Now that we have been accustomed to direct telephone dialing here in Emmitsburg, I have been informed that one more privilege or service is to be granted to the phone subscribers by the utility and that is the convenience of dialing direct to Frederick. Heretofore it has been necessary to place your call through an operator, that is to Frederick. However, I have been advised that all that will change on March 27. From that date on you will be able to call anywhere by just dialing the number you want. There will be additional news releases keeping you advised of this coming date so don't worry about forgetting it.

Now that St. Patrick's Day is behind us and Spring has come, work on the overhead bypass at the East End has begun in earnest. Presently under construction is a bridge and roadway. Weather permitting, workmen are on the job after a long winter's layoff. In not too many more months traffic should be whizzing over the bypass and there should be no more horrible accidents there any more. And after that fatal accident two weeks ago when an Emmitsburg man lost his life, some action should be taken to eliminate that dangerous intersection at Rt. 15 and Toll Gate Hill. This week another local resident was involved in an accident at that site. There have been half dozen fatalities at this point during the past five years, not to mention innumerable wrecks and maiming of human bodies. There should be no delay in eliminating this death trap also.

With five weeks to go before our Town Election, sudden interest was generated this week when two local men decided to toss their hats into the ring for the two Town Commissioner seats that will become available in April. The filing of the two candidates is indicative, I believe, of an interesting election to come. The gentlemen thought over the situation very thoroughly, made up their minds and decided not to fool around keeping everyone guessing, proceeded to the Town Office and declared their intention. There could be others seeking the office and we hope there are, but I do admire the two who filed for the forthright manner in which they did so. I never did favor the delayed tactic where the candidate waited until the eleventh hour to see who else was running and then, at the last minute, dropped his name in the hopper figuring he had it "made".

Last week's appeal for Betty Crocker coupons to help purchase a vitally-needed kidney machine for a very sick girl, brought in quite a few more coupons, reports Miss Linda Siske, the Emmitt Gardens lass who is collecting these little gems to help this humanitarian cause. Linda reports she has collected approximately 12,000 coupons since her drive started about two weeks ago. She will continue to receive coupon contributions for about another month. So, friends, if you really want to help a very noble cause along, just mail your Betty Crocker coupons to Miss Linda Siske, Emmitt Gardens, Emmitsburg, Md. 21727, or phone her at 447-2819 and she will pick them up.

Cub Scouts Plan Registration

All boys between the ages of 8 and 11 are invited to join the Cub Scouts. Registration will be held Friday evening, March 26, at 7 p.m. in the Veteran's of Foreign Wars Annex. All registrants must be accompanied by at least one parent.

BAND TO MEET

The monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Municipal Band will be held on Monday, March 22, in the band room, starting at 7:00 p.m. All band members, major-ettes, color guard, and acrobats, are requested to be present.

This is a most important meeting, and all members are urged to attend.

Firemen Planning Financial Drive

The regular monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. was held on March 9 at 7:30 p.m., in the Fire Hall, with the president, Leo M. Boyle, presiding.

Chief Guy R. McLaughlin reported that since the last meeting, the company responded to six alarms and three service calls. Also, one drill was held.

The oyster-shrimp feed, held for the members of the company, was reported as very successful and enjoyed by everyone.

It was announced that a regular first aid course (basic, then advanced), would be given at the Fire Hall for those members who wished to participate. This class will meet for one hour every Wednesday night plus an occasional Sunday afternoon.

Also announced was the annual fund drive which will begin soon. All members have been asked to help with this project.

As of the meeting, Squad "6" will accompany the VFW ambulance on all personal injury accidents. The regular siren will not blow, however, members will be alerted by monitors.

Eugene Myers has been appointed training officer for this year. He will begin a training course for new members this week.

Following adjournment, refreshments were served to members in attendance.

Enters Service

John Francis Sutton, son of Mrs. Mary Sutton, and the late Paul J. Sutton, Emmitsburg R1, enlisted in the Navy in February. He left Feb. 25 for recruit training at the Great Lakes Naval Base, Ill.

Mrs. McNair asked for volunteers to stay at the Center. None seemed to be interested. If volunteers can not be found, possibly the Center cannot remain open every day.

The meeting closed for refreshments and the singing of Irish songs.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a short sleeved A-line gown of bon soir, with a deep pleat in the back. The front center panel and bodice were outlined in seed pearls. Her mantilla of illusion was edged in lace and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, baby's breath and pink variegated carnations.

Miss Mary Farris, Bethlehem, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Elaine Hobbs, Emmitsburg, sister of the groom; Mrs. GERALYN JASINA, Hanover, and Mrs. Susan Sullivan, Silver Spring.

Paul J. Jasina, Hanover, served as best man. Ushers were Stephen Hobbs, brother of the groom; Kevin Plant, Wheaton, and Howard Joralemon, Waterbury, Conn.

A reception was held in the social room at Christ the King Church, Silver Spring. Following a brief honeymoon to Ocean City, Md., the couple will reside in Hanover.

The bride, a 1969 graduate of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, with a B.S. degree in home economics, served a dietetic internship at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Minn., in 1970 and is employed as registered dietitian at the Hanover General Hospital.

Her husband, a 1968 graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, is a junior at Mt. St. Mary's College and is enlisted in the Platoon Leader's class, United States Marine Corps Reserves. He will report to Quantico, Va., this summer for officers candidate school.

Colt Corral Elects Officers

Colt Corral #12 of Thurmont met at Fitzgerald's Restaurant on Thursday, March 11, for its regular monthly meeting.

The new officers for the coming year are: President, Mike Fitzgerald; first vice president, Carroll Brown; second vice president, Russell DeLauter; secretary, Jerry Carey; treasurer, Minni Stitely; directors, Glenn Nikirk, Doc Ecker, Leon Anders and Don Neel.

A discussion was held in regard to the three exhibition Colt games to be played in Baltimore. It was decided by the members not to include the exhibition tickets in with the regular season tickets this year.

Super Bowl Trophies were displayed and orders were taken. Members voted to go by bus to an Oriole baseball game again this year. A date will be set later.

Many projects and activities were discussed. President Fitzgerald appointed committees. The members are looking forward to another active and rewarding year for Corral #12 as well as for the community, plus an exciting Colt football season this fall.

First to file was Philip D. Topper, 28, a native of Emmitsburg and an executive vice president of the Farmers & Mechanics National Bank, Emmitsburg Office.

Topper is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Class of '60 and attended Mt. St. Mary's College. He has been employed at the local bank for nine years. He is married to the former Therese A. Wivell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Wivell, and the father of four sons. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Holy Name Society, treasurer of the Mother Seton School PTA, an elected member of St. Joseph's Church Council and a member of the Seton Life Long Learning Council. In addition he is a social member of the YFW and American Legion. Topper has chaired the local Heart Fund for the past four years.

The second candidate to enter the race is Francis Sterling Goulden, 47. Mr. Goulden has lived here most of his life, and attended Gettysburg High School. He is married to the former Betty Wachter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Wachter, and is the father of two children.

Mr. Goulden is employed at St. Joseph's Provincial House in the capacity of chief engineer. He is a member of the American Legion, VFW, Elks of Waynesboro and Moose of Gettysburg.

While Frederick County was gaining 16.6% in population during the past decade, Emmitsburg Election District No. 5 went even further and registered a gain of 18.7%.

Emmitsburg continues to be the second largest voting district in the County, subordinate in number to Frederick. The Emmitsburg District shows a population of 5,428 with 1,195 housing units. Thurmont managed to hold on to third place with a census count of 4,973 and 1,577 housing units. New Market was fourth in size with 4,904 population and Brunswick, fifth, with 3,566.

Twenty-five of Frederick County's 26 election districts have increased population in the last ten years and the increase in the number of housing units in the county since 1960 is more than 16% according to final census figures.

Frederick County gained 1,146 housing units, for a net gain of 16.6%, according to census figures in a County Planning and Zoning Commission news letter. And population increased everywhere in the county except Burkittsville, which showed a decrease of .6 of a per cent with a total population of 1,076 people.

Below are the housing and population totals by election district:

File For Seat On Town Council

Philip D. Topper

F. Sterling Goulden

Emmitsburg's Town Election took on sudden interest this week when the first candidates filed for office. The election this year calls for filling the seats of two Town Commissioners.

Mrs. Regina Rybikowsky, Town Clerk, reported that 590 eligible voters were listed on the Town's books and that three new ones had registered this week. The Town Office is open daily through Friday and citizens can register any of the weekdays between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Friday night the office is open until 8 o'clock.

The offices of Town Commissioners Thomas W. Bollinger and J. Norman Flax expire in April and will be filed at the April 27th election. Neither of the two incumbent Commissioners has announced publicly that they will be candidates for re-election.

Mr. Goulden is employed at St. Joseph's Provincial House in the capacity of chief engineer. He is a member of the American Legion, VFW, Elks of Waynesboro and Moose of Gettysburg.

K. Of C. Gains Three New Members At Meeting

Final plans for the Family Communion and Supper to be held Saturday, March 27, were discussed at the regular meeting of Brute' Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, held in the Council Home, Grand Knight George L. Danner presiding.

Clyde J. Eyer, chairman of the affair, said the Mass will start at 5 p.m. in St. Joseph's Church and that Father Carl J. Fives, chaplain, would be the celebrant. Following the Mass the group will motor to Cozy Restaurant, Thurmont, for supper.

District Deputy Eugene R. Rosenstein, announced that the Knight-hood Degree would be exemplified for this district, sponsored by Brute' Council, at Mt. St. Mary's College on Sunday, at 3 p.m. Supper will be served at the college. The class will be named in honor of Carl A. Wetzel, a past Grand Knight.

William Austin reported on an organization meeting of the Emmitsburg Senior Baseball League and the council voted it a $20 donation. A thank-you note from Father John Hurley, a member, was received and read. Father underwent recent surgery and was hospitalized several weeks. Leonard Gmeiner, social action chairman, announced another visit for Thursday night at Victor Cullen School. The Council voted a $50 donation to the new Teen Center Group which is now forming. It was decided to hold the family summer picnic at Big Pipe Creek Park, Taneytown, again this year.

Harry Otterson, lecturer, spoke briefly on the new Teen Center Program which is being organized. New members voted into the Council were: James E. Fitzgerald, Sr., Franklin R. Fisher and James M. Dean.

Mr. Goulden is employed at St. Joseph's Provincial House in the capacity of chief engineer. He is a member of the American Legion, VFW, Elks of Waynesboro and Moose of Gettysburg.

Emmitsburg Council Elects Officers

The Governing Board of the Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council held its first meeting recently at the Seton Center and elected officers and standing committees for the coming year.

Officers elected were: President, Sister Mary Joseph; 1st vice president, Bernard Welty; 2nd vice president, Roger Zurgable; secretary, Mrs. Mary S. Scott; asst. secretary, Mrs. Clara Harner, and treasurer, Joseph Zanella.

Bloodmobile Visit To St. Joseph College Successful

The Red Cross Bloodmobile visit of St. Joseph College on Friday, March 12, was the most successful ever held at the college. A total of 150 donors presented, 14 were deferred for medical reasons, 4 were unsuccessful in donating a full pint of blood, making a credit of 132 pints to the County quota.

Of the 150 persons appearing at the Bloodmobile, 122 of them were students at St. Joseph's (94 new), 5 faculty and staff (3 new), 11 students from Mt. St. Mary's College (7 new), and 12 others not connected with the college (4 new).

James A. Grove, Chairman of the Frederick County Red Cross Blood Program said that the magnificent response of the St. Joseph's students enabled the student body to complete a successful 'Blood Assurance Group' for the 1970-71 fiscal year. This means that every student enrolled at the college will have Red Cross blood protection for themselves and their families until June 30, 1972.

Credits for organizational blood banks were: St. Joseph's Students, 104; Catholic Daughters of America #278, 1; Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, 2; Emmitsburg Lions Club, 5; and Shangri-La Detachment, Marine Corps League, 4.

Qualifying for awards for donating one gallon or more were: One Gallon pins to John M. Trout and Herbert W. Rohrbaugh; and William Hooks received a Two Gallon pin.

Volunteers working, in addition to Mr. Grove, were: Mrs. Frances Bittle, Mrs. Caroline Lower, Mrs. Phyllis Nowell, Mrs. Mary Holdcraft, Mrs. Mary Hargis, Mrs. Wanda Clayton, Miss Marietta Henderson, Mrs. Mabel Hatcher, Mrs. Dorothy Phelan, Mrs. Betty Meredith, Mrs. Mary Scott, Mrs. Pauline Lippy, Mrs. Margaret Baker, Mrs. Virginia Sanders, Mrs. Chata Carr, Miss Frances Cutujian, Mrs. Madeline Gilbert, Mrs. Lillian Leatnerman, Mrs. Caroline Cadle, and Mrs. June Shipley.

Two Injured In Rt. 15 Wreck

Bethesda twins were injured in an auto collision at the intersection of Routes 15 and the Old Frederick Rd., a mile south of Emmitsburg at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Treated at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, were Susan Rakestraw, 23, Bethesda, driver of the car, injury to her upper lip and her sister, a passenger, Jane Rakestow, injury to her left ankle. They were removed to the hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance.

Maryland State Police said the accident occurred when Grant J. Long, W. Main St., Emmitsburg, pulled his car onto Route 15, striking the twin's northbound auto broadside.

Frederick County Backgrounds

BY SAMUEL CARRICK

Joseph (3) Rowe
The trail of the pioneer—difficult at times to follow—but always rewarding in the end. For they—the founders of this nation—accomplished something. They made their dreams come true—in a very real sense. First must be the vision—then the will to transform it into reality. To build and not to destroy. To hand down to generations yet unborn “a goodly heritage.”

America—these United States—one out of many—the fulfillment of a dream!

In tracing the migrations of the Row (or Rowe) family—first from the old country, where the ordinary man could not escape his ancestors and their station in life, to a new land that promised unlimited opportunity to those willing to work and dare the wilderness. Insofar as is known George (1) Row, his son, Arthur (2) Row, and the latter's wife, Sally Row, landed at the port of Philadelphia, in the Province of Pennsylvania. From that point they followed the tide into the interior and first settled in Lancaster County. Later the little family apparently joined the ranks of those who were journeying to the Shenandoah Valley in Virginia. After crossing into Maryland, however, the beauty and desirability of Frederick County attracted them as did Lord Baltimore's liberal terms regarding the sale of land. Along with many others they decided that here was their home and thus the Monocacy Settlement came into being.

After Samuel Emmit established his town site and began selling lots in the same—Arthur (2) Row moved into the Emmitsburg District and bought a large tract of land just east of the village. Here he spent the remainder of his life and here he died. He had journeyed far from his old world beginnings—but he must have felt as he looked back over the years—that it had been very worthwhile.

The notes on the Row (or Rowe) family as taken from Helman's “History of Emmitsburg” (1906) are continued at this time.

Page 79—Shoemakers: “This army of mechanics can only be named as heads of the trade. Radford in his day was a leading man; Noah Walker, who achieved so great a success as a clothing merchant in Baltimore, learned the shoemaking trade with Radford; amongst the latter is Joseph Hoover, his son, John Hoover, John Barry, Lawrence Dwen, Isaac Wright, Arthur McGinnis, Joseph Row, his sons, Joshua, Eli and James, Stephen Adams, John Hopp, Jacob Lantzer, Phillip Lawrence, M. F. Row, at one time as many as 25 men worked at the bench. It was difficult to get shoes; today (1906) but two are engaged at the trade; the manufactured shoes have destroyed this enterprise in the town.”

Page 97—Cabinet Makers—“These were the men who built the furniture so eagerly sought for now. They made the coffins; all good mechanics. Among the first were Thomas Hays, John Row, Frederick Row, Row & Bushman, Joseph Long, Koontz and Dailey, Martin Sweeney, Smith and Shuff, M. F. Shuff, and E. E. Zimmerman. Furniture of various kinds still remain in possession of families made by the old manufacturers named.”

Historian Helman also states that Jacob (3) Row took part in the War of 1812-14. He does not give details as to “outfit” or length of service—but apparently this bit of information was given him by someone with accurate knowledge of the facts.

According to a fairly reliable family tradition, also from data contained in pastoral records—Arthur (2) Row, soldier of the Revolution, married “a distant cousin”, one, Sally Row. This may well be true. Arthur (2) mentions his wife, in his will, merely by her given name of “Sally.” Without a doubt this pioneer wife and mother is buried beside her husband in the old Tom's Creek Lutheran churchyard but the marker at her grave has long since disappeared.

Joseph (3) Row, the son of Arthur (2) and Sally Row, married Susanna Baker and they were the parents of a fairly large family—many of whom, with their descendants, are interred near them in Elias Lutheran churchyard.

According to a descendant of Joseph (3) Row and his wife, Susanna Baker, their children were as follows: (Not listed in order)

1. Elizabeth Ann (4) Row—no additional data at present.

2. Mary Ann (4) Row—became the first wife of Deitrick Zeck—interred in Elias Lutheran churchyard. The inscription from the marker at her grave is as follows:

4. In memory of Mary A. Zeck, wife of D. Zeck, Died October 19, 1868, Aged 52 years and 11 mos. In the records of Elias church the death of Mary Ann (Rowe) Zeck is noted—“Mary Zeck—Died October 19th, 1869—Aged 52 years and 11 months.”

There is a tradition current among the descendants of this woman that grief over the death of her son, William Joseph (5) Zeck, who died a prisoner of war at Andersonville prison, helped to hasten his mother's death.

3. Frances Ann (4) Rowe—married Peter Hoke.

Note: According to the records of Elias Church, “Peter Hoke and Frances Ann Rowe were married on October 7, 1858, by the Rev. Solomon Sentman.”

4. Joshua (4) Rowe—died unmarried. The historian Helman states that he worked at the “shoemaking trade” with his father and two of his brothers.

5. Eli (4) Rowe—died young—unmarried—probably interred in Elias churchyard—no marker at his grave at the present time.

6. James (4) Rowe—also listed as “dying young” and unmarried.

7. Sarah J. (4) Rowe—married first Frederick Troxell, who died comparatively young, leaving his wife with two sons, Charles Troxell and Frederick Troxell, the latter born after the death of his father.

The baptismal records of Elias church record the baptism of the second son—as follows:

“Baptized by the Rev. Solomon Sentman, Frederick Wilson Troxell, son of Frederick Troxell, dec'd., and wife, Widow Sarah J. Troxell. Child born September 11, 1851—baptized December 5, 1851.”

Some years after the death of her first husband, Sarah J. (4) (Rowe) Troxell, married the widower of her deceased sister, Mary Ann (Rowe) Zeck. In Elias churchyard are the graves of Deitrick Zeck—with a wife buried on either side. The inscriptions follow:

5. In memory of Sarah J. Zeck, wife of D. Zeck, Died May 27th, 1880, Aged 54 years, 10 months, and 10 days.

6. Deitrick Zeck, Born July, 1814, Died November 1891.

The notes on the Row (or Rowe) family, with all their many connections and intermarriages, will be continued in this series next week.

New Selection Of Books Arrive At Local Library

Preschool and up to third grade will enjoy the new selection of books at the local library. Who ever heard that Old MacDonald had an apartment house in the middle of the city? Can't take a farmer off the farm according to this new children's book “Old MacDonald Had An Apartment House,” by Judith Barrett. The illustrations are very different and will amuse the children for hours.

“The Chicken Book,” by Garth Williams. Mr. Williams is well-known for his children's book illustrations, and has now come up with a unique rendition of an old English counting rhyme that will delight readers of all ages. It is the tale of a wise Mother Hen who shows her five little chicks that it takes more than wishing to get what they want in this life.

In “The Night Kitchen,” by Maurice Sendak, is a new and exciting story of Mickey. Mickey has a dream in the middle of the night and some of the escapades will thrill the children.

“Hi, Cat!” by Jack Keats. Archie was on his way to meet Peter when he saw someone new on the block. “Hi, cat!” he said. And so it began. No one could have predicted how it would end. With a cat like that, anything could happen.

“The Flying Lesson of Gerald Pelican,” by Nathaniel Benchley. Young Gerald Pelican's parents caught all the fish he ate, and Gerald was bored. He wanted to get his own meals. His parents told him before you can fish you must fly. While his parents were away, Gerald climbed up a post jutting out of the water to try his luck. Children will love this suspenseful, witty story and colorful, lively drawings.

“A Firefly Named Torchy,” by Bernard Waber. Early each night

the fireflies came out to dance. They twinkled and glowed and flashed secret messages. And together they made a thousand chandeliers. All, that is, except Torchy. For when he turned on his light, suddenly it was bright as day. Click beetles fell on their backs, baby birds—thinking it morning—cried out to be fed and earthworms scrambled for cover.

“Fish is Fish,” by Leo Lionni. A delightfully illustrated book that tells the story of how a minnow and a tadpole have different ways of living. When the tadpole grows legs the minnow thought he had to follow suit. After the tadpole turned into a frog, he came back into the water to tell the minnow of his experiences on land. When the minnow tries to get out of the water like the frog he runs into quite a bit of difficulty.

“The Place to Go for the Brands You Know”

POTOMAC EDISON TO SEEK RATE INCREASE

The Potomac Edison Company has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission in Washington a preliminary prospectus covering the sale of $5 million in preferred stock and $20 million in bonds. Proceeds from this financing would be used in the Company's construction program to provide facilities to meet customer's needs.

Included in the prospectus is announcement of the Company's intention to file for rate increases with the Maryland Public Service Commission early in May, 1971. According to the prospectus, the rate increases would apply to retail customers throughout PE's service area in Maryland.

Details as to the amount of the increase have not been finalized, according to officials of the utility company.

John M. McCardell, Executive Vice President and General Manager of PE, stated, "This announcement probably comes as no great surprise to anyone. Every major utility in the nation, both investor-owned and government-owned, has faced the same inflationary pressures. Potomac Edison is facing, and most have already sought rate increases. We are the last major electric utility in Maryland to do so."

Citing the many efforts made by his company to avoid rate increases by reducing expenses, McCardell said "all of us at Potomac Edison are proud of our record of never having had a rate increase. Unfortunately, we have now reached the point where the effects of inflation are so great they can no longer be absorbed by cost reduction programs."

He also pointed to the growing expenditures for environmental purposes as a compounding factor in the request for higher rates. "These expenditures," he said,

"produce no additional revenues and therefore must ultimately be paid for by the rate-payers through increased rates."

McCardell said the primary purpose of most utility rate increases has been to maintain the financial position necessary to attract the massive amounts of voluntary investors' money needed to build new plant facilities to meet growing demands for electricity.

"The increases we seek will be for the purpose of enabling us to finance the facilities necessary to maintain and improve the quality of our electric service," he pointed out, "and after all, that's the one thing customers want most from their utility — dependable electric service."

Many Donate Blood At College

Statistics of the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit to Mount Saint Mary's College on March 4 show the following results: a total of 131 donors registered, 10 were deferred for medical reasons, 2 were unsuccessful, making a total credit of 119 pints of blood.

Out of the 131 persons registering, 103 were students of the college (63 were new donors in Frederick County), 19 were Seminars (11 new in the county), 4 staff employees of the college (2 new), and 5 not connected with the college (1 new).

Group credits for organizations currently enrolled in the Frederick County Blood Assurance Plan were: Francis Scott Key Post 11, American Legion, 1; Emmitsburg Lions Club, 1; Thurmont Lions Club, 1; and Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, 21.

A One Gallon pin was presented to Mr. George R. Gelles. Volunteer workers on the Blood-mobile were, in addition to Mr. James A. Grove, Blood Program Chairman; Mrs. Dorothy Stup, Mrs. Anna Law, Mrs. Mary Holdcraft, Mrs. Barbara Reid, Mrs. Phyllis Nowell, Mrs. Irene Zurgable, Mrs. Wanda Clayton, Mrs. Peg Opekun, Mrs. Eunice Neighbors, Mrs. July LaCroce, Mrs. Carolyn Cadle, Mrs. Etta Mae Norris, Mrs. Betty Baker, Mrs. Margaret Baker, Mrs. Madeline Gilbert and Mrs. June Shipley.

Headquarters Moved To Fort Ritchie

The U. S. Army Strategic Communications Command (USASTRATCOM) this week announced that the Headquarters, USASTRATCOM National Communications Command (Provisional) will be relocated from Alexandria, Va., and consolidated with the U. S. Army Joint Support Command at Fort Ritchie, Md., by June 30, 1971.

The move, which is expected to save $0.7 million annually, is aimed at reducing operation and maintenance costs, eliminating one communications agency, and establishing a more effective and economic organization.

Employees affected by the transfer of functions will be afforded all the advantages outlined in the Department of Defense policy on stability of employment for career employees.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of those addressed to me in recent weeks:

How do you feel about health insurance legislation?

Federal financing of limited health insurance programs on a voluntary basis is a good idea. In fact, I am co-sponsoring a bill that would provide for medical and hospital care through just such a program. Under this proposed legislation the insurance would be financed in whole for low-income families and in part for all other persons through allowance of tax credits. The purpose of this Medicare Act is to make it possible for every individual to obtain comprehensive medical and hospitalization insurance of his choice. It would be insurance designed to protect against ordinary and catastrophic expenses of illness regardless of prior medical history and on a guaranteed renewable basis.

What is being done to help keep this country's Public Health Service hospitals open?

In February I joined Rep. Clarence Long and the Maryland Delegation in sponsoring a resolution that would allow Public Health Service hospitals and outpatient clinics to remain open while Congress decides their status. Since then a formal statement was made to the Subcommittee on Public Health & Welfare urging support of legislation for the continuation of such hospitals. The positive value of Public Health Service hospitals is evident from the correspondence received from constituents, ex-patients and medical doctors throughout the State of Maryland. In fact, many hospitals in the State are dependent on the Baltimore facility for training on advanced equipment and in advanced techniques.

I am a member of the Disabled American Veterans and our organization just celebrated its 50th Anniversary. I think more people should be informed of the fine work of the DAV, don't you?

It is always a pleasure to commend the deeds of your worthy organization. Your work in relation to Prisoners of War and soldiers missing in action is well known. But it is interesting to note that the Disabled American Veterans, Department of Maryland, is an especially active group participating in hospital work at five veteran and military hospitals in the State. This program has expended over $10,000 in the last year and has involved 650 volunteers visiting and helping over 23,000 patients. It is work such as this that commands the respect of the American people and makes your Golden Anniversary a significant event for all of us.

I recently read that the gypsy moth insect may harm a lot of trees in Maryland this year. What is being done to combat this insect and protect our environment?

The gypsy moth was found in Maryland for the first time in 1969, and may pose a special threat to our forests and shade trees through Western Maryland and the Appalachian Mountains. Safe control measures to avert damage from the insect are presently being discussed by the House Interior and Agriculture committees.

To which Interstate & Foreign Commerce subcommittee were you assigned?

I was pleased to be appointed to the Communications & Power Subcommittee which has jurisdiction over matters relating to interstate and foreign communications, petroleum and natural gas, interstate electric power systems and the Weather Bureau.

Your Maryland Tax

By LOUIS L. GOLDSTEIN
Comptroller of the Treasury

Estimating Your 1971 Tax

Every resident of Maryland who receives gross income of $1,700 or more if single, and $2,500 if husband and wife living together, when at least $500 of this income is from sources not subject to Maryland withholding, is required to file a Declaration of Estimated Income for 1971 and pay the estimated tax in advance.

This is true also for persons who are residents of Maryland, but whose salary or wage is received from employers outside the State, including the Federal government.

If you are working in Maryland, you will have specified amounts withheld from your wages by your employer in keeping with the Maryland plan of pay-as-you-go income tax collection. So you will not have to file a Declaration of Estimated Income.

Income of $500 or more received from awards, prizes, lotteries, or raffles, whether paid in cash or goods, must be declared within 60 days of it being received and tax is due in full on all such income with the declaration.

Declaration of Estimated Income for 1971 must be filed on or before April 15, 1971, or if you are on a fiscal year basis it must be filed on or before the 15th day of the second quarter.

An easy way to estimate your 1971 tax is to use the figures from your 1970 Maryland Income Tax return as a basis, then determine how much more or less income than shown you expect for the coming year, then add or subtract and fill amounts on form provided. If you are unsure you may use your 1970 tax return figures.

You may pay your estimated 1971 tax in full with your return or pay it in quarterly payments.

Form 502D in your Income Tax Packet gives you detailed procedures for compiling your Estimated Tax return and working forms.

BALSAM APPLE

These nubby fruits are known as balsam apples.

The curious, nubby fruits of balsam apple or momordica are rarely seen but are lots of fun to grow. With them you can play guessing games with all your garden visitors.

The vines are tropical and related to the cucumber family. They climb and attach themselves by means of tendrils and balsam apple vines will reach 6 feet upwards during the growing season, even in the North.

Because they are natives of the tropics, they must be treated as tender annuals and the seeds either started indoors or planted in the garden after all danger of late frost is past.

Balsam apple leaves are from 2-4 inches wide, handsomely lobed. The flowers which, while not as important as the odd fruits, are still useful for garden color are yellow, darker in the centers.

The "apples" are egg-shaped and nubby or warty, yellow to orange in coloring, therefore very attractive.

Even the seeds are interesting — notice them before you plant them. They're flat, greyish or brownish, with scalloped edges.

Hull's Angel

To the profound astonishment of at least one American manufacturer, a lot of boatmen are still playing the shell game with barnacles—getting into one unnecessary scrape after another!

Barnacles are a costly nuisance. When hordes of these tiny, shrimplike sea creatures attach themselves to the bottom of a pleasure craft, they can add enough weight and drag to dramatically cut the ship's speed... while increasing its fuel consumption. The only way to remove their shells is to scrape them off in dry dock.

You can, however, save yourself a lot of time, effort and muscle limning by using a paint that guarantees to keep a hull free of marine growth below the water line for a full year.

The "hull's angel" that makes this possible—with the only replacement guarantee of its kind in the country—is "Super Dripless No. 8," available by mail order from Chilton Paint Company, College Point, N.Y. 11356. This no-drip, no-splatter and run-proof bottom covering is keeping barnacle bills down to zero for boat owners in the know.

And from all indications, this paint really deserves the most stirring ovations—because in the four years since its introduction... only one replacement per year has had to be made.

One-Bank Holding Companies

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., March 18, 1971 — After more than two years of controversy, the Congress has passed and the President has signed an amendment to the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956 that regulates one-bank holding companies. Prior to this legislation, one-bank holding companies were not limited as to what non-banking activities they could enter (although the banking subsidiaries were regulated as far as banking functions were concerned). Most did not abuse this privilege, as diversification occurred primarily in financially related fields such as mortgage companies, small loans, and data processing companies.

Nevertheless, it was decided that this loophole should be closed because of acquisition overtones by conglomerates, the increased competition between banks which resulted in their seeking new fields of endeavor, and the rapid growth in the number of one-bank holding companies. For example, in 1966 there were only 641 banks controlled by one-bank holding companies, and these represented less than 5% of total bank deposits. By the end of 1968, however, 783 one-bank holding companies were in existence or being formed, which represented more than 27% of the industry's total deposits.

Some Break-Up Anticipated

Because of this law, some one-bank holding companies which were in operation prior to June 30, 1968 (the grandfather clause data) may be required to divest themselves of their non-banking activities. By the same token, some companies whose prime functions are not banking may choose to spin off their banking operation. The Federal Reserve Board has two years to study those holding companies that have assets of over $60 million and determine what action should be taken. Smaller holding companies may also be forced to divest some of their non-related activities if the Federal Reserve Board finds "that the banks' power to grant or deny credit be influenced by a desire to further the holding company's other interests." The holding companies have ten years to divest themselves of these activities after they have been ordered to do so.

Fed's Guidelines

The Federal Reserve Board played an important role in the making of this legislation, as its opinions were sought at various stages, particularly during the final draft. The Act itself offers only guidelines and gives the Fed great latitude in drawing limitations as to what activities are to be permitted. In making its decisions, the important considerations will probably be whether or not a firm's non-banking activities are closely related to banking and whether such activities would decrease competition or result in conflict of interest.

Since the final passage of this Act, the Federal Reserve Board has set up its guidelines as to what it considers to be closely related banking activities. These guidelines are quite general, and changes in the future are more than likely. It may be several years before the final guidelines are established, as it is anticipated they will be tested in the courts by either a one-bank holding company that has been denied entrance to a certain activity or by a competitor who challenges a bank's right to these activities.

Uniform Regulation

Most important accomplishment of this bill is the uniform regulation applied to both the one-bank holding company and the multi-bank holding company. Because of this, many one-bank holding companies will likely become multi-bank holding companies. In New York City, for example, First National City Corporation has already announced plans to form a multi-bank holding company with a new branch in Suffolk County, and Chase Manhattan Corporation plans to form Chase Manhattan Bank of Long Island in Nassau County. This trend will continue and should have a beneficial impact on future bank earnings.

Racing Continues At Bowie Race Course

Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Personality, 1970 3-year-old champion with designs upon the $100,000 added John B. Campbell Handicap at Bowie on April 3, is among the 28 eligibles for the $25,000 added Native Dancer Handicap at Bowie Race Course on Saturday, March 20. The Native Dancer will face its sixth run at six furlongs and is expected to attract the finest field of sprinters in its brief history.

In the event Personality accepts the engagement the colt will face two rivals who were rated higher in today's Paumonok weight assignments — Selestino DiLibero's Lion Sleeps and Hickory Tree Stable's Towzie Tyke, both listed as Native Dancer starters.

Other prominent eligibles include B. A. Daro's Great Mystery, Elberon Farm's Silent Screen and William S. Farish, 3rd's Royal Comedian. Personality was acclaimed the 3-year-old champion as a result of victories in the Wood, Preakness, Jim Dandy and Woodward. Personality made one start in Florida this season, a third in an allowance test at Hialeah.

Lion Sleeps was rated two pounds and Towzie Tyke one pound better than Personality for the Paumonok, an indication of the high class sprinters likely to contest the Native Dancer.

Lion Sleeps accounted for a six-victory skein in Florida this season before suffering a loss in the Bowie Handicap. The Johnsark gelding finished third under 129 after leading into the stretch of the seven furlongs test. He is training at nearby Laurel for the Native Dancer.

Towzie Tyke established his class when he came from last place in the Bowie 'Cap to post a three-quarters length win over Verne Martin, Jr.'s Dance To Market, another prospective starter.

Great Mystery, Royal Comedian and Silent Screen registered stakes triumphs last year. Great Mystery scored his most notable triumph in the Jerome Handicap and was third last week to Best Turn's track record of seven furlongs at Gulfstream. Royal Comedian accounted for the Letellier at the New Orleans Fair Grounds and Silent Screen won the Bahamas and Saranac.

WASHINGTON REPORT FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL, JR.

Two years ago as one of my first duties as a freshman Congressman, I co-sponsored a bill to authorize the final two years of the six year Appalachian Regional Development program.

This week as one of my first duties as a freshman Senator, I co-sponsored a bill to extend that unique experiment for four more years. The bill passed the Senate Thursday and now goes to the House.

The program has done much to revitalize an economically deprived area.

Allegany, Garrett, and Washington Counties, the only three Maryland counties in the Appalachian region, have to date received more than $54 million in direct Appalachian investments.

The benefits do not accrue just to these westernmost counties, however. The largest single investment is $24 million for a developmental highway between Hancock and Morgantown, West Virginia. This highway opens up the industry rich Ohio Valley to the Port of Baltimore.

But the most important feature of this program is not the amount of money Maryland has received from it, but how it received it, how it developed the 50 plus projects that have been funded by the Appalachian Regional Commission.

The Appalachian Commission is a full partnership between the federal government and 13 states from New York to Mississippi. There are 397 counties in the Appalachian "region". The Commission has about $275 million a year to invest in these counties. Results have been praiseworthy.

Because it is a partnership, the governor of each of the states is in the unique position of being a party to the allocation process—the most important process in government. That is, the governor helps make the decisions as to where and how the money is going to be spent.

It's this partnership feature that makes the Appalachian program one of the models for President Nixon's "New Federalism". In his special rural development revenue sharing message Wednesday, the President paid tribute to the Commission's "coordinated development approach." And it is just that: "coordinated".

What we really have here is a "modified block grant" program. It is uncomplicated, non-categorical. It is highly flexible. It is for this reason that I have given such support to the four-year extension.

Beyond the straight line renewal of the Commission's programs, I was also instrumental in adding a new authorization to help improve the level of safety of our mountain airports. This amendment will, for example, help pay for landing safety equipment so needed at the Cumberland Airport. After the crash that killed the entire Marshall University football team at the non-radar, non-glide slope equipped Huntington, West Virginia airport, the need for such an amendment becomes obvious.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day An Unsolved Mystery

The Grand National Aintree has, since it was first run in 1839, provided many strange stories. Winners such as Alcibiades and Voluptuary which had never before run in a steeplechase; Master Robert who was reclaimed from pulling a plow and Seaman who was ridden by a Lord Manners who had never before ridden in a steeplechase. The strangest of all, perhaps is that of a loser, the Queen Mother's horse, Devon Loch, in 1956.

It was not the crowded first jump that brought Devon Loch down nor was it the famed Becher's Brook, the Canal Turn or, for that matter, any of the 30 fearsome obstacles on the four-mile-856-yard course. It was a mystery that robbed Devon Loch, the Queen Mother, and champion jockey (now popular mystery story writer) Dick Francis of the coveted prize.

Safely over the final jump Devon Loch was galloping along with a six length lead which was increasing with each stride when, right in front of the stands, he performed what in dressage might be termed a capriole, and came down, his hind legs stretched out, his forelegs extended, and slid along on his belly 100 feet from the finish. Photographs showed him sprawled on the course, his ears pricked forward and jockey Francis still sitting bewildered in the saddle. Subsequent veterinary examination could find nothing wrong with Devon Loch and his strange behavior remains a mystery equal to any Dick Francis has written.

What joy and triumph, after all, to be sincerely honored by the ones we loved Hassle aplenty trying to shop downtown these days. Finding parking . . . juggling the groceries. You know what that scene can be!

But now your Ford Dealer has the new 3-Door Pinto.

A sort of mini station wagon, it parks in incredibly small spaces. Your bundles? Just open the big back door, flip the rear seat forward, bingo, a 5-foot loading space.

And Pinto couldn't be easier to drive. There's a 4-speed synchronized transmission, very precise rack-and-pinion steering.

More, with high-back bucket seats and all-vinyl upholstery, comfortable little Pinto makes shopping fun again. Come pick out your Pinto . . . today.

Coach Recommends Football Camps

Bill Hodge, Football Coach at Catoctin High School, has received a number of brochures from outstanding coaches and professional football players telling him about football camps. Hodge states that these clinics will give any boys, ages 8-18, a headstart on the coming football season. "They are especially valuable to the boys in this area who have had little or no experience in football fundamentals."

The purpose of these clinics is to provide instruction of the highest caliber in football fundamentals for boys who want to learn or improve their skills and gain a greater knowledge of the game. Hodge says, with a tough ten-game schedule coming up this year, he highly recommends these football camps to all last year and future football players at Catoctin.

- Listed below is a list of the football camps now available. High school graduates will not be accepted.
1. Blue Ridge Football Camp, Mt. St. Mary's College, age 10-18, two sessions, July 18-23 and July 25-30. Cost: $90.00 per week (if you stay on campus), $65.00 if you report daily from home.
 2. 6th Annual Athletic Camp, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, N. C. $90 per week, age 10-18, June 20-25 and June 27-July 2.
 3. Sonny Randle Football Camp, Fork Union Military Academy, Fork Union, Va., age 7-18, June 27-July 2, $90.00.
 4. Chesapeake Football Camp, Messiah College, Grantham, Pa., grades 8-12, $95.00 per week, June 27-July 2 and July 25-30.
 5. 7th Annual All-Star Football Camp, Ferrum Jr. College, Ferrum, Va., age 8-17, $95.00 per week, June 20-25.
- Hodge said, "all camps require a cash deposit, with the balance due upon arrival at the camp."

Deposits range from $25-$40." Any parent or boys interested in attending any of these camps may contact Bill Hodge at the Thurmont Middle School, for applications.

Hodge said, "All area high school coaches should have similar information."

Retired Employees To Hold Meeting

At the next meeting of the Retired Federal Employees at the Trinity Methodist Church, West Patrick St., Frederick, Friday, March 19, at 2 p.m., there will be projected pictures of Russia, Switzerland and the 1970 Passion Play at Oberammergau, Bavaria, taken and described by Mrs. Charles Remsburg, who lives near Middletown, Md. and who traveled in Europe last summer.

At the previous meeting of NARCE in February, about forty retired people heard Dr. Robert Hughes, president of the Frederick Heart Association, assure his audience that not enough is known about the causes of heart problems for him to recommend specific diets for their prevention. Apparently all we read and hear about cholesterol and saturated fats is pure theory. This was pleasing to the gourmets present.

All retired Federal employees are invited to the NARCE meetings on the third Friday of each month.

Blue Cross Checks On Hospitals

Maryland Blue Cross this week announced its board of directors has adopted a resolution aimed at helping to prevent the over-building and duplication of expensive health facilities.

According to Blue Cross President Reginald H. Dabney, the resolution states that Maryland hospitals or related institutions must first obtain the approval of the appropriate health planning agency if they are to continue their Blue Cross participation. The resolution covers both the expansion of existing health facilities and the creation of new ones.

Mr. Dabney emphasized this action does not represent a new stance by Blue Cross but rather the logical next step in helping to promote areawide planning of hospitals and related facilities.

The Standards for member hospitals, adopted by Blue Cross in 1964, specify that to participate in the health care prepayment program, a hospital should have been "planned and built in response to a clearly demonstrated need for additional hospital facilities in its community."

Later in 1964 Blue Cross took further action in adopting a resolution urging the immediate designation of a health care facility planning organization in Maryland. "State and regional planning agencies now have been created in Maryland," Mr. Dabney said, "so it is logical at this point to strengthen our standards for contracting institutions by letting these organizations determine whether or not new construction of health facilities is in response to community need."

Ready-Made Site For Cancer Lab

Unfortunately, most of us find a cure for cancer, yet Ft. Detrick, which already contains all the necessary facilities and which cost the taxpayers twice that sum, stands unemployed. By simply using this facility which now lies idle, we can triple our initial investment and put $300 million in cash and capital in the fight to end cancer.

The men who will operate the program add further arguments for the use of Ft. Detrick. Dr. Sidney Fauber, director of research at the Children's Research Foundation and member of the National Cancer Panel has said that the Detrick facilities are ideal for the preparation and study of biological and chemical material of fundamental importance to cancer research. If Ft. Detrick were not available, said Dr. Fauber, such facilities would have to be built to meet the needs of an accelerated national program.

Dr. James Holland, president of the American Association for Cancer Research, said: "Ft. Detrick is a magnificent specialized laboratory." Dr. Arlene Clark, president of the Texas Medical Center in Houston, and Dr. Mathilde Krim, member of the National Panel of Consultants on the Conquest of Cancer and an associate of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research, agreed that Ft. Detrick would be eminently suited for biological research in relation to cancer and particularly in the preparation of manufacturing of biologicals for many of the ongoing cancer research projects.

The fantastic capability for this research which is available at our fingertips must not be overlooked. We must not let Ft. Detrick work to accomplish President Nixon's goal of finding a cure for cancer and saving the many Americans who are doomed to die if we fail.

Lutheran Women Hold Meeting

The Lutheran Church Women of Elias Lutheran Church met recently for their February meeting, with Mrs. Donald Eyler and Mrs. James Small presenting the evening program. A Lenten theme, "The Passion of Christ in Art" was illustrated by a film that was created for the Lutheran Church in America. It depicted the events in Christ's life during Holy Week via mosaic art forms. Lenten hymns were also used with Mrs. Eyler serving as accompanist.

It was announced that the date of April 13 had been designated by the LCW members and other interested persons for the purpose of visiting the "shut-ins" of the congregation. Other Church leaders and officers will also be solicited to aid in this "visitation" project which is being promoted by the LCW.

Plans were also announced for a "work day" to be held Saturday, March 20 to prepare the Church for the pre-Easter services. LCW members will assemble at 9:00 a.m. to initiate their project scheduled for the day.

Persons were also reminded of the Good Friday Vigil to be held at Trinity Methodist Church from 9:00 until 3:00. The LCW of Elias Church will participate from 9:30 until 3:00 with the assistance of others from Elias Church.

Mrs. Ana Bushman presided at the business meeting after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Lewis Smith and Mrs. Richard Crum to the LCW members and guests.

Explains Gifts For Tax Purposes

Charity Begins At Home: Don't Forget Rightful Deductions It's nice to give. It's also nice to know the government will acknowledge personal generosity by allowing income tax deductions for charitable contributions.

Extremely generous methods of giving for tax purposes are well-known: donate a priceless painting, an original manuscript, or just plain money, say $100,000 to your favorite charity. The Tax Reform Act made some major changes in the law regarding charitable deductions which affect primarily the rich and super-rich. In prior years, with some exceptions, the maximum deduction was 30% of your adjusted gross income — this has been raised to 50%.

The "Little Guy's" tax rights are basically the same as a millionaire's, if only to a somewhat lesser degree, says H & R Block, America's Largest Tax Service.

For example, clothing, furniture, or anything else donated is deductible to the extent of its fair market value at the time of the gift. It is not necessary for the average individual to concern himself with cost plus one-half the appreciation in value, since most items normally contributed have not increased in value.

If you are a den mother or a scout leader, any out-of-the-pocket expenses you incur, such as the cost and maintenance of uniforms, can be deducted. The same holds true for money spent (but not the value of your personal services) in working for other legally recognized charities.

Jewish Literature To Be Discussed

Contemporary Jewish literature will be explored by Rabbi and Mrs. Stanley Skolnik on March 24 at St. Joseph College. The lecture, sponsored by the Jewish Chautauque Society and St. Joseph's English Department, will include such writers as Roth, Malamud, Bellow, and Wiesel.

The public is invited to attend the program which will be held in Upper Dubois Lounge at 8 p.m. Rabbi Skolnik is assigned to the Jewish Reformed Congregation in Hagerstown, Md. A graduate of the University of Cincinnati where he majored in philosophy, Rabbi Skolnik received his master's degree from the Jewish Institute of New York.

Mrs. Skolnik earned her bachelor's degree in French literature also from Cincinnati and her master's degree from Pttar Institute in Brooklyn.

WHAT IS A DRESS ?

For many women buying a dress takes the form of a decision... does it do something for me? A dress is many things... to some women it's to be bought for a special occasion... for others a dress is an expression of what they'd like to be—provocative perhaps, or sophisticated or smartly understated.

And yet, with all these various reasons for which a woman buys a dress, as soon as she wears it, the dress becomes a statement of her personality, an extension of herself. All dresses have this fact in common.

Toward this end Sacony has devoted its 80 years of fashion expertise.

It's where Sacony shines. Every Sacony* has a price-less look... clean, clearly stated authority with no frills or feathers to divert its true purpose of giving poise, confidence and good looks to the wearer.

Sacony draws on many things to give a woman what she needs and wants in a dress. Fabrics for one... each is selected for performance and ease of care. Performance while working, sitting, dancing, traveling. No rumples to worry about (and you know nothing spoils your appearance more than wrinkles). What's more, these fabrics maintain top performance through sudsing, drip-drying, packing, unpacking (and with the high costs of dry cleaning and pressing, think of the saving).

Then, there's workmanship... the way zippers and buttons are sewn and countless things you don't see. Sacony structures a dress to fit properly. Everything contributes to your feeling of comfort and self-confidence. And when you get that, plus a famous fashion label like Sacony, you've got everything.

So... see our new Sacony collection today. It's on our display floor. You'll be happy to see what each and every Sacony does for you!

Maple Syrup Collection Demonstrated

Each weekend during March visitors to Catocin Mountain Park, a unit of our National Park System, will be able to see first hand the process of making maple syrup, from tapping the tree to boiling the sap down to syrup.

In making the announcement, Park superintendent Frank Mentzer stated that "the syrup making demonstration is another means by which the National Park Service is attempting to preserve the cultural heritage of the Catocin Mountain Region."

Early Colonists no doubt made their own syrup and sugar, learning from friendly Indians, that when a sugar maple tree was wounded at a certain time in the spring sap would flow from it. Caught in buckets and boiled down, this sap produced a sweet syrup of a rare and delicate flavor. Boiled down further, the syrup produced a sugar that was a welcome addition to the table.

"Here at Catocin," Mentzer said, "we are trying to depict how a pioneer family might have used the things of their environment for their betterment. The syrup making demonstration and other exhibits and demonstrations tell the story of man's use of the Catocin Mountains from the first settlement to the present."

A restored moonshiner's whiskey still and self-guiding trail with exhibits explaining the process of charcoal making are available year 'round and starting May 29, the Folk Culture Center will again be open each weekend with craftsmen demonstrating various aspects of pioneer life on Catocin Mountain between 1750 and 1850.

The syrup making demonstration is reached by a 0.4 mile walk from the Visitor Center at the Park Headquarters, just three miles west of Thurmont, Md., on State Route 77.

Missing Vets' Wives Draw Benefits

The 1,000 wives of American servicemen missing or captured in Vietnam make up only a small percentage of the 580,000 women eligible for educational benefits, home loans, or both from the Veterans Administration, George A. Davis, Director of the Baltimore Regional Office, pointed out today.

A law signed by the President last month made wives of servicemen listed for more than 90 days as missing in action, captured "or forcibly detained or interned in the line of duty by a foreign government or power" eligible for Veterans Administration home loan and educational programs.

The largest group eligible for Veterans Administration programs is 180,000 female veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict, Davis said.

Their unused expired loan benefits were restored by law last October.

Another 160,000 women now in service, or who served after January 31, 1955, qualify under the current GI Bill for monthly checks for educational purposes, and for the home loan program with loans guaranteed up to 90 per cent with a maximum of $12,500.

Under a new Veterans Administration program 175,000 widows of deceased veterans can go to school, take training or make home loans under Veterans Administration programs. Some 8,230 thus far have taken advantage of those major programs.

Wives of 64,000 permanently and totally disabled veterans are eligible for Veterans Administration educational benefits. Some 1,800 have participated thus far.

Mr. Davis urged women who think they may be eligible for benefits under any Veterans Administration programs, to contact their nearest Veterans Administration office for further information.

Legion Auxiliary To Sell Poppies

Fifteen members were present for the recent meeting of the Francis X. Elder Unit 121, American Legion Auxiliary held in the Post Home with the president, Anna Bushman, presiding.

An order for 200 poppies for the annual poppy sale was voted and the women donated $5 to the Heart Fund.

It was announced that the next district meeting will be held at Joseph C. Herbert Unit 222, Clearspring, Md., on March 21 at 1:30 p.m.

A suggestion to donate lap robes for the veterans at Newton D. Baker Hospital in Martinsburg, W. Va., anyone wishing further information on the robes should contact Mrs. Carmen Topper at 447-2689.

The suggestion that the Auxiliary sponsor some kind of activity for the youth of the community was made. This would come under the Departments project of "Children and Youth" program. It would be planned for April. Mrs. Carmen Topper and Mrs. Virginia Sanders volunteered to investigate the matter.

Membership chairman Jessie Knipple reported that the Auxiliary has 102 members to date.

A covered dish social will be held following the April meeting for members of the Post and Auxiliary. The Auxiliary will furnish the meat and rolls and each member is to bring a covered dish of either a salad, vegetable or dessert. Carmen Topper volunteered to act as chairman. Members voted to give away a ham prior to Easter.

Hours of activities are as follows: Baby-sitting, non-veterans, 32 hours; baby-sitting, veterans, 3 hours; use of room for Scouts, 6 hours; Senior Citizens, 13 hours; Heart Fund collection, 7 hours; Clinic, 48 hours. This included Child Hygiene, 33 hours; Maternity, 15 hours and Family Planning, 16 hours. Thirteen sympathy cards were sent and 17 get well cards.

The draw prize of $2.25 was won by Anna Bushman. Earline Motter won the door prize of $2.

Middle School PTA Executive Board Meets

An Executive Board meeting was held at the Emmitsburg Middle School on Thursday evening. It was brought out at this meeting that Mr. Chris Matthews, president of the School Board, will be guest speaker at the next regular PTA meeting, which is scheduled for Tuesday, March 23, at 8:00 p.m. at the Emmitsburg School. Prior to the meeting, classroom visitation will be held beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Matthews will show a film on "Community School Concepts," which will give those attending many ideas that might be incorporated in the proposed school for Emmitsburg.

Present plans call for the completion of the new school by August of 1973.

Nuns To Attend Convention

Sister Juliana Kowal and Sister Marcella Scully, both assistant professors of biology at St. Joseph College, will participate in the National Science Teachers Association Convention from March 26 through 29 in Washington, D. C. The convention will be held at the Sheraton-Park and Shoreham Hotels.

On Monday, Sister Marcella will present her paper entitled "Bioinstrumentation—A Unique NSF Institute" at a college session.

The 19th annual convention will center around decision making in science education and is divided into three parts—selection, implementation, and evaluation. Included in the convention will be seminars, workshops, panel discussions, lectures, presentation of papers, and tours of various institutes in the D. C. area.

College President To Be On TV

Sister Margaret Dougherty, president of St. Joseph College, and Mrs. Valli Ryan, Director of Development and College Relations, will appear on local television talk show, "Generally Speaking," on Friday, March 26. Edwin Klitch of Frederick, is moderator of this new program. The weekday show is on WHAG-TV, Channel 25, in Hagerstown, from 1 to 1:30 p.m.

Sr. Margaret and Mrs. Ryan will discuss the 160-year development of the college from Elizabeth Seton's day, recent innovations, and the college's plans for the future.
