bureaucracy will be reduced and recipients will be induced to take jobs. Ultimately, the President's plan will save money, since the cost of drifting along with the current system is incalculable and must be measured in crime and despair as well as money. President Nixon's plan rewards work, thrift and family togetherness. It constitutes a major initiative in his determination to reverse the present demoralization of the poor—working or non-working.
Maryland would benefit tremendously from enactment of the President's revenue sharing program. Under the Nixon Administration program, the state would receive from $87 to $97 million per year from the federal treasury. The state government would be assured over $47 million, some of which could, at the discretion of the General Assembly, be passed on to localities. Local governments would be guaranteed over $39 million. Of that amount, almost $15 million would go to cities and more than $24 million would be designated for the counties. Revenue sharing could well be the most important domestic reform of the decade. Passage of the program is imperative if we are to bring relief not only to our cities and counties but also to the individual taxpayer and homeowner whose taxes continue to soar.
A list showing the minimum amount of money each county could receive compiled by the Treasury Department underscores the benefits of revenue sharing for Maryland: Allegany, $480,417; Anne Arundel, $1,767,819; Baltimore, $7,003,166; Calvert, $89,679; Caroline, $84,577; Carroll, $310,464; Cecil, $250,289; Charles, $219,433; Dorchester, $139,712; Frederick, $511,150; Garrett, $158,152; Harford, $533,769; Howard, $476,606; Kent, $97,854; St. Mary's, $476,606; Somerset, $63,371; Talbot, $144,329; Washington, $869,311; Wicomico, $313,168; Worcester, $159,811. Baltimore City would be guaranteed $13 million.
Of course, we must not be so naive as to think that the advent of revenue benefits will enable us to slash our property and sales taxes, but it will relieve the pressure to increase these already burdensome and excessive taxes. Up and down the country, local and state officials are screaming for revenue sharing. Private citizens want relief from the annual tax increase. President Nixon has presented the Congress with the opportunity to help its constituents. The question is not whether the national legislature will hear these pleas for relief, but whether or not it will again turn a deaf ear to them.

INCOME TAX TIPS

Q) Who must file an income tax return this year?
A) The 1969 Tax Reform Act raised the gross income levels at which returns must be filed. Previously a return had to be filed when gross income reached $600. A single person must file if his income is $1,700 or more. Married persons living in the same household and filing jointly must file if their income is $2,300 or more. These totals are increased by $600 if a person is 65 or older. Other married persons generally are required to file if they have income of $600 or more. Taxpayers due a refund of taxes withheld must file a return to get a refund.

A) Everyone who filed a return last year will receive a package of forms and instructions in the mail in January. Extra copies of the forms and instructions will also be available at local offices of the IRS as well as many banks and post offices in January.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Mrs. Richard M. Nixon accepts a specially-designed View-Master Stereo Presentation Chest, developed by GAF Corporation as a White House gift for visiting dignitaries, from Dr. Jesse Werner (r.), GAF president, and Mrs. Werner. The chests, containing 60 reels of View-Master three-dimensional color photographs of natural, historic, cultural and industrial landmarks in each of the 50 states, were presented to Mrs. Nixon in ceremonies in the White House Library.

Q) Have you made it any easier for retired people to figure the retirement income tax credit?
A) Yes, the IRS will figure the credit and the tax for them in many cases. To qualify, they must take the standard deduction and have income not over $20,000 coming only from salaries or wages and tips, pensions, annuities, dividends and interest.

Q) Does a dependent have to be someone related to you?
A) No, you may claim someone who is not related to you if he or she was a member of your household and lived with you the entire year. In addition, the other dependency tests such as support and income must be met. Check the 1040 instructions for details.

Q) Where can I get copies of the tax forms?
A) Unless you are materially involved in the management or farming of the land you rent, you should report income from the land as rent. Use Schedule E, Form 1040.

Q) I mailed some contributions to a charity in December. Can I deduct them on my 1970 return if they weren't cashed until this year?
A) Yes, check mailed and dated in 1970 should be reported in your 1970 income year.

Q) I mailed some contributions to a charity in December. Can I deduct them on my 1970 return if they weren't cashed until this year?
A) Yes, check mailed and dated in 1970 should be reported in your 1970 income year.

Q) How should I handle income from land I rent to a farmer?
A) If you are allowed to deduct medical expenses for your mother you may include such travel costs. For car travel, you may deduct 6¢ a mile or the actual cost of gas and oil.

Q) Twice a week I drive my mother to her doctor for therapy. Can I deduct my driving costs?
A) If you are allowed to deduct medical expenses for your mother you may include such travel costs. For car travel, you may deduct 6¢ a mile or the actual cost of gas and oil.

Q) I mailed some contributions to a charity in December. Can I deduct them on my 1970 return if they weren't cashed until this year?
A) Yes, check mailed and dated in 1970 should be reported in your 1970 income year.

Q) Where can I get a copy of Your Federal Income Tax?
A) A copy of Your Federal Income Tax, Publication No. 17, may be obtained from most IRS offices for 75¢. It may also be ordered from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C.

Q) I mailed some contributions to a charity in December. Can I deduct them on my 1970 return if they weren't cashed until this year?

Lutheran Women Hold Meeting

The LCW of Elias Lutheran Church held their January meeting recently with Mrs. Harry McNair serving as Devotional leader. The topic, "Altar Care", was presented by the Reverend W. Ronald Fearer to the LCW members and the representatives of the Altar Committees. Pastor Fearer discussed and demonstrated the proper care of Altar and Sacramental linens; the care and uses of Sacramental vessels and the proper care of Altar parameters.

A question and answer period followed the presentation with emphasis being given to procedures to be used by the Altar Committees of the Church as they plan and execute their weekly responsibilities.

A business meeting was held with Mrs. Anna Bushman presiding. Plans were announced for a "dessert hour" for the Children's Choir which will be hosted by the LCW in February. Several letters of appreciation for various projects by the local women were read by Mrs. Charles Linn.

Refreshments were served to the LCW members and their guests by Mrs. Alma Sheeley and Mrs. Anna Bushman. The next meeting, scheduled for February 9, will feature a "project night" when the women will repair various items.

SPECIALTY STEELMAKERS SAY:

Immediate Import Relief Vital

Pittsburgh—(HK)—Despite the voluntary restraint program under which major foreign steelmakers pledged to limit their exports to the U. S., specialty steel imports are now soaring so rapidly they imperil the very existence of domestic producers of these products.

Representatives of three leading specialty steel firms sounded this warning recently at a press conference sponsored jointly by American Iron and Steel Institute and the Welded Tube Institute. Their products—specialty pipe and tubing, tool steel and stainless steel—are sophisticated, metallurgically complex, special use commodities manufactured by highly skilled labor and marketed in very small quantities compared with other steel products.

Higher Levels

Specialty steel imports are now running far above the levels expected under the voluntary arrangement, the speakers said. The arrangement became effective at the beginning of 1969, with producers in Japan and Western Europe placing overall tonnage limits on their shipments to the United States and promising not to change significantly the product mix of their exports.

John E. Newlin, Jr., Vice President, Marketing, Steel Division, Carpenter Technology Co., reported that 1969 tool steel imports were 60 percent above the voluntary arrangement levels and estimated that in the first nine months of 1970, imports exceeded those levels by 87 percent.

"Same Situation . . ."

According to P. H. Carlson, Manager, Marketing Development, Tubular Products, Babcock & Wilcox Co., the voluntary arrangement "did not work with our product in 1969 and this same situation appears to be even more grievous in 1970."

John L. Stewart, Vice President, Sales, Universal Cyclops Specialty Steel Division, Cyclops Corp., said that imports now have taken 21 percent of the domestic stainless steel market and noted that in some lines foreign steelmakers account for between one-third and two-thirds of domestic consumption.

All three pointed to foreign labor costs of one quarter to one half those in the United States as a major contributing factor in the current specialty steel import influx.

Women's Lib Supertarget

Anchorage, Alaska—(HK)—Women's liberation still hasn't infiltrated the more than 3,700 supertankers which sail the seven seas.

The huge vessels, many of them longer than three football fields, are manned by crews of 30 to 40 men—women aren't officially signed on board as able-bodied seamen, at least not in the free world. Occasionally, officers' wives are permitted to sail with their husbands.

The first modern supertanker was the German-American Gluckauf (Good Luck), a 3,020 ton coal burner which was built in England and launched in July, 1886.

Today 98 percent of the supertankers are privately owned, many of them by oil companies. For instance, the Polar Alaska which sails between Alaska and Japan carrying liquefied natural gas is jointly owned by Marathon Oil Company and Phillips Petroleum.

Cup Cakes Sure To Please

 - 1/2 teaspoon allspice
 - 1 egg

Heat oven to moderate (350°F.). Line muffin cups with paper baking cups or grease and flour them. For cup cakes, empty contents of package into bowl; stir in spices. Add egg and 1/4 cup of the milk. Beat 1 minute. Add remaining 1/4 cup milk; beat 1 minute. (If using mixer, beat at low speed.) Add raisins, pecans and apricots; stir just to combine. Fill prepared muffin cups half full.

Bake in preheated oven (350°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. For easy removal, let stand a few minutes. Loosen cup cakes with knife or spatula. Cool. Frost cup cakes with your favorite butter cream frosting.

California Teen-Ager Helps Children With Birth Defects

Kathy Dent is a typical western beauty: tall, blonde and bursting with energy and good health. Kathy, who is 18 and lives in Bakersfield, Calif., has some concerns that perhaps one would not expect of a happy-go-lucky teenager.

"I have a friend who is the mother of a mentally retarded child," Kathy explains. "Knowing that child made me feel that I have so much compared to him; and then I discovered how good it made me feel to teach him something, or just to make him smile. So now that I have a chance to help other children, I want to do it. I have to do it."

Feeling the way she does, it's no surprise that Kathy became a member of the March of Dimes Teen Action Program (TAP). Led by Kathy Garver, who stars in "Family Affair" on CBS television, the TAPs are junior volunteers. Organized in 1954, they are an integral part of The National Foundation-March of Dimes.

TAP groups are well-known for their ability as fund-raisers. Each year during the March of Dimes campaign, they participate in car washes, walk-a-thons, bread sales, fashion shows, and just about anything they can think of to bring in dimes and dollars for research and for treatment of children born less than perfect.

Clinic Volunteers

But they do more than just raise money. TAP groups around the country are "up to here" in community action projects, tailored to meet the special needs of their communities. Kathy Dent, for instance, lives in the agricultural region of California, where there are many Spanish-American migrant workers. The Kern County Health Department has established free clinics to provide general health care for these people and to refer those with major medical problems to the appropriate agency.

The teen-agers play with the children who come to the clinic, so that their parents can solve the medical problems while the teens solve the baby-sitting problems. A harassed mother can scarcely be expected to pay attention to everything the doctor tells her. But a mother who knows her children are being cared for in the park outside the clinic can relax and listen carefully. Kathy and the other TAP volunteers take their responsibility seriously. They asked for, and got, Spanish lessons from clinic aides to enable them to talk to the children. They had no funds to provide toys for the children, but that didn't stop them.

"We just scrounged. We collected all the toys our little brothers and sisters didn't want any more and took them to the clinic. We discovered the children like to make things, too, so now we make coloring books out of paper bags, and we show them how to decorate coffee cans and make jewelry out of macaroni. It's kind of messy, but their mothers don't mind."

Prenatal Care Emphasis
Not only do their mothers not mind, they are delighted. And talking to these women about their children gives TAP volunteers the opportunity to tell them about the importance of prenatal care in order to have healthier babies. Prenatal care is a major concern to all TAPs. As future parents, they want to make sure all of tomorrow's children receive their birthright: the right to a healthy life. And they know that prenatal care can help provide that right. Recently, Kathy Dent and hundreds of other top youth leaders from all over the United States attended a national young adult leadership conference sponsored by The National Foundation-March of Dimes at the Amherst campus of the University of Massachusetts. The title of the conference: "Tomorrow's Child—Operation Equal Start." For three days Kathy and her contemporaries discussed scientific advances in detection, treatment and prevention of birth defects with leading medical men and women, including best-selling author Dr. Michael Crichton. Kathy's reaction to the conference was a good example of how TAPs feel about their volunteer work: "I'm more convinced than ever that it's up to people my age to make the public aware of the progress being made in prevention of birth defects, and to urge everyone to take advantage of the benefits modern medicine can offer," she says.

"And I can't wait to get back to the migrant worker clinics and start talking!"

SORE THROATS

ANCIENT ORIENTALS BOUGHT POTIONS FROM ITINERANT "HEALERS" TO CURE THEIR SORE THROATS. THEY ALSO BELIEVED THAT THE SNAKE SWALLOWER, WHO TRAVELED WITH THE "HEALER" COULD CHARM AWAY THEIR SICKNESS.

IN THE LATE 1800'S, SORE THROAT SUFFERERS PUT THEIR FAITH IN A PNEUMATIC INHALING DEVICE, BY BREATHING PURE AIR, SICK PEOPLE BELIEVED THAT THE GERMS CAUSING THE SORE THROAT WOULD BE FILTERED OUT OF THE BODY.

'For Pete's Sake' Now Showing

"For Pete's Sake," from World Wide Pictures, is premiering at the Thomas Johnson High School in Frederick now through Jan. 24. Produced in wide screen and brilliant Eastman color, this comedy-drama stars Robert Sampson and Pippa Scott in a mile-high Denver setting, against the magnificent backdrop of the Rockies.

"For Pete's Sake!" lives day by day with a meat-and-potatoes guy who has dared to take on big questions about Christianity today, and comes up with even bigger answers. To Pete, God Was Not Dead! Or was He?

On a damp, gray, Sunday afternoon, Pete Harper was one of a large crowd at Denver's Bear Stadium listening to a sermon during a Billy Graham Crusade. Why was he there? "It was free." It was free, but Pete, his wife, and their son all got more than they had bargained for. Moved by the message, they found themselves going forward. What then? You will see as you live with Pete and his family during the months that follow and watch them meet the challenges of a Christian commitment. Faith becomes a working commodity for Pete, starting on the inside and growing up and out. It grows while he's pumping gas on a busy Denver street-corner, while returning a cake plate to a neighbor, and while colliding with a gang of teenage motorcyclists who challenge him with the shattering honesty of today's youth; youth who force him to match his faith against the turbulent world of leather and dare-devil races. Ride with him as he grinds over steep mountain trails to prove that he's not afraid to try their world.

Incidentally, the film doesn't boast any angels; just warm, funny, inspiring, real human beings! It's a love story, a laugh story, and a life-sized look at the ups and downs of the faith of a twentieth-century man.

Robert Sampson, who portrays Pete Harper, also starred in World Wide's "The Restless Ones," which still playing to capacity audiences throughout the world. Pippa Scott, as Pete's wife, Marge, a well-known for her Broadway appearances and starring roles in most major television shows. Al Freeman, Jr., and John Milford work with Pete in their Denver service station. Al, who starred on Broadway in Blues For Mr. Charley and was recently seen in Golden Boy, adds a special musical message. John Milford is often seen in "Get Smart," "Perry Mason," "F.B.I.," and other television presentations. Sam Groom, Pete's fresh-from-seminary minister, is a familiar face to television fans.

Other featured players include Johnny Jensen as Pete's son, Irene Tedrow as Grandma Harper, and Nicolas Surovy as Skip, leader of the motorcycle gang. "For Pete's Sake!" brings you a mixture of upcoming young talent and well-known character players. For YOUR sake, see it!

Your Maryland Tax

By LOUIS L. GOLDSTEIN
Comptroller of the Treasury
Your Tax Vital To State

As one of the 1,400,000 Marylanders whose income tax payments last year provided $467 million of revenue for our State's vital General Fund, you should know where your money goes and what it accomplishes.

All of this money goes into public services, including education, welfare, health, and other services that benefit communities and all citizens.

In addition, Baltimore City and 23 counties received over $191 million for the local income taxes imposed by them and collected from you by your State Income Tax Return.

These counties, in turn, paid to the 160 incorporated cities, towns, and taxing areas within their jurisdiction an amount equal to 37% of the net taxable income of each taxpayer from each municipality as reported in his return. Needless to say, this revenue is vital to the maintenance and development of these communities.

So you can see, the Income Tax Division of the State Comptroller's office not only provides essential funds needed by our State, but also saves Maryland taxpayers considerable money by collecting taxes for Baltimore City, all of our counties and their municipalities, as well as our State.

And most remarkable, this is all accomplished at the amazing low cost of only 52 cents for each $100 collected, or just over one-half of one per cent.

In fact, the Maryland Comptroller's Office which collected and disbursed tax revenue of over $1 billion last year is acclaimed by other states for the outstanding job it is doing, an achievement of which we can all be proud.

You can help us maintain this record and serve you even better by filing your income tax return early. This will also benefit you because you will receive any refund quicker.

Faculty Members Attending Course

Twenty-five members of the St. Joseph College faculty are participating in the course, "Dynamics of Classroom Discussion," being offered by The Great Books Foundation from January 21 thru the 29. This program is being sponsored by the College as part of a continuing effort to promote excellence in college teaching. Including 20 hours of class work, the course will be held in the Dodd Science Building on St. Joseph's campus.

Based on the belief that the student's ability to think can not be developed unless the teacher is also thinking and participating in the learning process, classroom discussion is approached as "shared inquiry" in the course. Discussion is presented as a clear, complete, and exciting method of instruction while it gives the teacher the opportunity for developing the ability of students to think as they add to their knowledge of the subject under discussion.

Cy Keller, one of the senior members of the professional staff of The Great Books Foundation, will teach the course. A graduate of Loyola College, Baltimore, Md., Mr. Keller is responsible for training and promotion in the Foundation on the Northeastern seaboard. One of the first to train leaders for the Junior Great Books Program, Mr. Keller also helped to initiate the Foundation's new course for teachers, "The Dynamics of Classroom Discussion." In 1969 Mr. Keller was promoted to his present position of Regional Program Administrator.

The Great Books Foundation is a non-profit educational organization that provides programs of liberal education to help people of all ages fulfill themselves as individuals.

"Accessories, Yes!"

Ever since chains jingled onto the fashion scene, accessories have assumed new importance. This fall is no different.

But the jingle-jangle is gone. Now the accessories you choose will be sparing but dynamic in their impact.

Your waist (a mere wisp, of course!) will be encircled by a wide, wide swath of leather that laces, buckles or snaps.

Bracelets and earrings will be even more important, and silver and plastics are gaining in popularity. Bangle bracelets and hoop earrings will be everywhere.

When it comes to necklaces - chokers! Now you'll see them in thin stripes of leather or snakeskin, resting on the collarbone. They're fun, and I think you'll agree they look right with the new mid-lengths.

You're going to have fun changing your wardrobe - adding just the right belt or bracelet to make everything you own a this-minute style.

Above all, though, is your makeup. Pick up the colors of autumn - red-oranges, brown-reds, melting into the purples of twilight. It's romantic all right, the fall coming up.

I predict you'll enjoy it as you haven't enjoyed fashion in a long time. Give it a chance - elegance is with us again!

KEEP THEM ON THE JOB!

Overconfidence Causes Accidents

One of the greatest causes of hunting accidents is overconfidence in ability and equipment.

If you think that this column is going to be a hunting safety lecture, you're right! And, if you don't think you need to read it, brother, you're an accident looking for a place to happen because you're overconfident.

Let's look at an imaginary case of gross overconfidence:

A hunter walks into a lodge, unloads his new rifle and joins his buddies for dinner. Later that night, one of the group is accidentally shot as the rifle is being passed around for inspection.

Whose fault was the accident? Let's check this one closely because it looks so simple.

First, our man should have unloaded his rifle outside the cabin. Secondly, he should have counted the cartridges as they came out of the gun and then recounted them as he put them into his belt. Third, he obviously had the action closed instead of open as it should be when ever a gun passes from person to person.

Every man in that room was partly responsible for the accident because everyone of them was overconfident. The fellow who owned the gun brought it inside to unload because he knew he'd be careful as he chambered the cartridges through. He never counted the cartridges, because he'd unloaded guns hundreds of times before and never left anything in them.

Each of the other men who handled the gun as it was passed around had so much confidence in the man next to him that they accepted it with a closed action, never bothering to check it out themselves.

Year after year, accidents like the one we've just looked at happen unnecessarily. Time after time the excuse is, "I thought the safety was on," or "I was sure it was empty." There is no excuse for that kind of accident because it could have been prevented.

Machines do not think... a gun is a machine... you must think for your gun.

The best way I know of to prevent the kind of foolish accidents we're talking about is to remember that no gun ever injured anyone. People are injured by other people who do not respect the power of a firearm.

Everyone around here who handles a Sako rifle or Beretta shotgun follows these rules:

1. Never point a firearm at anything you do not wish to shoot.
2. Never bring a loaded gun indoor or load one indoors.
3. Consider every gun you see loaded and treat it that way.
4. Never accept a firearm from another person unless you can see that the action is open.
5. Consider everything that moves in the woods another hunter until your eyes tell you differently.
6. Refuse to hunt with anyone who drinks before or during a hunt.
7. Never carry a loaded gun in your automobile, on your snowmobile, or ATV.
8. Do not trust the safety on your gun.
9. Do not trust your hunting companions to be safety conscious.
10. Do not become overconfident of your own safety habits.
11. Always remember your gun can't think.

Reaching For Mideast Settlement

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass. — There is a breath of fresh hope that a way to peace in the Mideast may be found, now that representatives of Israel, Egypt, and Jordan are engaged once more in dialogue with Mediator Gunnar Jarring at the UN. The very fact that the talks were resumed despite bitter countercharges is proof that both the Arabs and the Israelis recognize the futility of full-scale war that could even involve the U. S. and the USSR in crucial confrontation.

But—until or unless a realistic settlement is found—the uneasy truce that has prevailed so long in the Mideast will continue along the homefronts. It is an irony of fate that partisans on both sides of the essential conflict between Jews and Arabs allude to their scriptures—the Torah, the New Testament, the Holy Koran—to justify their acts, yet still

Entertaining Ideas

Now that the round of holiday parties is over, most of us are heaving deep sighs of relief. No more drop-in guests. No more overcrowded cocktail parties. No more ordinary foods on what should have been extraordinary occasions. With time to think about party planning, before the next seasonal crush, now could be a good time to work out some new ideas for your next at-home evening.

Take a tip from Barbara Mahoney, the Wise Foods party advisor, and plan your next party around high tea. Less formal than a sit-down meal; more intimate than a cocktail party; an old English idea that should find favor on this side of the Atlantic.

High tea is more a supper than a snack—an early evening occasion that takes the place of the cocktail party. Plan one after a sporting event—or as a casual spread for relaxed weekend visitors. Don't serve sweets only. A satisfying choice of tasty sandwiches with garnishes should be available for the really hungry. Carried chicken salad on dark bread, with something crisp like Wise potato chips, is a good idea; if your guests are likely to be especially hungry, add a chip dip and a platter of scrambled eggs. For a lovely sunset glow, and a change of flavor pace, scramble in some canned, stewed tomatoes. Another way to serve eggs is hard-boiled, halved and stuffed. Instead of the ordinary devilled eggs, fill them with tuna or salmon salad. Serve the mashed, seasoned yokes as a chip dip.

Round out high tea with a choice of desserts: hot, broiled and buttered doughnut halves, sprinkled with sugar; toasted muffins served with pots of off-beat "party" jams; preserved fruits and sugared nuts. Finish off with a steaming pot of tea, heavy cream and thin slices of clove-studded lemon.

Anything goes—except alcoholic beverages. A tea party is not a cocktail party—one reason why it's a fine way to entertain older friends. As a matter of fact, tea time is a fine time to get together with any good friends; you'll have plenty to talk about, and high tea is just the encouragement that good talk needs!

seem ready to place their trust in naked force. History, however, is filled with instances of resort to force that have brought unintended results, led people where they did not want to go.

Survival Is At Stake

Despite the talks, the situation in Jerusalem is tense. People of a beleaguered nation have had to make another agonizing appraisal of their plight. Feeling is rife that the actual survival of their nation is at stake. It has been difficult for Jewish leaders to decide on a practical alternative to open battle; many have thought attack might be the only way out. Fortunately, however, the decision has been made to try the conference table again instead.

Meanwhile, on the Arab side, adjustments are being made to altered circumstances. The new leader of Egypt, Anwar Sadat, is intelligent, experienced, but not a true innovator. He is, as a matter of fact, still taking his bearings. He could surprise us, but his long role as a "yes man" to Nasser leads us to believe that he will be too busy attempting to please various Arab factions—both within Egypt and outside—to be an immediately decisive authority. Unity Hard To Achieve

While Egypt, Libya, and Sudan have taken initial steps toward reaffirming their alliance, and have reassessed their intention of forming a new pan-Arab federation, we do not look for early definite action in this matter. There are simply too many critical differences that are beyond easy resolution. On the other hand, we do anticipate that economic, military, and political ties among these three nations will be substantially strengthened over the next years.

Militating against early federation is the high degree of nationalism in all these countries. There are a number of Arab rulers openly bidding for an opportunity to fill the leadership void left by the death of Nasser, including leftist chiefs of Libya and Sudan. Also with his hat in the ring is Syria's new leader, General Hafez al-Assad, who ascended to power by way of a military coup. The latter may be considered a moderate by many Westerners, an appraisal that will not be shared by the Israelis, who know better than that. Assad, in fact is strong in his anti-Israel, pro-Iraq posture. He was against Syria's armed raids into Jordan last fall only on tactical grounds.

Watchful Waiting For U. S.

President Nixon's greatest hope for the time being is that present negotiations will be successful. In his favor it may be said that he was able to regain his peace initiative, countering Russian influence, at least temporarily. His basic commitments will include more military assistance for Israel, and possibly some for Jordan. Still at the core of the Arab-Israeli struggle is the situation involving the terrible plight of displaced Palestinians and their descendants. Until some real steps are taken to make their future assured, there can be little more than transient steps taken to heal the deep wounds crippling the Middle East.

The University of Minnesota was founded in 1851 in Minneapolis.

Winter Carnival At Charnita Saturday

The fifth annual Schaefer Cup races for ski clubs from Maryland, Washington, D. C., Virginia and Pennsylvania will highlight the Charnita Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Ski Club of Maryland, at Charnita on Saturday, January 23.

The slalom races for men and women will begin at 9 a.m. with the downhill events starting at 10 a.m.

The club scoring the most points will be awarded the Schaefer Brewing Company Cup for one year, as three victories are required for permanent possession. Additional awards will be made by Schaefer to the first, second and third place clubs.

The Susquehanna Ski Club of Harrisburg, Pa., won the Schaefer Cup races, outpointing eight rivals, in 1969 and 1970, and needs but one victory to retire the cup.

The Charnita Winter Carnival will also provide races for children, championship downhill open, an obstacle race, cross country race, costume parade, torchlight parade and Queen of Charnita contest.

Race entries should be sent to the carnival chairman, Leigh Johnson, 1817 Rushley Road, Baltimore, Md. 21234.

Charnita, which now has a second chairlift and several new trails in operation, is on Pa. Rt. 116 near Emmitsburg, Md.

Senior Citizens Hear Board Report

On Monday, January 18, the Official Board of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club met for the regular business meeting in the Center at 10 m. Members present were: Sister Juliana, Rev. Chatlos, Rev. Fearer, Mrs. Helen McNair, Mrs. LaRue Harmon, Mrs. Loretta Shuff and Mrs. Hazel K. Caldwell.

The meeting opened with prayer by Rev. Chatlos. First on the agenda was a discussion of the February 16th meeting which is to be a turkey dinner at 6 p.m. in the Center, with a short program following.

Programs were also suggested for the next two monthly meetings. March, a movie to be projected on some current or interesting subject and a discussion of a presentation of a formal constitution and by-laws for the organization.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nester and Sister Hazel Caldwell together with Sister Juliana, were appointed to draw-up such a project in the meantime for the date subject to the approval of the Club membership.

The subject of the Spring Festival was introduced with a tentative date of some Saturday in May to be chosen by the Club members at the next meeting. The meeting adjourned at 12:30 p.m.

Tuesday, January 19, the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club met at 2 p.m. in the Center with about 30 members present. The meeting was opened with Mrs. LaRue Harmon, as vice president, presiding, with the members singing one stanza of 'America the Beautiful', followed by prayer offered by Mrs. Helen McNair.

A report of the Board meeting was given by Hazel Caldwell. The date for the Spring Festival was determined by the Club for the first Saturday in May, which will be May 1, 1971. Mrs. Elmer Fuss graciously offered to be over-all chairman for the event.

The turkey dinner was further discussed for the next meeting on February 16, with special guests to be invited.

An announcement of the plans for constitution and by-laws and suggestions called for from the membership.

A report was given on the progress of Lewis Stoner, treasurer of the Club, who is a patient at the Annie M. Warner Hospital. He is improving and says he feels much better. Hopes to be home in the near future.

The Club now finds it necessary to look for and find a new general chairman to replace Mrs. Charlotte Eyster, who has served since the inception of the Club and wishes to be released.

The rest of the afternoon was spent playing a rousing game of bingo which all thoroughly enjoyed as well as the delicious refreshments served by Mrs. McNair and Mrs. Harmon.

New Books Received At Library

This is a good time to borrow books at your local library. Have you read any good books lately? Emmitsburg is reading:

"The Godfathers," by Puza; "The Love Story," by Eric Segal; "Calico Palace," by Gwen Bristow; and "House On The Strand," by Dumaurier.

These books are in demand and when you do get the one you have been waiting for please read and return as soon as possible. We have a reserve list and there are many people waiting for these novels.

Have you noticed the big bold yellow box to the right of the library door? That is the return book deposit drop for use by the patron when the library is not open. No more excuses about keeping your books til they are overdue.

The Library Board of Trustees will hold its monthly meeting in the library next Tuesday night at 7:30. This will be the first meeting since November. The Board took a vacation over the Christmas Holiday. This is the year we have all three day weekends — check your calendar. The library normally celebrates Washington's Birthday, Good Friday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Eve and Christmas, New Year's Eve at 6:00 and all day New Year's Day. We are closed on the days listed and Veterans Day, Nov. 11, if used for annual staff meeting.

Registration is now in process. Has your card expired. Some of the older cards did not have an expiration date on them. Please come in and register if you have a card that is over three years old or one that is not dated. If you do not own a library card, you are invited to register. There is no charge. It is your privilege to use the library. We should all be proud of the library. A woman from Montgomery County came in to browse one day this week and she was pleased to see the wonderful library known as the Emmitsburg Public Library.

"What's Your Skin Type?" Now wait a minute. Before you tell me that you have dry or oily skin—or even, praises be, normal skin—let's go into the subject a little more. Your skin type isn't static. It can change with the climates you move in, the seasons and your age—and it reproduces itself with a completely new outer layer every month. That oily skin that plagued you at 17 probably isn't around at 27. When I first learned this about my skin, it was like a revelation. In fact, it changed my entire skin routine! I began using lots of creams and moisturizers in winter — cut down somewhat in summer. When I travel from Coast to Coast, I change my skin care program as I go. You should do the same! Look at your skin closely, then re-examine it every month or so. Be prepared to adjust to its changes. Here are some guides to help you determine your skin type: 1. Dry — fair-skinned, fine pores, skin feels taut and sometimes flaky, tends to burn easily. 2. Oily — visible oil around nose, chin and forehead, tendency to break out, usually has larger pores. 3. Normal—no problem areas, fine texture, no break-outs that regular care can't take care of. Starting now, take a close look at your skin. Adapt your skin care routine to its condition now. Be flexible—and your skin will be better for it!

The 6-cent stamp commemorating the 450th anniversary of the advent of sheep to this continent was issued January 19, 1971, at Las Vegas, Nevada, during the convention there of the National Wool Growers Association.

Dean Ellis of New York City, designed the vertical stamp. He based his design on a photograph by Bob Taylor of Cordell, Oklahoma, which appeared in the May, 1970 issue of the "National Wool Grower." The stamp will be issued in panes of 50, and shows a ewe and her lamb.

This stamp was placed on sale at our office on Wednesday, January 20, 1971.

A 6-cent commemorative postage stamp honoring General Douglas MacArthur will be first placed on sale at Norfolk, Virginia on January 26, 1971.

The vertical stamp was designed by Paul Calle of Stamford, Connecticut. The portrait is based on a Wide World photo that was taken early in 1944 aboard a Flying Fortress, during an inspection flight over New Guinea. This stamp will be placed on sale at our office on Wednesday, January 27, 1971.

Seton Students

See Play

Yesterday, January 21, the children and teachers of Mother Seton School viewed a play entitled "Robinson Crusoe." The Tadpole Players, famous area actors, did the re-enactment of this beloved classic by Daniel DeFoe. Tom McKenna, one of the leading actors adapted the story for the stage. He even brought to life both excitement and adventure when he added many jungle animals who were funny, friendly, or fierce. The cutest of these were two albino apes named Kima and Klumpo. Their antics never terminated as they gave Robinson Crusoe a lot of trouble.

Robinson Crusoe's man Friday was also on hand. The highlight of the play occurred when Robinson Crusoe tried to teach Friday the English language. Poor Friday could never understand Robinson Crusoe with his English accent, beard, and umbrella.

Court Teams Of St. Joe's Show Promise

The boys' varsity of St. Joseph's High School, decked out in their new warm-up suits, have demanded that all other teams stand aside. Their coach, Edward Adelsberger, has constantly worked on the Trojans' skills until they have reached perfection. He must be given credit for the fine set of players he has developed. Even though the Trojans lost their first eleven games, they were all well played and most of them lost by a small margin in the score. Some of these games were: St. Joe's vs. Palotti, 68-75; St. Joe's vs. Boy's Latin, 57-65 and St. Joe's vs. St. John, 51-68.

Then came the breakthrough. St. Joe's, in control throughout the whole game, defeated St. Mary's 68-52. In a game with Hereford, the Trojans showed their skills by taking the close decision of 61-60. Now the varsity has proven itself. The captains of the squad are Mark Wivell, a senior and Ken Adelsberger, a junior. The rest of the squad includes: Steve Sanders, Phil Little, Jeff Sanders, Steve Hobbs, Dale Shields, Roy Adelsberger, George Hemler, Eddie Thomas, Skip Flesner and Richard Williams.

The boys' JV of St. Joseph's High School really do amazing things on a basketball court. The squad is a dominating team of shooters, rebounders, and great ball handlers. They have had, so far, a very good season, under the direction of their coaches John Neighbours and James Wivell. The JV record is 5 wins and 6 losses. Three of those losses were only by 2 or 3 points. Among their victories were games with Boy's Latin, St. John, St. Mary's, Palotti, and Hereford.

The squad is led by the fast pace of Roy Adelsberger and Richard Williams. Also members of the squad are: Eddie Thomas, George Hemler, Albert Hobbs, Skip Flesner, Dan Tierney, John Walter, Alex Peresoda, Harold Engelstatter and Joel Neighbours.

St. Joe's Girls' Team Shows Skill

Let's not forget those mighty girls on the St. Joseph's High School Trojan basketball team. They, too, are displaying skill in the sport. They've had quite a season so far.

The team is coached again this year by Mrs. Jane Hubbard, who is doing a tremendous job. Roxanne Gmeiner, a senior, is the captain. Other team members include: Lenore Gmeiner, Nancy O'Brien, Winnie O'Brien, Laura O'Brien, Kathleen Muir, Denise Dung, Pat Bollinger, Mary Devlin, Cathy Ott and Chris Ott.

They started off with a victory over St. John's, Frederick. Walkersville presented them with a loss, but another game between the two is scheduled for Jan. 21. Scrimmages against Williamsport left 1 victory for each side. Fairfield girls were downed by Joe's girls, 40-24. The Trojans lost the 1st game to Maria Goretti, Hagerstown, by 2 points, but they made up for that by riding to a 23-16 victory over the Gaels this past Sunday. Smithsburg beat St. Joe's Tuesday. Catoctin slid past the Trojans totaled 42 points to 36, but the ice is melting—right girls? Their record now is 3 wins and 4 losses.

The girls certainly deserve a hand for they do show great spirit! Congratulations, and keep up the good work!

Middle School Class Enjoys Field Trip

The eighth grade of Emmitsburg Middle School chose a cold and icy time of year to spend three days at Mar-Lu-Ridge, near Jefferson.

The group of fourteen girls and fifteen boys, laden with sleeping bags and suitcases, left Tuesday morning, the twelfth, and returned Thursday, the fourteenth.

The purpose of this trip was to study the out-of-doors. This was done by studying stars, rocks and minerals and taking several hikes. The first morning a lab paper was filled out. They had to find out the temperature of many different places and study the bits of rocks that they chipped. That afternoon a bus trip was taken to the Monocacy River, where an old canal ran across the river. The canal hadn't been in use since 1932. The group studied how the canal was built. It was all man-made. They also walked the footsteps of the canal until they came upon two mysterious houses that were supposedly haunted by a family of seven that was murdered there. That night a two-mile hike was taken down the mountain. A few constellations and the moon were observed.

Wednesday morning another lab paper was filled out, this time they had to leave the camp to complete the paper. They took the bus to the Catoctin Mountain Saream where they were to figure out the speed of the river, by pacing off 100 feet, then throwing a stick into the water and counting how many seconds it took to go the 100 feet. They were also supposed to find the distance across the stream by using a protractor.

After lunch a bus was taken to Harpers Ferry, West Virginia. There a ranger explained what happened to Harpers Ferry during the Civil War and what John Brown had to do with the town. John Brown raided Harpers Ferry in 1859 with only 18 men and he captured the whole town. His band then attacked the Federal Army on October 16, 1859. John Brown was caught after ten of his raiders had been killed. He was tried for murder, treason and conspiring with slaves to commit treason. He was found guilty and hung in near-by Charles Town on December 2, 1859.

Everyone enjoyed visiting a small museum and seeing the relics of yesteryear. As they walked down the streets of Harpers Ferry, seeing where John Brown was captured and where all of the guns were stored, and climbing Jefferson Rock, you almost felt as if you were there 100 years ago.

Thursday morning, activities were cancelled because of the icy conditions. Yet, cabins were cleaned, swept and mopped and everyone was packed and ready to go by 1:30.

Miss Jay Heisch, science teacher at Emmitsburg and four counselors from Thomas Johnson High, accompanied the group.

The eighth grade gained knowledge, a few bruises from the ice and had a good time during their three day stay at Mar-Lu-Ridge.

Tours Europe

Mrs. Ella Hemler, formerly of Emmitsburg and now residing in Havre de Grace, Md., has returned home from a recent trip to Europe. She was abroad for 22 days and visited in nine countries.
